Experiment Farm Needs Help-Yours!

Last week The Wayne Herald reported the progress of the fund drive for Northeast Nebraska Experimental farm. Wayne county, and of the richest in this section of the state, ran a poor fourth fourth Cadar county led with $8260, then came Stan-county with $5375, Cuming county with $5000 Wayne county with $4650.

WAYNE COUNTY STANDS TO GAIN a lat by an experimental farm. Our soil is generally good and we get good yields—but if corn yields can be increased a bushel an acre the dollar return will be tremendous. The same goes for increases in other crop yields.

Wayne county, in the center of the area to be served by the farm, can't be far from the farm no matter where it is located, and its very near-ness adds to its value to us.

s adds to its value to us. Besides `increasing yields, experiments could sava money for formers, by determining proper ds and amounts of fertilizers for each trop and type. Many thousands of dollars are misspent h year because farmers do not bother to de-mine the right fertilizer for specific problems.

ALL IN ALL, WAYNE CAN'T LOSE on an experimental farm. The dividends it would pay in better yields, cost-cutting shortcuts and more efficient management, plus the fact that it would be in cosy driving distance all point up the need for vigorous support of the farm among Wayne county residents:

The idea is sound, practice has shown it is pro-fitable, Wayne stands to gain much—but it needs your help to get started.

Facts are stubborn things—but statistics can made to prove anything you want them to.
