County Rates Set $26.10 Per Acre For 20% Reduction

Corn and grain sorghum growers have until May 26 to sign up under the 1961 feed grain program, said Lloyd Morris, chairman of the county ASU committee, said today.

The program provides special payments to growers of the two crops who divert acreage this year from the production of corn or grain sorghum to a soil-conserving use. Up to half the total payment to be learned on a farm may be made in advance if the farmer requests it.

In Wayne county the average rates are $26.10 per acre for reducing corn acreage a minimum of 20 percent below the farm base acreage and $25 per acre for reducing a grain sorghum acreage a like amount. Higher rates will apply for reducing corn and grain sorghum acreage from 20 to 40 percent below the base. Rates on a farm may be higher or lower than the county rates, depending on the farm's productivity in relation to the county average.

While the program is voluntary, corn and grain sorghum producers will not be eligible for price support in any of their 1961 feed grain programs unless they cooperate in the feed grain program.

As of May 8, corn and grain sorghum producers on 415 farms in Wayne county have filed forms indicating their intention to participate in the 1961 feed grain program, states Morris.

Morris reported that 13,402.8 acres of corn and 108.8 acres of grain sorghum of the "participating" farms have been signed up for diversion to conservation use. The farms have 199,600 base acres totaling 40,500 acres for corn and 489 acres for grain sorghum. The minimum and maximum divisions for a particular farm are calculated from its 1959-60 base average.

NO HANGOVER HEAT WITH GAS

With a gas range you don't have to jerk the pan off the burner to stop cooking. When the gas is off, cooking stops, whether you or the convenient automatic controls turn it off. With a gas range you don't have heat pouring into the room when you're done cooking. It takes the "flameless" burner up to 15 minutes to cool to room temperature. With a gas range there's no "hangover heat" as an unseen danger to you or youngsters. The blue flame tells when the gas is on, and burners are set in, out of the way. With a gas range there's no problem of accuracy. You have a thousand different heats, and can change from one to another instantly.

Beermann Opposes Highway Aid Act
Nebraska Third District Congressman Ralph F. Beermann took sharp issue with the Administration's Federal Aid Highway Act this week, although the measure won House approval last Thursday.
Beermann's opposition to the bill went clear down to the wire. He first opposed the measure Mar. 15 in a personal appearance before the Ways and Means committee. Thursday a bill to continue the tax passed the House by acclamation. A motion for a recess vote failed.
Beermann pointed out that he wasn't trying to oppose good highways. "They are important," he said, "and we need them. However, it is also well that the government learn to live within its budget, just like we have to do on the farm."

Beermann said the original highway program, believed to cost $28 billion, now is being estimated at 50 percent above that figure. He has received 12,000 signatures to petitions asking that the gas tax be allowed to die.

Cattle Gains Shown at Experiment Station Lot
Fast gains feature the cattle feeding experiment at the Northeast Nebraska Experiment station at Concord this year. During the past month the calves, which weighed only a little over 600 pounds, gained an average of over three pounds per day. Their gains have averaged about 2 1/2 pounds per day since they were started on the test Jan. 10.
Walt Tolman, cattleman at the station, states that near ideal feeding weather has favored all cattle feeders this year. Balanced rations, an excellent health record, and the natural ability to make fast gains of the production-tested cattle in the experiment all contribute to these good gains.
Vitamin A allowance has been increased to prevent any chance of Vitamin A deficiency, which sometimes cuts cattle gains this season of the year, Tolman states. Grains have been unusually economical, too, Tolman says, with less than 400 pounds of concentrate and 200 pounds of hay required per 100 pounds of gain so far. Feed requirements will go up rapidly as the cattle get larger and fatter, he adds.
The lots have been very even in rate and economy of gain and it is too early to hazard a guess as to the value of the enzymes being fed in the experiment, he said.
Knead Color Tubes
Before removing caps on tubes of color tints — used for mixing paints — knead the tubes lightly to mix the oil and paste. This prevents getting a glob of loose oil.

Pledges Social Frat
Frederick M. Bernthal, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Bernthal, was one of 150 then pledged to Valparaiso (Ind.) university's social fraternities this spring.
As a freshman, the young man is a member of the spring pledge class of Lambda Chi Alpha. He is studying in the college of arts and sciences, and is a member of the student council.
Scheduled Play Ends For 'Cats Saturday
Baseball season — at least a scheduled play — comes to a close Saturday for Wayne State with a doubleheader starting at 1 p.m. on the Wayne diamond.
Chadron State, struggling to play eight games in less than two weeks, is the foe as the Wildcats attempt to nab the conference title. Wayne, 5-3 in league play, must win the Chadron game and hope Chadron loses at least one more to give Wayne even a share of the crown.
The rest of the conference meanwhile is engaged in throat cutting which may aid the Wayne cause. A Creighton-Wayne doubleheader at Omaha was a rain victim Saturday and may not be played. It is non-conference.
Wayne has a chance to go into the district NAIA baseball playoffs next week.

Spray on Arcadian Golden URAN MIXED WITH ALDRIN

FOR ROOTWORM CONTROL plus the nitrogen to build big yields

This winning combination of ARCADIAN® Golden URAN® Nitrogen Solution with insecticide makes easy work of rootworm control plus high-nitrogen fertilization to produce big corn yields. University of Nebraska entomologists recommend broadcast, disked-in application of soil insecticide for most effective corn rootworm control. And Golden URAN nitrogen also helps offset possible rootworm damage.

One trip across the field before planting does both jobs the fast, easy way. You just mix soil insecticide with liquid Golden URAN and spray the combination on many acres per day.

See your ARCADIAN supplier now for the Golden URAN way to make corn pay!

REVOLVING AUTOMATIC OILER

Features Making This The FINEST OILER BUILT

SLANTED "Rubbing Element"... Proven the only way to build an oiler! Animals like it better, use it more, and any animal from the smallest to the largest, can use it. Animals go under it, straddle it... contact all parts of the body.
GREATER "Scratchability"... Rubbing element provides solid rubbing surface. Expanded-steel rubbing surface is really rough! That's what animals like, and that's why they use it more.
NO SERVICE Necessary!... Just set it up, fill it with oil, and forget it for an entire season. Giant rubbing element holds ten (10) gallons of oil, enough for an entire season. Forced oil-flow system is fool proof! Never needs servicing. Keeps oil and insecticide always in solution, prevents congealing in winter months.
BUILT To Take A Beating!... Built tough enough and strong enough to stand up in a feed lot full of the toughest, roughest range steers. Animals can't beat them up, and won't wear them out for years to come.

Offered "FRAME MOUNTED" ... or ... With "POST BRACKETS"

REVOLVING AUTOMATIC!

Revolving tube "rubbing element" holds ten (10) gallons of oil. Oil is forced to the surface of the rubbing element by means of a diaphragm that is activated every time the cattle turn the rubbing element as much as a half turn in either direction. Diaphragm forces oil always to the top of the unit and out into the felt-burlap pad which lies under the expanded metal surface of the rubbing element.

Easy to use — Hogs use it too!

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Warning Signals Flashing

Every time government forces wage increases on the public by law, it automatically forces price increases, no matter what argument is used to disguise this effect.

As the process is repeated over and over, the inevitable day comes when government will set not only wages, but prices by law—then the free market, free labor, free industry and freedom of action in our daily lives is gone. And all this will be done step by step, ostensibly in behalf of the "common man" who, before he knows it, winds up the pawn of a dictator government.

In money matters people are unreliable, either they talk big when they have little or talk little when they have much.

Tax Subterfuge

If you buy certain luxuries such as jewelry and furs and leather goods, you will pay an excise tax running up to 20 percent. But when you buy gasoline, an absolute necessity which almost everyone in this country uses, you'll pay, on the average, a sales tax which is equal to 48 percent of the retail price. That sales tax now averages more than 10 cents a gallon. No necessary product in the whole country is taxed at a rate even approaching that level.

About a year ago the Federal gas tax was "temporarily" increased by one cent to a total of four cents a gallon. This one-cent boost is scheduled to expire June 30, thus giving the motoring public a little relief from exorbitant gasoline taxation. However, it is proposed not only that the "temporary" tax be continued, but it is increased by an additional half-cent. This follows the usual pattern of "temporary" taxes—"tem-

Over the centuries this process has been repeated time and again. In a short lifetime millions of people over the world have seen the "common man" who, in reality, is all men, engulfed by big government until his freedom was wiped but by bureaucracy and the beneficent benefits promised left him a helpless ward of the state.

Government is being injected more and more into the affairs of private citizens and industry in the United States. It is promoted in many ways, generally with strings attached, which restrict or remove individual opportunity. How far will we permit it to go in our own land? We are not immune from the penalties enacted by it.

The reason for this is that the highway trust fund, which is supposed to finance the multibillion dollar Federal highway program, is in financial difficulties. But that fund operates on an im-sound basis. It is most surprising indeed to realize that no portion of the cost is presently being borne from general funds. The highway user carries it all. Yet one main reason for the program is national defense—a matter which concerns everyone, whether he travels the highways or not. This is no small financial matter. For instance, it was recently decided to increase the height of all bridges on the interstate system to permit passage of large military vehicles. This added about $750 million to the cost. It is certainly unfair and unreasonable to make the highway-user pay all such bills.

The one-cent "temporary" increase in the Federal gas tax should expire as scheduled. And the method of financing the highway program should be revised.

mine if he is able to continue. Decisions could be appealed directly to the State Supreme Court.

Thinking OUT LOUD

Rev. Robert E. Shick, St. Paul's Luth. Church, Wayne

Of all the creatures in the world, only man can consciously contribute to the future. Ultimately, this becomes the measure of the success or failure for the individual life, and for the life of a society or nation.

Last Sunday was called Rogate, and together with the next two days, it constitutes what is known as the Rogation Days. The history of these three days goes back about 1,500 years. They begin in the fifth century in France when in the year 470 there had been crop failures due to earthquakes and bad weather, with famine the result. Mamertus, Bishop of Vienna, ordered prayers and penance on three days preceding the celebration of the Ascension of Christ. Thus, the clergy and their people offered penitential prayers and asked for God's intercession. Other communities adopted the custom, and from France it soon spread to other countries. By the end of the eighth century it was formally accepted by the Church.

The purpose of Rogation Days is to implore the mercy of God that He may keep us from all evils of body and soul, and give the plants of the field an increase. These days, with their special emphasis, are a reminder to feeble man to turn with humility and confidence to the Giver of all good. We need to be reminded that it is not the earth alone which brings forth the increase, and it is not alone the busy hand of man which the satisfaction of man's hunger depends, but man depends ultimately upon God. It is God who gives the increase.

In all that he has—his life, ability, skill and wealth—man is a steward; these things are his to use, but they never belong to him alone. For them he is accountable to society and to his God for what he does with them. He must use them wisely; they are a heritage he has received and must, in time, pass them on to those who come after him. He must contribute to the future.

The other day someone asked, "What's the good of shopping a man out into space? What is the advantage of being able to go to the moon?" The answer is, "Who knows?"

When Columbus set sail in three little ships, who at that time could predict that the new world of two continents would come day by day of the magnitude of North and South America today? When Franklin flew his kite in the electrical storm to find about electricity, his fellow townsmen thought him a bit touched, who could foresee the uses of the energy of electricity, lights, communication, television?

God doesn't ask us to see clearly what the future holds. He asks that we be good stewards—and give the future more than we have received from the past!

Letters to the Editor

A MATTER OF COURTESY

Dear Mr. Editor: First of all I want it clear that I am proud of our city and equally proud of the Wayne State Teachers College located in Wayne.

Since the building of Berry Hall so close to the residential section of Wayne and with the increasing number of student driving cars, the problem of where to park has become a paramount issue. I do not blame the students for wanting to park as close as possible to their residence dorm as I would desire to do the same. But there just aren't enough places adjoining the campus now, and next year will be worse with Berry Hall full and another increase in enrollment. At this time parking lots on the campus are available, but some are usually empty. Why because they are not as close to the dorms as the city streets.

Our city streets are for the use of everyone, residents and students alike. This is as it should be in a free country—no discrimination. But I am surprised at the administration for their obvious lack of courtesy toward the residents of Wayne by allowing students to monopolize the streets.

They could in one courteous stroke clear the residential streets of student cars by assigning parking lots and enforcing this rule, just as many other colleges have done. This may necessitate the building of additional parking lots for which land is now available.

I hope Mr. Editor, you can print this letter as I am sure it is just one of those little things that has slipped by the attention of those who can so readily correct it.

Sincerely,
A reader

Non-Kummingham Says

Americans are noted for their skill, their ingenuity, their way of getting things done. This must be true, for we have come a long way in the last 186 years. In fact, we have come ALL the way. We started 186 years ago with virtually nothing, except resources that were undeveloped. Today we find ourselves in the position as a nation of having just about everything and also a "supplier" nation to practically all the other nations of the world.

Not only have we developed to the highest degrees our skill, our ingenuity, but also our salesmanship. Salesmanship has become an integral part of our everyday life. Americans are recognized as the greatest salesmen in the world. They have created the markets for the goods that our skill and ingenuity has been able to produce. They have become the greatest salesmen in the world; because they themselves have been sold on their own products. They know them, they believe in them and consequently they are able to sell them.

It seems to me though that Americans—our salesmen though they are—have failed miserably in the last few years. That is in selling to the rest of the world; their greatest asset, America itself. Somehow, some way or other, we have not sold the fundamentals of the American way of life and its concepts and beliefs to the people who need them the most. We all think with the material things we are able to produce but at the same time we miss the boat on selling them (that is, the rights, the privileges, the freedoms, the recognition of individual effort and initiative have all made these material things possible. They can't conceive of, hence do not believe in, the things in which we believe but accept as commonplace and which we really do not try to sell.

Seems to me that if our efforts as super salesmen were directed less toward the advancement of material things which we have to sell and more to those rather intangible things, which are basic in our way of life, we would be making the greatest sale the world has ever known.

Sure should not be much of a job for even a mediocre salesman to sell mankind's greatest blessing—Freedom—with all its attendant privileges.

County Agent's Column
May 26 Deadline
Corn and grain sorghum growers have until May 26 to sign up under the 1961 Feed Grain program. Farmers should contact county ASC offices for more information and application blanks. Corn growers must cooperate in the program to be eligible for price support on the normal production of this year's corn and grain sorghum acreage as well as 1960's, as far supported on any of their other 1961 feed crops—barley and oats.

Acreage diverted under the Feed Grain program must be put to an approved conservation use and it must represent an additional amount over the farm's average acreage devoted to a conservation use in 1959-60.

Plans for organization were discussed. Since the county decided to pay $1 bounty on coyotes and foxes, C. A. Bard, county clerk, has given bounty on ten foxes. Slight damage was done to most crops that were up and heavy damage to early garden in this area is a result of low temperatures which occurred Friday night—23 degrees, one of the lowest on record for May.

They also visited Havana and the battlefields at Chattanooga and Chickamauga.

Bill interrupted the session at this point to claim there isn't anything to this contended cow business. Bill says cows, cows and milk is milk and the man thing is to keep the fellow milked contented. But even Bill admitted the country would be a better safer with that White House piano in Sam's barn.

Ed said if they had to have music in the White House he'd take his guitar to Washington and for the proper pay, stay for the duration. Ed said he'd need just enough notice to sell his cows, dots, hoes and change his land from the ditch bank to the old back to stay wither mother or did if Kennedy wasn't elected for a fourth term, they'd still be passing neck-to-neck when he got home.

Some of the boys was wondering if Congress ever got them through fixed that was varying a 50th of a second over 24 hours. I wish you'd find out about that, Mister Editor. Dale said if they ain't got 'em fixed, he'd suggest they put the Liberty Bell in the Capitol dome and use it for tolling the time of day. Last time I heard it stored in some place in Philadelphia with a big crack in it. But don't spread that word around, Mister Editor, for the Congress will appropriate another $500,000 to get it fixed.

Capitol News Look at Retirement, Civil Service for State Workers

LINCOLN—State government employees have received considerable attention this session of the Legislature and likely will get more in the next decade. About 10 years ago the push began to build up pay for state department heads, some of whom were getting less than some key employees. Today, the trend is to retirement and civil service.

So far, in the retirement field, the approach has been on a piecemeal basis. Some state senators feel the day is not too distant when an overall retirement system will be put into effect for all state employees.

Now, there are state retirement programs for the safety patrol, teachers, district and supreme court judges, and University of Nebraska employees.

Buts were introduced this session for increasing the retirement pay for teachers and school employees, and to establish programs for employees of the state game commission, and others.

Arguments advanced by senators favoring individual department retirement programs include offsetting fringe benefits of private business in recruiting and that skilled personnel could be retained more easily.

Retirement systems now in effect in state government are generally modest. The maximum a teacher can draw per month is $2,500. The program for judges, however, is considerably more extensive. Students of government feels it will be some time before an overall state retirement program is adopted and possibly even longer for civil service, since the latter would cut into the area of politically appointed jobs.

Budget Officers
The Legislature's budget committee want a full-time budget director for state government. Under the thinking now, the officer would keep a check on budgets of state agencies and be a liaison between state departments with money problems and budget committees of outgoing and incoming Legislatures.

He would also work with the budget committee of the Legislative Council between sessions. The Council is composed of all members of the Legislature who sit as study committees between meetings of the Unicameral.

The State Normal Board, meanwhile, which governs the four teachers colleges at Wayne, Chadron, Peru and Kearney, wants an administrative assistant. Part of the duties of the aid to the board would be to ride herd on spending practices of the colleges.

It was estimated the 1961-63 cost of a Normal Board budget and administrative officer would be $35,000. This is about the same range that would be required to acquire a state budget officer.

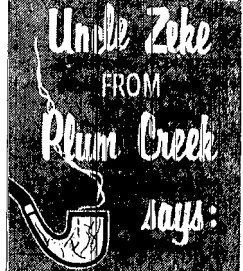

Speed Limit
Cars have been authorized to go a maximum of 75 miles per hour on Nebraska's Interstate Highway. The speed limit was approved by the Legislature which also set the minimum speed for the superhighway at 40 miles per hour. Trucks can go a maximum of 65 miles per hour.

Banned from the highway are hitchhikers, bicycles, motor scooters, animals, funeral processions, and parades. Farm machinery and tractors can run on the route only by special permit.

Disability
A procedure now has been adopted whereby in the future it can be determined when a Nebraska governor is unable to carry out his duties. Under the bill, given final approval by the lawmakers, whenever it appears a governor may not be able to carry out functions of his office, the next in line of succession or the chief justice of the Supreme Court can call a conference.

He's Right, Of Course

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I was reading this piece by some Washington column writer saying don't many folks know it but President Kennedy can knock off a little tune on the piano in a push. I hope he don't get pushed.

Sometimes I went along with Harry Truman's politics and sometimes I didn't but I always figured old Harry was practically violating the Tenth Commandment over time he set down at the piano. I recollect one time him and that feller Petrillo from the Musicians Union played a piano-trumped duel. I don't know what it done for labor-management relations but some of the fellers at the country store claimed it set music back 20 years in this country. And I recall Harry played a little piece on the piano for Stalin at one of them summit meetings and as soon as Stalin got home he sent a bill for $1 million for phone services in West Berlin.

I was telling the fellers at the country store Saturday night this sad news about President Kennedy and the piano and it was agreed by all that the Congress ought to order that piano took out of the White House and put in Speaker Sam Rayburn's barn. And Dale allowed as how a little piano music might help Sam's cows give that Grade-A milk

It unwinds the twistiest roads

Take the wheel of a Buick and suddenly roads seem to run straight as a rule—without twists or bends. The secret? New Control Arm suspension that takes corners flat. And, matching Buick's smooth ride is the trigger-quick smoothness of its Turbine Drive (no extra cost) and big Wildcat V-8... the smooth look of its Clean Look. Guess-test it soon!

Exciting new proof... when better automobiles are built, Buick will build them.

THE AVERAGE ANCIENT ROMAN LIVED TO BE 22

The American born in 1961 can look forward to a life span of nearly 70 years. Since 1900 alone, progress in the life expectancy has climbed an incredible 20 years. Medical progress is the great achiever of these revolutionary gains. New research and new knowledge today promise even further advances.

Nevertheless, neglecting to see a physician in time to benefit fully from modern medical science is cheating many not only of average years, but of extra years. Clearly, the great step toward better health and longer life is simple, regular medical check-ups.
