Wayne Man Injured as Horse Falls on Snow
Bob Dempster, an 18-year-old Wayne State college, was injured Thursday when the horse he was riding fell with him on snow covered in a field near the Fair grounds. The break was so severe he had to be taken to a bone hospital in Sioux City.
Dempster was riding with Rod Schwanke at the time of the mishap. His horse slipped and Dempster managed to get his foot out of the stirrup to keep from going under the horse but when his foot hit the ground his leg twisted and he went under the horse anyway.
His right leg was broken below the knee. X-rays showed both bones were broken so he was taken at once to Sioux City.
Since that time he has been in the hospital. An operation was scheduled the middle of the week at the animal hospital had improved enough.
Schwanke had not tried to move his friend after the mishap. Instead he had gone to the nearest house and called for a doctor and an ambulance. The fact that he was not moved until emergency persons were around kept the injury from being worse.
Dempster is now in town but keeps horses at the Fairgrounds. A friend is caring for the animal while Dempster is being treated.

WSC Hosts Debate Tourney Saturday

The Wayne State honorary forensics fraternity, Phi Kappa Delta, will be host to a high school debate tournament on campus this Saturday.

It is the first such event sponsored by the college in recent years, perhaps the first ever at Wayne, according to Debate Coach Bruce Wilkinson.

Six schools have entered two debate teams each: Wayne, Wahog, and four from Sioux City—Central, East, Roberts and Hoelien.

Wayne debaters also are active in their own company in Fairbury, Nebraska, and have competed at the University of Nebraska Inter-collegiate Debate conference last weekend and turned in what Wilkinson called a creditable performance.

WSC Social Science Faculty Wins Honor. In one respect, the social science faculty is better than the English faculty at Wayne State in basketball.

At least, it was true Saturday night when the social scientists accepted the linguists' challenge to cage combat — as a benefit to raise funds for the new student literary magazine.

After four six-minute quarters (played progressively slower), the social scientists emerged with 40 points to the English 35.

The English team noted, however, that many of the social science points resulted either from pure luck or fouls undetected by the officials.

Winside Club Sets Areawide Clean-up

Winside Community club met Monday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran church. Main project coming up for discussion was a clean-up (fix-up period) in April.

The Winside civic group aims to have it be more than a community event. They are hoping residents of the town will be joined by rural residents in the region in a general cleaning job to prepare for the centennial year ahead.

The Old Settlers' reunion picnic in July was also considered. A decision is to be made later on whether it will be a one-day celebration as in most years' past or a two-year celebration as in 1965.

A committee has been appointed to arrange for entertainment at future meetings. The WCC will have speakers or other program numbers at all meetings coming to.

Dr. Don Vrba presided at Monday's session; due to the absence of President Frank Weible. The club will meet again Mar. 28 at 7 p.m. in Trinity Lutheran church.

Carroll Rural Church Will Mark Anniversary

Plans are being developed at Carroll for the celebration marking the 75th anniversary of the Zion Congregational church west of Carroll Sunday, June 12, is the date set for observance.

According to present plans, a noon meal will follow regular worship services. In the afternoon there will be letters from former members, a program, pictures of the church in days long past and other features.

Zion was originally a Welsh church and many of the early records were in Welsh, although most have been translated to English now. It has been in the same location since 1891 and is now served by Rev. Gail Axen.

Eight Instructors Needed by Schools

With the deadline Tuesday for returning signed contracts, District 17 is faced with eight vacancies in the Wayne and Carroll schools, according to Supt. Francis Haun.

Some of the resignations were received earlier. One teacher, Stan Hansen, left the system several weeks ago.

The complete list of those returning included: David Chambers, who will work on his doctor's degree (his wife will continue to teach homemaking here); Geraldine Whittington, who has been teaching one-half time;

Judy Koenig, West elementary first grade; Eva Scott, West elementary librarian one-half time; Donna Strahan, senior high chemistry; Anne Larson, eighth grade English; David Chambers and Stan Hansen.

The board meets this coming Monday, according to the superintendent. Final report on teacher contracts will be given at that time.

Group Finishes NSH Mental Health Plan

A group of Wayne women has completed a 16-hour training plan on "Remotivation Technique" at Norfolk State hospital. They will work with the Woman's club's mental health committee.

This committee is a newly-sponsored group in the club with Mrs. Harold Ingalls and Mrs. Robert Benthack co-chairmen. Members will work out a program of remotivation for patients at Dahl's and hope eventually to include other groups where this type of therapy may be useful.

Completing the course were Mrs. Ingalls, Mrs. Raymond Schreiner, Mrs. Dorothy Kabisch, Mrs. George Thorbeck, Mrs. L. D. From, Mrs. Eldon Bull, Mrs. Arline Ulrich, Mrs. Yale Kessler and Mrs. Warren Price of Woman's club and Mrs. Ann Burns and Mrs. Rex Chapman, Dahl's Retirement center staff members.

A registered nurse, Mrs. W. Kentz gave the training course at the state hospital.

German Projectile in Feed Grain Signup

Thanks to the curiosity of a Wayne grade school boy and his friend a live German projectile is no longer stored in a Wayne home. How long it has been there may never be known.

It all started when Kyt Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Wilks, found a strange-looking object in the attic of the Wilks home. He and a friend, Dwayne Grosse, were too interested to wait until Mr. Wilks came home and Mr. Wilks didn't want the object in the house so the boys went to the nearby Jewell Schick home.

Mr. Schick knew that it was a projectile. He knew it looked like an old-fashioned mortar shell, but he turned it over to the Wayne police department.

Since it failed, the Wayne police did not know if it was live. It was called Lt. Riley, Kan. Demolition experts came to Wayne by helicopter Tuesday to check on the object.

They determined that it was a German 57 millimeter projectile, probably from World War I. It contained powder, not enough to explode but enough to burn someone if not opened right. After checking, the two men left with helicopter and projectile.

College Professor Has New Textbook in Print

Dr. Thomas Stevenson, assistant professor of history at Wayne State, soon will have a new book in print, adding to his credits as an author of texts and articles.

The new book, a paperback entitled "World Politics," is expected to reach bookstores in April or May.

Dr. Stevenson is co-author of the newly rewritten fourth edition of "Political Science," which is on sale in Wayne and in hundreds of bookstores across the nation.

The professor has translated Italian, German, French and Medieval Latin works into English for publication. While he was at the University of Chicago he served as an Encyclopaedia Britannica fellow in medieval history and edited numerous articles in that field.

He joined the Wayne social science faculty in the summer of 1965.

Four Candidates Named in Concord

Four candidates were named for town board member candidates in Concord Tuesday night at the caucus. This is the same number as there were people who turned out for the caucus.

The Concord town board has two members whose terms are expiring. They are Robert Berry and Meredith Johnson. Both were named for candidates for the April election.

The other two candidates for two-year terms are Clarence Pearson and Earl Nelson. Voters will cast ballots for two of the men (or write-in names) and the two getting the most votes will be elected.

NFO Elects for Year Thursday

Wayne County National Farm Organization elected at a meeting Thursday night in the ASC's office in Wayne. The 13 officers elected were all re-elected for another term.

Roland Victor is again chairman, Den Tipton vice chairman, Robert Turner secretary and Howard Gaunt treasurer. Members of meat, grain and dairy boards plus alternates for each were also named.

Meat board chairman is Jack Rubick, grain board chairman is Gus Clausen, and dairy board chairman El Watkins. Kay Dunklee, Wes Rubick and Orville Lage were named trustees for three, two, and one year terms respectively.

The annual membership drive for the organization is now underway. According to Victor, all farmers of the county are urged to contact board members, officers or trustees regarding membership.

The NFO is reclaiming the sale of 50 million bushels of soybeans and corn the past week. There has been considerable discussion of the sale, which was finally confirmed, most of the grain going to private firms.

What is a different matter so the farmers are not being pressured to sign up for the wheat program like they are for feed grain. Winter wheat products are encouraged not to reduce acreage below the farm allotment during the present signup period.

Carroll Candidates Named at Meeting

Only six people turned out for the caucus in Carroll Tuesday night, according to the village clerk, Elaine Jorgensen. Candidates were named for town board and police magistrate.

E. L. Pearson, incumbent, was the sole candidate named for a two-year term as police magistrate. A space for writing in other names will be provided on the ballot in April.

Two positions are coming up on the town board, both for two-year terms. Larry Dehkoetter and Maurice Hansen, incumbents, were named to run again and Perry Johnson and Harold Leberg are the other two candidates named.

THIS SCENE was the opening for "Carousel" at WSC this week. In color it is even more elaborate. Similar painstaking work went into six other settings for the musical directed by Dr. Helen Russell. (Photo by Blake Studio)

College Musical Almost Faultless

"Carousel" the musical put on for four performances by Wayne State college was the next thing to a professional production. The only criticism came for a technical feature which presumably will not have to be endured long.

Taking the bad point first, the microphone situation was appalling. No overhead mikes were ready so performers used mikes hung around their necks. This was unhandy in that only one singer had the microphone at a time and on duets it was quite distracting.

At another point the hero had the microphone around his neck. The heroine walked toward him, her voice audible and suddenly loud as she asked: "Are you going to the CLAMBAKE?" The last word was the only one coming in over the speaker system.

That's going pretty far to find something to criticize but that's how good the production was. Audiences got a good idea of what to expect when the curtain first opened revealing a gay carnival crowd, a genuine merry-go-round turning with colored lights and a general atmosphere of gaiety.

From that moment on the audience was captured. The scenic backgrounds were exceptionally good, the seven scenes which included many stage props were outstanding, the costuming was 8 The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Thursday, March 3, 1966 remarkably good and the dancing and singing were way above average.

That brings it down to acting and here Director Helen Russell had chosen well. Although the major stars shone brightest, even bit players had moments where they revealed their talents.

Micnel Chechopoulos was convincing as a carnival barker, acting, looking and talking like one. Joyce Piskac was the heroine and a comely lady she is with a fine voice, beautiful face and acting ability to spare.

Karelyn Jordan and Richard Jordan were unusually well cast in comedy roles but revealed feeling in their well-executed solos. Constance Beerman was terrific as the operator of a spa and if anyone is to be singled out for singing it would have to be her; and Ron Dalton played an unsympathetic role that had people hating him, a tribute to acting ability that was matched by his singing.

Showing about as much facial expression and indication of potential in the future as anyone was a girl who had an extremely small part, Susan Cook. She had a pixie charm and knew exactly how to look to convey meaning without speaking.

The children of the Tom McCright's, Wayne, were great crowd pleasers and may take a liking to the stage. Charlotte Blake's french poodle went through an obedience act that accented the fact that from start to finish care had been taken to choose the very best.

Gerri Filipowski as choreographer, Benjamin Bernstein as orchestra director and William McMurtre as music director helped set the mood. Working with Rodgers and Hammerstein music, they could hardly go wrong, and they all did commendable jobs.

Regina Rudolph and Bob Hilligars rate applause for the scenery. Lyle Gourley and Richard Jordan were technical directors, Julie Hayden and Richard Petersen were stage managers, Sandra Foster and Julie Anderson were property mistresses and on stage, they and costume crews were there.

Mike Chechopoulos, Dean Dartman, Gerry Melis, Mark Monson, Glenn Orvaska, Bill Springer, Ron Wascheltz, Gerri Filipowski, Arda Meyenburg, Judy Taylor, Jan Varejcka, Carlene Denton and Dianna Frank. All did well.

If this is an indication of what the new Ramsey theatre will be offering in the future, Wayne area residents have much to look forward to in live action performances. Nothing will seem too difficult to attempt from now on.

Vets Selling Homes Get Warning by VA

Wayne county veterans who sell their GI homes and permit the buyer to assume the GI loan still are liable in case of subsequent foreclosures unless they obtain a release of liability, according to Chris Bargholz, Wayne county service officer.

Bargholz said the VA has issued the warnings. The VA office in Lincoln also has the releases needed if the buyer can be approved as a credit risk.

Release from liability does not restore a veteran's eligibility for another GI loan, Bargholz said. This can be restored when the VA is no longer liable to the lender on the guaranty.

If the vet is forced to sell a home through no fault of his own health, employment, etc., if the government takes the property for public use, if the home is destroyed by a natural hazard, or if the vet is in the military service and must dispose of home because of transfer, the veteran may become eligible for another loan.

Bad News -

(Continued from page 1) group sought information on future road work planned. Specifically wanted was word on plans for Highway 15 north and the rest of 15 south.

Hossack said the bids for nine miles of Highway 15 would not be let until June, 1967. It is hoped locally that more work can be included in the biennium that follows.

State highway checking units were in awarding this week counting traffic through Main street and at the Seventh and Main intersection. They were also checking on the number of times the traffic light turns green for cross traffic when there are no cars waiting to enter the intersection from east or west.

Business Notes

Kenneth Kardell, Laurel, has been awarded an expense-paid trip to Quincy, Ill., for a three-day informational meeting. He completed the first step in Moor-man Mfg. company's basic educational course on livestock nutrition. He recently joined the Moor-man sales staff. A feature of the trip was a visit to the dairy unit, including viewing tests with identical twin cows.

Lewis Jenkins of Winside Grain & Feed, Winside, was one of the Kent feed dealers honored at a dinner and award ceremony in Sioux City recently. Around 400 attended. For high feed tonnage achieved during 1965 as well as service rendered to livestock and poultry raisers, Winside Grain & Feed won a sales award plaque.

Ed Wisell, Webster City, Ia., is a new employee at Claude's Standard station. He will be in charge of the automotive maintenance section. Wisell comes from Iowa where he was associated with Central Auto Repair shop for several years.

Hoskins 'Throng' Names Candidates

A caucus was held Tuesday night in Hoskins to name candidates for the town board. If three people had chosen to stay home instead of showing up, the foregoing statement could not have been made.

The interest in municipal candidates will probably carry over into the April election. Only one candidate was named for each position opening up on the town board this year.

Ed Kellich, chairman of the board, was renominated for another two-year term. Herman Pader, the other board member whose term expires, was also named to seek another two-year term. The lack of interest probably indicates Hoskins people are satisfied with the men on the job now. However, just in case there are always spaces for writing in candidates on every ballot.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

You Too, Hawaii and Alaska
When Wayne has a special day, the flags are flown. If there's a convention, the "Welcome" flags go up; if there's a special bargain day, the "Bargain Day" flags are installed before dawn; and if it's a patriotic occasion, the American flags fly in the breeze.

The city does this. Racks are provided on light poles through the business district for about 14 blocks to the edge of town by the Wayne State campus. When it happens, it appears to those coming in to town that Wayne is offering something special, which it is.

One difficulty is the American flag situation. The city has had the flags for several years and they are durable, showing no signs of deterioration and needing replacement.

An alert Wayne woman asks how come they aren't changed. The type used in Wayne bear only 48 stars on the field of blue. Two more stars on the latest flags, represent Hawaii and Alaska.

These newest states should not feel slighted because 48-star flags are used in Wayne. Someday they will be replaced by the 50-star variety. Until then, the ones owned now represent all the US, including Hawaii and Alaska. It matters not that two stars are missing; the idea is there and no one can criticize Wayne's policy of flying them as often as possible.

It's a 50-star flag if you count the two stars in your eyes when you see it after having been away from this country a long time, so it's a 50-star flag when you see it every day too.

What Should He Do?

What should a man do when he knows the identification of someone supplying liquor to minors? In fact, what should you do if you know such information?

A man told The Wayne Herald recently he knew of a system minors have for getting beer. He cited a big party that had been held the previous night and how the participants (girls and boys) obtained the drinks.

The fact that the beer and liquor licenses can sell the beverages and not be aware of the ultimate destination makes it difficult for them to do anything about it. To their credit, they are law abiding dealers as far as is known — if they are otherwise, they have not been caught breaking the law.

But getting back to the dilemma of the man knowing who supplies alcohol to kids, what should he do? Is he doing a favor by being an informer? Is this another case of where the American stands by while watching someone being hurt or a law being broken?

We know how we feel about it — we think upholding the law is part of your duty as a good citizen. If you know who is selling dope, stealing cattle or forging checks, you should tell that to authorities, and supplying liquor to minors is a crime too.

The best thing that could happen is for those who do supply the beer or liquor to minors under any arrangements to cease and desist. Who knows, they may be the ones this fellow knows about — and this editorial may be all he needs to inspire him to break open the case the next time he hears of it happening.

"Do You Know?"

Limited view intersections, such as are found frequently in the country, should be approached with extreme caution.

NEBRASKA DEPARTMENT OF ROADS

Revenue Bonds Approved

University Officials say the dormitories are needed to meet increasing enrollments, especially at the undergraduate level.

Carl Curtis CAPITOL COMMENTS
It appears that Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach pretty effectively has torpedoed, for this year at least, the President's plan to provide four-year terms for Congressmen.

Included was the hard-surface of roads leading to the Two Rivers Recreation area, the Sherman and Swanson reservoirs, and to Memphis Lake.

Both said they must devote more time to their work. Legislators are paid $200 a month while they serve.

Will Receive Bids
June 1 has been tentatively set as the date for receiving bids on the proposed consolidation of the state's communications systems.

Labels on Ham
What's the difference between a smoked ham, a fully cooked ham, and a ham with water added?

Centuries ago, so the story goes, pagans buried their choicest cuts of meat — like ham — in the sand by the sea during the winter months.

This practice has been refined considerably over the years, although the curing and cooking is still basic in producing hams.

Hams that are smoked only are heated to an internal temperature of 140 degrees Fahrenheit. This is more than sufficient to insure complete protection against the danger of getting trichinosis.

Hams labeled as being "fully cooked" are heated to an internal temperature of about 150 degrees Fahrenheit. This is sufficient to cook the ham so that it requires no additional heating before serving, although you may want to heat it if you desire hot food.

Some pork products are often confused with ham. Such products — often erroneously called "picnic ham" — are in reality the "pork shoulder picnic" and "pork shoulder butt". They actually come from the front shoulders of the hog, and are not ham — though they may be similar to ham in flavor and appearance.

If hams at the retail meat counter are not labeled as fully cooked or ready-to-eat, the housewife should automatically assume that they must be cooked further before eating.

The important point is to remember to read the label — all parts of it.

Way Back When

30 Years Ago
March 5, 1928: Mayor M. H. Rieger recently appointed a committee of five members to act for the city of Wayne in working out plans for securing good features through the year at the city auditorium.

February Court Term Has Three Divorces

Divorce cases have dominated the February term of district court which opened Feb. 24. District Judge George Dittnick has presided.

In the case of Pauline Robinson vs. David Robinson, the plaintiff was awarded custody of minor children, use of home and household goods and will receive $200 per month during pendency of action and $100 attorney fees.

A decree of absolute divorce was granted the defendant in the case of Merlin Bueger vs. Jayne Bueger. Custody of a minor child was awarded the defendant with visitation rights awarded plaintiff. Costs were taxed to plaintiff and the matter of alimony, property and defendant's counsel fees was taken under advisement.

Also granted an absolute divorce was the defendant in the case of Diane Biggerstaff vs. Patricia Biggerstaff. Household goods in the defendant's possession were awarded to her. The plaintiff was ordered to pay medical bills herebefore incurred by the parties. Custody of minor children was awarded the defendant with the plaintiff retaining visitation rights. Plaintiff was ordered to pay child support of $22.50 per week, $200 in defendant's fees and court costs.

In the only action where a divorce has not been granted, a hearing was set for Mar. 4. It is the suit filed by Mary Friend vs. James Friend. The only other case involved the Wakefield school district, defendant in a suit filed by Mary Alice Johnson. The defense motion to dismiss the petition on the appeal was overruled and the defense was given 10 days in which to plead further.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

According to an old saying, "There's a little bit of Irish in all of us." So, there's no reason why each of us shouldn't celebrate St. Patrick's Day. Maybe you'll want to give a "Leprechaun Luncheon" or a "Luck of the Irish" supper party. Or how about making your March 17 evening meal a family party.

Select a green cloth for your dinner, or use green paper napkins and add a shamrock or two on a white cloth. You'll find the shamrocks at a variety store or you can easily make your own from green paper.

Naturally there should be foods to remind the diners of this special day. We're suggesting Barm Brack Bread, Shamrock Salad and St. Patrick's Ice Cream for your tribute to the Irish.

ST. PATRICK'S ICE CREAM PIE

- | | |
|---|--------------------------|
| 1 9-inch cooky, gf dham cracker or corn flake crumb pie shell, chilled | 2 egg whites |
| 1 quart pistachio ice cream slightly softened | 1/4 cup granulated sugar |
| | Chocolate sauce |

Fill chilled crust with ice cream. Freeze until ice cream is firm. Preheat oven to 400° F. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add sugar, two tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition. Continue beating until meringue will form stiff shiny peaks. Spread over pie and bake for three to five minutes or until delicately browned. Serve immediately with chocolate sauce.

Note: For a larger meringue, use four egg whites and 1/2 cup sugar.

BARM BRACK BREAD

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1/2 cup milk | 2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed |
| 1/2 cup sugar | 2 eggs, beaten |
| 1 1/2 teaspoons salt | Grated peel of 1 lemon |
| 1/4 cup shortening | 1 1/4 cups currants or raisins |
| 5 cups flour (about) | 1/3 cup chopped mixed candied fruits |
| 1/2 cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast) | |

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into large mixing bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Add beaten eggs and 3 cups flour. Stir in lemon peel, raisins and fruits; beat thoroughly. Add remaining flour. Turn dough out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth, elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush top with soft shortening. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until double in bulk, about 1 1/4 hours. Punch down; turn out on lightly floured board. Divide in half. Shape into loaves. Place in 2 greased bread pans 9 x 5 x 3-inches. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 375° F. for about 50 minutes. Makes 2 loaves.

ST. PATRICK'S BAVARIAN CREME

- | | |
|-------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatin | 2 tablespoons lemon juice |
| 1/4 cup cold water | 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind |
| 4 egg yolks | 1 1/2 cups heavy cream, whipped |
| 1/2 cup sugar | Creme de Menthe |
| 1 cup milk | |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla extract | |

Soften gelatin in cold water. Beat together egg yolks and sugar until light and creamy. Scald milk. Pour over egg mixture, stirring constantly. Add vanilla and lemon juice. Pour into top of double boiler. Cook over hot water stirring constantly until thickened slightly. Add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add lemon rind. Remove from heat. Cool; stirring occasionally to prevent skin forming on surface. Beat heavy cream until stiff. Fold 1 cup into cooled gelatin mixture. Pour into a 1-quart shamrock mold. Chill. At serving time unmold onto serving dish. Garnish top with 1/2 cup whipped cream and drizzle Creme de Menthe over the top. Makes 6-8 servings.

Dissolve gelatin in 2 cups boiling water. Drain syrup from pineapple and add enough cold water to measure 1 1/4 cups liquid. Add to gelatin along with mint flavoring. Cool. Arrange some pineapple in design in 1-quart shamrock mold. Pour in gelatin. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with remaining pineapple slices. Serve with Horseradish Mayonnaise. Makes 6 servings.

VEGETABLES

Three vegetables—potatoes, onions and celery—should receive top billing the year 'round in your meal planning. They're readily available in all seasons. And these vegetables can be prepared in such a variety of ways that one needn't tire of them.

All three vegetables are compatible with other foods, so for a change of pace we suggest you "mix and match." Natural go-togethers are ham and scalloped potatoes. Other winning combinations are a Celery and Potato Casserole and Celery Oriental, a celery and mushroom combination.

RICE WITH...

For centuries rice has been one of the diet mainstays of people in all parts of the world. And today the shelves of the American supermarkets are loaded with all kinds of rice and rice products.

Generally rice is available in three ways — regular, converted and packaged precooked. Regular rice — the kind that has had all the outer layers removed, but has not been treated in any other way — may be short, medium or long grain. Converted rice has been treated so that it retains most of its minerals and vitamins. And precooked rice is completely cooked — all you need to do in preparation is steam the rice for a few minutes in hot water.

Whichever type you select, rice is a natural for Lenten dishes. Make it into a hearty main dish for the family or give it a gourmet touch for that next company meal.

MOCK TACOS

- | | |
|--------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 2 pounds ground beef | 2 cups packaged pre-cooked rice |
| 2 large onions, finely chopped | 1 teaspoon oregano |
| 2 cloves garlic, minced | 2 teaspoons chili powder |
| 2 cans (8-ounce) tomato sauce | 1 tablespoon brown sugar |
| 2 cans (6-ounce) tomato paste | 1 tablespoon cumin seed |
| 4 cups water | 1 tablespoon salt |
| | Corn chips |
| | Variety of toppings |

Brown meat; add onions and garlic and cook until tender. Meanwhile cook rice in tomato sauce, tomato paste, water and seasonings according to package directions. Add meat mixture; blend thoroughly. Serve over corn chips and top with a variety of accompaniments — grated sharp Cheddar cheese, finely chopped avocado, finely chopped green onions or chives, minced ripe olives, finely chopped tomatoes, and shredded lettuce. Serves 6 to 8.

Sage may be substituted for cumin seed — reduce amount to 1/2 to 2 teaspoons.

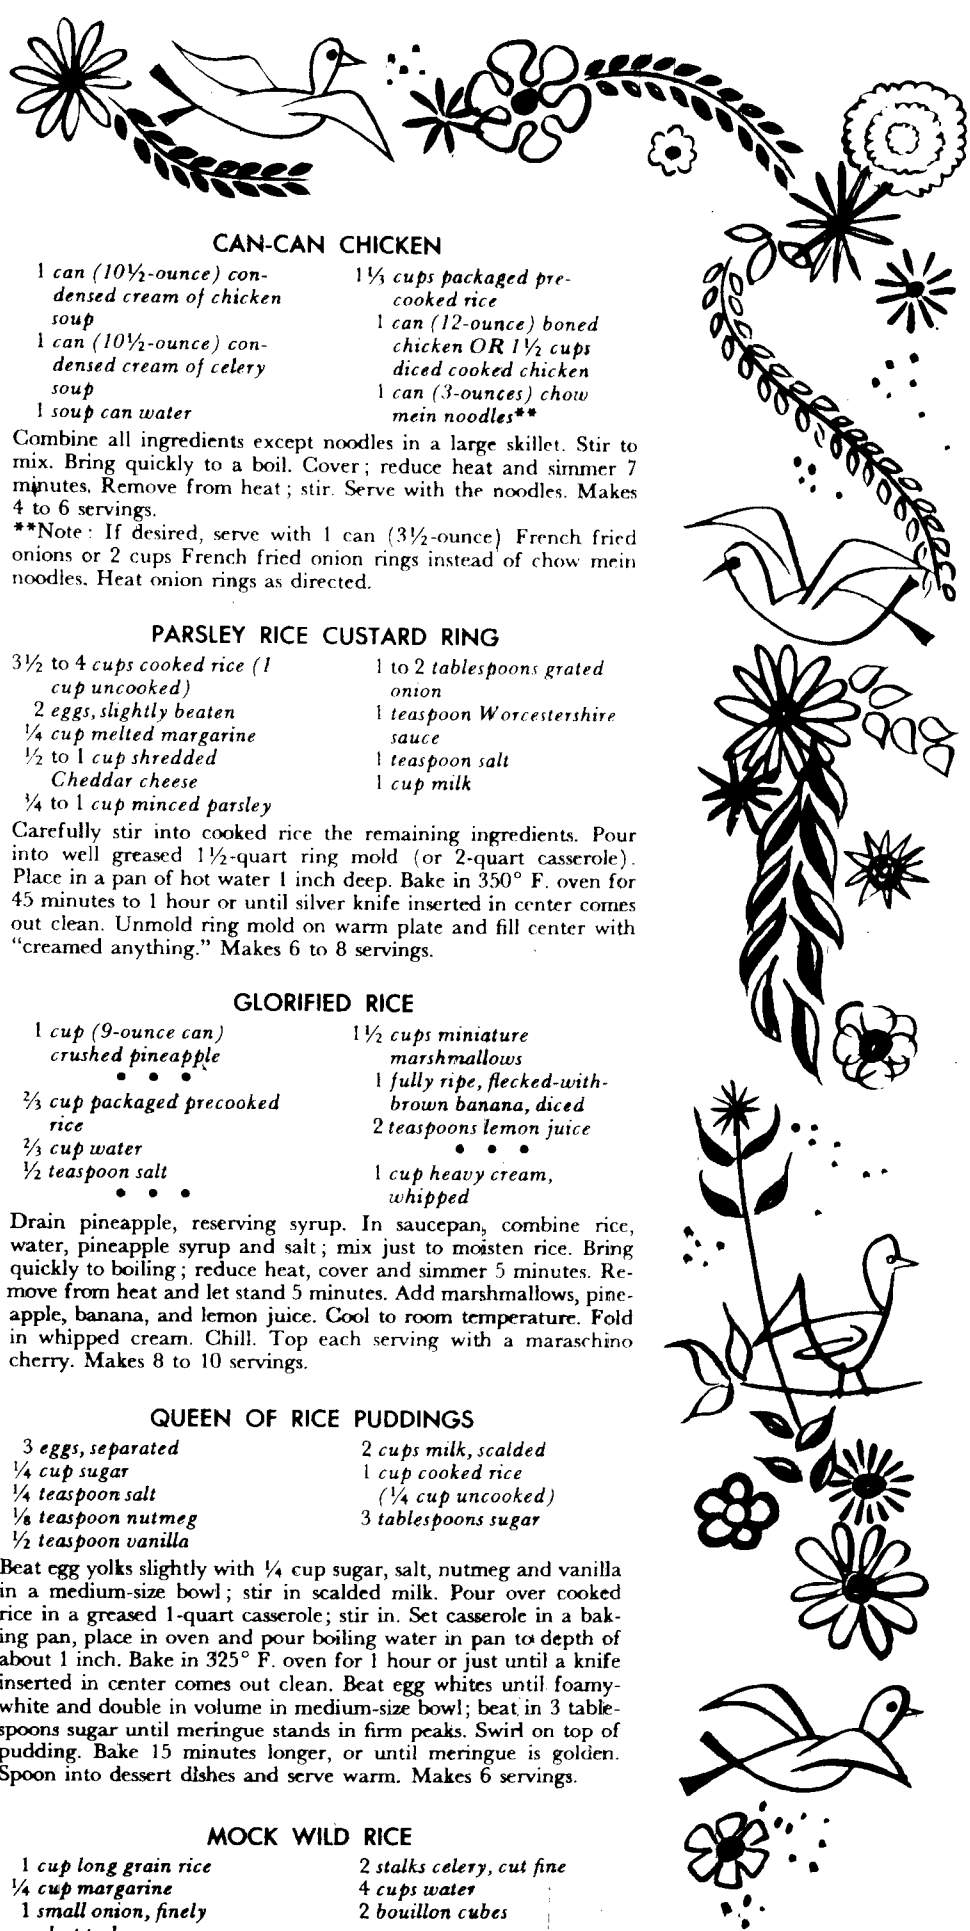

TUNA STUFFED EGGS ON RICE

- | | |
|------------------------------------|-------------------------|
| 3 cups cooked rice | 1/3 cup mayonnaise |
| 6 hard cooked eggs | 1/2 teaspoon salt |

| | Curry Sauce |

Place rice in a well greased heat-resistant glass layer cake dish or other flat casserole. Remove shells from eggs; cut in half lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks with fork until smooth; mix in tuna, mayonnaise and salt. Fill egg white with mixture and arrange on top of rice. Dot rice with margarine and bake in 325° F. oven for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, prepare Curry Sauce to serve over stuffed eggs.

To make Curry Sauce: Melt 1/4 cup margarine over low heat. Blend in 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon curry powder. Add 2 cups milk gradually, allowing mixture to cook up after each addition; stir constantly. Cook until thickened (about 10 minutes). Makes 6 servings.

FRUIT NUT BREAD The "CoolRise" Way

5½ to 6½ cups flour* (regular or instant blending)	1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup warm water (105°-115° F.)	1 tablespoon salt*
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed	3 tablespoons margarine
1¼ cups warm milk (105°-115° F.)	½ cup raisins
	½ cup chopped California walnuts
	Peanut oil

Spoon or pour flour into dry measuring cup. Level off and pour measured flour onto wax paper.

Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add warm milk, sugar, salt and margarine. Stir in 2 cups flour. Beat with rotary beater until smooth (about 1 minute). Add 1 cup flour. Beat vigorously with a wooden spoon until smooth (about 150 strokes). Stir in raisins and walnuts. Add enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto a lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about 8-10 minutes. Cover with plastic wrap, then a towel; let rest for 20 minutes.

Punch down; divide dough in half. Shape each half into a loaf. Place each loaf into a greased 8½ x 4½ x 2½-inch loaf pan. Brush loaves with peanut oil. Cover pans loosely with oiled wax paper, then top with plastic wrap. Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours.

When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator. Carefully uncover the dough; let stand for 10 minutes at room temperature. Using a greased toothpick or metal skewer, puncture any surface bubbles which may have formed on the dough.

Bake in hot oven (400° F.) for 30-40 minutes, or until done. If desired, brush with melted margarine. Makes 2 loaves.

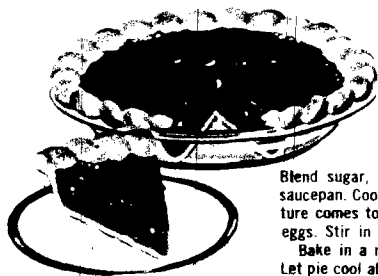

(*If you use Robin Hood Self-Rising Flour, omit salt.)

Iowa's little brown church

The Rev. Glenn Utterback stands in front of his church. The Little Brown Church in the Vale has been a marriage shrine since 1916. Some 100,000 persons visit it each year. It is located in Chicksaw County, Ia., two miles northeast of Nashua.

by William C. Nelson

I had heard many times of the Little Brown Church in the Vale. As a child, I joined my fellow Sunday Schoolers in singing the lively strains of the hymn that made the church famous — "Church in the Wildwood."

Now, driving through northern Iowa, I was determined to pay a visit to the world-famous marriage shrine.

Stopping at a restaurant several miles away, I was sipping a cup of coffee when my conception of the rustic church was badly jolted.

A salesman remarked off-handedly: "The Little Brown Church? Nothing more than an automated marriage mill. A place where they marry couples like an assembly line. No feeling, no emotion . . ."

Could his notion be correct, I mused. I was determined to check it out.

I put the question to the Rev. Glenn Utterback, pastor there the last 12 years and the man who has guided the Congregational church to its greatest, and most active membership (156). Husky, articulate and such a velvety-smooth pie!

"Peachy Dandy" takes only
6 ingredients • 36 minutes and Karo

- 2 egg whites • 1/3 cup Karo Crystal-Clear Syrup
- 1 (3-oz.) pkg. lemon gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 (12 oz.) pkg. frozen sliced peaches
- 1 Tbsp. lemon juice
- 1 Nabisco Sugar Honey Graham Crackers crust

Beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually beat in Karo Syrup. Continue beating until stiff peaks form. Set aside. Place gelatin in large mixing bowl. Pour 1 cup boiling water over gelatin and stir until completely dissolved. Add solid frozen peaches and lemon juice. Stir until peaches are thawed. Fold in egg whites. Chill until mixture thickens slightly, about 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Gently fold mixture to distribute peaches. Pour into prepared pie shell. (See directions on Nabisco Sugar Honey Graham Crackers package.) Chill until set. Makes one 9-inch Peachy Dandy pie. Decorate with Easter motif.

Karo adds delicious flavor to your "Peachy Dandy" . . . and Karo does more—makes it creamier, easier to fold in egg whites, easier to blend all ingredients into velvety-smoothness. Karo is available in pint and quart bottles; in 5 and 10 lb. cans.

flashing a ready grin, Mr. Utterback shook his head at my question.

He thought a moment. Outside, cars whizzed by on Highway 346, a blacktop road through fields of black dirt and kingsize corn stalks. Inside, a record player gave forth with the vigorous tune written in 1857 by William Pitts, a country physician. Over and over it played, softly, persistently.

"You're asking if the Little Brown Church has a heart," Mr. Utterback summarized. "Let me give you a couple illustrations and you can decide for yourself."

He told the story of the middle-aged couple who had stood on the brink of a semantical disaster. During their wedding ceremony, Mr. Utterback had asked the bridegroom (a widower):

"Will you love, cherish, honor, comfort and keep her in sickness and in health; and forsaking all other women, keep yourself only unto her; so long as you both shall live?"

"I'll try," answered the bridegroom.

The clergyman's mouth dropped open. The flabbergasted bride-to-be reddened, wheeled and dashed past her friends and out the church.

The marriage appeared over before it began. But Mr. Utterback and his wife, Ruth, stepped into the picture. They took the distraught couple aside and talked to them at length.

Had the bridegroom been as arrogant as his answer indicated?

No. In fact, he was quite humble, ascertained the 27th pastor of the Little Brown Church. The bridegroom's first marriage had been less than successful and he felt he was partly at fault.

His "I'll try" answer merely indicated that he would try with all his heart to make the union a fruitful one.

The minister and his wife set the couple down to a home-cooked meal in the Utterback's residence in nearby Nashua. Two hours later, they became man and wife.

"And do you know that I still get a card from them every Christmas," Mr. Utterback said. "The husband always ends it by saying:

"And I'm still trying."

Mr. Utterback has married some 30,000 couples in his long career in the ministry, but for all his romanticism, he has a pragmatic side, too.

The Little Brown Church, I found, possesses a magical quality. The visitor feels a deep sense of respect and humility in its hallowed interior. Its bucolic simplicity and solemnity melt away one's cynicism and "worldly sophistication."

The marriage shrine is used so often that the energetic minister has united 18 couples in a single day.

"From 8 in the morning till 11 at night," he said.

"But I don't mind. Marriage is one of the most sacred and holy gifts God gave to man. Each one is a source of great joy to me."

Those who wait impatiently on a busy summer day, however, sometimes regard the ritual in another light, he said.

"One sizzling day in July a couple arrived without appointment, wanting to get married. I told them to wait, and I'd try to squeeze them in.

"Three hours later, they were still sitting in the back pew. As I passed by them after a wedding, I remarked: 'I see you're still PATIENTLY waiting.'"

"No sir," the bridegroom answered respectfully. "We're just waiting."

Some 1,000 couples are married each year at the Little Brown Church (an average of almost three per day). Rarely are any of them similar.

Mr. Utterback has had faintings (once both the bride and groom went down), a "hypnotized" groom who had to be nudged in the ribs to respond, and innumerable delayed ceremonies.

"I always look at the size of the father when the bridegroom tells me he forgot the wedding ring or marriage license—at home 150 miles away," the preacher quipped.

Mr. Utterback has had several triple weddings (once a mother and her son and daughter). He also permitted an Indian chief to sing to his bride during the marriage rite.

On another occasion, the Utterbacks took in a confused, hurt young man; the best man at a wedding there earlier in the day. He had been naive enough to think that he would ride back to St. Paul with his brother and sister-in-law.

After a hot meal and some help with the bus fare, the youth boarded a bus for home.

Does the Little Brown Church have a heart? There is little doubt in my mind.

EUROPEAN JET HOLIDAY

By Jerry Curren

Have you heard . . . Midwesterners are going to Europe in 1966. Many are going to be going on Farm and Home's 1966 European Jet Holiday. You can go, too, . . . it doesn't cost much.

Departure dates have been set for this 1966 Jet Holiday. At first, it was thought a choice of four departure dates would be offered. However, in looking over the accommodations in European hotels during certain times of 1966, Farm and Home Section decided that in order to give the midwestern traveler the best for his money, only three departure dates should be offered on the European Jet Holiday and that these dates be: May 10, September 13, and October 11.

The 1966 European Jet Holiday includes 22 days for $799.00 from New York City and back! This makes the tour one of the most inexpensive first class tours ever offered to Europe.

Realizing that midwesterners like to travel with midwesterners, this Farm and Home 1966 European Jet Holiday will have people just like yourself going to Europe . . . and most of them for the first time. Knowing that midwesterners are somewhat concerned when confronted with foreign travel, Farm and Home Section has undertaken the responsibility of making all the arrangements, assuring those going on the European Jet Holiday of top notch hotels, air conditioned motor coaches while in Europe, excellent food, choice international transportation plus the best there is to see on the continent. The world's most renowned airline — Pan American World Airways — has been signed by Farm and Home Section as the official airline for this 1966 European Jet Holiday. A Pan American Jet Clipper will take those going on the European tour from New York City to the first stop on the European itinerary — Amsterdam. From Amsterdam, the members of the tour will travel all over Europe via motor coaches ending up at Paris, France. There, another Pan American Jet Clipper will pick up the tour and fly them to London, England. Following a few days in London, members of the tour will again board a Pan American Jet Clipper for the return trip to the United States.

Perhaps if you have always dreamed of visiting Europe, you might like to see the day by day itinerary which comprises this Farm and Home 1966 European Jet Holiday. We at Farm and Home Section have tried to arrange what we thought most midwesterners would like to see in Europe. Let's briefly outline our travel schedule for this tour.

FIRST DAY — Leave New York's Kennedy International Airport on Pan American Airways and fly to Amsterdam, Holland.

SECOND DAY — Arrive in Amsterdam early in the morning, transfer to hotel and lunch there. After lunch, a sight seeing trip to the islands of Marken and Volendam. In the evening, a canal cruise through the canals of Amsterdam.

These 10-Minute Tests Will Make You Up To $1500 or More This Season

The Sudbury Soil Test Kit Tells Right Away How Much Nitrogen, Phosphate, Potash to Use for Better Crops
IT'S EASY TO MAKE YOUR OWN TESTS RIGHT ON YOUR FARM

No packing up samples to mail, no waiting for reports—you get your answers right away.

Know at once what fertilizer your soil lacks in each field, for each crop. It takes little time and may save weeks, sometimes a month or more. And no outsider can know your land as well as you do.

You'll want to test knolls, hollows, and level ground separately. The Sudbury Soil Test Kit avoids wasting fertilizer on one and not using enough on the other, saves money and makes money for you.

An Illinois farmer "guessed" he needed 235 tons limestone but tests showed he didn't, saved him $500 that bought the phosphate his land really needed.

CORN, SOYBEANS AND ALL FARM CROPS, INCLUDING PASTURES, REQUIRE A BALANCED DIET

These tests compared corn grown on properly fertilized soil (No. 1), with adverse effects from depleted soil. Ear 2 lacked nitrogen; 3 needed phosphate; 4 had insufficient potash, which also caused stalk rot and lodging. Your Sudbury Soil Test Kit protects you from plant hangers that decrease top yield.

Even Your First Tests Will Pay You for Your Soil Test Kit Over and Over Again!

Get More Bushels or Tons per Acre, at Lower Cost

Soil testing shows the way to making more money. You can expect bumper yields up to 225 bu. corn per acre, 100 bu. wheat, 30 tons tomatoes, 5 tons hay, twice as much milk from pastures.

It takes the first 50 bu. of corn to meet your costs — the more you grow per acre, the lower your cost, the more you make. You save money too. Fertilizing by guess wastes both time and money.

Easy As Reading A Thermometer NO KNOWLEDGE OF CHEMISTRY NEEDED

These simple 10-minute do-it-yourself tests cost less than 20c each, tell right away what kinds of fertilizer and how much each field needs for top yield.

Expensive nitrogen, also manure and cover crops, may be wasted if you don't have enough phosphate. Most soils need more. You'll always know how much nitrogen, phosphate, potash and lime to feed your soil for bumper crops.

FULL STANDS YIELD MORE FEED

Joseph Faivre has found that fields planted to full capacity not only yield better, but control weeds and hold down evaporation.

Yields are just as important to a livestock feeder as to a grain farmer. The extra yield that results from a little extra effort can be the difference between a profit and a loss on the stock in your lots.

As farmers and experts at the Corn Soybean Clinics pointed out during winter meetings, you have to go through the same motions for a big yield as a small one—plowing, planting, cultivating, and harvesting—so you might just as well plant thick and aim for all you can get.

Skimping on seed at planting is about as practical as taking long steps to save your shoes. Seed makes up only 3% to 5% of your crop costs. By spending a little extra for seed of the right variety and planting enough to get a full stand, you can boost yields by 15% to 30%.

Making those figures a little more meaningful, let's say you have 100 acres of corn and it costs you $2 an acre for the extra seed needed to plant the soil to its full capacity. If you get a 15 bushel increase per acre (studies show that's easily possible with high plant populations), the extra corn on the 100 acres would add up to $1,500 on $1 corn.

Just how thick should you plant corn? Since experience is the best teacher, Farm and Home Section put that question to some top farmers around the Midwest. Here's what they told us:

"I make a point of planting all the corn my ground can handle," says Bob Gabeline, Louisa County, Iowa. "I planted 22,500 kernels per acre last year, and aimed for a final stand of 21,000 plants." He's experimented with several different populations, and feels 21,000 is best for his soil.

"If I can average 140 bushels on all my corn ground, I'm pretty satisfied," Gabeline states matter-of-factly. "If I don't reach that, I'm a little disappointed. And if I can get more, I'll take it!" He fell just short of his goal last year, with a 135 bushel average on 595 acres.

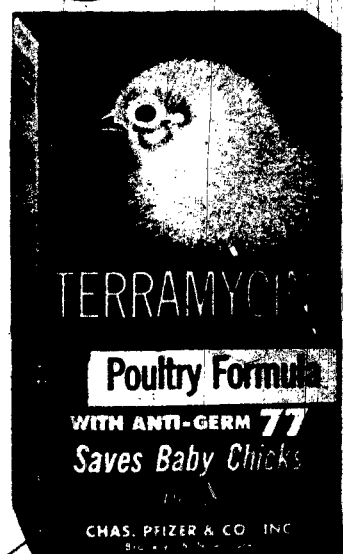

Another farmer-feeder who squeezes out every last bushel his soil is capable of yielding is Melvin Nefstead, Kings, Illinois. "I kept running small test plots each year, and kept increasing my population until I got it so high that I got some barren stalks. I've found that a stand of around 20,000 plants per acre is best for my soil."

Then Nefstead makes a good point: "I think every farmer has to feel out his own soil to see what population is best. You just can't pick a population that someone else found best. Soils differ from farm to farm, and in my own case, they often differ from field to field."

Nefstead has apparently hit the right formula for his soil—he harvested over 80,000 bushels from his 800 acres of corn land last year. With better rainfall, he might have reached 100,000.

Despite dry conditions in his part of the country, Clarence W. James, Pennville, Indiana, averaged 135 bushels per acre on his thickly planted corn ground. James put down 20,000 plants per acre, and plans to go higher this year. He feels he hasn't reached the saturation point yet.

Another farmer who's pushing populations up is Joseph Faivre, DeKalb, Illinois. He planted at different populations to suit the fertility of his various fields, ranging from 19,000 to as high as 24,000 plants per acre. As a result, he averaged better than 110 bushels on his 300 acres of corn land last year.

All three of these farmers point out the importance of supplying plenty of fertilizer to support the heavy seeding rates. They treat their soil like a spoiled child - anything it wants, it gets. Soil tests are used extensively.

You Can Have More Yields With Soybeans Too

For soybeans, narrower rows are helping soybean growers to increase populations per acre, and are resulting in substantially higher yields. Most soybean growers agree that there's as much or more reason to plant soybeans in narrow rows than there is to plant corn in narrow rows.

One grower who has evidence of that fact is Otto "Spike" Geriets, Petersburg, Illinois. "I tried some 30-inch corn rows last year, and while I had the narrow row planter I decided to try narrow rows on half of my soybeans, too. The soybean yields were even more impressive than the corn - I got 45 bushels per acre on the narrow rows compared to 37 bushels on the regular rows. This year I'm planting all of my soybeans in 30-inch rows."

Colleges support Geriets' results: "Row widths of 20 to 24 inches will yield about 15% more than rows of 40 to 42 inches," reports C. R. Weber, of Iowa State University. "Regardless of row width, however, you should plant good germinating, inoculated seed at 12 beans per foot of row," he advises.

The economics of high population makes good sense: The extra seed per acre to plant 24-inch rows may cost $2 to $3 - but a 15% yield increase can return $10 to $11 worth of extra soybeans.

Contrary to the popular belief that fertilizer doesn't pay on soybean ground, some growers who insure high fertility with special applications are getting up to 8 bushels more per acre. They report that bean plants are 5 to 6 inches higher on fertilized acres - allowing more space for bean pods to form.

For either corn or beans, there are some obvious advantages of thicker planting that some farmers never think of. Faivre points out several: "Weeds aren't nearly as big a problem in heavy populations. They need sun to do well, and once thick crops get past waist high, weeds see about as much sun as a coal miner.

"Another thing, shade really cuts down on evaporation. Nearly every drop of rain you get soaks in - very little is steamed off," he says.

I made a hog of myself

on

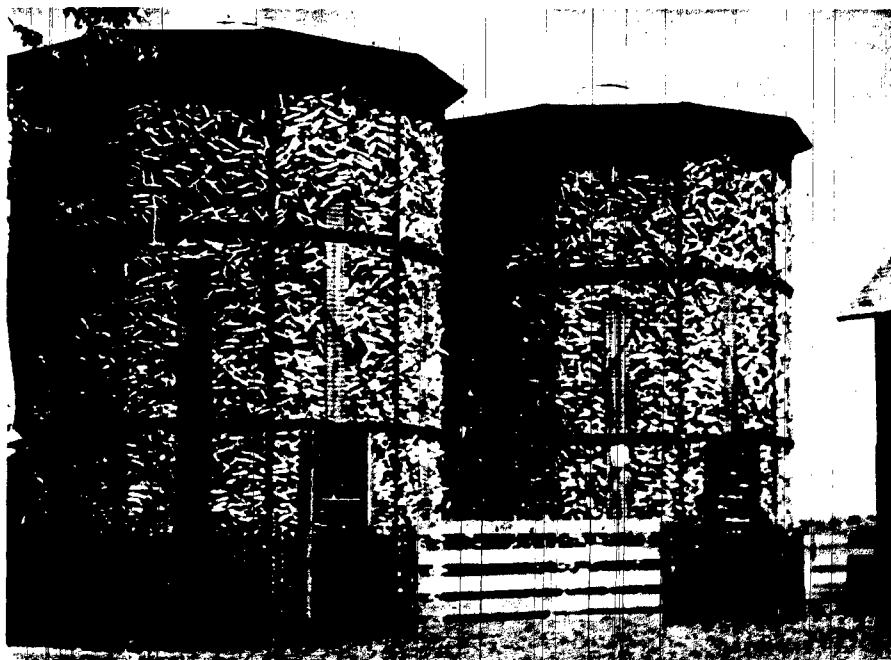

It's logical. The more grain you grow, the more hogs you can feed out. So be "hoggish" when it comes to corn yields. Plant modern DeKalb Brand XL Hybrid Varieties. They're bred for more tolerance to disease and insects. Bred for thick planting and high fertility. Bred to stand . . . to shell out bigger yields of plump, energy-rich grain. Plant all DeKalb Brand Breakthru and XL Corn Varieties.

This field sign identifies a wise choice in seed corn. "DEKALB" is a Registered Brand Name. "XL" is a variety designation.

MORE FARMERS PLANT DEKALB THAN ANY OTHER BRAND

Planting to capacity and choosing the best hybrids for your farm can mean an extra 15 to 20 bushels of livestock feed per acre.

You'll never know how high your yield per acre can go...

AMIBEN

WEED CONTROL

Weeds eat profits. Get rid of them before they start to grow with one pre-emergence application of Amiben when you plant. If you use top management, how many beans you take off at harvest depends upon how good your weed control is from the start.

One application of Amiben when you plant kills most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses—keeps fields clean until harvest. This means there is no weed competition for nutrients, moisture and light throughout the growing season—no delays at harvest, waiting for weeds to freeze off—or shattering losses from having to hit bean plants hard with the combine reel. You get lower moisture beans—higher quality beans, and more of 'em. And they return more profit to your pocket.

Amiben is clean, easy to handle, leaves no residue in the soil. It costs just $3.34 per acre banded at the 2 lb. rate recommended for most soils—returns many times its value in extra bushels harvested when good soybean management practices are followed.

See your farm supply dealer today for Amiben—your best assurance of outstanding weed control in beans—and today's No. 1 soybean herbicide by a wide margin.
