Wayne College President Says— Degree in Education Still of Top Importance

Dr. Victor P. Morey last Saturday evening told Wayne State alumni and seniors that the installation of a liberal arts program in the state teachers colleges should not lessen the importance and prestige of the bachelor of arts degree in education now granted by these colleges.

The Wayne State president commented on the recently enacted liberal arts bill at a banquet sponsored by the alumni association for 1949 seniors.

DR. MOREY SAID that present and future teachers college students should weigh all factors carefully before deciding to work toward a bachelor of arts degree rather than a degree in education. It would be unfortunate, he pointed out, if a large proportion of students should switch to the newly authorized bachelor of arts program "simply because it is new."

He actually would prefer to see the degree in education secure the degrees in education which would permit them to become teachers.

Nevertheless, the president said, the expanded educational program made possible by the liberal arts law should prove invaluable to those students who know they do not want to teach and therefore desire to take elective courses which will be advantageous to them in their chosen fields.

DR. MOREY explained that although a liberal arts program for state teachers colleges has been passed by the legislature and signed into law by the governor, it still is by no means an actuality. Settling up of the program rests with the state normal board.

As he concluded his talk, Dr. Morey revealed that Wayne State's new sports stadium is virtually completed. All exterior work has been finished and workmen employed by the basic contractor have left. Finishing of dressing rooms and toilet stadium will proceed this summer.

Benthack Hospital Planning 'Open House' This Sunday

To better acquaint the people of Wayne and surrounding area with its medical and surgical facilities, Benthack hospital will hold "open house" Sunday, May 29, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The hospital, recognized as one of the most modern in Nebraska in the 25-bed class, was built seven years ago. Since then, a third floor has been added. The upper two floors are for patients; the ground floor for diagnostic work, surgery, delivery and laboratories.

The hospital is not dismayed at the recent movement for nationwide fire inspection of hospitals. Dr. Benthack pointed out that the only inflammable material in his building is the window frames and doors. The door frames are steel, and the building has a steel framework with masonry partitions. The biggest fire hazard, he claimed, is from patients smoking in bed. There is nothing in the furnace room or the wiring system to start a blaze.

PERSONS WHO VISIT the hospital Sunday will be permitted to test the diagnostic equipment and the laboratories and surgical rooms. Those who have not yet seen them will be shown the patients' rooms.

Dr. Walter Benthack hopes the visiting day will be profitable in testing to young people and will encourage them to consider medical careers. His staff of technicians and nurses have prepared an exhibit which they believe will appeal to young men and women interested in becoming technicians or nurses.

ONE OF THESE is Lorna Longwell, who finished her training in medical technology at the University of Nebraska college of medicine last June and passed her state examination in October. She has been with the local hospital since last July as a technician. Miss Longwell also has a bachelor of science degree from the North Dakota Agricultural college, Fargo. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Longwell of Columbia, Mo. Dr. Longwell is the dean of the University of Missouri agricultural college.

With Dr. Benthack at the hospital now is his son, Dr. Robert Benthack, two of Dr. Benthack's daughters also have completed their training for medical careers.

SATURDAY, Elaine Benthack will receive the degree of doctor of medicine from the University of Nebraska college of medicine and Eleanor (Mrs. William A. Ingram) will receive her degree of bachelor of science and bachelor of medical technology from the same school. They passed their state board examinations last October.

Mrs. Ingram has been employed as a technician at the university hospital since Sept. 1.

 In Norfolk Ceremony

Miss Mary Margaret Mawe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Mawe of Norfolk, and Gregory Stuve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stuve, were married Sunday at a 3 o'clock ceremony at the Norfolk Sacred Heart church. Rev. Robert P. Burns officiated at the double ceremony. The church was decorated with baskets of gladioli and snapdragons. Miss Patricia Finley of Norfolk sang "Ave Maria" and "O Most Blessed" accompanied by Miss Beverly Koch, who also played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice and long sleeves. The flared skirt had a chapel sweep train while the flange collar was pleated at the center below a yoke of white roses patterned over lace. Her fingertip veil of net illusion was held by a bonnet tiara. She wore pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and Rex Marsh of Columbus.

Miss Lorraine Agnes of Norfolk was maid of honor. Her ice blue faille gown was styled like that of the bride, except that it was mits of blue and matching halo headdress, and carried a nosegay of white Marguerite daisies. Roger Anderson of Carroll, Ia., was best man. Ushers were Kermit Stuve, brother of the bridegroom, and Rex Marsh of Columbus.

Mrs. Mawe wore a black sheer dress with matching hat and silver accessories. Mrs. Stuve wore a gray sheer dress with matching hat and shell pink accessories. Each had a corsage of pink roses. A reception for 175 guests was held at Hotel Waldorf. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier cake and decorated with white tapers and ropes of smilax. Mrs. Victor Merdorth, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Ralph Langer presided at the table. Miss Jane Dunn had charge of the guest book and Miss Alice Mahon, the gifts. Mrs. Harlan Fisher and Mrs. Milan Nichols assisted at the reception.

For traveling the bride chose a beige sharkskin suit with matching hat and dark brown accessories. Her corsage was of talisman roses. After their trip, the couple will live in O'Neill.

The bride was graduated from Sacred Heart high school and attended Norfolk College of Business. She has been employed in Norfolk by the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Wayne prep and attended Wayne State Teachers college. He is employed by the Curtiss Candy Co.

Wayne people attending were Bud McNaft, Mr. and Mrs. William Fredrickson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ring, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Love, Barbara Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dale, Mr. and Mrs. George Berres, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heine and Cleone, Jack Anderson, Yvonne Dunn, Marion Peterson, George Derry, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Max Ash and Mrs. Kermit Turner were guests.  Confessions Saturday at 7:30. We begin our catechetical school for the religious instruction of the children on Tuesday, May 31. The sisters of St. Frances church in Randolph, assisted by the Wayne pastor, will conduct the school for about two weeks. This is indeed a very small amount of time for the religious training when compared with over nine months of secular instruction. It seems that there is far more attention and effort put forth to prepare the child for an earthly career rather than an eternal one. Although the eternal one is the most important, for the Lord, Himself, has plainly said, "What does it profit a man if he gain a whole world, and suffer the loss of his soul? Secular education prepares a person for education in this world. Religious education prepares for eternity. So we earnestly ask the parents to make an earnest effort to have their children attend this little religious school so that they may learn something about their duties to God, to their parents, and to their fellow-men.

KNOW YOUR FACULTY

This column features a short story each week on one of the faculty members of Wayne State Teachers college, in the hope that townspeople and college instructors may become better acquainted.

State Teachers college staff. She explained that people in the mid-west are called upon to work for what they get, which makes them appreciate things, and consequently she finds Wayne the most agreeable place in which to live of the areas she has visited and lived in. She returns to California each summer when the campus school four-week period ends.

"The method of teaching in a school system whereby student teachers assist is a definite advantage," the first grade supervisor explained. "One can thus find time to give assistance to the ones who need it and also aid those who complete their work ahead of schedule. Since there are different levels in all classes, different methods must be used."

SHE TOLD THAT through the use of an adequate teaching force, stress could be applied to a phase of teaching where needed and thus eliminate the need of remedial work.

Students of Mrs. Pearson long remember their first year of school as an enjoyable one, a tribute to any teacher.

Be Sure to Dim Lights, Advises Safety Council

Lincoln—Have you ever seen a moth fly into a candle flame? The same attraction seems to exist on the highways when motorists fail to dim their lights for oncoming cars, the Nebraska State Safety Council says.

Innumerable accidents in the state are attributed yearly to this cause. There seems to be some sort of a pulling force toward the bright lights of the oncoming car which causes one or both of the drivers to pull toward the center of the highway, the council stated.

IT IS TWICE as disastrous to fight the other fellow's brights with your brights since this tends to blind both drivers. If the other fellow refuses to dim, after you have reminded him with a quick flash of your brights, meet him with your lights set on low beam, the council advised.

Another practice that should be followed is the dimming of lights when approaching a car going in the same direction. The blinding lights from the rearview mirror have caused many drivers to temporarily lose control of their autos as well as sharpen the tempers of many more.

THE COUNCIL cited the commercial driver who always dims his lights as he overtakes you or after you have passed him. They realize and follow this common courtesy. The average driver would do well to follow this practice, the council urged.

Don't light the other guy's brights with yours, practice courtesy and avoid the disastrous results of a side-swipe or a head-on collision, the council concluded.

Merchants Return Questionnaires to Typing Students

Questionnaires were sent to 104 Wayne businessmen recently by the typing class at the Wayne high school. Purpose of the letters was to determine the possibility of employment in Wayne for beginners on high school graduates, what qualifications are required and an estimate of beginners' salaries. Verne Meustrom, instructor, reported that 49 questionnaires were returned.

Results showed that 27 firms reporting were willing to hire a high school graduate, with a combination of advanced typist and stenographer the most in demand. The office machine most used was the typewriter, with full-keyboard adding machine and 10-key adding machine next in that order. Also used were calculators, dictaphone and telephone and mimeograph. A unanimous vote was cast for accuracy over speed in typing.

Most of the offices require something and the majority require that helps act as receptionist. About 20 firms reported chance for advancement in position, and only two reported no chance for advancement in salary.

Question that aroused considerable interest was the salary of beginners. Not all of those returning the letter reported salary, since it depended upon the type of work done, but for those reporting the salary range for a beginner was from $89 a month to $125 a month.

by Mrs. F. A. Milder
City Librarian

MAY GRADUATES! Have you decided on the next step? Will it be college or a job? Your library has information available to help you make the decision. Stop in and ask for college catalogues or material on vocations.

JUNE BRIDES! The library staff offers you their best wishes for a lifetime of happiness. If you are puzzled by the many details of planning a wedding, stop in and ask for the book of Wedding Etiquette. This will help you plan a perfect wedding to the last detail. If the book is out when you call for it leave your name and we will see that you have it as soon as it is returned.

WHEN DO WE START? That is the question being asked over and over each day at the library. Now we have $20,000 when do we begin to spend it? People look around expecting to see action at once. It is too bad that we can't have prompt action as the summer time is the logical time to be torn up for repairs, but unfortunately, a great deal of legal work must be unwound before actual work can begin. But then we must have patience and consider that we have waited 10 years to get this money so we can wait a few more months to spend it. The only thing which makes us uneasy is how we can explain the delay to the termines and persuade them not to work this summer since this is their busy season.

NEW BOOKS. Mark Van Doren's Nathaniel Hawthorne will be welcomed as good reading by lovers of biography. Book jacket blurbs can usually be taken with a grain of salt, but this one says, "The prose of the book is, of course, admirable—quiet and simple as is becoming to the subject." That sentence adequately describes the book. The Black Arrow by Robert Louis Stevenson is a replacement for our shelf of classics. The Red Herring Murder is the new mystery this week.

PUBLICITY. Our project this week has been a poster display for the Flower Show. We tried to

The preliminary stages of the Elkhorn valley flood control project have been completed favorably. The remainder of the problem consists of getting action in congress on authorization and appropriation. The third district member has appeared before the house committee on public works and urged committee approval of recommendations for this work so early they may be incorporated in the 1949 omnibus flood control bill to be reported later in this congress.

On June 21, 1944, almost immediately following the disastrous floods in the Elkhorn valley, the house committee on public works adopted a resolution, offered by the third district representative, directing the board of engineers for rivers and harbors to investigate and determine the justification for improvements for flood control and allied purposes on the Elkhorn river and tributaries. In the meantime, a thorough investigation and survey have been completed and the board has formulated its report and recommendations.

With the concurrence of the chief of army engineers, the board has recommended construction of local protection works for flood control at the principal danger points in this basin at an estimated cost to the United States of $2,427,750 conditioned upon certain conditions. These recommendations we have urged the public works committee to approve. All of this procedure is necessary foundation for any action by congress to authorize the construction of the flood control improvements and to appropriate money to cover the cost of the construction.

The committee that handles appropriations for the legislative establishment has been instructed to investigate the cost-plus contract for reconstruction of the ceiling and roof of the house wing of the capitol. The third district member is ranking minority member of this committee.

Francis Matthews of Nebraska, who becomes the new secretary of our navy, will head an establishment in which we have over 43 billion dollars invested. The cost of running the navy each year is around four and a half billion dollars. He will be the chief of more than two million commissioned and enlisted regulars, reservists and civilians who make up the Navy personnel.

The house passed a bill to assist states in collecting sales and use taxes on cigarettes and tobacco. It is alleged that states lose more than $40,000,000 annually by bootleg sales from non-tax states into tax states. Nebraska is recorded as one of the states which loses considerable tax money.

Cigaretts sell from 16 to 25 cents a pack in Washington. The federal tax is 7 cents. In addition some states tax cigarettes 2 to 8 cents a package. Some communities also add a tax of their own. The federal government collects a billion and a quarter dollars a year from cigarettes and the states collect 340 million a year. The tobacco in a pack of cigarettes represents about two cents for the tobacco farmer.

Nebraska probably never has enjoyed a boom quite like that experienced by the earliest territorial pioneers. New towns were being platted, lots were commanding high prices, railroads and other industries were being projected, and above all, money was plentiful.

An important reason why money was plentiful was that the territorial legislature, in common with similar bodies elsewhere during the 1850's, created banks of issue on terms so easy that almost anyone could set himself up in the banking business, including the issuance of currency.

According to this procedure, a bank could be started by five men, and could open its doors for business as soon as half of the initial capital was—not paid but subscribed. Currency could be issued without the necessity of a legal reserve against it.

It is not strange, therefore, that such currency came quite soon to be known as "wildcat money," and that prudent business men came to know it as "wildcat money" and to distrust it completely. Bank notes fluctuated in value with great rapidity, and a standard requirement for doing business was a frequently revised guide to the values of the various notes.

MOST OF THE NOTES were entirely worthless outside the territory. There is a story to the effect that a Missouri river wood merchant once offered to trade his wood for the notes of the new Platte Valley bank at the rate of cord for cord.

His scepticism, viewed in perspective, seems to have been eminently sound. When the great depression that engulfed the country in 1857 hit Nebraska, the wildcat banks situations to fail. And as they failed, their utter worthlessness was brought into full view. ILLUSTRATIVE OF their situation, were the conditions found at the two banks operating in the settlement of DeSoto. One had a safe and a cashier; but all the other had to show for its existence was its name engraved upon its bills.

As another example, a sheriff's writ of execution against the closed Bank of Nebraska at Omaha showed as assets "Thirteen sacks of flour one large iron safe, one counter, one desk, one stove drum and pipe, three arm chairs, and one map of Douglas county."

Memorial Day Warning

Next Monday the nation will halt its normal routine in tribute to the men and women who gave their lives for their country in time of war. Wayne and countless other communities have planned appropriate services for Memorial day, 1949, so that we all may remember the sacrifices made by our fallen heroes.

But, like all other national holidays, Memorial day also offers the opportunity for a brief vacation. Many thousands of people will be "going someplace" for the long weekend. If you are one of those who intends to travel, please take it easy.

The men and women whom we will honor Monday did for a purpose—for the preservation of our nation. Hundreds of others will die Monday in highway accidents—to no purpose. Don't be one of them.

Roosevelt Was Conservative

Government under the late President Roosevelt, spectacular and expensive though it was, now seems to have been downright conservative in many respects. The Truman administration is spending and taxing and expanding at a rate so fantastic that few of us can comprehend what actually is going on in Washington. Worst of all, it is doing these things with the approval of the nation's duly elected senators and representatives, who turn deaf ears to all pleas for economy in their reckless eagerness to appropriate and spend money.

This isn't true of most Nebraska congress men, who are vigorously supporting economy drives. Nor is it true of at least one outstanding democratic senator, Byrd of Virginia, who has made public some shameful facts in his efforts to slash unnecessary expenditures.

For example, the senator says the armed services are employing three times as many civilians for every man in uniform as they did at the peak of the war. (And we thought unification of the armed services was supposed to result in economies). Further, the senator declares that the executive branch of the government is hiring 254 new civilian employees each day—that's the average the past 15 months. Each day, this means an addition of more than $750,000 to the annual federal payroll.

Senator Byrd also submits that the government could drop a half million employees from its payroll without lessening a single essential government service.

Meanwhile, President Truman continues to demand four billions in new taxes to cover the expected deficit for the new fiscal year. Deficit there certainly will be if spending and wastefulness continue at the present rate. No one wants the government to return to an era of deficit spending, but the way to avoid it is not by piling on new taxes.

Would it not be better, in this period of receding national income, to prevent a deficit by listening to the pleas of Senator Byrd and others, including former President Hoover, who are pointing the way to substantial savings in the operation of our government?

Some day we're going to have a beautiful hand-painted electric typewriter with which we can describe how marvelous it is to watch and hear a televised program while automatically turning out the dinner dishes in an electric dishwasher and electric disposal as the girl friend is doing the week's laundry with the aid of an automatic washer, spin-drier and electric ironer, with junior tossing off the cleaning chores (a tank-type cleaner in one hand and brush model in the other), the next meal all set in the oven with the timer aimed for an hour and 46 minutes before time to ring the supper gong; the hot water sizzling under automatic influence, the furnace turning itself on and off according to thermostatic control in each room and one under the eaves to inform the furnace or automatic air conditioner what kind of weather is cooking outdoors, with such devices ready as toaster, waffle iron, sandwich maker, percolator, and other appliances ready to whip up a lunch at any time; a refrigerator as big as a house to be opened at any moment for a quart of good water or a bottle of pop, a freezer filled with ice cream, pheasants, waldyed pike and early June peas, and—snaps, we can't hope to complete the list of desirable automatics in this world of today.

When you gotta stop - you wanna stop!

"It can stop on a dime," the salesman promised you, "—and leave nine cents change!"

And your Buick did—when it was new and brake linings unworn and everything factory-tight and fresh.

But brake linings wear—lights grow dim with time—tires can lose their bite and traction.

And with a whole summer's driving ahead, what better time than this to bring your Buick back to new-car peak in all those details that mean so much to safety?

Our men, trained in Buick ways, will give you brakes that stop you as Buicks should, with new brake linings that are right in size and brake drums turned to perfect round.

They can replace sealed-beam headlights to give you new-bulb brilliance—and while they're at it, check battery, voltage, wiring and headlamp-aim to boot.

They'll check tires, switch them as needed, look into wheel alignment for easy steering.

In a word, they'll renew your Buick with the same care and interest they would lavish on their own—and do it at no greater cost than for just ordinary service.

So drop in. Get set for some summer fun that's up to lively Buick standard.

Check your car—
Check accidents!

Three great service and safety organizations across the country are alerting car-owners everywhere this month on safety-checking their cars.

They list ten vital question marks for you to think about—How are your Brakes? Lights? Tires? Steering? Wheel alignment? Defective glass? Rear-view mirror? Fuel? Windshield? Repair? Horn?

Be sure your family rides in safety—ask your Buick service man to look over these check-points this month—and take the great drive for driving safety!

MAY GRADUATES! Have you decided on the next step? Will it be college or a job? Your library has information available to help you make the decision. Stop in and ask for college catalogues or material on vocations.

JUNE BRIDES! The library staff offers you their best wishes for a lifetime of happiness. If you are puzzled by the many details of planning a wedding, stop in and ask for the book of Wedding Etiquette. This will help you plan a perfect wedding to the last detail. If the book is out when you call for it leave your name and we will see that you have it as soon as it is returned.

WHEN DO WE START? That is the question being asked over and over each day at the library. Now we have $20,000 when do we begin to spend it? People look around expecting to see action at once. It is too bad that we can't have prompt action as the summer time is the logical time to be torn up for repairs, but unfortunately, a great deal of legal red tape must be unwound before any work can begin. But then we must have patience and consider that we have waited 10 years to get this money so we can wait a few more months to spend it. The only thing which makes us uneasy is how we can explain the delay to the termite and persuade them not to work this summer since this is their busy season.

NEW BOOKS. Mark Van Doren's Nathaniel Hawthorne will be welcomed as good reading by lovers of biography. Book jacket blurbs can usually be taken with a grain of salt, but this one says, "The prose of the book is, of course, admirable—quiet and simple as is becoming to the subject." That sentence adequately describes the book. The Black Arrow by Robert Louis Stevenson is a replacement for our shelf of classics. The Red Herring Murder is the new mystery this week.

PUBLICITY. Our project this week has been a poster display for the Flower Show. We tried to

The preliminary stages of the Elkhorn valley flood control project have terminated favorably. The remainder of the problem consists of getting action in congress on authorization and appropriation. The third district member has appeared before the house committee on public works and urged committee approval of recommendations for this work so that they may be incorporated in the 1949 omnibus flood control bill to be reported later in this congress.

On June 21, 1944, almost immediately following the disastrous floods in the Elkhorn valley, the house committee on local interests adopted a resolution, offered by the third district representative, directing the board of engineers for rivers and harbors to investigate and determine the justification for improvements for flood control and allied purposes on the Elkhorn river and tributaries. In the meantime, a thorough investigation and survey have been completed and the board has formulated its report and recommendations.

With the concurrence of the chief of army engineers, the board has recommended construction of local protection works for flood control at the principal danger points in this basin at an estimated cost to the United States of $2,427,750 conditioned upon certain assurances by local interests. The recommendations were urged the public works committee to approve. All of this procedure is necessary foundation for any action by congress to authorize the construction of the flood control improvements and to appropriate money to cover the cost of the construction.

The committee that handles appropriations for the legislative establishment has been instructed to investigate the cost-plus contract for the reconstruction of the ceiling and roof of the house wing of the capitol. The third district member is ranking minority member of this committee.

Francis Matthews of Nebraska, who becomes the new secretary of our navy, will head an establishment in which we have over 4 billion dollars invested. The cost of running the navy each year is around four and a half billion dollars. He will be the chief of more than two million commissioned and enlisted regulars, reservists and civilians who make up the Navy personnel.

The house passed a bill to assist states in collecting sales and use taxes on cigarettes and tobacco. It is alleged that states lose more than $40,000,000 annually by bootleg sales from non-tax states into tax states. Nebraska is recorded as one of the states which loses considerable tax money.

Cigarettes sell from 16 to 25 cents a pack in Washington. The federal tax is 7 cents. In addition some states tax cigarettes 2 to 8 cents a package. Some communities also add a tax of their own. The federal government collects a billion and a quarter dollars a year from cigarettes and the states collect 340 million a year. The tobacco in a pack of cigarettes represents about two cents for the tobacco farmer.

LET MEMORY sit the embers of Pioneer fire and, like the sun breaking the cold mists of early dawn, we may be warmed, comforted and inspired by influences of personalities that preceded us along the road of life.

A family monument establishes in the history of a community the personalities and accomplishments of all who came, and have owned, the name.

Nebraska probably never has enjoyed a boom quite like that experienced by the earliest territorial pioneers. New towns were being platted, lots were commanding high prices, railroads and other industries were being projected, and above all, money was plentiful.

An important reason why money was plentiful was that the territorial legislature, in common with similar bodies elsewhere during the 1850's, created banks of issue on terms so easy that almost anyone could set himself up in the banking business, including the issuance of currency.

It is not strange therefore, that such currency came quite soon to be known as "wildcat money" and that prudent business men came to know it as "wildcat money" and to distrust it completely. Bank notes fluctuated in value with great rapidity, and a standard requirement for doing business was a frequently revised guide to the values of the various notes.

MOST OF THE NOTES were entirely worthless outside the territory. There is a story to the effect that a Missouri river wood merchant once offered to trade his wood for the notes of the new Platte Valley bank at the rate of cord for cord.

His scepticism viewed in perspective, seems to have been eminently sound. When the great depression that engulfed the country in 1857 hit Nebraska, the wildcat banks situations to fail. And as they failed, their utter worthlessness was brought into full view. ILLUSTRATIVE of their situation, were the conditions found at the two banks operating in the settlement of DeSoto. One had a safe and a cashier; but all the other had to show for its existence was its name engraved upon its bills.

As another example, a sheriff's writ of execution against the closed Bank of Nebraska at Omaha showed as assets "Thirteen sacks of flour, one large iron safe, one counter, one desk, one stove drum and pipe, three arm chairs, and one map of Douglas county."

"It can stop on a dime," the salesman promised you, "—and leave nine cents change!"

And your Buick did—when it was new and brake linings unworn and everything factory-tight and fresh.

But brake linings wear—lights grow dim with time—tires can lose their bite and traction.

And with a whole summer's driving ahead, what better time than this to bring your Buick back to new-car peak in all those details that mean so much to safety?

Check your car—
Check accidents!

Three great service and safety organizations across the country are alerting car-owners everywhere this month on safety-checking their cars.

They list ten vital question marks for you to think about—How are your Brakes? Lights? Tires? Steering? Wheel alignment? Defective glass? Rear-view mirror? Muffler? Windshield wipers? Horn?

Be sure your family rides in safety—ask your Buick service man to look over these check-points this month—and join the great drive for driving safety!

Wakefield will meet Wayne at 10 p.m. Sunday at the local ball park in the first home game of the Pioneer Nite League season. Tonight (Thursday) Wayne journeys to Oakland for a game with the Oaks, generally conceded the favorite to beat in this half of the conference. Tom Kubat, lanky eighteen university pitcher who led 18 innings against South Dakota university in his last start, will pitch for Wayne.

West Point, winner over Pender, is 2 in the northern division's 10 game the rainy opening day. West Pointers have a powerful pitching staff, with big Ed Wagner hurling. Wagner allowed the red-hitting Pender outfit only one hit in last Sunday's tilt.

Pioneer Nite League Notes

By Leo J. Schmitt, West Point Secretary, Pioneer Nite League

Pioneer Nite league moguls moved the opening of their season back two weeks this year, to get away from early season postponements, but Old Man Weather had the last laugh after all. Only two games got in enough innings to make it a ball game, two more started but had to call it quits, and two more never got going at all.

Fremont's champions took up where they left off last year by squeezing past Schuyler, 3 to 2, before a fine opening crowd of about 1200 paid, at Schuyler. The game was called on account of rain with one out in the top of the ninth. The game was a pitching duel between Eddie Stanek and Tom Kelly, with the honors going to Stanek. There were no extra base hits.

DAVID CITY held a 1-0 edge over Columbus after four innings, but rain stepped in before the necessary fifth could be played. Wahoo and Stromsburg got in only two innings before the rains came. In the northern division, Wayne at Wisner and Oakland at Wakefield were postponed by wet grounds. Pender's champions picked up a tartar in West Point and lost a 3-2 decision in six innings, before rain stopped the contest. Big Ed Wagner, pitching for West Point, allowed Pender but one hit in the six frames. Wagner had nine strikeouts, but seven walks led to the two Pender scores. Repschlager had 10 strikeouts for Pender.

Wayne Places Fifth in Meet

Wayne State Teachers college track and field men spent a cold two days, May 20 and 21, at Crete while participating in the conference meet.

Kearney easily carried off top honors by chalking up 132 points to far outdistance their nearest competitor, Doane, with 93 points. Coach Don Emery's team placed fifth in the meet with a total of 46 points.

Cold and rainy weather made a beg out of the track with several events having to be run on the football field.

Results of the Wayne men placing in the events follow:

1-mile run—2nd, Marvin Zimmerman.

880-yard run—5th, Norman Stammer, first section. An oddity was the fact that all the winners of the first section were faster than the winner of the second section. Time for winner of first section, 2:07.5; winner of second section, 2:10.

Two-mile run 5th, Gene Wilmore.

1-mile relay 4th, Wayne team.

880-yard relay—2nd, Wayne team, in first section.

Discus—2nd, Jack Dale, 140 feet 4 inches. 3rd, Eugene Pille, 128 feet.

Pole vault—3rd, Bob Jacobson, 11 feet 2 1/2 inches.

Broad jump—3rd, Tilton Weber, 21 feet 7 inches.
