Wayne police are investigating a rash of shootings that have damaged two autos, a house and three street lights.

The first report was received Thursday when Allen Ahlman, 527 E. 7th, discovered a bullet hole in the front door and living room of his home.

He told police the family had gone to bed about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday and discovered the damage Thursday morning. None of the family heard any shots.

The second report came in later in the day when Emil Hogelen, 717 Nebraska, reported a bullet hole in the side of his auto.

Earlier this week, while investigating three street lights that had been shot out, the police found a bullet hole in the window of the auto of Ben Ahlvers, 421 Logan. Further investigation revealed the bullet came from a .22 caliber rifle. Police now have two of the slugs in their possession.

Chief Garth Dawson said residents should report immediately when they hear anything that sounds like a shot. Their investigation revealed some of the residents in the area where the shootings occurred heard shots but didn't say anything until they were questioned.

Chief Dawson is warning the parties responsible for these acts that they are playing a highly dangerous game that already can have severe consequences that can be worse should anyone be injured.

Blue Devils Bow to Pierce In Final Overtime Seconds

by Jack Schrieber

A free throw by Bob Brand with one second left on the score board in the overtime period gave Pierce the one point margin they needed to down Wayne 56-55, in what could be called one of the best games of the season.

The Devils came back from a 49-43 deficit in the fourth quarter to tie the game at 51, sending it into overtime. The score was then equal at 55 with six seconds remaining. Pierce was bringing the ball down after five seconds were run off the clock.

Brand's free throw swished and the Jays won what could prove to be the decisive battle for the eastern crown in the Husker Conference.

The game got underway with Wayne coming out with the tip but it was nearly a minute and a half later before anyone scored. Jim Mau got things rolling with a free-throw putting Wayne into the scoring column 1-0. Two field goals put the Devils in front 5-1, but it was short-lived as Pierce tied the game at 7.

Up until this point the contest had been mostly running and little scoring. Both teams, however, started scoring at a faster pace and a Bob Brand lay up in the final seconds gave Pierce a 13-11 lead at the end of the quarter.

The second quarter saw the Blue Jays use last-baskets, ball control, and accurate outside shooting in forcing their way into a 19-12 lead. Wayne called time-out and came back with the Pierce style of half-court coming within one point, 21-20. Kenny Olds, playing for the first time since his injury in the Wayne-Plainview game early in the season, sank a field goal giving Wayne their first lead since the first quarter. Nave came back with two field goals for Pierce and the Jays bounced back in front 25-22.

Seemingly not content with a three point lead, Pierce out shot Wayne 2-1, and the first half ended with Pierce enjoying a 29-24 lead.

The two clubs skipped their usual cool minutes of play at the start of a quarter and for a large amount of time kept scorekeepers busy with a furious exchange of points moving the score to 38-34. Pierce leading. Things slowed down considerably through the last three minutes, and the quarter came to a close with two evenly matched clubs once again five points apart, 43-38.

Wayne led off the fourth period with a free throw and a field goal, but the Jays returned with three field goals to lead by 49-43. It was then the Devils began their drive and surged to within two points, 49-47, before Pierce called time out in an effort to cool the determined Devils.

The two clubs took the floor and Wayne started out with a free throw by Olds to put the Devils within one point, 49-48. Pierce took the ball and found a field goal and went ahead by three. Wayne lost the ball in their attempt to fight the game, but Olds stole the ball and drove to the basket and a 51-50 score. Pierce still in the lead. With 48 seconds showing on the clock, Olds was fouled and sank his free-throw to tie the game 51-51. Wayne got the ball once again and held it under their own basket in an attempt to get one good shot and victory, when Pierce got a hand on the ball with three seconds left and a jump ball.

The seconds quickly ticked off and the game was sent into overtime. Don Meyer started the overtime scoring with a field goal and the Devils took the lead 53-51. Then Brand was short one as Brand and Warneke each sank a field goal and put Pierce back in front 55-53. Olds then hit another one for the Devils and the score remained on an even keel 55-53. Wayne once again went into a stall with 1:05 remaining on the clock, but missed their last shot. Then the foul gave Brand a do or possibly die situation and he did, giving a 56 to 55 victory to the Blue Jays and a heart-breaking defeat to the Blue Devils.

The Devils did their best to hold down the free throw game of the Pierce club, committing only eight fouls in the entire game. Of these eight fouls the Jays received six free throws and made four giving them 56%. Wayne received 17 free throws but made only nine of these for 52%.

Don Meyer led the scoring for Wayne as he contributed 27 points. Olds found 15 and Jim Mau came up with 10. Brand was leading scorer for Pierce with 25 points, and Nave and Huettner had 13 and 12, respectively.

The Wayne "B" team had their hands full against the "B" squad from Pierce as they outlasted their hosts 39 to 35.

The first quarter started with both teams having trouble finding the range. Pierce took the lead six to three when Wayne started using a press defense. It slowed the fast-moving Jays considerably and when the quarter ended Pierce held a slight lead, 9-8.

Both clubs improved considerably in their ball handling in the second quarter, and the Devils took a soothing six point lead 26-20.

The third quarter was a cold one for the two teams and the only thing that kept the game going and protected Wayne's lead was free throws. Five of the Devil's seven points in this period came on free throws and Pierce moved within three, 33-30.

The final quarter was a wild affair, climaxed by a double foul with 23 seconds remaining, and saw Wayne hold their lead and end in the lead, 39-35.

Douglas Manske led the Wayne scoring with 10 and DonLee Heid followed with eight. Behrens held scoring honors for Pierce with 12. Pierce had seven of nine free throws for 77%, and Wayne made 15 of 25 for 60%.

Cats Lose to Peru 69-56; Host Plainsmen Saturday

One of the season's stiffer tests awaits Wayne State cagers Saturday night as they host the Nebraska Wesleyan Plainsmen—defeated only twice this year.

It will not be a conference game, now that Wesleyan has departed the Nebraska College conference but even so, the intense Wayne-Wesleyan rivalry will not likely diminish.

The Wildcats tumbled off the NCC throne Saturday as they lost to Peru, 69-56. Thus the return game, Peru coming to Wayne for the season finale Feb. 28, looms as the possible deciding factor in the title race.

Defending champion Peru has the harder schedule ahead, six games left, including the difficult doubleheader at Chadron, while Wayne has only four left.

But as Coach Al Svenningsson points out, anything less than a sweep of all games would likely doom Wayne's hopes to claim the conference crown.

The Wayne-Peru clash at Peru began as a fast-moving game of precision basketball, then rapidly deteriorated into a whistle-blowing orgy as officials called 58 fouls and sent seven players to the bench—five of them Wayne's.

Wayne played about one-fifth of the game with substitutes as a result, and they did pretty well in stemming the Peru onslaught.

Peru's Rod Snodgrass, a gangling 6-7 center, topped the scoring with 18, aided by 15, 14 and 12-point production from three others. Wayne's best was 12 by Dennis Johnson before he fouled out midway through the second half.

Capitol News . . . State Solons Determined to Oversee Nebraska Spending

LINCOLN—It is becoming increasingly obvious that some members of the Legislature are determined to play a bigger role in the state's fiscal affairs. In recent days the lawmakers approved an amendment to a bill which among other things would set up a state revolving fund to make money available for purchasing easements and right-of-ways for flood control and watershed structures. Under the amendment approval for use of any money from the fund will first have to be given by the executive board of the legislative council. Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff proposed the amendment and has made it plain he will do everything he can to get any state projects involving substantial appropriations under the scrutiny of the legislative branch of the government.

In line with this thinking is his bill which calls for approval by the legislature before any new building may be constructed or before any buildings or lands may be purchased by the state or its agencies. Of perhaps even more significance is another part of the bill which would transfer authority over the state institutional and military department to the legislature. Presently, the governor must give his approval to expenditure of money from the fund. Co-signer of the bill was Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings, chairman of the powerful budget committee.

Plenty of Bills
Any ideas any of the legislators had about winding up their business by June 1 or June 15 apparently went flying out the window after the deadline passed by introduction of bills by the individual senators. A total of 747 measures have been submitted—and there are at least a few more on the way. From now on bills will have to be sponsored by the governor or one of the standing committees. The 747 total surpassed the previous record for the Unicameral. Previous high was 739 in 1959, followed closely by 737 in 1961. Most persons who have worked closely with the Legislature over a period of years believe the lawmakers will be in session until sometime in July. It appears that the staggering number of bills submitted has convinced the committee chairman they should get public hearings disposed of as quickly as possible. Eighty-four measures were scheduled for hearings this week, along with three resolutions.

Ask Study
The Nebraska Highway Commission has unanimously approved a proposal calling for a study by the Department of Roads of the "most meritorious" requests for additions to the state highway system. Results would be made available to the commission for their guidance in making decisions on adding stretches of road to the official system. A companion proposal called for another study aimed at determining which roads could be eliminated. State Engineer John Hossack noted there are numerous requests for additions. But he said

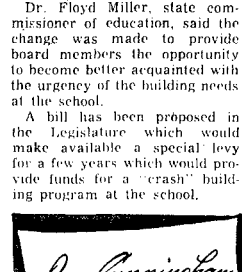

"not all of these requests are in the best interest of the state as a whole. This commission should find out which requests will add to the betterment of the system on a statewide basis and, then take action." Bruce Gillan, director of planning for the department, told the commission he could not come up with a set formula on the matter as had been requested by the commissioners a month ago.

Comments on Power
Governor Morrison has described Nebraska's public power problem as "indigestion." He is urging the Legislature to "solve these conflicts in the interest of Nebraska citizens." He expressed confidence "we are going to have some constructive legislation in this area out of this session of the Legislature." He added that "we cannot continue to have the present degree of rivalry between power agencies and hope to progress."

The governor said he is keeping a close watch on power bills which have been introduced "and I will comment to the Legislature at a later date on my exact position." Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City has submitted a bill proposing that the Unicameral consolidate all generating and transmission facilities under one district. This, he said, "is in the interest of all concerned and will create a unified grid system." The Western Division of Consumers Public Power District and the Omaha Public Power District would not be included in the one district plan.

Surprise Visits
Surprise visits by State Banking Department examiners will continue to be made, department director Ralph Misko said. His comment came after a small town banker declared such visits should not be made on the last day of the month. "What should we do?" Misko asked. "Should we have our examiners take a vacation at the end of every month?" Misko said the surprise visit was part of his new plan to check banks without prior warning. The plan was one result of the more than $550,000 shortage which turned up at the Gresham State Bank in October after an off-schedule visit by an examiner. Misko said, "we have a right to check a bank any time we desire."

Shift Meeting Sites
This month's meeting of the State Board of Education has been shifted to the campus of the Nebraska School for the Deaf at Omaha. The group usually meets in the Capitol. Dr. Floyd Miller, state commissioner of education, said the change was made to provide board members the opportunity to become better acquainted with the urgency of the building needs at the school. A bill has been proposed in the Legislature which would make available a special levy for a few years which would provide funds for a "crash" building program at the school.

combined North-South club holding is four. West has seven clubs. (3) West has three hearts, so 12 of his cards are accounted for. (4) West's 13th card has to be a diamond. (5) Therefore, East has four diamonds. South wins the lead of the club king with the ace and draws two rounds of trump. The ace of hearts is played and three hearts are trumped in South and two clubs are trumped in North. South knows at this time in the play of the hand that the bid is made. Nine tricks have been played. (The precise moment that South knows the contract is safe is when West has followed to three rounds of hearts and when East has failed to follow to the third round of clubs.) Declarer knows that East has nothing remaining except diamonds in his hand. The king of diamonds, then, must win the first diamond trick. (You cannot finesse through South because West's singleton diamond could be the queen.) The queen does not fall as the king wins. The 10 of diamonds must be led next. If East covers with the queen the battle is over. But when the 10 is led East does not cover with the queen, so South plays the 9. Declarer, because he has counted out the hand, knows he can safely play the 9, with West possessing no more diamonds. The 5 of diamonds is next led from North to give South the last two tricks with the jack and ace. If the 10 of diamonds is not led after the queen falls to drop on the first round of diamonds, declarer is set. He will be forced to win the second round in the South hand and he will no longer be able to pick up the queen of diamonds. East-West actual cards were: West, spades-Q8; Hearts-432; Diamonds, 7; Clubs-KQJ10652. East held, respectively, the J3; KQJ98; Q864; and 98.

The bid—7 spades, South plays the hand. Opening Lead—King of clubs. The East-West hands are purposely not shown today. West's opening lead is the king of clubs. You are given the following information about the East-West hands: East has the same number of spades as West. East has two clubs. West has three hearts. If you can accomplish the following with the above information you are, in all probability, a better than average Bridge player. (a) Make 7 spades without having to "guess" the location of any card held by opponents. (b) Know after winning the first 8 or 9 tricks that the bid is made, regardless of the location of opponents' remaining cards. (c) Name the card which must win the trick the first time diamonds are played. (d) Name the diamond which, in all probability, must be led after winning the first diamond trick. The ability to count out a hand is fundamental to becoming a really good Bridge player. The person who does not count the cards played in each of the four suits as play progresses in today's hand has little chance of fulfilling the contract. From the information given above it is not difficult to deduce: (1) West has two spades. (2) Since East has two clubs, and the a little more than our share for France already. De Gaulle should give a little thought to the fact that if it were not for America and the American might in men and arms there would be no France today. Sure I know that De Gaulle is a brave, brilliant man and that he has done quite a job for France, but for my money he gets the blue ribbon for having the best case of exaggerated ego complicated by delusions of grandeur that I have ever been my privilege to witness. What's the other thing that's "bugging" me? Well, it's that thirty to fifty billion dollar proposal to put a man on the moon. For what, pray tell?

Co. Agent's Column

The Food We Eat
Americans have changed their diets considerably since the last decade or so. Within 1950 the average American has made room on his plate for nearly half again as much chicken and turkey, and he's eaten a little more red meat, especially beef, now than we used to. To make room for extra hipings in these foods, we eat 16 per cent less eggs per person and 14 per cent less dairy products. Use of cereals and bakery goods continued to decline from 1950 to 1962 as has been the rule for some time. However, the downward trend for potatoes has been reversed, at least for now, as more and more busy housewives discover new prepared potato products. Our total intake of fruits and vegetables per capita is about the same as in the early 1950's. However, we now use less fresh fruit and more of the processed forms. New frozen and pre-cooked fruits and vegetables have encouraged the shift. Rising incomes are behind the changing chart. With a larger paycheck we buy more of some foods, less of others and end up eating about the same amount of food.

Mineral Requirements of Hogs
A total of 13 minerals are required for growth, maintenance and reproduction of hogs, a University of Nebraska researcher says, and "Mother Nature" provides only part of these through natural feedstuffs. "Some natural feed ingredients are pitifully deficient in minerals," explains Dr. E. J. Peo, Jr., University researcher specializing in swine nutrition. As an example, corn is extremely low in calcium. "In fact, seven of the 13 minerals must be supplied as mineral supplements to swine rations," he added. Dr. Peo emphasizes that it is extremely important to maintain the ratio of calcium to phosphorus at about one to one and further that calcium should not exceed eight percent in the ration.

Thinking OUT LOUD
Russell M. Dacken
First Baptist Church
How can I best describe the nature of the Christian's relationship with Jesus Christ? I have often searched for the answer to that question as I pondered what my own relationship to Christ should be. The question has plagued me as I struggled to explain the Christian life to a young Christian or a non-Christian friend. And then one day I realized that St. Paul used a relationship known to all of us to illustrate that other greater relationship. His illustration was marriage. As I thought over various aspects of my relationship with my wife, I began to understand much more clearly the essential nature of my Christian life. In marriage I committed myself—all that I am, my hopes, my successes, my future—to another person. And she in turn committed herself to me. Because of this mutual entrusting of ourselves to each other, a new kind of relationship was born that had never existed before. My marriage is not a knowledge of the marriage laws of my native state. It is not wearing a gold band on the third finger of my left hand. It is not the experience of ceremony in which a time-honored formula was repeated. The basic element of my marriage is an inter-personal relationship. It is out of this relationship that marriage laws are constructed; it is in testimony to this that I wear the gold wedding ring, the ceremony was only the occasion in which we publicly and formally committed ourselves to each other. As a Christian, I am related to a Person, Jesus Christ. I committed myself to Him as I was, my sins, my rebellion, my hopelessness, my weakness. And He learn committed Himself to me, becoming my Forgiveness, my Hope, my Strength. A new relationship was born that for me had never existed before. In fact, it goes far deeper than does marriage, for when He committed Himself to me He actually took up His residence in the core of my being. The Bible calls this "Christ in you." This is what being a Christian is. It is not knowing the Bible, correct doctrine and the plan of salvation; it is not confirmation or baptism; it is not activity in a church. Because I know the Person, I will learn all I can of Him from the Bible. I will give public testimony to my relationship with Him in baptism and church membership; I will relate myself to others who know Him in my community. The Christian's devotional life is too often made a matter of magic or law. Read a chapter of the Bible and you will be blessed. Pray to spend fifteen minutes in prayer and the day will prove fruitful. How far this is from the devotion of a communication that grows out of an "I Thou" knowledge of a Person! I read the Bible, for there I meet the One I know and love and so come to know and love Him more. I spend time in meditation and worship, not because it is a "good thing" or because it "makes me feel good," but rather because I enjoy letting my mind and heart, center in Him, in His beauty and perfection. I do not pray "a prayer." I talk over my needs and sins and problems and confusions and hopes, with Another who understands, and forgives, and solves. Unfortunately "Jesus Christ" is often merely a name that has little or no meaning in the actual experience of the one who claims to be a Christian. He is not a thing nor an idea nor a phrase in an impersonal plan of salvation. Jesus Christ is alive and is indeed the heart of Christianity. There can no more be Christianity apart from the Living Person, Jesus Christ, than there can be marriage apart from one's spouse. "And this is eternal life, that they know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ."

Sharpen Those Shears
Homemakers using these cold winter days to catch up on mending or start their spring sewing projects might save time if their tools are in good working condition. Sewing shears and scissors must be sharp if the sewing venture is to be a success. Only cloth should be cut with fine cutting tools. If they are used on heavy paper, cord or fingernails, they will quickly become dull. It is permissible to cut the fine tissue paper of a pattern when cutting out a garment. It is a good plan to oil the blades and hinges occasionally with a fine grade of oil such as sewing machine oil. Wipe away excess oil before cutting fabric. Cutting tools can be sharpened but be sure they are placed in competent hands for sharpening. In the case of pinking shears it is best to send them to the factory for sharpening and conditioning. Good quality of scissors of shears may seem expensive but they are an investment and if given proper care will give good returns in sewing performance for many years. Left-handed shears are available for left-handed people. They may be purchased by special order if your local notions dealer does not carry them in stock. The comfort and safety features they provide the left-handed person would make it a good investment. Correct Paintbrush An Aid Although there are many new tools for applying finishes, a brush is most commonly used. There's a great difference between brushes and wide range

Mrs. Davis suffered minor burns when her hair and housecoat caught fire. Housewives are urged to start saving their tin cans. E. E. Hysep purchased the Sandhill residence in Wakefield. The army plans to send 100 air cadets to Wayne March 1, and another 100 April 1, according to word received by Dr. J. T. Anderson. Mrs. J. H. of prices. A natural bristle holds with a fella he has come up with the new idea that's liable to shake up the preaching profession all the way back to Moses. He said he got this idea from listening to all them commercials on television. He allowed as how you don't sell nothing nowadays by talking about it, you just sing about it. He figures if you can sell refrigerators, soap and automobiles with singing he can sell religion the same way. He said he could just see his self now, walking up in the pulpit humming a little interlude to his sermon. Then when he got everybody's attention, a couple guitars and a bongo drum would get the congregation in the proper groove. And just as soon as the congregation got to patting their feet real good, he'd start singing his sermon. He told the fella he wasn't much of a singer but with this modern music it didn't make no difference, that most of it was just hollerin' set to music. And he reported he could holler real good. He figures his plan has got great promise for the preaching profession. He says folks ain't too interested in what a preacher has got to say if he tells 'em the truth, and if he tells 'em the truth they'll run him off. This singing approach would solve all that he claims. He wouldn't have to be saying nothing one way or the other, like politicians, so he could keep on winning friends and influencing people.

Uncle Zeke FROM Plum Creek DOGS
DEAR MISTER EDITOR: Sam's preacher come by the country store Saturday night.

And he told the fella he has got a trick up his sleeve in case the members get to nodding. Ever few minutes he's going to have all the folks sing along with him. In fact, he says he's thinking about calling part of his sermons, "Sing Along With Parson" and give it to 'em with the down beat and all the trimmings. And he reported that Lyle was on the rampage again Sunday. They was having the Men's Bible Class and Lyle ask to take the floor. The Parson said it was a mistake to give Lyle the floor, that from then on it was the Gospel according to Saint Lyle. It seems that Lyle was snorting about one of the schools has done away with a little prayer afore each ball game. He said he couldn't say nothing on account of Lyle would claim he was agin prayer, but he told the fella he was agin using prayer like perfume to sprinkle on everthing that come along. He claimed he had saw politicians open a rally with prayer and then go out and accuse their opponents of stealing sheep. The good Parson left a little early, said the Finance Committee was raffing off a steer and they had asked him to open the raffle with prayer. Yours truly, Uncle Zeke came from District 83. Beverly is in the fifth grade. We now have nine 5th graders.

We held our monthly meeting of our club, "Busy Beavers". The following were elected as officers for the second semester: Eddie Brogie, president; Linda Spitalnick vice president, and Diane Wachter, secretary. We answered roll call with "Our Favorite Poem." Our comprehensive study was "The Traits of a Mongoose." This report was given by Eddie Brogie. Eddie showed pictures of the mongoose.

At our meeting we opened our "Bad English Box" and were amazed at our mistakes. We are trying to overcome them as we realized we have formed the habit. Habits are not easy to overcome.

Committees were chosen for our Valentine Party. Refreshment committee: Douglas Siegert, Mardell and Michael Friend, Michael Behmer; Entertainment: Jon Behmer, Denise Puls, Susan Walker, Clean Up, Jean Mann and Eddie S.

Our experiments have proved valuable to us. The third grade units of sound provided many experiments. Our handmade telephone showed how sound travels. We will have a basketball game Friday at 2:30 with the grade school from Tilden.

The following have completed six book reports: Kirt Schellenberg, David Strate, Mardell Nielsen, Jean Mann, Jon Behmer.

The following were not absent for the last six weeks: Eddie Brogie, Stephen Falk, Kirt Schellenberg, Lynn Reber, Michael Friend, Douglas Siegert, Jean Mann, Denise Puls, Barry Kudara, Karmon Schellenberg, David Strate, Diane Wachter.

District No. 7
Henrietta Larson, teacher

Our club, Busy Bees, meets Thursday, every other week, from 10:40 until 11:15. Following the meeting the children stage various programs. The last time we had "Show and Tell." Some very interesting articles were brought by the children. Following are some of the items: Jan Johnson, grade 2, brought a 60 year old coin purse which was brought here from Austria. It was very soft brown leather and showed very little wear for its age. It did at one time have a strap by which it could be carried. In the little coin purse she had some foreign coins. Most of these were Australian and Japanese. Among the collection was a Japanese dog tag worn by Japanese army men. The man's name, in Japanese, was on it. Jan gave a very interesting explanation of these items.

Donna Johnson, grade 4, brought a compass used on the ship her father boarded during his army career. It contained water on which the needle floated. She also had a picture of this large ship. She showed us a picture of the winning team of a boat race, of which her father was a crew member.

Jaynie Hansen's Christmas gift, a lovely beaded black satin clutch purse, fairly took our breath away. It was made in Hong Kong and was given to Jaynie by her grandmother Brudigan. Jaynie is a 7th grader.

Gary Krusemark took a trip to Texas during Christmas. His uncle Harry gave him a xylophone. Gary played it for us. We enjoyed the tone of this different instrument. Gary often makes up his own music. He is a fourth grader.

Rae Ann Johnson, grade 6, brought an antique hand carved wooden spoon. It was carved by her great, great grandfather Ansten Odegaard while still living in Norway. The spoon is 200 years old. The Floyd Johnson's also have a hand carved wooden scoop. It, too, is 200 years old and shows signs of having scooped many a bushel of oats. Mr. Odegaard carved many wooden articles, among them a cuckoo clock which did not remain in the family.

Jack Hansen, a seventh grader, received from Santa a set of binoculars. We enjoyed viewing the scenery in the neighborhood through them as none of us had ever enjoyed this privilege before.

Marcia Krusemark, also having been to Texas, showed us a hand embossed genuine leather Mexican hand bag. She visited a Mexican Market where she purchased it at a reasonable price. She told us about the open market place where everything is out in an open-air space. These markets are not very clean as all bugs, dirt and germs can get on food and all produce. However it is a very interesting place in spite of the mixed odors of various merchandise.

Brenda Krusemark, also a Texas vacationer, showed us two fluffy white kittens and their mother. They were in a pretty wicker basket and served as a pretty decoration for Brenda's room. Brenda is a second grader. She told us about her trip to Texas, also.

Jaynie Hansen, grade 7, had the game "Password" to show us. This was quite a curiosity and we plan to play the game soon.

Gary Krusemark had a little car which he assembled and painted.

Robert McQuislan, Mrs. Larson and Roxanne Bird will bring items for the next meeting.

AK-SAR-BEN... one of Nebraska's largest taxpayers

In 1962, AK-SAR-BEN paid the state $598,242 in taxes from its racing meet. $78,318 was paid to the state racing commission for Nebraska's county fairs and every county fair shared in it. The balance went into the state's general fund to pay for highways, colleges and universities, agricultural research, state highway patrol, state hospitals and institutions and other governmental operations. Since racing was legalized, AK-SAR-BEN has paid to the state in taxes and license fees and in voluntary contributions for agricultural, educational, civic and charitable programs $6,042,169. Voluntary programs sponsored by AK-SAR-BEN — programs which otherwise would often have required tax funds — include thousands of scholarships covering every university and college in Nebraska... grants for county fair-grounds improvements... 4-H and FFA projects... 4-H leaders training institutes... hospital, fire and rescue equipment for many Nebraska communities... co-sponsorship of the annual school for training volunteer firemen... and many others. Yes — AK-SAR-BEN is one of Nebraska's largest tax payers. AK-SAR-BEN, a good citizen of Nebraska, invites other good citizens of Nebraska to join AK-SAR-BEN.

College Livestock Marketing Survey Proves:

OVERNIGHT STAND COSTS YOU OVER 50¢ PER CWT!

PER HEAD

Anytime you yield to the temptation to sell your livestock to the direct buyer, you run the risk of being "taken" to the tune of 50 CENTS PER CWT OR MORE on every single head! That's a pretty stiff statement... but, it's true. Look at the facts honestly! Regardless of the price you are offered in the country... or at the central public market... the dollars and cents that you receive depend entirely upon the actual weight of every animal at the time the buyer takes delivery! Whenever your price depends on an "overnight stand without feed and water", you're getting the short end of the deal.

Recent tests conducted by Morningside College showed that a "30-cent" price in the country with an overnight stand actually was equal to only "29.5 cents"! Test results proved conclusively that the drastic shrink occurring between the early evening hours and 6 A. M., costs the producer better than 50 CENTS PER CWT ON 30c CATTLE! Don't be misled by a country bid that looks the same as the central market price. Remember, the weighing conditions determine the actual value you receive for your livestock! Ship to your nearby central public market... where weighing conditions are in your favor. No buyer ever went to the country to pay more for your livestock!

"2272 ANIMALS SHRANK 41,842 LBS., OR AN AVERAGE LOSS OF 18 LBS. (1.69%) PER HEAD, DURING THE OVERNIGHT STAND!"

NEW Pre-Sterilized DISPOSABLE BABY BOTTLE!

Playtex Nurser

"The Nearest Approach to Breast Feeding"

- Dramatically Reduces Spitting Up and Colic
- No Bottles to Sterilize
- Means Healthier, Better Fed Baby

Unlike ordinary baby bottles, the soft disposable inner bottle of the Playtex Nurser uses outside air pressure to help baby withdraw formula as from mother's breast. No vacuum forms in the bottle—no collapsing of the nipple to cause exerted sucking and air swallowing. So baby takes in nourishing formula instead of "swallowed air" which can cause distress, crying, spitting up and colic. Tested and approved by doctors, nurses and mothers in over 2 million feedings.

Playtex Nurser Kit

CONTAINS
• 65 disposable bottles
• 6 bottle holders and caps
• 6 natural action nipples
