Five-Point Growth Planned By Church on Anniversary

First Methodist Church, Wayne, is marking its 80th anniversary with a five-point plan for future growth.

Spiritual life — encourage use of church devotions and magazines and distribute them at hospitals, rest homes, doctors' offices, college dorms and libraries, organize men's prayer breakfast meetings, increase family use of grace at meals, stress commitment of young people for full-time Christian service, secure 200 for holy communion service and organize a fellowship of the Concocted.

Education — train every new teacher in Church School, organize a new adult class for young marrieds, stress Christian missions with one emphasis each month, organize the church into neighborhood groups to help with caring of the sick, develop a literature rack, hold a "University of Life" program in January to include study in missions, and other areas of Christian concern, hold quarterly workers' conferences.

Membership — establish a goal of 210 for average attendance in Church School and 325 in morning worship, seek 60 new members for a total of 675 members, call on fringe members and seek to reunite them as active members of the church, visit shut-ins and new members, survey at least one quarter of the community for church preference, adopt November as Loyalty Month, publish a membership directory.

Finances — establish an endowment fund and urge gifts and bequests, cultivate Christian stewardship of means, time and life, seek additional tithers and enroll them as tithing stewards, encourage young people who have become members of the church to make a church pledge, establish a unified budget including both church and church school.

Physical facilities — establish a planning committee to determine and investigate the physical improvement needs of the church, paint the church parlor, exterior doors of the church and stain the interior window sash, purchase fans for ventilating and cooling, put curtains in the window of the nursery and kindergarten and obtain robes for the intermediate choir and confirmation class. A special observance of the anniversary will be held in December.

Graduate Courses In Post-Session

Two graduate courses have been added to the WSTC post-session curriculum.

They are Education 306, problems in elementary school teaching, taught by Dr. Leonard Brubaker, and Education 353, public school finance, by Dr. Allen Burkhardt. Both courses give three hours credit.

Undergraduate courses on the schedule for the Aug. 7-19 session are English composition II, consumer economics, biological sciences, traffic safety education, conservation of natural resources — all three-hour courses — and music in general culture, two hours.

Registration is scheduled for Aug. 3-4, with late registration on the opening day of class, Aug. 7.

New Lions Club; Eye Bank Program

A new Lions club has been formed in Wayne under direction of a delegation from the Norfolk club. Clifford Dahl was elected president, and Mr. George Gohlisch, Herb Bodenstedt and Robert R. Johnson, vice presidents.

Plans were set up for Wayne's participation in the Lions Eye Bank program. Clarence Boling is treasurer for the new group and Gene Fletcher is lion tamer.

Directors will be elected at the Aug. 14 meeting. Sept. 25 has been set as the tentative date of the charter presentation.

Name Laurel Woman as Convention Chairman

A Laurel woman, Ruth Ebmeier, has been named chairman of the planning board for a Missouri Synod Lutheran convention which will meet in Wayne at Rice Memorial auditorium June 5, 1962.

Other members of the planning board for the northern Nebraska district bi-annual convention will be Mrs. Herman Stuve, Rev. Alfred Hinz, Martinsburg, Rev. E. J. Bernthal and Mrs. Art Walters.

Attending the planning meeting in the Ebmeier home last Wednesday from the Wayne area were Mrs. Lowell Johnson, zone 4 president, Mrs. Robert Grein, key chairman, Mrs. Duane Reithwisch, Mrs. Leslie Youngmeyer, Mrs. Herman Stuve, Mrs. Art Walters, Mrs. Marvin Nelson and Mrs. Wendell Korth.

Council Installs New Parking Rules

The city council Tuesday night removed parking from sections of several streets and moved to prohibit overnight parking on other streets.

The ordinance prohibits parking at any time on the following sections of streets: East of the center line of Walnut Street from Hillcrest Road to Tenth Street, north of the center line of Tenth Street from Walnut Street to Hillcrest Road, east of the center line of Hillcrest Road, east of the center line of Hillcrest Road and south of the center line of Hillcrest Road.

Parking was prohibited between the hour of midnight and 5 a.m. on the following streets: Tenth Street from Main Street to Pine Heights Road, Walnut Street from Ninth Street to north corporate limits, Nebraska Street from Ninth to Tenth Street and Windom Street from Ninth to Tenth.

One hour parking between the hours of 5 a.m. to midnight was imposed south of the center line of Tenth Street from Logan to Nebraska.

Building applications were presented by Jack Major for an addition to his residence and by Cecil Wriedt for construction of a house in Wriedt's subdivision.

The council took no action on a request from the Chamber of Commerce for $1,000 to be added to Chamber funds to continue the Christmas decorations on Main Street to the city limits.

PART OF THE CROWD of 500 at the Wayne air show Sunday holds its breath as one of the Omaha Sky Divers opens his parachute some 10 seconds after leaving the airplane. A helicopter, airplane and model planes made up the program following the morning flight breakfast sponsored by Wayne Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce.

Boy Scouts Try Wilderness Living During Canoe Trip

Twelve Wayne Boy Scouts and their sponsors left at 6:30 Wednesday morning to try their luck at wilderness living and canoeing through the lake area of Minnesota and Canada, once occupied by the Sioux and Chinook Indians.

Led by John Bernthal, Norris Weible and Roy Coryell, the boys will fish in an area termed a "sportsman's paradise," teeming with northern pike, walleyes, bass and lake trout. For eight days they will carry everything they need on their backs — there is no source of re-supply in case of a miscalculation.

The 12 scouts — Dean Weible, RaDelle Exleban, Gary Jones, Richard Maurer, Terry March, Jerry Brandstetter, Gary Lubberslett, Duane Ellermyer, David Ewing, Gary Lorenzen, Phil Rees and Jim Kern — will see the Minneapolis Twins — Washington Senators baseball game during a stop in Minneapolis.

From there they go to a three-day training session at a wilderness outpost near Ely, Minn. Site of their canoe base on Moose Lake is described as "where the road ends and the wilderness begins."

The canoe trip will be about 50 miles long with several portages in between. Enroute home Aug 7 or 8, they will watch a professional football team work out at Bemidji, Minn.

Name Negotiators For Rural Power

Negotiators for the Wayne County Public Power District will be Alfred Sydnor and Marvin Dunklau. They will receive reports of the Nebraska Public Power Committee which has been created by the Legislature.

The purpose of the committee is to negotiate to eliminate overlapping, duplication and conflict of interests. The nine-member group will meet at the call of Water Resources Director Dan Jones to organize. All reports of its action must go to negotiators from the rural districts and municipalities.

The committee and negotiators are the outgrowth of controversial public power legislation introduced this past session. In addition, the Legislative Council will conduct its own separate study of the power problems in the state.

Their problems will not be solved in the month's time, says Dr. Helen Russell, associate professor of speech and director of the clinic, but there will be improvement.

Some of the youngsters attended the clinic last summer and now have overcome some of their handicaps. The change stems from a combination of factors, Dr. Russell explains. Training received in the clinic last year accounts for part of the gain. Confidence also helps, and so does improved coordination of muscles in general. Then, too, the children have improved simply by maturing.

Parents can provide real aid in the year after a child attends the clinic. Dr. Russell suggests parents spend 15 minutes a day working with the child to correct his speech faults, and then refrain from correction for the rest of the day as constant correction tends to discourage the child.

During the four-week clinic, each child receives 15 hours of therapy. Most of them come an hour a day in groups of three or four, classified according to their problem as much as possible.

Merchants Offering Tickets for Baseball

Wayne merchants are again offering free tickets to the annual Merchants Night Baseball game. The game is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. Tuesday at the Wayne Ball park with Wayne vs Winslow.

3 German Youths Visit Wayne Area

Three West Germany youths arrived Sunday to observe family life and points of interest in and around Wayne.

Doris Fromme is staying in the Stanley Westergard home, 215 Grassis in the Henry Lee home and Axel Feilding, in the Alton Jeffrey home.

The three, who will be here until Aug. 11, are part of a state-wide program sponsored by the Kiwanis club and the office of Gov. Frank Morrison.

The project was suggested after Barbara Perry, a representative of the American Committee for World Youth Understanding, read an article about Nebraska that appeared in the June issue of Reader's Digest. Miss Perry contacted Gov. Morrison about the group's plans to visit the United States. He expressed interest in bringing them to Nebraska and the Kiwanis club volunteered to coordinate the program.

The youths are paying their own travel expenses. Each is able to speak English and comes from a middle upper income family in Western Germany.

Suit Brought Against WPPD in Rate Mix-up

Suit was brought against the Wayne County Rural Public Power district this week by the Loup River and Platte Valley Public Power districts for payment on account.

The Loup and Platte districts form the Nebraska Public Power System which sells electricity to REAs throughout the state. The Wayne district is being sued for underpayment of $8,210.99 as an outgrowth of differences of interpretation of power rates, Wayne district attorneys said.

Similar suits have been and are being filed against REAs across the state, according to information received by the Wayne attorney.

Lightning Hits Home; Presbyterian Church

The H. E. Fisher home and the Presbyterian church, Wayne, were struck by lightning early Wednesday morning.

Fisher commented that "it was quite a way to wake up." The lightning, which struck about 5 a.m., damaged all the electrical circuits and the television in the Fisher home.

Rev. Oliver B. Proett said the lightning apparently hit the steeple of the Presbyterian church as it traveled down the southeast corner of the tower causing minor damages to the corner post and side of the church.

60 Seniors and 15 Graduate Students Will Receive Degrees

Sixty seniors and 15 graduate students will receive degrees Wednesday at Wayne State's summer commencement.

The ceremony will begin at 7 p.m. in the Willow Bowl with Dr. Herbert L. Cushing giving the address. Cushing retired July 1 after 25 years as president of Kearney State Teachers college.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Ultimate in Rule-by-Decree

Few have heard about it, but legislation (The Kefauver-Celler bill, S. 1552, H.R. 6245) is being considered by Congress which can have a profound effect on public health.

One of the bill's major provisions would prohibit the patenting of many pharmaceutical products unless the newly discovered compound could be proven significantly more effective than all chemically related drugs already on the market. In other words, proving that a drug is safe and good — matters which are covered by long-established law — would no longer be enough. A government agency would have to agree that it was better.

If this sounds plausible to you, think again. A preparation which is effective with one patient may fail entirely with another. Only the practicing physician is competent to decide which particular drug is best in any given case. Patients, after all, are individuals with individual idiosyncrasies. And, as the old saying has it, one man's meat may be another man's poison.

Moreover, authoritarian bodies — and any government agency with the power to decide which of a group of related drugs is best must be authoritarian — have often been guardians of orthodoxy rather than champions of progress. In the past, medical "experts" rejected Jenner's smallpox vaccine, Pasteur's anthrax vaccine, Lister's theory of antiseptics and Semmelweis' discovery of the cause of childbed fever. All of these innovations have proven to be milestones in medical history.

American medicine is the best in the world and the pharmaceutical industry has made an important contribution to that end. The proposed legislation would amount to a roadblock in the way of further progress — the ultimate in rule-by-decree.

Women don't seem to get old any more — but men do.

We Shall See

Sept. 3 the newly amended Federal wage-hour law goes into effect. Great numbers of — of which — will be covered who hitherto have been exempt.

Some of the problems connected with this have been detailed by the American Retail Federation. It has organized task force groups to study them, to make recommendations and to confer with the law's administrator and his staff. Four fields which present unanswered or only partially answered questions are listed. These include: general problems of coverage, including definitions of enterprise, establishment, etc.; problems arising out of incentive pay methods such as commissions and quota bonus plans; problems of employment of students and learners at rates less than the statutory minimum; and finally, definitions of exempt executive and administrative employees.

These are headaches which retail employers must deal with. More than that, they indicate the difficulties and the problems which inevitably arise when government moves further and further to control, regulate and generally boss our businesses and industries. Of ten years go-by before important questions are finally settled. And, as a rule, the costs of operating a business rise at the ultimate expense of the customer.

Let's hope the expanded law won't result in a new wave of price inflation. We shall see.

Can't Stomach Any More

Thinking OUT LOUD

E. J. Bernthal, Wayne Grade Lutheran Church

HEADED WHERE?

The minister who failed was perhaps less tactful than truthful. But he got across his point.

Trying to bring the love of God in Christ to bear upon the woman's soul, he urged that she and her husband concern themselves more personally and directly with God's word and not merely send the children off to Sunday school on the Lord's day while she and the man of the house would catch up on a few neglected chores and the tasks that somehow have a way of evading discharge until first hours of a new week.

She had had her say why the clergyman's counsel bordered on impudence when he could readily see that Sunday forenoon was the only time she had to do the laundry, tidy up the house a bit, and get things lined up for the afternoon outing and had ending by saying, "After all, we're all headed for the same place."

The patient pastor fingered his hat for a moment and then replied calmly but firmly, "Madam, I hope not."

He knew, if she didn't, that Christ said, "Enter ye in at the strait gate, for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat (Matt. 7: 13), and "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish" (Luke 13: 3). He could discover nothing comforting nor persuasive in the thought that "we're all headed for the same place."

Where do people get this all too common idea that "we're all headed for the same place"? Obviously not from the Bible. Not yet from sound reasoning. Of course, every man is entitled to his opinion. Belief can never be compelled. But in some matters it is wise to act upon a sounder basis than opinion. "Reprieve not a scoundrel, lest he hate thee," says Solomon. "Rebuke a wise man and he will love thee."

Christ said, "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life, no man cometh unto the Father but by Me" (John 14: 6). And the apostle Peter declared, "Neither is there salvation in any other, for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4: 12).

Take it or leave it — the Bible teaches only one way to salvation and that is by repentance and faith in Jesus Christ.

Make no mistake of it, there is another way. Headed where? Christ said, "that leadeth to destruction."

What a nation does on Sunday, determines what it is the rest of the week.

Don Cunningham, Editor

The other night I was having a hard time getting to sleep. You know, that will happen once in a while to fellows who have a guilty conscience and who might be disturbed by some of their past misdeeds. Can't imagine why it should happen to me, whose past record is blameless. Anyway it did and things got to running through my mind at about the speed of sound.

Way Back When . . .

10 Years Ago

Aug. 2, 1951: Members of the Wayne Methodist church donated $75 Sunday to help churches in Kansas hit by recent floods. . . Thirty-six rural teachers, sponsored by Lela Way, will leave Sunday from Norfolk for an educational trip to Florida and Cuba. . . Seventy-four returned members from a weekend tour through the Black Hills. . . LeRoy Griesch, line foreman, received a plaque for the local REA at a dinner Thursday for completing 50,000 consecutive man hours without a lost time accident. The plaque was presented by L. E. Oreillard, Omaha, representing Employer's Mutual Insurance company. . . Ervin E. Morris and Clarence Vieux have joined the WSTC faculty as agriculture instructors. . . Leonard Pollard, Wakefield, was winner of the dressed pig given away at Gables store, Wayne, Saturday. . . Lois Roker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Roker, Hoskins, returned home Saturday from a Norfolk hospital where she had been for the past week. Lois suffered a compound fracture of her arm recently when she fell from a horse and the horse stepped on her arm.

An estimated 175 music students from 35 towns in Nebraska and Iowa will be on Wayne college campus this next week. . . ## County Agent's Column

Swine Conference Aug. 11

A conference on Specific Pathogen Free swine will be held at the University of Nebraska's Center for Continuing Education Aug. 11. The conference will be designed for hog producers who are raising SPF stock, county agents, vocational agriculture teachers and other interested persons, according to Louis Welch, SPF coordinator at the University.

Purpose of the conference will be twofold: to present details of the SPF program to interested persons and to report new developments to those who are already acquainted with the program. There already are 60 producers of SPF swine in Nebraska. There is a potential for some 300 producers in the program.

During the conference, members of the University staff will discuss the SPF swine certification program, herd improvement through performance testing, disease, parasite control in SPF herds, functions of SPF laboratories, management and nutrition problems of SPF swine and new development in swine equipment. There also will be a panel discussion by SPF swine producers.

Control Flies For More Milk

Flies are troublesome in the dairy barn and they also cost money in terms of reduced milk production. C. W. Nibler, University of Nebraska Extension dairyman, says Iowa scientists found that cows kept free of horn flies and mosquitoes produced 3.3

pounds more milk per day than cows troubled by flies. In a 60 day trial, this amounted to nearly 200 pounds more milk per cow as a direct result of fly control.

Although fly control sounds simple, there are at least two factors which complicate the control of flies. First, there is no all-purpose spray that is equally effective or desirable to use on cows, in buildings and in the milk room. Second, the presence of any insecticide in any amount will be cause for confiscation of the milk.

Because of these complicating factors, strict sanitation — as old fashioned as it may sound — is still the key to successful fly control. Nibler points out. The stable fly and the housefly — two of the most troublesome flies for the dairyman — breed in moist, "strawy" manure, spilled feed and decaying vegetation. If dairy-men can eliminate the breeding places, they can largely eliminate flies.

Even with strict sanitation it may be desirable to do some spraying or dusting. Generally, the dairyman is somewhat limited on the materials he may use directly on his cows and in barns. Such materials and their proper use are as follows:

- Lethane or Thianic: 3 to 5 percent oil solution at the rate of 1 fluid ounce per head;
- Malathion Dust, 4.5 percent; two ounces of 4 percent premium grade dust per head dusted into hair once every three weeks after milking (this controls only horn flies);
- Pyrethrins: One percent pyrethrins plus 10 percent synergist (Dipropyl butoxide or MGK 264) at the rate of 1 fluid ounce per cow. Pyrethrins 0.05 percent to 0.1 percent plus 0.5 percent to 1 percent synergist in water emulsion at the rate of 1 quart per head;
- Methoxychlor Dust: Methoxychlor 50 percent wettable powder, 1 tablespoon per head every three weeks only. To be rubbed into the hair.

When attempting to control flies in the dairy barn, these chemicals may be used:

- Diazinon as a residual spray for barn surfaces;
- Lethane, pyrethrins or dieldrin; space spray, follow package directions;
- Lindane, malathion spray, ronnel (kerlon) or methoxychlor spray as a residual spray for barn surfaces.

These chemicals may be used to control flies in milk rooms:

- Methoxychlor spray: residual spray for barn surfaces;
- Pyrethrins: space sprays for barn surface.

Nibler says it is impossible to over-emphasize the importance of reading the label on any spray or dust and to use the material exactly as recommended. It is equally important to use these sprays and dusts in such a way that there is no opportunity of contaminating the milk supply.

Capitol News . . . Determine by End of Month State Property Tax Levies

Nebraska property owners soon will learn what they will have to pay in state property taxes for 1961. The State Board of Equalization probably will set the state levy July 31. It must be certified out to the 93 counties by Aug. 2.

State taxes actually make up only a small share of the individual property owner's annual tax bill. Local, school and county taxes account for a much larger bite.

This year the state tax levy is expected to increase slightly. One factor assuring this is a 17 mill increase voted by the Legislature to the State Park levy, boosting it from 13 to 30 mill.

Fixed state levies are known at this time. They will account for 2.25 mills or $2.25 in taxes for every $1,000 assessed valuation of property.

These levies are set by the Legislature and include $1.10 per $1,000 for the state Institutional Building fund; 25 cents per $1,000 for the University of Nebraska Medical levy; 50 cents per $1,000 for the Teachers Retirement fund; 30 cents per $1,000 for State parks and 10 cents per $1,000 for agricultural research. The remainder of the state levy is the General fund levy. In 1960 the total state levy was 8.43 mills or $8.43 per $1,000 assessed valuation. Of this, the General fund portion was $6.35.

The General fund levy provides about 60 percent of the amount required to keep the General fund solvent. The other 40 percent is derived from miscellaneous taxes and receipts such as motor vehicle fees, cigarette and liquor taxes, head tax, etc.

Drivers Licenses Despite all the publicity during the closing days of the recent legislative session, much confusion still exists over what type of driver's license Nebraskans need this year.

The answer is simple. Motorists will renew their operator permits beginning Sept. 1 for a two-year period just as they have in the past. There is no change whatsoever in driver's licenses or how they can be renewed.

The confusion is the result of actions within the Legislature. A bill was signed into law calling for colored photos on the new licenses. Controversy erupted when charges were buried that specifications for the photo equipment were rigged. As a result, the last bill introduced, LB 737, was amended on the floor and passed repealing the colored photo bill. This restored the situation to where it has been in the past.

Interstate Highway Some time in August, probably after the eleventh, travel between Omaha and Lincoln will be far different than it has been in the past.

The State Highway department plans a formal opening for the Interstate Highway connecting Nebraska's largest cities. The formal ceremonies accepting the highway and opening it all the way to public traffic are tentatively scheduled for Aug. 11.

After that motorists will be able to zoom between the two cities on a divided four-lane highway at speeds up to 75 mph, the limit set by the Legislature this session. Short stretches of the highway are now open from Omaha to the Gretna interchange and from the Lincoln AFB interchange to the Waverly interchange.

Big Blue and Elkhorn

Tentative approval has been given by the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation committee to a work plan which would shape a program for conservation in the Elkhorn and Blue river basins.

The Federal Bureau of Reclamation, Army Corps of Engineers, Soil Conservation Service, State Department of Water Resources, University of Nebraska and the State Conservation committee will shape the final program.

Among the things which will be considered in the study are erosion, flood control, ground water supplies and drainage.

If the Federal agencies involved can obtain money for the study it probably would not begin until 1963 or 1964.

Board of Control

Developments have moved rapidly since the Legislature agreed to abolish the Board of Control and replace it January 1 with separate departments of Welfare and Institutions.

Gov. Frank Morrison wasted little time in selecting Peterson's replacement. He chose Arthur Samund, 61, Trenton, to finish out the final 4 1/2 months.
