

Speakers Named for City's Egg Days; Contests Set

The program for Wayne Egg days Friday and Saturday, Jan. 30 and 31, is taking shape. Speakers for the clinic and demonstration planned to inform farmers how to make more money raising poultry and producing eggs were named this week.

Joe Claybaugh and Paul Clayton, specialists from the University of Nebraska extension service, are two of the speakers on the program.

Claybaugh's topic will be "General Poultry Management." Clayton will talk on "Poultry Marketing." Both speakers will use exhibits, slides and movies with their talks.

Among the topics to be covered are:

1. Poultry management as it affects quality.
2. Feeding methods.
3. New developments in housing and equipment.
4. Poultry diseases.
5. Culling.
6. Egg grades and the dirty egg problem.

Two special contests to give housewives a chance to win valuable prizes have been set up. One will benefit the March of Dimes drive.

Housewives are asked to cook a chicken, using their favorite recipe and method. Winners will receive special merchandise prizes and the chicken dinners will be sold to the public next Friday with the proceeds going to the polo fund.

And as January is National Egg month, a contest for persons submitting the best recipe in which eggs are the central ingredient is also being held.

Complete details appeared in last week's Herald. Further announcements will appear in The Herald next week.

Wayne Egg days are being sponsored by the local produce houses, chamber of commerce and the county extension service.

Region Is Plagued by Bad Weather

A blizzard, bitter cold temperatures, rain, sleet and another snow storm plagued the Wayne region during the past week.

Old man Winter let us have both barrels Thursday when a raging blizzard hit the region.

Fine snow driven by gale-like winds blocked most of the roads, halted bus service and knocked out all of Wayne's long distance phone circuits except those to Concord and Wakefield.

Bell Telephone manager reported telephone lines leading to Omaha, Sioux City, Norfolk, Randolph and Laurel were put out of commission by the storm.

Three crews from South Dakota and two from Norfolk were sent into the region and the lines were back in operation Friday night.

State highways were cleared by Friday night and the well traveled county roads were opened by Saturday night.

Many of the local stores closed early Thursday as streets were bare and very few people braved the storm.

Weather recorder Archie Wert reports the blizzard left three inches of snow and 27 of an inch of moisture in its wake.

The inch snowfall hitting the region Monday and Tuesday was worth .02 of an inch of precipitation.

Three-Day Old Baby Has Unique Surgery

Willie Foster, tiny daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Foster, Geneva, and grandniece of Nellie and M. N. Foster, Wayne, underwent surgery Jan. 9 at Bryan Memorial hospital, Lincoln.

When born, 72 hours before the historical operation, she had no esophagus, the connecting tube between her mouth and stomach. The Lincoln surgical team constructed the missing part and severed the malconnection between the stomach and lung. After four hours of surgery, the juncture was established.

Doctors expressed confidence that the new juncture would hold but cautioned that Willie won't be totally out of danger for 10 more days.

Polio Drive Is Entering Third Week

The March of Dimes drive in Wayne county is entering its third week and Clifford M. Dahl, county campaign director, calls upon all residents in this area to help in the fight against polio.

Reminding the people of Wayne county that the mid-west section of the nation was hardest hit by polio in 1952 than any other section of the nation, Dahl pointed out that polio is the only epidemic disease still on the increase in our nation, and just as the number of cases have soared, so have the costs.

Getting an example of the enormous costs, he quoted the figures released by Mrs. Chris Tiegen, Wayne county chapter treasurer. Mrs. Tiegen's records show that Wayne county still has outstanding bills of more than $6,000 for hospitalization and treatment of polio patients. This sum will be paid as soon as the bills have undergone auditing.

The bill for rehabilitation for three patients alone amounted to more than $1,000 during 1952. These are patients who need therapy before they can hope to lead normal lives.

"Four out of five of all polio patients find it necessary to call upon the fund of Dimes for help," Dahl said. "Even the patient gets help from the March of Dimes through the benefits from research of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis."

Polio Precinct, City Chairmen Listed

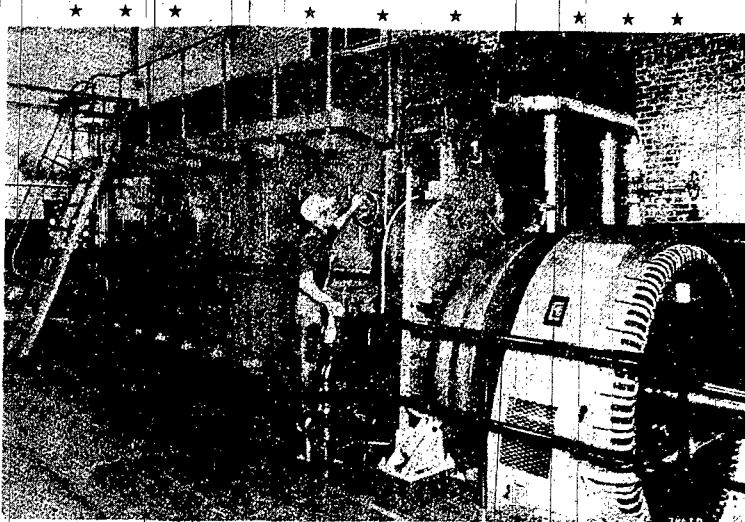

The complete list of Wayne county precinct chairmen and city campaign managers for the 1953 polio drive is being published this week for the convenience of anyone who might want to get in touch with them to make contributions.

Wayne's New Dual Fuel Power Unit Is Under Full Operation

Jorgensen Farm Sale Is Jan. 26

The Charles Jorgensen farm sale scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 15 has been postponed to Monday, Jan. 26.

Thursday's blizzard forced postponement of the sale. Mr. Jorgensen reported to the Herald that the blizzard in his region were not opened until Saturday.

Jorgensen's postponed farm sale ad appears on page six, section two of today's Herald.

Converted To Gas; Tests Completed

The city's newly installed dual fuel power unit at the light and power plant is now under full operation.

After a series of tests and trial runs, the burden of producing power for the city of Wayne was turned over to the unit at 4 p.m. Friday.

Charles J. Hartwein, engineer from the Nordburg plant at St. Louis, completed the change-over from oil to gas. He reported the unit was expected to run at its full capacity, 1,230 kilowatts per hour, Monday evening.

Up to that time, the unit had been producing from 750 to 1,160 kilowatts per hour.

This brings to an end over a year's transition. The $185,530 unit was ordered from the Nordberg manufacturing company a little over a year ago.

The 1,750 horsepower power plant arrived in Wayne last fall and installation began immediately.

Hartwein was sent to Wayne to give the unit its final check. He, his wife and small son have been in Wayne for over two weeks.

Dixon CROP Drive Funds Buy Sugar

Lincoln in response to an urgent request made by Church World service, world-wide relief procurement agency, plans have been made for shipping a carload of sugar, 600 100-pound boxes, from money received in Nebraska this month, according to an announcement made by the state office of the Nebraska CROP committee here today.

The carload of sugar will cost approximately $5,500, with shipping charges adding $1,000. Cash contributed in the 1952 Dixon county CROP campaign will be used in part payment.

Dixon county CROP treasurer, P. R. Kingsbury, reports that contributions to the $1,253.40 have been received to date.

The county CROP chairman, Rev. T. H. Buchner, Wakefield, reminds canvassers to complete their reports as soon as possible. A second check will be sent to the state CROP treasurer to cover late contributions.

The distribution of school dime cards was started in Wayne county Monday, according to Clifford M. Dahl, county director of the 1953 March of Dimes campaign.

All county rural schools, five town schools at Hoskins, Carroll, Winside and Wayne will receive their cards.

In urging parents of school children in Wayne county to encourage their children to fill the school dime cards and return them before the close of the March of Dimes drive Jan. 31, Dahl pointed out that children under 15 years of age constitute polio's principal targets.

'52 Crop Loan Deadline Announced by Local PMA

Jan. 31, 1953, is the closing date for taking out Commodity Credit Corporation loans or purchase agreements on 1952 crops of wheat, oats, rye, barley, grain sorghums, soy beans, and grass seeds.

Loan rates in Wayne county for the above grains are: wheat, $2.21 per bushel; oats, 74c per bushel; rye, $1.40 per bushel; barley, $1.23 per bushel; soy beans, $2.53 per bushel; and grain sorghum, $2.11 per hundred weight.

For farmers who do not want immediate cash, purchase agreements will give the same protection, since it guarantees the support price at the end of the season on the amount of bushels of crop, which the grower then delivers to the government. The amount the producer receives, of course, depends on the grade and condition of the crop.

Loans on the 1952 crop of corn mature on July 31, 1953 or earlier on demand. The closing date on application for corn loans for purchase agreements is May 31, 1953.

Intention to deliver to the government under purchase agreements must be filed with the PMA county committee during the 30-day period immediately before the loan maturity date.

The farmers of Wayne county have 754,173 bushels of corn under loan, or price support; 37,235 bushels of oats; 3,411 bushels of wheat and 393 bushels of soy beans.

What farmers receive for their products is only a portion of what consumers pay for top in the market place. In November, department agriculture estimates show the annual retail cost of foods going into the family market basket was $7 higher than a year earlier.

The annual return to the farmer was $21 lower. The charges for assembling, processing, and distributing the farm-produced food were $29 higher. Of that dollar the consumers spent for these goods in November, farmers received only 46c. There was equal to a year earlier. This was equal to the postwar low.

What Farmers Receive During the first eight months of 1952, the farmers received an average of 53c of the consumers meat dollar. 36c of the dollar spent for dairy products; 63c of the dollar spent for poultry and eggs; 26c of the dollar spent for bakery and other cereal products; and 37c of the dollar spent for all fruits and vegetables.

While farm products prices generally averaged four per cent lower during the first eleven months of 1952 than for the same period of 1951, prices paid by farmers for all production items averaged three per cent higher.

By the way, winning yield in the contest was 138 bushels per acre. There were eight entries averaging over 130 bushels per acre.

HOW OFTEN do you CHANGE OIL?

The EXPERTS Say

Although a good quality oil does not wear out it does become contaminated with dirt and grime inside your engine. That is why it is wise to change your oil every 1,000 miles. The dirt and grime which is held in suspension is then drained out with the oil eliminating the possibility of costly wear. The high viscosity and low consumption qualities of Skelly Supreme make it one of the finest oils available.

Mrs. Ralph Eaton, Wayne, Has Unique Brass Collection Egyptian Coffee Tray Is Favorite

Mrs. Ralph Eaton attributes her love for brass to the "Welsh in me". The warm, golden brass is a tradition in every English household just as cleaning all brass once a week is another custom of the country.

The English war bride began her brass collection several years ago in England and was unable to bring very much of it with her when she sailed for America. In England, an antique dealer assisted her in collecting many priceless pieces, many of which she gave away before leaving England.

A Jersey Jug, a round water container with a long narrow neck was the first item in her collection of English brass objects.

Mrs. Eaton's favorite and best piece is a coffee tray 36 inches in diameter. Her brother had the tray and six matching ashtrays made by natives in Egypt when he was stationed there during the war. All of her Indian and Egyptian articles are handmade.

Indian pieces include the red and green carved letter opener which is shaped like the gurkha knife, and the demitasse tray. There is also a round coffee table with a carved brass top—the legs are mahogany. Mrs. Eaton illustrated with these that the Indians use much green and red coloring with their brass carving.

Recently Mrs. Eaton received a family antique from one of her friends in England. It is a pair of Egyptian mummies, male and female, she also has a long-handled kimmer she bought at an English auction for 15 cents a shilling. There is one hanging by the range in every home in England. They are used to skim the fat off cooking.

old horse-brass from England some time ago. It has the original design and leather. Mrs. Eaton would like to collect more of these decorations for teams of horses.

"Cleaning brass in England is like waxing the floors in America," stated Mrs. Eaton. "Everyone has brass and Mrs. Eaton describes her cleaning methods. She uses metal polish on a brush, the pieces are badly stained or that case, lemon juice is used."

All brass door knobs are put in and front steps of every house are scrubbed each morning in England. The English-born American states she and Mr. Eaton hope to return to the Island next fall for a visit. They expect to bring more of their collection home with them.

Mrs. Eaton joins in his wife's enthusiasm for the warm glow of brass.

Good Man But Wrong Job
The evils of the traditional spoils system in our democracy were never more evident than in the proposal to send Val Peterson, former governor of Nebraska, to New Delhi as the American ambassador to India.

Peterson campaigned mightily for Dwight D. Eisenhower and definitely is in line for a good job, as is usual in the American system. Hard working men who help elect the candidate line up after the election to receive their rewards — good jobs at good salaries.

We hope that Eisenhower can find a better job for Val Peterson than ambassador to India.

We have a slight acquaintance with Peterson and know him as an able administrator, an intelligent and learned man — but not about diplomatic protocol, not about the seating arrangements at important state dinners in foreign capitals.

Peterson knows hogs and wheat and corn and irrigation and flood control and public power problems.

He can discuss cattle with Iowa and Nebraska farmers and they will respect his views because he knows whereof he speaks. Peterson has been most active in development of flood control plans and increasing the power potential in the Missouri River valley.

To send him off to India to act as an ambassador would be a loss to the nation, a waste of his talents and knowledge.

Let Eisenhower pick some eastern senator or governor, someone who knows white tie and tails and who possibly has a Harvard degree, for the New Delhi job.

Give Val Peterson a job to do with the American soil, crops, rivers and farms. With all due respect to ex-Governor Peterson, we believe he would be as out of place in a diplomatic post as W. C. Fields at a WCTU convention.

This country is in an era of change; important developments are looming; the nation is at a crossroads, a crisis, if you wish. We have changed our entire national set-up and it will take all the brains of the best Republican men to steer the nation along the correct channels.

It would ill behoove Eisenhower to waste the talents of Val Peterson by sending him to India. — Bob Agee, Denison (Iowa) Bulletin.

Can You 'Afford' to Have Polio?
The dimes or dollars you give to the March of Dimes constitute the best investment in polio protection an American citizen can make.

By no stretch of the imagination can this uniquely American institution be called a charity. It is, rather, an inspiring example of how enlightened individuals can protect each other and themselves from the bankrupting assault of an enormously expensive disease.

Even if the Wayne County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis did no more than pay the cost of treatment for every polio patient who needed it, the March of Dimes would not be a charity. If it were, then four out of five patients would be "charity cases" . . . for few of us indeed can pay costs that may run above $50 a day and, in some cases, add up to more than $20,000 per year.

Music Boosters Plan Festival March 24

Music Boosters met at the high school auditorium Monday evening with Mrs. J. F. Atwood presiding over the business session.

Out of Old Nebraska
Nebraska's lawmakers met the first time in Lincoln Jan. 7, 1869. This was the first regular session of the state legislature, although it appears on the official record as the fifth, there having been four special sessions held earlier in Omaha.

They met in the new capitol, built of native stone at a cost of $75,000, a building much admired for its beauty, but of such faulty construction that it soon had to be replaced.

Among the important tasks facing the legislature, as enumerated in the governor's message, were the development of the state deposits near Lincoln, defense against the Indians, encouraging immigration, providing for schools, disposition of state lands, providing for roads, bridges and other internal improvements.

The salt deposits near Lincoln, which the governor's message were in the selection of the site as the capital city, were given particular attention by the Governor, who declared that they could be "directly and indirectly a source of great value to the state, whose value no one can fully estimate."

Perhaps the most important act of the first legislature was that which chartered the University of Nebraska. In addition, the legislature created the office of Attorney General, provided funds to meet the expenses of the normal school at Peru, transferred the old territorial capitol to the city of Omaha and provided for a state cemetery at Lincoln.

Each year fading memories of the blizzard of Jan. 12, 1938 are revived. The Blizzard club holds its annual reunion, and newspapers throughout the state generally take note of the occasion.

Wayne State Grabs 66-65 Thriller from Doane Friday

Bob Tushla's Late Fielder Gives Edge

Wayne State and Doane college thrilled the spectators at the city auditorium Friday night when the Wildcats grabbed a one-point decision over the visitors.

With 20 seconds left in the contest, Bob Tushla fired a one-hander that swished through the net and gave Wayne State a 65-64 edge. Both teams added a free throw and the Wildcats won, 66-65.

Coach Chuck Oby's quint had everything pretty much their own way during the first quarter. But after that it was a tooth for a tooth and the lead changed hands several times in the second and third periods and three times in the last minute of play.

Wayne State's scoring was evenly divided. Carl Johnson was high with 13 points, Tushla and Mike Mallette each scored 11. Roger Miller potted 10 and Tom Tietgen added nine counters to the total.

Don Pizar, Larry Tesar and Jerry Troester carried the offensive load for Doane. Tesar scored 19 points and Pizar and Troester had 15 and 13, respectively.

Friday night's win gives the Wildcats two wins and two losses in their four starts in conference play this year.

Wayne Loses At Omaha; Here Jan. 24

Wayne State's hoop squad staged a third-quarter rally against the Omaha University Indians in Omaha Monday night, but failed to capitalize during the final period, and came out on the short end of the 61-70 score.

After lagging behind the Omahans through the first two periods, which ended 24-15 and 39-28, the Cats tallied 23 points in the third to tie the game at 51-all.

The Indians came back in the final stretch to bottle up the teachers and limit their scoring to only 10 points including just two counters from the field.

Tietgen hits 25 points

Leading the field for the Wildcats was Wayne forward Don Tietgen, who snatched rebounds and turned them into paying shots for a total of 25 points.

High man for the game was Omaha's lanky Don Claussen, who sank 11 field goals and seven free throws for 29.

The Wildcats play their final non-conference match Saturday night at the Wayne city auditorium when the Greyhounds of Yankton college pay a return visit to the local teachers.

125 Sheepskins from Nebraska

"Where do General Electric's engineers come from?" a visitor asked us. "I suppose they all got trained at MIT, or Cornell, or Michigan."

His question set us pondering, so we started plowing through the file cabinet for an answer. And, of course, it turned out as you'd imagine—NO. General Electric engineers don't always come from eastern technical schools. They won their slide rules from colleges in every state.

Maybe you'd like to hear how many of our bright engineers got their engineering education in your home state.

Here's part of the list...
328 came from colleges in Kansas... 207 from Oklahoma... 125 Nebraska... 103 Montana... 97 South Dakota... 87 North Dakota... 47 Arkansas... 41 Wyoming... 411 came from Texas colleges... well, the list includes every state.

One out of every twenty employees at General Electric is an engineer or scientist. You know that a big part of our work is improving products and working out new ideas.

Right now young men from your home state are working on big and important engineering jobs at General Electric. You should be mighty proud of them because—take our word—they're doing a swell job.

You can put your confidence in—

World's newest
V8
with a million miles behind it

HERE, in literal fact, is the most advanced V8 engine ever placed in a standard-production American automobile.

It is the first such V8 to reach an 8.5 to 1 compression ratio, and the first with a dynamic flow muffler that cuts power loss to zero.

It is the first V8 to utilize vertical valves together with a 12-volt electrical system instead of the usual 6-volt. It is also the first designed with new "T" type intake manifold to replace the "Y" type conventionally used in V8s.

It is, quite simply, the first V8 Fireball Engine—the engine that brings electrifying performance to the greatest Buicks in fifty great years—the engine that powers the 1953 Buick ROADMASTER with 148 hp., and the 1953 Buick SUPER with up to 170.

Naturally, this spectacular new V8 has been proved—by eight years of developing, testing, improving, perfecting—and by more than a million miles of driving through desert mountains, cities and plains. Only then did Buick engineers mark it: Released for Production.

But these hard-to-please engineers gave these Golden Anniversary Buicks far more than new power. They gave them, too, a still finer ride, more superb comfort, new braking power and handling ease—and a sensational new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive* that adds new quiet and whip-fast getaway to absolute smoothness.

Nothing, we believe, will do more justice to your automobile dollars—or to your love of magnificent motoring—than a visit to us right now.
