Injuries Cripple Panthers For Crucial Coleridge Tilt

Wayne Prep's Panthers travel to Coleridge Friday night for a game which will, barring a major upset, determine the 1961 Corn-tassel conference championship.

Coleridge took over the league lead Friday night by swamping Osmond 48-0 while Prep was held by Wausa 20-0. Coach Frank Williams' team will enter Friday's game with a 1-0-1 record. Coleridge is 2-0-0.

Coleridge will be the favorite in Friday's contest on the basis of its 4-0-0 record for the season. The Bulldogs are ranked third in the state's Class A 8-man ratings. They are paced by Senior Tom Morrison, who scored two touchdowns in Friday's victory over Osmond. He was also instrumental in an 18-15 win over Wausa a week earlier.

Prep's chances in the title contest Friday suffered a severe blow this week with the announcement that tackle Richard Maurer will miss the game because of a head injury suffered against Wausa Friday night. Quarterback Corky Lutt will probably see only limited action. He has a splint on one finger of his passing hand.

Wayne Prep carried a 20-7 lead into the final 6:22 of Friday's game with Wausa, then had to stage a strong defensive maneuver to keep the Vikings from eking out a victory in the final seconds.

Prep played the Wausa game without the services of Senior Harry Kelton, regular tackle who is ill and lost for the remainder of the season.

The Panthers played two halves Friday night, completely dominating the first while taking a 14-0 lead. They tired visibly in the last two quarters and just managed to salvage the tie.

A defensive play by John Dorsey set the stage for two crucial Prep points with 3:45 remaining in the first period. He threw Lyman Anderson for a seven-yard loss which set the Vikings back to their own 4.

On the next play the snap from center went over Merv Carlson's head and out of the end zone to give Prep a safety and a 2-0 lead.

Jim Grohn recovered a Wausa fumble on the Wausa 24 to put Prep in position for its first touchdown early in the second quarter. The tally came on a screen pass from Corky Lutt to Richard Johnson, who ran 17 yards for the score. Johnson's plunge for the extra point failed, to leave the score at 8-0.

A 65-yard march provided the second touchdown late in the first half. It followed another fumble recovery, this time by John Dorsey, after Wausa had marched to the Prep 15.

Key plays in the drive were a 17-yard scamper by Dorsey and a five-yarder by Dee Lutt on an end-around, both of which provided first downs. Johnson provided all the yardage inside the Wausa 20, finally slanting over right tackle from a yard out.

The extra point, which might have proved the deciding factor, failed when Johnson cracked to the goal line but was thrown back. The half ended with Prep leading 14-0.

It was late in the third period before the Vikings managed their first points. The touchdown was scored by Leonard Kliment on a 16-yard run which capped a 41-yard march. Carlson hit over right tackle for the extra point to narrow the Prep lead to 14-7.

Wausa's fourth down gamble with 7:14 remaining in the game led the way to Prep's third touchdown. The Vikings gambled with a pass which fell incomplete and Prep took over on the Wausa 31.

Five plays later Johnson skirted right end for the six points. Once again he was stopped on the vital extra point try.

The Vikings failed to wilt at this point, however, and nine plays later trailed only 20-14. The touchdown drive covered 55 yards with Lyman Anderson smashing over right guard for the score. A vital play in the march was a 29-yard pass from Carlson to Kliment which put the ball on the Prep 1.

Carlson's sneak for the extra point was good as the clock showed 2:24 left in the game.

Inability to run out the clock after the ensuing kickoff cost the Panthers a victory. A quarterback sneak netted two yards and Johnson was forced out of bounds after a two-yard gain to stop the clock with 49 seconds left. Wausa took a time-out after another three-yard gain by Johnson and then Bob Seagren broke through to block Corky Lutt's fourth-down punt.

The Vikings recovered on the Prep 1 with 40 seconds left. Carlson was stopped on his first smash but then skirted right end for the tying touchdown. With the outcome of the game hanging in the balance, Veldon Magnuson and Corky Lutt stopped Carlson short of the goal line on the vital extra point try.

Prep was visibly handicapped by the loss of the 185 pound Kelton in the defensive line, but one of the major reasons for Wausa's second half upsurge was sloppy tackling on the part of the Panthers. There were many instances where Viking ball carriers were halted but spun out of the arms of Prep tacklers.

Prep also failed to make full use of its newfound passing attack in the second half. Lutt completed three of four attempts for 33 yards in the first half but threw only once in the final two periods. This was a screen pass which was dropped by the receiver in the open on fourth down. Wausa took over and moved to its first touchdown at that point, when another Prep tally could have broken the game wide open.

Devils Come Back to Tally Third Conference Victory

Wayne Blue Devils used a second half comeback to defeat Pierce 13-7 for the Devil's third conference win.

Wayne got behind in the second quarter after their only scoring bid in the first quarter ground to a halt on the Pierce 37.

Pierce took the ball there in the fading minutes of the first quarter and worked it down to the Wayne 10 in the early minutes of the second quarter. A 10-yard pass gave them six points and the seventh was added by another aerial.

Wayne took the kick-off on their 32 but were unable to move the ball. Pierce put together another drive to the Wayne 20, but lost the ball on a fumble and Wayne ran out the clock at the half, down 7-0.

Dean Weibic's kick-off to start the second half was taken on the Pierce five and returned to the 33. Pierce ran out a series of downs and Marlin Lessmann returned the punt to the Devil's 32 to set up the first Wayne TD. Four first downs, all made on the ground, took them to the Pierce two. Highlight of the drive was a 14 yard ramble around the right end by Lessmann for 14 yards. Lessmann then used the right end for a score from two yards out. A right end run again by Lessmann added the PAT for a 7-7 tie.

Pierce took the kick-off on their 24 and lost six yards on the next play through a fumble. An attempted pass cost them seven yards as the passer was smothered on the 11 before he could get the pass away.

As the quarter ended Pierce stood at third down and 23. However, on changing ends of the field, the officials stopped at the 20 yard marker instead of the ten which made it third and 13 but Pierce still failed to move the ball and punted.

Wayne took the ball on the 47, picked up one first down and ground to a halt on the Pierce 29. Pierce could move only to the 33 and had to punt.

Wayne blocked the Pierce punt and Jerry Granquist and Don Meyer recovered on the Pierce nine.

Bus Likes tried the left tackle, but a backfield in motion penalty moved the ball to the 14. Quarterback Ken Olds tried a pass to Meyer but it was incomplete. Then Lessmann powered a seven yard right tackle for seven yards. Olds tried a keeper for two yards to the five, making it fourth and goal from the five.

Olds again called on Lessmann, this time over left tackle. But the Pierce line was waiting and stopped him at the line of scrimmage, giving the ball to Pierce.

Pierce ran out their string on the 17 and punted to the 20. Lessmann tried the right side for 3 and one yards. Then a pass from Olds to Meyer was incomplete. Olds took to the air again and this time Lessmann snagged the pass from between two defenders and raced in the end zone to make it 13-7. The PAT failed as Lessmann was stopped on an end run.

As the seconds ticked off, Pierce took to the air. Their first pass was incomplete and with the clock showing 20 seconds, Lessmann intercepted a pass on his own 45 and raced to the Pierce 24. Olds then dove into the line to run out the clock, giving Wayne the victory.

The statistics:

	Wayne	Pierce
First downs	8	6
Yards rushing	163	154
Passes attempted	8	7
Completed	2	3
Intercepted by	1	0
Fumbles lost	1	1
Wayne	0	7

Wildcats Scratch Tigers 19-7; Face Peru Saturday

Memory may help Wayne State's football team Saturday as the Wildcats provide opposition at Chadron. State's golden anniversary homecoming game.

The memory is of the 25-0 trouncing by Peru that blighted Wayne's fiftieth anniversary homecoming last year.

Another memory, more recent, also may help Wayne—the memory of a 19-7 conquest over Doane last Saturday. In this game the Wildcats added an offense to the defense that had pretty well contained previous opponents. Wayne had gone scoreless in the preceding two games.

The Cats will need plenty of offense and defense to be sure of victory over Chadron, traditionally tough at home and at homecoming. However, the Eagles are young and inexperienced in comparison to Wayne.

Both teams have 2-2 season records. Wayne is 1-1 in the conference, Chadron 1-0. Wayne has scored only 38 points to 49 by the opponents while Chadron has scored 70 to 87.

Chadron owns a 19 to 15 edge over Wayne in their series dating back to 1920. They have never tied.

The Wildcats acted like their name against Doane's Tigers, particularly on defense.

Densely the Wildcats frequently knifed through Doane's line to stop runs and upset passes. And on offense the Wildcat runners got more blocking than they have for many a game.

The result: Wayne, after spotting Doane an early touchdown, quickly reached the pay line, then added a second TD in the second quarter. Thereafter, Wildcat defenses stopped three Doane threats by aggressive play.

The Tigers recovered a Wayne fumble on the Wildcat 29 and scored on the next play by a pass from Bill Buchanan to Gary Bekwith, with 9:13 left in the first period. Marvin Drevo kicked the point.

On the following kickoff Wayne fullback, John Bernthal, made an 18-yard return that set up a touchdown drive in 12 plays. Bernthal traveled the last yard untouched through a gaping hole.

Late in the period the Cats headed goalward again, quarterback Alex Incigno racing the last 14 yards a few seconds after the second quarter began. His Hawaiian teammate, Pat Shimoda, kicked the point.

There was no more scoring until Incigno sneaked one yard into the end zone with three seconds left in the game. But there was plenty of action, most of it pleasing to the small crowd of about 800 that braved a chilly afternoon after morning snow.

The weather canceled plans for Band Day, though four bands arrived before the call-off decision was made. All 12 bands are being invited to come for homecoming Oct. 14.

Statistics tell the Wayne-Doane story: Wayne earned 17 first downs to Doane's five. Wayne gained 220 yards rushing, Doane 32. Doane did better on passing with seven completions in 14 tries, for 63 yards. Wayne, no

Pilger Defeats Stanton

Hobbled by injuries, the Stanton Mustangs fell to the Pilger Cardinals 19-0 at Stanton Friday. Quarterback David Julke returned to the victor's line-up to put them at full strength.

Stanton played without the services of first string quarterback Van Steckelberg who is out with a knee operation.

Crofton Over Winside

Crofton jumped to an early first quarter 14-0 lead and held off the Winside Wildcats for a 14-7 victory. Bob Dimmet scored from the one and Don Ausdemer raced 25 yards for the final TD.

Butch Redel tallied for Winside when he intercepted a pass and ran 70 yards for the TD in the fourth period.

Tilden Defeats Madison As Safety Gives Victory

A 70 yard backpeddling safety and a 55 yard punt return for a score led Tilden to a 9-7 victory over Madison Friday night.

In the first quarter Madison ground to a fourth and eighth situation on the Tilden 30. A fumble in the back field was picked up by the Madison fullback who backpeddled 70 yards into the opposite end zone for a two-point safety for Tilden.

In the third period Madison ended a 50-yard drive with a score when Gary Nathan scored from the five to move ahead 7-2.

With four fumbles left in the fourth quarter, Madison gave up the ball with a punt to the 45 of Tilden. Floyd Brown fielded the punt and rambled through the Dragons for a touchdown and a 9-7 victory.

Father Daniel Galas officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Leo Jordan was organist with Judy Smith singing "Ave Maria" and the church choir singing "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an Angelair white gown of chantilly lace and tulle. The sculptured bodice featured a sweetheart neckline of scalloped lace and ruffled tulle. Long fitted sleeves ended in bridal points at the wrists. The floor length skirt had full length lace panels over satin in both front and back, featuring bouffant scalloped lace puffs on the sides. The veil was of silk illusion with a crown of pearls. The bouquet was a white chrysanthemum on a white Bible.

Lois Woslager, Ewing, sister of the bridegroom served as maid of honor and Mrs. Bob Jones, Randolph, was bridesmaid. They wore identical turquoise satin princess-line ducharme dresses with matching caps and veils. Their bouquets were turquoise chrysanthemums and carnations.

Bill Woslager, Ewing, served as best man for his brother, Marvin Ahlers, Ewing, was groomsmen.

Barbara Woslager, Ewing, was flowergirl and ringbearer, and Danny Harmeier, Sioux City,

Real Selling

Home buyers put wood paneled walls first on the long list of things they insist they want in the home they buy. Prestige woods like west coast hemlock are big selling factors.

Choice Is Wood

A national survey discloses that, when people have their choice, they prefer a home sided in wood. The popular western red cedar or equally fine Douglas fir.

Relieve Door Catching

If the bottom of a door rubs slightly, lay a sheet of coarse sandpaper on the trouble point and work back and forth rapidly. This should sufficiently smooth down the wood to avoid need for planing.

cable, will be buried underground so they will no longer be subject to damage by the winter snow and sleet storms.

The new telephone numbers will be the type that work best for local dialing of calls and will fit in with the nationwide system of long distance dialing by customers. By making use of these numbers now, a change at some later date will be avoided. The numbers will consist of seven digits, and the first three numerals for all phones will be 375.

New telephones that are installed are equipped with dials. A little later on, a special group of installers will start the job of preparing all telephones for dial operation.

Mr. Schulz pointed out that the Wayne office now serves over 2,200 telephones, nearly three times as many as in 1940. The new dial system will be the most modern available, engineered and designed to meet the telephone service needs of Wayne customers now and in the foreseeable future, he said.

He explained that he is happy to be able to announce this telephone service improvement program for Wayne and he said, "Dial service is easy to use and I am sure everyone will find it enjoyable in every way."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Arnold J. Toybee, eminent British historian, has this to say of our generation: "The twentieth century may be best remembered as the first age in history in which people have thought it practical to make the benefits of civilization available to the whole human race." By that he means we have made discoveries in medicine, found new scientific inventions or equalized our economy so that we share what we have with others. We have been able, for the time, to crawl out of the shell of self-sufficiency and complacency to recognize our neighbors and to work together with them for the common good.

America is in the forefront in this matter of giving. We are known for our generous foreign aid program. Perhaps we have not always made friends by it, but that is of small moment; the most important matter is for the giver to give. This spirit may have developed on the frontier when men had to help one another or die. Neighbors were an important adjunct to a man's living. They worked together in threshing, in shelling their corn, in making of soap and in tying of quilts. It was important that they get the work done, but it was more important that they discover the humanness of one another in this way.

Last year Americans gave over a billion and a half dollars to more than 100,000 different causes. This was community spirit. Yet, it is possible that some very important needs were overlooked.

It was this need to support the deserving agencies of our own city and community which prompted a group of civic-minded men to organize our Community Chest or United Fund Campaign nine years ago. It has met with universal approval. This is due to a peoples' desire to give or it is born out of a conviction that they who are strong must bear the burdens of the weak.

Moreover, it tended to make for economy of time and effort. By "putting all our eggs into one basket," we would not need to run from house to house every time a need arose. Nor would there be the danger that one would get attention and another cause, equally important, would be ignored. Instead of having the needs met by a few generous souls, we could all help. It was this kind of wholehearted support which gave us a record of setting a quota and reaching it, a record which is enjoyed by few cities in this state.

Now we must depend upon the one hundred percent giving of Wayne people again to meet our quota. We need the considerate interest of every man and woman and child, not the heartless giving that throws a man a coin to get him away from your door, but the sincere sympathy that causes him to dig down into his jeans and come up with a substantial amount. When we have 14 causes rolled up into one, we have to give 14 times as much as if each cause had a solicitor call at your door. Unless we do this, our support will be pennies, and we need dollars.

In a few days your neighbor will come to your door. Treat him as a guest. Show your friends as much consideration as you would a stranger. Help your city in its youth and health programs as if your kids and your health depended upon it, because they do. Live the twentieth century as typical denizens.

Dr. Oliver B. Probst, President Wayne Community Chest.

Capitol News . . . Interim Budget Committee To Keep Tab on Spending

Budgetary matters, which occupied a great deal of attention during the last Legislature, will be aired for the next 18 months. Focal point will be the Legislature's interim budget committee, which says it will keep close tabs on state spending.

It is composed of the same members who operated as the Legislature's budget committee in the last session.

Oct. 10 the committee will begin hearing from state agencies which have asked to spend more than the quarterly allowance permitted by law.

Under state law an agency can spend only one eighth of its biennial appropriation in any three month period, unless such procedure is approved by the governor.

Eleven agencies are scheduled to appear. About 18 accounts and $528,000 are involved.

During the same period at the start of the 1959-61 biennium four accounts were involved, totaling some $50,000.

State Auditor Ray Johnson said he felt the large volume of requests reflected too tight a budget enacted by the Legislature. But Sen. Richard Marvel, Hastings, chairman of the Legislature's budget committee, said many of the requests involved bookkeeping and buying of items for the entire biennium.

The Welfare Department asked to spend $140,000 more for the current quarter and the same amount for the next three months. The Board of Control sought to expend $175,000 more than its normal allotment.

The question of adequate funds and a definition of what constitutes tourism brought a legal opinion from the attorney general's office. Essentially the same problems were discussed on the floor of the Legislature when the senators were framing the state's 1961-63 budget.

Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer ruled that the Legislature appropriated specifically only $25,000 for promotion of tourism in Nebraska. But, he noted that other activities of government do aid in attraction of non-Nebraska residents to the state.

State law says the Game Commission, which got the $25,000, can expend the money only for advertising and promoting the scenic, historic and outdoor recreational values and attractions that will bring non-resident trade to the state, Meyer said.

Sen. Richard Marvel, Hastings, chairman of the Legislature's budget committee, had argued on the floor that the state had nearly $400,000 for tourism activities. Meyer held that money other than the $25,000 — which includes $346,000 to the Game Commission's information and education division — cannot be spent directly for tourist promotion.

Rather, said Meyer, the money was to go for activities relative to game laws and game and fish and may not be used to promote scenic and historical spots.

No department other than the Game Commission can expend funds directly for tourist promotion, the attorney general held.

Gasoline Tax

A committee of state senators, studying Nebraska's method of distributing state gasoline taxes, feels it will need six meetings in various areas to gather information required, Sen. Michael Russilo, Omaha, is committee chairman.

The second meeting of the group is slated for Lincoln Nov. 17, to be followed by one at Omaha.

Creation of the study committee drew out controversy in the last Legislature on the question. A bill was introduced proposing a change in the distribution between cities and counties. Both had the same problem — they wanted more money.

The revenue committee killed the bill. A measure to change the method of parceling out rural mail route funds was also killed.

One of the areas of study suggested by Russilo is whether gasoline tax funds should be used for a retirement program for highway department employees.

Hall of Fame

The Hall of Fame Commission created by the last Legislature has been activated by Governor Frank Morrison. Named to the committee were Democrats Henry E. Ley, Wayne; Dr. James Sellers, Lincoln; and Mrs. Mildred Bennett, Red Cloud; and Republicans Stanley A. Matzke, Hastings; Harry Pizer, North Platte; and Mrs. John Anderson, Tecumseh. The governor and Dr. W. D. Aeschbacher, director of the State Historical Society, are ex-officio members.

Under the law the commission will give official posthumous recognition to those Nebraskans who achieved prominence in their lifetimes.

Tall Job

Charles Armstrong has a tall job. He has been employed by State Capitol Supt. Robert Newell to scrub the gilded stateroom dome which towers 400 feet. Newell says the state has had as much trouble finding a man to do the job as the work itself. Previously picked was an inmate at the state penitentiary. But he walked away from a work detail before starting. The dome will be scrubbed with soap and water.

Tips For 4-H Calf Buyers

Now is the time for 4-H club members enrolled in the market beef project to start looking for feeder calves.

By purchasing calves of the correct age and weight during October and November, the animals will be ready to show late next summer. In addition, feeder calves are readily available in the fall and the price is usually lower as compared to the rest of the year.

Many times choice feeder calves may be available in the neighborhood or from local cattle buyers, cattle feeders, auction sale barns and area stockmen. In some cases 4-Hers may wish to purchase animals at feeder calf sales in the Sand Hills and elsewhere over the state.

There are several factors which must be kept in mind when selecting a feeder calf, the special points to note. They include age, weight, conformation, quality, health and feeder grade.

When selecting steer calves, it is best to obtain those born in April and May which weigh between 275 and 450 pounds. Heifers should be those born in May or June which weigh 300 to 350 pounds. Heifers selected should be younger and lighter since they will finish out about a month earlier and at a lighter weight. Consideration of weight for age is important in selecting calves for the inherited ability to make rapid gains. January and February calves should not be selected because poor-doing calves of this age are slow gainers and are expensive to feed, while good-doing calves will be too large for shows late next summer.

Club members should select thrifty feeder calves that are thick and wide over the back, rump and loin. Thickness over the top should be the result of natural muscling, not fat. Member calves may appear wider than they really are due to fat. Rather than natural muscling, calves should have long level rumps and thick, full rounds. All calves should be vaccinated and polled or dehorned.

Once club calves are purchased, care should be taken in bringing them home. They should not be excited or abused during the trip home. They should be fed prairie hay for a few days prior to being started on full-feed to permit close observation for disease, etc. This also makes a good time to halter-break the animal.

After a few days have elapsed, calves should be started on grain beginning with a bulky ration such as oats and prairie hay, gradually changing to more concentrated grain such as corn or milo. If creep-feed, calves can be started on concentrates more rapidly than calves that have not previously received grain.

Details of handling and feeding calves are available in the 4-H manual which may be obtained from county Extension agents.

Alfalfa Is "Queen"

Alfalfa is as old as written records of man, but as modern as tomorrow in a hay feeding program.

It has been called the "queen" of the forage crops. It well deserves the title. Alfalfa ranks at the top in yield of quality protein, vitamins — especially A and D — and minerals.

Alfalfa is unexcelled as roughage for all kinds of livestock. It is unbeatable for beef cattle, top for all ages and classes of beef animals.

In recent trials, yearlings fattened on alfalfa hay and corn and cob made excellent gains without a protein supplement.

Average daily gains of over 2.5 pounds were made for a 130-day feeding period. These cattle were marketed at about 850 pounds, grading U. S. choice.

Alfalfa hay was fed at the rate of one pound of hay to two pounds of corn and cob meal. Average daily feed consumption at full feed was about 10 pounds of hay and 13 pounds of corn and cob meal.

For fattening cattle with limited amounts of grains and best results will usually be obtained if only alfalfa is fed the first half of the feeding period.

For breeding animals and stockers, alfalfa hay serves exceptionally well as the only wintering feed. This is a good practice if hay prices are low compared with other feeds. Mature beef cows will consume about 25 to 30 pounds of hay per day.

Those bales of bright green hay with the leaves still there are worth much more than the stemmy bleached hay we see around too many feed yards.

It is not surprising that alfalfa has earned the title "Queen of the Forages." No other forage can list all these uses and advantages.

1. It can be grown alone, or in combination with grasses, as a high quality hay crop.

2. It is adapted to either long or short rotations.

3. It is widely used in combination with grasses for rotation pastures.

4. It is grown alone for dehydrated products.

5. It is unsurpassed for green chop.

6. It is an excellent green manure crop preceding corn.

Thinking OUT LOUD

Rev. Norman B. Parr, St. Anne's Church, Dixon

The American Catholic School — the largest non-public system of education in the country and in the world — has been in the limelight because of the national controversy over Federal aid to education. To many of the 139,000,000 Americans, who are not Catholics, a parochial school is something of a mystery. Even more of a mystery is the fact that Catholic parents are willing and ready to support the public schools by taxes and yet take on the added burden of another system of education.

The parochial school must and does conform with the same state requirements of instruction as the public school. Academically, it stands up as well as others according to the National Merit Scholarship Corporation's Merit scholarship and honorary Merit scholarship awards.

Christian private schools are the safeguard against the tendency to trample over man's natural rights for religious training. Such schools are also an abundant source of well-trained and loyal citizens who respect the rights of others.

Christian character requires the slow but steady formation of intellectual principles, values and ideals which must be personally realized and put into practice. For this reason Catholic could well apply in this case.

I don't agree with some of the present Administration's actions by a jugful, but in this particular I agree with me that the department has asked the Congress for more money to buy flags and to hire a extra clerk to handle the paper work.

I don't blame our Congressmen for this phony deal. It's us folks back home that put this burden on our lawmakers that is to blame.

But all the news about our Congressmen this week ain't bad. Senator Byrd, who favors running the Government real economic reports that he saw signs of improvement as the Congress was closing out the session. He said the House Appropriations Committee considered the annual salary of $6,702 for Chief Justice Warren's chauffeur too high and cut it down to $6,700.

The main reason we got freedom in this country, Mister Editor, is because fellers like me can poke a little fun at the Government and not put in jail. If a feller like Russilo calls Khrushchev a Hoop-and-Jack he gets shipped off to Siberia. In America a feller can call an official most anything he wants and about all the official can do about it is get him cut off the Soil Bank and raise his taxes.

I ain't got but two acres in the Soil Bank and my taxes is about as high as they can get, so about all I got to worry about is death. And I see where the undertakers in some of the big editor is trying to take the sting out of that. The papers say they're getting "cheers" in pastels colors in New York and Chicago.

It won't be long now till we get two-toned caskets and tombstones in technicolor.

I tell you, Mister Editor, it's a great to live in a country where we get to have three-flag jokes over the Capital and where everybody, including the undertakers, is wheeking and deadening by day and working on a better mouse trap by night.

Yours truly,
Uncle Zeke

Letters to The Editor

October 2, 1961

Dear Editor:

I am writing in answer to "A Reader" in the Sept. 28th issue who wrote about the Dixon MYF "meeting to discuss birds and how to identify them." It was erroneous to say they "met to discuss birds and how to identify them." The initial purpose of the meeting is to bring the youth together for spiritual guidance, prayer, Bible study and fellowship. Is there any better way to bring the miracles of God before children than through the wonders of nature? Pictures of birds were shown and songs that identify them.

I would not consider this kindergarten level. We older folks could well pause to appreciate the beauties of God's physical world.

Mrs. Allen Prescott
Dixon, Nebr.

P. S. I was under the impression that you had to sign your name if you wished your letter printed. (Ed. Note - All letters published are signed. Names are withheld at request of writer.)

Uncle Zeke FROM Plum Creek Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers there a Washington column writer is putting them Congressmen on the "fix" on handling the U. S. flag situation. He says members of the Congress get requests ever day from schools and groups all over the country wanting a flag that has on it flew over the Capitol.

Last year, for instance, Congressmen distributed 16,012 of these flags. If they changed the Capitol flag ever day they wouldn't be but 365 available ever year. But our Congressmen has argued out a way to keep the constituents happy. They got a special hidden pot, and new flag is hauled up and down this pole, at the rate of about $9 a day, then each one is mailed with a printed certificate saying it

Radiation Fallout Could Seriously Harm Agriculture

Ninth of A Series EFFECT ON AGRICULTURE

An evaluation indicates that the total effect of radioactive fallout on American agriculture in case of nuclear attack would be serious. A series of nuclear explosions in populated areas would create hazards of severe radiation injury to farm people and their livestock.

Radioactive contamination of food, feed and water would increase the hazard. Residual contamination in the soil would continue the problem over a long period of time.

On the other hand, research is providing the basic knowledge and specific means which can help to lessen the seriousness of these widespread effects. Knowing the radiation level in his area, the farmer can take several protective and remedial measures.

Livestock Protection

Livestock owners will generally find it impractical to remove animals from fallout areas. Therefore, facilities for the care and adequate supplies of water for at least two weeks will be needed. Animals should be kept within shelter at least during the first critical period of 24-48 hours. A good tight barn would reduce radiation dosage about one-half. The best shelter given by a structure normally in use for livestock is a two-story basement type barn with a loft filled with hay.

But any kind of shelter, even a shed without sides, gives some protection. Proper use of shelter for animals can substantially reduce the number of deaths from radiation.

If animals have been directly exposed to fallout, they should be thoroughly washed off as quickly as possible. After the first critical 24-48 hours or when out-of-door work periods can be scheduled, livestock can be given short periods of exercise in areas that do not contain contaminated vegetation or water.

Even when animals have received sufficient radiation to cause sickness or death, there may be a short period of from two to five days immediately after the critical dose, when the animals will not show any injury.

If the animals are needed for food, and if they can be slaughtered during this time, and if no other disease or abnormality would cause unwholesomeness, the muscle and muscle fat would be safe for use as food. Normally, edible organs, such as the liver, would not be safe.

However, the butchering process would be complicated by the radiation level in the area during this early period and the additional exposure of the workers to fallout on the animals' respiratory organs such as the lungs, stomach, intestines, tongue and lips. These organs must be carefully removed to avoid contaminating a saleable part, and they must be disposed of with care—preferably by burial at least two feet underground.

If any animal shows signs of sickness, a shoot should be slaughtered for food purposes until the animal is fully recovered and in good health. This may take several weeks or months.

When it is no longer practical to keep animals off contaminated pastures, they should be confined to the smallest area on which they can be maintained. If the pasture is heavily contaminated, the grazing area should be even further limited and supplemental feeding provided.

Civil Defense

The simplest method is to place a cover over them to prevent fallout from coming in direct contact with the materials.

Grain stored in a permanent bin or on a covered silo are provided with adequate protection against fallout and the contents can be safely used as soon as the farmer is able to get into the area to use them.

The haystack in an open field can be protected with a covering such as a tarpaulin. The hay and the contents of the feed bin will not be radioactive if the tarpaulin is carefully removed and can be used immediately as a safe feed for livestock.

Many materials such as uncovered haystacks and piles of farm produce may be safely used as food and feed if the contaminated outer portions are removed.

Water stored outside, such as the stock water troughs, should be covered with any material that would normally keep out dust. Larger farm ponds and lakes would be difficult if not impossible to protect. Boiling the water will not make it safe from radiation.

The use of standing crops such as grain, fruits, and vegetables, subjected to fallout will depend to some extent upon the stage of growth—that is, whether the crops can be allowed to stand until radioactivity has decayed enough to make it relatively safe to harvest.

If fallout is heavy, ripe fruits may be lost because of the personal hazard in harvesting them. Fruits that do not have to be picked immediately and that can be decontaminated by washing and peeling before eating can be used. Orchard trees should be maintained as usual and the fruits monitored for radioactivity.

Contaminated Soil
Contaminated soil may be diverted to other uses if the radiation level is too high for the original type of production. Potatoes are particularly suitable in comparison to leafy vegetables. Sugar and oil crops would also be suitable low-calorie crops for substitution.

If the top several inches of the soil are contaminated with strontium 90, the land may be diverted to deep rooted plants such as alfalfa because they draw their nutrients primarily from below the contaminated layer.

Land formerly used for dairying can be diverted to beef or other meat production. The strontium retained by grazing animals goes mostly into the bones or milk and not into the meat.

Another diversion would be to take the land out of food consumption and use it for cotton fiber, flax, castor beans or timber.

Erosion of soil and runoff of water move deposited fallout and radiolopes down slopes to lower lying areas where they may accumulate in concentrations higher than those in the upland soil. Areas subject to accumulation should be monitored frequently, especially if used for crop production.

Irrigation waters will not add much strontium 90 to agricultural land, compared with direct fallout. Fallout isotopes are considered diluted in surface waters of any appreciable depth and are readily absorbed by the soil of the banks and bottoms of lakes and streams. Contamination by sprinkler irrigation would be a greater hazard, especially to leafy vegetables.

Reclaiming Soil
Decontamination of the soil by the removal of ground cover is effective when the existing cover is thick enough. Contaminated crops could be disposed of by harvesting and baling to reduce their bulk. The bales should be stored where they will not contaminate other foods. Workers should wear respirators to avoid breathing the dust created.

The removal of surface soil is one of the most effective methods of decontamination, but it would be expensive and not suitable for large acreages using present procedures.

Addition of lime, gypsum, fertilizers or organic matter in practical amounts usually reduces uptake of strontium 90 by less than half. Potassium fertilization would reduce the uptake of strontium 90, but would also reduce the calcium uptake. Another solution is deep plowing. However, careful evaluation should be made of all alternatives.

Rural School News

District 3
Mrs. Edith Strate, teacher
Our school opened with an enrollment of ten pupils. We have been in school a month and how swiftly it passed.

We had our meeting of our Northern Heights Garden club on Tuesday. Stanley Weinrich gave the lesson on the Baltimore Oriole and Ron Asmus gave a report on the Cardinal. We received a large map of the Western Hemisphere tracing the routes of the bird when they migrate. This is very interesting. Joyce Falk gave her report on "Common Trees and their leaves."

We also received a letter from our District President, Mrs. Ackermann, Beemer, telling methods of making fall arrangements and methods of preserving flower materials. We received samples of ferns grass from the Oregon State college.

The club voted to have one hot dinner a month each pupil being the hostesses of a different month.

Ron Asmus brought a salamander to school and we have placed him in a small barrel. We have studied his eating habits.

Monday, Sept. 18, seven pupils, who are members of the Hoskins Baby Beef club attended the Norfolk show at Norfolk Sales Pavilion. The following received ribbons on their animal: Steven Weinrich, purple; Joyce Falk, Steven Grothe and Tom Behmer, blue and Stanley Weinrich and Ron Asmus, red. In the evening the sale was attended by all the parents and Mrs. Strate.

The fourth grade and the eighth grade have made a large display bulletin of Nebraska featuring special points of interest. They also made a booklet of special things to remember of Nebraska. Joyce Falk is making a mural of Mexico.

We have received our second group of story books from the Norfolk library. Each month two pupils accompany Mrs. Strate after school to help choose books. This month it was Stanley and Steven Weinrich.

David Behmer and Stephen have brought spiders to school. Last spring Steven Grothe took home his sweet potato plant from school and from that plant he grew 18 sweet potatoes.

District 5
Mrs. Beth Christensen, teacher
Our school opened this fall with six pupils. They are Mike Roggenbach, grade seven; Lynn Roggenbach, fourth; Holly Roggenbach and Bryon Reinhardt, third and Kathy Reinhardt and Mary Fay Landanger, first.

We opened school a week late as Mrs. Christensen went to California to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law.

The first grade girls have finished reading "We Look and See" pre-primer and are enjoying "We Come and Go."

The third grade science class has been studying rocks and crystals. They have studied crystals under the microscope and found them to be interesting. Also they made a desert scene in the sand table.

In connection with fourth grade social studies Lynn has made some Indian tools, an Indian papoose and is working on a scrap book study of Nebraska.

We were glad to have Mrs. Preston Roggenbach visit us this week. Mike is beginning his project map of Nebraska this week.

We made large wallpaper envelopes for art. We will use them to keep the art work in during the year.

District 7
Mrs. Joan O'Mara, teacher
All of the students of District 7 were participants in a Dog Show at their school, Thursday morning, Sept. 28. Each student paid a 10¢ fee with their entry form for his dog. Mrs. O'Mara judged each dog on such classes as: obedience, tricks and cleanliness. The dogs were carefully groomed by their masters and wore leashes and ribbons around their necks.

The dogs won ribbons of first, second, third prize and honorable mention. The Dog Show was very successful and enjoyed very much by each student. The participants were Bob McQuistan, Marcia, Gary, and Brenda Krusemark, Mary McQuistan, Jack and Jayne Hansen, and Rae, Donna and Jan Johnson.

District 25
Helen Kai - Rosalee Taylor
Twenty-two pupils enrolled in the lower grades. Debbie and Sheri Forth have moved into our district from Dixon county.

All grades are very happy to have new science books. They are the ABC series. First graders have been studying wild animals. Keith Koepke brought several plastic animals and a book about animals. Second graders finished a unit on inertia, gravity, and force. Cynthia Kai got 100 on the unit test. Todd Albers and Kathleen Meyer made a barometer. Fourth graders have been studying space and the planets.

We have added 24 "How and Why Wonder Books" to our library. Fourth graders have each written their first book report.

Grades 4-8 have started learning how to play tinnettes. We have all learned the scale and will start on short songs soon.

Glendon Meyer, Betty Bird, Donnie Westerhold and Mary Puckett are our new fifth graders this year, making a total of 17 in our room.

We recently started a Citizenship club. We elected officers at our first meeting Sept. 25. They are Ronnie Westerhold, president; Billy Koepke, vice president; Jane Albers, secretary; Ellen Wester-hold, treasurer and Patsy Koepke, news reporter. The group decided on "The American Citizenship club" as a name for the club. The name was suggested by Billy Koepke.

In science we all have been studying the earth, plants, and insects. We have done several experiments and the sixth graders have started collecting insects for mounting.

The students are enjoying the playground equipment that was put up this summer.

Kevin Kai has finished his fifth book report. Ronnie and Donnie Westerhold have completed two reports and Dianne Meyer and Betty Bird have their first one written.

District 36
Mrs. Zita Jenkins, teacher
Our school opened with 12 pupils enrolled. Bradley Frink is our beginner. Mary Prince, Susan Hamm, Linda Prince, Douglas Jenkins and Bradley Frink have had perfect attendance so far this year.

We used our fair money to buy a new medicine cabinet and to get a school library card.

Bradley Frink has learned to write his numbers to five. He has learned some finger plays. We have been talking about homes, and he made a booklet showing different rooms in a house.

Dan Frink and Doug Jenkins both received 100's in their first arithmetic test. They have written little stories for language. Dan and Doug are in the second grade. Linda Prince, our third grader, is making the town of Westport. She has made three stores, a theatre, and is now starting a lumber yard.

Our fifth grader, Susan Hamm made an interesting chart showing the four food groups. Now we are studying molds, bacteria and yeast. She also has learned to name and spell the thirteen colonies and something about men like Nathan Hale, Benjamin Franklin and Daniel Boone.

The seven eighth graders find the story about Nebraska most interesting. We are learning to diagram in our language. This helps us very much in recognizing the parts of speech and how the words are used in the sentence.

District 44
Marcia Adams, teacher
Charles Morris and Perry Jones received one hundred in spelling this week.

For special studies in their study of homes, Penny Rees and LaRee Jones made an apartment house from a box. The fourth graders made maps of Nebraska's rivers.

Cinda Owens brought a plant to school. Nancy Powling brought some pretty flowers.

We have organized an Audubon Junior Bird club. The following officers were elected: Mary Morris, president; Leon Roberts, vice president; LaRee Jones, secretary and Penny Rees, treasurer.

Francis Huey has been a recent visitor. With our fair money we purchased a softball.

District 47
Mrs. Pauline Lutt
There are nine pupils enrolled this year. They are: Pam Heinemann and Jimmy Niemlan, first grade; Brian Nelson and Lorraine Neiman, second grade; Kevin Victor and Linda Neiman, fifth grade; Scott Nelson, sixth grade; and Myron Heinemann and Penny Peterson, eighth grade. Denny is a new pupil from Creighton.

We have organized a Citizenship club. Officers are Denny Peterson, president; Linda Neiman, vice president; Scott Nelson, secretary, and Kevin Victor, treasurer. We hope to become better citizens through this club.

We made some very attractive "leaf" men using leaves from various trees. We shelved them to preserve them. We enjoy our daily art periods.

First graders are busy as bees. They have much of their written work on display. Second graders drew a map of their neighborhood. They learned directions on the map.

Social studies are of great interest to all. We have fun "visiting" all the places we study. The eighth graders are working on Nebraska booklets.
