Classroom Behavior Workshop Successful

A stimulating experience — this comment summed up the response of students who completed a workshop in classroom behavior at Wayne State last week.

Out of the complex problems of pupil behavior emerged this frequent comment: "The most important thing we learned was knowing ourselves better."

This also was the opinion of Dean of Students, Donald Merriman, who coordinated the three-week workshop. The 43 students, most of them teachers with degrees, discussed both theory and practice concerning school behavior.

The theory lectures were presented by personnel of the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute, headed by Dr. T. P. Krush, institute director. He and five associates in the institute also conducted two similar sessions at other colleges in Nebraska.

Said Dr. Krush of the Wayne class: "This certainly is a lively group, eager and responsive." Dean Merriman added his plaudits: "These people couldn't stop talking, even at the coffee break. They lived with the subject 24 hours a day."

In addition to hearing and discussing the psychological bases of behavior, the class members traded countless practical ideas "I had such and such a problem. How would you handle it?"

And generally they found solutions for their problems. More often than not, some of the class said, the solution involved understanding their own attitudes and

"Fair Chance" Lake Above Pilger Will Be Completed

Plans for a 56 acre recreational lake one mile north of Pilger are given a "fair chance of being completed," according to Willard Barbee of the State Game Commission.

Several members of the Commission, including director Mel Steen, have been to the site and working on the project. The proposed lake would be a flood control water-shed project.

In giving the work a fair chance of succeeding, Barbee said several questions still had to be answered, such as: Is there enough water available to support such a body of water; will the soil hold water and are access roads available.

If the lake can qualify as a recreational reservoir, Federal aid will also be asked in completing the work.

Warn Residents Not to View Sun Eclipse Directly

Readers have been warned against direct viewing of the sun with the naked eye during the eclipse Saturday. The eclipse will be partial in this part of Nebraska.

No type of smoked glass, sunglasses, film negatives or any other type of device is safe for viewing the sun at anytime. Serious eye damage can result, that can lead to total blindness.

If you wish to watch the effects of the eclipse, follow these instructions:

1. Punch a clean pinhole in a piece of cardboard.
2. Turn your back to the sun so you are looking away from it.
3. Hold the cardboard on your shoulder and focus the sun through the pinhole onto another piece of white cardboard or paper.

This will reflect the sun's image on the cardboard where you can view it without eye damage. Remember, this is the only safe way to view the eclipse.

Last Tuesday night the City Council met with Greg Stuve, assistant to the Mayor of Norfolk, to hear how that city worked with a planning commission and a comprehensive plan in its recent developments.

Also present were the boards of directors of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce and Wayne Industries, Inc.

Stuve told the council he thought the first step in getting an organized plan of growth into operation was the establishment of a planning commission.

He said no council in the world can run a city as completely as it should be without outside help. He was referring to planning commission, action committee and such groups as outside help.

Stuve said with planning, commission and professional aid in making a comprehensive plan of city growth, the next automatic step is zoning.

Zoning, said Stuve, aids in a healthy business climate, as well as a boost to residential growth.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

Ready for Council Decision?
The Wayne City Council, the Chamber of Commerce and Wayne Industries, Inc., boards of directors heard Greg Stuve, assistant to the Norfolk mayor, discuss the development of Norfolk through a comprehensive plan.

Stuve was invited to the council meeting since the development of a planning commission for Wayne seems eminent. After hearing how a planning commission and its many facets aided Norfolk, the council seemed even more inclined to establish such an organization although no definite decision has been reached.

Several people at the meeting privately expressed the opinion that should the council lend its support to a planning commission, they would be willing to give such a group all the aid possible. This seemed to be the largest factor in the establishment of a commission: complete council cooperation.

This cannot mean that the council would be obligated to follow each and every recommendation that such a group would make. But it would mean their whole-hearted cooperation would be available at all times. So as it stands now, the council should find many willing hands, if they decide to commit themselves to the plan.

lives mean nothing. In fact, one sometimes wonders if perhaps these ruling men in China don't sort of welcome a war to solve their population problem which is rapidly exceeding the resources to provide for it.

It seems passing strange that these two nations should have impact enough on the free people of the world to cause apprehension and even fear as to how the course decided upon by Russia and China, should affect them. It is strange to me for the simple reason that one of these two outlaws has come up through intrigue, slave camps, starvation programs and blood purges, and now comport themselves as one of the world leaders whose dictates should be followed.

The other nation has suddenly gotten so big and feel so powerful, that they flex their muscles and view the whole world as their oyster. They are a funny outfit. They talk about hydrogen bombs on one hand, and with the other, light fire crackers to scare off the evil spirits of the devils of their enemies.

Strange world, isn't it? Co. Agent's Column

Watershed Development
Warren D. Fairchild, executive secretary of the state soil and water conservation commission, said Nebraska's watershed development program is expanding rapidly. He attributed this mainly to increased cooperation by local citizens and increased state and federal assistance.

Fairchild said his office now has on file applications for 63 watershed projects, 19 of which are in the planning stage.

New Labor Commissioner
Governor Morrison has named Lambert Eitel, 45, Lincoln, as Nebraska's labor commissioner. Eitel will replace Donald Baste-meyer, who resigned effective July 17 to become business representative of the Omaha Carpenters Union.

Eitel has been active in the labor movement for more than 20 years and is business representative for the Nebraska branch, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO.

Space Needs
A report projecting space needs for the state government to 1973 has been presented to the capitol building commission. The report, prepared by the architectural-engineering firm of Clark, Enersen, Olsson (cq), Burroughs and Thomsen, Lincoln, recommended a new five-story office building be constructed east of the governor's mansion.

The new structure would house the agriculture, banking, insurance, railway commission and aeronautics departments. This would release approximately 1,875 square feet in the statehouse. The report also suggested that the new building be called the Agriculture and Commerce Building. The commission took no action on the report but it agreed to present it to the legislature. The final decision on going ahead with the construction will rest with the lawmakers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Lincoln — The 1963 legislature already the longest in the history of the state, was scheduled to grind to a permanent halt sometime this week. The budget bill normally is what occupies much of the lawmakers' time in the closing days of a session, but this year the legislators are wrestling with another extremely important matter stemming from enactment of the 1959 installment sales act.

The supreme court three weeks ago declared the 1959 act unconstitutional. Since that time the senators have been busy trying to hammer out legislation which would meet constitutional requirements. Meanwhile, Governor Morrison has let it be known that he will veto any bill passed if the attorney general advises that it is unconstitutional. The governor recalled that when the 1959 installment sales bill was being debated, the attorney general warned it would be held unconstitutional but that the lawmakers went ahead and passed it anyway.

"I wouldn't want that to happen again," Morrison said. The last days of a session frequently are quite dull as the senators go through the necessary mechanics to get the last bills worked across the legislative board. Not so this year. The legislative chamber for the most part has been a busy place. In recent days the senate enacted into law a driver education bill, which they had killed only a few days before. The measure, which the governor said was the core of his traffic safety program, was revived and given a 30-8 final consent vote. It needed 29 ballots to go into effect upon the governor's signature.

The main feature of the bill is that it will provide up to $30 per student state aid for those pupils taking the training in an approved program. Most of the money for financing the estimated $920,000 cost per biennium will come from a 50-cent per year increase in adult driver's license fees. Sen. Don Thompson, McCook, who sponsored the measure for the governor, said he had three things in mind — saving lives; cutting the accident rate; and making an economic savings to drivers.

Last year, he recalled, 102 teenagers lost their lives in traffic and there was an estimated $13 million economic loss because of accidents involving the youthful drivers. Thompson estimated these figures "could be cut in half" with proper driver training program. Another bill passed provides retirement benefits for state employees not covered by other pension plans.

The plan, to go into effect next Jan. 1, provides for funding the retirement system through one or more annuity contracts issued by one or several life insurance companies. Under the new law, an employee will pay three per cent of his salary until he has contributed $144. After that he will pay six per cent for the balance of the year. Another provision stipulates the employee will also contribute one per cent of his pay to fund prior service benefits. Implementation of the bill will require an appropriation of approximately $630,000 for this biennium.

Committee Secrecy
Members of the legislature apparently like the present system under which their names are not disclosed on committee votes on bills. Sen. Sam Klaver, Omaha, tried to get a change in the rules under which reporters covering committee executive (secret) sessions could have reported how senators voted during those sessions. Klaver charged there had been "too much wheeling and dealing" in the privacy of the committee meetings. The rules committee amended Klaver's proposal to provide that standing committee chairman "in reporting final action on a bill, shall include in such report the voting record of each member of the committee."

Even with this amendment, the proposed change didn't come close to getting enough support for adoption. The vote against the change was 26-14. Klaver said the lawmakers "have no right to do public business behind closed doors." He said the present rule providing for secrecy is one of the "glaring weaknesses" of the unicameral system.

Some of the senators disputed Klaver's charges. They said they saw no wheeling and dealing. They also noted that once a bill gets to the legislative floor, any member can demand a record vote which identifies the position of every senator on a bill.

Sen. Arnold Ruhke, Plymouth, also cited the rules which state that two members of any committee can demand a roll call vote for entrance into the record of any vote on a bill or amendment considered in committee. Apparently many of the legislators were not aware of this rule.

According to the report, the over-all growth of the various state departments during the next 10 years will be 33 1/3 per cent, necessitating an additional 16,765 square feet of space.

Certification Committee
The state board of education has authorized the education department to begin forming an advisory teacher certification committee. The board's action came shortly after the legislature approved a bill permitting the board to set the term of teacher certificates and determine the renewal requirements for certificates issued under the act.

Dr. Le Roy Ortgesen, assistant education commissioner, was told to contact education officials and lay persons throughout the state about serving on the advisory committee. Making up the committee will be 12 to 20 persons, including two state senators. The bill specifically states that the board may not require more than two years of college preparation for initial certificates for elementary teachers in rural and class 2 school districts. The new law will go into effect next January 1.

In other action, the board also authorized the education department to urge superintendents and boards of education to look favorably on another legislative

Hay Handling Equipment
New equipment to help farmers "make hay while the sun shines" will be in the spotlight at the University of Nebraska's Tractor Power and Safety Day at Mead July 25.

There also will be a new setting for the event traditionally held on the NU College of Agricultural campus, Lincoln. Facilities at the NU Agricultural Field Laboratory near Mead will be utilized to handle the parade of new machinery as well as the expected crowd of more than 5,000 persons from many states, according to Lloyd Hurlbut, chairman of the NU Department of Agricultural Engineering.

The affair begins at 9 a. m. with a demonstration of new chemicals that "stop fires fast" by Rolin D. Schneider, NU Extension farm safety specialist.

Two Nebraska tractor driving champions will demonstrate their skills. They are: Ronald Puff, Louisville, state 4-H champion and Gary Kogley, Kearney, state FFA champion.

A parade of 23 new tractors tested at the NU Testing Station will be directed by L. F. Larsen, G. W. Steinbruegge, J. J. Sulek, and F. M. Zoz. There will be a parade of suburban tractors of interest to lawn and garden enthusiasts. The University's World Famous Drawbar Testing Equipment will be demonstrated to show those attending how tractors are tested, according to L. F. Larsen, engineer-in-charge.

New developments in till-planting will be outlined and demonstrated by Dr. Howard Wittmuss and Delbert Lane of the Department of Agricultural Engineering. This portion of the program will include a display of new planters, heavy duty cultivators and comments from farmers relayed by Loyd Young, Seward County Extension Agent, Seward, and Joe Roh, Burt County Extension Agent.

University Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin and Senator Roman Hruska will welcome the crowd to the new NU Agricultural Field Laboratory. Although the program will continue through the noon hour, lunch will be available on the grounds. Local organizations in the Mead area will prepare lunch.

Four new corn harvesting machines including two 30-inch row pickers and 2, 3 and 4 row corn heads will be displayed and discussed by Delbert Lane and James Pichon of the NU staff. There will be five displays and demonstrations on different

Way Back When

10 Years Ago
July 16, 1953: Four car accidents were reported by County Sheriff Hans Tietgen this week. No serious injury occurred. Stray dogs roving the county have killed 50 to 75 pigs at the Emil H. Grove farm southwest of Wakefield during the past three weeks.

Mrs. Clifford A. Johnson is chairman of the newly organized town council to sponsor the Girl Scout program in Wayne. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Agler, sr., observed their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Wayne last Wednesday. Mrs. Alfred Eddie, Wayne, was named chairman of the Wayne County Red Cross chapter at the annual meeting Friday night.

Saturday and Sunday rains brightened prospects for another bumper corn crop in Wayne county this fall. Albert Milliken, jr., Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Milliken, sr., has been awarded the Bronze Star medal. Mrs. C. J. Peterson, Concord, was honored on her ninetieth birthday Friday.

15 Years Ago
July 22, 1948: In a special election Tuesday, voters of the Sholes school turned down a proposed $34,000 bond issue for the construction of a new school to replace the building destroyed by fire in April. Five people escaped serious injury Tuesday afternoon when their cars sideswiped and went into the ditch on a country road northwest of Wayne. Good prospects for all crops in Wayne and surrounding counties are indicated by reports reaching the county extension office.

Wayne's summer recreation program will feature its first community sing of the season Sunday at the college Willow Bowl under the direction of Prof. John R. Keith. Wayne county 4-H club judging boys will compete in the Wisner junior livestock show Aug. 5. A fire last Thursday morning on No. 15 south of Wayne destroyed the truck owned by P. B. Foster of Sioux City. Representatives of eight Wayne county 4-H clubs and their leaders met at the city auditorium in Wayne Friday to receive instructions and training in 4-H demonstrations.

20 Years Ago
July 29, 1943: An OPA request that electricity be conserved as a means of saving fuel was considered by Wayne city council Tuesday evening. The suggestion is that all lighting of display signs, show windows, etc., be decreased. Ernest Peterson sold his farm northeast of Wayne at $125 to get the men of these regiments to re-enlist. The men did re-enlist by the thousands, but they signed up without any illusions. A company of the 19th Massachusetts infantry regiment was brought together to talk things over. This regiment had been in the thick of the fighting for three years. It had left most of its personnel on the many battlefields, in the hospitals, and in prison camps of the south. This particular company mustered a total of fourteen.

Those soldiers talked the matter over and one finally said, "They use a man here just the same as they do a turkey in a shooting match — fire at it all day and if they don't kill you, they raffle you off at night. So with us, if they don't kill us in three years they want us for three more — but I will stay." One of his comrades spoke up saying, "Well, if new men won't finish the job, old men must, and as long as Uncle Sam wants a man, here is Ben Falls."

The regiment's historian, recording this remark, pointed out that Ben Falls was killed two months later in battle at Spotsylvania Court House.

This obscure Massachusetts private has bequeathed to us, by his sacrifice, a portion of that multitude of demonstrations which in its totality is our heritage of faith.

As a final illustration I have chosen one of the great stories to come out of World War II. It is the story of Sgt. Johnny Basile, which I will relate next week.

"See Nebraska First"

SCOTTS BLUFF AN HISTORIC LANDMARK
Historic Scotts Bluff has been viewed in awe by millions who have passed north, south, east or west, but the real thrill comes only to those who turn into the Scotts Bluff Museum and follow the paved trail to the top of the bluff.

The historic bluff was named for Hiram Scott, an enterprising young fur trader who became critically ill on an expedition in 1828, and was abandoned in the vicinity of the bluff to die. His remains were discovered and identified the following year.

Standing as a sentry over the Upper North Platte Valley, the majestic Scotts Bluff has been an outstanding landmark since our present civilization started the great westward movement. If all that it has witnessed were recorded, and much of it has been, the record would reveal such events as the passing of the Mormon "Handcart" Expedition, the cavalcade of the "Forty-Niners", and the lone riders of an acre to Glenn Magnuson (this week). Rufus Mann, who was injured in a tractor accident on the Louie Willers farm south of Winside, is reported to be recovering rapidly in a Norfolk hospital. Projection equipment of the Co-Ed has been repaired following damage caused a couple of weeks ago by fire and the theater will be open again the last of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bahde were honored on their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday. Farmers are now having orders for threshing help within County Agent W. R. Harder. Mrs. N. J. Juhlun was honored on her eighty-seventh birthday Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lambrecht, Winside, rescued their two daughters from a fire which destroyed their home Thursday.

25 Years Ago
August 4, 1938: A company has been organized in Laurel for the purpose of manufacturing the Jiffy pipe-laying machine recently invented by C. Jeffrey, Laurel plumber. Josephine Ahern won the croquet championship at East park, sponsored by the WPA recreation program. Col. Art C. Goebel, famous aviator and trans-Pacific flier, will fly over Wayne in a few days and will write Phillips 66 smoke signs in the sky. Mrs. S. B. Whitmore, Mrs. Charles Lapham, Mrs. John Getman, Mrs. Mark Rose, Ralph Crockett and Grace Steele have been preparing the history of the normal school for the reunion dinner Sunday. Mary and Barbara Bull both had operations for mastoid which developed following measles. C. L. Morris, Carroll, has entered six yearling Oxford rams in the state sheep show to be held in Lincoln this week. Helen Vath, Margaret Jones and Marion Seymour leave Aug. 12 for Chicago where they will meet Helen Jones who will join them for a trip into Canada. Mrs. Anna Juhlun celebrated her eighty-second birthday Friday when a group of neighbors and friends spent the afternoon with her.

30 Years Ago
August 3, 1933: Business and professional groups of Wayne have organized to cooperate wholeheartedly in observing the code of the national recovery act. An architect has been chosen and preliminary plans accepted for the proposed community building. Arlyn Nelson, secretary in the office of T. S. Hook, placed second in a national essay contest sponsored by the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. John Barnes has raised string beans which measure 18 inches and contains 20 beans in a pod. Paul Pawelicki fractured the little finger on his right hand when he was playing ball. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Oman sang old favorite hymns on the Wayne Herald radio program Thursday. Marilyn, Arlene and Emory Griffith and Robert Stone furnished vocal and instrumental music Friday. Mrs. Lucille Beck will teach in the newly organized school district No. 88.

ing job, not pressure. Long, smooth strokes must be used so effort is not wasted. Consider what is important, then iron only things that need it," Mrs. Leopold advises. To pick-up speed, repeat the same movements. Iron all flat pieces, then all shirts, dresses, pants and so on. The "show-er" pieces first while you still have energy to be fuzzy. Then give a quick once-over to sleepwear and other less important items, the University specialist concludes.

A New Textile Finish
Zepel is a newly-developed fluorine-based textile finish, which makes clothing and home furnishing fabrics water and oil-repellent and resistant to oil and water-borne stains, according to Anna Marie Kreifels, University of Nebraska Extension clothing and textiles specialist. Zepel is an odorless compound, when applied in the finishing process it does not affect either hands or appearance of items and remains effective through repeated washings and drycleanings.

The more hardy members of the touring family can descend the bluff on a crude foot trail that winds through a mile and a half of primitive beauty back to the entrance of the reservation and the museum. Take this invigorating expedition for your next Sunday outing or make it a part of your next trip to western Nebraska. The answer responds to: what can we do... where can we go?

Extension Notes

Shoes Must Carry A Label
If you have been one of those customers whose shoes have not given expected wear you will be relieved to know shoes must now be labeled to indicate materials of which they are made.

The new requirement from the Federal Trade Commission states the term "leather" and other words suggestive of leather may be used only when the shoes are made of top grain leather. If the shoes are mostly leather, the label or reference in advertising must state clearly what parts are leather.

Shoes of split, ground, pulverized or shredded leather must be so labeled. No coined name such as "Dualeather" may be used that would give an erroneous impression as to the actual material used in shoes.

The wise buyer will look for a label indicating the composition of the next pair of shoes he buys. Short Cuts to Smoother Ironing
When ironing large flat pieces, reverse the board so you can use every inch of the broad, rectangular end, advises Mrs. Clara Leopold, University of Nebraska Extension home management specialist.

To ease back strain, use an adjustable board at the correct height. Stand up to iron large flat pieces so your arm can make a full swing the length of the board. Otherwise, iron while seated. It is easier and more comfortable once you get the knack. "Moisture and heat do the iron-

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
Crab grass and the U.S. Department of Agriculture is running a race to see which can get there fastest with the mostest. I got some figgers here put out by somepun called the Tax Foundation that puts a feller to thinking. It says that today we got half as many farms as they was in 1935, and half as many farmers. It explains that so much land has been put in the Soil Bank, with so many small farms combined with big ones, and the use of power tools is the reason for this 50 per cent decrease. But the piece from the Tax Foundation says the number of workers in the Department of Agriculture has jumped since 1935 from 85,214 to 121,538, or 43 per cent while farms and farmers was decreasing.

This piece says in 1935 they was one employee in the Department of Agriculture for ever 80 farms in the nation. In 1962 we had one employee in the Department of Agriculture for ever 28 farms. The piece goes on to show that the ratio of employees in the Department of Agriculture to the number of farms was increasing faster every year and by 1962 they would be one employee in the Department of Agriculture.

for ever from in the United States.

I won't be here, Mister Editor, in 1942, but I hope you'll recommend to your Congressman that each employee get assigned to his special farm, required to live on it and pay for his room and board. It could be that right now crab grass was a little ahead in this race, but them fuggers from the Tax Foundation shows the Department of Agriculture is closing the gap fast.

Incidental, in my latest pamphlet from the Agriculture folks they was distributing news. It says Americans is about to quit eating sweet potatoes. In 1937, it says the per capita consumption of sweet potatoes was 23 pounds, and now it's down to about 7 pounds. It's mighty hard for the women folks to get can-died sweet potatoes covered with hot brown sugar syrup and a piece of yellow butter melting at the top from them froze food counters and I reckon that's why this item is getting extol at the family table.

Speaking of the family table, I haven't ever saw if Senator Philip Hart has got his ruling yet from the Food and Drug Administration on how many cherries was required in a bakery pie to make it legal. You will recall he was complaining in the Congress that the bakery folks was mighty skimpy with the cherries they was putting in the pies for sale to the American housewife. While he's investigating the figgers on cherries, Mister Editor, he might ask the Department of Agriculture about the percentage of jackasses running loose in Washington.

Yours truly,
Uncle Zeke

SOFT TOUCH

Have you ever delayed a barbecue sauce to chop up brown sugar that has hardened in summer humidity? One clever housewife, Mrs. Lester Charlson of Iowa, takes a few lumps out of summer living this smart way. A piece of blotter paper, cut to fit the screw-top jar lid, keeps brown sugar ready for mixing.

GREEN TOMATO PIE

Mmmm—the country treat Grandma used to bake! Mrs. H. A. Rose of Minnesota makes it: Prepare and roll dough for a two-crust pie. Fill unbaked shell with this mixture: 4 cups skinned, cut-up green tomatoes, 1 cup sugar, 4 Tbsp. flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. nutmeg, and juice of one lemon. Place top crust in position; seal edges well, and slash top to let steam escape. Bake 45 minutes in a 350-degree gas oven. If you're not calorie counting, serve with a dash of sour cream.

PATIO PERFECT

Gas puts a bigger glow in your outdoor living this year! Light your patio with the glow of gas lights. (They attract good company, discourage insects.) Now you can also give the patio new gas infra-red heating for chill night air, and radiant gas-heated flagstones for warmer footwork. Dine from new barbecue grills with sootless, ashless ceramic coils. (Bet you didn't know all these new gas features were here, did you? Better visit your local gas company, Peoples Natural Gas, more often!)

CANDLE AND KIT

Summer cottage guests do stub a toe, scratch a knee or lose their way outside sometimes! My neighbor insists on a "guest kit" checked and re-stocked after each week-end says goodbye. Containing antiseptic, bandages, new toothbrush, tooth powder, sunburn cream, emery board, flashlight, candle in holder, and matches, the kit sits out on the guest-room dresser. Can't miss it! Oh yes, one more item we should include: bicarbonate of soda, just in case one's cooking hasn't "set" well.

SHEET TREAT

Trot out your cookie sheets, next time you take kiddies on a car trip! That's the word from Mrs. John A. Eppel of Minnesota. Rimmed cookie sheets, she suggests, hold pencils and crayons as well as writing tablets and coloring books. A good idea to remember!

HOWDY FRIEND!

When a new plant opens in your community, it may bring better jobs to some of your neighbors! Industry's life-blood of a town. It means more jobs, bigger payrolls, more business for local firms, more opportunity. Abundant energy is the life-blood of most industries, and thousands of industries count on natural gas for fuel. So Northern Natural Gas Company, pipeline supplier to your local gas company, Peoples Natural Gas, has an active, year-around "aree development" program. By helping your community leaders to encourage new industrial growth, Northern hopes to help you and your neighbors to grow in the "good things" of life.

VIEWING THE ECLIPSE

On Saturday, July 20th, a solar eclipse will be visible, weather permitting, from most of the United States and Canada. Falling on a weekend and coming in a traditionally holiday month, the event can be expected to attract a record number of viewers. There also will be a record number of eye injuries (retinal burns), unless precautions are taken to prevent them. Retinal burns from the sun are like those from an atomic blast.

The normal eye can tolerate only fleeting glances at the sun. Don't view the eclipse through colored glasses, smoked glasses, broken beer bottles or other common objects. Such material will not protect the eyes from serious damage.

The only safe way to view the eclipse is indirectly. Punch a 1/4 inch hole in a card about one foot square. Hold the card at right angles to the sun's rays so that the image will be reflected on a screen placed about 10 feet away. The observer's back is to the sun and thus direct exposure of the eyes to the searing rays of the sun is avoided.

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS

by Bill Stokes

The Reinbeck Courier, Reinbeck, Iowa, tells the story of the family with bees in the walls of the house. They've been there for years, the story goes, and have caused very little trouble.

The lady of the house is quoted as saying that about ten years ago a hired man crawled into the attic for some honey. What I'd like to know is, did the hired man crawl back out, or is he still in the attic, stuck fast to the honey?

The lady also said that occasionally a bee will fly into her shoe during the early morning hours, and "you can guess what happens then."

No I can't. I'd rather someone told me. Or better yet, I'd like somebody to capture the proceeding on a home movie outfit.

The Winner rock hounds had a meeting, the Winner Advocate of Winner, S.D., reported, and part of the discussion was on which rock—the Fairburn agate or the Rose quartz—should be recommended as the official state rock.

I don't think I could be much help to South Dakota, but if they ever get to discussing the situation for Montana I'd like to recommend that the official rock be the dinosaur gizzard stone.

We have a light-weight rock hound at our house, and on a recent trip through Montana a rancher gave him what is alleged to be a dinosaur gizzard stone. Prior to this, I didn't even know a dinosaur had a gizzard.

But we got the gizzard stone and told a few people what it was and they looked at us and edged away saying, "Sure it is."

This is the time of year for class reunions, according to an item in the Le Mars Globe-Post of Le Mars, Iowa.

Just because of an uncontrollable urge to add to the world's store of knowledge, I'd like to know if a gal going to a class reunion had her choice, would she rather have a new dress or a new girdle?

They had a stork shower for a lady in Oakwood, Ohio, the Oakwood News relates, and the account of the event said that "Regrets were sent by..." and there followed a list of ladies.

While we're in a questioning frame of mind, what were those ladies regretting? Were they simply regretting that they could not attend the shower? Were they regretting that their friend was going to have a baby? Were they regretting that they were not having babies? Or were they regretting that they would miss the cake and coffee?

They let a man out of the Johnson county jail long enough to get married, the Johnson County News of Greenwood, Ind., reports, which goes to prove that a man isn't even safe in jail.

There was mention in a recent issue of the Burlington Standard Press, Burlington, Wis., on the changes automatic machines have wrought in traditional washdays. There is no longer the Monday morning race to get clothes on the line before any one else, the Standard Press reports.

With all due respect to my mother, she was never in the race. The reason was not because she wasn't interested in cleanliness, because Lord knows she was. It was because she didn't have the mechanical ability to get the gasoline engine on the washing machine started.

She began cranking with one foot—just after the sun was up, and she kept it up for an hour or so, throwing her weight onto the foot pedal that was supposed to inject life into the cantankerous old engine.

Rarely did the engine give so much as a cough to indicate it would ever come alive, but this did not daunt dear mother. She cranked harder, and soon perspiration began streaming down her face and periodically she would collapse and hang across the washing machine like a wet stocking.

Sometimes she would kneel down and stare at the engine, and once I saw her caress the sparkplug, but this was as far as her mechanical attempts went.

After several hours of cranking, she would sometimes cry briefly, and on occasion she would emit a short, hysterical burst of laughter. Generally, though, she just cranked until the engine gave up and started.

This is the kind of adventure that is denied the ladies of today.

This is a busy time of year for 4-H kids, we are reminded by an item in the Mason County Democrat, Havana, Illinois.

The thing I seem to remember best about 4-H is trying to wash the grass-stains from the knees of a Holstein calf the week before county fair time.

The meetings taught you how to run in a circle, from playing drop-the-handkerchief. I think I was the treasurer one year, and this was the year we almost became the very first 4-H club in the country to file bankruptcy.

BANANA ICE CREAM TREAT

This refreshing banana ice cream is delicious and colorful with bits of sweet raisins and maraschino cherries. Homemade ice cream is certainly a summer time company conversation piece, and this one is exceptionally rich in flavor. It's all made in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator.

This is a perfect recipe to plan to make well ahead of entertaining time. It keeps its delicious flavor and creamy texture for several days at regular freezing temperature. You can serve with cake and Tea Garden Bracer.

|-------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatin | 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice       |
| 1/4 cup sugar                 | 1/4 cup dark or golden raisins      |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt             | 1 1/2 cups whipping cream           |
| 3 cups milk                   | 1/4 cup chopped maraschino cherries |

Mix gelatin, sugar and salt thoroughly. Add 1/2 cup milk. Place over low heat, stirring constantly until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat and stir in remaining milk. Cool. Peel and crush bananas in large bowl. Add lemon juice and cooled milk mixture. Chop raisins and fold in with whipped cream and cherries. Carnation Instant Nonfat Dry Milk's lighter, more refreshing flavor — perfect with fresh fruit!

All of milk's protein — for as little as 9¢ a quart!

Carnation Instant Nonfat Milk brings you the nourishing refreshment of milk without fat. No fat, but all of milk's protein. All of milk's calcium, B-vitamins, minerals. Carnation Instant tastes so much more refreshing your family will drink more, too.

Mixes instantly. Perfect for all your cooking.

Even whips for luscious toppings, new recipe lightness.

This is the Instant that's delicious for drinking!

The days of jelly-making are rolling 'round once more but we no longer have to stand over a hot stove for hours upon hours. There's exciting news in the jelly-making field for now there's a "No-Cook" method!

It's a simple procedure, particularly adapted for jelly or jam. Called "No-Cook", it means just that. Ripe, seasonal fruit is merely crushed or chopped, never cooked, thus preserving the natural freshest flavor for the jelly glasses. As easy as 1-2-3, all that is necessary is to pour powdered fruit pectin and boiling water or lemon juice over the prepared fruit which has been mixed with sugar. Or liquid fruit pectin may be used. A three-minute stir and then into the jelly glasses for a shimmering, soft jelly. Either jelly or jam can be made with the "No-Cook" method and may be stored indefinitely in the freezer. Good use can be made of seasonal fruits to produce many compatible combinations, or for just plain delicious, delicately flavored jelly for immediate and future enjoyment.

NO-COOK GRAPE JELLY

Yield: about 6 medium glasses

2 cups juice (about 2 lbs. ripe Concord grapes)      2 tablespoons water
4 cups sugar      ½ bottle liquid fruit pectin

First, prepare juice. Stem and thoroughly crush about 2 pounds fully ripe Concord grapes. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure 2 cups juice into large bowl or pan.

To make no-cook jelly. To measured juice in bowl or pan, add measured sugar; mix well. Mix water and liquid fruit pectin well in small bowl; stir into juice. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals may remain.) Pour quickly into glasses or freezer containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand until set — takes up to 24 hours. Store in freezer or, for use within 3 weeks, in refrigerator.

PEACH WALNUT JAM
(Standard Method)

Yield about 11 medium glasses (5½ lbs. jam)

4 cups prepared fruit (about 3 lbs. ripe peaches)
½ cup chopped California walnuts

2 cups sugar
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin
½ cup lemon juice (about 2 lemons)

First, prepare the fruit. Peel and pit about 3 pounds fully ripe peaches. Grind or chop very fine. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan. Chop the walnuts and measure ½ cup into the saucepan with the peaches. Squeeze the juice from 2 medium size lemons. Measure ½ cup juice into saucepan with peaches.

Then, make the jam. Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with ¼-inch hot paraffin.

Note: This jam may set slowly. Allow about 2 weeks.

TOP FARMER — Harold Gardner has built his feeding operation around four big silos, two located on each of the farm's two units. A third is to be built soon on the "home place," home of Harold Gardner.

CORN

LOW MOISTURE HAYLAGE

Harold Gardner of Warren County, Ill., has all of the confidence in the world in the future of farming and in a feedlot operation in particular.

You can sense it the first moment you step foot on this modern, efficient livestock farm from which several hundred head of steers roll to market each year. Four big silos — two on each unit of the Gardner Brothers' Stock Farm — are the dominant features of the panorama surrounding feedlots filled to capacity with cattle at various stages of readiness for market. Full use is made of each of the tall silos that have become the central point of the Gardner operation.

"I specialize in grass-fed cattle and actually I receive a premium for them in spite of the fact that packers once looked down their noses at anything except corn-fed steers," states the 41-year-old operator of one of Western Illinois' finest stock farms. He feeds his cattle a ration of dry haylage and high-moisture corn.

Two of his silos are filled with alfalfa haylage and the other two with high-moisture corn grown on 700 of Gardner's 890 acres this year.

Gardner is just as efficient at growing corn as he is at fattening a lot of premium beef. This year his corn averaged almost 130 bushels per acre — a bumper yield even for the rich, black loam he farms.

"You may think it sounds strange, but I actually get a premium for my grass-fed cattle," remarked Gardner as he fingers a mixture of haylage and wet corn in the feed bunks where 300 white faces eat.

"But that is just what happened," he continued, explaining that a few weeks ago a Dubuque, Iowa, packer bought a consignment of steers on his farm.

"The packer wanted me to accept a price based on his estimate that the steers would cut out 62 percent," recalled the likeable stockman.

"I held out for 10 cents extra for every quarter-percent above 62 percent that they graded and the buyer finally agreed," he went on.

The happy result for Gardner was that the grass-fed steers dressed out 63.8 percent and his check from the packer included a fat 73 cents extra for every 100 pounds of live weight. Because of the nature of Gardner's feeding operation, he figures his cattle get plenty of protein from the haylage and high-moisture corn so he cuts a corner by not feeding protein with this ration after the steers go on full feed.

Hogs fattened at the Gardner Stock Farm have a strong liking for wet-corn, and the Warren County farmer jokes that "they are the softest eating hogs in the world".

Gardner knows how to make every motion pay whether it is in blowing 12,000 bushels of corn into one of the big silos or figuring out a way to make his land produce bigger yields with more efficiency.

We can tell you in one word why more people buy Remington 22's than any other make...NYLON!

Du Pont "Zytel" nylon is what makes Remington 22's better than other 22's. Nylon means more accuracy—because a nylon stock never swells, shrinks or warps from changes in temperature or humidity. So once you sight in a Nylon 22, it stays sighted in—until you change the sights. And nylon permits three-point bedding for greater accuracy—the same type of bedding that gives expensive target rifles their accuracy.

Nylon stocks are better-looking, too. That's because only nylon gives you such graceful lines, handsome checkering and inletting—things you don't find on comparably priced 22's.

Dependability? Nylon wins, hands down! For example, the Nylon 66 Automatic is the most trouble-free automatic ever made. The action rides on "greaseless bearings" of self-lubricating, long-wearing nylon. And all Remington nylon stocks are guaranteed not to warp, crack, chip, fade or peel for the life of the rifle, or we will replace it free.

So why buy a 22 that really isn't new . . . hasn't changed in years. Not when you can have a brand-new, modern, guaranteed Remington Nylon 22. And you can pick your model and price from six models in three great actions:

NYLON 66 AUTOMATIC—Most trouble-free automatic made. Grooved for tip-off scope mounts. Holds 14 long rifle cartridges. . . . . $49<sup>95</sup>***
Also in striking Apache Black and Chrome. . . . . $54<sup>95</sup>***

NYLON 76 LEVER-ACTION—Fastest, most accurate lever-action made. Grooved for tip-off scope mounts. Holds 14 long rifle cartridges. In Mohawk Brown. . . . . $59<sup>95</sup>***

NYLON 11 BOLT ACTION—Has chrome-plated Mannlicher-type bolt handle, many other top features. Clip magazine holds 6 short, long or long rifle cartridges. . . . $36<sup>95</sup>***
NYLON 12—Same with tubular magazine. Holds 21 short, 16 long or 14 long rifle cartridges. . . . . $39<sup>95</sup>***
NYLON 10—Single shot. Takes all sizes of 22's. . . $25<sup>75</sup>***
