'Cats Meet League-Leading Peru After Loss to Wesleyan

Doane and Peru are on Wayne State's basketball agenda this week end, and that means action plenty for cage fans.

Saturday night's tussle with Peru looms as one of the season's top attractions in NCC campaigning. Peru, 5-0, hits atop the conference, followed by Wayne and Wesleyan, both 3-1.

To the Wildcats, the current league standings indicate only one thing: win all the rest to be sure of capturing the crown.

Since Peru entertains the same idea, the Saturday game — starting at 7:30 in the gym — adds up to a sports spectacular.

The Friday game could be a spectacle, too, despite the fact Doane is winless in four conference games and has won only two of 11 this season. But even while losing, Doane always puts up a scrap, and several Wayne-Doane games in recent years have run up scores in the 90's and 100's.

The Doane game, starting at 8:45, will follow a Huson-Ponca opener at 7 p.m.

Wayne lost its first conference game Saturday in a 67-65 nerve-racker at Nebraska Wesleyan. For most of the game Wayne appeared close to breaking the long Wesleyan domination at Lincoln. The Wildcats took a quick lead, 6-1, lost it briefly, then surged to a 40-81 half margin.

The rest apparently did Wesleyan more good than it did Wayne as the Plainsmen capitalized on a five-minute Wildcat scoring freeze. Wesleyan took a 41-40 lead, lost it quickly, and then both teams began a facehorse brand of ball that saw the lead change with nearly every score.

The hosts never compiled more than a three-point lead in the second half. With 7:50 left they moved ahead, 56-55, and Wayne thereafter managed only a tie, 65-65, with 1:50 on the clock. A Wesleyan free throw soon after gave Wayne possession, but the 'Cats failed on several shots and finally lost a rebound with 15 seconds left.

This situation called for drastic action — which Dave Goede accomplished on an intentional foul of Don Beckman. Had Goede been in position to steal the ball, he would have been alone under Wayne's basket with a chance for the go-ahead fielder.

Larry Coney's 28 points, high for both teams, kept him on top of the conference scoring race with 116 points. Peru's Bob Buetgenbach trails with 93 points.

Wildcats Clinch Two Mat Wins In Initial Matches

Victory number two went into the Wayne State wrestling books Tuesday as the Wildcat matmen defeated Midland, 18-13.

Close all the way, the meet went to the last match with team victory in doubt. Wayne led, 15-13, as the heavyweights squared off for the finale. A Midland decision would have earned three points for a team win.

Bill Whalen, Wayne's experienced heavyweight, came from behind in points to grab a position of advantage over Earl Brobst in the final period. Whalen doggedly held the advantage until time ran out and kept Wayne undefeated.

Other Wayne winners were Paul McGee and Toby Rutter by falls and Don Rodgers by decision. Jim McGrath battled his opponent to a draw.

Attendance of about 700 — including many townspeople — indicated the popularity of this new sport at Wayne.

The other home meet on the schedule is with Chadron at 2 p.m. Feb. 3.

Wayne State marked up a victory in its first intercollegiate wrestling meet Friday night. The Wildcats downed Westmar, 23 to 11.

Wayne won four matches by falls and Westmar one.

Marvin Grabau, Westmar, decided Paul McGee, 9-1, in the 123-pound class.

Jim McGrath, Wayne, decided Perry Schaeffer, 7-0, in the 130-pound class.

Ken Kutzer, 137 pounds, pinned Bob Stanton in 4 minutes and 35 seconds.

Toby Rutter, 147, Wayne, pinned Perry Erickson in 34 seconds.

Dean Kirk, 157, Wayne, pinned Bob Kolbe in 1:54.

Don Krause, 177, Westmar, decided Don Rodgers, 6-5.

District 1 Mrs. Gloria Lesberg, teacher We are happy to have six new kindergartners pupils in school. They are Janice Thomson, Marcia Leonard, Debra Meier, Ricky Koeth, Roger Gustafson and Merle Kaufman.

Marylee Grewe was a contestant in the annual spelling bee Saturday. The book, "Heidi," has just been completed for opening exercises. Doreen Thomson is the only one with perfect attendance for the first semester.

Susan Leonard and Mary Ann Kohrt received 100 in their semester spelling tests.

District 8 Mrs. Helen Barner After a few hours with colds and flu everyone is back in school. Those having perfect attendance the first semester, are Judy Bargholz, Jimmie Meyer and Connie Lutt. Mark and Michael Reiermann and Linda Meyer have missed half a day.

A jump bulb was brought for science study of plants. It has grown about two inches but might be the first tulip of the season to bloom. Several others have planted bean seeds.

The kindergarten now know their numbers up to nine and are starting to recognize words in reading! Jimmie Meyer has finished his arithmetic book for the year and is working in the fourth grade book. Snowmen were made to decorate our room for January.

Connie Lutt was the only one to feed Oscar with a peanut in arithmetic. We greatly appreciate the new wall maps that the school board purchased. The new record player which we purchased with program money gets much use.

We have been learning some new songs to play on the tonette.

District 15 Mrs. Helen Swanson, teacher Pupils with perfect attendance this semester were Sandra Dunklau, Ann, William, Michael and Shirley Baier, Karen Temme and Leonard Baier. Thirteen pupils had perfect attendance for the six weeks period.

Jimmy Kane left our school Jan. 5. He will attend school in District 72, Wayne Sifers left Jan. 7. He will attend school in Wayne. Jan. 5 we had a farewell party for them. Wayne Sifers treated the pupils and teacher for his birthday.

Winters in the spelling contest were Sandra Dunklau and Connie Ekberg. Sandra Ekberg is leading in our snowman arithmetic contest. First grader know their combinations to ten. They are progressing nicely in their reading and phonics. Sixth graders, Dennis Ekberg, Sherri Nelson, and Ann Baier have finished the unit on Peru, Bolivia and Chile in social studies.

All the children have been bringing news items for our new bulletin board. Beth Dunklau has been absent the past week with chicken pox. Entrants in the spelling contest from our school were Sandra Dunklau and Kathy Nelson.

Sandra Dunklau, Vicki Baier and Kathy Nelson had perfect spelling for the six weeks.

District 33 Florence Mau, teacher Our schoolroom is appropriately decorated for the month of January. We have used snowmen and snowflakes.

At our last club meeting new officers were elected. Sandra Meyer is president; Jeanne Meyer, vice president; De Ann Gewe, secretary and Stephen Stalling, treasurer.

No one has had perfect attendance this year. Nearly everyone has been absent recently on account of colds and the flu.

Those receiving an A plus in their six weeks spelling test are De Ann Gewe, Peggy Stalling and Cheryl Hensche.

Our kindergartners pupils started Monday, Jan. 15. They are Kim, Baker and Joni Stalling. Sandra and Dianne Meyer, two of our eighth graders were in the county spelling contest Saturday.

District 70 Anna Gamble, teacher We were very sorry not to have been able to give our Christmas program. We postponed it one week on account of sickness and the bad weather the next week caused another postponement.

The grades have been sent out for the first semester and they were all very good. Tommy Havener and Darlene Larsen took part in the spelling contest Saturday.

Susan Havener and Joyce Larson have nearly finished their social studies text and are making booklets for a review over what they have learned about good neighbors.

The fourth grade has finished the study of Nebraska and is now studying early explorations and settlements in the New World. The pupils are reading many library books and have made book reports in correlation with their language work.

Tomie Brandt in the third grade is working on the multiplication tables. He has learned through the four's.

Our teacher, Mrs. Gamble, spent her Christmas vacation visiting a son in Florida and brought back many pictures, information and stories about Florida to help us in our social studies.

District 75 Wilma Roberts, teacher Our attendance average for the first semester was high. Darrell and Vernon Macklin and LeAnn Owens had perfect attendance.

We finished reading "Tom Sawyer" out loud before Christmas and are now reading "Centerburg Tales." Each of us has had our best papers displayed on a "Something to Crow About" bulletin board. Snowmen, each dressed and decorated differently, adorn our windows this month.

Charles Menke and Joyce Dieckman, kindergartners, joined us Jan. 15. They join us in square dancing which is our main recreation since cold weather keeps us indoors much of the time.

District 77 Mrs. Elwyn Jones, teacher We have had good attendance this period by all pupils in spite of the cold weather. Everyone enjoys sleigh riding for their noon entertainment.

Nancy and Carol Jean Fleer represented our school in the spelling contest Saturday. Our readers have completed "Our New Friends" reading book. Robin Fleer is ahead in the reading contest. All science classes are on health units in the Macmillan series.

Bulletin boards this month are centered around pupils' daily papers and science experiments. A party is being planned for Valentine's day.

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Whither, O Worker?

Twenty years ago most of us were inclined to laugh at the Buck Rogers serials that attracted so many children for a full Saturday afternoon at the movies. Strangely enough, many of the things that seemed beyond the realm of possibility then are now accomplished fact.

Electric co. has four electricians to do a job for you when you call, they have to make money. If the rates of the four men go up, then your electrical repair bill will also go up. And then the man that's paying — that's you and me — has to ask for a raise.

Yes, the country is more prosperous than ever before. Yes, there is more money in circulation. But it's cheap money. It's certainly no advantage to have twice as much money today as you ever had before when it takes twice as much and even a little more to buy the things you need.

This same type of thing has wrecked great nation after great nation down through the centuries. And unless the brakes are applied somewhere — and soon — we'll be headed in the same direction.

Man has always had to work for what he wanted. This pattern was so ordained by the Almighty Himself. And even though some of the labor bosses today figure they are more powerful than He that made us, they're not. We had all of us best realize what we're doing to ourselves.

The quicker we all realize that we have to work for what we get — and work hard for it — the better off we're all going to be.

What most of us like is a good time, without too much visible expense.

In any kind of an argument, the best weapon is to hold your tongue.

Seems there's a man up in the big city who thinks that day is right close at hand. And it's going to be very interesting to see whether he wins this point. His name is Harry Van Arsdale, Jr. He is business manager for Local 13 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and also president of the New York City Central Labor Council.

He's dickerin' for a four-hour work day five days a week — a 20-hour work week in other words — for his electricians. The members of his craft now work a six-hour work day with an assured extra half hour of overtime each day for a total of $33 a day. This, incidentally, figures down to just a bit better than $4.71 an hour.

What's it all going to come to? It seems the labor union bosses are going to demand members work less and less time and still get the same amount of money. And where will the money come from?

It's very simple. If, for instance, the Bon Ton Elec-

Capitol News . . . New Department of State Institutions in Forefront

The new department of state institutions will be the focal point for considerable news in the coming weeks. This will result from the Legislature abolishing the Board of Control system for governing state institutions. In so doing, it wiped out a multitude of laws relating to operation of the institutions and general policies regarding them.

now will be that no member of his advisory board or employees of state institutions and the Public Welfare Department should contribute to or attempt to influence a voter in political campaigns. In another directive, Institutions Director George Morris said all institutions will purchase all the items they possibly can from Prison Industries.

ties and additional living space for 500. The program contemplates construction of a new school building, an additional hospital building and a series of new dormitories, in that order, Morris said.

Men's Reformatory
The Men's Reformatory, Lincoln, has a new superintendent who is no stranger to the administrative side of the institution. He is Clarence V. Keller, named to succeed Harold Smith. The 63-year-old Keller spent 20 years at the Reformatory in an administrative capacity, including superintendent of the sign and license plate factories and business manager. Smith was appointed superintendent in 1958. Insiders at the Capitol say Smith wanted to get into an activity that did not consume as much time as the Reformatory where he was on duty seven days per week.

Road Bids
Highway contractors have been asked by Gov. Frank Morrison to make a study of the way in which the Highway Department accepts bids for road work. The governor's requests followed complaint from two Omaha contractors on procedure. Gov. Morrison asked the Associated General Contractors and the Greater Omaha Heavy Contractors to make the study.

Budget Committee
A committee of state senators is hard at work to ease the burden of the next budget committee of the Legislature. The group engaged in the task is the Legislative Council's Interim Budget Committee. It is composed of members of the 1961 Legislature. Approved by the committee were budget forms similar to those employed in Kansas. But the group agreed to keep many of Nebraska's bookkeeping methods. Meanwhile, State Tax Commissioner Forrest Johnson suggested that each state department name a budget officer. Those named would meet with Johnson in a month. To be present also would be State Auditor Roy Johnson and Sen. Richard Marvel, Hastings, chairman of the interim committee.

Education Commissioner
The State Board of Education is not expected to make a final decision on the new Commissioner of Education until its Feb. 13 meeting. That's the report from Hamilton F. Mitten, Fremont, board chairman. In the meantime, the board named Stanley Hawley, deputy commissioner, as acting head of the Education Department. The commissioner's post became vacant when Dr. F. B. Decker accepted the job of coordinator of the four teachers colleges at Wayne, Chadron, Peru and Kearney.

Vehicle Insurance
The next Legislature will be asked by the State Normal Board which governs the teachers college to authorize purchase of insurance on state-owned vehicles. Reason for the request came up when the board declined Kearney State Teachers college permission to sell a 15-month-old school bus because officials cannot get a driver for it. The bus was purchased for $28,000. Dr. Milton Hassel, college president, said the driver would have to get his own insurance because under present law the state cannot buy the protection. As a result, Hassel said, the school has been unable to get anyone to operate the bus.

Absurd As Well As Unfair

Should You Grow Oats?
More farmers are recognizing that oats give a low return. A recent study shows the average cost of growing oats in NE Nebraska is $25 per acre. With an average yield of 35 bushels, this makes the cost 71 cents per bushel. And oats are a high risk crop, what with new diseases, insect pests and weather problems. Corn, soybeans and alfalfa are more profitable for growing oats is as a nurse crop to establish legumes.

If you do grow oats, don't overlook silage. Oats form a steeper return in the form of silage and you can eliminate expensive combining costs. USDA Centennial
This is the centennial year of the United States Department of Agriculture, a year that will be widely noted by agricultural and related industries.

Much writing about this or any other centennial should and will be focused on growth and progress and on achievements and service of the past. But, shouldn't we also contemplate the future — the challenges to agriculture in the next 100 years? For example, what is the challenge of our fast-increasing population?

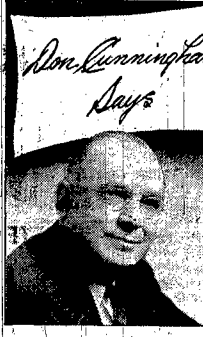

In his first report to President Lincoln in 1862, Commissioner of Agriculture Isaac Newton wrote: "It is hard to realize that some who shall read these lines will live to see one hundred millions of freemen dwelling in this dear land of ours."

Our population has already passed the 185 million mark, and continues to increase. U. S. population is a multiplied sixfold since 1862. What will the population be in 2062? What will be the demand for food? Will we be able to produce enough? Will our diets be better?

It is also interesting to speculate about the number of people that one farmer will be able to feed in 2062. Today he feeds 25 people in addition to himself. Will he still be feeding 25 in 2062, or will it be 260 or even 2,600? Research has paid off so well in the past in answering similar questions that we logically must look to it for answers to these and other questions of the future.

various crops as follows: —Grasses and Legumes, M. C. McCarty, associate professor of agronomy; —Sorghum and Soybeans, Orvin Burnside, assistant professor of agronomy; —Corn and Small Grains, John Furrer, Extension agronomist. The Monday morning program will open with registration at 8:30 a.m., followed by a film, "What's Behind the Tag," produced by the Canadian Seed Growers Association.

Dr. Donald Hanway, chairman of the University's Department of Agronomy, will welcome the group. Dr. Howard Otisson, chairman of the Department of Agricultural Economics, will present a policy survey of 1962. Questions and answers on corn hybrids will conclude the morning program. This portion of the program will be conducted by Norman Williams, instructor and plant breeder in agronomy, and LaMoine Brownlee, manager of the Foundation Seed Division.

Automobile drivers are a peculiar breed of cats; nobody else like 'em. You can take an average fellow who is pretty safe, sane, sound thinking and conservative — as long as you can keep him on foot — and put him behind the wheel of an automobile and presto, his personality changes.

Somehow or other it does some thing to a fellow. He becomes a little impatient. Nobody, especially the pedestrian, moves fast enough. The other fellow either clogs up traffic by driving too slow, or he is crazy because he drives too fast. The other fellow is always a road hog — wants his half of the road out of the middle. Everybody else is discontent because they won't dim their lights or won't yield the right-of-way in spite of persistent horn honking. In plain words, just won't never do nothin' that is right. Seemingly an automobile deprives us of a great deal of our sense of tolerance and justice and even gratitude.

Then, too, I believe the way we drive an automobile is somewhat of a barometer of our inner selves. I live in an apartment house and there are a lot of cars parked around it all the time. In snowy, icy weather such as we have been having lately a lot of cars are parked around that place. The drivers wheel up there and apparently all they are looking for is a space to park. If there is a space available they blithely wheel in, regardless of the fact that it might be sort of a tough place to get out of. Then, when it's time to leave, the fun begins.

The driver climbs in, starts the motor and suddenly realizes he is on an icy spot and probably headed up hill. He gives her the gun, the wheels spin, and nothing happens. He guns her again, this time a little harder and this time sparks fly and he burns up a little rubber. His foot gets heavier the next time and the motor roars louder, the wheels spin a little faster and the tires smoke a little more. Finally the car slews over against the curb and the job is done. Help must be forthcoming.

The driver shuts off the motor, gets out, slams the door extra hard, takes a look at the general situation and then rather vaguely scans the general surroundings as though looking for help to suddenly materialize. He doesn't call

Way Back When . . .

10 Years Ago

Jan. 24, 1952: Ralph M. Carhart, Wayne, was elected president of the State Normal board Saturday at a meeting held in Lincoln. A hurricane wind driving a fine snow and sleet lashed the Wayne area Monday and Tuesday causing considerable inconvenience to residents and correspondents' news letters from 12 communities failed to arrive because it interrupted mail service. Gust Carlson, Concord, has retired as janitor of Concordia Lutheran church. He has, with the help of his daughter, Helen, served in this position 26 years. Frank Woehler, Wayne, broke his leg Friday morning when he slipped and fell on the icy sidewalks in front of his home. A new organ was installed in Concordia Lutheran church, Concord last week. The dedication recital will be given soon by Prof. Albert Carlson and his family from WSPC.

Jan. 30, 1947: The Wayne Chamber of Commerce presented a check for $1,060.75 to the board of education Monday. This sum was cleared on the wrestling match sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and will be applied on the purchase of 200 new hard uniforms (total amount being about $3,000). Hermin Lullman, Winside, left Friday for Hartington to assume his new duties as depot agent there. Martin Wilcox bought the Ernest Spittler farm and Jack Ostrowski will move to the place this spring. The Spittlerwoods are moving to their ranch near Van Tassel, Wyo. Tom, Allard and Leonard Pritchard, Carroll, held a successful farm sale last Wednesday. Tom and Allan and their mother, Mrs. William Pritchard will move to Norfolk and Leonard remains on the farm. Cars belonging to Evan Jones and Harold Stibbenberg collided Friday evening north of Carroll. No one was injured but cars were badly damaged.

Jan. 29, 1942: Nebraska tire quota for February is lower than for January. Wayne county's share of this includes six passenger, motorcycle and light truck tires and five tubes for these, 11 tires and 20 tubes for trucks and buses. Ernest Peterson, Concord, who leads a group of dealers in 15 counties of northeast Nebraska and South Dakota in marketing DeKalb seed corn, presided at a banquet at Hotel Stratton Friday and presented awards to champion crown growers. Mrs. Eric Cook, Carroll, fell at her home Saturday evening and broke her right arm. Don Beckenhauer and Gunnar Swanson realized a top of $272 on a team of horses in a sale at Laurel Friday. A fire broke out around the chimney last Tuesday in the Merrill Reising home, Wakefield, destroying all their household goods. The house belonged to J. O. Peterson, Mrs. Reising is member of Farmers Union implement store.

25 Years Ago

Jan. 28, 1937: For the third time in less than a month, Wayne has scooped the snow away from her doors and permitted outside communication. Nearly all highways were cleared by Sunday and trains were running on schedule. Milton Griffith suffered a cut on his forehead, Gilbert Kraftman, Agatha and Alvin Roebel and Viola Behrens were bruised and a horse belonging to Kraftman was killed Tuesday evening when Griffith's stock truck and a team and sled with the four youths collided head-on, north of Wayne in a heavy snow cut. R. G. Furborth and Garfield Swanson have leased the new service station which Walter Savage recently completed on south Main street. New mail boxes and desks for distribution of rural mail were received by the Winside post office this week. The Riess estate, 14 acres four miles east of Winside was sold Wednesday to M. E. Way. Mrs. Willard Fletcher, Hoskins, fell on ice Friday at the railroad tracks breaking two bones in one of her legs. She was taken to Norfolk hospital on the evening train as all roads were blocked.

Jan. 28, 1932: A new diesel engine is being installed at the municipal light plant and will be ready to hum in about two weeks. The new school building at Dixon was dedicated Thursday evening. Three Wayne men, J. J. Ahern, Thos. A. V. Teed and Willis Iekler, who were former instructors at Dixon had part in the program. The Art Swearingin building, Hoskins, formerly used as a light plant has been remodeled and is open now as a meat market. A six mile horse-back ride across the snowy fields to meet the millman was the experience of G. M. Golder, who came to the Anton Granquist place Thursday to meet the mail carrier. He carried back to his neighbors a large sack of mail, the accumulation of two weeks, which was welcomed by the families who had been cut off from the world for so many days. The Jerry Newcomb orchestra which has been made a daily feature at radio station WJAG includes Braden Carhart, Clifford Myers and Paul Berg, Wayne.

politics instead of talking the Bible. Andy figured most of the complaints was because this fellow's politics was wrong and that he'd either have to change his politics or stick to the Good Book. The members was all agreed they wasn't no hope for him to change his politics and less chance of keeping him from talking about 'em. They voted to transfer him and let him teach the Kaul, Woman's Class at the country school in that class instead of show and he couldn't do no harm there.

The good Parson said the Sunday School was a steady livin' with country churches. Ever instant, he reported, they was one teacher at his church that always spent her class time running down the things he preached about the previous Sunday. He allowed as how this wasn't fair on account of the teacher having 45 minutes and the congregation wouldn't set still more'n 20 minutes for him to reply. He said that was one reason he liked to come by the country store about once a month. The fellers, he allowed, always give him plenty of time.
