Wayne Needs A Municipal Hospital

Additional doctors attracted to Wayne by a municipal hospital would relieve much of the time spent in waiting rooms, providing quicker medical service for you and your family.

It would cost about $375,000 to build and equip a new hospital for a community the size of Wayne. Benthack hospital can be purchased including equipment - for less than half that amount.

Much time and driving would be saved by patients, doctors, relatives and ministers who now have to drive to out of town hospitals for medical care, treatment, calls and visits.

A public hospital would attract patients from other communities, bringing more people to Wayne, benefiting business, employment and the general welfare of Wayne.

A hospital open to ALL doctors and their patients could mean the saving of lives, by cutting out tiresome trips for the patient and getting him to doctors more quickly.

Our present doctors would be able to devote more time to their primary job of healing the sick and injured instead of spending fime in running hospitals or driving long distances.

We would be keeping more of our dollars at home by keeping more of our patients at home. Collectively the money spent in other hospitals each year is a substantial amount.

A city hospital can be operated ONLY by a city council or a city-council appointed hospital board consisting of from 3-5 persons who would be directly responsible to the council.

Railway Commission Reverses Decision on Chadron Trains

Statehouse Correspondent Lincoln—The place the railroads and airplane will play in Nextaska's transportation picture this year has taken on new significance.

A group has been formed which sponsors said is designed to work with railroads on transportation problems. It is called the Nebraska Agricultural and Industrial Transportation association. J. C. Suttle, Omaha, who represents a group of hay dealers, said it is known that railroads have a "serious financial situation to combat."

But, he added, the Nebraska constmer and producer is having troubles too. "Certainly somewhere along the line there is muit, and ground where ideas can meet and all of us live," commented Stitie.

Stitie said he have an incent.
