

Governor Directs More Aid to Wayne Area

Wayne College Enrollment Now Stands at 726

Nearly 100 More Than Same Time One Year Ago

Second semester enrollment at Wayne State stood at 726 students at the completion of the college's regular census completed last Saturday. This is an increase of 97 students over last year at the same time when 629 registered.

Road conditions have changed little in this area since this aerial photo was taken a week ago Sunday. The Warren Austin family lives on the farm in the foreground of the picture, a mile north and four miles west of Wayne. The road past the place was blocked, but a path was made straight out from the farm into the field, where it joined another "road" across the field. On the other side of the creek at the top of the picture are farms occupied by the W. C. Wests and Marvin Dunklaus.

Mr. and Mrs. August Wittler of Wayne will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary Tuesday, Feb. 22. Their children are planning an open house to be held at the Redeemer Lutheran church parlors from 2:00 to 3:30 that day.

Snowbound Farmers Find a Way to Market Eggs, Cream

Cooperation among neighbors has been one of the biggest factors in whipping the inconveniences brought on by impassable roads and bad weather.

One such instance is that arranged by a group of farmers who live northwest of Wayne. They set a day and a time when all bring their produce by wagon, sled or on foot to an appointed spot, this being in most cases the Amos Echtenkamp farm.

On Monday of this week, the group included Fred and Russell Beckman, Kenneth Dunklau, Clarence Herfel, Mrs. Hupp, Kermit Fork, Elmer Lyons and Otto Sahn.

The first in the series of Union Lenten services sponsored by the Wayne Ministerial association is scheduled for March 6 at the First Methodist church.

A schedule of the remaining services follows: March 13—Redeemer Lutheran church, Sermon, "The Direction We Take," Speaker, Rev. Eugene E. Golay.

March 20—First Presbyterian church, Sermon, "The Goal We Seek," Speaker, Rev. Kenneth de Freese.

Terraces Increase in County

Frank Lansing, who keeps terracing records for the Wayne county soil district, finds that the amount of terracing done on some farms in this area is larger than many people think.

Lansing's figures reveal that Rollie Ley is the leader in terracing construction on his land. He has built 58,400 feet, or 11 miles, of terraces in the past few years.

Others in Wayne county with over 20,000 feet of terraces are: Albert Watson, 28,400 feet; N. F. Schroeder, 25,100; Sam and Harold

Has Anybody Seen My Dog?

Clayton Brindley was a dejected little boy when he stuck his freckled face into The Herald office Tuesday morning to report the loss of his dog, Brownie. He knew The Herald was the right place to run an ad for a lost dog, but he didn't know about ads costing money, and the Herald staff found it mighty hard to go into economics with an unhappy kid who had lost his pet.

So, please, if you see a brown dog, white around his neck, species unidentified, will you let Clayton know or report it to The Herald? The dog answers the name of Brownie, Clayton says, and has been missing for six days.

Historical Society Superintendent in Wayne Next Week

Dr. James C. Olson, superintendent of the Nebraska State Historical Society in Lincoln, will be in Wayne next Monday and Tuesday to address the Kiwanis club and the Wayne State convocation.

Dr. Olson will speak to the Kiwanis chapter at its regular Monday noon luncheon with "A Word on Local History" as a topic. His convocation address will take place at 10 a. m. Tuesday at the college townpeople as well as students. His topic will be "Why We Behave Like Nebraskans."

On Monday evening, several townspeople and faculty members will attend a dinner for Dr. Olson at the college's Student Union dining room. Dr. Olson will speak on "Let's Preserve Our Heritage." Tickets for the dinner are available from Dr. J. R. Johnson of the college history department.

Readers of The Wayne Herald are familiar with Dr. Olson through his regular weekly column entitled "Out of Old Nebraska." He is a native of Sioux City and earned his doctor's degree at the University of Nebraska. He has written a biography of J. Sterling Morton and several historical articles. In World War II, Dr. Olson served in the navy.

Robert Benthack Practices Here

Dr. Robert Benthack, son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Benthack, came to Wayne last Wednesday to associate with his father in general practice at the Benthack hospital.

He recently finished his residence work in Wyandotte, Mich. He received his degree from the University of Nebraska college of medicine and interned at Indianapolis General hospital, Indianapolis, Ind.

Miss Reappointed Paul Mines was reappointed a member of the Veterans Service committee for a five-year term by the county commissioners Tuesday.

Rites Held for Wayne Farmer

Ernest Harrigfeld, 74, resident of Wayne county for 42 years, died at his home west of Wayne last Friday morning. Mr. Harrigfeld, a well known cattleman, had been in ill health for the past two years and had been bedfast for four weeks.

He was born in Uslar, Germany, Sept. 6, 1874, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harrigfeld. At the age of 8, he came to America with his parents and lived for a short time in Iowa before moving to Emerson.

Mr. Harrigfeld was educated in the rural schools near Emerson and was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church there. In 1907 he moved to Wayne county and settled on a farm west of town.

MR. HARRIGFELD and Elsie Schinder were married June 4, 1931, in Omaha. She survives her husband.

Other survivors include eight sisters, Mrs. Hannah Wallwey, Mrs. Lena Longe and Mrs. Augusta Ronfeldt of Emerson, Mrs. Mary Giese of Allen, Mrs. Basil Osburn of Wayne, Mrs. Elsie McCabe of South Sioux City, Mrs. Betty Tucker of Waterbury and Mrs. Helen Carlson of Salt Lake City, Utah; and four brothers, Chris and William of South Sioux City, George of Oakland, Calif., and Louis of Chicago.

His parents and two sisters preceded him in death.

FUNERAL services were held at 1:00 Tuesday afternoon at the Beckenhauer chapel in Wayne, with Rev. J. H. M. Shery in charge, and at 2:30 at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Emerson with Rev. Shery and Rev. Henry Roswold officiating. Louise Osburn sang "Nearer My God to Thee," "Jesus Still Lead On" and "Abide with Me" at the services. Her accompanist was Charlotte Ziegler.

Palbearers were George Wallwey, John Ronfeldt, William Longe, Raymond Harrigfeld, William Giese, Jr., and Ernest Osburn. Burial was in Roschild cemetery at Emerson.

MR. HARRIGFELD'S death was the third in the family within a few days. A brother-in-law of the deceased, William Wallwey, was buried in Emerson last Wednesday. Dennis Osburn, oldest brother of Basil Osburn, died in a Fremont hospital that same day.

While Mr. and Mrs. Osburn were attending funeral services for him in Herman on Friday, they learned of Mr. Harrigfeld's death.

Mrs. Harrigfeld had just returned from a Wayne hospital the fore part of last week, having been hospitalized with a broken ankle.

County Gets Gas Tax Funds

Wayne county's share of the January state gasoline tax amounted to $3,303.07. Of that total, the county road fund received $2430.15; county bridge, $649.33; and road districts, $178.59.

ROBINS HERE!

Maybe spring HAS come, after all. Mrs. John Einung, in the northwest part of Wayne, saw two robins in her yard Wednesday morning and promptly began feeding them, hoping they'll stay here and perhaps act as decoys for more.

Corn Loans Are Increasing With Drop in Market

Expect Big Rush For Sealing When Roads Are Opened

The downward trend of the grain market is creating a big increase for government corn loans in Wayne county, and corn loan officials said Tuesday that a heavy rush for loans is expected when roads are opened so that farmers can come in to make applications.

The loan status the forepart of this week stood at 369 loans completed on 390,147 bushels of corn. At the government loan price of $1.55 per bushel, this totals $526,629.55.

In addition, the local AAA office has numerous applications on file but has not been able to complete the loans because corn seeders are unable to reach many farms.

SOME FARMERS have inquired as to whether the falling market price on corn will mean a reduction of the government loan rate of $1.35 per bushel. The AAA office assures farmers that this rate is fixed and will not be changed.

Service charge for corn sealing is 1 cent a bushel, and the loans expire on Sept. 1, 1949. On that date farmers either must turn their sealed corn over to the government or buy it back. In the latter case, they must pay a 3 per cent interest fee on the amount of money they have borrowed, but may easily profit by doing so if the market price goes above the $1.35 loan rate.

INTEREST ALSO is picking up in the government's purchase agreement program. Under this plan, the government guarantees the farmer a price of $1.35 per bushel on Sept. 1, 1949. He is charged a service fee of one-half cent a bushel for his purchase agreement.

On Sept. 1, the farmer may turn his corn over to the government and receive a price of $1.35 per bushel. But if, in the meantime, the market price has reached a more favorable figure, the farmer has the privilege of keeping his corn if he chooses. In the latter case he will have paid his half-cent a bushel preliminary service and fee and will receive no money from the government, but he will still have his corn and may feed it or sell it on the open market if this will be more profitable.

Purchase agreements issued to Wayne county farmers totaled 25 on Tuesday. These agreements covered 88,154 bushels of corn, for which the farmers paid preliminary service fees totaling $240.77.

MANY OTHER purchase agreements probably will be issued, the AAA office believes. Also of interest to farmers is the fact that corn turned over to the government must grade at least No. 3 to be eligible for the $1.35 per bushel rate. Corn grading No. 2 will receive a half-cent a bushel premium, and No. 1 corn will receive a 1-cent premium.

June 30 is the deadline for either sealing corn or obtaining a purchase agreement.

Plow Jumps Tracks In Winside Area

Snowdrifts continue to plague the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroad through Wayne.

Working Sunday afternoon on the Wayne to Norfolk branch, a wedge type plow jumped the tracks between Winside and Hoskins. Crews were expected to begin the job of putting it back on the tracks Wednesday.

Trains still were unable to reach Bloomfield on the branch line Tuesday.

Local Delegation in Lincoln Wednesday

Help is on the way to snowbound northeastern Nebraska!

Just before going to press Wednesday The Herald learned that Gov. Val Peterson, after a conference with a Wayne delegation in Lincoln, has directed the army and Operation Snowbound to renew efforts to relieve the serious road situation in Wayne and surrounding counties.

Peterson told the army that snow removal equipment now working here is not sufficient, and that the job in this area has not even been started.

The governor also dispelled rumors that Operation Snowbound equipment is about to pull out of Nebraska and go to other stricken areas.

This equipment, he said, will remain here until the job is completed.

From eight to a dozen more bulldozers have been dispatched to the Wayne area and were expected to arrive Wednesday or shortly thereafter. Other equipment also is expected.

Americanism is Kiwanis Topic

Although the weather this week began to moderate, Wayne county rural areas still are largely snowbound and probably will remain that way unless relief comes through Operation Snowbound.

Yesterday (Wednesday) County Commissioners Robert I. Jones and Emil F. Meyer, County Clerk C. A. Bard, and A. L. Swan and John Kyl of the Chamber of Commerce took action they hope will bring immediate aid to the county. The group went to Lincoln to consult with Gov. Val Peterson on the situation in the Wayne area, which has had little outside help despite repeated pleas for assistance.

SOME ARMY equipment is at work in the county. There are five bulldozers working in William Misfeldt's third district and two in Jones' second district. None has been assigned to Meyer's first district.

All county equipment has been working constantly on country roads, but even this, plus the bulldozers, has been successful in opening only a few miles each day because of the depth of the firmly packed snow. Efforts to reopen some previously opened cuts, drifted shut again by high winds, have had to be abandoned because the banks are so high that additional snow cannot be shoveled up high enough.

WITH AN UPTURN in the livestock market this week, feeders are particularly anxious to ship their animals. Efforts to reopen some previously opened cuts, drifted shut again by high winds, have had to be abandoned because the banks are so high that additional snow cannot be shoveled up high enough.

Although blocked roads are the rule throughout the Wayne area, the western and northwestern parts of the county remain the worst. Even the eight government bulldozers working in those sections have not been able to clear enough roads last week. In many instances, the bulldozers have cleared paths through fields rather than back the impassable drifts.

Estimate Library Cost at $13,000

The library board learned last week that the proposed building and repair program for the Wayne public library would cost approximately $13,000, according to a preliminary estimate.

Plans are being continued to submit the proposal to the voters in the form of a bond issue in the April 5 municipal election.

Two Farm Sales Postponed; Third Scheduled Feb. 25

Two farm sales scheduled the forepart of this week were postponed because of blocked roads.

Russell Malmberg, 1 mile east and 2 miles north of Winside, postponed his sale to today (Thursday). This was Malmberg's second postponement.

LaVern Lewis, a quarter mile north of Winside, has rescheduled his sale for Tuesday, Feb. 22. Lewis planned to have his sale Tuesday. He will sell 96 head of cattle, including 15 fatuity cattle and 83 white-face stock cattle, 25 stock hogs, a line of farm machinery and other articles.

J. L. (Jack) Bush, 11 miles northwest of Wayne, has scheduled his sale for Friday, Feb. 25. Bush had intended to hold his sale at an earlier date but was unable to get off his farm until Tuesday when a bulldozer finally crashed through the drifts.

Army Weasel for Winside Area

Cars Collide in Deep Snow Cut

Cars driven by Benny Ulrich of Wayne and Robert Hutchins of Allen collided in a deep snow cut about five miles north of Wayne Friday evening. No one was injured. About $100 damage resulted to the cars. Sheriff Hans Tietgen investigated.

4-H Club Speech Contest Friday

The district 4-H speech contest, which is to be held in Wayne Friday, will decide an entry for the state contest. The winner will be awarded a trip to 4-H club week in Lincoln in June and a chance to enter the state contest during that week.

Entries received to date are Laurine Pfeiff, Dakota City, Dakota county; Larry Dean and Loretta Gayer of Wainhill, Thurston county; and Ectorly Carlson of Wayne, Wayne county. Eight other counties are in the district.

IF NAMES have not been submitted because of weather conditions, Tom Warner, county agent, has announced that entries may come to the contest that day and they will be entered although their names will not appear on the program.

The district contest Friday will be held at the YWCA, or the YMCA rooms in the basement of the college Student Union building. Speeches will start at 11 a.m. Winners will be announced directly after the contest.

EACH ENTRY must choose his own topic and write his own speech, which is to be eight minutes. Topics may deal with any subject related to 4-H work. Speeches will be judged on message, subject matter, organization, originality, usefulness to 4-H, timeliness, and delivery.

County winners were awarded fountain pens or a similar appropriate prize. District awards are trips to the state contest and the state winners will be awarded $150 scholarships to the University of Nebraska. The scholarships are made available through a radio station.

Many Join Local Square Dance Club

The idea of a square dance club has had a good response reports Mrs. C. C. Stutz, who is helping organize a club. About 50 couples so far have indicated their desire to join the club.

Anyone who is interested in entering the group for purposes of learning or for pleasure is invited to the organizational meeting at the Woman's club rooms in the auditorium Friday evening. Membership is not restricted to couples.

Postpone Court of Honor
The court of honor scheduled by Boy Scouts of troop 174 has been postponed from Feb. 17 to a later date.

Martin Phones From Panama

Mrs. Ora Martin visited with her son, Cpl. William Martin, in Panama by telephone Saturday morning. He reports that at the weather there is very warm and that he would like to see some of Nebraska's snow. He also said that there are a number of cases of polio and yellow fever at his base. Cpl. Martin is a radioman with the air force.

Emergency Aerial Trips Continue as Roads Stay Shut

Wayne Air Service continues to make emergency flights over northeastern Nebraska's snow-bound area.

Because its own ski-equipped plane was damaged when it nosed over in a snowbank, Wayne Air Service now is using one owned by Lloyd Hugelmann until repairs can be effected.

Last week Wayne Air Service took Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Phillips to their home northeast of Wayne. Mr. Phillips had been in a Sioux City hospital.

Milk was flown from the John Sievers farm to Everett Roberts' dairy in Wayne.

Flowers were flown from the Wayne Greenhouse to a funeral at Wainhill.

Austin Bressler of near Pender was flown to Wayne for medical treatment.

Heine Candidate For Scholarship

William Heine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heine, has been named a candidate for a college scholarship worth approximately $4,300, made available through the U.S. navy college training program.

His score in an aptitude test taken in December made him eligible for a physical examination and interviews which are necessary prior to the submission of his name to the state selection committee. The committee will pick 30 men to fill the quota for Nebraska.

He is to report in Kansas City March 2 for the examination and interviews.

Successful candidates will be given the rank of midshipman in the U.S. naval reserve and will attend one of the 52 schools which have NROTC units, including the University of Nebraska.

Leaves Soon for Trip to Europe

Mrs. Lawrence Ring of southwest of Wakefield leaves here Sunday for Omaha on the first lap of a journey through Europe. She is one of a group of midwestern women, 45 of whom are Nebraskans, who will take a tour of the continent similar to the one taken by a group of farmers in December.

The tour is conducted by Mary Foster of a flour company. A banquet will be given for the women in Omaha Sunday evening. Monday they leave by plane about 6 a.m. for Chicago, arriving there about 8:30. Their plane takes off at 1 p.m. for a 3 1/2-hour trip to New York.

On Tuesday they will fly to London, and from there will probably go to Paris. The tour includes sections of France, Ireland and Germany. Mrs. Ring will also go to Sweden to visit.

The travelers were advised to take regular midwestern winter clothing and heavy-soled shoes. They were also encouraged to pack candy bars and instant coffee to supplement food rations.

California Cold, Too

Mrs. Frank Gilbert received a telephone call Tuesday night from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Evans of Long Beach, Calif., and her brother, Earl, of Lancaster. They were anxious to learn of the snow and weather conditions here. Earl reported that it is unusually cold in California and that the water pipes at his home had frozen.

Postpone Polio Benefit Events In Wayne County

Weather has again forced the postponement of the remaining polio benefit activities.

The dance, originally scheduled for Feb. 16, will be held March 14, with Don Shaw and his orchestra furnishing the music.

The auction sales at Hoskins, Winside and Carroll have also been postponed, but they will be held at future dates. Sufficient notice will be given for those who wish to contribute articles for the auctions so that they can get them in for the sales.

Mrs. Chris Tietgen, chairman of the fund raising drive, announces that about $2,000 has been turned in to date. This is far below the quota, and much less than is needed in the county to fight polio. Not all reports are in from the house canvassers, and many of the school cards have not been returned. Receipts from the rural areas have been slow coming in because of the road conditions. Those who have not contributed should do so at the first opportunity, Mrs. Tietgen urged.

Commission Names Former Publisher

Clarke Wilson of Lincoln was elected chairman of the Nebraska state game commission at a meeting Monday in Lincoln. Wilson published the Wakefield Republican previous to his appointment to the game commission.

Bonnie Poyar and Dick Munter Wed At Feb. 6 Service

Miss Bonnie Jean Poyar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Poyar of Norfolk, and Dick Munter, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Munter of Randolph, were married Feb. 6 at St. John's Lutheran church in Randolph. Rev. Harold Hoff officiated at the double-ring candlelight service.

The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with lace, styled on princess lines. It featured a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which were pointed at the wrist. Her fingertip length veil was held by a halo of seed pearls. She carried white lilies tied with a white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Raymond Garrod served as her sister's matron of honor and Miss Jeanette Meyer as bridesmaid. They wore gowns of white marquisette, with short veils held by white roses. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow jonquils.

The candlelighters, Florene Schager and Lois Bauer, wore white formals with corsages of coral gladioli.

attended the bridegroom. Ushers were Raymond Garrod and Elno Jordan.

Mrs. Poyar chose a gray dress for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Munter wore black. Both had coral gladioli corsages.

About 100 guests were entertained at a reception in the church parlors. Decorations were in gold and white, the bride's chosen colors. Assisting were Mary Ann Rudebusch, Lois Meyer, Elaine Benson, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. E. E. Hagstrom and Mrs. Ernest Cisney.

The couple are both graduates of Randolph high school. The bride is employed as a secretary at the Norfolk Produce Co. The bridegroom served a year with the marines, and has been farming.

For her going-away ensemble, the bride chose a black gabardine suit with matching accessories. Following a wedding trip, the couple will live on a farm northeast of Randolph.

On a Foundation of Liberty

In observing the birthday of our first president, we want to pay honor to a man who was more than a great statesman, a great humanitarian, a great general. George Washington was also a great builder. Armed with a blueprint planned by men who cherished freedom, he led them through adversity to the construction of a nation whose foundation was and yet remains LIBERTY.

He built well. True, some new wings have been added since his time,

Bulldozer Comes to Rescue Of Wayne Prep Students

Merrily they rode along, and then they started. The Wayne Prep team and the Prep club were coming home from the Winslow tournament Feb. 9 in high spirits. They had just defeated Dixon, 52-17. Everything was just fine until one of the cars hit a big snowdrift. Then things started to happen.

The Dixon team and the Prep club were following the Prepsters when this all happened. They tried to help push the car out.

After both basketball teams had helped to push the car for at least 15 minutes, the drivers decided it was no use to try to go on. About 50 students accompanied by teachers and parents, went to the farm homes of Marvin Dunklau and Joe Pinkleman and waited until the state bulldozer came to the rescue.

BOY SCOUT court of honor for troop 174 was to be held in the motion picture room of the training school Tuesday evening, Feb. 15, at 7:30. Various awards were to be presented, and a motion picture, "The Scouts in the Forest," was to be shown. The Boy Scout Parent's auxiliary, and all parents and friends of scouting, were invited to be the guests of the troop.

Since this was Boy Scout week, each scout observed it by attending his own church Feb. 6 in his uniform, wearing his uniform to school each day from Feb. 7-11, and helping to raise the flag outside the training school each morning at 8:50.

HOW ORGANISMS Meet the Food Problem, was the topic discussed in biology class the first part of this week.

The students are learning that the food of different kinds of organisms varies, that some of the simplest plants are able to use the elements such as sulphur, that certain fungi secure their food from decaying logs and plants, and that parasitic plants and animals secure their food energy from living plants and animals.

The class is turning next to the subject, "What Are Some of Man's Food Problems?"

IF ONE WOULD have entered the eighth grade history class Feb. 9, he would have been entertained by a concert of dots and dashes. The class was learning how to operate and send code on a small telegraph which one of the student teachers brought.

The class has also been making reports on means of communication. It was planned that the best student report would be recorded on the wire recorder; however all the reports were so interesting it could not be decided which was best. To solve the problem the class planned a round table discussion which they recorded. Each student took part in this.

C. V. Wait is supervisor of the class, and Gustav Hinrich and Lawrence Nelson are student teachers.

RECENTLY THE newspapers in the library have been full of hoaxes. But the mystery has been solved. The American history students are making notebooks on current economic problems. "The Industrialization of the United States" is the unit being studied, now with special emphasis on current problems. They have also had study and several interesting reports on the Taft-Hartley law.

The class is now looking forward to a talk that Wallace Buck, district soil conservationist, is going to give some day next week. He will speak on agricultural problems, particularly conservation.

The two student teachers for this quarter are Betty Robson and Opal Witt. Frances Phillips is the supervisor.

STUDENT COUNCIL met Wednesday morning, Feb. 9, in order to appoint a convocation committee to assist in getting more convocations. Harriet Phillips, president of Student Council, appointed Alice Anderson, Norman Shinaut and Dale Gramberg to serve on this committee.

Another need which is to be taken care of is the lack of social education. Mr. Hassel stated that several college students have been selected to teach ballroom dancing at the next dance.

HAVE YOU EVER wondered what happens to a piece of news from the time it is written to the time it is printed? Miss Phillips, eighth grade English class is beginning a unit of study on newspapers, and they expect to visit The Wayne Herald office Tuesday to find the answer to this question.

The class is studying the composition of newspapers and methods of writing different types of stories such as straight news, features and editorials. They intend to publish a class newspaper.

The student teacher is Deraldine Hesselman.

THE MEMBERS of the 12th English and journalism class are helping one of the future convocations will be a speech, so they may put into use their recent study of speech reporting for newspapers.

For general practice, Duane Dorr, student teacher, has been reading several speeches in class and having the students take notes and write up reports.

THEOREMS are theorems, theorems. They are driving me mad! That is what all the solid geometry students of campus high school are saying.

The students, under the supervision of Mr. Hassel, have been studying these choice tidbits of mathematical geometry.

Although the theorems are hard, some of the students claim that they have and will continue to master them.

"ESKIMO CHILDREN" was the film seen by the world geography class. The class is studying a unit on high latitude seas.

A short paper describing life and customs of a family living in the tundra region is to be written for class work.

Those who want more credit are to write a paper in agreement or disagreement with the statement referring to the antarctic. "Not even the air age is likely to find ways of using this unfriendly and far-off realm." They also are to make a graph showing the 10 most valuable products of the high latitude.

Horror stories of the French Revolution are being read by the sophomore English class at Wayne Prep this quarter. The book is "Tale of Two Cities."

The class will also read some other novels. They will keep notebooks on these novels. Their student teacher is Beverly Wanser, and their adviser is Frances Phillips.

WHEN HEATED to a certain degree sulphur becomes sticky. "So what! So does bubble gum," say students of Wayne campus high school chemistry class.

Under the supervision of Dora Wood, chemistry students are learning about the properties of sulphur and its many uses. Students feel sulphur has its place, but they haven't convinced Miss Wood or student teacher William Maiben that it isn't in chemistry class.

THE JUNIOR English class is writing essays now while it is studying a unit about essays. As the essays are read each pupil fills out a card to be filed, including the author and the subject of the essay being read.

In the grammar department the students have been working on their workbooks. Glen Hienrickson is their practice teacher.

A WESTINGHOUSE representative was to have demonstrated and spoken at the home economics 2 class Feb. 8. Bad weather prevented him from staying over.

Brunch demonstration by Miss Catron, student teacher, provided a lesson for the class Feb. 7. The class saw how to prepare griddle cake, spiced tea, broiled peaches with sausage balls, Marialyce Heileberg and Janice Jenkins acted as hostesses. The class ate together.

At lunch, the second set of the planned meals, was prepared by the class Feb. 9 during class hour. The second set of meals are of medium cost. The class is divided into three groups with each group allowed a set amount of money for each meal.

TWELFTH GRADE literature class planned to attend the movie, "Henry V," at 9:30 Wednesday.

Miss Franklin, class instructor, said that she was interested in the class seeing this movie, for it shows the Shakespearean stage and how plays were presented in Shakespeare's day. The class has studied several of Shakespeare's plays this year, and this movie will acquaint them with one more.

FIFTH GRADE—The fifth grade is reading about Lincoln's boyhood on the frontier. Pictures of Lincoln as a young rail splitter and as a speaker giving his Gettysburg address are being studied.

Magnets are the center of interest in science.

Valentines are being made and valentine greeting verses have been written.

A study of the northern mixed-farming region has been completed.

THIRD GRADE—Friday the class had a reading party. Stories about Lincoln were read and told. The same theme was the basis for this week's language.

Number of interesting pictures showing storm conditions in Nebraska were brought by the children. Many interesting stories have been told of the hardships and inconveniences caused by heavy snows. In our social studies book "Centerville," the importance of highways to farmers and business people is brought out. This ties up with our local study of road conditions.

SECOND GRADE—The children have been studying about birthdays of great people in February. Last week they studied about Abraham Lincoln.

Valentines and a valentine box were made for a valentine party which the children enjoyed Monday afternoon.

Larry's reading group has started in new reading books this week.

Julia Brown has gone to Florida for a month's vacation.

FIRST GRADE—First grade is reading "To and Fro," "I Know a Secret," "Our New Friends" and "On Cherry Street," in order to keep it within their range for a longer time. It also makes it more interesting and meaningful to them.

Everyone is back in school again some having been out with colds.

Spelling and writing is much better. Miss DeLashmott has been using Lincoln log caps, silhouettes and valentine hearts for the spelling papers on colored papers.

Valentines were quite important Monday. Everyone has made a few different kinds.

KINDERGARTEN—The pupils made jello and Koolaid for their valentine party. They kept their valentines in their postoffice boxes.

Patriotic hats and bands were made and the pupils had a parade with them. They also had a parade with their rhythm instruments.

The boys and girls also dramatized Soggy Boggy, the elephant.

It's Time to Look Ahead

Declining prices, especially on farm products, and the fact that supply has caught up with demand for many manufactured articles, make "depression talk" a popular topic of conversation again. Government economists, however, still say that prosperity should continue at least through this year, although they expect a "readjustment" of economic conditions. They should be in a position to know. However, no one can deny that conditions are changing, and it is time to give a little thought to the future. When business tightens up, as it inevitably does when supply equals or surpasses demand, more attention must be devoted to merchandising and to developing a program of customer service. The businessman who stays on his toes by displaying, advertising and actually selling his merchandise, and who works hard to provide his customer with genuine service, should find the period of "readjustment" no great hardship.

Don't Obstruct Snowfighters

The seemingly endless battle to open the highways and keep them open creates a lot of problems for the men who buck the snowdrifts night and day. Often, it's a dangerous job and the work is hard; the snowfighters should not be hampered by unnecessary problems such as those sometimes caused by motorists traveling under adverse conditions. The state safety council outlines the following suggestions for motorists driving in snowy conditions:

1. Make sure the road is open before starting.
2. Inquire at each town if any doubt about highways.
3. Dress warmly and keep a full tank of gas.
4. Never attempt to overtake or pass a snowplow until you have a signal from the driver.
5. Be especially cautious when approaching a plow.
6. Expect to meet a snowplow anytime while it is snowing and visibility is reduced.
7. Always keep your proper distance behind a snowplow in motion.
8. Remember that a disabled snowplow and your car blocking a one-way road can disrupt clearing operations.

U. S. Taking No Chances

The recall of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower to temporary duty in the Pentagon building immediately raises the question: Is more war imminent? Government officials say the international situation is becoming no worse. But, if it is no worse, apparently it is no better, either. The Sibux City Journal thinks the United States has recalled the general primarily because a strong preparedness program seems to be the best policy. Says the Journal:

"The impressive thing today as world conditions remain unchanged is that the United States seems to be determined on preparedness. This time if any untoward events occur that lead to conflict we shall not be caught unawares. Instead, we shall be ready for it. In this regard we'll be stronger than we ever have been when a crisis came. The recall of Gen. Eisenhower apparently is a part of the over-all preparedness program, which in the circumstances must be thorough and complete."

IN BOOKLAND

Plan Reading Room for Children Only: That was the heading of an article which appeared in the Wayne Herald for Feb. 14, 1924. It went on to say that the juvenile books and periodicals in the city library were to be moved to the basement of the building in a few weeks to relieve the crowded condition that existed in the reading room. Mrs. D. J. Cavanaugh was appointed to assist Mrs. E. S. Blair as the work had been increasing until Mrs. Blair could not handle it alone. So, twenty five years ago, the building was crowded and the librarian was needing assistance. Today the librarian has no assistant and the building is not only crowded but needs repairs. Action is being taken but certainly not before it was needed. In searching through old papers at the library we have also found an interesting item in an old bill. It seems that Henry Ley was paid 25 cents by the library board for cleaning dandelions from the library lawn in July 1915. We were wondering if we could hire him again this summer?

The Greatest Story Ever Told, the tale of the greatest life ever lived, by Fulton Oursler, which is based on the radio program by the same name, is now on the Young People's shelf at the library. Many adults will want to see this book too. In a friendly argument about books the other day I was told that children always like to read stories but when they are grown they get out and do things and not just read about them. What a sad thing it is that there are people in the world who feel like that. Perhaps it accounts for the state our world is in today. What inspiration they could get from reading books like The Greatest Story Ever Told—how it would broaden their lives! I cannot help but feel sorry for people who grow up thinking that reading is a waste of time. They miss so much and unfortunately never seem to realize that it is the readers who are also the people of the world who accomplish the worth while things.

Versus is the cleverly fitting title of the last book of verse by Ogden Nash. It is good for many a chuckle and if you enjoy reading aloud this will be what you want. Some of them are short and some are long but they are all witty in his own peculiar style. Even his titles make you want to read them. Here are a few samples: "Who Taught Caddies to Count?" or "A Burnt Golden Feast for the Child," "Will You Please Your Tedium Rare or Medium?" and "Possessions Are Nine Points of Conversation."

The new Kathleen Norris novel called High Holiday is on the rental shelf and a new mystery with one of the usual gruesome title, Murder is Dangerous.

The children had a special valentine treat at the library at story hour last Saturday which was enjoyed by a good crowd. The picture taken last week could include only a few of the children but we are going to try to get a picture with everybody in it if it is possible.

Way Back When . . .

30 Years Ago

Feb. 20, 1919—The mild winter was suddenly interrupted last Thursday when rain turned to snow and railroads and other roads were made impassable. Mrs. W. B. Vail arrived home Saturday from Norfolk having spent 52 hours on the train that was stalled in the snow east of Hoskins. Paul Young has been elected superintendent of the Shoals school taking the place of Edward Coleman who resigned to farm. James Baird has bought from C. A. Berry, the residence formerly owned by C. A. Deane. L. W. Vaih and family arrived in Wayne from Sidney and expect to locate here permanently. Carroll was without mail from Thursday until Sunday afternoon. When the train finally arrived 30 sacks of mail were delivered to the postoffice. M. J. Boyer, Winside telephone manager, was taken to the Norfolk hospital suffering from typhoid-pneumonia. Mrs. E. E. Blacksmith's shop in Altona was destroyed by fire last Friday morning. L. A. Fenske has purchased the P. H. Kohl residence occupied by E. Kostmoltzky and will take possession April 1.

25 Years Ago

Pete Christensen is building a new barn on the George McEachern place to replace the one which burned a few weeks ago. John Garwood has been taken to the hospital in one of his hands as a result of a scratch sustained while playing. Mrs. L. W. Needham, who will move to the farm March 1, was given a shower of articles she will need such as nest eggs, an immense purse in which to carry the cream and egg checks, a generous supply of garden seed and other useful gifts. The young men of Winside having collected, from chivalry, enough money for a celebration, gave a party Monday night at the hotel theater. Elmer Henry of Hartington was chosen secretary of the Cedar county fair association.

Feb. 21, 1929—John Morgan was 82 years old last Friday. Temperature Monday night in Wakefield. The minimum of 23 degrees below zero in Wakefield. The Carroll Hatchery which started in the hotel building had a public opening Saturday. Mrs. Charles Mistelet is quite ill at her home, a result of blood poisoning in her right hand. Randolph farmers are using rabbits for tantage this winter. New wells and new pumps for filling the standpipe in Laurel are in use now. Marjorie Victor had her tonsils removed at a local hospital Friday. 200 pupils of the training school gave an operetta Tuesday evening. Thirty high school basketball teams will compete in the annual district tournament to be held at the college this week.

Feb. 22, 1934—Everett Roberts had both hands shot Wednesday evening last week when he caught a rifle by the barrel. Site for Wayne's new post office was chosen last Thursday when word from Washington stated that the one west of the city hall was accepted. Irol Whitmore was elected to fill a vacancy in the English department at Osmond high school. Mr. and Mrs. James McClintock moved their residence from the John Beckman farm a half mile north on the west side of the road. Rev. C. E. Fredrickson was installed as pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran church in Carroll. The Herman Helmenhans were honored Saturday on their 45th wedding anniversary. Dr. C. T. Conrad Johnson of Mead, one of the REA men from our state who visited the Nebraska congressional delegation here after attending a convention in New York, told us that among the 3500 delegates at that convention, six of the Nebraskans weighed the most. OUT OLD NEBRASKA
 by JAMES C. OLSON, Superintendent STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The celebration of the University of Nebraska's 80th birthday on Feb. 13 cannot help but cause thoughtful Nebraskans to reflect on the great progress made by the institution in the short span of four score years. That progress is even more notable when one considers the small, uncertain beginnings which are a part of the university's early history.

A study of the first faculty reveals much about those beginnings. INCLUDING THE chancellor, it consisted of five men. To calm fears that the university would fall under the domination of one religious sect or another, great care had been exercised to choose men representing various religious faiths. The chancellor, in addition to his administrative responsibilities, occupied the chair of "intellectual and moral science." He also taught Latin, Greek and history on the side.

Allen R. Benton, the university's first chancellor, was a man of considerable abilities. Although by temperament more suited to the calm of the classroom than to the arena of rough-and-tumble frontier administration, he capably and conscientiously guided the university through its first perilous years. ONE OF HIS colleagues wrote of him: "So varied was his scholarship that he was equally at home in almost every department of college work. Nothing slovenly ever appeared from his tongue or pen. No fact or statement was ever colored by him. Every member of the faculty, every citizen who formed his acquaintance, at once trusted implicitly every word that he uttered."

A member of the first faculty who made a particularly deep impression on the people of the state was Rev. Samuel Aughey, professor of natural sciences. Professor Aughey was indefatigable in his efforts to demonstrate the agricultural possibilities in Nebraska, and his work, possibly as much as that of any other man, helped dispel the myth that Nebraska was part of the "great American desert."

ANOTHER well-known member of the first faculty was Rev. O. C. Duke, professor of English literature. Noted for his "Legend of the Weeping Water," and other poems, Professor Duke has been called "the first Nebraska author."

All in all, the members of that first faculty, and those who succeeded them, were men of conscientious competence who laid for the University of Nebraska a solid foundation on which it has been possible to erect one of the nation's truly great institutions of higher learning.

McLean High Dumps Holy Trinity Five

Hartington—Holy Trinity high school of Hartington saw the strong cage outfit of McLean take a 32 to 22 decision Tuesday night, Feb. 8, over the Holy Trinity team on the Hartington floor.

Jordan, 6 foot 2 inch, McLean center, was star attraction both on offense and defense.

McLean took an early point advantage and held it throughout the game.

Hastings Mittmen Matched Against Wayne Feb. 26

Hastings college will invade the day night, Feb. 26, according to a Wayne State boxing ring on Saturday. The Hastings school has provided Wayne's toughest regional opposition for the past two years and will give the Wildcats a mighty rough card.

On March 7 the Wisconsin State Teachers of Superior will be in Wayne for a return match. Wayne won the first one last year, 5 to 3.

A tentative meet at Wayne with the Hastings Marines had to be cancelled because two Marines suffered injuries in the Omaha Golden Gloves tourney and one fighter will go to the tourney in Chicago; hence their team would not be at full strength for the proposed match.

The Wildcats will fight a return match with Hastings college sometime in March.

Bad weather and no transportation through Utah and Wyoming forced Emery to cancel a scheduled three college basketball tour in Idaho and Nevada on Feb. 14 to 16.

Wildcats Tangle With Hastings in Final at Home

Wayne State's hot and cold basketball team ends its 1949 home court stand at the Wayne city auditorium on Saturday, Feb. 19, when the Wildcats play host to the Hastings college cagers in a Nebraska College conference game.

The conference scramble is led by Peru which has outdistanced the field. Second place and the other standings are so close that the end of the season will have to come before that picture is clear.

Plenty of fighting spirit and stussup will go with the Wildcats as they make four invasions of other courts. The Katz club, campus pop organization, has scheduled buses to take student fans to Lincoln on Friday, Feb. 18, when the Wildcats renew their bitter rivalry with Nebraska Wesleyan university.

Pierce Grabs Close Bee Win

Pierce—Bloomfield Bees duelled and lost Tuesday evening, Feb. 8, as the Pierce Bluejays, undefeated on their home floor, rang up a 26 to 21 win over Coach Roy Gardner's quintet.

Pierce's Bluejays marked up a 19 to 13 intermission lead, only to be held scoreless during the third quarter as the Bees came up to within 2 points of them.

Luebe hit for the Pierce outfit to pull the game out danger and into a win.

Stapp garnered 7 tallies for Bloomfield as Luebe led the Bluejays with 13.

Wildcats Split With Chadron

The Wildcats split last week's double header with the Chadron Eagles as they wound up in the middle of the conference scramble. The laggard Wayne five only managed to notch 27 points against the western Nebraskans on Friday night as they lost 45 to 27.

Coach Don Meek built a terrific fire under the squad for Saturday's game which they easily took, 61 to 40, from the bewildered Eagles who didn't expect the rugged defense and attack that the Wildcats summoned.

Yernon Harder returned to the team in the Chadron games

Saturday night Jack Baumert, Louis Koehn, Bill Kropp, Harder and Al Bane sparked the Wayne scoring with 15, 12, 10, 9 and 8 points respectively. Kropp turned into an iron man since he didn't let an ankle injury bother him nor a lip cut caused in a pile-up during the first minute of the game which left the Wayne forward dazed temporarily.

Glen Groves, Chadron ace, collected 41 points from the Wildcats to boost his conference leadership.

Games start Feb. 21 and finals and semifinals will be played on Feb. 24.

Griggs led the Randolph scoring with 25 points; 17 of the tall center's points were dumped in during the final period. This was more than was scored by the Hartington five during the same amount of play.

Blue Devil Five Rap West Point

Good passing and ball handling gave the Wayne High Blue Devils another victory with a 39-26 edge over West Point here Friday night. Although the first quarter was close, Wayne pulled out ahead with a fairly comfortable lead as the game progressed.

The efforts of Jack Fisher, Don Tietgen, Virgil Rohlf, Alan Craemer and Richard Berry paid off with 10 points in the first period; Leisy and Dorner took the scoring task for West Point and carried 6 counters in this quarter.

Jack Dixon, Tietgen, Fisher and David Meyer bucketed 6 more for the Blue Devils in the second period while Dahl and Hornisch made 2 each for the opponents. This left the intermission score of 16-10, Wayne.

THE THIRD quarter score of 22-14, Wayne, was produced by Dixon, Tietgen and Fisher for the Devils and Jorman and Hornisch for the West Pointers.

Tietgen got hot, as they say, in the last period pouring in 13 counters along with Fisher's 4 points. On the other side, Dorner held his own with 8 tallies accompanied by Leisy's and Hasbrouck's 4 points.

Tietgen finished a total of 19 points and Fisher 8 for the Blue Devils. Dorner crammed in 12 counters followed by Leisy with 5.

IN THE reserve game, Wayne tripped West Point 21-19, in a photo finish that had the house in an uproar.

Jim Birdsell and Richard Berry made 2 each and Westoupal 3, leaving the first quarter count 4-3. Wayne, Birdsell's field goal and Warren Price's free throw totalled 3 more for the Blue Devils in the second period while Schmidt and Dahl made 4. The score at half-time was 7-7.

The out-of-townies potted 7 more in the third quarter and Wayne was left behind with only 2 free throws to add to their score. But Don Skeahan's 4 points and Price's free throw put the Blue Devils back in the game in the last period.

THEN THE action started. With the minutes running out and the score 16-17, West Point, Maurice Proett potted a field goal putting Wayne ahead 18-17. But Westoupal tied it up by a free throw, 18-18. Then Proett's foul shot again gave Wayne the lead, 19-18, and again West Point tied by Hensel's free throw. It looked like an overtime might occur, but in the closing seconds, Proett sank the long field goal that proved fatal to West Point.

Proett gained high point honors with 50 points. Birdsell and Skeahan each made 4 for second place. Westoupal's 6 points led the opponents while Dahl and Peatrowsky earned 4 each.

St. Frances Dumps Dixon High Quint

Randolph—St. Frances high school walloped Dixon's basketekers 49 to 17, Monday night, Feb. 7, in a game played at Randolph.

A close first quarter gave way to a scoring spurge for the Randolph team. Point guard of Randolph hit from all angles.

North dumped in a total of 25 points for the winners as Murray led Dixon with 8.

Campus Five in 7th Straight Win

Wayne Prep's Panthers traveled to Wausa Monday night to hand the Wausa Vikings a 45 to 33 defeat.

Play started fast and furious as the fast-breaking Viking five burned up the floor with their offense led by Stanley Hult, shifty Wausa forward.

The Wausa aggregation had a hard job of outfiguring the Prep man-to-man defense and coming back to nearly overcome the first four minutes 14 to 4 score racked up by the Panthers.

Halftime found the Preppers with a scant 2-point edge over the Wausa quintet as the score read 22 to 20.

Within three minutes remaining the Campus high team pulled away from any serious threat of an upset and iced the game with their final 45-point total.

Thompson dumped in 14 tallies for Prep while Hult and Eldorado each collected 12 points for the losers.

Reserves of Prep took the opener from Wausa with a 33 to 17 margin.

Wayne Prep in Tourney Final

Windside invitational tournament ran into bad luck from opening night on. First round of play pitted Windside against Hoskins, Beemer against Belden, Concord against Carroll and Wayne Prep against Dixon.

Hoskins defeated the seeded Windside five by two points in two 3-minute overtimes and a final sudden death period.

Beemer forfeited to Belden because of poor road conditions.

Coach Rex Johnson's Carroll hoopers downed Concord high's five in an exciting and extremely close game, 22 to 21.

WAYNE PREP easily overcame the Dixon five, 52 to 17, as Stingley of Dixon recently moved to Randolph and was not available for play.

Second night of play was to have been Thursday, Feb. 18, but adverse weather conditions caused postponement to Friday night when two more teams were eliminated from competition.

Preppers downed Carroll's five with a 46 to 33 score as Thompson racked up 16 tallies for the winners and Fisher 8 for the Blue Devils. Dorner crammed in 12 counters followed by Leisy with 5.

Hoskins high ran over Belden, 35 to 30, in the second game of play with a close match the entire way.

AGAIN CLIMATIC conditions forced a postponement of the tourney finals to this Saturday night when Wayne Prep and Hoskins battle it out for top honors.

Concord and Windside meet to decide consolation winners.

Boys from Wayne Prep will see action on Friday night when they are host to Guardian Angels of West Point with the game being played in the college gymnasium.

Wakefield Trojans Win Three; Play Pilger Tomorrow

Wakefield — In three games played last week, the Wakefield Trojans won easy victories over Wausa and Pender and managed a bare win over the Bancroft basketekers.

Playing at Wakefield Feb. 8, the Trojan powerhouse slugged Wausa 40 to 22 as Harold Hyspe poured in 18 points for Wakefield. Hult and Eldorado scored six apiece for Wausa. The score by quarters, with Wakefield leading all the way was: 12-5, 21-13, 28-14, 40-20.

THE FOLLOWING evening at Pender, the Trojans whipped Pender, 26 to 10, in a low-scoring fray. Bill Anderson scored 8 points for Wakefield; Evans of Pender notched 3. The Trojans led from start to finish, with the score by quarters as follows: 6-3, 18-6, 22-6, 26-10.

But it was nip and tuck Feb. 11 when Bancroft invaded Trojan territory. The score was close most of the way, with Wakefield finally pulling out on the top side of a 29 to 27 score. Bill Anderson counted 17 points in the Trojan scoring column and also was outstanding on defense. Wagner of Bancroft scored 11.

THE TROJANS held a fairly comfortable 29 to 21 lead with only three minutes left when Bancroft staged a rally which fell only two points short of knocking the count. Score by quarters: 7-4, 11-11, 23-19, 29-27.

The Trojans play at Pilger Friday, Feb. 18, at Wakefield.

Finals of the Dixon county tourney will be played tonight (Thursday) at 7:45 and 8:45 in Wakefield. The tournament opened Wednesday, eight teams are competing.

Waterbury Loses To Ponca High

Waterbury — Ponca's Walsh sparked his team to a 44 to 12 win Tuesday evening, Feb. 8, over Waterbury high's cagers.

Walsh collected 15 tallies for the winners as Sorenson gathered 5 points to lead Coach William Lerner's boys. Ponca held a 19 to 4 intermission lead.
