City Council Slates Police Station Remodeling Soon

What About the Cardplayers?

Tuesday night Wayne's city council moved to remodel the police station in the fire hall. Oct. 12 eight men appeared before the council requesting facilities for playing cards. They had earlier been ousted from the fire hall after complaints by firemen.

We think the remodeling is merely a council move to provide card-playing facilities, even though mention of card-playing was carefully avoided during Tuesday night's discussion. We understand that council members were severely criticized for even considering a place for these men to play cards.

The editors of The Wayne Herald believe the city SHOULD furnish a place of recreation for our older citizens. We go all out for the rest of our citizens—why not for the elders too?

We can't expect them to play on sliding boards and swings at Bressler park or play midget ball. Varied recreational facilities are found in Wayne. We have parks, skating rink, swimming pool, ball field, golf course and bridge lessons being given in the city library. Why not let this group of men play cards in city owned property?

Certainly there should be some standards of behavior and cleanliness required as is necessary at the rest of our recreational facilities, but there is no reason why such standards could not be met and the men still play cards.

These men are valuable citizens. They have lived here a long time. They have paid and are paying taxes. They have helped make Wayne what it is today. There is no reason why we should shunt them off into a dark corner just because they want a place to play cards.

We hope the city does furnish a place for the card players... and soon.

The Wayne Herald invites comment on this issue as it does on all issues and opens the editorial page for both sides of the question. Letters must be signed when we receive them, but names will be withheld on request.

Rent Airport Pasture to H. Sorensen

Remodeling of the police station at the city hall was the main order of business at Tuesday night's city council meeting. The council authorized the building committee to proceed with remodeling plans. This would move the jail cells into part of the present room used to store fire trucks.

The remodeling move followed reports by Mayor Houdersheldt and Councilman Hughes that card players had again requested space at the city hall. Remodeling of the police station was immediately discussed and no further mention made of card playing.

Renting of the airport pasture was ordered Tuesday. The tract was re-leased to Harold Sorensen for $582. This was the highest of four bids received. Others were: Kermit Fork, $585.10; Frances Fork, $521; and Robert Boeckenhauer, $425. Sorensen's successful bid last year was $502.

Engineer Jim Thorburn was authorized to prepare plans for a bath house for the new municipal swimming pool. The council tentatively approved a proposed sketch by Thorburn Tuesday.

Progress on the pool is speeding up. Paving of the floor of the main pool will start this week. Walls have been completed as has the wading pool.

Saturday Noon Closing. A request by City Clerk Walter Drexler to close the city office at noon on Saturdays was also approved. This change will probably go into effect Dec. 1.

Missouri's blocked conversion attempt against Colorado Saturday meant $5 to LeRoy Griesch, Wayne, in The Wayne Herald's final football contest.

Griesch named 20 of the 21 winners correctly. He erred only on the Missouri-Colorado tie. Thus he receives the $5 first prize. He would have gotten $10 had Missouri won the game.

Jim Fitzpatrick and Shirley Malen both of Wayne, tied for second. Both missed two winners. Fitzpatrick receives $3, second prize since his print estimate was nearest the correct total of $91. He estimated 702 to 587 for Mrs. Malen.

AI Ehlers, Wayne, also missed two winners but estimated only 537 points. Overall the entries were outstanding in the final contest. Out of 257 entrants, 37 missed four or less.

FARM NEWS REVIEW AND FORECAST

"Our Roots Are In This Land"

Commodity Briefs

CATTLE

Prices of slaughter cattle have shown strength since the middle of July. Prices have remained steady during September and 1st half of October. Prices are expected to remain strong through the holiday season. Bunching may periodically weaken prices. Feeder cattle prices show an unusually narrow spread between choice and fancy grades. Apparently buyers prefer the low choice grades and will pay very little for a higher grade steer. Prices are expected to hold up because Wyoming, Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas have liquidated their excess numbers due to the early and continuing drouth.

CORN

Price support rates for 1954 corn will range between $1.55 and $1.59 in the commercial corn producing counties. This is full 90% of parity. In non-commercial corn producing counties, the loan rate will be 75% of parity—$1.18 to $1.20.

OATS

On October 4 President Eisenhower signed a Proclamation limiting imports of oats into the United States from all sources to 40 million bushels during the period October 1, 1954 to September 30, 1955. This includes hulled and unhulled ground oats, but does not apply to certified or registered seed oats if grown under certain conditions.

The BUTTER and MILK SITUATION

Several phases of the dairy industry have taken on a new look. The recent summer drought period cut deeply into dairy production. Beginning about July 15, butter and cheese production dropped below the previous 5-year average for the first time since 1951.

The national butter production for the week of September 23 was 21.2 million pounds as compared to 23 million pounds for the corresponding 5-year average.

Cheese production followed a similar trend. At present, butter and cheese production is about 91-93 percent of the previous 5-year production average.

The butter production trend for Nebraska follows the national pattern. Surplus production has been considerably reduced to the extent that price support purchases were discontinued September 17. All Nebraska butter is now finding its market through regular consumption channels.

Closer Grading of Cream

Nebraska farmers can expect closer grading on their cream. Creameries can do little to improve the quality of the product they receive. The grade of the butter reflects the quality of cream received.

A housewife, having an unfortunate experience with a pound of butter, has no obligation to return to that product when there is a wide choice of other foods on the market. Quality cream for quality butter is a "must" for the Nebraska farmer.

A national survey, completed early in 1954, indicates that 83% of consumers using butter did so because they preferred its flavor and lower melting point. Apparently, during periods of reasonably good business conditions, the price of butter has little influence on the butter consumption pattern of those people who buy this product at present prices.

The butter industry would do well to take advantage of this information and make a greater effort to improve the quality of the product which enters the consumer market.

Quality Control in Fluid Milk

The fluid milk industry has made considerable progress in adopting a quality control program. About 75 to 80% of the milk bottled in Nebraska is Grade A, but much of the bottled milk sold outside the larger cities is ungraded.

A city or town must adopt a Grade A ordinance before a dairy is obligated to sell Grade A milk within its city limits. Such an ordinance assures the consumers of that municipality a supply of Grade A milk if it is enforced.

A recent spotcheck revealed that a large portion of out-state people assumed they received Grade A milk because of a familiar brand name on a container.

The price spread between Grade A and ungraded farm milk, sometimes called Grade C, is about $2 per hundredweight in most Nebraska markets. Dairy farmers should take advantage of a Grade A price wherever possible. Records indicate that over a period of many months it has been more profitable to separate the cream and feed the skim milk to livestock rather than sell ungraded fluid milk.

Some surveys and observations show that quality-control in fluid milk may result in increased consumption. Such a survey was completed in Nebraska in August, 1953. It revealed that those cities in Nebraska whose townspeople were receiving Grade A milk had a per capita milk consumption of 12 to 17% greater than those receiving ungraded milk. Apparently, the Grade A milk consumers drank more milk because they liked it. Increased consumption was encouraged by uniform flavor and greater keeping qualities.

The retail price spread between Grade A and ungraded milk ranges from zero to three cents per quart. Most markets have a one-cent spread. Price seems to have little influence on consumption of milk, as illustrated by the Kansas City market. The average retail price per quart of milk for July, 1953 was 20 cents. The price had dropped to 15 cents a quart or 29 cents per half gallon in July, 1954. This was a drop of 20 to 25% while retail sales increased less than 1%. People apparently did not buy very much more milk because it was cheaper.

Significance of Trends

The Nebraska butter industry can retain much of its present rate of consumption and perhaps gain back some customers who have stopped eating butter, provided a more stringent cream quality program is carried out. Some cream producers may wish to seek other farm enterprises that provide a better income than cream. It will take a lot more effort beyond back slapping and well wishing within the industry to raise the quality of Nebraska butter. It must be remembered that the consumer is the final judge of where the next purchase will be made.

The fluid milk industry is more aggressive and quality-conscious. It has an excellent opportunity to compete with other foods. This industry has not been handicapped by insurmountable surpluses. Nebraska can increase its sales volume by providing a supply of high-quality milk for its consumers, especially in the smaller communities in the state.

FARM COSTS and FARM PRICES

General business conditions have an important bearing on the prices which farmers receive, as well as those which they pay. General business activity off during July and early August as compared to the second quarter of the year. Employment rose less than usual. However, building construction was at an all-time high in July, and an upswing in steel and automobile production is expected.

Consumer spending rose to an all-time high during April-June, due to lower tax rates, and an increase in the use of credit. On the other hand, consumer incomes were off somewhat.

Prices for poultry and dairy products are both down as compared to a year ago. Price relationships are less favorable for milk and egg production than during the past several years. However, with an increase in the number of milk cows on farms the production of milk for the year as a whole is expected to be nearly 4 billion pounds above 1953. Egg production is also up over last year.

Apparently, the number of sheep and lambs on farms is being reduced. Prices for lambs have been quite weak, and they are not likely to recover until after the fall marketing season.

SUPPORT PRICES REDUCED

Prices for the record 1954 crop of soybeans are expected to be equal to the support price. Corn prices are expected to continue high as compared to barley and oats, until the new crop is harvested. Under the Agricultural Act of 1954 the prices of the 1955 wheat crop may be supported at 82½% of parity because of the large supply, rather than 90%. On the basis of the July parity of $2.49, this would mean an average price of $2.05 for the country as a whole, as compared with $2.24 for the 1954 crop.

FARMERS' COSTS HIGHER

Because of price declines for several farm products in prospect, farmers are increasingly interested in the trends of prices of goods they buy. The mid-August index of prices paid by farmers for commodities and services was slightly over July, and about 1% above the same time a year ago. The family living index was steady at an all-time high.

The upward trend in farm costs is apparently due largely to increases in prices for feeder cattle during the late summer, as well as livestock, feed, motor vehicles and farm machinery. On the other hand, prices have decreased somewhat for farm supplies, building and fencing materials, fertilizer and seed.

ECONOMIC SITUATION

As our American economy grows older, it is also becoming larger and more complex. The duties and responsibilities of the government (local, state, and federal) in an aging economy must necessarily increase if it is to adequately serve its citizens.

Since 1900 the total population of the United States has doubled; total agricultural production up 1 and ¼ times; total industrial production up 3 and ¾ times. The number of persons 65 years old and older has quadrupled since 1900 (from about 4 million to 16 million).

As industry activity slows down, opportunities for employment for persons 65 and older decreases. A recent survey of employers shows that over 95% of these employers don't want men older than 45 years.

We need to take a fresh look at our retirement laws and attitudes because we as a nation cannot afford to have large groups of capable persons inactive and unproductive. Our government must assume its growing responsibilities and provide a social framework that is realistic and for the benefit of all concerned.

SOCIAL SECURITY for FARM FAMILIES

The new law now brings Federal old-age and survivors insurance to most farm families. It takes effect January 1, 1955, and makes two main changes concerning farm people.

(1) Farm operators — people farming for themselves — have not been covered by the social security law up to now. Beginning January 1, 1955, all of them who make as much as $400 profit in a year will have old-age and survivor's insurance protection.

(2) Farm employees — people doing work for others — are already covered by the law if they work regularly for one farm operator. The new law brings old-age and survivor's insurance protection to all farm workers who earn as much as $100 cash pay in a year from any one farmer, whether the work is regular or not. Cotton gin workers will be covered beginning January 1, 1955, under the same rules that apply to people who work directly on the land.

Commencing in 1955, a person under 72 and entitled to benefits can earn as much as $1,200 in a year and still receive all his social security payments. Earnings from any kind of employment or self-employment are counted. After you are 72 you may accept the checks regardless of the amount of your earnings.

A lump sum payment is made at the time of an insured person's death, at any age. The death payment will range from $90 to $225. For complete information see your local county agricultural extension agent.

Plainview Overwhelms Disheartened Wayne, 45-0

Hinrichsen, Loney Lead Friday Rout

It's too bad the season didn't end a week earlier for Wayne High's Blue Devils. As it was, the local eleven took a 45-0 pasting from Plainview's spirited Pirates Friday night at Memorial stadium.

Paced by sophomores Jerry Loney and C. J. Hinrichsen, Plainview scored almost as well against the thoroughly demoralized Wayne squad. The visitors rolled up 548 yards from scrimmage in collecting their six touchdowns.

Loney, a speedy 140-pounder, scored one touchdown on a 52-yard run and had 17 yards in 12 tries for the evening. He was most effective on a crossback over left tackle. Wayne never could stop this play.

Hinrichsen scored twice, kicked three extra points and was a favorite target for quarterback Jack Bomar on his passes. Bomar scored one and connected on seven of seven passes for 130 yards. Also figuring in Plainview's scoring were Lyle Ashburn, who got two tallies, and Bob Patras, who took a 16-yard pass from Bomar to score.

Plainview scored in every period, taking a 7-0 lead with 3 1/2 minutes left in the first. Ashburn scored from two yards out to cap an 83-yard march which took only 11 plays.

The Pirates made it 14-0 midway in the second quarter on Bomar's pass to Patras. This capped an 86-yard drive which covered only eight plays. It was 21-0 at halftime as Plainview marched 85 yards in eight plays. Ashburn scored from 11 yards out.

Wayne fans still had some hopes as the second half opened but Bomar quickly dispelled them. He took Hofeld's kickoff back 51 yards to the Wayne 42 and then handed off to Loney on his crossback on the first scrimmage play. This carried to the Wayne 12 and Hinrichsen scored two plays later with a six-yard run. Wayne started to use a spread formation but couldn't find the spark to open a scoring drive. Plainview halted the Blue Devils on the Pirate 42 and marched the 58 yards in seven plays to make it 33-0.

Plainview's next score capped a 68-yard march which took only four plays. Bomar hit Patras with a 36-yard pass and then connected with Warren Buckholz for another 29. The Pirate quarterback sneaked over from a yard out to make it 49-0.

Wayne moved to the 14-yard line but surrendered the ball when Wightman's fourth down pass to Mellor was incomplete on the five-yard line. Plainview tried three line smashes and then shook Loney loose on the crossback for 52 yards and another touchdown.

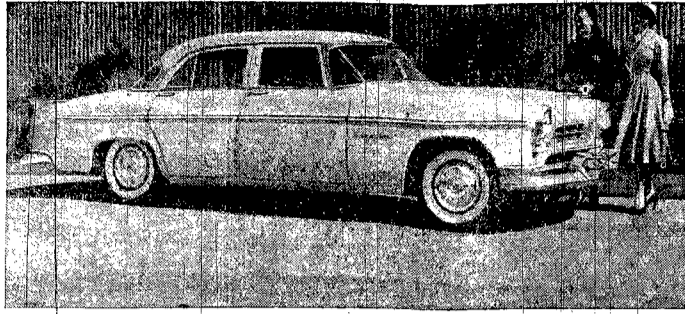

Lack of a pass defense took the heart out of Wayne in the first half and the Blue Devils never recovered. Plainview hit on 10 of 12 aerials in the game for 237 yards. Wayne's secondary seemed reluctant to cover Pirate receivers and gave up important yardage on crucial plays.

Husker Playoff Scheduled Friday

Oakland's Vikings and Stanton's Mustangs, both beaten only once in regular season play, will clash Friday night at Oakland in the annual, Husker conference football playoff.

Oakland won the east division with a 4-0 loop record. Stanton tied for the west division title with Wayne and Wesner. Wayne was ineligible to return to the playoff and Stanton had a 26-0 victory over Wesner to shove the Mustangs into the playoff.

The two teams have played only one common opponent. West Point; Oakland defeated the Cadets 13-2 midway in the season while Stanton took a 20-0 decision from the Pointers Friday.

Oakland's lone loss was a 26-16 defeat by Tekamah in the second game of the season. Stanton dropped a 21-0 decision to Wayne.

WSTC Wildcats Spoil Doane Homecoming with 20-12 Win

Five Seniors End College Grid Careers

Wayne State's Wildcats spoiled Doane's homecoming Saturday afternoon by smashing out a decisive 20-12 victory over the Tigers.

The victory moved Wayne into a fourth-place tie in the final NCC standings with Midland and Doane. Wayne closed the season with three straight wins for a 5-4-0 mark.

Though hard-fought and bitterly contested, the game was not as close as the score indicated. Coach Barney Lewellyn's eleven was in command all the way, leading 20-0 before Doane could manage a score.

Wayne took a 14-0 lead at halftime after a scoreless first period. Senior halfback Jarold Jones clinched the first Wildcat drive with a one-yard plunge midway in the second quarter. Don Kellogg's placement was wide.

Minutes later Wayne mustered another scoring drive with sophomore Don Dean going the final yard. Kellogg added the conversion.

Wayne scored again early in the third quarter. Sparkplug Kellogg connected on a 42-yard pass to sophomore Jan Whitney and added the placekick to make it 20-0.

Doane capitalized on several good breaks in the final quarter to score twice. They took advantage of Wayne fumbles and several damaging penalties to close the gap.

Two 15-yard personal foul penalties moved the ball deep into Wayne territory midway in the quarter. Don Crowder connected on a six-yard pass to Dean Lyons for the first Tiger tally. Bill Palmer blocked the attempted conversion.

Doane recovered a Wayne fumble late in the quarter and drove to another score via Crowder's passing. Crowder sneaked over from the three-yard line.

Five seniors played their last game for Wayne. They were Kellogg, Dennis, Roger Higgins, Dick Peterson and Ken Rupp.

District 8
(Maryann Claus, teacher)
Pupils who were neither absent nor tardy the first six weeks are: Linda Meyer, Elaine Meier, Ronnie Doring, Vern Grimm, Gerald Grimm and Larry and Roger Nelson.

We enjoyed having LaVonne Lutt, Joyce Hibel, Mrs. Helen Garner and Mrs. Alice Johnson visit us.

Elaine Meier brought flowers for our schoolroom which made it look more attractive.

We are enjoying the new blonde desks which were purchased. They make our school room much lighter.

We have made our school room attractive by the art work we have done. We made many leaves of the fall colors which we mounted on twisted brown and orange crepe paper. We also made pumpkins, cats and bats to put in our schoolroom.

We are reading the book, "Box-Car Children," for opening exercise. We enjoy it very much.

District 9
(Margaret Claus, teacher)
Pupils having perfect attendance the past six weeks were: Sharon Grohe, Diane Willers, Larry Rhoades and Carol Willers.

In social studies the third grade is studying about Andrew and Americans of long ago. Diane made butter just as they did. She then treated the school to crackers and butter. The sixth grade is studying about civilization in southern Europe. They made two maps of Europe to portray its physical features. The seventh grade is studying about the American Revolution.

A new flag was purchased for our schoolroom.

Our schoolroom is decorated with different kinds of fall and Halloween decorations made during art.

We enjoyed the book, "Canadian Summer," which was read during opening exercise.

In Bookland

Mrs. F. A. Mildner
City Librarian

RURAL TEACHERS ARE BEING ENTERTAINED at the library Nov. 10. New books which will be on display for Children's Book Week Nov. 14-20 will be shown and a film, "The Library Story". Coffee, cookies and a social hour are planned. It is hoped that this will be a yearly project from now on.

NEXT WEEK IS CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK. There is no child without a field of interest, and there is no field of interest that cannot be further sparked by a good book. Help your child find the books he needs and will enjoy. School children will be visiting the library with their teachers during the day but parents are invited to see the exhibit of books in the evening. Make it a date for next week because when you see the beautiful books for children you will certainly wish you were a child again.

THERE HAS BEEN A GREAT DEAL OF ENTHUSIASM for the bridge lessons at the library. Men have been turning out as well as women. Public spirited citizens who already know the game are donating their services and we have a list of 18 people who have offered to help teach. Last week 32 turned out for the lessons and more have called. The group is being divided into beginners and advanced pupils so no matter how little you know about the game don't hesitate to come if you want to learn. Anyone interested in giving some time to help teach is urged to call the library so that we may have your name. The group will meet once a week... Friday nights. By the way, we have ordered all the new and up-to-date bridge books on the market for those who want to read up on the game.

AMONG THE NEW BOOKS THIS WEEK IS THE latest in a series by Mario De La Roche, author of the John books, "Variable Winds at Jalna" is the new title. This one brings us up to 1951 where they even get TV to bring them up-to-date. Another book is by Nebraska author Mari Sandoz, "The Buffalo Hunters". This book not only describes the adventures of the buffalo hunt but includes the early history of the west where the buffalo roamed. We also have a new, slim volume by the same author called "Winter Thunder". It is the story of a pretty young teacher lost in a blizzard with seven of her pupils. Because it is based on fact, the author's niece found herself in much the same situation in the unprecedented blizzard of January, 1949. "Winter Thunder" has the ring of undisputed truth. We also have a new book by another favorite author, Gladys Hasty Carroll. You will find her new book, "One White Star," on the rental shelf and we are sure it is going to bring many tennes into our till because it is the type of story many readers will like. It is a substantial novel about a normal American woman, aged 39 in 1954, which is perhaps enough to say about it to arouse the curiosity of many a normal American woman.

A "Loaded" Topic

Recently several Nebraska colleges refused to enter students in national collegiate debate on the topic, Resolved: That the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist government of Red China. Such schools have had strong criticism leveled at them for failing to debate this highly controversial subject. We think, however, their reasons for refusing are sound and reprint the following editorial from the Wayne State Teachers college "Goldenrod" as one of the best explanations why they refuse to participate.

From the tone of certain letters and editorials which have appeared in state newspapers regarding the decision of some colleges not to accept the national debate topic, it would appear that there is considerable misunderstanding as to the reasons for this decision.

The topic is "Resolved: That the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist government of China"; and the schools which have chosen not to use the topic in their debate program are accused of having "lost faith in the tools of democracy," of "suppressing intellectual freedom," and of trying to solve problems by pretending they don't exist.

Nothing could be farther from the truth. Students of these colleges are encouraged to argue freely any pertinent topic they wish and to express without fear of criticism whatever attitudes they choose to adopt. Certainly the matter of our recognition of Red China is a pertinent one, and all sides of the question are—and should be—studied freely in college classrooms. Fortunately, no Nebraska college, to the best of our knowledge, is hampered by outside pressure as to what and how it may teach.

Requiring students, however—as a debate program would—to argue in public, as convincingly as possible, that Red China should be recognized is another matter. It is unfair to the student and would prove eventually unfair to the college.

Control Cattle Lice Now!

Cattle lice breed rapidly during the winter months. Build-up of populations on cattle generally starts during October and continues, unless controlled, until warm weather in late spring. It pays to stop lice before large numbers have developed. It has been estimated that one pair of lice could produce over 23,000,000 lice from Oct. 1 to April if none died. The lice bill may be as much as $40 or more per animal. Interest is great on a few cents spent on cattle lice insecticides.

Recommended Insecticides

Texaphene (Use only on beef animals) using one gallon of the 50 percent emulsion concentrate or 10 pounds of the 40 percent wettable powder to 100 gallons of water.

Chlordane

(Use only on beef animals) using 1/2 to one gallon of the 45 percent emulsion concentrate or 5-10 pounds of 40 percent wettable powder to 100 gallons of water.

D-D-T (Use only on dairy or beef animals) using 2 1/2 gallons of the 25 percent emulsion concentrate or eight pounds of 50 percent wettable powder to 100 gallons of water.

Lindane (Use on dairy or beef cattle) using one pound of 25 percent emulsion concentrate or 1 1/2 pints of 100 gallons of water. DO NOT APPLY LINDANE TO CALVES.

Lindane applied to milking animals may flavor the milk for as long as three days, so it may be necessary to discard the milk for that period.

DDT (Use only on beef animals). Prepare the same as methoxychlor. One thorough treatment of any of these insecticides as a spray will usually provide good control. Occasional treatments may be required, but they should not be repeated as thorough sprays. About one gallon of spray per animal is enough if applied with about 150-200 pounds pressure. Chlordane is one of the best insecticides for louse control, one treatment should be effective for several months.

Why Judge Land?

Twenty states sent 1,000 judges to the third annual National Land Judging Contest in 1954. Main purposes of the land judging program are to teach people how to take care of the land, grow the crops most suited to it and conserve soil and water. To do this most effectively, sponsors of this program believe we must first know more about the soil and understand its composition.

Rapid growth and popularity of the program may be attributed to several factors. One is the way the training is done. There are no stuffy classrooms, no big text books and no lectures. The entire course can be taught to men, women or children from city or country in a few hours of outdoor discussions, demonstrations and field trips.

Students walk over land, dig holes in it, examine the texture of the soil, look for permeability, slope, drainage and erosion. These things they can see and understand.

People are taught that land, like livestock, has physical characteristics you can see. Merely seeing the good and bad things about the land is not enough. If it has faults you must know how to correct them. There are trained experts at each of the stations where the land judges meet. They must be able to instruct the contestants on what to look for and how to mark their cards.

In these times of unusual tension—and a regrettable lack of tolerance—too many persons have been persecuted for actions taken and attitudes expressed 10, 15 or even 20 years ago when these actions or attitudes had public approval. A government worker who contributed to Spanish Relief in 1936—along with tens of thousands of others—is now accused of contributing to a "Communist cause." A young lawyer who in 1947 joined an organization dedicated to the betterment of his profession is now discredited for "belonging to and supporting a Communist organization." Even the Girl Scouts came under fire for unfortunate wording in their handbook. Why, then, should colleges subject a group of students to the inevitable personal criticism which would arise out of attitudes they would publicly express, even though insincere and part of a training program? The yes-or-no procedure of investigating groups would indicate that they are more concerned with the deed itself than the extenuating circumstances.

The criticism would very probably be extended by unthinking groups to the colleges, "where they learned all this Communism." And unthinking groups are frequently the noisiest and the most harmful. We have seen school libraries examined for "subversive literature," instructors quizzed by public-spirited citizens, persons who rebel against the invasion of their intellectual attitudes termed "loyalty risks." It is in the interest of guarding their right to be intellectually free that certain colleges are chary of opening up a useless avenue of criticism.

And the topic selected by the Speech Association of America does appear to us as useless for a good debate program. The purpose of student debate is the development of ability in thorough investigation, sound deduction and adequate presentation as well as tolerance for opposing viewpoints. This purpose presupposes a controversial topic which lends itself to sound reasoning on both sides. The selected topic—in the situation we find ourselves today—lends itself less to sound reasoning than to reasonable emotion.

It's got a "V" in its bonnet— or your choice of two new sixes!

The motoramic Chevrolet for '55

Great new 8

Two new 6's 6

It's the valve-in-head V8 as only the valve-in-head leader can build it!

You'd expect Chevrolet to out-V8 the field—and it has! Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" puts a brand-new kind of excitement under your foot. The excitement of 162 horsepower! The excitement of an 8 to 1 ultra-high compression ratio that squeezes more pure fun out of a gallon of gas than you ever dreamed possible! The new "Turbo-Fire V8" is so efficient that it requires only four quarts of oil instead of the usual five or more. And it has the shortest piston stroke in the low-price field, for longer engine life. But we can't even begin to give you the whole story here. Come in and drive the new "Turbo-Fire V8!"

With enough new advances to fill a book!

Chevrolet offers two new highstepping sixes for 1955! There's the new "Blue-Flame 136" (teamed with Powerglide as an extra-cost option) and the new "Blue-Flame 123." Both bring you new, higher-rated power—the zippy, thrifty high-compression kind. Both have new, more efficient cooling and lubrication systems... new engine mounts that result in almost unbelievable smoothness. And, like the new "Turbo-Fire V8," both are sparked by a new 12-volt electrical system for finer performance and faster cold-weather starting. They're the liveliest, smoothest sixes Chevrolet ever put into a passenger car!

The 601 Air 2-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series.

More than a new car... a new CONCEPT of low-cost motoring (and much too good to miss driving!)

A natural question. And your answer? Well... "yes, son in a way we do. My father helped pay for the concrete paving. It was a wise investment too. The street is still giving good service after all these years."

Yes, concrete lasts longer. Its long service, moderate first cost, and low maintenance cost means low annual cost.

Concrete also saves on street lighting costs because it reflects more light. That helps reduce accidents. And, wet or dry, it has uniformly high skid resistance.

For the utmost return in pavement service for your money urge city officials to specify concrete for all your streets.

It Happened In NEBRASKA...

Once, the barren, treeless plains of Nebraska were depressing to pioneer women. Frequently they would carry cottonwood seedlings from miles away to plant around their homes. Finally, J. Sterling Morton established "Arbor Day" to promote tree planting in Nebraska. Later "Arbor Day" became a national holiday.
