Wildcats Hastings Vie Here Friday

Wayne State's Wildcats failed to capitalize on a fourth-quarter rally Tuesday night, and dropped a 60-54 decision to Doane college.

After trailing for three periods and going into the fourth on the low side of a 37-50 score, the Cats, sparked by flashy play of guards Dave Meyer and Wayne Samuelson, evened the tally at 53-all.

Doane's big Don Pizar couldn't be held, however, and the Tigers eased out to the 6-point lead at the final whistle.

Breaks Winning Streak

The loss to Doane broke the Wildcats' winning streak of three games which the Wayne squad had hoped to push to four—which would have been the longest stretch in the past four years. Scoring leaders for the Doane tussle were Tigers Don Pizar with 17 points and Larry Tesar with 16. Carl Johnson led the Wayne field with 14, and Don Tietgen garnered 12.

The Wildcats will try to even the score with the Broncs of Hastings college Friday night in the Wayne city auditorium.

The local teachers will have to overcome a five-year jinx, having last defeated the Broncs in basketball in 1948.

MEAT CONTROLS END

Here's Why the Lifting of Meat Controls Is Big News to You...

With the removal of OPS controls from the sale of meat, Safeway is once again able to bring you all the popular cuts of meat, prepared the way our customers have demonstrated they prefer them. For example, you will again find on sale at Safeway:

Rib Roasts — ready for the oven. These are prepared before sale. For perfect roasting, the heavy chine bone is removed and replaced with a thin layer of fat to seal in juices and make the roast easy to carve.

Cubed Steaks — made from top grades of beef. And, as always at Safeway, made from only round or sirloin tip.

Stewing Beef — lean beef pre-diced and labeled "Stewing Beef." Always priced low at Safeway.

Ground Round — no longer are you required to purchase Round Steak and wait for grinding. Ground Round is now prepared in advance, ready for purchase. Of course, if you prefer, you may continue to buy steak and have it ground to order.

Quality and Price — all cuts of Beef and Lamb at Safeway will continue to be of the Top Government Grades. Just the Top Grades, too, of Pork and Veal. You'll find them at money-saving prices, every day, at Safeway.

Funeral Services For Iver Anderson Held Feb. 4

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 4 for Iver Valfrid Anderson, Hoskins, at 2 p. m. from the family home and at 2:30 p. m. at the Zion Lutheran church north of Hoskins, with Rev. E. H. Boelling conducting the services.

The church organist, Mrs. Leon Welch, furnished the organ music and accompanied the brother-sister quartet composed of Mrs. Lewis Johnson, Allen and Tom Pritchard, Norfolk, and Leonard Pritchard, Winslow, who sang "Jesus is Tenderly Calling" and "Good Night and Good Morning." Burial was made in Hillcrest Memorial park, north of Norfolk.

Palbearers were William Fredrickson, Wayne, Earl Anderson and Guy Anderson, both of Randolph, and Glen Erick, William Thomsen and Don Walker, all of Hoskins.

Iver Valfrid Anderson, son of Anders Gustav Peterson and Anna Peterson, was born in Skovde, Vastergotland, Sweden, on June 3, 1881. A heart attack was the cause of his sudden death on Jan. 31 at the age of 71.

Mr. Anderson came to America in 1898 at the age of 17 and made his home for over a year with his sister, Mrs. Beda Erickson in Chicago. He then came to Nebraska where his brother, Mrs. Isa, he began farming north of Hoskins and has farmed in Wayne county continuously.

He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith and was a member of Zion Lutheran church, Hoskins.

Iver Anderson and Minnie Stamm were united in marriage in December, 1915, and this union was blessed with three children. Mournful his passing are his beloved wife, Mrs. Isa, Irving Anderson; two daughters, Mrs. Eva Behnson and Mrs. Bonnie Abernathy, and three grandsons, Wayne and Warren Anderson and Kent Abernathy. Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Beda Erickson, Chicago; and a brother, Olof, Sweden, together with numerous nieces and nephews and a host of friends.

His parents, three brothers, William, Emil and Gus, and a sister, Mrs. Hulda Swanson, preceded him in death.

Never too busy to answer a call for help, Iver Anderson was a good neighbor and a good citizen. He took a great deal of interest in and gave freely of his time and help to civic and community affairs. For many years he was a director of the Wayne County Fair board and of the Wayne County Feeders' association.

Former Classmates Meet After 28 Years

The Nebraska Children's Home society's receiving home in Omaha was the meeting place of two old friends who had not met for 28 years. They bumped into each other at the meeting held there last Wednesday.

The old friends were George Macklin, Wayne, and Roy Mattison. They were history classmates when they attended Wayne State Teachers college.

Mattison, formerly of Albion now lives in Omaha. He is an official in the National Park service and his wife adopted two children from the society.

Macklin, financial representative for the society, reports a record turnout attended this year's meeting. Tracy J. Peyske, Omaha, was named president of the society.

City School News

Kindergarten
We are now studying about the postoffice and of the different ways mail is carried. Both classes went to the local postoffice Friday to observe the way mail is handled.

George Berres directed the children on a tour through the building.

As a special treat, the children were given a ride back to school on the fire truck. Fire Chief Paul Rogge drove the truck.

Second Grade
Connie Carlson, Kenneth Olds and Gerald Schuor were absent the past week because of illness.

William Mellor visited our room Thursday afternoon.

Terry Marsh brought a kumquat to school Friday. We found from the World Book that it is a citrus fruit grown extensively in China and Japan.

This fruit, which resembles an orange, is slightly larger than a Brazil nut and is grown in California and Florida. It is used for making jam and marmalade.

Third Grade
Valentine's day is always a happy time for third graders. Sherry Gray and Susan Wright decorated the valentine box. The class made paper dolls, valentines. A large heart on the front board is used in many ways to recognize careful work done by the children.

Jerry Brandstetter, Diane Van Aulker and Roger Lueders will have charge of the games for the party Friday. Geraldine Gilbert brought popcorn on the cob and the children shelled and popped it.

They made sugared popcorn and colored it red.

Governor Peterson — A Good Appointment

Three weeks ago an editorial complimentary to Governor Val Peterson, from an Iowa newspaper, was re-printed in this column. Editor Bob Agee of Denison, Ia., said these things:
"We hope that Eisenhower can find a better job for Val Peterson than ambassador to India.
"To send him off to India to act as an ambassador would be a loss to the nation, a waste of his talents and knowledge . . . and there was more.
Frankly folks, Peterson was not particularly anxious to be an ambassador to any place. We heard him say so . . . heard him say he couldn't afford it. Yet of course, he was ready and willing to tackle the job like asked him to undertake . . . whatever it might be. (Men of wealth, serving as major ambassadors, usually spend far more than their salaries on the job and our country gets a bargain at the same time.)
Isn't it possible that all the hullabaloo about the India appointment could have been a trial balloon to test the reaction of Nebraska senators? (Just a thought . . . but they did react.)
As an administrative assistant to President Eisenhower . . . Val Peterson can do immeasurable good for the middle west, for Nebraska. He is a close friend of Sherman Adams, former New England governor who now heads the White House staff. We in Nebraska should be pleased.
All around it feels good to have an administration that knows Nebraska is here, and for 'em! Already on the job in Washington are Nebraskans Peterson, Brownell, Rankin and Homer Grunthier. We predict there will be a few more.

Cutting Costs

Many of the demands made upon the State Highway department for construction of hard-surfaced roads come from areas in Nebraska where gravel surfacing is most abundant and where permanent-type stretches are few and far between.
The argument usually accompanying those demands is that the traffic is sufficient to warrant getting out of the dust and, in the majority of cases, the evidence is there.
But there is also a corollary economic factor, as can be seen in results of official studies made over the past several years. They show conclusively that it costs more to drive on graveled roads than on pavement.
For example, a study by the Mississippi Highway department has brought out that passenger car operating costs average 4.8 cents per mile on pavement as compared to 5.6 cents per mile on gravel.
An Iowa State college study has shown that tires driven wholly on pavement were good for 13,000 miles more service than those run wholly on gravel. In 132,000 miles of travel on gravel, there were 98 punctures; in the same miles of travel on pavement, there was one puncture.
A report by the Brookings institution, Washington, D. C., states that the amount of travel that would cause a dollar's ($1) worth of depreciation to a passenger car while traveling on concrete would cause $1.43 in depreciation while traveling on low-type bituminous surface and $1.77 while traveling on gravel.
The Highway Research board has declared that automobile maintenance costs are 10 times greater when a vehicle is driven over dirt roads than when a vehicle is driven over pavement.
The board also has pointed out that the average gasoline mileage for passenger cars traveling on pavement is two miles per gallon greater than on gravel surfacing.
The third point in the board's study is that tire wear on gravel, at 25 miles per hour, is double the wear on pavement at the same speed.
The Nebraska Legislative council has taken cognizance of this situation, stating in its report to the 1933 Legislature, now in session:
"Good roads cost money, but crowded, outdated and broken up roads cost more. They take a heavy toll in accidents, fuel waste, vehicle expense and time lost, they impair the efficiency of essential transportation systems and they handicap the entire economy."
And from Albert Bradley, chairman of the National Highway Users conference, which includes in its membership petroleum, trucking and farm interests, has come

Way Back When . . .

30 Years Ago

Feb. 8, 1923—Monday afternoon the class of 1922 presented its picture to the high school. Paul Gossard made the presentation and Mrs. Allis Pollard responded. As a culmination of the community meeting held last week for the purpose of considering the purchase of the Wayne hospital, it was voted that a committee will be appointed to investigate more thoroughly the advisability of the purchase, reporting at another mass meeting the value of the property, the minimum initial cost, the operating costs and such other information as should be deemed useful in determining the action to be taken.
Hobart Auker's automobile, parked on Main street Tuesday afternoon, was badly wrecked by a runaway team belonging to George Redding. Mr. and Mrs. Auker got out of the car just a few moments before the accident happened.

The oldest son of Emil Barzoch, seven miles southeast of Wayne, sustained a fractured wrist Saturday when cranking a car. George Macklin has been named captain of the 1928 track squad at Wayne State Teachers college. Work of remodeling the Ahern store buildings, making two into one, is well advanced under the supervision of Secretary F. G. Dale of the Northeast Nebraska Athletic association mailed entry blanks Wednesday to high school basketball teams which will compete in the annual tournament to be held at the college in Wayne in February.

WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN ARE TWO of the greatest of all American heroes. As we observe their birthdays this month, perhaps we should know more about what they stood for . . . what made them great. How did the ideas of Washington and Lincoln become part of the national heritage? How do these ideas help us today? Ask at the library for books that answer these questions about America's great heroes.
"CURRIER AND IVES AMERICA" HAS SOME beautiful paintings of Washington and Lincoln. The American scenes depicted in this collection tell a story of our American heritage. Take some time to look it over while you are in the library this month. You will find it on one of the large tables in the reading room.

RECOMMENDED READING FOR THE WEEK:
"The Sojourner" by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, author of "The Yearling." This is a moving and beautiful book, the story of a man's life and the telling the author has endowed it with a measure of significance for every man. "Desiree," by Annemarie Selinko, the amazing story of Desiree Clary, the Cinderella from Marseilles, who followed her heart to the Swedish throne during the bold, glittering years of Napoleon's rise and fall. There are many other books in the Bonaparte family in its rise from rags to riches and of hundreds of other great and near-great men and women of that time. The story is full of action and at the same time historically accurate. This book was selected for the memorial shelf for F. E. Strahan, "Monsoon Quarter," by Marion Lowndes, is a novel with a south seas setting. The Bonaparte family in the psychological study holds the reader in suspense. Last, but not least "The Lady On the Beach," by Nora Berg. She tells what it is like to live a carefree life, no job, no money, no need of any, no plumbing or refrigeration. She makes it sound grand, until you get out from under the spell of the book. Undoubtedly the beach is not the people are interesting, though they might seem a little too cozy if your contact was more intimate than reading acquaintance. Anyway, it's fun reading about people who are so utterly different.
SPECIAL VALENTINE STORIES AND treats will be featured at the Thursday and Saturday story hours. Mumps and flu have been cutting attendance though nearly 200 books were issued Saturday.

these significant observations:
"That people want and are willing to pay for better highways is indicated by the resurgence of the toll road idea and the fact that actual use of most new toll roads so far has greatly exceeded prior estimates.
"This does not imply that toll roads can solve all our ills, but it does show this: People's desire for adequate roads is such that, under certain conditions and when they can see results, they will pay what is really a high fee for them.
Nebraskans are looking to the Legislature for action to get them out of the dust and to provide them more economical motor travel."
By Cliff Sandahl, chairman, Nebraska Editors Highway Conference.

Wildcats Take 82-77, 85-76 Wins

Coach Chuck Obvels Wayne State Wildcats roared into a second-place tie in the Nebraska College conference with rising wins over Chadron Friday and Saturday nights.

Friday night, the Wildcats came from behind in the last four minutes of play and dropped Chadron, 82 to 77 in the season's top contest at the auditorium.

Wayne State had an easier time Saturday night and jolted Chadron 85 to 76 for their tenth win of the season.

A balanced scoring attack led by Mike Mallette and Don Tietgen aided by Roger Higgins' rebounding gave Wayne State victory Friday night.

Mallette scored 20 points and Tietgen was close behind with 18 points. Chadron's ace Bud Larson, capped scoring honors in this contest with 24 points.

Chadron may have lost more than the ball game in Saturday night's tilt. Coach Loy Young may have lost Larson's services for the season when the cager slipped and re-injured his knee in the second quarter.

Tietgen scored 20 points in Saturday night's win. Carl Johnson added 16 counters to Wayne State's total.

Polio Benefit Cage Duel Is Tonight

"Victory for the east side is certain by a big margin," predicted Bob Harrison today when asked about the chances of his team in the hot basketball conflict scheduled for tonight at the city auditorium. "Any team who resorts to bribery is headed for defeat," Harrison emphasized.

According to Harrison, various west side merchants have been bribing him daily by buying his coffee.

Also, in spite of his complaints against professionalism, the west side team has gone on hiring professionals. Harrison cited the signing-up of Mayor Houdersheldt as an example. The west side has also hired Rodney Love for coach and this is unscrupulous, Harrison pointed out, because Love is a high school teacher.

Bob Johnson of the west-side team promptly informed Harrison that Love intends to play on his team, not coach the team. But that only makes the situation more deplorable, Harrison asserted, because anybody with a higher education hasn't any business playing basketball.

Johnson defended the hiring of Rodney Love on the grounds that he was chosen to play on the west side team not because he is a high school teacher but because he is a sign painter. Then Johnson charged the east side team of displaying favoritism by signing up John Kyl. It's illegal, Johnson contends, for a Chamber of Commerce secretary to take sides. The west coach has signed up Police Chief Mike Elyon to uphold him.

"Illegal, huh?" bristled Kyl when this charge reached his ears. "Just wait until tonight."

And that seems to be the sentiment of the entire teams of both the east side and west side. The game is scheduled to begin promptly at 7:30 p. m. since four full-length games between the Stirtz Buick team and Concord. All proceeds of both games will be contributed to the March of Dimes.

Players on the east side team are: John Kyl, Bob Harrison, Kent Hall, Dewey Nuss, Jerry Eulberg, Roy Coryell, Don Ehlers, Don Echtenkamp, Ivan Anderson, Dean Christopherson, Dutch Lessmann and Ismael Hughes.

West side players are: Glen Houdersheldt, Bob Johnson, Ted Armstrong, Bill Morrison, Dick Laeders, Wilbur Giese, Jim Fitzpatrick, Bill Piventzky, Rodney Love, John Ritz, John Anderson, Bob McLean, Don Denbeck, Howell Roberts and Mike Elyon.

Stirtz Buick players are: Suede Johnson, Dennis Zanders, Reno Piel, Jerry Volker, Wallace Kucera, Larry Ring, Roy Lanik and Morrison.

It Happened In NEBRASKA---

THIS was once described as a familiar sight on the midwest prairies... when the railway station was "too poor to put up a post to hold the mail bag." Frequently, it was said, a member of the postmaster's family would hold up the mail bag for the approaching train to pick up. Imagine trying this stunt with today's fast streamliners!

Also streamlined is today's tavern operation in Nebraska, which has reached a new high. An educational program by the brewing industry keeps tavernmen continually aware of their responsibilities to their community.

Wayne Loses To West Point, 71-60

West Point more than doubled Wayne High's point out-pour in the fatal fourth period and went home with a 71-60 basketball victory Friday night.

The Blue Devils were leading 47 to 44 as the final quarter got under way. West Point's invading Cadets sent 27 points swishing through the hoop while the Blue Devils hit only 13.

Dayton Daberkow—a name the Blue Devils will remember for awhile—was the main reason Coach Lloyd Horton's crew suffered their fourth defeat. Daberkow put together 12 field goals and nine free throws for 33 points.

Lack of rebounding and the inability to score in the fourth period killed Wayne High's chances.

Kongard Manske was Wayne's top offensive threat with 14 points. Wayne High travels to Waverly Friday night for a showdown with the highly touted Cuming county team.

NUTRENA ANNOUNCES SOW-30

Will all your baby pigs live through the critical early weeks? Read how "The Mighty Drop" can help more pigs live...

New Help to Farrow Big Healthy Pigs

How do you get big, healthy pigs? The place to start is in the ration of the brood-sow or gilt. And that's where "The Mighty Drop" can help. "The Mighty Drop" is the 12 lbs. or so of supplement you should feed each pig through the sow through gestation. It's so important that Nutrena has now developed a new motherhood supplement called SOW-30 to provide plenty of those special Motherhood nutrients a gilt or sow is known to need. It should help her farrow healthy, heavy pigs that have up to 6 times better chance than runts to reach weaning.

Why not put "The Mighty Drop" to work for you now? Call or see us today for a supply of new SOW-30.

Hot Layers in Cold Weather!

Hy-Line hybrids don't quit laying just because of unpleasant weather. Come cold winter or hot summer, Hy-Lines are bred to lay in high gear — the year around. They keep egg profits up when the thermometer's up or down.

They lay about a case more eggs a month per 100 birds housed than other chickens — as proved in hundreds of Divided Flock Tests conducted by poultrymen every year. Order Hy-Line chicks now.
