Now... all America sees the one that's truly new!

Like all '59 Chevies, the Impala Sport Sedan has Safety Plate Glass all around.

'59 CHEVROLET

what America wants, America gets in a Chevy!

It's shaped to the new American taste with a lean, clean silhouette, crisp new contours, beautifully restrained accents. It brings you more spaciousness and comfort with a new Body by Fisher. It has a bright new sheen—a new kind of finish that keeps its luster without waxing for up to three years. New bigger brakes. Vast new areas of visibility. New Hi-Thrift 6. New handling ease and road steadiness. It's new right down to the tires!

Never before has an automobile manufacturer made such sweeping changes two years in a row. And never before has any car been new like this one.

The 1959 Chevrolet is more than a restyled car—more, even, than a completely new car. It's your kind of car. Shaped to reward your new taste in style with a fresh Slimline design that brings entirely new noise and proportion to automobile styling. Inside the new and roomier Body by Fisher you'll find truly tasteful elegance. And you'll have clear seeing from every seat. The new Vista-Panoramic windshield curves overhead—and there are new bigger windows, too.

When you take the wheel, you find Chevy's newness goes down deep. A new steering ratio makes handling easier. New suspension engineering gives you a more stable ride. There's a sweet new edition of Turbofide™. A new Hi-Thrift 6 that goes and goes on a gallon. Vim-packed V8's. New and bigger brakes. Even tougher, safer Tyrex cord tires.

There's still more! A new finish that keeps its shine without waxing or polishing for up to three years. New Impala models. New wagons—including one with a rear-facing rear seat. And, with all that's new, you'll find those fine Chevrolet virtues of economy and practicality. Stop in now and see the '59 Chevrolet.

The October Nebraska Farm Outlook

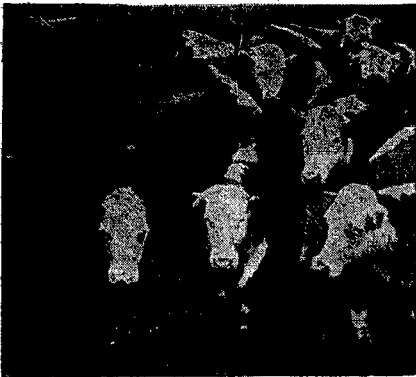

"Our Roots Are In This Land"

FARM REVIEW AND FORECAST

Cattle and Hog Outlook for 1958 - 59

RECORD FEED SUPPLIES FROM GOOD CROPS and LARGE CARRYOVER

Total supply of feed grains and other concentrates for 1958-59 will exceed the big one of last year and set a new record. The 1958 grain and oilseed crop will be the nation's largest. In addition to this year's big crop, record stocks of feed grains are carried over from 1957 and previous years.

Warm, dry weather in August helped bring corn and grain sorghum closer to maturity and offset earlier cool, wet conditions. The most important shift in acreage is the increase in corn and soybean acreage and the reduction in grain sorghum both in Nebraska and in the United States. This shift resulted from improved moisture conditions in the Great Plains and from harvesting difficulties last fall.

The U.S. corn crop of 3.5 billion bushels will be the second highest on record, exceeded only by the 1948 crop of 3.6 billion bushels; it may eventually equal or surpass this amount with continued favorable weather for maturing and harvesting. Yields per acre nationally and in Nebraska may top all previous records.

Nebraska farmers will harvest nearly 600,000 more acres of corn in 1958 than in 1957.

Grain sorghum acreage is down about 20 per cent in the U. S. and 25 per cent in Nebraska from 1957. While this year's production will be lower than last year's, the total supply will be about 250 million bushels higher because of the large carryover.

Oats supply is about average; yields were generally high but acreage was less than in 1957 and considerably below average. Carryover and imports will bring total supply up to that of last fall. The U. S. barley crop is a little higher than last year. Carryover barley will boost supply to 625 million bushels, over a third larger than the 1952-56 average.

Increase in soybean acreage to an all-time high and expected high yields will more than offset the drop in cotton acreage. The total supply of protein supplement feeds will be slightly larger than for 1957-58.

The 1958 hay crop in both Nebraska and the U. S. is down a little from last year's record crop. Total supply of 142.5 million tons will exceed that of last year because of the large carryover.

Feed grain prices may be slightly higher during the 1958-59 season than for 1957-58, despite large supplies. Stocks of feed grains are the largest on record and double those of five years ago but 70 per cent of total is under price support loan or purchase agreement or is owned by CCC. Price supports are again available to feed grain producers as an alternative market, mostly at levels only slightly below those of 1957.

Table 1 Estimated feed concentrate supplies, U. S. 1958, with comparisons

FEEDER CATTLE WILL COST MORE THIS FALL

Prices of replacement cattle will average $2-$3 more per cwt. this fall than a year ago, but the seasonal price movement will be different. Last fall the usual decline with heavier fall marketings did not occur; instead feeder cattle prices were steady from July through September, then moved upward to a high in June 1958, in response to a very strong demand from both ranchers and feeders.

The seasonal movement will be more normal this year. Prices will decline from this peak by $1-$2 per cwt. to a low for the year in October then start to go up again. Prices will be as high next spring as in 1958, and possibly higher.

The cattle numbers cycle is at the start of an upward phase. Number of cattle on U. S. farms and ranches on Jan. 1, 1958 was just short of 94 million head, about 3 million less than the record high of 96.8 million two years ago. The composition of this herd shows that the low point in beef cattle numbers has been reached and that there will be 1.0-1.5 million more cattle on hand next January 1.

Beef cow numbers declined almost 400,000 during 1957, but there was a slight increase in calf and heifer numbers. The decline in cow, heifer and calf slaughter in 1958 and the increase in the calf crop this year in the Western States shows that herd rebuilding is now underway. (See Table 2).

The total U. S. 1958 calf crop of 41.2 million is about 135,000 smaller than that for 1957. However, most of this decline occurred in the dairy areas as milk cow numbers were further reduced. The calf crop in the Western States including Nebraska increased 2 per cent over 1957. With generally favorable feed conditions over the range area this fall, ranchers will hold cows, heifers and heifer calves in order to increase their breeding herds. This is encouraged by present cattle prices and by a favorable beef outlook for the next 3-5 years.

FAT CATTLE PRICE OUTLOOK

Prices next summer and fall will determine profits on cattle placed on feed this fall and winter, not present prices.

Cattle slaughter January-June, 1958, was 9.5 per cent below the same period for 1957. On Jan. 1 this year the number of cattle and calves on feed was 3 per cent below a year earlier. Placements on feed increased sharply early in the year so that on Apr. 1 there were 12 per cent more cattle on feed than in 1957 and on July 1, 16 per cent more.

The developments in number on feed and in marketings this year are shown in Table 3. Note particularly the increase in the number on feed in the April-June and July-September periods. The movement of these cattle to market this summer and fall explains the downward trend of fed cattle prices since April.

Fed cattle slaughter will be larger this summer and fall than a year ago. For example, beef production in June, 1958 was 2 per cent above May but still slightly below June 1957. Since June, marketings have increased and the prices of the better grades of slaughter cattle have declined to about the same level as a year ago. The reduced slaughter rate in the first six months of '58 and strong demand for meat and for cattle to feed or add to breeding herds had pushed prices up to a high in March and April of about $6.00 cwt. over a year earlier.

The supply of grass cattle will be smaller this fall than last year. The total beef slaughter thus may not equal that of a year ago. This would indicate that fed cattle prices should become steady this fall.

Profits on cattle marketed this fall and winter will come from weight gain and low-cost feed, not from price margin. The prices of lower grades will stay high relative to choice and prime grades of fed cattle.

Next year the prices of better grades will resume a more normal seasonal movement; upward through the summer to a high in early fall. Prices a year from now should be higher than this fall unless depressed by an avalanche of pork.

Cattle placed on feed last winter and spring should be sold as soon as they reach the desired weight and finish. It will not pay to carry them to heavier weights in the hope of an early price recovery. In feeding to choice grade for next year's summer and fall market, putting low-cost gain on young, light good quality cattle should yield average profits.

The gain in weight from cheap feed, especially roughage, can absorb the high original cost of the feeder. For shorter feeding systems, light common and medium feeder cattle to be sold in the spring show better profit prospects than heavier cattle. The narrow price margin between feeder steer and heifer prices places heifers in a less favorable position than usual.

HOG PRODUCTION IS INCREASING 13 Per Cent More Fall Farrowing Planned

A sizeable uptrend in hog production apparently is beginning with this fall's farrowings.

Compiled from Nebraska Farm and Ranch Economics, Prepared under the Direction of E. E. Peterson, Agricultural Extension Service and Department of Agricultural Economics, College of Agriculture, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, and Reprinted in the Public Interest by—

Producers are planning a 13 per cent increase in the number of sows to farrow fall pigs. As they follow a slight gain in the fall of 1957, the number of sows farrowing this fall would be the largest since 1951. Moreover, if these intentions are realized and the number of pigs saved per litter is average with an allowance for upward trend, the 1958 fall crop would be about 41.5 million pigs, up 14 per cent from last fall and the largest peacetime fall crop on record.

All regions except the North Atlantic plan more fall farrowings. Producers in the West North Central States intend to increase farrowing by 21 per cent, the greatest gain for any area. Nebraska hog producers plan to increase 1958 fall farrowings by 24 per cent.

Total 1958 Pig Crop Up 7 Per Cent

If the fall pig crop should be 41.5 million head as now indicated, the combined pig crop for 1958 would be 94.2 million. Such a crop would be 7 per cent above 1957 but only 5 per cent more than the 1947-56 average. If fall intentions are realized in Nebraska, the fall pig crop of 1.4 million would make a total 1958 crop of 4 million pigs.

An increase in hog production has been made inevitable by the consistently favorable hog-corn ratio, large "free" grain supplies and relatively high hog prices. More surprising than the large jump now occurring is that it did not come earlier.

If a 14 per cent rise in fall pig crop does materialize, it will result in substantially lower prices for hogs in the spring and summer of 1959 than the relatively high prices in those seasons of this year. This will bring to an end the current unusually favorable period for hog prices. On the other hand, several factors will prevent declines from being severe:

- (1) the fall crop is the smaller of the two annual crops, and hogs from it reach market at a time when pork output is seasonally smaller
- (2) cold storage stocks this winter will doubtless be kept smaller than usual, offsetting some of next spring's increase in current pork production
- (3) the increase in pork output will begin from the lowest level relative to population in several years.
- (4) beef output will remain cyclically small in 1958.

HOG PRICES DECLINE SEASONALLY

Prices are expected to decline seasonally from an early-summer peak. A late-summer price adjustment could be fairly sharp if marketings of early spring pigs should be bunched. However, a more gradual decline throughout late summer and fall is the more likely prospect. Prices for the fall as a whole will probably average near those of last fall—possibly a little above.

A sharp upturn in prices at the end of the year as occurred in each of the last two years does not seem probable this year. Prices could recover only a bit, and then decline again as hogs from the 1958 fall crop reach the market.

THE SIGN OF AN Out-of-Town Roofer or Siding Applicator ON YOUR HOUSE IS NOTHING TO BE PROUD OF

(HE WILL NO DOUBT CALL ON YOU)

- 1 IT IS A SLAP-IN-THE-FACE TO WAYNE LABOR.
- 2 THE SIGN OF THE STRANGE ROOFER GENERALLY MARKS THE HOME OF AN EASY MARK FOR SMART PEDDLERS.
- 3 THE SIGN OF THE STRANGE ROOFER OR SIDING APPLICATOR ON THE USUAL COMPOSITION SIDING OR SHINGLE JOB MARKS THE HOUSE OWNER AS NO JUDGE OF VALUE.
- 4 THE SIGN OF THE STRANGE ROOFER MARKS THE HOUSE OWNER AS ONE WHO IS WILLING TO PAY A HIGHER PRICE TO A STRANGER THAN A LOWER PRICE TO A NEIGHBOR FOR COMPARATIVE ARTICLES.
- 5 THE CARHART LUMBER CO. IS NOT AFRAID OF COMPETITION.

We have yet to find a composition roof or siding job put on in or near Wayne by roof or siding peddlers where the owner could not have secured the same quality through local channels, applied by local labor, and have saved a considerable sum.

All we ask is that you have local roof and siding jobs figured by local people before you sign any contracts. (You are not required to sign any contracts with us.) Check on the weight of the roofing; the number of squares; the quality; and find out the advantage of buying locally where you have a guarantee for years. When something goes wrong we are as near as your telephone—you KNOW where to find us, but where will you find the here-today-gone-tomorrow roofing and siding peddler if something goes wrong, one, two, or three years from now?

We can supply the latest styles and colors in roofing and siding. We also suggest that we can help you with other plans.

DO NOT SIGN ANY PAPERS UNTIL YOU HAVE CONSULTED YOUR LOCAL CARPENTER OR DEALER AND SAVE MONEY.

He probably does not know that the number of pounds of roofing to the square when applied to the roof is the all-important distinction between different roofs. The smart salesman has probably shown him a thick sheet of roofing which looks heavy but is applied to the roof so that it makes only one thickness weighing about 160 pounds to the square. Carhart's would most likely advise a slightly thinner composition but WOULD APPLY IT SO AS TO MAKE TWO THICKNESSES WEIGHING ABOUT 230 pounds to the square.
