(The Herald assumes all responsibility for this column... and any opinions expressed therein... are those of the columnist and not necessarily those of this newspaper.)

Each time we pass Ed Peden, amiable (until he sees us) butcher at the City Grocery, we can just see him calculating how much we cost him at 20¢ per pound loss on bacon. Right now we are taking a firm view of a much-mortgaged future... and the people who bought bacon at the Herald's price of 37¢ per pound rather than the City Grocery's price of 57¢ are responsible. This all came about in my closing proof of the City Grocery ad when we decided to ignore the fact that they planned (in writing) to price the bacon at 57¢ for a pound... and left a price of 37¢ (something dreamed up in the kitchen) on the "com. ad." Would all our nice folks who bought such a bacon-bargain like to put in a few cents a pound if we pass the hat? That way we'd only be in debt to Mr. Peden for the next 17 weeks' salary.

We've discovered another shrewd business woman in the younger generation, Hero Gerleman was in The Herald with his very small daughter to pay for a classified ad. Unfortunately the ad came to 36¢. It took us quite awhile to complete the transaction because when we put the charge on the counter JoAnn was quicker than we... she'd beat us to that lone penny. No interest in nickels, dimes and quarters! It looked like we would have to settle for 35¢ but her little hand finally was holding enough pennies to handicap her speed—so we out-grabbed her.

Dr. J. R. Johnson was announcing to all coffee drinkers Friday morning that "Clay he was 37 years old." A belated happy birthday, Doc. We might say that for years we've been reading in the newspaper's adult child brides, but this is our first occasion to meet a "child groom."

Dale Hostvet, The Herald's new advertising man, cannot stand Nebraska's mild climate—being used to the severe cold of Minnesota. He has a cough you can hear for blocks. When he comes in the front door we don't have to turn around any more to see if it's a paving customer... since we usually can follow him down the street by ear from the "corner of banks" to The Herald office.

Our favorite "Get Thee Behind Me Satan" for the week, Mrs. Kenneth Olds, eyed the tempting and pound-putting out child at AAUW Thursday night (with every intention of eating it)... and announced that some day when she was on a refreshment committee she was going to serve rye-krisp.

We have that old stuffed feeling... which comes from eating several days supply of food at the St. Mary's Guild dinner Wednesday night. You know the sensation—if you dropped a quarter you could n't possibly lean over to pick it up.

Lawrence Kohrt on Hawaiian Maneuvers
The destroyer, escort Spangler, to which S/a Lawrence Kohrt is assigned, is one of the ships from San Diego, Calif., which left for Hawaii this week to participate in "Operation Miki".
They will be gone until the second week in November, said S/a Kohrt when he called his mother, Mrs. Mabel Kohrt, recently.
Operation Miki is said to be the biggest Pacific joint maneuvers in peacetime history and includes more than 50 vessels.

BIKES — and BOYS and GIRLS
There are far too many car, truck, and bicycle accidents that happen on the road today. All your life you have probably had some kind of machine-on-wheels at your disposal. When you keep any one of them under control it is your servant. When you let it out of control it can be an instrument of destruction.
More Bicycles
During the last few years, more and more people—boys and girls and grownups—have become interested in bicycles. In 1939 only 200,000 bicycles were manufactured. Four years later, 1,250,000 were built. Now there are at least 3,000,000 bicycles and 30,000,000 motor vehicles on streets and highways.
How can we reduce the chances for accidents and still enjoy our bikes? Here are some suggestions: Start a bicycle club within your school, church or neighborhood. Work for safe practices. Cooperate with public officials to promote the building of cycle paths in heavy traffic areas and along the sides of highways.
Word of Advice
Take good care of your bicycle. Keep it in good condition always for your safety and the safety of others. Always use signs in traffic. Never zig-zag. Keep your wheels true and properly lined up between the fork so that the sidewalls of the tire do not rub. To fathers and mothers of bicycle riders we would say, help us to reduce accidents, drive carefully and teach the tradition of safety.

Scarlet Sports
by Leo E. Geley, student, U. of N.
With the Big 7 conference race turning into a guessing game for sportscasters, Nebraska fans are holding their breath to see what the Cornhuskers will do.
Kansas Staters are running wild with win fever after breaking out of the conference losing column for the first time in five years. Iowa State, storming into the foreground early is no pushover for any team this year. For its part, Colorado will be out to trim the Huskers again. Oklahoma and Missouri are potent again this year and Kansas taking an early back seat will seek to win at any cost when meeting UN.

But the boys at Nebraska are not sitting idly by. Coach Bill Glassford and his staff have a training school setup as efficient as any in the gridiron game. The method, brought to Nebraska for the first time this year by Glassford, runs something like this: A grading system is set up and each player is given a mark for every move he makes in every game and some practice sessions. Movies made at every game serve as proof to back up the coaches' criticisms.
Meetings are held separately for the backs, ends and other linemen. The coaches study the movies and grade each player on every play, rating him on the execution of his assignment. The players, in the separate meetings, learn of each mistake they made and how to correct it.
Here is the way points are doled out: First, let's take a lineman. His job is to block a man to help open a hole. If he fails to take his man out of the play, his points add up to zero. If he carries out his assignment to the satisfaction of the coaches, he is given one point. If, for instance, he disposes of his man and then continues down field and blocks out another man, he is given two or three points, depending on his efficiency. One point is given for carrying out the assignment, two for above average work and three is excellent. Thus a man has to chalk up three points on every play to get a score of 100%. Whenever he gets a zero, it knocks his percentage down.

The same system is used for backs and ends. If a backfield man is carrying the ball, he is given one point if, in the opinion of the coaches, he performs his job as it should be done. He receives two or three points if, for instance, he spins away from one tackler, stiff-arms another and breaks away. A touchdown run gives a man three points, but only if he runs the play as he should have. For example, assume the halfback gets the ball, goes through a hole and runs across the couple stripe. Should the coaches decide, though, that he didn't break fast enough, he gets a zero—score or no score. Or perhaps a tackler gets a hand on him as he goes through the hole. The teacher says, "He wouldn't have touched you if you had broken faster." So, you see, it's not easy to get three points for a play even if you are the hero of the game after taking a touchdown. The system plays away the individualism in part of a team. And because Glassford is striving to make his team function as a unit, he has not been satisfied with his boys. After the Minnesota game the Husker coach praised his charges only by saying, "The boys showed improvement over last week but are still playing for their individual desires." The improvement is coming, and with tutoring like this, Cornhusker fans should not be disappointed.

Safety Rules For the Home

Women—and men, too—can cut down our fire rate by observing these eight rules at home:

1. Keep matches out of the reach of small children. Distribute enough ashtrays about the house. Don't permit any smoking in bed.
2. Don't play home handyman with electric wiring. Have faulty wiring repaired by a qualified electrician.
3. All electrical appliances should bear the label of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. for your safety.
4. Have furnace and chimney cleaned at least once a year. Check for cracks, loose bricks. Use metal container for ashes.
5. Don't allow rubbish, papers, magazines, or other combustibles to collect in alleys, closets, or cellars.
6. Keep portable heaters clean and place them so they can't be tipped over.
7. Put a metal screen in front of the fireplace.
8. Never use gasoline for cleaning. If you must dry-clean at home, use cleaning fluids bearing the U.L. label.

Plan Your Escape From Fire Now

You can do two things right now which will reduce your chances of becoming one of America's 11,000 yearly fire victims.

First, learn how to turn in a fire alarm. Getting firemen to your home quickly might save your life.

Second, figure out two different ways to get to the ground from your bedroom.

Never attempt to jump to the ground if help is on the way. Never return to a burning house to save pets or valuables. Think of human life first.

Calif. brought Mrs. Agnes Kenny here to the Donald Winklebauer home Tuesday after she had been visiting in California the past month. The California folks stayed just one day.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans of Carroll and Mrs. Frances Hansen of Sioux City visited at the Roy Granfield home Saturday evening.

Chief Rogge Urges Home Safety Check

A single afternoon or evening will be enough time to rid your home of the most common fire hazards, Fire Chief Paul Rogge said today in urging local citizens to join in the nation-wide observation of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9 to 15.

"The first step is to clean out the cellar," the chief said. "Most families have stacks of old magazines, piles of discarded clothing, and even pieces of furniture stuck away down there."

"All it takes is a spark from the furnace, or a defect in the wiring, or a carelessly dropped cigarette to start a fire in the cellar. Once it is started, it is particularly difficult to bring under control if those piles of fast-burning paper, cloth and wood are there to supply fuel."

Cellar Is Danger Spot

The National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates that one out of every three home fires begins in the cellar, the chief said.

"The next step is to clean out the attic, which is another danger spot," he said. "By cleaning up your home this week, you may keep it from burning up next week."

The chief also suggested these "Seven Steps to Fire Safety":

1. Have the complete heating system inspected, cleaned and repaired by an experienced repairman.
2. Provide covered metal containers for ashes and trash.
3. Avoid hanging extension cords over bare nails or running them under rugs, as this causes dangerous wear. Replace worn extension cords.
4. Always call in an experienced electrician for necessary home wiring, because "home handyman" have been responsible for many fires traced to faulty wiring.
5. Oil and clean motors of electric appliances and check to be sure that belts are in proper conditions. (This does not apply to refrigerators which have sealed-in motors.)
6. Place a metal screen in front of the fireplace to guard against flying sparks and hot ashes.
7. Never clean with gasoline—it's dangerous. Fire experts suggest that cleaning be sent out. If you must clean at home, use cleaning fluids bearing the U.L. label of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

In addition to these specific steps, the chief emphasized that "careless handling of cigarettes and matches is still the No. 1 fire cause."

He said that the National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates that nearly a third of all fires in homes, factories, forests, and elsewhere, are caused by careless smokers. "This week and every week, you should make certain cigarettes are out before throwing them away, avoid tossing cigarettes or matches into wastebaskets, and especially make certain that no member of your family ever smokes in bed."

The Coconut Grove fire in Boston killed 492 persons. This loss of life was greater than that suffered in the San Francisco earthquake and fire in 1906.

Every 36 seconds a fire breaks out in the United States. Every 1½ minutes an American dwelling catches fire. Every 50 minutes a person dies in a fire or from burns.

Alexander Hamilton was killed by Aaron Burr on the same dueling ground where Hamilton's son fell in a duel three years earlier, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Farms Have All Hazards of a Factory!

Total Losses Still Common In Farm Fires

Total losses seldom result from fires in cities these days, but are still common in farm fires, the National Board of Fire Underwriters points out in calling for improved rural fire protection and more fire prevention activities among farm families.

The modern farm has most of the fire hazards found in a small factory, but usually takes fewer precautions in guarding against fire, the National Board says. Although a fire starts on a farm, the chances of bringing it under control are fewer because of inadequate equipment, poor water supply, or lack of trained fire fighters within easy reach.

Many rural areas now have excellent fire protection, but protection over wider areas is needed to reduce the annual $100,000,000 farm fire loss.

Lightning Rods Prevent Fires

As the nation prepared to observe Fire Prevention Week Oct. 9 to 15, the National Board stated that one-third of all farm fires could be prevented simply by the installation of lightning rods of the proper type on every farm building. The completed installation should be inspected by Underwriters Laboratories approval.

Here are other farm fire-safety suggestions:

1. Use care in storing and handling gasoline. In refueling tanks, avoid spilling gasoline or allowing it to drop over a hot motor or engine.
2. Use a safety can to store small quantities of gasoline. Keep the main supply in an underground tank equipped with a standard pump.
3. Don't store or run tractors in to hay barns.
4. Inspect your electrical equipment. New wiring or installations of motors should be inspected by a fire department officer or an inspection authority. Check your fuse box to see that you have fuses of approved size. Keep electric cords and lamps out of reach of animals. Install metal guards around light bulbs, especially in barns.
5. Inspect and clean your heating system at least once a year, including furnace, flues, smoke-pipe and chimneys.
6. If you use an artificial drier to dry your corn, be sure the drier is of a type inspected by Underwriters Laboratories, Inc. It should have automatic tempera-

NOTICE

This is National Fire Prevention Week, a time when we should take stock of past fires and try to prevent fires in the future.

Wayne has been fortunate in having a comparatively small fire loss over the past year, especially during the past months.

But only through constant vigilance and carefulness can we prevent fires and keep them down to a minimum.

In behalf of the Wayne Fire Department and the entire community, I urge all citizens to make a safety check of their premises and observe the safety rules of fire—this week and every week of the year.

Old clothes, newspapers, and magazines tucked away in cellars and attics cause many fires in homes, the National Board of Fire Underwriters warns. The fire experts suggest that attics and cellars be cleaned out during Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9 to 15, and then kept clear of quick-burning cloth, wood and paper.

Experts Tell How To Save Your Life When Fire Strikes

In case of fire, just keep your head and you will probably save your life, the National Board of Fire Underwriters says, in a Fire Prevention Week statement.

The fire experts point out that most fires are lost needlessly each year because fire victims do not know what to do in an emergency.

Here are the National Board's life-saving tips:

1. Keep your bedroom door closed at night.
2. If you awake and smell smoke, don't rush out into the hall. Test the door with your hand. If it feels hot, the hall is full of dangerous smoke, and you're safer in your bedroom. Stuff wet cloths around the door cracks; open the bedroom window slightly; yell to neighbors to turn in the alarm, and then wait at the window for rescue.
3. If you test the door and it doesn't feel hot, crawl through the hall to safety. Close doors behind you.

Nearly 1100 fires occur in homes daily, averaging about $500 loss per fire, according to estimates.

Rivers of grass...

"Rivers of grass" flow across this country. Millions of cattle and lambs have spent the spring and summer turning grass into meat. Now they are ready for round-up and shipment. So in October they move to the markets—in a great flood of livestock. Many go direct from the range to meat-packing plants. Others go to the feed lots to be grain-finished. But, either way, these meat animals are mostly grass—which folks cannot eat—converted into appetizing, nourishing meat for people. They are adding greatly to the health and wealth of the nation. Without this "livestock economy," in which you and we are engaged, 779,000,000 acres of our United States would produce little food for human use.

Whether you ship your cattle and lambs early or late—whether it's to Chicago, Ft. Worth, Denver or any of scores of other markets—you'll find buyers there to bid for them. With many others, Swift & Company helps provide the year-round daily market which is as essential to your business as it is to ours.

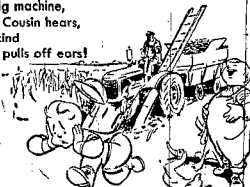

Your grass, turned into meat, is a vital raw material of all meat-packing operations. There is keen competition for it. Every meat packer and commercial slaughterer (and there are more than 18,000 of them in the United States) must have a regular supply of meat animals. Each buyer knows the high bid gets the animals. He knows also that his own price range is set by supply and demand. He sees your steers and lambs as so many pounds of meat and by-products. The price you are offered for your livestock is governed by what the meat packer can get for the meat and the by-products.

Your Markets for Meat

In the early days of our country, livestock was produced close to the point where it was eaten. But as the population grew, those conditions changed. Today two thirds of the people live east of the Mississippi, while two thirds of the livestock is produced west of that river. To bridge that gap of more than 1,000 miles is no small job. Millions of head of livestock must be processed and the meat distributed to where it is wanted. The facilities of nationwide meat packers provide you with markets for your meat animals; move the meat to cities and towns where it is in demand.

Swift & Company, and other nationwide meat packers, sell meat to retailers wherever there are people who want to buy it . . . no matter how far that may be from your farm or ranch. We bring you the benefit of national, rather than local, demand. This means that, in selling your livestock, you choose between the price created by local demand, or the price created by the national demand of millions of meat eaters.

We work hard to encourage people to serve meat oftener—to eat more of it . . . And we are proud that our nationwide system is one of the most efficient, low-cost food distribution systems in the United States.

Quotes of the Month

"We, as ranchers, are not sufficient unto ourselves. In fact, we are only the beginning of the beef line. Of equal importance are the feeder, the processor, the distributor and the consumer. Disregard the rights or welfare of any of these, and sooner or later we suffer."

"He gave it for his opinion that whoever could make two ears of corn, or two blades of grass, to grow upon a spot of ground where only one grew before, would deserve better of mankind, and do more essential service to his country, than the whole race of politicians put together."

Supplement that Poor Forage

By Robert D. Rasmussen
New Mexico A. & M. College

Dried-up pastures and winter weather create the same feeding problem for the cattleman. They simply mean that you have lower quality feed and less of it. And you have little choice as to what you can do about it. You can let the cattle eat what they can find. In this case you're likely to take a weight loss on your cows. You'll also take a chance on a weak calf crop. Or you can feed a supplement. If you feed enough of the right kind, your cows and unborn calves will come through in good, healthy condition.

California experiments on deficient range showed the cow herd that got a protein supplement produced a 91% calf crop. Cows on similar range, without a supplement, produced a 61% calf crop. Arizona found that feeding supplement increased the weight of the calves at birth by 10 pounds.

The amount of supplement needed varies. Cows carrying calves, and young stock require more protein than open cows or mature animals. A safe rule to follow is to watch the condition of the stock. Keep them healthy and thrifty.

Research by the New Mexico agricultural experiment station shows that during the winter months range forage is most critically short of phosphorus as well as protein. While some of the cake supplements are high in phosphorus as well as protein, most ranchers over the state are using mineral supplement for year-round use. A mineral supplement containing at least 6% phosphorus should be made available at all times to range cattle. Experiments have shown that year-round use is better and more profitable than seasonal use.

Here's a goal for cattlemen. Use whatever kind and amount of supplement is necessary to keep your cattle healthy and thrifty. (Editor's Note: The principles of animal nutrition discussed above apply in all parts of the country.)

News of Interest From City School

By Lois Russell and Alan Cramer

Academic Work

The kindergarten, under the direction of Mrs. Marie Giese, has been studying a home unit, and in connection with their study they made an excursion Friday in search of different types of homes. Each day the children fashion a "heart-shaped story."

Various tests are under way in the grades and the competition has been keen.

The first grade took explanatory reading tests in numbers, while the second grade prepared a silent reading test from "The Weekly Reader."

The third graders are competing with each other in an addition tournament. This class has been studying about shelter. Nancy Korbahn brought pictures of cliff dwellings at Manitou Springs, Colo. where she and her parents visited last summer. Frederick Rickers brought a picture of Webster county's last school house. Jerry Smith and Larry Brandstetter built a sod house and brought it to school.

The fourth grade has been working with long problems in addition. The habits of humming birds, monarch butterflies, and whales are being studied. The geography class has just completed a study of Iceland. Several perfect scores in spelling have been earned with 100's going to Julianne Lamp, Joan Larson, Mary Lucille Pawloski, Carol Johnson and Ronnie Stutz.

An experiment was conducted on what happens during an eclipse. The poem, "October's Party," was studied and the class plans to write original autumn poems this week.

The fifth grade science class has been working with simple machines. Allen Otto brought a pulley to school and demonstrated it. There were 14 perfect papers in the fifth grade spelling test recently. The boys now lead the Squirrels, 83-75.

In the sixth grade arithmetic test Freddie Proett had 100's. Larry Hofeldt, Glen Houdersheldt and Sharon Larson made only one error.

Produce Shows

Original radio shows have been produced by the seventh and eighth grade English classes, under the direction of Mrs. Ray Philbin. Diction, poise and clear cut conclusions are studied.

The film, "Magazine Magic," recently shown to the seventh and eighth grades Oct. 4. Notes were taken by the pupils and news reports were written.

Members of the Typing II class are working on the first issue of "The Harbinger." They hope it will be "off the press" this week. Fern Mohr has been elected as business manager, and mimeographing for the first issue is being done by Lois Russell, Shirley Gilchrist and Billie Roberts. Other members of the class are cutting the stencils.

Typing I students have covered all keys on the keyboard and are working on accuracy. This year party when each child read verses of their own choice.

Grade Two

We have established a story-telling hour in our room. Each Friday afternoon we will tell stories and receive credit on a chart for stories we have read. Twelve of us brought books from home to share with our classmates.

Twelve of us can now say the poem, "The Turtle." Virginia Breen, Donna Hughes and Danny Beeman can also say "The Elf-Man," by John Bangs.

Jon Kyl, Walter Meyer, Billy Kober, Billy Reeg and Donovan Walter have had some neat work hung on the bulletin board.

There were seven perfect spelling lessons this week. Michael Perry, Billy Reeg, Jon Kyl, Donna Hughes, Stephen Tempero, Monte Schram and Danny Beeman are the ones with perfect scores.

Grade One

Mrs. Brunke, Mrs. Schroeder and Mrs. Nelson have visited the first grade recently.

The Little White House has been added to the reading program.

Kindergarten
By starting a safety unit, the attention of the pupils has been drawn to crossing streets carefully, safe ways of using playground apparatus, how to leave a building in case of a fire, and methods of fire prevention.

College officials and students of WSFC expect a banner turnout for the 1949 Homecoming as alumni and fans of the Wayne State Warriors plan for the Chadron State-Wayne State football game next Saturday, Oct. 22.

Northeastern Nebraskans and Wayne State students will fill the campus with activities during the next two weeks of October according to scheduled events. Several off-campus people will attend special meetings the preceding Saturday, Oct. 15.

Other events include a parade in the morning and a dance in the evening. Students are already preparing for homecoming with a hard-growing contest, home week float construction and pep rallies. Selection of a queen and four attendants is being conducted through student balloting.

Faculty members of the college will hold their annual Autumn dinner which will feature election of officers for the 1949-50 year for the social organization on Thursday evening, Oct. 13.

Dr. C. C. Finger will address the fall meeting of the Sioux Valley Chapter of the University of Nebraska on Saturday, Oct. 15, 8 o'clock at a private student union building, and is open to all interested persons. Banquet Saturday.

Lee Sandhoffer, assistant director of the Norfolk State hospital and member of the University medical faculty, will address a banquet meeting of the Nebraska School Master's Association at 6:30 p.m. on Oct. 8, Fred Hill, assistant superintendent of schools at Omaha and president of the group, has announced that the fall meeting will begin with informal social sessions Saturday afternoon and conclude with the evening banquet.

Sociology Class Tours Hospital

Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 4, the senior sociology class at Wayne Prep took a trip to Norfolk to tour the state hospital for the mentally ill. Two student teachers, Don Means and Joyce Root, and supervisor C. V. Watt accompanied the class.

A guide and a nurse showed the group through the buildings and one of the many tunnels which are used in extreme weather conditions.

The class went through the occupational therapy and laundry buildings and saw the patients at work on various activities. In the occupational therapy building the women were making figurines, weaving baskets and rugs, and various other things that are sold or given to the patient's family.

The nurse told the class that dances, movies and roller skating are the means of recreation which almost every patient attends.

Visual Aids Used

Films that have been shown the past two weeks are "Democracy," "Land of the Children," and "Land of Liberty, Part I," eighth American history, seventh reading class, "How Nature Protects Animals" and "Common Animals of the Woods," home economics, "Principles of Cooking" and "Body Care and Grooming," world history, "Marie Antony," vocational agriculture, "Body Care and Grooming," Link Trainer "Town."

In the study of navigation, members of Wayne Prep's plane geography class, under the student direction of Tom Mitchell and Supervisor Milton Hassell, each took turns flying a Link Trainer in the science building Monday, Oct. 10.

The Link Trainer is stationary, rotates on a circular disk and has all the controls and instruments of a real airplane.

Order Class Rings

Junior class rings were ordered this week from the Jewelers company through Mines jewelry store. The class selected a ring with a rectangular set, either ruby, blue or onyx, depending upon individual preference. The rings should arrive by Christmas.

Grade Six

The students are drawing the interior of a recreation room as a part of their study of perspective in the art class.

Irene Kollmorgen has returned to school after a week's absence due to illness.

Several new plants are brightening up the elementary rooms. Judy Carlson brought a plant for the second grade, and Robert Dean Proett brought one which he had cultivated himself.

The eighth grade received a letter from a former classmate, Bob Baller, telling of his new school and home in Carthage, Illinois.

New equipment is blossoming out in the entire school. A new juicer has been installed in the shop, and many wood projects will soon appear from the new supply of lumber that has been laid in. The children of the kindergarten have a new sand box.

The Juniors, under the direction of Miss Ross, have selected "Boy Wanted," a comedy by William Roos, for their class play. Tryouts were held this week.

Thespians held their first meeting, and elected to give a one act play for the Business and Professional Women's club.

The Wayne City School Educators met Wednesday to adopt a constitution, which a committee has built, and is presenting for the group's approval.

A new set of World Book Encyclopedias has recently been purchased, and Mrs. Homer Seave has some new books in the library. Fred Feldman was absent from the library this week, because he was showing his calf at the Ak Sar Ben.

Morris; Baby Bear, Connie Meyer; and Story teller, Mary Lou Fritz.

Patty Olson entertained the second grade Tuesday with a piano solo, "The Elevator and the Big Store."

The fifth grade is taking up the drawing of fall leaves and plants (bittersweet and woodbine.)

The musical glasses in the seventh grade have created a great deal of interest. Ten sets of these glasses will be worked out, forming a "glassophone" orchestra.

The seventh grade art class has completed the picture "Witches Haven." It now hangs in the back of the room. A jack-o-lantern border for the blackboard was made. Yellow candies and a vase of flowers have made the library corner more home like.

Leaves in colored chalk were made in the eighth grade art class. Virginia Smith brought the leaves to go by. Members of this class brought paraffin and preserved the leaves by dipping them in it.

Maps Health Booklets
Free hand maps were drawn in the history class, of "The Thirteen Original Colonies" during the Revolutionary War," by the eighth grade also.

Eighth grade health class made booklets of five mental and physical habits which they would like to get "rid of." Each week their progress on these habits are checked. No one, but the student, may see his own personal "habit book." They are checked and then put under lock and key till the next week.

Stamps are the main interest in the eighth grade class now. They are trying to put more stamps on their United States stamp map. This map is three years old now, and far from completed.

Four Schools Will Compete in Mile Run

Event to Be Held During Homecoming

One of the main features of the 1949 Homecoming at Wayne State will be an invitational mile run held during half-time of the Chadron State - Wayne State football game. Competing with the Wayne State entry will be teams from Yankton College, Kearney State and probably Iowa State Teachers College.

Yankton college boasts a strong squad led by Bob Johnson, who set the pace for all midwestern milers in 1948. Wayne State's Yankton in 1948, Wayne State's Yankton in 1948, Wayne State's Yankton in 1948, Wayne State's Yankton in 1948.

Wildcats Down Peru By a 28-6 Count

Wayne State's Wildcats remain on the top rung of the NCC ladder by virtue of their 28-6 victory over Peru State Teachers College last Saturday night on the Wildcat's home field.

It was Wayne all the way after quarterback Dan Joiner crossed the goal line on a one-yard smash to climax a 57-yard drive. Chris Muller added the extra point with a place kick.

An attempted punt by the Bobcats during the first quarter was blocked by Jim Strahan and joined by Cyphers on the Peru 11. Joiner's pass to Strahan was good for the second TD in the quarter.

A 57-yard drive ended in six points for the Wildcats as a Kane-to-Bahe pass from the 11-yard line was completed.

Trojans Administer 32-0 Ponca Defeat

Wayne State's Trojans traveled to Ponca Friday to administer the more or less traditional defeat to the Ponca Eleven 32-0.

First quarter of action saw neither team able to advance far enough to gain points. The second quarter proved a reverse of the first with the Trojans scoring up on a Larry Ring-McInnis pass combination that was good for the first six points of the game. A 64-yard Ring to Pitt pass shortly after the first quarter was good for another TD putting the Trojans ahead with a 12-0 lead.

Hartington Downs Randolph Card, 13-6

Randolph's eleven went down to a 13-6 defeat at the hands of the Hartington High team Friday night on the Randolph field.

Third quarter of play netted the only points of the game as Westouphal hit pay dirt on the end of a pass.

Next conflict for the West Pointers will be this Friday when they undertake to tame Oakland at Oakland.

Wayne High Eleven and Neligh Draw, 6-6, Friday

The Wayne High-Neligh game ended in a 6-6 deadlock here Friday night. This was the Blue Devils' second conference tilt, having won the last one from Madison.

Both touchdowns were made on last downs with one yard at the line. Neligh's attempt for extra point were pass plays. In fact the statistics show an evenness in nearly all departments.

Mustangs Avenge Two-year Domination

Stanton's Mustangs gained their first win in two years over the Pierce Bluejays Friday night when they won 12-6 on the home field.

Both teams were fairly evenly matched with the Mustangs gaining first blood in the opening quarter when Armbuster ran 20 yards to score. The conversion attempt failed.

Laurel had victory turn into defeat for them Friday night as they dropped a 12-7 defeat to the Plainview Pirates after holding a 7-0 lead for three quarters.

York and Chadron Next Wildcat Foes

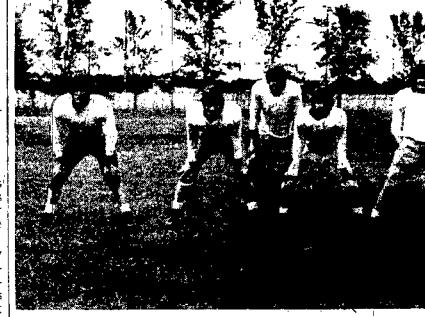

Main campus football interest this week at Wayne State is directed toward the slam-bang tussle between the Wildcats and Chadron State on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 22, when Wayne celebrates its annual homecoming.

But Coach Jack Wink and his traveling squad aren't flinching a full evening at York, Neb., when the Wildcats tangle with the York Panthers on Oct. 11. York's defensive play has rocked Nebraska College conference foes back all season and Wayne's touted offensive might bog down.

Wayne and Chadron crunched co-championships of the NCC in 1948. Wayne holds a slightly better record so far in the 1949 campaign but Chadron is developing rapidly with its clever at full strength and with the full mentorship wizardry of Ross Armstrong.

Coach Neal Parsons has brought the York team along pretty fast and the improvement over the 1948 squad has been apparent all season. He'll have to worry about the zip of Wayne's Al Bahe and Don Kane. The two halfbacks have both rambled for more than 400 yards in their first five games.

Last Friday afternoon, the Wayne Prep Panthers drew a 13-13 tie with Newcastle on the Newcastle field, and thus be the first team to tie with the conference leaders.

In the first quarter it was a saw battle with neither team making much headway, until the last few minutes, when a Newcastle pass clicked for 30 yards and the first score. Another pass made the conversion good and Newcastle led 7-0 at the end of the first quarter.

3. Produces a market topping finish on even rough cattle!

As we understand it, the purpose of this contest is to let future feeders see the actual problems confronting actual feeders. That is, how to produce the largest gains at the lowest cost with a buyer appealing finish. From results from hundreds of feeders, we sincerely believe Vis-Vita can produce these results better than any other supplement.
