Fifty Brown Swiss Compete in Show

Swanson and Ebker Hold Champions

Topis, Mass. Miracle, 10-year-old foundation cow of Gunnar Swanson's Laurel herd, is still queen of northeast Nebraska Brown Swiss cattle. She was selected as senior and grand champion cow for the second car lot week as 50 animals were shown in the 33rd annual Canton show.

Arnie Ebker's Violet New was declared grand champion bull by judges Phil Kelley, University of Nebraska, and Henry Druke, West Point Swiss breeder.

Adult exhibitors had to play second fiddle to 4-H showmen in several classes. Showings by the youngsters were probably the most notable part of the event. Billy Stinger, Dakota City, 4-H entry, showed his Ebi's Lady's Jane to the junior championship and reserve honors.

Judging Contests

Kentman Swiss breeder Stanley Gaultrey, Osage, U. S., won top honors in the judging contest held in conjunction with the show, with Earl Stinger of Dakota City in second place. Mrs. Basil Trube and Mrs. Gunnar Swanson tied for top honors in the women's division. Valerius Meyer, Wayne, was best 4-H judge and received an additional award for being youngest showman. Valerius is 12 years old.

Marvin Kruse, western fieldman of the Swiss association, presented a program demonstration of tattooing and registering animals.

The Canton show was sponsored jointly by the association, county extension service and Wayne chamber of commerce.

Reserve champion bull was Aladin of Pleasant Ridge, exhibited by Alfred Bronzynski, Winside.

Foundation; M. P. Lauritsen, extension dairyman, U. of N.; Marvin Kruse, Western fieldman; and Jim Dawe, Wayne. The cow being held by Dawe (right) is Topis Mass. Miracle, selected as senior grand champion cow.

Committee Action May Cancel OPS Beef Rollback

Kiwanis Delegate Attends Convention At St. Louis

Kenneth Olds, Wayne Kiwanis president, is attending the 36th annual convention of Kiwanis International in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Olds and family left this week to attend the event which started Sunday and ends today.

Delegates met to elect international officers and to participate in panel conferences on various activities sponsored by Kiwanis.

While delegates took part in convention conferences Monday afternoon, their families attended a professionally produced stage and fashion show in the St. Louis opera house.

The great social event of the five day meeting, the President's Reception and Ball, was held Tuesday evening. Kiwanians and their families attending the annual event were estimated to number 10,000.

Former Wayne Girl Studies in France

Josephine Penn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. French Penn of Wayne, sailed for Europe last Monday to study French in Tours, France.

Miss Penn was awarded a scholarship which will allow her study from July 2 to July 28. After the eight-day trip overseas she plans to visit Holland and do other sightseeing before returning to Houston, Tex., in August.

The former Wayne girl taught in Hout in the past year and will teach there next year also.

Feeder Says Cattle Are Hard to Find

Harried by organized pressure from the meat industry, Senate and House banking committees Tuesday voted to scuttle the Price Chief Michael V. DiSalle's two remaining beef rollbacks.

Action of the committees was immediately attacked by Mr. DiSalle and Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnson. Formal banning of further rollbacks must still be decided by a vote of Congress.

If approved by that body, the action would wipe out beef rollbacks of 4 1/2 per cent each slated for Aug. 1 and Oct. 1. Mr. DiSalle promptly charged that it would kill the consumer's chances of getting cheaper prices on many other goods besides beef.

Meanwhile, Nebraska cattle feeders were having trouble securing feeder cattle for their lots.

Lou Dinklage, Washburn, one of the nation's biggest cattle feeders said this week that the OPS rollback is gradually reducing his feeding volume.

Feeds 22,000 Head

Mr. Dinklage, who feeds about 16,000 head of cattle on his home farm, said he is finding it almost impossible to buy replacement cattle for his big lots. Partnerships with other farmers bring Mr. Dinklage's annual feeding volume up to about 22,000 head.

He told of bidding $34 for a bunch of cattle in Texas last week that later sold in Fort Worth for $35.

"We would have to pay $35 to $36 for feeder cattle that would bring the same price after they were fed out," he stated.

Mr. Dinklage said he had attempted to buy half-fat cattle but his lots are still thinning out because of the inability to get cattle.

Collins Rites Planned Here On Saturday

Mrs. Timothy Collins, 83, Wayne county resident since 1887, died at her home in Wayne Wednesday at 12:45 a. m., after an illness of several months.

Funeral services were tentatively scheduled for 9:30 a. m., Saturday at St. Mary's Catholic church with Rev. Robert Hipp officiating. Burial will be made in Wayne.

Palbearers were K. N. Parke, Archie Wert, Ed Wolske, Glenn Allen, Martin Ringler and Paul Mines. Burial was at Pleasant View cemetery, Winside.

Two Injured In Accident

Two Wayne men were injured early Saturday morning when the car in which they were riding left the highway and went over a 4-ft. embankment 4 1/2 miles north of Wayne.

William Elton, driver of the car, suffered several broken ribs and back injury. His brother, Ed, sustained cuts and bruises. Bert L. Hartington, a passenger in the vehicle escaped uninjured.

The mishap happened at 1:10 a. m., when the trio were returning to Wayne from Hartington. The driver momentarily lost control of the car which swerved to the right and veered off the left side of the road as he attempted to regain control.

The car plunged down the embankment, hit head first and somersaulted over coming to rest on its side. William Elton was thrown into the rear seat and pinned under the crushed roof.

Patrolman Mayhew, Wayne, was summoned by an unidentified motorist who discovered the accident. By the time Mayhew, an ambulance and tow truck arrived at the scene all three men had managed to get out of the demolished car. The injured men were brought to Wayne by the ambulance.

Pay 10-day Visit To Wayne State

Three German teachers from the American zone of occupied Germany are seeing elementary education in operation at Wayne State Teachers college this week. They are part of the Occupied Areas Program of Reorientation of Educators sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education.

The teachers, Elsie Garmhausen, an elementary teacher in Bremen, Germany; Ilseget Steinmetz, elementary English teacher in Runzhausen; and Dora Winkelhofer, elementary teacher in Paderborn, are spending three months in the United States visiting selected schools across the country. They will spend 10 days at Wayne State.

During their stay at Wayne State, the teachers are visiting classes in fields of their particular interest, talking with faculty members and students and visiting with members of the community. They are staying in the guest rooms of the women's residence halls on the campus.

Purpose

The purpose of the reorientation program is to give teachers from the occupied areas an opportunity to see how people in the democratic communities live, how democratic ideals appear in practice as well as on paper, and how institutions—particularly the schools—operate under the democratic form of government.

and went to Washington, D. C., where, under the supervision of the U. S. Office of Education, they were made familiar with the American school system and the different types of schools in this country. From Washington, the three teachers who are visiting Wayne went to Detroit and spent 10 days observing the Detroit public schools.

"Our first impression was that Detroit was smoky and dirty," Miss Steinmetz said, "but the people were so kind and friendly that it seemed just like home before we left."

They came to Wayne by way of Niagara Falls, Chicago and Omaha. From Wayne they will go to San Francisco for the national convention of the National Education association and back to the University of Wyoming in Laramie. The teachers will then proceed back to New York for two weeks before flying back to Germany.

Asked about living conditions in Germany at the present time, the teachers said that they were "very difficult."

Hardships
"Bread and meat are very, very expensive," Miss Garthausen said, "and there are so many people with no jobs and no way to earn money." After the war, she reported, Germans were sent to the western zone from Poland and Czechoslovakia "with nothing but a suitcase." With all the industry zone, many of these people must depend on charity, or starve.

"A teacher's salary goes less than one-fourth as far in Germany as it does here," she said. School systems are being reorganized in western Germany to provide specialized education for students going into factories and skilled labor, and commerce and trades, or university and professional training. The division among these three branches is made at the end of the sixth grade when the student is 12. Under the old system, the student took an examination at the end of his elementary training to determine whether he would be allowed to go into high school.

Only in the American zone is high school education free. Until 1945 each student paid tuition in high school, and the tuition is still charged in the British and French zones of occupied Germany.

"We can't tell you anything about eastern Germany," they said, "There is no information at all coming out of the Russian zone." Teacher-training follows a pattern in western Germany much the same as that in the United States, according to the visitors, except that three years of college is required for an elementary teacher and a four-year university degree is required for a high school teacher. Beyond this training, the teachers spend three years in probationary teaching and pass a "practical examination" before being finally certified as teachers.

The visitors from Germany seemed particularly impressed by the number of cars in the United States and the amount of time people spend idling in them. "Washington, D. C., has all these beautiful parks," Miss Steinmetz said, "and nobody was in them! Everybody was riding around the streets in cars. In Germany the parks would have been full of people."

bride. Flower girl was Marilyn Hall, also a niece of the bride. Keith Owens, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsman was Vernon Hansen, Sioux City, Ia., brother of the bride. Ushers were Stanley Morris, Carroll, and Erwin Morris, Winslow. Mrs. Hansen wore a lace dress of beige with brown accessories and Mrs. Owens wore a rose beige dress with navy accessories. Each had a white corsage. A reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake baked by Mrs. Matt Lackas of Carroll and Mrs. W. F. Holcamp of Belden, aunts of the bride. Hostess was Mrs. Beach Hurlbert. Mrs. Clyde Watts was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Don Horn poured. Mrs. Matt Lackas cut the cake, and Marilyn Hopper, Arlene Halton and Joan Truby had charge of the gifts. Darlene Rethwisch, Marcine Rethwisch, Bonnie Sorlesen and Sandra Lackas were waitresses. The bride is a graduate of Carroll High and attended Wayne State college for two years. She has taught in Ellyses for a year. The groom is a graduate of Carroll High, served in the army a year and a half and is now farming near Carroll. The bride's going-away ensemble was an ornate suit with white accessories. After a short trip, the couple will be at home on a farm near Carroll. The bride will teach in the Carroll school the coming school year.

Ruth Owens sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "This Day, O Lord," accompanied by Mrs. John Rees of Carroll. The bride wore a satin gown with the sleeves and yoke of lace. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a headband of assorted white flowers. She carried a bouquet of red roses centered with a corsage of white gardenias. Maid of honor was Nola Jean Cockrell, Omaha. She wore an orchid organza gown. Bridesmaid was Jo Ann Ruleck, Sioux City, Ia., who wore a green organza gown. Candelighters were Joyce Hall and Colleen Hall, nieces of the vicinity for the past 30 years. Mrs. Brudigam is 73 and his wife is 72. The couple was married 50 years ago at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Wakefield, by Rev. H. J. Bonnemam. The bride attended Magnet high school and taught in a rural school for two years. The bridegroom graduated from Randolph high school and has been farming with his father. After a short trip through the southern states, the couple will live on a farm near Randolph.

Mark Golden Anniversary

Pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brudigam, Wakefield, who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in Wayne and Wakefield June 13. The couple has lived in the Wakefield

Vivian Mae Heithold
Weds Jerry Ash
In Coleridge Rites

At a candlelight ceremony at 7:30 Sunday, June 17, in Immanuel Lutheran church in Coleridge, Vivian Mae Heithold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Heithold, Harrington, exchanged vows with Jerry Lee Ash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max L. Ash, Wayne.

Rev. H. Niederweimmer, pastor, read the marriage lines for the double-ring ceremony before an altar arranged with palms, ferns, baskets of gladioli and branched candelabra. Judy Straight and Joan Heithold were candelighters. Each wore a white gown with a pink primrose corsage.

Mrs. William Norvell, jr., of Laurel, sang "Because" and "Wedding" and was accompanied by Mrs. H. Niederweimmer, organist. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in candlelight satin styled with a fitted bodice and long tapering sleeves. The lace which covered the bodice extended into the full skirt ending in a two-yard train. Her full-length fingertip veil was held by a crown of imported French illusion. She carried a white Bible with red roses and ribbon streamers. The white Bible and her pearl necklace were gifts of the bridegroom.

Archie Heithold, of Wayne, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a white frosted organza over green taffeta gown with organza mitts to match and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Cyril Hansen of Wayne and Mrs. Forrest Magnuson of Laurel. Their gowns of orchid and yellow, respectively, were identical to that of the maid of honor. Each carried a colonial bouquet. Nancy Jewell, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a pink frosted organza gown and carried rose petals in a white basket. Russell Harder, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer, and carried the rings on a lily.

Cyril Hansen was best man. Groomsman were Harold Dicks and Donald Heithold. Ushers were Dwayne Heithold and Clifford Wobken. The men wore light summer suits with white carnation boutonnieres. The mothers wore navy blue dresses with white accessories. Each had a corsage of pink carnations. A reception for 200 guests was held in the church parlors, which were decorated with green, yellow and orchid streamers. The bride's table was centered with a four-tier cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Lois Boyce had charge of the guest book and Mrs. Keith Erickson and Marion Heithold had the gifts. Waitresses were Marcella Meyer, Gloria Heithold, Mrs. Kurrilmeyer, Donna Benson, Mrs. Marvin Dranselka and Mrs. Wallace Anderson; Helen Hittnerichs cut the cake, and Mrs. Ray Conyers and Mrs. George Wobken poured. The bride graduated from Wayne High and attended Wayne State college. She taught school in Wayne county. The bridegroom graduated from Wayne Prep and attended Wayne State. He now farms with his father. As a going-away ensemble, the bride chose a navy blue dress with white accessories and a red rose corsage. After a trip to California the couple will reside on a farm near Wayne.

Order DDT Needs for Corn BORER CONTROL NOW!
Use D. D. T. Spray Once Or Twice For Borers
Nebraska farmers have a choice under 1951 recommendations of using either a one or a two-treatment schedule for applying DDT to control first-brood borers.
Timing Critical
Timing is more critical in the single treatment schedule. To be profitable, it must go on at the peak of egg laying, or 10 to 12 days after first hatch in the field. One disadvantage is using this schedule is that it is difficult to determine time of first hatch. Gunderson points out. The application should be made only if there are 50 egg masses per 100 plants on corn 35 inches or more in extended height.
In some fields, it appears difficult to find 50 egg masses per 100 plants at any one time, but damage is severe later on, according to Gunderson. In these cases, he thinks it may be profitable to treat once if 75 per cent of the plants show leaf feeding 7 days after first hatch and if there are some unfertilized eggs present.
Rate of applying DDT is 1 1/2 pounds of actual DDT per acre per application as a spray or 2 pounds per acre as a dust. Sprays may be put on with either ground or airplane equipment.
Which is better depends on what the farmer wants to get from his efforts, according to Harold Gunderson, extension entomologist at Iowa State College. Two treatments give the best control of borer and the greatest yield increases. However, a properly timed single application appears to be slightly better from the standpoint of returns per dollar spent. These observations are based on records obtained last year on 215 treated fields in which check strips were left.
A single treatment applied before peak egg laying was worth 7.4 bushels per acre on the average. A single treatment applied at or shortly after peak egg laying gave an increase in yield of 10.4 bushels per acre. Two treatments applied 7 to 10 days apart increased the yield 16.7 bushels per acre over the untreated check strip.
One Treatment—$5.20
Gunderson points out that if you figure cost at $3 per application and corn worth $1.50 per bushel, the single early treatment returned on the average $3.70, the single late treatment $5.20 and two treatments $4.14.
Timing is the key to good corn borer control, according to Gunderson. Daily inspections should be made of corn fields to keep up on the development of the corn and egg laying.
Under the two-treatment schedule, the first application should go on when there are 50 or more egg masses per 100 plants on corn 35 inches or more in extended height, and after hatching has started. The second treatment is applied 7 to 10 days later if there still are 50 or more egg masses per 100 plants.
All college authorities agree that there will be a shortage of DDT unless farmers purchase at least 50% of their needs now.

Why Wait... If You Plan to Spray See Us Now!
All chemical authorities and college entomologists agree that corn should be sprayed when there are 50 egg masses per 100 plants. Then again 10 days later. Each application for adequate control should be three quarts of 25% or two quarts of 34% DDT emulsion per acre.

DUPSKY BATTLES ahead of them, though. A few good battles won't hurt anything as long as the politicians are doing the fighting and not the GI's. In fact, it might be a good idea if we put a few politicians in the front lines for a while; maybe they wouldn't be so anxious to start a war. There's lots of problems, but getting back on the cheerful side, today we feel like a new man. Got up bright and early, inhaled a whiff of June air, lifted a couple of bar bells over our head and set out to lick the problems of the world. We took a look around and figured out that we're mighty fortunate in having such a good selection of machinery to serve our customers. If you're in need of a good combine, scat yourself up to the south end of the main drag and we'll see if we can't take care of you. We have everything from tractors to skin umbrellas. And, Brother, if you want anything fixed—cars, tractors, scooters, broken hearts, machinery—come on in. As we said before, we have a mighty fine service shop. And we're here to take care of your needs. We're on the job quite a few of the 24 HOURS every day, and the main reason for all of this exertion, is to service our growing list of satisfied customers. About all we can do to convince you that we really mean it, is to invite you to come in and give us a try sometime. P. S.—Dupsky confessed. It was all a dream. Three Catastrophes
A comic historian lists the three great catastrophes of the century:

- 1. The sinking of the Titanic.
2. World War II.
3. The failure of a Kansas City bakery-shops.

Stained Prosperity
This editor believes that it is about time to stop taking orders from Britain, and letting her or any other nation dictate our foreign policy, unless they show a disposition to cooperate with us 100 per cent, and adopt a strictly American policy of anti-communism.

We contend that the present "dollar prosperity" is stained with American blood, and is entirely a false prosperity. The only way the Administration can justify itself is to "clean house" and cooperate in whatever way will best serve the interests of this country.

Of one thing we are convinced — we're going to see a lot of moves designed by Russia to confuse us. She's going to do her best to keep attention away from her real objectives. And in our own mind we are satisfied that her real objectives are western Germany and the oil-rich Middle East. We are also convinced that the only question remaining concerning World War III is how long we can delay its formal beginning.

Long ago it became apparent that the national administration is just as befuddled as we are — and the head-men don't know what to do. There's an old saying, "Things are tough all over," that seems to fit the situation very well. Looks like us country folks will have to stick with our private worries and helplessly watch those who were so hot to hold the top public offices flounder about in an effort to get out of the hole they are in. Truly, this is an age of bewilderment.

Justice Wins
Conviction of 11 top leaders of the American Communist party for conspiracy against the United States has been upheld by the Supreme Court. Thus ends what proved to be a long and tedious trial in which the courage and stamina of our system of justice were severely tested. The outcome is more than satisfying—it is momentous in American history. For our courts have proved that they are capable of dealing with the Communist menace by means of fair trials and constitutional law, while maintaining our fundamental liberties as American citizens.

Those who advocated and urged special laws and quasi-judicial committees to be employed for prosecuting Communists may well note that such methods are not only unnecessary but reflect an element of hysteria which could seriously threaten our basic tenets of freedom.

We often grow impatient with our system of justice which is unhurried, unimpaired by emotional reaction to crime and criminals. But just as we uphold our own individual rights to justice, we must strive to protect them for all other citizens—even for those miserable merchants of Communist ideas. We support their right to justice, not to protect them but to protect ourselves by keeping strong a system we cherish.

Problem
Woman called on the governor, she said: "Governor, I want to get my husband out of prison."

He said: "Madam, what is your husband in prison for?"

She said: "For stealing a ham."

He asked: "Is he a good husband?"

She replied: "No, sir."

The governor inquired: "Is he a sober husband?"

"No, sir."

"Is he good to the children?"

"No, he beats them."

Some what puzzled, the governor asked: "Madam, just why do you want to get your husband out of jail?"

She said: "Frankly, Governor, we are out of ham again."

The United States Socialist leader, Norman Thomas, has defended capitalism in an interview with a British press association reporter. He said, "There is no greater lie than that in June, 1950, American capitalism was in such a position that it wanted the Korean war. The war was undertaken because it bled the one positive thing that came out of the World War—the United Nations. I believe we have got to see it through."—Montpelier, Vt., Evening Argus.

Yes to Everything
One fellow we know says he doesn't know how the Russians do it. He claims "Every time I drink vodka I say 'Yes' to everything."

Way Back When...

20 Years Ago

June 23, 1921—The hot weather has made the corn grow luxuriantly and in at least one field north of Norfolk the crop is reported as tassing. Rain has not fallen in the county for over a week and some report the moisture would be very welcome, though it is believed the corn has not thus far suffered from lack of it. Gardens are reported in need of rain. Elizabeth Mines, who graduated this month from Grinnell college, won second in the 20th annual ex-temporaneous speaking contest recently held at that school on the paving has progressed rapidly the past few weeks. Horses on the grading and hauling work suffer considerably this hot weather and it has been necessary some days to stop work for a few hours because of the heat. Wayne Herald will award Dodge Touring car in Salesmanship club. Clifford Carlson arrived in this country on Friday noon to visit his uncle, Gust Dahlquist and family of near Laurel. The machine caused considerable excitement among the neighbors when it flitted overhead like a huge bird.

25 Years Ago

June 17, 1926—At a meeting of the Greater Wayne club Tuesday evening a question as to the time of holding the weekly band concerts was discussed, and finally a motion carried to start the music at 8 o'clock and stop it promptly at 9:15 each Wednesday night. J. W. Ray will open a beautiful natural park to the public about June 15, according to plans which provide for turning his tract of land on the banks of the Elkhorn river six miles west and fourth mile south of Norfolk, into a pleasure resort. About 200 alumni of the Wayne State Teachers college will be in Wayne for the annual "homecoming" day Friday, June 18. Threatening drought was dispelled by an inch and a half of rain which fell Saturday and Sunday. Among the guests invited to the Northeast Nebraska Travelers' association picnic to be held at Raasch's grove next Saturday, will be the tug-of-war between traveling men of Wayne and Norfolk. Every traveling man and a number of Norfolk merchants are donating prizes to be given winners in various contests. About 400 traveling men and their wives are expected to be present.

30 Years Ago

June 18, 1921—Housewarming for the Girl Scout cabin, three miles east and four and one half miles south of Wayne, is being planned for this afternoon and evening. Basket supper will be brought by each troop. Dr. Paul Crossland, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Crossland of Wayne, has completed his year's internship in the navy hospital at San Diego, Calif., and he has been appointed to practice among wives and children of navy men at San Pedro, Calif. Try D-X Lubricating Gasoline WITHOUT RISKING A CENT

Your purchase of D-X Lubricating Gasoline is covered by the famous D-X Trial Bond. You must be satisfied that D-X is a better gasoline or you get your money back! Ask your D-X Dealer about it.

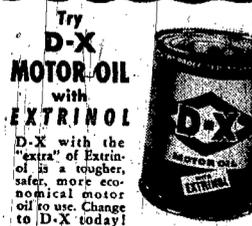

FLAME ZONE

D-X Protects the FLAME ZONE

D-X is a high anti-knock gasoline to which a specially refined lubricant has been scientifically blended. This lubricant gives extra protection to the power parts of the "flame zone"—parts which crankcase oil alone often fails to protect adequately. In addition, D-X provides quick starts, knockless power and long mileage. Try a tankful today! At any D-X dealer's station.

MID-CONTINENT PETROLEUM CORPORATION

The SAUCER TEST Gives You FLAMING PROOF

When you burn D-X Lubricating Gasoline and ordinary gasoline in open saucers, you can see the difference. Ordinary gasoline leaves a dry, hard carbon deposit. D-X leaves a smooth, oily that D-X film. Flaming Proof that D-X provides extra engine protection.

Wakefield Women Form New Baby Alumni Club

The Baby Alumni was organized last week with the following officers: Mrs. Wladia Rodene, president; Mrs. J. E. Enger, secretary; and Mrs. Don Olson, treasurer.

Any child who was born in the old or the new community hospital is eligible for membership. The dues are a dollar a year. Each child will be sent a birth certificate and an annual picnic will be held each year. A committee will be appointed to visit each new mother at the hospital and enroll her child in the Baby Alumni, if she is interested. The proceeds will be used to purchase an article for the hospital or some other good cause at the end of each year.

As there are approximately 450 eligible members, this can become one of the largest organizations in town. Several hospitals have this organization and it creates new friends and a good community spirit, according to Mrs. Rodene.

A picnic is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, June 24, at the city park. Each eligible child will receive a card about this organization and the dues may be paid at the picnic.

LIBRARY NOTES
This is the time of year when circulation of reading material drops. However, your library still carries on, striving to give to the community the best possible service. This, also is the time of year when reports are filed out and filed. A few items from our records may be of interest to patrons:

One that is encouraging and brings joy to the board of trustees and librarian is an increase of 96 registered borrowers since our report last year: 7044 books and magazines were circulated during the year.

An increase is noted, also, in the use of the library by the young folk.

In an effort to better the service and an aid to having pamphlets, leaflets and such curriculars are not bound under one cover, easily accessible to users, a new file has been added which we think will be of value to those needing material for school work.

Summer closing hours are now being observed: 7 to 5 p.m., Monday, Wednesday and Saturday.

Community Hospital Notes
Guy Poppitt, Laurel, medical. Floyd J. Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Gray, a daughter, Gail Marion, 6 lbs 14 oz.
Barbara Jean Johnson, Concord, tonsillectomy.
Mrs. Fred Allison, medical.
Howard Flier, Wayne, medical.
Sharon Holland, Allen, tonsillectomy.

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Florine and Jimmie of Wayne called in the Arthur Florine home Friday evening helping the senior Mr. Florine observe his birthday.

New Officers Head Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary meeting, elected their new officers for the year.

Mrs. Evelyn Fredrickson heads the unit as president with Irene Engel elected as first vice president; second vice president, Emma Cruickshank; secretary, Lorraine Myers; treasurer, Bonnie Brossler; chaplain, Susie Miller; sergeant-at-arms, Clara Hinrich. Three members were named to the executive board: Norma Jean Everingham, Mildred Schnasse and Edith Bressler. Hazel Ralston served as installing officer.

Our unit donated $10 to the library to be used to purchase books for the "memorial" shelf. Nellie Adams donated a book, "The Miracle of Carville."

The constitution and by-laws were read by the secretary and the history was read by Pauline Hype, which was compiled by Bess Hanson who was unable to be present. Much time and effort was needed to compile this history, which was a review of the year's work.

Members were urged to display flags on Flag Day, June 14. At a time when our flag and the freedom for which it stands is being challenged throughout the world, we think it very important that the flag of ours be widely displayed on every Flag Day, which is the anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as our national emblem by the Continental Congress in 1777.

A lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Bryan Johnson, Mrs. Tom Alexander and Mrs. Bernice Gustafson.

NEBRASKA FARM OUTLOOK

Economic Situation

As expected, price ceilings on beef cattle have been announced by the OPS. Briefly, they are as follows: Beginning May 7, all packers and slaughterers started grading their beef according to the standards of the Department of Agriculture.

May 9—wholesale ceilings went into effect at $54.20 for choice beef at Omaha or Denver—plus zone differentials.

May 14—price ceilings at the retail level went into effect.

May 20—packers and slaughterers began to comply with the provisions of Price Regulation No. 23 which reduced by 10% the average price by grades that they can pay farmers for live cattle.

June 3—meat retailers began to post their beef prices in stores.

Aug. 1—a new set of price cuts of about 4 1/2% will be imposed upon the wholesaler and retailer.

Finally on Oct. 1—a third order will be issued to reduce live cattle prices another 4 1/2%. At this date it is expected that average beef prices will be 120 to 125 per cent of parity—about 3 or 4 per cent above prevailing prices in June 1950.

Can You Improve Your Hog Program in 1951?

As of April 15, corn stood at 86% and hogs at 96% of parity. If price controls go into effect at parity levels, a hog-corn ratio of about 13.7 would exist. Such a ratio would be near the point above which farmers tend to expand hog numbers and below which they tend to cut down hog numbers. Profits on hogs during 1951 will depend to a large extent upon good management than in 1950. Efficient production becomes important in the face of fast diminishing corn reserves, particularly now that the size of the 1951 corn crop is still unknown and with the need for more meat.

Cattle "May Weaken"

Prices have been generally upward, but uncertain since the announcement of ceilings, effective May 9. Farmers' prices were reduced 10% beginning May 20. Feeder prices may weaken. Organized pressure in Congress to reverse or revise ceilings.

Hard Spring on Pigs

This has been an unfavorable spring for little pigs in most of Nebraska. Pastures have been slow to develop and the cold damp weather has made it difficult to keep feed, equipment and bedding clean and dry. Under such conditions, little pigs do not grow as rapidly or as evenly as they should. Runts are apt to show up in larger than usual numbers.

Use More Antibiotics

The use of antibiotics in the ration is highly desirable, such as a supplement containing aureomycin or one of the other antibiotics. In experiments with runt pigs in Iowa, it has been found that rather liberal feeding of aureomycin resulted in daily gains of 1.3 lbs. per head compared to only .86 lbs. per head when similar pigs were fed what we normally would call a "good ration" (corn, meat and bone scraps, dehydrated alfalfa meal, mineral and vitamins A and D).

Better Sanitation Needed

The use of antibiotics in the ration is not a substitute for sanitation, however. If at all possible, pigs should be kept on clean ground from birth to marketing or at least until they have reached 100 lbs. If little pigs are exposed to round worm infestation through contact with old lots, chances are they will develop into wormy unthrifty shoats, even if put on pasture later on. If pigs are wormy, it pays to treat them as soon as possible and then to move them to clean ground.

Hogs

"Slaughter Increase"

Prices down 50c to $1—a result of slaughter numbers seasonally up. Expect continued slaughter increase this spring and a greater increase this fall. Also heavier weights.

Feeding Supplements Pay

Growing hogs on clean ground usually goes hand in hand with the use of pastures as a part of the ration. The use of good pastures for growing and fattening hogs is important in three respects: (1) For every unthrifty pig raised on pasture, there are apt to be a dozen or more such pigs when raised under dry lot conditions, unless antibiotics are used. (2) It speeds up the rate of gain considerably, so that hogs can be marketed as much as two to four weeks earlier than if the hogs were raised in the dry lot. (3) The use of good pastures saves 30 to 40 lbs. of grain and as much as 10 to 20 lbs. of supplement for every 100 lbs. gain. These factors are shown in Table 1.

At present prices, feeding supplement to hogs on good legume pasture reduces the total feed cost very little. The principal advantage is in the speeding up of the rate of gain. This "speeding up" may increase the hog income by several dollars a head in the late summer or early fall. It could mean the difference between profit and loss on the hog enterprise. In the dry lot, supplements are essential.

Table 1. Amount of Feed and Time Required to Produce 160 Lbs. Gain on 45-65 lb. Pigs.

| | Full Fed in Dry Lot | | Full Fed on Legume Pasture | |
|------------------|---------------------|------------------|----------------------------|------------------|
| | Corn Alone | Corn and Tankage | Corn Alone | Corn and Tankage |
| Corn, lbs. | 969 | 599 | 650 | 538 |
| Tankage, lbs. | | 59 | | 38 |
| Days to 160 lbs. | 276 | 186 | 168 | 119 |

Table 2 shows that it takes more feed to produce a pound of gain on a 300 lb. hog than it does on a 150 lb. hog. Consequently, with a limited amount of corn, farmers can produce more pounds of pork by growing a larger number of hogs and selling them at lighter weights than if they feed a smaller number to heavier weights. The amount of feed required to produce a pound of gain increases steadily as a pig gets larger, regardless of whether it is a "good doer" or a "poor doer." The rate of gain reaches its highest point at about 200 pounds and decreases thereafter. "Good doing" hogs will continue to increase their daily rate of gain longer than "poor doing" hogs. Larger type hogs should continue to increase their rate of gains longer than small type hogs. This is important. If feed is cheap in relation to hogs, it may pay to feed hogs to heavier weights. And conversely, if feed is high relative to hog prices, it will be more profitable to sell hogs at lighter weights.

Table 2. Feed Consumed and Rate of Gain for Hogs of Various Weights.

|---------------|--------------------|--------------------|---------------------------|
| 40-80 | .80 | 2.85 | 3.6 |
| 80-120 | 1.16 | 4.55 | 3.9 |
| 120-160 | 1.38 | 5.78 | 4.2 |
| 160-190 | 1.40 | 6.67 | 4.5 |
| 190-210 | 1.50 | 6.85 | 4.6 |
| 210-230 | 1.48 | 6.90 | 4.7 |
| 230-250 | 1.44 | 6.95 | 4.8 |
| 250-270 | 1.40 | 7.00 | 5.0 |
| 270-290 | 1.37 | 7.19 | 5.2 |
| 290-310 | 1.34 | 7.20 | 5.4 |

With the tightening in of the supply of feed grains, corn prices are expected to rise higher. Hog producers should estimate the amount of feed needed to carry them through until they have new crops of their own to feed. This can be estimated roughly from Table 3. If hogs are to be kept in the dry lot, the corn requirements should be increased roughly 10 per cent and the supplement needs increased 25-50 per cent. Any feed needed should be purchased as soon as possible.

Wheat . . .

Crop prospects greatly improved. Needed rain saved many acres from abandonment. Prices slip as crop prospects improve. At 90% of parity, price would be $2.16 bushel.

All pigs should be castrated and vaccinated at 3-6 weeks of age or as soon thereafter as possible. Shade and water should both be made available at all times within a short distance of each other. The use of self feeders and waterers saves much valuable labor and makes for more rapid gains.

Table 3. Feed Required by Hogs on Pasture.

| Total, sow and six pigs | 103 | 450 | 60 | 2 5 |
| Total, each 225 lb. hog | 17.1 | 75 | 10 | 1 15 |

If gilts are to be kept for breeding purposes, they should be earmarked while still with their mothers. Gilts should be kept only from good-sized, rapid gaining litters. This may mean keeping some gilts which could be sold on an early September market at a good price. It might seem logical to sell these and keep gilts out of the "fall end"—those which would go to market in October or November—but it doesn't pay in the long run. The ability to gain rapidly tends to be inherited. The kind of gilts you keep will influence the kind of pigs you grow next year.

The month to month movement of hog prices varies considerably from one year to another. In the long run, however, fall pigs marketed in February and March, and spring pigs marketed in August and September will bring highest prices.

Farm Costs and Higher Yields

Practically everything used by farmers in producing crops and livestock will cost more in 1951 than in 1950. However, advances in cost rates have not been the same for all items. Fixed costs such as rent, insurance on buildings, taxes on property, interest on money invested in farming, and depreciation change but little from year to year. These fixed costs after being set usually remain about the same for a long time. Typically, rent is established largely by custom. Cash rents are based upon an acre or some other physical unit of area and continue with little change from year to year. In determining the normal cost for producing each bushel of grain, the amount of rent per acre must be divided by the bushels produced on that acre of ground. The more bushels produced per acre the lower the rental cost for each bushel.

Poultry "Strong Prices"

Government survey shows 7% less chicks went to replace farm flocks. Hatcheries show 20% more for May deliveries. Thus early fall egg prices should be strong.

Does Fertilizer Pay?

In most cases the farmer who wishes to increase his yield finds it is necessary to increase the use of one or more of the so-called variable or operating costs. For example, he may decide that he can increase his yield of corn by using more commercial fertilizer per acre. If he decides to follow the practice of using a great deal of fertilizer in an effort to get extremely high yields he will be disappointed. Both experimental results and the experiences of farmers have shown that beyond a certain point application of more fertilizer will not give corresponding increases in yields. The economist says the point of diminishing returns has been reached. In some cases yields of crops may actually decline when large amounts of fertilizer are used.

Sheep "Prices to Level"

Prices of sheep, lambs and wool down slightly. Expect to level off near present prices. Most spring lambs will be marketed later this year. Wool supply short and demand up.

Must Always Consider Prices

It is much easier to look back and figure out what should have been done than to plan for the future. The farmer in making his season's plans has to look ahead. He must decide just how many times he will cultivate his corn and how much fertilizer he will use early in the season. To do this he must guess the course of the price of corn as well as the price of fertilizer and labor. With an economy that is expanding under the impact of war preparations, grains will be in good demand and prices at high levels. While increased consumer demand is stimulating demand for the finished farm products it is also causing the price of many things farmers use to advance.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics at Washington has a pretty good record in forecasting changes in prices of items used on farms. In the following table are some of their forecasts for 1951:

- Wage rates—Probably 10% higher.
- Fertilizers—Probably to continue even higher.
- Spray material—Most of them will be higher.
- Feeds—Advance of 10% in next six months.
- Farm machinery repairs—Up 10% in new prices in six months.
- New buildings—Advance 17% in past year.
- Seeds—Some grasses and legumes are higher.
- Fuels—Slight increase.
- Rents—Little, if any change.
- Property taxes—10-20% higher in Nebraska.

Sorghums . . .

Higher support announced by USDA—now 75% of Jan. 15 parity, or $2.17 cwt. for No. 2.

Do You Have 'Horse & Buggy' Insurance?

Did you know that fire struck seven out of every 100 farms in Nebraska in 1950? Total estimated loss from these rural fires was $2,009,385, or $2,756 per fire. Could you afford such a loss on your farm?

If your house or some of your farm buildings burned down tomorrow, how much fire insurance could you collect? Have you kept your property insurance up-to-date, in line with rising costs? Much farm property is insured today for the same value as it was back in 1940. Replacement costs have more than doubled since 1940. The mere fact that you have a fire policy in the desk drawer isn't enough. Your buildings and their contents are insured for only the amount stated in your policy.

There are hazards other than fire, too. Unless you are protected against them you are carrying "horse-and-buggy" insurance. For example, if an airplane crashes through the roof of one of your buildings and no actual fire occurs, your ordinary fire insurance will not cover your loss. Straight fire insurance covers only actual fire, and any water, smoke or other damage due directly to extinguishing the blaze. Lightning is the only non-fire loss included in a standard fire policy.

If you want protection beyond actual fire, your policy must include "extended coverages." Some of the extra hazards are hail, windstorm, cyclone, tornado, smoke and smudge when there is no blaze, vehicle damage and falling aircraft.

Now is a good time to review your property insurance policies—and estimate how far you could go in replacing your barn or house with the coverage you have.

Glass! Tread Softly . . .

Research Spices Her Hobby

By Jannene Griffin

Some folks collect things just to be collecting, but Mrs. J. C. Miller has carefully selected from the standpoint of value each of the 500 pieces of glass in her extensive collection. She has been a scholar in research on glass, its beginnings and its history.

Mrs. Miller believes that the most interesting part of a collection is the study of the article itself. The history of glass goes back as far as civilization, she says. In telling of the different types of glass, Mrs. Miller impresses one with her enthusiasm for the topic.

It was 15 years ago, after she resigned as executive secretary at the college, when Mrs. Miller first began her avocation. Her first piece was an amber glass toothpick holder in the waffle pattern from her home. Her mother gave her several others, as well as her grandmother and Mr. Miller's grandmother. Her mother gave her several pieces in a lemon-yellow colored vaseline glass, and her father gave her a three-footed bowl in vaseline glass.

One of Mrs. Miller's prize items is a plate in a shell pattern of real Sandwich glass which was made in Sandwich, Mass. in the early nineteenth century. It was here that the process of making pressed glass was perfected. All glass before this time had been blown. She also has a heavy goblet in a palm-ette pattern and a compute in a process of finger pattern. Glass of this trademark has a silvery, metal-like appearance, yet is dainty in pattern. She has several pieces of blown glass, and some of blown molded glass which has been blown into a mold.

There are about 600 named patterns besides the variants of pressed glass. This type is geometrical in most of the patterns. Some which Mrs. Miller has are loop, swirl, pillar, block, thumb print, diamond point, the ribbed pattern and the familiar daisy and button pattern. She also has an all-glass cruet in the Sandwith star pattern. Most cruet have a metal stopper but this one is of glass. Much of the early glass had lead added in a glass, a clear ringing tone which flicked.

In the latter part of the nineteenth century art glass took form. Mrs. Miller has an attractive overlay vase which has a pattern on the inside as well as the outside. On another deep blue and clear glass overlay vase parts of the outside design have been cut away to reveal the inside pattern. There is a Bristol of blue glass of flowers and a vase of stag or marbled glass. The latter is heavy looking and resembles in a crude description marbled cake batter. A tall artistic vase of amber glass looks finished and has painted enamel flowers.

Flashing Glass
In naming the flashing glass no originality was needed, the shocking deep red color helps the shiny glass to acquire its flashing quality. One of the types which Mrs. Miller has is a small goblet which was purchased at the World's Fair in 1893 by Mrs. Miller's mother. Resembling flashing glass, some of the attractive buttons and a scrapbook which is amberina which is also of amber glass. This color and texture is acquired in the manufacture in one of the accessories in her ture by adding real gold to the mixture. There is a blue glass epergne, extremely graceful in shape, in a well pattern. She has a milk glass compute in a lattice pattern with hand painted flowers in the center of the bowl, and two black glass vases enameled with flowers. It does not take an experienced or sensitive eye to see that Mrs. Miller has many valuable pieces. Certainly it would take many paragraphs to describe the craftsmanship of the superior products. In her collection she has 50 vinegar cruets and 25 goblets. Because it is her favorite, Mrs. Miller collects on blue glass. The Wayne woman is "one of versatility and ambition; she also has many cards of valuable and interesting pictures. Besides that a combination of red and amber glass, she is quite fond of the Chinese influence as is her collection in one of the accessories in her

5-Run Fourth Gives Wayne 10-5 Triumph Over Laurel Team Sunday

Locals Move Into Tie for Third Place

A five-run fourth inning gave Wayne's Johnson Valley baseball team a 10-5 decision over Laurel in a league contest Sunday night at Laurel.

The victory was Wayne's third of the season against two defeats, and moved the locals into a third place tie with Winslow in the south division.

Southway Al Dickens gave up 12 hits to the Laurel sluggers but kept them well scattered. Dickens was scoreless in the first five innings. Dickens got ample support from his mates at the plate. Wayne rounded out 11 hits, all of them singles.

Wayne jumped into a 1-0 lead in the second frame when Dickens singled to open the inning. He scored when Miller singled and was run down between first and second.

Five in Fourth

Wayne clinched the contest in the fourth with five runs on three hits. Laurel committed three errors in this stanza. Al Babe gained first on an error by J. Hirschman. Laurel centerfielder moved to third on the play, and scored on Tietgen's single. Sorenson was hit by one of Duffy's pitches to put runner on first and second. Dickens singled to score Sorenson. Miller walked and Tommy Babe hit a sharp grounder which was handled by Peterson. Laurel shortstop Dickens scored on the play. Don Kane singled to score Miller and Babe scored when the Laurel pitcher walked Hansen's fly. That ended the scoring.

Wayne made it 7-0 in the top of the sixth as T. Babe scored on Hansen's single. Laurel got its first score in the same inning as Johnson singled and scored on Anderson's single.

Laurel tallied twice in the seventh. Catcher Roy Curtis doubled to open the inning and stole third. He scored on Carman's single a moment later. Carman scored on Peterson's long single before Dickens could put out the fire.

Again in the eighth Laurel splurged to two runs to make it 7-5. J. Hirschman singled, as did Mallet. Curtis scored both runners with a long single but Dickens got the next three batters in order to halt the rally.

Wayne came back with three runs in the top of the ninth to insure the victory. Hansen singled to open the inning and scored to move to second when Weber was safe on an error by the Laurel pitcher. Both runners scored on a single by Babe, who also tallied a moment later on Tietgen's grounder to second.

Dickens struck out two and issued one walk in earning his victory. Laurel left 11 on base to six for Wayne.

Enter Semis In Golf Meet

Semi-final matches in the mixed two-ball foursome tournament at the Wayne Country club are scheduled to be completed this Sunday. Pairings for these matches are: Championship Flight—Fred Dale-Anita Brown vs. John Carhart-K. Lou Felner; Jim Hein-Ruth Mildner vs. Jack Anderson-Dorothy Harrison. President's Flight—Ed Harrison-Dorothy Whorlow vs. Wilmer Gruess-Virginia Hein; Fred Mildner-Edith Dale vs. Rod Lov-Betty Jones. Secretary's Flight—L. W. McNatt-Eaton vs. Roy Corryell-V. Johnson; J. H. Felner-Alice Armbruster vs. C. McDermott-Obye; Obye-E. McDermott vs. Waite-Wilise; H. Addison-Dorothy Hughes vs. George Berres-Buck.

Locals Face Two Toughies

Two tough battles are scheduled for the Wayne Elkhorn Valley baseball team this weekend.

The locals are scheduled to meet once-beaten Osmond here tonight in an inter-division tussle. Sunday the Norfolk Jaycees, current south division leaders, at the local ball park. Norfolk has lost only one game, a 6-5 decision to Wakefield.

Wayne Manager Al Babe juggled his lineup last Sunday in a surprising win over Laurel and is expected to stick with much the same nine Thursday. Right-hander Walt Lebs will probably handle the pitching chores against Osmond with southpaw Al Dickens facing the Jaycees.

Moeller's One-Hitter Trips Wayne Legion 4-1 Sunday

Wayne's Junior Legion baseball team collected only one hit Sunday in dropping a 4-1 decision to Winslow on the latter's diamond.

The game was originally scheduled for Wayne-but was moved to Winslow because of wet grounds at the local park.

Wayne gathered its only hit and run in the first inning when Mansko got on an error and Meyer doubled him home. The locals went down in one-to-three order for the last six innings.

Dale Moeller, Winslow hurler, struck out 10 in earning the victory. He faced only 23 men over the seven-inning stretch. He gave up four free passes.

Wayne held its 1-0 lead until the fourth inning when Winslow tallied three times on four hits, successive singles by Tichota, Hoefs, Heller and Ziegenben.

The loss gives Wayne a 1-1 record for the season. The Juniors will travel to Pender Sunday. An attempt is also being made to reschedule a rained-out contest with Winslow.

Church Marks Anniversary Here Saturday and Sunday

Services at the Congregational church Saturday evening and Sunday will mark the 60th anniversary of the organization of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Rees and Mr. and Mrs. William Jenkins promoted plans for organization and the first services were held in what was then known as the Wadsworth school house in April 1891.

Sunday school was the only service during the first years with occasional ones being held to preach. The first church building was soon after erected on what is now the Dave Rees farm and was moved to the present site in 1903. The present church was built in 1913.

The first minister was Rev. Samuel Jones who served in that capacity 10 years. Six of the eight children that attended the first services are still living. Howell Rees was elected deacon and he held that office until his death.

A fellowship supper will be held at the church Saturday evening at 6:30. For only present and former members. R. I. Jones will be toastmaster for the Saturday evening program. Lloyd Morris will give the welcome and absent members will respond. Rev. Walter Dobbler of Yankton college will give the evening address.

Sunday services will begin at 10 and Dr. Arthur Taylor of Lincoln will give the anniversary sermon. A basket dinner at noon for members and friends of the church. Everyone is welcome and are asked to bring their table service.

The afternoon service starts at 2. There will be letters and greetings from former and absent members and friends and former pastors, history of the church and a few words of dedication of their work by Rev. Taylor.

The theme of the service is "Let there be light through us." Dave Rees will preside.

Hog Cholera Losses In 51 May Hit 65 Million

American swine raisers may lose upwards of 65 million dollars this year because of hog cholera, the American Foundation for Animal Health estimated today.

With cholera outbreaks already occurring in some areas, the Foundation said that before the season is over the disease is expected to claim tens of thousands of victims among the record pig crop farrowed this spring.

"The tragedy is that these losses need not occur," the report said.

Stressing the importance of preventive vaccination of all pigs against the disease, the bulletin suggested these special precautions:

First the animals should be examined by a veterinarian before they are vaccinated. Pigs suffering from latent infections and parasites, or pigs which are not receiving a balanced diet may develop a fatal over-reaction to vaccination.

"Second, if these complications are present, corrective treatment prior to vaccination can help to prevent or hold down such over-reactions.

The Foundation points out that these precautions may be as important as the vaccination itself in helping to prevent cholera losses this spring.

If you plan a seed crop on alfalfa this year, it's a good idea to make the first cutting when the legume is in the one-tenth to one-fourth bloom stage.

That's a tip from Hugo O. Graumann, U. S. Department of Agriculture agronomist at the University of Nebraska. He says cutting the alfalfa before the bloom does not allow the plants to build up enough of a food supply for the seed crop.

Experiments made by the agronomist in Oklahoma showed that the seed yield was cut drastically when the first cutting of alfalfa was made in the proud stage. Mr. Graumann said the yield was about a third of the production from plots which had been cut at the recommended time.
