Christmas displays in Wayne homes, places and at homes and churches will be judged this weekend. Dec. 19-21. Prizes will be awarded in four divisions.

The Kiwanis club sponsors the competition with prizes furnished by the City of Wayne. Winner in each division will receive a $17 certificate good for any appliance at a Wayne business place.

A creche is the division for displays in yards away from the house and business windows takes in all decorations at business or professional locations. Combination of yard and house lighting displays will be judged in one division or the other, depending on the central feature.

Winners will be announced in The Herald next week. They will be guests of the Kiwanis club Dec. 28 at which time certificates will be presented. Kent Hale and Les Wehrman are in charge of the project.

No contest was held last year. Winners in the 1962 competition were St. Paul's Lutheran church in the creche division, Dr. Roy Matson for house decorations, Ivan Crenshaw for yard decorations and Carlhart Lumber for business displays.

Schools Dismiss Next Wednesday

Wayne public and parochial schools will dismiss for the Christmas holiday Wednesday, Dec. 23. They will reconvene Monday, Jan. 4 at the regular opening time. Father William Kleffman of St. Mary's school has announced that school will be out until 3:30 p.m. next Wednesday. Opening time Jan. 4 is 8:30 a.m.

In the Wayne school system, including both grade schools, the high school and Carroll grade school, classes will be dismissed at 4 p.m. next Wednesday. Classes resume Jan. 4 at 8:50 a.m., Supt. Francis Haun reports.

A Christmas party will be held by St. Mary's Sunday evening to wind up the school's Christmas activities. Santa will be there. Wayne High's W club is sponsoring a Christmas dance Saturday, Dec. 19 at the City Auditorium as a finale to the public schools' Christmas activities.

Randolph School Head Announces Retirement

Fred Pokorney, superintendent of schools at Randolph, has announced his retirement at the end of the present school term. His place will be taken by Neil Klaver, coach and social studies instructor four years.

Pokorney, who formerly taught in Wayne, Walthill and South Sioux City, has been at Randolph eight years. He and his wife will move to Lincoln in June.

Klaver is a graduate of Platte Center high school, a Korean war veteran and received his BA and MA degrees at Wayne State. He had graduate study in administration and supervision at the University of Nebraska.

Attend Delegate Meet

Mrs. Inez Boeckenhauer, Mrs. Mildred Jones and Mrs. Lena Miller represented the Wayne County Education Association at the delegate assembly of the Nebraska State Education Association meeting in Lincoln Dec. 11-12.

Phyllis Ellermeier

Phyllis Ellermeier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ellermeier, Wayne, won second place in a writing contest sponsored by the Omaha World-Herald for December.

Her entry, which her instructor, Dave Chambers, considered "unusually adult" for a high school pupil, was on a "retarded child." It is the first time she has won although writing is a hobby with her and she has submitted both poetry and prose to teenage publications. Several hundred entries are submitted each month by high school English teachers from all over the World-Herald area in the "Opportunity for Writers" contest. Phyllis plans to submit more entries and to keep on writing for her own enjoyment and the enjoyment of others.

Record Attendance Here Last Week for CD Meet

A record attendance for a Civil Defense meeting in the area was recorded Wednesday last week when 81 attended a conference in the Wayne National Guard armory.

E. L. "Pat" Hailey, Wayne Civil Defense Director, reported representatives on hand from nine counties and 22 communities. R. C. Andersen of the University of Nebraska extension division and Austin Bacon, state Civil Defense official, were among those attending.

Program features included aspects of planning for both natural and man-made disasters, the Nebraska map with flashing lights designating military and strategic installations, a film on troop movements for the invasion of Cuba, the home shelter program, a fallout film and demonstrations of shielding from radioactive material.

Attending from this county were Mr. and Mrs. Levi Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. L. Morris, Carroll; Mary Jo Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Skeahan, John Barnes, Thomas Roberts, John Mohr, Don Weible, Harold Ingalls and E. L. Hailey, Wayne; and Herb Brogh, Winside.

Dixon county had 23 present, Madison county 16, Wayne county 14, Pierce county 11, Stanton county 5, Holt county 4, Cumby and Dakota counties 3 each and Thurston county 2.

Coffee and doughnuts were served to the delegates through the courtesy of the City of Wayne and the Chamber of Commerce.

Late News Release

Just before press time the Herald received the following statement from Walter Mollin regarding the controversial mobile home court he had planned to build at the west end of Second Street in Wayne:

"At the time the application for a permit to construct a 'Trailer Court' on West Second Street was made it was expected that there would be expressed some opposition to the development of such a project. The plan as submitted to the City Council provided for compliance with the Ordinance of the City of Wayne and beyond that very adequate facilities for mobile homes and their occupants. The City Council approved the project and granted the permit. It is unfortunate that the issue grew to the proportions that it did, as we feel that only a few people would be directly affected by the project. Because of considerable pressure upon some members of the City Council and the neighborhood opposition to the project, about which they know very little, my decision at this time, is not to develop the project."

Herald Will Publish Forecast by Babson

The annual Babson Forecast will again be published by The Wayne Herald. Calling 1965 "a year of many changes," the business and financial predictions will cover many topics. Forecasts will be given on business volume, impact of excise-tax cuts, developing profits squeeze, war or peace in the East, Britain's plight, worldwide credit problems, China on the nuclear march, farm-price prospects, silver coinage crisis and inflation versus deflation. The Babson Forecasts in the past have been unusually accurate, calling the score correctly on 80 to 95 per cent of the predictions.

Wayne Youth Wins 4-H Scholarship at U of N

A $75 check has been presented Lauren Boeckenhauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boeckenhauer of Wayne. He is one of two University of Nebraska sophomores named as recipients of Frisbie Memorial Scholarships.

Boeckenhauer received the award at the honors banquet of the University of Nebraska 4-H club in Lincoln. W. M. Antes, state 4-H leader at NU, made the presentation.

The local youth has been active in 4-H work for over 10 years. He had been awarded another scholarship at the university.

Fourth Annual Presentation Of Nativity Scene Scheduled

Beginning Friday, Dec. 18 and running through next Thursday, Christmas Eve, St. Paul's Lutheran church, Wayne, will present its Living Nativity scene on the church lawn. This will be the fourth annual presentation in which members of the congregation's high school youth group participate.

During the hour-long pantomime, from 6:30 to 7:30 each evening, a different cast of five young people will portray the Holy Family. Live animals, such as lambs, a donkey, little calves and a goat or two, help make the scene most real.

The blustery December cold has yet to keep any of the 30 or so young people from taking their turn on their appointed night. Rev. Robert El Shreck, pastor of the congregation, feels that even though the Living Nativity scene offers something of concrete value to the community, the primary effect has been upon the young people who participate.

They find the joy of giving, fully aware that they are making a unique Christian contribution to celebration of Christmas.

Many a holiday party or basketball game has taken second place in their schedules during this week, so that they may take their turns in the scene. Sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Olson, efficiently direct and assist the Leaguers.

The modernly designed creche, supported by a cross, has a triangular roof woven of long narrow woodstrips in a basket pattern. Finished in bright reds, yellows and soft blue, the creche forms a colorful background for the costumed characters portraying the Holy Family. Since nothing is artificial in the scene, the manger filled with hay, contains only a soft yellow light to portray the presence of Jesus.

HAROLD WITTLER, Carroll, will have a merrier Christmas this year. He was present in the Gamble store Thursday night when his name was called and won the $350 Silver Dollar night prize. Gamble manager Jack Major (left) presented him the winner's check. Wayne Chamber of Commerce sponsors the popular event and has decided to start the next drawing with a $200 award in light of the Christmas season.

Handicapped Children Will Be Christmas Party Guests

Handicapped children from Wayne, Dixon and Cedar counties will be guests of the Kiwanis club and the Mrs. Jaycees at a Christmas party Saturday, Dec. 19, from 1:30 to 3 p.m. in the Wayne grade school.

Refreshments will be served, entertainment will be provided and gifts will be handed out. The Kiwanians are footing the bill and the Mrs. Jaycees are in charge of arrangements.

Many of the handicapped are unable to attend school. For them this will be the only Christmas party with other children they will have so the Kiwanis club is anxious that all parents be notified. The parents themselves may attend to see the fun and excitement. In case there are some who might be missed, their names should be turned in to Mrs. Steve Brash or any member of the Mrs. Jaycees. Help in making sure no one is missed will be appreciated.

Jackpot Is $200 For Cash Drawing

The jackpot for the cash night drawing, tonight (Thursday) is $200. Harold Wittler, Carroll, won $350 at last week's drawing. Ordinarily the drawing would begin at $100, but because of the holiday season the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce set this week's jackpot at $200.

Two Wayne State debaters will compete in an Omaha television series, vying for championship among eight colleges. Lyle Koenig and Roger Hobbs will challenge an Omaha University team in what is known as a cross examination debate. The half-hour contest is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. Saturday on KETV, channel 7, Omaha.

Clayton Southwick, director of vocal music, will present the 85-voice mixed chorus. The concert orchestra directed by Don Schumacher will also be featured. The orchestra portion will consist of: "Waltz of the Flowers"; "White Christmas"; "Choral and Fugue"; "Hansel and Gretel"; and "The Blue Bells of Scotland." As a finale, the chorus and orchestra will combine for "Christmas Fantasy," consisting of a collection of familiar Christmas carols.

'New' Old Musical Instrument Built

Antony Garlick, Wayne State music professor, has a new instrument to play with and on. It is a clavichord, a brand new model whose ancestry dates back six or seven centuries.

Garlick still has to install the strings. But last week he received the cabinet from Wayne Bennett, a senior from Tilden majoring in industrial arts, who did the cabinetry for Garlick as an out-of-class project with Anton Netherda, jr., who teaches woodworking, as adviser.

The result of Bennett's 77 hours labor drew lavish praise from the music professor, who knows the meaning of careful craftsmanship. About two years ago Garlick completed a harpsichord in a cabinet which he had hired built. And before that, he and the Rev. Robert Shreck installed a pipe organ at the college.

The current task will be simpler — only the stringing left to do. Unlike the harpsichord, the earlier clavichord has small brass hammers which hit the strings, whereas the harpsichord strings are plucked by tiny leather plectrums. The brass hammer assembly comes in a kit; the plectrums had to be cut individually.

Garlick's clavichord closely resembles in mechanics the earliest instruments, which were the first ancestors of the piano. "I think the piano and organ teacher said 'that college music students should have such an instrument around to see.' One day soon he plans to demonstrate for them his latest delight.

Other officers elected were Troy Vaughn, vice president and Norris Weible, treasurer. Wanda Owens is manager of the C. of C. The other four directors are Don Wittig, Dr. Robert Bentback, Stan Morris and Willard Wiltsie. Bentback, Morris and Wiltsie are new on the board while the other three are holdovers. January 1 the new officers take over, according to the manager.

Dick Kern Is New Head of Wayne C of C

Dick Kern of Kern Implement is the new president of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. He was elected at a meeting of the directors Wednesday morning and takes over from Mill Mason who served in that post this year. Other officers elected were Troy Vaughn, vice president and Norris Weible, treasurer. Wanda Owens is manager of the C. of C. The other four directors are Don Wittig, Dr. Robert Bentback, Stan Morris and Willard Wiltsie. Bentback, Morris and Wiltsie are new on the board while the other three are holdovers. January 1 the new officers take over, according to the manager.

Mrs. Betty Miner Named Wakefield Correspondent

The Wayne Herald is pleased to announce that Mrs. Betty Miner has been named correspondent for The Herald from the Wakefield community. She will be submitting news for publication next week.

Clayton Southwick, director of vocal music, will present the 85-voice mixed chorus. The concert orchestra directed by Don Schumacher will also be featured. Choral numbers include: "Choral Fanfare for Christmas"; "Lo, How a Rose"; "Adoration of the Magi"; "Alleluia"; "Masters in This House"; and "Christmas Day."

Former Wayne Man Doing Grass Research

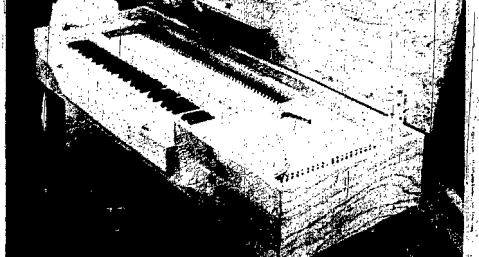

Robert L. Parenti, a graduate of the Wayne schools, is engaged in research with wire grass at the University of Oklahoma. The former Wayne resident is working with Dr. Elroy Rice, professor of botany, on the project.

Wire grass is an annual that forms pure stands up to 15 years. It is being studied to see if its ability to produce chemicals which inhibit the growth of nitrogen-fixing bacteria is a factor in this ability. Bunch grasses and other hardy-looking grasses which are not able to form pure stands over such long periods, are also being studied.

St. Mary's Pupils Will Go Caroling Friday Eve

Pupils from the fourth through the eighth grade of St. Mary's school will go caroling Friday evening. Under the direction of Father William Kleffman, they will remember the sick and the elderly.

Plans call for them to visit the Dahl Retirement Center and the Wayne hospital. They will also sing at homes where there are known to be shut-ins. Teachers and parents will assist in transporting the carolers and keeping them bundled up and from scattering out.

A NEW OLD INSTRUMENT: Inspected by Garlick, Bennett, Netherda.

Blue Devils Get Victories Over Laurel and Norfolk

Wayne High Blue Devils came up with victories number two and three last week with squeakers over Norfolk and Laurel.

Friday night Wayne entertained the Panthers of Norfolk on the Rice Auditorium floor and came up with a 51-48 victory. Tuesday night the Devils traveled to Laurel and held on for a 52-38 win.

Both contests were fast moving, wild affairs from start to finish. The Norfolk game was somewhat planned that way by Wayne because of the tight Pennant defense.

The large Rice floor gave the Devils lots of room in which to work and they managed to break up the Norfolk defense largely through the efforts of Rick Bernhoff and Neil Adams. Friday night's starting guards.

"Fine individual performances," is what Coach Harold Maciejewski credited the win with. "On the part of the entire club. On a team-to-team basis we were probably out-classed. To win three games every player on our team had to outplay his man, and that's what they did."

Doug Manske came up with another above-average game on defense, as he hauled 14 rebounds for the second straight week, and blocked Panther shots.

Norfolk, however, had the control of the boards pretty much to themselves, and got that all-important second shot on offense. Wayne's field goal percentage was higher than that of Norfolk's (30% to 23%), but Norfolk took 71 shots in the contest compared to 52 shots by Wayne.

Free-throws were nearly equal in both shots made and attempted and the percentage. Wayne hit 17 of 28 for 60%, while Norfolk scored 16 of 28 for 57%.

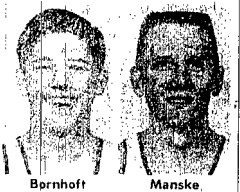

The Devils jumped to an early 4-0 lead on field goals, and led at the end of the first period, 19-8. But Norfolk came back and flexed their muscles for a half-time lead of 27-22.

Wayne, a long way from being down, proved their offense and defense by scoring 17 while holding Norfolk to 10. The lead at the end of three was then 39-37. Wayne, and jockeyed back and forth with Wayne holding the edge through most of the final frame.

The Devils held the edge of 49-48 with seconds left, when Dean Eloffson was fouled just as the buzzer sounded. He sank both shots and hence the final score of 51-48.

Bernhoff led all scorers with 22 points on nine field goals and four free throws. Eloffson was second for Wayne with seven. Warneke and McLaughlin each had 15 for Norfolk's lead.

Bernhoff

Manske

Tuesday night's contest with Laurel looked as though it would be a somewhat lopsided affair in the first period. In the opening minutes Wayne built up a solid lead only to see it dwindle to a four point, 19-15 first quarter score.

Period number two kept fans on edge as to which club would hold the lead, but Wayne held on long enough for a slight 28-27 half-time lead.

This one point edge lasted only about a minute of the third period when Laurel connected for a field goal and a 29-28 lead. The Devils came rushing back with two free throws and eight field goals in building up their lead to 46-33.

But of all cold spells a club may have, the worst has been during the final period, as Wayne had failed to score with seven minutes in the period elapsed.

The first Devils tally in the quarter was a free throw by Manske with 59 seconds remaining in the game. This free throw gave Wayne a point after Laurel had come from a 13 point deficit to a one point lacking of Wayne's total, 46-45.

This free throw, along with the second boosted Wayne's lead to 48-45. Manske sank two more with 43 seconds remaining and Eloffson hit one with 32 left for a 51-49 lead. Eloffson hit the long Devil field goal of the period with 0:08 left on the clock.

Manske held the scoring crown for both clubs with 19, followed by Eloffson with 10. Sufion and Felber led Laurel with 14 each.

Wayne hit 48% of their free throws, 9 of 19, while Laurel hit 9 of 17 for 53%.

Friday night Wayne plays its final contest before the holiday Tournament when they invade Plainview. The Holiday Tournament will be January 12.

College Tourney Plans Are Made

The seventh annual Wayne State Christmas Basketball Tournament is less than two weeks away.

Three teams from South Dakota, Wisconsin and Illinois will join the host Wayne State squad in staging the cage carnival Dec. 29-31. Wayne will have a big assist from sponsoring business and professional men of Wayne.

Visiting teams are South Dakota, School of Mines at Rapid City, Wisconsin State at River Falls and McKendree College of Lebanon, Ill. This will be the first appearance at Wayne for all three.

The assistant coach at River Falls, however, is no stranger to Wayne. He is Gwynn Christensen and he has been coaching at Wayne State for three years until he became football coach at the Wisconsin college in 1962.

Pairings in the tourney match River Falls and McKendree in the opener, followed by South Dakota Mines and Wayne in the Dec. 29 nightcap. Losers play the first game, winners the second game Dec. 30.

Competition in previous tournaments has been such that Wayne won the championship only once (1961) and has been second only twice.

Wakefield Routs Wisner

Wakefield's Trojans won handily over Wisner on the latter's court Friday night. Leading all the way, the winners posted a 23-10 first quarter advantage, were in front 15-9 at the half and used reserves in the last half as they were out 16-14 in the third stanza and finished even, 14-14 in the final period. Brownell's 17 paced the Trojans and Stigge led Wisner with 12.

Wayne Teams Play in Norfolk Cage League

A twin team sponsored by El Rancho and Sportsland is in a Norfolk league this season. They won 100-49 over Fifth Street Bar last week and played their second trip Hill Wednesday of this week.

Games are played each Monday or Wednesday night in the Burns High School gym. A practice game with the WSC frosh produced a 73-71 win for the El Rancho-Sportsland quintet.

Players are Roger Ginapp, Ken Dahl, Dick Collins, Van Steckelberg, Dennis Torgerson, Lyle Nansen, Kendall Huettinson, Chuck Mielitz, Tom Rucher, Steve Krouch and Keith Krommenhoek.

In the initial win, Ginapp led all scorers with 24. Fulcher had 12, Torgerson and Steckelberg, 10, Krouch 9, Huettinson and Collins, 8, Krommenhoek 7, Dahl 6, and Mielitz 4.

Reserve Squad Loses Two-Tilts Past Week

Wayne Blue Devils' Reserve squad lost a pair of games the past week, the first to Norfolk 69-48 and the second to Laurel 64-44.

Friday night Norfolk took advantage of two strong quarters and one weak Wayne period for an easy 69-48 win.

Norfolk never trailed in the contest and scored at the period stops, 8-3, 29-18, 45-31 and 69-48.

Wayne out-shot Norfolk in one statistic: free throw shooting. Wayne hit 18 of 34 for 53 percent, while Norfolk hit 9 of 19 for 47%.

Gordon Shupe and Lowell Lutt shared scoring honors for Wayne with 10 points each. Cal Comstock has seven.

Tuesday night was the same story at Laurel as the reserves found themselves on the bottom half of the scoreboard all night. Laurel held a 14-9 first quarter lead and a 32-22 half-time edge.

They led after three 47-36, and at the end, 64-44. Lutt had sole ownership of scoring honors with 15, followed by Dave Brown with eight and Lynn Lessman with seven.

The Devils could only muster 8 of 22 free throws for 36%, while Laurel was amassing 14 of 20 for 70%.

Winside Eases by Coleridge Tuesday

Winside's Wildcats squeaked through for a 60-56 win over Coleridge on the winner's court Tuesday night. The teams entered the fray with identical records of 1 win and 2 losses.

Although the score was tied an even dozen times, the last time at 51-51, the lead changed hands only three times. Each team managed seven-point leads during the tilt, the Bulldogs going in front 15-8 in the second period and Winside edging in front 29-22 in the second. From there on the margin was seldom more than five.

Old Man Free Throw was on the side of the Red and White as Coleridge outscored WHS 50-46 from the floor. The Wildcats hit 14 of 29 gratis shots while the visitors could manage only 6 of 13.

Larry Redel, Winside, led all scorers with 27. Dick Ditman with 14 was second high. The Coleridge effort was led by LeRoy Cautrell with 23. Jim Kurtzals added 15 and Tom Phillips 12.

The 22-year-old soldier is a native of Wisner and graduated from WIS in 1960. He has been trained in wire laying, message center operation and switchboard operation. Dixon 4-H Aiming to Curb Teenage Mishaps

Dixon county 4-H members are aiming to curb the No. 1 cause of teenage deaths in their area — automobile accidents. A three-phase program has been worked out, according to County Agent Howard Gillaspie. Figures show that only 8.6 per cent of the U. S. drivers are teenagers but they are involved in 13.7 per cent of the automobile fatalities. Study in Dixon county is centered on the Nebraska drivers' manual and an automotive project.

Part one of the project is "The Car and the Highway" to help give an understanding of the auto in our way of life as far as ethics, responsibility of drivers, care and use; part two deals with maintenance and proper operation; and part three covers highway courtesy and safety. All Dixon teenagers from 13 through 16 are urged to take part in the project. Firestone, national 4-H departments, USDA and the Extension Service are working together in sponsoring it.

Business Notes

A Christmas gift came early for John Grashorn, son of Ed Grashorn and an employee of Wayne Phillip 66 station. The local youth gave the usual "Golden Approach Service" for a car driven by Tom Grosshans of Norfolk, a "Mystery Motorist" for Phillips for the past six months. After John had offered floor mat service, checked under the hood, cleaned the windows, offered the inspection and gave other service in a friendly manner, Mr. Grosshans revealed himself as a mystery motorist and presented the youth with a certificate good for $50. In six months travel as a mystery motorist, it was the first time Mr. Grosshans had received the full golden approach service recommended by the petroleum company.

Versatile Gas For Both Heat and Cold

Fingertip climate control is the hallmark of the modern gas-equipped home. The dual personality of gas makes it the ideal fuel for heating or cooling on a year-round basis. In the cold of winter, gas units put moisture in the air to prevent dry, parching heat. In sizzling summer, they reduce excess water vapor to provide relief from humid, sticky weather.

Thus, gas makes possible freedom by providing the mechanical means for controlling the climate inside the home every day in the year. The same ducts and pipes which carry warm air to all parts of the house can now be utilized to circulate cool air during hot weather. Because the air is filtered, dust, pollen and other impurities are removed. Constant, but imperceptible movement of the air results in a draft-free, fresh-air atmosphere.

Today, gas air conditioning is the modern means of controlling the weather, inside the home. And it does it sufficiently, dependably and economically.

Modernizing Jobs Get High Priority

Napoleon said an army "travels on its stomach"—and most mothers will tell you that the same thing is true of a family. Which makes the cook and her "theater of operations" mighty important, and is why so many families in setting up their schedules of home improvement, give top priority to the modernization or remodeling of the kitchen.

A good approach to the whole subject of re-doing the kitchen is to ask yourself this question—if you were buying a new home, what kind of kitchen would you want? Then compare this "dream room" with your present kitchen. The chances are the two rooms are not very much alike, but they could be. Remodeling and modernization can change the size, shape and efficiency of your kitchen as well as its appearance, at a cost that may well be considerably less than you now think.

One of the first things you should do is make a list of everything you wish to replace, together with all of the additional appliances or fixtures you want.

Very early in your planning, it is a good idea to consult with specialists. There is an abundance of professional help available to you. You can work with an architect or kitchen designer, a kitchen cabinet dealer, a store which may offer you a complete "kitchen package" or the home economists of a utility company. Do not hesitate to ask for bids or estimates, especially if the job will involve major structural changes.

Depending on financial or other factors, you can do an overall job of remodeling or modernization at one time, or can make your desired changes a step at a time, major appliance center by appliance center, until the job is finished.

If you take the latter course, be sure to plan ahead for the future installation of wiring and plumbing that will be required to complete the picture of your "dream kitchen."

The newest concept in kitchen planning is to analyze the kitchen according to work areas, which are basically three in number. (1) the stove or cooking area, (2) the sink or cleaning area, and (3) the storage area.

A dining and food planning area is often included. To plan a kitchen that is easiest to use, the first step is to decide exactly what is needed in each area. The best coordination of the work areas with one another will follow naturally. Worth considering in planning a program of kitchen modernization are these basic characteristics of the up-to-date kitchen.

(1) Step-saving. Kitchens are planned for time-and-step-saving convenience. Appliances, counter space and storage units are grouped so that the housewife can quickly turn from one to another, enabling her to prepare a meal on a "turn-around" basis.

(2) Easy-to-maintain surfaces. Plastic laminates are used extensively for cabinets, wall surfaces and countertops. The housewife appreciates the advantages of a surface that can be kept clean with a damp cloth.

(3) Lighting where it should be.

No homemaker likes to work in her own shadow. For this reason the trend is to get away from center lights and instead have them under the cabinets. The ideal arrangement is to have a light for every countertop.

Major Appliances. With respect to major kitchen appliances, manufacturers are offering a wider variety of units than ever before, and designing compact units that can be used for many chores, rather than several units for several different chores.

Whether these units are free-standing or built-in, they have a built-in look for easy coordination.

Compact units mean less steps and more room for storage. The variety of design means that it is possible to find just the right major appliance for the needs of the family.

A good example of the trend to multi-functional units is the new type of range that does a number of cooking tasks, from baking and broiling to grilling to range-top cooking.

Wool Marketing Year Closes December 31

Producers were reminded today that the 1964 marketing year under the national wool program ends Dec. 31. According to John H. Mohr, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, this means that payments for the current 1964 year will depend on completing all details of marketing either wool or lambs by that date. Marketings completed after Dec. 31, 1964 will be eligible for payments for the 1965 marketing year.

The chairman explained that the 1964 marketing year under the wool program is the first full year to operate on a calendar-year basis. Producers are urged not to let the deadline slip by, thinking that the current program's end is several months away, as under earlier programs. Producers should make sure that all details of the 1964 sales are completed not later than Dec. 31, 1964. This includes passing title to the buyer, delivering the wool to the buyer either physically or through documents transferring control to the buyer, or having available all the information needed to determine the buyer's total purchase price. Applications for the 1964 marketing year payments under the National Wool Act may be filed with the ASCS County office any time between now and the end of January, 1965. The 1964 payments will likely begin in April of next year. The National Wool Act was enacted in 1954 to encourage the domestic production of wool.

Capital News Nebraska Schools Benefit As Result of Gas Tax Law

LINCOLN — Nebraska schools have received more than $40,000 as a result of a new gasoline tax law affecting out-of-state truckers.

County governments have gained about $8,200 from the law.

A new system of collecting the taxes that has been in effect for about eight months and its subsequent financial provisions are responsible for the windfall.

Most of the money has gone to the counties that ring the border of Nebraska and the schools within these counties.

The border patrol of the State Agriculture Department is responsible for seeing that truckers entering the state aren't carrying more than 30 gallons of fuel.

If they aren't registered with the department, and if they do have too much fuel, they are subject to a fine by the county in which they are apprehended.

State Agriculture Department Tax Administrator Richard Shugrue explained the fine money goes directly to schools and the court costs are retained by the county.

So far, there have been 1,629 convictions of truckers picked up by the border patrol.

The great majority of them — from 95 to 98 percent — pay their fines by waiver when they are arrested.

The new method of taxing fuel brought into the state was authorized by the 1953 State Legislature, and apparently the system is working well.

Tax revenues this year are about $750,000 ahead of last year, Shugrue said.

He said that the state has saved about $300,000 so far this year by abandoning the 37 percent tax that used to collect taxes on fuel brought into the state.

These ports employed about 150 men on a full or part-time basis.

The patrol that now handles 95 percent of the new law is comprised of 12 men.

There are some 3,500 trucking companies now operating under the new system, Shugrue said.

They report each month the amount of fuel they used in Nebraska and pay taxes accordingly.

More trucks are operating now in Nebraska as a result of the program. Under the old method, truckers had to pay taxes on all the fuel they brought into the state whether they used it or not, he said.

"Now they can get tax credits on the portion they don't use."

The fact that both Kansas and Missouri have lower taxes in diesel fuel than Nebraska is reflected in the amount of fines collected in Richardson County in the southeast corner of the state.

Richardson has collected almost $10,000 in fines since April, more than any other county. Next is Thayer County, also on later dropped the item. Governor Morrison said he feels it would be a waste of taxpayers' money to permit each department to purchase a separate health insurance plan. He said a better approach would be blanket coverage of all state employees.

Liquor Commission Chairman Francis Robinson, Ashland, said the question of whether the state should provide free group life and health insurance for its employees is worthy of consideration.

He said if Congress approves the so-called Medicare Health plan, it may not be necessary for the state to consider any group health insurance plan.

The Game Commission, under authority of a 1963 law, has purchased free group life insurance for its employees.

Governor Morrison asked if agencies to include a group life insurance plan in their 1965-67 budget requests. He said, however, he didn't say anything about group health insurance.

Trimming Safety Tips
Keep safety in mind in selecting your trees and branches. You can avoid the "Christmas accidents" and the usual injuries by taking certain basic precautions.

Do not get so impatient over Christmas tree setup or cause with cracked limbs. Do not take chances on an electrical shock.

Select lights and cord that carry the load. The Underwriters Laboratory has found that the lights have been tested and electrical safety met.

Use a switch located away from the tree to plug in the string of lights. Do not use a string of lights with an outlet under the tree.

Do not allow children to play under the tree, or put an electrical transformer or other powered items around the base of the tree.

Do not use snow spray and angel hair together as dangerous on the tree. Angel hair and snow spray, used separately, are excellent. The combination is so flammable that only a wick or red is required to cause the tree to burst into flame.

Keep fuel (which is sold by itself) away from electrical lights. This will avoid the possibility of a piece of fuel touching a light receptacle at a junction short circuit.

Use only "off-the-tree" colored spotlights on an artificial, metal tree. A short in a conventional string of lights would electrify the tree and seriously injure anyone touching it.

Request Insurance Funds
The Nebraska Game and Liquor Commissions have asked for funds to implement a free employee group health insurance plan.

John Luetjhe, State Budget Division Chief, said the Insurance Department had also originally included a similar program in its 1965-67 budget request, but later dropped the item. Governor Morrison said he feels it would be a waste of taxpayers' money to permit each department to purchase a separate health insurance plan. He said a better approach would be blanket coverage of all state employees.

Uncle Zeke FROM Plum Creek Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: I see by the papers that silver was getting so scarce in this country that the next Congress might pass a law for the U.S. mint to make coins out of some base metal.

The Secretary of the Treasury has reported the Congress has called on him to offer a plan by April 1 for the use of either stainless steel, copper, nickel, aluminum, or maybe zinc for making dimes, quarters, and half dollars. He said his plan might call for using a mixture of several of these metals. He didn't say anything about going to wooden nickels and I reckon this was on account of lumber has got as high as silver an about as hard to get.

The Secretary claimed the shortage of silver was on account of people hoarding coins. He allowed as how they was now more than 4 million coin collectors in the United States, and them that wasn't collecting was just leaving their coins laying around the house in piggy-banks, coffee jars, on the mantelboard or in dresser drawers.

In a manner of speaking, Mister Editor, I reckon you'd have to say our coin and silver shortage was on account of we got too much prosperity in this country. Back in the old days a feller carried a snap-on purse in his pocket and if he had any coins he was using 'em ever time he went to the store. But times was so good now that the young generation never saw a snap-on purse and folks was just throwing their loose change in a jar or somepin and coming to town with folding money.

Afore we had all this prosperity they wasn't many folks that could afford to stash away coins. We was discussing this item at the country store Saturday night and Pete allowed as how prosperity was getting out of hand in this country. For instance, he was of the opinion we was going to have to come up with a substitute for bread just as soon as we get our pocket change switched from silver to zinc. He reported he had saw in his latest pamphlet from the U.S. Department of Agriculture where the retail price of bread had jumped 51 per cent since 1950, from an average of 14.3 cents per pound to 21.6 cents and they was fixing to stabilize the price up another penny in 1965.

Furthermore, Pete claimed the price of bread didn't have nothing to do with what a farmer got for his wheat. Counting the Government hand-out, he said he was getting about the same for wheat under 14-cent bread as he was under the new prosperity price of 21 cents.

I never figured, Mister Editor, I'd have to see the day when we'd get too much prosperity, but I reckon happy days was here again.

Yours truly
Uncle Zeke

Uncle Zeke's Column

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: I see by the papers that silver was getting so scarce in this country that the next Congress might pass a law for the U.S. mint to make coins out of some base metal.

The Secretary of the Treasury has reported the Congress has called on him to offer a plan by April 1 for the use of either stainless steel, copper, nickel, aluminum, or maybe zinc for making dimes, quarters, and half dollars. He said his plan might call for using a mixture of several of these metals. He didn't say anything about going to wooden nickels and I reckon this was on account of lumber has got as high as silver an about as hard to get.

The Secretary claimed the shortage of silver was on account of people hoarding coins. He allowed as how they was now more than 4 million coin collectors in the United States, and them that wasn't collecting was just leaving their coins laying around the house in piggy-banks, coffee jars, on the mantelboard or in dresser drawers.

In a manner of speaking, Mister Editor, I reckon you'd have to say our coin and silver shortage was on account of we got too much prosperity in this country. Back in the old days a feller carried a snap-on purse in his pocket and if he had any coins he was using 'em ever time he went to the store. But times was so good now that the young generation never saw a snap-on purse and folks was just throwing their loose change in a jar or somepin and coming to town with folding money.

Afore we had all this prosperity they wasn't many folks that could afford to stash away coins. We was discussing this item at the country store Saturday night and Pete allowed as how prosperity was getting out of hand in this country. For instance, he was of the opinion we was going to have to come up with a substitute for bread just as soon as we get our pocket change switched from silver to zinc. He reported he had saw in his latest pamphlet from the U.S. Department of Agriculture where the retail price of bread had jumped 51 per cent since 1950, from an average of 14.3 cents per pound to 21.6 cents and they was fixing to stabilize the price up another penny in 1965.

Furthermore, Pete claimed the price of bread didn't have nothing to do with what a farmer got for his wheat. Counting the Government hand-out, he said he was getting about the same for wheat under 14-cent bread as he was under the new prosperity price of 21 cents.

I never figured, Mister Editor, I'd have to see the day when we'd get too much prosperity, but I reckon happy days was here again.

Yours truly
Uncle Zeke

When we first thought about coming to Wayne we just about gave up the idea because we figured here was a town that was dominated by a college. Like Peru, we thought it might be a case of a college having a town instead of a town having a college. It's not true in Wayne.

GREATEST GIFT

Here with, the year's happiest gift idea. "Adopt" an overseas child, through one of the many monthly plans, as a project for the whole family. Your children will learn much, from letters sent and received... everyone — you and Dad, too — will be enriched by this gift of sharing.

KITCHEN CHRISTMAS

Decorate the dinette and kitchen? Why not? Little touches make the holiday mood. Up-side-down candy canes, bundled with a candle in the middle and tied with a golden cord, look chippy on table or shelf. So does a woven basket of fruit, popcorn balls, holly and artificial birds. Or hang a flying angel from the kitchen light fixture. She could help you keep your temper, in the holiday rush!

HOLIDAY HELPER

What's twenty times nicer than trips to the trashcan in snowy weather? A gas disposer, to consume Christmas wraps and holiday garbage instantly, smoke-less! A neatly-styled gas disposer burns peellings, wrappings, even poultry bones right down to a fine ash... and you'll save the ash to fertilize your spring garden! So helpful, Santa should buy one to save himself extra steps year-round. See it at Peoples Natural Gas or gas appliance dealer.

CANDIED CRANBERRIES

To you from me, with love... the three-step Christmas cranberry recipe handed down by my mother. To one pound fresh washed-and-stemmed cranberries, add two cups water and three cups sugar. Bake in a covered casserole, 1 1/2 hours, in a 350-degree gas oven. Serve proudly, with holiday turkey or ham. Or surprise everybody, and spoon your candied cranberries over vanilla ice cream!

LAST-MINUTE GIFT-LIFTS

Forget somebody's present? Sew up these split-second charms. Open the stitched end of a printed pillow-slip, make a 4-inch slit on each side, and enclose a ribbon drawing 'round the top. Presto: a moppet-size night shift! Run a ribbon through the top of a ruffled cafe curtain, and see the smart apron you've achieved. Or sew two lush print terry bath towels together, run a golden picture-cord through the top, and give a posh bathroom laundry bag.

FOR YOU AND YOURS

Gracious, another year over! And time for greetings again. Each year, I wish I could ring your doorbell and deliver our wishes in person. To you and everyone you love: a season of warm-hearted cheer, a lifetime of comfort and convenience, a new year enriched by challenges, rewards and pleasant surprises. That's the wish sent by Northern Natural Gas Company, pipeline supplier to Peoples Natural Gas, and me — the dolumnist who loves chatting with you, via your newspaper. Happy days!

Connie

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS

by Bill Stokes

A couple of items from The Wapello (Iowa) Republican files of 60 years ago makes you wonder if life wasn't just a little bit more exciting back when—"A horse driven by Lude Marshall ran away Tuesday afternoon and broke the buggy and harness in bad shape. The driver was fortunate in jumping from the buggy in the alley at the Republican office and escaped unhurt. The horse ran as far as Wehmeyers northwest of town, leaving the buggy near the home of C. S. Reynolds."

"Morning Sun people are justly indignant over the notoriety given the young ladies of that city by the Stratton episode in Muscatine. Also for the inference that they dress in a manner unbecoming to ladies. Of course no one in this section will believe such stories but strangers are apt to."

"The very best way to kill time is to get busy and work it to death," advises The Redfield (S.D.) Press.

The Ogemaw County Herald of West Branch, Mich., says that a difference of opinion is no problem to people who know enough to split the difference.

"Times change," remarks The Tribune and Register of Tyndall, S.D. "The boy whose dad used to drop him off at school and then drive on to work, now has a son who drops him off at work and then drives on to school."

"Treat your friends kindly," says The Review, of Portageville, Mo., "if it wasn't for them, you'd be a total stranger."

The Lewistown (Ill.) News passes along this information: "In politics, a man who leaves our party and joins the opposition is called a traitor. A man who leaves the opposition to join us is known as a convert."

"Don't tell that tired looking person he needs a vacation," advises The Clay City (Ind.) News, "maybe he's just had one."

"The girl who wore a swim-suit in August without going swimming and a ski outfit in January without actually skiing, really meant business in June when she picked out a wedding dress," observes The Reese (Mich.) Reporter.

"Middle age is that period when a man's yearning power is at its greatest," states The Reporter and Farmer of Webster, S.D.

A court judge ruled that it is an offense for a woman to go through her husband's pockets, reports The Angola (Ind.) Herald.

"Worse than that," adds the Herald, "in days like these it's just a waste of time."

"You will never stub your toe standing still," quotes The Carlisle (Iowa) Citizen.

Did grandpa need a seatbelt? This item from the 1894 files of The Milbank (S.D.) Herald Advance makes the answer to the question obvious: "A very unfortunate accident overtook J. H. Benedict Monday afternoon. While driving near the big windmill the horse took fright at the arms of the mill and while Mr. B. was endeavoring to control him the lines broke and the horse plunged over the wood pile nearby. Mr. Benedict was thrown from the buggy and his right hipbone was broken and he was badly bruised."

"Some people don't believe they are having a good time unless they're doing something they can't afford," says The Mackinaw Valley News of Minier, Ill.

The Renville (Minn.) Star-Farmer tells about the fellow who claims the most aggravating thing about the present generation is that he no longer belongs to it.

The Woonsocket (S.D.) News remembers when a farm wife once became a marked woman by serving ring bologna and store cookies to the threshing crew.

How could she?

"The man who has nothing to boast of but his illustrious ancestors is like a potato—the best part of him is underground," says The Reinbeck (Iowa) Courier.

The Minerva (Ohio) Leader carries a complaint from the ladies bemoaning the tax on cosmetics. This tax was put on as an emergency measure during the war, the Leader says, and since the emergency no longer exists, the tax should be removed.

Let's think about that a minute, fellows. Let's ask ourselves if there isn't a relationship between cosmetics and emergency even in times of peace. To be more specific, there are girls who, without make-up, would have to be classed as emergencies.

BERMUDA is a romantic coral island, distinguished by its pink sand beaches and British air. Although it's only 24 miles long, you'll find it very secluded. Sailing is one of the major sports. But swimming, fishing, golfing and bicycling are equally excellent.

THE BAHAMAS form a chain of beautiful semi-tropical islands that have a charming atmosphere and probably the best climate you'll find anywhere. Nassau, on New Providence Island, is a favorite resort. The strawmarket at Rawson Square, Nassau is a favored spot where you'll find inexpensive and unique handmade straw gifts.

PUERTO RICO combines all the elements of a tropical island with the charm of Old Spain. Add to this the vitality and glamour of San Juan and you have just an idea of the fascination of Puerto Rico. Some of the most beautiful beaches in the Caribbean can be found here.

THE VIRGIN ISLANDS (U.S.A.) are composed of St. Thomas, St. Croix, St. John. All are free ports and therefore the biggest bargain centers in the world. You'll be surprised at first at the Danish architecture until you remember that these islands were settled by and purchased from Denmark.

HAITI is one of the most exciting, colorful islands in the Caribbean. In some parts of the islands, voodoo is still practiced as a religion, and it's not unusual to hear the faint beat of the voodoo drums from the distant hills. Haiti combines the primitive and the elegant with complete nonchalance.

JAMAICA is one of the most beautiful tropical islands in the world. Kingston, the capital city located on the South Shore, is gay and colorful. You'll be intrigued with the Jamaican language which is English but with a strong African dialect which defies description.

TRINIDAD is the farthest south of the islands—only 10 minutes from the coast of Venezuela. You'll be amazed to see Chinese in oriental robes, calypso-singing Negroes, turbaned Hindus, Spaniards, Portuguese and Frenchmen all walking the streets of Port of Spain. The scenery is breathtaking and the beaches beautiful.

TOBAGO, a tiny island that inspired Daniel Defoe to write Robinson Crusoe, lies about 20 miles northeast of Trinidad. It is one of the few undisturbed, remote islands of the world. There is nothing to do except wander the beautiful beaches.

BARBADOS, home of the famed flying fish, is the most eastern of the West Indian islands. In Bridgetown's bustling Careenage you'll be delighted to see the tall masted schooners unloading their cargoes just as they did a century ago. Harbor police wear middie blouses and skimmers with red ribbons.

CURACAO has a fairy tale charm you'll never forget. It is truly a bit of Holland. The narrow gables of Willemstad are in the exact style of the 17th Century Dutch houses. Curacao is a shopper's paradise; unquestionably the bargain center of the world next to Hong Kong.

Holiday Open House

by Marion Latzko

HOLIDAY time is party time! When people are in their gayest, most thoughtful mood and your house is at its prettiest, it's time for a successful open house. Many friends can be entertained at one time and you can make a lovely table of goodies with just a little effort.

The punch bowl is always the center of attention. You might like to decorate around it with a wreath of evergreens trimmed with gay colored Christmas balls, sprayed pine cones, figurines or, for a special look, live flowers kept fresh in plastic tubes you can find at your florist's shop.

Egg nog is a traditional Christmas drink to serve. Egg Nog Delight will soon become one of your favorites because it is economical and very tasty.

Of course, it's time to rob your cookie jars that are overflowing at this time of year. If you're looking for some fancy new fillers for the cookie jars, Flaky Meringue Cookies and Honey Drops will be perfect for the job. The coconut on the Honey Drops can be colored red or green, or any color for that matter, to match your color scheme.

Dainty sandwiches of fruit breads are always well received.

FLAKY MERINGUE COOKIES

Cooky sheet	4½ dozen	Preheated 375° oven
1½ cups flour		5 teaspoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt		½ teaspoon lemon rind
½ cup (1 stick) butter or margarine		Nut Meringue Filling
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten		Confectioners sugar

Mix flour and salt together thoroughly. Cut in butter until the size of small peas. Add yolks, lemon juice and lemon rind. Stir with a fork until well blended. Chill dough thoroughly (about 2 hours). Pinch off small pieces of dough, form into 1-inch balls with hands. Place on lightly floured pastry cloth and flatten to form 2½-inch circles with the bottom of a glass or a rolling pin. Spread 1 teaspoon of Nut Meringue Filling in the center of each. Roll dough as for a jelly roll, being sure to seal edges and ends of each cooky well. Place in a crescent shape on cooky sheet. Bake 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Place on cooky rack to cool. While warm, sprinkle with confectioners' sugar.

NUT MERINGUE FILLING

2 egg whites ½ cup sugar ¾ cup finely chopped California walnuts

Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar while continuing to beat. Beat until stiff and glossy. Fold in chopped nuts.

HONEY DROPS

Cooky sheet	5 dozen	Preheated 350° oven
¾ cup (1½ sticks) butter or margarine		2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup sugar		½ teaspoon mace
1 egg yolk		½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon orange rind		1 egg white, slightly beaten
¼ cup honey		Shredded coconut
2¼ cups flour

Cream butter and sugar together thoroughly. Beat in egg yolk and orange rind. Blend in honey. Mix dry ingredients together thoroughly; beat gradually into butter mixture. Drop by teaspoon onto cooky sheet two inches apart. Flatten with fork dipped in flour, then brush with egg white. Sprinkle each cooky with red or green colored coconut. Bake 8-12 minutes. Cool on cooky rack.

Note: To color coconut, sprinkle a few drops of red or green food coloring over coconut. Toss with a fork until evenly colored.

CRANBERRY PUNCH

1 quart cranberry juice	1 cup orange juice
2 quarts water	½ cup lemon juice
1 stick cinnamon	¾ cup sugar
5-6 cloves

Boil all ingredients together. Strain. May be served hot or cold. 1 jigger vodka per cup may be added if desired.

EGG NOG DELIGHT

½ cup sugar	½ teaspoon vanilla extract
3 egg yolks	¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon salt	3 egg whites
4 cups whole milk scalded	¼ cup sugar

Beat ½ cup sugar into egg yolks. Add ¼ teaspoon salt and stir in milk slowly. Cook in double boiler til mixture coats spoon, stir constantly. Cool. Add ¼ teaspoon salt to egg whites. Beat stiff. Add remaining ¼ cup sugar. Beat well and add to custard with vanilla. Mix thoroughly and chill for 4 hours. Top with nutmeg. If you wish, add liquor such as rum to your liking.

SWEET RELISH DIP

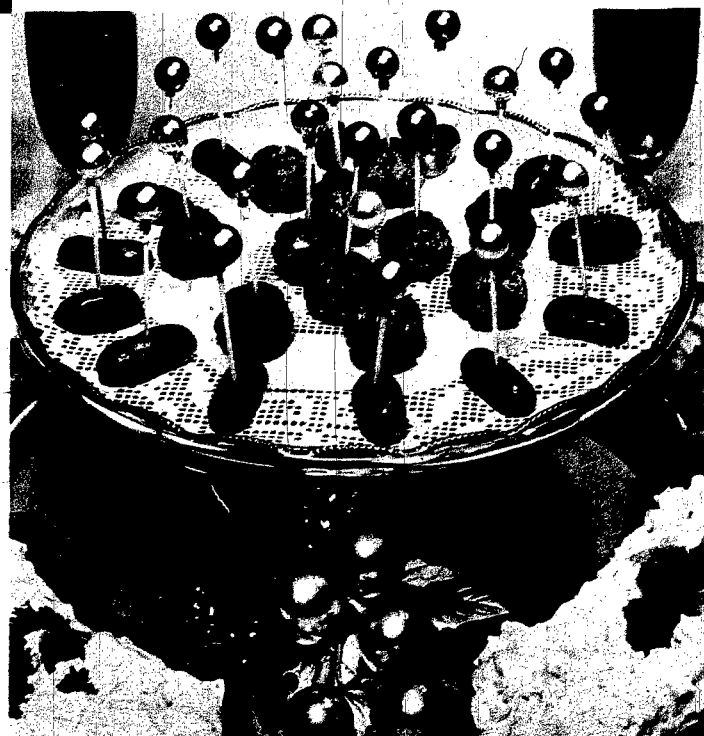

1 cup California Dip
2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish
2 tablespoons light cream or milk

Mix sweet relish and cream (or milk) with the "California Dip". California Dip: Combine 1 pint sour cream and 1 package onion soup mix just as it comes from the package. For one cup of mix use ½ pint sour cream and 3 tablespoons (½ package) well-blended onion soup mix.

HAMBURGER HORS D'OEUVRES

1 pound chopped beef
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup California Dip
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Mix together chopped beef, salt, pepper and "California Dip". Shape into tiny meat balls (½ inch diameter). Brown in butter. Serve on picks and pass with "Sweet Relish Dip".

Date Apricot Loaf spread with cream cheese tastes just right with egg nog. You can cut the sandwiches into dainty shapes and arrange them on a tray with almond stuffed dates for a holiday party look.

Hors d'oeuvres are just right for this occasion too. For picks, top toothpicks with small ornaments for spearing such treats as Hamburger Hors D'oeuvres.

Fruit spikes of such combinations as 1 chunk of frozen pineapple and 1 strawberry on a long wooden pick can be served very glamorously in a bed of crushed ice.

Another treat is Spicy Sausage Balls that are easily made by combining 4 pounds of highly seasoned sausage meat and two cans (6 oz. each) of water chestnuts which have been chopped. Shape them into 1 inch balls and bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees) 45 minutes, or until well browned.

And don't forget your favorite fruit cake on the shelf. It's always well received.

Whip up your favorite recipes and your imagination and then invite your friends to a very special open house. You'll be glad you did.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD

Inside the laboratory, John Nellor analyzes cattle tissues to determine if the hormone-like compounds used in his breeding trials had any harmful effects on either the cow or her calf. Results showed the treatment to be completely safe.

BEEF cattle of the future may very well be products of "planned parenthood."

Scientists are successfully controlling the breeding time of cattle by feeding them hormone-like compounds. The result is more cattle ready for breeding at one time, higher conception rates and a considerable saving in breeding expenses.

A typical controlled breeding experiment is being conducted by John E. Nellor and other Michigan State University animal husbandry researchers at Rowala Ranch in Iosco County, Michigan. Nellor reports "excellent results" from three years of tests, and comments that "it's just a matter of time" before these research techniques will be used by beef cattlemen across the country.

In the MSU tests, synthetic hormone-like compounds are mixed with grain and fed to the cattle for two weeks. Then the feedings are stopped.

"About 95 per cent of the treated cattle will come into heat within a three-day period shortly after the hormone feedings are ended," says Nellor.

"About half of these cattle will conceive at this time, and another 20-25 per cent will conceive when they return to heat approximately 20 days later. So, by waiting until the end of the second controlled heat period, a farmer could get about 70 per cent of his herd bred in a single handling."

Nellor contends that this rate of conception is as good—or even better—than natural service.

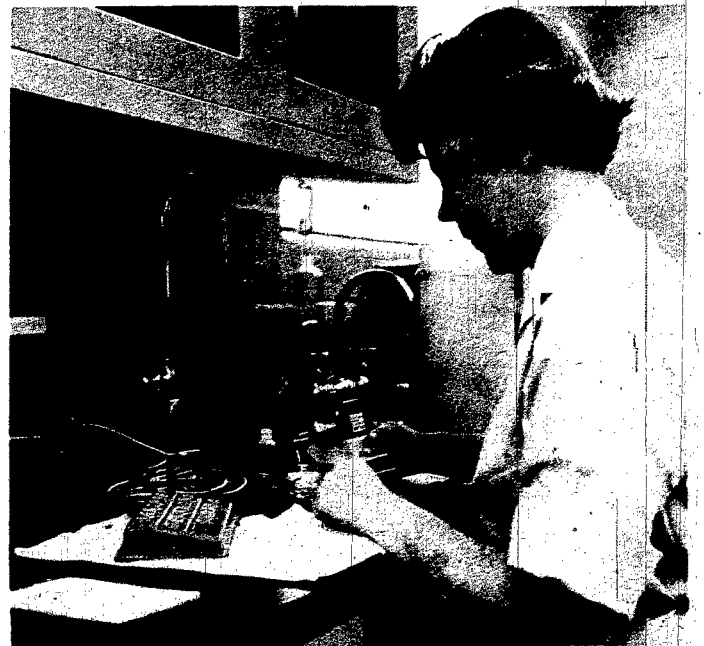

Furthermore, the controlled breeding methods cut artificial insemination costs by having large numbers of animals ready for breeding at the same time. Farm management is improved because animals are more uniform at sale time, and because farmers can make better use of labor and feed. Disease problems are reduced, since artificial insemination virtually eliminates those diseases transmitted by sires.

The first successful use of orally fed hormones for controlled breeding in cattle was actually reported by Nellor and his col-

Scientists literally had to "get a horse" to carry out their controlled breeding research project. By using hormone-like compounds they had hundreds of head of cattle ready for breeding at the same time. This type of "planned parenthood" would mean considerable savings to beef cattle operators who could then cut breeding costs and eliminate sire-transmitted diseases.

A "cowboy scientist" rides herd on these cattle which are being used in controlled breeding trials.

A portion of an animal's blood is being chemically assayed for hormone activity by Miss Susan Mahoney, MSU research technician. She's using this information to help find a pregnancy test for cattle which could prevent thousands of pregnant cattle from being mistakenly sent to market.

for beef cattle leagues several years ago. He explains that the delay in using these methods under actual farm conditions was due to "the tremendous amount of research needed to determine the correct amount of these compounds that should be fed."

Tissues of hundreds of cattle were examined in order to find out whether this type of treatment has any harmful effects on the cow or her calf and whether it influences her future reproductive ability.

Even though the treatment has passed all of these tests, it must still be approved by the Food and Drug Administration.

Nellor emphasizes that the use of these synthetic hormone compounds is a "logical approach" to controlling breeding time. Rather than stimulating egg production, the hormones actually inhibit breeding activity. The animals readily "rebound" by coming into heat shortly after the feeding treatments are ended.

And, even if one animal consumes four or five times more compound than she's supposed to, she'll experience no abnormal conditions. The animal will only "rebound" a little slower than those that received the right amounts.

Actually, this inhibited breeding activity (during the two-week feeding period) is about the same as the female animal experiences during her normal cycle. "Furthermore," says Nellor, "tissue analysis indicates that this treatment does not have harmful effects on normal body activity."

The compounds used in the MSU tests—Repromix from The Upjohn Company and a similar compound from Eli Lilly & Company—are presently only available for research purposes. "But," Nellor asserts, "our results indicate that the compounds would be effective under actual farm conditions."

"Technical crews will probably have to supervise the feeding treatments and handle the artificial insemination at the first and second controlled breeding time. Then bulls could be turned out with the cattle to breed any animals that did not conceive via artificial breeding.

John E. Nellor, left, animal husbandry researcher, checks records while field technician Fred Howe artificially inseminates one of the beef cattle brought into heat during controlled breeding studies.

Hundreds of cattle were rounded up for breeding during controlled estrous studies at the Rowala Ranch in Iosco County, Michigan. Here, the herd follows a load of green-chopped hay into the feedlots where artificial insemination chutes are set up.
