Wayne Edges Winside High

In a fast game which saw 39 fouls marked up against the two teams, Wayne high Blue Devils Tuesday night squeaked past Winside, 38 to 35, on the Winside floor.

Don Tietgen, Winside set a swift pace and the game remained close all the way with Wayne maintaining a narrow lead.

Early in the second half Winside suffered the loss of their stellar center, Jaeger, who went out on fouls in his attempts to hold down Wayne's high scoring center, Don Tietgen.

Two other Winsiders, Warnemunde and Housel, also were in line showers via the foul-out route as did Tietgen of Wayne.

Tietgen captured scoring honors for the evening with 25 points. The Blue Devil center made good eight free throws without a miss, and Fred bucketed one more to bring his total for the evening to 30, one of 12 free.

He also sank five field goals. Willers was high scorer for Winside with 9 points, while Jaeger chalked up 8.

Standings in Husker League

Standings in the western half of the Husker league up to Jan. 18 show Wayne city school standing at the top of the ladder by virtue of two wins and no losses.

Wakefield holds a firm grasp on the Eastern division of the league with wins over Lyons and West Point and no losses.

The winners of the two divisions will meet for a play-off game Feb. 25 in Wayne. Wayne plays Neligh this Friday night in the Wayne city auditorium. This is the first conference game for the Neligh squad.

Mathematically any team is still able to take the lead in either half of the league, but Wakefield seems to be the strongest contestant in the Eastern league, while Wayne and Stanton are top contenders in this territory.

Bad weather and poor roads have caused several games to be cancelled and these games must be played off before Feb. 25.

Hold Rites For Winside Man

Winside—John D. Meyer, almost 57, a resident of Wayne county for 53 years, died at his home in Winside Jan. 18.

Funeral services were held Friday at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Winside, with Rev. H. M. Hilpert in charge. Pallbearers were Don Meyer, Alvin Meyer, Dale Meyer, Vernon Rudolph, John Meierdierks and Arnold Roeg.

Mr. Meyer was born May 1, 1852 in Gruppenburden, East Prussia, Germany. He attended school there and was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran church.

As a young man, he served with the German army for three years. On May 11, 1878, he married Sophie Catherine Schumacher. Fifteen children were born to them.

In 1888, Mr. Meyer came to America to establish a residence for his family. He arrived in Hooper, Neb., in November of that year. In April, 1884, his wife and family joined him and in 1885 they moved to the Winside vicinity where Mr. Meyer worked as a farm hand. Later he began farming for himself.

In 1896, he moved to Wayne county where he farmed until the fall of 1921, when he retired and moved into Winside.

Mrs. Meyer died in 1941, and four children also preceded him in death, three in infancy and Frederick (Mrs. Charles Maxwell) in 1922.

SURVIVING HIM are four sons, Helman of St. Louis, Bernard, William and Carl of Wayne, and seven daughters, Marie (Mrs. Henry Rudebusch) of Randolph, Helena (Mrs. Lars Larson) of Canby, Minn., Anna (Mrs. John Roeg) of Carroll, Mathilde (Mrs. John Muth) of Mitchell, S. D., Gesina (Mrs. Herman Meierdierks) of Pender, Alma (Mrs. Ed Niemann) of Carroll, and Sophie (Mrs. John Teet) of Wakefield.

He also leaves 44 grandchildren, 47 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

Large Planting of New Type Hedge On Shulteis Farm

One of the largest northeast Nebraska plantings of a new type hedge plant, the Multiflora Rose, is located on the Warren Shulteis farm, rented by Joe Pinkleman, 2 miles west of Wayne on 98.

Last spring the hedge was planted in connection with a game refuge area developed on the Shulteis farm by the Nebraska game, forestation and parks commission. The game commission is experimenting with the Multiflora Rose to test its adaption to this area. Since eastern Nebraska and South Dakota have several 10-year-old plantings, it is believed the hedge will survive in this area.

ACCORDING to local authorities, the plant is a thorny shrub which grows to a height of six to eight feet. It will not spread in competition with sod or cultivation. It reaches maturity in five to six years, but will make a cattle-tight fence in even less time.

The shrub is said to be excellent for erosion control and is especially beneficial for the protection of birds from any predatory animal. It produces many small fruits which make winter feed for game birds.

Creighton Girl Prevents Wreck

Joyce Kahny of Creighton is beaming these days, and justly so. She is responsible for having prevented a train crash near her home Jan. 5.

Team Wears New Suits
Wayne Prep's basketball team finally got to wear their new basketball suits. Twice the weather man has prevented the use of the new suits. On Tuesday, Jan. 11, because of the bad weather the game with Emerson was postponed indefinitely.

This last Tuesday, Jan. 18, Wayne Prep had another great disappointment; the game with Winside was postponed. To everyone's delight the game was played Wednesday, Jan. 19.

Prep's brand new suits were then on display for the first time. It is believed by the Wayne Prep students that the new suits brought luck because they won the game.

The Wayne Future Farmers of America met last Monday evening. Don Matike, adviser, presided as chairman.

Donald Koll and Delmer Heithold, coach teams for a basketball game. Donald Koll's team won by a score of 65 to 47. At the next meeting, the losing team will challenge the winners of the last game in order to decide a draw.

Members of the FFA are from both schools, Wayne Campus high and Wayne City high. The headquarters are at the Campus school.

Do Sheet Metal Work
The industrial arts students of campus high, under the supervision of Mr. Wriedt, have been working with sheet metal and steel for the past nine weeks. From sheet metal the students each made a quart oil can and a sugar scoop. Their work with steel produced a hammer, a punch and a plastering trowel.

The student teacher for the past nine weeks was Lee Clopper.

Visit Mental Hospital
Sociology students toured the state mental hospital at Norfolk Monday, Jan. 10, as a class project. The class under the supervision of C. V. Wait, Ted Graham and Frank Levine, went through several wards, the laundry, kitchen, dining rooms, music rooms and sewing room.

In the music room the woman in charge showed the group a cello made by one of the patients, the music "My Nebraska," beautifully copied and framed by one of the patients, and the musical instruments that some of the patients played. A little boy in the music room sang "You Call Everybody Darlin'."

When the students entered the sewing rooms, patients were busily sewing tea towels, embroidering, weaving rugs and bedspreads, and knitting. The nurse in charge showed the group many finished products that were to be sold.

The students were all particularly interested in the laundry where they watched clothes being sorted, washed, ironed and packed to be sent back to the correct wards. A special marking in each article enabled helpers to know where each piece was to go.

Cars were driven by Dale Gramberg, "Swede," Fredrickson and Wilbur Giese. Mr. Wait drove the college station wagon. Sponsors other than the teachers were Wilbur Giese and Don Leonard.

Inspect Law Office
A visit to K. M. Olds' law office provided a lesson for the orientation class Jan. 17. The students were under the supervision of Lulu Way, class instructor, and two student teachers, Don Kandler and Burdette Fredrickson.

The class saw how Mr. Olds worked on abstracts, some of which were dated back as far as 1863. The class also saw his collection of law books from which he prepares his briefs for court trials.

Mr. Olds' secretary worked the stenotype machine for the class. "If you don't want to be a student all your life, don't be a lawyer," Mr. Olds told the class.

Begin Swimming Lessons
Swimming lessons will be given to the girls' physical education class starting Tuesday, Jan. 25. The girls will be classed in the following ranks: Beginner, intermediate, swimmers and lifesavers. The beginners and lifesavers will swim together on Tuesday and the swimmers and intermediates will swim on Thursday. On the days they are not swimming the girls will participate in a ping-pong tournament.

The student teacher is Virginia Ferns, and Mrs. Esther Carlson is supervisor.

Band Entertains
The Wayne Prep high school band entertained the high school students at an assembly program Jan. 19 at 2:00. Six numbers were played: "Carnival Parade" and "Citation," directed by Eugene Watson; "Pompous Major" and "At the Rally," directed by Duane Miller; and "Russian Overture" and "The Three Bears," directed by Al Clement. The last was a musical story narrated by Eugene Watson.

The students in the senior English and journalism class have been making book reports on books written either about or during the Elizabethan, Puritan and classical periods of their semester project. A few of the books read were Milton's "Paradise Lost," Du Maurier's "The King's General" and Swift's "Gulliver's Travels."

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Johnson returned a week ago Saturday from a honeymoon through Kansas and Oklahoma.

(Mrs. Eleanor Fuhrman, teacher)
Five people in our school had perfect attendance during the month of December. They are Jerry Lee Schwede, Sandra Asmus, Karen Walker, Marlin Belew, and Howard Thietje.

We held our Christmas party and gift exchange Friday, Dec. 24. Mrs. Julius Belew and Mrs. Paul Scheurich were guests.

The third edition of our school paper was printed during the month of December. We printed it in red and green hectograph colors. It made an attractive paper in keeping with the season.

We have purchased cards and envelopes which we glued to the inside of our library books. This new improvement makes it easier for us to check books from our library. Our boys, John Scheurich, Howard Thietje, Marlin Belew, James Scheurich and Philip Scheurich were in charge of the work.

Wayne High Uses Wire Recorder in Speech Class

The newly organized speech classes have been using the wire recorder for "man on the street" programs. Rowan Wittse, Reno Pfeil, Phyllis Debus and Heinz Otte have acted as roving reporters.

Topics discussed were "Favorite Sports," "Leisure Time Activities," "Advantages in Women's Dress" and "Disadvantages of Farm and City Life" (respectively). Students were interested in hearing their own voices and hope through the use of wire recorders to show much improvement before the end of the year.

Thespians Meet
The Thespian program last Monday night consisted of a business meeting and a mock "People Are Funny" program called "Thespians Are Having a Party."

Actress Gloria Pfeil, Linkletter acted as mistress of ceremonies and the program was "broadcast" over station TT48 (Thespian Troupe 48).

Members of the troupe were put through laugh-provoking stunts such as a cold penny candy kisses, a chocolate cigar and an imitation $1,000 bill. One young lady was given a date with Peter Lawford. She was disappointed, however, in that the date was the kind you eat and not the kind you appear only in a photograph. The program was recorded on the wire recorder.

Sell Harbinger Subscriptions
Harbinger subscriptions were sold during the week Jan. 17-21. Students were urged to support their paper and with each subscription a pin was given free. The pins are in blue and white with "Wayne High" inscribed on the base.

Eighth Grade
The following eighth graders were neither absent nor tardy during the first semester: Doris Skeahan, Billy Palmer, Yvonne Koplin and Gary Jeffrey.

A card party was held Dec. 22. Mrs. Lawrence Fisher received the blanket and Art Munson, the door prize. Lunch was sold at the close of the program. The school has earned nearly $50 which we plan to spend on a set of maps when the needed amount is earned.

On Dec. 23 we had our Christmas party and gift exchange. Games were the diversion for the afternoon, with prizes given to the winners.

Joan Havener is a new pupil coming from district 83. We wish to welcome her in our second grade.

District 79
Nancy, Ethel and George Carstens had perfect attendance this month. Perfect attendance dropped because of the mumps epidemic.

The Christmas theme was thoroughly worked out in classroom decorations. A tree and sand table scene were also set up.

Pupils and teacher invited their parents to a Christmas party on Tuesday evening, Dec. 21, which was enjoyed by all. The pupils gave a short program and lunch was served. Gifts were exchanged and Santa left his treats.

School was dismissed Dec. 23 for Christmas vacation.

'Take Time to Live' Is Safety Slogan for '49

Take time to live! With that message the Nebraska State Safety Council opened its 1949 educational campaign to assist in the further reduction of traffic accidents and fatalities in Nebraska.

"THIS SLOGAN," like "Save 100 lives in '48" which was promoted all last year, is intended to make people think in terms of safer driving and living." Horace Crosby, president of the council, said.

Another theme which will be used on the envelopes of all council mail is the use of the initials "P. S." in large type with an explanatory note below reading, "Public Safety . . . or public slaughter."

The slogan, "Take time to live," will also be printed on all state house mail through the medium of the postal metering machines.

"IT IS ESTIMATED" that at least seven people handle a piece of mail by the time it reaches its destination. The safety council will send out approximately 35,000 pieces of mail this year which means these slogans will be seen and read 245,000 times on safety council mail alone," Crosby said.

"This is just one phase of the many programs and plans the council has arranged to stress traffic safety throughout the state during 1949," Crosby concluded.

The Normal School Proposals

Nebraska's four state normal schools (Wayne, Chadron, Kearney and Peru) are facing legislation which thousands of Nebraskans will consider detrimental to the advancement of education. Among the bills introduced in the present session of the legislature is one which would limit teachers colleges to their present program of granting degrees in education and authorize them to become more active in the junior college field. Under this bill, it is reported, one of the four colleges would be closed, one would be relegated to the status of a branch of the state university and the remaining two would be converted into junior colleges. Presumably, the latter two would be Wayne and Kearney, since they have the largest enrollments.

However, the normal schools also have friends in the legislature who will fight vigorously for them. On the brighter side is a proposal to permit the normal schools, which now grant only degrees in education, to grant liberal arts degrees also. A bill to this effect also has been introduced in the legislature.

Opponents of the present normal school system argue that the schools are not operating economically enough, pointing out that enrollments are dropping. Actual figures do not exactly substantiate this contention. Using Wayne as an example, the enrollment for the first semester of the 1948-49 school year is the fifth highest on record in any first semester from 1933 through 1948. It was exceeded only in 1935, 1938, 1939 and 1940. During the war years, enrollment dropped off sharply, but beginning in 1946 it has increased steadily and at the start of the current term was only 186 fewer than the peak year of 1939. It should be noted that in 1938, 1939 and 1940 many teachers were taking additional instruction in order to meet high educational requirements. Because of the teacher shortage resulting from the war, these requirements were lessened and only now are being stiffened again as more teachers with better educations become available.

In addition, persons familiar with the normal schools believe that authority to grant liberal arts degrees would automatically bring about a large increase in enrollments. They also assert that the normal schools already offer all the courses necessary for liberal arts degrees and hence could grant the degrees without boosting operating costs.

Others familiar with normal schools say that when times are not as good as they are at present, normal school enrollments go up. That seems logical, because many students then are unable to attend the state university or schools in other states because of lack of money. As an alternative, they attend teachers colleges near their homes rather than be denied the benefits of higher education.

Considering today's heavy demand for education, it seems highly unlikely that the state has too many educational facilities. Rather, its educational institutions should be expanded, their authority broadened, so that more students can be accommodated in their desire to attain certain educational goals.

Nebraska is many years behind most of its neighboring states in taking the forward step which would permit its teachers colleges to grant liberal arts degrees. Since these colleges already are in a position to give these degrees with existing courses of study, it seems wise to give them the authority to do so. As one educator puts it, "We need only the authority to permit students to select courses other than education in order that they may round out a four-year liberal arts program."

The state university today has an enormous enrollment. The burden of adequately serving its tremendous student body must be a heavy one. Part of this burden probably could be relieved if the normal schools were permitted to grant bachelor of arts degrees, thus attracting some of the students who now attend the university because the teachers colleges near their homes do not offer them the degrees they seek.

All of the state's normal schools are in a position to take care of more students, but are not interested in becoming so large as to be unwieldy. One college official told us, "We are interested in turning out quality rather than quantity. The heart of the matter is that if the right to grant liberal arts degrees will make additional educational facilities available to the rural youth of Nebraska."

We repeat: The state is not oversupplied with state operated schools of higher learning. But too much educational authority is vested in one institution—the state university.

It's Debatable!
Someone has said that there are three sides to every question: 1. Your side, 2. My side, 3. The right side. Never before has it been so important that Americans know both sides before arguing for their side. The Public Library is the place to get all the information on the many controversial questions of the day. Before you get into your next argument come into the library and we will help you find all the pros and cons to the question. Many adults have never learned to use the reference section of the library. As the old saying goes—you are never too old to learn.

Different Readers, Different Books
For each of us there is some special magic. Perhaps it is Stevenson's
I go to bed with backward looks
At my dear land of story books
If you are that reader you will like Sleigh Bells for Windy Foot by Frost, or Snow Dog by Kjelgaard. Perhaps it will be The Chesty Oak by Kate Seredy.
There is no Frigate like a book
To take us lands away.
The new book by Thomas Costain, High Towers, takes us to Quebec and New Orleans in the 17th century and is as usual an excellent bit of writing.
Or, it may be as Andrew Lang discovered,
When others fall him the wise man looks
To the sure companionship of books.
A book about the war such as Crusade in Europe by Eisenhower, or a book about nature such as Northern Farm, A Chronicle of Maine by Boston may be just the companionship you are seeking these cold, long winter evenings.
You will be like Shakespeare who found
Tongues in trees, books in running brooks,
Sermons in stones, and good in every thing.

OUT OF OLD NEBRASKA
by JAMES C. OLSON, Superintendent
STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Much history can be learned from a study of place names, and two of the most interesting books ever written about Nebraska are Nebraska Place Names, by Lillian Fitzpatrick; and The Origin of the Place Names of Nebraska, by J. T. Link. Both of these were published by the University of Nebraska, the former in 1925 and the latter in 1933.

These works show statistically a fact which is fairly apparent to anyone traveling about Nebraska or studying a map of the state—that by far the greatest number of Nebraska's counties, towns and cities were named after individuals.

Of the 93 counties, 68 bear personal names. Those most frequently honored have been presidents of the United States, and 12 Nebraska counties bear presidential names: Adams, Arthur, Fillmore, Garfield, Grant, Hayes, Jefferson, Lincoln, Madison, Pierce, Polk, and Washington.

Nebraska's towns showed the same tendency in selecting names, although instead of presidents, railroad officials and employees were the persons most frequently honored. Many Nebraska towns were laid out by the railroads and it was customary for railroad companies to name stations after a territory between the Missouri and Nebraska communities were so named.

Indian names are used much less frequently than one might expect, although the name of the state itself is derived from either an Omaha or Oto word meaning "flat water." Both tribes were of the Siouan linguistic stock and their names for the Platte river were similar—one is about as close to "Nebraska" as the other.

The French translated the word to "Platte" or "Platte" on their early maps of the region. The name Nebraska for the region through which the river runs was first officially suggested by William Wilkins, Secretary of War to President Tyler, who in his report for 1844 urged the creation of a territory between the Missouri river and the Rockies and suggested that "The Platte or Nebraska, being the central stream leading into and from the Great South Pass would very properly furnish a name for the territory."

Congress
As Seen By KARL STEFAN

The inauguration is now a matter of history. The day was calm and clear although the air had a definite chill, particularly late in the afternoon after the sun began going down. It was cold enough to cause the parade marchers to give a really snappy performance, but must be considered very good weather here for this time of year. However, spectators who remained for all of the inaugural parade, which took more than three hours to pass the reviewing stand, were fortunate if they came prepared with blankets. Some were reminded of all football weather in Nebraska.

Already crowded Washington was jammed for the inauguration. And yet many rooms, for which arrangements had been made to take care of the overflow from hotels, were not placed in operation. It was feared that they would be unable to find places to stay in Washington caused many of the visitors to arrange for rooms in nearby Baltimore or even as far away as Philadelphia, while others remained in town early in the day and left for their homes after the festivities without attempting to stay overnight.

The parade had many beautiful floats, most states being represented, but none placed as much emphasis upon the farmer and his products than did Nebraska's float. Carrying out the theme of our state seal, it featured the colors, blue and gold. Representing the sower on the float was Jack Wilson, son of Colonel Wilson of North Platte, who now works in the Pentagon building here. Appearing as a pioneer farmer and his wife were Jack's brother, Jerry Wilson, and Imogene Pollard of Nebraska, who is on Senator Butler's staff. Bill Howard, son of Bert Howard of Scottsbluff, took the part of the blacksmith of the seal. Plenty of golden corn was in evidence.

The Nebraska State society here held its first get-together of the year at the end of inauguration week. This consisted of a dance in the Burgundy room of the Wardman Park hotel. These functions are open to all present or former Nebraskans.

Members of congress are receiving mail on the subject of taxes. One such letter comes from the National Authority of the Ladies' Handbag Industry, with headquarters in New York. This group wants the 20 per cent excise tax on handbags removed, quoting radio speakers as saying a "pant-pocket tax" is "just as reasonable."

A committee in charge has invited members of congress to join in the celebration of the first anniversary of the "creation of the state of Israel." The event will be commemorated May 14 at Madison Square Garden in New York City.

Wildcats Defeated by Doane 53-51 Saturday

Doane college Tigers sank their fangs into Wayne State's Wildcats last Saturday night to pull an upset 53 to 51 victory over the favored Waynites.

This gives Doane their first Nebraska College conference win, and is the second loss for Wayne in league play.

Wayne fans saw both teams off to a fast start with neither outfit able to gain a decisive lead until the accurate eye of Frank Schultz lifted the Tigers to a 28 to 22 lead at recess.

COACH DON MEER'S Wildcats came back strong in the second half to tie the game at 28 apiece with a 3-point margin.

Again Doane started, this time to a 6-tally lead that the Wildcats threatened, but failed to overcome.

Schultz hit for the winners to account for 26 of Doane's total as Jack Baumert shared top honors for the Wildcats with 23 points.

Baumert and Kropp received their full quota of fouls and left the game just before the final whistle sounded.

SCHULTZ RECEIVED a broken blood vessel in his ankle when he was fouled while attempting a last minute lay-up shot and Vernon Harder was marked on Wayne's ankle during play.

Wayne State's Cats will meet Hastings again this Friday night, Jan. 28, at Hastings for their first encounter this season.

Osmond A three game match with Brunswick Friday night, Jan. 21, found Osmond high on the short end of all scores as Osmond's first squad dropped a 32 to 29 decision, the reserves lost a 17 to 16 clash and the two junior high teams duelled to a 18 to 7 ending.

Meurat and Mason led the Brunswick attack with 15 and 10 points respectively, as Wortman netted 8 points for the losers.

Osmond fell behind the Brunswick quintet after leading off with an 8 to 2 quarter-time score.

Wayne Hi Loses Prep Panthers Win Two Games During Past Week

Wakefield led nearly all the way in defeating Wayne high's Blue Devils, 34-26 in a return engagement game Friday at Wakefield.

The first half was rather inactive with no points scored by Wayne and only two by Wakefield in the second quarter. The first period score, 6-8, Wakefield, was made by three foul shots and one bucket from Don Tietgen and one free-throw by David Meyer for Wayne, while Harold Hyspe, Larry Ring, Bill Anderson and Dick Pospisil all contributed to Wakefield's total. The lone basket in the second period was made by Ralph Connor leaving the half-time score 10-6.

Wakefield retained the lead in the remaining two quarters also. But the game was by no means unexciting. Baskets by Meyer, Tietgen, Fisher, Cramer and Richard Berry kept the Blue Devils in close running and the third period score stood 25-18. But the Blue Devils could not stop Anderson, Hyspe and Connor who together piled up 22 points in the last half.

High point men were Tietgen, 22 points and freshman, David Meyer, 5 counters for Wayne, while Hyspe led the opponents with 12 tubs and Anderson was next with 9 points.

Tuesday, Jan. 25 the Blue Devils travel to Winside for their 10th game out of the scheduled 19.

The Wayne seconds furthered their reputation beating the Wakefield reserves 19-16 in the opening game.

Wayne pulled out of a 6-6 first quarter tie to go ahead 13-9 at half-time. Richard Berry collected 6 points, Jim Birdsall, 3 and Maurice Proett and Reno Pfeil each 2, to total this score for Wayne. Lueders, Nimrod and Felt made the Wakefield points for the first half.

All of the Blue Devils' tallies in the last two quarters were made on free throws. In fact all but one of Wakefield's pointers came from foul shots in these quarters also. The Wayne free shot record of the game was 5 misses out of 14 attempts.

The third quarter score, 15-12, Wayne, promised an exciting last period, and such it was. With Wayne leading 18-16 it looked like Wakefield might tie it all up and possibly win. But Richard Berry's free throw saved the game for the Blue Devils in the closing seconds.

Berry totaled 7 points while Proett and Birdsall each made 4 for Wayne. Lueders earned 7 and Felt 4 for Wakefield.

Emerson Wilts Ponca with Win

Emerson—Ponca high felt the full fury of Emerson's cager attack Friday night, Jan. 21, as the Emerson five rolled up a 66 to 37 victory.

In the game played on their own floor, Brand and Maskell chalked up 18 and 16 points respectively for the winners, leaving Walsh of Ponca to hold high man of the game with 22 tallies.

Emerson's reserve squad managed a close 18 to 16 win over Ponca's seconds in the opening game of the evening.

Dixon county tournament is being held at Wakefield Jan. 27, 28 and 29 with Emerson being entered.

From the frying pan into the fire from there, as the following week, Feb. 1, 2, 3 and 4, the Emerson cager men play host to the Logan Valley basketball tournament held at Emerson.

Wayne campus high school put a victorious team back on the floor twice the past week after a month layoff.

Prep's cagers downed Winside 35 to 28 Wednesday evening, Jan. 19 to avenge an earlier defeat, then traveled to Thurston Friday evening to carry off a 58 to 15 win.

Coach Delmar Warde's Winside men were off to a good start as Housek ran up a lead that Prep was unable to overcome until after intermission. Recess score stood at 14 to 11 with Winside on top.

A switch from zone to a man-to-man defense for Winside failed to work during the second half, and Prep capitalized on the breaks to gather 21 points in the third and fourth quarters.

Gramberg and Bahe left the game via the foul route in the final period while Thompson garnered 13 points to lead the scoring.

In Friday night's game the Prep bench was swept clean as 15 men saw action against Thurston's team. Prep Panther's reserve squad played most of the game and were able to control the game which ended 58 to 15.

Thurston was unable to place a strong team back in competition this year after losing eleven letters by graduation.

Tom Bahe racked up 14 points for the winners as Thurston's Fletcher tallied 3 points for the home team.

Laurel—An almost scoreless first half for Hartington high was a prediction of things to come, as Laurel's Bears went on to hang up a 41 to 11 victory Friday night, Jan. 21, over Coach Darrold Bobier's netters.

The tilt was held on home ground for the Hartington men, but was not too fruitful as Gene Ready managed to collect but 3 points to pace the losers.

Curtis turned in his usual good game for the Bears with outstanding floor play and offensive punch.

Coach Gilliland used reserves liberally throughout the game.

Score by quarters was 1-11, 3-28, 11-33 and 11-41.

IF WE HAD OUR WAY...

... everyone who wanted Natural Gas heating would have it right away. But—circumstances beyond our control are holding up and slowing up the transmission of more gas from the fields to you. As we have explained previously—there is adequate Natural Gas in the fields. That is not the problem. The difficulty is in obtaining enough large diameter steel pipe and other metal products to build more pipe lines. Present lines are operating at capacity, even though the pipe line company has increased its capacity greatly during the past two years. Just as soon as possible we hope we can say: "Now you can have gas heat... everybody who wants it!"

Maintaining High Tavern Standards by Education

Encouraging the maintenance of good conditions in places where beer is sold is the chief aim of the brewing industry and the Nebraska Division, U. S. Brewers Foundation.

Since the best informed tavern owners are generally those who best conduct their places in the public interest, our dealers educational program for 1949 will be continued through the year in an effort to make it still more effective.

In addition to personal educational work by trained fieldmen, helpful posters are provided in an effort to secure the cooperation of patrons whose age or conduct might be involved.

As a result of years of constant education, Nebraska tavern owners have improved conditions in their places and, with continued help, these conditions will be improved even more.
