Decision on Fairgrounds Will Be Made Coming Week

Ordinarily it could be said, "If you don't believe what we're describing, go see for yourself." This is not true of the Wayne County Fairgrounds where a decision is expected next week on what to do about storm-damaged property.

Why not drive out to see for yourself? Because the nails, wire and debris scattered around are of the fire-puncturing variety and until a clean-up campaign is held, fires are not safe.

A meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Apr. 21, at 8:30 p.m. in the Wayne City Auditorium for stockholders. Everyone in the area is welcome to attend.

A windstorm several weeks ago did demolish the grandstand. It is felt that this must be repaired, abandoned or replaced before fair time rolls around again.

Parts of the roof were blown over a block away. The entire grandstand is in gobs and some of the supporting posts are fragments.

Other buildings at the fairgrounds have also been damaged. Some can be repaired but a lot of money would be required to bring the entire fairgrounds into shape.

Plans for modernizing the fairgrounds will be presented next week. These plans include some changes in locations for various structures and a lot of rearranging before another fair is held.

Consideration will be given to abandoning the fair, providing See FAIRGROUNDS — page 2

Teachers Elect for Coming School Year

Wayne County Rural Teachers Association met Tuesday afternoon in the courthouse court room. Officers for the coming school year were elected.

Re-elected as president was Mrs. Zita Jenkins, Carroll. She was in charge of the business session which was concerned with topics relating to the Nebraska State Education Association.

In addition to Mrs. Jenkins, other officers elected are: vice president, Mrs. Irene Koch, Winside; secretary, Mrs. Florence M. Wayne; and treasurer, Mrs. Flo Sandahl, Wayne.

A committee served refreshments at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Marilyn Svoboda headed that group.

Kiwanis Delegates to Convention Selected

Delegates to the international convention of Kiwanis were selected at Monday noon's meeting of the organization at the Woman's Club Rooms. President Harold Ingalls and Raymond Schreiner were chosen.

The international convention will be held in Portland, Ore., this summer. Delegates are expected from most of the countries in the free world.

James Sandstett of the state aeronautics department was guest speaker. He told of the relationship of airports and small towns, accenting the importance of airports in attracting business.

Guests were Julie Sandstett and Dennis Kellon, both of Wahoo. They accompanied the aeronautics official to Wayne for the session.

The Spook Speaks

A Wayne State student tells about his high school alma mater, which is now consolidated and is offering track for the first time. A was in the first practice track meet. A was in the second and C was third. Failing to understand the 100 was on a straight track, A rounded the curve, B hesitated unsure as to whether or not to follow him and C ran straight ahead to finish first.

One of the youngest "politicians" in Wayne is Jonathan Ley. His father is candidate for mayor. Recently Jonathan showed up at his first grade class with a box of pins, one for each classmate. They are "Ley for Governor" pins.

So assured was the assistant stage manager when "Alaceme Butterfly" was being presented here, she went swimming in the Rice Auditorium pool during the performance. Other places she has worried and stuck close behind scenes. Here she was fully confident of the regular performers and the boy "find" as she swam.

Cubs Seek Bottles

Any pop bottles accumulating around your house? Cub Scouts of Pack 175 would like to have them. They will hold a pop bottle collection drive Saturday, Apr. 23, starting at 9:30 a.m. Proceeds will be used for various projects and the summer recreation plans. If you have bottles and no one calls, telephone The Herald and ask for Chas or call Bob Goshorn or Bud Froehlich.

Over 3,000 Coming for Music Meet

Over 3,000 musicians from 34 high schools are expected in Wayne Apr. 22-23 for the annual District III music contest. Dr. Raymond Kellon of Wayne State College is in charge.

While not all 3,000 will be here at the same time, there will be large numbers of visitors in town all three days. Again this year the Wayne Chamber of Commerce will provide free bus transportation between downtown and the campus for one or more days.

Schools to be represented are Allen, Bancroft, Becemer, Bloomfield, Colverdale, Crofton, Emerson, Hubbard, Hartington, Hartington Cedar Catholic, Honer, Laurel, Madison, Newcastle, Norfolk, Burns, Osmond, Pender, Pierce, Plainview.

Ponce, Randolph, Randolph St. Frances, Rosalie, South Sioux City, Stanton, Tilden, Wakefield, Walthill, Wausa, Wayne, West Point, West Point Central, Wymore, Wisniet, Wyanet and Wynn.

Chamber of Commerce Plans Agri-Business Day April 23

An Agri-Business day will be held in Wayne Saturday, April 23. Farmers will be guests of businessmen for a full day of special events.

Starting at 10 a.m., farmers and their wives will meet with local businessmen at the various business places. At 11:30, the businessmen will take the farm couples to lunch.

Following the meal, a guided tour of Wayne State College will be provided for all. This will be followed by a program at the City Auditorium with democratic and republican candidates. The governor, Bill Sorenson and Northern Plainsman, Frank Rostenkowski, both will follow.

Second and Pearl Streets will be blocked off in one area for displays of new farm equipment and machinery arranged by Wayne dealers. Bargains are to be offered at many stores of all types in the city.

Jaycees will hold a drawing for four quarters of beef and a whole hog at the auditorium following the candidates' talks. Coffee and refreshments will be served by the Kiwanis Club.

Each businessman or professional man may invite one or more farmer (and wives) as guests. It is an effort to promote good will with many merchants joining three civic groups in promoting the day.

One Inducted This Week; Five Leave Last of Month

One Wayne County youth left Monday for induction into the armed forces. Five more are scheduled for induction later this month.

Mrs. Mary Graef of the selective service office reports the Apr. 28 call will include five for induction and 14 for physicals. This will include those originally scheduled to leave Mar. 23.

Leaving for induction Monday was Kenneth Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jensen, who farm stores sponsoring the promotional effort appear in an ad on an inside page this week.

SEVERE DAMAGE to the fairgrounds grandstand is Al Bahe, secretary of the group that sponsors the fair. There was a roof here once but roof, supports and other portions were damaged during a severe wind storm several weeks ago.

Gloomy Weather Held Over in This Region

Cloudy, moist and cool weather was held over for another week in this region. Unspringlike, it offered a chilliness that was gloom-provoking and unwelcome.

Wind blew much of the time and that made each day seem more gloomy and the temperatures seem colder than they were. The sunny days of spring were to be replaced by rain, according to forecasts and only then would sunshine follow.

High temperatures the past week were in the 50s with lows mostly in the 30s. The mercury fell to its degree Saturday for the week's low.

A change is in order and may be on its way. As soon as a stationary low moves out, the weather should become springier.

Scheduled Airline Service Decision Due for Wayne

A meeting of all persons interested in scheduled airline service for Wayne will be held Friday, Apr. 15, at 10 a.m. in the new Chamber of Commerce office on West Third Street.

An effort is being made to determine what firms or individuals would be interested in using scheduled air service out of Wayne. Freight and passenger service is proposed on the Norfolk-Sioux City-Omaha route by West Central Airlines.

If you feel you would use air service, call the Chamber office or The Herald. Response to the need may determine what action is taken.

Directorships cost $10,000 but this amount is to be kept in escrow for 18 months at which time it can be withdrawn if those putting up the money feel that they do not wish to continue with the line. By that time, however, it is presumed everyone will want to remain.

West Central Airlines officials have kept in contact with Wayne business and professional leaders regarding the proposal. The airline wants to land here and will have a route scheduled over Wayne but it is up to local people to decide whether or not it will be used.

This will be the "moment of decision" for the plan as far as is known. If directors are not found and interest is lacking, Wayne will not get the air service and freight and passenger status will remain just as it has been for years.

Kite Derbies Scheduled in City Sunday

Both Cub Scout packs in Wayne will be holding kite derbies Sunday. With all the wind the area has been having for two weeks, it is hoped there is at least a breeze left over for the Sunday event.

Cub Scout Pack 175 will hold its kite derby at 2 p.m. at the Wayne Municipal Airport. Pack 174 will hold its derby at the same time at Wayne State College.

There will be prizes in each of three divisions at the derbies. In addition, each boy entering will get an award for competing.

The three divisions are: Altitude, for the kite going highest in the air; distance, for the kite using the most string (some kites may go farther but not as high as others); and far artistic effort, reflecting the amount of work boys have put into kites.

All entries have to be home made and parents and friends are welcome to attend and cheer their favorites. In case of rain or other "impossible" weather, the derbies will have to be postponed.

County 4-H Speech Fete Will Be Saturday Morning

Saturday, April 16, at 10 a.m. the top winners and each entrant will receive a ribbon and a cash reward.

The district contest will be held in Wayne Saturday, April 16. All counties participating will be allowed to send the top boy and the top girl from the senior division.

Topics are chosen by the 4-H members but must relate to 4-H work or 4-H interests. Senior members are limited to six to eight minutes and junior members to four to six minutes.

Nancy Powers will be the judge for the affair. Prizes will go to the top winners and each entrant will receive a ribbon and a cash reward.

County Agent Harold Ingalls reports that youngsters will compete in the divisions. The junior division will be for those 9-13 years of age and the senior division for those 14 and over.

Fluoridation of water, a proposed 24-unit apartment complex new hours at the landfill site changes in the electric rates by industry and a clearing Wayne were among the topics discussed Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Wayne city council.

The meeting lasted so long, all business could not be handled. A recess was called until Wednesday afternoon when building permits previously referred to the zoning commission were to be discussed.

Fluoridation of water was the main topic. A Fluor from the department cost a $110,000 total health had met with the council previously at his request. He said of what other towns have done what others are doing and what some are planning.

His report shows that in many cities is naturally fluoridated in Wayne the water tests 5 when it should test at least 7 with 12 fluoridated water. He thinks Nebraska ranks 4th in fluoridation in water but some states have more natural fluoridation than that state.

The difference between a test of 5 and 12 does not amount as it would be too much but the difference can cut cavities in teeth to one-eighth the total without fluoridated water. And for older people it means a saving of 30 percent of dental work.

Dr. Mark Mumby, director of the department of dental health for Nebraska, has requested that Wayne do something about its water. The council agreed Tuesday night to make a study of fluoridation.

When the council has made a study, the facts will be presented to the public. It is hoped this can be done soon enough so that the issue of fluoridating or not fluoridating can be put on the ballot this fall. At present the cost is estimated at 10 cents a year per person.

Browning Family Back in Wayne for Another Show

Remember the Browning family? Members appeared here in January for the Chamber of Commerce annual dinner and won a claim. They're coming back.

The Izak Walton League signed the family for an appearance here Tuesday, Apr. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Wayne City Auditorium. Tickets are being sold in advance or may be purchased at the door.

There are ten members of the family, mother, father, six daughters and two sons. They are blessed with a variety of talents and live them in putting on a show entertaining to people of all ages.

When they last appeared here they sang songs, played instruments, danced, performed ventriloquism acts, told jokes and put on a variety of acts in colorful costumes. Almost everyone agreed at the time that they would like to have the Brownings back.

Tuesday night the general public will get to see and hear a show, one which only Chamber members and guests witnessed in January. However, the show being put on Tuesday is an entirely new one so those who were present in January will see numbers they have not seen before.

The likes are putting on the show to raise money for projects at the lake. One of the main features they wish to add is a gravel-rock road from the county road down to the lake.

Support of the program will be appreciated by the sponsoring group. Those who attend will be helped with Izak Walton work and will be guaranteed an evening of family-type entertainment.

Entries came from Wayne, Carroll, Hoskins, Winside and Wakefield. Each of the contestants received a ballpoint pencil with Lions insignia and the four top winners received plaques.

Olete Sharov was master of ceremonies. Keeping the show moving by appearing to announce each number attired in a different type hat ranging from football helmet to Easter bonnet. Harold Maciejewski, Wes Plueger and Pat Atkins were cited for efforts in putting on the show and President Lowell Johnson was on hand with the awards from the Lions.

Three at Omaha School

Three area young men were among 33 University of Nebraska students participating in the annual livestock marketing school in Omaha Monday and Tuesday. All were in livestock courses at NU. They were assigned to stock buyers and toured the stockyards, Livestock Exchange Building, grocery distribution center and attended meetings.

Participating from this area were Lauren Boeckman, Wayne; Loren Schreiner, Wisner; and Mike Munter, Laurel.

The announcement of the kindergarten round-up was made last week. However, the request for parents to contact the principal was overlooked.

Northeast Elementary will have round-up Apr. 19 at 1:30. West Elementary, Apr. 20 at 9:30 for those in A-L and 2:30 for those M-Z, and Carroll Elementary, Apr. 19 at 2:30.

Northeast serves the area north of Seventh or East of Lincoln. West serves the area south of Seventh or west of Lincoln. Carroll serves the town of Carroll and the rural area included in District 17.

Disappointing was the failure of West Point and South Sioux City to send delegates. Those two towns were among the original five that started the project rolling. It was chiefly at getting information circulated on the need for vocational-technical schools, the meeting was to be considered a success. For many of the men and women present, it was the first time they had gained definite ideas on what is being considered.

Lions Club Talent Winners Selected

Three girls and a boy won trophies in the Wayne Lions club talent show at the City Auditorium Tuesday night before a full street crowd. Entrants in the senior division failed to show up.

First place winners in the junior and intermediate divisions will go to the district talent contest at Lovoa May 1. Winners there go to the state talent show in Alliance.

There were four entrants in the senior division originally but none were present. Two were from Winside where an awards banquet and dance conflicted with the show.

Steve Carman, Wayne, won the intermediate division with piano solo and Patty Dangberg, Wayne, won the junior division with a vocal solo. Second place winners were Debbie Jaeger, Winside; Dawn Carman, Winside; and Dawn Carman, Wayne, piano solo.

Another Step Taken Toward Getting Area Vocational-Technical School

Another step towards establishment of a Northeast Nebraska vocational technical school was taken Monday night when representatives of over 30 towns attended a meeting in Neligh at which further information was supplied.

National Bank of Neligh and Neligh Chamber of Commerce hosted the affair and Bob Carhart of Wayne was in charge. Carhart was named chairman of a steering committee earlier this year and that committee sponsored the Monday session for all area towns.

Disappointing was the failure of West Point and South Sioux City to send delegates. Those two towns were among the original five that started the project rolling. It was chiefly at getting information circulated on the need for vocational-technical schools, the meeting was to be considered a success. Parents of children who will be entering kindergarten in any of the Wayne schools this fall are asked to call Principal Loren Park at 375-3150 prior to Monday, Apr. 18.

Personable African Students at Concord This Week to Learn More About Farming

Six personable young students from Nigeria and Uganda, Africa, are in Wayne and Concord this week. They are spending Easter vacation studying agriculture in this part of the state.

In a strange land, they proved polite, well-mannered, interesting and considerate. In fact, it was remarked that if US students abroad conveyed an impression as good as these young folks do, our country would be much more respected and admired.

A. D. Stoesz, NU technical leader, accompanied the six University of Nebraska students here. He reports they are all here for their first year of a four-year ABE program under a contract between NU and their countries.

Why Nebraska? Because the swine and beef program is so well-rounded. They wanted to contact farmers and see how operations are carried out on farms in a beef-swine area.

Five are from Nigeria, Victor Umuano, Samuel Bioku, Com-fort Olanubi, Adahaga, Miss Oyinlola, Emmanuel Oyinlola, Absolom Wandera is from Uganda.

They found quite a change in climate. Coming from an area along the equator, they were used to temperatures that never fall below 60, no snow and ever-warm weather.

"We might find it difficult to get used to their foods and they found it just as difficult to get used to ours. Their diets consist mainly of rice, yam, plantain and fruit. The yam is no relation to our sweet potato and can be fixed as many ways as a potato can. It's because of us that they are here. One of their aims is to return to Africa with new ideas on developing the beef industry and getting more protein in their diets. Right now everyone gets plenty to eat but not of the right type of food.

Nigeria is divided into four areas. West, East, Midwest and North. The northern part is grassland with about 25 inches of rain a year and Muslims in the majority. The southern part is tropical rain forest with 100 inches of rain a year. Five times the size of Nebraska, Nigeria has 20 times the population of this state alone.

The students said their countries export oil seed, cotton, rubber, cocoa beans and peanuts. Much more comes in as important is exported.

Obviously talented and well-educated, the young people attended grade school, high school and agricultural school. Some graduated, some had less time in the latter school. They were chosen on the basis of grades, performance in the school of agriculture and English-speaking ability.

What don't they like about schools here? The same thing American students don't like —

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

A Tired American Gets Angry

Occasionally someone runs across something in his reading that sticks in his mind or stands out above everything else. The following editorial written by Alan C. McIntosh, publisher of The Star Herald in Luverne, Minn., is such. It has caused quite a stir around the country and has been reprinted in many magazines and in a variety of papers. The ideas it touches on should stick in the mind of every thinking person who reads it. We hope they do a little more than just stick.

I am a tired American. I'm tired of being called the ugly American.

I'm tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.

I am a tired American — weary of having American Embassies and information centers stoned, burned and sacked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach peace and breed conflict.

I am a tired American — choked up to here on this business of trying to intimidate our Government by placard, picket line, and sit-ins by the hordes of dirty unwashed who rush to man the barricades against the forces of law, order and decency.

I am a tired American — weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.

I am a tired American — fed up with the mobs of scabby-faced, long-haired youths and short-haired girls who claim they represent the "new wave" of America and who sneer at the old-fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity and morality on which America grew to greatness.

I am a tired American — weary of the bearded bums who tramp the picket lines and the sit-ins — who prefer Chinese communism to capitalism — who see no evil in Castro, but sneer at President Johnson as a threat to peace.

I am a tired American — who has lost all patience with that civil rights group which is showing propaganda movies on college campuses from coast to coast — movies denouncing the United States, movies made in Communist China.

I am a tired American — who is weary of some Negro leaders who, for shock purposes, scream four-letter words in church meetings.

I am a tired American — who resents those who try to peddle the belief in schools and colleges that capitalism is a dirty word and that free enterprise and private initiative are only synonyms for greed. They say they hate capitalism, but they are always right at the head of the line demanding their share of the American way of life.

I am a tired American — real tired of those who are trying to sell me the belief that America is not the greatest nation in all the world — a generous hearted nation — a nation dedicated to the policy of trying to help the "have nots" achieve some of the good things that our system of free enterprise brought about.

I am a tired American — who gets more than a little bit weary of the clique in our State Department which chooses to regard a policy of timidity as prudent — the same group which subscribes to a "no win" policy in Vietnam.

I am a tired American — who thanks a merciful Lord that he was lucky to be born an American citizen — a nation under God, with truly mercy and justice for all.

Where Else But Wayne

Where else but Wayne could two fundraising drives be held at the same time?

The Chamber of Commerce is seeking funds to pay for its new offices in a building which is certainly going to reflect credit upon our community. Meanwhile, the Wayne county fair board is seeking money to pay for a new grandstand which would contribute much to the fair's future.

Sure, all of Wayne county will support the fund drive for the new grandstand, but Wayne will be expected to do its part. Many of those giving most generously for the grandstand will also be listed among the big donors for the C. C. building. Both drives probably will be successful. When you look at the names of those who are working on them, you know at once these projects are worth supporting.

So, even though it would be a bit harder if one drive had been in the fall and the other in the spring, it is expected that both will be successful. That's the way Wayne and Wayne county do things.

If you can't give to both, give to one. If you can't give to either, offer help. If you can give to both and help too, you're a real winner! —CEG

Nature Lovers - Advertisers Disagree Over Regulations

LINCOLN—Nature lovers and outdoor advertising interests in Nebraska have collided in a long-awaited battle over proposed regulations under the federal highway beautification act.

The showdown came at a hearing in the State Capitol before the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads official.

The beautification act was passed last year by Congress at the urging of President Johnson — and his wife. It outlaws advertising on the Interstate and Primary Highway Systems within 660 feet (about two city blocks) of the right-of-way.

However, some signs will be allowed in so-called commercial or industrial areas. How many and where will be up to the Commerce Department.

State Engineer John Hossack said the proposed billboard control standards were too restrictive. He suggested they be liberalized to permit community-type signs and other advertising.

Billboard control has strong backing from garden clubs, auto associations and civic groups, who do not want the beauty of the countryside interrupted by multi-colored commercials for cigarettes, whisky and hotels.

It has been attacked by opponents who claim it is an infringement on personal property rights and contrary to the free enterprise philosophy.

Nebraska now is one of 25 states that ban outdoor advertising along the Interstate Highway.

should be a good season for the irrigators if normal weather conditions develop, including average rainfall.

White little snow fell in eastern and southern sections, Jones said there was adequate precipitation. He said surface and subsurface moisture conditions are regarded as good.

Former Legislator Dies
Franz C. Radke, former state legislator and Johnson county judge, died last week. He was 76.

Radke was a native of the Wynot area. He graduated from Wayne State College and the University of Nebraska.

He served a two-year term in the State Legislature from 1919 to 1921, and was a member of the 1919-20 Nebraska Constitutional Convention.

A Democrat, Radke was a private secretary of former Gov. Charles Bryan. He served as Johnson County judge from 1924 until 1929 when he became Peunioch city attorney.

A veteran of World War I, he was a Lincoln resident for the past 32 years.

Reject Proposals
The University of Nebraska Board of Regents has rejected proposed bids on a multi-million dollar dormitory complex on the downtown campus.

The low bid was slightly more than $2 million, compared to the architect's estimate of $6,430,000.

The plans included construction of three high-rise dormitories and a food service center in a two-block area north of the women's athletic field.

Water Users
Simple Water Resources Director Dan Jones Jr. reports the outlook is bright for irrigation farming in Nebraska this year despite a scarcity of snow last winter.

He said most major reservoirs are full or near full to conservation pool levels.

"Generally," Jones said, "this

Branding Method Developed

A painless method of branding livestock with intense cold — rather than heat — has been developed by a U. S. Department of Agriculture scientist.

In addition to being painless, freeze branding causes less hide damage than hot branding.

Another advantage of freeze branding is the growth of white hair and skin at the brand site, making the brands easy to spot at long distances.

The immediate effects of freeze branding on the skin of an animal are swelling, redness, and hair loss. Later, a growth of white hair and skin depigmentation occurs where the iron touched.

The simplest and most economical way is the 30-second application of a brand made of copper and chilled in a dry ice-alcohol bath to -158 degrees F.

When You Buy Seeds

The first criteria of many people buying seeds is, "What does it cost?" But other considerations — such as kind and variety, purity, germination rate, and noxious-weed seeds present — are often more important and they're easy to check — by reading the label.

Truthful labeling is required under state seed laws as well as the Federal Seed Act, which applies to seed shipped across state lines.

Know Insurance Terms

When it comes to insurance, what do the words "liability" and "collateral" mean to you?

The first step in knowing your policy is to understand the terminology.

Liability as a provision of an insurance policy covers an obligation to pay someone because of your actions or negligence. Also included are the actions or negligence of someone else for whom you are responsible.

Collision coverage pays for damages to your car if involved in a collision with another automobile, object, or vehicle to which the automobile is attached. Upset of your auto also would be covered here.

This type of insurance is relatively expensive, so many people rely on "the other fellow" having liability insurance.

Antenna Troubles?

Television picture acting up? The problem may not be the set at all but the antenna. Recent heavy storms and gale winds damaged and threw out of alignment many Nebraska outdoor television antennas, adversely affecting the television picture.

Have a competent service man check for the following:

1. Antenna rods pushed out of adjustment by the strong winds.
2. The antenna itself pushed out of shape.
3. Loss of efficiency in the transmission line from the antenna to the receiver, due to weather exposure.
4. Loosened parts caused by expansion and contraction from temperature extremes.
5. Corroded parts from weather or chimney soot.

Way Back When

30 Years Ago

April 16, 1936: Boy Scouts of troop 175 began a project Monday for cleaning up the old LaPorte cemetery. The boys and their leader, Raymond Bowers, went to the cemetery Monday afternoon and burned all old grass and brush.

25 Years Ago

April 24, 1941: Coach J. H. Morrison will take his track team to Aberdeen, S. D. for a meet this Friday. Three were planted Sunday at the fair grounds through cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce Legion, Kiwanis and fair board. Among those helping with the work were R. W. Ley, H. B. Craven, Ed Sipsky, Carl Walters, Frank Heine, Claude Wagers, Sam Stele, Lester Becker and G. W. Albert.

citizens to cut back their consumer spending. He and his economic advisors have talked about an income tax hike to meet the rising costs.

What the President doesn't seem to realize is that consumers can't see cutting back their expenditures when their money is becoming cheaper by the day because of the government's runaway spending for new programs.

Consider the proposed rent subsidy program, which would enable low-income citizens to live beyond their means by having money to go over the top of a monthly check to help pay their rent.

It would solve no long term problem because it would not help any individual buy a new home.

The amount of money being requested this year to start the rent subsidy program is thirty million dollars and the estimated tax increase for the next four years will be one hundred fifty million even if the program is not expanded.

Multiply this by the other new programs and you soon realize why the experts are predicting the 110-billion dollar Federal budget will grow to 200 billion dollars in a few years. It is obvious why the President is trying to soften everyone up for a tax increase.

Frankly, I think the President is out of touch with the people and with conditions as they exist at the taxpayer level.

My trips home to Nebraska and my visits with people there have convinced me that a tax hike on top of the widening inflation bite will put more citizens on the poverty rolls than all of the Great Society's men and all of its programs can remove.

They are laughing in Washington about the ripple of the two houses in the vote on inflation.

President Johnson is foregoing the construction of a two-room addition to his Texas home so the government can build a new 750,000-dollar Washington home for Vice President Humphrey.

Ladies, do you have a new electric hair dryer? Be careful where you use it. A complaint from a woman in California to an article that calls dryers around water can cause electrocution. Using a dryer where the cord can be splashed or while having wet hands or standing in a puddle of water such as occurs around laundry appliances, can be dangerous.

Mothers are asked to caution their daughters. Instead of bathing or washing while using an electric hair dryer, relax or catch up on your reading. Be sure you know what you're talking about because we are sometimes shocked by current situations. We gain power by getting a little light on the subject but for now we'll switch to something more illuminating. Don't let the pins lead you away from the real subject — be careful with hair dryers.

The man received a ransom note from some gangsters: "If you do not send $1,000 immediately, we will kidnap your mother-in-law." The note said, and gave him instructions on how to proceed.

The man's reply was short: "I don't have that much money on hand — but your proposition interests me."

We steal this one from the Baptist church bulletin. If we are to make our life worth for Christ, we must work like a bee. One pound of honey represents the consecration of 62,000 clover blossoms. To calculate this amount, the bee makes 2,700,000 trips to and from flowers and travels about five million miles, beating his wings 180 times a second. To accomplish much for God, we must be busy as a bee.

"None," replied the farmer casually. "Did you fall off?"

We've been asked to find out if those "No Parking" signs in front of private homes are legal. So far we've been unable to find out but maybe by putting a paragraph about it we will find out. We can't see how anyone can keep you from parking legally any more, but we know they can keep you from parking as you like. — SASS —

We hate elections because someone has to be defeated. We especially hate it when the candidates are all friends. Mayor Chris Tiegen has been named to be our first mayor. He's been assisted by a charming wife and that's always an asset to any man. We know Dr. Keller will do his best to do a good job too and we're sure his wife is also nice. But we'll always have a special regard for Mr. and Mrs. Tiegen because they were "first lady" and maybe when we elect here and they don't make our first mayor's happy on it. — SASS —

Shirley: "I understand Meek is looking for a new job!"
Joe: "What he's supposed to be the one he just took."
Shirley: "Did I work he brought his new bride up to the office to show her off and took her into the boss's office. So you're Meek's boss," she asked. "I'm so glad to meet you. I've been working with him. He's been assisted by a charming wife and that's always an asset to any man. We know Dr. Keller will do his best to do a good job too and we're sure his wife is also nice. But we'll always have a special regard for Mr. and Mrs. Tiegen because they were "first lady" and maybe when we elect here and they don't make our first mayor's happy on it. — SASS —

The Laurel Airdie had its troubles last week. Its machine that is used to sit the headlines (such as we have on the front page) broke down. So the publisher left two columns or one-column block spaces above each news story on the front page and had a notice at the top of the front page something like this: "Write your own headlines. Your typesetting machine broke down." All newspaper have trouble. This is a new one. Why didn't we think of it some week when we were busy? You'd never have known whether the machine was really broken down or not. — SASS —

Joe: "Why is the girl who is the most beautiful but dumb usually the most popular?"
Shirley: "Because men don't mind if the attic is empty as long as the rest of the building is adequately furnished."

Breakfast—An Important Meal

Did you know that about 1/3 of all adults skip breakfast or skip it altogether?

1 out of every 5 school children starts the day with an inadequate breakfast?

2/3 of all teen-age girls skip or skip breakfast?

1/3 of all teen-age boys skip or skip breakfast?

What about your family? Does each member start the day with an adequate breakfast? Or do you find that all too often, lunch is the first meal of the day for your family.

Maybe it used to be that the family ate breakfast every morning and liked it, and they probably felt better. But gradually the family stopped observing the regular breakfast procedure, oversleeping and morning chores just crowded it out of the schedule. Other excuses often expressed by non-breakfast eaters are: do not like to eat alone, don't have time to fix it, other members of the family still asleep when they left home, breakfast was too much bother or they were dieting.

Instead the teen-ager eats a candy bar between classes to tide them over till lunch. Father gets his morning coffee break and Mother usually settles for a piece of left-over pie around 10 o'clock. However, this is not the kind of breakfast needed to get the day off to a good start.

Your family needs a satisfying, well-balanced meal before starting the day. Fortified with a good breakfast, they will keep alert and fit all morning long. They'll work better, play harder and get more accomplished. To make sure you are giving your family the nourishment they need at all three daily meals, use the Daily Food Guide.

The Guide suggests four basic food groups that include all the known nutrients and provide a foundation for a balanced diet. The groups are: (1) Milk and Dairy Foods, (2) Meats, Fish, Poultry, Eggs, (3) Fruits and Vegetables, (4) Cereals and Breads. Complete details are given in the Daily Food Guide.

A free copy is yours by writing: Nebraska Station, University of Nebraska, Concord, Nebraska 68728.

Well-balanced meals, along with adequate exercise and plenty of rest, are essential elements in keeping your family fit and healthy. So don't short-change your family's well-being by denying them and yourself the nourishment we all need to start each day right.

My trips home to Nebraska and my visits with people there have convinced me that a tax hike on top of the widening inflation bite will put more citizens on the poverty rolls than all of the Great Society's men and all of its programs can remove.

Ladies, do you have a new electric hair dryer? Be careful where you use it. A complaint from a woman in California to an article that calls dryers around water can cause electrocution. Using a dryer where the cord can be splashed or while having wet hands or standing in a puddle of water such as occurs around laundry appliances, can be dangerous.

Mothers are asked to caution their daughters. Instead of bathing or washing while using an electric hair dryer, relax or catch up on your reading. Be sure you know what you're talking about because we are sometimes shocked by current situations. We gain power by getting a little light on the subject but for now we'll switch to something more illuminating. Don't let the pins lead you away from the real subject — be careful with hair dryers.

The man received a ransom note from some gangsters: "If you do not send $1,000 immediately, we will kidnap your mother-in-law." The note said, and gave him instructions on how to proceed.

The man's reply was short: "I don't have that much money on hand — but your proposition interests me."

We steal this one from the Baptist church bulletin. If we are to make our life worth for Christ, we must work like a bee. One pound of honey represents the consecration of 62,000 clover blossoms. To calculate this amount, the bee makes 2,700,000 trips to and from flowers and travels about five million miles, beating his wings 180 times a second. To accomplish much for God, we must be busy as a bee.

"None," replied the farmer casually. "Did you fall off?"

We've been asked to find out if those "No Parking" signs in front of private homes are legal. So far we've been unable to find out but maybe by putting a paragraph about it we will find out. We can't see how anyone can keep you from parking legally any more, but we know they can keep you from parking as you like. — SASS —

Year's Man (to police captain on the telephone): "Officer, I wish you'd let me get my apartment 5-D in the Mansions Building and tell that woman to stop yelling at her husband."

Officer: "Whose wife is it?"
Young Man: "Mine."

We hate elections because someone has to be defeated. We especially hate it when the candidates are all friends. Mayor Chris Tiegen has been named to be our first mayor. He's been assisted by a charming wife and that's always an asset to any man. We know Dr. Keller will do his best to do a good job too and we're sure his wife is also nice. But we'll always have a special regard for Mr. and Mrs. Tiegen because they were "first lady" and maybe when we elect here and they don't make our first mayor's happy on it. — SASS —

The Laurel Airdie had its troubles last week. Its machine that is used to sit the headlines (such as we have on the front page) broke down. So the publisher left two columns or one-column block spaces above each news story on the front page and had a notice at the top of the front page something like this: "Write your own headlines. Your typesetting machine broke down." All newspaper have trouble. This is a new one. Why didn't we think of it some week when we were busy? You'd never have known whether the machine was really broken down or not. — SASS —

Joe: "Why is the girl who is the most beautiful but dumb usually the most popular?"
Shirley: "Because men don't mind if the attic is empty as long as the rest of the building is adequately furnished."

We certainly recommend "Up the Down Staircase" as a book you should read. It was written by a New York City school teacher and was based on her actual experiences. Teachers should love it. Not only will it make their own troubles seem minor but they will gasp at the things that happen in larger schools. Funny at times, the book is also tragic because such conditions do exist. If you like to laugh and you have any interest at all in teachers, you should read this book. Try the library or get the paperback edition and pass it around.

The card was getting a little tired of the over-ambitious fresh man and decided to show him down a bit. "Look," she said, "can't you think of anything else to do besides hug and kiss all the time?" "Sure," said the lad, "but I'm just following my mother's instructions." "Your mother told you to have like this?" she asked doubtfully. "Yeah," he answered, "just before I left for college one of the last things she said was to

The boss at this plant was telling about a newspaper where two pictures were used, both the same size. However, in getting out the paper someone pointed and the picture captions were switched. One referred to a group of top hogs and the other referred to leading citizens. You can imagine what consternation there was when the pig caption came out under the citizens picture and vice versa.

Would you use "third level air service" if Wayne had it? Some business places have indicated they would. Most places would on an emergency basis, but West Central Airlines wants to know who would be interested in regular air service (flight or passenger) out of Wayne. Call Wanda Owens at the Chamber office or call The Herald if you think you might be interested. You'll help give a better idea of the need for air service here so call now while it's on your mind.

Small Boy Struck Here by Motorbike

One of those "close calls" in traffic occurred in Wayne Thursday when an eight-year-old boy was struck by a motorbike and dragged 25 feet on the paving. Abrasions to the body were the main injuries.

Officer Duane Hene of the Wayne police force said Brian Bebee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Bebee, apparently ran across the street at First and Pearl during the evening hours. He was struck by a motorbike ridden by Robert Oberg, Pender. Oberg told the officer he was unaware of the boy until the lad ran in front of the motorbike. He but did swerve just a little, his bike overturning and dragging the boy on the pavement.

Bebee was taken to the Wayne hospital for a medical check-up. Oberg was uninjured and damage to his vehicle was light.

In the only other Wayne accident the past week, Henry Carstens, Wayne, backed out of a parking area on Logan street. The rear of his car struck the fender of a parked car owned by Donald Keel, E. L. Hatley, inven-ligating officer, reported damages to both vehicles.

From Social Security

Robert Swaid, field representative of the Social Security Administration, will be in Wayne Thursday, April 21, 11 p.m. at the courthouse and will make appointments for those who write in for them. Swaid reports that workers getting this amounting to $20 or more per month can count those tips in figuring up social security. They should be reported to employers.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Clarkson, Scribner, were guests Sunday in the Harry Kay home.

Our '66 Ford has one of the world's quietest rides...the strongest Ford body ever...a new-concept frame...and a unique suspension designed to take the thumps out of bumps. (With our family the quiet doesn't mean much. But it's nice to know the quality's there.)

The quiet-riding Ford is a roaring success. After driving a '66 XL or LTD by Ford, owners of such luxury cars as a hand-crafted Jaguar and a $14,000 Mercedes said that Ford was even quieter than their custom-built cars. And Ford offers much more: Stereo tape player option for the music of your choice. Optional automatic speed control for foot-free cruising. Exclusive Magic Doorgate on station wagons swings out like a door for people...and down like a tailgate for cargo. Optional Ford Select-Aire Conditioner is built in, not hung on. A Safety Convenience Control Panel option has lights to warn you if fuel's low or door's ajar. See your Ford Dealer and take a '66 on the Q.T.—Quiet Test a Ford today.

Only One Complaint Made

Had it not been for one complaint being filed, the police blotter would have been pretty clean the past week. A Wayne store reported a rifle taken during the past week. Otherwise the police were centering their interest on such things as two collisions, handling tickets and doing routine patrol and funeral escort services.

Two Bound Over to Higher Court Here

Two Omaha men who have been scheduled for county court hearing since Jan. 30, finally had their hearing Apr. 8. They were bound over to district court by Judge Davison.

Frank Pauley and Ellis Phillips, had been set for a preliminary hearing several times. Each time a delay resulted and finally when the hearing got underway it had to be continued.

Judge Hamer set bond of $5,000 for each of the men. No date has been set yet for their hearing in that court.

The two are charged with burglary at the Cunningham Hardware, Carroll. They have been free on bond since the forepart of February.

Good Deed Backfires, Carroll Cars Collide

An effort to show typical small-town friendliness was the contributing factor in a two-car accident in Carroll the past week. Sheriff Don Weible investigated.

According to the sheriff's report, Leonard Halleen was driving on Carroll's main street. He saw a friend walking, stopped to pick up the friend and the accident resulted.

Dallas Cunningham was behind Halleen in a 1966 car. He was unable to stop in time and the front of his car struck the rear of the stopped vehicle. Damage to the two cars was light.

Bill Alderson and Bradley Stewart, La., were weekend guests in the Abbott Frost home.

Dixon Diamond on Owner's Hand Now

A diamond ring lost four years ago on a farm near Dixon was found recently. It is now back with its owner in Colorado.

In 1962, Mrs. Pete Carlson was doing some gardening on the farm so she took off her wedding ring and engagement ring and put them in her husband's jacket. He did not know about it when he wore the jacket to work.

When she asked for the rings, they searched the pockets and were unable to find them. A thorough search was also made throughout the farm yard, the toolshed and the house, but no rings were found so they gave them up as lost.

This spring, Duane White was on his farm near Dixon and was pulling a wagon with a load of muddy barnyard manure. He started walking back from where he stopped the tractor and noticed a ring of light coming from the hard-packed track left by the tractor.

There laying imbedded in the mud as if someone had laid it down and pressed it into the dirt, was the diamond engagement ring of Mrs. Carlson. A search was made in the area for the wedding ring but it was not located.

Mr. and Mrs. White contacted Mr. and Mrs. Carlson in Glenwood Springs, Colo., and learned the circumstances of the loss. They mailed the ring after getting a letter addressed to "White Diamond Mines, Dixon, Nebr."

Ebbie L. Swan, daughter of John and Emily Swan, was born Aug. 12, 1905 at Astral Youngby, Sweden. She came to the United States with her parents when she was three months old. The family settled on a farm in Cedar county.

She was married Dec. 15, 1926 to Arthur Mayer at Laurel. The couple farmed near Laurel until 1937 when they moved into Laurel. They moved to Coleridge in 1951. Mrs. Mayer died Dec. 20, 1965.

She was also preceded in death by her parents and a brother. Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Sadie Christensen, Beldin, Minn., and Mrs. Lester Lamphear, Hartington, three brothers, Henry at Laurel, Walter of Coleridge and Arthur of Hartington.

A grass fire near a church brought out Concord Volunteer Fire Department members Wednesday evening of last week. Little damage was done but there was some concern because the wind was pretty strong at the time.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor: I have just received a clipping from your newspaper and I realize I have inadvertently caused you embarrassment. You mentioned that you "goofed" in assuming that a Red Cross drive was in progress. Actually it was a very natural assumption to make based upon the information you received. To be honest with you this is the first year, to my knowledge, that an attempt has been made to supply the news media, on a statewide basis, with campaign information out of a central office. As you can imagine, with the variety of drives and the different starting dates etc., it is most difficult to send out releases which are right for each community. We are "learning" as we go! This year and consequently I assure you we have made our full share of goofs. Please excuse us and accept our sincere thanks for the help you so consistently give to Red Cross! Cordially, Georgia M. Rogers, Nebraska State Fund, Public Relations Officer.

Thanks for getting us off the hook. (Editor)

Young People Help Solve Five Cases

Two Wayne boys and a Norfolk boy were questioned by Wayne police the past week under questioning they admitted to taking part in recent break-ins in this area.

One youth is old enough to drive but the other two are minors. Their case will be heard in juvenile court on break-ins in Antelope, Pierce and Wayne counties. Picked up in connection with the break-in Mar. 28 at the Altona store, the boys later admitted other break-ins. All are allegedly involved in two break-ins at Plainview and at Altona while two claim they were not along for break-ins at Foster and Royal.

The Foster Royal break-ins occurred one day after the Altona break-in. Most of the items allegedly taken in five locations have been recovered.

Sheriff Don Weible and Deputy S. C. Thompson questioned the boys and reported getting information on the other break-ins. They are retaining possession of many items for the time being.

Altona's list of missing items would be too extensive to print. Picked by the officers for evidence were ammunition, toilet goods, cigarets, razor, watch, tools, caps, gloves and numerous other items. From a Foster feed store the officers recovered a transistor radio and a savings stamp book with 4,975 stamps in it. A transistor radio from a Royal filling station was picked up but cash has not been located. Major items recovered from a

Plainview farm that is unoccupied include an electric drill and bit, trouble light and cord and a set of two types of wrenches. A 12-volt battery and a battery cable picked up was said to have come from a Plainview implement firm.

The break-in at Altona occurred the morning of Mar. 28 and the boys are alleged to have admitted making two trips to the store. Break-ins at Foster and Royal took place Mar. 29 and the boys were called in for questioning Mar. 31.

It is not known yet how the cases will be disposed of since one boy is old enough to be tried in three counties. The other two will probably get juvenile court hearings.

Young Republicans at WSC Honor Carl Curtis

Wayne Republicans honored Senator Carl Curtis here the evening of Apr. 1 at a Curtis appreciation banquet sponsored by the Wayne State Young Republicans.

He responded with a broadside cannonading of the Johnson administration that brought repeated applause.

A candidate for reelection to the U.S. Senate, Curtis began by predicting that "indications are for total republican victory in Nebraska."

He attacked what he called LIB's numerous wars — on poverty, on illiteracy, on agriculture, on rearmament to grab political power, and in Vietnam — and none of them being won, Curtis said, except the war against agriculture.

Of the real war in Vietnam, he declared, "Men called upon to fight should be allowed to win." He labeled the policies of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara "total failure" after repeated miscalculations of communist intent and U.S. requirements in Viet Nam.

Of the war on poverty, Curtis quoted Democratic Cong. Adam Clayton Powell, chairman of the house labor committee, as reporting $2.3 billion spent and 80,000 jobs created — that is, $28,750 per job.

Of the war on illiteracy, he said the administration's formula for dispensing aid has worked out to give the most aid to the nation's 10 wealthiest counties and the least to the 10 poorest.

Johnson policies to aid agriculture, Curtis said, really are a war on agriculture. Among instances, he cited frequent dumping of commodities on the market to depress prices farmers receive.

Ed Kelly, chairman of the college Young Republicans, presided at the banquet and Wayne Attorney Don Reed introduced Senator Curtis.

Maclay also said there are many who should not go to regular colleges or universities but Nebraska has done little to provide higher learning for them. He added that "We have an obligation to provide the ones who should not go to regular colleges with the salable skills they will need."

A burst of applause greeted his statement that American schools need to accept the economics of America, explain why our system works and show why it is better than the ways of other nations. However he admitted that not enough teachers are being prepared to teach this line of thought to the young.

Concluding, Maclay said: "In this country, we don't owe anybody a living. However, we do owe everybody an opportunity to make a living."

Walter Ernkamp of the state department of vocational education pointed out that 53,000 veterans are now eligible for further education. If they cannot get the training they want in Nebraska, they will seek it elsewhere, he added.

He pointed out that counties can be "petitioned into" an area vocational-technical school district by commissioners. The entire area then votes for or against the district and if 51 per cent approve, the district is set up.

Because now all Series E and Series H Bonds bought after December 1, 1965, will earn the new, higher interest rate of 4.15% when held to maturity. That's only 7 years for Series E—9 months quicker than before. All H Bond interest checks will be larger beginning in June 1966.

And your outstanding Bonds will earn more, too, from now on. So, you don't have to cash in your present Bonds to get the attractive new rate.

Ask about buying Bonds where you work or bank. For America's future. And yours.

"Today, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines." "Today, above all, is a time for all Americans to rededicate themselves to the spirit that animated the Minutemen of Concord—who serve as a symbol of the Savings Bond program. For today, as at the founding of our nation, it is freedom which is again at stake. Not all of us are called upon to fight in the jungles of Vietnam, but while our men are there, in the front line of a distant land, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines. We must all do our own share—in every way we can—to support our men in Vietnam. One sure way is open to all Americans through the Savings Bond program."
