Candidate For

STATE SENATE, 16th DISTRICT

COLFAX, STANTON and WAYNE COUNTIES

I am not in favor of a State Salés Tax now. Our voters should pay their fair assessments and be happy that we don't have a sales tax like all the states around us, who pay more taxes per person than we pay in Nebraska. Also, a sales tax is costly to operate and enforce. The State Capitol building is overflowing now with bureaus

The history of a State Sales Tax is that it almost always is jacked up higher and higher as tax spenders want more money to spend.

Your local school boards should be very careful about asking or accepting state or federal money to run your school. If you do, you will certainly lose local control over your schools.

I think the January I assessment date should be moved back to March I, which is much better for the farmers. Also, the assessing of household goods should be stopped, as it-costs more than it

Vote for me. I'll get the job done by being aggressive and by using my legislative experience and intelligence. — More to come later, and stay happy

It is amazing to this writer how a Congressman can justify approval of the House action to extend his own free mailing privileges and then call for increased posted rates for the general public to offset the added cost of his own mailings.

Congressman General Arthur Summerfield which would allow first class moit-to-ba_transported by dir when space was available.

If the postal deficit is as large that rates must be increased, it would seam inconsistent to afford air mail service to postal patrons who paid only for first class service. Such a move could only result_in greater costs to the Postoffice Department and an even greater deficit.

Some of the postal_rate hikes asked by the President are undoubtedly justified, but it would seem congress should also look into the dead of reducing Postoffice Department costs and should halt any legislation which would send these costs soaring even higher.

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Those on the three-center to bought Monday that they be got ashamed to put anybody's picture on it, just use a drawing of Miss Liberty. At least they had the proper respect fer our founding fathers not to embarrass 'em putting their picture on this piece of postal larceny. And that's about the only thing good I can say about this new three-cent post card. I hope my Congressman will take note.

Ed was telling the fellers at the country store Saturday night about being over in town to inspect his daughter's new house. I take it from the way Ed talked that he don't think much of the way the house building trade is carried on these days. He said the lumber was so green that come spring of the year they'd have to use a lawn mower on the floors affd a pruning hook on the weatherhoards. He allowed as how they had to put two coats of wall paper in the house to help hold up the roof, and he said his daughter stuck a thumb tack through the wall and hung pictures on it in two rooms. Ed guessed it took em four month to build it on account of his daughter trying to supervise the work. He allowed as how he knowed now why it will king Solomon 40 years to build that temple. He had a thousand wives standing around suggesting how to do it. Ed's a card, Aliste Editor.
