To Present Talex

Tuesday at Rice

Wayne High music department will conduct an ensemble, recital, soloist recital and large group concert April 13, 14 and 15, open to the public, at city auditorium.

Performing tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 will be the madrigal singers, triad trio, mixed quartet, trumpet trio, trumpet quartet, mixed clarinet quartet, woodwind quintet and soloists Colleen Wendel, Nancy de Freese and Beverly Dunn.

Friday's performance, also at 7:30 p.m., will consist of voice and instrumental soloists. Performing will be Roger Lueders, Reny Gillerspeier, Susan Wright, Kenneth Olds, Judy Stinner, Mike Karel, Charlene Wenzell, Lorraine Morris, Jim Havener, Gary Nelson, Bud Borhoff, Sue de Freese, Carla Rethwisch and Mardyn Nurenborg.

The large group concert will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m., consisting of the girls' glee club, mixed chorus, concert band, orchestra and combined band and chorus.

Students performing will compete in the District State Music contest here a week later.

NE Baseball Loop Adds Four Teams For 1961 Season.

Four new teams joined the NE Nebraska Baseball league at the organization's annual meeting Friday night at Wakefield. The decision to expand the loop to 12 teams will mean the addition of Wayne, Winside, Laurel and Decatur to the schedule.

Officers elected at Friday's meeting were Pete Temple, Emerson, president; Don Krueger, Lyons, vice president, and Merlin "Lefty" Olson, Wakefield, secretary-treasurer. Roy Pounds, Lyons, was named to head the umpire's association which will work all league games.

Under the reorganization, the league will be split into two divisions, east and west. Comprising the West division are Wayne, Winside, Laurel, Ponca, Wakefield and Emerson. The East Division includes Lyons, Homer, Pender, Decatur and Castana and Onawa, Ia.

Loop play will get underway May 28. A 16-game season is planned plus two all-star games and inter-division playoffs. Pairings for the opening Sunday are Winside at Emerson; Laurel at Wayne; Wakefield at Ponca; Castana at Lyons; Onawa at Homer and Decatur at Pender.

One all-star game will pit the East division against the West division. The second will see a league all star team oppose those from the Dodge County league.

Son of Former Concord Girl Killed in Mishap

Greg Blomberg, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Blomberg, Albion City, Ia., was injured fatally Friday when run over by a school bus driven by his father. Mrs. Blomberg is the former Delores Anderson, daughter of Alvin Anderson, Dixon.

The Blombergs have one other child, an 8-year-old daughter.

first Wayne youth to become an Eagle Scout in some time, accepted the flag in behalf of his Explorer Post at the Wayne Kiwanis meeting Monday.

Miss Bostwick also plays one of the major roles, that of Babe (properly known as Schmella Van Cliburn). Other leading roles are taken by Pam Sanderson, JoAnn Harper, Sue Petersen, Dean Wilson, Tim Cahill, Jerry Ahlers and John Berthold.

Besides the student writing, students are solely in charge of direction. Joe Whitner is director; Rosemary Yates, assistant; Bill Mongan, stage manager; Elaine Carter, choreography, and Ted Bahe, music.

Gary Weible wrote the dialog, based on plot and characters created by Miss Bostwick.

Allen Girl Gets Dixon Junior Homemaker Title

Loretta Kier Allen, has been named Dixon County's Junior Homemaker by the Sioux City Chamber of Commerce in their Siouland Homemakers contest.

Six Dixon county girls were entered by county home extension clubs and Loretta was chosen for her outstanding work in her home, 4-H, church, community and school.

Loretta was entered in the state contest but lost; the state title went to Elgin, Neb., girl.

Changes for ASC To Effect County Governing Bodies

According to Lloyd Morris, Chairman of the Wayne Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, amendments the Secretary of Agriculture has made in the administrative regulations governing ASC county and community committees will have the following direct effects in Wayne County:

(1) County and community election boards are eliminated and authority to conduct elections now is vested in ASC county committees;

(2) Officers of general farm organizations now become eligible to serve as county commissioners, and

(3) The authority to assign duties to community committees is put in the hands of county committees instead of county office manager.

In announcing the amended regulations, Secretary Freedman said:

"The whole purpose in amending the administrative regulations is to return to ASC county committees important responsibilities which they are best qualified to discharge. Yet all the improvement we hope for in farm program administration cannot be brought about by regulation—what we speak and must have is a change in the spirit governing the administration of farm programs."

"It is our firm belief," he said, "that the ASC farmer committee system is the most effective and economical method of operation it operates as originally conceived under the enabling legislation. We intend to see that the committee system functions with full authority and responsibility in the days ahead."

"Operations in the State ASC offices are also being realigned to emphasize the more active participation of the State farmer committee men."

Arlene Asmus, Donald Volwiler Wed In Ceremonies Sunday in Hoskins Church

Arlene Marie Asmus, daughter of two years in the Army, is present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Asmus, Holstein, were engaged in farming.

After a wedding trip to Denver, the couple will reside on a farm near Carroll.

Rev. G. B. Frank officiated at the rites. Mrs. Wills Wills, singer, accompanied by Mrs. Von Fulmer, Walther.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of embroidered nylon organza over burmali satin. The dress features a scalloped embroidered neckline, fitted bodice and empire sleeves.

The boutonniere skirt was highlighted by a large nylon back bow, the illusion veil of imported silk red from a small jeweled crown. She carried an orchid on a white Bible.

Mrs. Wills Wills, Shelby, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Douglas Bjorkland, Gowanda, Minn., and Mrs. Dale Stenberg, Lincoln. They wore gauze gowns fashioned with floral bodices featuring lace midriffs and scoop necklines. They wore matching crowns with short veils and cascade arrangements of carnations and white carnations.

Dwight Volwiler, Carroll, served as best man for his brother, Gary Asmus, Hoskins, and Allan Voth, Carroll, were groomsmen. Ushers were Kermit Benshoof, Carroll, and Merlin Meier, Norfolk.

Renne Harmer, Carroll, was flowergirl and Gary Stoltenberg, Carroll, was ring bearer.

A reception was held in the parochial school basement following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schroeder, Hoskins, were the hosts. Mrs. Merlin Meier, Norfolk, was maid of honor. She wore a pastel blue suit and carried a colonial bouquet.

Don Sherry, Wayne, was best man and Carl Carlson, Crofton, was usher. The men wore white dinner jackets with navy blue trousers.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a black dress with blue accessories.

The April Farm Outlook

FARM REVIEW AND FORECAST

HIGHLIGHTS OF OF THE 1961

BACKGROUND . . .

The new program is basically a combination of voluntary land retirement, price supports, and storage. The land retirement provision applies only to field corn and grain sorghum. Price supports apply to other feed grains in addition. The program applies only to 1961 crops. Besides limiting production, other objectives are: to increase farm income; to stabilize supplies and prices of meat, poultry and dairy products; and to reduce program costs.

PRICE SUPPORTS . . .

Feed grain producers who participate in the program will be eligible for price supports based on the following national averages: corn, $1.20 per bushel; grain sorghum, $1.93 per hundred-weight; oats, 62 cents per bushel; barley, 93 cents per bushel; and rye, $1.02 per bushel. As before, support prices will be established for each county. For soybeans, the 1961-crop support price has been announced at $2.30 per bushel, but participation in the feed-grain program is not required as a condition of eligibility on soybeans.

Effects of the Program . . .

The impacts of the program are difficult to appraise until the extent of participation is known. The quantity of feed grains which the Secretary of Agriculture will be able to sell on the open market is tied directly to participation. The policy in selling grain covered by the negotiable certificates will be to prevent those who do not participate from benefiting as a result of continued high production and improved market prices.

General participation by feed grain producers will mean reduced demand for hybrid seed, fertilizer, insecticides and other production items. The spread between the market price and the support price would be rather narrow in this case. With limited participation, the market price will be considerably below the support price, unless total production is reduced by adverse weather. This difference would be caused mostly by a large supply of "free" corn and grain sorghum rather than by positive selling by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Since the program is for 1961 only, major farm adjustments are not likely to occur. The effects upon the livestock industry will depend upon the feed-grain price level. Higher prices would discourage expansion in hog and poultry production and would tend to reduce prices cattle feeders would be willing to pay for replacements only for the coming feeding season. Lower feed-grain prices would encourage the expansion of livestock production. Longer-range adjustments will await more permanent farm program legislation.

FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

Main Provisions Of The New Program

A. REQUIREMENTS FOR ELIGIBILITY for price support on corn, sorghum, oats, barley and rye.

1. Reduce acreage of corn and sorghum by at least 20% from the corn-sorghum base determined primarily from the 1959-60 average acreage.

a. MAXIMUM acreage which can be diverted: (1) If base is less than 20 acres the entire base may be diverted.

(2) If base is between 20 and 100 acres, 20 acres plus 20% of base. Example: if base is 80 acres, then the maximum is 36 acres; 20 acres plus (.20 x 80A.) equals 36 acres.

(3) If base is over 100 acres, the maximum is 40% of the base.

b. Acreages of oats, barley and rye are not affected in 1961.

c. The Community (Township) Committee is authorized to adjust the base on a farm to compensate for unusual circumstances. If a farm has had, in recent years, an unusual reduction in corn and sorghum acreage due to a conservation plan with a high proportion of grasses and legumes, the base may be adjusted upward. On the other hand, if the base was unduly enlarged because of increased corn and sorghum acreage planted in anticipation of a farm program, the base may be adjusted downward from the 1959-60 average.

d. Soil Bank Land coming out of the Conservation Reserve at the end of a contract will be given a base consistent with the corn and grain sorghum acreage in the two years preceding sign-up in the Conservation Reserve.

2. Place acres diverted out of corn and grain sorghum into conserving use.

a. Permanent or rotation cover of grasses and/or legumes.

b. Temporary cover of grasses and/or legumes.

c. Wildlife cover.

d. Trees or shrubs.

e. Protected summer fallow or "volunteer natural cover"; IF COUNTY COMMITTEE DETERMINES THAT IT IS NOT PRACTICAL TO ESTABLISH COVER.

3. Increase conserving acreage by the number of diverted acres.

This condition prevents mere substitution of conserving uses on diverted acres for cropping of land which had been in conserving uses the past two years.

4. Control insects, weeds, and rodents on diverted acreage if required by the County Committee.

5. Refrain from harvesting or pasturing diverted acreage before December 31.

B. PAYMENT FOR DIVERTED ACREAGE will be based on county average yields for 1959-60. The rate for the first 20% of the base diverted is 50%, for the second 20% it is a 60% rate; any remaining diverted acreage will be at the 50% rate. Productivity will be used to compensate for differences among farms.

1. Here is an example of payment rates for diverted lands:

County Support Rate $1.15 x County Average Yield equals County Rate.

At 50% rate $1.15 x .50 = 50 bu. equals $28.75

At 60% rate $1.15 x .60 x .50 bu. equals $34.50

County Rate x Farm Productivity Index

Equals Acreage Payment

$28.75 x .110 (better farm) equals $31.62

50% rate

$28.75 x .80 (poor farm) equals $23.00

$34.50 x .110 (better farm) equals $37.95

60% rate

$34.50 x .80 (poor farm) equals $27.60

2. A productivity index is being set for each farm by the community committees. This index represents the relationship of the farm to the average farm in the county. Both the land and the farmer are considered.

C. PAYMENT WILL BE MADE IN THE FORM

redeemable in grain or in cash, at the option of the person receiving the certificate. He takes cash he authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to serve as his agent and market the grain out of CCC stocks. One-half of the payment will be made when the producer signs up; the remainder due will be paid after compliance has been checked. Participants will be eligible to sell the normal production from compliance dates for the 1961 crop. If production exceeds normal yield, the excess will not be eligible for support but can be fed or sold at the market price.

D. MISCELLANEOUS POINTS

Payment sharing arrangements between landlords and tenants must be approved by the county committee.

When certificates are redeemed in grain, the grain will be valued at market price, rather than at the support price.

Soybeans will be supported at $2.30 per bushel regardless of feed-grain compliance.

Grain sorghum and corn can be planted in any combination on allotted feed-grain acreage, without regard to history. The diversion payment will be based on the crop reduced in 1961 from the '59-'60 historical average.

ACP cost-sharing may be available for seedings on diverted acres, IF the county committee has the money in its budget and determines that this is the best way to use its scarce ACP funds. Cost-sharing is possible but is NOT guaranteed.

A tenant can participate even though the owner might have another farm which does not go in. The owner will also draw payment if his other farm(s) does not exceed the 1959-60 feed grain base and does not decrease conserving acres.

Starting or final dates for sign-up have not been determined at this writing.

What If I Feed All Of The Grain I Normally Produce?

The problem of the grain producer who also feeds livestock is similar to that of the cash grain producer, except that he has some additional alternatives to consider: (1) He can produce all of his acres and feed his grain. (2) He can divert part of his land and take payment in kind. (3) He can divert part of his land, take payment in cash and buy replacement grain with his diversion payment and the variable cash costs he avoids by not farming diverted acres.

The choice made will depend on your estimate of what the difference will be between the support rate and the market price at harvest time, plus the cost of having the grain delivered to the farm. If grain will be plentiful in the neighborhood this cost might be expected to be quite low. Neighbors would probably rather deliver to your farm than to town if hauling distance is shorter, and under this situation delivery might be obtained at or slightly below the market price.

taxes probably won't be affected.

Variable costs vary from one field to another, you may need to work out more than one set for your farm, especially if you have both dryland and irrigated crops. The following example is merely a rough illustration of how these variable costs might be estimated under different Nebraska conditions.

	Dryland Corn	Dryland Sorghum	Irrigated Corn	Your Field
Seed	.50	1.00	2.25
Fertilizer	4.00	2.50	10.50
Insecticide	1.00		1.00
Tractor Gas: 2 gal./hr. at $.20/gal.	1.60	1.25	2.00
Oil and grease	.40	.40	.50
Extra repairs for use on one acre	1.00	.85	1.25
Irr. pumping gas and oil			4.50
1/8 acre-inches at 950 gpm at $.50/hr.
Custom harvest (Do not include if you own harvesting machine)	4.50	4.50	8.00
Other
(shelling)
(drying)
(hauling)
(storage)
Total variable costs per acre	$14.00	$10.50	$30.00

Once you have estimated the variable costs for your farm and you have learned the diversion payment rate applicable to your farm (available only from your ASC office), you can estimate the results on your farm of your various alternatives. Two more estimates must be made at this point, however:

1. Your 1961 yield.

2. Prices for corn and sorghum next winter. The support price is known; it is 14 cents more than last year on corn and 41 cents per hundred-weight more on sorghum. The free market price will depend on the size of the 1961 crop and how many farmers comply with the program. No one knows how many will participate or what the weather will do.

SCHOOL NEWS

District 10
Mrs. Irene Hamilton

Baseball is in full swing whenever the weather permits. The boys who play in the Junior Leagues during the summer are good trainers for the rest of the children. Even the kindergarteners are becoming good players.

The Friday before Easter we all had a treasure hunt. Pop was found in the cave and a cake was found in the trunk of the teacher's car. We even found Easter baskets for everyone in the old mail boxes across the road. We all enjoyed the treats and a few games before we went home.

Carla Beck and Jean Lutt treated us all on their birthdays recently.

Recent visitors were Mrs. Merlin Saul and her nephew Gregg Michelson, Lincoln. David Bauer has been absent with measles. Those having perfect attendance this year are Jack and Randy Lutt, and Debby and Roger Saul. Book report awards given by Mrs. Porter were received by the following: John Claus, fourth grade; Terry Lutt, second award; Jon Lutt, Randy Lutt and Jean Meyer, first award.

Eighth graders to take exams on May 1 are Larry Larsen, Julianne Petersen, Jerry Meyer and Terry Lutt.

District 11 Irene Kant:

We are enjoying spring and noticing signs of spring. Playing ball has been our recreation.

Mrs. Kant was given a surprise party for her birthday by the pupils and their mothers. A gift was presented to her.

Douglas Kirsch is the winner of our "Be On Time" contest.

Our top spellers this six weeks are Douglas Deck and Darwin Smith. Our top social studies students are Gregory Kirsch and Neil Brogren.

Jim and Tim Kirsch and Delvene Smith have shown interest in creative art. Brian Hoffman has shown interest in reading and Scott Deck in arithmetic.

Our room has been decorated for Easter and with health posters. We enjoyed an Easter egg hunt with Elroy Brogren and David Jaeger as our guests. Mrs. Kant also treated us to chocolate Easter eggs.

Since we only have six weeks of school left we will really try to improve our grades in all subjects.

For health we all were weighed and measured our height to see the gain in our weight and height since last fall.

District 13 Mrs. Shirley Hamer:

Paul Ring has had perfect attendance so far this year. Sherie Forth treated the pupils on her birthday. The pupils have been working on a farm project for Conservation Day.

The pupils enjoyed an Easter party last Friday by playing a few games and then a lunch was served by the teacher.

Paul Ring and Norman Cooper, have just completed their social studies books and are now working on maps.

In arithmetic the seventh graders have just finished the study of finding the area of rectangles, parallelograms and triangles and are now inscribing figures in circles. Sixth graders have just finished multiplication and division in decimals. The fourth graders have just completed their multiplication tables and are now working on division problems.

The pupils are planning a roller skating party for the latter part of the month.

Debbie Forth has just finished her second pre-primer. She has been working a few number combination in arithmetic. We had three visitors the past six weeks Mrs. Evan Hamer, Judy Gustafson and Michael Johnson.

District 9 Helen Chmeler Teacher:

With the admittance of Douglas Sieger, grade two, to our room the enrollment is now 26. Next year there will be three teachers in Hoskins: Paul Johnson, 6, 7, 8; Mrs. Francis Shaffer, 3, 4, 5; Helen Chmeler, B, 1, 2.

We thought our room was beautiful this Easter with the colorful bulletin boards and our table display. Mrs. Bobek sent us an Easter egg tree. We also had 18 paper maché Easter bunnies, which we had made in pastel shades. Each child took his own special bunny home. Good Friday afternoon.

Our 26-piece lower grade rhythm band, in capes and hats, played several numbers when Hoskins was host to the Rural Teacher's meeting at the Botherhood building. Monday our verse choir also presented several selections.

District 15 Mrs. Lillian Bartels:

Sandra Dunklau, Kathy Nelson Vickie Baier and Billy Sievers have been working on countries, their states and capitals. They have completed their arithmetic books and have been working on algebra problems.

Robert Baier, Dennis Ekberg, Sheri Nelson and Ann Baier are studying the parts of speech. They enjoyed a film on them.

The students helped Michael Baier with a moon project. Our third grader has a bulletin board of rockets traveling to the moon.

Connie Ekberg and William Baier have made spring posters.

Wayne Sievers, Jimmy Rane and Shirley Baier have made different types of houses for social studies.

Beth Dunklau, Karen Tempe, Alan Baier and Terry Killian have cut flowers out of books for the spring bulletin board.

Everyone has been enjoying our daily baseball games. We have been busy decorating our school with many spring pictures and flowers.

District 18 L. B. Collins:

Judy and Patty Brader left our school on Mar. 1. Judy left with three years of perfect attendance and Patty left without an absent-tardy this year.

We got Dennis and Theresa Robert Mar. 1. Dennis, a first grader and Theresa is a kindergartener. Since entering our school Theresa has read her first pre-primer and is now in her second one.

Our school has been decorated with holiday and seasonal designs. We have a very clever Peter Rabbit made of cardboard and tissue paper.

The children are having a great deal of fun playing Indian. They have a teepee, drums, bows and arrows, and Indian customs.

Our fair work is almost ready and we know our songs for the annual song festival.

The visible man has stimulated much interest in the study of health. The children can better understand the structure and function of different systems of the human body when using the visible man.

Mrs. Porter visited our school last week.

The Easter Bunny came to our school on Friday. After showing pictures we had our Easter party.

District 25 Mrs. Helen Kai:

Mrs. Rosalie Taylor

Kindergartners have started their third pre-primer. First grade pupils have been writing original compositions about various subjects in language. They are composed of two or more sentences.

Capital letters and punctuation marks are stressed.

Todd Albers and Katherine Meyer have been working on addition and subtraction facts.

Third and fourth graders finished a map skills booklet put out by the Weekly Reader. They learned to read maps and charts.

They also have been studying the location of major countries of the world.

Chidy Kai, Muriel Kai, Larry Westerhold, Betty Bird and Ralph Bird have had perfect attendance this year.

We are working on our fair projects.

The fifth and sixth grade are studying Canada in social studies.

Ronnie Westerhold has just finished a unit on China, Korea and Southeast Asia. The eighth graders are studying Nebraska.

We had our Easter party Friday.

Jane Albers and Ellen Westerhold were in charge of the games. Our room enjoyed hiding the eggs for the small children.

Ronnie Westerhold and Billy Koepke made the design for the border this month.

Mrs. Wendell Korth and Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Kai were recent visitors to our room.

Terry Kai and Connie and Larry Spangler have perfect attendance for this year.

District 75 Mrs. Ethel Koles:

The fifth grade have finished the two readers "Days and Deeds" and "More Days and Deeds".

The pupils painted eggs and trimmed an Easter egg tree.

They having perfect attendance are Darrell Macklin and LeAnn Owens. Patty Menke, Lois Dieckens, Karen Menke, and Nancy Driedrickson received an A in spelling this six weeks.

District 50 entertained our school for an Easter party. The children enjoyed the games. We were treated to ice cream and cake.

LeAnn Owens had a birthday. Her mother and Mrs. Anna Hansen brought a birthday cake and ice cream to treat the school. We were happy to have them visit school.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

Life Saving Markers

Highway safety, always in the foreground in the attempt to save lives, comes into the picture even more when farmers find it necessary to use the highways in moving from field to field.

But slow-moving vehicles need not be the traffic hazard they are cut out to be, providing they are properly marked.

Many accidents involving slow-moving vehicles occur because of a knoll in the highway or other factors that prevent drivers of faster moving vehicles from seeing the tractor or farm equipment until too late. Proper markings could do much to alleviate this trouble spot.

This year, as in the past, the Implement Dealers Association, and other organizations, have undertaken a drive to properly mark farm vehicles that must travel public highways.

Red warning flags on tall flexible staffs have proven most effective in warning drivers of slow-moving vehicles. Attached to the front or rear of vehicles, they are easily seen and give other drivers the extra moment needed to avoid accidents.

These flags are available from implement dealers in the area, and could be a worthwhile investment when considered in the terms of human lives.

Traffic of slow-moving vehicles becomes heavy during the warm months of field work and drivers should be more aware of them. But the farmer can give himself and other drivers a big BRAKE by properly marking vehicles with which he has to travel the highway.

We would hate to lose a subscriber because he didn't have those extra seconds necessary to save his life.

Soon as you lay out money for a year's television service, the thing behaves perfectly month in and out, just like all insurance.

A Token Down Payment

Every American citizen who pays taxes (and who doesn't) should be taking a sobering, long look at the Kennedy program as it emerges almost every day. The jet-fried tempo of the White House to Congress orders should really stir us.

The initial cost is in itself enough to stun the average citizen who feels a $3,000 to $5,000 yearly income isn't to be laughed at. Now comes figures that baffle our wildest imaginations — running into billions and asked for as casually as your neighbor suggests a cup of coffee. And most of these will become perennial. We cannot now conceive their total cost.

Capitol News . . .

Legislators Hear Specially Written State Songs Offered

In 1895 Nebraska began collecting its family of flowers, birds and so on that bear the title of "state." Now, the Legislature is toying with the idea of a state song. Selection of the final choice for a state category is not an easy matter, as the Legislature's public health and miscellaneous subjects committee discovered.

At a hearing on the problem, the committee got four separate tunes as nominees for the title of state song.

One backer of a state tune, Mrs. H. B. Henderson, Auburn, a former singing teacher at the University of Nebraska, voiced her choice, "My Nebraska," while she marched back and forth before the committee.

Three others were presented on tape — "Welcome to Nebraska," written by Wilbur Chenoweth and Joyce Ayres; "We Love Our Own Nebraska," by Mrs. Ada Wild Plessman, Crete, and "Nebraska's Glad Refrain," written by Harriet Swan Spence, Crab Orchard.

Everyone felt that Nebraska needs a state song, most of all for ceremonial and promotional purposes, especially the 1967 Centennial celebration. But there was no agreement on how the tune should go.

So the committee sent to the floor for debate a bill calling for the establishment of a state song committee. The committee would conduct a contest to select songs for presentation to the 1963 Legislature.

For the historically minded, here's a thumbnail sketch of state categories:

State Flag — Resulted from a bill introduced in 1925 by J. Lloyd McMaster, Lancaster county. The law describes the banner as a "reproduction of the great seal of the state charged on the center in gold and silver on a field of national blue."

State Bird — A joint resolution introduced by Rep. F. C. Rundell, Hamilton county, approved in 1929, declared the western meadowlark as the state bird.

State Flower — A joint resolution introduced by Rep. L. P. Judd, Boone county, approved in 1935, designated the goldenrod as the floral emblem of the state.

State Name — Nebraska was officially designated the "Treasure State" under a resolution in 1935 by Sen. C. H. Sloan,

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Extension of unemployment benefits from 26 to 39 weeks; enlargement of Social Security promises, care for the aged under Social Security, medical facilities and training, assistance to distressed areas and aid to education will cost an estimated $5.2 billion the first year.

These are in the pattern of such earlier decisions as the income tax, which would never (they said) take more than three percent of our earnings, but now takes from 20 to 91 percent of our substance; the Social Security experiment, that originally took one percent of the first $3,000 of our pay from us and a similar amount from the boss, is now taking three percent on the first $4,800 and by 1969 will reach 4½ percent for both worker and employer. And they will hang on as the war-time "luxury" boosts in the gasoline tax.

We have mentioned but a handful of no less than 16 measures on President Kennedy's list of special priority "must" legislation. On other fronts are defense, housing, urban renewal, etc. What is before us is merely the token down payment by which we can acquire these expensive and demoralizing habits for life — the life of the nation.

A nod by an older person, costing little or nothing, can make life happy for a youth struggling for his first success.

Stop Downgrading Schools

Supporters of Federal intervention in public school education are downgrading the achievements of American teachers, school boards and communities in building the finest education system the world has ever known. That is the view of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. It supports it by pointing out that there are more classrooms, more teachers, a lower pupil-teacher ratio, lower pupil-classroom ratio and a higher level of education in this country than ever before in history.

Statistically the story goes like this: In the last 10 years the number of public school pupils increased 48 percent while the number of classrooms jumped 60 percent and the number of teachers 51 percent. Teachers' salaries rose 72 percent to an average of $5,389 a year. Money spent per pupil boomed from $224 a year to $300. On top of that, American communities approved the highest volume of school bond issues in history during 1960.

All this has been done without Federal intervention, Federal dictation or the Federal control that would inevitably follow Federal subsidy of local schools.

Nebraska's hot weather. State Engineer John Hossack, commission secretary, says one possible way of doing this is renting air conditioning equipment with an option to buy it.

That way, he says, the state won't have a heavy initial outlay of funds.

By the end of this biennium, on July 1, he says there will be about $250,000 earmarked for air conditioning. The entire project is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $1 million.

It would take 20 years to pay for the work on a "pay as you go" basis, Hossack says.

Building commission members besides Hossack are Gov. Frank Morrison, State Sen. Joe T. Vosoba, Wilber, A. Q. Schimmel, Lincoln, Maurice Hevelone, Beatrice, and W. C. Fraser, Omaha.

The broadened tax base also were rebuffed in attempts to smash down the bill to increase the state park levy from 13 cents per $1,000 assessed value of property to 30 cents per $1,000.

The park bill, LB 208, passed by a 30-11 vote. It sets up a 10-year development program, financed by the special property tax levy. It was estimated the park levy will produce a million dollars revenue per year. But before final passage, an attempt to cut the levy to 21 cents failed by only two votes.

Sales, Income Taxes

The Legislature's action in sweeping away attempts to broaden the state's tax base was viewed generally as pretty decisive for this session. Even proponents of a broadened tax base were less than enthusiastic after the unicameral action.

The Legislature itself voted 28-15 against debating the sales-tax bills on the floor and a committee later killed another combination proposal by a 5-4 vote.

The broadened tax base also were rebuffed in attempts to smash down the bill to increase the state park levy from 13 cents per $1,000 assessed value of property to 30 cents per $1,000.

The park bill, LB 208, passed by a 30-11 vote. It sets up a 10-year development program, financed by the special property tax levy. It was estimated the park levy will produce a million dollars revenue per year. But before final passage, an attempt to cut the levy to 21 cents failed by only two votes.

Cozad School

If a bill clears the Legislature, another institution under the Board of Control will be shifted to the State Education Department. This is the school for mentally retarded children at Cozad.

Gov. Frank Morrison wants the school removed from the board on grounds it is an educational operation and not a custodial one.

The State Board of Education said it would assume operation of the school if directed, but only if it has enough funds to handle the job.

The education department now operates the State Vocational Technical school, Milford, State School for the Blind, Nebraska City, and the State School for the Deaf, Nebraska City.

Air Conditioners

The Capitol Building commission is hustling to try to get the statehouse cooled to cope with to enjoy the tales of other's pains, but help me to endure them with patience.

I dare not ask for improved memory, but for a growing humility and less cocksureness when my memory seems to clash with the memories of others. Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet! I do not want to be a saint — some of them are so hard to live with — but a soul old person is one of the crowning works of the devil. Give me the ability to see good things in unexpected places and talents in unexpected people. Give me the grace to tell them so. Amen.

Thinking OUT LOUD

GIVE US BARABBAS

Dr. Oliver B. Prentiss, Wayne, United Presbyterian Church

A television show seems just before Easter, bearing the title of this editorial, showed the rabble before Pontius Pilate demanding the release of Barabbas, a prisoner, and the crucifixion of Jesus. It was the greatest miscarriage of justice ever known. Barabbas was guilty of every crime in the book, while they could not attach even the slightest suspicion of guilt upon Jesus. To let Barabbas go free was not to allow peace and safety to be controlled again.

The governor was plainly moved in his decision by the voice of the people. He was put under the influence of one of the strongest forces in society and common decency.

The choice of leaders of men is often determined more by the thoughtless crowd than the prudence of its leaders. We wonder, how often to the contrary, do political leaders vote their consciences and their personal convictions without being influenced by bribes, threats or demagogery?

What influences decision? Partly, their listening to the series of the constituents. One man with wild waving of arms and loud protestations gets more attention than a multitude of men who hold their peace. Barabbas was a man of action — a man of force, violence, blood; Jesus was a man of quiet power — meekness, gentleness, love. We know which one offers the sinner choice, but the man with the shout gets more attention than the tender voice that heals the sick and brings comfort to the afflicted. "It's the wheel that squeaks that gets the grease."

But what of the few who gain by miscarriage of justice or whose violet demands gain some advantage? In short what happened to Barabbas? No one knows. John Oxenham has painted a picture of him. When he was released from prison, Barabbas could think of nothing except his ill-advised freedom. He did not enjoy it because he knew that some other one suffered. He sought out the man who felt the full fury of penalty. He saw him carry a cross up a long hill and he knew that this was the cross that Barabbas bought to have carried. He heard the soldiers drive nails through the Master's hands and he cringed as he realized that this suffering was intended for one who had committed real crimes. He saw the Man hanging from a cross and Barabbas bent his head in shame and muttered: "I should have been hanging there; not He." He died for me." So the freedom he found was not satisfying and the advantage he gained was never enjoyed.

How often have we forced another's hand to do something which seemed expedient while it was not right? We demand certain action on the part of our political leaders for personal advantage and justice goes undone. We write our legislators asking that they enact certain laws and do not understand the full implication of the demands we make. We allow some wild, maniacal crowd to overrule sane judgment and what transpires comes to haunt us ever afterward.

We confess that people often stall for time with "Give me some time to think it over," which is generally the last sentence given when a sale is missed or job refused, but if those problems of beef carcass evaluation and current research designed to help meet consumers' needs in the market place will be emphasized at the forty-ninth annual Feeders Day at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture Apr. 20.

Dr. Robert M. Koch, chairman of the sponsoring Department of Animal Husbandry, said "Beef From Plains to Plate" will be the underlying theme of research reports and discussions at the annual event.

The morning session will be held in the auditorium of the biochemistry building on the agricultural campus, and will open with reports of current beef cattle feeding experiments at the agricultural experiment station, Lincoln.

Prof. W. J. "Bill" Loeffel, longtime chairman of the animal husbandry department, will head a panel which will probe the problems facing the researcher, the middleman (meat wholesalers and retailers) and the consumer in the search for desirable beef cuts.

Loeffel will present background information on studies to establish criteria and develop techniques of beef carcass evaluation.

Feed Control Circular

Feed control recommendations for 1961 have been published in a new circular by the University of Nebraska Agricultural Extension service.

The new circular, E.C. 61-130, entitled "Chemicals That Control Weeds" includes chemicals, amounts and time of application to control troublesome weeds as well as lawn and turf weeds. There also is a section on desiccants or chemicals used to dry crops and weeds in the field to permit earlier harvest. Copies of the circular may be obtained at county Extension offices throughout Nebraska.

Feed Tag Information

Livestock men are in a much better position to use feeds to their best advantage if they know how to read and interpret the information on the feed tag.

Feed companies place a tag people are sincere and do go back with a decision, it is probably a good one. Had the reflected that day in court before sentencing Jesus, he would have been earth's hero instead of villain. Think it over.

Uncle Zeb FROM Plum Creek says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

In one of them Governor's pamphlets I got the other day it said the clocks in the U. S. National Bureau of Standards was varying up to 50th of a second ever 24 hours. The way the time was wrote, it sounded sort of a complaint. And I can understand how in Government offices in Washington, a 50th of a second over 24 hours is very important. I'm expecting any day to see where the Congress appropriated $150,000 to get the clock fixed.

But this appropriation, of course, won't come till the state had a investigating committee fix responsibility for the time.

I bring up this item at the country store Saturday night as most of the fellers was agreeable the country would be better off if they'd throw away them old in Washington and get the time fixed.

Ed recollects that his Grandpa never had a time-piece on place. They'd go to work at sunup and quit at sundown when dinner come his Grandpa would ring a big bell mounted on high polls out in the barnyard. Dinner always come, said Ed, when the sun was straight up and down. Ed allowed as how the sunup to sundown and bell system would be a big improvement in Washington, especially if these clocks is off a 50th of a second every day.

Charlie figured the big bells they put on the Capitol building was probably put there in the first place for a bell to call the Congressmen into session. He allowed as how the dome had to be put there for some purpose and it had to be for a bell. Charlie lie is a great feller for his purpose for everything. For instance, you never catch Charlie just whittling to be whittling. He's always whittling a gun latch, a gun rack, a jug-stopper or somesun he aims to use. If they is a lot of difference between Charlie and them politicians, it's because Charlie got this idea from doctors. He never sees them fellers, says Ed, splitting a dollar. He pretends that it'll cost either $100,000 or $200,000 to git them clocks fixed.

Yours truly Uncle Zeb

Way Back When . . .

10 Years Ago

Apr. 19, 1951: WSTC is now officially one of Nebraska's selective service qualifications testing centers. Fremont's Midland college a capella choir will present a concert here Sunday. Kay Sandahl was selected to represent Wakefield at Girls State in June. One hundred members of the Corn Belt Livestock Breeders association from northeast Nebraska gathered for a dinner and meeting Monday evening at El Rincho. Students of nine high schools from northeast Nebraska will meet Wednesday on the WSTC campus for the annual Career Day. The speakers will be Everett Willert and Freeman B. Decker. Work is almost completed on a basement improvement project at the Wayne post office.

15 Years Ago

Apr. 18, 1946: Students to represent Boys State and Girls State from Wayne are Jim Nissen and Janice Johnson, Wayne High, Richard Bainister and Lois Weseloh, Wayne Prep., Earl Merchant and son, Robert, plan to construct a building 45 by 60 feet east of their present station on West First street and they are now tearing off the canopy of their station and lowering the platform to street level. Sharon Lindsay, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lindsay, Wayne, underwent operations on her back about six weeks ago in a fall. Beggarling of highway 35 between Wayne and Wakefield began Saturday. Wayne college athletes scored 15 points to place fourth in the Holstein, Ia., relays Friday.

20 Years Ago

Apr. 17, 1941: Deloris Peters, student in Dist. 25 took first place and earned a prize of $5 in the essay contest sponsored by SCS, AAA and the extension service. Evelyn Test was second and Donald Cauwe, third. The sale of Easter lilies will be used to help crippled children in the state and the Wakefield removed.

30 Years Ago

Apr. 16, 1931: Paving will soon cover one of the muddiest stretches in northeast Nebraska, during rainy months, for work is beginning on the 13-mile paving job between Wisner and West Point.

Three Wayne high school musicians are eligible to go to the state music contest at Lincoln after winning top honors at the District Three contest held at Newman Grove. The students are Luther Porterfield, high voice solo; Marion Jones, clarinet and Sophie Damme, medium voice.

Mary Jane Morgan, speaking on the subject, "The Main Cause of Unemployment" won first place in the extemporaneous division of Northeast Nebraska declamatory contest held at Pierie, Wednesday.

County slighthead examinations were taken Thursday and Friday by 271 pupils, given in Wayne, Winslow, Carroll, Hoskyn and Sholos.

August Bierman, Altona, reports that he struck an artesian well in drilling for water on his farm. Water was struck at a depth of 90 feet.

The bars which had been on top will be replaced by glass. June Shellington, Wakefield High junior, was elected to Wakefield's representation at Girls State in June. John Jenck bought the Philip "66" station from Ernest Alderson, at Third and Main and took possession this week. Mr. Alderson will be employed in the Coast-to-Coast store.

25 Years Ago

Apr. 16, 1936: Launce Reidenbach, Wayne, was the highest among humor students at WSTC for the third quarter with an average of 96.12. Finals in the ping-pong tournament, sponsored by P. L. March, were played last week with Claire Van-Winkle, WSTC, winning championship. Llewellyn Whitmore, Wayne, played Van Winkle in the final matches. In Editorial column, "Television is knocking at the door, but it will be a long time before it will become sufficiently available to improve present means of information and entertainment." Vernon Kay, son of Mrs. Anna Kay, Wayne, left Sunday for Los Angeles, where he will enroll in a Diesel engineering school. A package, "The Challenge of the Cross" was presented Sunday evening at the Winslow Methodist church.

The east city well near the college will be deconditioned so that it will produce more water.

Vern Sievers has earned a trip to Lincoln for 4-H club week for his outstanding work in the swim club.

My next-door neighbor cleaned her china cupboard; came up with seven odd saucers, now cup-less. Toss them out? Not that neighbor! She picked up picture tapes at the dime store; glued one to the back of each plate. Seven additional picture tapes were placed in a curve on her breakfast-wall. Hooking plate-tape to wall-tape (as packages direct), she hung her saucers — for a show-off display!

GIFTED IDEA

Many mothers mull over the problem of kiddies who can't adjust to the arrival of Baby Brother or Sister. A nurse-friend reports a real helper: one smart couple in our community brought home a tiny gift for each of the older children; said the gift was from the baby... Result? Good relationships, right from the start.

SELF-CLEANER "CAN"

Ever see a garbage can that could clean itself? Actually, that's what a gas disposer does! Installed in basement, kitchen or utility room, the smart-looking gas disposer gobbles up your garbage. Takes it wet or dry, along with all burnable trash — even old shoes and chicken bones. Drop it in, set it and forget it! But don't forget to see gas disposers at your local gas company, Peoples Natural Gas, or gas appliance dealer.

DOUBLE-HEADER PLAN
Man-style baseball talk may confuse you, but Dad will like this. There's a "double-header" he ought to see! New gas central systems combine Winter heating with Summer air-conditioning, all in one compact unit. Big and little-leaguers alike eat, sleep and work better in air-conditioned comfort. Ask your local gas company, Peoples Natural Gas, about it. (They get your fuel from Northern Natural Gas Company, the nice folks who send me to you.)
