Nobody Drowned in Ike Lake Thus Far

No one has drowned in Ike Lake northwest of Wayne yet. However, some boys had a good opportunity to make bigger headlines last week when they went swimming in the lake on the days when the mercury was in the 90's.

Meeting Monday night, Isaac Walton members learned about the swimmers. They were dismayed, because the lake is not a good place for swimmers for several reasons.

In the first place, the lake is fed by springs and the water is usually ice cold in spots even on the hottest days. In the second place, there is not always someone on hand to supervise swimmers.

People have drowned going swimming under such circumstances, many of them sure they were good enough swimmers and would never drown. Wayne lkes have no desire to have drowning headlines made at their nine-foot deep lake.

Parents are asked to warn their youngsters to stay away from the lake when hot days come again. Fishing might be all right, but swimming is dangerous. Parents whose boys were gone for a while Friday or Saturday might check to see if their sons were swimming—a heart-to-heart talk on the dangers might avoid tragedy later.

Soil Steward Week Observed in Area

This is Soil Steward Week. Wayne County Soil and Water Conservation District is marking the occasion in several ways.

Paul Everingham, Wayne County SWCD chairman, reports bulletins and booklets were made for all Wayne County churches. A cartoon in this week's Herald was also supplied to mark the occasion. It appears on the editorial page.

Clinton Van Suggern, Scribner, heads the Nebraska Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts' ward hip committee. He points out "crisis in the Country-side" as this year's theme with accent on the erosion struggle for land.

Nebraska's land crisis is not severe as there are few cities which grab up more and more rural land. The week affords an opportunity to remind people of man's obligation to God as stewards of the soil and water, Everingham said.

Joint Plans Revealed

Firm Near City Limits Reports Break-in Work

Farmers Co-op, Wayne, located just east of the Wayne city limits, was reported to have been the target of a break-in Friday, May 13. Three books were reported missing.

Sheriff Don Weible and Deputy Scott Thompson investigated. Their report shows entry had been gained by kicking out a window on the porch of the former residence.

Don Beckenhauer, manager, said a tax return book and a pair of "day books" were the only things missing as far as he could determine. There was no money in the office at the time.

Officers found papers strewn about the office, desk drawers and cabinets messed up as if someone had hastily rummaged through them and other evidence of a search to find valuables.

Catholic Priest Lutheran Speaker

Father Paul Schwaab, pastor of the Catholic Church, Pentia, was guest speaker at the Northeast District Lutheran Churchmen's rally Sunday evening in Concordia Lutheran Church, Concord. He spoke on "Reform and Renewal in the Roman Church."

It was pointed out by Father Schwaab that it is the expression of Christian love that is most needed in the life of all men professing a living faith in Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior, be they Protestant or Catholic. With humor and quotations, he described the change in his religion and suggested ways all religions might do more to bring about harmony.

After giving a brief history of the background to the modern reforms within the Roman Catholic Church, Father Schwaab presented practical applications of these reforms within the life of the Catholic Church. Following his message, he answered questions asked by Lutheran laymen.

Elected officers of the district for 1964-67 are: Winton Wallin, Concord, president; Paul Fischer, Wakefield, vice president; Gordon Ned-gaard, Wayne, secretary; Reuben Adler, Norfolk, treasurer; and Rev. John Erlundson, Concord, district pastoral adviser.

Wallin served as leader for the program. Marlin Johnson, Concordia Lutheran Churchman, president, welcomed the group with response by Adler. Herman Loscheh, Wilcox, president of the Nebraska synod unit of LOM of the Lutheran Church in America, gave a special greeting.

Verdel Erwin, Concord, led group singing accompanied by Mrs. Wallin at the organ. Pastor Karl Konig, Pender, led in devotions. Male quartet singing was provided by Melvin Witte, Ernest Witte and two sons, Edred Pentico and son, Ludwig Broer and Evert Rhoeker, all of Randolph.

Following the program, a fellowship hour was held in the church parish hall. Mrs. Wallace Anderson, Mrs. Quinten Erwin, Mrs. Verdel Erwin, Mrs. Glenn Magnuson, Mrs. Winton Wallin and Mrs. Marlin Johnson of Concordia Lutheran Church served.

Men at the rally came from Christ Lutheran, Pierce; St. Paul's, Homer; St. John's, Norfolk; Salem, Wakefield; St. Mark's, Pender; St. Paul's and Redeemer, Wayne; St. Luke's and St. Paul's, Emerson; St. Peter's, Pitzer; and Concordia, Concord.

Reside Here? Anniversary Drawing Near? Watch Out!

Wayne residents observing wedding anniversaries soon could take a pointer or two from a pair of couples in the city who had surprises for part of their anniversary observances. The word to citizens is: Watch out!

For instance, Dr. and Mrs. Don Merriman observed their 25th wedding anniversary Mar. 22. In case you forgot, that is the date the big blizzard struck.

None of the presents Dr. Merriman had ordered came through, due to the storm. So he had to break the biggest surprise of all—they were going to Hawaii.

May 6 they returned from Hawaii after a two-week anniversary observance. As Mrs. Merriman said: "It was the closest I'll ever get to heaven here on earth."

A bit more involved was the case of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reed. He went to great lengths to surprise his wife and friends contributed other surprises, planned and unplanned.

Reed told his wife he had a Scout meeting the night of their 13th wedding anniversary. She was used to his being gone for such affairs—but on their anniversary!

Lester Dick Leshes came over and it was suggested they go out. Mrs. Reed thought staying home would be nicer. Finally they suggested visiting an art exhibit in Sioux City so they drove there. But, there was no art exhibit.

When they suggested going to see the Sioux City airport which they heard had been fixed up. Well, it hadn't so Mrs. Reed was soon ready to leave. About then they heard the call for a departing plane. Reed produced two tickets, their luggage was brought out and Leshes pinned an orchid on Mrs. Reed. It was then she learned they were going to Michigan for their anniversary.

Leshes carried the joke along, having packed rice in the Reed's suitcase along with clothing Reed had packed earlier. They also threw rice at the departing pair, giving other passengers the idea the couple were newlyweds.

Unplanned was the presence of Harry Ellis Fisher, Wayne, on the plane. He was on a business trip to Waterloo, Ia., and had seen what was going on. Never one to miss helping a practical joke along, he told the stewardess that the Reeds were just married and it was Reed's third marriage and Mrs. Reed's fifth. Stewardesses are always most attentive, but never had they had such a spiculous stewardess.

To make a long story longer, in Michigan they picked up a new car, which was the object of the whole surprise in the first place. One thing bothers what they do for the next anniversaries that will surpass what happened on the 13th.

the "threes" for the third. They then chose their party names and candidates.

Supt. Hansen said it was hoped the pupils would choose good candidates and they did. Outstanding slates were offered with a wholesome rivalry in campaigning, slogans, speeches and then the final vote Friday.

The Johnson-Olson combine with a slogan of "Vote for the Sons—Johnson and Olson," won over David Brown and Sallis Bergt on one slate and Gordon Shupe and Mary Jo Cook on another slate. Pictures depicting candidates and their qualifications for office were outstanding, according to the sponsoring student council.

This is the first time the student council officers have been chosen in this manner. It was such a successful and fair method of voting it will probably be used from now on.

Were Telephone Lines Busy When You Called?

Did you call your mother on Mother's Day? Apparently many of you did because the lines were busy much of the time.

Several area people reported long waits for calls to be completed so The Herald asked Manager Dan Tifze of Wayne to find out what the situation was. He could not get figures on local calls, but he did report on the statewide situation.

In 1965 Nebraskans made 49,492 calls on Mother's Day of which 28,585 required an operator and 20,907 were made by direct distance dialing. This year the figures were up to 52,708 total with 29,177 by operator and 23,531 by DDD.

The increase in direct dialing is significant for there was an increase of more than 2,500 in this type of calling in one year. The rise in operator-placed call, was less drastic, the increase being slightly under 600.

Early calls from Wayne were reported by local people to have gone through fast. Those who waited until evening to call found they got the rapid buzz of a signal to place calls again or they got a recording that indicated the load was heavy and they should try to call later.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Temme and family, Concord, Mass., spent last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Temme.

Kearney Dominates NCC Cinder Finale

Host Wayne State bowed to its three rivals and finished fourth in the 21st annual Nebraska College Conference track and field meet here Friday and Saturday.

As expected Kearney State won for the 13th straight year though the Antelope margin of victory was not quite so commanding as in most previous years.

Chadron State's 80 was the highest second-place score in years, comparing with Kearney's 141 1/2. Peru finished with 42, Wayne with 21 1/2. The fact that Hastings did not compete distributed points among the four teams entered.

Kearney's depth, with the maximum three in every event, eventually buried the challengers, but at one point Saturday, Kearney held only a fairly slim 88 1/2 to 65 edge over Chadron.

Wind hampered most running events Saturday, thwarting efforts at records. Only the pole vault produced a new record, when Kearney's Dennis Dukeshoren reached 14-7 1/2. Two teammates, Jack Ehler and Fred Williams, also passed the old mark of 14-4 with heights of 14-1 1/2 as they placed second and third.

All five triple jump placers beat the old record, led by the 46-3 1/2 of Jack Needham, Chadron, but wind disallowed the record.

Wayne made its best showing with three second places: Jerry Poulos' 190.7 javelin throw, Stan Thorpe's 49.8 flight of the 330 intermediate hurdles, and the mile relay. Thorpe's Wayne State record time of :39.4, set in an earlier meet, would have won the NCC event.

A. D. Benson battled a cold which kept him below par performance in the two-mile, with a fifth-place finish, and in the mile, in which he missed placing. He has several two-mile times faster than the NCC winners.

Wayne's 880 relay placed third. Larry Schlines picked up a fourth in the high jump with a 6-0 leap and the two-mile relay was fourth. Thorpe earned a fifth in the 120 high hurdles. Bob Cordes a tie for fifth in the 440.

Kearney took home 10 first place medals, Chadron seven, Peru one. That one first lifted Peru to possession of the traveling Bruner Trophy, awarded annually to the team that scores the most points in the mile and two-mile runs. Peru's first and fourth in the two-mile and its second and third in the mile totaled 16 points, one more than Kearney scored.

The Bruner Trophy thus eluded

Kearney for the second straight year after residing in the Kearney trophy case for 17 years. Wayne won it last year. It was Wayne's Benson who squeezed out a Kearney runner for fifth in the two-mile, thus kept the Antelopes from tying Peru for the trophy.

Warren Christensen won two events for Kearney, the 880 in 1:55.7 and the mile in 4:28, and ran on two winning relays, the mile and two-mile Mike Delnes was the only other double winner, copping the 100 dash in :9.9 and the 220 in :23.5 for Chadron.

Other Kearney winners: shot put, Randy Rasmussen, 50-7 1/2; high jump, Gary Etfield, 6-1; broad jump, Jerry Stuckert, 23-5; 330 hurdles, Fred Williams, 40.8; and the 880 relay.

By Chadron: javelin, Ray Shearer, 194-1/2; discus, Ben Francis, 154-10; 440 dash, John Sides, :50.1; 120 hurdles, Larry Baumann, :15.3.

By Peru: two-mile run, Lon Fritz, 9:59.5.

Peru Ends Wayne's Reign in Baseball

Wayne State's three-year reign over Nebraska College Conference baseball ended Saturday. A split with Peru finished the Wildcats with a 4-4 league record, good for third place behind Peru, 5-3 and Kearney, which won the title on a double victory Saturday at Chadron for a 6-2 season. Chadron finished at 3-5, Hastings 2-6.

Wayne had worn the crown alone for two years and shared it three years ago with Kearney and Peru.

Peru's 2-1 victory in the opener here Saturday featured stout defensive play, especially on both sides. The Bobcats pushed over their two runs on single ballies in the second and third lining against Wayne hurler Fred Pierce. Jim Hascic relieved in the fourth and blanked Peru while his mates scored one in the fifth.

A Wayne rally in the bottom of the seventh put a runner on third, but Peru pitcher Jim Tegolhutter survived by fanning one and forcing two Wayne batters into pop-ups. In the ninth, Jim Mau pitched the route for Wayne, gave up six hits while Wayne hit eight. A three-run first inning plus a run in the fifth accounted for Wildcat scoring while Peru once each in the first and fourth.

Wayne catcher Tom Fulcher went into the season finale with a notable national honor. He ranked first in the national NAIA batting statistics issued last week. His stratospheric average, .571. While his average has fallen since then, he is likely to remain at or near the top in later statistics.

On the same chart, outfielder Bob Gaeta led the nation in average

O'Neill St. Mary's Beats Wayne in Meet; Comstock, Jorgensen Get Season Honors

Doug Spittlen hurled one-hit ball for O'Neill St. Mary's in the Class B district baseball tournament at O'Neill Saturday to eliminate Wayne from the competition. The locals went down to defeat 2-0.

In team voting after the season ended, Cal Comstock was elected honorary team captain for the season. Gordon Jorgensen was elected most valuable player for Coach Mike Mallette's team. In both cases the voting was almost unanimous for the winners.

Six hitters for St. Mary's managed to get one safe blow apiece, none for extra bases. Mark Johnson's single was the only safe hit for the Blue Devils. He led the winners were by Tom Coker, Jack Kelly, Bruce Appleby, Tom Earley, Bill White and Dan Coday.

Spittlen struck out eight in keeping control of the game from start to finish. He did not walk a man. Delmar Wacker went five innings for Wayne, striking out four and giving up five hits. Dean Elyson pitched the sixth and seventh frames, fanning two, walking one and yielding one hit.

In five of seven frames, Spittlen had the team down in order with only three men getting to bat. Wayne got two men on with errors and one with a hit but two died on base and the third was put out trying to come home.

Following is the box score of the last game of the season:

Winside Seniors Give Two (Different) Plays

Winside seniors presented two plays, a one-act play in two scenes and a two-act play in five scenes, Thursday afternoon and Friday evening. The plays were vastly different but both were typical high school productions.

"Nine Girls" was a murder mystery and "Sis O' the Ozarks" was a hillbilly comedy. Both took place in mountain cabins. The first in California, the second in the Ozarks. This made it possible to use the same stage settings.

Mrs. Ruth Troutman and Wesley Boydston directed the plays. Larry Ave, Leon Backstrom, Hal Wade, and Bill Zierke were the stage crew; Claire Bleich and Brenda Svenson handled programs, Linda Alleman and Claire Bleich were in charge of advertising; Keith Gamba and Bob Wagner were with Mrs. Linda Alleman and Twilla Hank did make-up work; and Jackie Stevens, Sandra Frink, Brenda Svenson and Mickey Topp handled ticket sales.

In "Nine Girls", the audience was informed early who the killer was but the cast didn't know it, which added to the suspense. Jackie Stevens had the main part and was the murderer of Ava and would-be murderer of one.

Other cast members were Marcel Shuffelt, Connie Marquardt, Jacki Jeffrey, Sue Ann Glass, Claire Bleich, Kathy Jacobsen, Kay Gries, Brenda Svenson and Twilla Hank.

"Sis" featured Sandra Frink as the lead. Stealing the show were three boys playing women's roles. This type of portrayal is always good for laughs and Warren Gallop, Elroy Brogren and Gary Jenkins seemed to have a lot of fun showing their attractive legs and lady-like ways.

Other cast members were Linda A. Johann, Steve Mueller, Mickey Topp and Roger Hill. Due to the fact Hill had to be in the track meet delayed one day, he was not present for the afternoon performance and Director Boydston read the part without distracting from the production.

The play was full of corny jokes by the pipe-smoking aunt (Linda Alleman) and Sis as well as others. Example: "The widdler is getting married in July. Married? She's married three times already. Yep, she's celebrated being married three times and in July she's going to celebrate the fourth."

One Youth in Two of Three City Accidents

It just wasn't Bob Peterson's week last week. He was involved in two separate automobile accidents in a two-day period.

May 11 at Fourth and Pearl, Peterson was westbound on Fourth, stopped for a stop sign and then pulled onto Pearl. He failed to see Phillip Griess, Wayne, who was southbound.

At Fourth and Douglas May 11, Elna Bode, Wayne, was southbound on Douglas, and Rowan Wiltsa was westbound on Fourth. Both drivers applied brakes but skidded over 40 feet apiece and collided. Officer E. L. Halley, who investigated reported the Peterson car struck the left side of the Bode car and $37.65 to the Bode car and $89.45 to the Wiltsa station wagon.

May 12 on the Arnie's Sav-Mor parking lot, Bob Peterson was pulling out onto Main, Charles Schultz, Wayne, pulled alongside Peterson the latter to spin around on the wet pavement. No one was injured and no estimate of damage was learned. Chief of Police Vernon Halley investigated.

Certificates Awarded Wayne 'Junior Firemen'

Certificates were awarded recently to the boys and girls who had completed the junior fire patrol course which had been offered for the past eight months by the Volunteer Fire Department.

Of the 35 youngsters receiving certificates, 20 were girls and 15 boys. They came from the fifth grade classes at St. Mary's Catholic School, Northeast Elementary School and West Elementary.

Bill Kugler and Clete Sharer were in charge of classes with other firemen assisting. Similar programs are offered each year to the fifth grade pupils of Wayne.

Mary Kay was named chief and Peggy Johnson assistant chief. They were named on the basis of turning in the longest list of fire hazards they had been instrumental in having corrected.

After the awarding of certificates, the youngsters were given rides around town on the fire trucks. Lunch prepared by the firemen was served when the junior firemen returned. Good firemen that they are, they didn't let anything burn while fixing the lunch.

District 45 closed the school term Monday with a tour to Norfolk. Mrs. Ernest Grone, Mrs. J. LeRoy Spahr and Mrs. Warren Austin furnished transportation for the 10 pupils and teacher, Mrs. Edith Cook. Sunday, patrons of the district held a cooperative picnic dinner at the school.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Last week's article stating the new budget for the City of Wayne, including $950,000 for electrical equipment prompts me to correct a statement or 2 concerning the reason for buying a new engine, and to turn down the application to the bureau for power. They also stated the revenue derived from the plant.

First I want to comment on an efficient plant over the years. It has been and will continue to be a source of revenue to the city. But, I wish to point out that sale of power to WSC and an ever-expanding city has kept the demand up and helped make it profitable. However, WSC pays approximately one cent per KWH more for power

Three Motorists Draw Fines in County Court

Three motorists appeared before Judge David Hamet the past week for traffic violations. They were the only ones involved in county court hearings.

Robert McConnell, Wayne, appeared May 9. He was charged with making an improper turn and was fined $10 plus $5 court costs. Chief of Police Vern Fairchild was the complaining officer.

The following day, Dallas Schabel, Clearwater, appeared on a speeding charge brought by Trooper T. J. Rogers, Nebraska Safety Patrol. Fine and costs came to $22.

May 11, Ralph Elston, Norfolk, appeared on a speeding charge with Trooper Rogers again signing the complaint. Costs came to $5 and the fine was $30.

Policemen's Week 'Light'

Actively was light on the police beat in Wayne the past week. One broken, a broken door handle, an abandoned car, locating a man for a telephone call, funeral escort, three accidents and regular patrol duty made up a week that was quieter than usual. One resident complained of a car left on the streets too long so police had it towed away. An Arizona resident was trying to locate a man here and police helped find him. Details on the accidents, broken door handle and breakins are in separate stories.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ludwig, John and Paul, Evansville, Ind., arrived Saturday for a week's visit in the John Owens home. Judy Owens, Central City, and Bonnie Owens, Grand Island, spent the weekend with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Owens and family, Carroll, were dinner guests Sunday.

Investor's guide!

A Cadillac remains unmistakably a Cadillac regardless of year. New or previously-owned, its impressive size, its remarkable beauty and its continuity of styling have all contributed to Cadillac's reputation as the finest of all luxury car investments.

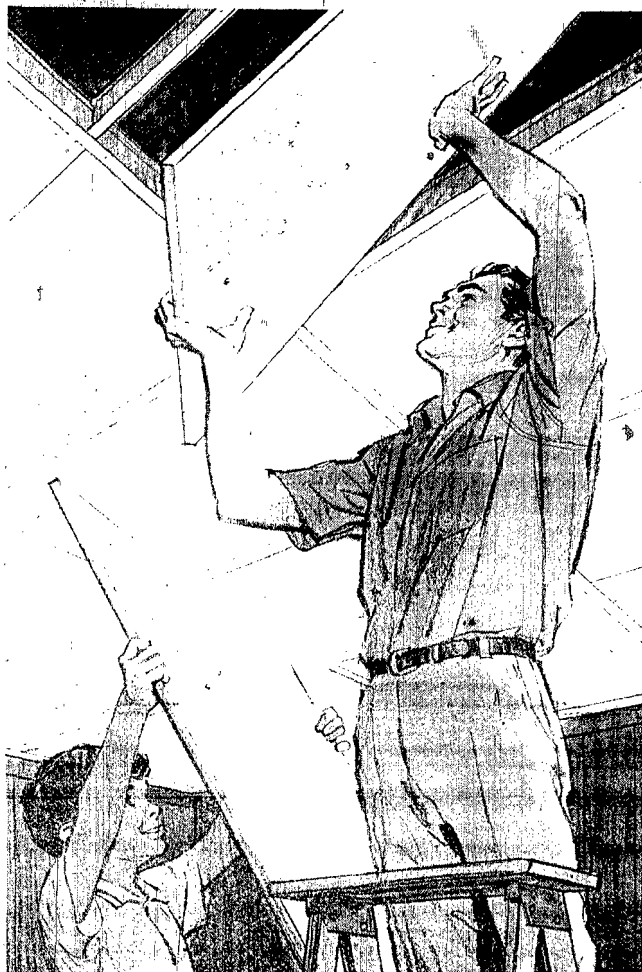

Every day, more and more wise car buyers are discovering that they can get more performance, luxury, distinction and pride of ownership in a previously-owned Cadillac than in many new cars of lesser stature. For example, Cadillac engineering has always been so advanced that many features of Cadillacs several years old are just now finding their way into new cars of other makes. And Cadillac has for years provided as standard equipment automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, power windows and power seats on most models, automatic cornering lights and many other conveniences that even now cost extra on most new cars. Consider, too, the extra reassurance of motoring in an automobile of Cadillac's impressive size and stature. Before you buy your next car, be sure to look for your authorized Cadillac dealer's used car sign. It is the best possible landmark for a wide, attractively priced selection of well cared for, previously-owned Cadillac cars.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search for available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

Do You Want Daylight Saving Time?

Friends of ours in a rural community in Colorado insist the Denver area is the only part of Colorado that really wants daylight saving time. Is the same situation going to exist in Nebraska where just the "city folks" want it?

In Iowa we were told by one mother: "I have a hard time getting the kids to bed at the regular time because it is still light." But she added, "It's even worse when school starts and you have to get the children on the school bus while it's still dark."

Sports fans around Wayne might be interested in the Minnesota situation. For "night" games they either have to start around 9 or 9:30 or they have to start in daylight, playing during the difficult hours of dusk and finish under the lights.

Maybe you want to go to a drive-in theatre. When does the movie start? Not until it's dark and there too it means you have to wait until after 9 o'clock for the movie to get underway.

A farmer friend says he works the same number of hours everyday whether Iowa is on daylight saving time or standard time. But under DST when he gets through with work it is too late to go to town as nothing is open. Even nights when stores are open late they are closed

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

before many of the hard-working farmers can get to town.

In Wayne and other places there are people who want the extra hours of daylight at night. They want to go golfing or fishing. For them it is doubtless a convenience.

But for the farmers, the parents and many others daylight saving time is something that is dreaded each spring and gratefully removed each fall. Nebraskans may face the problem of "to go or not to go" with other states because the national law provides all states must have it unless they have laws prohibiting it. Nebraska law prohibits DST now.

Talk to your friends in Iowa, Colorado or Minnesota before you decide how you feel about it. Talk to Moorhead, Minn., residents where they stayed off DST although most of Minnesota is on it — Moorhead choosing to go with Fargo which has standard time along with all North Dakota. Next year, Moorhead will have to go as Minnesota goes and some are not happy.

It's not daylight saving time in Nebraska yet, but the issue will be a heated one when it comes up. We would like to hear more reasons why it is good and why it is bad. Later on you may help make the decision.

Cable Television's Coming

The Nebraska U. football games a day or so after they are played. Nebraska election results, Nebraska news, movies in color, educational television programs, features left off the area TV stations and many other attractions will soon be coming Wayne's way.

Cable television should be ready to go this fall. A new world of television programs will open up as all channels carry near-perfect pictures offering a variety of choice not possible now.

Some ask if they need cable television. No, they do not. But those who have it first are going to be the best advertisement the system has and from their enthusiasm others will "get the fever" and then wonder why they were reluctant to sign up.

Still disagree? Over in Sioux City

there is a campaign to bring CATV to that city. Why? Because South Sioux City will have it and people on the Nebraska side of the river will get 11 channels while those on the Iowa side will get two.

Cable television does not interfere with any station's programs. It merely boosts them into local homes for better reception without antennas or rabbit ears. It does not operate as an advertising unit, merely as a booster to signals.

There will be some who expect more, but what more they can expect is difficult to figure out. All they have to do to be satisfied is compare television this May with television next December in Wayne. There should be no doubt then.

Rootworm Control at Cultivation
Applying insecticide at cultivation may have some advantage over treatment at planting. Recommended materials break down quite rapidly, so peak effectiveness might be gone when the most rootworm eggs are hatching.

Applying insecticide at cultivation can also be an effective emergency treatment if heavy infestation is noticed. Where treatment is planned after planting, early June is the recommended time for application.

Consider Haylage

There is ample research evidence that storing alfalfa as "haylage" (50 to 60% moisture) may be one of the better methods. Comparative costs are not prohibitive when the quality and nutritive value of the end product are considered.

Another important advantage is that harvesting, storing and feeding can be completely mechanized.

The steps leading to a uniform quality product are fast becoming an exact science. Silos must be made air-tight if silage is to be kept at a minimum. Ordinary upright silos can be used satisfactorily.

Best results reported to date show that 8 to 10 per cent loss can be expected with low moisture silage. Four to five per cent of this is in storage and the rest in field loss. Cutting the alfalfa a little before one-tenth bloom will cut down on moisture content and field loss.

Garden Tips

Tomato transplants should be set at least one inch deeper in the garden than they originally were grown — and they can be set as deep as the lowest leaves.

Usually the deeper the plants are set, the less susceptible they are to wind damage.

Starter solutions containing a high proportion of phosphorus should be applied around the plant roots. Too much nitrogen may prevent the blossoms from setting fruits.

Nitrogen should be applied after the first fruits are the size of golf balls — to keep future fruit size from decreasing so rapidly.

Nitrogen will also encourage vegetative growth to shade the fruit and aid its development.

Get the Most From Your Cooling Dollar

The cooling unit in your home needs your help if it is to perform up to its ability and give you full value for your dollars. Put the system into operation at the start of the hot weather season and don't turn it off until hot weather is over. The thermostat will start and stop the cooling process without any worry on your part.

If doors and windows are open, heat and humidity enter from the outside air. Dust and dirt come in too. Your cooling unit and filter are working to remove these annoyances. You can help them do the job by keeping the doors and windows closed.

Shades and draperies should be closed on all windows and doors not protected from the sun on the outside.

A kitchen ventilating fan should be operating whenever you're cooking. Close the doors to the rest of the house. Open a kitchen window a few inches to replace the air removed by the fan.

Ironing and those housecleaning chores which require water, release moisture faster than the cooling unit can remove it in very hot weather. These jobs should be done on a cool day or during the coolest hours of a hot day.

Wet laundry should never be dried indoors while the house is being cooled. Wet garments, even baby clothes and lingerie, release moisture that has to be removed by the cooling equipment. Automatic laundry equipment should be vented to the outdoors.

Heat and showers release both heat and moisture that add to the burden of cooling equipment. Bathroom doors should be closed when bathing. Open the bathroom window to ventilate moisture-laden air to the outside. A plastic or non-absorbent shower curtain is best.

Dust, dirt, and pollen aren't good under any circumstances. They're even less desirable in air passing through an air conditioner. The dirt sticks to the wet surface of the cooling coil, and it's a tough job to remove it.

A good filter is vital. An electronic air cleaner is most desirable since it removes most of the dust particles that do most of the damage.

A revolution is taking place in the ranks of organized labor.

It is evident in the public as well as the private statements of persons associated with the union movement.

It is producing a new political breed of independent-thinking citizens who want to know more than they're told by either their company bosses or their union bosses.

Some years ago, union leaders persuaded workers to listen to them rather than company bosses on such matters as work-ing conditions, hours and benefits.

The union leaders extended their influence into national, state and local politics, and finally began telling the workers how to vote — even supplying them with "filled out" sample ballots.

The change that's taking place is healthy for the country.

National AFL-CIO officials have complained in recent weeks about the failure of the political party they've traditionally supported to deliver on its promises.

"This means state and local union leaders are finding it difficult to explain many of the Federal government's actions to their members."

In short, workers who keep a sharp eye on their take-home pay are asking sticky questions about why their income is shrinking in relation to the cost of necessities they buy for their families.

They want to know why they are asked in bigger and bigger amounts to provide so many benefits for other people.

They see the paceniks, beatniks and smutniks taking over and running the war on poverty, and they question whether it's worth $6,000 to $7,000 a year of their tax money to train one worker when the working man gets a credit of only $600 on his income tax to read and educate a child of his own.

May 14, 1936: Saturday night's rainfall pushed the total for May to 2.96 inches. April this year showed only .61 of an inch. Fire which is thought to have started from a short in the car about midnight Sunday destroyed the new automobile, shed and machinery at the Carl A. Peterson farm near Laurel. Prof. and Mrs. Albert G. Carlson were in Omaha Friday where they attended a concert of the Philadelphian Symphony orchestra. Ben Grono topped the Sioux City cattle market May 12 with 22 heifers, averaging 865 pounds, and selling for $7.85. Mrs. Mary Brittain, first Wayne mother, was honor guest at a Mother's Day program given by Wayne City School children Friday.

May 15, 1941: Estimate of expenses for Wayne for the coming year were placed by the city council Tuesday at $123,500. This is considerably less than last year's estimate of $186,500 because then it was necessary to include $58,000 to meet a possible necessity of building a sewage disposal plant. Drastic means are to be taken to stop crowds from interfering with fire trucks and firemen's cars according to Sheriff J. H. Pile. The law provides that roads leading to a fire are to be cleared for the fire truck and firemen answering an alarm with their own cars.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I think the gesture of The Wayne Herald to divide the Ak-Sar-Ben Community Service award prize money received by them, among various worthy organizations in neighboring towns, was most commendable. We are indeed privileged to be served by a weekly paper that has the interests of neighboring communities at heart as well as those of their own town. In behalf of Scouting, and Troop 264 of Dixon, in particular, I would like to thank The Wayne Herald for their generous and much appreciated contribution to our Boy Scout Troop at Dixon.

Thank you so much,

A Friend of Scouting

This week's bouquet was suggested by a Dixon resident. That's exactly what we want — suggestions. We try to tab as many as possible who deserve recognition for the good they do but we're bound to miss some. Why don't you drop us a line or call us if you know of someone who deserves more credit than they're getting for doing good. Not all of us find a way to serve our fellow men as easily as others seem to, but for those who do serve, credit should be given, whether they ask it or not. That's why Ak-Sar-Ben has good neighbor awards (and we hope someone remembers to nominate Mrs. Prescott next year).

The lumberman stood silently gazing down at his first child, a son, asleep in his crib. His wife observed this fatherly devotion and remarked: "A penny for your thoughts, darling."

"For the life of me," the lumberman-father said softly, "I can't see how they can make a crib like that for twelve bucks."

These visitors from South America were unimpressed with our high prices. Colombia has inflation that is almost impossible to believe. Bank interest rates on loans are 20 per cent. That's mild — if you get a loan at a professional loan company the interest rate runs nearer 48 per cent. Some "farms" are bigger than all Wayne County and are operated as corporations. We'll take our system here, and as we said editorially last week, may the small farmer never become a thing of the past in this area.

A proud mother walked into the "Small Monthly Payments" loan office clutching a small payment "There," she said as she threw it on the counter. That's the last payment on our baby and carriage."

"And how's the baby?" asked the friendly loan clerk.

"She's getting married next week."

If we had all the letters people said they were going to write to us, we could have a good letters-to-the-editor department. If we wrote editorials on the basis of ideas someone gives us (but which they won't write letters on) we could have more editorials than we could use. Our letter department is open to you. Hand your letter to us personally or mark the envelope "personally" and direct it to us. We will be the only person who knows who wrote it. Remember, your name must be signed although it need not be printed in the paper. One letter writer wrote us recently but did not sign. We asked for a signature. It came back later with something like "A. Broadhead" as a signature. Well, we didn't know anyone by the name used (not Broadhead, which we made up) and besides we don't accept that as a signature.

Read the article about swimming in Hot's Lake and then caution your kids about it. The swimming, not the article. We would much rather have some youngsters angry at us for mentioning it than to have a child laid to rest in the cemetery because that water looks so inviting on a hot day. Tragedies are not needed to fill the news columns.

Joe: My speech teacher says there are exercises that will improve your speech.

Shame: "You mean I have to touch the floor with my tongue?"

Primary Election Outcome Means Vigorous Campaign

LINCOLN — Nebraska voters turned out in heavy numbers last week to climax the primary season and draw the battle lines for Democrats and Republicans in the Nov. 8 general election.

The biggest surprise was Wausa banker Norbert T. Tiemann's victory over former three-term governor and ambassador Raymond Arndt, by comfortable margin. Curtis was unopposed.

Morrison, who decided against seeking a fourth consecutive term as governor to try for the senate, swept past his primary opponent, Columbus businessman Raymond Arndt, by comfortable margin. Curtis was unopposed.

Another race given considerable attention was that for lieutenant governor. The winners were John E. Everroad of Omaha on the Republican ballot and State Sen. Ross H. Rasmussen of Hooper on the Democratic side.

One state senator, Peter H. Claussen of Leigh, was defeated in the primary. He ran third in a three-candidate battle in the 18th district, which is comprised of Stanton, Colfax and Cumming Counties.

In Nebraska, the top two vote-getters in all legislative races advance to the general election for a second and final showdown.

Tax Referendum Fails

The State of Nebraska has appealed to the State Supreme Court a Lincoln County District Court order barring the 1965 State Income Tax Act from the Nov. 8 election ballot.

It took the action after a ruling by the District Judge Bartlett E. Boyles that the tax referendum drive completed several months ago was invalid.

Judge Boyles held that the 82,132 signatures secured by sponsors of the campaign were not proper because the circulated petition forms did not contain a copy of a key amendment or a true text of the law.

Supreme Court Clerk George Turner indicated that if both sides moved swiftly, the case could come before the court for oral arguments as early as May 31.

In its appeal, the state contends Judge Boyles' order was contrary to evidence and contrary to the law. It asked for a reversal of the decision.

Recreation Facilities

State Game Commission Director Melvin O. Steen has disclosed a Nebraska effort in Congress to advance millions of dollars to the states for accelerated construction of outdoor recreation facilities.

Steen said his department has contacted Sen. Roman L. Hruska, D-Nebr., a member of the senate appropriations committee, about the proposal.

The money would be advanced this year under the Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund Act, Steen said.

He said there is now authority for repayable advance appropriations from Congress beginning in 1968 but that this could be too late.

"Nebraska and many other states need this money on an advance basis this year and next year so we can move ahead with our recreational facility building," he said. "If we must wait another two years, the public that is using these facilities in increasing numbers will suffer."

Record Spending Forecast

The Legislature's Budget Study Committee has forecast it will cost more than a record shattering $1.2 billion to run state government over the next five years.

The projection was based on current programs, and the effects of normal inflation, salary-wage trends and bigger workloads.

It predicts the state budget for 1967-69 will be $608.5 million, compared to the present $461.4 million. The budget is expected to rise to $652.7 million for 1969-71.

Overall, this represents a $91.3 million increase in state spending, $58.3 million in the property tax-supported general fund.

The colossal spending forecast should be expected to result in higher taxes. Just how much the committee did not say.

Streams Program Begins

A State Health Department official says a comprehensive clean streams program will begin this summer when a new anti-pollution law takes effect.

Sanitation Director T. A. Filipi said preparations are now underway to make the effort so successful that Nebraska's waterways will become the envy of the nation.

The law, passed by the 1965 legislature, makes it unlawful to dump any refuse, junk or trash into or near any Nebraska stream. It takes effect June 30.

Filipi said the act covers individuals, associations — and, most importantly, cities.

Conviction carries a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000.

"Our aim is to eliminate the dumping of garbage into and along all Nebraska streams by the end of the year," Filipi said.

Court Ends Controversy

The State Supreme Court has written final to Nebraska's three-year-old time-sales and interest rate controversy.

In a unanimous ruling, the seven judges held that the 1965 installment Sales Act is valid in all respects.

The court, which sustained a finding of the Cumming County District Court, based its decision on a 1964 state amendment which permits the Legislature to enact special laws regulating interest on money.

The 1965 act provides for an 18 per cent interest rate on the first $1,000, with 12 per cent applying on all purchases above that.

It was the first time-sales act upheld by the court. Three others were struck down. But they were enacted before the 1964 state amendment.

Construction Lagging

A State Soil and Water Conservation Commission survey shows construction of flood-control facilities in Nebraska is lagging.

The study disclosed that only $5 million of the $17.5 million in planned construction is underway at present.

Warren Fairchild, executive secretary of the commission, said many of the watershed projects involved have been on the drawing boards for years.

Best results reported to date show that 8 to 10 per cent loss can be expected with low moisture silage. Four to five per cent of this is in storage and the rest in field loss. Cutting the alfalfa a little before one-tenth bloom will cut down on moisture content and field loss.

Usually the deeper the plants are set, the less susceptible they are to wind damage.

To Winside and Wayne graduates we have no sermons or graduation speeches. We just like what Supt. You're almost adults and it's time to start acting like adults. Have fun, for you're in the prime of life, but remember others too were once in that prime of life. Some now sit on the throne of success while others lie in the gutter of failure. We're hoping for the best for you and you'll get it if you're willing to work for it. Good luck.

John Golden, the late producer of plays, used to tell of a novice playwright who was always pestering him for an appointment. The pest got wind that Golden was in a hospital for a check-up. He rushed to the producer's room unannounced and implored: "Let me read my play to you."

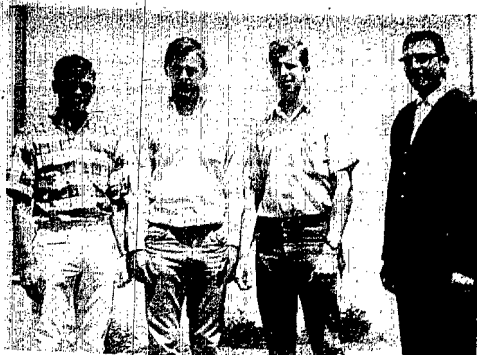

Golden thought fast. "Please, don't—my doctors just informed me that I'll be dead in an hour."

"That's all right, Mr. Golden," said the intruder, "this'll only take me 40 minutes."

Dixon Firemen to Seek Improvements

A project to improve fire-fighting facilities and fire equipment storage facilities in Dixon is being undertaken by the Dixon Rural Fire Protection District and the Dixon Volunteer Fire Department.

Concrete floors for the rest of the fire hall is the immediate goal. The area where the tanker truck has been stored has not had concrete flooring and the tanker has been left empty in winter to avoid freezing, necessitating filling it before taking it to a fire. During the summer it is left outside and filled.

Another delay comes due to the fire whistle situation. There is no fire whistle. First fireman to reach the truck moves it outside and turns on the siren on the truck. This too has meant a delay in some cases.

A 1936 fire truck is one of those "old faithful" pieces of equipment no one wants to part with. However, insurance companies report that fire insurance rates would go down if the district had a better truck—and the state fire marshal insists the community needs a better one.

The truck is old but gets to fires ahead of some of the newer ones and it is still in fine running condition. Nevertheless, for lower insurance rates and to comply with the state fire marshal's requests, a replacement truck may be sought.

No overnight solution is in sight. Firemen and town board members are taking care of first things first and that means the new concrete floor in the fire hall. In the meantime, a fire siren and a different truck will be considered.

'Plans for Concord Not Definite Yet'

Plans for the coming school term in the Laurel-Concord district are not definite yet, a school board member has informed The Herald. There is still a possibility a fifth-grade teacher will serve at Concord.

The information came as a result of the story last week concerning the "upset" community where many were disturbed because one less teacher was considered for Concord with fifth and sixth grades (small classes next term) to be taken by bus to Laurel.

Decisions of some rural schools could affect the plans, the board member said. If at their annual meetings they decide to send children to town schools, it is possible no change will be made at Concord.

As for "overcrowded" buses, the newspaper was told that the biggest bus the district has (51 passengers) plus a smaller panel-truck-size bus serve Concord. Neither is crowded at present nor would they be crowded with the added pupils, our informant said.

The board is reported to have no intention to spend money saved by not hiring one of the present teachers. When budget figures are published, they will show the amount saved under the arrangement.

Crowding is not likely in the Laurel school either, it was pointed out. The pupils from Concord would be divided up among four teachers in the fifth and sixth grades, and none of them would have exceptionally large classes even with the added pupils.
