Commencement Set Today For 164 in the Willow Bowl

One hundred sixty-four students are candidates for graduation this morning in Wayne State's first April commencement.

The ceremony will begin at 8:45 a.m. in the Willow Bowl (or Rice auditorium if weather forces the event indoors). The public is invited to attend, and all seats in the bowl are available except those reserved for graduates and faculty.

The traditional ringing of the Victory Bell will herald the beginning of the processional as graduating candidates and faculty march into the bowl to music by the college band.

The speaker will be Dr. John R. Eipens, president of Ball State College, Muncie, Ind., since 1945. An educator for 32 years, Dr. Eipens has moved from his first teaching position in a rural school to the presidency of a large teachers college.

He has served in many educational roles, including presidency of the North Central Association and the NEA Association for Higher Education. He is president-elect of the Association of State Colleges and Universities and is chairman of the North Central Association leadership training project.

Dr. Eipens has chosen the topic, "The Challenge of Inner Space."

President W. A. Brandenburg will present diplomas to the graduates after their introduction by Dean of Instruction Karl W. Meyer.

The April commencement puts Wayne State among a select group of American colleges and universities that operate on the trimester schedule and thus have completed a normal year's studies about six weeks earlier than schools on the 18-week semester system.

Another commencement will conclude the third term, beginning next Monday and ending August 4.

Among the graduates is Fredricka Pile, Wayne, granddaughter of Dr. James M. Pile, founder of the Nebraska Normal College, the private school which the state bought in 1909.

A special feature of commencement will be presentation of two Distinguished Service Awards to alumni for meritorious service to education. The recipients: Fred Dale, professor emeritus who retired a year ago after 40 years on the Wayne faculty, and Mrs. Anne Campbell, prominent Nebraska educator who currently is president of the Nebraska State Education Association.

College Joe Title To O'Neill Senior

Ivan Kaiser, O'Neill, is Wayne State's "College Joe of 1962."

In an all-school election, students bestowed this title, the highest accorded annually to a senior man. The result was announced Friday by the Wayne State college newspaper, which sponsors the honor.

Kaiser won over four other finalists: John Bernthal, Wayne; Ron Marcellus, Bassett; Dwayne Straszheim, Norfolk, and Dean Strenger, Cedar Bluffs. In an earlier election students chose them from all the senior men.

Kaiser will graduate Thursday with honors in his major field, chemistry. He is a physics minor. Besides scholastic achievement, he also is president of the national honorary science fraternity, Lambda Delta Lambda, and a member of Phi Kappa Phi in American Colleges and Universities. He has been a Student Council member, vice-president and a student counselor of his dormitory, historian of the national honorary mathematics fraternity, Kappa Mu Epsilon, and he is senior class treasurer.

The title of "College Joe" is based mainly on campus citizenship.

Wayne Players Set "Born Yesterday"

The Wayne Player's production of "Born Yesterday" will be presented May 1 and 2 at the city auditorium.

Included in the cast are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vorce, Don Merriman, Henry Ley, Burt Smith, Mrs. Max Lundstrom, Larry Dobbins, Cletus Sharer, Mrs. Don Wightman, Brad Hickerson, Mike Karel, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Spencer, and Tim Cahill with Ruth Ross directing.

The production is sponsored this year by the Wayne Kiwanis club.

WSTC Seniors Receive Graduate Study Awards

Two Wayne State seniors have received awards for graduate study in the next academic year.

Jerry Kingston, Wayne, a history major, will study at the University of Wyoming under a Coe graduate fellowship.

Fred Petrow, O'Neill, physical science major, has received research fellowship from the South Dakota School of Mines, Rapid City. He will work on the "effects of temperature on semi-conductors in solid state physics."

Beermann Asks Wayne Area Applications for Military Academies

Applications for nominations to the service academies at West Point, Annapolis, USAF Academy and the Merchant Marine Academy were asked this week by Third District Congressman Ralph Beermann.

Beermann said he has been notified by the Civil Service Commission that the competitive examination will be given July 9.

He urged all Wayne area young men interested in a service career and in competing for a nomination to one of the academies to write him for an application. He will then arrange to have the applicant take the civil service examination.

Applications should be directed to Congressman Ralph F. Beermann, Room 1232, New House Office Building, Washington 25, D.C.

Experiment Station Association Elects

Harold Chase, Pilger, is the new president of the Northeast Nebraska Experimental Station Association.

Other new officers include: Honor Oscher, Madison, first vice president; Warren Patfield, Laurel, second vice president; John Kroger, Jr., Rosalie, treasurer and Dale Flowerday, Wayne, superintendent of the station, secretary.

Dr. Stern Invited to Political Science Meet

Dr. Clarence Stern of the Wayne State College social science faculty has received an invitation to attend the Midwest Regional Seminar on Political Science at Bloomington, Ind., June 3-9.

The seminar has been made possible by a Ford Foundation grant allowing the American Political Science Association to invite 40 to 50 professors to each of the four seminars in the country.

Some students may take courses under the third-term schedule, they add a course or two in the summer sessions.

Wayne State Ventures Into Third Term of Trimester

Wayne State College next week will be the focus of considerable attention from educators, legislators and citizens all over Nebraska and elsewhere in the nation.

The reason: Wayne will make its first venture into the third term of its new trimester schedule. The second 15-week term ends this week, and the third term will extend the academic year to a full 11 months, to August 1.

Advance indications for third term enrollment are encouraging. Nearly 400 students in the second term have already registered for the next session. New students and additional second-termers are expected to enroll next week.

This enrollment will be at least as high as college officials have estimated all year, President W. A. Brandenburg said today.

The State Normal Board a year ago authorized Wayne to adopt the trimester schedule for a three-year experiment. After that time it may be extended to other state colleges. Several private colleges in Nebraska and other states have expressed keen interest in Wayne's experience with the trimester system.

The three-term system gives students the opportunity to earn a degree in two and two-thirds years at considerable saving in costs compared with the normal four-year system. In addition, the 11-month operation makes fuller use of the college's faculty and facilities, President Brandenburg noted.

Starting June 4, Wayne will offer summer school as usual—with one major change. The former nine-week session will be replaced by two five-week sessions. Students can complete a two-hour or three-hour course in either of the sessions.

Some students may take courses under the third-term schedule, they add a course or two in the summer sessions.

Former Wakefield Man Heads Doane Basketball

Robert Erickson, a graduate of the Wakefield high school, has been named head basketball coach at Doane College, Crete, Nebraska. Erickson coached at Crete for two years, then moved to Kearney high school where he coached basketball for three years.

Hurt at Station

Jesse Brownell, who is employed in a Wakefield service station, was injured last Saturday when a tire he was inflating exploded. He suffered a broken wrist and broken bones in the hand.

Elect Officers Tuesday For Kappa Mu Epsilon

The Nebraska Alpha Chapter of Kappa Mu Epsilon, a national honorary mathematics fraternity, met last Tuesday at WSTC and elected officers for the coming year.

County Teachers Elect Officers

Winsted—Harold Maciejewski, Wayne, is the new president of the Wayne county city and rural teachers association. He was elected Thursday.

Other officers for the coming year are Paul Johnson, Hoskins, vice president; Mrs. Pauline Lutt, Wayne, secretary and Mrs. Maryann Langemeier, Wayne, treasurer.

The meeting was attended by 38 members who heard a special program on Communism by Merlin Wright, Christian church pastor, Wakefield.

Special Good Friday Services in Concord

A three-hour Good Friday service has been planned at the Concordia Lutheran church.

Starting at 12 noon the program will run until 3 p.m. featuring guests speaking on the seven last words of Christ.

Special music will also be featured in solo, chorus and choir work.

Pastors for the service include: Pastor S. E. Peterson, Concordia minister; Pastors S. K. deFreese and R. E. Shurek, both of Wayne; Pastor C. G. Miller, Laurel and Pastor Robert V. Johnson, Wakefield.

Wakefield Egg Hunt Well Attended Sunday

Wakefield—About 200 children attended the Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Wakefield Mrs. Jaycees Sunday.

Prize winners for finding gold and silver eggs were Peggy Eberhart, Trudy Gustafson, Alan Johnson, Debbly Domsch, Danny Puls, Pam Uecht, Karan Ogier, Kay Ogier and Russell Johnson.

The men received two plaques, one from an insurance company and one from the state Nebraska Rural Electric Association for no time lost during 1961.

Walter Moller Elected Country Club President

Walter Moller was elected president of the Wayne Country Club at their election last week. Serving as vice president will be Fred Gilgelsleeve.

New board members elected this year are H. E. "Jim" Hein and Donald Hansen.

Ted Fuoss, course manager, said the golf course will probably be open for play Saturday.

Ulberg Plans Dinner To Promote School

Gerald Eulberg, Wayne, restaurant operator, is sponsoring a "Cutting Bee" in cooperation with the Nebraska and Omaha Restaurant Association, in an effort to raise funds for a school of culinary arts in the Omaha Tech high school.

A cutting bee puts different companies' products against one another as to quality and amounts in the same size packaging. The bee will be held at Jerry's El Rancho April 23 at 7 p.m. Although primarily for restaurant operators, Eulberg said the public might also be interested and is invited.

Tickets are $5 for the dinner, with $4 of the amount to go to the culinary art school.

Winside Churches Schedule Easter Sunrise Services

Winside—The Winside Trinity Lutheran church will sponsor a 6:00 a.m. Easter Sunrise Service Sunday with a breakfast to follow.

At the Winside Methodist church a similar sunrise service and breakfast will be held.

Both churches have invited the public to attend.

District III Musicians Prepare for Meet Here

The annual District III music contest will bring close to 3,000 musicians from 39 high schools Apr. 26-28.

As in the past, the Wayne Chamber of Commerce will provide a bus to transport the students between Wayne State's campus and the business district during their non-competing hours.

The contest has been extended this year to include all of Thursday because the number of performers is too great to squeeze into Thursday night, Friday and Saturday, as formerly scheduled.

Former Wayne Man Heads Norfolk C of C

A former Wayne man, Bob Shively, has been named manager of the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce. He assumed his duties Monday.

Shively graduated from Wayne Prep in 1946. He was active in football and basketball in high school. His father, the late S. B. Shively, was a member of the Wayne State Teachers College faculty.

Shively comes to Norfolk from Worland, Wyoming, where he was Director of Retail Operations for Pure Gas Service Company. He formerly managed the Worland Chamber of Commerce.

The Shivelys have three children. Mrs. Shively and the children are remaining in Worland until school is out.

Three Students Honored By University for Grades

A Laurel girl and two Wayne men were honored Tuesday at the University of Nebraska Honors Convocation.

Linda Haisch, Laurel, a freshman at the University was honored, along with Allen Otte, a sophomore from Wayne and Frederick Rickers, a senior from Wayne.

Mrs. Walter Fenske Named Rural Homemaker of 1962

Hoskins—Mrs. Walter Fenske, county chairman of Wayne county extension clubs, was chosen rural homemaker of the year Tuesday at a Rural Homemakers Recognition Day in Sioux City.

Rural homemakers from Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa and Minnesota were present for the meeting and banquet.

Mrs. Fenske is a member of the Hoskins homemakers club, of which she has been president and secretary, and has an active civic and church life.

A member of the Immanuel Evangelical and Reformed church, she is in the church choir, the Women's Missionary Society and serves as pianist. She is also a member of the Hoskins Garden club and Birthday club.

Ask Parents Give Thought To Transferring Children

Where to enroll their children attending elementary school seems to be the problem facing some Wayne parents. Wayne city school officials have some suggestions on the matter.

Stanley Westergard, Wayne city schools superintendent, said several parents have indicated their desire to enroll their children in the Wayne elementary school next fall. With the closing of the upper grades in Hahn campus school, it will in some cases, place children of the same family in different schools.

Westergard suggested the administration of Hahn be consulted before any transfer of students is made as both schools discontinue moving the students from one school to the other.

Each school has its planned program for the individuals and if it is necessary that a move be made, both schools should be consulted to work out a plan.

In all fairness to the students, Westergard said, it is necessary that the city schools know of such a transfer so that they can plan for these additional children.

Some rooms are filled with a capacity enrollment and if additional students will be enrolling next September, additional staff members must be hired this spring.

Anyone planning to transfer their children should consult with the administration of both schools by May 1.

Winside Lists 29 As Honor Students

Winside—Winside high school principal, Wayne Geschik held 29 students on the past six weeks honor roll.

Seniors on the list include Beverly Davis, Lois Nielsen, Karen Jones, Dwight Troutman and Glenda Miller.

Juniors are Jerilyn Thompson, Mary June Falk, Sally Witte, Judy Wade, Eunice Janke, Sandra Penke and Eugene Loe.

Sophomores listed are Carol Anderson, Bill Wylie, Jodene Prazwit, Nina Mueller, Tom Iversen, Barbara Farran, Nancy Ohmer, and Judy Swanson.

Freshmen are Holan Hamm, Marjane Morris, Randall Bergstad, Lee Pfeiffer, Myla Miller, Dean Mann, Sandra Glass, Randall Miller and Kathy Misfield.

Kindergarten "Play Day" Kids Gather 3,600 Eggs Sunday from Mrs. Jaycees' Hunt

The annual kindergarten "play day" and registration of new kindergarten students will be held some time during the first week in May at the Wayne elementary school.

The actual time and date will appear in next week's Herald.

Boys Suffer Baseball Injuries While Playing

Carroll—Two young Carroll boys received minor injuries last week when they were struck by bats while playing ball.

Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harmier, received a cut on the back of his head which required five stitches.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson, received a knee injury requiring doctor's care.

Driver Licenses Given in Basement of the Wayne County Court House Friday Afternoon

Driver license exams will be given in the basement of the Wayne county court house Friday afternoon.

MRS. EASTER BUNNY greeted over 300 children Sunday for the Mrs. Jaycees' annual Easter egg hunt. Over 3,600 eggs were hidden on the elementary school grounds and the children picked them clean. Prize winners can be found in the story of the hunt on this page.

SUPER-TORQUE COSTS YOU NOTHING

...if it doesn't outpull and outwear any other tractor tire in America...

PROVE IT TO YOURSELF

Try the Super-Torque. If it doesn't outpull and outwear any other rear tractor tire you've ever used, regardless of tractor, soil, or farming job, we'll give you your money back. Every red cent!

There isn't a better tractor tire value than Super-Torque! Field tests by more than 1,000 farmers have proved this. It digs deeper... pulls harder... wears longer than any other tractor tire. "Angle Braced" lugs are the reason—an engineering breakthrough which allows extraordinary lug length and depth. So much more length and depth that after a full year's use a Super-Torque will probably have more wear and traction left than a brand new conventional tire.

EXCLUSIVE ANGLE BRACED LUGS MAKE THE DIFFERENCE!

LUGS DEEPER OVERALL THAN ANY OTHER TIRE IN AMERICA* Sheer pulling power from a deeper, more positive soil bite.	LUGS LONGER THAN ANY OTHER TIRE IN AMERICA* Greater frontal area to grip more soil assure greater traction longer.	AVERAGE LUG WIDTH GREATER THAN ANY OTHER TIRE IN AMERICA* More rubber on the road for longer wear, far smoother riding.	MORE RUBBER PER LUG THAN ANY OTHER TIRE IN AMERICA* This is the "working" rubber... and the more there is, the longer the tire delivers peak traction and wear.

* Comparison with rear tractor tires other than special-purpose tires

... all this without lugs tearing or folding under!

BLACKBIRD HILL
by Margaret Lundstrom

When the full moon of October weaves its mystic spell, the ghost of a love-crazed settler, carrying the body of his wife stricken and leaps from the summit of Blackbird Hill into the silvery waters of the Missouri. Somewhere in the misted past the jealous husband slit his wife's throat and dragged her to the bluff, leaving a trail of blood behind, to jump to their watery grave. Now his tormented soul is doomed to re-enact his crime. Where her blood stained the ground, grass no longer grows, marking the path of destruction. So they say.

Blackbird Hill, rising several hundred feet above the Missouri River east of Macy in Thurston county, bears the name of a sly and byzantine chieftain of the Omaha Blackbird and the fur around horse and rider to the height of sixteen feet and marked the grave with a pole hung with scalp collected by Blackbird himself. On their westward trek four years later Lewis and Clark paused to visit the Chieftain's grave. Blackbird Hill provides a commanding view of the surrounding countryside. The river with its wooded islands, the undulating hills to the north and south, the prairie rolling to the westward. Some of the primitive beauty still remains to lure the traveler to explore and find additional points of interest to the south. Mission Point, site of an early Presbyterian Mission, haunted by an Indian maiden. The homestead of Joseph La Flesche, half-breed and vigorous leader of the Omaha tribe. Robber's Cave, legendary escape-hatch of the James Brothers. The area abounds in legends, history and scenery.

WHY NOT! A VACATION TRIP THROUGH NEBRASKA

By Mrs. Stanley Westergard

"You can't see the forest for the trees" is a statement that is applicable to most of us as we view other states and countries but fail to see the beauty within our own realm.

Doris Promme, Essen, Germany, who was a guest in our home for three weeks last summer, helped us view Nebraska as a tourist sees our state.

As a result of this visit, here are some of the reasons why we think you should visit Nebraska, "The Tree Planter's State."

The first reason that comes to mind is the many farms with their modern machinery moving along beautiful contoured fields. We see bins full of corn as well as the land from which the grain was grown in the irrigated fields of the state. We have many dairy farms and feed lots full of cattle making this truly the beef area of Nebraska.

Another attraction in the area is the Midwest's Most Beautiful College Campus at Wayne with its spacious and attractive campus, picnic grounds, athletic fields, large modern buildings and the outdoor amphitheater, the willow bowl.

Let us visit Joslyn Memorial, housing one of the finest art collections, Ak-Sar-Ben, with its many colorful and entertaining events. No visit is complete in our part of the state without attending the tribal pow-wows at Macy, where the Indians of the Winnebago and Omaha tribes relive the past with dances displaying their full dress costumes.

There are also many state recreational grounds with picnic areas, camp sites, fisherman's paradises, swimming and boating areas. Among these are the Fremont lakes, Dead Timber, Ponca and Niobrara State Parks; Grove lake near Royal with its fine trout streams emptying into the lake and Gavins Point dam abounding in fish and an ideal lake above the dam for boating.

Much entertainment is supplied by our bowling alleys, outdoor theaters, swimming pools, skating rinks and all the excitement that a home town baseball team can offer.

No visit is complete without attending Wisner's annual livestock show. Here we see the many fine horses of the saddle clubs in Northeast Nebraska; each rider making his horse perform at his finest. The younger set have their chance to display their 4-H beef and dairy cattle at this show also.

Invite your friends to come to Nebraska to become acquainted with our area.

SLUMGULLION

by Mrs. Richard Baier

Northeast Nebraska is something like a good beef stew—a hearty dash containing a large number of tasty ingredients. Specific attractions are the meat, but equally important for elusive flavor are the other ingredients—the unexpected joys to be found just over the next hill, an hour later, or the next season.

One chunk of "beef" would be Joslyn Memorial Museum at Omaha, particularly the modern American Indian art, with its strong sense of design coupled with recognizable Western objects. But equally delightful is a field of crocus-like Pasque Flowers in bloom, the last week of April. This is an elusive flavor indeed, for much of our land has been plowed, but who minds searching when thickets of wild plums make a white foam on a green prairie sea?

Blackbird Hill near Macy has its grisly story of the chief who used arsenic provided by French traders to make "bad medicine" against anyone who defied him. When he, like many of his people, succumbed to another gift from the white man—small pox—he was buried on the hill, astride his favorite horse.

Exciting in a much different way are our late-fall and early-winter sunsets, unequal anywhere. And as pheasant, ducks, deer, etc. provide meat for our hunters with guns, the meat for the hunt is provided by the Yellowhanks west of Norfolk, St. Helena with its remembrance of a French cathedral with its tiny village, and Grove Lake near Royal.

But the distinctive feature of our landscape is the windbreak. If mature and extra large, it was probably planted to gain a "timber-claim"—so many acres of government land for so many acres of trees planted. If younger and in a long line, away from buildings, it is likely a shelterbelt planted in the Thirties, to "change the climate." They failed in that effort—say, did you ever enjoy the fragrance of a half-mile row of lilacs in full bloom?

The elder groves have their attractions too. Imagine a sixty foot tree filled with four-inch clusters of crimson flowers. No need to imagine; just look up into a lady cottonwood tree in early spring!

Yes, from the top of Lewis and Clark lake watching metallic blue dragon-flies dart over a sunny swamp, you will find Northeast Nebraska a mighty satisfying dish!

Falls, Ia., was maid of honor. Patsy Huenefeld, served her sister as bridesmaid. Both wore dark green ensembles and carried bouquets of white carnations and Easter lilies.

Linda Lee Halouska, Lincoln, was flowergirl. Ringbearer was Gregory Owens, Howells. Candlelighters were Mrs. Ronald Obermeier, Wayne, and Mrs. Charles Clarke, Aurora.

Larry Williams, Sioux City, was bestman. Lynn Huenefeld, Aurora, was groomsmen. The bridegroom and his attendants wore white tuxedos and white carnation boutonniere. Ushers were Hayden Owens, Howells, Art Halouska, Lincoln, and Wayne Cheney. Wayne "The mothers of the couples wore blue dresses with corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Mrs. Vern McAller, Hastings, and Mrs. William Leanne Mann, Orleans, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Frank Wilhelm, McCook, posed. Mrs. John Owens, Wayne, served punch.

Mrs. Forest Stewart, Lincoln, presided at the guest book. Sara Sue Springer, Janet Springer, Jeanette Huenefeld and Judy Springer arranged the gifts.

Residents and former residents from this area who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John Orvid Owens and family, Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Enos Williams and John, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Owens, Milton Owens and Mr. and Mrs. L. ## Aurora Church Setting for Wedding Of Ethel Huenefeld, Stanley Owens

Carroll—Pleasant View church, Aurora, was the setting Apr. 8 for the wedding of Ethel Louise Huenefeld, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Huenefeld, Aurora, and E. Stanley Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Owens, Carroll.

Rev. Leo Thomas officiated at the double ring ceremony. The church was decorated with tall baskets of ferns and white candles. The pews were marked by large white bows.

Milton Owens, Carroll, sang "Because." "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Wedding Prayer." Mrs. Maurice Kremer, Aurora, was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length dress of bouquet taffeta fashioned with a basque bodice and a bouffant skirt. The scoop neckline was trimmed with Alencon lace and tiny seed pearls. The long sleeves tapered to bridal points at the wrists. Her finger tip veil of bridal illusion was held by a pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of Easter lilies, encircled by pink rosebuds.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Is Profits a Dirty Word?

President Kennedy's bitter denunciation of the major steel companies and their attempted price raise was very discouraging news for this country's investors. And it only strengthens the fears of businessmen that the Kennedy administration is the champion of labor unions and the foe of business.

Profits are necessary not only to get out of life. No one would invest in a business project if there wasn't a chance for profit. If profits are squeezed to a vanishing point, a company eventually goes out of business.

Profits are necessary, not only to get initial investments by stockholders, but also to get the funds to expand business and to pay a rate of equipment.

Champions of the profit system point out that such economic growth means jobs. A profitless economy would mean stagnation and loss of jobs.

This is why they contend that, if the economy is to grow and more jobs be created, profits must be sweetened.

U.S. Steel is a prime example of this profit squeeze. In the three years since the end of 1958 the company spent $1,185,000,000 for modernization and replacement of facilities and for development of new sources of raw materials.

counted for two-thirds of this sum. The remaining 388 million dollars had to be made up out of borrowing from the public. In fact, during the period U.S. Steel borrowed a total of 800 million dollars to provide for present and future needs.

This must be repaid out of profits that have not yet been earned and will not be earned for some years to come. During this same three years U.S. Steel profits dropped to the lowest levels since 1952, while reinvested profits—which is all the profit there is to be plowed back in the business after payment of dividends—has declined from 115 million dollars in 1958 to less than three million dollars last year.

The administration's economic advisors have done a thorough job of brainwashing the President and he in turn has led the public into believing that price increases are sinful and unpatriotic.

"This is a fine denunciation—if only the President could see it as applied to himself and his administration."

"How little has to be changed in his statements to apply them to the Kennedy administration."

"The raising of the public debt limit, failure to balance the budget, purchase of worthless United Nations bonds, foreign aid to Communist satellites and Communist sympathetic countries a wholly unjustifiable and irresponsible defiance of the public interest by a tiny handful of Harvard graduates whose pursuit of private power via governmental control exceeds their sense of public responsibility with a utter contempt for the interests of 185 million Americans."

The public should be made to understand that profits is not a dirty word. If profit is down a million dollars, the taxable income is reduced by a million dollars and government tax receipts would be off 520 thousand dollars.

Capitol News . . . Use of Consultants Increases Government Departments

The use of consultants by various departments of state government has been on the increase in recent years.

As advanced by departments involved, the reason is that by using outside professional help the state actually saves money in that it does not have to add to its staff.

In some of the divisions of state government, peak loads are hit periodically during the year. If additional personnel were hired to meet the high activity, they would not be active in other months.

There are these additional reasons advanced for part-time employment of professional help for state government:

They can be obtained for less than putting on staff members year around. In many cases, because of low pay scales, the help is much more competent than could be afforded by the state on a permanent basis.

The Highway Department has been a big user of outside consultants. In the past, this has been primarily confined to work on the Interstate Highway.

Professional help such as law departments where there are extended or concentrated legal problems.

Now, the Highway Department will take on consultants to help speed progress on the state's primary and secondary road system.

Gov. Frank Morrison says the consultants will be used to keep the highway program rolling at maximum speed.

A tour of Nebraska, handled by the Nebraska Land Foundation, will be made this year, probably in June.

cars will be made in the vicinity of 16th and 17th streets near the statehouse.

The lots will be used for state vehicles, Newell says. Employees have a lot directly across from the Capitol east.

Some state vehicles now are parked west of the Capitol.

Tax Study
Three persons will work with Dr. Harold McClelland, hired by the Legislative Council Tax Study Committee to make a comprehensive study of the state's tax system.

The California economist has arranged for office space in Lincoln and said his full staff will be operative about June 1.

After the study, McClelland is to recommend changes in the tax structure if these are indicated.

Corn Experiments
The State Agriculture Department is studying whether to investigate finding large commercial outlets for products manufactured from corn.

State Agriculture Director Director Pearle F. Finigan says the proposed experiments, submitted by the Bjorksten Research Laboratories, of Wisconsin, would be evaluated for possible use in:

- 1. Plastics 2. Detergents 3. Adhesives 4. Disinfectant cleaners.

Co. Agent's Column

"Caveat Emptor"
The Romans long ago used this term which means "let the buyer beware." Many products are sold nowadays which are supposed to satisfy the "hidden needs" of plants and animals.

In general the nutritional wants of plants and animals are well established from the results of hundreds of tests and scientific studies. To put it simply, we know what it takes to grow good crops and livestock. Likewise we have the knowledge and methods to determine whether we are supplying these necessary elements in proper amounts.

Legitimate feeds, fertilizers, and chemicals offered for sale are required by law to show what they contain and are tested to make sure that they are not misrepresented.

Can anyone give one good reason for buying a product without first determining what is needed and what is being bought?

Egg Quality Through Law
"Enforcement of the Nebraska egg law will have the effect of improving the average quality of current eggs available in the state," reports John Skinner, University of Nebraska Extension poultryman.

"This in turn will allow buyers to pay a higher price to producers because there will be less risk and loss in handling higher quality eggs. The greater availability of clean and reasonably high quality eggs may serve as an inducement to expand egg production in Nebraska."

Under the law, it is an offense to purchase, handle or offer for human consumption, eggs that are dirty, filthy, excessively soiled or contaminated. In addition, the law provides that it is unlawful to place eggs for human consumption in containers that are unsanitary.

"Eggs are perishable and must be treated as such," Skinner points out. "Proper management will minimize the number of dirty eggs, but will not completely eliminate the problem. Some dirty eggs are almost inevitable. Such eggs must be cleaned in a sanitary manner soon after gathering to maintain quality. Egg buyers are no different than housewives in desiring to get full value."

1961 Wool Payment Applications
Sheep producers must file applications by April 30 for payments under the 1961 wool program. Applications must be filed at County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Offices.

The 1961-program payments will apply to shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed not later than March 31, of 1962. Later marketings will be eligible for payments under the 1962 wool program.

The incentive program payments on wool and lambs are not made automatically—the growers must file applications which should be supported with all the necessary sales records in order to receive payments.

Sales records will be the basis for calculating the national average price received by farmers for wool during the entire marketing year. When this can be determined, the program payment rates for shorn wool and unshorn lambs will be announced. Payments to growers will be made during the summer.

Conservation NEWS NOTES

Today we would like to reminisce a little on the achievements of the Department of Agriculture. May 15, the United States Department of Agriculture will celebrate its 100th Anniversary. It was on May 15, 1862 that President Abraham Lincoln signed the enabling legislation which created the department.

In 1934 a tremendous dust storm roared out of the Great Plains and darkened the skies above the Capitol building in Washington. The dust fell on the decks of the ships in the Atlantic Ocean. In less than a year this happened again which stimulated the enactment of the Soil Conservation Service in 1935.

The farmers of Wayne County petitioned and voted to create a Soil Conservation District in 1940. It was the thirteenth county in the state to form a Soil Conservation District. Since then every county in the state has voted in a Soil Conservation District.

Each District is governed by five supervisors. These supervisors are local farmers elected by the land owners in the county. Two of our present supervisors have served since the district was organized. They are Albert Watson, Wayne and Bernhard Splitgerber, Pilger.

The reports of crop and food shortages in Russia, China and Cuba ought to serve notice on the world that here again is evidence that man's efforts are greater and more fruitful when he functions as a free man, to be rewarded as his individual efforts deserve than as a vassal of the state.

Mr. K has vociferously announced within the past two years, that they were hard on our heels in the matter of production of food and fiber.

Now he is shouting to high heaven, blaming everybody, because the efforts of collective farming are not even producing enough food to be plentiful supply for his own people, let alone competing with the bountiful supply of the free American farmer.

China too is in the same boat and the strange thing about it all is that the leaders of both countries acknowledge it.

In our own country one man produces enough food for around 25 other people. In Russia one man produces enough for about 5 people, so one in five of the Russian population is trying to feed all of the rest and are failing in doing so. In China about half the people are engaged in producing enough for themselves and the other half of the population and people are starving. There is always famine in some part of that immense country.

Then there is our neighbor to the south, Mr. Castro, and his domain. In his three hour speeches he has repeatedly said that the Cuban people didn't need anything from the United States. They were practically self sufficient and those things they might need would be furnished by their red brethren in Russia and China.

Conservation NEWS NOTES

However, those two big brothers can't quite raise enough for themselves so the other day Mr. Castro announced rationing. From what he is allowing these people to have, there will have to be quite a tightening of belts, for most of his people are going to have that lean and hungry Casius look.

A few years ago the Russians sent a delegation of agriculturists over here. They were seeking a key, which once turned, would open the door to a Russian agriculture, comparable to that of America. They have since continually sought that key to no avail.

They couldn't, didn't, or refused to see that the greatness of America isn't everything, not just alone in agriculture, lies in our heritage of Freedom, in the recognition of the rights of the individual, in recognition of human dignity and the realization that these rights transcend the rights of the State and should not be subordinated to any form of statism.

Thinking OUT LOUD

Rev. Robert Shirck, pastor St. Paul's Lutheran Church—the oldest Christian festival is being held, and well it should be, for it is the central conviction of the Christian religion. The teachings of Jesus were not only in conflict with the beliefs and practices of people in general during his time, but they are basically opposed to the natural, obvious self-concern of all men of all times. It was the judgement of people that his teachings could not be tolerated, and so they killed him to put an end to the whole matter.

Easter then, is the vindication of His Gospel—of his teachings. It says there are some inescapable in life—some things to which you cannot close your eyes and they will go away—that there are some things more enduring than life itself. Therefore I believe Easter teaches us the imperishableness of Love. Love, Easter says, is stronger than death. Love is not diminished or crippled by time or distance. In its very nature, love is immortal.

Man had thought of God in terms of being local or tribal in character, and we still today sometimes revert to this primitive way of thinking about God, who is concerned primarily with our nation and our way of life, and one who is opposed to every one who happens to disagree with us. Early man also thought he could escape from the influence of God, as one could flee from an enemy. And there still lurks the subtle suspicion that we too can erect fences about portions of our lives and allow God access to certain areas, and keep Him out of others. Some areas of our lives we will wall off—like the wall across Berlin—and we will call these parts secular, and the rest, where we give him permission to be, we will call sacred.

Easter breaks down such barriers. Love involves the whole person; all the time. No man can love his wife or his children a small part of each week, and ignore them all the rest of the time. And if he tries to do just this, in a very short time, he will have no home, and he will have no son or daughter. Love is openness, and it can endure eternally.

This truth and its implications dawned on the first Easter for the early Christians. It became their burning conviction, that they were certain they were bound indissolubly to the risen

Way Back When . . .

10 Years Ago

Apr. 17, 1952: An estimated 235 persons from Wayne and surrounding territory viewed the flood waters around Sioux City and Omaha Sunday, Monday and Tuesday from planes chartered by the Wayne Air Service. Wayne's National Guard unit and volunteer work parties from Wayne county added their support to those giving aid and assistance to flood victims needing help around South Sioux City and Dakota City, last Thursday. The Rev. Edmund Barns Nelson, Presbyterian Indian pastor of the Salt River and Lehi churches, Scottsdale, Ariz., will speak at a buffet supper at the Presbyterian church, Wayne, next Sunday. Forty-five youths were present for the Easter breakfast and sunrise service at the Carroll Methodist church Sunday morning. Mrs. Robert Boulting was elected president of Winside's WSCS Tuesday afternoon.

15 Years Ago

Apr. 21, 1947: A brooder house, 500 three-day old chickens and an oil brooder stove were lost in a fire early Friday morning at the Gordon Jorgensen place, southwest of Wayne. Wakefield community, the past two weeks, realized $48,000 of the $50,000 quota set for the community hospital which is to be established in Wakefield. The Junior Federated Women's club, Winside, sponsored a benefit carnival last Wednesday evening in the municipal auditorium. Proceeds go to the auditorium bleachers fund. Chris Leaders headed the George Hoffman jr., business here and will take charge in about a month. The Wayne warblers were featured in the district school conducted for volunteer firemen at Wayne Sunday morning and afternoon. One hundred forty men from this area attended.

20 Years Ago

Apr. 23, 1932: The brooder house and 150 small chickens burned Thursday evening on the Hornby brothers farm. The Winside fire department assisted in putting out the fire and from spreading to other buildings. Edw. Seymour has just installed the latest type ice cream machine in the Wayne Creamery. This equipment, which scienti-

Lord by the bonds of love, which not even death could break. Their love for Him—and even more important, His love for them—was the foundation of their hope and faith.

Easter says something about the character of God. Jesus' good news for mankind was the message, God is Love. If then God's children could be overcome by death, this would be a denial of His nature. God is good—God is faithful and is entering into fellowship with Him is to enter into a relation which is characteristic of love, indissoluble. He who loves God and is loved by Him is, as is true of all true love, one. God does not desert man when at last man lies in the grave—Easter says God calls man to life.

The resurrection of Jesus brought to the early followers of Jesus confidence that as He had overcome death, so those who accepted his teachings and followed his example, too would be raised from the dead. Nowhere do you find in the early church a reasoning about a general resurrection proved by the resurrection of Jesus, but rather always they found in His Easter, the assurance of their eternal life through Him. Paul, writing to the Corinthians says: "Christ was raised to life—the first-fruits of the harvest of the dead." (quoting from the New English Bible.)

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where President Kennedy and our lawmakers is engaged in the usual sparring contest over a number of bills up for debate. I been thinking for a long time we ought to quit calling it our Capitol and refer to it as our Bowling Alley On the Potomac. In ever administration as long back as I can recollect, the President has been setting 'em up at one end and them Congressmen has been trying to knock 'em down at the other.

Ed says the way the President and the Congress tries to sneak up on each other with certain legislation reminds him of a feller getting ready to throw a brick at a cat. The feller makes like he don't see the cat, the cat makes like he don't see the feller, but the feller is watching the cat like a hawk watching a chicken and the cat is watching the feller like Grubb's preacher watching the collection plate.

With all this hauling and pulling going on, it's no wonder the Printing Office has had to put out a special telephone directory for that one building. The piece said the directory had 200 pages and listed over 10,000 telephone numbers. And I bet they ain't a party line in the house.

Yours truly, Uncle Zeke

Army. Mrs. Moller will remain in Wakefield. Wayne county will have 80 young men leaving for selective service Wednesday. Modern fire fighting and handling of bombs in warfare were featured in the dist school conducted for volunteer firemen at Wayne Sunday morning and afternoon. One hundred forty men from this area attended.

25 Years Ago

Apr. 22, 1937: Interior of the Brown McDonald store is being redecorated. Mrs. J. S. Lewis also plans to have a new sidewalk placed in front of the store. Graveling of the new three-mile road east and west of Carroll started Monday. Gravel will also be placed soon on the four miles south of Winside. Sunday morning a Winside Methodist church and to the Students at Winside high school Monday morning on their experiences as a missionary in China. Avery Lant, principal of Newcastle school has been elected superintendent of Winside public school succeeding Eric Wendt. The Gaebler and Neely store has been remodeled to provide a chapel for funerals, seating 40 to 50 people. The Woman's club, Concord, sponsored a white elephant sale and lunch Saturday night. Proceeds which amounted to $40 will be used for a public drinking fountain and to help equip the kitchen in the new high school auditorium.

30 Years Ago

Apr. 21, 1932: M. S. Whitney bought the Selce and Everett Hardware store, Carroll, last week and took possession immediately. Mr. Whitney will continue his implement and grocery business and, also with Charles Whitney and Paul Pederson will have charge of the two firms. The Henry Lauenbaugh family, Hoskins, moved to Winside the first of the week into the Jugel residence. Mr. Lauenbaugh will take over the rural school week done by his father, Chris Lauenbaugh who will be a flagman at Sioux City. Rudolph Fredstrom, Oakland, has been named new coach and instructor in science at Wakefield for the coming year. A carload of washing machines was received this week by H. H. Hachmeier for distribution in northeast Nebraska. This is the second carload received in Wayne within a few months. Louis Schulte bought the F. G. Philip quarter section of land, south of Wayne this week.

quarters of a circle into the room takes less space and interferes less with furniture location. In a bedroom, for example, a door at the end of the closet opening a quarter of a circle into the room is not likely to cause furniture arranging problems.

For closet doors or where swinging doors will take up too much space, consider the different sliding and folding doors. You can have a sliding door recessed between two rooms. Two or three sliding doors on the front of a closet will not take up any wall space.

Bi-fold doors fold back against the wall and take up a regular door's space needed for a regular door. Folding doors of plastic lamboor or sprit use no wall space, but they do take up some of the space in the door opening.

A recent extension publication on "Home Improvement Plans" has been received at our local county extension office. Anyone planning a remodeling project or even building a new home would find some helpful suggestions given in it. Our telephone number is 564.

You'll Dye
You don't have to look at the calendar to know that Easter is "far away." The increasing supplies of eggs at your food store tell you so.

How you plan to use eggs during the Easter week should be your guide in purchasing. Choose Grade AA or A, for the eggs you plan to serve poached, fried or cooked in the shell for serving at meal time. But for those eggs which you plan to dye, the shell color and size are of prime importance. Sometimes it is possible to purchase lower grade eggs for coloring and dyeing—and to save money.

White shells dye in clear bright colors. Therefore, white-shelled eggs in all grades generally are in heavy demand the week prior to Easter. Brown and speckled shells don't take color in quite the same way as white shells, but do produce some very interesting effects. Use brown and speckled eggs with decals, transfers or decorate with a fine paint brush, pen or crayon.

Questions always are asked this time of year as to the advisability of eating dyed eggs. All Easter eggs coloring sold today must be approved as safe by the Federal Government. The labels are required to state that the dye has been certified by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration. Even though the eggs used for dyeing are generally hard-cooked, it is best to eat them within a day or so.

It seems to me what we been getting lately is mostly a rewrite job. For instance, I was reading last week where one Senator told the Congress taxes has gone as high in this country as it's safe for them to go. Now I'd call that Senator a statesman. If he can peg taxes permanent at any level, he has made history. But, for advocating such treason, he'll get thrashed in the dog house by the politicians afore Congress adjourns.

We was discussing these matters at the county store Saturday night and the fellers was all agreed that television has spoiled our politicians. Charlie allowed as how, when he was a boy, a politician would get up at the meeting and give you some old-fashioned, long-tail oratory, put on a spell-binder for two or three hours. Like the hoop skirt of them days, says Charlie, his speech covered everthing and touched nothing. But nowadays, he claims, they get up and give you 10 minutes between soap commercials. And the speech still don't touch nothing, says Charlie.

Well, Mister Editor, I see things has got so big in the Government Printing Office has had to put out a special telephone directory for that one building. The piece said the directory had 200 pages and listed over 10,000 telephone numbers. And I bet they ain't a party line in the house.

Yours truly, Uncle Zeke

Neither side vulnerable: North deals: Bidding:

1♦	Pass	1♠	Pass
3♣	Pass	3♠	Pass
4♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: ♠J
North and South held more than enough high cards for a no trump contract today, but lacking high card strength in hearts, settled for a contract of four spades. After North had jumped to three clubs on the second round of bidding, South rebid his spades. North carried on to four spades.

West led the unbid suit, hearts, and East ran off three heart tricks. East returned the deuce of spades; then sat back to wait for his spade trick which would set the contract. But East didn't win a spade trick.

Dummy's hand, North, won East's spade return with the king. The trump queen was next played from North. West showing out of spades, Declarer (South) played the club ace from dummy, and then led the nine of clubs. The club nine spot was trumped in South with the six.

Mrs. Alvin Sundell was in charge of entertainment and Mrs. Vern Carlson presented the lesson. Bulbs and plants were exchanged. Mrs. Sundell has the next meeting.

Complimenting the James Petrow family, Indianapolis, a family dinner was enjoyed at the Sioux City cafe Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dahlgren, North Platte, as hosts. Several wedding anniversaries included.

The jack of diamonds was overtaken in dummy with the king; the jack of clubs was trumped by declarer with the nine spot; and the queen of diamonds was led to North's ace. The queen of clubs was led from dummy, and East could not prevent declarer from winning the remainder of the tricks. Had East trumped, South would overtrump and draw East's last trump. The eight of hearts would then win the last trick. East decided to discard his last diamond. South discarded the eight of hearts. A small diamond was led from dummy. East, forced to trump, played his eight. South overtrumped with the ten and won the last trick with the trump ace.

Today's hand is an example of the trump coup. The trump coup might be defined as a method of taking a trump finesse without a trump. Toward the end of the hand declarer had no trump by leading a card from North. To effect the trump coup, declarer must shorten his trump suit to the same number of trump as are held by East. Had South not trumped two of North's cards declarer would eventually have to lead trump from his hand. South would let East make his spade jack good if he led trump from his hand after the king and queen had been played from North.

After South had shortened his trump suit to the same number held by East, he also had to be careful about the timing on the hand. He had to arrange his play on the hand in such a manner that the dummy hand would be on deal when each player was down to three cards. Had the lead been in South with three cards to be played, the trump coup could not have operated.
