Local Chest Drive Lugging; To Be Completed Saturday

The Wayne Community Chest drive is lugging behind last year according to the latest figures on the amount of donations turned in.

So far the Chest has collected 70 percent of the residential donations, amounting to $897.03. This compares with $1,529.70 as a total for 1960.

The business district, exceptionally slow this year, shows only $1,637 collected so far although only a little over one-fourth of the envelopes have been returned.

Community Chest leaders hope to have the drive completed by Saturday since the drive was nearly completed in two weeks last year.

Envelopes from the business district should be turned in to Dr. W. A. Koerber and residential donations to K. N. Parke at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Sign-Up Time for Wheat Growers Until Dec. 1

Wayne county wheat growers are being reminded by the county ASCS office today that the period for signing up under the program continues through Dec. 1, 1961.

John Mohr, Wayne county ASCS committee chairman, said it is important for farmers of the county to come into the county office to get information about the 1962 wheat stabilization program.

The wheat stabilization program, recently enacted by the Congress, is designed to reduce the national wheat acreage by at least 10 percent. Wheat farmers are encouraged to make additional voluntary reductions for which a higher rate of payment is available.

If farmers are not satisfied with their payment rates and can prove their yield to be higher, an appeal should be made within the 15-day appeal period.

Chairman Mohr urged county farmers who are interested in the wheat stabilization program to get in touch with the county ASCS office.

Wayne High Band Set For Firemen's Conclave

Wayne High's band will participate in a parade at the state firemen's convention at 2:15 p.m. Saturday in Norfolk. The band will represent the local fire department.

The firemen will give the band members a noon luncheon at El Rancho prior to the parade.

FIRST PLACE in float competition of WSTC's homecoming parade Saturday went to this entry by Anderson Hall. In line with the general theme of cinema titles, the Anderson float was named "The Greatest Show on Earth," referring to the football game to come later in the day. It was a great show, too, with a 31-0 victory over Nebraska Wesleyan. An estimated 3,000 spectators saw the parade of 14 floats, six high school bands, Queen Jean Henry and attendants, the cheerleaders and President W. A. Brandenburg. The National Guard provided the color guard.

Adult Driver Training Class for City Schools

An adult driver education class has been scheduled at the Wayne City schools, to be held on Saturday mornings. Harley Schmededeke will have charge of the class.

Set Wool Incentive Payments for '62

A shorn wool incentive price of 62 cents per pound has been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the 1962 marketing year which begins Apr. 1, 1962. The mohair support price is set at 74 cents per pound.

According to John Mohr, chairman, county ASCS committee, the 1962 price for wool is the same as for the first seven years of the program — from 1955 through the 1961 marketing years. The mohair price is up one cent from the 73-cent level for 1961.

Payments to producers for the 1962 marketing year will follow the same methods used for the current 1961 year. Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's cash returns from wool sales. The percentage will be that which is required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool up to the incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

Lamb payments will be made to each producer who sells lambs that have never been shorn. The payments will be at a rate per hundredweight of live animals marketed to compensate for the wool on them on a basis comparable to the national average incentive payment per pound of shorn wool.

Payments for the 1962 marketing year will be made on shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed during the Apr. 1, 1962-Mar. 31, 1963 period. Payments will be made in the summer of 1963 following the end of the marketing year.

County ASCS offices have in most cases made payments for the 1960 marketing year, covering marketings from Apr. 1, 1960 through Mar. 31, 1961. The payment rate for shorn wool for 1960 was 47.6 percent, the percentage required to bring the average price of 42 cents per pound of shorn wool, grease basis, up to the 62-cent incentive level. This resulted in a payment of $47.60 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool. The payment on unshorn lambs was 80 cents per hundredweight of live lambs marketed.

The freshmen completed the California Test of Mental Maturity which will give scores in mental age, IQ and grade placement. The juniors have completed an aptitude test which covers the following area: verbal reasoning, numerical ability, abstract reasoning, space relations, mechanical reasoning, clerical speed and accuracy and language usage which is broken down into spelling and sentence structure.

The seniors will take the School and College Ability Tests sometime in January. This academic aptitude test is used for post high school and college planning.

Also in January, the freshmen will take an achievement test, the Iowa Test of Education Development. All test scores are analyzed and gone over with the individual. Parents are encouraged to attend an appointment with Dean for discussion and explanation of their child's score in any of the tests.

Dean's schedule includes a private scheduled conference with each student in the high school. Individual conferences are scheduled as the need arises.

The testing program is part of the National Defense Education Act, a federal aid program which assists the schools in promoting better science, math, foreign language and guidance programs.

Prep Homecoming Set This Weekend; Grid Tilt Friday

Wayne Prep students will hold their annual homecoming this weekend. The festivities will open with Friday night's football game with Bancroft.

The homecoming royalty will be presented to the football crowd about 7:15 p.m. Friday, just prior to the grid contest. The coronation of the 1961 king and queen will take place at a Saturday night dance at the Prep gymnasium. The king and queen will be elected by the student body.

The day's activities began with an afternoon parade in which the senior class float won first prize. Second prize went to the freshman float. Judges were Mrs. N. L. Ditman, Mrs. Don Wacker and Gladys Reichert.

Lois Nielsen, Nancy Thompson and Janet Brogren were in charge of the coronation ceremonies. Glenda Farran presided.

Following a 13-7 victory in the football game, a dance, sponsored by the Winside Community club, was held in city auditorium.

A COMPLETE TOUR of the Iowa Beef Packers packing plant at Denison, Ia., Wednesday, gave area businessmen and farmers a look at an operation brought about by the cooperation of residents interested in their area's future. The plant — which has processed 110,000 head of cattle since beginning operations in March — has a yearly payroll of over one million dollars. Wayne is one of the communities in Nebraska that will be surveyed this fall as a possible location for such an operation.

More Tests Probe Student Learning At City Schools

More tests have been added to the battery of tests normally given at the Wayne City schools in an effort to probe deeper into the aptitudes, IQs and other facets of learning of students.

Conducted by Donald Dean, counselor and guidance director at the school, the new tests, along with ones used in the past, are being given freshmen, juniors and seniors.

The freshmen completed the California Test of Mental Maturity which will give scores in mental age, IQ and grade placement.

The juniors have completed an aptitude test which covers the following area: verbal reasoning, numerical ability, abstract reasoning, space relations, mechanical reasoning, clerical speed and accuracy and language usage which is broken down into spelling and sentence structure.

Once the plan is completed locally, it must be sent to National Civil Defense Agency in Lincoln for final approval and suggestions.

Cornerstone Laying Marks Student Center Beginning

The cornerstone of Wayne State's new Student Center was laid Monday with traditional Masonic ceremonies while more than 300 spectators watched.

Herbert A. Ronin, Lincoln, grand master of the Grand Lodge AF & AM of Nebraska, conducted the ritual, assisted by 12 other grand officers. Among them was Ralph Carhart, Wayne, grand senior warden.

Grand Orator Earl L. Meyer, Alliance, commemorated the event with a tribute to the quality of Nebraska education, stemming, he said, from a rich Nebraska heritage of local pride and effort.

Meyer cautioned against turning over the finance of education to the Federal government. He cited Nebraska's tradition of paying for and controlling schools at the local level. But if it ever becomes necessary to adopt state or Federal aid, it should be done by revision of law, said Meyer, a former district judge.

The cornerstone rests in the southwest corner of the building, which will house a cafeteria grill, recreation facilities and offices of several student organizations. The cafeteria, tripling capacity of the present one, will feed 750 persons at once in the main dining rooms, plus 150 in two smaller rooms.

When completed, the center will cost in excess of $900,000 — all the money coming from revenue bonds and none from taxes.

John Latenser and Sons, Omaha, is the architect. Hunter and Lundberg Construction Co., Manhattan, Kan., is the general contractor.

Prep to Face Bancroft in Homecoming Battle Friday

Wayne Prep's Panthers returned to their winning ways Friday night with a 23-14 win over outmanned Osmond in a Cornhusker conference game at WSTC's Memorial stadium.

The victory moved Prep into second place in the league with a 2-1-1 record. Coloridge remains atop the conference with a 3-0-0 mark. Only one game remains for Coach Frank Williams' Panthers, a Friday night encounter with Bancroft. The game will be Prep's homecoming.

John Dorsey led the Prep scoring parade Friday night with three touchdowns. Richard Johnson and Corky Latt added two apiece and the final one was scored by Lauren Boeckenhauer, who had another earned in the closing seconds by a ruse intrusion.

The final three seconds were filled with excitement. Osmond tried a pass from the Prop 12 and it was intercepted by Boeckenhauer, who then ran 70 yards down the sideline for an apparent score. However, Prep had too many men on the field and Osmond was given one play although the scoreboard clock showed time had elapsed.

Granted this favor, Osmond promptly scored with Marty Hansen firing a seven-yard pass to Andy Horner. Hansen circled left end for the extra point.

Coach Williams had ample opportunity throughout the evening to make use of his reserves in preparation for coming seasons. He emptied his bench in the closing minutes, using all 27 players who were suited for the game.

Coloridge, already holding the Cornhusker conference crown, defeated a hapless Millard team 53-7 at Millard Friday.

Coloridge now has a 6-0 record and faces Newcastle this week.

High Schoolers to Run Here Saturday

Eleven high school cross country teams will compete Saturday morning in the annual high school cross country meet sponsored by WSTC.

Among the entries is defending champion Crofton, winner for the past three meets. Last year's individual champion, Ken Gould, Lyons, has graduated.

Wayne Harriers Defeat Nebr. Wesleyan 26-51

Wayne State defeated Nebraska Wesleyan cross country runners, 26 to 51, Saturday morning on the Wayne golf course.

Winside Tops Randolph

An 83-yard drive climaxed by a touchdown in the final period gave Winside the edge, 13-7, over Randolph Friday.

Shimoda, halfback, who electrified the crowd with a 64-yard TD punt return and added another TD later. No. 34, Bill Whalen, fullback, subbing for injured John Bernthal, rolled up 90 yards rushing and two TD's. Blocking for him is No. 85, Dave Kracl, who kicked two field goals and a PAT. No. 44, Dick Chochon, playing both defense and offense, shows the running ability that gave him 61 yards on eight carries.

Wildcats Smash Wesleyan, Meet Lincoln U Saturday

College football fans should see some fancy grid work Saturday afternoon as Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Mo., engages Wayne State. Game time is 2 p.m. in Memorial stadium.

Though the Lincoln Tigers have won only one of three games this season, they are reckoned as big-time competition as far as Wayne is concerned. Lincoln's losses were to Arkansas A. M. & N. and Florida A. M. & N., both nationally rated teams.

Wayne coaches, unable to scout Lincoln, have nothing but the general reputation of Tiger teams to rely on for preparation. Lincoln generally has fielded teams with lightning breakout power and smashing defense.

Ken Katzer came in first with a 16:34 clocking for the three-mile course. Charles Borg, Wayne, and Terry Roberts, Wesleyan, tied for second at 16:37. Carl Owczarzak, Wayne, was fourth, and Mel Carlson, Wesleyan, fifth.

Other Wildcat runners scoring points were John Kruse, seventh, and Rod Billings, twelfth.

Wayne's harriers will run against the University of South Dakota at Vermillion this (Thursday) afternoon.

Pender Blanks Trojans

The Brink twins, Jim, and Joe, along with Dennis Radtke, combined their scoring to lead Pender to a 25-0 victory over the winless Wakefield Trojans Friday night.

So far this season, the Brinks have scored 92 of Pender's 111 points. Joe has scored 50 points and Jim has scored 43.

Pierce Defeats Crofton

The Pierce Bluejays added to their homecoming festivities with a 25-20 win over Crofton.

Pierce held a 25-7 halftime lead over the Warriors and held on the last half for the victory.

Crofton was scoreless in the third quarter but added two TD's in the fourth.

Wayne's Blue Devils managed a 6-6 tie with Stanton here Friday night after being held scoreless until the final minutes of the fourth quarter.

Plagued by fumbles and costly penalties, the Devils were unable to maintain a scoring drive, although outgaining Stanton in yardage and first downs.

Wayne's Marlin Lessmann lost one yard in 27 carries while gaining 162 for an average of six yards per carry.

The pupils observed Fire Prevention week by participating in various activities. Each drew a colorful poster portraying fire prevention and fire drills were held during the week. Thursday a Columbus Skit was given by Jack Hansen, Gary Krusemark, and Bob McQuistan. Parts of the play told of Columbus' boyhood and his dreams of adventure on the seas. The third grade has been studying how concrete is made in social studies. Donna Johnson and Gary Krusemark made miniature cement blocks from sand, cement and water. They will use them as paper weights or door stops. Each block was painted a pretty color after it was dried and removed from its wooden form.

All of the students are learning the piano keyboard. They have learned meanings of treble and bass clefs, an octave and several notes. They are making drums, sand bars, and blocks for their rhythm band.

Our school began getting the Weekly Reader this month. We are finding it very interesting.
In music we are learning notes and counting, as we are preparing to play the tonettes. We have also learned many new folk dances.

We are studying about trees in the sixth and seventh science class. We have large charts displayed and are making individual charts of leaves we have collected. Fourth and fifth science class made a study of rocks and we had a display of rocks. We also have a toad, and many caterpillars and butterflies which the pupils brought.
Our school is having a Halloween party with Dist. 68, Oct. 31.

The children took their field trip this week on which they collected different leaves and seeds. As a project in science, they dipped the leaves in melted wax to keep them all year.

Our school room is decorated with fall and Halloween pictures. The children made paper sack pumpkins which decorate every corner of our room.

Linda McFadden has an A plus average in spelling this six weeks.

Richard Junck and Stephen Rohde learned how to arrange a bulletin board. They made an arrangement on "Old and New Ways to Travel in Nebraska."

The fifth grade class have been following the Lewis and Clark expedition route in social studies.

Doris Jean Schutt has missed three days this week due to illness. Judy Bader and Daryl Junck drew a clipper ship to be used with a reading story.

Debra Schnoor and Arjean Baden brought their pets, a parakeet and a dog to school. Jeanne Tietgen provided us with a bird cage. We hope to get a bird for it.

Linda McFadden and Janice Kiefer have been copying new songs for our school to learn.

Darrell Schlatt and Betty Arp have been busy making maps for social studies.

We have been invited to a skating party this Saturday. We are all looking forward to it.

Our Day by Day Calendar is a very enjoyable science project in recording the daily weather.

We have been very busy with our SRA tests last week and our six week's tests this week. Our teacher, Mrs. Collins informs us we did quite well with them.

We are enjoying these beautiful sunny days playing outdoors.

We like our school inside, because of the pleasant atmosphere, clean and beautifully decorated. Our fall exhibit consists of carrots, shocks of kale, pumpkins, potatoes, peppers, corn, apples with all kinds of colored leaves strewn among the fruit and vegetables.

On the walls we are putting Halloween decorations. We have our planter filled with beautiful foliage plants. We have other blooming plants too.

So far our soil experiment shows the beans are about equal.

The wild life corner consists of many beautiful pictures of wild animals.

Roger Frahm has been our monitor this week. His duties are to keep the calendar, arrange for opening exercises, distribute the books and materials and other chores as need be.

During our vacation the buildings were winterized. Now we are ready for work and play.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

The Washington Boom

There's at least one place where a super-boom is underway. It's in the Federal government. Unfortunately, it's a boom that the taxpayers — including taxpayers-to-be not yet born — will have to pay.

Since January something like 100,000 additional civilian employees have been put on the Federal payroll. Federal spending for the year will pass $90 billion, a new peacetime record. And authoritative estimates say that next year's budget deficit will exceed $5 billion at the very least. Some think it may run close to twice that figure. It certainly will — if the next Congress approves any substantial number of the spending bills that will go into the hopper — bills which have nothing whatever to do with our military strength.

We're supposed to be prepared to make sacrifices in the name of national defense — and of national survival. When will Washington provide even a minor example? Not until the people vote "no" to candidates and public officials who promote higher taxes by advocating give-away programs financed by taxpayer dollars.

The metal strips used to band birds in the U. S. are inscribed: "Notify Fish and Wild Service, Wash., D. C." and they are used to read "Washington Biological Survey," abbreviated to "Wash. Biol. Surv." This was changed after a farmer shot a crow and disgustingly wrote the U. S. Government: "Dear Sirs: I shot one of your pet crows the other day and followed instructions attached to it. I washed it and biled it and served it. It was turrible. You should stop trying to fool the people with things like this. — Edmonton, Can. Sun.

Qualified Freedom

According to the Internal Revenue service a man or a company whose business is faced with regulation or even elimination because of impending state or Federal legislation cannot express a point of view on that matter and consider it as a cost of protecting his livelihood. Internal Revenue says you can do that if you do so out of profits, but that it is not a legitimate deduction as a business expense.

This takes on a rather frightening aspect when you consider that many businesses in this country are in competition with the government itself. That puts one business in the position of silencing its competitors.

The criterion is whether or not you are engaged in influencing legislation. We always thought that this was what America was all about — everyone had a chance to be heard on such things. Now we are told that tax-free, government operated business can be heard but taxable, private institutions cannot without penalty.

The next logical step is for Internal Revenue, or someone in Congress, to declare that editorial opinion in newspapers, magazines or over the air, with respect to impending legislation falls in the same category. — Editor and Publisher.

State Agencies Find Staying Within Budget is Difficult

There probably will be more activity and comment between now and January, 1963, on state spending than in any similar period in recent years. This is the result of the squeeze between the revenue the Legislature feels should be raised for state agencies for state operations and what state agencies think they should spend.

In the middle, and quite active this time, is the group of state senators, headed by Richard Marvel, Hastings, who comprised the budget committee of the 1961 Legislature.

Many state officials close to the scene say the basic question is that taxpayers, by and large, want more services but do not want to foot the bill for them.

The budget committee of the last session is functioning as a watchdog and information group — keeping tabs on spending and at the same time gathering material to aid the 1963 Legislature in setting up spending levels.

Some state agencies say they are having to delay, cut out or reduce services and lay off personnel to keep within their budgets for the 1961-63 period.

The budget committee summoned 14 departments and went over spending problems with them, after which it came to the conclusion that timing of expenditures, not lack of funds, was the reason so many asked to exceed quarterly spending allowances.

Should over-ceiling spending for each three-month period continue, this would mean an agency would run out of money before the biennium is over.

But the budget committee said most of the requests to exceed the legal three-month ceiling would not occur again.

Tourist Promotion

Private capital will be sought to help sell Nebraska to out-of-state residents, Gov. Frank Morrison says. The governor said he will seek the help of the Nebraska-Kalund Foundation.

Announcement by the chief executive followed an opinion by Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer who ruled that the state could spend only $25,000 directly on attracting tourists.

The idea for a foundation was advanced by his committee on state promotion, the governor said. It now appears, Morrison continued, that Nebraska needs a minimum of $75,000 to continue informing non-residents who write the state about its virtues as a vacationland.

New Laws

Nebraska has 337 new laws, most of them effective right now. Some, however, become operative in January. Some of the new legislation is interesting.

For instance, it now costs a dollar more to get married — $3 instead of $2 for a license. If you take your watch to a pawnbroker, he can sell it after four months, instead of six.

Reports on automobile accidents need not be filed now unless the damage is $100 or more. The old figure was $50.

Failure to surrender a party line for an emergency telephone call is a law violation.

A stiff fine now is imposed for using a credit card belonging to someone else without their consent.

Conviction on a charge of belonging to the Communist party or any other, advocating overthrow of the government by force can bring a jail sentence of from one to 20 years.

Buildings Okayed

Gov. Frank Morrison has put his stamp of approval on construction of a $600,000 gymnasium at Chadron State Teachers College and a $700,000 library at Kearney State Teachers College.

The State Normal Board which governs the two institutions and two others at Wayne and Peru, unanimously approved construction of the buildings.

Morrison noted the Chadron plans included $50,000 worth of improvements at the college's science building.

Busy Bees

Bees lived up to their reputation in Nebraska this year. They turned out 8.2 million pounds of honey, a record annual total, according to the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

The division says output is nearly double that for 1960. There were 7,000 more colonies of bees, with an average of 115 pounds production each for a total of 720,000 colonies. This is the highest per hive output since 1945.

The division said prolonged humid weather without heat waves during the summer, plus plentiful nectar in crops of yellow and white sweet clover, aided the cause.

Thinking OUT LOUD

home answered, "My father gives."

"I'm sorry, but I don't have my checkbook, but here's some cash."

"I gave where I used to work in town."

"But I give my old papers to the Salvation Army."

"I don't see anything there that will help me."

"A man made a vague reply, 'I think I gave at work.'"

Two householders failed to answer the door though they were home.

As I went from home to home, an increasing sense of shame swept over me for people in America who are so insensitive to human need.

I wonder what the answer is? Are we going to let those innocent victims of disease and disaster go without help? Must a few carry the burden? Or shall we turn over the problem to a Welfare State and be forced through taxation to pay what we are not willing to give voluntarily?

I wonder, do we in this bountiful land really deserve the blessing of a free America?

A Community Chest Solicitor

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: I see by the papers where them Englishmen is complaining piteously over this new "austerity" program their government has arranged for everybody, except the Royal family. I reckon "austerity" is a $10 word meaning the folks has got to tighten their belts.

England has been getting in a bad way ever since right after World War II when they started that Socialism business and put the railroads, electric power, health and all such things under Government control.

Ed's grandson was stationed over in the Air Force last year and he sent Ed a batch of their Government pamphlets. On account of me being an authority on Government pamphlets, Ed give 'em to me. I got 'em down off the shelf this morning and I discovered right off why things is so bad in England. It's hard to believe, Mister Editor, but people has to pay for them pearls of wisdom over there.

search on the physiology of the calf shows it can be reared on diets previously considered unsuitable."

And here's one that ought to be agin the law and might be the one that's causing a heap of their trouble. It's entitled "Women, Wife and Worker" and sells for 35 cent. It is put out by the Ministry of Industrial Research and starts out, "Married women's employment is often cited as the cause of separation, divorce and juvenile delinquency." How do you like that for 35 cent?

A note on the front of each pamphlet says they are printed by "Her Majesty's Stationery Office." It also says that in the United States can get 'em for the proper fees from the British Government Publications Office at Rockefeller Plaza in New York. No, country can prosper where they ain't got free pamphlets from the Government. I estimate that about half our prosperity is due to them free pamphlets we give 'em every day from the various agencies.

Prime Minister MacMillan, in discussing the situation, says four out of five people in England gambles, but he says it ain't hurting nothing. I can understand how four out of five over there gambles, but I can't understand why the fifth fellow don't join 'em. After all, in a country where folks is charged 55 cent for a Government pamphlet on "Calf Rearing," what has he got to lose?

Uncle Zek's

Yours truly, Uncle Zek's

First Presbyterian Church Oliver B. Proett, pastor I WAS SICK . . .

"In no other act does man approach so near the gods as when he is restoring the sick to the blessings of health." (Cicero) Jesus said: "I was sick . . . and ye visited me," as one of the conditions for man to enter the Kingdom.

We wonder how much men appreciate the opportunity to help a needy friend and how our community feels about this Christian attitude approach to the ill? Some of you may remember when in the city of Wayne, in an election, resolved to purchase the present hospital with its excellent facilities and make it a community hospital. It is an attempt on the part of the people of this city to be helpful to their stricken citizens.

There are nearly 7,000 hospitals listed by the American Hospital Association. They have a million and a half beds and admit nearly twenty-five million patients each year, or about one in eight of our population. A million and a half people are employed there and the expenditure exceeds seven billion dollars annually. This places hospitals as the fifth largest industry in the United States.

There are three kinds of hospitals: government, non-profit and proprietary. The first are owned and operated by federal, state or local governments. Their original cost and operating expenses are borne by a bond issue and by appropriation. Non-profit hospitals are usually church owned, although some are established by fraternal, social or voluntary organizations. There are about 8,500 such hospitals and they depend upon contributions by their members and are operated for the good of the community. Proprietary hospitals are generally built by physicians or corporations. Often doctors build hospitals for their convenience, and while they expect a return on their investment, seldom does a hospital make a profit.

Roughly two thirds of the expenditures of a hospital go toward salaries and wages. A hospital with two full time employees per patient, pays about $19 per day per patient for salaries or for care. If this seems high, consider the fact that this care is round-the-clock or about fifty cents per hour. This is the price usually paid a baby sitter yet in the case of hospital care, the service is rendered by a competent and trained nurse or aid.

In addition, the hospital assumes expense for food, drugs, supplies, laundry, utilities, maintenance and other charges. In the case of the privately-owned hospital, if the income is not commensurate with costs, the hospital has to close. In our case, a part of the cost is borne by the city and the patient does not feel the full brunt of the hospital burden.

Like everything else, the cost of hospitalization has gone up. Yet the average patient stays in the hospital fewer days than he did when rates were lower. In 1930, the average stay in the hospital was 21 days but in 1960 the average stay was six days. Thus, if costs were three times as high, and they haven't risen that much, the shorter stay in the hospital has reduced the hospitalization expense. And for it, we get better care besides.

We trust that the Wayne community appreciates how important a place its hospital holds in the needs of the people of this community and realizes what a bargain it gets when illness does come.

Why Soil Tests? Applying fertilizer without knowing exactly what your soil lacks is about as sensible as expecting a doctor to recommend treatment without ever seeing or talking with his patient.

A sample of soil taken in a certain way from a field is analyzed to see just what available plant foods the soil in the field contains. Recommendations can then be made, so that fertilizer dollars can be invested in the combination that assures the highest return for the money spent.

Such tests may not be necessary every year if fertilizer users are aware of how much plant food certain field crops use. But without adding plant food regularly the storehouse of plant food will soon go empty. The result: your field crops will starve, yields will drop and so will your profits.

Fall is the most convenient time to get soil samples. Information on taking samples and containers for mailing are available at all county Extension offices.

Drillers Permit Early Harvest Delaying corn harvest until corn is dry enough to crib may be costly. Conditions over much of Nebraska indicate more than the usual amount of down corn from wind and insect damage. Harvesting is going to be difficult and field losses are bound to be high. Knowing the amount of corn left in the field will help in deciding whether to hand glean or try to recover losses through turning livestock into the fields.

Corn harvest losses are determined by calculating both the shelled and ear corn loss. Shelled corn losses are figured by determining how many kernels per square foot indicates a loss of one bushel of shelled corn per acre. Several square feet should be checked at each of several places over the field to determine an average.

Ear corn losses with 40-inch rows can be estimated by counting the number of dropped ears between two rows in a distance of 185 feet. The ears should then be weighed. The total weight is equal to the ear corn loss in bushels per acre. This procedure should also be duplicated to obtain an average.

Quite often, one year's extreme harvest losses could pay for drying equipment which would allow early loss-free harvesting.

Soybean Harvest Pointers Soybeans can be binned with very little loss when combined when conditions are right, and the harvesting equipment is in good shape and properly adjusted.

Beans will still thresh well between 17 and 20 percent moisture and are damp enough to prevent shattering. Losses from pods before reaching the combine is almost directly in relation to moisture content.

Soy beans must be 12 to 13 percent moisture for safe storage. Harvest at higher moisture to prevent shattering requires drying to a safe moisture content for storage. Drying requirements are similar to corn.

Farmers who harvest soybeans should be very fussy about the way the machine is adjusted. Follow the operator's manual to the letter. Correct adjustments can save many, many dollars worth of beans.

For example, the cutter bar should be set as close to the ground as possible. The rate of speed is a major contributing cause to loss of beans due to cutting too high.

Although there will always be some beans lost through shattering, losses should be kept to a minimum. If you can count more than four beans per square foot on the ground behind the combine you are losing too many. Four beans per square foot would mean an average loss of a bushel of beans per acre.

Reel adjustment for both height and speed is very important and the cylinder adjustment determines the amount of cracking. Soybeans are easily cracked so a slow cylinder speed and a concave adjustment that allows threshing but holds down cracking is also important.

Although some cracking will not affect the market price, cracked beans are not good for seed.

When we out here in the middle-west read and hear of labor disputes, strikes and economic ills in the big industrial East, it seems that we read and listen with sort of an air of detachment. Sort of a shrug it off with the idea that it is a bad situation, not of our making or concern, and thank heaven that it is the other fellow's problem. Is it just his problem alone? Just wonder when we accept it as such if we are not sort of hiding our heads in the sand; sort of shielding ourselves from stark realities. To me a part, at least of this problem vitally affects us.

You know this particular area of our country has been termed, and full employment, and second by a higher standard of living and dietary directly attributable to these same conditions. So, as I said at the beginning, a fellow can't shrug off these economic ills not because they happen to be rather remote, geographically.

Of course I know a lot of folks don't see eye to eye with me on some of this. They may point out that in their opinion labor is going a little too far, but on the other hand I'm sure they will acknowledge that capital and management were a little too far in years past so long ago. I'm inclined to agree that some labor leaders are getting a little too big for their britches, but so did a lot of industrialists in years gone by. Time and the good sense of the American people has a peculiar way of righting some of these abuses when they become too flagrant.

Right now the thing for us to remember is that we are no different in our domestic affairs than we are in world affairs. Internationalism is out. What affects from an economic standpoint, one section or segment of our country and its people, brings a direct repercussion to us all.
