1956 Tax Levies Show Cuts In 28 Rural School Districts

Wayne Total Also Lower

A majority of Wayne county taxpayers are pleased when they pay their taxes. This was revealed by tax levy figures released by County Clerk C. A. Bard.

A summary of the levies shows 28 school districts in the county where taxes will be substantially lower. Only six districts show above average increases. In all other districts, taxes will be about identical or slightly lower than 1955.

Wayne taxpayers, the figures indicate, will also get a break. Tentative combined city levy will be 41.77 mills, slightly lower than the 1955 levy of 44.94.

This drop came despite an increase of $7,500 in the request for taxes from the local school board. Cuts made in the county and state levies more than offset the increase for the school.

County levies for 1956 will be 5.00 mills while the state levy will be 9.13. This compares with 6.18 and 9.20 a year ago.

Free high school levy, which is paid by all taxpayers except those in Wayne, Winslow, Carroll, Hoskins and Wakefield school districts, will be 5.42 mills. This drop from last year's levy of 6.26 was made because of a decrease in the number of rural students who will attend town high schools.

Carroll faces a combined levy increase of about six mills. Valuation decreases were responsible for most of the rise. Village levy was hiked 3.7 mills and school levy 3.54 mills. The combined levy will be 91.59 mills this year as compared to 85.60 for 1955.

Five rural districts which levied for school purposes last year will have no levies this year. They are Districts 3, 25, 32, 37 and 80. Levy slashes in these districts on this account vary from 4.80 to 12.02 mills.

Other districts who effect sizeable cuts in school levies were 9, 14, 22, 23, 29, 46, 47, 61, 66 and 83. Those set to run from 3 P.M. in District 61 to 11:00 in District 11.

(Qualified levies for Winslow and Hoskins were not available; such village levies had not been received by Bard by Wednesday afternoon.)

Rural Schools Costs Decline

Average per-pupil costs in Wayne county rural schools decreased about $50 in 1955-56 County Supt. Gladys Porter announced this week.

The slash is in comparison with 1954-55 costs. Average per-pupil cost last year was $279.94 as compared with $321.34 for the previous year. A big factor in the decrease was the fact that four schools closed last year and contracted with other districts.

Highest average cost was in District 85 at $360.49. Lowest was in District 84 at $191.98.

Elementary costs in town schools were generally lower. Mrs. Porter said. Costs for the town schools were as follows: Wayne, $204.03; Winslow, $219.59; Carroll, $224.51; and Hoskins, $278.61. The Wayne figure is a $33 increase over 1954-55.

High school costs, as would be expected, were considerably higher. They are: Wayne, $402.09; Hoskins, $395.20; Carroll, $358.83; and Winslow, $290.15. In this division, Wayne showed an increase of about $55 per pupil over the previous year.

Extension Office to Move to Fairgrounds

Wayne county extension office will move to the 4-H building at the fairgrounds during the fair. County Agent Harold Ingalls announced this week. The move will be effective from Saturday morning until Tuesday morning.

Thousands Pack Wakefield During Diamond Jubilee

Wakefield — Wakefield climaxed its three-day diamond jubilee celebration Tuesday with a jumbo blow out that drew thousands of townspeople and area residents.

Third of a series of three parades, a watermelon feed, fireworks and dancing closed the jubilee program. The event had opened Sunday with special religious programs.

About 900 attended a community gathering in the park Sunday afternoon to hear Rev. R. R. Brown, Omaha. About 1,000 attended an evening service and heard Rev. Raymond Langwall, Des Moines. A 100-voice community choir, directed by Philip Ring, sang at both services.

Threatening weather caused some apprehension Monday but rain halted in time for the first of three parades. About 25 floats and several bands and drum and bugle corps delighted the hundreds of spectators lining the parade route. A huge watermelon feed, directed by Supt. James Callaway, was presented Monday night at the park. It featured Swedish folk dancers. A teen-age dance followed at the auditorium.

Tuesday afternoon's parade consisted of nearly 100 units. It featured a huge watermelon feed in the center of town with the Lions club and Jaycees slicing the three tons of chilled melon.

The evening parade featured units from nearly all Wakefield business places and many other communities and Sioux City Shrine organizations.

Park entertainment Tuesday night included the Wakefield Legion drill team, Swedish dancing exhibitions, show horse riding by girls from the White Horse ranch and the fireworks.

Telephone Company Has New Portable Generator

A 10,000-watt electrical generator was assembled and tested Tuesday at the Wayne telephone office.

It will also be available to exchanges at Laurel and Wakefield in emergencies.

The election will be held Aug. 27 to fill three vacancies on the district board. Nominees are Alvin Wagner, Hoskins; Kenneth Werner and Werner Mann, Winslow; Bernhard Splittgerber, Pilger; and Leo Hansen, Wayne.

Only Splittgerber is an incumbent. Others whose terms expire are George Lanz, Hoskins; and Dave Ross, Carroll. Election will be for young men terms.

Ballotting places for the election will be the county agent's office at Wayne. For the convenience of farmers, ballots will be available at all Wayne county banks and the county ASC and SCS offices one week before the election.

Ballots must be completed and in the county agent's office by 5 p.m. Aug. 27. They may be mailed. All landowners are urged to vote in the election.

Victory over South Sioux Vital for Wayne Tonight

Needing a victory to clinch the South division title, Wayne needs South Sioux on the local diamond tonight in an important NE Nebraska league game.

If Wayne loses, the locals will be tied with Winside for division honors. A Wayne victory would mean a big effect on pairings for the local playoffs which open Sunday.

Playoff teams are already determined in each division. Only the first round pairings are in doubt. A meeting was scheduled at Wayne last night to determine the number of games, opponents and sites.

If Wayne beats South Sioux tonight, the locals will face Carroll in the first round playoff. This would pit Winside against Ponka in the other series. If Wayne loses, Winside and Wayne would have to play or draw to see which team plays Carroll.

South division playoffs are also in doubt as Castana and Pender tied for third place in the division. Lyons will meet one of those two teams with Homer facing the other in opening playoff tilts.

A re-extension program for 1953-crop corn resale loans was announced this week by County ASC Chairman Carl O. Sundell. It had previously been announced these loans would not be re-extended.

Sundell said farmers can decide to re-extend their resale loan anytime before final delivery date that will be issued by the county ASC office.

Farmers to re-extend their loans will receive a 15 cents per bushel payment for the storage period which ended July 31. They will receive 16 cents per bushel storage payment for the coming year which ends July 31, 1957.

If corn is redeemed prior to the 1957 deadline, a rate of $.00053 per bushel per day, not to exceed 16 cents per bushel, will be used to determine storage payments.

Ministerial Group Hits Sunday Fair

Wayne Ministerial association in a recent meeting reiterated its opposition to Sunday opening of the Wayne county fair.

The same group entered a protest against the Sunday opening last year. Spokesmen for the association said county ministers and church councils were nearly unanimous in opposition to the Sunday opening last year. This opposition was referred to the Fair board last summer but the board said it was too late for action to be taken.

Another letter from the Ministerial association was sent to the Fair board last September. It pledged wholehearted support if it did not involve Sunday.

Discussion at a recent meeting centered about the Fair board's apparent disregard of the September letter.

Nadine Lage Is Bride of Gene Cumming At Sunday Evening Candlelight Service

—Picture by Babers Studio

Nadine Lenore Lage became the bride of Gene L. Cumming Sunday evening at a candlelight ceremony in the First Methodist church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lage, Wayne, and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cumming, St. Edward.

Rev. A. B. Gray officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with baskets of white and pink gladioli, palms and fern. Wallace Lewin, Hastings, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. J. T. Dressler.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown which she designed and made. The fitted bodice of nylon eyelet over satin was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline of softly draped nylon tulle, shirred at the shoulders and edged with tiny scallops. The floor length skirt of nylon tulle featured an overskirt of scalloped nylon embroidered eyelet shirred at the sides.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a scalloped headpiece trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. Her crystal necklace and earring set was a gift of the bridegroom. She wore mitts of nylon eyelet edged in scallops and carried a cascade bouquet of pale pink sweetheart roses with removable corsage.

Maid of honor was Donna Lage, sister of the bride. Mrs. Ernest Spanhake was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of white embroidered net over Nile green taffeta with matching headpieces and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Candlelighters were Mrs. Marvin Johnson, Grafton, and Twyla Swanson, Laurel. They wore long gowns of green and white net and had wrist corsages of pink carnations. Flower girl was Connie Cumming, Genoa, niece of the bridegroom. She wore a white net gown over green taffeta with a headpiece to match. She carried a white basket of rose petals. Fair of Champions

Sunday the Wayne county fair opens for a three-day run. Parsons from all over Northeast Nebraska will gather here to view prize livestock, compare crops and take in the show.

They like the Wayne county fair. It offers them a chance to see one of the best county fairs in the state along with a grade of beef cattle that's hard to equal. Wayne county's record of nine Ak-Ser-Ben Grand Champions in 18 years testifies to that.

It is no accident that we have such a fine calibre of exhibits here. They come about as the result of long hours of hard work on the part of the fair board, 4-H youths, interested farmers and businessmen.

Because this high interest is maintained each

Way Back When...

10 Years Ago
August 8, 1946—Wayne voters at a special election Tuesday defeated the proposal to issue $35,000 in bonds to improve Memorial park. The vote stood 437 for and 334 against the issue. Soaking rains in Nebraska and western Iowa Sunday evening broke a hot dry spell and boosted crop prospects over the area. Wayne has 274 boys and 273 girls between the ages 5 and 21, according to Mrs. Julia Haas. The 1945 figures show that there were 302 boys and 279 girls between the same ages.

15 Years Ago
August 14, 1941—The two narrow doors at the fire hall are being made into an 18-foot door so that fire trucks will have more clearance. With the two doors the clearance was only a couple inches. Wayne businessmen contributed the money to buy the gate because they recognize the value of the fair to both the man on the farm and the man in the town. It is a common meeting place for both.

Let's all try to meet there this year.

THE ELECTION WORD TODAY IS—DON'T VOTE in the Dark! That means—be an informed voter—know the candidates—know the issues—form your own opinion. For non-partisan information—get the facts at your library. Then if you're weary of all the political talk try the lighter side of politics and read Will Rogers on How We Elect Our Presidents, or look at the book of cartoons The Candidate, or The Political Zoo.

SOME TIME AGO THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE authorized us to buy a book for the memorial shelf for the late Rollie Ley. We have been searching for the right book and the decision was made this week to subscribe for two years to the quarterly magazine Nebraska History published by the State Historical Society. Mr. Ley was a member of the Executive Board of the Society when he passed away so the choice of the magazine for his memorial seemed even more appropriate than a book. An article by J. R. Johnson appears in the June issue.

NOW THAT VACATION TIME IS IN FULL SWING we have a book you will surely enjoy called How to Travel with Parents by Eloise Barragan. A humorous exposé of grown-ups as seen through the eyes of a worldly-wise teen-ager in a merry tale of a merry trip. There are some perceptive observations in the book such as, "By the time children are old enough to notice, parents have known each other a long while and learned all allowances for each other's foibles, so it is a good idea if the children can learn to make allowances too."

DID YOU READ ABOUT THOSE PECULIAR lights seen in the sky in Kansas and later in Michigan a couple of weeks ago? Even the editor of the Wichita paper says he is no longer a scuffer since he has seen them himself. Now Aime Michel, the eminent French mathematician and engineer, presents what he calls the facts about these unidentified flying objects throughout the world. He calls his book "The Truth about Flying Saucers."

WE HAVE HAD THE LITERARY GUILD BOOK "Chained Circle" by Susan Ertz since June but it has never been mentioned in this column. This was an oversight because it is certainly a very interesting story, a wonderful character study of a closely knit family. This English author can write about Americans and make her stories most convincing. She also varies her subject matter so that you can not type her novels but they are all vividly told.

Seeding Grasses and Legumes
Fall is the ideal time to seed grasses and legumes if moisture conditions are favorable.

Legumes should be included in all grass seedings. Not only do they add to the quality and quantity of forage produced, but they provide nitrogen for increased growth of grasses as well. Either sweetclover or alfalfa can be seeded with grasses in the fall. Birds-foot trefoil can be seeded in the spring. It is made under irrigated conditions.

Whatever the situation, it will pay dividends to select adapted grasses and legumes that are suited to your needs. Successful seedings are also directly dependent upon firm, weed-free seedbeds.

Stands will get off to a better start if they are adequately fertilized. When soil tests show a need for lime and phosphate, apply them at the time of seedbed preparation.

Experienced sowers find that it is superior to broadcasting in obtaining satisfactory stands. Corrugated roller-type seeders give most uniform depth of seeding. Ordinary grain drills are satisfactory if their wheels are exercised to prevent deep seeding.

Remember, legumes should not be seeded at depths exceeding 1/2 to 1 inch depths.

Grassed Waterways
Late summer is an ideal time to prepare and seed waterways. Ditches in stubble fields should be shaped and seeded to grasses sometime between Aug. 10 and Sept. 15.

In establishing grassed waterways, the following factors should be considered: (1) they should be constructed wide enough to carry off run-off water from the immediate drainage area; (2) shape them like a saucer with a wide, flat bottom to spread the water and to prevent cutting; (3) construct temporary dikes around the top and the sides of the waterway to divert run-off water from the new seeding until it is well established; (4) the soil should be packed firmly; (5) seed adapted, sod-forming grasses, including one or two native grasses and a light nurse crop; and (6) mulch and fertilize with straw, manure, commercial fertilizer, etc. to protect and feed the new seedlings.

A road patrol is the most common type of machine now being used to prepare waterways. Bulldozers are used where the ditches are extremely large. Small ditches may be shaped with ordinary farm machinery.

If ASC payments are expected, the Soil Conservation Service technician must examine the site and design the depth and width of the waterway before construction of the waterway.

Milk—Wonder Food
Milk is a unique substance in that it is the only substance that nature specifically designed as a food. In addition to milk, there are many attractive and nutritious dairy products such as ice cream, cheese and butter which contribute in important ways to the human diet. Let us take a look at some of those qualities which make milk and its unadulterated products superior foods.

Calcium milk is the richest source of available calcium, richer than saturated lime water. Calcium is so very essential in the growth and maintenance of teeth and bone structure.

Milk protein—the protein of milk—is high in quality. It has an unusual quality in that when combined with proteins of vegetable origin their nutritional values are almost doubled.

Lactose—milk is the only substance in nature that contains the sugar known as lactose. Galactose, a derivative of lactose is essential for the growth and development of the brain and nervous system of the young and it serves to maintain that system in the adult. You never outgrow your need for milk.

August Month
Sandwich Month by the food industry, with cooperation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Many food items on the list of "plentiful" lend themselves to sandwiches: sliced turkey, sliced chicken, hamburgers, cheeseburgers, or roast beef from the plentiful supply of beef. Cheese sandwiches are always popular, and cheese is one of the dairy products classed as plentiful because of big milk production. Peanut butter, lettuce and tomatoes are plentiful too.

Because of big production of turkeys this year, more of them will come to market during the summer. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports there will be more turkeys than ever before, plus a generous supply of hens.

Bartlett pears, plums, lemons and limes all will provide fruits and juices for summer eating and drinking. An abundance of fresh vegetables also will be on the market.

Property Tax
Lincoln—The cost of supporting Nebraska government for the next 12 months is going to be nine cents less for each $1,000 assessed value of property—the first decline in three years.

The State Board of Equalization made a reduction in setting 1956-57 property tax at $8.09 per $1,000 worth of property. The 1955-56 figure was $8.18.

It was the first reduction in the state levy since 1953 when the bill skidded to $5.75, from the $6.98 level of 1952.

The net result of the reduction is that citizens will pay $1,008,680 less in taxes to support state government this year. Other property taxes are levied by cities, counties and school districts.

The big dollar reduction primarily is the result of the ending of special appropriations by the 1955 Legislature. The appropriations applied only to the 1955-56 fiscal year.

Also a contributing factor is that the fixed levies will produce less money because the state's total value of tangible property has dropped to $2,935,642,288 from last year's $3,046,455,004.

That value has caused some concern among members of the State board headed by Gov. Victor Anderson.

State Tax Commissioner Fred Harrington, a board member, said he felt the state ought to have authority to audit a county assessor's office.

The reason, he said, is that often the value of property turned in by counties is not accurate and when the county applies its levy, it is against a lower valuation than the one turned into the state.

The concern of the state board is genuine since it must depend on the accuracy of the county figures for they are used to determine the state levy.

Gov. Anderson said a law should be enacted stating that the figure turned in by the counties could not be lowered.

Fixed levies by the state include $1.10 per thousand dollars worth of property for the institutional building fund, 25 cents for the University of Nebraska college of medicine, and 50 cents for the teachers retirement fund.

Soil Bank
State agriculture officials say the last planting of farmers to sign up for the soil bank program, took in 600,000 acres of land.

Agriculture Director Ed Hoyt said incomplete figures boosted the total acreage in the program to nearly 1,500,000 on which payments total $2,385,624.

The land placed in the bank is about 8.5 percent of all the cultivated land in the state.

About 1,385,917 acres were put into the corn acreage reserve—or about 23 percent of the total corn acreage harvester in Nebraska in 1955.

That means that Nebraska's corn acreage harvested in Nebraska

Patio, Angled Walls, Fireplace, Air Conditioning Feature Ben Viken Home

Angles Used In Ceilings, Walls, House

Front patio and back terrace, travertine fireplace and air conditioning are favorites of Mrs. Ben Viken, who with her husband, Hilbert, addition contractor, and son, Jack, 12, live in the brown house framed with crystal blue and Tennessee stone at 613 Hillcrest Road.

Walls and ceilings in the house are set at angles, as is the house itself. It measures 1400 square feet.

The entry floor is flagstone and matches the colors in the beautiful living room corner fireplace. The west wall which faces the 13 x 19 living room is harvest color, the same as the south and west walls of the living room. On the dark green south wall, which is the same color as the other hallways, are seven orange candles in an original chandelier design made by Mr. Viken in walnut and black twisted iron.

North and east walls of the spacious living room and two ceiling beams are oak paneling. The living room ceiling harmonizes very well with the sage green sectional and the forest green carpeting. Draperies are an oak leaf design using harvest, black and brown. Black modern lamps are on cherry and mahogany end tables. Other chairs are black with silver metallic thread.

Throughout the house are awning windows. Windows, here, are on the north, south, and west. Also on the west is a sliding glass door leading to the back terrace.

An angular desk and coffee table designed and made by Mr. Viken, have black trim. The desk chair is wrought iron. The south end of the living room is an 8 x 12 dining area.

Above all windows in the house is indirect lighting. Woodwork is birch.

Bouquet pink walls, platinum varnished cabinets (pink on the inside) with brass hardware, and gray skylark formica; are in the 8 x 13 kitchen. The flooring is pink and charcoal vinyl plastic. Curtains are a pink, gray and black glosheen print. A divided sink with disposal is pink.

On the west wall is washable wallpaper with a garden design on silver gray background. A pink planter of the same siding that was used for the exterior of the house separates the kitchen from the basement stairway.

A hall with dark green ceiling and walls contrasts nicely with the pink kitchen walls. Mrs. Viken pointed out that the lowered ceiling and green color give the hall a cooling atmosphere. A hall closet has a lavender, biogide finish door.

Corky's bedroom, which he helped design, has sandalwood colored walls, tangerine ceiling and green rug. Draperies are a butterfly design in chartreuse, brown and tangerine. The 10 x 12 room has built-in shelves and wardrobe and a built-in chest with turquoise and brown textile counter. Furnishings are eighteenth century mahogany.

A bath, with entrances from the den and Corky's room has coral skylark formica counter, marble green sink and stool with matching green walls and ceiling. The flooring is green, white and black plaid linoleum which needs little cleaning. A built-in shower is lined with brown, green and yellow marolite resembling marble. Draperies are flowers on a yellow background.

Vikens spend much of their time in the 10 x 14 den where they have television and books in three sectional open bookcases on the north wall and in the northwest corner. Mr. Viken built the bookcases.

The entire west wall is windows where hand-painted areas drop out with medieval castles and flowers in purple, pink, chartreuse and charcoal have been hung. Against the windows is a gold and black tweed hide-a-bed. The rug is a floral design in gray, rose, green and brown.

Walls are linen green and the ceiling is white. On the south wall is a large painting of Corky in white frame. A picture on the north wall is a fishing scene in gold frame. Built-in double wardrobes which are also in the master bedroom, are on the east wall.

Another hallway has a linen closet which opens into the hall and into the master bedroom. An other closet is cedar-lined.

White wall, natural floor and light blue ceiling are in the 16 x 16 master bedroom. It has a mahogany dresser, a turquoise and gold and oak white background. Furniture is gray finished cherry. Beneath the double wardrobes are built-in storage drawers.

With entrances from the master bedroom and the front entry is a second bath. The flooring is black and white vinyl tile. Bottom half of the walls are white and orchid marbled tile. Above the tile is wallpaper in a white and lavender line pattern on black.

Fixtures are blue. The lavatory is built into platinum varnished cabinets which are covered with charcoal oak formica. Hardware is chrome. A mirrored wall is above the cabinets. Orchid glensport drapes are at the window.

A fireplace is also in the un-finished basement. The carpet is blue and white and has a north-south wall.

The family moved into their home in September, 1955 before it was completed. They hope to do more work in the winter when they plan a separate paper box with bookcases above it. The basement will be finished.

Who Are THE LUTHERANS?

Early in the 16th century, there was only one Protestant in the world. He was Martin Luther — a Roman Catholic priest, scholar and theologian.

Through years of inner agony — long days and nights of Bible study — intensive comparison of the theologians — Luther had come face-to-face with the painful fact: 13 centuries had gradually changed the historical church into something radically different from that which had been founded when God came to earth and died on a hill called Calvary.

Luther's open "protest" began when he nailed the Ninety-Five Theses to the church door in the little university town of Wittenberg, Germany, on October 31, 1517.

Less than 50 years later, the Lutheran rediscovery of New Testament Christianity had touched the whole western world and was flourishing across most of northern Europe.

Today, it is the faith of 70 to 90 million people. No one knows exactly how many they number — because once again millions of Lutherans are martyrs, this time behind the Iron Curtain.

The "Mother Church of Protestantism" is by far the largest of all Protestant churches. She includes more than one-third of all the Protestants in the world. You, too, may wish to learn more of her faith and life.

Clip and fill in the coupon and mail it. Lutheran laymen will welcome the chance to visit with you?

Plenty of Zip at a pip of a price

(It's a great time to buy a Buick!)

SERIOUSLY—where else can you get so much snap and ginger at such a peach of a price?

Where else can you get a big, high-powered, steady-riding hardtop like this '56 Buick Riviera—at a figure that's pretty close to what they're asking for similar models of the well-known smaller cars?

Nowhere else that we know of—which is one big reason why Buick outsells all other cars in America except two of those smaller cars.

BUT RIGHT ALONG with low price is something else behind Buick's big success: Buick is a lot more automobile for the money.

It gives you more room and luxury—more zip and power thrill—fine handling and sure-footed stability.

And it gives you something you can get in no other car—today's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* It's the only transmission in the world with the cruising thrift and the switch-pitch safety-surge taken from the modern plane's propeller.

So why wait any longer—when the time to take action is now, so you can start enjoying all the golden months of summer and fall in a new '56 Buick?

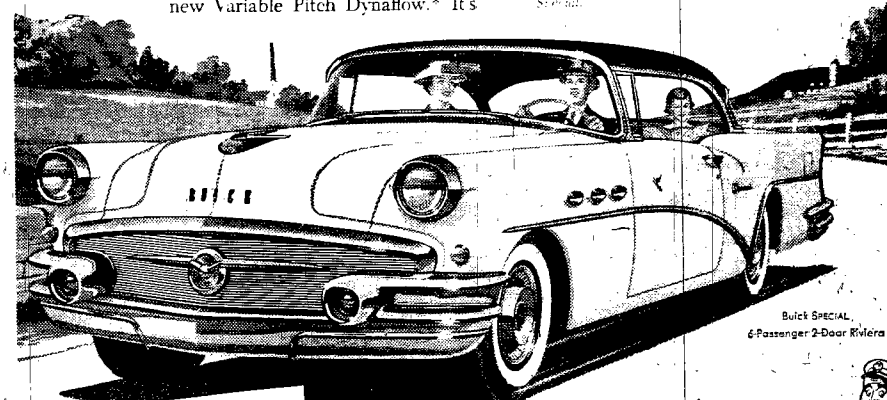

Now—when Buick prices are as low as—perhaps lower than—they'll ever be again.

Now—when your present car is at its peak of worth—and when today's high volume '56 Buick sales permit us to make you an even better trade-in allowance.

Come see us—and look into the car that puts you years ahead right now.

Come see us today—and discover the dilly of a deal that will make you wonder why on earth you waited as long as you did.

*New Advanced Variable Buick Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick Buick's day. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

AIRCONDITIONING at a COOL NEW LOW PRICE. It cools, filters, dehumidifies. Get 4-Season Comfort in your new Buick with genuine FRIGIDAIRE CONDITIONING.

Low Bids Total Airport Improvement

Council May Face Battle On Easement

Wayne's city council Tuesday night recommended approval of bids for improvements at the local airport totalling about $18,900.

The project, which will include runway grading and lighting and drainage channel revisions, is expected to start about Sept. 1 if the bids are accepted by the CAA.

Tuesday night's bids were about $1,700 under the engineer's estimates. Low bidder on grading, seeding and fencing was Carl A. Schutte Construction Co., Newark, with a figure of $9,997.20. Bid of H & M Equipment Co., Hastings, was $11,087.10.

Lowest of three bidders on the lighting contract was Brookley Electric, Waterloo, at $6,916. Other bidders and their prices were: Simpson Electric, Pender, $7,435, and Ed Bradley and Son, Omaha, $10,545.

A possible legal hassle also confronted the council on the airport project. The improvements require securing additional clear zone easements for extended glide paths on the new runway scheme. S. J. Hite appeared and said he does not want to give the air easement but would sell the council about three acres for $300 per acre.

It was pointed out the new ement would cutting tops from property and or two acres were council finally start of condonings for the cment if a satisfment cannot be other manner.

Hereford Nips Jus for Honor

Top honors in the 4-H baby beef show at the Wayne county fair Monday went to a 920-pound Hereford steer shown by Karen Willers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Willers, Wayne.

The steer, named Johnny 3rd, succeeded a Hereford shown for Jack Langemeier, Wayne, a year ago. The new champion is a home raised calf born in May, 1955.

Close behind the Willers' steer was a well-built Angus, appropriately named Blocky, shown by Diana Dunklau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dunklau, Wayne.

Miss Willers and Miss Dunklau, both 13, are first-time champions. Both plan to take their calves to state shows for further competition. Over 80 head of fat steers were shown in the contest judged by Paul Guyer, Lincoln.

Miss Willers, member of Brenna Go-Getters 4-H club, also topped the Hereford division with her steer. Bill Willers, Winside, showed the reserve champion.

Miss Dunklau, Hi-Raters club member, topped the Angus division. This reserve went to Franklin Lutt, Wayne. Bob Longe, Wayne, showed the Shorthorn champion with reserve honors going to Roy Hurd's steer.

Dennis Lutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Lutt, Wayne, showed a Hereford which was named grand champion heifer. Duane Lutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lutt, Wayne, showed the reserve champion, an Angus.

Breed champions among the heifers were: Dennis Lutt, Hereford; Duane Lutt, Angus; and Dick Longe, Shorthorn. Brenna Go-Getters won competition among clubs with groups of five steers. Second place went to Blue Ribbon Winners.

Breeding heifer champions were: Bill Gries, Angus; Sharon Edens, Hereford; and Bill Young, Shorthorn. A Showmanship honor went to Marlis Williams, Carroll, with Roy Hurd placing second. Others in order of placing were Gary Kant, Terry Wehrer and Cheryl Johnson.

In the open class purebred beef show, Hervele Farms, Wayne, swept Hereford division honors. Charles Beerman, Dakota City, showed the champion Angus bull and female. Pat and Bill Young, Laurel, showed the champion and female reserve Shorthorns.

County Growers Get $8,500 in Wool Payments

Wayne county wool growers received a total of about $8,500 in incentive payments for their wool sold during the marketing year ending Mar. 31, 1956. County ANS Chairman Carl O. Sundell said this week. Sundell explained the national average price received by wool growers for the year was 42.8 cents per pound. Based on this figure, the average payment to growers to bring the average return to 62 cents per hundred was determined to be 44.9 percent of the price at which the grower sold his wool. Thus payments were based on $4.90 for each $100 the grower received for his wool. County farmers received $6,475 for short wool and $1,826.09 for lambs and yearlings marketed.
