SCS Office Trees Planted

Tree planting has kept the Soil Conservation Service technicians busy the past few weeks with approximately 35,000 trees planted on 75 cooperators' farms this spring.

About half of these were of the evergreen variety, according to Arnold Marr, Wayne County SCS director. He said survival on several of the plantings has been checked and looked very good.

"We still encourage cooperators to fallow for best results in establishing a windbreak," said Marr.

The SCS has transferred Frank Lansing to Wayne on a part-time basis as a technician. He was one of the early technicians located in Wayne when the Wayne County Soil Conservation District first began operation.

Martin Wither, Wayne, and Dale Klug, Hoskins, are having erosion control dams surveyed this week for construction in the near future. The spring growing season is an ideal time to construct dams because of the availability of contractors and technicians have more time to complete these surveys.

This week, May 19-26 is National Soil Stewardship Week, said Marr, and the Wayne County Soil and Water Conservation District has distributed Soil Stewardship material to many of the churches in the county for the occasion.

"Outmanned" Verdict As Washburn Whomps Wildcat Nine 13-0

We were just outmanned. Such was Coach John Jermolow's comment after Wayne State's 13-0 victory over Washburn, 13-0, in the regional playoffs. The regional playoffs will start Wednesday.

Wayne's 13-0 win was the largest of the season. In the second game, Washburn led 12-0 in the third game, Washburn won 12-0.

Wayne's 13-0 win was the largest of the season. In the second game, Washburn led 12-0 in the third game, Washburn won 12-0.

shared by Kearney and Peru. Ron Anderson topped batting averages with .500, though he played only in the first two games before a knee injury. Among the regulars, Duane Wehrer's .348 ranked best, followed by John Beck's .340 and Tom Morrison's .333. Also hitting over .300 were Ron Sadler at .322 and Ralph Quinn at .310.

DeBahr posted the best pitching record on wins and losses, 4-1, hurling 37 1/3 innings, the most of any pitcher. His earned run average was 1.69. He allowed 38 hits, 21 runs, nine earned runs, nine walks, and he struck out 38.

Larry Faust chalked up a fine record of allowing no runs in 15 1/3 innings as a reliever in seven games. He gave up six hits, fanned 13, issued seven walks.

Other pitching records: Krommingshoek, 3-3; Gnapp, 2-2; Terry Horschler, 1-1; Ken Hutchinson, 1-2.

"Cat Thinclads Third In Kearney NCC Meet

Wayne State posted a third place finish in the Nebraska College Conference track meet last week at Kearney for its best position in several years.

Though the Wildcats were only one event—Bill Nelson's 13-5 mile vault—they picked up enough over places to garner 32 points, outdistancing Hastings by 29. As expected, Kearney rolled up a big winning margin, 135 points, nearly a double the 70 of Doane. Peru earned 4 points, Chadron 2.

It was an exceptionally fast meet in track events. For example: Wayne's Darrell Reifenhoch ran a 9.7 100-yard dash and a 21.9 220, yet placed third in both. His 220 time, clocked officially, tied the Wayne school record set by Ralph Andrews in 1937.

The 220 winner, Clinton Skinner of Doane, zipped to a 21.6 record, breaking his own 21.9 mark. He set the 9.8 record in the 100, Reifenhoch earlier in the season posted a Wayne record of 9.7 in the century.

Tom Buell gave Wayne its only second place with a 50 flat 440, his best time. Winner Jim Wolstenholme of Kearney ran 49.8.

Charles Borg of Wayne ran an exceptionally fine half mile at 1:58.3 but placed only fourth counting time (1:56.5). Only two other times has a Wayne half miler exceeded Borg's time.

Ed Humpal produced a pair of thirds for Wayne with a shot put effort of 48-11 and a discus throw of 137-3.

Carl Oweczark ran a fifth-place two-mile 10:25.2, and Dennis Mayo threw the javelin 160-3 for fifth place.

Wayne quartets finished third in the mile relay, fourth in the two-mile relay and fifth in the 880 relay.

Coach Carl Ellermeier plans to take four to the national NAIA meet at Sioux Falls May 31, June 1. Nelson will enter the pole vault, hoping to better his school record of 13.7. Reifenhoch, with top-flight competition, could improve his 100 and 220 marks.

Humpal might extend his 50-3 1/2 record in the shot, and he also will enter the discus. Buelt will run the 440.

This Week Marks End of School

Mr. Rickers has set up a schedule for the final week of school. Classes will be held as usual until noon, Thursday, May 23. No lunch will be served on this last Thursday.

Students are not to return to school Thursday afternoon or Friday morning. Report cards will be issued Friday afternoon at 1:00 in the school gym. Anyone who will not be able to be there is to leave a stamped, self-addressed envelope in the office by Thursday.

Seniors Bid Farewell To Fellow Graduates

The senior class was issued Devil Daze autograph supplements last week. Instead of diligently taking notes in their classes, the seniors eagerly pushed their pens as they signed their names and added extra little comments in the process.

The annual is delivered in the summer, the seniors have been giving autograph pages so that they may have a chance to obtain the autographs of their classmates. Underclassmen do not receive the supplements because they can obtain autographs after the school year resumes next fall. Seniors are grateful for this opportunity and sincerely appreciate the consideration that was given to them. One senior girl said, "I know graduation isn't supposed to be the end, although it surely seems like it now. I'm glad we were given a chance to get as many autographs as we could. A lot of my high school memories are recorded in the statements of my classmates wrote to me." Underclassmen who are not returning to Wayne High next year were also given the Devil Daze supplements.

'Gay Paree' Theme Of Annual Banquet

Gay Paree was the theme of the junior-senior banquet held May 11 at the Student Center. After the invocation, given by Reverend Proett, Jim Kern, president of the junior class, gave the welcome. Jack Schrieber, the senior president, responded.

The tables were covered with symbols of France—berets, Gay Paree programs, and nut cups covered with small palettes. The servers were Janine Brown, Jean Christensen, Jayne Echtenkamp, Sandra Olds, Diane Skov, Linda Weible, Trudy Weible, Debbie Wightman, Tom Addison, Rick Bornhoff, Don Grein, Doug Hansen, Richard Helgren, Jerry Meyer, Kenny Marra, and Bob McLean. The girls were dressed in white shifts, berets and black leotards. The boys wore white shirts and chef's hats.

Kenny Marra and Kenny Chambers entertained the group with their guitars. Mr. Westergard gave a talk on high school achievements and Rev. Proett gave the benediction. Jim Kern, the toastmaster, ended the banquet with an invitation to the prom. The prom was held in the high school gym. The room was filled with colorful decorations. The walls and ceiling were covered with streamers, and a huge bag of balloons was hung from the ceiling to be released later in the night. There were tables in each corner for couples to sit.

Dramatics Class Gives Short Plays

The dramatics class gave plays Tuesday evening, May 14, at the City Auditorium. "The six plays had student directors. Terry March directed "Finders Keepers"; Carl Rethwisch, "A Sunny Morning"; DeWayne Harrison, "Hello Out There"; Patti Lansing, "In the Suds"; Renee Eulberg, "Overtones"; and Marilyn Nuernberger, "Suppressed Desires."

The actors and actresses in the plays were Wilma Marra, DeWayne Harrison, Nancy de Freese, Terry March, Marilyn Nuernberger, Renee Eulberg, Kathie Woods, Patti Lansing, and Ollie Hansen.

Following the plays Mr. Dobbins gave the class criticisms on their acting and directing. The directors had to plan their own scenery and lighting. The members who didn't direct plays are now writing plays.

$200 Scholarship Offered by CPPD

A scholarship is being offered to a senior whose parents are customers of the Consumer Public Power District. Besides this requirement there are two others: (1) the student must show financial need and (2) he must have taken the ACT test and scored above average.

The award is for $200 for Wayne State, $100 for each semester. The final choice will be made by the selection committee of the Wayne CPPD.

Thespians Initiate New Members Friday

The Thespians met Tuesday to elect new officers for next fall. The new president will be Nancy de Freese; vice president, Jean Christensen; secretary-treasurer, Donie Grein; and clerk, Betty Harrison.

New members were initiated Friday evening during a meeting in the band room. Pledges who advanced to full fledged membership are Nancy de Freese, Betty Harrison, Carolyn Koskan, Cheri Marsh, Terry March and Donie Grein. The new officers were also installed.

The Harbinger Staff Bids You Fond Adieu

"Harbinger" Editor Jack Schrieber, Karen Christensen, assistant editor Pam Hughes, Toots Lutt, Sandy J. Nelson and Carolyn Koskan.

Deviled Eggs Our Last Yolk!

The common, ordinary farmyard pig uses a bigger percentage of his brain than a human being. So if you have a child that loves to play in mud, don't spank him! It might be a sign of high intelligence.

Will parents of the children who surround the band as it marches before school, kindly instruct them to stay on the sidewalks? It's fine to have them watch the band, but if it does a counter-march and they're in the way . . . Hamburger.

One of the waiters at the Jr.-Sr. Banquet dropped a tray of dishes, silverware, etc., while clearing off the tables. This proves one very important physics equation: Gravity plus carelessness yields one heckuva racket.

How are a book and red mittens alike? They both can't climb trees.

All senior class members received ball-point pens with their names inscribed from the State National Bank. May all the ink you see be some color other than red.

Miss Ross Honored By Faculty Women

Miss Ruth Ross, who is retiring from the teaching profession, was honored Tuesday evening by the faculty women of the Wayne City Schools at a dinner at the Wagon Wheel in Laurel.

About 20 women gathered for the occasion. The table was decorated with a huge cake which bore the greeting "Best Wishes to Ruth Ross." She was presented with a gift: Kittredge's edition of "The Complete Works of Shakespeare."

Tiedtke Treats Team

Russell Tiedtke, Wayne businessman, treated the Wayne High basketball varsity and coaches to the "biggest steaks in the El Rancho" Wednesday night.

Attending were Kenny Denesia,

This issue of the Harbinger marks the end of the school year at Wayne High. It has truly been an eventful year for which the staff is grateful. We hope we have kept the people of Wayne informed on the happenings at Wayne High.

The entire journalism staff will be new next year as Toots Lutt, Sandy J. Nelson, Karen Christensen, Pam Hughes, and Jack Schrieber are graduating and Carolyn Koskan is transferring to Butte.

In closing, we extend a special thank you to the "Wayne Herald" for letting us use space for "The Harbinger" in their paper.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is the opinion of the editor of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to write all available facts before he sits down to work. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

LOOSE PLANK

What ever happened to the Popular Party and a City Planning Commission?

The Popular Party in their new platform approved urging the city council to formulate plans for such a commission but that was the last that was ever heard of it.

True, it made a sturdy looking plank in the party's platform, but without any action on it, it will never be nailed down. And Wayne's need for such an organization is growing more urgent all the time.

An organization that can step over city, county, school and such borders and recommend action could be a big help to city, school and county officials.

The Popular Party thought such a commission was a good idea a few months ago, so now is the time to see some action on it.

Ridge will be opened to the turkey hunters.

Johnson Reappointed

State Tax Commissioner Forrest Johnson has been reappointed to a six-year term.

The legislature has confirmed the reappointment and has also taken steps to see that he will get the benefit of a raise as soon as possible. Johnson now receives $10,000 annually. A bill to up the figure to $12,500 was recently passed. The lawmakers also made sure the provisions of the measure could become effective within the near future.

Losses Moderate In Stack Silos

Corn silage is a valuable livestock feed; it is easily made and is subject to relatively small losses prior to feeding.

These conclusions were reached by Walter Tolman, at the North-east Nebraska Experiment Station, following completion of corn silage research studies at the Station feedlots.

Corn silage fed to beef calves wintered at the Station resulted in gains of from two to 2.25 pounds per head per day when a full ration of silage was fed in combination with four pounds of cracked corn and pound of supplement. Tolman noted, No hay was fed, he added.

Limestone was credited with improving the ration, however. Limestone was added either to the silage at the time it was unloaded and packed at cutting, or to the supplement at the time of feeding. One percent limestone, by weight, was mixed in the fresh-cut corn, or by the alternate method, one pound was fed in the supplement available for each 20 head of cattle.

Corn silage in above-ground stacks sustained only a 16 percent loss in weight between the time it was made and the time it was fed, the University livestock scientist reported.

"Several factors favored small losses," Tolman said. "The corn was cut fine, well-packed, and covered with plastic. Almost no spoilage was visible during the winter, but some silage rotted around breaks in the plastic cover by the time the last of the silage was fed in May," he commented.

Tolman pointed out that silage stacks are easy to make and to feed with equipment available on most livestock farms. Losses likely would be higher for alfalfa or oats in stack silos than for corn or sorghum, he concluded.

Prevent Off-Flavors In Milk
Dairymen cannot afford to risk milk rejections due to off-flavors and odors during the early lactation season, when the problem can be largely eliminated by proper management.

Don J. Kubik, Area Extension dairyman, says that cows should be introduced to pasture gradually by turning them out only for an hour or so for the first few days. Cows should be taken off pasture at least three hours prior to milking throughout the pasture season.

"Continue feeding hay and do not abruptly reduce the amounts of grain fed or the protein content of the grain mixture," Kubik states. "If this is done the cows will not be forced to get all their food requirements from pasture and the pasture will be more apt to keep up. If the grass is not plentiful, the cows will eat weeds and weeds can cause a very pronounced off-flavor."

Lawn and Garden Tips
It's time to spray fruit trees if you want to beat the worms to the apples.

So many insect pests of fruit trees are established in Nebraska, it is almost impossible to produce edible fruit without a continuous spray program.

Safe combinations of insecticides and a fungicide can be used on home fruit trees. Sprays should be applied at intervals of 10 to 14 days until a week or two before harvest.

The thoroughness of application is important as the material used. The growing fruit must be covered with spray material through the maturing period, or insects will "slip through". To obtain adequate coverage, it is desirable to use a power sprayer, especially for large trees. It is almost impossible to do a good job of spraying tall trees with ordinary sprayers.

All sprays should be used with caution, especially when they are stored. Keep the materials out of the reach of children, and avoid "popping" of spray liquid where birds or pets may drink. The fruit can be used at any time; however, if spray residues are still present, they should be washed off which is not difficult when wettable powders are used.

Frankly, I believe that instead of saying the kids have changed, you would be nearer right in saying the parents have changed, and if any grave charges are to be made against any one, as far as juvenile delinquency is concerned, they could be lodged on the doorstep of the parents, rather than on the doorstep of their offspring.

The other day I was talking to an elementary school teacher. The conversation drifted around to the problem of delinquency in children and she told me that her problems in handling the children would be much more simple if she could only get the support of the parents.

However, we are in an age of change. Particularly is that true in the upbringing of our children and also true in the conduct of parents themselves. Right here and now is probably where I get in trouble right up to my neck, by voicing some opinions of juvenile delinquency, which if allowed full sway ends up in nothing but trouble.

Years ago I never heard of a kid being "frustrated," or needing the aid or counsel of a psychoanalyst, neither did I ever hear or know any parents who stood in awe of their offspring. If Junior got a bit out of hand, he got his backside whalloped and good. If he got in trouble at school, the teachers had a way of strengthening him out, even if it took a little man-handling. Not only that, but in most cases Dad and Mother backed them up at home. Nobody ever heard much about the neuroses of children. Maybe they had 'em, but they weren't recognized as such, and didn't last too long, when the proper steps were taken to correct them.

Pop and Mom ran the show. They didn't bribe little Johnny to be good by giving him everything he shouted for. They weren't afraid of their kids, and at the same time the kid's weren't afraid of their folks. In fact, they had a full measure of respect for them.

These kids are, and always have been pretty smart. If discipline is just and deserved, they accept it as such. If Dad and Mom show any evidence of vacillation or weakness, right away they detect that too, and once given a few inches, it isn't long before they take a foot.

Parents have just as much an obligation to society as do children. What can you expect of the kids, when their own parents take the path of least resistance, and don't accept the obligation of presenting to society a finished product, of which they can well be proud.

Sure, I know times change. Maybe I'm a little old-fashioned as far as modern methods are concerned, but there is one thing that's a cinch. Human nature doesn't change basically. The changes that might be apparent in it today are of our making, and are superficial, rather than

Houseclean For Safety

Maybe you have a spotlessly clean house, but that's not enough. It needs to be safe, too. A tidy house is commendable but a safe home is twice as commendable.

During housecleaning sessions check each room for possible hazards and eliminate them. This is the efficient, sensible way to clean, whether you're using the once-a-year or the one-room-at-a-time method of housecleaning.

Keep your children in mind as you work. New labeling requirements for hazardous household substances can't protect little ones who can't read. Place household cleaning compounds, bleaches and syndets beyond the reach of children. . . not under the sink.

Use common sense for yourself as you work, so you get through the job without mishaps. Don't hurry but treat yourself to a rest break every couple of hours. Many accidents happen when the worker is too tired to use good judgement. Dress appropriately so you don't catch on furniture or trip with insecure heels.

Your attitude is your most important safeguard. Think "safety" with everything you do and it will become a habit. Let every week be home safety week as you eliminate household hazards.

Even Bossy wouldn't recognize milk as it appears on grocer's shelves. There are so many forms of milk—fresh whole, fresh skim, nonfat dry, dry whole, evaporated, condensed and buttermilk.

Fresh and processed milk can be used interchangeably in some recipes, but quite often adjustments in fluid measurements are needed. Researchers at the U. S. Department of Agriculture learned that the various forms of milk can make considerable differences in thickness of white sauce.

Cuckler Crown Seal Galvanized Roofing and Siding
Here's why Circle C buildings are easy to cover—and stay dry. Crown Seal roofing and siding is factory-cut to fit each Circle C building. Panels are a yard wide and as long as your roof slope or wall height. That means fewer laps, faster construction, greater shell strength.
Crown Seal is tough, too. . . 26 gauge steel with the exclusive Cuckler high rib design. Hot-dip galvanizing treats the steel to resist rust and corrosion. . . heals over scratches, keeps a bright surface. At the lap, the exclusive Crown Seal makes a joint that positively won't leak. When the panels are put on in the easy, proper manner, no moisture is going to get through that lap.
Crown Seal is available in color, too. . . six beautiful choices. Get all the facts on Cuckler farm and ranch buildings—the Circle C Brand—from our Farm Building Counselor. He's qualified and eager to help with your building needs.

Do you occasionally receive literature from loan companies offering to aid you in consolidating your debts? They are not all bad — but watch out for loan sharks for they are worse than the ocean killer sharks and they operate best on land.

With all of the charges padded into these loans, some borrowers have had to pay as high as 33% annual interest on their unpaid balance.

TWO KINDS OF GOITER

Q. What causes goiter? Is goiter in any way related to diet?

A. Simple (endemic) goiter is an enlargement of the thyroid gland due to inadequate intake of iodine. That's why we use iodized salt... to overcome any deficiency of iodine. Toxic goiter (thyrotoxicosis) is a condition which results from excessive secretion of the thyroid gland. This is a medical and/or surgical problem which must be dealt with by a physician. It should be remembered that the term "goiter" does not in itself mean disease, but rather enlargement or a tissue change involving the thyroid gland.

ASIAN FLU VACCINE

Q. Is it possible to contract Asian flu as the result of taking the vaccine? For how long is a person protected by Asian flu vaccine?

A. Flu vaccine will not induce the disease although some immunized persons develop an achy feeling and nasal symptoms which last a day or two after the injection. Two injections of flu vaccine provide protection for about one season. Continued protection can be obtained by taking a "booster" injection each year.

The real "miracle" of today's medicine is that so much cure costs so little.

DIAZINON

You'll find it pays to spray with Diazinon—just one residual application on dairy barn walls and ceiling, kills flies for weeks.

Diazinon saves time and labor, gives you lower cost per day of protection. So spray less . . . pay less for effective fly control. Ask your farm supply dealer for Diazinon—one of the safer phosphate insecticides.

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS

by Bill Stokes

Have you ever been afraid to do nothing? It happened to the Senate Judiciary Committee of the Wisconsin Legislature, according to the Port Washington (Wis.) Pilot.

A bill which the committee had been assured by experts would really do nothing, was laid aside for further thought.

There are a number of us who would be interested in the success of the meeting reported in the Mitchell County (Iowa) Press News in which boys were invited to learn something about clothing selection.

I wish my boys could have attended. The way they select clothing is to fight. The winner wears whatever is being fought over, and the loser screams to his mother that someone is wearing his socks or undershirt. Our boys don't only fight over each other's socks, they fight over mine too, which leaves me sockless about ninety percent of the time.

This, of course, means that I get into the sock fight some mornings, and there are pre-breakfast wrangles with three or four of us claiming the same sock.

About the only thing of mine that the boys haven't "selected" to wear are my trousers. The reason for this is obvious, and it isn't because the legs are too long. My wife tells me that if I would do fifty sit-ups a day, my waistline might recover its lost youth. I don't want it to recover, because then the boys would wear my pants, and I at least like to think I'm wearing the pants in my family.

There are probably a few farm dogs left around the country that contribute something to the national effort, but these pooches are frequently so impressed with their own importance that they are totally impossible. We had a dog like this once. He got so carried away that he wouldn't chase cows until you said "please."

I wish I could have heard the psychologist's talk on "Emotional Disturbances in the Classroom," that the Storm Lake (Iowa) Tribune reported some time ago. I would like to know if the talk was on the emotional disturbances of the students or the teacher. I know beyond a doubt that facing a classroom full of kids day after day would sure enough disturb my emotions.

In checking over a son's homework the other night, I came across a question which asked, "What grave problems faced the nation at the end of the Civil War?" His answer — "There weren't enough people left to bury the dead soldiers."

That's a grave problem, and it is also emotionally disturbing. I'm glad I caught it before it got into the classroom.

The Boonville (Ind.) Standard reported a while back that the Yankeetown Fire Department would hold a meeting to discuss a water system for Yankeetown.

This is a municipal activity that makes pretty good sense. It is tough to think of a better agency than the fire department to hold a meeting on a water system.

A dog's life isn't so bad, according to the Gratiot County (Mich.) Herald. The Herald reports that dogs are living longer and more comfortably thanks to better nutrition, veterinary medicine and vaccines.

It ought to be said right here and now that another reason for a dog having it pretty nice is that most of them go direct from puppyhood into semi-retirement and never have to grub out a living.

Most of the dogs I know lounge around the house and hiccup from over-eating.

The Sullivan (Ill.) Progress states that the average dollar bill remains in circulation for only ten or twelve months before it is so worn that it must be replaced.

At the rate I hang onto a dollar bill — at least five minutes — this means that the greenback is handled by 105,120 people before it is retired. This is figuring that money is circulated twenty-four hours a day, which is the way it would have to be in order for most of us to go through so darn much of it.

The people of Nashville, Mich. are brave. The Nashville (Mich.) News reports that the students are going to be allowed to name the new school. All the children from kindergarten through 12th grade were to have submitted suggested names some time ago.

I don't know if the contest is over, but I'm prepared to bet that among the entries were: "The Prison, Torture Chamber, Cage, Zoo," and others. Any takers?

An item in the Crookston (Minn.) Daily Times said that Canadian women are more courageous about the overweight problem than men.

A survey showed that twenty-eight percent of French-speaking males and seven-teen percent of English-speaking males felt they were overweight, while forty percent of French-speaking women and forty-four percent of English-speaking women felt their figures were too ample.

As a spokesman for my sex, I take issue. I think the survey only shows that the ability to speak French makes you heavier — if you are a man, that is.

I don't see where courage enters into the picture at all. I know any number of fat, brave men.

Dear, I think the dog wants to go out.

MOLDED STRAWBERRIES 'N CREAM RING

1 pint ripe strawberries	$1\frac{1}{2}$ cups cold water
2 packages strawberry flavored gelatin	1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 cups boiling water	1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
	1 cup evaporated milk

Wash strawberries. Reserve 4 choice berries for garnish. Hull and slice remaining strawberries. There should be about 1 cup sliced berries. Place gelatin in mixing bowl. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in cold water and lemon juice. Arrange sliced strawberries in bottom of $1\frac{1}{2}$ quart ring mold. Measure two cups of the gelatin mixture and slowly pour over berries. Chill until almost firm, about 1 hour. Meanwhile place remaining gelatin in a warm place to prevent it from setting. Chill until firm. To serve, unmold on serving platter and garnish with reserved strawberries dipped in sugar. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Couples Supper Club

By Jan Palmquist

Delicious food makes any occasion seem more festive, and if your turn is coming up to entertain your couples club soon for supper and an evening of cards, you'll be looking for novel foods to serve. Whether the hostess furnishes the main dish and vegetables and the others bring salads and dessert, or whether you plan it all yourself, you'll find new ideas welcome. How to achieve a festive menu without too much fuss and bother is often a problem. To help with this we offer several supper suggestions.

We recommend serving your supper buffet style, possibly using a chafing dish for your entree which in any event should probably be of casserole nature. Yet it should be something with a new look and an intriguing taste. Choose a salad which is pretty — one that will add glamour to your meal. And plan something easy but delicious in hot rolls along with various intriguing side dishes. For the final touch, let your dessert prove picturesque and delectable and you've your whole supper solved. Remember, too, that often it's the little touch that sets your meal.

HALF SAVED IS DEAD WRONG

Fight scours from both sides of the infection with Terramycin Scours Tablets

How do you know where the trouble is when germs first hit? In the gut where scours start . . . or the blood where pneumonia and other diseases spread . . . or both? You don't!

That's why you should always use Terramycin Scours Tablets to save your calves.

It works both ways—in the gut and in the blood. Most other antibiotics and nitrofurans sold in farm stores today work only in the gut; of the few that do get into the blood, none matches Terramycin's long-lasting broad-spectrum power.

They break down more rapidly or are inactivated more (tied up) by proteins or calcium in the blood. That's why Terramycin gives you high, long-lasting blood levels without injection to fight diseases throughout the body . . . not just the gut alone.

See why Terramycin Scours Tablets are the largest selling antibiotic tablets. Because you don't have to bet your calf's life with half-right treatments . . . Terramycin works both ways—in the gut and in the blood.

Hheavy yields, year after year, may be causing you big trouble even though you have seemingly been using adequate rates of fertilizer. If your corn, and other crops, don't seem to respond to high rates of fertilizer any more like they should, the trouble may well be MICRONUTRIENT DEFICIENCY.

In a recent nationwide survey among state experiment stations, virtually all states reported micronutrient shortages. Boron deficiency was the most widespread, being deficient in 41 states. Thirty-eight states reported boron deficiency was seriously cutting their alfalfa yields.

Other micronutrients which are known to be deficient in some soils are copper, iron, manganese, molybdenum and zinc. Recognition of zinc deficiency in corn is recent in many states, which further suggests the need for applying micronutrient elements as yields are stepped up.

What approach to the problem can you take? Get assistance from your county extension specialist who can obtain help from the state agricultural experiment station in diagnosing your problem. You can start in the early stages of crop growth . . . the signs will already be there and there'll still be time to take some corrective measures.

If only part of your field shows signs of micronutrient deficiency (less growth, yellowing of plants or even death in some cases) you will need to obtain samples of the plants from the troubled areas, as well as samples from the more normal areas. Foliage tests can be run on both for comparison. However, some state experiment stations are not equipped to run tests for all micronutrients.

Probably the best micronutrient tests can be run by you . . . right on your own farm, using test strips of single micronutrients either on the soil, or as a foliage spray. It must be pointed out, however, that regular amounts of nitrogen-phosphate-potash fertilizers should be used in both your control strips and the trace element application areas.

This may seem like a lot of trouble, but it may prove highly profitable. In Nebraska a recommendation for the application of 10 to 20 pounds of zinc is made whenever topsoil is removed in the process of leveling land for irrigation or building terraces. This practice has resulted in the difference between farmers obtaining no crop when not treated and 75 to 100 bushels of corn when treated. Considering that zinc can be purchased for as low as 40 to 45 cents per pound of metal and that the cost of corn production runs about 100 times that amount whether or not a single bushel is produced, there's a tremendous return on the investment.

In iron deficient fields in eastern Nebraska 50 cents worth of iron sprayed on foliage has doubled the yield of soybeans from 12 to 24 bushels.

Sometimes micronutrient deficiencies do not occur until higher yield levels are reached. In Wisconsin, for example, zinc and copper were sufficient for corn at a 100-bushel level. Increasing the major nutrient level (N-P-K) upped the yield another 25 bushels . . . but the addition of 2 pounds of copper oxide and 10 pounds of zinc sulfate further increased the yield by 16 bushels.

A word of warning . . . be careful not to put on more micronutrients than recommended . . . nor should you put micronutrients on indiscriminately. Yields have sometimes been depressed rather than helped under these conditions. It's best to get the recommended rates from your state experiment station, or commercial companies who specialize in such matters.

Many commercial fertilizer manufacturers add micronutrients to their regular grades. Usually this does not supply enough micronutrients to correct visible micronutrient deficiencies, but when scientifically added to N-P-K fertilizers to fit the area and crop, the yield difference is often startling . . . if nothing else it at least helps maintain the storehouse of micronutrients in the soil.

Zinc made this difference in corn.

Molybdenum deficiency did this to cauliflower.

Manganese made this difference in soybeans.

Farmhand Model 25... Rakes cleaner, faster... costs less!

FARMHAND'S MODEL 25 COSTS YOU AT LEAST $100 LESS than most other rakes. Yet it does a far better job... picking up all the hay there is to get—light or heavy—on even the roughest or rocky terrain. Since hay velocity is 45% lower than with bar type rakes, you save valuable leaves and seeds. Since windrows are fluffy, hay dries quickly and you have a better chance to beat the weather. Lightweight Model 25 follows tractor easily over any terrain. No PTO, gears, belts, ratchets, pulleys... virtually no maintenance.

Today—ask your Farmhand dealer for a demonstration.

HAND CRANK simultaneously lowers all five raking wheels to exact raking pressure you wish... raises wheels quickly for fast transport at highway speeds behind car, truck, tractor. Farmhand Model 25 has simple one-pin hook-up and only 10 lbs. drawbar weight—a child could handle it!

FOR WINDROW TURNING, lower the rear two raking wheels. They'll neatly roll the windrow completely over, putting damp hay on top. Another feature: you can offset rake so that tractor wheels do not pass over unraked hay. Optional wheel shields prevent tangling of hay in windy weather.

DETERGENT

FAB

The detergent granule is only one laundry ingredient. But FAB has more than just a detergent—adds 5 extra laundratives to every single granule!

FAB with 5 extra laundratives removes deep-dirt problems as the detergent alone cannot do!

New FAB gets wash far cleaner than the detergent alone can do because FAB has more than just a detergent. FAB adds 5 extra laundratives to every single granule!

That's why FAB attacks deep-dirt problems as the detergent alone fails to do. FAB penetrates deep to 1) adsorb deep grit, 2) neutralize stain acids, 3) destroy odor deposits, 4) dissolve grease, and 5) soften-stiffness. No wonder FAB gets wash not just detergent clean, but clean clear through!
