Supreme Court Hears $75,000 Damage Suit

The State Supreme court held a hearing on the Merlin Olson vs. Wayne county damage action suit at Lincoln yesterday.

Attorneys H. D. Addison and Charles McDermet and County Clerk C. A. Bard attended the hearing.

The hearing is a result of the auto accident six miles east of Wakefield Junior legion ball players missed the bridge and crashed in the creek.

Merlin Olson, through his mother, Mrs. Martha Olson, asked $75,000 for injuries received in the crash. He is still hospitalized by injuries.

When the case came up in the district court, Judge Lyle Jackson handed down a directed verdict favoring the county.

The case was then appealed to the supreme court.

At press time Wednesday, it was not known what action the Supreme court had taken.

200 Calves Now Tagged

There are now around 200 4-H club calves tagged in Wayne county, County Agent Harold Ingalls announced today.

Last year, 209 calves were tagged—a new high. Agent Ingalls believes around 225 calves are being tagged by county 4-H members this year.

Agent Ingalls will tag calves for Blue Ribbon Winners club members Saturday. Robert Waller, Carroll, is leader of the club.

Will Receive Storage Pay

A "resale" program to enable farmers to obtain a one-year extension of Commodity Credit Corporation loans on 1952 corn was announced today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Farmers also will be permitted to convert purchase agreements into corn loans for the extended period.

The extended loans will be carried through July 31, 1954 or earlier on demand by CCC. Farmers will receive a storage payment for the extended period. For the full "resale" period the storage payment will be 13 cents a bushel.

Department officials stated that the "resale" program is desirable this year in view of the large quantity of 1952 corn crop under purchase, and the need to use all available storage facilities on and off the farms. Most of the 229 million bushels of 1952 corn crop which had been put under purchase through Feb. 15 is in farm storage.

Officials estimate that as much as 300 million bushels of 1952 corn crop may be under purchase support by the expiration of the existing period on May 31, 1953. Most of this corn will be in farm storage.

"Resale" will minimize the cost of re-handling corn which is ultimately used on the farms. Corn taken over by CCC after July 31, 1953 will have to be moved off the farm and put into CCC bins or commercial storage.

Until today's announcement, loans on 1952 corn crop were scheduled to mature on July 31, 1953. Farmers desiring to extend their loans under the "resale" program must make such application to their commodity committee during the period Aug. 1-Sept. 30.

It now appears that wheat acreage allotment and marketing quotas will be proclaimed for the 1954 wheat crop. This means a history of the seeding and harvesting of 1951, '52 and '53 wheat crops must be obtained for each farm that grows wheat before the 1954 wheat seeding.

If acreage allotments are proclaimed and marketing quotas are not proclaimed, farmers who plant within their acreage allotment will be eligible for commodity loans at 90 per cent of parity, the same as now.

If marketing quotas are proclaimed and are approved by two-thirds of the wheat farmers, farmers who plant within their acreage allotment will be eligible for commodity loans at 90 per cent of parity, the same as now.

Farmers who over-plant their allotment will be required to store their excess production or pay a penalty of 50 per cent of the loan price on each bushel sold. If quotas are not approved by two-thirds of wheat farmers, those who plant within their acreage allotment will be eligible for commodity loans at 50 per cent of parity.

The seal price on oats, barley and rye is two cents a bushel higher this year. Seal prices are: oats, 70c; barley $1.26 and rye $1.41.

Weather Notes

Well, the weatherman finally turned it off. We've had three days of sunshine following four rainy days.

When we went to press last Wednesday, it had rained 40 up to noon, before Archie Warrt closed the books on Wednesday. It rained an additional 33, making 73 in all.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday started off in the same fashion — rather dampish. Thursday's rainfall amounted to .46; Friday's, .16; Saturday's, .12 and Sunday's, .21 of an inch.

Need plenty of sunshine to warm up the ground for corn planting. How about it Weatherman? Are you listening?

Senator to Fight For Power Funds

Washington, D. C. Senator Hugh Butler revealed today that he intends to make a fight for restoration of funds for construction of the transmission line from Gavins Point to Belden.

All appropriations for this project for the next fiscal year were deleted by the House of Representatives on the ground that the new administration should have time to study and review the whole program of construction.

The Nebraska Senator pointed out that early construction of this transmission line is essential in order to permit the government to recover the cost of the large investments by the Federal Government in construction of power dams on the Missouri.

Engravings Are On Exhibit at WSTC

"Forms in Organized Rhythm" is the theme of 20 copper plate engravings on display in the Wayne State student lounge.

The engravings by Gladys Meek were brought to the campus by the Wayne State art department.

Wed at Randolph
Herald's Special News Service
Randolph — Gladys Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meyer and Leo Gubbels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gubbels, were united in marriage April 14 at 9:30 in the St. Francis church, Randolph. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Peter Zarkauskus.

The bride wore a dress of white nylon over taffeta with fitted bodice, buttons down the back and tapered sleeves ending at the wrists. The fingertip veil fell from a lace angel glow cap. She carried a colonial bouquet.

Marilyn Meyer, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a blue taffeta gown with a net overskirt and bolero jacket. Lucille Gubbels, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. She chose a pink gown fashioned like the maid of honor's. Both bouquets were of white carnations.

Flower girl was Judy Meyer, sister of the bride. Robert Caldwell, nephew of the bride was ring-bearer.

Ivan Gubbels was best man and attendant was Donald Gubbels. Ushers were Robert Meyer and John Meyer, Jr.

Mrs. Meyer and Mrs. Gubbels both wore navy dresses and had pink carnation corsages.

Reception was held in the church parlors. LaVerna Schier, Jeanette Finn, Marian Kolsch, Donna Scott, Joann Kuhl, Beverly Kruger, Mrs. Carl Holme and Mrs. Henry Astendorf served. Carol Borst was in charge of the guest book. Arlene Tramp cared for the gifts. The wedding cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Roy Gibson and Mrs. Louis Dwyer. Dinner was served at the bride's home for the immediate family.

Baskets of gladioli and a lighted cross decorated the altar. Mrs. Clayton Meyer, accompanied by Mrs. William Steckelberg, sang "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a gown of floor-length with lace over satin and nylon pleats inset in the front of the skirt. The nylon fingertip veil fell from a small lace cap. Her bouquet was of red roses.

Mrs. Dwight Kuhl, Plainview, was bridesmaid. Her dress was of blue taffeta. The skirt was caught up by baby roses to form scallops and she wore a tiny lace cap with baby roses. Her flowers were pink carnations.

Dwight Kuhl, Plainview, was best man. Ushers were Boyd Cunningham and Paul Andrew, both of Randolph.

Mrs. Nissen wore a teal blue dress. Mrs. Taylor chose a brown and white check suit. Both had red rose corsages.

Reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Minnie Laakas, Mrs. Mary Collier, Mrs. Paul Andrew and Mrs. Boyd Cunningham were in charge. The cake was baked and decorated by Leo Moes, Audubon, Ia. Mrs. Richard Patent and Mrs. Gaylord Gross were in charge of the gifts. Teresia Bierbaum had the guest book.

The bride graduated from Plainview high school and has been employed in Omaha.

The bridegroom graduated from an Omaha high school. He served in Korea and was discharged six weeks ago.

The bride wore a black and white

Tekamah Cops Meet

Tekamah high school's track squad dominated the Wayne State High School Invitational track meet Monday afternoon by taking six first places and tying for two other firsts in 12 events.

The Tekamah group, competing with 14 other schools, won top spot in the shot put, pole vault, 100-yd. dash, 120-yd. high hurdles, 120-yd. low hurdles and the 880-yd. relays.

Two Tekamah entries shared the first place with Pierce and Hartington in the high jump.

The meet, which had been postponed twice, saw one record broken when the Heolan junior high relay squad ran the 440-yd. relay in :50.4, breaking the record they set last year.

The event winners were as follows: Shot put, Dick Aliano, Tekamah, 44 ft. 5 in.; pole vault, Fred Koudele, Tekamah, 11 ft.; 100-yd. dash, Stan Hargleroad, Tekamah, :11.1; mile run, Tom Wilshusen, North Bend, 4:59.8; 120-yd. high hurdles, Claude Smith, Tekamah, 1:17.7; 180-yd. low hurdles, Claude Smith, Tekamah, :21.4; 440-yd. relay, Heolan high (Pat Doyle, Tom Gentian, Bob Murray, Bill Richard), :50.4; 880-yd. relay, Tekamah (Claude Smith, Paul Novacek, Fred Koudele, Stan Hargleroad), 1:39.8; and middle relay, Heolan high (Jerry Marley, Dary Sittman, Mel Rice, Don Hoffmann), 3:56.4.

Wayne High's 440-yd. junior high relay team took second, Larry

Noah John Bolton Rites Held Here Monday Afternoon

Funeral services for Noah John Bolton were held Monday at Beckenhauer chapel, Wayne, at 2 p.m. Rev. H. M. Roth, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Pilger, officiated. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery, Wayne.

Mrs. Marlene Grebig, accompanied by Marlene Nelson, sang

"Rock of Ages" and "He Is So Precious to Me."
Orville Tobias, Ed. Rathman, Henry Ruter, Don Quinn, Fred Tarnow and Paul Spittler were pallbearers.

Noah John Bolton was born at Martinburg, on March 6, 1900. He died at his farm northwest of Pilger Friday morning, May 1, at the age of 33 years, 1 month and 24 days.

At the age of seven, he moved with his family to Bloomfield. It was there that he grew to manhood and was baptized and confirmed in the Trinity Lutheran church.

After residing in this territory for a number of years, he moved to Wisner in 1934. On August 12, 1936, he was united in marriage with Miss Elizabeth Jones, Wisner. Following their marriage, the couple lived on farms in Wayne county.

About five years ago, Mr. Bolton was afflicted with a malady which forced him to undergo major surgery four times. Since that time, his health had been failing.

Survivors include his wife, Mary, three children, Phyllis, Mrs. Len Tes, Norfolk, Nebraska, Mrs. Leroy King, Stanton, and Dean Bolton, Omaha, stepdaughter, Mrs. Helen Bolton, McCook; two sisters, Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, Lawton, Okla., and Mrs. Henry Lorenz, Portland, Ore.; three half-sisters, Mrs. Albert Ruppel, Beaver, Minn., Mrs. Frank Mader, Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Jerry Davis, McCook; two half-brothers, Fred, Twin Rock, Ore.; Norman and Wilbert, both of National City, Calif.; Emil, Omaha, and Milton, Concordia, Mo.; Mrs. Marlene Grebig, accompanied by Marlene Nelson, sang

Mayor Compliments Councilmen
Mayor Glen Houdersheldt paid members of the city council, Ed Bahe, L. B. McClure, Willard Wagner, F. J. Hughes, B. A. Meyer and W. C. Pfeil, a fine compliment at last Tuesday night's reorganizational meeting when he appointed them to their same committees for another year.

The mayor's decision emphasized the complete confidence he places in the councilmen. This confidence is one of the factors that gives Wayne a fine governmental body. Having attended at least a portion of most of the council meetings for the past 21 months, this writer has had the opportunity to sit in on the policy making which governs our city.

There is clearly an air of good feeling between the mayor and the councilmen which allows transactions to be handled efficiently and without undue haggling. It means a lot to a town to be efficiently governed. It makes the difference of being just a town or a good town. The mayor complimented the councilmen for their time and effort put forward to run our city. Gentlemen—we thank you.

Letters Invited
The editors of The Herald invite readers to send letters discussing civic matters and other affairs of interest and significance to the people of Wayne county and surrounding territory.

30 Years Ago
May 3, 1908—A special meeting of the city council was held Tuesday morning, May 1, to reorganize and attend to business incident to the beginning of the fiscal year.

25 Years Ago
May 3, 1913—New office rooms completed on the second story of the Ahern building are occupied by Dr. S. A. Lutgen, Dr. L. W. Jameson, Dr. C. T. Ingham, Drs. Siman and Siman and Dr. L. B. Young.

20 Years Ago
May 4, 1918—Wayne Legion post met last evening to make plans for Memorial day program. Commander C. A. Orr appointed committees.

15 Years Ago
May 5, 1938—The city's new building for car testing will be completed within a few days. Equipment should arrive next week and will be installed for use the last of May.

THE FARMERS ARE WONDERING WHEN the rains will cease and they can plant their crops. The gardeners are getting impatient to plant their onions and radishes and we are longing to have our shrubs put in since they were supposed to be gracing the front of our building by now.

having been reached without either man falling... Sixteen Wayne people represented the Wayne-Kiwanis club at the meeting held in the chapter of the newly organized club at Norfolk Thursday night.

Der Heine, Street Commissioner Henry Victor, took me on a personal tour of the city the other day. Heine has problems. Some residents object violently to dumping of the gravel collected by the street cleaner and others scream just as loudly for the dirt and pebble mixture.

Weatherman had most of the local golfers nervous wrecks before he finally gave the go-ahead on this year's golfing season. At the best, it's a short season and it may even be shorter this year.

Mert Hilton is the first Wayne resident to pull a full-grown radish out of his garden this spring. Mert, how about some gardening tips for our readers?

Bill Morrison and his three women, Lou, Kim and Ebby, left Sunday for Lake George, Minn. where they will spend the summer. Ebby is the little gal in the black fur coat.

Attention Coryells! Next time you sell Ed Babe a pickup, show him how to close the hood. Ed was giving the hood the foot treatment the other day.

Experience is still the best teacher. Dave Ewing will confirm this. The Ewings had a minor plumbing problem at their residence the other day, or at least it was minor until Dave attacked the problem ala Dagwood. Before the incident came to a close, Mrs. Ewing had to borrow water from the neighbors and Dave was stuck with a plumbing bill.

You ladies who didn't attend the canning school Thursday missed a good bet.

Not much for gardening but get a bathroom view of how it should be done. Each morning...

THREE NEW BOOKS WENT ON THE rental shelf this week. One is a mystery, "The Case of the Hesitant Hostess," by Eric Stanley Gardner; another is "The Return of Lanny Budd," by Upton Sinclair, which follows up the Lanny Budd series; and the other is "Invitation to Folly," by Susan Ertz.

WE KNOW IT TO BE A RULE OF THIS paper to know no portents, so much as we would like to quote from Ogden Nash's new book "The Private Dining Room," which will limit our quote to his terse rhyme about mules. "In the world of mules there are no rules" It is quite useless to quote from Ogden Nash anyway, because if you are a fan you will rush right in for the book, and if you aren't, you wouldn't care. People are that way about his poetry. We are prejudiced, we like him.

NEBRASKA RACING... FUN THAT CREATES FUNDS FOR YOUR COMMUNITY
In Nebraska, racing is a sport, not a business. Everyone shares in the proceeds. Your community... your charitable, educational and civic enterprises... your county fairs, stock shows and 4-H activities all benefit. These are just a few of the ways proceeds go back to you and over a million other Nebraskans.

Accurate planting that boosts yields... faster planting that enables you to beat bad weather... are yours with a John Deere Tractor Corn Planter. Both the No. 490 Four-Row, shown above, and the No. 290 Two-Row have high-speed valves that assure well-bunched, perfectly checked hills even at 5 miles per hour. This means you can check-plant up to 60 acres a day with the No. 490... as much as 30 acres a day with the two-row No. 290.

Wayne boasts its own Tarzan. Ever see the tree house at Sixth and Logan streets? It's inhabited by Doug Finn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Finn.

Hat's off department - Mrs. Leo Jordan, Carroll, rings the bell this week. Mrs. Jordan is chairman of the Wayne County Home Extension council. The chic farm wife directs the council in an easy, gracious manner some of our politicians would do well to copy.

between strokes of the razor - yours truly watches J. J. Steele in action. Wayne's postmaster spends many early morning hours with his flowers and if it ever warms up, you will be able to see the results of his tender care.

Have you noticed John F. Eining's new pickup? It's a nice pastel green - very fashionable for a pickup.

Sunday is Mother's day. Ladies, we salute you. Bless you, one and all.

It never rains, but it pours... as the old saying goes. Of course it sure was true back home on the farm - it would rain 'til the corn got weedy and keep on raining so you couldn't get in to clean out the weeds...

Well, the past week we found it can happen around a weekly newspaper, too. And when we were getting out a special service Dollar Day edition too.

Pecking away at the keyboard with one hand (the other sporting an out-size bandage) Lloyd reminded you of someone trying to use a typewriter with mittens on. In fact it just doesn't work.

So we were unable to handle some news and several ads that had been prepared... just couldn't get them set in type. Even with the help of Duane Kunzman, good neighbor, from the Wakefield Republican, who came over Tuesday evening for a spell, we couldn't catch up.

So... long about 2 a.m. we sort of felt like it had poured.

Wakefield Junior-Senior Prom Held Friday Night

The junior class of Wakefield high school entertained the senior class at the annual banquet and prom Friday evening at the high school auditorium.

The banquet hall was decorated in the Hawaiian theme. The tables were decorated with leis, vases and miniature palm trees with little fish and seashell cutouts.

The menu was included in a keepsake memory book and a Hawaiian lei was hung over the back of the chairs for each guest.

A grasshopper was built in the front of the hall with cutout paper Hawaiian dancers and palm trees around it.

The room was canopied with blue tissue paper and surrounded by a miniature stone wall.

The waiters were dressed in bright shirts and white trousers and the waitresses wore peasant blouses and grass skirts. All wore leis and were barefoot.

The junior mother served the banquet.

Bobbie Schroeder entertained a group of boys Wednesday evening at a theater party to celebrate his birthday.

PRICE! PERFORMANCE! BEAUTY! LONG LIFE!

4-Way Proof that Dollar for Dollar you can't beat a Pontiac

Here's how to prove Pontiac value: First, get behind the wheel and drive it—see how Pontiac puts you out in front in traffic, skims you along the open road with surprising economy; how its big, husky high-compression engine provides power to spare.

Next, take a good long look at its distinctive styling and its luxurious color-matched interiors. Consider, also, Pontiac's reputation for unsurpassed dependability, long-range economy and high resale value.

Finally, compare its low price—so low, in fact, that if you can afford any new car you can afford a Pontiac. Why not come in and see for yourself?

NEBRASKA FARM OUTLOOK

(The MONTHLY FARM OUTLOOK is reprinted from Notes on Nebraska Farm Business, a monthly publication of the Department of Agricultural Economics, Agricultural Extension Service, College of Agriculture, University of Nebraska, Lincoln. This authoritative report is reprinted each month by the State National Bank of Wayne as a service to our customers and friends.)

Can You Increase Your Farm Income

During the forties, Nebraska farmers experienced favorable price relationships and farm incomes were high. Now, price relationships are becoming less favorable. This means less farm profit out of which to live and to retire indebtedness. For some of the less efficient farmers, it may even mean a threat to the continuation of operations unless changes can be made which will make their businesses more profitable. The pertinent question facing you as farmers is what changes should I make and how can I accomplish them?

We see and hear a great deal about this being a time when we should cut down on expenses. But what you are really interested in doing is increasing your net farm income. In some instances, this may call for even greater cash expenditures than you have been making.

Less Expenses or More Net Income

As a rule, increasing the net farm income on any farm requires much careful thinking and planning. This cannot be completed at one sitting. All of the alternatives should be considered. Ideas must be shuffled and reshuffled as you ride the tractor, drive to town, or milk the cows.

In general, there are two types of changes which can be made to improve farm incomes. These are: (1) changes in combinations of crops grown and/or livestock produced, and (2) changes in practices used within enterprises.

Proper Enterprise Organization

Consider the first of these general methods for a moment. Asking yourself these questions in regard to your organization:

1. Am I making the best use of the land I have? Steep, badly eroded hillsides usually should be seeded to hay or pasture. Likewise, wet spots in fields might be handled more profitably if they were seeded down to grass. In some instances the use of mechanical conservation practices may enable you to continue using land for crop production which otherwise would more logically be used as permanent pasture.

2. Am I using my cropland to the best advantage? Some crops are more profitable than others and so should have a more prominent place in the cropping program. In order to get the best results, however, soil productivity must be maintained. Weeds, insects, and plant diseases must be controlled. The real objective of your cropping program is to adopt a combination of crops along with management practices which will give you the most satisfactory net income over a period of years.

3. Am I keeping the right kind and number of livestock? The feed produced on a particular farm has an important bearing on the kind of livestock kept. Beef cattle can generally make better use of low-grade roughages than dairy cattle. Good market outlets for eggs or milk may influence your livestock programs. Likewise, the labor supply and the likes and dislikes of the operator must be considered.

4. Is the machinery, equipment, and building set-up which I have really well suited to the job at hand? Investments along these lines may be made with an eye toward (1) increasing net farm income (greater production or better quality production per unit of cost), (2) easier work, or (3) more leisure time. Wrong judgments on money spent for either buildings or machinery are not easily erased or corrected—not, at least, without financial loss. Well adapted labor-saving machinery, when fully employed, helps greatly in achieving efficient, low cost farm production. Investments in either machinery or buildings, as a rule, represent large capital outlays, the returns from which may be realized only over a period of years. Consequently, there is always considerable element of financial risk involved where such investments are made. This is especially true for the man who is hard pressed for cash or credit, and who goes in debt to get either new buildings or machinery.

Cattle

Feeders at New High

Slaughter prices continue to show weakness. Numbers slaughtered first week of April up 27% over corresponding week a year ago, and actual meat production up 27%. Number of cattle on grain feed April 1 were at an all time high—35% greater than a year ago. Little activity in the Sand Hills. More feeders and stockers are expected to be sold this spring than last. Build up of cattle numbers still increasing. Little relief seen.

duction which otherwise would more logically be used as permanent pasture.

2. Am I using my cropland to the best advantage? Some crops are more profitable than others and so should have a more prominent place in the cropping program. In order to get the best results, however, soil productivity must be maintained. Weeds, insects, and plant diseases must

Hogs

Prices Continue To Raise

Prices continue to steadily advance as numbers slaughtered decline. Numbers slaughtered during first week of April down 14% from a year ago. More hogs and lower prices this fall.

Payments may be difficult it not impossible to make in case of crop failure or serious price declines. If machinery purchases are to be made, joint ownership with a neighbor or the purchase of a good used implement should be very seriously considered.

Improving Management Practices

For many, however, the opportunities for increasing farm incomes through reorganization seem rather intangible. For such people the solution may appear to be almost entirely within the realm of the second general type of change affecting farm income—improved management practices. Just what can we do along these lines which will improve our net farm incomes?

There are several sources from which farmers can obtain ideas for adoption on their farm. These include (1) observation of what their neighbors are doing, (2) trial and error process by which they try out new ideas on a small scale to see how well they work, (3) results of experiment station research which are recommended by the extension service, and (4) out-state testing results.

Proper Use of Cash or Credit

In considering possible changes, farmers

"Our Roots are In This Land"

should never lose sight of the various alternative uses which can be made of the resources at hand. For example, would a hundred dollars spent for fertilizer be as profitable as if used to buy more protein? You have to do some figuring in deciding which you are going to do if you are short of cash or credit. If your banker is wide awake and well informed on agriculture, he can help you think through this kind of a problem. Perhaps your county agent can help you decide which would give you the greatest returns. Sometimes there may not be a clear cut answer but your better judgment may tell you that one is a better bet than the other.

Three Types of Management Practices

In general, managements practices can be divided into three categories: (1) those that may require more labor but little if any, additional cash output; (2) those that require relatively small cash outlays with the possibility of a quick return on the investment; and (3) those which may call for rather sizeable cash expenditures and which will pay off only over a period of years. Not everyone is in a position to carry out practices requiring increased cash expenditures. Many of the best practices, however, are ones which may call for increased expenditures.

Close attention to the selection of seeds and breeding stock combined with good soil fertility practices, careful feeding of balanced rations, and good care and full use of labor-saving machinery will go far toward making a well organized farm business successful.

Good Management Practices

Check over the accompanying list of some of the important farm practices to see how many you are using.

Dairy . . .

The government doesn't buy butter that grades less than 90 score (grade B). Number 1 cream must be very carefully graded to make B-grade butter. As a result there's no support price for butter that's made from No. 2 cream.

PREP STUDENTS ENJOY LAST WHIRL OF SCHOOL LIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Andrews and Lorraine visited in the Charles Kempky home, Lyons, Sunday. Mrs. Pearl Hendrickson, who had been staying in the Kempky home, came back with them to spend a few days.

Rush, rush, hurry, hurry is all the students do in trying to keep up with everything going on at Prep for the last week of school.
For example, let's take a junior girl who is busy trying to keep up with everything. The week before May 15 is very busy for her. She is one of the chairmen to get things rounded up for the junior-senior prom on May 15. Besides getting last minute things done she has to dress in that new formal and even be there early to put final decorations on the table.

After the big night of May 15, rest is needed during the week-end because high school and college baccalaureate is May 17.
May 18 is high school commencement at 8 p.m. She has to lead the senior class to their right places.

May 20 is a dreadful day and yet a happy one...exams! But then in the afternoon the high school gets out early for their school picnic. Just think, the last day of school has finally arrived!
Thank goodness, the high school doesn't have to wait until May 21 to get out of school like the elementary grades. And there is no summer school.
Then May 22, which may also be a dreaded day for some. It is the day for report cards. (Hope we pass.) The day is ended by college commencement in the Willow bowl. Just think, the last day of school Yippee!

Mr. and Mrs. William Ingram, Omaha, visited in the W. G. Ingram and the Walter Bentback homes this weekend.
Mrs. Earl Merchant returned home from Philadelphia, Pa. Wednesday. They had been visiting in the Stanley Merchant home.
Renee Wiltse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wiltse, spent last weekend at Norfolk in the Dr. N. J. Pickett home.
Mrs. Kermit Andrews, Mrs. Loren Thompson and Mrs. Fred VonSeegern called in the Henry Barjenbruch home Thursday evening.

COOPER CANDY

NOW—Sugar coated pig starter pellets of mouth watering goodness. Baby pigs have a sweet tooth and start nibbling on Cooper Candy when just 2 or 3 days old. Only 3 1/2 lbs. is required per pig.

What you can expect if you feed COOPER CANDY

1. A fast start and uniform pigs, even in the largest litters; the runs live and catch up with their litter mates.
2. Low mortality — pigs get a tremendous shot of anti-biotics before disease gets a chance.
3. Cooper Candy contains sugar, rolled oats, and other quickly digested high energy feeds that give the pigs lots of "body heat" and unusual resistance to cold and temperature changes — it keeps them happy.

Winside Parent-Band Group Plans Concert

The Winside Parent-Band association met at the Iler Hanson home Monday evening. Mrs. Otto Graef was in charge of the business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Kent Jackson.

Plans were made for the spring band concert to be held Wednesday, May 13.

It was voted to hold a food sale in conjunction with the concert. The following committee was named to take charge: Mrs. August Koch, chairman; Mrs. C. A. Apkins; Mrs. Frank Fler and Mrs. Otto Graef.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koch were guests.

After the business meeting 10-point pitch was played.

Prizes went to Mrs. I. F. Gaebler, Mrs. Stanley Westergard, Mrs. Graef and Leland Koch.

The hostesses, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. William Wylie, served lunch. The next meeting will be in the Frank Fler home Monday, May 18.

Mrs. Marvin Smits was surprised Tuesday evening when the following neighbors came for a surprise party in honor of her birthday: Mr. and Mrs. Don Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Petrick, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wacker and Mr. and Mrs. Don Gillespie. After an evening of cards, the guests served lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stevens and family were guests in the Gene Behmer home Tuesday evening for Mrs. Behmer's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brogren and daughters spent Sunday evening in the Alvin Bargstadt home.

Former Winside Youth Marries

James William Lewis, Omaha, formerly of Winside, and Deloris Deavens, Omaha, were married at a home wedding Saturday, May 2 at 4 o'clock in the home of Mr. Lewis' sister, Mrs. Jack Wadum, Omaha. Rev. Clarence W. Newquist, Primrose, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Deavens. Mr. Lewis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Lewis, formerly of Winside. The bride wore a white satin formal and a small white lace that which held her nylon fingertip veil.

James Deavens, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a blue dress of net over satin. Jack Wadum was best man.

Only near relatives were present for the ceremony.

A dinner was served at the American Legion club room at noon for the wedding party.

A reception was held in the Jack Wadum home following the wedding.

The couple left for Casper, Wyo. where they will make their home.

Mrs. Etta Lewis, Winside, grandmother of the bridegroom, attended the wedding.
