Budget, Space Usage Concern Normal Board

The State Normal Board met in Wayne Friday with most of the action centering around reports made and reports to be presented in the near future.

Kearney State College president Milton Hassel's report brought the most attention as he asked two important questions for his school.

First he asked to begin planning for a new residential hall. He said present dorms at Kearney are nearing their capacity. The board approved and referred the matter to the Building and Grounds committee.

Second, he asked to add to the Kearney curriculum a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in "industrial technology."

The board was favorable toward the project and referred it to the proper committee.

Said Normal Board chairman Henry Freed, "It seems such a program would be a great implementation to industry in Nebraska."

The board also approved a motion by A. D. Majors that the Board's Legislative Committee appear and go on record against a bill which would establish one over all board of education in the state.

Board members made it clear that their major concern over the bill was the general wording of it that did not establish a firm enough outline of such a board to be of general benefit.

The afternoon session dealt mostly with the preparation of reports on space utilization at the State Colleges along with budgets to be presented to the state legislature.

A sizable share of the foundation's income has been and will be turned over to the college's student defense loan fund, as matching money for federal grants.

In addition, the foundation announced several specific scholarships and grants to be awarded. They are:

$100 to the graduating senior this year who has been "of greatest service to the college" (this award will be announced at the August graduation).

$300 scholarship for the 1963-64 year to the Wayne underclassman with the highest grade average this year.

$300 scholarship for 1963-64 to the 1963 high school graduate who makes the highest grade on the ACT test and ranks in the top 10 percent of his class.

$300 grant for a research project by a Wayne State faculty member.

$1,000 bank deposit to initiate an endowment-reserve fund for the foundation.

$3,000 in matching funds for National Defense Education Act grants.

Peterson had this compliment for foundation donors: "This response from friends of Wayne State has been deeply gratifying to me and my fellow foundation trustees. Students, alumni, staff and former staff, the Wayne business and professional community are demonstrating their belief in the college. The task is not finished. Support of Wayne State and all higher education is a never ending challenge."

The $14,161 in gifts has come in rapidly during recent months. Last October, when the foundation was only a year old, the gifts totaled about $6,000.

Extension Agents Meet

The sub-district Program Planning meeting for Northeast Nebraska Extension Agents will be held at the city hall Thursday at 9:30 a.m. The state extension staff is in charge of the program.

Expansion Plans Should Provide Needed Heating

One of the most important aspects in home expansion is extra heating. According to the National Better Heating-Cooling Council, over 90 per cent of all home expansion projects require some kind of heating work.

To heat a new room with your present heating system, you must first determine whether your heating plant is large enough to take on the extra heating load. Next, if the heating plant is large enough, you must find out if the heating system's piping or duct work can be extended to the new room without expensive alterations to the heating system or major structural changes in the house.

A reliable heating contractor should be called in to check your heating system and to investigate the heating requirements of the new room. He is the only one qualified to advise you about the proper and most economical method of heating your new room.

Chances are that you'll have fewer problems heating the new room if you now have a hydronic (hot water) heating system. Such plants are frequently installed with sufficient additional capacity to take on the extra heating load of a new room.

Moreover, this type of system uses finger-thin piping, or tubing, which is easily extended to the new room without ripping apart existing walls. Only a few small holes need to be drilled so tubing can be "snaked" through stud and joist spaces.

If you find that your heating system is not expandable, an individual room heater may be installed if you want to heat a small room. But be careful in your selection, because room heaters are not always economical to operate. Moreover, heat is usually concentrated in one spot around the heater.

To heat larger rooms or a wing, a miniature hydronic system, using a small space-saving hydronic heating plant, is ideal. A small, silent pump is used to convey heated water from the boiler through finger-size tubing to hydronic base-board heating units.

This type of system is easily installed and will provide a high standard of comfort at a relatively low operating cost. Also, it will provide zoned heating since a separate thermostat can be used to control temperature in the new room apart from the rest of the house.

electric living. Wiring in these homes must conform to the American Standard Requirements for Residential Wiring, which are an excellent guide for the adequate wiring of older homes, too.

One requirement for adequate wiring is a 100 ampere electric service entrance. In older homes this would replace the 30 or 60 with which most of them originally were equipped.

Another feature of an adequately wired home is the generous use of branch circuits. These include general-purpose circuits for lights, radios and the like; small appliance circuits for electric housewares such as toasters, waffle irons and broilers, and heavy-duty circuits to serve single major electric appliances, such as electric ranges.

Full housepower wiring also calls for electric outlets located so that no point along the floor line in any usable wall space is more than six feet from an outlet. In the kitchen, one outlet for every four feet of counter-space is required.

These continuous outlet strips provide electrical outlets so placed that they will always be available. In general, a multi-outlet system consists of a metal channel with outlets located at predetermined intervals, from 1 x inches to five feet, along a continuous strip.

Your electrical contractor can install multi-outlet strips in such places as above kitchen counters, behind the bed in bedrooms, along the dining room chair rail, on work benches, and in place of wood baseboard, or above it, in any room.

Multi-outlet systems are available in a variety of sizes and outlet spacings to meet individual requirements.

More "Housepower" Needed In Most Homes

To keep pace with modern electric living, wiring in four out of every five homes needs upgrading. With twice as many electric appliances and much more lighting than they originally had, most homes 15 or more years old are limping along with wiring virtually unchanged since the house was built.

The result is that when appliances go on, lights often flicker or dim, the TV picture shrinks or winks, radios fade and fuses blow. Other symptoms of outdated wiring include "octopus connections" in outlets and extension cords strung around rooms.

In an adequately wired house, a family can take full advantage of the electric appliances it contains, conveniently, safely and with assurance that there is sufficient power to permit them to operate at peak performance.

For example, full house-power wiring permits the use of an increasingly popular appliance, the room air conditioner, without the need for additional wiring.

This is the kind of wiring always found in Gold Medalion Homes, which are all-electric homes designed around the concept of modern electric living.

Old Bedframe Use

Top a discarded bedframe with a few 4" boards, and it makes a great off-the-floor storage platform for screens, storm windows, fireplace logs or bags of fertilizer, cement, etc.

Wood Floor Tip

Scrubbing with soap and water will ruin the appearance of wood floors; in time may cause serious warping and discoloration. Modern floor cleaners have a solvent base which does not harm wood.

What Paint to Use And Where to Use It

Here's a quick run-down on the proper paint to use for any interior surface you may be beautifying:

Plaster walls and ceilings—any high quality interior flat paint, oil, alkyl or latex paint. For bathrooms and kitchens, use semi-gloss or gloss enamel paint for greater washability.

Wallboard—seal with primer sealer and then follow with any high quality wall paint.

Hardboard—seal with latex paint, primer sealer, shellac or enamel undercoat. Use any desired topcoat.

Plywood—for an opaque top coat, seal with penetrating resin sealer, flat oil or alkyl paint or enamel undercoat. When dry, apply a second coat. For a natural finish which shows the grain, use a clear penetrating resin sealer, followed by varnish.

Woodwork—semi-gloss enamel in same color as walls. Wall gloss is often used in kitchens and bathrooms.

Demagnetize Tools

To demagnetize a screw-driver or other small tool, pass its blade between the two heating elements, or poles, of a pistol-type soldering gun while the current is on.

MR. FARMER

Ease the Squeeze!

With higher costs of production and lousy market prices, the farmer has one financial way out—FERTILIZER!

According to recent studies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, fertilizer is the major item which has not skyrocketed in price. Fertilizer has remained consistently cheaper, meanwhile producing greater returns all the time.

Now is a good time to give that alfalfa and oats ground nitrogen. You will reap heavier yields plus higher protein content.

Now is also a good time to plan your fertilizer needs. Remember, Sherry's think it's wise to SOIL TEST. Then we can make up a blend of fertilizers which your land needs. Makes sense, doesn't it? Ease the squeeze—FERTILIZE!

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, at a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Associated Industries Film Gets Legislators Approval

A presentation, distributed under the auspices of the Nebraska State Chamber of Commerce and the Associated Industries of Nebraska, has occupied much of the news spotlight at the Capitol in recent days.

Since the presentation was so much in the news and came in for criticism on the legislative floor by Sen. Fern Orme, Lincoln, it was suggested by another Lincoln lawmaker, Sen. Marvin E. Stromer, that the legislators ought to take a look at the film.

get the highest salary of any elected state official. The committee also recommended a wide variety of other salary increases. They propose raising the state engineer from $13,500 to $17,000; Supreme Court judges from $13,000 to $17,000; and District Court judges from $11,000 to $15,000.

Brandt said even if the judges' salaries are implemented fully Nebraska will still be below the national average of $16,000 for district judges and $19,000 for Supreme Court justices.

Civil Rights

For the first time in history, a committee of the Nebraska Legislature has advanced to the legislative floor two civil rights bills.

One would seek to establish a fair employment practices act banning job discrimination because of race, religion, national origin or ancestry.

Meat Resolution

The Legislature has voted 20 to 11 for a resolution calling for an investigation into the prices of meat animals on the hoof and meat cuts in grocery stores.

(Note: So much has been said and published relative to the closing of the Armour plant at Sioux City that I was prompted to write the following article. I sincerely hope that you will not feel that I am getting into advertising channels, but rather that this is a logical explanation of the position in which the Sioux City market finds itself after this announcement by Armour and Company.)

Several of the senators maintained that Nebraska should not get involved since the problem concerns many other states and therefore the federal government should make the investigation.

The Legislature's salaries and claims committee has recommended that the pay of the governor be hiked from $14,000 to $18,000.

Sen. William Brandt, chairman of the committee, said it was the group's conviction that the state's chief executive should proposing a statewide Sunday closing law is unconstitutional. In a formal opinion, the attorney general said, "this office will not say that an act is unconstitutional unless it is clearly so."

Sen. Carpenter requested the opinion, Meyer said, "our courts have interpreted Sunday closing laws in such a way that Legislators have an extremely broad latitude in designing this type of statute."

Air Brief Filed

The Air Transport Association of America has filed a brief in the Nebraska Supreme Court in the controversial Frontier Airlines Segment 13 case.

The brief alleges the Nebraska Railway Commission's order denying the air carrier's application to eliminate its northern route "may be unconstitutional taking of Frontier's property."

Oral arguments in the case were heard Monday (April 1) by the Supreme Court.

The Frontier is trying to reverse the Railway Commission ruling, contending a Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) ruling permitting the suspension of the route took precedence over the Railway Commission's decision.

Segment 13 covers flights over Frontier's northern route from Omaha to Casper, Wyo., and includes service to Lincoln, Columbus, Norfolk, Ainsworth, Valentine and Chadron.

The brief argued that the commission ruling "would end the exclusive federal regulation of intrastate elements of local feeder individual and disjointed state efforts."

toward effects. However, these will be largely psychological and will come early in the period after the shut down and will be occasioned by the fact that many shippers will not realize that the competition potential that will be left at Sioux City. First off, Armour & Company will maintain a staff of buyers at Sioux City and will maintain a smaller plant. Now, let's take a look at the rest of the competition. This local packers left, Raskin, Sioux City Dressed Beef, Sioux City Dressed Pork, Meyer Packing Company and Meats the Taste.

In addition to these "on the market packers" and "off market packers" whom we have mentioned, we have other buyers who purchase a very large volume of livestock for principals located in over 150 cities in the United States.

The fact is that we will have more buying power left at Sioux City on June 15, 1963 than we had in total buying power at Sioux City twelve years ago. (June 15, 1951)

Now, we aren't going to sit still and not try to improve our present situation. We have all the confidence in the world that the Sioux City Market is big enough and important enough to attract additional packer facilities. What we do want to stress though is that even now, we can furnish any shipper the same kind of strongly competitive market that has been prevalent through the years at Sioux City.

The loss of one facility isn't grounds for selling the Sioux City market short.

The brief alleges the Nebraska Railway Commission's order denying the air carrier's application to eliminate its northern route "may be unconstitutional taking of Frontier's property."

The brief argued that the commission ruling "would end the exclusive federal regulation of intrastate elements of local feeder individual and disjointed state efforts."

Extension Notes

Spring Fabrics
All-cotton stretch fabrics continue to gain favor with consumers this season. They offer qualities of comfort, neat appearance

People who are inclined to burn roadsides and fence lines could achieve more overall beneficial results by spending the time reading a book or going fishing.

These are the same areas which present the irremediable urge to "clean up" by burning. Countless pheasant nests are destroyed each year by burning thickets choked with tumble weeds or heavy grass, without any beneficial result, Wieggers states.

Walter Steinkamp, pastor, Wesleyan Methodist Church through some old books in the church library, hoping to find something that would spur my thinking. Scanning through my pages, I ran across an old penny post card which brought back some memories. I realize many today cannot understand that one could send a message across our county for only one little copper. There was nothing from its message, the sender or receiver that was of interest to me, only its date of postmark, May 8, 1895. Then I realized a and ease of care and application. Especially is this true in children's garments.

Denim—both real and simulated—is still a favorite with the sandbox set because of its versatility nature and desirable quality. Whether it's a shirt on the range as a cowgirl shirt and pants, or dressed up into a low-waisted shift, denim scores an 'A' with any little girl.

For years we have seen trade-marks on fabrics bearing label "Sanforized." It meant that the fabric shrinkage would not exceed one per cent as shown by tests checked and approved by the trademark owner.

A newer term "Sanforized Plus" is used on wash-and-wear fabrics today. Sanforized-plus labeled fabrics have met rigid test requirements for smoothness after creasing, crease resistance, shrinkage, tensile strength and tear strength. The standards of performance have been established by a division of Cluett, Peabody & Co., Inc.

Being fully persuaded we are living in a different day, a costly day, brings to mind what the future holds. However, the future is as bright as day, if you know the God that holds the future. As the Word of God states, "That day is nearer than when you first believed."

With Palm Sunday, Good Friday, and Easter before us, we should realize what it meant to the Lord Jesus to give His life a ransom for many. This one who was so just and good, called the Holy One of God, was unwanted. His truth was undesired. His message they couldn't hear. Yet, the common people heard Him gladly. The sick, lame and blind sought Him, and many became His followers. He didn't disappoint them.

To this weary world today, Jesus Christ is the answer, for we find in Hebrews 13:8, "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and for ever." A song writer wrote, "He cannot fail, for He is God." The days that He suffered shall never be again, for He suffered once for us all. Jesus Christ said He did all those things that pleased the Father. We also read it pleased the Father to bring Him salvation.

Salvation of the soul is a costly thing as it took the precious jewel of heaven to redeem lost men. No greater price can ever be paid, no other sacrifice will be given, no other atonement will be made. All of the virtue of His life, He bestowed upon His followers. The wisdom of the Father, He made accessible. He said, "Ask, and ye shall receive."

What the people of this day think to do, is to return unto the fourth commandment, God said, "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy." We need to be in the Lord's house on the Lord's day with the Lord's people. The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath. The appalling sin of not keeping the Sabbath day holy needs to be billboarded until all people are aware of its magnitude. This cancerous situation is eating the moral fiber of the Church. Everyone who is not a regular Sabbath observer casts a silent vote to close the Church of his choice. What is the cost of robbing God of His holy day? Does He make all sorts of allowances to satisfy our notions and puny ideas?

It shall pay to remember the day that God hath blessed. The Lord's Day is an ancient institution which God gave to Adam and Eve to care for their bodies and spirits. It shall be so with every reader if you begin to practice God's commandments by following His teachings. You shall profit by doing so. Your friends, your pastor and your families will be glad when you become a regular Lord's day observer.

Thinking OUT LOUD

Walter Steinkamp, pastor, Wesleyan Methodist Church through some old books in the church library, hoping to find something that would spur my thinking. Scanning through my pages, I ran across an old penny post card which brought back some memories. I realize many today cannot understand that one could send a message across our county for only one little copper. There was nothing from its message, the sender or receiver that was of interest to me, only its date of postmark, May 8, 1895. Then I realized a

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: Ole Patrick Henry told some of our ancestors if he couldn't get liberty to give him death. I was just setting here reading the papers and studying my latest literature from the Department of Agriculture and wondering if ole Patrick could stand the kind of liberty we got now.

Fer instanz, this Washington column writer says national, state and local taxes will take 34 cent of every dollar earned by the American people in 1963. In 1929, he says, these taxes was taking 11 cent.

This column writer claims taxes has got so high now he has given rise to a brand new profession in this country, the "tax avoidance" experts. He allows as how a field of experts as big as the legal profession has sprung up that don't do nothing but specialize in finding legal loop holes for avoiding taxes. He told about one big manufacturer that hires six of these tax avoidance boys full time. The manufacturer explained that it pays better, after you reach a certain point, to find ways of getting out of taxes than it does to earn more income for the company.

And I ain't got much faith in this campaign they got going now to cut taxes. What they take off here they'll put on there, and by 1964 the tax take will be up another 100 per cent with the dollar. I agree 200 per cent with that. Now car bumper sticker they say is going around the country: "A Vote For Taxes Is A Vote For More Taxes" And they has a couple disturbing items in my digest from the Department of Agriculture this week. First off they was a small item announcing that the price of elephants has doubled since 1952 and was climbing all the time. When that item gets in the newspapers and folks start hoarding elephants things will get pretty crowded. But the most serious item was about some science fellows at the University of Wisconsin hitting on a discovery in wheat culture that might produce 100 to 150 bushels to the acre. About the best you can get now is 40 to 50 bushel. We already got Government wheat stored from Alcatraz to the Statue of Liberty and if the yield gets up to 150 bushel a acre it could cause a national panic. It looks like them science fellows would spend their time working on the necessary items, somepun like gasoline that'll give 150 miles to the gallon, or a woman's hat that would last from Christmas plum through Easter. But like Frank Lincoln Roosevelt said, abundance is our biggest asset, and I reckon that includes taxes and wheat! Yours truly, Uncle Zere

Electronic Listening System For Shorthand Students

The business department has recently completed the installation of an electronic listening system for shorthand and typing students. Each student has a headset to listen to pre-recorded tapes of practice material. While the recorder keeps the students busy, the instructor is able to assist individuals by analyzing errors in theory and English fundamentals.

It provides variety in the continual practice necessary to learn typing and shorthand, and the headsets help to eliminate outside noise. Students can give their complete attention to the work at hand.

Mr. Munson, shorthand instructor, and Mr. Swanson of Swanson TV and Radio planned and built the listening stations.

This Week, FHA Week

Since this week is FHA week, a complete schedule has been planned by the club. Sunday, the girls attended one church in a group. Monday, they wore their colors—red and white. Tuesday, a bouquet of red roses was placed in the library. Wednesday, publicity about FHA will be emphasized. Thursday there will be a meeting with a guest speaker. Friday, the girls plan to dress up, as they do for their meetings, and Saturday, April 6 is the date of the state convention in Lincoln.

Future Homemakers are home economics students in junior and senior high schools. In their chapter activities, they work toward the overall goal of helping individuals improve personal family and community living. "These experiences," Mrs.

Chambers, FHA advisor, said, "prepare FHA members to cope with modern life's complex demands on homemakers, many of whom have jobs outside the home in addition to family responsibilities."

The FHA chapter at Wayne High School has 39 members.

Civil Service Tests To Senior Students

Last Wednesday, 21 senior business students took the clerk-typist of the stenographer Civil Service examinations. The Civil Service examiner from Norfolk administered the test to 20 students in the clerk-typist division and to Joann Baudmeister in the stenographer division.

The clerk-typist test lasted two hours and consisted of a verbal abilities test, a clerical aptitude test, and a typing exercise. The stenographer test lasted three hours and included a shorthand exercise plus the tests for the clerk-typist.

The students, who rated high in these tests will be eligible for Civil Service positions when openings arise. Students who took the clerk-typist test were Arlysis Bronzynski, Eileen Cunningham, Sharon Hammer, Virginia Harder, Don Helgren, Roger Hochstein, Karen Jensen, David Lutz, Tom Mau, Don Meyer, Randy Milnes, Sandy Nelson, Karen Oetken, Jim Pryor, Judy Ream, Dennis Schmitz, Cindy Sommerfield, Marilyn Stringer, Gene Thompson, Jim Wacker and John Williams.

Mr. Ihm Finalist For Biology Award

William Ihm, Wayne High Biology teacher, has been informed that he has been selected as one of the three finalists in the competition for the Outstanding Nebraska Biology Teacher Award.

Mr. Ihm received a letter from Merle E. Books of the University of Omaha, state chairman of the selection committee, advising him of the honor. The Winner of the award will be announced April 25.

de Freese to All-State

"The Harbinger" last week announced that Nancy de Freese had been awarded a scholarship to the Fine Arts Festival. Her scholarship is not for the Fine Arts Festival; the scholarship is a full-tuition scholarship for the 3-week All-State High School course to be held at the University of Nebraska, June 11-29.

Juniors Participate In Co. Government

Ten Wayne high juniors attended County Government Day, Thursday, March 21. They were elected to their offices by the student body.

They were dismissed from school at 9:30 and went to the courthouse to register. Jean Eynon, Jerry Granquist and Jim Kern started work immediately. Jean typed the identification cards and Jim and Jerry filled out the certificates of election. During the morning the juniors witnessed a divorce trial, saw a movie, "Nebraska Land, Gateway to the West," took an oath of office, and ate dinner at the city hall. In the afternoon they went to their offices. Some of the students actually helped with the work in the offices while others only looked on. Before they were dismissed, they saw a second movie, "Mayflower Compact."

The Wayne juniors who attended were Jerry Granquist, county clerk; Marge Haase, clerk of district court; Cecelia Haberer, county treasurer; Nancy de Freese, county commissioner; Jim Kern, county sheriff; Sharon Phillips, county assessor; Janice Hartman, county extension agent; Jean Eynon, home extension agent; Mary Wert, assistance director; Doug Harrison, service officer; Sandra Nelson, probation officer; Jim Mau, county attorney; Phil Rees, county Judge, and Penny Wiltmer, county superintendent. Juniors from Winslow were also present.

Junior FHA Entertains

The seventh grade FHA members entertained 29 other members of the junior high FHA at a tea Thursday after school.

Karen Doss and Sandy Strong were hostesses. Linda Doring served punch. Other class members prepared trays and supplied the tables.

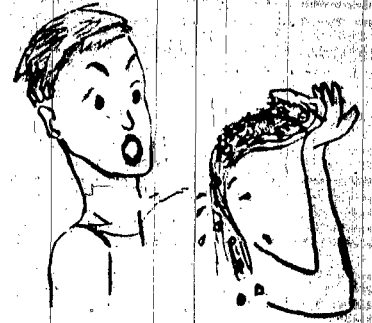

The table was decorated with a centerpiece of daffodils flanked by white candles. Pastel napkins and mints in spring colors completed the table setting. The girls served a variety of open-face sandwiches which they had made as a class project.

WHS Choir to Sing At Dana College

The Wayne High choir will give a concert at Dana College, Blair, Neb., Saturday, April 6, at the college auditorium.

The choir plans to charter buses and leave Wayne at 4 p.m. in order to be there for a 7:30 performance. Songs they will sing will be selections of modern religious music and the work for double chorus, "The Peaceable Kingdom." Mr. Jenkins will direct them.

Students Go for Goopy Pizza

What is it that makes teenagers like that goopy, sticky, gloppy pizza? Well, whatever it is, it's effective.

Usually, the cooks prepare pizza on Fridays. Word gets around to everyone if pizza is on the menu. You can imagine the stampede to the cafeteria. The only thing that enters the minds of the starved students is, "Gotta hurry and eat so I can get seconds." There's usually a line for seconds formed before the slow ones get "firsties."

starved kid, who has waited in the "seconds" line three-fourths of the lunch period, trying to get a meager chunk of the lumpy, hamburger, "cheesy hunk of delight," finally reach the serving counter only to discover there's none left. It's also pitiful to see someone try to eat pizza. The procedure is short and sweet: sit down, grab pizza, raise pizza to mouth, watch pizza bend in half before reaching mouth. Result: hamburger, tomato sauce, and cheese on top. It's all so heavenly—and fattening.

It's really pitiful to see a really

First National Bank Notes

There was an old lady who lived in a shoe, but this proved to be impractical.

What about those papers you'd hate to have burned or stolen?

They are in a safe deposit box at the First National Bank you have a feeling of security.

But, what about those that might be in that bureau drawer? Can you feel relaxed about that?

Maybe it's like the guy said: "If you're relaxed, you don't know what it's all about." Let's get them safe soon.

Try praising your wife even though it might frighten her at first.

This is also the time of year when out-of-town, fly-by-night home improvement salesmen of all kinds descend on our householders and pressure them into buying package improvement jobs.

Let us beware of these fellows, the majority of whom are out to make a fast buck. With these out-of-towners, if a sloppy job results—just try to get an adjustment.

If it's such a small world, why does it take so much of our tax money to run it?

FHA Girls to Attend State Convention

Monday evening, March 25, the Wayne FHA chapter received recognition from the state FHA organization by being granted a charter. Each member will receive a membership card.

The girls are planning a trip to Omaha to the "Camerama" April 29. The profit from the "Favorite Recipe" cookbooks will pay for the tickets. The girls who have sold the greatest number of books so far are Jean Bauermeister and Virginia Harder.

Plans were made to attend the State convention in Lincoln, Saturday, April 6. Wayne will send four delegates—Joann Bauermeister, Virgene Dunklau, Renee Eulberg and Virginia Harder. The alternate delegate is Diane Rauss. Mrs. Chambers and the girls will leave Friday night for the convention. All delegates and sponsors will stay on the Agricultural campus. The home chapters will pay the expenses of their delegates. A spokesman from each chapter will speak on the activities of his club: Virgene Dunklau will speak for Wayne.

Refreshments at the close of the meeting were served by Diane Rauss, Betty Harrison, Verna Mae Hansen and Cinda Sommerfeld.

career. He has lettered in each sport.

The guest speaker for the banquet was Ralph Beechner from Lincoln High. He stressed the fact that no sport is minor if "you" are in it, giving to it all you are worth. He spoke to the parents saying how much time sports take from their sons but telling how the dividends and rewards are high.

Mr. Beechner, a well traveled speaker, has seen Olympic games in Tokyo, Japan. He said he stood at attention when the Russian National Anthem was played to honor a gold medal Russian runner; but he was the proudest man in the stadium when the American Olympic stars won first, second and third places in a single event and the "Star Spangled Banner" echoed to every wall.

He closed his speech by saying, "We are born with two ends. One we have on our shoulders and the other we sit on. Every athlete can be only as good as his tries, strives and works to be. Use heads to win; tails to lose."

Deviled Eggs

By the Staff

There has been a question as to whether Wayne should install a tennis and basketball court near the swimming pool. This is a $10,000 project so there must be evidence that it is needed before it is decided on.

The student council conducted a poll among the high school students to determine how many would actually make use of these recreational facilities. The vote resulted in a majority of "Yes's." There were 355 who were for it and 78 against.

This reflects the students' point of view. If all of the students who voted "Yes" would utilize it, the project would definitely be time and money well spent.

Forty million dollars—more than the total expenditures of the U. S. Government during George Washington's Administration; eighteen times the recent selling price of a Rembrandt original. It is also the cost of "Cleopatra," the most expensive movie ever made.

If Cleopatra, herself, knew a film about her would cost that much, she would have died with a mighty wide smile and dollar signs in her eyes.

After the Supreme Court ruling, the principal of one elementary school had the praying mantis removed from the sixth-grade insect display.—The Saturday Review

ONE OF THE WINNERS IN THE Cub Scout Kite Derby, Mark Wiltse, shows his winning technique. The race was the 50 yard dash where the boys let out their kites to 50 yards and the winner was the boy who brought his back the fastest. Mark took the event as he is shown here reeling in the last few feet of string. Watching are Dean Pierson, Charles Kudrna and hidden by the kite, Mark's father, Rowan.

Music Department

Busy Preparing For Music Contest

The instrumental division of the music department is hard at work preparing for district music contest, April 25-27.

The band will play "American Salute" by Gould and "Divertimento" by Persichetti. The orchestra is preparing "March Militaire Francaise" by Saint-Saens and "Nocturne" by Mendelssohn.

The ensembles practicing for contest are the brass sextet, woodwind quintet, horn quartet, clarinet quartet, trombone quartet, and woodwind trio. The instrumental soloists are Jack Schrieber, baritone; Judy Simmer, bassoon; Nancy de Freese, flute; Marilyn Nuernberger, oboe; Debbie Wightman, clarinet; and Steve Simmer, trumpet.

Only 24 entries per school are permitted to go to contest. Twelve entries will go from the instrumental department and twelve from the vocal department. Out of the 14 listed above, 12 will be chosen. Vocal entries will be announced next week.

WHS Sextet Performs For Teachers' Meeting

The brass sextet and a vocal soloist performed for the Wayne County Teachers Association at the Wayne Elementary school Thursday, March 21. John Barr, the soloist, sang "They called the Wind Maria."

Members of the sextet are Jayne Hughes, first trumpet; Sandra Olds, French horn; Lauren Bokenhauer, trombone; Jim Mau, tuba; Jack Schrieber, baritone. They played "Pizza Party."

Students Suffering From Spring Fever

"Spring is sprung, the grass is riz;

I wonder where the flowers is." Yes, it's that time of year again, this time a little earlier than the past few years. The number of basketballs being used is becoming fewer and fewer, and the old, familiar thud of horsehide hitting the gloves is once again heard.

Less is being said about Cincinnati, Loyola, and Duke, and more is heard about L. A., San Francisco, and New York. The sporting magazines are losing the tendency to run a picture of "Wilt the Stilt" and are moving to covers with "Stan the Man." Our national pastime is starting to take over again and will stay until October.

These are all signs of Spring; but perhaps the biggest sign comes from the attitude of the students and teachers. When the sun is out, a larger percentage are yawning than are heartily studying.

So, beware, the fever is here and spreading. Those far-away places will wait nine weeks, but few assignments will.

First Blue Devils Relays To Be Held at Stadium

April 5 will be the date of something new in track meets in Nebraska. The first annual Blue Devils Relays, sponsored by Wayne High and the Wayne businessmen, will be held at the WSCF stadium on that day.

Director of the meet is Gordon Zapp, Wayne High track and football coach. Mr. Zapp says the meet will be made up of relay events for Class B and C schools only. The classification of schools will be in accordance with the Nebraska High School Activities Association's classifications.

It was felt that by adding two "feature events"—one field and one track event—the meet would take on a little added color. These two events will be varied from year to year. There will be no class distinction in the feature events. However, the seven relays—440, 880, mile medley, sprint medley, mile, two mile, and shuttle hurdle—will be run in both classes. The feature event from the field will be the shot put. Each school will be limited to one entry. The feature event from the track this year will be the 100-yard dash. Each school will be limited to one entry in this event, also. Points scored in these events will not be applied toward team championship.

The Blue Devils Relays will offer some of the most attractive awards of any meet in the State of Nebraska. The winning relay teams in each class will receive a 17-inch trophy, and the contestants of the winning team will receive an antique bronze medal. The members of the teams which place 2-3-4-5 will receive ribbons.

There will be two 28-inch trophies for the teams winning the meet championships in their respective classes. Medals will be given the participants placing 1-2-3-4-5 in the two feature events. A total of over

Band Students Begin School Day Early

"Okay band, one-two-three go!" Words like these are heard each morning as Mr. Scumacher instructs the concert band. The band practices each weekday morning between 8 and 8:45.

Students who enter the school building while the band is practicing find that the musical strains provide an excellent way to begin the day. But soon the 8:45 bell rings and the music ceases. Instead of the soothing sounds of the instruments, one hears the banging and slamming of locker doors and the chatter of the band students as they pass to their classes. Band is over for the day!

$300 worth of medals, ribbons, and trophies will be given. The team championship will be determined on an 8-4-2-1 basis. This has the official sanction of the NHSAA.

The purpose of the meet is to give Class B and C High Schools in the area an opportunity to compete against each other and to promote competition in the sport of track. About 35 schools are expected to be represented at the meet.

Questions and answers concerning different events in the meet:

Question: What is the 480-yard shuttle hurdle (high) relay and how will it be conducted?

Answer: Runner No. 1 will run 120 yards, jumping ten hurdles, and will touch Runner No. 2 on the shoulder. No. 2 will run the opposite direction the same distance, and jump the same number of hurdles and touch Runner No. 3 on the shoulder. No. 3 will cover the same course as No. 1 and will touch Runner No. 4. No. 4 will cover the same course as No. 2 to the finish line. It is necessary that the runners finishing their leg in the relay touch the next runner's shoulder in the "heel" position before the runner moves out. Judges will hold the heels of the runners until the boys are touched on the shoulder by the runner finishing his leg of the race.

Question: What is the sprint medley relay?

Answer: The total distance will be 880 yards. Runner one will run 220 yards. Runners two and three will each run 110 yards. The race will be anchored by the fourth man running a 440.

Question: How will the mile medley relay be run?

Answer: The first runner will run 440 yards. The second and third runners will run 220 yards each and the race is anchored by the fourth man running 880 yards.
