City's Operating Expenses Lower Than for Last Year

Meeting Tuesday night, the Wayne City council approved an estimate of expenses for the fiscal year coming up. The estimate was well below the estimate made a year ago for the year now ending.

The estimate for this coming year is $1,090,500 against $1,130,000 estimated last year. However, both figures are just estimates, the really important figures being those set when the annual appropriation and setting of the mill levy is made in July.

City expenses last year for all operations came to $537,570.69. Receipts from all sources was $667,280.40 making a balance of over $130,000 on a 11 cent mill to the income from the light plant which was used up considerably.

Wayne county received a construction permit from the city of Wayne. It calls for a new sheriff's residence and a county jail to be erected on the courthouse block.

Landfill faces the council yet and ordinance provisions were approved officially at the meeting. The plan of use, the operation procedure and the hours of opening were included in the ordinance.

Another annexation to the city is imminent. Dick Carman asked that part of the former J. T. Bressler property be annexed. It would be the Crest View addition on the northeast edge of town. The matter was turned over to the city attorney for study and preparation of documents before final annexation takes place.

Finally the board approved work on the baseball diamond. It called for repair and paint work on the grandstand and renovation of the lighting system which is showing the signs of long use and getting out of adjustment.

Present Solo Recital

Harry Kelton, son of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Kelton, Wayne, presented an organ recital at Westminster Presbyterian church, Lincoln, Sunday. A senior math major at the University of Nebraska, Kelton has also maintained an interest in music. His recital included numbers by Cook, Franck, Bach, Mendelssohn, Sowerby and others. Dr. and Mrs. Kelton were in Lincoln for the recital.

Annual Meetings of Rural Schools to Be Held June 14

According to state law, annual meetings of all Class I (rural) schools of Nebraska must be held the second Monday in June. County Supt. Gladys Porter reports this means all Wayne county rural districts will have to hold their meetings Monday, June 14, at 8 p.m. in the respective locations.

Business to be transacted includes: Election of officers; setting of the amount to be levied for the coming year; a secretarial report on needs of the district; consideration of location of site of the school building; and report of the previous year and a financial report based on needs.

Duplicate records of some business must be kept and triplicates of others. A census of school children in the district and a report on bonds are required.

Districts having levies of over 12 mills must post notices 15 days before the annual meeting. Any questions about the requirements can be answered by the superintendent.

Money coming in for districts includes insurance premiums, fines from courts and state appropriations. Amounts going to districts are determined following the annual meetings.

Musicians Entertain Kiwanis Club Members

Musicians from Wayne State under the direction of Dr. Ray Kelton presented the program at the Monday noon meeting of the Wayne Kiwanis club in the Morrison hotel.

Dennis Montgomery played a trumpet solo. A brass quartet was made up of Montgomery who is from Hornick, Ia., Fred Sokol of Beemer, Kenneth Headlee of Wayne and Jane Nelson of Oakland. Roger Lauders, Wayne, joined Montgomery and Headlee for a trumpet trio number. Miss Nelson played accompaniment for the solo and trio.

Guests were Frank Olds, Vermillion, Rev. Oliver Proett, Lincoln, and Carl Lentz, Wayne.

Don Reed Heads Group
Attorney Don Reed, Wayne, has been named chairman for the first congressional district for the Republican party's state organization. As district chairman he is automatically an executive committee member of the state central committee for the party. Reed, Adon Jeffrey, Lee Herman and Orville Brandstetter attended a meeting of Republican workers in Lincoln last week. Reed takes over in the post left vacant due to the resignation of Andy White, Lyons.

WEST POINT APPOINTMENT: David Hasebroock (right) is presented to the Wayne High commencement audience as a recipient of an appointment to West Point. Guidance Counselor Stan Hansen (left) announced this and other honors.

Dave Hasebroock Receives West Point Appointment

David Hasebroock, son of Mrs. Esther Hasebroock, Wayne, has been announced as the winner of an appointment to West Point military academy. He has already met all requirements and will report July 1.

The appointment to West Point seems to be a rare achievement in Wayne county. Several appointments to Annapolis naval academy have been received by county residents but no recent West Point appointments have been found.

Jim Kern, son of the Richard Kerns, is in his first year at Annapolis. Charles Koerber, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Koerber, Jimmy Davis, son of Mrs. R. Burr Davis and Clinton Whitmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Whitmore, are all Annapolis men.

Hasebroock took the examinations in March after being nominated by Ralph Bergmann, who was then congressman from this district. His appointment was received the past week from the army.

An honor graduate in this year's class at Wayne high, he was in the top ten per cent of the class scholastically. He was an honor roll student, on the track team, and has taken part in band, orchestra and cross country in high school.

His father died the past year. Dave has been working part-time during the school year at the Wayne cleaners. He has three sisters and one brother who are also at home.

Wayne Pool Opens Monday Afternoon

"Last one in is a red-headed grasshopper" may be the cry in Wayne Monday, May 31. The municipal swimming pool is scheduled to open at 1:30 p.m. Memorial Day.

The pool has been filled and checked and Manager Richard Maurer is ready to go. He will be assisted by Richard Brown this season. Last year Richard Brown was manager and Richard Maurer assistant.

Plans call for the pool to be open until 5 p.m. Schedules will be drawn up at once for offering classes to all stages of would-be swimmers from beginners to advanced.

Season tickets will be the same as last year, $6 for adults, $3 for teenagers and $1 for little tots. Further information on the operation of the pool will be given next week.

Cancer Society Holds Workshop in Wayne

The District 4 American Cancer society workshop was held Monday at Dorothy's cafe. Representatives from six counties attended the sessions.

Directing the all-day workshops were Ray Achelpohl, state executive director of the American Cancer society, Mrs. Katherine Wyatt state publicity director, and Dick George, district chairman. All are from Omaha.

Round table discussions, panels and filmstrips showing methods of educating the public and getting information to the public were workshop highlights. Leaders in the Cancer drive for research and funds attended.

Cliff Dahl is chairman of the Wayne County Cancer society. Representatives from Cedar, Antelope, Madison, Pierce, Knox and Wayne counties were on hand.

Area Shippers

Area shippers to Omaha last week included Norris Langenberg, Wayne county, 25 steers, wt. 1078, $27.25; William Hageman, Dixon county, 22 steers, wt. 1277, $27.50.

Area shippers to Sioux City last week included Walter Meier, Wayne, heifers, wt. 1,046, $26.25.

Trip to Wayne May Pay Off Many Ways

A trip into Wayne Thursday evening may pay off several ways for some individuals. Awaiting some shopper is $400 cash just for saying "Here!" in the right store if his name is drawn.

Everyone gets a "payoff" in one way or another. Wayne merchants have summer specials in all lines of merchandise and the money saved can be just like a bonus for all.

Last week Ronald L. Coltsden, Concord, missed a chance to claim a $350 cash prize. His name was drawn but he was not in Wayne. He received a $10 consolation prize — not near as consoling as $350 would have been.

If no winner gets this week's money, $50 will be added to a supplementary fund to start it building toward the $400 mark. The amount offered Thursday is the maximum under the present plan.

Wayne Memorial Day Services Will Include Parade, Program

Winners Announced in Poppy Poster Contest

Winners of the American Legion Auxiliary poppy poster contest were announced at a meeting last Tuesday. All 16 posters entered were from St. Mary's Catholic school.

In Class I, winners were Michele Armbruster, Lisa Einung and Kevin Dorcay. First, second and third place winners in class II were Beth McLean, Dianne Haberger and Susan Pohlman. Honorable mention went to Susan McCright and Sandy Macke.

Mrs. Harry Kay was chairman of the contest.

Bing Jones

Memorial Day will be observed Monday, May 31, in Wayne with a program sponsored by the veterans organization of the city and put on by the American Legion.

The parade will form at the city auditorium, go east to Main north to Seventh and west to the cemetery. At the cemetery the services will be held at the Veterans plot.

Want to Be Flower Girl?
Any girls wanting to be flower girls at the Memorial Day services in the cemetery at the veterans plot Monday should bring flowers to the Wayne City auditorium at 8 a.m. that day. All girls from 8 through 14 years of age are welcome to take part. No invitations are sent out and the number is not limited so parents should ask daughters if they want to participate.

Order of assembly for the parade will be: Wayne high band, west of Third and Pearl, colors and color guard, firing squad, veterans groups, auxiliaries, Gold Star mothers, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, others. Assembly will start at 10 a.m. with the parade starting at 10.

Arrival at the cemetery is scheduled for 10:30. After the band, colors and firing squad are assigned places, the band will play "The Star Spangled Banner." Opening remarks will be by Jim Pokett, Legion commander.

Following the prayer by the post chaplain, LeRoy "Bing" Jones, a native of Carroll, will give the main address. Jones, from South Sioux City, is a past commander of posts at Emerson and South Sioux City and past commander of the Dixon County Legion. He is active at present in the SSC Chamber of Commerce and Toastmasters club.

The Auxiliary and the flower girls will place flowers on the veterans plots, the sergeant-at-arms will place a wreath of honor, Cleve Sharer will read the roll of honor, the WHS band will play and benediction will be given by the chaplain.

Final activity will be the salute to the dead. The firing squad will fire the salute with "raps" concluding the memorial service to the nation's dead.

Jim Pokett, Wayne Legion Commander, is in charge of the program. Chris Bargholz, who is parade chairman, has served in that capacity since 1948. Anyone seeking more information should see one of these men.

Winside's Memorial Day Services Will Be Monday

Zach Boughn, Randolph teacher, will be featured speaker at the Winside Memorial Day services at 11 a.m. Monday, May 31. The program will be held in the Winside high gym with adjournment following to the cemetery.

Musical selections are being lined up and the Legion will have a firing squad. All Legionnaires are asked to attend the program in uniform.

Olan Koch, post adjutant, is in charge of the arrangements. He reports Legion Auxiliary members will decorate the graves and a prayer for the deceased will be offered by the Legion chaplain. Boy Scouts will hand out the programs at the rites.

The Winside Auxiliary will also serve its traditional Memorial Day dinner at the Legion hall following the services at the gym and cemetery. The dinner is open to the public.

Resident's Mother Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Ira Schram, 67, who died Sunday, were held Wednesday at Congregational Church of Christ, Newcastle.

Survivors include four sons, among them Dean Schram, Wayne, two daughters, two brothers, two sisters, 20 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Landfill Reclaiming Starts Next Week

The Wayne city council is going to do landfill work on property east of town. A notice calling attention to the new rules is carried in this week's Wayne Herald.

Landfills do not resemble dumps in that they are attended when in use, are covered at once and add to the value of land rather than detract from it. Because all the city has been used to for years is a common burning dump, the new rules are specifically stated.

Solid refuse may be hauled to the site Thursdays and Saturdays between 2 and 5 p.m. A five-hour period from 3 to 8 p.m. Tuesdays has also been set aside. All other hours the landfill area will be closed.

No burning will be allowed and an attendant will be on hand at all times the area is open to see that dumping is according to plan and refuse is covered. Open to Wayne city residents only, the landfill is city property and anyone failing to abide by laws as set up will be subject to prosecution.

Two Girls Top Wayne High Graduates in Scholarship

Marsha Gaunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gaunt, and Virginia Witt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Witt, were valedictorian and salutatorian respectively for the 89 seniors comprising the largest graduating class in Wayne high's history Monday night at Rice auditorium.

The other seven pupils in the upper 10 per cent of the graduating class were Carol Blecke, Jayne Echtenkamp, David Hasebroock, Sandra Olds, Rebecca Pedersen, Linda Seymour and Deborah Wightman.

Eric Manley received the Regent's scholarship and was put on the University of Nebraska "honors advanced placement program." Bruce Jorgensen received a Regent's scholarship and was cited as a finalist in the National Merit scholarship tests which may bring him further honors.

Sandra Olds was placed on the honors advanced placement program at the University of Nebraska; Stuart Bernthal received a scholarship including a grant, student loan and employment at Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Ind.

Mark Loessel was named as alternate Regent's scholarship winner; Ken Marra was named an alternate Regent's scholarship winner; Dave Hasebroock was named an alternate Regent's scholarship winner and the recipient of an appointment to West Point.

A Wayne State college scholarship and a music scholarship went to Nancy Walters; WSC's scholarship went to Carol Blecke; WSC scholarships went to Jayne Echtenkamp, Marsha Gaunt and Lois Noonan.

Wayne Businesses Close for Holiday

Wayne stores will be closed all day Monday, May 31, according to the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Area residents are being urged to attend Memorial Day services and mark the day in other ways.

The courthouse in Wayne will also be closed all day. The fortunate county employees will have a three-day holiday in which to be careful.

Postmaster Don Wightman said the post office would be closed all day also. There will be no delivery, city or rural, but boxes will get distribution on the regular holiday schedule. Dispatching of mail will also be on a holiday schedule.

Memorial Day services start at 10 a.m. at the Wayne City auditorium and wind up at the cemetery. In case of bad weather the entire program will be in the auditorium.

Concord Haylage Meeting Offers Money-Saving Idea

A money-saving idea is among the features to be offered Friday evening at 7 when the "Haylage" meeting will be held at the North-east station, Concord. Farmers from all over Northeast Nebraska are expected.

Walt Tolman, nutritionist at the station, said "A simple moisture test for on-the-farm testing of silage, hay or grain can be made for less than $10." He will demonstrate the test at Friday's meeting.

"We feel this is a test that can be helpful as a guide to improving grain and forage quality," Tolman said, adding that the test takes less than 10 minutes.

Feeders and dairymen who have used haylage will give their experiences in making, storing and feeding haylage. A brief report of a cattle feeding experiment and a weight-guessing contest will be included in the twilight meeting with a centennial hat going to the winning weight guesser.

Plans are going forward for putting up alfalfa haylage at the station Friday. The entire first crop of alfalfa will be harvested as haylage at the station this year.

Cooperating in the program are several bankers and the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders association.

Haskell building will be open to those who have not seen it yet. Coffee will be served in the building following the meeting.

Paul Guyer, extension livestock specialist at the University of Nebraska, says haylage harvesting lets farmers mechanize forage handling from field to feeding, mixes easily with other ingredients to form a built-in-routage feeding program, offers high feed value per pound of dry matter, can be harvested, stored and fed with minimum losses and is the most economical method of harvesting and storing the hay crop.

Rainfall in Wayne Exceeds 3 1/2 Inches

Monsoon season arrived in Wayne Friday. Since that day and up until 8 a.m. Wednesday the city received over 3 1/2 inches of rain. Coming in the form of thunder showers, the moisture was heavier in other places and lighter in some places.

It started Friday with .13 of an inch. Saturday added .80, Sunday .29, Monday 1.39, Tuesday .47 and Wednesday morning .50. It all added up to 3.58 inches of rain in a little over five days.

Norris Weible at State National bank, who keeps weather records, has had a fulltime job measuring moisture. He has had to do it twice a day to make sure all of it was included.

Thunder showers and tornado warnings are commonplace. Every time it clouds up the storm warnings are out and people start scanning the sky. So far the county has received only the moisture with some wind, but nothing of tornadoic force.

Business Notes

William Norvell, Laurel, has been appointed general agent for the Ohio National Life Insurance Co., serving Wayne. He will maintain an agency at 109 West 2nd, Wayne. A graduate of Midland College, he and his wife have lived in Laurel eight years.

All Teaching Posts in City Filled for Year

There are no more vacancies on the staff of Wayne public schools. Supt. Francis Haun announced the signing of three more teachers this past week, filling all existing positions previously open.

Anne Schnare, Homewood, Ill., has been signed to teach ninth grade English. She has been teaching at the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Schnare has a bachelor's degree from Carleton college, Northfield, Minn., and a master's degree in English from Wisconsin. She has a major in English on both the graduate and undergraduate level.

Donald Johnson, Chadron, a graduate of Chadron State, where he majored in commercial subjects with a minor in physical education, is to be the new commercial teacher and will assist with varsity basketball. He has been teaching four years in Merrimack and Wallace schools.

A new junior high teacher is Frederick Larson, Sloan, Ia. He is a 1965 graduate of Wayne State where he majored in social studies. He will be a seventh and eighth grade social science teacher and has prepared himself specifically for teaching in junior high so is well-qualified for the position.

Three Dozen Varieties of Shrubs Planted in Parks

Almost three dozen different kinds of shrubs have been planted in two of Wayne's parks. About $1,000 worth of trees and shrubs were planted in Viken and Swimming Pool parks last week as a community betterment project.

There were 24 varieties at Viken alone. They included such well-known types as hackberry, silver leaf maple, seedless ash, Redmond linden, Russian olive, red buds, Maxwell locust and red oak. Not so familiar was the "prunus cistena."

Among the shrubs planted in the two parks are the flowering crab, spruce, red dogwood, honeysuckle, roses, maple, linden, birch, ash, fir, pine and 22 pfitzer junipers that bush out. Some others have names bigger than their are, such as "goteaster acutifolia."

Most expensive was one concolor fir that cost $32.50. Of course, the trees are all over six feet tall and some are eight and ten feet tall. Most of the bushes were about two feet tall.

City Clerk Howard Witt said the many kinds were chosen to beautify the parks and to be assets in the future as well as to provide a nature study for future comparison. The plantings were a continuation

Legion Headquarters Dedicated in Lincoln

The Nebraska American Legion headquarters building in Lincoln was dedicated Sunday. Representing Wayne county at the dedication rites were Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bargholz and daughters, Wayne.

Carroll's Legion post helped the most with the building in this county. The post there gave $89 to help pay on the $125,000 construction costs. Quota for Carroll had been set at $36.

Windside did next best with $50 given toward a goal of $94. Wayne gave only $20 on its quota of $160. However, a benefit is to be held sometime this year to raise more for the building.

Donations from posts, Legion Auxiliary and individuals have made the new building possible. The state headquarters has been in the state capitol building. New location is at 220 South 17th, Lincoln.

Traffic Accidents Take Holiday Here

Wayne had gone 10 days without a traffic accident by Tuesday, Chief of Police Garth Dawson reported. It was the first time this year the city had gone a week or more without a traffic accident and there was no accident-free period during the last weeks of 1964.

May 15 was the last day an accident was reported in Wayne. The city ended 1964 and started 1965 with one of its worst accident periods in years and is currently well ahead of any other year on the number of accidents on the streets.

While traffic was taking a holiday as far as accidents are concerned, the police were busy in other work. Fights, death messages, drinking women, barking dogs and other activities kept police officers moving.

A death message came from Denver for a person unknown to department members and apparently to many others. They inquired of between 40 and 50 people before they finally got a clue as to the location of a woman who was being sought following the death of a relative.

One Wayne resident complained that a cement block had been thrown on the front porch. This was not the first time objects have been thrown on his porch and recently a bicycle was taken from his place and "planted" in a neighbor's flower bed.

Teenagers with spring fever caused some complaints. Some tossed firecrackers in the north end of town until complaints brought police. Others had a gang fight at a filling station, five Wayne boys trying to fight off nine from two cars, a Madison county 1958 Fairlane and a Woodbury County, Ia. green Volkswagen. One boy had to have stitches taken to close a cut received in the melee.

Animals were not too much trouble. One resident complained that his neighbor's dogs kept barking at his caged pet rabbit. Another reported a pony loose on the edge of town—the pony was not found.

The other two cases involved different complaints from the ordinary. One was burning trash on Sunday (against city ordinances); the other concerned two drinking women from, out-of-town, seeking to cash a check but needing identification (they were found to have enough cash on them so were told to use the cash and forget the check).

Two Draw Court Fines Latter Part of Week

Two Wayne residents were fined in county court the past week. They were charged in two separate cases by members of the Wayne police department.

Keith Lehmann was fined for destruction of property. He was charged with purposely damaging an automobile belonging to another resident. Judge David Hamer fined him $10 plus $5 costs and ordered restitution for damage caused. Chief Garth Dawson brought charges.

Roger Tasler was charged by Officer S. C. Thompson with illegal parking, leaving his car overnight in an area where midnight to 5 a.m. parking is not allowed. He paid $10 fine and $5 costs.

Public Library Hours Adopt Summer Rules

Wayne Public library is now on the summer schedule. Mrs. Gloria Koplin, librarian, reports they are now in effect and will continue to be in effect until this fall.

The summer hours call for the library to be open from 2 to 8 p.m. every day except Sunday. Many new books are on the shelves that are of interest to every age group.

A summer reading program is being planned but final arrangements have not been made. Mrs. Koplin said an announcement concerning the summer plan will probably be made next week.

Belden PO Has Opening

Belden post office is accepting applications from men and women on for position of substitute postal clerk at $2.12 an hour, according to Clarence Stapelman, acting postmaster. Increases for six years will bring it to $2.47 an hour and increases every three years after that to $2.88 an hour. Retirement pay, 13 days sick leave yearly, 26 days vacation time yearly, group life insurance, comprehensive health insurance and other benefits are offered. Applicants must reside in the delivery area of the Belden post office or be a bonafide patron of the post office at Belden (which includes persons now employed at the post office).

D. Larsen-L. Gable Wedding Held at Methodist Church

Delores Larsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Larsen, Carroll, and Lee Gable, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gable, Minnesota, were married May 8 in ceremonies at the First Methodist church, Wayne.

Rev. Cecil Bliss officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a blue street length dress with a lace jacket. Her attendant, Darlene Larsen, Carroll, wore a light blue ensemble with a lace jacket. Donald Puls, Wakefield, was the bridegroom's attendant. The couple will reside in Wayne.

Lack of Wind Causes Kite Contest Delay?

In the breezy days of spring it hardly seems possible, but the kite flying derby planned by Cub Scouts Pack 174 had to be called off. There was not enough wind!

The situation is paradoxical because Pack 175 recently held its kite derby. There was so much wind that day many kites were wrecked or lost.

A new date for the 174 derby is Sunday, June 6, at the airport. In case of bad weather (too much wind, not enough wind) it will be rescheduled.

Pack 175 has its summer program set-up and has been rechartered. Two new den mothers are Mrs. Paul Rockwell and Mrs. F. A. Suber.

The Cubs went to the armory to see the guns, trucks, kitchen and equipment Saturday. Their theme on "Home Town" was carried out at the pack meeting with an inspection of Wayne 10 to 25 years ago and attempting to relate buildings with present-day structures.

County Lagging in Area Bonds Record

Wayne county is fourth in the five-county Region 4 bond sales record so far this year, according to Lawrence Rossiter, area chairman from Hartington. Thurston leads with sales reaching 56.1 per cent of its quota. Cedar, Dakota, Wayne and Dixon follow in that order.

Henry Ley, voluntary bond sales chairman for the county, reports sales of $21,460 worth of Series E and H bonds in March. This brings Wayne county's purchases for three months to $130,307, or 35.3 per cent of its 1965 quota.

Rock county leads the state with 70.5 per cent of its quota reached. The panhandle counties around Alliance, hard hit by drought, lead the state in area sales, having reached 43.0 per cent of the quota in five counties.

Nebraskans bought over $4 million worth of bonds in March to bring the state's record to $24 million so far this year, 30.6 per cent of the quota. Nebraska is first in the nation in per cent of sales quota sold so far.

Savings bonds may be bought at any Wayne county bank. They may also be purchased through the payroll savings plan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reuter spent Sunday in the Herb Reuter home.

Mrs. E. Johnson Funeral Services Held at Randolph

Funeral services for Mrs. Emil Johnson, 78, Laurel, were held Saturday afternoon at St. John's Lutheran church, Randolph. Mrs. Johnson died last Wednesday at Wayne hospital.

Rev. Ross Back officiated at the rites. The Lutheran vocal group sang, accompanied by Mrs. Melvin Witte. Pallbearers were Wesley, Clarence and Richard Stapelman, Victor and Henry Seyl and Herbert Abts. Burial was in Belden cemetery.

Amelia Stapelman, daughter of Henry and Frederica Stapelman, was born March 17, 1887 at Belden, where she grew to womanhood. She was married Feb. 24, 1909 to Emil Johnson at Belden. They farmed near Randolph until 1945 when they retired and moved into Randolph. Following the death of her husband in 1951 she made her home with two daughters in Laurel.

She was also preceded in death by her parents and two brothers. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Gunnar (Ellen) Johnson and Mrs. Alvin (Lillian) Haiser, Laurel; a sister, Mrs. Anna Seyl, Belden; three brothers, Theodore, Laurel, and Edward and Ervin, Belden, and four grandchildren.

Graveside Services Held For A. Anderson Infant

Concord — Graveside services were held Thursday afternoon at Greenwood cemetery for Mitchell Alan Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin L. Anderson, Concord. The infant died at birth Thursday at Wayne hospital.

Rev. Robert Johnson, Wakefield, officiated at the rites. Survivors include the parents; a twin brother, Michael Alvin; a brother, Reed; two sisters, Linda and Janelle; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Concord, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ramsey, Wayne. A sister, Jody Lynn, died in infancy.

New Bus in Wayne Now

A 1965 bus is the newest equipment at Wayne public schools. The Ford mounted on a Carpenter body arrived last week. Biggest of the four buses now owned by the district, the vehicle can carry 54 passengers. It has wider seats than the other buses and thus will be more suitable for transporting pupils to out-of-town activities, according to Supt. Francis Haun. The bus will be used on the school routes this fall, bringing to four the number of busses operated out of Wayne.

Girl Scouts Assist in Community Betterment

Wayne Girl Scouts have been asked to plant flowers as a project for community betterment. They started off with the West elementary junior group planting flowers at Dahl's Retirement center and the West elementary Brownies planting at the Girl Scout cabin.

A report on the activity was made Tuesday of last week at the Girl Scout neighborhood meeting at the Morrison hotel. Mrs. Ed Ehlert, neighborhood chairman, was in charge of 12 leaders and assistant leaders attending.

The play day for Brownies and junior Scouts originally planned for May 15, had to be cancelled because of rain. A new date will be announced later.

An overnight camp-out for junior, senior and cadet Scouts is planned for July 23-24 at Ponca State park. Girls will sleep in tents, cook over fires, hike, hold campfire programs and engage in other activities.

Mrs. Russell Owens was presented the Brownie leader pin by Mrs. Richard Lesh, district chairman. Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Leroy Middleton, Mrs. Richard Kern and Mrs. Al Ehlert cleaned the Girl Scout cabin Friday.

On behalf of the Girl Scouts, the neighborhood group expressed appreciation for the half-bath installed by the city council in the Girl Scout cabin. The new facility is a much-appreciated feature. Next neighborhood meeting is planned for September. A new neighborhood chairman will be in charge at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Powers, Dixon, Mrs. Alvina Anderson, Concord, Gollie Leonard and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Penn were luncheon guests Tuesday in the Mrs. Julia Perdue home. Mrs. Monta Bomer called in the Perdue home Tuesday afternoon. Pat Finn and daughter, Carroll, called in Mrs. Perdue's home Wednesday. Mrs. Perdue spent Sunday in the Alan Perdue home and attended the baccalaureate services in Laurel. Mrs. Perdue was an overnight guest of Mrs. Edna Grier Sunday.

Gas air conditioning is

SMART. SMARTER. SMARTEST.

A gas air conditioner is the smartest thing you can think of when planning for whole-house air conditioning.

Remember last spring? It was hot. That's why a lot of smart home owners are installing whole-house gas air conditioning now. It's easy to install. Runs quietly, filters dust and pollen from the air and is completely dependable. Best of all, it's the economical way to keep cool. Rates are low, and the lack of moving parts keeps a gas air conditioner free from expensive repairs. It's smart to install whole-house gas air conditioning now. And if you heat with gas remember half the system is already in. If you live beyond the city gas mains, see your LP gas dealer.

Nine St. Mary's School Pupils Graduate; Scholastic Honors Awarded at Ceremony

Nine eighth grade pupils at St. Mary's school were graduated at ceremonies at St. Mary's Catholic church Wednesday evening. Scholastic honors were presented to representatives of each grade.

Graduating were five girls and four boys: Debbie Allen, Maureen Dorsey, Monica Dorsey, Mary Ellen McGrath, Beth McLean, Tom Donella, David Draeger, Mike Garvin and Jerome Vrtiska.

Medals were presented for the one having the highest scholastic average for each grade. They were Paul Mallette in the first grade; Patricia Major, second; Carol Nuss and Debbie Vrtiska, third; Michael Nuss, fourth; Jane Sharer, fifth; Jeri Manning, sixth; Ted Armbruster, seventh; and Debbie Allen, eighth.

Perfect attendance awards went to Jose Maly, Joan Major, Patty Major and Steven McGrath, first and second grades; Jim Draeger, third; Pat Hochstein, Terry Meyer and Carla Shald, fourth, fifth and sixth grades; and Mike Garvin, seventh and eighth grades.

Miko Garvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlye Garvin, was the first recipient of the "Borrey Award." It is the first time it has been given and will be given from now on in honor of Mrs. F. S. Borrey to the student selected by the student body as "best representing the spirit of St. Mary's."

The Serra medals for vocational essays sponsored by Serra Club International went to Monica Dorsey and Mike Garvin. Father John Connealy, pastor of St. Joseph's, Wisner, was speaker for the program. Following distribution of the awards and diplomas, mothers of the seventh grade pupils were hostesses at a reception for the graduates at St. Mary's hall.

Webelos Have Visitor

Harvey Grosse visited the Webelos unit the past week. The Webelos, who are in transition from Cub Scouts, showed him the Scout handclasp. They also discussed Scout laws and visiting a Boy Scout troop. Whistles were made out of spoons. Bobby Nelson, Duane Grosse, Randy Goshorn and Tim Wittig attended.

Much-Honored Picture Will Be Shown Monday

"Question 7," a movie that has won 22 international film awards, will be shown Monday, May 31, at 8 p.m. in the Wayne Wesleyan Methodist church. Pastor Walter Steinkamp invites the public to attend.

The movie, produced by the same unit that presented "Martin Luther," concerns youth in Nazi Germany. Questions on a form are to be answered, with "Question 7" being the deadly one.

Courage shown by those facing tremendous odds, a realistic depiction of Germany under the Nazis and other facets make it a memorable movie for all ages. There is no admission charge.

Lutheran Group Goes to "Greatest Story" Movie

A group of 24 young people was taken to Omaha Saturday for the Cinerama movie, "The Greatest Story Ever Told," at the Indian Hills theatre. All but one were in a Sunday school class together or in the first year confirmation class.

Drivers taking the youngsters from St. Paul's Lutheran church to the show were Mrs. Louis Lutz, Walter Peterson, Vernon Predeohl, Mrs. Mike Karel and Mrs. Marvin Hansen. Mrs. Lutz was in charge.

Attending were Carol Bargholz, Arthur and Joe Bruns, Mary de Fresse, Nancy Diehrickson, Dennis Ellermeier, David Ellis, Steve Hall, Mitchell Harms, Karen Johnson, Tom Karel, Beverly Korn, Charles Nelson, Jane Lynn and Virginia Predeohl, Ron Seymour, Madeline Sievers, Connie Thomas, Jack Sahr, Virginia Roberts, Winona Peterson, Rodney Sievers and Jim and Randy Lutz.

In honor of Roger Johnson's graduation Thursday evening, about 45 friends and relatives were luncheon guests in the Milton Johnson home. Mrs. Willis Johnson poured. Mrs. Gerald Becker served the cake. Charlene Johnson served punch.

Wayne Girl Continues Winning School Honors

Anna Williams, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Warren Williams, Wayne, is continuing in college where she left off in high school. She has received more honors at Carleton college in Northfield, Minn.

According to a release from the college, she was given highest freshman honors at the recent honors convocation. She was cited for rating among the top 10 per cent of her class.

Miss Williams was a National Merit Scholarship test finalist last year at WHS and was first in the UN Regents scholarship tests at the school. She took college courses at Wayne State college while completing her senior year at Wayne high.

Concord Plowing Aids Farm Family

The widow of James Urbanec looked out over acres of unplowed fields May 4. The next evening she looked out over the same fields that were now plowed.

Neighbors of Mrs. Urbanec had brought in 16 tractors for a plowing bee. Mrs. Urbanec was widowed when her husband drowned earlier this year. Women brought food to serve the workers at noon.

She still lives on the farm near Concord with her family. The boost from the men and women of the area did much to help renew her faith and hope in the value of a friend and the thoughtfulness of smalltown residents.

Helping with plows were Harold Burns, Virgil Pearson, Dean Pippitt, Don Pippitt, George Magnuson, Paul Bose, Ted Gunnison, Jr., Dennis Forsberg, Joseph Forsberg, Clayton Kartell, Lavern Harter, Kenneth Erickson, Ernest Swanson, Wallace Magnuson, Roland Victor and Donald Kartell.

One Troop Camps Out; Other Troop Planning

Boy Scout Troop 174 camped out Friday. Troop 175 is making plans for a three-day camp out in June.

Tom Lambert, Eric Manley and Dick Manley went with the Wayne Scouts Friday. They fixed a night meal, Saturday breakfast and lunch and returned Saturday afternoon.

The camp planned by Troop 175 is a bit more extensive. It calls for camping June 4, 5 and 6 at Ponca State park. Plans were discussed at the Monday night meeting.

Troop 175 was also rechartered the first week. At a meeting Saturday night at the Darold Kraemer's, the rechartering was handled. Patrol leaders also met to make plans for June activities.

Youth Sentenced To Penal Complex

Jerold W. Cook, Elk Horn, Ia., was sentenced to two to three years in the Nebraska penal complex Thursday. Judge George Dittrick sentenced the young man at a hearing in Wayne.

Myron Mintz, Winside, who does not have a record of being in trouble previously, got off with a much lighter sentence. He was put on probation for two years.

The two youths had pleaded guilty to breaking, illegal entry and burglary on a charge growing out of the Park Place Tavern, Winside. They had been picked up in Omaha and brought here for questioning on the case.

A third young man is alleged to have had a part in the break-in but has not been located. No clues as to his identity or whereabouts have been made known.

Alumni Gathering Set for Winside

Classes of 1925, 1940 and 1965 will be honored at Winside high school's annual alumni banquet and reunion Saturday night in the WHS gym. Several hundred graduates are expected for the gathering.

The banquet starts at 6:30 p.m. in the WHS gym. Following the meal and program the grads will adjourn to the Winside City auditorium for a dance into the wee hours.

Tickets for the banquet are available at Winside State bank, Jake's grocery and Troutman's grocery. The Methodist women will serve. The dance following the reunion will be open to the public.

Among the business matters coming up will be the election of officers for the coming year. Several reports, entertainment and reminiscing will be part of the evening's fare.

Lyle Krueger is president this year. Other officers are: Ervin Jaeger, vice president; Mrs. Warren Holtgrew, secretary; Leroy Heier, treasurer; Beverly Stevens, program chairman; Mrs. Bruce Wylie, table chairman; and Mrs. Lester Pravitiz, historian.

Two Girls —

Dr. Paul Miller, superintendent of schools, Omaha, gave an inspiring, interesting and thought-provoking main address. He cited the fact that during the lives of the graduates there had been more advancements, discoveries and developments in more fields than there had been in all recorded years previously.

According to Dr. Miller, the population and advancement in every field of endeavor have shot up "like a jet taking off — almost straight up," the last few years. He welcomed the students to the world they lived in now and the world that lies ahead.

Sunday evening the baccalaureate service was held at the Wayne City auditorium. It was packed. Rice the following night also was filled to near-capacity.

Rev. E. J. Bernthal gave the baccalaureate sermon on "Right, Not Smooth Things." The senior choir and school band directed by Clayton Southwick and Don Schumacher respectively, had parts in both programs.

Burdette and JoAnn Hansen, Wisner, were callers Saturday in the R. H. Hansen home.

Mrs. Letha Darga, Los Angeles, is assisting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Porterfield, for three weeks.

Mrs. Roy Habrock and children visited in the John Lutt home Friday evening. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lutt, Bob Lutt and Roger visited in the Lutt home.

'Rise of Capitalism' WSC Television Theme

"The Rise of Capitalism" is the topic of a Wayne State television show to be aired by Station KTVV at 11 p.m. Sunday.

Third in a 10-program series on "Transitions and Tensions in the Sixties," this show will feature three members of the Wayne social sciences faculty, Dr. Gerald Hansen as moderator, Dr. Warren Williams and Wylie Anderson.

They will discuss the origins of capitalism and its development through various forms to the mid-19th century. Next week's program will continue the investigation of capitalism to present times.

Vacation Bible School Planned for Baptists

Daily Vacation Bible school will be held in the Wayne Baptist church May 31 to June 4, according to Pastor Frank Pedersen. Sessions will be held daily from 9 to 11:45 a.m. and 12:30 to 2:45 p.m.

Children will bring sack lunches at noon if time does not permit them to go home for lunch. All youngsters from 4 to 14 are invited to attend.
Theme for the school is "Discovering with Christ." A program showing the work of the school will be presented Friday, June 4, with the public invited. A picnic for school will be Saturday, June 5, from 10 to 1.

Mrs. Evangeline Pedersen is directing the school and teaching. Other teachers are Mrs. Bettie Ream, Mrs. Violet Swanson, Rebecca Pedersen and Jerry Ream.
Lunch chairman is Mrs. Laura Banister with Linda Boyce and Gloria Kropf assisting. Ladies will furnish cookies and Kool-Aid. Helpers volunteering are to contact Mrs. Banister. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Pedersen.

Girls State Reunion Set

The 23rd annual reunion and banquet of Cornhusker Girls State will be held Tuesday, June 15, at the University of Nebraska student union. All former Girls State delegates from Wayne county and other areas are invited. A banquet will be held at 6:30. Reservations may be secured from Mrs. D. N. Malone, Box 4038, Bethany Station, Lincoln, Neb., 68505.

Dean deBuhr Wins Coveted 'Athlete of Year' Honors

Dean deBuhr, a junior at Wayne State college, has been named "College Athlete of the Year" by the Lincoln Sunday Journal and Star. The honor is a repeat for him as he was named athlete of the year last year by the Omaha World-Herald.

Larry Dennis, writing in the Lincoln paper, said deBuhr was a "bonus" for WSC, coming here instead of going to Coe college as he had planned. He came with John Jermier who was assistant coach at Coe and hired as head football coach here.

A three-year letterman in football, he ranked third in the nation in small colleges last fall and passed for 477 yards in basketball. He averaged 25.6 points a game last season, ranking 28th in the nation. In baseball, his favorite sport, he led Wayne to two consecutive NCC titles as a pitcher.

His record has been compiled in spite of injuries. Big league scouts have looked him over and have made offers. Jermier says he is the best all-around athlete WSC has ever had. This could be, for deBuhr was called the best all-around athlete to graduate from Charles City high.

Coaches feel if he could concentrate on one sport he would be sensational but he prefers to play them all. If he could, he would be out for track, diving, tennis and other WSC sports.

His father, Herman deBuhr, has traveled 40,000 miles from Charles City to Wayne to watch his son in games. He has never missed a home game except twice when games were moved to new dates because of weather.

Jermier says deBuhr has the makings of a major league player and won't be surprised if he moves up to the majors at the first opportunity. If he gets a chance, WSC will not try to hold him back, the coach said.

According to Jermier, the best feature about deBuhr is the fact that he is "coachable" and listens well when told to do something. He tries to do it the way he's told and he works on doing it the way the coach says.

The poised junior has another full year of competition left at Wayne. He could go down in history as among the greatest and possibly already has. His addition of the Lincoln Journal and Star award is just one of many honors heaped on him already at the college and on the state and conference level.

Sturdy Batting Cage Given Baseball Teams

A batting cage, reinforced at points of stress and requiring several days to build, has been given to the city's baseball players by Stan Morris of Morris Machine shop. It fills a need long felt at the baseball diamond.

Morris built the cage himself to be used for batting practice. He said he did it to honor Hank Overin who has worked so hard for the youth of the city and for the baseball players, young and old, now and in the future, who represent the town on the baseball diamond.

Brandstetter Implement furnished three wheels for making the cage mobile. WSC donated some netting. Morris furnished everything else and did all of the work building it.

Morris also made a batting rack for the diamond. He gave it to the baseball program in memory of Jerry Meyer, popular baseball player of several years ago in Wayne.

Area Entries Fail to Make Impression During State Track and Golf Meet

Northeast Nebraska looked pretty sad in competition in the state track and golf meets in Lincoln the latter part of last week. Best effort was by Bob Reeg of Wayne who finished ninth among several hundred golfers in the golf meet.

In Class A track, Norfolk scored 4 points and South Sioux City went scoreless. Tekamah was 17th in Class B with 6 points. Madison managed 3 and Pierce and West Point Catholic 1 each. Crofton, Hartington Cedar Catholic, Laurel, Wayne and West Point failed to place.

Class C was little better. Ponca made 5 points and Scribner 4 for 14th and 15th places. Pender managed 3 and Allen, Craigton, Leigh, Lyons, Niobrara, Randolph St. Francis, Verdigris, Wakefield, Wausa, Walthill, Winnebago, Winside and Wisner didn't score.

In Class C the only area scores were 7 by Meadow Grove and 5 by Hartington. Elgin, Newcastle, Pilger and Snyder failed to tally.

Northeast League Teams Will Play Baseball Sunday

The Northeast Nebraska League starts play Sunday with Homer at Emerson, Lawton at Wayne and Walthill at Anthon, Ia. Lawton and Homer are the pre-season favorites.

Wayne's opener at 8 p.m. Sunday will be the second game of the season providing rain doesn't cause postponement of the game set for Friday night at 8 here against Winside. Wet grounds forced postponement of the game scheduled for Sunday.

Homer was regular season champion last year and until dethroned has to be a favorite. Lawton will have many of the 1964 Iowa state high school championship team members on its squad so is bound to be rough.

Hank Overin is one of the manager's holding over. Newcomers are on hand at Homer, Anthon and Lawton. Walthill is the newcomer in the loop.

Continuing its trend for more use of local talent rather than "imported" athletes, has been agreed upon by league members. Iowa night games will be at 8:30 daylight time and day games at 2:30 daylight time. All Nebraska games will be at 8 p.m. central standard time.

Wayne Thinclads' Record Best in Several Seasons

Coach Jerry Ball announced 19 lettermen in track this year at Wayne high. He reported that the squad had brought home 16 medals from the conference meet, the largest the school has won in many years.

There are nine underclassmen on this year's thinclad team. Ten seniors who lettered will not be back for action but a good crop of sophomores (freshmen this year) will aid the team materially.

Seniors lettering for the 1965 season were Tom Addison, Dave Hasebrook, Bill Woenler, Stuart Bernthal, Bruce Jorgensen, Bill Lubbersiedt, Ken Soden, Nyle Erxleben, Mike Carman and Orin Zach. Juniors earning letters were Keith Teigen, Leon Jorgensen, Mark Robinson, Dave Noyes and Randy Pedersen. The sophomores who lettered were Allen Rasmussen, Rodney Reeg and Dennis Beckman. Dave Brown was the only freshman lettering.

Wayne mile relay team finished fifth in its section but lost out in time comparison. Mike Carman failed to place in the shot and Leon Jorgensen was boxed in during the 440 so failed to qualify for the finals. Earl Koch of Winside was third in his heat in the high hurdles but that did not qualify him for the finals.

In golf, Reeg could have won the meet if he had been as hot the second round as he was the first. He started off with a 44 then faltered a 37 for a total of 81. Don Koerber wound up with 88, Kendall Longe 108 and Jim Chambers 109. The winning golfer had a 75 with rounds of 36 and 39.

Wayne, Winside to Have Kids' Teams

Wayne and Winside are among towns fielding teams in the Ralph Bishop league this summer. The kids' baseball loop also includes Wakefield, Wisner, Pender and Emerson.

Tom Fulcher is coach at Winside this season. He is a catcher for the WSC team that won the NCC championship. He will take the local midgets and juniors to Norfolk Wednesday, June 2, for games, the first coming at 6:30. Baseball for all ages will be offered in Wayne's this year.

Winside Athlete's Eye Injured in Ball Game

Dean Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Mann, injured his left eye during physical education at Winside high school Wednesday afternoon of last week. In the seemingly safe game of softball, he was struck by a ball that glanced off a bat.

The ball struck him in the eye, injuring the pupil and causing it to hemorrhage. He had to keep a patch on it for several days because light hurt it.

Monday he was taken to a specialist in Sioux City where a thorough checkup showed the eye was not permanently damaged. He is wearing colored glasses to shut out some light for the time being.

Dean is an all-conference football player at Winside, played basketball and was on the track team. He is one of the top students in studies in the senior class this year.

Area Drivers Win More Races Sunday

Wayne county's racing drivers in stock car competition at South Sioux City and Norfolk continued to bring home prize money Sunday night. At both tracks there will be races this coming Sunday night at 8 and Memorial day at 8.

At South Sioux City Sunday, Gene Behmer, Wayne driving for Marvin Reuter, Allen, won his heat. He was also second in the trophy race and third in the A feature.

Behmer had led the A feature

Baseball Diamond Work Day to Be Held; Season Tickets Will Be Sold to Public

A "work day" to paint, repair and improve the Wayne baseball diamond has been set for Sunday, June 6, at 1 p.m. Several civic clubs have already promised to be represented and assistance from all organizations and individuals will be appreciated.

Meeting Tuesday night, the nine-member board discussed needed improvements including fencing to completely protect the bleachers; painting the grandstand; wiring check of the new electric scoreboard and the PA system; drinking fountains in convenient locations; and repair of seating.

The city council will furnish the paint so lots of paint brushes will be needed. Other tools for carpentry work can be used. Everyone showing up to work should bring some type of tool or brush.

Soliciting of merchants for funds may be a thing of the past if a season ticket sale is successful. Offering all league home games at about half price, the season tickets are even more valuable for families where a ticket admits all in one family for one price.

Tickets go on sale in the banks this week. Others will also have them for sale. Prices are $3 for a single season admission ticket, $4 for a season ticket for a couple and $5 for a family season ticket.

Wayne Tietgen will be in charge of ticket sales.

The Legion, Lions, Jaycees and other groups have offered help on the work day. No games are scheduled in Wayne that Sunday so it is hoped to get everything taken care of in one afternoon. If enough show up, it can be done.

Clare Sharer is chairman of the baseball board. Wayne Tietgen is vice chairman, Ted Baha treasurer, Robert Johnson secretary and Charles Dossela, Stan Morris and Charles Nichols members.

The board is taking out insurance on players and drivers for the season. It is also investigating incorporation for the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Heydon, Wakefield, were visitors Sunday in the Oscar Peterson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dahl, Meadow Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Kohl, Tilden, were visitors Sunday in the Carl Nelson home.

Receives Masonic Pin
Dr. Robert Casper, a member of Albon Lodge No. 78, AF&AM, Albon, was presented the 50-year pin and certificate May 18 at a stated communication of Wayne Lodge 120. K. N. Parke made the presentation on behalf of the grand lodge of Nebraska. Dr. Casper served for three terms as worshipful master of the Masonic lodge at St. Edward.

Osmond Boosters Coming
A caravan from Osmond will visit Carroll, Winside and Wayne Friday, May 28, promoting the 75th anniversary celebration in that town June 17-19-20. The Boys Town band and Wayne High band will be among those appearing. Boosters will be in Wayne at 5:30, Carroll at 6:15 p.m. and in Winside at 6:35 p.m. Fireworks, dances, barbecues and night spectacles are planned each day of the diamond jubilee celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Clarkson and family, Scribner, spent the weekend in the Harry Kay home. Mrs. Gary Worrel and children, Hooper, were overnight guests in the Andrew Parker home.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

The End of the Story

Once upon a time there were two boys, each good in athletics, blessed with talent and ability but taking opposite roads. That's a start of a story that could be true here in Wayne as it has been in other places. What is important is: How does the story end?

The one boy works, trains, studies and plays to be good in sports. Endowed with natural ability, he is willing to keep in shape, stay in training and work as hard as anyone else to be better.

On the other hand, the second boy, equally fortunate in ability, likes his role of being looked up to as an athlete of the future. He enjoys running with the older boys, sneaking a drink and puffing a few cigarettes when the big boys offer them.

Wayne has an investment in each of the boys, just as it has in all girls and boys who attend school here. It cannot afford to see such a good prospect keep following the path on which he has started. Perhaps his folks don't know; maybe they don't care. Everyone should care — and help if possible.

As one of the biggest schools in the area, Wayne can be expected to turn out scholars, musicians, leaders and athletes. In the field of athletics it has a long way to go to build up an image that is known, liked and respected.

Nothing is wrong with a school where the spirit is so high the leaders in its activity look down upon smoking and drinking. Kids in a school where training is tradition have just as much fun as those in schools with bad reputations — and they profit more in later life.

The best party we've had, a senior described Wednesday night's party for WHS seniors. Almost everyone in the class attended, drinking was prohibited and everyone hated to see the night end.

This type of thing should not be exceptional. Part of learning about life should be learning how to train right as well as playing right. Being a good winner and a good loser goes along with sportsmanship and willingness to train.

Wayne can build a tradition of winners, of good sports and good trainers. Every athlete (and every girl) can find the right road and end up in the right place.

Two boys with equal opportunities are growing up in Wayne right now. They symbolize the hundreds of others growing up. How will their stories end? Will anyone care enough to help them? Both stories could have happy endings yet.

It's Only Cloth

In this land of ours there are those who scoff at sentimental patriotism such as displaying the American flag, a lump in the throat as "Taps" is played and respect for the banner that represents our nation. "It's only cloth," they say.

That piece of cloth is one of the most revered and precious rectangles in the world. Millions of people on both sides of the Iron and Bamboo Curtains would gladly claim it as their flag if they could.

Prisoners after the war broke into tears the first time they saw the American flag after release from captivity. New citizens of this nation break down when they realize that flag is their flag. Thousands have died to make sure that flag still flies.

You are not asked to die to honor that flag; you don't have to weep; you don't

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thoughts to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

even have to get a lump in your throat. It would help if you displayed it on holidays to show it has meaning for you too.

Memorial Day is Monday. Every home and business place in Wayne county should display a flag in the proper manner. Farmyards should have flags out. Flags should fly at every public building.

That "piece of cloth" represents our country, the most richly-blessed nation on earth. Monday's display will honor those who once lived here and died, some who would have given a great deal to live on and fly a flag but who gave even more — their lives — to give you the right to fly it.

If you have a flag, fly it Monday. If you don't have a flag, get one before the Fourth of July. Honor the dead and remind the living by displaying a flag each national holiday. — CEG

More Should See Kearney

When Wayne City council members went to Kearney recently to look over landfill results, they should have taken some southside residents who could be expected to oppose landfill operations. Seeing is believing and they might have come back believers.

What's so wonderful about the land south of Grainland highway now? It is an asset to the area or community. Landfill operations call for filling in such spots and making them more valuable.

"Reclaim" is the key word in landfill work. It signifies the operation that makes it more usable. Without such operations, Chicago and other great cities would have to leave a lot of land unused, land that is worth millions now because landfill made it usable.

Where there is nothing but land south of Grainland now; there could be a park, and certainly the south part of Wayne could use one. Land could be available for private use, or it could serve some other service instead of lying idle.

If you have gone to the airport in Omaha, you have seen Abbott drive. That was once a junk-littered area until landfill operations started. Now it offers air travelers a pleasant drive from downtown Omaha to Eppley field.

Wayne can stand to grow and in every direction. Reclaiming land would help. If private citizens do not undertake reclamation, the city could.

A landfill for solid waste is sanitary, keeps refuse covered, prevents development of insect and rodent breeding grounds and provides the most economical way of increasing land value. In other cities (most of those in the state over 2,500 population) the method is so popular residents request the city governing bodies to put unused land in their section of town on the list for future landfills.

Most of Wayne is beautiful now. A few years ago there might have been some areas that were not. Who could have foreseen what improvements would be made to help add to property value and increase this beauty? In the same way, who can foresee now how important a landfill today will be in a few years in creating another beautiful section of town?

Those who oppose landfills should get all the facts before they continue their opposition. They can find out the experiences in other cities to prove the landfill solution is the right one. They can be the right ones to visit Kearney and see the spectacular results. They can change their minds. — CEG

Pro-Con Manuevers Begin On Hot Income Tax Issue

LINCOLN — Supporters and opponents of an income tax for Nebraska are manuevering more than ever before as the pressure connected with a hotly-contested issue intensifies.

Both sides admit the fate of the bill to impose a flat-rate tax on the earnings of individuals and corporations is still very much in doubt.

In a precedent-setting action last week, the 49-member body gave first-round approval to LB 797.

But the controversial bill must withstand a series of legislative pitfalls, then muster 25 votes on final reading to become state law.

Supporters of the legislation garnered 29 affirmative votes in the first major vote test. Nineteen senators balloted against the bill, including the 10-member Douglas County delegation.

Led by Sen. Terry Carpenter, Scottsbluff, opponents have already started a campaign to place the issue on the November, 1966, ballot should it be enacted. They are certain the voters would soundly reject the new tax.

Supporters reluctantly agree. But they point out that probably any tax measure put to a vote of the people, including the property tax, would be defeated at the polls.

Never before has a tax-raising measure been subjected to a popular referendum in Nebraska.

Sen. Hal Baker, Lincoln, chief sponsor of LB 797, said he doesn't intend to live up to this fight because of the threat of a referendum on the income tax.

"I need 25 votes to make this bill a law and that's what I'm going to concentrate on until it reaches final reading," he said. "There are some senators who could go either way when it reaches the final vote, but I think the chances are good that it will pass."

LB 797 on general file are expected to bolt if an across-the-board cut of the record high appropriations measure is made.

Shops ranging from three to 10 per cent have been mentioned and will probably be offered when the institutions-welfare-education allocation measure reaches select file, a step prior to final reading.

Meat Import Bill Passed

The State Legislature has passed a bill requiring the labeling of foreign origin meats and meat products sold in Nebraska.

The legislation carries a misdemeanor charge. Key provisions are designed to promote the sale of Nebraska beef, thus improving the lot of the cattlemen by increasing cattle prices.

Specifically, the bill requires that all foreign-origin meat bear a label not less than one-fourth inch in height stating when it was packaged and where it came from.

Restaurants and other public eating establishments need only donate foreign meat on their menus. Not on individual servings.

The act, which will take effect three months after the Legislature adjourns, will be administered by the State Agriculture Department. Meat invoices will be audited regularly to guard against violations.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS: The annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, an organization chartered by the Congress, and has been officially recognized and endorsed by the President of the United States and the Veterans Administration; and

WHEREAS: The proceeds of this worthy fund-raising campaign are used exclusively for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans, and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans; and

WHEREAS: The basic purpose of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is eloquently reflected in the desire to "Honor The Dead by Helping the Living"; therefore

I, Chris Tietgen, Mayor of the City of Wayne, do hereby recognize the patriotic merits of this cause by urging the citizens of this community to contribute generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies, on the day set aside for the distribution of these symbols of loyalty in this city. I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this country who have risked their lives in defense of the freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens.

Exceptions to Law Noted

A state official says Nebraska courts are allowing exceptions to state law requiring mandatory suspension of drivers' licenses.

Charles Kaufman, head of the Motor Vehicle Department financial responsibility division, said often the exceptions are for driving to and from work.

"It's impossible for law enforcement officers to enforce or supervise those kind of court orders. For all practical purposes, the driver is carrying a full-fledged license," he said. Assistant Atty. Gen. Chacey Sheldon confirmed the conviction under charges such as drunken driving carries a mandatory six-month driver's license suspension.

He added, however, that the court's obligation to follow this law to the letter has never been tested.

Labor Law Could Fail

Nebraska's right-to-work law could fall by the wayside if Congress goes along with President Johnson's proposal to repeal a section of the Federal Taft-Hartley Act.

Nebraska Deputy Atty. Gen. Gerald Vitavmas says the question would involve the commerce clause of the U. S. Constitution which gives Congress authority to regulate commerce between states.

Nebraska is one of 19 states whose right-to-work laws would be affected in section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley act were voided.

States Won't Claim Death

Neither Nebraska nor South Dakota has claimed a traffic death that occurred more than a year ago on the border of the two states.

Tom Ryan, Nebraska Accident Records Bureau Chief, said that neither state included the death of Darrel D. Holopeter in its 1964 tabulation of traffic deaths.

Ryan said the question was turned over to the National Safety Council some three months after the accident, but that a ruling has not yet been forthcoming.

Buff'lo Bill Ranch to Open

Scouts Rest Ranch at North Platte will be dedicated and open to tourists June 24, the State Game Commission reports.

Ranch developments to date include the restored home of William F. "Buffalo Bill" Cody and a large barn. There is also display of Cody's possessions at the ranch.

Governor to Lead Tour

Governor Morrison will lead a delegation of businessmen to Europe this fall to "sell Nebraska" to foreign industrialists. It will be one of the biggest industrial promotions the state has produced. From Oct. 11 through Nov. 1 the group will be telling corporate executives, bankers and financiers that Nebraska is a good place to work, live and do business.

The schedule calls for the group, expected to number between 14 and 20, to leave Washington, D. C. Oct. 12 after a one-day briefing by members of the U. S. Commerce Department.

The three-week tour will include stops at London, Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Hamburg, Munich and Paris.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

Legislative action has been completed on a bill to implement full United States participation in an international coffee agreement, which was ratified by the Senate two years ago.

Believing that the international arrangement is against the best interest of American consumers, both Nebraska Senators consistently have voted against the agreement.

In essence, the basic principle involved is to control the price of coffee throughout the world by limiting the quantities permitted to be sold. Under the agreement, countries producing coffee and shipping it abroad accept quotas on their exports. By doing so, of course, they receive higher prices and, thus, more money for less coffee.

Although some measure of consumer interest safeguard has been written into the implementing legislation, many still regard the agreement as detrimental to Americans who account for about half of the world's consumption of coffee. Within 13 months after this country became a party to the agreement, coffee prices in the United States increased nearly 15 cents per pound. With full participation, further increases are to be seen.

CTC

The Commerce Department's Business Defense Services Administration (Copper Division) was faced with the problem of a Solomon when 233 users applied for materials under the terms of recently enacted legislation providing for the sale of 100,000 tons of copper from the national stockpile.

Everyone seeking to buy submitted applications reflecting acute need and each was allotted a share of the tonnage.

It is estimated that there are a total of 3,000 users in the United States, and the supply at the U. S. price, currently 36 cents per pound, will remain tight for the rest of this year.

A new device developed by the Atomic Energy Commission for the Customs Bureau not only detects the presence of gold but also indicates the quantity — and it isn't fooled by imitations.

The electronic gadget whistles in the presence of gold, and is especially spited for inspecting articles of artistic value since this method of detection is not destructive.

It is claimed that the instrument can be modified to detect other metals, too, such as copper, tungsten and silver.

Quotable quotes: Congressman Richard Roudsbush (R-Ind.) — "The National Job Corps is setting up a school for girl dropouts. This drop-out school will feature a swimming pool, classrooms, home economics laboratories, arts and crafts rooms, and even juke boxes for parties and dances. It would appear that the government hotel school could encourage more girls to drop out of school for a free year's pleasure trip."

Plan Now for Milo Harvest

Many farmers in this area are growing some grain sorghum for the first time this year. It's not too early to be thinking about how the crop is to be handled at harvest. Most growers are aware that harvesting requirements are quite different than those for corn.

In major milo growing areas, most producers are equipped with combines and supplemental drying facilities. The cost of these is probably not justified in view of our limited acreage. Supplemental drying may not be needed, depending on seasonal variation. However in many years there is considerable risk from lodging if the crop is left standing until dry enough for binning.

Making grain sorghum silage has several advantages. First, a combine is not required. The crop can be harvested early and stored at low cost. Milo silage is a high value product because of the 10% ratio of stover to grain. This can be increased by taking little of the stalk at harvest. Hogs as well as cattle will make good use of this type feed.

organized and well directed propaganda in these countries, but it has a very definite impact. One thing we could well remember is that the majority of the people in the world and those upon whom this impact is the greatest are people who have never known absolute freedom of thought and action as they know and, consequently, they have no conception of what freedom means.

One wonders what might be their reaction if a Nation of two hundred million people were to be galvanized into action and from their hearts there would come the outpouring of what freedom really means to them.

Have we become rather blasé? Are we of the mind that by expressing our patriotic beliefs that we will be called "cony"? Since when did it become "cony" to be patriotic?

How long has it been since you and yours have read the Declaration of Independence of the Gettysburg Address and pondered if ever, did you read and discuss them with your children? How many of us have read to ourselves or to our children the Constitution of the United States along with the Bill of Rights? Do we so soon forget two world wars, not to mention the Korean conflict?

Maybe our passive, placid attitude makes us seemingly ask a rude awakening, the loss of those freedoms, and we will well order way of life become "cony" to be patriotic?

God forbid that this may happen, but it is growing later than we think. You know, folks, freedom was too dearly bought to be cheaply held.

These important findings will help head off unnecessary legal restrictions on the type of pesticides you may use on your farm. As comforting as this report is, however, it doesn't mean you should relax your care and vigilance in the handling and use of farm chemicals. They are efficient but potent farm tools.

Reread the labels before every use. There is no good reason to use a chemical in any strength or for any purpose not specifically recommended on the label.

Wash Fine Furniture

Did you know that too much wax, oil, and polish can actually dim the beauty of wood finishes? According to the American Walnut Manufacturers Association, the best cleaning care is to wash furniture with suds and water. Wash it once or twice with a cloth wrung out of warm soap or detergent suds, then wipe all surfaces with a clean damp cloth and rub dry. All wood pieces, modern or antique, thrive on this basic cleaning as the suds remove various types of soil which are not affected by simply applying another coat of oil, polish, or wax. After all surfaces are thoroughly clean, then use any preferred type of finishing touch. Applying polishes or waxes too often tends to build up a film which reduces the beauty of the original finish, so the authoritative recommendation is to wax most pieces only once or twice a year.

Protect Equipment Investment

Household equipment represents a major investment, so it's common sense to protect it with plastic covers tailored for individual pieces—such as electric blenders, mixers, toasters, roasters, even washing machines. Wash equipment after each use, and keep it clean. Don't have enough cupboard space for everything, so washable dust-covers are sound insurance; those made of plastic-coated nylon are inexpensive and can be washed or sponged off with suds.

Keep It Clean

Outdoor and porch furniture made of old-style wicker is once again enjoying fashion acceptance. If you have wicker pieces stored away, now is the time to get them out and clean them up. The best way to wash wicker is with a brush dipped into soap or detergent suds. A long-handled bowl brush with stiff nylon bristles is a good choice; supplement it with a bottle of percolator brush for coaxing dirt from interstices or small openings. If the furniture is washed outdoors, it can be rinsed with a fine spray from the garden hose. Then set it in a breezy spot to dry.

SOIL CONVERSATION

"This Field Sure Sprung a Leak!"

The crows advise against such "leaks"! And they can be prevented. Terraces, contour farming, strip cropping, farm ponds, proper drainage, grass waterways — are some of the practices to save the valuable resources of soil and water. If your runoff problem involves more than your farm perhaps a community watershed project is the answer. See your local soil conservation district about the problem.

ment this area on its interest in a better paper. We have never been in any locality where people have been so responsive to efforts for improvement. It helps a lot to be able to do a good job. You have been friendly, kind, helpful and complimentary. You have made us glad we came to Wayne county. After just two months here, this paper seems like an old friend to us. We hope you will also look forward to it in your home and business place as a friend.

The attractive but slightly dizzy telegrapher had been late every morning for a week and requested warnings from her employer had no effect. Finally, she was called into her boss's office. "Miss Jones," he said in exasperation, "I am tired of talking to you about your tardiness. Therefore, I am suspending you for one day without pay. When would you like to take the day?"

"Well, if it's all right with you," was her quick reply, "I'd like to use it up being late."

Has anyone considered Wayne Co., Neb., adopting some other Wayne counties—there are 15 of them in this country. We'd suggest Wayne Co., Mich., but the population figures there might scare you. It's the home of Detroit and has a population of 2,899,297. The nearby Wayne County, Ala., has a population of 9,959. Our county is listed as having 9,959 population which is slightly above the 9,800 in Wayne Co., Ala. and the 8,638 of Wayne Co., Mo., but slightly below Wayne Co., Tenn., with 11,328. Other Wayne counties are in Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. Just think, if we could just get the people from the other Wayne counties to visit us, we'd have 3,114,100 guests! We'll try to get them not to come the same day!

Traffic Officer: "When I saw you come around that curve I said to myself '45 at least!'"

Woman Driver: "Well, you're wrong. This hat just makes me look older."

Looking over the television schedules daily (and finding nothing much worth watching) we notice that the programs that sound the best to us are usually on Channel 12. That is the educational channel at Mead. Here's hoping we can get that on our TV set soon. Television is a wasteland in winter and gets worse in summer. A measuring thought is that it can't get much worse. It is possible, might be better. When television was first mentioned to us years ago we thought it would be a waste of time. Now that we've had a number of things about it, watching TV is like holding your breath on a hot day. It's just a relief when it's finally off!

"This expense account is fantastic," said the boss of a salesman. "How in the world do you manage to spend $20 a day on it?"

"I'm military," replied the salesman, "by skipping breakfast."

One of these days we're going to take over Pender way. We've tried to take over from Pender but we've never been able to. From reading the Pender paper and talking about the town with those acquainted here, we understand it's a nice place. Their school mascot is a Dragon, but we understand there's nothing else "dragon" in Pender. Next time we have an attack of "cancer" we'll just have to visit Pender.

Shmoor: "Hello, Joe. You're looking tired this morning. Anything wrong?"

Joe: "Well, it's like this. I share so much I wake myself up and I just don't know what to do about it."

Shmoor: "Why not try sleeping in another room?"

At a meeting the other day the opinion was voiced that the state could ask Wayne to eliminate two of the traffic signals on Main (Highway 15) if it so chose. Nebraska has definite laws about traffic signals slowing up the traffic so we know the speaker was right. In contrast, Colorado lets every little town that wants lights have them—we've been in Colorado towns of 300 and 500 that had traffic signals on the highway. (Clear. This area is West Point where there are two traffic signals on the highway and at least three downtown. They need five traffic signals there like they need another newspaper (they have two good ones). We can't expect the state to step in and tell Wayne to eliminate two traffic signals tomorrow, but we would be surprised if the order comes along one of these years. Maybe we can give one each in Altona and LaPorte—they're both off state highways so would be safe).

The lad playing pee-wee baseball came home and told his father he had hit a home run in the game that day. "You really must have smacked it," said the proud father.

"Oh, I didn't hit it hard," replied the boy. "I just hit it and started to run."

"Well," said the father, "it must have gone over the outfielder's head."

"Oh, he wasn't there," explained the boy. "He's gone to the bathroom."

Marlin Waechter of the Stanton Register has bought a motorbike of the "trail" type (speed limit 24 miles an hour). He hopes to organize other Stanton bike riders into a "hellfire horse club." We're just waiting to read about him getting around a corner on two wheels and it had better be on a motorbike. They're going to have wheel marks in mud instead of foot marks behind them—and they will have to remember, horses also leave their "trailing markers."

Little Girl: "Oh, mother, He hasn't a hair on it."

Mother: "Hush, dear, he might hear you."

In the Wisner News-Chronicle, Stan Norris tells of talking with a man "whose opinions count" and agreeing that a north-south interstate highway should come through the Logan and Beatrice areas, near North Bend and Pilger and cut near Vermillion. Sounds good to us. We'll have to admit it would thus come close to Wayne, Winside and Wakefield so it could benefit (or hurt) this region. Of course, it's just talk, like a half-dozen other routes proposed. (We are surprised to find Stan promoting this route though—we heard him rather have a road northwestward that missed Norfolk). In fact, a number of other people we've talked to consider Norfolk as "the town they'd most like to miss." We wonder why Norfolk hasn't created the good feeling in this area that Scottsbluff and North Platte did out in the area where we were born and raised.

A mountaineer visiting the big city for the first time, made his way through the lobby of a deep-luxury hotel. As he was struggling with the pen over the register, the room clerk noticed the new guest had left a trail of mud across the room.

"You might at least wipe the mud off your shoes before entering a fine hotel," he remarked icily.

The mountaineer, finishing his "X" looked up with amazement. "What shoes?" he asked.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

The End of the Story

Once upon a time there were two boys, each good in athletics, blessed with talent and ability but taking opposite roads. That's a start of a story that could be true here in Wayne as it has been in other places. What is important is: How does the story end?

The one boy works, trains, studies and plays to be good in sports. Endowed with natural ability, he is willing to keep in shape, stay in training and work as hard as anyone else to be better.

On the other hand, the second boy, equally fortunate in ability, likes his role of being looked up to as an athlete of the future. He enjoys running with the older boys, sneaking a drink and puffing a few cigarettes when the big boys offer them.

Wayne has an investment in each of the boys, just as it has in all girls and boys who attend school here. It cannot afford to see such a good prospect keep following the path on which he has started. Perhaps his folks don't know; maybe they don't care. Everyone should care — and help if possible.

As one of the biggest schools in the area, Wayne can be expected to turn out scholars, musicians, leaders and athletes. In the field of athletics it has a long way to go to build up an image that is known, liked and respected.

Nothing is wrong with a school where the spirit is so high the leaders in any activity look down upon smoking and drinking. Kids in a school where training is tradition have just as much fun as those in schools with bad reputations — and they profit more in later life.

The best party we've had," a senior described Wednesday night's party for WFS seniors. Almost everyone in the class attended, drinking was prohibited and everyone hated to see the night end.

This type of thing should not be exceptional. Part of learning about life should be learning how to train right as well as playing right. Being a good winner and a good loser goes along with sportsmanship and willingness to train.

Wayne can build a tradition of winners, of good sports and good trainers. Every athlete (and every girl) can find the right road and end-up in the right place.

Two boys with equal opportunities are growing up in Wayne right now. They symbolize the hundreds of others growing up. How will their stories end? Will anyone care enough to help them? Both stories could have happy endings, yet.

It's Only Cloth

In this land of ours there are those who scoff at sentimental patriotism such as displaying the American flag, a lump in the throat as "Taps" is played and respect for the banner that represents our nation. "It's only cloth," they say.

That piece of cloth is one of the most revered and precious rectangles in the world. Millions of people on both sides of the Iron and Bamboo Curtains would gladly claim it as their flag if they could.

Prisoners after the war broke into tears the first time they saw the American flag after release from captivity. New citizens of this nation break down when they realize that flag is their own. Thousands have died to make sure that flag still flies.

You are not asked to die to honor that flag; you don't have to weep; you don't even have to get a lump in your throat. It would help if you displayed it on holidays to show it has meaning for you too.

Memorial Day is Monday. Every home and business place in Wayne county should display a flag in the proper manner. Parity should be in the flag plan. Flags should fly at every public building.

That "piece of cloth" represents our country, the most richly-blessed nation on earth. Monday's display will honor those who once lived here and died, some who would have given a great deal to live on and fly a flag but who gave even more — their lives — to give you the right to fly it.

If you have a flag, fly it Monday. If you don't have a flag, get one before the Fourth of July. Honor the dead and remind the living by displaying a flag each national holiday.

More Should See Kearney

When Wayne City council members went to Kearney recently to look over landfill results, they should have taken some southside residents who could be expected to oppose landfill operations. Seeing is believing and they might have come back believers.

What's so wonderful about the land south of Grandland highway now? It is no asset to the area or community. Landfill operations call for filling in such spots and making them more valuable.

"Reclaim" is the key word in landfill work. It signifies the operation that makes it more usable. Without such operations, Chicago and other great cities would have to leave a lot of land unused, land that is worth millions now because landfill made it usable.

Where there is nothing but land south of Grandland now; there could be a park, and certainly the south part of Wayne could use one. Land could be available for private use, or it could serve some other service instead of lying idle.

If you have gone to the airport in Omaha, you have seen Abbott drive. That was once a junk-littered area until landfill operations started. Now it offers air travelers a pleasant drive from downtown Omaha to Eppley field.

Wayne can stand to grow and in every direction. Reclaiming land would help. If private citizens do not undertake reclamation, the city could.

A landfill for solid waste is sanitary, keeps refuse covered, prevents development of insect and rodent breeding grounds and provides the most economical way of increasing land value. In other cities (most of those in the state over 2,500 population) the method is so popular residents request the city governing bodies to put unused land in their section of town on the list for future landfills.

Most of Wayne is beautiful now. A few years ago there might have been some areas that were not. Who could have foreseen what improvements would be made to help add to property value and increase this beauty? In the same way, who can foresee now how important a landfill today will be in a few years in creating another beautiful section of town?

Those who oppose landfills should get all the facts before they continue their opposition. They can find out the experiences in other cities to prove the landfill solution is the right one. They can be the right ones to visit Kearney and see the spectacular results. They can change their minds.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS: The annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, an organization chartered by the Congress, and has been officially recognized and endorsed by the President of the United States and the Veterans Administration; and

WHEREAS: The proceeds of this worthy fund-raising campaign are used exclusively for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans, and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans; and

WHEREAS: The basic purpose of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is eloquently reflected in the desire to "Honor The Dead by Helping The Living"; therefore

I, Chris Tietgen, Mayor of the City of Wayne, do hereby recognize the patriotic merits of this cause by urging the citizens of this community to contribute generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies, on the day set aside for the distribution of these symbols of loyalty in this city. I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this country who have risked their lives in defense of the freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens.

Exceptions to Law Noted

A state official says Nebraska courts are allowing exceptions to state law requiring mandatory suspension of drivers' licenses.

Charles Kaufman, head of the Motor Vehicle Department financial responsibility division, said after the exceptions are for driving to and from work.

"It's impossible for law enforcement officers to enforce or supervise those kind of court orders. For all practical purposes, the driver is carrying a full-fledged license," he said.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Chancey Sheldon confirmed the conviction under charges such as drunken driving carries a mandatory six-month driver's license suspension.

He added, however, that the court's obligation to follow this law to the letter has never been tested.

Labor Law Could Fail

Nebraska's fight-to-work law could fail by the wayside if Congress goes along with President Johnson's proposal to repeal a section of the Federal Taft-Hartley Act.

Nebraska Deputy Atty. Gen. Gerald Vitmas says the question would involve the commerce clause of the U. S. Constitution which gives Congress authority to regulate commerce between states.

Nebraska is one of 19 states whose right-to-work laws would be affected in section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act were voided.

States Won't Claim Death

Neither Nebraska nor South Dakota has claimed a traffic death that occurred more than a year ago on the border of the two states.

Tom Ryan, Nebraska Accident Records Bureau Chief, said that neither state included the death of Darrel D. Holopeter in its 1964 tabulation of traffic deaths.

Ryan said the question was turned over to the National Safety Council some three months after the accident, but that a ruling has not yet been forthcoming.

Buf'lo Bill Ranch to Open

Scouts Rest Ranch at North Platte will be dedicated and open to tourists June 24, the State Game Commission reports.

Ranch developments to date include the restored home of William F. "Buffalo Bill" Cody and a large barn. There is also a display of Cody's possessions at the ranch.

Governor to Lead Tour

Governor Morrison will lead a delegation of businessmen to Europe this fall to "sell Nebraska" to foreign industrialists. It will be one of the biggest industrial promotions the state has produced.

The schedule calls for the group, expected to number between 14 and 20, to leave Washington, D. C. Oct. 12 after a one-day briefing by members of the U. S. Commerce Department.

The three-week tour will include stops at London, Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Hamburg, Munich and Paris.

Carl Curtis CAPITOL COMMENTS

Legislative action has been completed on a bill to implement full United States participation in an international coffee agreement, which was ratified by the Senate two years ago.

Believing that the international arrangement is against the best interest of American consumers, both Nebraska Senators consistently have voted against the agreement.

In essence, the basic principle involved is to control the price of coffee throughout the world by limiting the quantities permitted to be sold. Under the agreement, countries producing coffee and shipping it abroad receive quotas of coffee exports. By doing so, of course, they receive higher prices and, thus, more money for less coffee.

diver higher prices and, thus, more money for less coffee. Consumer interest safeguard has been written into the implementing legislation. Many still regard the agreement as detrimental to Americans who account for about half of the world's consumption of coffee. Within 13 months after this country became a party to the agreement, coffee prices in the United States increased nearly 15 cents per pound. With full participation, further increases are foreseen.

The Commerce Department's Business Defense Services Administration (Copper Division) was faced with the problem of a Solomon when 23 users applied for materials under the terms of recently enacted legislation providing for the sale of 100,000 tons of copper from the national stockpile.

Everyone seeking to buy submitted applications reflecting acute need, and each was allotted a share of the tonnage.

It is estimated that there are a total of 3,000 users in the United States and the supply at the U. S. price currently 36 cents per pound, will remain tight for the rest of this year.

A new device developed by the Atomic Energy Commission for the Customs Bureau not only detects the presence of gold but also indicates the quantity — and it isn't fooled by imitations.

The electronic gadget whistles in the presence of gold, and is especially suited for inspecting articles of artistic value since this method of detection is not destructive.

It is claimed that the instrument can be modified to detect other metals, too, such as copper, tungsten and silver.

Quotable quotes: Congressman Richard Roudebush (R-Ind.) — "The National Job Corps is setting up a school for girl dropouts. This drop-out school will feature a swimming pool, classrooms, home economics laboratories, arts and crafts rooms, and even juke boxes for parties and dances! It would appear that the government hotel-school could encourage more girls to drop out of school for a free year's pleasure trip."

Wash Fine Furniture — Did you know that too much wax, oil, and polish can actually dim the beauty of wood finishes? According to the American Walnut Manufacturers' Association, the best cleaning care is to wash furniture with suds and water. Wash it once or twice with a cloth wrung out of warm soap or detergent suds, then wipe all surfaces with a clean damp cloth and rub dry. All wood pieces, modern or antique, thrive on this basic cleaning as the suds remove various types of soil which are not affected by simply applying another coat of oil, polish, or wax. After all surfaces are thoroughly clean, then use any preferred type of finishing touch.

Applying polish or wax too often tends to build up a film which reduces the beauty of the original finish, so the authoritative recommendation is to wax most pieces only once or twice a year.

Protect Equipment Investment — Household equipment represents a major investment, so it's common sense to protect it with plastic covers tailored for individual pieces — such as electric blenders, mixers, toasters, roasters, even washing machines. Wash equipment after each use, and keep it clean until needed again. Most homes don't have enough cupboard space for everything, so wash a bare dust-covered, sound insurance, these covers of plastic-coated nylon are inexpensive and can be washed or sponged off with aids.

Keep It Clean — Outdoor and porch furniture made of old-style wicker is once again enjoying fashion acceptance. If you have wicker pieces stored away, now is the time to get them out and clean them up. The best way to wash wicker is with a brush dipped into soap or detergent suds. A long-handled bowl brush with stiff nylon bristles is a good choice, supplemented by a bottle or percolator brush for coaxing dirt from interstices or small openings. If the furniture is washed outdoors, it can be rinsed with a fine spray from the garden hose. Then set it in a breezy spot to dry.

Plan Now For Milo Harvest — Many farmers in this area are growing some grain sorghum for the first time this year. It's not too early to be thinking about how the crop is to be handled at harvest. Most growers are aware that harvesting requirements are quite different than those for corn.

In major milo growing areas, most producers are equipped with combines and supplemental drying facilities. The cost of these is probably not justified in view of our limited acreage. Supplemental drying may not be needed, depending on seasonal variation. However in many years there is considerable risk from lodging if the crop is left standing until dry enough for binning.

Making grain sorghum silage has several advantages. First, a combine is not required. The crop can be harvested early and stored at low cost. Milo silage is a high value product because of the low ratio of storage to grain. The silage can be increased by taking little of the stalk at harvest. Hogs as well as cattle will make good use of this type feed.

Good News! — You can put your mind at ease if you're been worrying about pesticides poisoning our foods. The Food and Drug Administration reported recently on highly sensitive tests on thousands of food items purchased in stores.

They found the amounts of chemical residues on these foods to be insignificant from a health standpoint. While some pesticide materials were detected, they amounted to less than one percent of the safe levels prescribed by law.

These important findings will help head off unnecessary legal restrictions on the type of pesticides you may use on your farm.

As comforting as this report is, however, it doesn't mean you should relax your care and vigilance in the handling and use of farm chemicals. They are efficient but potent farm tools.

Reread the labels before every use. There is no good reason to use a chemical in any strength or for any purpose not specifically recommended on the label.

How long has it been since you and yours have read the Declaration of Independence or the Gettysburg Address and when it expires, did you read and discuss them with your children? How many of us have read to our selves or to our children the Constitution of the United States along with the Bill of Rights? Do we so soon forget two world wars, not to mention the Korean conflict?

Maybe our passive, placid attitude makes us seemingly risk a rude awakening, the loss of those freedoms, and our well-ordered way of life.

God forbid that this may happen, but it is growing later than we think. You know, folks, freedom was too dearly bought to be cheaply held.

These countries, in which this heritage is denied to the people, are loud and concerted in their vociferous support of their particular way of life, while we remain as a people relatively mute.

True enough, much of this is organized and will direct propaganda in these countries, but it has a very definite impact. One thing we could well remember is that the majority of the people in the world and those upon whom this impact is the greatest are people who have never known absolute freedom of thought and action, as have you and I; consequently they have no conception of what it consists.

Now long has it been since you and yours have read the Declaration of Independence or the Gettysburg Address and when it expires, did you read and discuss them with your children? How many of us have read to our selves or to our children the Constitution of the United States along with the Bill of Rights? Do we so soon forget two world wars, not to mention the Korean conflict?

Maybe our passive, placid attitude makes us seemingly risk a rude awakening, the loss of those freedoms, and our well-ordered way of life.

God forbid that this may happen, but it is growing later than we think. You know, folks, freedom was too dearly bought to be cheaply held.

These countries, in which this heritage is denied to the people, are loud and concerted in their vociferous support of their particular way of life, while we remain as a people relatively mute.

Wash Fine Furniture

Did you know that too much wax, oil, and polish can actually dim the beauty of wood finishes? According to the American Walnut Manufacturers' Association, the best cleaning care is to wash furniture with suds and water. Wash it once or twice with a cloth wrung out of warm soap or detergent suds, then wipe all surfaces with a clean damp cloth and rub dry. All wood pieces, modern or antique, thrive on this basic cleaning as the suds remove various types of soil which are not affected by simply applying another coat of oil, polish, or wax. After all surfaces are thoroughly clean, then use any preferred type of finishing touch.

Applying polish or wax too often tends to build up a film which reduces the beauty of the original finish, so the authoritative recommendation is to wax most pieces only once or twice a year.

Protect Equipment Investment — Household equipment represents a major investment, so it's common sense to protect it with plastic covers tailored for individual pieces — such as electric blenders, mixers, toasters, roasters, even washing machines. Wash equipment after each use, and keep it clean until needed again. Most homes don't have enough cupboard space for everything, so wash a bare dust-covered, sound insurance, these covers of plastic-coated nylon are inexpensive and can be washed or sponged off with aids.

Keep It Clean — Outdoor and porch furniture made of old-style wicker is once again enjoying fashion acceptance. If you have wicker pieces stored away, now is the time to get them out and clean them up. The best way to wash wicker is with a brush dipped into soap or detergent suds. A long-handled bowl brush with stiff nylon bristles is a good choice, supplemented by a bottle or percolator brush for coaxing dirt from interstices or small openings. If the furniture is washed outdoors, it can be rinsed with a fine spray from the garden hose. Then set it in a breezy spot to dry.

Co. Agent's Column

Plan Now For Milo Harvest

Many farmers in this area are growing some grain sorghum for the first time this year. It's not too early to be thinking about how the crop is to be handled at harvest. Most growers are aware that harvesting requirements are quite different than those for corn.

In major milo growing areas, most producers are equipped with combines and supplemental drying facilities. The cost of these is probably not justified in view of our limited acreage. Supplemental drying may not be needed, depending on seasonal variation. However in many years there is considerable risk from lodging if the crop is left standing until dry enough for binning.

Making grain sorghum silage has several advantages. First, a combine is not required. The crop can be harvested early and stored at low cost. Milo silage is a high value product because of the low ratio of storage to grain. The silage can be increased by taking little of the stalk at harvest. Hogs as well as cattle will make good use of this type feed.

Good News! — You can put your mind at ease if you're been worrying about pesticides poisoning our foods. The Food and Drug Administration reported recently on highly sensitive tests on thousands of food items purchased in stores.

They found the amounts of chemical residues on these foods to be insignificant from a health standpoint. While some pesticide materials were detected, they amounted to less than one percent of the safe levels prescribed by law.

These important findings will help head off unnecessary legal restrictions on the type of pesticides you may use on your farm.

As comforting as this report is, however, it doesn't mean you should relax your care and vigilance in the handling and use of farm chemicals. They are efficient but potent farm tools. Reread the labels before every use. There is no good reason to use a chemical in any strength or for any purpose not specifically recommended on the label.

Capitol News . . . Pro-Con Maneuvers Begin On Hot Income Tax Issue

LINCOLN — Supporters and opponents of an income tax for Nebraska are maneuvering more than ever before as the assuredly convulsed with a hotly-contested issue intensifies.

Both sides admit the fate of the bill to impose a flat-rate tax on the earnings of individuals and corporations is still very much in doubt.

In a precedent-setting action last week, the 49-member body gave first-round approval to LB 797.

But the controversial bill must withstand a series of legislative pitfalls, then muster 25 votes on final reading to become state law.

Supporters of the legislation garnered 29 affirmative votes in the first major vote test. Nineteen senators balloted against the bill including the 10-member Douglas County delegation.

Five to seven senators hold the key. They have been referred to by both sides as "swing" legislators on the bill.

LB 797 on general file are expected to bolt if an across-the-board cut of the record high appropriations measure is made.

Slices ranging from three to 10 per cent have been mentioned and will probably be offered when the institutions-welfare-education allocation measure reaches select file, a step prior to final reading.

Meat Import Bill Passed

The State Legislature has passed a bill requiring the labeling of foreign origin meats and meat products sold in Nebraska.

The legislation carries a misdemeanor charge.

Key provisions are designed to promote the sale of Nebraska beef, thus improving the lot of the cattlemen by increasing cattle prices.

Specifically, the bill requires that all foreign-origin meat bear a label not less than one-fourth inch in height stating when it was packaged and where it came from.

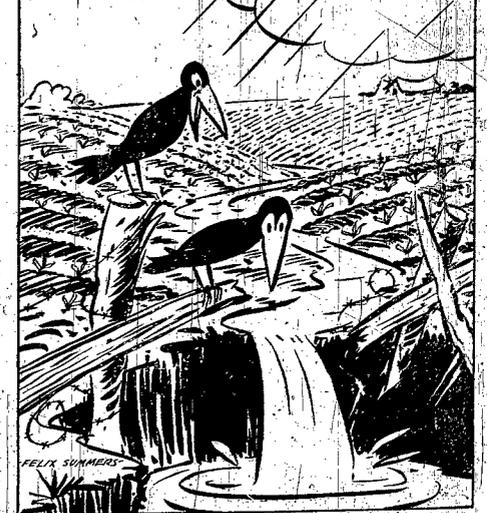

Restaurants and other public eating establishments need only denote foreign meat on their menus. Not on individual servings.

SOIL CONVERSATION

"This Field Sure Sprung a Leak!"

The crows advise against such "leaks"! And they can be prevented. Terraces, contour farming, strip cropping, farm ponds, proper drainage, grass waterways — are some of the practices to save the valuable resources of soil and water. If your runoff problem involves more than your farm perhaps a community watershed project is the answer. See your local soil conservation district about the problem.

ment this area on its interest in a better paper. We have never been in any locality where people have been so responsive to efforts for improvement. It helps a lot to be able to do a good job. You have been friendly, kind, helpful and complimentary. You have made us glad we came to Wayne county. After just five months here, this paper seems like an old friend to us. We hope you will also look forward to it in your home and business place as a friend.

The attractive but slightly dizzy stenographer had been late every morning for a week and repeated warnings from her employer had no effect. Finally, she was called into her boss's office. "Miss Jones," he said in exasperation, "I am tired of talking to you about your tardiness. Therefore, I am suspending you for the day without pay. When would you like to take the day?" "Well, if it's all right with you," she was quick reply, "I'd like to use it on being late."

Has anyone considered Wayne Co., Neb., adopting some other Wayne counties—there are 15 of them in this country. We suggest Wayne Co., Mich., but the population figures there might scare you. It's the home of Detroit and has a population of 2,661,297. Then there's Wayne Co., Utah, with 1,728 people. Sholes alone could handle that one. Our county is listed as having 9,359 population which is slightly above the 8,889 in Wayne Co., Ia., and the 8,638 in Wayne Co., Mo., but slightly below Wayne Co., Tenn., with 11,908. Other Wayne counties are in Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. Just think, if we could just get the people from the other Wayne counties to visit us, we'd have 3,114,147 guests! We'll try to get them not to come the same day!

Traffic Officer: "When I saw you come around that curve I said to myself '45 at least!'" Weman Driver: "Well, you're wrong. This had just makes me look older."

Looking over the television schedules daily (and finding nothing much worth watching) we notice that the programs that sound the best to us are usually on Channel 12. That's the educational channel at Mead. Here's hoping we can get that car TV set seen. Television is a landed in winter and gets some in summer. A reassuring thought is that it can't get much worse so it possibly might get better. When television was first mentioned in its years ago, we thought it would be impossible. Now that we've had it while it seems even more impossible. One thing about it, watching it is like looking at your hand on a clock. It's just a matter of when it's finally off!

This expensive luggage is fantastic! It's in the world to you manage to spend $18 a day on it. "I manage," replied the salesman, "by sleeping on the floor."

One of these days we're going to get over Pender way. We've been on a few trips from Pender but we've never seen the place. From reading the Pender paper and talking to the town with those acquainted there, we understand it's a nice place. Their school mascot is a Deacon, but we understand there's nothing else "draught" in Pender. Next time we have an attack of "spend-droids" we'll just have to visit Pender.

Shmoie: "Hello, Jay. You're looking tired this morning. Anything wrong?" Jay: "Well, it's like this, I snore so much I wake myself up and I just don't know what to do about it." Shmoie: "Why'n't you sleeping in another room?"

At a meeting the other day the opinion was voiced that the state could ask Wayne to eliminate two of the traffic signals on Main (Highway 15) if it so chose. Nebraska has definite laws about traffic signals showing up the high traffic so we know the speaker was right. On the other hand, Cedarvale lets every little town that wants lights have them—we've been in Colorado towns of 300 and 500 that had traffic signals on the highway. Clear to this area is West Point where they have two traffic signals on the highway and at least three downtown. They need five traffic signals there like they need another newspaper; they have two good ones. We don't expect the state to listen and tell Wayne to eliminate two traffic signals tomorrow, but we won't be surprised if the order comes along one of these years. Maybe we can give one each in Albia and LaPorte—they are both off state highways so would be safe.

The lad playing pee-wee baseball came home and told his father he had hit a home run in the field that day. "You really should have smacked it," said the proud father. "Oh, I didn't hit it so hard," replied the boy. "I just hit it and started to run." "Well," said the father, "it must have gone over the outfielder's head." "Oh, he wasn't there," explained the boy. "He'd gone to the bathroom."

Marlin Waechefer of the Stanton Heights has bought a motorbike of the "trail" type (speed limit 24 miles an hour). He hopes to organize other Stanton like riders into a "happiest horse club." We're just waiting to read about him "going around a corner on two wheels" and it had better be on his motorbike. They're going to leave wheel marks instead of tire marks behind them—and then you have to remember, horses also leave other "trailing marks."

Little Girl: "Oh, mother, just look at that man's head. He hasn't a hair on it." Mother: "Hush, dear, he might hear you." Little Girl: "Oh, doesn't he know it?"

In the Wisner News-Chronicle, Stan Norris tells of talking with a man "whose opinions count" and agreeing that a north-south interstate highway should come through the Lincoln and Beatrice areas, near North Bend and Pilger, and out near Vermillion. Sounds good to us. We'll have to admit it would thus come close to Wayne, Winside and Wakefield so it could benefit (or hurt) this region. Of course, it's just talk, like a half-dozen other routes proposed. (We are surprised to find Stan promoting this route though—we heard he'd rather have a road northwestward that missed Norfolk.) In fact, a number of other people we've talked to consider Norfolk as "the town they'd most like to miss." We wonder why Norfolk hasn't created the good feeling in this area that Scottsbluff and North Platte did out in the area where we were born and raised.

A mountaineer visiting the big city for the first time, made his way through the lobby of a deep-carpeted hotel. As he was struggling with the peep over the register, the reception clerk noticed the new guest had left a trail of mud across the room. "You might at least wipe thy mud off your shoes before entering a fine hotel," he remarked icily. The mountaineer, finishing his "X" looked up with amazement. "What shoes?" he asked. "What shoes?" he asked. "We need your ideas for this

NEW KIND OF WINDOW SCREEN
KEEPS ROOMS UP TO 15° COOLER
Kaiser Aluminum ShadeScreen actually screens out sunny heat as it protects you from flying insects

Here's today's most modern way to beat the heat—with a window screen! But no ordinary window screen does the ShadeScreen job! The difference in ShadeScreen is its series of tiny aluminum louvers, all permanently tilted at a slight downward angle. And that's the secret! You see out perfectly. Fresh air and light come in with ease. Yet the sun's sizzling heat rays are stopped cold by the angle of ShadeScreen's little louvers... then deflected away to keep you up to 15° cooler even under hottest sun.

You enjoy these other ShadeScreen features, too!

- Daytime privacy — because you see out, but others don't see in.
- Freedom from glare — because only soft light can enter your rooms.
- Fade Protection — because harmful, direct sun never touches your furnishings.
- No maintenance — because ShadeScreen can't rust, never needs painting.

Bring in your screens for our expert installation of ShadeScreen
