Corn Planting in County Progressing on Schedule

Wayne county farmers are busy at it... planting corn.

The weather this spring has been pretty cooperative and field work is moving along on schedule.

Early warm weather allowed farmers to get their oats planted and then light rains fell at opportune times getting the small grain crop off to a good start.

With the oats out of the way, the heavy artillery, plows and discs were put into action to ready the fields for the old mainstay... corn.

A check at the agriculture offices in Wayne reveals farmers are taking no chances after last year's wet spring and are working every day possible.

Local conservation and PMA officials report Charles Jorgenson at Carroll and Ed Sundahl, Wakefield, who began planting on April 28. Sundahl reported he can see the rows where first planted but still had 40 acres left.

Farmers who have not begun their planting operation are hurrying to prepare the fields so they can get started as soon as possible.

Weather Notes

Rainfall during the past week ending Wednesday noon measured .28 of an inch.

Weather recorder Archie Wert reports .07 of an inch fell on May 8 and the remaining precipitation fell the following day.

Now, Mr. Weatherman, we need some warm weather so the farmers can get their corn in and then we'll place an order for some more rain.

Long Distance Calls Again Identify Farm

Again it took long distance phone calls to identify the Mystery Farm sponsored by the Coryell Auto company in The Wayne Herald.

Walt Haglund of Wakefield was the first person to call in and report that Mystery Farm No. 9 was located two and 1/2 miles south of Wakefield on Highway 16 and was owned by Emil Bjorklund. Haglund's call came in at 6:10 p.m., Wednesday.

Others to identify the farm were Mrs. Nels Bjorklund and Elvis Olson, both of Wakefield.

Mr. Bjorklund dropped in at The Herald office Friday morning and related that he had been on the farm between 25 and 30 years and that his father had farmed it before him.

The Wakefield farmer attended rural school and went to college at Wahoo.

Corn, oats and alfalfa are mainstays on the Mystery Farm. Some stock cattle are also kept.

When asked if he used any certain soil conservation practices on the farm, Mr. Bjorklund explained that it wasn't necessary, because the farm was quite level.

Recent improvements on the farm include a 1,000 bushel self-feeder.

Mr. Bjorklund is not married. He attends church at the Salem Lutheran church in Wakefield.

He reported he liked to spend his spare time traveling and when he can get someone to look after the farm he generally goes to the west coast in the fall of the year.

OLIVER No. 22-A MOWER

Cuts Sure and Clean with Safety

The sickle bar of the Oliver No. 22-A Mower is close to the rear tractor wheel, making it easier to get around square corners. Likewise, you can back up without difficulty.

A safety-latch release allows the cutter bar to swing back when an obstruction is encountered. And, a dust-tight, oil-bath chain-drive transmission with a safety-slip clutch operates the pitman.

Stop in and see the smooth-running outfit that makes short work of all mowing jobs—the Oliver Row Crop and No. 22-A Mower.

Long Distance Calls Again Identify Farm

Again it took long distance phone calls to identify the Mystery Farm sponsored by the Corvett Auto company in The Wayne Herald.

Wait Haglund of Wakefield was the first person to call in and report that Mystery Farm No. 8 was located two and 1/2 miles south of Wakefield on Highway 16 and was owned by Emil Bjorklund.

Others to identify the farm were Mrs. Nels Bjorklund and Elvis Olson, both of Wakefield.

Mr. Bjorklund dropped in at The Herald office Friday morning and related that he had been on the farm between 25 and 30 years and that his father had farmed it before him.

The Wakefield farmer attended rural school and went to college at Wadena.

Corn, oats and alfalfa are the mainstays on the Mystery Farm. Some stock cattle are also kept.

When asked if he used any certain soil conservation practices on the farm, Mr. Bjorklund explained that it wasn't necessary because the farm was quite level.

Recent improvements on the farm include a 1,000 bushel self-feeder.

Mr. Bjorklund is not married. He attends church at the Salem Lutheran church in Wakefield.

He reported he liked to spend his spare time traveling and when he can get someone to look after the farm he generally goes to the west coast in the fall of the year.

Four New Paving Districts

Four new paving districts have been set up in Wayne during the past few weeks. These districts will add over 18 blocks of improved streets in Wayne's residential district.

In each case these paving districts are paid for by the property owners within the district. After the projects are completed the cost is added up and assessments are made so that the improvement can be paid off in ten years. The city pays for paving the intersections.

The 18 blocks of new paving will give Wayne a total of 164 blocks of improved streets.

Paved streets are one of the most desirable improvements a town can have. They do more to add to a city's living comfort and efficiency than almost any other one item.

Even as great an asset as paved streets are for a city, the method by which they are obtained makes them even a greater thing.

What is it that makes these projects so important?

We think they are important because they originate with the people. They are a neighborhood project.

Residents within these districts have seen the problem and have done something about it. They have helped themselves. This is what makes the projects so important.

It is a case of people taking it upon themselves to get petitions signed and then presenting them to the city council.

It is a case of people doing something for themselves... a thing that is so badly needed in this country of ours.

We are of the opinion that more of these types of projects should be done... people helping themselves; not waiting for aid or asking assistance from government agencies or other sources of handouts.

So to you, dear people, who have worked hard to get petitions signed for your new paving, we say congratulations.

Congratulations, Seniors

In the next week or two, seniors from Wayne Prep, Wayne High and Wayne State will graduate.

Graduation marks the end of one phase of life and the beginning of another. Graduation programs are appropriately termed commencement exercises. This is how it should be.

Graduation should mark the beginning of transition into adulthood and maturity. To you, Seniors, we say congratulations... and may we leave this thought with you. The diplomas and degrees you receive are your licenses to apply your learning in an adult, practical world.

Use your knowledge well... that graduates in the years to come may benefit from the better society you will have helped create for them.

Wherever you might be going; whatever your plans; good luck to you, one and all.

Way Back When...

30 Years Ago

June 8, 1922—It is reported that Hamilton Brothers of Norfolk have bought the stock and fixtures belonging to the Wayne Bakery and will open a bakery here in the near future. Ferne and Francis Oman who are attending the Dunbar school of opera in Chicago, have contracted with the White-Meyer chautauqua company of Chicago to tour for 12 weeks through Wisconsin, Michigan and northern Iowa. Fern Oman will have the leading role in the musical comedy, "The Mascot." Plans for the celebration of the Fourth of July in Wayne are almost completed with only a few attractions yet to be secured. One hundred forty-two students were graduated from the eighth grades of the rural, village and parochial schools of the county at the exercises held at the Methodist church in Wayne last Saturday afternoon. This is the largest class that has been granted diplomas by the county.

25 Years Ago

May 12, 1927—W. A. Crossland of Laurel will deliver the Memorial day address in Norfolk. The LaPorte cemetery, the first in Wayne county, will be cleaned up and put into shape by the Legion, headed by the county board. The large, sanitary swimming pool built in the amusement park at the south edge of Wayne by Henry Kay and son, Lorenz, will be formally opened Saturday afternoon. It is the largest in northeast Nebraska and it was built at the cost of $16,000. The first of the season's golf activities at the Wayne Country club will be a team match May 21, 22 and 23. Players are divided into two teams with Carl Wright and J. S. Horn as captains. F. S. Morgan, L. W. Ellis and Dean H. Hahn met yesterday to plan for the season.

20 Years Ago

May 10, 1932—Bertha Berres, county clerk, has paid $63 in bounties for coyotes killed in Wayne county this spring. The amount paid for each coyote is $2.50. Ammonia leaking from the cooling plant of the Denbeck meat market Monday afternoon was so strong that the odor could be detected for considerable distance from the store. Six were injured, none seriously, about 2 p.m. Wednesday when the eastbound passenger of the C. St. P. M. and O. railroad left the tracks three miles east of Windsor. Injured included Madeline Kaffman, of Wayne, who suffered minor cuts and bruises. The Nebraska Merchant, state trade paper at Lincoln, will name master merchants of Nebraska in Lincoln this evening and Joe C. Nuss of Wayne, is one of those to be honored.

15 Years Ago

May 13, 1937—Delores McNatt was crowned queen of music at the dinner given by the Wayne board of education in honor of all students of Wayne high school who had participated in either the district or state music contest. Of 120 Wayne county eighth graders, 58 passed the examinations the first time they were given April 20 and 21. Herbert Tennant of district 28 had the highest average among eighth graders. Arthur Eberholz of district 2, Donald Horn of 18 and Alice Grone of 69 each earned averages of 91 while Temme was 94. Mrs. W. H. Phillips is chairman of the Wayne Legion Auxiliary poppy sale, to be held Saturday, May 29. Rainfall for May has totaled nearly one inch to date. Elizabeth Kyl, nurse in Norfolk, has been chosen for a position in Salem, Ore. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Kyl of Wayne.

10 Years Ago

May 14, 1942—Mrs. Ivor Morris of west of Carroll has an unusually large egg which was laid by a White Leghorn hen. The egg, measuring 7 1/2 inches one way and 6 1/2 the other, weighs 1 1/2 pound. Bus Strahan passed tests in Omaha last week for the United States air force. Bus service between Wayne and Fremont was instituted by Arrow State lines Monday, permission having been granted by the state railway commission Friday. Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Most returned home Sunday evening after Rev. Most had attended a synodical meeting in Chrysler. Dr. Walter Benthack of Wayne was elected one of the vice presidents of the Nebraska State Medical association at the annual meeting in Omaha last Thursday. About 100 women met at St. Paul Church last Thursday afternoon for Interdenominational May luncheon.

In Bookland

by Mrs. F. A. Milne, City Librarian

DID YOU KNOW THERE WERE BOOKS FOR the blind?... not braille but talking books... recorded books? Well there are such books and if you know some blind person who might enjoy them why don't you inquire at the library about particulars on how to obtain them? There are over 800 such books on file at the State Library commission in Lincoln. Titles and information about how to obtain the recording machine are on file at the library here in Wayne. We will be glad to assist anyone desiring more information so that this service can be brought to the blind people of our community. Arrange with us for a ready delivery for this service to be set up for the elderly people at the Tri-State Nursing home. Braille books can also be obtained through the library commission. This service is absolutely free... not even postage to pay and a very simple arrangement for mailing.

A DISTRICT MEETING OF THE NEBRASKA Library association was held at Bloomfield Thursday, May 8 and your librarian attended. It is always a treat to get inside other libraries, to talk to other librarians and compare progress as well as talk over mutual problems. One of the highlights of the program was a bookbinding demonstration put on by a representative of a well-known library supply house in Syracuse, N. Y. Most libraries buy their supplies from this company and the representative demonstrated a number of new products which science has developed for them. These should save much time for the librarians who spend many weary hours mending books.

GOLF IN ACTION IS THE LATEST BOOK to be placed on our Memorial shelf. Mrs. Catherine J. Shell bought the book for her husband who was very interested in golf. This should be a book for all our Wayne golfers. It always improves their game. There are over 700 contributors' action photos and 15 experts show you how to get the most out of each club.

DO YOU WANT A REAL FUNNY BOOK? Look for "Full of Life" by John Fante on the rental shelf. You will get more than a few peeples worth of laughs out of that one.

"Our Roots are In This Land"

Feeder Cattle Gains on Pastures

A study to determine the returns from the use of pastures in livestock production was started in 1951 by the Department of Agricultural Economics at the Nebraska College of Agriculture. Plans are for the study to be carried on for about five years in different parts of the state.

In 1951, records were obtained on dry land pastures from 44 cooperators in Wayne, Cuming and Dawson counties. These 1951 records were obtained almost exclusively from men who were using pastures for their cattle while on full feed. Fifty-five records were obtained from the 44 cooperators. Of the 55 records, 38 were on steers, 15 on heifers and two on mixed herds.

Results for 1951 Only

The pastures studied in Wayne and Cuming counties were predominantly bromine and alfalfa. Those studied in Dawson county were chiefly alfalfa or native pastures. The cattle were generally turned on the pastures in May and removed in September.

Weights of cattle and feeds as used were estimated given by the feeders for the most part. Practically all cattle were finished in dry lots for varying periods of time before being marketed. The data which follows is for only the period of time that the cattle were being fed while on pasture. The results shown are not given as definite conclusions, but they show what occurred under 1951 conditions in the feed-lots of the cooperators. More information is needed before accurate conclusions can be drawn as to relative values of different kinds of pasture.

Brome and alfalfa or brome and clover pastures indicated best results. See the following table.

Livestock Gains From a Total of 55 Dry Land Pastures in Wayne, Cuming and Dawson Counties, 1951. Cattle fed on Specified Types of Pastures*

Number of Cattle	Days on Pasture	Weight Gain (Lbs.)	Corn Fed (Lbs.)	Protein Fed (Lbs.)	Hay Fed (Lbs.)	Gain per head (Lbs.)
8	109	659	17.0	62	72	2.21
11	120	603	13.5	45	13	2.31
23	104	774	13.5	50	3	2.24
10	142	590	12.4	38	95	2.00

*All cattle were on full feed while on pasture. For further information, see FEEDER CATTLE GAINS ON PASTURE, 1951 Department of Agricultural Economics, Progress Report No. 4, February, 1952 — at your County Agent's Office.

It should be kept in mind that the above figures on protein and hay consumption are averages and in many instances neither was fed, while those who did use such feeds, fed much larger quantities than the averages shown.

Dairying . . .

Milk prices continue to advance, up 8% over a year ago. Butter prices appear to be stabilized. Per capita production of milk lowest since 1924. Butter consumption 50% of pre-War World II average. Oil prices for margarine about 1/2 of a year earlier.

Pasture Rentals

Such a broad question as what pasture rental rates should be charged per acre is difficult to answer because of the tremendous variations in the carrying capacity of the pastures. Carrying capacity varies with the kind of pasture coverage, its age, natural fertility, care, rainfall, intensity of grazing, etc. Therefore, any rental should be adjusted upward for good pastures and downward for poor pastures.

Example 1 — Returns Proportional to Contributions

Perhaps the principle most commonly used in figuring pasture rental rates is: Returns to all persons concerned should be in proportion to their contributions. For example: From the 1950 U. S. Census reports, the average value of farm land in Dakota County is $110.93 per acre. Much of the pasture land would be of less value and much of the crop land of higher value. Since the enumeration of farm land in the spring of 1949, values have gone up roughly 15%. Let us assume that $100 is a reasonable average value for pasture land, and that it takes on the average of two acres of pasture to carry one animal unit per year (grazing year — 6 months). If more or less acres are needed to carry one animal unit, adjust accordingly.

COST PER ANIMAL UNIT

Landlord's Contribution	Operator's Contribution
Value of Land $200	Value of Beef Cow $300.00
Interest at 5% $10.00	Interest at 5% $15.00
Taxes 2.00	Insurance 5.00
Fences 2.00	Taxes 5.00
Developing and maintaining pasture 5.00	Labor and all other 5.00
Land Costs per year $19.00	Investment $30.00
	Cost per Year

Cattle

"Better Prices"

Prices showing some sign of encouragement. Most grades selling under ceiling. H. M. Conway's National Livestock Market Service sees better prices in the coming spring weeks, but warns that an end of inflation means generally lower prices and income for farmers.

If the average gain per animal unit is say 250 lbs. for beef cattle, the value of this gain at 30 cents per lb. would equal $75.00. According to the above criteria, where returns are proportional to contributions, the landlord should get about 2/5 of the gain because $19.00 is 2/5 of the total expense of $49.00 ($19.00 plus 30.00 equals $49.00). Thus the maximum rent that the landlord would charge for pasture that would net 250 lbs. gain would be $26.00 per year per animal or $13.00 per acre (where an animal unit requires two acres of pasture).

Example No. 2 — Landlord's Hay Equals Pasture Rental

Another way of figuring the rental value of land is to calculate the value of hay it would produce if not grazed. As an example: suppose an acre of a particular pasture would grow 1 1/2 tons of hay which would be sold for say $16.00 per ton. If the hay from this acre of land would be worth $24.00. If the landlord's share is 1/2 then the landlord should get 1/2 of the hay or about $12.00 per acre. This would be the maximum rent the landlord would charge for pasture of this quality with prices at this level. To arrive at the monthly rate, divide the annual rental by the number of months during the grazing season ($12.00 divided by 6 months equal $2.00 per month per acre or $4.00 per month per animal unit).

Differences in pasture productivity or hay prices may be hard to figure the rental for any particular case.

According to reports of the Federal-State Statistician at Lincoln, in 1951 the "average cash rent per acre for pasture or grazing land" in the crop reporting district in which Dakota county lies, first example, was $5.83 per acre per year.

Animal Unit Defined

In order to apply the procedure of determining pasture rentals to actual livestock, we must consider first the question: What is an animal unit? An animal unit is expressed in terms of the amount of feed consumed. As a standard of measurement, one cow, one horse, or one mule has been designated as the standard, or one animal unit. The proportion that each type of livestock is of an animal unit is as follows:

- Cow, (beef or milk) steer or heifer, horse or mule or bull, 2 years old and older in the spring — 1 animal unit (a. u.)
- Cow and calf — 1 1/4 (a. u.)
- Yearling 2/3 (a. u.)
- Cattle on feed 1.3 to 1 1/2 (a. u.)
- Weaned calves — 1/2 (a. u.)
- Sheep — 1/7 (a. u.)
- Sow, gilts, boars — 1/7 (a. u.)
- Poultry 1/100

When the pasture rental figure has been determined for an animal unit, it is multiplied by the number of animal units for each type of livestock.

Poultry . . .

Egg prices continue lower than last year. Production is near its seasonal peak and the spring price decline probably has run its course. Prices expected to continue below 1951.

If in our first example, $26.00 is the pasture rental to be charged per animal unit per year, the annual rental for the following animals would be as follows:

- Cow, horse, mule 2 years or older — $26.00 per a. u. or $13.00 per acre.
- Cow and Calf — $32.60 per a. u. or $48.25 per acre.
- Yearling Calf — $17.34 per a. u. or $8.67 per acre.
- Sheep — $3.71 per a. u. or $1.86 per acre.

It should be remembered that the above rental price is simply a guide under the specified conditions as listed. The rental price will vary up or down depending upon the type, the demand, the quality of pasture, the amount of rainfall, etc. But of great importance, rentals will vary depending upon the bargaining power of the parties concerned. When pastures are in short supply the landlord may be able (cattle owner agreeable) to charge a higher rate, and conversely, if pastures are not in great demand, the cattle owner (landlord agreeable) may be able to rent the pasture at a lower rate.

Example 3 — Rental Equals 10% Land's Value

Another example and quicker method of calculating pasture rental is to set the rental value equal to about 10% of the value of the land. The rate of 10% on land value on $100.00 per acre would mean a rental of $20.00 per animal unit. This would be $6.00 per animal unit lower than the returns — contributions of $26.00 in the example.

One disadvantage of a rental tied to land values is that the price of land is not nearly so

Hogs

"Sharp Upturn"

Sharp upturn last week put hogs in better position.

sensitive to weather and market conditions as a rental that is tied to pounds of animal gain.

At times, in the Sandhills area, many stockmen pay one-half of the gains as rent, (based on 380 lb. weaned calf). This is roughly 20% returns on the present value of $35.00 to $40.00 land. Other ranchers are now paying $3.00 per acre on $35.00 to $40.00 land which is roughly a 13% return on the land's value. Percentage-wise, the rental in the first example is about 18% of the value of the land.

RUGGED as they come!

Stack up what you get for what you pay . . . and join the nation's largest group of truck users by choosing Chevrolet

By far the biggest number of truck users today are Chevrolet owners . . . and for good hard-headed reasons. Because what they get is this:

Low Cost—in purchase price and in upkeep. A truck that gets the job done. A truck that's rugged, long lasting.

Take a look at the four facts below . . . and see why you, too, will be money ahead with a Chevrolet truck. Come in and see us about it!

(Continuation of standard equipment and price illustrated is dependent on availability of materials.)

Chevrolet

FACT NO. 1 Save money on purchase price. Stack up a Chevrolet truck against any other truck with comparable specifications. You'll find the Chevrolet truck lists for less.

FACT NO. 2 Save money on operating costs. Hundreds of thousands of truck users have proved to their own satisfaction that Chevrolet costs the least of all to own and maintain.

FACT NO. 3 Save money on job efficiency. Chevrolet trucks are factory-matched to your payload requirements. You don't buy "too much of too little truck."

FACT NO. 4 Save money on low depreciation. Records show that Chevrolet trucks traditionally bring more money at resale than any other make which costs about the same new.

IN NEBRASKA... RACING BUILDS CIVIC ENTERPRISES

Have you ever asked yourself where do the racing dollars go in Nebraska? Because racing is different in Nebraska, no individual shares in the proceeds, which must be used for charitable, educational and civic purposes. Our county fairs share. Scholarships are made available to help worthy students. Stock shows and 4-H activities are provided. Yes—in Nebraska everybody benefits because racing isn't a business, but a sport where neighbors get together in the friendly atmosphere of good Nebraska sunshine for an afternoon of exciting entertainment.

You can swing it if you try

There's one of these lively lovelies waiting for you to come in and try it. Get the feel of its mighty Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head. You could pay $300 to $400 more for a car that doesn't match its horsepower. Get the feel of Dynaflo Drive, that lets you ride relaxed—feeds a silken flow of power—and at the same time cuts down on upkeep costs, by protecting the engine, the rear end, and even the tires, from driving strains. Get the feel of a ride that cost a million dollars and more for controls of end-sway and side-roll and vertical "throw"—for X-bracing the frame and V-bracing the torque-tube keel—for a total of 15 ride-engineering features.

One thing you'll know for sure when you've tried it. This car wasn't "built to a price." It's a Buick through and through. But the fact remains that when you check the price of a Buick SPECIAL against the price tags on so-called "low-priced cars"—you'll find out you can swing it if you really want to. And brother, will that make your family happy!
