Plucky Allen Loses 61-60 Tourney Game to Winside

An Allen team that wouldn't give up, almost upset favored Winside in the opening night's action of the Lewis & Clark conference tournament at Emerson Monday. Winside held on for a 61-60 win.

This puts the Wildcats against Emerson at 8:30 Thursday. The Pirates beat Hartington Cedar Catholic 44-34. Coleridge up-ended Hartington 58-51 Monday.

Tuesday night Burns beat Randolph 89-61 and Ponca beat Coleridge 56-51. This puts Burns against Ponca at 7 Thursday.

Winside had led by as many as 17 points in the third period, spurring to a 33-16 advantage. They had outscored AHS 12-2 in one surge for the Wildcats, moving from a 17-13 lead to a 29-15 advantage.

Allen had its moments too. Trailing 33-16, the Blue and Gold rallied to score nine straight points and pull up to 33-25. Winside hit four buckets to make it 41-27 and then Allen spurted again, making 11 straight points to pull up to 41-38.

In the fourth period Allen tied it up with 3:32 left, 55-55 and went ahead on a free throw. Winside came back to lead 61-56 with 2:13 remaining and the pressing Eagles pulled up to 61-60. With three seconds to go, Allen had a time out and possession of the ball. They played for a quick shot, the ball hit the rim and bounced the wrong way as the game ended.

Roger Hill was the game's scoring leader with 24 for WHS. Larry Redel with 12 and Reed Wacker with 11 were also leaders for the Wildcats. Allen's balanced effort had Harold Isom making 18, Ron Dowling and Dale Jackson 15 each and Dennis Mitchell 10.

The margin of victory was a free throw, each team making 52 points from the court. Winside hit 9 of 15 gratis shots and the Eagles hit 8 of 14. Dowling led AHS rebounds with 12. Isom had 11, Jackson 8, Jim Ellis 5, Dennis Mitchell 2 and Duane Prescott 1.

Wacker and Hill led Winside rebounding with 17 and 16 respectively. Dick Ditman had 3, Redel and Keith Krueger 2 and Randy Jacobsen 1. Hill stole the ball three times, Wacker 2 and Wagner, Redel and Bob Dangberg 1 each. Wacker had 4 assists, Wagner and Redel 2 and Jacobsen 1.

Following is the box score:

Madison's Dragons Visit Here Friday

Madison will be here Friday for a 7 p.m. game against the Wayne High Blue Devils. The game at Rice auditorium will be the preliminary to a college game between Wayne State and Chadron State.

Coach Harold Maciejewski reports Lynn Lessmann is still off the squad due to a foot injury and now has his foot in a cast. There is some doubt about Lessmann seeing action until the season is almost over.

Practice sessions during the holidays and this week have been aimed at overcoming the handicap

Principal Fred Rickers of Wayne high school reports the price of admission for Friday night's double-header basketball game at Rice auditorium will be based on college admission prices, $1.50, 75 cents and 50 cents. The one ticket admits for the Madison-Wayne game at 7 and the WSC-Chadron game to follow. School season tickets are good.

of having Lessmann out. The WHS sophomore is a playmaker and one of the better ball-handlers on the Blue Devil squad.

Fans attending the game should get their money's worth. Chadron is leading the college teams in Nebraska in wins and has high hopes for an NCC crown this year. The game Friday is one of a pair planned here, the second being Saturday evening at Rice.

Wayne high enters the new year with a 4-1 record, only loss being to Norfolk. Madison is not as strong as it was last year when the Dragons won the district championship.

Wayne Town Team Wins Game from Pender Five

Coming back from a 32-26 halftime deficit, the Wayne town team defeated Pender 69-61 Sunday. This coming Sunday at 2 p.m. Baneroff meets the locals on the City auditorium court.

Ray Vriska led local scorers as Hank Overin's team won. He had 22 points with Jim Kern and Jerry Granquist right behind with 16 points apiece.

The town team is getting ready to play the Harlem Stars Jan. 18 in the benefit for the AFS foreign student fund. A preliminary tilt between Hoskins and Wayne junior high teams is also scheduled.

Tragedy Faces Wayne's Recreation Quintets

Tragedy is facing teams in the Wayne Recreation league. It is not a serious tragedy but to certain kids it could be quite a bitter blow.

There may not be enough cars Saturday to take all of them to Columbus for the games. If not, the ones who have practiced as faithfully as the best will be the ones staying at home.

Hank Overin would like to have residents volunteer transportation by Friday night if possible. He has games scheduled for Wayne girls against Columbus at 12:30, fifth and sixth grade boys at 1:30, seventh grade at 2:30 and eighth Warren Huetig led Bolden with 18. D. Mitchell had 12, Roger Huetig 11, Ed Keifer 10, Ken Hintz 4 and Bill Bartels 2.

Among the eighth grade boys, Terry Ellis led scorers with 10. Mike Billeit made 6. Bruce Pfleger 5, Doug Maurer 5, Jerry Titze 4, Ken Jorgensen 4, Ted Armbruster and Doug Flege 2. Scoring by Bolden was not recorded in the local book.

Wayne State Wins Game with Iowans

With one second left, Wayne State eaglers were reasonably sure they had beaten Northwestern Tuesday night — but not before. After a battle that see-sawed from the early minutes, Wayne held a 66-64 lead just one minute before the end. The host Northwesterners used most of that minute maneuvering for the tie score, finally took it and missed, with about 12 seconds left. Wayne got the rebound in a rugged skirmish and battled through a close press to the free-throw line, where Dean deBuhr fouled — one second left. At that point, Wayne's lead appeared safe, and deBuhr made it safer with a free throw, ending the suspense at 67-64. The Red Raiders took the first lead, but Wayne went ahead, 10-8, after 4½ minutes. The half ended with Northwestern ahead, 35-33, after numerous changes of lead. The second half continued the same way until the Wildcats regained the advantage, 49-47, with 10:49 remaining. They stayed ahead, sometimes by five points, the game's widest margin. Dennis Neubrand led scoring with 17, and Sophomore Bob Strathman hit 16, his highest in two seasons, plus sparkling on both defense and offense. deBuhr missed most of the first half after spraining an ankle in the first minute of play. But he returned the last five minutes of the first half and played most of the second period, totaling 13 points. Northwestern had six players scoring between 11 and 7 points. Darwin DeVries high with 11. Wayne's season now is 6-3; Northwestern's 4-7. Wayne entertains Chadron State here Friday and Saturday nights and Hastings, next Tuesday night, all conference games.

WHS Freshmen Playing Norfolk Here Tonight

Wayne high school freshmen, coached by Ren Carnes, play Norfolk here Thursday, Jan. 6, at 6:30 p.m. in the Wayne city auditorium. The public is invited to attend. Two other games are on tap for the freshmen within a 10-day period. The freshmen play

West Point Central Catholic there at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 10, and meet Stanton's freshmen here Monday, Jan. 17, at 6:30 p.m. in the City auditorium. This year's freshmen squad has a fair record against opposition in schools of all sizes. There are not too many home games scheduled so fans will have to see them during the next ten days or travel to watch them later.

Dakota Wesleyan Wins WSC Holiday Tournament Title

Now it's down to business in the conference campaign for Wayne State's eaglers after a second-place finish in their own Christmas Holiday tournament.

The Wildcats this weekend will start the hard way in conference play — against Chadron State, currently 9-1 and considered the NCC favorite. The Eagles play on the Rice court Friday night after a Wayne high preliminary and Saturday at 7:30, attempting to break Wayne's eight-game winning string.

The meeting of the two teams will match familiar players. All five Chadron starters and four Wayne starters were regulars a year ago when Wayne dumped the Eagles 67-58 and 88-62 at Chadron. The Wildcats, 3-3 after the tournament, played Northwestern College at Orange City, Ia., Tuesday.

Dakota Wesleyan emerged from the holiday event with its third championship in three appearances by downing Wayne, 98-81, in the Thursday finals. Stevens Point, Wisconsin captured third place with a double overtime 104-90 survival over Mayville State of North Dakota — the first overtime in eight years of the tourney.

Wayne's Tigers suppressed the stubborn Wildcats with a torrid second half, 60 points — with 60 per cent field goal accuracy — following a 38-34 halftime lead.

Wayne managed several early ties and a brief 16-15 advantage, otherwise failed hot on the Tiger tails until about five minutes into the second half. Then Wesleyan stretched ahead, getting 10 points or more from four players while only Ron Hintz hit consistently (11 of his 20 points) in the second half. The championship game was the only one of four that missed 100-plus production, making this tourney by far the highest scoring yet.

Curiously, it was a third-place team gunner, Jerry Lawetzki of Stevens Point, who topped the scoring, with 51 in two games. He and Wayne's Dean deBuhr shared the single-game honors at 32, and deBuhr tied with Jim Nelson of Wesleyan for second in tourney scoring with 46. Herb Hasz and Wayne Mathison of fourth-place Mayville hit 45 and 41.

The consolation game turned into the No. 1 thriller, as Mayville and Stevens Point traded the lead repeatedly after a 39-36 first half — Mayville leading most of the time until intermission.

From that point on it was either team's game — and remained that way to the 78-all tie at the end of regulation time, then the 88-all tie after first overtime. The Pointers, in second overtime, revved up their best streak of the game to score 18 points while Mayville hit only 10.

In the first round, Wesleyan racked Stevens Point, 101-76, and Wayne downed Mayville, 105-97. The North Dakotans rallied from a 34-40 half deficit to pull within two points several times in closing minutes, but Wayne surged away each time.

The Wildcats came out of the tournament with four players averaging 11 points or better for the season: deBuhr with 22.6, Randy Harkabus 14.5, Dennis Neubrand 13.5 and Ron Hintz 11.3.

Harkabus enjoyed his best night of the year against Mayville as he hit 11 of 12 field goal tries and three of four free throws.

Wayne Among Top Cities Providing Shelter Facilities

Only Omaha and Lincoln in Nebraska have more and better civil defense facilities than Wayne has. Kiwanis club members were told at their Monday noon meeting. It was the first session in the woman's club rooms at the auditorium.

Annie Grass of the state civil defense education department was the featured speaker. He told about civil defense work and passed out leaflets showing how well-prepared Wayne is.

The advantage Wayne has is in the college buildings. However, other towns with colleges such as Peru, Chadron, Kearney, Hastings and Fremont, are not as far along in shelter plans as Wayne is.

There are 3,086 shelter spaces in Wayne, including 571 of campus and the rest at WSC. Biggest shelters are the Hite auditorium and the Conn library. Wayne high school is the biggest off-campus shelter.

Although there is room for all Wayne, the figure does not include students so more might be needed. Furthermore, of the spaces lined up, only 1,455 are stacked as shelters, including 316 at the high school, 64 at the post office and the rest at the campus.

Annie pointed out that any shelter is better than being outside in a nuclear attack. Brick and stone buildings (especially in basements) are better than frame buildings as shelters and slate or tile roofs give more protection than wood, tar, asphalt and other types.

Three new members were added to the Kiwanis club roster at the session. They are Dan Sherry, Wilmer Marra and Harold Kemble.

Lions

Plans are being made to enter the state Lions club bowling tournament. Wayne Lions club has a team of its own in a local league and also has members on several others teams.

Merle Whitney and Hugo Zimmerman were in charge of the program for the evening.

Wayne Celebration of New Year's Quiet One

The new year came in quietly in Wayne. Biggest blowout was the Jaycee dance at the National Guard armory where several hundred had gathered to welcome the new year.

Furnishing music were the Swing Kings, an Albion unit that played just what the people had come to hear — music that was meant for dancing. Only favorable comments were heard concerning this unit.

When the midnight hour arrived, the roof almost rose. The crowd was not as big as in past years but it was a congenial group and everyone seemed to have a good time.

At the Gay theatre the place was packed for a marathon showing of four films. As the midnight hour was reached, the lights went on, went back off and the show never slowed down. A few horns were blown and 1966 was here.

Traffic was brisk for a few hours after midnight as the show and dance ended. However, it was a quiet beginning for a new year's start. Many home parties were held but 1965 ended on a quiet note and 1966 wasn't much noisier as it started.

Electoral

(Continued from page 1) of the United States is seeking to find out how C. of C. units feel all over the country. Boards such as the one in Wayne are asked to either reject or endorse the proposal.

If the popular vote system were adopted, the president would be named by the plan of naming the man who gets the majority of the votes or the plurality. No consideration would be given state boundaries — it would be a popularity vote only.

By the district office, electors would be preserved. Electors would be named similar to congressmen and senators, one elector for each congressional district and two "at large" for each state. Geographical lines of districts would be set by state legislatures and would not have to be identical to congressional districts. Presidential elector candidates with a plurality in each electoral district would win and the presidential elector candidate achieving a plurality in a state would be elected.

A majority of votes is anything over 50 per cent. A plurality is having more votes than any other candidate — thus if there were five candidates the one with the most votes would have a plurality and therefore be the winner under the above plan.

Restraining Order Denied Contractor

District Judge Fay Pollock denied an injunction of Sioux Contractors, Sioux City, Thursday. The firm had sought a restraining order against picketing by Local 1140, Laborers & Hod Carriers union.

The labor union was given until Jan. 17 to plead to petition to the plaintiff. The temporary restraining order of the court was dissolved by the judge.

Sioux Contractors has been building the new Bowen dormitory and doing other work at Wayne State college. It has been the object of picketing by union members at various times the past year.

Two divorce actions have been filed in district court. In one, Merlin Brugger is plaintiff and Jayne Brugger defendant. In the other, Pauline Robinson is plaintiff and David Robinson defendant.

A new case involving the land transferred from the Wakefield school district to the Wayne district has been filed. It is: Mary Alice Johnson versus Wakefield school district. It involves land occupied by the Glenn Olson family.

Veterans Under 55 Offered Benefits

A benefit no longer available to veterans over 55 is still available to those under that age. County Service Officer Caris Bargholz reports. The benefit offers payment to veterans disabled before they are 65.

The veterans who wish this benefit added to their policies will have a small extra charge to pay. However, they will receive $10 per month payment for each $1,000 worth of insurance they are carrying.

All World War II and Korean conflict veterans whose NSLI policies are not preceded by the letters "RIT" are eligible to buy the rider. Those who have policies with provisions calling for such benefits up to age 65 may change them to provide such benefits up to age 65.

Bargholz can answer many questions regarding this new provision. Information can also be secured from the regional VA office, 230 S. 17, Lincoln.

CNW Pays $6,489 Taxes in County

Chicago and North Western Railway Co. taxes in Wayne county for 1965 came to $6,489.76, the railroad has announced. Of this, $1,164.09 went to the state, $727.57 to the county, $69.96 to townships and other districts, $3,484.56 to the school district, and $1,043.58 to municipalities.

Taxes for the entire state came to $263,124.67 for the year. Of this, more than 45 per cent went to Nebraska public schools.

School district taxes came to $118,590.19; city or village taxes to over $54,800; county taxes to more than $32,500 and other district taxes to $7,314. (The "other districts" included township, road, sanitary, cemetery and fire districts).

Taxes in other area counties paid by CNW included: Cedar, $9,596.50; Gering, $5,379; Dakota, $7,802.89; Dixon, $7,602.32; Madison, $8,508.68; Pierce, $6,371.38; Stanton, $4,877.43; and Thurston, $3,221.27.

Ron Milliken Becomes Master of Lodge Here

Ronald Milliken, Wayne County Public Power district employee, was installed as worshipful master of Wayne Lodge 120 A. F. & A. M. Tuesday night. He takes over from L. W. "Bud" McNatt, who has been lodge master the past year.

Other officers installed were:

Gene Fletcher, senior warden; John Ream, junior warden; L. B. McClure, treasurer; William Mellor, secretary; Arnold Marr, senior deacon; LeRoy Clark, junior deacon; Robert Carhart, senior steward; Richard Lund, junior steward; and Kenneth Dahl, tyler.

Conducting the installation ceremonies were Howard Witt, installing master, W. C. Swanson, installing marshal, and Jason Preston, installing chaplain. An oyster supper was served following the rites.

Wool Act Application Blanks Available Now

John Mohr, chairman of the ASCS county committee, reports that applications for the 1965 marketing year payments under the national wool act may be filed anytime. The earlier the applications are, the better it will be, he said.

Incentive payments under the wool program are based on the average national price for marketings during the entire year. This can be determined more exactly if reports on marketings are complete.

ASCS is making a special effort to have all applications filed before Jan. 31. Payments for the 1966 year will not be made until 1967 but payments for the 1965 marketing year will start in April.

Break-in Attempt Reported at Firm

Someone must have been frightened at the last minute in the hours when 1965 were changing into 1966. A break-in was attempted and succeeded at the Wayne Ice & Cold Storage company.

Jack Kingston, company manager, said there was nothing missing as far as he could determine. The door had been pried open but he said a check would have to be made to find out what was missing.

By Tuesday the checking was complete and there was still no evidence of anything missing. In fact, it appeared that even though the door had been opened there was no indication that whoever did it went inside.

There could have been another break-in attempt the next night. McCullough furniture reported a door knob torn off one of the doors but again there was no indication of anyone having gained entrance.

Expansion 'Pains' Biggest Wayne Story During 1965

Expansion and growing "pains" of all types made up the biggest story in Wayne during 1965. The city and the college both embarked on new area expansion and new construction work.

The city took in land for the new high school and adjoining land on the west. Wayne State's campus added several acres for future growth to the north and northeast.

New homes, new business places and new paving made up much of the city's news in this field. Climaxing the year was announcement of a plan for a 32-unit apartment house complex on Blaine street.

WSC started its nine-story Bowen dormitory, finished its fine arts center, natatorium, parking lot, heating plant addition and student center addition. Revealed for the future were plans for an FM station to serve the college and adjacent area.

Traffic deaths took a heavy toll in the area. F. C. Hammer was killed in Wayne in April; Mrs. Robert Thomas died on a county road in June; Gilbert Johnson died the same month in a Dixon crash; John Morrison and Danny Pokett of Wayne and Janice Sanders and Karen Jones of Laurel all died in a July period of a few days; and Marvin Herscheid of Winside was killed the last week of the year in Norfolk.

Wayne County Centennial committee formed and was active in many fields, putting on a centennial program that drew statewide attention, "adopting" Rhode Island, sponsoring square dances and working on other projects.

The landfill dump situation bobbed about, being moved from a proposed site along Grainland road, to the airport, to the south edge of town and finally winding up on land donated by Claire Vogel southeast of Wayne.

Municipal election turnouts were light in all Wayne county towns with no surprise results; enrollment reached almost 2,500 at WSC; the tax levy for the county was lowered; Sholes lost its post office; Dixon and Winside celebrated diamond jubilees;

The county fair drew 8,000; the Community Chest quota was exceeded again; City, school and college condemned land for their own use; Cable-TV was approved by the city council; induction of young men was stepped up due to the Vietnam situation; Carroll dedicated a new post office;

Wayne National Guard started a speeded-up training program; an Oakdale man died when a ditch caved in on him; two youths escaped from county jail; Wayne police department added radar the District 72 school burned in March and the Livinghouse building burned in April, the major fires of the year; sewer and water lines were extended;

The new high school was approved, land condemned for school use and bids approved for construction; airport runway extension was approved; and on the weather front a foot of snow fell in February, March had a near-blizzard, tornado damage in one storm was light in May; a hail storm hit some farms in August; and a dry spell in August was broken by an unusually wet September;

There were many other stories but these were some of the bigger ones in Wayne and the surrounding area during 1965. The year just starting will have to be a big one to provide as many "real big" stories as 1965 did.

Pinned Between Cars In Hoskins Accident

Garland Larsen, Hoskins, was pinned between two vehicles in an unusual accident on Hoskin's main street Dec. 28. He suffered minor injuries in the mishap according to the investigating trooper, H. W. Nielsen, Nebraska Safety patrol.

Larsen was standing in front of the car of Leland Koch, Winside, with his own car just in front of the Koch car. The trooper reported Koch had stopped on the left side of the street headed east due to car trouble.

Gary Friend, Hoskins, came around a corner in a left turn. He was unable to see the vehicles at night until too late to stop. His car hit the rear of the Koch car.

Trooper Nielsen said Friend was not blamed for the mishap. He reported $150 to the Friend vehicle and light damage to Koch's.

Youth Fined for No Operator's License

A Hoskins youth was fined in county court the past week. He was charged with operating a vehicle without an operator's license.

Trooper J. L. O'Dell of the Nebraska Safety patrol brought charges against Daniel Friend, Hoskins. The youth was fined $25 plus $5 court costs on the charge.

A second count against the youth was not determined. Action on the count is pending.

Many Help Look for Lost Winside Man

David Leonhart's car was found in a creek near Winside Wednesday morning of last week. Many volunteers turned out to help search for the elderly resident, according to Fire Chief George Voss.

There were around 20 members of the Winside Volunteer fire department on hand. Joining them were about a dozen Winside businessmen and an equal number of members of the Winside Saddle club.

The saddle club members brought their horses to help widen the search in the afternoon. Sheriff Don Weible and troopers from the Nebraska Safety patrol were in charge.

Discovery of the body of the 83-year-old man was made by a trooper from the patrol. It was found about 100 yards from the car in a corn field.

Voss had praise for all those who helped in any way. He said discovery of the body was made when it was because so many helped. It made "fanning out" possible to cover ever wider areas.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Why Nebraska?

For years residents of the Panhandle area of Nebraska have noted with disgust that during and following storms the clearing operations and opening of roads in Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota seem more efficient than those in Nebraska.

Now it appears that residents of this area are equally aware of the fact that Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota do a better job than Nebraska does. How come?

One Wayne resident was in Minnesota for the holidays. Returning through Iowa, he reported good road conditions "until I reached South Sioux City." Then he asked: "Doesn't Nebraska use gravel on snowy roads?"

A Wayne professional man went to Iowa. He said it was "like going from night into day" when he went from Nebraska into Iowa. Roads were icy and perilous until he crossed the Missouri river and then he was able to resume normal speed the rest of the way.

A third resident of this city crossed the state from east to west. His usual seven-hour trip took almost twice that much time. Imagine his chagrin when he reached Colorado and found the roads in much better condition.

The local men employed by the state highway department cannot be blamed. They follow instructions and they use methods prescribed by their superiors in Lincoln. But do those "superiors" ever travel Nebraska roads in bad weather to find out what is needed?

Lives are at stake when snowstorms, freezing drizzle or ground blizzards occur. It is no time to start counting pennies and neglecting road-opening procedures.

No formula is offered here for Nebraska's highway department to follow in keeping roads open. However, there must be a system that is being used in neighboring states which has not been tried in Nebraska.

It is suggested that the state department in charge look into the situation by driving to other states to see their crews in action. They should drive slowly in bad weather though — at least until they get to the better roads at the state line.

Three-Day Holidays

With more leisure time than ever, perhaps now is a good time to consider revising the holiday schedule in America. Wayne residents could be as ready as anyone for some changes.

Most obvious change would concern Christmas. It has been taken away from its original purpose of being the birthday of Christ and turned into a commercial promotion.

How about leaving Christmas as Christ's birthday for religious observance and setting aside the following day for Santaday. Then the gifts could be given, the St. Nicholas traditions retained and the commercialism of Christmas be transferred to another holiday.

Easter is just far enough away from Christmas most years to warrant another break of three days. Teachers usually get about that much time off and maybe everyone else would like it too.

Christ's resurrection could be retained for Easter day but a day following could be set aside for the bunny rabbits, start of spring and any other commercial aspect now attached to Easter. In that way, the religious angle could be stressed even more and spring and bunnies could have their day too.

Then there's Labor day, about the right time beyond Easter and before Christmas for another longer-than-usual break. It marks the pre-school holiday, the salute to the laboring man and a peek into fall.

How about remembering management with a day about then too? A day for capitalism which has made our country great and has made being a member of the laboring class so pleasant would not be out of line.

Some may feel that holidays are too long already but three three-day breaks a year might be welcomed. Besides, who is to deny that the original idea for some of the holidays has been lost anyway. — CEG

Planning Commission

Wayne's Planning commission has been mentioned more and more often in recent weeks. Many people do not know who the members are, what duties are involved and what the official status is.

In the first place, the members serve without pay. The commission is an official body of the city, appointed by the council to help set guidelines for future development and growth.

Last week's Life magazine concerned the American city. Pictures showed the jungles of disarray in cities where no plan for growth was involved.

Wayne may never be a metropolitan city but it can have orderly growth, thanks to the council that had the foresight to create a commission and the members who have served long hours, been subjected to criticism and have continued to serve.

A zoning ordinance is needed by cities. How Wayne has gone as far as it has without one is a mystery. With the help of a professional firm a plan has evolved that includes parks, areas for various uses and industrial progress.

When plans are considered in the future, the commission will act and its actions will be official. It will be a permanent commission, re-evaluating regularly the status of projects in the city.

Wayne could get along without a planning commission, but if you think about it, man could also get along without the wheel; Wayne can advance because of the planning commission (which also serves as a zoning commission).

Industries locate in towns that are zoned and towns where plans are established for the future. The planning-zoning commission should make Wayne more attractive to industry. — CEG

Capitol News . . .

Nebraska Making Progress In Anti-Poverty Program

LINCOLN — The billion dollar-plus Federal Anti-Poverty Program produced "real and significant accomplishments" in Nebraska during its first year of operation, a state official believes.

Ronald L. Jensen, state director of the program, said he expects even more progress in the future—and for largely the same reasons.

"This isn't a spectacular kind of plan where the accomplishments are easy to identify," said Jensen. "But it is the kind of plan that helps people help themselves to become productive again. This is real success."

Jensen recalled that last year the poverty program brought grants for migrant workers, pre-school children, out of work teen-agers and many others in Nebraska.

"Whole communities were aided through community action projects, businesses were revitalized in some cases," he said.

The first poverty grant was a $2,500 loan to a Hartington, Nebraska, shoe repairman, James Haynes, who used the money to modernize his small shop.

By year's end, more than $10 million had been committed to Nebraska, including $2 million for an urban job corps center for women in Omaha.

"The acceptance of the projects on the local level has been greater than I expected," Jensen said. "It's been very gratifying to see Nebraskaans so eager to increase their opportunities."

physical or psychiatric health reasons is provided with an avenue of rehabilitation.

Dr. Arnold I. Webman, program director, called it a vital and important project. He said the purpose is not to rehabilitate young men to make them eligible for the draft, but rather to give them a purpose in life.

Conditions Surge

The Nebraska resources Division claims economic conditions show Nebraska is on the move despite persistent statements that a disquieting number of bright young people are leaving the state.

"All barometers of economic conditions indicate Nebraska is in the midst of a surge of economic growth," the division said.

"Increases in bank deposits and construction activity are signs of this growth."

Enrollment Jumps Fast

The weight of a bumper crop of post-war babies came to rest in 1965 on the shoulders of the University of Nebraska as enrollment zoomed to an unprecedented 15,179 students.

Included was a record freshman class whose members arrived better prepared for college than any before them.

The student population explosion far exceeded the University's growth in classrooms and laboratories, causing a space pinch that threatened to curtail future enrollments.

However, the State Legislature moved in a hurry to remedy the dilemma. It approved a six-year, $47 million building program for the Big Eight institution.

Bankers Urge Return

Nebraska bankers are urging state-based firms with retire-

Investment in Education Pays

Research has indicated that education has been responsible for approximately half of the increase in economic output in the United States during the past fifty years. The investment we make in education is, therefore, not only a matter of helping individuals but of providing an investment in economic growth for our entire economy. Failure to put knowledge to effective use or failure to use our manpower to its best advantage because of inadequate training or retraining of that manpower will seriously limit the growth potential and rate of achievement of this Nation.

Counties to Participate

Acting State Veterinarian Lee Wilcox says all Nebraska's 93 counties will soon participate in the statewide program to rid cattle of brucellosis disease.

Purpose of the program is to get Nebraska declared a brucellosis-free state so that cattle can be shipped to any market in the country without interstate inspection.

State Agriculture Director Pearl F. Finigan said the eradication project could result in savings to cattlemen.

More State Aid Scheduled

Public schools in Nebraska should get nearly $800,000 more in state aid this year.

The State Treasurer's office said there is $5,387,024 in the temporary school fund. All the money will be distributed to school districts in the spring on a per pupil basis.

Principal source of the revenue is rental fees from state-owned school lands, plus interest earned from permanent school fund investments.

Billboard Legislation

State Highway Engineer John Hossack says he'll propose the next Legislature expand and tighten Nebraska's controversial Billboard Control Act.

He said unless this is done, the state stands to lose as much as $3 million a year in federal road-building funds.

The new Federal Highway Beautification Act insists that states control billboards not only along the Interstate but the primary highway system as well.

Hossack said.

N.E. Extension Notes

Treat Stone Floors

Flagstone, long popular for patio and terrace, are increasingly used as flooring in halls and entries, as well as in some living and dining areas. Whether such flooring is installed indoors or out, there need be no concern about wear or wacher.

To bring out the natural luster and color of stone surfaces, and make them easy to keep clean, apply a finish of penetrating sealer which contains tung oil. This highly practical finish brightens dulled surfaces, helps them to resist moisture, forms a tough coating, and also helps prevent the mortar between pieces from sanding off.

The method is to scrub the sealer into the floor surface with a flat scrub-brush, and wipe off any surplus with a lint-free cloth. This eliminates future waxing or polishing. Just mopping with soap or detergent suds, followed by rinse-wiping, will keep such floors clean and lustrous. Outdoors, the rinsing can be done by spraying with a garden hose.

"Fake" Cut Crystal Safe

Cut crystal has always been rated as impractical for general family use because of its cost, its weight, and its susceptibility to chipped edges. But current plastic look-alikes of the traditional crystal patterns combine the elegance of heirlooms with light-weight sturdiness.

The copies, available in everything from salt and pepper

Way Back When

10 Years Ago

Jan. 11, 1956: Top winners in the Wayne Herald coloring contest were Joyce Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schmidt, Wisner, and Sandra Herbolzheimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Herbolzheimer, Wakefield. Seven Wayne county volunteers left for induction in the Army. They were Robert Kramer, Thomas Myers, Kermit Benshoff, George Jaeger, Russell Prince, Robert Peters and Lyle Hammer. Phyllis Cook will be featured in a piano solo at Wayne High's symphonic band concert Sunday. Earl Green is director. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, Hoskins, observed their 65th wedding anniversary last week.

15 Years Ago

Jan. 11, 1951: Fire caused by an overheated furnace pipe caused about $150 damage in the basement of the Coast to Coast store. First Lt. Joseph V. Manto is reported in action in Korea according to a telegram received by his wife, Irene Manto, Concord. Patricia Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Zoucha, Wayne, was winner of Wayne's "first baby of the year" contest. Bob Carhart and Barbara Plick were crowned king and queen at the annual "sock hop" at Wayne city high school Friday.

By Chas Greenlee

Last week we had a Wednesday to end all Wednesdays as far as late-breaking news is concerned. Three elderly Wayne residents died Tuesday or Tuesday night and we just learned about their deaths Wednesday morning; a Winside man was killed in a traffic accident last Tuesday; another Winside man was the object of a search Wednesday; the city council took action Tuesday night big enough for two stories. We were going in circles, trying to get all the information we could because if we didn't get the news then, it would be another week before we could print it. Thanks to some mighty fine cooperation in Winside, Wayne and Norfolk, we managed to get coverage of all stories. The only thing worse than big news occurring just before we go to press is having it occur just after we've gone to press!

Disease Prevention

Prevention of disease can be the difference between profit or loss in feed lot operations. Several diseases can be prevented by vaccination and others by proper management, including sanitation and nutrition.

Conditions Surge

The Nebraska resources Division claims economic conditions show Nebraska is on the move despite persistent statements that a disquieting number of bright young people are leaving the state.

Enrollment Jumps Fast

The weight of a bumper crop of post-war babies came to rest in 1965 on the shoulders of the University of Nebraska as enrollment zoomed to an unprecedented 15,179 students.

20 Years Ago

Jan. 10, 1946: Wayne city council hired Earl Lewis as new policeman. Mrs. Kate Surber fell on the ice dislocating her right wrist. Arthur Lage, who holds a farm sale soon, bought the residence at 1212 Main St. Chris Luaders sold half interest in City Grocery to his son, Dick Luaders. The partnership became effective Jan. 1.

25 Years Ago

Jan. 16, 1941: Light rains, turning to ice Tuesday and Wednesday, made travel hazardous. Wayne State Teachers college application for a secondary pilot training course is in and approval looks favorable. Pete Peterson sold his business building last week to Walter Savidge and he sold the pool hall fixtures to Glen Wallace. The first agreement between farmers and the Wayne County soil conservation district supervisors was signed Saturday morning by Roy Day, who will move onto a 160 here farm in Wilbur precinct.

30 Years Ago

Jan. 16, 1938: Wayne Woman's club rooms and the new city auditorium were dedicated Friday. Frederick Berry has a position in the classification department of the congressional library in Washington, D. C. Wayne high basketball team, coached by Robert Gibb, defeated Bloomfield Tuesday, 32 to 15. Punhollow was high man for Wayne with 11; Alderson had 10. Wayne Business Men's club sponsors "The Queen's Husband," a three-act comedy drama. In the cast are Robert Gibb, Fred Costerian, Dick Fanske, Ann Ley, Leona Westover, Nell Kirkman, Billy Stutz, Dr. L. Perry, Henry Lay, Burr Davis, Glen Sanberg, Wilbur Porterfield and John Carhart.

wrote on the ticket, the woman grew more and more furious. "Why didn't you spend your time," she finally demanded, "catching some of those wild, reckless, nutty doctors?" "Just have," the officer replied.

Do You Know?

We don't know what kind of a job Dan Sherry will do as city clerk but acquaintances tell us he'll be a good man for the job. Sure hope so for we have received the tips in cooperation and assistance from Howard Witt as clerk since we have been here. In fact, our longest of the week goes to Howard. He has done a commendable job and has been most accommodating in a position that requires more time and effort than most people realize. There's just one thing wrong with the way Howard did things — he's going to make it tough for the next man to do as well. WSC, you have hired a good man!

Do You Know?

"Every time I ask you something," the angered husband said to his wife, "you answer all my questions with another question. Why?" "Do I really do that?" the wife replied.

Do You Know?

We'd like to have you read the editorial on road-clearing this week and let us know if we're right or wrong in your opinion. We're going to send a copy of the paper to the state highway commission and we want to be ready in case they come back with any ideas that our examples were rather isolated. If you have traveled recently or in past years and found that as soon as you reached the border of another state the road-clearing was more efficient, we'd appreciate knowing about it.

Do You Know?

For weeks the couple had gone from dealer to dealer as husband scrutinized new cars. Even after inspecting all carefully and comparing prices and features, he still couldn't make up his mind. "My how you've changed," his wife chided him. "You rarely ride me three weeks after you met me." "Listen," he replied impatiently, "buying a car is serious business!"

Do You Know?

The Christmas season has slipped by and we missed out on our planned run version of "The Night Before Christmas." We didn't have it composed, but had given thought to a version using the names of towns for the reindeer. You know, ending up with something like: "On Carroll, on Hoskins, on Concord and Dixon." Oh, well, you've gone this long without any of our poetic efforts so you can probably stand another year.

Do You Know?

A surgeon received a phone call from a colleague who wanted him to come and sit in at a poker game. "Do you have to go?" his wife inquired after he hung up. "I'm afraid so," the doctor replied seriously. "It's rather an urgent case — there are four doctors there already."

Do You Know?

The improved view across the street at Karel's is appreciated. It is surprising what some good work and good material can do for a place. How about contacting any Wayne county lumber dealer right now and seeing how economical a remodeling job would be for your place. (Free adv.)

Do You Know?

Wanting to develop his son's character, the father gave him a penny and a quarter as they were leaving for church and said, "Now, son, you put the one you want to in the collection plate."

Do You Know?

After church, the father asked the boy which coin he had given. The youngster said, "Well, just before they sent around the plate, the preacher said, 'The Lord loveth a cheerful giver,' and I knew I could be a lot more cheerful if I gave the penny, so I did."

Do You Know?

We were amazed at how quickly the Christmas decorations came down in Wayne. If you want to see the opposite situation, you must visit Paxton some year. It won't matter what time of year for Paxton's Christmas decorations are left up the year around so all they have to do at Christmas is turn them on. Which reminds us that the Christmas tree burning is a third night at the ball diamond. As many aluminum and plastic trees as there were this year, there may not be much of a blaze. If you didn't have the Boy Scouts pick up your tree Wednesday, take it to the baseball park today.

Two women meet in the street. Says the first, I remember your son, John, was trying to get a job with the federal government. What is he doing now? Says the second: "Nothing — he got the job."

Wayne's Fire Record Past Year Improved Over Recent Years; Only One Big Blaze

Wayne had only 14 fire calls during 1965. This represents about one-half the number it has averaged over the past few years.

One big blaze hurt the city's record. When the Livinghouse building was demolished in April it marked the biggest conflagration firemen here had to fight. In 1960 the city had 28 fire calls (including those to rural areas and to neighboring towns). In 1961 there were 33 (the worst year of the last six), in 1962 there were 26, in 1963, 23; and in 1964, 27.

Here are the 12 fire calls made: Jan. 7, car at WSC; Apr. 2, Liveringhouse building; May 12, Biggerstaff place; June 23, stump fire; July 6, auto fire; Aug. 2, auto fire; Aug. 8, Golden Egg plant; Nov. 1, rubbish fire; Nov. 14, hospital; Nov. 23, Ed Heiss place; Dec. 5, Wanda Owens place; Dec. 5, auto fire; Dec. 7, Monte Bomer place; and Dec. 31, Evan Bennett place. The city went three months with-Longe, Kenneth Ramsey, Rudolph Kay, Rollie Longe and Dave Theophilus. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery.

Edgar A. Larson, son of John and Christine Larson, was born Feb. 16, 1889 at Wakefield. He was married Sept. 11, 1912 to Esther Nelson at Wakefield.

The couple lived at Inman, Nebr. seven years, following their marriage and then returned to the Wakefield-Wayne area.

His parents and two brothers preceded him in death. Survivors include his widow and a son, Earl Larson, Wayne.

HEN AREAS—One hen pheasant may be included in the daily bag in certain parts of the state from January 8 through January 23. Special areas include that portion of Nebraska west and south of State Highway 27 south from the Nebraska-South Dakota border to its junction with State Highway 2, then east on Highway 2 to its junction with State Highway 61, then south along Highway 61 to its junction with U.S. Highway 30, then east along U.S. 30 to its junction with U.S. Highway 283, then south on U.S. 283 to the Nebraska-Kansas line. The northeastern area includes that portion of the state north and east of a line from the South Dakota border along U.S. 281 to its junction with State Highway 91, then east along Highway 91 to the Iowa line. The daily bag of 4 may include 1 hen, while the possession limit of 20 may include 5 hens.

(NEBRASKA GAME COMMISSION)

Hen Pheasants May Be Hunted in This Area

Christmas weekend guests of his mother, Mrs. Elsie Nelson, and her mother, Mrs. Albert Jenkins.

Mr. and Mrs. John Redel and sons and Mrs. Elsie Nelson were dinner guests Christmas in the Darrell Braesch home, Bennington.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Rohlf and Larie Jo, Omaha, spent the Christmas weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rohlf and other relatives.

Wayne, Dixon, Cedar and other Northeast Nebraska counties are in the two sections of the state where pheasant hunters may bag hens Jan. 8-23. Hunting is tricky anyway and the hens are harder to see than the cock pheasants are.

Pheasants tend to flock in segregated groups so hens can be flushed in large numbers when they are found. Only one hen per hunter is allowed.

Daily bag limit in the Panhandle and the Northeast area includes four birds, only one of which may be a hen. The state game commission set aside the special hen season to conclude a season which is the longest in the nation and probably too long for both hunters and birds.

Wayne's Traffic Record Exceeded

Wayne had the worst record in history as far as traffic accidents are concerned, Chief of Police Vern Fairchild reports. The city had 55 more accidents in 1965 than it did in 1964.

There were 167 mishaps on Wayne streets, which does not include any on the Wayne State campus. In 1964 there had been 112 on the city's streets.

February's icy weather brought the worst mark, 26 collisions of all types being investigated. There were 8 in August, the fewest for any month, and May and October each had 9.

For other months the figures looked like this: January, March, 14; April, 16; June, 10; July, 11; September, 16; November, 11; and December, 17.

Furnace Motor Gets Hot

An overheated furnace motor resulted in a fire call for the Wayne Volunteer Fire department Friday evening. No damage was done to anything except the motor and firemen did not have to go into the home. The hot motor was at the Evans Bennett home on Sherman. The smoldering fire was extinguished by family members.

Dixon County Unit Will Meet in Allen

A meeting of the Dixon County chapter of the National foundation will be held Jan. 11, 6:30 p.m. in the Home Cafe, Allen. Officers of the chapter ask that representatives from each town attend to hear the program explained.

Dixon county has three old polio cases which need financial assistance. Although the chapter does not expect any new cases this year now that polio is whipped, the benefits from the funds will go to combat "birth defects."
There is a March of Dimes birth defect center in Omaha.

FOOD FASHION FOR AUSEN

RUSSIAN

A couple years ago my husband and I along with my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Card of Webster, S. Dak., rode the Berlin to Moscow express train across East Germany, Poland and the western Soviet Union. It is a pleasant trip — and one which provides a revealing look at Polish and Russian countryside. One rides for miles through marsh and scrub forest with little villages of wooden houses and dusty streets. And naturally after 36 hours on the train we were interested in food.

The Russian foods we sampled were excellent. There were tasty appetizers — caviar and herring — served with heavy, whole grain bread; rich flavorful borsch; and piping hot tea in glasses with metal holders. The meals we had in Moscow restaurants were imaginatively prepared, well seasoned and graciously served.

Recipes in this Farm and Home Section are Americanized versions of Russian favorites. Many illustrate "typical Russian cooking" with their liberal use of "smetana," — sour cream to us. Try the Borsch or Beef Stroganoff for taste pleasing examples of a hearty meal with Russian country folks.

BEEF STROGANOFF

|---|---|
| 2 pounds choice round steak, sirloin or lean part of beef tenderloin, cut in $\frac{1}{4} \times \frac{1}{4} \times 2$ -inch strips | 1 teaspoon dry mustardOR 2 teaspoons prepared mustard |
| $\frac{1}{4}$ cup margarine   | 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce                           |
| 1 large onion, minced   | 1 teaspoon salt   |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ pound sliced fresh mushroomsOR 1 4-ounce can mushrooms  | $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper                             |
| 2 tablespoons flour   | $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon sugar                              |
| 2 cups beef bouillon or consomme  | 1 clove garlic, crushed                                   |
| 2 tablespoons tomato paste  | $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sherry                                  |
|   | 1 cup sour cream  |

In heavy skillet (or electric frypan) melt margarine and sauté the beef strips until brown all over. Stir constantly as they will stick. With slotted spoon lift out meat and put in Dutch oven along with  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon sugar. Add another 2 tablespoons margarine to skillet and sauté minced onions and sliced mushrooms. Add to meat in Dutch oven. To the remaining margarine in skillet (or you may need to add a little more margarine) blend in flour, letting it brown evenly. Then slowly add the beef bouillon or consomme to form a smooth gravy. Add tomato paste, crushed garlic, mustard, Worcestershire sauce, sherry, salt and pepper. Blend well. Pour sauce over the ingredients in Dutch oven, cover and let simmer very slowly for about  $\frac{1}{2}$  hour, or until meat is tender. Taste and rectify the seasoning, adding more sherry, if necessary. When ready to serve, add the sour cream, heat, but do not boil. Serve over hot rice or buttered noodles (as pictured). Serves 6.

MAZOURKA (Walnut Cake)

|------------------------------------|--|
| 9 egg yolks                        | $\frac{1}{2}$ pound candied fruit peel, ground |
| 2 cups sugar                       | 2 tablespoons lemon juice                      |
| 9 egg whites                       |  |
| 3 cups flour                       |  |
| 1 pound California walnuts, ground |  |

Beat the yolks in a bowl; add sugar and beat well. Beat the whites in a separate bowl until stiff but not dry; carefully fold into the yolk mixture. Add flour, walnuts, candied fruit and lemon juice; mix lightly. Grease and lightly flour a flat cake pan about 8 by 12 inches. Pour the mixture into it. Bake at 325°F. for 30 minutes, or until a cake tester comes out clean. Dust with confectioners' sugar. The resulting cake will be about 1 inch high and should be served in long, thin slices.

BLINI (Russian Raised Pancakes)

|   |                              |
|---|------------------------------|
| $\frac{1}{2}$ package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed | 6 tablespoons soft margarine |
| 2 cups milk   | $\frac{3}{4}$ teaspoon salt  |
| 3 cups flour  | 3 egg whites                 |
| 2 tablespoons sugar   | Caviar or smoked salmon      |
| 3 egg yolks   | Sour cream                   |

Scald milk and cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in cooled milk. Stir in  $\frac{1}{2}$  of the flour ( $1\frac{1}{2}$  cups) and sugar; mix until well blended. Set this sponge to rise in a warm place for about 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  hours. Cover the bowl with a cloth. Beat egg yolks and margarine until well blended. Stir in remainder of the flour and salt. Beat these ingredients into the sponge. Permit the sponge to rise again for about 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  hours or until almost double in bulk. Whip egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold them into the batter. After 10 minutes bake the batter, a very small quantity at a time, in a greased skillet or on a griddle. Turn to brown lightly on the other side. Serve each filled with 1 tablespoon caviar or smoked salmon and garnished with cultured sour cream. Makes 24 2-inch cakes.

BORSCH (Beet Soup)

|---------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| $\frac{1}{2}$ cup carrots       | 1 cup very finely shredded cabbage |
| 1 cup onions                    | 1 tablespoon vinegar               |
| 2 cups beets                    | Sour cream                         |
| 1 tablespoon margarine          |                                    |
| 2 cups beef stock (or bouillon) |                                    |

Peel carrots, onions and beets; chop until very fine. Barely cover these ingredients with boiling water. Simmer gently, covered, for about 20 minutes. Add margarine, beef stock, cabbage and vinegar and simmer for 15 minutes more. Place the soup in bowls. Garnish each serving with sour cream. Serve hot or cold with Pumpernickel bread. Makes about 5 cups.

PIROSHKI (Meat Pastry)

Dough:

|  |                           |
|--|---------------------------|
| 1 3-ounce package cream cheese                     | $1\frac{1}{4}$ cups flour |
| $\frac{1}{4}$ pound margarine ( $\frac{1}{2}$ cup) |                           |

Filling:

|   |                                      |
|---|--------------------------------------|
| 2 tablespoons margarine                 | 2 chicken livers (or 1 turkey liver) |
| 2 tablespoons flour                     | 1 teaspoon grated onion              |
| 1 4-ounce can mushroom stems and pieces | 1 tablespoon minced parsley          |
| 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate         | 3 stuffed olives, chopped            |
| 1 chicken bouillon cube                 | Salt and pepper to taste             |

To make dough, work cream cheese, margarine and flour together well until you can form a dough. No liquid is necessary. Chill several hours or overnight. Roll the dough thin and cut into circles about 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches in diameter. Put a spoonful of the meat filling in each circle. Fold into semi-circular tarts, crimping the edges tightly with tines of a fork or fingers. Prick top of each with fork to allow steam to escape. Bake in 425°F. oven for 10 to 15 minutes.

To make filling, melt margarine and blend in flour. Drain mushrooms. Dissolve a chicken bouillon cube in 1 cup boiling water and add enough mushroom liquid to make 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  cups. Add liquid to blended margarine and flour. Chop mushrooms and livers and add to the sauce along with remaining ingredients. Cook slowly about 10 minutes or until mixture is fairly thick. Fill each circle of dough with  $\frac{1}{2}$  to 1 teaspoon of liver mixture. Make into turnovers moistening edges of pastry so that filling will not leak out. Then proceed as instructed under directions to make dough. Makes approximately 2 dozen.

*Note: These can be frozen unbaked or baked, if necessary, but should be served hot.

GIRL CAGERS CAPTURE IOWA FANCY

William C. Nelson

averaged an 83-46 margin over their opponents going into the finals.

Iowa's individual game scoring leader is 6 foot 4 inch Norma Schoulte of Monona. In 1952 she had poured 111 points through the hoop before the gun sounded. And she's not the only girl to crack the century mark.

The offensive stars are aided by a rule which permits only three of the six girls in the starting lineup to work in the offensive half of the court. Thus, only three girls can score. One offensive girl shoots all the free throws for her three defensive teammates, too.

The girls are surprisingly adept. They maneuver in intricate screens and picks, pass the ball quickly, pivot on a dime and drive hard for the basket when a pathway opens. On the defensive court, the guards scrap tenaciously for the ball. The centers screen out their opponent brusquely and leap high to pull in the rebound.

By the time the distaff cagers are in high school, they've been practicing basketball for 10 to 12 years.

Scoring whiz Connie Kraai of Holstein is a classic example. As a cute 2-year-old toddler, she sparkled as the team mascot in 1951. Fourteen years later, she had blossomed into an attractive 5 foot 10 and a top-flight scorer. Connie could be counted on for 41.6 points a game.

Despite their physical development, however, the girls seldom lose their femininity.

A curvy brunette will arch in a 15-foot jump shot, then pause to fluff her hair as the ball leaves her half of the court. Askew hairbands are straightened at the first opportune moment. The girls look rather attractive, too, in their shiny silk shirts and shorts.

The court queens often outdraw the boys' team. At one time, many schools played double-headers, but the practice has largely been discontinued. A mediocre boys' team would find the stands half-empty after a crackerjack girls' team left the court.

Always on the girls' minds are the 16 berths in the state tournament. The teams that battle their way to Des Moines are treated like royalty. They meet the governor, chat with legislators, eat fancy banquet meals, appear on state-wide television.

The 1965 state tournament drew 72,000 spectators in its five-day run. That makes the Iowa event the largest girls' tournament in America, says the Iowa Girls' High School Athletic Union, which guides the program.

The state meet, in fact, outdraws most boys' state tourneys, the Girls' Union adds. It's one of the five biggest high school tournaments (boys or girls) in the nation. The total viewing audience is many times greater, too, thanks to radio and television broadcasts beamed across the state, and into several adjoining states.

When a hard-fought game ends, the reaction is almost as predictable as the Iowa corn crop. Both teams break down in tears—tears of joy for some, tears of despair for others.

The Iowa girls' basketball program is rivaled by several Dixie states. Among them are Texas, North and South Carolina and Arkansas. In all, 27 states have girls' basketball competition.

One doctor said of the sport: "It puts the girl in good physical condition. Her posture becomes better, her muscle tone and stamina improve, her cheeks get rosy . . ."

Less than 1% of the girl cagers go on to play basketball competitively after high school.

It's basketball fever — girls' style.

Since the late 1920s, Iowa has been a hotbed of girls' basketball.

A talented girls' team puts on a sensational show. A high-scoring outfit will scorch the nets with 80 to 110 points a game. The two fine teams that clashed for the 1965 state title, South Hamilton of Jewell and Valley of West Des Moines,

"Top Yields Cut Feed Costs"

Competition is stiff in livestock farming today. If you hope to make top profit and still be operating 10 years from now, you have to put the latest money-making ideas to work in your setup for increased efficiency and top returns.

Farm management specialists admit that good management doesn't come easily—you have to work at it. Common sense is the key—plus a willingness to accept new ideas that can make your operation really click.

As these farm management experts pointed out at the "Corn and Soybean Clinics" throughout the midwest last year, there is no set formula for profits. Smart farming pays off—if it's a day-to-day proposition. The accent is on the first syllable of management . . . behind every successful farming operation is a top-notch manager.

Harold Elliott has welded his resources into a highly efficient corn and beef operation near Cropsy, Illinois. Typical of many livestock feeders today, husky, hard driving Elliott is so busy he talks to you over his shoulder while he goes on with his work.

"My main aim in farming today is to squeeze as much feed as possible out of every acre I farm," says Elliott. "The more I raise, the less I have to buy.

"I need a lot of feed for all the cattle I market every year, and the difference between a good yield and a poor yield is a matter of real money."

Elliott feeds out 500 to 750 head of cattle

each year. Until this year he fed anywhere from 300 to 800 head of hogs a year. While continually trying to increase his feeding power, here are some of the things he accomplished during the past year:

- Entered the DeKalb 200 Bushel Corn Club with a test plot of XL-45 which measured 147.38 bushels per acre of No. 2 corn.
- Raised over 45,000 bushels of corn on 300 acres, averaging nearly 150 bushels per acre.
- Calendarized his corn planting so that harvesting was spread out during the fall, allowing him more time to handle his livestock chores, and permitting him to harvest all his corn in its peak condition.
- Turned to heavy silage rations to take full advantage of big yields and further cut his feed costs.

These things, along with sound soil management and the gumption to try something new, have raised Elliott's yields to bin-busting proportions and cut his feed bill to the bone.

You needn't make a personal visit to the Elliott place to learn that he's a firm believer in feeding plenty of silage—it's obvious from more than a mile away. Three tall silos tower over his well-automated feedlot, which has taken much of the backache out of beef feeding for him.

"I feed a lot of corn silage," Elliott explains. "I'm fully convinced that the more roughage I can stuff into my cattle, the farther I'm stretching my rations and the more I'm cutting feed costs. I'm sure I'm getting more T.D.N. per acre by harvesting the whole plant rather than just the grain." Last summer he filled in with Sudax until he could start cutting silage.

Elliott is constantly on the alert for new practices which might hike his efficiency and give extra profits. In spite of the high average yield from his corn acres last year, Elliott is still far from satisfied. He's already looking forward to this fall's harvest when yields should be even better.

Elliott's corn yields weren't always this good. "I used to just 'plant corn' like everyone else, until I realized one day that it takes just as much work to grow a poor yield as a good yield," he explains. "With the number of acres I have in corn, just a 5-bushel increase can mean about 1700 extra bushels of corn. So I decided to try a little harder."

Elliott did a lot of reading, talked with some of the people at the DeKalb Agricultural Association, and attended various meetings such as the Corn and Soybean Clinic.

"Then I went out to my test plot, and tried some of these new-fangled ideas," he says. "I didn't try anything big right away. Sometimes certain crops and methods work better on one farm than the next, so I usually play it safe and try a little at a time."

He tried several new hybrids, including the XL-45 which he is now so fond of, and moved to heavier fertilization. Gaining confidence through his test plot results, he applied what he learned on the bulk of his acreage.

This year he averaged 20 to 22,000 plants per acre. He applied 100 lbs. of potash last fall, put down 135 lbs. of actual nitrogen at the pre-plant stage and added 100 lbs. of a commercial blend. On some fields he applied as much as 150 lbs. of actual nitrogen. And he already plants to fertilize at a higher rate next year.

SAYS PROFIT PACESETTER

Elliott has eliminated one cultivation, too. This year he controlled weeds with a granular application of a pre-emergent herbicide in a band, plus two cultivations. "The chemicals gave me a 90% kill," Elliott reports.

On a large livestock farm such as Elliott's, there's real competition for his time during peak crop periods. To even out these peaks, Elliott has turned to calendarized corn production.

The basis for this program is selecting hybrids of increasing maturity to spread "best" harvesting dates over a longer period. Most farmers put in some short-season hybrids after their long-season varieties are planted; Elliott does the opposite.

"Calendarized corn works perfect for me," he says. "My livestock takes a good chunk of time out of every day. We can't stay in the field from dawn to dusk like some fellows can. My calendarized schedule spreads planting and harvesting over a two-week period.

"Then, too, weather around here during corn planting time is about as unpredictable as a woman," he adds. "The way I figure it, I can spread my risk by spreading my planting. Chances are better that I'll get most of my corn planted and harvested at the right time than if I used all the same maturity." And chances are the way we see it, that Elliott's yields, profits and efficiency will continue to grow. Any way you look at it, this pacesetter farmer is piloting an outstanding crop-livestock production unit—and he is constantly trying to improve the job he's doing.
