FOR BIGGER CASH RETURNS

Invest in a Crop-Saving JOHN DEERE No. 12-A Combine

There are many sound reasons why so many average acreage or diversified crop farmers claim the No. 12-A is the most practical general-purpose combine. The wide cutting range of from 1 1/2 to 40 inches from the ground, and the easily adjustable, ground-driven reel insure getting more of the crop into the combine. Tremendous capacity, due to the full-width, straight-through design, means less work per square inch for the threshing cylinder and the separating and cleaning units. To this bigger capacity advantage, add simple, exact adjustment of the cylinder, chaffer and sieve and wind blast, and you can readily see why the No. 12-A delivers more and cleaner grain or seed from every acre.

NEBRASKA FARM OUTLOOK

(The MONTHLY FARM OUTLOOK is reprinted from Notes on Nebraska Farm Business, a monthly publication of the Department of Agricultural Economics, Agricultural Extension Service, College of Agriculture, University of Nebraska, Lincoln. This authoritative report is reprinted each month by the State National Bank of Wayne as a service to our customers and friends.)

"Our Roots are In This Land"

Economic Situation

The national economy is entering upon a new phase of activity. This new phase of activity is quite commonly known as "The present situation". The present situation simply means that current conditions of economic activity are fairly stable at a high level. At the present there is practically full employment, no civilian shortages, no strong inflationary pressures. Instead there are scattered soft spots—and these tend to stabilize prices. There is less need for controls and many items are being decontrolled. At the same time defense expenditures are gradually increasing—now at the rate of about $45 billions annually. The defense program is "cushioning" the economy at its present high level.

In the agricultural sector of the economy, U.S.D.A. is being faced with the possibility of a "turn-about" in farm production plans. If peace and war conditions continue as during the past few months, the drive for more and more production may be completely reversed on some crops. It is likely that crop production restrictions will be considered for the 1953 crop. Don't expect anything definite until after the November election.

Cattle

"To Strengthen"

Cattle prices remain weak, but are expected to strengthen seasonally in a week or two. Reason for slump continuing this long is that receipts have averaged about 20% more than a year ago. Market Analysis recommended holding the high grades for a few weeks if possible.

Beef Cattle

Prices of the higher grades of beef cattle during the next month or two seem likely to remain below prices for the same period of last year. Springtime demand for grazing cattle will probably support the prices of cows and lower grade steers. Prices of fed cattle may rise in late summer or early fall, barring large-scale liquidation of cattle inventories.

Though reduced from the record number of January 1, the number of cattle on grain feed in Nebraska on April 1 was 2% higher than it was on the same date in 1951. On the same basis there were 3% more cattle on feed in the corn belt, but in California and Colorado the number on feed was substantially above last year.

Corn . . .

Unlike last year, most all corn was planted by June 2. Prospects are for excellent crop.

Numbers Slaughtered to Increase

During the spring and early summer slaughter of grain-fed cattle will probably be greater than for the same period last year. Marketings are likely to moderately exceed last year in early to mid-fall, but later marketings are less likely to show a gain over 1951. Including the cattle sold off grass, the total marketings in 1952 will be greater than in 1951.

Thus far in 1952 the total output of meat in the U. S. has been higher than in the same period last year. Commercial meat production during the first three months of this year was 8% larger than a year earlier. Beef and veal production was up 14% and lamb and mutton 21% over the first three months of last year. During the rest of the year marketings of hogs are expected to be smaller and marketing of lambs a little larger than for the same period in 1951. (Ordinarily high grade beef competes with ham and lamb while the lower grades of beef compete with lower grades of pork.)

Prices Average $2.50 Below Year Ago

Prices of meat animals have been considerably lower than a year earlier. On April 15, 1952 prices received by farmers were lower than a year previous by $2.50 per 100 pounds for cattle, $4.20 for hogs and $7.90 for lambs. Retail prices of meat, however, had changed but very little. This apparent inconsistency is traceable to large reductions in the value of all by-products (hides, wool, lard, and others) and to a widening of the price margin between live animals and meats as compared with the unusually narrow marketing margins of 1951.

Cattle Numbers Up—Nebraska Second

Sharp increases in cattle numbers, especially during 1950 and 1951, are causing some cattlemen to worry about the future.

That Nebraska farmers and ranchers have a large stake in the cattle business is indicated by the fact that on January 1, 1952, Nebraska ranked second among the states in the number of beef cattle and calves on farms, being surpassed only by Texas. Since 1949 the number of cattle and calves in Nebraska has increased 20%. This increase compares with 14% for the North-Central Region and for the United States as a whole. During the same period the number of beef cows in Nebraska increased 31% compared with 37% in the North-Central Region and 30% for the entire United States. While the build-up in cattle numbers is general over the whole United States the increase is most pronounced percentage-wise in the southeastern states. However, only a relatively small proportion of the total cattle population

Potatoes

Plantings are underway in the Platte Valley. New potatoes are beginning to come to market.

is located in these states. Approximately 40% of the beef cattle in the United States are in the North-Central Region.

World cattle numbers reached 821 million in January, 1952. This was 13 million above 1951 and a record high for the world. Further increases are expected during this year.

More Cattle Coming

If cattle numbers in the United States should be expanded as much in the next few years as is usual for that stage of the cattle cycle, they would reach 100 million by January, 1955. This would be 12 million above the estimated number on January 1, 1952. Annual slaughter of cattle and calves, which has been retarded while the breeding herd was being built up, would increase much faster. By 1955, with total cattle numbers at 100 million, slaughter could amount to 38.29 million head which is 50% more than the 26 million slaughtered in 1951. The beef produced from this slaughter would amount to 70 pounds per person compared with 56 pounds consumed in 1951. While this is not a forecast, but merely a projection of present trend, it gives some idea of the extremely high production of beef which would result from such expansion, should it occur.

How Much More—And at What Price?

Two questions seem very important in relation to continued expansion in cattle numbers. First, what is the national production capacity for pasture and feed crops for beef cattle in view of available land resources and competition from other livestock for its use, and how much more increase in numbers is feasible from this standpoint? Second, how much more beef will the market take without a marked reduction in price? Cattlemen have much at stake in the answers to these two questions. The hazard is that these factors might be ignored, with resulting over-expansion and drastically lower prices. Well financed producers, with adequate pasture and feed supplies, may choose to continue the increase in cattle. But some producers, heavily encumbered by debt for high-priced cattle, should cull more closely and proceed with caution.

Fertilizer Situation

The supply of nitrate and phosphate fertilizers is still less than the demand. Indications are that about 10% more nitrate fertilizer will be available for corn for the remainder of the 1952 crop year than a year earlier. Prices are up $4.00 to $6.00 over last year so that farmers should be able to buy it for somewhere around $90.00 per ton. The increase in price for phosphate is primarily

Wheat

Prospects for record winter wheat crop of 108 million bushels if weather doesn't get too hot or too wet. Larger the crop the weaker prices are expected to be during and immediately following harvest. Prices may fall considerably below support of around $2.20 bu.

the amount of increased freight rate. Most of the raw material going into the making of phosphate comes from Tennessee and Florida—a long freight haul.

In buying fertilizers, farmers usually get more for their fertilizer dollar by buying higher analysis fertilizers. For example, a mixed fertilizer with an analysis of 4-16-0 (4 lb. of nitrogen, 16 lbs. of phosphate and zero pounds of potash) shows that only 20 lbs. of plant food is available for plant growth from each 100 lbs. of fertilizer. This 4-16-0 fertilizer can be bought for about $58.00 per ton. Fertilizer containing 8-32-0 (twice the above analysis) costs about $100.00 per ton. The higher analysis fertilizer is $16.00 a ton cheaper for the actual plant food available. If you can use and spread high analysis fertilizers, they are better buys.

Poultry and Egg Review

In 1951 the per capita consumption of eggs, poultry and turkey meat in the United States established new records according to the reports of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. The average person in the U. S. consumed 406 eggs, 29.7 pounds of chicken and 5.5 pounds of turkey meat in 1951.

A number of new production records also were established. The year 1951 was a profitable year for poultrymen compared with 1950.

The comparison between production and gross value of eggs, broilers, farm chickens and turkeys is given in Table I.

Table I. U. S. Poultry Production and Value, 1950 - 1951

Product	Production		Value in Dollars
	1950 millions	1951 millions	1950 millions	1951 millions
Eggs, dozen	4,894	4,946	1,766	2,351
Broilers, lbs.	1,938	2,419	530	690
Farm chickens not broilers, lbs.	1,843	1,875	411	472
Turkeys, lbs.	807	932	260	344
Total value	000	000	2,972	3,857

Gross U. S. poultry income for 1951 is divided approximately as follows: 61% eggs, 18% commercial broilers, 12% other farm poultry and 9% turkeys.

The increased gross income for 1951 over 1950 was due to increases in the volume of production as well as increased price. Average U. S. farm prices and ratios for 1951 and 1950 are as follows:

	1950	1951
Eggs (doz.)	36.3c	47.8c
Broilers (live wt.) (lb.)	27.4c	28.5c
Broilers and farm chickens (lb.)	24.9c	27.1c
Turkeys (lb.)	32.8c	37.4c
Egg-Feed price ratio	9.6	11.4

1952 Egg Production Up

On January 1, 1952, the Nation's laying flock contained 3% more layers than a year earlier. On April 1 there were still 2% more layers. Egg production during the first 4 months of 1952 was 5.8% greater than a year earlier. During January, February and March, the weekly placement of chicks into broiler houses far exceeded that of the same months of 1951. On May 1, 1952, the number of young chickens on farms was estimated to be 5% less than a year ago. The length of the 1952 hatching season was shortened because of the decreased demand for chicks.

Prices and Ratios Declining

During the first four months of 1952, feed costs have been considerably higher than last year, and egg prices have averaged 6.6 cents per dozen lower. The average farm price in Nebraska is considerably lower than that for the country as a whole. With this lower price, a dozen eggs buy less feed for the Nebraska producer. This is the squeeze in which the average Nebraska egg producer finds himself today.

Lower Prices with Large Supply

The present low egg income is due to high feed costs and low egg prices. Feed costs between June and the time when a new grain crop is harvested can be forecasted fairly accurately. Feed costs are expected to remain near the present level during the next few months. The lower prices for eggs are largely due to excessive supply. When prices are low many eggs usually go into storage. This situation is somewhat like that which existed in 1950. Poultrymen had prospered in 1949 and an increased supply of chicks for replacement had been raised. In fact, every even numbered year since 1944 has seen a decrease in the percentage of of chicks raised when compared to the number raised during the previous year.

Higher Egg Prices in Fall

During the past five years the farm price for eggs in Nebraska has been 4 1/2 cents a dozen high-

Hogs

"Remain Strong"

Hog prices now average about $1.00 - $1.50 below the mid-May peak of $2.25 cwt. Prices expected to remain strong through summer. Because lard is a drug on the market, heavy lard hogs are being discounted. Actively strong demand for light bacon hogs.

er in the last four months of the year than the preceding four months. In the same fall months the spread between farm run eggs and grade A large eggs has averaged 10 cents higher than the price for farm run eggs. Those producers who have well-developed production-bred pullets and who hold them in high production during the fall months have made profits from eggs. This same group of producers is expecting the present situation to swing as it has during the past several years.

Egg prices during the summer and fall are expected to increase seasonally. Feed prices will depend upon the 1952 crop of feed grains.

Storm Lake Takes Loosely Played Game From Wayne

Wayne's batsmen were unable to hit with men on the bases Monday night and Storm Lake took a 7 to 6 win on the local diamond.

Wayne outlived the visitors 9 to 4 but sloppy fielding allowed the visitors to score seven unearned runs.

Storm Lake jumped to a three-run lead in the top half of the first frame.

Melvin Berkla walked the first two batters and a hit by Bob Barnes opened the scoring. Barnes promptly stole second and later scored on a fielder's choice.

Wayne immediately started to chew away on the lead, scoring single runs in the first and second innings.

In the first frame Bobby Johnson singled and went to second when the center fielder bobbed the ball. He scored when Pete Mefford slugged his first double of the game, this one down the left field foul line.

The local nine tallied another single run in the second when Tom Bahe got a pass to first base and was forced to second by a walk to Don Berne. Bahe scored when Berkla hit into a fielder's choice. The inning was closed out when Berkla was caught between second and third by a peg from the catcher to the shortstop.

Storm Lake rallied for four runs and for what proved to be the winning margin in the seventh inning. One hit, one walk, two stolen bases and three errors by Wayne gave them their four tallies.

Wayne came back with four runs in the eighth but it was "too little and too late."

Al Bahe was the first base runner when the shortstop errored on his grounder. Don Tietgen's grounder forced Bahe to second but Mike Mallette hit a solid two-bagger scoring Tietgen. Tom Bahe got on first on a fielder's choice and Berne walked. Tom Bahe

Wayne Legions Nine Beats Wakefield, 9 to 1

Gordon Zapp sent 15 visiting batsmen down via the strikeout route Sunday as Wayne's Junior Legion baseball team took a 9 to 1 win from Wakefield.

Wayne batsmen got only four hits but errors and walks proved costly to the visitors.

Charles Price picked up two of the safeties getting singles in the third and sixth innings. Rod Tietsoff and Larry Johnson had the other hits.

Wayne's lineup:

Wayne Midgets Play Hartington, Pierce

Wayne's midget baseball teams had a busy slate during the week.

Trailing 5 to 2 at Hartington Wednesday, Gerard Mayer's nine rallied for 5 runs in the last time at last night, 7 to 3.

Bob Liles, Kenny Dahl and Dennis Manske did the hurdling for Wayne and Lee Vogel was behind the plate.

Wayne split two tilts with Pierce Thursday, winning the first game 9 to 4 and losing the second, 6 to 3.

Wayne Loses Close Game To Herman

Nick Adzick's three-run homer gave Herman the margin needed for a 5 to 3 victory over Wayne in a baseball game played at Herman Sunday night.

Wayne outlived Herman eight to seven but Adzick's four-bagger in the third frame brought home a couple of teammates Ronald Lage had given free passes to first base.

Wayne scored a single run in the fourth inning on singles by Tom Bahe, Bobby Johnson and Al Bahe. The other two tallies came in the top-half of the eighth when Johnson walked; Don Tietgen doubled and Al Bahe's second single brought them home.
