Water Fun In the Nebraska Sun
by Mrs. Robert E. Shirck

For a day drenched in sunny splendor, with scenic views of wooded glens, grassy placid meadows, abruptly sheer cliffs, and magnificent panoramas of sky and water, the boating on the Lewis and Clark lake.

Begin with breakfast at Weigand's beach. Sizzling eggs and bacon, and the aroma of hot coffee, mingled with sounds of waves softly lapping on the shore, make an irresistible combination at daybreak. Anticipation of the day's trip becomes exuberant and exciting as the sun rises, silhouetting the classic lines of the dam to the east and bringing into bold relief the city of Yankton to the north.

A leisurely swing along the Nebraska side from Weigand's harbor down past the south shore landing finds you moving below cliffs that rise in high uncluttered strength. Swallows, blue-black and slim-bodied, whirl, skim and glide through the air to and from mud nests plastered on the cliffs. Below, clear waters provide fleeting glimpses of darting, swiftly moving fish.

The dam stretches nearly two miles, across the Missouri River, and the ride above it from the Nebraska shore to the Yankton boat basin is one of serene fascination. Many hours could be spent at the basin, where endless varieties of boats are serviced—from the smallest motor to elaborate cabin cruisers and sailboats.

Turning west past Gavins Point, the voyager is enveloped in a sense of high adventure. The vast expanse of water, blending with distant horizons, creates a ceaseless study in mood and color—from brittle brightness of summer sun to subtle grays of dusky twilight. Along the changing shoreline, low stretches of rolling meadows reach past the water's edge to form smooth beaches and sandy coves, at once enticing and peaceful. Occasionally, grazing deer are seen in these open spaces.

Opportunities for picnicking and swimming may be found on the sand islands farther upstream. From here the return swing of ferns interesting points for future exploration—the Santee area, where in the distance can be seen the high cross of an old Indian mission, and Devil's Nest, long ago hideout for bandits and desperados, are but two.

As the sinking sun splashes across the western sky, the twinkling lights of Weigand's beacon invitingly scents of camp fires fragrant in the air, the sudden hush of evening—and your day on the lake will be brought to a reluctant, but grateful and contented close!

Nebraska Trout Haven By Kent Hall

The well traveled road wound northward as the three fishermen turned off the heavily traveled U. S. 20. It snaked around and eventually up the rolling sand hills, gradually narrowing.

Finally after 30 miles it deteriorated down to little more than a twin row of tire tracks struggling for co-existence with the prairie grass on all sides. The trail suddenly ended in a moving mass of brown beef steaks on the hoof, crossing the unfenced roadway. Although impatient to be on the stream, the three had no choice but to wait for the roadblock to move on to greener pastures.

About this time you found yourself wondering where you were. Back in the wide open prairies of the wild west of years gone by? Or with a little imagination, could those choice Herefords become a herd of buffalo who wandered this same area a brief century ago? No, you were about to go trout fishing in western Knox county, Nebraska, in the year 1962.

Your station wagon driver, who of necessity is an old pro at finding his way in this unmarked country, turned right at the small abandoned village of Dorcy. It consisted of an empty store, post office, and weed growing filling station. The wagon drove over the hill and down into the until now hidden canyon connecting Steel Creek, or Apple Creek, as the ranchers prefer to call it. With considerable haste you got out and manage to strap your fly rods with shaking fingers. Shaking not from the cold, but from nervousness as the beautiful May sun has by now risen above the timbered horizon and the day has promise of near perfection. Why nervous? Well, as any trout fisherman knows, a bright, crisp morning on a strange stream can cause the steadiest, old pro angler a fit of delightful shakes.

Everything around you has passed into oblivion as you ride your bait over the ripples and down, down into the bottom of the first hip deep pool of clear rushing water. Your Brownie hits with a vicious tug and you have the first trout of your perfect day hefting a stack of lips on the bank before your two companions even wet their lips. This is impossible? Not at all in Knox county, Nebraska. Just 175 miles northwest of Omaha. And best of all, there are many more streams just as productive in this same general area.

Spencer Maintains Prep Jinx; Panthers Fall 65-59 Thursday

R. Kopecky Leads Pirates With 31 Point Outburst

For 16 glorious minutes Thursday afternoon, Wayne Prep's Panthers appeared to have broken their state basketball tournament jinx—that of always losing to the tourney champion.

Halfway through a first round game with favored Spencer, Prep held a 33-22 lead. Then the bubble burst. Sixteen minutes later Prep had suffered a 65-59 defeat at the hands of Coach Jerry Hueser's Pirates, the new state Class C champions.

Thus, in its final season of competition, Prep maintained its record of losing to the eventual champion in five state tournament appearances. The same thing happened in 1941, 1945, 1946 and 1951.

The Panthers did establish one record at the tourney. They scored more points than any other losing team in Class C history at Lincoln. Prep's 59 points eclipsed the mark of 52 set by Fullerton in 1961.

A scoring spree by Spencer's Ron Kopecky and loss of control of the bankboards were the big factors in the Panther defeat. Prep suffered a complete reversal of its play after an outstanding first half performance.

The Panthers riddled the vaunted Spencer press in the opening quarter and faced to a 17-9 advantage. Spencer reverted to a zone at the start of the second period, but Prep managed to increase its margin at 33-22 at intermission.

At this point it appeared Spencer was in serious trouble. Three of its regulars had drawn at least three personals and guard Bob Haun had sat out the final six minutes of the first half with four.

In the opening seconds of the third period, Jim Grein hit a lay-up to move Prep in front 35-22. Roger Fisher countered with a long one-hander for the Pirates. Corky Lutt then hit a 15-foot jump shot to make it 37-24. Spencer closed the gap to seven points in the next minute on two baskets by Ronnie Kopecky and another long shot by Fisher.

The game's turning point came with 5:49 remaining in the quarter. It was then that John Dorcey drew his fourth personal foul and was forced to leave the game. His substitute, Ken Headlee, promptly hit three straight baskets to keep Prep in the lead 44-37. Then the reef fell in.

Prep managed only one more basket in the quarter, a jumper by Lutt, as Spencer began to find the range. Ronnie Kopecky hit the tying basket with a 2-10 ramping and hit a layup with 55 seconds left gave the Pirates a 48-46 lead as the period ended.

Spencer increased its lead to 51-46 early in the final quarter but Prep pulled within a point, 50-51, on jump shots by Dorcey and Rich Maurer. The teams traded four points each to make it 54-55 with 3:53 left in the game. Leonard Kopecky's one-hander from the right side gave the Pirates a 59-54 lead shortly thereafter.

Prep made its final rally at this point. Maurer hit a jump shot from the key and Grein added a three-point play on a fast break with 2:25 left. His free throw knotted the count at 59-59.

With 2:10 remaining, Ronnie Kopecky hit a layup to give the Pirates a 61-59 lead. After Prep missed a shot, Spencer took the rebound and went into a stall. The Pirates called time out with 49 seconds left.

Ronnie Kopecky got an easy layup with 30 seconds left and brother Leonard added two clinching free throws at the nine-second mark to make the final tally 65-59.

Ron Kopecky was the game's least scorer, tallying 31 points just four short of the record set by Elkhorn's Linn Johnson in 1960. Maurer and Dorcey led Prep's balanced attack with 14 and 13, respectively. Grein added 11.

Rohrke Commended

Cadet Neal Rohrke, of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rohrke, Wayne, received special commendation for a perfect disciplinary record during February at Missouri Military Academy. He has also been promoted to corporal.

Team Names Coney As Most Valuable

Larry Coney has added one more laurel to his numerous basketball honors at Wayne State.

Teamates elected him most valuable player and also chose him honorary season co-captain with senior Ron Marcellus. Actually, both had been acting co-captains for the entire season.

Coney's selection as most valuable was obvious; judging by statistics. He broke three scoring records, one of them his own, and came close to passing another of his records.

His 512-point season beat his own record of 487, set as a sophomore. This was a 19.7 pace in 26 games, his best yearly average. He scored 41 points in one game against Kearney to pass the 39-point effort by Larry Berres two years ago.

The most prodigious record of all is his career total of 1,455 points, far above the previous mark of 1,095 by Carl Johnson. He averaged 36.3 a year despite scoring only 73 as a freshman.

The only record that the 6-6 center from Pilger did not break this year was his own season free throw total of 177, set two years ago. He hit 164 this season.

NE League Teams in Favor Of Return to One Division

Several teams in the Northeast Nebraska Baseball league favor a return to a one-division circuit. This fact was revealed this week in an informal survey of league members. In 1961 the loop operated with two divisions of six teams each.

In addition to returning to one division, members also appeared favorable to playing twice a week rather than once a week as in 1961. Greater interest in league games was the main reason given for the desirability of twice-a-week play.

Only two members of the 12-team league are unlikely to field teams in 1962, according to the survey. They are Anthon, Ia. and Pender. Other loop members are Onawa, Ia., Decatur, Lyons, Homer, Emerson, Laurel, Wayne, Winside and Wakefield.

Homer, defending league champion, has announced a successful campaign to raise $7,500 to install lights on its ball field and make other major improvements in the athletic plant.

State Temple, Emerson, is league president. Don Kroger, Lyons, is vice president. A meeting of officials, directors and other interested parties is tentatively planned late this month or early April. Definite plans will be announced soon.

Methodists Elect First "Family of the Year"

The Dr. J. M. Brown family is the "Family of the Year" elected by the members of First Methodist Church, Wayne, Sunday.

Selection was made by a vote of the church on the basis of leadership in the church and community, Christian living in the home, professional ethics, and participation in the welfare of world concerns.

The election was revealed to the congregation at a special family fellowship dinner at the church on Sunday. At that time recognition was given for the Brown family and a special picture was taken.

This is the first year a family has been designated "Family of the Year." Hereafter a selection will be made annually.

Air Strike —

Due to the heavy sea, or he should hit too hard (blown out tires are a common occurrence) and his tail hook bounces over the cable, the pilot must be prepared to continue his fight for another try at the deck. Consequently, as he touches he adds power to his throttle because he doesn't know if he is hooked or not.

Again, these landings take place seconds apart. Immediately after the planes are stopped, two deck crewmen run out and disengage the cable, the pilot taxis away and the next one comes in.

One of our group's most memorable experiences was when we climbed aboard a twin-engine propeller driven plane in groups of eight and were catapulted off the deck of the Hacock. After a short picture-taking flight over the ocean we landed and were later told that we caught the fifth cable—nearly necessitating another try at landing.

During normal combat activities, the carrier would have a destroyer escort to pick up pilots should some accident force a pilot to parachute into the sea. During our operations, however, helicopters hovered at the ship's side constantly to perform the rescue mission should it become necessary. The day after we left the ship in Pearl Harbor such an accident did occur when a pilot sheared off his wheels and parachuted into the ocean. He was in the water only three minutes, until the helicopter rescued him.

Feed Grain —

ed the same during the course of the program, and these are consumer items which are vitally affected by feed grains.

Chairman Mohr pointed also to another tremendous advantage of taking part in the '62 program. He quoted Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, who in his recent "kickoff" remarks at Omaha stated:

"Many who participated in last year's program did so in no small measure out of a desire to make a contribution toward healthier agriculture. It is equally, if not more important," he said, "that we have the same public-spirited response to the 1962 program. . . I expect support because the program is active and because feed grain farmers want a feed grain program, but also because they are good citizens cooperating to solve a problem.

The Wayne county official urged farmers to come into the ASCS county office where all details of the program may be obtained.

Reports coming in from Wayne county indicate that feed grain farmers are sharpening their pencils and doing some figuring for themselves. And they are deciding that the 1962 feed grain program is advantageous for them and their operation.

John Mohr said that those who participated in the program last year were satisfied with the results. Those who did not participate are discussing the program with their neighbors and then deciding to take part.

The program for 1962, although generally along the lines of the '61 program, has been refined, and bigger and better results are being predicted than were obtained last year.

Mohr emphasized that continued wide participation will mean more income for farmers, lower costs to government and the taxpayers and less surplus grain in storage.

Feature Reorganization, Trimester Wednesday At Schoolmen's Meet

The Northeast Nebraska Schoolmen's Association will provide attending school officials with numerous topics of interest.

The annual conference will begin at 1:30 p.m. in Conn Library on the WSTC campus.

George Stone, Neligh superintendent and chairman of the association, said the program will include talks on school district reorganization and current legislation affecting schools, progress of the trimester schedule at Wayne State, functional libraries for schools, and high school diplomas.

The speakers will be Hubert A. Wolfe, director of district reorganization for the State Department of Education; Dr. Karl W. Meyer, Wayne's dean of instruction; Yale Kessler, Wayne State librarian, and Samuel Metcalf, Valentine superintendent.

The visiting schoolmen will join the college Faculty Club for an evening banquet. Election of the association chairman is scheduled after dinner.

Sharyl Ann Longe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Longe, Wayne and Lloyd Leo Luedtke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Luedtke, Wisner were married last Monday evening (Mar. 5) at Redeemer Lutheran church.
Rev. S. K. de Freese officiated at the gaudy light double ring ceremony. George Konopik sang "O Perfect Love" and "Wedding Prayer" accompanied at the organ by Ted Bahe. Candles decorated the pews and gladiolus were on the altar.
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of Chantilly lace. The basque bodice featured long sleeves. Tiny ruffles adorned the floor length skirt which had an apron effect overskirt of lace tucked at each side with pearl de sois roses.
The bride chose a blossom veil with puff of illusion and carried a cascade of white lilies with pink and blue streamers.
Mrs. Glen Holland, Wisner, sister of the bridegroom, served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Gayle Fuoss, Mrs. Bob Feller, Wisner, and Mrs. Elgin Toelle, Beemer. They wore ballerina length gowns of pink and blue in sheer nylon fashioned with a draped neckline, cap sleeves and ruses fastened to cummerbands. The full skirts had deep hems, trimmed with self-material. They carried colonial bouquets of blue, white and pink daisies with white carnation centers.
Dennis Longe, Wisner and Russell Steve, Wisner were groomsmen. Ushers were Norman Lubberstedt, Dixon and Gene Holland, Wisner.
Candlelighters were Laura Lueders, Wakefield, and Sandra Holland, Wisner. Mike Test, Norfolk, served as ringbearer and Lorie Anderson, Wisner, as flower girl.
The bridegroom attended Wisner high school and is employed at Farmers Union Coop Station.
After a brief wedding trip the couple will reside in Wisner.

SAUCY IDEAS
Two ways to dress up Lenten fish or sea food meals! Try both: Mild sauce is made from 1 cup catsup, 1 pint sour cream, 1 tsp. dried parsley, 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, 2 tsp. pickle relish and 1 chopped hard-boiled egg. Blend well, chill in your gas refrigerator. Sharp sauce combines 2 cups catsup, 1/2 cup vinegar, 2 drops Tabasco sauce, 1 tsp. Worcestershire, 1/2 cup prepared horseradish. Either sauce takes well to other seasonings. Do experiment!

WAKER-UPPER
Mrs. W. E. Fisher of Lincoln, Nebr., has a new twist for a girl's party. Surprise the guests! Alert mothers a few days ahead; daughter's invited to a "come as you are" breakfast party. Pick up guests right out of bed, starting at 7 a.m. on a peaceful Saturday. Prizes go to the curlier-clad pair who looks most comical!

DON'T DRY UP
Quick quiz: Does your skin seem dry, your nose and throat ticklish? Have your house plants lost last summer's richness? Your home could use a dose of "year-around springtime"! A gas heating system keeps proper humidity, controls temperatures, filters and circulates air. You'll feel better year around (especially through air-cooled summers). Phone your local gas company, Peoples Natural Gas, or gas heating contractor this month. Make springtime "permanent" in your house!

CAKE MAKE-UP
Well, I never! Such feminine ingenuity. Mrs. Ed Schirmer, of Sanborn, Iowa, keeps a large, fluffy new powder puff in her flour canister. Soon as cake pans have been well-greased, she puffs the flour into them. Let's share another before we leave the kitchen. One mom was frazzled by trying to keep cereal boxes from scissors-wielding youngsters. Now she collects "economy size" glass jars from instant coffee, mayonnaise and pickles, and fills the jars with dry cereal. The kids get boxes first-thing—and mom knows when the cereal jar needs replenishing.

BATHROOM BOOSTER
Lady-next-door keeps a big plastic-covered TV pillow in her bathroom, stands on it bare-footed while sudsing her face and rolling her hair. She says it's a real soother for toes and leg muscles. (I'll move one in from the porch right now!)

WON'T TRADE
Mrs. Clyde Boydston of Weeping Water, Nebr., has a 1959 gas clothes dryer she "wouldn't trade for anything!" But the '62 models are even nicer. Natural gas and gas appliances just naturally get better and better. Gas progress has opened a new world of happier homemaking, just for you! Drop in soon, to see new 1962 gas helpers at your local gas company, Peoples Natural Gas. Northern Natural Gas Company pipes fuel to them, so they can pipe modern miracles to you!

Marlene Echtenkamp Weds H. Nelson In Saturday Rites at Immanuel Church

Marlene Echtenkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Echtenkamp, Wakefield, and Marlene Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Nelson, Oakland, were married Saturday evening at Immanuel Lutheran church near Wakefield.

Rev. A. W. Gade officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony. Mrs. Marvin Nelson accompanied Youngie Krallman who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer". Decorating the altar were carnations and baskets of white carnations. White satin bows accented the pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of parchment tulle and a charming lace. The slim basque bodice was overlaid with lace and featured a portrait scoop neckline framed in appliques of lace embellished with seed pearls and sequins with long tapered sleeves.

The voluminous belted floor-length skirt featured an overlay of lace at the hipline and down the front, extending to the back into a full chapel train. Her two tier fingertip veil of supported silk tulle shone from a handmade crown of seed pearls and iris crystals. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Gary Nelson, Carroll, and bridesmaid was Mrs. Delwin Swanson, Oakland, both sisters of the bride. They wore identical bouffant hairdos and long trains of nylon orlana over tulle in two shades of white, also featuring draped necklines which extended to the waist at the hip, caught at the waist with a fabric rose.

They wore matching headpieces of silk hairband and pearls and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Daniel Nelson, Oakland, served as best man, and Dennis Schlichting, Oakland, was groomsmen. Delwin Swanson, Oakland, and Wayne Nelson, Oakland, served as ushers and candlelighters. Ringbearers were Mark Nelson, Oakland, and Jeffrey Going, Lyons.

The bride's mother wore a blue lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception for 350 guests was held in the church parlors with Mrs. Laverne Wischhof and Mrs. Dwayne Jacobsen as hostesses. Laverne and Dwayne, Sioux City, had charge of the guest book and arranging gifts were Mrs. Keith Seebus, Judy Pfeister, Betty Peters, Mrs. Robert Grafton, all of Sioux City, and Alan Wischhof, Mrs. Wayne Nelson, Oakland, and the four-tier wedding cake and Mrs. Doyle Brown, Blair, and Mrs. Gilbert Krallman served and Mrs. Fred Lehman, Wakefield, poured.

Serving the bride's table were Betty Lockwood and Carolyn Mann, Sioux City. Waitresses were Mrs. Merle Roeder, Dan Wischhof and Nancy Meyer. The Mesdames Reuben Meyer, Arnold Roeder, Norman Meyer, Alvin Roeder, Marvin Echtenkamp and Mike Meyer assisted with serving.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a black wool sheath with matching accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Wakefield high school, attending NBT in Sioux City and has been employed in Sioux City and South Sioux City.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Oakland high school, is a member of the Iowa National guard

Seattle Pair Wed In February Rites

Nahla Gunette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Gunette and J. I. Edmondson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Edmondson, were married Feb. 16 in Seattle. The bride is a graduate of Green Lake High School in this area.

Rev. Wayne Krueger officiated at the candlelight ceremony. The bride and groom were accompanied by Mrs. Kay Edmondson, Jeanne Spitzer, their best man, Raymond Calkins, the bride's decorated with yellow and red and pompoms.

The bride chose a white gown of length tulle and a charming lace. The slim basque bodice was overlaid with lace and featured a portrait scoop neckline framed in appliques of lace embellished with seed pearls and sequins with long tapered sleeves.

The voluminous belted floor-length skirt featured an overlay of lace at the hipline and down the front, extending to the back into a full chapel train. 87th Year — No. 46

Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, March 15, 1962

Section 2—Pages 1 to 4

Rural School News

Dist. 51 U
Leland Beckner, teacher
 Eighth grade science class is studying conservation. Seventh and sixth grades are learning how our heart works. The fifth grade class is working on a twelve foot mural which shows the solar system in relation to our sun. We hope it will go to the fair.
 We enjoyed our Valentine party. Instead of exchanging valentines we had a white elephant exchange.

...a lot of fun. We have been treated by Phyllis May, Dennis Morris, Claudia Niemann and Monte Niemann on their birthdays.
 Mrs. Gladys Porter and Alvin Temme were recent visitors in our room.
 Due to the flu we had many absents this period. Dean Jensen, Dennis Morris, Ronald Temme, and Carol Willers were the only ones with perfect attendance this period.

District 88
Karen POUND, teacher
 We observed George Washington's birthday in many ways. Silhouettes of George and Martha were made in art. Original skits were written and presented. Poems and themes were written depicting events in his life.

 We are getting in the mood for St. Patrick's Day by learning Irish tunes in music. One of the songs has a few dance steps! Pipe cleaners shamrock men adorn our piano. Duane Backstrom and Joe Roberts drew a shamrock scene for our bulletin board. In arithmetic we are having a shamrock contest.
 The conservation posters have been finished. Diane Backstrom and Duane Backstrom will represent our school in the contest.

 Health books were on our desks Monday when we came to school. Our unit is on posture. We have a bulletin board showing a scarecrow saying, "Don't be a scarecrow... Stand up Straight."
 Perry Backstrom and John Roberts are making trains. They have learned the names of all the different kinds of cars.

District 61
Mrs. Henderson, teacher
 February has been a busy month for our district. We have been decorating our room and planning a Valentine party. Our party was held Feb. 14. Each child brought a 25c gift wrapped in a paper bag and then we played grab-bag. Valentines were passed out and a lunch of cup cakes, cookies and lemonade was served.
 Dog Creek club has elected new officers for the remainder of the year. They are as follows: Pat Young, president; Dennis Beckman, vice president and Carol Otte, secretary-treasurer.
 We are having our second skating party Friday. Everyone is welcome to come. It is to help celebrate the birthdays of Pat Young, Doug May, Dennis Beckman and Melvin Otte. Also in March our upper grades will tour places in Sioux City, Ia.
 We've been practicing our songs for music festival. We know all of the verses of all of the songs.

Rethwisch, Mrs. John Gathje and Mrs. Warren Damite.
District 84
L. B. Collins, teacher
 Since our last news letter, many things have taken place in our school, Sunny Slope.
 Jan. 8 the ladies of the district had a birthday party for the teacher and served cake, ice cream and coffee.
 We have a new set of World Book Encyclopedias. Now we can find solutions to our many questions, especially on up-to-date science and scientific explorations of the present day.
 The fifth graders are very busy. They made a large map of the U. S., putting in the following: capitals, largest cities, rivers, lakes and products of each state. Now they are studying transportation and communications, both of which will be put on the map.
 Seventh and eighth graders are working on machines, forces and energy. Our new encyclopedias are a great help in solving our problems.
 Feb. 14 we had a Valentine party. The patrons of the district came for the afternoon. We had demonstrations of class activities of each grade. At the close of this, the mothers served a delicious lunch. A beautiful Valentine box held the valentines, which the children gave in exchange. The teacher received many gifts.
 Our school has changed its name to "Busy Beavers." We have a picture of two beavers at a pond cutting down trees and building a dam. This picture was painted by the teacher.
 Our bulletin board is getting full of interesting clippings of the latest experiences on space and scientific explorations.
 Our world map study is being completed. This work is taken from the new encyclopedias as supplementary work to our social studies.

District 18, Carroll
Dorothy L. Forbes, teacher
 We celebrated Valentine's Day by a party held at Dist. 70. Games were played. Trixie Jones, Dist. 70, was voted the Valentine queen. The Valentine king was Roger Nelsen, Dist. 18. A lunch was served by Dist. 18.
 As the results of moving day, Robert Harrison, fourth grade, moved into Dist. 71; Sandra Hansen, sixth grade and Janet Hansen, second grade, entered our school from Wayne Hahn. We now have an enrollment of six boys and five girls.
 Our Citizen's club elected officers Friday. New president is Sandra Hansen; vice-president, James Hank; secretary, Sheila Nelsen; news reporter, Roger Nelsen.
 The kindergarten are in their third number book. They have been writing their numbers 1 to 30. They are in a pre-primer reading readiness and they are doing well at reading words.
 Third grade made a chart on "Ways of Travel." In science, we had a miniature volcano. In reading they are reading "Uncle Funny Bunny" stories.
 Fourth grade have been studying the wheat country of Nebraska and Australia. In arithmetic they have been multiplying and dividing by 7.
 Seventh grade is studying the Scandinavian countries. They are now working with perimeters and areas in arithmetic.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

The Greatest Hoax

Speaking on the floor of the house, Representative Herlong (Fla.) recently made an extremely important point that seems to be generally overlooked or misunderstood in discussions of government spending: "Only by controlling its spending can the government achieve the results which so often, but inaccurately, are said to come from increased spending. The greatest hoax of our time is the notion that greater spending in the so-called public sector is a means for increasing economic growth. The government lives off the public economy and not vice versa."

The government does not and cannot create genuine wealth and growth. Growth depends upon the availability of capital—from the savings of individuals and from the profits of industry. The more that government takes out of the economy in taxes, the less there is left to build, renew and revitalize that economy.

It's that simple, in spite of all the eloquence of learned words, that, more often than not, serve to obscure, not clarify, the matter.

Capitol News . . . Number of Weekend Visitors To Capitol Pleases Officials

State officials are pleased with the turnout of weekend visitors to the capitol. Robert Newell, superintendent of buildings and grounds, says on 27 weekends in 1961, 32,514 persons toured the state's famous building. During all the week days of 1960 only 29,166 persons toured the capitol, Newell said.

He added that the number of visitors on the weekends in 1961 justifies keeping the building open all day Saturday and Sunday, the year round.

However, Newell hastened to comment that budgetary problems would be a factor in year-round operation.

As a sample, Newell picked a weekend when the weather was bad. He counted 240 visitors on a Saturday and 257 on Sunday, from Nebraska, Kansas, Florida, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Colorado.

"That proves tourists come here the year round," Newell said, "not just in the summer."

The capitol is open from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

Many people visit the structure on weekdays but Newell said these are not counted whereas on weekends his staff keeps a tally of the sightseers.

In another area, the superintendent reported his work crew is busy daily cleaning Nebraska's most famous building. The latest to get the soap and water treatment is the east lounge hearing room, used for meetings especially during the legislative session.

Vehicle Values

It has been determined by the State Board of Equalization that 1963 automobiles will be valued for tax purposes at 39 percent of the factory delivered price.

For 1962 models, the value will be 29 percent of the factory delivered price, and 1956-61 models, 26 percent of the average retail price.

The board said for 1952-55 model vehicles a figure will be set by the tax commissioner.

On 1951 models and earlier the minimum taxable value will be $25.

Trucks of 1963 vintage will be taxed at 42 percent of their value, semi-trailers at 35 percent, miscellaneous vehicles such as motorcycles 39 percent and cabin trailers at 35 percent of the average retail price.

Welfare Commitment

Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer has ruled that the State Welfare department must accept any child committed to it by a juvenile court in Nebraska whether there is adequate room for the youngster or not.

In the past, several counties and some private groups have been caring for children commit-

Interstate Traffic

There is plenty of traffic on Nebraska's Interstate highway between Lincoln and Omaha. The state highway department reports that an average of 6,025 vehicles a day passed a check-point on the Interstate at the Douglas-Sarpy county line during 1961.

That is an increase of 15 per cent over the January, 1961, total of 4,800 vehicles, the department said, and compares with 5,165 vehicles in January, 1962.

In a report the department said only two check points showed an increase in traffic in January over December—on U.S. 77 and 275 north of Fremont where the boost was six per cent and on Nebraska 9 north of West Point where the hike was 26 per cent.

Weekly Bridge Tip

turn was taken with the ace in East's hand. The queen of spades, the South hand winning with the trump ace. A heart was next trumped in North. On the king of clubs a diamond was discarded from South. A club was trumped in South; a heart was ruffed by declarer in North; another club was trumped with South's last spade, and South's last heart was ruffed with North's last spade. The ace and king of diamonds were now played, and declarer had his required total of ten tricks. Each player had one card to play at this point. West held the queen of diamonds and East held the good ten of spades. North and South each held a diamond lower than the queen. The losing diamond trick, then, and the second trump loser, were lost simultaneously. It was in this way that declarer made one of his apparent losers disappear.

You might say an optimist in bridge counts his winners; and a pessimist counts his losers. Declarer today was an optimist. After he had played to the first trick he counted his potential winners, and discovered that if opponents' cards were favorably distributed, the bid could be made. Declarer could count six winners in spades and two winners in each of diamonds and clubs. Consequently, he adopted the line of play described above.

Quite a high percentage of bridge players would be set two tricks on a bid of four spades. The key play is not to win the opening spade lead with the ace. If you fall into the error of winning the first trick, East is certain to get in with his ace of hearts. He then plays the jack and ten of trump and holds you to four spade tricks, two diamonds tricks, and two club tricks, for down two.

Today's hand demonstrates: (1) A hand requiring a trump bid, hold up play. (2) A hand on which opponent's last (high) trump must be left at large. (3) The trick taking power of the cross-ruff.

One glance at today's hand reveals the fact that North-South have four losers. There are two certain losers in trump. One loser in diamonds and one loser in hearts also appear inevitable. Declarer (North) made one of the losers disappear. Can you do it? Assume the best possible defense against the declarer.

South opened the bidding with a call of one heart, planning to bid diamonds next if partner responded with a club bid. When North answered in spades, South jumped to three spades and North carried on to four spades. North does not have a very robust spade holding, but after partner opened with a heart bid he considered the spade response the best bid available.

East made the best opening lead when he led the queen of spades. South properly played a low spade and West was forced to win with his lone king. West could do no better than to return a club, which was won in the South hand. South's heart re-

Thinking OUT LOUD

WHAT DO YOU MEAN?
E. J. Bernthal, Pastor
Grace Lutheran Church

Communication is always a problem. Making ourselves rightly understood and understanding what others mean is a lifelong contest.

"Didn't you hear me? I told you."
"You did? When?"
"Only yesterday."
"But I thought you meant . . ."
So it goes.

It seems the problem becomes worse as we grow older. Most of us had little difficulty understanding our parents when we were small. Our playmates spoke our language, and so there was seldom misunderstanding.

But as we grow older we discovered that people are very complex beings. Even though we used the right words in their usual sense we didn't always "get through" to them with our intended meaning.

And if we got to college, the difficulty became even more compounded. Then it became a matter of semantics. The problem was exactly the same, but it received a new name.

Now, to be sure, language changes. New words are constantly being coined, and existing words may be used in new situations and to label new concepts.

But sometimes one suspects there are those who take advantage of this in order to change concepts or to begot some issue of truth. Perchance even to deceive.

Recently we read that in the forthcoming Congressional elections and in the 1964 Presidential race the matter of labels will loom large.

Have you ever noticed what has happened to some very understandable, standard, time-worn words such as "democracy," "justice," "conservatism," "freedom," "extremism"?

Sometimes it looks for all the world as if some knaves had sneaked into our present day political "show windows" and switched some of the labels around. Familiar words and phrases are frequently used in quite the opposite sense from what they have usually meant.

Today, when speaking of a democracy or a republic, a progressive and a conservative, right-wing and left-wing, an extremist or a reactionary, you'd better make sure what you mean.

It's no different in religion.

Time was when such familiar Bible terms as "kingdom of God," "justified," "saint," "inspiration," "believer," "resurrection," and "heaven" had virtually one accepted meaning.

This is no longer the case. Today you might be surprised if you asked a friend—or maybe even a minister—what he understands with expressions such as

Extension Notes

Can You Find It?
In many households this month it would be safe to say there has been a search for receipts and records in order to fill out that income tax return. Some know just where to lay their hands on these records; others just frantically hunt.

This year we are being warned that the Revenue Service is equipped to review more of the returns completely so it is up to all of us to have substantiating evidence for all we claim. Perhaps it is too late to do anything about finding all of the records of 1961, but we are only well started in 1962. How about planning a business center in your home to make it easier?

For several years a popular demonstration lesson for home extension clubs in Nebraska has been "Create Your Own Business Center" compiled by Clara Leopold, Nebraska Extension Specialist in home management. We have information at the Extension office which could prove helpful in setting up a business center in your home.

It is possible to secure fairly inexpensive one or two drawer file cases where records can be kept indexed and in one place. It is late but not too late to start keeping household and farm accounts and checking when income tax time rolls around next year. Such books are available in the County Extension office.

Plow Sweet Clover Early
Sweet clover ground should be plowed early in preparation for corn.

Cutting off the crowns of clover plants by plowing when the top growth is only two to four inches high will conserve both moisture and nitrogen needed by corn.

If clover is allowed to grow to a height of 12-15 inches before plowing, it will use a lot of moisture, leaving the soil too dry for good corn.

Sweet clover planted a year ago already has soil-improving elements stored in its roots. Thus, top growth in the spring is not necessary for soil fertility.

It takes more than twice as much nitrogen to produce a ton of sweet clover dry matter as it does to produce a ton of corn crop dry matter. Every ton of sweet clover top growth produced this spring may mean two tons less of corn or sorghum this fall.

Crop Variety Recommendations
A summary of Nebraska crop variety recommendations for 1962 has just been published by the University of Nebraska Agriculture Extension Service.

Copies of the new circular entitled: "Crop Varieties for Nebraska—1962," C. C. 178, may be obtained at County Extension offices throughout Nebraska.

The circular includes recommended varieties of small grains, sorghums, soybeans, legumes and grasses for the various cropping districts. Varieties of corn are recommended for the various corn maturity zones.

There is also a brief summary on the characteristics of new varieties of wheat, barley, oats, grain sorghum, safflower, soybeans, corn, alfalfa, sweet clover, rye and grass.

Nebraska crop variety recommendations are reviewed and brought up-to-date each year by researchers at the five Nebraska

"A Complete Silage Feed" was introduced to the dairy industry for the first time at the Nebraska State Dairymen's Association annual meeting last week.

Dr. Foster Owen, associate professor of dairy husbandry at the University of Nebraska, presented results of the new feed which can supply all the protein and energy needed by a dairy cow. Only supplementary minerals are needed to meet all nutrient requirements.

Other speakers on the program held at the University of Nebraska Center for Continuing Education, were Dr. George Davis, University of Florida, Gainesville, Fla., who spoke on "Radiation, Fallout, Feeds and Foods." The cost of Producing Milk in Northeastern Nebraska was outlined by Don Kubik, University Area Extension Agent at Wayne.

Letters to The Editor

March 10, 1962

The Wayne Herald,
Dear Editor:

With the ever increasing number of articles sold in our stores which are made in Japan, I am prompted to make a plea to "Buy American."

The Russians and Japanese signed a trade pact in the Tokyo foreign office on February 23. Already material for Soviet "hardware" is moving steadily toward the U.S.S.R. from Japan. A few weeks ago the booming Hiroshima shipyard of the Mitsubishi Shipbuilding company completed a 25,000 ton tanker, and sent it to carry oil in the Russian lethal competition with us.

Are we going to wipe out our own American business and jobs to play it fair with the Japanese? We should think twice before buying a "bargain" product made in Japan.

in TEXTURE

in SOFTNESS

in FLAVOR

NEW BAKING PROCESS GIVES BREAD THAT WONDERFUL CAKE TEXTURE

The Wonder Bakers have it!... a bread so tender, so creamy-smooth in texture that it has no holes—looks like cake! And it tastes just great!

The secret's in the way it's made. By a special process, Wonder's ingredients are whirled and spun and blended into silky smoothness... the way a master baker makes cake. The result: a bread with smooth texture—no holes! And that means no jelly, jam and catsup drips on tablecloths or children's clothes.

Get a loaf of New Wonder "Soft Whirled" Bread. Your first taste will tell you it's the best bread you've ever eaten! Wonder "Soft Whirled" Bread... with vitamins, minerals and proteins helps build strong bodies twelve ways.
