Tests among School Children Easter Seal Campaign to Back Survey

A hearing testing program for Wayne county school children is being planned by the local committee of Nebraska Society for Crippled Children. It was announced this week by Chairman Robert Merchant after an organizational meeting last Wednesday night. The county committee voted to financially support a proposed plan to test hearing of all school children. The survey will be with the recommendation that the survey go into effect early next fall. Proceeds from the survey will come from the Easter Seals campaign planned in March. Nearly 70 percent of funds received from this drive will remain in the county to finance the tests, Merchant said. School Superintendents E. W. Willert, Wayne, and George Norris, Winnside, were named to consult persons interested in the survey. Mrs. Claire Theophilus was asked to check on a registered nurse who could conduct the hearing tests should the plan go into effect. Need for a speech therapist in county schools was also taken under consideration with plans for a survey of children with speech problems through teacher referral. State Executive Director S. Orson Perkins, Omaha, outlined history of the organization and enlarged on areas of service available on local and state levels. He emphasized that the big job of the county committee was to form a link between the handicapped and services available to them. Perkins also presented materials for the Easter Seals campaign. Officers of the county committee are: Charles McDermott, vice chairman; Everett Rees, treasurer, and Mrs. Theophilus, secretary. Mrs. Rollie Ley is state trustee and consultant to the local group. Other committee members attending Wednesday night's meeting were: Ruth Ross, Eleanor Edwards, Mrs. John F. Eising, Mrs. Elsie Heine, Mrs. J. M. Strahan, Willert and Bob Johnson, Willard, and Jean Boyd and C. B. Missett, Winnside.

Study Shows Big Increase In Wayne County Income

New York Special News Service—New York. Residents of Wayne county have recorded marked gains in income in the past few years with more families entering the higher income brackets and fewer remaining in the lower brackets. Such are the findings of Consumer Markets in its current comprehensive study of earnings and purchasing power. Local incomes have been growing faster than population, more than keeping up with the trend toward larger families. Since 1951, when the previous study was made, the proportion of consumer units (families or individuals living alone) with incomes of $4,000 a year or better has climbed to 32.2 percent in Wayne county, an increase of 22.2 percent in the period. This progress was more conspicuous than that in most parts of the U. S., where only 13.4 percent advanced to the upper brackets. In the west north central states the rise was 13.1 percent. In the income category ranging from $6,000 up, Wayne county now has 430 consumer units or 12.9 percent of the total. The earnings represent spendable income after taxes. They indicate a definite rise in real income over and above the small drop in the valuation of the dollar in the period. It has meant an upgrading of living standards among nearly every class except farmers. More families now have extra money for luxuries after taking care of their basic necessities. Their mood in the past year has been to spend. The result has been a booming business year for local merchants. More new cars have been bought, more furniture and household equipment and more radios and TV sets.

Blue Devils Thump Stanton Friday For Second Husker League Victory

Ragged Play Hurts Locals

Despite their worst performance of the current basketball season, Wayne High's Blue Devils swept to their second Husker conference victory Friday night by overpowering Stanton's Mustangs 61-42 on the losers' court.

Wayne was handicapped throughout the tussle by poor ball handling, failure to capitalize on fast break opportunities and cold shooting. The Blue Devils were outshot from the field for the first time of the campaign. They hit 31 percent of their shots while Stanton had 32.1.

Wayne garnered 23 field goals but had passes gave Stanton the ball at least that many times to stop other Blue Devil scores. Stanton was unable to capitalize on these breaks because of a stout Wayne defense, highlighted by the play of Kenny Dahl.

Glenn Houdersheldt and Larry Hofseldt led the scoring as Wayne got its seventh straight triumph. They had 18 and 16 points, respectively. Dahl pitched in with 12 more. Rich Freiberg topped Stanton with 13.

The Blue Devils were forced to overcome an early 15-0 deficit. They trailed 13-11 at the first period but knotted the count at 15-15 with 6:50 remaining in the half. They were never headed after Dahl hit a tip-in to make it 17-15. Wayne led 35-22 at intermission.

Reserves Win Thriller
A crowd dominated by Wayne fans saw the Wayne reserves take a thrilling 36-35 overtime victory.

WANTED—65,000 Experts
America is short of experts both in scientific research and patient care. With 350,000 nurses available for all the sick and disabled in America, 50,000 more are needed; we are short 5,000 physical therapists, 5,500 occupational therapists, 3,000 medical social workers and 1,000 rehabilitation counselors. It takes a big team to give the polio patient the care he badly needs.

Wayne Mothers March on Polio Jan. 20

In the preliminary tilt, Temme and Cramer were heroes of the Wayne team. The former tied the regulation game with three seconds left and Cramer duplicated the effort in the closing seconds of the overtime for the victory.

Wayne's junior high team made it a clean sweep for the evening by stalling out the final minute for an 15-17 win.

ERASING THE BLACKBOARD

At The Wayne County Schools

Wayne High ...

First Grade
Books for story-time were brought by Judy Wehrer, Terry Fisher, Nancy Wert and Barry Edenburn.
In art we made snowmen with hats, bow ties and broomsticks. After coloring them we cut out the snowmen and put them on the bulletin board.

Those having perfect attendance the past six weeks are Perry Edlund, Larry Jensen, and David Lindstrom. Larry Jensen had perfect attendance the first semester.

Second Grade
The following people had perfect attendance during the third six-week period: Margaret Fahrenkrog, Norman Fork, Jackie Hurd, Margo Jeffrey, Donnie Kleber, John Lindsay, Jimmy Sommerfeld and Keith Tietgen.

Jimmy Sommerfeld and Keith Tietgen have been neither absent nor tardy during the first semester.

Third Grade
The class wrote letters to the manager of one of the local grocery stores and asked if they might visit the store Friday. They had many questions to ask and were delighted to be invited to see the meat locker and the warehouse. Following the visit they wrote reports of things they had seen. They brought back colorful pictures of different kinds of fruit.

Society in health is the theme for the January meeting of the Safe Way club. Friday Sandra Olds read a story on cleanliness. Duane Diannon and T. Dirk Lueders sang. Debbie Wightman and Gerald Ashton played piano solos and Linda Weible did baton twirling.

Helpers chosen for the week were Jerry Wehrer, Kenny Bidsiek, Kerry Paulson, Nancy Wolters, Linda Corbit and Patty Perdue.

Mrs. Kenneth Olds and Diane visited Friday afternoon.

The class learned how to set a table correctly. Debbie Wightman brought her play dishes. Linda Seymour read a book, "Good Manners at the Table."

Fifth Grade

Pencil drawings were made in art this week.
Mrs. Kenneth Olds visited our room Friday.

We have new teams in the spelling contest for this six-weeks. Dean Weible and Jim Baier are captains.

We are studying the mile in arithmetic.

Sixth Grade
Tommy Lane is a new pupil in our grade.

Four pupils have been neither absent nor tardy during the first semester. They are Sherry Gray, Mary Johnson, Carole Price and Diane VanAcker. Jerry Brandt is not has not been absent during the first semester.

The sahara desert has been studied. Many interesting things were learned about the vast area.

In the spelling mastery test the following were 100 percenters: Jerry Brandt, Sharon Eddinburn, Rex Goodell, Judy Griess, Buster Likes, Roger Lueders, Jack Miller, Carole Price, Diane VanAcker, Barbara Warner, Jenny Weiershauser, Susan Wright and Tommy Lane.

In geography unit test over France, Sharon Eddinburn, Susan Wright and Sherry Gray rated high.

Eighth Grade
Our club met Friday and elected new officers. They are: president, Billy Koerber; vice president, Judy Kollmorgen; secretary, Brad Hickerson and treasurer, Kenneth Vogel.

Semester tests are being given. Marlene Fluge treated room members on her birthday.

Judy Kollmorgen treated our room to candy bars on her birthday.

Cheryl Johnson was absent due to illness.

In arithmetic we are studying circles, triangles and angles.

In language we have completed the unit on nouns and pronouns and their uses.

We have gold fish and snails in our aquarium.

Barbie reports were given in our social studies.

We have a new dance record for our record player. Windows are decorated with snowmen and snowflakes. We made a winter playground scene in art.

No Weekend Job

Last week representatives of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce went to another town to hear the story of their industrial development efforts.

Most important of the factors outlined at the meeting were:

- Community attitude. The people of the town must want and be willing to work for industrial development.
- Survey of the town's assets and liabilities. Assets should be emphasized and liabilities overcome or improved.
- Have a master plan. Know where the town is and where it is planning to go.
- Have an industrial development committee or corporation to work with interested industries.
- Industrial site. Either by option or ownership, a town benefits greatly by having land to show prospective new industries.

A glance at this outline shows that industrial development is no mere weekend job. It is a task that will take a long time—but one which will show benefits, direct and indirect, in the end.

The industrial development expert cited as benefits from added industry in small towns an increased payroll, more retail sales, larger tax base, general community improvement and a leveling effect when farm prices are down.

The local Chamber group has appointed a committee to work for industrial development. Their job is long and hard and probably won't show much progress for a time. With more than 3,000 small towns actively competing for industry the adds are stacked against any one town getting a specific industry.

The odds, however, are not so great that we should shrug our shoulders in defeat. Rather we should tell ourselves we have a fine town to sell and then go out and sell it to the industrial world—and we can do it.

In Bookland

JAN. 17 MARKS THE TWO HUNDRED FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BIRTH OF BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.

Throughout 1956 this event will be celebrated all over the world. Understanding between nations is the theme and Ben Franklin had his own plan for achieving international understanding. Share in Benjamin Franklin's great wealth of ideas—ask the librarian for books and information about him. How about planning a program about him and his ideas for your club?

WE HAD A FILM THIS WEEK ABOUT THE HOBBY OF MINIATURE COLLECTING AND HOW TO ASSEMBLE SCALE-MODEL AUTOS, BOATS, PLANES AND MANY INTERESTING ITEMS.

We have some of the ships and cars at the library ready to assemble and have invited the collection boys, or anyone who would care to help, to work on them so that we may have our own collection at the library for a display. The materials are on a table waiting for anyone who might think it fun to help us.

WE HAVE THREE FILMS THIS WEEK. ONE IS "BIG SCOT" a full color film about a horse. It begins in the valley of the Clyde in Scotland, where Big Scot was born. It shows Big Scot developing into a show horse in America to appear in the Frontier Days celebration at Cheyenne. "Food as Children See It" should interest mothers who have to prepare meals day after day. The other film should have much general appeal. "The Kind of Music You Want" has variety which should appeal to the home, church and community. There is a story with it as well as much good music.

A MEMORIAL FOR MRS. VICTOR WEST was placed in the library this week by Acme Club. "The World of Albert Schweitzer," a large book with photographs, was chosen by club members and it will certainly make a fine addition to our wonderful memorial shelf.

A NEW NOVEL BY ALEC WAUGH, "ISLAND IN THE SUN"

was placed on the rental shelf this week. It is a tale of violence and suspense against the background of a sun-drenched island in the West Indies. This author has done for these islands what Kipling did for India and Maugham for Malaya, but he is writing of a new empire. He shows that every resident in the island, white, black and partly black, is what he is today because of their tangled history.

Way Back When...

30 Years Ago

Jan. 21, 1926: Edgar Larsons and Albert Fredrickson are enjoying new radios. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sandahl and children had supper with Ben Fredrickson's Tuesday evening and spent the evening "listening in". After being caught under an overturned automobile in a ditch for eight hours, Lloyd Mills and Truman Young Lynch, are in the Spencer hospital badly injured. Need More Windbreaks

Only about one-fifth of the farm homes in the state have a windbreak that gives adequate protection, reports Earl Loerch, farm forester at the University of Nebraska.

To have the necessary thickness and be effective the year around, windbreaks need a few rows of evergreens planted on the windward side. And Loerch explains that many Nebraska windbreaks don't have enough conifers in the planting or have them in the wrong place.

Windbreaks are needed in Nebraska to slow the wind over bare fields and help prevent wind erosion. They also protect farm buildings from the force of the wind and help control drifting snow. And, livestock need less feed in winter if they're protected from the wind.

Trees also improve the appearance of a farm and provide cover for wild birds and animals on any farm, and they're among the least expensive improvements a Nebraska farmer can put on his land.

To cut the cost even more, you can get federal cost-sharing aid for planting trees on almost any farm, and they're among the least expensive improvements a Nebraska farmer can put on his land.

Way Back When...

Jan. 15, 1931: Talking picture apparatus will be installed within a few days in the Crystal theatre of the Huntmore building, which has been leased by Carl Nuss to engage in. . . started this week. . . Edgar Sederstrom had his first bitten by a dog Friday afternoon when he was trying to loosen the animal's collar. The dog had been tied in back of the Meyer and Bichel shop to wait for its owner. Sederstrom saw that the collar had become tight and stopped over to relieve the strain. The dog tore his lower lip and then bit his cheeks.

10 Years Ago

Jan. 17, 1946: Adon Jeffrey has come from Plainville to take charge of the First National bank. Construction of a new brick garage and service by Elmer Meyer at the corner of Third and Logan will start as soon as weather will permit. . . The door to Gladys Mettlen's garage, Wanside, was broken Friday night with the evident intent of taking the car but keys were not in the machine. The garage doors were barred and padlocked. has tossed his hat in the ring for the Legislature. Diers, whose legal residence is Gresham, filed in the Twenty-fourth district, comprised of York and Seward counties. His brother, Sen. H. K. Diers, will not seek re-election. Asked if he had any legislative reforms in mind for the Board, Diers said: "Not at this time." He said he has the present time, "only one plank."

School Land Cut

A mix up in rent on state-owned school land in Keith and Lincoln counties should be cleared up in time for rent reductions to take place July 1.

That's the hope of the State Board of Educational Lands and Buildings, which administers the land. Board Chairman Tom Coffey, Alma, said a mixup dating back to 1953 before the present board was created and before Robert Hiatt was secretary, left rentals too high in the two counties.

Recently the board cut the value of the two counties and 13 Lincoln counties should be cleared up. Now it appears Keith and Lincoln counties will get an even greater reduction.

Lower rent is expected to become effective in other counties in the state by Jan. 1, 1957.

Nebraska Press Association Statehouse Correspondent

Lincoln

The demand for teachers in Nebraska will probably be just as strong this year as in 1955. "That's the belief of the Nebraska State Education association. It said, although a salary survey of potential teachers will not be available for the 1956-57 school year.

"Especially because of the last session, when I was speaker, I have had considerable experience presiding over the Legislature, which is the biggest job the lieutenant governor has."

Lawyers To Ballot

Members of the legal profession in Nebraska are going to ballot on whether they want to be included under provisions of the Social Security Act.

Originally passed in 1935, the act was for industrial and commercial workers with the professions excluded.

In 1950, the house of delegates of the American Bar association voted to amend existing legislation to include self-employed lawyers. In 1953 resolutions were introduced to override the previous action but no final action was taken pending an opinion survey. The poll showed a substantial majority of lawyers including a strong majority in favor of retirement under the social security system.

Death Toll Down

Nebraska safety officials have their fingers crossed for the 12 months of 1956.

They hope for another reduction in traffic deaths. Col. C. J. Sanders, chief of the State Safety Council, reported a 36 percent reduction in traffic deaths in Nebraska last year, compared with 1954.

"This reduction, however small," he said, "means that Nebraska was one of the nine states that did not experience an increase in traffic deaths last year."

Burney to Run

A veteran member of the legislature and its present speaker, Sen. Dwight Burney, Hartington, will be in the race for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket.

Burney picked up his filing papers last week at the Secretary of State's office. The 64-year-old farmer and livestock raiser has, since the death last year of L. G. Charles J. Warner, performed functions of the office.

In a statement to newsmen, Burney said: "I feel justified in filing for the office because of my experience. After six sessions in the Legislature, I feel that I have reasonable knowledge of state government."

Counties reporting 10 or more deaths were Douglas, Lancaster, Dodge, Buffalo, Dixon, Dawson, Nemick and Saunders.

Mrs. Drea Chapman, Mrs. E. W. Anderson and Mrs. George Andrew were installing officers. Mrs. Meta Fisher presented the retiring worthy matron, Mrs. Leonard Robinson a gift. Refreshments were served by Mrs. D. V. Phillips, Mrs.

Polio Campaign Starts Tonight

Roger Buchanan, local polio drive chairman, under the auspices of the campaign will be launched tonight with a benefit at the city auditorium.

There will be a volleyball game between the girls volleyball teams of Randolph and Newcastle. Following this there will be a exhibition boxing bouts by Don Harding, Newcastle, and Larry Peters, Randolph, and Richard Anderson, Newcastle, and Vernon Hilkemann, Randolph.

Randolph high school band will present a short concert under the direction of Kenneth Gasseboom. The final event of the evening will be a basketball game. This contest will be played between the North, captained by Gene Kaiser, and the South, captained by Robert Sellon. The nucleus of the teams will be local men of Randolph and surrounding community.

Mr. Buchanan was assisted in the organization of this benefit by Orwin White, Gene Kaiser and Robert Sellon.

Members of VFW auxiliary will make a house-to-house canvass later in January.

First Aid Classes Start at Randolph

Red Cross first aid classes sponsored by the VFW Auxiliary, started Tuesday evening. The classes will be held every Tuesday for six weeks at the VFW hall. This course consists of 18 hours of instruction conducted by Mrs. Paul DeLozier, Mrs. Wayne Ewing and Mrs. Ethel Clausen.

Womans Club Planning Polio Benefit Party, Sale Tuesday

Winside Woman's club will sponsor a polio benefit card party and food sale at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the city auditorium. A film, "Remember Me" will be shown.

Prizes will be awarded at cards and lunch will be served. Area residents are asked to bring articles for the food sale. Proceeds will go to the March of Dimes.

Committee members named were: Mrs. James Troutman and Mrs. Otto Graef, tickets; Mrs. Lloyed Behmer and Mrs. Ben Benschopf, food sale; Mrs. Carl Troutman and Mrs. H. M. Hilbert, prizes; and Mrs. Garland Robbins, Mrs. Vernon Hill, Mrs. John Gallop and Mrs. William Wylie, lunch.

The club held a mother's march canvass Monday night.

Plans for the benefit were made at club meeting last Monday night at the high school. Mrs. George Norris and Mrs. Otfrid Buehler were hostesses to 13 members.

Mrs. Norris gave two baking demonstrations. Communications were read from organizations which received Christmas gifts from the club. Members voted donations to the international club extension fund and federated tea room at Washington, D. C.

Last Word in Home Comfort

Elegance, privacy, and up-to-date convenience are the features of this attractive ranch-style house.

Architect Rudolph A. Matern of Lincoln, L.I., N.Y., has separated sleeping, working, and living areas for efficient household action and graceful entertaining. Completely equipped, the kitchen is a housewife's dream. Dryer and washer are located at one end of the room, separated from the work area by a snack bar. Refrigerator, freezer and oven are set

The sunken living room has a handsome pine bow window that frames a planted area. A large wood-burning fireplace adds to the homelike atmosphere.

The master bedroom suite has a complete bath, a walk-in closet, and a built-in vanity. A fully-styled bathroom serves both bedrooms and the kitchen. There is a sun room, an attached garage with storage closets and a work bench, abundant closet space throughout, and a full basement.

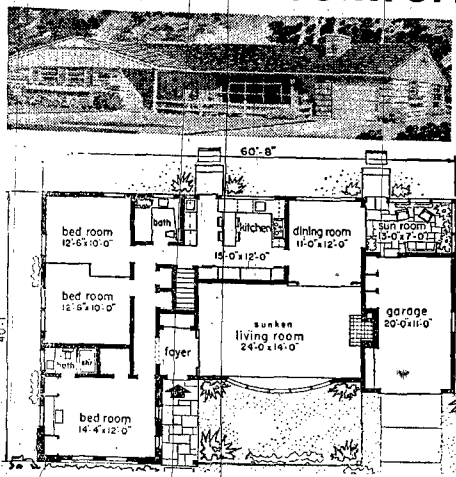

The exterior of the house is warm and impressive. Vertical boards on the eaves ends add interest. Pastel asphalt shingles emphasize the feeling of brightness and unity the exterior decoration.

The architect suggests that a full four inches of mineral wool insulation be installed in the attic and three inches in the walls for economy and comfort in winter and summer.

The house has 1,537 square feet of floor space and should be placed on a lot at least 100 feet square.

This plan is from the Home-Owner Plan Book. Blueprints and specifications are available from Rudolph A. Matern, 90-14 161st St., Jamaica 32, L.I., N.Y. Refer to plan No. 4412.

Real Beauty Of Paneled Walls: Finish

The real secret in getting the most in beauty and attractiveness out of your wood paneled walls is in the finish, advises H.O. Strober, wood finishing expert.

Attention to detail at time of finishing coupled with proper materials, Strober says, can make even a dub look like a master craftsman. The trouble is, he said, too many people don't like to put in the extra elbow grease to get a really first class job and sometimes settle for a cheap job that will always look cheap.

"The softwoods available today at most retail lumber yards in the country," Strober says, "take every conceivable kind of finish. The final appearance of walls, builtins and other installations of fir, hemlock or red cedar are limited only by the tastes and desires of the homemaker, he said.

These popular softwoods, he said, can be finished to retain their natural grain, texture and colorings by varnish, rez, lacquer or wax finishes. They can be stained, painted, mottled or antiqued. There are dozens of variations to each one of these individual finishes.

For instance, where it is desired to retain the texture and grain of the wood but to change the tone in some manner to fit with color schemes or other decor, an almost endless variety of stain, paint and rez may be painted on and then wiped off immediately, leaving tints or color shadings.

Colorful Wood Walls
Here are just a few of the many ways fir, cedar and hemlock walls may be finished by the above method: walnut stain, lead blue paint with chrome green pigments, walnut with chrome yellow in oil added, driftwood rez, oil stain, mahogany stain with chrome yellow, sage rez, chrome green with burnt umber. The combinations, Strober says, are endless.

Strober lays down certain dogmatic rules when finishing fir, hemlock or cedar or any of the other softwoods. All wood surfaces must be sanded with 4-0 sandpaper or buffed smooth as a starting point. Proper sanding is important in obtaining the most perfect possible finish.

Next step is to stain, rez or paint on color—if this is desired—then wipe off. A coat of lacquer sealer is next suggested and when thoroughly dry it should be sanded with No. 300 sandpaper.

Subsequent coats of shellac, varnish, rez or lacquer may be applied depending on how much depth and patina is desired, and each must be allowed to dry thoroughly and each coat must be sanded smooth before another is added.

Final coat can be sanded down with No. 500 wet or dry paper plus paraffin oil thinned with turpentine, then wiped clean and rubbed with No. 4-0 steel wool.

More Daylight Indoors Helps Cheer You Up

People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones because they're too busy enjoying life, judging from several studies of the effects on disposition, health and vigor of adequate lighting and the big windows in modern homes.

The picture windows and window walls apparently do more than add beauty to modern homes. Abundant natural daylight through the windows, according to Dr. Leon Buehler, is highly germicidal even on overcast days.

HE REPORTED in the American Medical Journal that the lethal effects of daylight on airborne bacteria which spread colds and other respiratory infections is so pronounced that it "suggests the planning of a maximum window space in new hospitals, schools and homes" to ensure cleaner, purer air.

Large windows in the home aid the disposition too, says Dr. James Bender, director of the Institute of Human Relations. The Institute's studies showed that generally windowed, well-lighted rooms are actually more conducive to personal happiness, contentment and a feeling of well-being than narrow-windowed rooms with little natural light.

High Fidelity Beauty Also In Cabinets

An interesting question posed to high fidelity fans by interior decorators is: do you buy from sight or sound?

The correct answer, according to the stylists, is "both." Obviously, they say, the hi-fi fan's main concern is the reproduction of sound as nearly perfect as possible. Whether he builds the set himself or buys it. However, they maintain that the appearance factor should not be overlooked.

The beauty of complete sound reproduction, decorators insist, should be matched by beautiful appearance. Because the set is usually installed in a living area of the home so that family and guests may enjoy it in comfort, the set should fit into the decor of the room.

For those who buy complete installations, the problem already is solved. Most manufacturers place the components in attractive plywood cabinets similar to fine television or phonograph cabinets.

For the hi-fi fan who prefers to do the work himself, there are two choices. One is to buy a hi-fi cabinet kit for assembly at home. For example, one company produces two units available in mahogany, walnut or birch plywood.

One is a lowlying unit containing the radio tuner, high fidelity amplifier and record changer, plus room for record storage.

The other unit is the speaker enclosure, designed to fit into a corner of the room in order to use the room as an extension of the speaker horn. The choice plywood cabinets can be finished by the buyer to blend or contrast with other woods present in the home.

The other choice is to start from scratch and build the cabinet completely at home, just as the hi-fi purist builds his own set. Plywood, the material used by the professionals in making furniture, is available to the do-it-yourself fan in a variety of panel sizes and thickness at retail lumber yards.

The craftsman can design his cabinets himself, or he may choose one of the many hi-fi cabinet designs that have appeared in recent months. He may choose to build the set into a music or storage wall made of genuine hardwood. Among the most popular plywood species are birch, gum, maple oak and walnut. The material is easy to work with and the beautiful hardwood grain is safe in the workshop with ordinary care.

In addition to attractive appearance, the hi-fi fan gets a performance bonus with plywood cabinets. Used in tone chamber baffles and walls, the plywood minimizes vibration and provides the maximum in sound reflection.

HERE'S HOW...

Add a decorative touch to the summer cottage with false shutters.

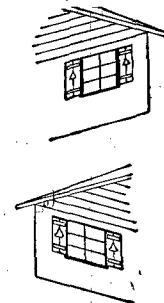

Use 1 by 6-inch lumber for the panels, cutting them to match the window height. Fasten them together temporarily with cross braces, and draw the silhouettes. Then separate the panels and saw out the figures.

MAKE DECORATIVE SHUTTERS

Join the panels with water-proof glue. Add the two cross braces, using No. 9 flathead wood screws 1 1/4 inch long. To fasten to brick or concrete use anchor bolts or masonry nails.

To display the silhouettes against dark surfaces, fasten a piece of sheet metal painted a contrasting color behind each silhouette.

Construction Check-Points

Sound construction is essential to the success of any building project from remodeling an old home to building a new one. A few of the important points to check, suggested by the Small House Planning bureau, are illustrated here.

When fibreboard or insulating sheathing is used instead of boards, nailing should be done as illustrated.

Wall sheathing should be applied diagonally on the outside studs; boards double-nailed at each bearing.

If no sill plate is used, place metal lath under top course of blocks and fill voids with concrete.

Where joists do not rest on top plates of partitions, a 1x4 board, called a ribbon, is notched into studs.

When partitions run parallel to joists, the concentrated load should be supported by double joists.

Where two partitions intersect, a nailing edge (2x6 stud, as shown) must be provided.

Corner post shown is the type most commonly used in out-nailed into the girder and to stiffen the corner and provide a nailing edge for the application of inside wall finish.

Joists bearing on a girder should have a minimum lap of 4 inches over the bearing and be nailed into the girder and to each other. Drawings by Small House Planning bureau.
