Snow Forecast While Mercury Reaches 80

Ah, Nebraska! Where else could one be basking in 80-degree temperatures while listening to a forecast for the area calling for snow. That was the situation Tuesday. No moisture was recorded during the past seven days but for April 18 and 19. Most of an inch of rain fell. 61 of this came April 19 when .59 of an inch fell.

Temperatures are recorded by gauges at Peoples Natural Gas Co. Precipitation reports are secured from the State National Bank.

Ley Campaign Gets Impressive Start

Henry Ley for Governor Headquarters opened in Wayne Saturday with the Wayne democrats on hand to greet visitors. Nearly $400 in campaign contributions was received at the headquarters opening day.

Plans have been made for a Ley for Governor caravan set tentatively to leave from Wayne Friday, May 6, and Saturday, May 7. Al Bahe, Wayne, is in charge, and area persons interested in joining the caravan may call Bahe, Pat Owen or Arnie Reep.

Teenagers are needed for the Saturday trip and they are asked to wear school colors, letter sweaters, pop outfits. In the last election, one prominent member of the University of Nebraska told supporters he owed his election to those persons in his home area who believed in him enough to go out and work actively for him.

Staffing of Wayne headquarters is nearly complete, according to Mrs. Arnie Reep, who is in charge. "There has been a wonderful response by friends in the area, both Republicans and Democrats," Mrs. Reep said.

Wayne residents who wish to take campaign materials to other towns are asked to contact Mrs. Ed Smith, Wayne Chairman Roy Carroll, or Mrs. Arnie Reep at headquarters, pick up Ley posters and display them on lawns.

The Ley for Governor campaign got a big boost last weekend in Omaha at the Jefferson Jackson Day dinner when Omaha campaigners passed out hundreds of campaign buttons and flyers.

According to Carroll, Republicans who wish to vote for Ley in the primary who reside in counties with a total population under 20,000 may do so by simply asking for the name on the ballot. "Those in larger counties need to make a change of registration in advance

Dodge Pounds Out Lopsided Decision

Dodge cut loose with 10 runs on 6 hits in the fourth game against Wayne Monday evening on the Dodge diamond to earn a 14-4 decision. It was a discouraging setback for the locals who had held a 3-2 lead after 2 1/2 frames.

Wayne garnered three runs off two hits in the top half of the third frame. Dodge came back with two runs off four hits but the game was still 4-3 going into the bottom half of the disastrous fourth.

Ronald Prokop struck out five and gave up four hits to get credit for the win. George Eynon hurled for Wayne until the dam broke in the fourth. Delbert Wacker taking over. Between them they gave up 14 hits and fanned four.

Gordon Jorgensen hit a double and a single to lead Wayne hitters. Eynon and Steve Schram each a single. Duane Mendlik hit a home run, a triple and a single for the winners and Myron Grossruble had a triple.

The game ended after four and a half frames due to the ten-run rule. Wayne managed one run in the top of the fifth but that only made the score 14-4 and they needed one more

Presbytery Meets
Wakefield Presbytery met in a stated spring meeting April 6. Ministers and commissioners from northeast Nebraska were in attendance.

Film To Be Shown
"The Paul Carlson Story," a color motion picture, will be shown at Wakefield Covenant Church at 8 p.m., May 1, by Hi-League. This film is the life story of Dr. Paul Carlson, a Covenant Congo medical missionary, who was killed in the Stanleyville massacre a year ago last November. He became a captive of the rebel Simbas because he wasn't willing to desert his patients at the hospital at Wasolo, knowing that some of them would die without his care. The film was produced by David Johnson and Carroll Nyquist, sons of Covenant pastors. David Johnson is the son of the Rev. Carl Johnson, Clear Lake, Wis. He is also the brother of Mrs. John Jansson, daughter-in-law of Pastor and Mrs. Fred Jansson, Wakefield.

The public is invited to attend the presentation.

Weeds Topic of Meeting
Larry Willers, superintendent of the Wayne County Weed Control District, attended a two-day training and educational meeting in Bassett, Apr. 18-19. Division superintendent J. H. McDonald, warden of the department of roads, and eight maintenance superintendents of the highway department were present to discuss county weed survey problems, weed and weed identification, grain elevator inspection, grain truck inspection and proper use of herbicides. Live weed plants of the primary noxious weeds in the area were shown, colored slides were discussed and aerial spraying was considered.

portion of Highway 25 and 98, four miles north of town in Jean Bond, reporting for the Community Betterment Committee, came up with several ideas. Some were adopted and others will be put over for further consideration.

A clean-up campaign met with the most reaction. After considerable discussion, it was decided to have a city-wide clean-up day Wednesday, May 4. From 4 p.m. to dusk that day residents may haul refuse to the dump without charge.
Businessmen will clean in front of their buildings and put the debris in for collection that evening. Firemen will use hoses to wash down the streets following this.
Flowers may now in two levels on Winside's main street. Artificial flowers are considered for the crosswalks on utility poles and bus-stops are competing in plant material in boxes in front of their stores. The village board was asked to take up the matter of litter containers in the business district.

Other betterment projects mentioned were street name plate signs at intersections, inspection of the business district for fire hazards by members of the state fire marshal's office, and getting rid of junk automobiles within the city limits either by hauling or by con- cealing.

Postmaster Boyd said the post office will send out letters May 16-23 regarding rural mail box improvement week. That will be a national observance May 16-23. Boyd also said Winside was second only to Omaha in park conservation work the past year and encouraged more such activity.

Warren Jacobson reported on the baseball park and the need for clean-up work before the summer program starts. A weed problem may be solved by disking. Marvin Kramer offered to do that job. A diamond clean-up day will be set later.
Winside may have a permanent float to send to other communities this year. Frank Wible is in charge of plans for an entry from Winside for the Norfolk centennial and it was decided that a sturdy float could represent Winside at many affairs, parades and celebrations.
Ever in need of money, just as all active groups are, the Community Club is planning a chicken dinner some Sunday soon. They will sell fried chicken in a basket to go. Dr. Don Vrbka volunteered to be chairman.
Concluding the meeting was the showing of around 100 slides taken by Jim Troutman on a trip to South America early this year.

Seek California People
Former residents of the Wayne area who now live in California are being asked to place their names on a master being compiled. Cards bearing the name, address and former Nebraska hometown should be sent to Bill Benitzman, 2953 W. Rowland Circle, Anaheim, Calif.

Chamber to Challenge

"Let us know if there are any discrepancies." Those were the words of the University of Nebraska college of business administration in a form letter sent to Wayne and other towns after figures on population estimates for cities and counties were released last week. Wayne Chamber of Commerce is taking them at their word.

Wanda Owens, manager of the C. of C., reports a letter of protest was sent at once to Edward Hauswald, research associate at NU. The Chamber protests, too.

estimate that Wayne has lost 30 people in five years.

Post office figures alone show quite a variance between figures NU came up with and what the Chamber estimates the city has. There are 3,316 current Wayne deliveries, which multiplied by a 12.5 per family average would indicate Wayne's population is around 4,147.

The NU figure estimated Wayne was down to 1,187. In 1960 the official count credited the city with 4,217. It also does not agree with the professional survey made by Powers and Associates, revealed earlier this year.

Winside Area Men Named to Work on Committees for Old Settlers This Summer

Before summer arrives, just about everyone in the Winside area will have jobs assigned in connection with the Old Settlers Reunion in July. A long list of assignments was completed last week by the board of directors of the Winside Community Club.

Many farmers who are busy with spring field work, were not named on committees. However, they have volunteered to help and setting up and clearing away will be two jobs where their help will be needed.

In the following list, the first named in each case is the chairman of the committee: Finance, Cliff Burrik and Walt Blesch; treasurer, Lowell Van Slyke; concessions, Dr. Dan Vrbka and Dave Warnemunde.

Hoskins Citizens Will Have Clean-Up Month

A clean-up month is being planned in Hoskins. Mayor Ed Koll said the month of May will be set aside for the campaign.

Hoskins residents are asked to take an active part in the campaign so every part of town will show evidence of the drive. Even small improvements add up to major contributions to town betterment so no job is too small.

Dead limbs should be cleared away, unsightly trash removed, paint peeled up with new paint, fences built up, hedges trimmed, weeds set back before they can grow up, flowers planted, trees trimmed and other jobs accomplished.

Hoskins has an advantage of not being unsightly to start with. New homes are being built and other work being done that will contribute to making it an even better small town.

Mayor Koll said will appreciate all help given by Hoskins residents in the clean-up drive. He asks for projects starting May 1 and extending throughout the entire month, assuring support of the town council in all efforts to make the town a better place in which to live.

A clean-up month is being planned in Hoskins. Mayor Ed Koll said the month of May will be set aside for the campaign.

Over $1,500 in Damages in Traffic Last Week; Four Accidents Occur in One Day

Wayne had a rash of traffic accidents last week. Four of the mishaps were reported one day, Monday, April 18.

One of the accidents was included in an accident report in last week's paper, someone hitting Kenneth Whidlow's parked car. The other three occurred later the same day, wet streets due to the rain being a contributing factor.

Russell Wax was on West 12th when his school books started falling out of the car. He reached over to stop them, his car swerved to the left and he struck the parked car of Michael Mertz, West Bond Ia. Chief of Police Vern Fairchild reported $170 damage to the Wax car and $139 to the Mertz vehicle.

On Main Street later in the day, Clarence Boekenhauer, Wakefield, stopped for traffic ahead of him, Warren Littrell, Bennington, was unable to stop on the rain-slick street and his car hit the rear of the other vehicle. Officer Keith Reed reported $100 damage to the Boekenhauer vehicle and $97.75 to Littrell's.

The final accident of the day took place in the alley behind Watson clinic, Mrs. Doris Lutz, Wayne, was backing out of a parking lot, the rear of her car hitting the left front door of a parked car belonging to Warren Summers. Officer Reed investigated.

Another mishap the following day was the most involved and caused almost $1,000 damage. Neil Meyer, Uehling, was backing from a parking stall on the north side of Tenth Street at the college. Giles Springer, Correctionville, Ia, was westbound on Tenth.

The Springer car struck the right rear door of the Meyer car, flipping the latter into the parked Hays Wasser car, Hewardson, Ia, and sending the Wasser car into the parked car of Larry Wewel, Newport. Damages came to $600 to Meyer's car, $213.75 to Springer's car and $125.90 to the Wasser vehicle. No damage estimate was given for Wewel's car. Officer E. L. Bailey and Chief Fairchild investigated.

Variety Spices Life of Wayne City Policemen

Wayne policemen are never sure what the next call will bring. Quite often the call is serious but sometimes it is funny. At all times it is just part of the job.

For instance last week one call involved a truck that was spilling manure on the streets.

Wayne police stopped the truck, found the truck tail end was not in proper position and asked that hereafter this be checked before traveling on Wayne streets.

A broken window at the Court Post store was reported by a passerby at midnight one night. Police called the Mr. Elford, who found nothing missing. The window was boarded up. Later police heard from an eye witness who reported a "scuff" had taken place there and the participant, full through the window. The lead is being followed and there may be more action.

No bombs were reported but a Wayne resident did find a sack under his front steps after someone had filled the sack with manure and the same type as the truck scatterer and report led to a fine under the steps. This investigation continues at a later date.

Then there were more routine calls. A college student reported items missing from his room. A college man reported his car taken from his Super Sport. A local man reported losing a hat. A woman reported a procedure to buy from out of town. A boy because he had to wait for his father's funeral services were provided. And regular door check and street patrol work was carried on.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers. It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Wayne May Have Last Laugh

Wayne residents must have done a double-take at the census estimates released last week by the University of Nebraska college of business administration. It may take five years, but there's a feeling that Wayne will have the last laugh yet.

According to the estimates, Wayne has lost 30 people in the last five years, the change estimated by the NU college being a drop from the official 4,217 in 1960 to an estimated 4,187 in 1965.

Wayne County is estimated to have lost 355 residents in the same period. That would make us the second fastest county in the area in losing population (going by NU figures). Only Stanton county would be losing faster, being "credited" with a loss of 500 in five years.

Other neighboring counties might cause some eyebrow-raising. Pierce is estimated to have gained 85. Cumming's loss is set at 27, Thurston's at 168, Dixon's at 97 and Cedar's at 300.

Actually, the figures for West Point and Cumming County as furnished by NU show Cumming County to be losing population two times as fast as any other county in the area but the county seat (West Point) to be the fastest growing city in the area.

Here are the figures. West Point is estimated to have gained 1,105 population from 2,921 to 4,026 in five years. But Cumming County is estimated to have lost 27.

This means all of the rest of Cumming County (including the towns of Wisner, Beemer and Bancroft, along with the rural areas) had to lose 1,132 people in five years. (You add the West Point gain to the county loss and it indicates what the rest of the county lost).

This is about twice as big a loss as the total loss of any other county in the area. Burt lost 600, Colfax 500, Stanton 400 and Thurston 168.

There are other discrepancies in the report. Take Gage County. Beatrice gained 331 but Gage County lost 1,290 which means Wymore, ten other towns and the rural areas of Gage County had to lose 1,621 rural people while Beatrice gained 331.

This just does not compare with neighboring counties. Safford gained 628, according to estimates. Otoe gained 34, Johnson lost 151, Pawnee lost 496 and Jefferson lost 440. This brings up the question: How come Gage county lost over three times as many as any other area county when its biggest city made a gain?

Going back to Wayne, it can be said with confidence that this city did not lose population but showed a substantial five-year gain in the area. There is no way to prove it now (without a census of our own) but we know better.

By the time the 1970 census rolls around, the growth of Wayne will be confirmed. Then NU's college of business administration can come out and say the city had a fantastic five-year growth from its 1965 estimate. It will never admit to being wrong this year.

This error on the part of a state group reflects on Wayne and should inspire Wayne residents to work over harder to build a bigger and better city. Then we will be doubly sure that Wayne will have the last laugh. Let's start working and practicing laughing now. — CEG

Butter Is Not High-Priced

Are you using a low-price spread because you think butter is high-priced? If so, you're missing out on the good taste of butter and besides butter is not high-priced.

Wayne County residents ought to be buying butter anyway because this is a good dairy area and could be better. What helps your friend, the dairy farmer, helps all the area.

If you over eat popcorn, you're probably paying about $1.28 a pound (comparing the pound price with what you get in a 10-cent sack). Butter of top quality, sells for 65-80 cents a pound.

Want to go further? You buy a 10-cent sack of potato chips. Buying this way, by the pound they would cost you $1.40.

Buy peanuts in the nickel sack — they're costing you $2.13 a pound. Cashews in dime sacks are $2.08 a pound; sour-rolls of candy are $2.13 a pound when you buy them by the dime roll; and then there are cones to use at home for eating ice cream cones — they cost 25 cents a box which makes them $2.65 a pound.

Actually, from the pleasure gained from hot melted butter over pancakes, waffles, toast, popcorn or anything else where it melts, there is no substitute for butter. Even eaten cold, butter is a treat that should be included every meal.

Not a representative of the dairy industry and not having any investment in it, we are probably too concerned about the use of butter. We just happen to have grown up in a family where sacrifices were made for eight children, but giving up butter was not one of them.

Next time you buy butter, remember the price of cones. That makes butter look like a real bargain — which is actually what it is, no matter how you look at it, melt it or spread it. You may be able to beat cream, but you just can't beat butter. — CEG

Ask the Man Who Knows

When it comes to advertising, ask the man who knows, and he will admit that advertising is one of America's great bargains. In this area we like to think The Wayne Herald is a part of that big bargain.

A Wayne merchant in the office last week explained his spring campaign for supplies to farmers. Others might not advertise competing lines much, but he always has a spring announcement and follows through with weekly reminders that he has the commodities farmers need.

He volunteered the information that his sales rose spectacularly when his ads started running in this newspaper. Since then he has tried the same tactics for other lines he handles and he has never been disappointed.

Of course, he does not indiscriminately throw in ads but chooses wisely and gets full value for his advertising dollar. Keeping his name before the public is one benefit and telling about the lines he handles is another.

Then there's the "bonus" value he is always aware of when Apr. 15 rolls around. His advertising is deductible and he appreciates every cent of it. His pleasure is doubled — and we enjoy his policy too. — CEG

Capitol News . . . Need New Revenue Sources To Avert Financial Crisis

LINCOLN — The chairman of the Legislative Council Tax Study Committee says a way must be found to replace the state and local tax revenue that will be lost as the result of a recent State Supreme Court decision.

Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine said unless new revenue sources are uncovered in a hurry, a financial crisis could rock the state.

"The court has made the law plain on the taxing of foreign corporation stock. Now it is up to the legislature to come up with a sound answer," he said. Adamson referred to an Apr. 8 decision by the court which said foreign corporation stock owned by Nebraskans must be taxed at the highest rate of higher market value.

He said the implications of the decision are large. He said defining the taxable value of intangible property has always been a legal nightmare.

Nebraska's taxing corporation stock, known as class B intangibles, at 9 1/2 percent of value. This source brought in about

Known as "government girls" to the Indians, they have been on the reservation two months. They plan to stay nine more.

Misses Garfield and Steele have spent their early weeks adjusting to their new life, running errands for needy families and organizing classes for children, some of whom have never heard 100 different words or read a book.

Mainly, they want to help the Indians help themselves become more resourceful and self-sufficient. They seek to educate the young and train the jobs.

College Applications Up Applications for admission to Nebraska's four state colleges are running far ahead of last year, the college presidents report.

This will mean record enrollments this fall at Kearney, Chadron, Wayne and Peru, they add. "It looks like a bumper crop," said Peru President Dr. Neal Goman. "This presents us with a real dormitory space problem. We are urgently in need of additional housing."

Goman said new applications for admission are about 35 percent greater than last fall, when

"WE'LL HAVE TO GET YOUR GRADES UP... AND ALSO YOUR LEFT..." CARTOON COURTESY W.S.E.A.

1,043 students attended the insolation. Kearney State President Milton Hassel said admission applications are up 12 per cent from last year. He said the school can't build dormitories and classrooms fast enough to keep up with the growing student population.

At Chadron and Wayne, applications are running about 20 per cent higher than a year ago.

Asks Draft Call Review Governor Morris has urged federal officials to review the recent draft call of 41 Nebraska doctors for the armed services.

The Governor said it will be difficult for the state to meet the quota without causing a serious physician shortage in small towns and rural areas.

Morris addressed his report to the Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Selective Service Director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey.

Last month Nebraska was tapped to supply 41 doctors to the military by July. This was in addition to 23 doctors drafted last winter.

Health Board OK's Plan The State Health Board has approved the principle of a proposed program to permit states to receive federal health service dollars in lump sums.

Under the proposal, the government would allocate funds on a per capita basis instead of for specific programs.

The program could be required to establish a planning committee for the health services.

The proposed program is now before Congress.

Director Pushes Test The state director of the Selective Service strongly recommends Nebraska college men and high school seniors take the optional student draft deferment test.

A student's score will be sent to his local draft board, which has the option of using it to determine if he will continue to receive a draft deferment.

Population Jumps in State Nebraska's population has increased an estimated six per cent since the 1960 census to 1,498,733 persons, University of Nebraska researchers report.

The state's loss of one per cent of the rise occurred in 1965, they added.

According to the University's Bureau of Business Research, 62 of the state's 93 counties have lost population since 1960. Ten of the 43 towns with more than 2,500 residents were in the same category.

The city of Bellevue led all cities with a whopping 95 per cent increase in population.

Carl Curtis CAPITOL COMMENTS The Johnson Administration has embarked upon the most daring and perhaps the most dangerous economic policy ever devised by man.

This new policy is making Lord John Maynard Keynes, known as the father of the "new economics," look like a penny pincher.

Keynes theorized that it was all right to plan a series of annual budget deficits during the lean years in order to stimulate business and reduce unemployment.

Equally important under the Keynesian plan is the repayment of debts or balancing of deficits during the prosperous years.

The "new economics" of the Johnson Administration has kept piling up bigger and bigger deficits during a boom period in the economy. This defies Keynes. It has contributed to an inflationary bor policy by avoiding accidental damage to desirable plants. These include: — Use the amine salt form of 2,4-D near gardens, ornamentals, or susceptible crops. — Keep sprayer pressure as low as possible. Low pressures increase droplet size, thus reducing drift. — Watch the wind. Spray when the wind is blowing away from susceptible plants. Stop spraying when the wind is blowing hard. — Handle fertilizer with care. Nebraska farmers reported several cases of severe burns from anhydrous ammonia last year. Farmers are urged to follow these simple rules when using the material:

1. Be sure all equipment meets safety rules and regulations as set forth by the Anhydrous Ammonia Institute. — Use bronze, brass or copper fittings and don't tamper with "pop-off" valves. — Keep five gallons of clean water available in case of an anhydrous ammonia exposure.

4. Always have approved ammonia gas mask, rubber gloves, goggles and first aid kit available. — Do not breathe gas, allow it to get in the eyes, on the skin or clothing.

6. In case of contact, immediately flush eyes and skin with plenty of water for at least 15 minutes. In all cases of burns, especially to eyes, nose and throat, call a doctor. Apply no salves or ointments. — Ammonium nitrate mixed with organic materials such as straw, chaff, ground feed, stalks, cobs or the like makes an almost explosively inflammable mixture. A spark such as may be caused by dropping a wrench on a concrete floor could set off a flash fire in such a mixture. Ammonium nitrate mixed with oil, grease or other fuel is highly inflammable.

Ammonium nitrate does not burn. It feeds the fire by supplying oxygen for fast, intensely hot combustion. It should not be allowed to come in contact with or be mixed with combustible materials. If proper care is taken in handling, storing, contact with such materials will not be allowed to occur.

President Johnson appears to have dispelled the belief that he cut Federal aid for such programs as school lunch, school milk and agricultural research when he increased the budget. At least, the President has begun to show signs he meant it when he applied the paring knife where he did.

In a question-answer session with a group of White House fellowship winners who will serve as government interns, President Johnson reiterated his position against increasing his budget unless Congress is ready to take responsibility for inflationary action. His remarks came on the same day a record cost-of-living increase was announced. He hinted he may ask for tax increases but gave no indication he will pull back on the Great Society's giveaway plans. — CTC —

Although the loss of lives is serious and every effort should be made to reduce the death toll, government figures show that today's citizen has less chance of being killed in a traffic accident than his father had 30 years ago.

There were 13 traffic deaths for each 100 million miles of road traveled in the 1930's. The number dropped to 8 in the 1940's and 5 1/2 in 1961. It climbed to 5.7 in 1964 and dropped to about 5.5 in 1965. On the Interstate Highway System, the death rate is only 2.8 persons per 100 million miles.

This would indicate that the accident rate of highways is a big factor in traffic safety.

N.E. Extension Notes

by Anna Marie Kreifels Meat Product Labels Are you one of the many homemakers who lament "I can read labels until I'm blue in the face and still not know what I'll get for my money?"

Accuracy of labels on processed meat and poultry products is checked by specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service. Labels contain the product's name, a pictorial representation, a list of ingredients, the name and place of the manufacturer or packer, the statement of quantity, and the mark of Federal inspection.

Understanding the "list of ingredients" can help the homemaker make the best choice for her food dollar.

Any meat product made from two or more ingredients must have the ingredients listed on the label. Ingredients must be listed in the order of their predominance — that is, the ingredient weighing most must be first.

The list of ingredients is considered part of the name of the product when each term is "meat food product," "beef" or "pork" are used and must be clearly shown near the product name.

Federal inspectors check the ingredients to assure consumers that the name of the product is not "misleading." For example, "chicken corn" must contain 40 per cent meat computed on the weight of the fresh meat whereas "chicken corn" with beans contains a minimum of 25 per cent meat. "Lentils and vegetable with beef" contains a minimum of 20 per cent meat. "Lentils, vegetable and beef" must contain at least 35 per cent meat. Meat steaks and frozen meat and poultry must contain at least 25 per cent meat to be named as such.

The word "spice" may be used to identify one or more natural spices. "Cereal" designates one or more flours derived from cereal grains. The word "flavoring" identifies certain pure extracts or essential oils. Since these ingredients are used in very small amounts they usually appear last in the list of ingredients printed on the label.

Careful reading of the list of ingredients can help you understand the differences for products which you might assume are similar in content and quality.

Apr. 25, 1946. Work on the new Chamber of Commerce office located under Fred Berry's office, will be completed May 1 and the office will be open at that time. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kieper discovered two large deer grazing in the timber on their farm northwest of Wayne Sunday afternoon. The deer were a rare sight for this territory. Mrs. E. W. Huse fractured her right shoulder and hit Tuesday morning when she fell off a step in front of her home. The new Redeemer Lutheran church will be constructed on the northwest corner of Fifth and Lincoln Streets in Wayne.

Apr. 28, 1951. Phyllis Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Foster, Wayne, has been elected social chairman of Colorado A & M college. Ruth Ross will direct the annual senior class play "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." Harland Heier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heier, Wayne, was one of 16 men to be tapped into Blue Key, national honor society for men at Midland college. Bankers from Wayne who attended the Group Three Nebraska Bankers association annual meeting in Norfolk were Alton Jeffrey, Albert Kern, Alvin Voorhes, Henry Lay, Herman Lamborn, James Hein, Everett Rees and Ted Amthorster.

Apr. 26, 1956. Wayne Jaycees voted to sponsor a breakfast here May 27. Don Johnson will be chairman of the project. Mike Matlette was named team captain and Dean Schram manager of Wayne city baseball team. Jan Voss, popular KTVI home-maker, will appear at the Wayne city auditorium Saturday afternoon and evening to participate in Tied for 1st anniversary observance.

The traveling salesman asked the boy who answered the door "Is your mother home, sonny?" "Three-year old," "No, but my sister is."

"The traveling salesman asked politely, then after a few days lay the young girl. The boy was lured and can't tell her out of her play pen."

According to The Elgin Review, the Elgin Chamber is on the way to the area vocational technical school. That news really hit us, because looking at our map of the counties in the proposed district, we concluded that the Elgin-Neigh Playhouse area was possibly the best site for such a school if one is ever going to be located on that corner later.

We think the Elgin Chamber is short sighted in making a decision before getting all the facts, and we trust Antelope County's commissioners will take a look before taking a stand. After all, an area vocational technical school should benefit all the area residents, not just where it is located. We'd like to say that those we have talked to in Wayne are in favor of it, and the matter of site has not been mentioned yet.

"Well," snarled the tough old sergeant to the private. "I suppose after you get discharged from the army you'll just be waiting for me to die, so you can come and spit on my grave?" "Not me, sergeant," the GI assured him. "Once I get out of this army, I am never going to stand in line again!"

Life magazine says London is "a swinging city." It has really changed. I then remember it as a drab city with little to offer other than size. Wayne, yet, is the knowledge that our teenagers pay attention to what is coming out of London as far as music, hair styles and clothes are concerned. When we were there, young people were extremely jealous of the United States and would do anything to be like our young people. Determined to grab a little glory, Europe's young have adopted our best styles, modes, habits and sounds. Most of them stink. Happy will be the day when American young people rebel and start setting the styles themselves, the clean-cut, fresh, all American look in person and clothing. I wish the style of music that is more a semi-strict rhythm and blues. My that day be near, before the Mod's style take over!

Flo. "I hope you don't mind how I look I wish in such a hurry that I just threw myself together."

Shmoo. "That's all right. Everything seems to have landed in the right place!"

The speaker at the awards banquet in Winside commented the school. He said he had spoken many places but had never seen a neater or nicer looking group of boys and girls. We hope this saved the wounds of some Winside kids. The school has been girls and boys and has been strict control as to hair styles and clothing. Personally, we'll go along with the speaker, for we too have been impressed with the appearance of Winside young folks. Not a boy looks as if he's faking, not a girl looks as if she's a fake; not a girl looks as if she's faking, not a girl looks as if she's faking. There are no real extremes in Winside. Our praise can be put up alongside the banquet speaker's.

Problem Pig Clinic Will Be at Concord

University of Nebraska North-east Station at Concord will host a problem pig clinic for swine producers Thursday, May 5, at 8 p.m. Even though this is a busy season swine producers are advised to attend.

Bob Fritschen, area swine specialist at the station, said the purpose of the meeting is to attempt to solve some of the problems that have been reported by producers. The information offered could make the difference between a profit or loss under some conditions.

On the program are these men listed with their subjects: Dr. Crosby Howe, extension veterinarian, cholera; Dr. Tracy Ponce, high pig counts; Dr. Chace Lund, pig swine mastitis; and Bob Fritschen, repeat breeders.

Following the program there will be a panel discussion. At this time producers will have a chance to ask questions.

First Game... First Win

MIDWESTERNER

by Forrest Peters

May we introduce you to Sally and Jack Midwest. Probably you know them already, since they live just down the road or across the street.

The Midwests are average or typical people as determined by several recent surveys. We present them to you now in some detail, and we suspect that you will find the experience is like looking in a mirror.

Sally and Jack live on a 303-acre farm with a total value of $40,000. Population studies show that the Midwests have one and one-fourth children, but Sally and Jack decided they did not want any fractional children so they have two.

The Midwests have a lot of neighbors. There are over five million people living on midwestern farms, and another ten million live in rural areas but do not farm. Of these neighbors, six and one-half million are under 20 years of age. There are also more than one and one-half million people over 65 living on farms and in rural non-farm areas.

The increasing level of education is reflected with the Midwests. Sally has 10.8 years of schooling, and Jack has 10.3 years.

Their family income varies, depending on where they live. Farm income on a recent year in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Missouri was $8,413. In North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas it was $3,947, and in Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin it was $3,348.

The Midwests subscribe to six magazines, have two radios and television. They take a daily newspaper and also the local weekly. Last year they spent $280 on food and tobacco, $340 on clothing, and another $210 on household items.

Since food is a major item of expense, we shall tag along with Sally Midwest as she makes a grocery shopping trip. As with more than half—51 per cent—of her neighbors, Sally shops on Friday. There are times, of course, when she also joins the 41 per cent who shop on Saturday.

The shopping trip is a weekly affair for Sally, as it is with about 60 per cent of the rural-farm women.

Sally goes to the supermarket, telling us that she selects a grocery store for its large and complete selection of groceries and secondly because of lower prices. Some 37 per cent of Sally's neighbors say that they buy most of their groceries at a small local grocery, and another 19 per cent buy theirs at a general store.

Jack shops with Sally 19 per cent of the time, and does the grocery buying alone 15 per cent of the time.

Yeast is an important item on Sally's shopping list, because like more than 80 per cent of the rural-farm women, Sally bakes her own bread.

Sally also bakes pies and cakes, using a cake mix about three-fourths of the time.

She also does some food canning at home, as do 75 per cent of the farm women, and 35 per cent of the urban women.

The mechanization of rural life is reflected in Sally's house as well as in Jack's machine shed. She has a food mixer, refrigerator, food freezer, toaster, coffeemaker, electric frypan, washer and dryer, and a deep-fat fryer.

And now we'll let Sally and Jack get back to work, because even with all the mechanical help, there is always more work to be done.

Yes indeed, it's just like looking in a mirror, isn't it?

Get that pencil out of the cookbook drawer and see how good you are at analyzing your neighbor by the look in her eye. Match the correct answer with the correct photo.

"I'm sold on Eastman Baler Twine. I started using it in 1964 and have had none of the rot, insect or rodent damage that is so common with conventional baler twines."

—Gerald Heetland, Hartley, Iowa. (15,000 bales per year)

"Easier on my hands; no blisters formed... more strength."

—Gordon Ropp, McLean County, Illinois

"Ties about 20 more bales."

—Clarence Uhden, Moody County, South Dakota

"... so good that any time I miss a bale it's my own fault. Far superior in every respect to the old twines I was using."

—Harley Morton, Bonner Springs, Kansas. (7,500 bales annually)

"Uniform thickness... works very well in baler... good strength."

—Roy Lerud, Norman County, Minnesota

"It just won't break. With ordinary twine there will be 'thin spots,' and when you hit one of them the twine breaks."

—Albert Paweltzki, Bridgewater, South Dakota (8,000 bales annually)

"Our meadow is wet and this twine won't rot."

—Lawrence Reicks, Custer County, Nebraska

"You can get a tie so tight you can hardly get your fingers under the twine... the stuff doesn't break... weather doesn't affect it. One day I baled 1,089 bales without a single loose one."

—Dick Knock, Turner County, South Dakota (30,000 bales annually)

"Exceptional knot strength... bale is longer than a bale of sisal."

—Mervin Zellmer, Woodbury County, Iowa

"Feeds even... doesn't 'bird-nest' like some sisal I have seen... smooth on fingers... tensile strength is good."

This will be your final reminder . . . EUROPE IN '66!
Already response to Farm and Home Section's European Jet Holiday has been really wonderful. Midwesterners from Grassroots America — just like yourself — have said, "This is the year I'm going to Europe."

Reservations are still being accepted for the September 13 and October 11 departure dates. BUT, space is filling up rapidly, so if you plan on going, sign up today. (And if you haven't already received your Farm and Home European Holiday travel folder, write for your copy right now. Simply mail in the coupon appearing with this story.)

Many of you who have already written us for details have expressed (No. 1) amazement at the low price tag and (No. 2) what about passports?

Yes, the price tag is low ($799 for 22 days from New York back to Chicago all inclusive — air fare, hotels, etc.). And don't be concerned over passports! As soon as you make your initial down payment and tell us what type of arrangements you desire, then we will brief you completely on the procedure to follow in obtaining a passport. It's all very easy! Don't cloud up a great trip by unnecessary worry over little things.

Remember, this is a tour for Midwesterners. We realize most of those persons who will go with us to Europe have never been there before. And that is precisely why we are handling all details of the tour . . . so you won't have to! Why else, for example, do you think we insisted on flying the world's most experienced airline — Pan American?

Why else would we insist on a bath in every room of our European hotels? Why else would we arrange for an air-conditioned motor coach to carry us from country to Here's our Jet Clipper which will take us from New York to Amsterdam. It will pick us up later in Paris, fly us to London for a few days, then take us back to Chicago. Which window seat would you like? Just think of it . . . 22 days for under $800 and that includes everything from New York back to Chicago!

country in Europe? And why else would we be prepared to make all of your arrangements from your front door and back to it, if you want?

It's because this trip is for YOU TO ENJOY - NOT TO WORK!

Remember, this is your last reminder. You'll never get another opportunity for such an all-inclusive tour to Europe. Sign up today.

First stop—Farm and Home's European Holiday Jet Clipper will take us to our first European city — Amsterdam. This is a street scene in Amsterdam, Netherlands, where we will spend two days.

Twelfth and thirteenth days will find us in Rome. And we'll probably be shopping right along this same street — Via Condotti. Plus, there will be Vatican City to see, too, while here.

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS

The average girl would rather have beauty than brains because the average man can see better than he can think, says The Mason County Democrat of Havana, Ill.

The Traer (Iowa) Star-Clipper said recently, "Thrift is a wonderful virtue, especially in an ancestor."

"The older a man gets, the farther he walked to school when he was a boy," claims The Delavan (Wis.) Enterprise.

"It's easy to be happy," advises The Guttenberg (Iowa) Press. "Just forget your troubles as easily as you forget your blessings."

Four-fifths of all life on earth exists in salt water, reports The Black Hills Press of Sturgis, S.D. This must, of course, include the hard-working, perspiring farmers.

"Married life is just one undarned thing after another," says The West Bend (Wis.) News.

Along the same lines, The Weekly Valley Herald of Chaska, Minn., reports that when a man decides to get married, it's sometimes the last big decision he's allowed to make.

The Dickinson (N.D.) Press reports reading a magazine article that said the American gray wolf has all but vanished. "Obviously the author never attended an office party," says The Press.

The Algona (Iowa) Upper Des Moines tells about the daughter whose father told her to be home from a date by 11 o'clock.

"But dad," she protested, "I'm no longer a child."

"I know," said her father. "That's why I want you home by eleven."

Automation, says The Democrat-Tribune of Mineral Point, Wis., is man's effort to make work so easy that women can do it all.

Most husbands would like to see their wives wear their dresses longer — about three years longer, says The New Richmond (Wis.) News.

"Some people sure are funny," mused a fellow visiting The Belvidere (Ill.) Daily Republican. "I know a guy who hasn't kissed his wife for 10 years, and then when someone else did it, he shot him."

An article in The Daily Sentinel of Fairmont, Minn., reports that the average amount of money in circulation per person is $213.79. I'll go along with that 79 cents, but who has my $213?

The Chronicle-Herald of Macon, Mo., defines an American as one who gets mad at his wife for not running the home like a motel, and gets mad at a motel for not operating like a home.

Many of us spend half our time wishing for things that we could have if we didn't spend half our time wishing, says The Lewiston (Ill.) News.

"One thing about taking a horse in to be shod," says The Belvidere (Ill.) Daily Republican "was that you didn't have to worry about the blacksmith finding a lot of other things that needed fixing."

You are half way through life before you realize it is one of those do-it-yourself deals, says The Marshall (Minn.) Messenger.

"As long as we're not interested in it, a question always has two sides," claims The Wayne County Press of Fairfield, Ill.

The Brookings (S.D.) Register says, "If you want it to be a short summer, just sign a 90-day note."
