The Boyd's Goin' to the 'Boids'...

Wayne Landmark Coming Down

Travelers carried their valises up to the desk of the 'Boyd' hotel and gazed at the show of modern elegance in the thriving prairie village of Wayne.

That was nearly 70 years ago. During the last years of its existence, the old Boyd hotel has been a home for birds that built nests on its roof. It also housed a second hand store and then a storage place for steel cans just before it was completely abandoned, except for the birds.

That's a long way to come—from a full house of travelers every night and some elegant parties to a haven for birds. But any building sees many changes in 67 years.

The hotel was built shortly after H. B. Boyd bought the lots from Frank H. and Mary D. Peavey for $1. The deed transferring the property to Boyd was dated May 11, 1883.

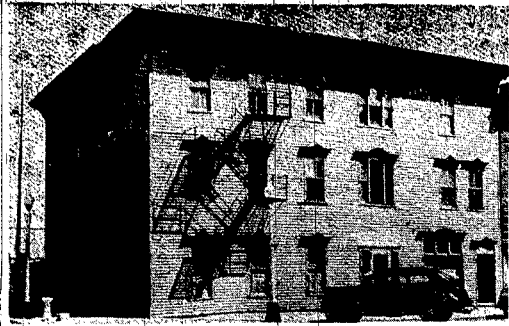

In a directory of Main Street in 1884, run in the Herald-Tribune, the Boyd hotel is listed as a "going" business. At that time, the Boyd had competition; the American House is also listed as a Wayne hotel.

Ownership of the Boyd changed hands a number of times over the years and operation of the hotel was also leased by the various owners.

In 1895 P. M. Moodie bought the hotel from H. B. Boyd and his wife for $8,000. F. J. Fitzgerald bought half interest for $4,000 in 1896 and the other half interest in 1900 for $3,500 from the Moodies.

In 1900 the hotel was sold for $8,000 again to Alvin Leigh. In 1902 J. A. Pritchard bought it for $9,000, subject to lease of the premises by J. L. Criss, according to the old deed.

In 1903 its value had declined and W. W. Thurston bought it for $3,750. It changed hands on paper with Thurston again acquiring it at a $3,000 value.

This same year it was purchased by its only long-time owner, E. B. Girton. Girton paid $5,500 for the hotel and owned it until the time of his death, Jan. 9, 1939. It was then bequeathed to his widow, Mrs. Nellie Annis Girton "use for and during her natural life." Mrs. Girton died April 7 of this year.

Final change in ownership was after Mrs. Girton's death when the State National Bank acquired title from Mr. Girton's heirs. Destruction of the old Boyd was begun immediately in the interests of safety and progress. Two years ago State Fire Marshal E. C. Iverson condemned the building as a fire hazard.

When the Boyd hotel was brand-new, in 1884, Wayne had a boot and shoe maker, a wagon maker and two livery stables. Agricultural implements were sold by Milligan & Co., Slater & Cone, Chaco, Neely & Co., and Simmons Brothers. A saloon is listed as one of the businesses on Main street.

The hotel was the scene of many social affairs. Its dining room was a good place for dinners and parties through the years. Old file copies of The Herald report such events as an oyster supper held there by the YPSCF of the Presbyterian church Feb. 7, 1896.

In the fall of 1927, E. O. Stratton directed the financing of a community project which led to the building of the new hotel Stratton. This sounded the death knell for the Boyd, although the hotel continued to operate until 1942.

The Stratton, now the Morrison hotel, was built in 1927-28 at the cost of approximately $53,000. Contract was let for the new hotel in October, 1927, and it was completed the following year.

Last days of the Boyd were supervised by Mr. and Mrs. French Penn who rented from Ellis Girton in March, 1936. Rooms at the hotel then were 75¢ and $1.00.

At the time the Penns ran the hotel there was a lounge, desk, coffee shop and kitchens on the first floor. The upper two floors were rooms and there were five sleeping rooms rented by the hotel over the Coed Theater.

In May, 1942, an auction sale was held and most of the equipment in the hotel was sold. Penn went into defense work and Mrs. Penn ran the hotel to accommodate old customers during the summer of 1942. Only the first and second floors were open.

In December, 1942 the hotel was closed.

C. D. McCullough used the building for his Wayne Mattress Shop until 1949 when he moved to his present location. Since that time Oscar Peterson has used the premises to sell seed corn.

The contract for demolishing the old building was let to the Lehmann Wrecking company, Sioux City.

Workers have been busy tearing their way down past the birds' nests, past old dead birds and torn paper, past a rickety fire escape to the ground floor.

In a few days, there will be no familiar yellow frame landmark on the corner of 2nd and Main.

A stone pyramid at Fort Robinson, near Crawford, honors the memory of Crazy Horse, noted Ogallala war chief and probably the greatest military genius of the Sioux confederacy.

Crazy Horse has always been a man of mystery. The great chief, called Curly throughout much of his boyhood, was born on Rapid Creek in the Black Hills sometime in the early 1840's. As a very young boy, he became aware of the irrepressible conflict between red man and white for control of the west. He saw Conquering Bear shot by soldiers sent out from Fort Laramie under Lt. Grattan to avenge the loss of a Mormon cow. He took part in battles with other tribes, and was given the name Crazy Horse for his heroism and achievement.

Young Crazy Horse took an active part in the campaigns of the famous Ogallala chieftain, Red Cloud, against the forts erected to protect travelers on the Bozeman Road, from Fort Laramie to Montana. These campaigns were so successful that in 1868 the United States agreed to close the road and remove the troops from the forts.

Crazy Horse refused to follow Red Cloud and others onto reservations, and became a leader among the Sioux and Cheyennes who would not trade their old way of life for reservation status. They retreated into the hills from whence they conducted forays against the Crows and isolated parties of whites.

The final years of Crazy Horse's life were spent in leading the bitter last stand of the Indians against the whites. Gen. George Crook and a detachment of troops tried to bring him into the reservation early in 1876, but though they caught him unawares the best they could do was to capture the Indians' ponies—most of which were later recaptured. Again in June, Crook made another unsuccessful attempt to capture the young chief and his band.

Almost immediately after repulsing Crook, Crazy Horse and his band took part in the Battle of the Little Big Horn, in which Gen. George A. Custer's command of 212 men was annihilated.

Though the Indians had repulsed the whites at almost every turn, the odds were against them. On May 6, 1877, for the sake of his women and children, Crazy Horse came to the Red Cloud Agency near Camp Robinson and surrendered.

All was quiet for a time, but the military authorities, fearful that Crazy Horse was plotting another outbreak, had him arrested. Faced with the guard house at Fort Robinson, Crazy Horse pulled a traffic and made a desperate effort to fight his way free. In the ensuing fracas, he was mortally wounded and died the same night, Sept. 5, 1877.

The monument at Fort Robinson stands near the spot where the gallant young chieftain met his death.

The Wayne Herald had 14 young visitors last Wednesday afternoon. The youngsters are the second-grade class of Wayne State campus school. They were accompanied by Thomas Myers, grade supervisor, and Nydra Jacobson and Lois Schierloh, practice teachers.

The second graders visited the Herald as part of their study of communications.

The Herald staff explained to the class how the news and advertisements are funneled through the "front" shop to the "back" shop where they are set up in type, put into the page forms and printed on the press.

Most of the class thought that the Linotypes were the most interesting machines in the back shop.

It was explained to the class how the mats (letter molds) are released by tapping typewriter-like keys and how these mats are moved to a casting mechanism where a line of type is cast out of molten lead.

They all wanted to see the molten lead.

Each youngster was given a casted line from the Linotype as it came out of the machine. Clean, bright and hot.

If they had been able to stay until 3:15 that afternoon, they could have seen the big press printing the first section of The Herald.

Members of the class included

Edwin Forsberg Barn Destroyed By Lightning

Concord - Lightning hit and set fire to a barn on the Edwin Forsberg farm, nine miles north of Wayne, early Friday morning. By the time the fire was discovered only a few feet of the barn was standing, and before the Concord fire department could arrive at the scene, the barn burned to the ground.

The barn was a cattle barn, 48 feet wide and 40 feet long, that had been used as a storage place. A bobbed wagon and some old lumber stored in the barn were completely destroyed by the fire.

Forsberg said that he and his wife had retired sometime after 1 a.m. About 5 a.m. an unknown passerby threw a lit farm lot and started honking his horn.

His wife saw the barn burning from a side window, but by that time only a few feet of the walls had not been destroyed.

Wayne Merchants Will Give Prizes for Amateur Judging

This year's Brown Swiss show promises to be bigger and better than ever. Don Warner, publicity chairman for the exhibition, reported. There'll be more entries and a bigger show, he said.

The exhibition will be held Saturday, July 1, at the ball park. There is no admission charge.

An amateur judging contest will be a feature of the show. Wayne merchants will offer prizes to the winners. Both children and adults may enter the contest.

Top entries from an eight-county canton will be exhibited. These entries will be judged Saturday afternoon. A second division, for 4-H entries, will be judged in the morning. The Wayne Chamber of Commerce will award cash prizes to the winners in the 4-H division.

The Danish system of judging will be used.

Official judge for the show will be Chris Sanders, member of the Cooper Foundation. The aim of the Cooper Foundation is the improvement of dairy stock throughout the state. It is administered by the University of Nebraska. Assisting in the judging will be M. N. Lawritson, extension dairyman at the university.

Weather permitting there'll be a parade Saturday morning. The parade, including a band and some of the cattle, will start at the REA building, parade down Main street and then turn over to the ball park.

Last year's winners include Gunnar Swanson, Laurel, president of the Nebraska Brown Swiss Breeding Association; Grand champion cow; Basil Truby, Allen, grand champion and junior bull and reserve champion cow; and Clifford Nissen, Osmond, reserve-champion bull. Fred Feldman, Wayne, won the 4-H division best dairy bull award. Ribbons in the 4-H class, were awarded to Arlen Magnuson, Wayne; Lois Hurd, Wayne; Fred Feldman, Wayne; Twyla Swanson, Laurel; Myron Peterson, Laurel; and Barbara Riedel, Osmond.

It's Firecracker Time Again

Everyday is a good day to learn a good lesson.
One of Wayne's younger citizens learned a good lesson several days ago. That's a good thing, but he had to pay for it — by cash and humility.
Most of us know of the dangers of playing with fireworks — split-open fingers and eye injuries. And most of us respect the possibility of these dangers.
We would think it strange if a grown man spent his day playing in a sand box. What then, would we think of a man who delighted in throwing fire crackers on Main street?
It's childishness — pure and simple-minded.
Respect for the rights of others is a good lesson to learn, and to put into practice everyday.
One of the hardest things for a child to learn is to respect the rights of others — the child wants attention at the expense of others.
And so it is with some fire cracker setter-offers.
A lot of us get a kick out of playing with firecrackers, rockets and Roman candles about this time of the year to help celebrate the Declaration of Independence. But let's have our fun where there is no danger of hurting property or injuring a friend.
Fifty years ago, we could've done that in Wayne. But, today, Wayne is past her "child" stage and growing into an important small city. Wayne is bigger, there are many more business establishments and fine homes, and many more people walking and shopping along Main street.
Wayne's lawmakers have been aware of the rights of others — they have drawn up an ordinance forbidding the use of fireworks within the city limits.
The way "crackers" have been popping off around here the past few days it doesn't seem likely that there'll be any left for the Fourth. Let's save 'em and use 'em right, so it'll be fun for everybody.

Up and Up and Up: Federal expenditures have risen from $3.4 billion in 1930 to $9.3 billion in 1940 and $42 billion in 1950.

Old Story of the Wolf Cry

"There's going to be another sugar shortage! But I'm not going to be caught short—No, sir! I'm going to stock up now. Rationing is on the way. Just wait and see if I'm not right!"
One doesn't have to go back eight years, during the early part of the war, to dig up such talk. One can hear it today—1950—and right here in our own community!
Or maybe it was the rationing you heard about, or anti-freeze, or something else.
One wonders how such rumors get started, rumors that can so easily become widespread, send "good citizens" on wild chases and eventually and unavoidably become realities.
Coffee is a good example. Someone sets off the cry, "There's going to be a shortage!" People rush to the stores. The demand causes an unnatural shortage. Prices zoom upward. Coffee cans collect dust on pantry shelves.
All of us have heard stories during the war where so-and-so stocked up on this-and-that, with the end result of one person wasting something while another goes without. Both end up paying higher prices.
Disrupt distribution and the law of supply and demand ricochets until it hurts everyone.
A Wayne grocer tells us that shortage cries are common occurrences. Every couple months, there is a big drain on sugar—a lot of people seem to need a lot of sugar in a big hurry. The grocer merely places an order to restock his shelves and wonders who cried "wolf" and why. Maybe next week, mayonnaise is the item to become so popular overnight.
We recall the case of one particular sugar hoarder who filled his attic just ahead of World War II rationing. One night a storm blew off part of the roof of his house, exposing the sugar stock to the neighbors. A heavy rain completely ruined both the sugar and the attic, delighting the neighbors and giving the hoarder one of the most embarrassing and costly experiences of his life.
It is disheartening to find people today so rumor-gullible. It is even more sad to see such selfishness and utter disregard for the other fellow. It is even too bad that there are so many things that some people just "can't do without," never considering the thousand substitutes and their merits, afraid of "hardships."
We remember the cigaret shortage. New smokers came into the market overnight; they joined long cigaret lines because there was "something hard to get" at the other end; they quit smoking when the supply became plentiful.
We're thinking now of shipping in a carload of yoyos, setting up an exclusive yoyo shop in Wayne, spreading rumors of a yoyo shortage, and then quickly cashing in at $1.00 a yoyo and retiring for life.
Is it really so ridiculous?

IN BOOKLAND

City Librarian

FINES. THIS WAS OVERHEARD AT THE loan desk in the library one day. A little girl, watching her mother pay a six cent fine, said: "Oh mama, did you overdo it?"
There are a number of books which belong to the library and should have been returned weeks ago, reposing on tables and shelves around the homes in Wayne. Of course, the library is closed, but don't you think you are overdoing it a little bit? We are keeping a record of those who have books and will be lenient about fines and all that sort of thing, but please, don't get so used to seeing those books around that you forget they do not belong to you. They can be returned to the library any time and dropped in the box outside the door. It would simplify our work these days if all these books would be turned in. Thank you.
PROGRESS. THIS WEEK THE NEW ADDITION got a ceiling and floor upstairs, and a new front door. The cement floor will be poured in the basement and the book shelving installed both upstairs and down, next week. The remodeling of the old part and the redecoration of the whole building still remains to be done. All of the wiring is done but the light fixtures are not yet installed. The plumbing is not all complete either so, it will be a few more weeks before we can begin the cleaning up, and straightening up process, which by the way, will be colossal. We try not to stay awake nights worrying about it but sometimes we can't help moving books in our sleep and it is quite exhausting. We wake up in the morning completely done in.
THE FIVE FAVORITES. PAUL HARRINGTON has given us his list of favorite books this week. Every time we get a new list we can't help but ask how interesting it is to see the varying lists in the lists. Here are his. First, The Pickwick Papers by Dickens. Second, Hugh Wynne—Free by Gouverneur Morris. Third The Masquerader by McGrath. Fourth Captains Courageous by Kipling, and Fifth, His Own People by Tarkington. He says, "Now these may not be so literary but they are books I have always liked." And that is exactly what we want when we ask people to give us their list of favorite books. Personally we are not familiar with any of this list except Pickwick Papers and Captains Courageous, nor does the library have the books any more, although they may have at one time. The book by Tarkington he says is out of print so if you want to read it you will probably have to borrow his copy, if he will loan it to you.

Our Readers Say

(Editor's note: The letter below is a news release about the Northeast Nebraska 4-H Camp held at Ponca Park. Howard Gillaspie, who sent in the release, is the Agricultural Extension Agent of Dixon county.)

NE Neb. 4-H Camp
Editor:
The Northeast Nebraska 4-H Camp was held at the Ponca State Park last weekend with 155 campers.
The first day's activities consisted of organizing the campers, lunch, nature study, handicraft, recreation, evening vespers, entertaining and instructive motion pictures and winding up the day with a Hare and Hound chase.
On the second day the campers awoke at 6:30 a.m. followed by a flag-raising ceremony. Camp supervisors then made their camp inspections and all quarters were made tidy before breakfast. All campers boarded chartered buses and left at 8:30 a.m. for Sioux City to visit production plants and, as guests of the Sioux City Chamber of Commerce, campers were given a swim in Riverside pool. The water was a little cool, so say the campers, but it was fine.
The campers got back to camp in time for a big evening dinner. After dinner there was a half-hour of free time for recreation. The camp flags were lowered at sunset. Wildlife and recreation motion pictures were shown. Then came another serious half-hour in a candle-lighting service.
This closed the day for a few of the campers, but the more energetic boys and girls wanted a few musical games in the recreation hall before retiring for the night.
The third day's program consisted of finishing their handicraft, exhibiting it and giving awards to the best handicraft articles. The handicraft was of light metal work. Most of the work was making picture impressions on thin copper sheeting.
These 4-H campers from Knox, Cedar, Dixon and Wayne counties regretted to see the closing of camp.

Law Enforcement
Editor:
Don't you think you are way ahead of some of us in your editorials about enforcement of existing regulations in Wayne? Ordinances in a progressive town are usually made and enforced by a progressive element but maybe all of us in Wayne don't want to get away from the horse and buggy days.
Why—who ever heard of taking away all the privies? Don't you realize that your children may never know what a cherished and necessary institution it was—and still is for us horse and buggy folks. Some of the best thinking has been done in them.
Please go easy on the enforcement of the dog ordinances. My

It's Firecracker Time Again

Everyday is a good day to learn a good lesson.

One of Wayne's younger citizens learned a good lesson several days ago. That's a good thing, but he had to pay for it — by cash and humility.

Most of us know of the dangers of playing with fireworks — split-open fingers and eye injuries. And most of us respect the possibility of these dangers.

We would think it strange if a grown man spent his day playing in a sand box. What then, would we think of a man who delighted in throwing fire crackers on Main street?

It's childishness — pure and simple-minded.

Respect for the rights of others is a good lesson to learn, and to put into practice everyday.

One of the hardest things for a child to learn is to respect the rights of others — the child wants attention at the expense of others.

And so it is with some fire cracker setter-offers.

A lot of us get a kick out of playing with firecrackers, rockets and Roman candles about this time of the year to help celebrate the Declaration of Independence. But let's have our fun where there is no danger of hurting property or injuring a friend.

Fifty years ago, we could've done that in Wayne. But, today, Wayne is past her "child" stage and growing into an important small city. Wayne is bigger, there are many more business establishments and fine homes, and many more people walking and shopping along Main street.

Wayne's lawmakers have been aware of the rights of others — they have drawn up an ordinance forbidding the use of fireworks within the city limits.

The way "crackers" have been popping off around here the past few days it doesn't seem likely that there'll be any left for the Fourth. Let's save 'em and use 'em right, so it'll be fun for everybody.

Up and Up and Up: Federal expenditures have risen from $3.4 billion in 1930 to $9.3 billion in 1940 and $42 billion in 1950.

Old Story of the Wolf Cry

"There's going to be another sugar shortage! But I'm not going to be caught short—No, sir! I'm going to stock up now. Rationing is on the way. Just wait and see if I'm not right!"

One doesn't have to go back eight years, during the early part of the war, to dig up such talk. One can hear it today—1950—and right here in our own community!

Or maybe it was tire rationing you heard about, or anti-freeze, or something else.

One wonders how such rumors get started, rumors that can so easily become widespread, send "good citizens" on wild chases and eventually and unavoidably become realities.

Coffee is a good example. Someone sets off the cry, "There's going to be a shortage!" People rush to the stores. The demand causes an unnatural shortage. Prices zoom upward. Coffee cans collect dust on pantry shelves.

All of us have heard stories during the war where so-and-so stocked up on this-and-that, with the end result of one person wasting something while another goes without. Both end up paying higher prices.

Disrupt distribution and the law of supply and demand ricochets until it hurts everyone.

A Wayne grocer tells us that shortage cries are common occurrences. Every couple months, there is a big drain on sugar—a lot of people seem to need a lot of sugar in a big hurry. The grocer merely places an order to restock his shelves and wonders who cried "wolf" and why. Maybe next week, mayonnaise is the item to become so popular overnight.

We recall the case of one particular sugar hoarder who filled his attic just ahead of World War II rationing. One night a storm blew off part of the roof of this house, exposing the sugar stock to the neighbors. A heavy rain completely ruined both the sugar and the attic, delighting the neighbors and giving the hoarder one of the most embarrassing and costly experiences of his life.

It is disheartening to find people today so rumor-gullible. It is even more sad to see such selfishness and utter disregard for the other fellow. It is even too bad that there are so many things that some people just "can't do without," never considering the thousand substitutes and their merits, afraid of "hardships."

We remember the cigaret shortage. New smokers came into the market overnight; they joined long cigaret lines because there was "something hard to get" at the other end; they quit smoking when the supply became plentiful.

We're thinking now of shipping in a car-load of yoyos, setting up an exclusive yoyo shop in Wayne, spreading rumors of a yoyo shortage, and then quickly cashing in at $1.00 a yoyo and retiring for life.

Is it really so ridiculous?

IN BOOKLAND

By Mrs. F. A. Muidner
City Librarian

FINES. THIS WAS OVERHEARD at the loan desk in the library one day. A little girl, watching her mother pay a six cent fine, said: "Oh mama, did you overdo it?"

There are a number of books which belong to the library, and should have been returned weeks ago, reposing on tables and shelves around the homes in Wayne. Of course, the library is closed, but don't you think you are overdoing it a little bit? We are keeping a record of those who have books out and will be lenient about fines and all that sort of thing, but please, don't get so used to seeing those books around that you forget they do not belong to you. They can be returned to the library any time and dropped in the box outside the door. It would simplify our work these days if all these books would be turned in. Thank you.

PROGRESS. THIS WEEK THE NEW addition got a ceiling and floor upstairs, and a new front door. The cement floor will be poured in the basement and the book shelving installed both upstairs and down, next week. The remodeling of the old part and the redecoration of the whole building still remains to be done. All of the wiring is done but the light fixtures are not yet installed. The plumbing is not all complete either so, it will be a few more weeks before we can begin the cleaning up, and straightening up process, which by the way, will be colossal. We try not to stay awake nights worrying about it but sometimes we can't help moving books in our sleep and it is quite exhausting. We wake up in the morning completely done in.

THE FIVE FAVORITES. PAUL HARRINGTON has given us his list of favorite books this week. Every time we get a new list we can't help but think how interesting it is to see the variety in the lists. Here are his. First, The Pickwick Papers by Dickens. Second, Hugh Wynne—Free by Gouverneur Morris. Third The Masquerader by McGrath. Fourth Captains Courageous by Kipling, and Fifth, His Own People by Tarkington. He says, "Now these may not be so literary but they are books I have always liked." And that is exactly what we want when we ask people to give us their list of favorite books. Personally we are not familiar with any on this list except Pickwick Papers and Captains Courageous, nor does the library have the books any more, although they may have at one time. The book by Tarkington he says is out of print so if you want to read it you will probably have to borrow his copy, if he will loan it to you.

Our Readers Say

(Editor's note: The letter below is a news release about the Northeast Nebraska 4-H Camp held at Ponca Park, Howard Gillespie, who sent in the release, is the Agricultural Extension Agent of Dixon county.)

NE Neb. 4-H Camp

Editor: The Northeast Nebraska 4-H Camp was held at the Ponca State Park last weekend with 155 campers.

The first day's activities consisted of organizing the campers, lunch, nature study, handicraft, recreation, evening speakers, entertaining and instructive motion pictures, and winding up the day with a Hare and Hound chase.

On the second day the campers were given a flag-raising ceremony, camp supervisors then made their camp inspections and all quarters were made tidy before breakfast. All campers boarded chartered buses and left at 8:30 a.m. for Sioux City to visit production plants and, as guests of the Sioux City Chamber of Commerce, campers were given a swim in Riverside pool. The water was a little cool, so say the campers, but it was fine.

The campers got back to camp in time for a big evening dinner. After dinner there was a half-hour of free time for recreation. The Camp flags were lowered at sunset. Wildlife and recreation motion pictures were shown. Then came another serious half-hour in a candle-lighting service.

Time for a few minutes for a few of the campers, but the more energetic boys and girls wanted a few musical games in the recreation hall before retiring for the night.

The third day's program consisted of finishing their handicraft, exhibiting and giving awards to the best handiwork articles. The handiwork was of light metal work. Most of the work was making picture impressions on thin copper sheeting.

These 4-H campers from Knox, Cedar, Dixon and Wayne counties gathered to see the closing of camp.

Law Enforcement

Editor: Don't you think you are way ahead of some of us day editors about enforcement of existing regulations in Wayne? Ordinances in a progressive town are usually made and enforced by a progressive element but maybe all of us in Wayne don't want to get away from the horse and buggy days.

Why—who ever heard of taking away all the privies? Don't you realize that your children may never know what a cherished and necessary institution it was—and still is for us horse and buggy folk. Some of the best thinking has been done in them.

Please go easy on the enforcement of the dog ordinances. My

ANOTHER STRIKE

AGAINST THE PUBLIC AND INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE SERVED BY FIVE WESTERN RAILROADS

President Truman's EMERGENCY BOARD recommends a 40-hour week and a pay increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 a day for switchmen represented by the Switchmen's Union of North America.

• Notwithstanding the tremendous increase in their expenses involved, the Railroads' answer to Board is . . . YES!

Union leaders' answer to Board is . . . NO!

In face of Board findings to the contrary, union leaders insist on 48 hours pay for 40 hours work. This would be an average increase of 31 cents an hour, or $2.48 a day. So Union leaders have called a completely unjustified strike on 5 Western railroads, effective June 25.

On June 15, an Emergency Board appointed by President Truman under the terms of the Railway Labor Act recommended the railroads grant switchmen a 40-hour week and a wage increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 for an 8-hour day.

Despite the added financial burden involved, the railroads are ready to accept these recommendations, as they have always accepted Emergency Board recommendations on national issues.

But the leaders of the Switchmen's Union refuse to accept! They demand an average increase of 31 CENTS AN HOUR or $2.48 A DAY—although their present earnings are substantially higher than those of workers in other industries!

Board Says Demands Unjustified

In its report, the Board declared this demand unjustified by all the evidence presented. It also pointed out that it would give the switchmen an unfair pay advantage over other groups of railroad employees, and would add too great a burden to railroad costs.

Here is another case of a railroad union flouting the findings of an Emergency Board—another case of calling a crippling strike in an outrageous and reckless attempt to force demands which the Board clearly labels as unjustified!

Leaders of the Switchmen's Union are calling this strike in defiance of the Board—in defiance of the facts—and at the expense of the public!

In its report on this case, the Board made this statement:

"The railroad industry, the Board believes, needs above all else a period of relative stability to adjust and adapt itself to present competitive post-war conditions."

Despite this warning, the leaders of the Switchmen's Union are upsetting the apple-cart—forcing a completely unjustified strike against everybody who uses the railroads.

It is time to put an end to such un-American tactics!

The Answer to a Raw Attempt At Dictatorship is "NO!"

In the interest of the public who depend on the railroads every day, there can be only one answer to this outrageous and dictatorial action by the leaders of the Switchmen's Union. And that answer is—"NO!"

You get a "Thrifty Drive"

with FORD AUTOMATIC OVERDRIVE

YOU ACTUALLY "pocket" up to 15% of every gas dollar of highway driving. Because in Ford Overdrive, your engine speed relaxes 30% while your road speed remains unchanged. Your car hustles at 50 m.p.h., for example, while your engine loafs at only 35. This saving, plus extra long engine life, adds up to a smoother "4th gear" ride that pays its own way.

In every way Ford's an economical car to buy and own—with low first cost, low maintenance and upkeep costs, high resale value.

IT WHISPERS 4. Yes, this silent new Ford V-8 engine delivers its amazing power without raising its voice. It's the type of engine powering America's best-selling cars, yet Ford (alone in its field) brings it to you for hundreds less than most "Sixes." Ford's "Six" is priced even lower! "Test Drive" this 50 Ford... its King Size Brakes... its "Mid Ship" Ride. It'll open your eyes.

Congress Will Study Butler's Pension Plan

THE WAYNE HERALD

76th Year — No. 8 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, June 29, 1950 Sec. 3—Pages 1 to 6

Careful Study Recommended By Senate Finance Committee

Senator Hugh Butler

The Senate finance committee has agreed to conduct a careful study of Senator Hugh Butler's pay-as-you-go universal eligibility pension plan during the coming months as a basis for possible major revisions in the present social security system at the next session of Congress.

The Butler plan would allow pensions of $50 a month to all those over 65, not employed, and without any income. Revenue for the pensions would be raised through a tax deduction or payment from income in the present somewhat similar to the present method.

"My plan is the only one which will provide real security to the old people at a moderate cost," Senator Butler said. "In fact, my plan would cost far less than the present so-called social security which does not meet the needs of more than one-fifth of the present aged."

The senator has opposed the present social security system, he said, because it leaves "out in the cold" the great majority of the old people and, at the same time, involves excessive costs running far into the future.

Although the expanded social security bill passed the Senate last week, Senator Butler has said that he will continue to fight for his bill in the next session of Congress.

The social security bill passed the Senate, 81-2. Senator Butler cast one of the two dissenting votes, maintaining that "it could not in conscience support a system that I do not believe is sound."

The senator does not feel that the payroll tax is the best method of raising necessary revenue. He charges that the present system, even in the expanded form voted in this session, still is discriminatory and leaves many aged uncovered and thus dependent upon direct relief.

Three Wayne Players in All-Star Game July 6

Wahoo baseball men are busy setting up arrangements for the third annual Pioneer Nite League All-Star game scheduled for the Wahoo park on Thursday, July 6. The All-Star game is being held rapidly into one of the high spots of the Pioneer Nite season. The two previous games resulted in one-sided affairs for the Northern division squads, but the northern players vow that they will take steps to insure a different outcome this time. Pioneer Nite fans take pride in the calibre of baseball on tap in the league, and the opportunity to see all the top stars in action in one game makes the Pioneer Nite All-Star game one of the most popular events of the season. If the game is rained out on July 6, it will be played on July 7.

The tentative squads listed below were chosen by ballots submitted by members of the league teams. Squads of 18 are listed, with the managers given the privilege of adding two men to make up the 20 man rosters.

Northern Division
 Manager: Vern Voegelar (WP), coaches: Eymon (Wayne), Grant (Pender), Pitchers: Brewer (Pender), Peterson (Wayne), Wagner (WP), and Schroer (Wakefield).
Catchers: Anderson (Wakefield), Harrison (Pender), Gradoville (Wisner). Infielders: Johnson and Grant (Pender), Hoofs (Wisner), Fitch, Redden and Zeng (WP). Outfielders: Frei (Wayne), Andriuk (Oakland), Hall (Norfolk), Diers (WP), Bahr (Wayne).

Southern Division
 Honorary manager: Kreizinger (David City), ass't manager: Nordberg (Stromsburg). Coaches: Thompson (Fremont) and Ernst (Columbus).
 Pitchers: Max Quick (Stromsburg), Ray Novak (Columbus), Howard (David City), Hiller (Fremont), Catchers: Sullivan (Stromsburg), Smith (Fremont), Jakstak (Wahoo). Infielders: Faltys (Schuyler), Draemel (Fremont), Krebs (Columbus), Gribble (Fremont), Koraleski (Schuyler), and Schlesiger (Wahoo). Outfielders: Zimmerman (Wahoo), O'Kina (David City), Hardy (Peterson), and Hunsche (David City).

Note: Bud Kreizinger, popular David City shortstop, was named honorary manager of the southern division crew. Kreizinger, an all-time top-flight Pioneer Nite star was a pinch to be on the squad, but recently suffered a broken leg.

Wakefield Trims Beresford, 17-0, Sunday Evening

Wakefield backed Schroer's 5-hit pitching with near perfect support plus a 16-hit attack to swamp the Beresford, S. D., team by a 17 to 0 score. Buss Hollins' home run drive with two on featured an 8-run seventh inning.

Pioneer Nite League Notes

By Leo J. Schmitt, West Point Secretary, Pioneer Nite League

Fremont made it official Sunday night when they defeated Wakefield in the southern division. West Point pulled into a threatening position in the northern division race by handing Pender its first league loss, but practically dropped out of the race under an upset loss at Wisner Sunday night. "Little Ben" Zerzan, genial Pioneer director, now believes the old saying about "Anything can happen in a baseball game"—Pender fans were already celebrating victory over Fremont's 4 to 2 lead.
