Approve Farm Joining School District Here

School District Here

A three-man board heard a school plan Tuesday of last week whereby a farm six miles west of Wayne could join the Wayne school district, No. 17. The vote was 2-1 in favor.

The county clerk, county treasurer and county superintendent their arguments on both sides. Their decision was to be based solely on the state law that provides for a freeholder to be allowed to join a district if a bustoute to it is more accessible hid if has other advantages. Morris Sandahl, a school board member from Carroll, moved out if the district when he bought the 200-acre farm. He would not be able to stay on the board unless his land, became part of the district.

A large crowd heard attorneys triet.

A large crowd heard attorneys for Sandahl, District 51 (in which the farm is located) and District 17. The farm is only one-half mile from the "Carroll portion" of District 17 and is close to a bus route.

COMMENT EDITORIAL

The editorial department of a weekly new paper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

What Is A School Building?

What is a school building? In different countries there would be different answers. In Britain a school building is a battlefield where intense competition separates the intellectuals at the seventh grade and enrolls them for a college career and marks the rest to be sent out into the labor, force. In Russia a school building is a proporated factory out into the labor force. In Russia a school building is a propaganda factory where the Soviet way of life is promoted and each student absorbed into the communistic purpose. But in America.—in St. Louis, Mo.; in Carmel, Calif.; in Wayne, Nebr. — what is a school building.

in Wayne, Nepr. — What is a school building?

A school building in America is the expression of the intentions of a community. The building is not, of course, as important as the teachers who teach there. But the school building, because it is there to be seen, declares about the intentions of that community to its children, and it is the intentions of all, not just a few — the farmer on a fractor, the math professor at his desk, the painter on a scaffold, the lawyer in the courtroom, the young mother at work, the shoe cierk on his bench, the typesetter at his Linotype, the man or woman retired after fruitful labor — each has a part in shaping those intentions.

each has a part in shaping those intentions.

What are the intentions of Wayne towards its children? We believe them to be good as judged by the past. When the need has arisen, the people of Wayne have built and built with the future in mind. A school bond issue has never been defeated in Wayne, but the crucial test of the community's intentions lies ahead. Our original building was constructed in 1908, With an addition or two it was adequate for a long period of years. Then with the baby boom, the closing of Hahn high school, and the growing consolidation, the needs were met with the building of a fine elementary school. Now classrooms are again overflowing, the high school is inadequate, and Hahn must soon be vacated. The need is before us again.

The decision we make about a build-is inadequate, and Hahn must soon be vacated. The need is before us again. The decision we make about a building for our children will either help proclaim that Wayne is a good place in which to live and will anchor our young people to the community or it will hasten their going forth from the community and, perhaps, from the state. The decision we make will indicate whether the community of Wayne wishes to press forward meeting the needs of a more complex society or to rest awhile on the sacrifices of our fathers, thereby going backward by thinking in terms of education for a past that no longer exists. It is a sobering thought-that the building we plan today will shape the education not only of our children but of our grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Winston Churchill said it best:

"We shape our buildings and afterwards they shape us."

What is a school building in America? It is a testament to the value we hold high above all others; the worth of each individual. It is expressed in our

Nebraska Legislature Is

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the twitler is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Christianity, which teaches all men are equal-before God. It is expressed in our political system, which guarantees the right of free men to govern themselves. It is expressed in our economic system, where free enterprise rewards the individual according to his talent and his perseverance. James Adams summed it up when he spoke of the American dream. That dream of a land in which life should be better and richer and fuller for every man, with opportunity to each according to his ability or achievement. So every school building that is built is in a very true sense an effort to translate that American ideal into reality so that life can be "better and richer and fuller" for our children than it has been for us.

What is a school building in America? It is a guarantee that our system of free government, free enterprise, and a free society shall continue to prosper. Our best hope for a strong America lies in our educational system. The future of America goes to school in Wayne, Nebr., today. That, too, is a sobering thought, and we can't push off on someone else the responsibility for making it the best sort of education we can.

What is a school building? It is our investment in both the future of our country and the future of our children. And, you know, it might not be out of place to say a school building is a "thank-you" from every one in the community for being born in a land where our forefathers conceived a new idea and, despite all their privations and dangers, were strong enough to carry it out: the idea of education, universal and free for the whole people! We've become used to that idea, but let's not forget that we share abundantly in the returns on that idea. It has provided us with the highest standard of living on earth. There may be some people who have become confused along the way and have the notion that keeping up the payments on their standard of living exempts them from support of education. We don't believe the community of Wayne will ever feel that way. Rather, we believe that this communi

Electricity has been harnessed to practically every kind of a job. Rouge and lipstick have been perfected. Wireless and radio same. So did the permanent wave. The trans-occanic telephone has been perfected, Shorts for mems' comfort became commonplace. Television arrived, and with it came the plunging neckline for women, making television obsolete and unnecessary. The automobile making television obsolete and unnecessary. The automobile came from the horseless carriage of old to the glittering chariot of today, and by its use we became almost a race of nonwalkers, and then golf caught on and set us to walking again. In a way a chicken of this sort will be a boon to mankind. It seems to me that I never went to a church chicken supper, but, what, when they got around to me ail they had left was wings. Don't you remember that whey you were a youngster and had to eat at the second table, that wings and backs and the piece that with over the fence last were about all that was left. I didn't know there was any white meat on a chicken untill I was past nineteen. What a boon that wingless bird will be to a fellow who has to carve one. That wing joint has always been a hidden mystery, and there's always a sigh of relief from the whole family once the wing is wrestled off. Taink of their relief when there is none to cope with.

We can't make up our m whether we like Laurel be than Wakefield or Wakefi better than Laurel. Recet we've been in both towns have been shown courtesy friendliness "above and yond the call of duty." We preciate it. One thing we do about Wakefield's county — I about the call of the c friendliness "above and beyond the call of duty." We appreciate it. One thing we do like about Wakefield's county — Discon — is its sharing of offices among towns. Ordinarily they would all be in one place but in Dixon county the courthouse is in Fonca, the SCS office in Wakefield, the county agent in Allen and the fair at Concord. Surely they're planning something for Dixon, Waterbury, Maritinsburg and Newcastle.

We like kids, and it doesn't give us any great pleasure to write stories about them when they're in trouble. We know most kids are going to grow up to be credits to their family, school and community. Even't a kid in trouble can grow up to do great things. If a kid takes a drink and gets caught, he should be punished, but that doesn't make him a criminal. Leaving the names out of the paper won't help either. If they would just 'THINK before they do some of these things, it would help a lot. A fine abilities can be disciplined by being dropped from the team, but that doesn't mean he can't go on to prove he's still good and still capable later, either here or somewhere else. We're all for the kids, if they can retrain from drinking and getting in trouble or even if, they have to give a drink a try or happen to make a costly mistake we're still for them. There'll be chances to prove they're all right and we-say, "More power to them."

We don't suppose many boys are overly enthusiastic about any teachers so we were a little surprised at Winside the other night when a ripple went through a group of boys. 'Look, who's back.' We had to know who was responsible for the comments. 'Our math teacher,' one replied "She's great,' commented another. 'Great—she's the best in the state,' added a third More comments, all along the same line, were heard. Unicameral in Spotlight
Since the U.S. Supreme Court, many Iowa legislators have publicly and privately considered the Nebraska system of a unicameral or one-house Legisla-

The feeling of these lawmakers has been, "If we're going to have both houses based on population, we may as well do like Nebraska and have a unicameral legicla-

However, despite the oft-heard comments at the Statehouse, it doesn't appear likely that the lowa General Assembly will go along with the idea.

Rep. Elroy Maule, a Democrat from Onawa and the lowa House majority leader, said a one-house legislature would spell trouble for the Hawkeye State.

"Experience this session and others in the past have shown that the system of checks and balances provided by two chambers is the most important in the legislature," Maule said.

Bewere of Soil Conditioners.

I have recently had several inquiries about soil conditioners. One of the common questions is, "What regulations if any govern the sale of these products?"

Sorry to say there are none. If you are selling "nothing," you are required to guarantee nothing. A legitimate fertilizer product must be tagged to show what it contains (fertility elements) and how much.

There is little evidence, if any, to support the contention that soil conditioners increase crop yields. I would be suspicious of any product which must be sold on the basis of its hidden and mysterious beneficial powers.

Chevy II 100 Station Wagon

With aluminized exhausts that discourage corrosion ... Delcotron generators that recovering expansis that associates corrosion...become generators that encourage longer battery life... brakes that adjust themselves...rocker panels that flush themselves free of dirt and salt. Tight? They're downright miserly!

You're looking at the lowest priced sedan and station wagon that Chevrolet makes.

They neither look nor act their price.
They're roomy. The sedan seats six. The wagon has nine feet from the back of the front seat to the tip of the lowered tailgate. They're good looking. Clean. Functional.
You can get an economical 4-cylinder engine in the sedan or in both cars, a 120-bp Hi-Thrift Six that's quick to do everything but cost you money. As we said earlier, these are our lowest priced cars. Try one out today.

care than Medicare

Here's why the Herlang-Curtis Eldercare Bill, HR 3727, is the best answer to the health care needs of people over 65

MORE BENEFITS FOR THE ELDERLY

Eldercare would provide a wide range of hospital and medical services for the elderly - much more than Medicare.

	Medicare	ELDERCAR
Physicians' Care	NO	YES
Surgical Costs	NO	YES
Drugs—In and out of Hospi _t al	NO	YES
lospital & Nursing Home Charges	YES	YES

LESS COST TO THE TAXPAYERS

Fidercare offers more care for the elfederal-state funds through a program that already exists.

By contrast, the Medicare tax plan derly who need help, but would cost would increase payroll taxes to proless because it does not provide ben- vide benefits for everyone over 65, efits for the wealthy and well-to-do. the wealthy included. Furthermore, Eldercare would not require a new the Medicare tax would hit hardest payroll tax. It would be financed by those least able to pay. The $5,600 a-year worker would pay as much tax as the $56,000 executive.

Your doctors, who care for the elderly, support Eldercare because it also assures free choice of physician and hospital . . . provides for protection through Blue Cross, Blue Shield and health insurance policies . . . and lets people over 65 qualify for benefits before illness strikes — without a welfare type investigation.
