

Covenant Church Building Funds Increase

Two Building Fund Dinners have netted more than half of the required amount for the Wakefield Covenant Church construction plans.

Held Wednesday and Thursday, pledges of about $24,000 were made at the dinners. About $45,000 still is needed in the next three years for the construction of a new church.

The congregation began plans for building a church in the fall of 1959 with $200 in the building fund. A year later, voluntary contributions totaled $4,200. At the annual meeting in January, 1961, the decision was made to designate the building fund for the new building. By the end of 1962, the fund had swelled to over $20,000.

Several large contributions were made during 1962 and the interest in the new church is growing steadily.

It is hoped that when $65,000 has been raised, construction can start.

Conference for Math, Science and Language Set Thursday at WSTC

Teachers of science, mathematics and modern foreign languages will be interested in a conference Thursday, Jan. 31, at Wayne State.

It will present new ideas on how to use audio-visual aids for teaching these subjects in elementary and high school classes.

Sponsored by the State Department of Education, the conference will last from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Conn Library lounge. Dr. Robert Stepp and Dr. W. C. Meierhenry of the University of Nebraska are in charge.

Teachers of other subjects are welcome to attend, too, since the audio-visual techniques apply to many class situations. However, the conference is aimed at helping science, math and foreign language teachers because it is made possible through the National Defense Education Act.

NDEA funds are designed especially to promote these subjects at all levels of education.

Jermier Lists Grid Prospects for Kiwanis

WSTC head football coach John Jermier was guest speaker at the Wayne Kiwanis club's regular meeting Monday. Jermier told the Kiwanis about the past season and prospects for next year. He explained some of the problems college coaches encounter trying to get football teams ready for each week's game and some of the humorous happenings on the squad. He also touched briefly on the new offense he introduced to the squad last year.

In other Kiwanis activity Monday, Cal Umstock told the club about the installation of the district 11 Governor in South Sioux City, Conn. Stock, Willard Wilby, Bernie Elin were among the Kiwanians at Monday's meeting.

Wayne Merchants Change To Thursday Night Hours

Several months of study were brought to a close Thursday when the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, Retail Committee voted unanimously to change the evening store hours in Wayne from Saturday to Thursday.

In a survey of merchants by the Chamber of Commerce on the change of night hours, the returned questionnaires showed by more than two-to-one that Wayne merchants thought they could better serve their customers on Thursday nights than on Saturday nights.

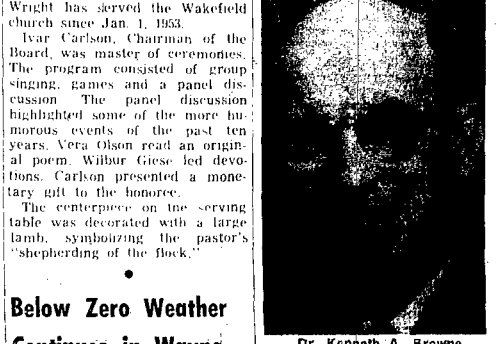

The Wayne decision follows a national trend that has shown people are less interested in shopping Saturday nights but apparently prefer an open night during the week.

Mrs. Milford Kay and Gregg, Wakefield, were Friday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Oetken.

Stocks and palms decorated the candle lit altar of First Lutheran Church, Omaha, for the double ring ceremony of Jacqueline Brock and Richard Rosenbohm last Sunday. Rev. Jon Dechow performed the 7 p.m. ceremony. Parents of the couple are former Congressman and Mrs. Lawrence Brock, Wakefield, now residing in Arlington, Va., and Mrs. Albert Rosenbohm and the late Albert Rosenbohm, Langdon, Mo.

Proceeding the ceremony, Charles Soderberg, brother-in-law of the bride sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Peau satin and re-embroidered rose point lace. The sculptured bodice, highlighted with paillettes, was designed with an overlay of lace and portrait neckline. The long sleeves tapered to bridal points over the wrists. The bouffant skirt featured a deep inset of lace, caught with miniature bows, and cascaded into an aisle wide train.

The bride's matching floor length headdress lace veil, which was worn by her mother at her wedding, fell from a crystal coronet. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and hyacinths.

Judith Brock, Omaha, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Wilbur Stephenson and Joan Turner, Omaha. All wore peacock blue satin dresses similar to the bride's dress, featuring a scalloped neckline and princess line waist.

Ak-Sar-Ben's scholarship program has been an important part of the $2,969,084 Ak-Sar-Ben has provided educational, agricultural and charitable projects since racing was legalized in Nebraska. During 1962 Ak-Sar-Ben awarded 459 scholarships to help worthy Nebraskans acquire a college education and Nebraska teachers, county agents and vocational agriculture instructors obtain post graduate study so they might better serve their community and state. The University of Nebraska, the University of Omaha, Creighton University, Nebraska's Independent Colleges, the state teachers colleges and Curtis, Nebraska Agricultural School have all shared in Ak-Sar-Ben's scholarship program. In addition to Ak-Sar-Ben's education program, the organization sponsors programs of special training for the state's police and firemen. Police training includes lie detector and F.B.I. courses. Ak-Sar-Ben also underwrites half the cost of the annual school conducted for training the state's volunteer firemen. DAR State Judges to Include Mrs. Felber

Mrs. Walden Felber, a member of Douglas King Chapter of DAR, has been named as one of the judges for the State DAR Citizenship Contest. The local DAR Citizenship Contest was held here Saturday afternoon.

Brenda Pretzer, Wakefield, was the winner, writing an essay on the question, "Do we meet the challenge of good citizenship by holding fast to the privileges of the Constitution?" The state question was, "Is the preservation of the Constitution with its Bill of Rights mandatory in this era and does it hold fast that which is good?" Other contestants were Jerilyn Thompson, Winside, and Ann Hasebrook, Wayne. The national association of secondary school principals has placed the citizenship contest on the approved list of National contests and activities for 1962-63. Judging the contest were Charles McDermott, Jim Hein and Rev. R. E. Sherrick.

The contestants and their mothers were guests at a tea held in the Woman's club rooms. Mrs. Gertrude Ley gave a brief talk and presented the awards. Mrs. Felber presided. Mrs. E. G. Smith was chairman of the citizenship contest.

Entertainment was furnished by a woodwind quintet from Wayne High under the direction of Don Schumacher. Carol Maciejewski, accompanied by Sandra Olds, presented a flute solo. Mrs. Edith Wightman was chairman of the serving committee. Mrs. Wightman and Mrs. Helen Orr were named delegates to the state convention.

Next meeting is Feb. 15 at Hotel Morrison. J. R. Johnson will speak on "Patriotic Markers." Mrs. Howard Witt will be hostess.

Wayne High Wins Four Games During Past Week

Wayne High varsity won three and the reserves won one and lost two in action the past week. The Devils scored victories at Madison last Tuesday, 60-39, over Stanton in a home game Friday, and at Hooper Saturday night, 64-41.

Play opened at Madison with Wayne managing 11 points to Madison's 9 as both teams had trouble finding the range. The two clubs matched points the second quarter as the Devils used 4 free throws and 4 field goals, and Madison acquired 6 field goals in netting 12 points.

The half ended with Wayne holding a slight lead, 23-21, and the third quarter proved to be little improvement for either club.

Wayne outscored Madison 13-9 in the third, not due to any beyond-average shooting but with some consistency. The Devils were holding a six point lead 36-30, and the big bomb was yet to come.

The fourth quarter began and Madison was pitted against what appeared to be an entirely different club. The Devils broke loose with 24 points on 6 free throws and 9 field goals. Don Meyer netted 9 of his 26 total in this quarter and Jerry Granquist got all seven of his in the same quarter.

Free throws doomed the Madison club as they hit only 33 per cent. Wayne played nearly a foul-free game committing only 8 fouls, and made 63 per cent of the foul shots given them.

Two persistent ball clubs met Friday night in the City Auditorium as host Wayne defeated Stanton 71-64. The two teams exchanged points during the first two quarters of play. Largest margin in the first quarter was a 13-7 lead held by Stanton mid-way through the quarter. This lead, however, was quickly overcome by the Devils and the score was tied at 13. The quarter ended 19-19.

The second quarter proceeded in the same nip-and-tuck manner until Wayne broke into an eight point 29-21 lead early in the first quarter but Stanton continued matching points with the Devils and gaining one now and then, and came back to a 37-37 half-time score.

of half-times was offered to the spectators as Wayne Dunklau, a Sophomore at Wayne State, and a Wayne Hahn graduate, presented a performance put on by her baton-twirling students of the Wayne schools. The performance was highlighted by a fire twirling exhibition by Jean Karel, an eighth grader in Wayne.

Action began once again for the two clubs and the third quarter proved to contain the margin of victory for the Devils as the Mustangs managed only 11 points. Wayne kept their steady string of points rolling and netted 17.

Stanton once again found the range in the fourth period and made 16 points to Wayne's 17, and the Devils came out on top of the high-scoring contest 71-64.

Wayne continued to keep their fouling statistics low, being charged with only 13. Stanton made 62 per cent of their free throws and Wayne hit 61 per cent. Don Meyer led the scoring for the game with 28, and Siemazlusz of Stanton scored 18.

The Devils hit the road again the next night and traveled to Hooper to meet and defeat the Cardinals 64-41. Neither club looked sharp in the opening quarter, and the Devils gave Hooper the ball several times through careless ball handling. The Cardinals, however, were unable to cash in on these mistakes and Wayne led at the end of the quarter 12-11.

The start of the second period saw an improved Wayne club and an unbelievably cold Hooper team. The Devils controlled the ball for much of the quarter and netted 17 points. Hooper attempted 15 field goals in the second quarter but only one was good for 2 points. Wayne controlled the boards with ease and Hooper was unable to get the second shot and came out of the quarter with only 6 points.

The third period began and any hope on the part of the Hooper fans of Wayne's cooling off was soon dissolved as the Devils played what could be classified one of their best quarters of play. Their defense was efficient, their rebounding went unmatched and their shooting was impressive as Wayne sank 13 field goals and totaled 28 points for the quarter. The Cardinals scored 9 and Wayne led 57 to 26.

Wayne was outscored in the final period 15 to 7, but the Devil bench was cleared as every player saw action. The Devils kept their fouling down once again, this time committing 15. Hooper made 52 per cent of their free throws and Wayne hit 40 per cent.

Don Meyer once again led in the scoring department, this time hitting 24 points, and never saw action in the fourth quarter. Milligan paced the Hooper squad with 7 and fouled out in the third quarter.

It proved to be a disappointing week for the Wayne reserves as they won one and lost two. Madison got the Devils started on the wrong foot as Madison scored 16 points in the opening quarter and Wayne sank 7.

In the second period Madison suddenly led the range and scored only 5 points. Wayne made 9 and at the half trailed by five, 21-16.

The two clubs matched points the third quarter as each scored 7 points. The final period of play proved to be unprofitable for the Devils as they managed one lone field goal. Madison scored six and won the contest 34 to 25.

Stuart Bernthal and Doug Mankie each scored 7 to lead the Wayne club and Ron Morlock netted 9 to top his team.

Stanton was the bright spot for the Wayne reserves as they rolled past the Mustangs 44-27. Wayne took the lead in the first quarter, out-scoring Stanton 11-8. The Devils then capitalized on a cold Mustang second quarter and tallied 11 to Stanton's 4 to lead at the end of the half 22-12.

Wayne continued rolling through the third quarter and tallied 13 to Stanton's 9. The Devils netted 9 and Stanton 6 in the final period of action and Wayne came out on top 44 to 27.

Dople Grein netted 17 to pace Wayne while Terry Denny made 9 to lead the lovers.

The next game was at Hooper and was another of the reserve's close defeats. The Devils came out with hustle and good ball handling, and led 13 to 8. They added to the score by making 12 to the Cardinals 9 and led at half 25-17.

The reverse was true in the second half as Hooper scored 15 to Wayne's 10 and the Devils then led by a slim 35-32 score. The fourth quarter was close all the way, but Hooper led most of the period. The Cardinals were in the lead 43-40 with two seconds to play when Rick Bornhoft sank a fray this week takes Peru to Hastings. Doane, doormat of the league for two seasons, has given notice of title ideas this season. The Tigers pushed Peru into the fourth overtime Saturday before bowing, 110-107. Wayne Coach Al Svenningson expects Doane to offer Wayne one of its toughest threats this year.

Wayne now has a 10-5 season mark.

Wildcats Defeat Hastings And Kearney Over Weekend

A fifth straight victory in conference play is Wayne State's goal Saturday night as the Wildcats entertain the Tigers of Doane college.

Game time is 7:30 in Rice gym after the preliminary contest starting at 5:45.

Monday night Wayne will take a holiday from league play to battle Northwest Missouri State, also in the Rice gym. In four previous games, Wayne has won only once and always found the Missourians among their toughest foes.

The Wildcats added another pair of wins last weekend to strengthen their No. 1 spot in Nebraska College conference standings. They downed Hastings, 79-68, on the home court, then outlasted Kearney there, 89-83.

In both games Wayne had to stifle determined opposition. Hastings pulled into leads up to three points several times, and Kearney surged ahead as much as 11 points in the first half.

But the Wildcats each time met the challenge with tighter defense and careful offense. Rebounding, weak in the first halves, improved in the second half each night to provide the key to victory.

Friday Ron Jones went on his highest scoring romp of the year with 33 points while Dick Collins also enjoyed his best night with 18. It was a pair of buckets by Collins that gave Wayne a 46-46 tie, then its permanent lead with 13-10 left. From that point on Jones and Collins scored all but six of the team's final 33 tallies. Saturday night belonged to Denny Johnson, whose 31 points spaced through the game kept Wayne in contention, then in the lead. Wayne scoring against Kearney turned out better balanced than in most games with an 18-point production by Jones, 13 by Jon Garcia and 11 by Collins.

Conference statistics show Jones and Johnson still on top in scoring with 97 and 91 points while Collins jumped up to eighth with 37. However, Wayne is the only team with four games played.

Peru currently has a 2-0 mark in the conference; Hastings and Doane are 1-1; Chadron 0-2 and Kearney 0-3.

Besides the Wayne-Doane game,

Wayne high had little trouble with Hartington Holy Trinity Tuesday night, defeating them 71-26.

Playing control ball, Hartington had only eight field goals.

Don Meyer led Wayne with 19, while Jim Kern had 14. Eight players were in the scoring column for Wayne.

Hartington tied the score at 10-10 at the start of the second period but that was the last time they even came close to the Devils.

The "B" team also had an easy time of it as they topped Hartington 58-25. Doug Mankie was high for Wayne with 11 while Craig Tiedtke had 10.

Wayne State wrestlers will treat their fans to the 1963 home debut Friday night in Rice gymnasium, the first match at 7:30.

Providing opposition will be Gustavus Adolphus College of St. Peter, Minn.

The Wayne team opened Tuesday with a convincing 30-8 win over Morningside at Sioux City. The Wildcats won six of eight events, all by pins.

The results:

123-pound—Ed Miller, Wayne, pinned Paul Weidner in 1:58.

130-pound—Bob Frey, Morningside, decisively Jim McGrath, 6:2.

137-pound—Charles Moore, Wayne, pinned John King in 8:40.

147-pound Toby Ruter, Wayne, pinned John Kersbergen in 1:58.

157-pound—Ray Traylor, Wayne, defeated David Bolfik with a pin at 1:26.

167-pound—Chuck Dayton, Morningside, pinned Larry Thomson, a Sioux City native, in 3:54.

177-pound—Bill Whalen, Wayne, pinned Art Verdi in 3:40.

Heavyweight—Gary Palmer,

Wayne, defeated Bob Kuiper with a pin at 2:55.

Morningside now has lost six straight meets, although its two winning wrestlers against Wayne have been consistent winners—Frey undefeated in six matches and Dayton, winner of five out of six.

Wrestling proved popular in its first season at Wayne last year. Crowds of up to 700 or more attended the home meets and watched with intense fascination. The meets also drew many townspeople.

Again this year there will be

FOR YOUR SHOPPING CONVENIENCE MOST WAYNE BUSINESSES

WILL BE OPEN THURSDAYS until 9:00 p.m. And will close Saturdays at 5:30 p.m. BEGINNING FEB. 7

In an effort to keep pace with the changing shopping patterns of the public, most Wayne merchants will begin staying open Thursday evenings as a customer convenience. In the past four or five years, the majority of the public has shown a declining interest in shopping Saturday nights, preferring rather, an open night during the week. After much study, Wayne merchants have followed this preference. County and city government offices and federal service offices, follow this pattern and now are closed all day Saturday.

DRUGTAX
A SERVICE TO TAXPAYERS

This may come as news to you, but aspirin is one of those drugs that may be of a deductible nature on your federal income tax return.

But to claim it, you must be able to offer proof you bought it.

When you buy it from us, you get that proof. But when you buy it at the corner grocery, or in a department store, or in a restaurant, you are likely to forget about it.

That goes for a lot of other things, too—such as antiseptics, cough and cold preparations, laxatives, and so on.

Our customers like to buy all of their drug supplies from us, because they know they will get the benefit of a complete record of all purchases of a deductible nature.

Our customers get an annual statement (mailed in February) which tells them how much they spent on drugs of a deductible nature. It's called a DrugTax record, and we offer it to our customers free of charge.

Next time you buy aspirin (or any drug item), be sure you're in a store that gives you a DrugTax record. Come income tax time, it can save you money.

Start New Semester With Clean Slate

Has the last semester proved satisfactory to you? Are you working up to your best ability and trying your hardest? If you aren't, it isn't too late to start, at least in the case of the underclassmen. Wipe your slate clean and begin the new semester with the attitude that you can do it.

As for you seniors, in five and a half years of junior high and high school you haven't buckled down and realized the consequences of poor grades, you have a rude awakening. Whether you plan to go on to college or not, a high school education is of the utmost importance in this day and age. If you would only stop to think, you would realize that everytime you flunk a class it is one black mark against you which puts you one rung lower on the ladder to success. Remember, the harder you study now to get good grades, the easier your work will be in the future.

In this modern age we can't just think of today. We must look at tomorrow and all of the tomorrows to come. But don't wait for tomorrow before accomplishing something. Start reforming today and each tomorrow will find you closer to a successful future, abundant with opportunities.

Here's the Secret To Better Grades

Well kids! It's here—our brand new semester. It's going to give students who are striving for better grades a new chance to really buckle down. Often when the going gets rough, a person begins to think, "Oh well, what's the difference?" He usually wants to credit someone else's good grades to "He's smart," or "He's the teacher's pet." But even the smartest guy has to study.

So if you are one of those who have a tendency to slough off your responsibilities, you can move right up to the top by means of the little five-letter word "STUDY." When written in big black bold print, it is pretty impressive.

So here's to smooth goin' during the new term.

Do Your Part to Keep Wayne High Tidy

"Now is the time to come to the aid of our custodians." Only one word has been changed in this familiar statement to make it apply to the after-school workers of Wayne City High.

The janitors at Wayne City High have done a swell job of keeping our hall sweep, our wastepaper baskets emptied and our rooms in order. They do the little things like keeping the pencil sharpeners clean which we sometimes take for granted.

We can't all bring our brooms and sweep like crazy after school, but we can do our part in hitting the wastepaper basket in the first place. If we would slush away our gum and candy wrappers which we aren't supposed to have anyway and take a short five seconds upon entering the building to wipe off our wet shoes, the custodians would surely consider this a great big favor.

well-informed citizens that we must be to survive the problems we will be facing.

Wilma Marra, also a senior, had this to say:

To be absolutely truthful, I must say that I feel students participate in too many extra activities. I feel that there should be a maximum of activities for each student. There are many times when studies are pushed aside so that participation in these activities can be possible. It all falls back to the big question. Which comes first, studies or some activity?

Another student replies: I've never participated a great deal in any of the extra activities offered here at school. I don't know if I've missed out on too much or not. I do think though, that these activities provide a chance to mingle with the kids more. When you're not in all that stuff you tend to "lose out" as far as associating with the kids is concerned. Maybe it shouldn't be that way, but I do think that this is the reason for over-participation in the extracurricular activities.

Jim Kern Elected Junior President

Jim Kern was elected junior class president for the 1962-63 term at Wayne High. Other officers elected were Jean Eynon, vice president; Ann Casady, secretary; and Gary Lorenzen, treasurer.

Mr. Cheney, Miss Bernhoft and Mr. Ihm are the junior class sponsors.

Have Extra Activities Become Too Important

A question often discussed is whether too much emphasis is placed on extracurricular activities in today's high school. One mother simply stated when she was asked this question:

Which will do you the most good after graduation, the number of honors you have received in extra activities or the honors you have received for your grades? I believe that each student should participate in one or two extracurricular activities, but I think today's high school has allowed it to get a little "out-of-hand."

Another parent replied in this manner:

If the students are planning to make a career out of a certain activity such as music or sports, I say okay; but just how many students do?

Barbara Watkins, a senior at Wayne High this year, had this comment to make:

Yes, I think there is too much emphasis placed on these extracurricular activities. It seems as if we're studying more about sports and music than about the more important phases of our education upon which we will depend for success in college and also for our more important role of being the Should Class Representatives to Council Be Elected by Whole School?

Last Wednesday the student body had an election to choose representatives to the student council.

It was, in my opinion, an unusual method of voting: instead of having each class vote for its own representatives, the entire student body helped vote for the council members from every class.

This seems entirely off the whole concept of having a student council in the first place. The council is based on the idea of representation from each class. How can we have true representation of classes if someone else is going to vote for our representatives?

Suppose Nebraska nominated its senators, then Iowa helped vote for them. Does that sound reasonable? This same situation may be readily applied to our election.

I propose the student council itself, after getting organized, investigate this.

Senior Class Play Is Big Success

After the presentation of "The Diary of Anne Frank" last week, one person said, "I believe it was the best performance put on by a high school group for a long time." The cast said many things didn't go as planned, but the audience rarely catches these "flubs."

Everyone was surprised to see a real, live cat in the play. The cast said that the cat got lost behind stage at a crucial moment, but with a little persuasion he came out just in the nick of time.

Suzi Wert proved to be a perfect example of the image of Anne Frank. She was spunky, carefree, and full of fun. DeWayne Harrison filled Peter's shoes with ease. He and Suzi kept the fun going every minute until the last act when they became serious, proud Jews.

Carla Rethwisch and Tom Mau, as Mr. and Mrs. Van Daan, put so much into their parts that a few tears were shed beyond the footlights.

Terry March and Renee Eulberg (Mr. and Mrs. Frank) were the perfect example of loving parents. I wonder how their parents felt. Old?

Marilyn Nuernberger (Margot) kept the peace in the family. She soothed ruffled feelings with kindness and understanding. Mike Karci (Mr. Dussel) brought almost professional acting into the play. He, along with Suzi and DeWayne, put fun and a little humor into a very dramatic play.

Wilma Marra (Miep) and Lauren Boeckenhauer (Mr. Kraler) kept happiness and hope in the "fighters' lives." The audience, too, anticipated their entrances.

The entire performance carried the audience with it. Special effects and lighting created an eerie atmosphere; the singing of German children, the trucks and the Gestapo voices all came to life in the play.

Many people said they were going back to see it again because of its exceptional quality. The book was thought the perfect blend of hope, happiness, sadness and truth. This play in many ways surpassed the book.

"MOM SAYS SCHOOL DAYS ARE THE HAPPIEST DAYS OF ONE'S LIFE IF YOU'RE A MOTHER."

Capitol News . . . Centennial Group Hopes for More Promotional Money

News concerning planning for the Nebraska Centennial in 1967 keeps popping up with increasing frequency. Several spokesmen for the Nebraska Centennial Commission said recently the event will offer the one big opportunity of this century for the state to display its pride on a national level. But they said enough money has to be made available to do an adequate promotional job. W. D. Aschbacher of Lincoln, commission secretary, noted a bill has been introduced in the Legislature seeking a .07-mill levy for promotion of the big anniversary. If this measure gets approval, he added, "we will have the necessary financial means to make 1967 truly a great year in Nebraska." A. James Ebel, commission chairman, said, however, not one cent of the money raised by the special levy would be used for constructing a permanent building. He explained the commission has approved a resolution stating "for educational, cultural and promotional purposes." Several state senators have proposed that in commemoration of the Centennial a permanent building be constructed which would be of lasting value to the state. The commission has asked the Unicameral's budget committee for a 1963-65 appropriation of $72,480—up some $47,000 from the amount given two years ago. Ebel said the increase was being sought primarily to kick celebration plans into high gear.

Steen Prediction

M. O. Steen believes the 1963 Legislature will decide "if Nebraska is to go forward in the area of recreational development" and "if hunting and fishing license fees are not increased "it will surely tumble backwards." He told members of the Nebraska Game Commission he is discussing a bill with several senators which would hike fishing and hunting licenses. He was not sure about the exact amount. In the past he has favored upping the cost of a fishing license from $2 to $4 and the hunting permits from $2.50 to $4.

Weekly Bridge Tip — Strategy Change

Both sides xvulnerable; West deals. Bidding: West North East South 1 heart double pass 2 spades plus 4 spades all pass. Opening lead—king of hearts. North made a takeout double over West's opening heart bid in today's hand. When South bid two spades, North went directly to game in spades. West led the king of hearts, and when East followed with the seven, continued with the heart ace. South trumped the third round of hearts, East discarding a diamond. The trump nine spot was played next, followed by the play of the spade ace to the queen. When West discarded a heart on the second round of trump declarer decided to play for an even break in opponents' clubs. West was known to have started with one spade and six hearts. Therefore, if he held cooperation given by everyone in Nebraska to Frontier's continuing program to give better public service to the state.

Legislature Busy

Bills have been pouring into the legislative hopper at a fairly good clip during the first several weeks of the session. Many more are expected, however, before the 20th legislative day—the deadline for the submission of bills by individual senators. Less than a dozen measures have been debated before committees but the public hearing pace has started picking up. Nearly 50 proposals were heard this week and at least that number will be scheduled each week for the next several months. Under legislative rules, each bill gets a public hearing before a committee decides if it should be sent to the floor of the Legislature. Close to 700 bills are expected to be introduced. The one which frequently kicks up plenty of controversy—the massive budget measure—usually doesn't come to the floor until late in the session. However, Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings, budget committee chairman, has promised every effort will be made this session to get the bill to the lawmakers earlier than ever before—and with more detailed information about the various agencies' spending requests and recommended appropriations. It is not known just how much will be suggested for the various educational institutions by the budget committee. But it is known that the four junior colleges and Omaha Municipal University have drawn up a bill providing that the state give $180 a year for each resident student carrying 14 or more credit hours. The bill will propose that the money come from the state general fund. At a meeting in Lincoln, representatives of the five colleges said unless state aid is granted their institutions many students will be priced out of a college education. The schools presently are financed by mill levies on the school districts in which they are located from student tuition fees.

Extension Notes

Bacteria On Fabrics

Did you know that hot water and detergents used in home laundering allow large numbers of bacteria to stay alive in textiles and clothing as well as to spread from one article to another. Textile bacteriologists at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Research Center washed the laundry of families for several months and found 30 kinds of bacteria present. Although many were harmless, some were of the harmful type. The harmful bacteria were those responsible for respiratory or skin infections, ear infections and genital-urinary infections. One textile chemist at Bellsville U. S. D. A. Research Center reported that "the use of cooler wash temperature with today's fabrics has given rise to increased dangers of harmful bacteria. These dangers are especially evident in public coin operated laundries." Use of a disinfectant, however, greatly reduces the bacterial count in the family wash. Of the disinfectants tested at the Bellsville Research Center, two types proved effective in reducing the number of bacteria in textiles. They were quaternary and phenolic disinfectants. Quaternary disinfectants should be added to the rinse water. Phenolic disinfectants may go into either the rinse or wash cycle. Examples of quaternary disinfectants are: Coop Sanitizer and Roccal. Examples of the phenolic disinfectants are: Pine-Sol, Fast, and Waf. The scientists at the Research Center say "it is not necessary for a homemaker to use a disinfectant in every batch of laundry. But if there is sickness in the family or neighborhood, or if you use a community washer, it is wise to add a disinfectant to prevent possible spread of disease-causing bacteria." Amounts of disinfectants to use are found on the labels, however, it was recommended by Alice Linn, Federal Clothing Specialist, that one cup of either Pine-Sol or Fast should be used instead of the half-cup labels recommend to bring about desired reduction of bacteria.

Thinking OUT LOUD

Oliver B. Proett
A new word has come into common usage these days: "ecumenicity." We may have had difficulty pronouncing the word at first but once we get the hang of it, we enjoy not only the use of the word, but the thought which it denotes as well. For ecumenicity means "universal" or "world-wide." It is the realization that "God hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell upon the face of the earth." The word has been used widely in literature, in politics and especially in religion. In the past two years we have seen two ecumenical councils—the World Council of Churches of Christ in New Delhi and the Vatican Council in Rome. Their purpose was to examine our mission in the world in the light of the fact that all are God's children. Ecumenicity is not a religion or a position of particular faith, it is rather a sheer statement of a fact or condition, which exists. It is a spiritual realization separate and distinct for any organization or the manipulation of man. It is a recognition of the unity of mankind apart from all social, racial, denominational or national barriers. This being true, why do not all embrace it? The fact is we still have some who have misgivings about this so-called "ecumenical movement." Perhaps this grew out of denominational emphasis. With the Reformation there came into being several different church groups. From these have sprung even more differences or denominations, each emphasizing some particular truth, oftentimes to the exclusion of every other well-accepted and needful truth. The force was centrifugal—away from the center—and the main accent was upon the differences which divide. The movement now appears to be centripetal—toward the center—and the accent is upon the similarities which unite. These are unity of purpose, unanimity of thought and singleness of action. Both the Vatican Council and the World Council have led men into a truer understanding of brotherhood. And we had better get used to the word because that is the direction in which the world is and, has to be moving.

Co. Agent's Column

Hogs Hold Spotlight

Management and know-how will be needed to produce profits with hogs if predicted increases in numbers materialize. The estimated increase in 1963 spring farrowings in Nebraska is six per cent. The 1962 Nebraska pig crop was one per cent over 1961. Raising more hogs may not increase net income because margins of profit may be lower. Increasing volume (size of enterprise) can add to efficiency up to a point. New techniques that help bring efficiencies in swine production require greater managerial skills. Competition from specialized, enlarged swine operations demand high standards in swine breeding, feeding, housing and disease control. Hog producers in this area will hear the latest information on all phases of swine production at a meeting to be held at Laurel on Thursday, January 31. University staff members representing livestock, engineering and veterinary departments will headline the program beginning at 10:00 a.m. in the Laurel auditorium. Reference Book For Light Horse Fanatics. Nebraska light horse fanatics, and Four-H club leaders and members enrolled in the light horse project may now obtain an excellent reference book covering virtually every phase of light horse selection, breeding, feeding and care. The publication, titled simply "Light Horses," is revised U. S. Department of Agriculture farmers bulletin no. 2127. Single copies are now available free of charge at County Extension offices in Nebraska, according to Dave Williams, Extension 4-H livestock specialist at the University of Nebraska. A tremendous upsurge of interest in the light horse is shown by the fact that of the well over two million horses in the U. S., 1.8 million are light horses. It is estimated that

Moist Heat VS. Dry Heat

On these cold winter days we find the moist heat more comfortable than the dry heat in our homes. Besides being more comfortable it is more healthful since dry heat affects the skin and nasal passages. Mucous membranes crack and allow harmful bacteria to gain a foothold. Most furnaces are equipped with containers for water to provide the humidity but they need to be filled frequently and more so as the furnace runs higher. If the home heating system does not have such an attachment, one can devise substitutes. The teakettle which is almost a uten-

Jan. 22, 1953: The city's newly installed dual fuel power unit at the light and power plant is now under full operation. Firemen were called to the Clifford Carlson home west of Concord, Thursday afternoon to extinguish a chimney fire. A blizzard, bitter cold temperatures, rain, sleet and another snow storm plagued the Wayne region during the past week. Carl Troutman was re-elected fire chief at Winside at the meeting Monday evening. Jan. 29, 1948: Plans were completed this week for an expanded program for the annual Wayne county All Farmers day in Wayne Feb. 12. Wayne county's goal is at least one carload of relief cereal for central Europe on the Abraham Lincoln Friendship Train. Reuben Hintz, who farms south of Winside, accidentally broke his right arm Saturday while cranking a tractor at his home. August Dangberg, Winside resident since 1884, celebrated his 95th birthday anniversary Jan. 20. The first notice of a convention for the nomination of candidates to city offices of Wayne appears in the Herald today. The convention is set for Feb. 1. The Wayne Chamber of Commerce is nearing its goal of 300 members in 1948, following a membership drive staged last weekend. Progress is continuing in plans for the memorial park planting and the memorial day dedication. The tree list now has a total of 546 names. Rebuilding of Fredrickson's tavern damaged extensively by fire a few weeks ago, is being completed this week and the tavern will reopen Saturday morning.

This is being written on Monday, January 11. It was ten degrees below zero today and twelve below yesterday. Cold as a faithless heart. Everybody all humped up and talking about the cold, and the thermometer readings. As for myself, I never cultivated that thermometer habit. If I looked at one in the winter it made me all the colder and if I looked on a hot day in the summer, it made me hotter than a sheriff's pistol. Don't believe that we used to notice these cold days years ago, like we do now. Maybe we better prepared ourselves for them. Instead of the "hen skin" clothes we wear today, we really got ready for winter. Got ourselves winterized. Donned some scratchy, long handed underwear and this, combined with several layers of outside clothes, maybe topped off with a fur coat and some felt boots, made us practically immune to the cold. Today we get up in the morning, turn on the radio, listen to a news commentator give us the extremes in temperature. In the same breath he tells us of meetings cancelled and schools dismissed. You get cold by the minute. The car won't start and after it does get going you shiver and shake and cuss, because the heater won't work quick enough. You forget all about the days when you had to roll out, stand in the kitchen fire, harness up a pair of horses (had to dip the bridle bits in water to keep 'em from sticking to the horses' mouths) bundle up the kids and haul 'em to school. Remember too, don't you, that there were no heaters in the buggy or wagon. Yep, maybe we were harder in the old days, but brother, we weren't nearly so comfortable.

20 Years Ago

Feb. 4, 1943: Wayne county was in the spotlight of the Sioux City Stockyards broadcast last Friday noon, Don Cunningham, former Wayne resident, was in charge. Wayne county Red Cross chapter was highly complimented on its sewing by Miss Anderson, St. Louis field worker, who was here Friday. Matt Holl Jr. suffered cuts on the face and head Thursday morning when the car in which he was returning from Sioux City skidded and struck a tree. Oliver F. Kelllogg, who came to Wayne from Ames, Ia., bought the Wayne News taking possession Monday. Lester Lutt sold a midget Hereford heifer weighing 770 pounds at the Sioux City market. It brought him $13 per hundredweight. A rain registering about 4 of an inch fell Tuesday night. The president's birthday ball, held Saturday evening at the auditorium, brought in about $100. A rain front meeting will be held in Wayne Feb. 10 with speakers from the state extension service in Lincoln.

30 Years Ago

Jan. 26, 1933: Henry Wietling had his left hand cut severely Tuesday when an axe he was using in chopping wood slipped. The wound required several stitches. As January draws to a close it leaves an almost unbroken record of mild weather. Through January the mercury barely touched freezing and roads have been easily passable. Heated discussion followed introduction of a proposal to fix salaries of rural teachers between $40 and $60 per month at the taxpayers' meeting Saturday. R. B. Judson and Clarence Kay have opened a furniture store in Wayne. The firm will carry a stock and also take special orders. Twenty Wayne county students are registered in the University of Nebraska this year. Mr. and Mrs. Axel Fredrickson celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Herman Koplin sold her well improved quarter section eight miles northwest of Pilger to Fred Koehlmoos for $80 an acre. Mrs. Harry McMillan has been named Wayne county chairman for the Legion Auxiliary. Nine directors will be elected at the annual meeting of the Wayne County Red Cross chapter Thursday.

WHY QUIT SMOKING?
Q. I have been a cigarette smoker for many years. If I quit now would I be less likely to develop lung cancer, or is the damage already done?
A. Studies conducted by the American Cancer Society show that cigarette smokers who give up smoking thereby reduce the risk of developing lung cancer. This conclusion was reached after comparing smokers, ex-smokers, and nonsmokers. Damaged lung cells resembling those found in bronchial cancer were present in 93 per cent of specimens from smokers, and in only 1.2 per cent of specimens from nonsmokers.

VEGETARIANS
Q. I know a husband and wife who are vegetarians. How is it possible to keep healthy and consume only vegetables?
A. Vegetarians come in different varieties. Some will use dairy products but the really ethical vegetarian excludes all animal protein from the diet and replaces all articles of clothing and household equipment of animal origin with vegetable products. The fact that such people seem to get along fairly well without showing signs of dietary deficiency has for some time mystified nutritional scientists. (In other words, we don't know the answer).

The January Farm Outlook

FARM REVIEW AND FORECAST

General Agricultural Outlook

Compared with 1962 we can expect little change in cash receipts from farm marketings in Nebraska, barring changes in weather. We can expect increases in marketings of livestock products, slightly lower average prices and probably slightly larger cash receipts from livestock. Little change in 1963 is expected in crop marketings, and average crop prices in Nebraska. For 1963 a slight rise in prices farmers pay for production items is expected.

Realized net farm income is expected about the same but per capita income from farm and non-farm sources should continue to rise. The U.S. output of farm products is likely to rise a little above the level of the last three years due to more livestock.

The domestic market for farm products will increase at least in proportion to population growth. The per capita consumption of food, in monetary terms at the retail and farm level, is expected to rise slightly. The exports of farm products will probably be about the same as 1962 and the price parity ratio will be about average for the past three years.

Five-Year Projections
Farm output will increase by 6 to 7 percent from 1962 to 1967 with continued restrictions on production, including acreage controls, the Conservation Reserve, and other diversion programs under current and authorized programs

(figure 1). Between 1950 and 1960, farm output increased 23 percent. This increase took place even though labor on farms declined 35 percent and 6 percent less cropland was used. At the end of 5 years, total output and use could be more nearly in balance; but excess output of some individual commodities such as dairy products, cotton, and some classes of wheat would be expected unless new programs were put into effect.

During most of the 1950 decade, total crops available for use in the U.S. exceeded the actual use—domestic use plus exports. This "gap" represents the annual stock build-up. The only time in the Fifties that the gap was closed was during the Korean War and in 1957—a poor crop year. The total use of crops was above production plus imports in both 1961 and 1962 and resulted in a reduction of grain stocks. Further government stock liquidation is expected if present farm programs are continued.

Livestock

Cattle
In 1963 Nebraska prices for cattle are expected to average a little lower than in 1962—especially for the latter half of 1963. U.S. production potential and supplies for 1963 cattle slaughter have increased because of an expected 2½ million head of cattle and calf inventories.

Cattle numbers have shown a modest increase in the past 3 years as the calf crop plus imports has been only slightly above slaughter and death loss (Figure 2). The calf crop increased at the rate of 1.4 percent per year in 1961 and 1962 (less than the increase in population). Imports in 1962 were slightly less than the 1,043,000 in 1962 and is not expected to rise significantly, in 1963 and 1964. The outlook is for relatively stable cattle prices for the next 3 or 4 years.

If cow numbers were to start up at a rapid pace, heifer slaughter would have to be sharply cut back. Heifer slaughter in the past couple of years has comprised about 22 percent of federally inspected slaughter. If such a move to increase numbers did get underway, it would likely be accompanied by a year or two of sharply higher prices for fed cattle.

Sheep and Lambs

The number of sheep and lambs on feed November 1, 1962, in the heaviest feeding states was down 4 percent from 1962. The number in the largest weight group, 60-79 pounds, was down 9 percent. Since no large scale liquidation is expected in 1963, slaughter in the first quarter of 1963 may be as much as 15 to 20 percent under the first quarter of last year. Prices during January-March will be much higher than a year earlier. Slaughter and prices during the second quarter of 1963 will be close to a year earlier.

During the second half of 1963, slaughter will likely be further below 1963 than during the second quarter.

Additional outlook information on cattle, sheep and lambs is available in the "Western Livestock Roundup" each month. This publication is available on a subscription basis from your county agent.

Hogs

This fall's pig crop is probably 2 to 3 percent larger than in fall, 1961—a 3 to 4 percent gain seems likely in next spring's crop. During the first half of 1963, hog slaughter is likely to continue above and prices a little below a year earlier. This may be especially significant during the second quarter when there will be more competition from cattle. Increased hog supplies from a larger spring crop probably will result in lower prices next fall.

Feed Grains

Supplies for the 1962-63 year are estimated at 210 million tons, down 7 percent from last year. With domestic and export requirements greater than production this year, carryover stocks at the close of the 1962-63 marketing year will likely be near 57 million tons, down 14 million from the carryover into 1962-63.

The Secretary of Agriculture has indicated that a carryover of 45 million tons of feed grains is justified for national security purposes. This is equal to a 3½ month utilization. Similar production and utilization in 1963 would bring the carryover in 1964 down to this minimum level.

Prices of feed grains and high protein feeds in 1962-63 may average near or a little above the levels of 1961-62. High protein feed prices are high at the present time and are expected to increase some during the first quarter of 1963 but may decrease from then to the third quarter.

Location of Feeding

During the last quarter of 1962 both cattle and feed from the Great Plains were shipped to California for feeding and back to the Rocky Mountains and East Coast for consumption. This is an uneconomic use of resources that will not continue long in the future. In Nebraska feed grain production is considerably in excess of feeding. In the future an increase in feeding in Nebraska is expected to take up part of this slack.

Fats And Oils

Total supply of edible fats, oils, and oil seeds during the 1962-63 marketing year is forecast at a record 16.5 billion pounds, in terms of oil. This is about four percent above the previous record supply a year before. Domestic disappearance of food fats in 1962-63 is expected to continue at about the annual rate of 46 pounds (fat content) per person. Total domestic use should increase by about 125-150 million pounds with population growth. Prospects are that exports of food fats (including oil content of soybeans) through September 1963 may set a record of about 1.9 billion pounds, about 17 percent more than in 1961-62.

Significant increases in the production of minor fats and oils (castor and safflower oil) will have to compete with soybean oil, cottonseed oil and linseed oil to be used for food and paints and varnishes.

Lard and tallow will still have relatively low prices in 1963.

"Individuals With Resealed Grain Face Penalty"

The Northeast Nebraska County Assessors Association held a special meeting Friday, January 11, at Norfolk, Nebraska to formulate uniform procedures and policies for the assessment of accounts receivable concerning resealed grains.

For the authority and requirement under which amounts earned but not received on January 1, 1963 for the storage of resealed grain shall be subject to intangible tax as an account receivable the Attorney General has cited to us on Section 77-201.1 R.R.S., Nebraska. This statute reads as follows: "All intangible property in this state, not expressly exempt therefrom, shall be subject to taxation and shall be valued and assessed at its actual value.

This meeting was called to discuss a reminder memorandum from the State Tax Commissioner's office to all Assessors stating the obligation of the Assessors in assessing this type of property.

All taxpayers that have this type of property and may have already been assessed, please contact their Assessor's office before March 1 to avoid penalty that must be applied at the rate of 5 times the amount due. The tax rate on this type of property is very nominal, 25c per $100.00.
