Rural Schools to Open September 4

Wayne county rural schools will open Sept. 4, according to County Superintendent Gladys Porter. All schools have teachers, she said.

Williams commented on castor beans, sunflower and high amylose corn plots which were inspected by those attending field day, as well as summarizing results of flax, mustard and crumble plots which have already been harvested.

Teachers in the grade schools will be Mrs. Irene Kant, school 11; Mary Negley, school 21; Mrs. Irene Koch, school 24; Mrs. Emily Carlson, 28 North; Mrs. Mary Blake, 28 South; Mrs. Mariann Langemeier, school 29; Mrs. Lois Bronzynski, school 31; Mrs. Lynn Franzen, school 35; Mrs. Catherine Mueller, kindergarten and music at Winside; Gladys Reichert, grades 1-2, Winside; Mrs. Alice Wagner, grades 3-4; Mrs. Gladys Johnson, grades 5-6; Mrs. Marian Iversen, seventh grade and Mary Cerkle, eighth grade.

WAYNE'S NEW WATER tower will be the same as this one. Capacity will be 750,000 gallons and, used along with the present tower, will give Wayne more water pressure and also a greater emergency safety factor.

Ed Bahe's Allis-Chalmers building was entered through a broken window on the east side. The intruder took about 30 cents from the cash register which was discovered at opening time Saturday morning.

Dr. and Mrs. Shupe discovered something was wrong when they went to the office. As the doctor tried to unlock a door, the intruder, who had jimmied a window in the hallway, held the door shut.

The intruder said he would leave the money if they would let him go. Shupes went down the street to call police. They asked a young man who was passing to call officers. Dr. Shupe notified Marilyn Test, who has a beauty shop adjoining his office, and she came to find her office had been ransacked and the money taken.

The Shupes saw the man hurry down the stairs and vanish around the corner to the west. Fingerprint prints of broken glass were taken. The man had gained entrance to the beauty shop by chiseling a hole in the door and reaching in to open it from the inside.

Kamlager is wanted in Wisconsin for breaking parole from the state penitentiary and for questioning in other crimes, and will be turned over to authorities there for prosecution. He was held in the Wayne jail after taking a lie detector test at Pender and allegedly confessing to entering the three firms.

HOLLYWOOD SNEAK PREVIEW SATURDAY and SUNDAY 8:10

NINETEEN-HOUR DAYS of intensive training marked the first week of the Wayne National Guard unit's summer training at Camp Ripley, Minn. The unit went directly to the field the first week to put into practice knowledge gained during the year's weekly meetings in Wayne. Field training under combat conditions showed up any soft spots in the men's condition as the days started at 6 a.m. and ended at 1 a.m. In the first picture, men of the combined units of Wayne and O'Neill move out for a field problem. Here they faced aggressor forces taken from their own ranks and were graded on their work. In the problems, second picture, the men worked constantly under simulated combat conditions, using blank ammunition. The men brought all their knowledge into play to keep from being "killed" or captured by the aggressors. Good food from the field kitchen helped shorten the days, third picture. The complete food service was set up in the field, also operating under combat conditions. The two hours between the day problems and the night problems were spent resting and cleaning equipment, fourth picture. The pup tents in the background provided housing for the men during their stay in the field and were more than welcome in the chilly Minnesota nights. The second week was spent in camp, going to classes, studying, and working out tactical problems. The men will return to Wayne this weekend.

Connie's Column

by Constance Flume

ON TARGET

Bet Mrs. T. Luginbyhl, of Bellevue, Nebr., is a straightforward, right-to-the-point person. She puts family notes where nobody will miss them; smack on the front of the refrigerator, with a magnet!

DRY COMMENT

Baby's favorite "squeaky toy" may lose its voice, if you wet the whistle when washing it! Mrs. John Carroll, of Iowa, puts plastic-coated adhesive tape over the mechanism before dousing the doll. Tape comes off when toy is dry—and it squeaks up loud as before!

COFFEE QUEEN

Make a packaged pie crust, cook it while you cook packaged chocolate pudding. When it bubbles, mix in 2 tsp. instant coffee powder. Cool slightly; pour into crust. Chill; sprinkle with chopped almonds. Top with packaged instant topping, into which you've mixed 1 1/2 tsp. instant coffee and 1 Tbsp. sugar. Sprinkle more almonds over all. Result? Instant success with party guests.

WISHING CAKE

Mrs. Diana Ford, of Minneapolis, Minn., makes birthday cake the way her Finnish mother did—with "fortunes" inside! Into the cake batter, she pokes a foil-wrapped curtain ring sewn with a "diamond"—a shiny penny... a tiny, auto... a safety pin... a doll-size compass... a miniature boat. Every guest's portion tells a fortune! (Miss the first time? You've a perfect excuse for a second cut of cake.)

DIAL COMFORT

Why "dog" your way through steamy August "dog days"? You can get new gas air conditioning, quick as a cool breeze! In most cases it takes but a few days, from first phone-call till that heavenly comfort waits through your home. Then you can always dial comfort, with a flick of the wrist! Dial your local gas company, Peoples Natural Gas, or gas appliance dealer.
