

Patient-Days ft. Sets Another New High Mark

Wayne Hospital recorded 5,634 patient-days the fiscal year ending Apr. 30, according to a report made to the hospital board by Norman Olsen, administrator. It was the greatest number of patient-days in history for the hospital.

There were 608 patients, slightly below the previous high of 614 in 1962 but well above the 535 admitted in 1964. Previous high in patient-days was 5,402 last year. In 1960 the total was 3,888.

Sharp increases in average daily patient load and per cent of occupancy were also shown in Olsen's report. Wayne hospital averaged 15.5 patients a day compared to 10.6 in 1960. Occupancy per cent was 61.4% against 44.4% in 1960.

The fewest patients the hospital had on any one day was 10. In 1963 the low was 4. No new record was set in the highest number of patients one day as 25 was the high this year, exceeded by 28 in 1962 and 26 in 1963.

Hospital room costs per patient are up from 1965, rising from $22.72 to $23.55. However, the record high was set in 1961 when the hospital costs per patient per day came to $24.80. Lowest patient cost for a day came in 1962 when the costs were $22.33.

Financial costs were also way up, according to Olsen. The operating costs the fiscal year just ended came to $132,689. This compares to $87,415 in 1960, 127,578 last year. Wayne merchants were paid $12,716, down from $10,611 in 1965. Payroll hit a new high of $79,850, well above the $56,204 in 1960. Total dollars added to the Wayne economy came to $92,567, down from the high of $98,044 in 1965.

There were 130 babies born in the hospital in the fiscal year. This was two less than the previous fiscal year ending Apr. 30, 1965.

Medicare may have an effect on the hospital. Olsen compiled the total days of care to patients over 65. It came to 3,661. Income from patients over 65 came to $69,462. This is the first year this information has been kept and it will be interesting to see what happens in the next 12 months under Medicare.

Henry Hohnke of Hoskins Succumbs

Henry Hohnke, 69, a Wayne County Commissioner for over eight years, died at his home in Hoskins Thursday. He had not been ill and death was attributed to a heart attack.

Hohnke was appointed to the commissioner board Jan. 9, 1958, to fill a vacancy and had been re-elected several times. However, he was planning to retire at the end of his present term and had not filed for re-election.

In addition to serving on the county board, he had been a member of the Hoskins Town Board for a number of years. He was active in the church and in civic projects.

Funeral services were Tuesday at Trinity Lutheran Church, Hoskins, with burial at Norfolk. Full details are contained in an obituary in this week's paper.

DEDICATION CEREMONIES for Carroll's new post office will be held Saturday.

'Raise Stink' About Fire Raising Stink

Complaints have come in about residents of Wayne burning items they should not burn and burning during hours when burning is not allowed. In effect, the complaints "raise a stink" about the fires that raise a stink.

The stink part comes in when people burn garbage. This is against the law. City ordinances state that paper and trash may be burned in town, but not garbage.

Burning in the morning and in the afternoon is prohibited. See STINK - Page 6

Medicare Patient Load Could Be Too Great, Council Hears

Wayne City Council members were told Tuesday night the Medicare patient load could be too heavy for the present Wayne Hospital, Norman Olsen, administrator, appeared at the meeting to discuss problems that have arisen. With many additional patients expected when Medicare goes into effect July 1, Wayne Hospital will not be able to meet specifications for accepting patients under Medicare, Olsen said. It is approved for the time being but facilities are limited.

Council members voted to study means of gaining an area, county or community hospital to meet the requirements. Just how extensive the study will be and what form it will take was not learned.

Olsen also told of fire, sidewalk and alley problems at the hospital. He concluded with the information that an audit of hospital books will be undertaken at once to give a complete picture of the situation.

City employees are due to get a salary increase. All fulltime employees are included in a pay raise schedule approved by the council based on a job evaluation chart. Raises for all of the employees will amount to a total of less than $700 a month.

Two new departments were created. Vern Schulz was named head of the parks commission to have general direction and control of all city parks. Clerk Dan Sher was given added duties as supervisor of building and land. He will keep records of all lands and buildings owned and controlled by the city, keep track of condition of same and make semi-annual reports or improvements needed.

Another piece of equipment for the power plant was approved as outlined by B. H. Backlund & Associates. It calls for a cooling system for the power plant engines with cost estimated at $30,000. Bids for installation will be sought soon.

A major building permit and a remodeling permit were granted. Wayne Motor Express received a permit for a new workshop. See COUNCIL - Page 6

Winside Summer Courses Get Enthusiastic Support

According to Supt. Wayne Gesu, summer courses at Winside have received a more enthusiastic reception and more than anticipated interest.

There are 43 taking math and reading under the federal aid program. Of these, 16 are in the second and third grade group, 16 in the fourth and fifth grade group and 21 in the sixth to ninth grade group.

Mrs. Marian Ivers is in charge of the older group assisted by Mrs. Alice H. Henschel, Mrs. Lena Miller, the middle section, although Mrs. Ivers has charge of the youngest pupils.

There are 145 taking swimming at WSC with Mrs. Judy Peard in charge. She has 50 in second through fourth grade swimming, 38 in fifth and sixth, 35 in seventh and eighth, and 22 in ninth through twelfth.

Twice a week the youngsters in the second through fourth and fifth and sixth grade groups take physical education classes. This comes in the hour when they are coming in for buses to take them swimming.

Kept Stevenson is in charge of the physical education program with Roger Hill assisting. Tom Fulcher is in charge of baseball. The men have 73 boys out for baseball, 35 for Little Midgets, 20 for Midgets and 18 for Juniors.

Alfred Wagner and Fred Brander are bus drivers for the summer program. Carol Blech and Danne Weibich are assistants in the swimming program.

One Collision in City Causes Heavy Damage

A two-car collision in Wayne Wednesday of last week was the only mishap to mar the city's record for the seven-day period. Damages came to $400 for one vehicle and $113.55 for the other.

Richard McNeill, Wayne, was driving the car suffering the most damage. His car was involved in a collision with one driven by Doreen Thomson, Wakefield.

Officer Duane Henn reported the McNeill car northbound on Main. Miss Thomson was backing away from the curb in the 200 block and could not see clearly because of a fogged-over rear window. She backed into the right side of the McNeill car.

Pilger Woman Lets Cash Prize Increase

Rosina H. Waite, Pilger, allowed the Silver Dollar Night prize in Wayne to increase the past week. She was not in town when her name was called so another $50 was added to the fund.

Had she been in Wayne at 8 p.m. in one of the participating stores, she would have received $250. Instead, she receives a $10 consolation check from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

This week the prize will be $300. Some lucky person could walk off with enough to pay for a vacation just for being in the right place at the right time—in this case, Wayne.

Dedication of One-Room School Museum Set July 2

Wayne State's one-room school museum will be dedicated Saturday, July 2, in a public ceremony at 11 a.m. The school bears the name of Mamie McGorkindale, who taught at Wayne State from 1920 to 1949. Now retired, Miss McGorkindale lives in Wakefield and will be the honored guest at the dedication.

The schoolhouse, more than 75 years old, formerly was Wayne County District 13 school, located about a mile south of Wakefield. It was purchased by the Wayne State Foundation as a Nebraska Centennial effort, also as a permanent recognition of early education in Northeast Nebraska.

The school is restored to its original appearance at the turn of the century. In it are numerous books, maps and pictures from that era.

Following the school dedication, the annual alumni reunion will be held in the Student Center at 12:30. Honored classes will be those of 1916 and 1941. This will be the college's 75th alumni reunion.

At 2 p.m. the same day there will be an old-fashioned ice cream social on the school lawn. The school is invited to attend and to tour the museum. Regular hours for the school will be announced later.

Rural Pupils' Tuition Card Deadline Set

Deadline for rural pupils wishing to attend high school with free tuition is July 1, County Supt. Gladys Porter reveals. This covers all pupils living in Class 1 districts.

Most of the rural districts are "Class 1" and notice cards were given out with diplomas. Mrs. Porter said if anyone lost their card, another card is obtained at her office.

High school admission certificates will be sent out in August on the basis of cards returned. Anyone who has not turned in a free tuition card is apt to find there is no admission card for area high schools.

Supt. Porter said Wayne County paid tuition last year in 13 high schools. This year it appears the number will be smaller as Belden High is no longer operating and one pupil attending a distant school last year will not return there.

Anyone having questions about the tuition cards should contact the superintendent's office. Waiting until the last day before cards are due will only cause congestion.

Ikes and Scouts Fight

Threat of Musk Thistle

Izaak Walton League met Monday evening at Ike Lake with 20 Boy Scouts and their leaders on hand to help work, eat and see a film. Chief activity was digging up musk thistles, those not killed by a spray used recently.

The Ikes are boasting the largest membership in the history of the local chapter. At present there are 167 members on the roll.

Family night is planned for Saturday, June 25. Future plans also call for killing musk, holding down weeds and maintaining the grounds. This will be easier if all members remember to close the gate when coming into the area as well as when leaving it.

A film, "Heritage of Splendor" was an entertainment highlight of the meeting, taking up the subject of the desecration and littering of park areas. A report revealed the travailing work on the drive from the lake to the county road is now complete.

YOUNG AND OLD square dance together at Belles and Beaus gatherings in Winside and Carroll. Shelly Davis and Rick Davis are the young couple in this posed square. Jerry Junck and Peggy Hoeman represent the teenagers, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Benshoof the young married couple and Mr. and Mrs. Lem Jones the older club members.

Almost 200 Active in Carroll-Winside Square Dance Club Attracting All Ages

There are over 170 active members in the Belles and Beaus Square Dance Club of Winside and Carroll. Many others of all ages attend less regularly.

A check was made on a dance this week to see what makes such a group click. In this day and age it seems unlikely that teenagers, pre-school children, folks in their 60's and young married couples could gather every two weeks for fun all ages can enjoy but that's just what the situation is.

For instance, there's Shelly Davis, 4, who can do some of the simple square dances. There are lots of teenagers and young marrieds and there are some in their 60's, such as the Joy Tuckers.

Do they mix? They do and they love it. It is not uncommon to see a teenage boy twirling a gray-haired lady or a bald-headed man as partner for a pert high school girl.

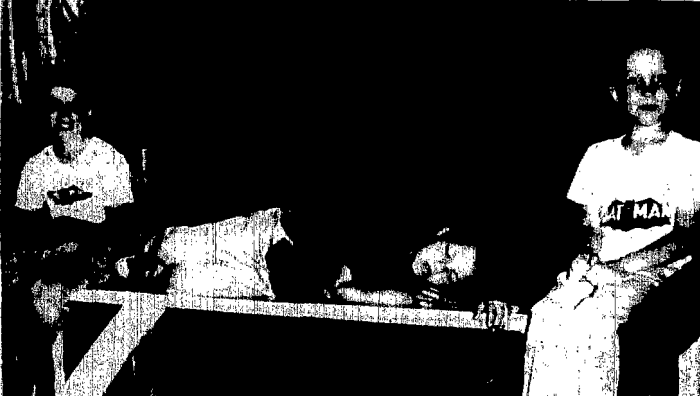

There never seems to be a stranger at a square dance. Once you get into a square you're involved with everyone else in the square in all sorts of routines and you're soon dancing with newcomers as if you'd known them for years.

The Winside-Carroll group exchange dances with other clubs and vice versa. The Village Squares and Doss Dandies of Norfolk visit Carroll-Winside and the Wayne County folks reciprocate. There are also visits to West Point, Allen and other towns to take in square dances.

But the dancing itself is not the only function of the club. It operates without formal meetings and without troubles. There is no drinking, entertainment is aimed at the entire family and winter and summer there is a general feeling of congeniality and good fun.

Dave Chambers, Wayne, is the caller for the Belles and Beaus and has offered to teach others since he plans to return to college. Jerry Junck, Carroll, is the most apt pupil, taking to square dance calling like a duck to water.

The local club announced plans for dances during the next few weeks at its Tuesday gathering. Included are the free dance at the Carroll Festival June 27; a

mantics Testing Demonstration staged by Wayne State students Tuesday afternoon.

They learned that much—in fact practically everything — one observes is related to other factors, that impressions one has of some object or word are conditioned by its environment.

For example, one of the demonstration's exhibits offered visitors a chance to eat some strange looking hors d'oeuvres. "What is that?" asked most of the visitors, pointing to some icky looking concoction.

They never learned what it was until they had eaten it—if they did eat. The point of the exhibit was to show that under the testing conditions most visitors automatically were suspicious. Many did sample one or more items, nibbling slowly, and frequently remarking something like, "Say, that tastes good."

Curiously, the least desirable hors d'oeuvres was a combination of cottage cheese and chicken died green. It was delicious. However, some items that looked more palatable turned out to be rattlesnake, octopus, abalone (a snail-like mollusk), and cricket. Two kinds of worm larvae looked distasteful and attracted few eaters.

The point was made that most of the hors d'oeuvres might well have been eaten without question at a genteel party.

Another exhibit, called "feel art," provided three closed boxes with small openings through which visitors stuck their hands to feel enclosed objects. One box had an electric cord attached, but the cord was not plugged into an outlet. Inside, the box contained a big, fluffy feather which created a sensation of light shock. The usual reaction: quick retrieval of the hand and a shocked expression.

Here the point was that associations may create fear because not all the factors heeded to create understanding were present. In this case, only the sense of touch was available inside the box while the sense of sight outside the box influenced a person's reactions.

One exhibit explained the five basic principles of general semantics, the principles, most important if people are to think and act logically. These principles are:

- 1. Dates — everything changes with time.
- 2. Index — everything is different even mass-produced items.
- 3. Et cetera — no matter how much is written or said about a thing, more could be written or said.

4. Quotes — the exact language, the exact facts are necessary when one reports the writing or saying of another.

5. Hypothesis — everything is related. The importance of these principles is this: To be logical about all kinds of common influences on a person's life, one must consider all sorts of factors governing these influences — whether it's buying groceries, electing public officials, going into debt, understanding the war in Viet Nam, bringing up children.

A special visitor to the demonstration was J. Gordon Roberts, prominent Omaha businessman who is a trustee of the International Society of General Semantics. His comment to Mark Liebig, chairman of the demonstration: "This is an excellent work. I'm glad I came."

Stink -

(Continued from Page 1) The evening is also forbidden. The only hours burning trash or leaves is allowed is from one p.m. until 8. No burning is allowed on Sundays.

Added Inch of Rain Falls Here in Week

The dry spell was effectively broken last week with moisture falling all over the area. Just for good measure, another inch of rain was recorded in Wayne last week.

State National Bank gauges showed .24 of an inch falling June 11 and .75 of an inch falling June 15 for a total of .99. It was raining off and on Wednesday morning so the total went well over the one-inch mark.

Ralph Watson's government gauges three miles north of Wayne recorded .42 of an inch up to 5:30 Wednesday morning. It had rained for another half hour after that and indications were that rainfall throughout the day could be expected.

Weather forecasters were calling for a continuation of the shower activity to the weekend. Temperatures were expected to be from five to ten degrees below normal for the period.

X-rays have also revealed heart enlargement or heart out of place. Any number of medical facts can be determined by studying the little films that result from the minute taken to face the "real candid camera."

For about 99 per cent or more, cards will be received in three weeks notifying them that no defects were found. Others whose x-rays indicate a further check should be made, will be referred to the physicians of their choice.

Only those persons 18 years old and older are eligible for the free x-ray. Hours are from 9 to 12 and from 1 to 5 and the unit will be in Wayne for all the area to patronize Thursday and Friday of this week and Monday through Friday of next week.

Last day for visiting the unit is June 24 and then it will be another year before the mobile x-ray unit comes here again. Funds that make this service possible come through the sale of Christmas seals. Everyone uses seals — and everyone should use the x-ray unit.

Winside Teacher Gets NDEA Fellowship Aid

Donald S. Novotny, who enrolled at the University of Nebraska for the summer session this week under an assistantship, has been named a recipient of an NDEA Fellowship for the 1966-67 school year. This fellowship is granted to outstanding persons in the field of science who wish to continue in the area of education. He will pursue his Master's degree in organic chemistry.

Novotny, who is a 1964 graduate of Wayne State College, has taught at both Allen and Winside High Schools. While attending college, he was a member of Lambda Delta Lambda and Kappa Mu Epsilon, honorary fraternities in physical science and math respectively. He was also treasurer of Morey Hall.

He and his wife, who taught for the past two years in District 57, will move to Lincoln in August along with their daughter, Jill.

Deadline Set for Crop Support Loan

June 30 is the deadline for obtaining price support loans on corn and soybeans on the 1966 crop, according to the Wayne County ASCS office. Maturity date for the two crops is July 31.

Those wishing to obtain loans on their 1965 crop must have application forms filed for price support by the June 30 deadline. Further information is available at the office.

Farmers who signed to participate in feed grain and wheat programs agree to devote acreage to conserving uses equal to their farms' conserving base acreage and the acreage signed up for diversion under each 1966 program.

A reminder is also given producers that eras-compliance means a farmer participating on one farm and not on another in which he has interest must stay within the feed grain base on the non-participating farm. Also producers must go to the ASCS office to report acreages instead of reporters measuring farms.

Final date for certifying diverted acreage for feed grain and wheat is Aug. 15. Corn and grain sorghum acreages must also be certified by that date.

Restrictions include: Harvesting any crop, except approved substitute crops, is prohibited; grazing diverted acres between Apr. 1 and Oct. 1, 1966 is prohibited; grazing diverted acres devoted to a grain or oil seed crop which matures is prohibited; and producers must control erosion, weeds, insects and rodents.

No Bones Broken in Two-Story Tumble

Frederick Mann, Wayne farmer, fell off the roof of his two-story home Saturday and suffered no broken bones. He was shaken up and was hospitalized until Tuesday.

At his farm three miles west and one mile south of Wayne he was repairing the television antenna on top of his house. He had used a ladder placed on the porch roof to get atop the structure.

Coming down the ladder, Mann suddenly felt it slipping. He and the ladder tumbled, hit the porch roof and then tumbled to the ground. It is thought the porch roof helped break the fall enough to prevent serious injury.

Mann landed on his right side until his son, Layne, 12, came out a moment later. He tried to get up, knew he was hurt so stayed where he was until a doctor and ambulance came.

At the Wayne Hospital, x-rays revealed no broken bones, although muscle and cartilage injuries were evident. Monday Mann was getting around in his hospital room on crutches and was scheduled for another check-up Tuesday.

Mrs. Mann, Layne, a hired man and the ever-helpful neighbors were taking care of chores and other work on the Mann farm while the head of the family was laid up.

Two New Officers Signed for Force

Wayne's undermanned police force has "reinforcements" on the way. Two new officers have been signed to fill vacancies on the staff.

Police Chief Vern Fairchild said the department had lost two officers and a third officer, Keith Reed, has been unable to work because of blood poisoning so only the chief and Officer Pat Hailley have been regulars. Duane Henn and Carl Scheel of the WSC force have assisted the local officers during the shortage.

First new officer to arrive will be Alan Peck, Clarks. Married within the past year, he and his wife will move to Wayne from Omaha this week and he will start duties Monday.

John Redel, Winside, is the other officer. He is to move here this fall but will start work in the police department July 1. Peck has been working in Omaha but grew up in Clarks where his father has been marshal for years. Redel has been Winside marshal nine years and a Wayne County employee 25 years.

Former Carroll Resident Proves Oldtimers Wrong

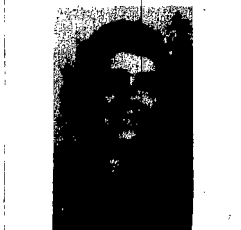

When Myron Jarrell and his wife left their home near Carroll in 1958 to return to his former home in Louisiana, he decided peach would be a crop that would do well there. Oldtimers said he was wrong. Today they know he was right.

Jarrell now has 740 peach trees in heavy production, from May through August. He grows varieties of several types so the early ones ripen, later ones ripen and right on through the latest varieties.

His peaches at Exlan, La., have found a ready market in a produce firm at nearby Leesville. What's more, others in the area are beginning to plant peach trees.

Now he says he thinks the sandy soil might be good apple-producing country. Oldtimers say it is not. Time will tell whether he was right again.

Jarrell's wife is the former Delpha Horstman, daughter of Mrs. Mary Horstman, Wayne. The Jarrells lived on a farm near Carroll before returning to Louisiana. They met when he was an aviation cadet at WSC.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

Small But Noisy

Time passed us by. When we were growing up, there were no motor scooters, motor bikes or "small" motorcycles. One thing about the little monsters — they're making up for lost time by making enough noise now. People who missed the noise when they were growing up can get all they want now.

Reversing the Trend

In no less than three instances lately the fact has been noticed that the trek of teachers to the West Coast has a reverse trend. Teachers have gone out there, stood it as long as they could and then returned.

Congratulations Stanton

Stanton has just received an award of $1,000 to be used in community projects. The award came because "someone cared" enough to do something that needed to be done.

Remedial Legislation Helps To Avert Major Tax Crisis

LINCOLN — Nebraska's special session legislature passed into history after enacting remedial legislation which hopefully will avert a major tax crisis.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

RIGHT-HANDED talking is done by Heinie Victor, shown using the new artificial larynx which brought him the happiest day in his life so far.

Wayne's 'Most Happy Fellow' Has to Be Heinie Victor With New Way of Speech

For many years Henry "Heinie" Victor was Wayne's street commissioner, a man adept at his work, a pleasure to visit with and a congenial fellow to all. Then he lost his larynx, changed jobs and was unable to talk. Today he has to be considered Wayne's "most happy fellow" because he can talk again.

Cancer struck and specialists told Heinie (no one calls him "Mr. Victor") that he must undergo surgery for removal of the adenoid apple (voice box or larynx). After the performed surgery they knew he had not submitted to surgery he would have had only four or five months to live.

Getting an "artificial larynx" from Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. was his wife's idea. She brought two home, one a man's model and one designed for women. Although Heinie had heard of them he did not think of using them and agreed it was worth a try.

A moment later he enjoyed what he terms, "the happiest moment of my life." He could talk again. After 14 1/2 frustrating months of being unable to speak he could talk.

One of the first things he did was go to the telephone and call Councilman Ed Smith. Wonder of wonders, Smith not only understood him over the telephone but he recognized Heinie's voice!

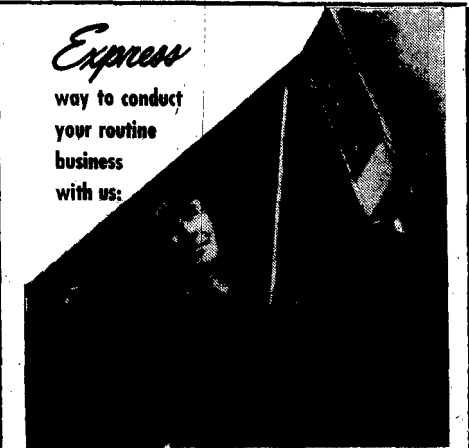

Heinie ordered a model from the telephone company and kept the two samples until his own personal voice box arrived. This resulted in an amusing situation which Heinie enjoys telling about.

Before leaving for work one morning he picked up the artificial larynx but he picked up the woman's model by mistake. With the first words at the city clerk's office he knew what he had done—and the city employees told him, "Heinie, you sound just like an old maid." It was the last time he took the wrong model, but

He was a hired hand, then owned his own farm in Dixon County, was street commissioner in Wayne 16 1/2 years and has been sanitation commissioner for the city since Sept. 1, 1965. In every job he excelled, taking pride in the quotation he once saw at Bahlen's something like: "A little done well is better than a great deal half done."

A grand fellow to all who know him, he is a happy man again after 14 1/2 frustrating months of silence. He is one of the happiest men in town—he said so, and that's proof enough.

Hoskins Float in Planning Stages

Plans on the Hoskins community float have moved ahead and actual construction started this past week. The float will serve a double purpose, representing the town at the Norfolk Centennial and next year, in the county's observance of the state centennial.

Ed Kolath was in charge at a planning meeting Tuesday night of last week. Mrs. Gerald Bruggeman was acting secretary for Mrs. Jim Falk, who was at another meeting.

Tom Sharr, Norfolk, was in charge of floats for the Norfolk celebration, told at the meeting. He discussed and Sharr not only gave tips on building it but agreed to help with it.

Carl Mann and Gerald Bruggeman have started construction work. Mrs. Bruggeman acted as the chairman for Hoskins on the Wayne County Centennial Committee and will work on both the Norfolk and centennial plans.

Large Crowd Attends 75th Anniversary Observance Sunday at Carroll Church

Zion Congregational Church west of Carroll was packed Sunday for the 75th anniversary service and program. Visitors were registered from many points in Nebraska as well as from South Dakota, Minnesota, Colorado and Kansas.

It seemed like old times for many. They renewed acquaintances with some who had not been around in years and there were many reunions of families that were brought about because so many wanted to attend the anniversary program.

Dr. Fred Register, conference minister from Lincoln, was the speaker at the morning service and brought the anniversary message in the afternoon. The church pastor, Rev. Gail Axen, was in charge. There were two present who had been present in 1891 when the church was founded. They were David Rees, then eight years old and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Rees, were among the three couples who started the church. The two present were David Rees, Wayne, and William Rees, Denver.

Howell and Margaret Rees, William and Susan Jenkins and Mathias and Owen Jones are credited with starting the church as charter members. Rev. Samuel Jones was their pastor for 10 years.

Morning worship included praise by Mrs. J. Rees, choir response and song, hymns, scripture reading, responsive reading and sermon. Mr. and Mrs. David Rees

Winside Man Interviews Ex-President Eisenhower

Three men were seated in a room in Abilene, Kan., June 4. One was Former President Dwight Eisenhower, the second was his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower and the third was Dennis Warnemunde, Winside.

Warnemunde had written to President Eisenhower seeking an interview. June 2 he received word that the former president would see him in Abilene where he was to attend a dedication of the Eisenhower library.

however showed much interest in the theme and was very friendly and cooperative in every way. Warnemunde said. The visit with Mr. Eisenhower will contribute much to work on the thesis, he added.

Warnemunde's idea of talking with the former president came in April while doing research at Eisenhower Library. He learned that he would be in Abilene and go to Manhattan to get an honorary doctorate at KSU.

He wrote to Mr. Eisenhower at Gettysburg, Pa. to ask if he might visit a little with him on his trip to Kansas. Arrangements were handled by Gen. Robert Schulz, secretary to the former president, who notified the NU student of the appointment.

Charles Goobert Funeral Services Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Charles Goobert, 78, were held Wednesday afternoon at Redemer Lutheran Church, Wayne. Mr. Goobert died June 12 at Wayne Hospital.

Charles Goobert was born July 13, 1886 in Marne, Schleswig-Holstein, Germany. He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith. He came to America at an early age.

He was married Dec. 27, 1909 to Madalene Brackert at Winside. They lived on a farm south of Wayne for 45 years before moving into Wayne in 1957.

His parents and a brother preceded him in death. Survivors include his widow, seven daughters, Mrs. Zelvin (Margaret) Baker, Browster, Minn., Mrs. Ester Geu, Ellinwood, Kan., Mrs. Norman (Frances) Soden, Wisner, Mrs. Marshall (Wilma) Cochran, Midland, Tex., and Mrs. Arnie (Minnie) Ebker, Alene and Roma of Wayne, and a son, Harry Goobert, Woodstock, Ill.

Winside Superintendent Goes to Huge District

Supt. Wayne Gesirich, Winside, is going to a school district that is "slightly" larger than the Winside district. In fact, he is going to the district that is said to be the largest in the world in land area.

He leaves in August for Barstow, Calif., where he will teach in the Barstow Unified High School. The district covers a mere 9,500 square miles—square miles is correct.

Of course, much of the district is desert, but nevertheless it is one huge district. As for desert, the climate there is just what the doctors ordered for Mrs. Gesirich's health.

Supt. Gesirich has been at Winside five years, one year as a principal and teacher and four years as an administrator. He will return to teaching in Barstow, handling woodwork, drawing and general metals classes in the town of 11,000.

James Christiansen, Coon Rapids, Ia., is the new superintendent. He is expected to arrive in Winside in July and work with Supt. Gesirich before the latter leaves for his new post.

Funeral Services For Fred Beckman Held Here Monday

Funeral services for Fred L. Beckman, 75, were held June 13 at Redemer Lutheran Church, Wayne. Mr. Beckman died June 9.

Honorary pallbearers were Arthur Young, Elmer Lyon, Ray Cross, August Dorman, Roy Day, Mike Draghu, William Fedrickson and Kenneth Dunklau. Pallbearers were Duane and Dennis Beckman, Loren Dunklau, Myron Strahman, Dennis Carlson and Daniel Gustafson. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery.

Fred L. Beckman, son of Lewis and Augusta Beckman, was born Nov. 21, 1889 at Wayne County. He spent his lifetime farming north-west of Wayne with the exception of 1917-1918 when he served in World War I. He was married Sept. 16, 1918 to Laurine McIntosh.

Two infant sons, six brothers, three sisters and a great grandson preceded him in death.

Survivors include his widow,

Business So Good Lions Unable to Contact All

Wayne Lions Club had two busy days Thursday and Friday. They report their reception for sale of blind-made products at Wayne homes was so good they were unable to make calls at all the homes.

Stan Smith, acting chairman, reported the response at homes was excellent as everyone seemed to have seen the story about Lions calling. However, he and his workers apologized for not getting around to all the homes.

Another visit of the truck with items made by the blind will be made to Wayne soon. At that time an attempt will be made to contact everyone, but more will also be encouraged to patronize the truck parked downtown.

Residents not only recognized Lions for the good they were doing in the sale of blind-made items but for other projects too. One resident turned in a set of glasses to be given to the Lions sight campaign and another inquired about donating eyes when they die to the blind.

Lowell Johnson is club president and Wex Pfueger handled publicity for the sale. Workers were Charles Denesia, Ben Meyer, Clarence Bolling, Herb Bodenstedt, Bob Nelson, I. Hughes, Al Voorhies, Jim Keating, Lyle Pierson, Larry DeJorge, Harold Maciejewski and Al Rasmussen.

Graduates in Michigan

Thomas Fliekema, Wayne, received his PhD degree at Wayne State University, Detroit, when 2,010 were graduated. Fliekema was born and raised in Muskegon, Mich., and earned his AB degree from Hope College in 1960. He is married and the father of two children. He received a degree in history at WSU and will come to WSC where he is a member of the history department.

Baker Puts Lot Into His Work — Even Hand

Maurice Proett of Wayne Bakery put a lot into his work Saturday. He didn't really intend to include his hand but that went into the work anyway.

While using a spatula to push batter into a dough-mixer, he caught his right hand in the beater. The beater cut into his hand exposing the tendon but no bones were broken.

He was in considerable pain and unable to work the fore part of the week. However, employees, his wife and a brother kept the bakery operating as near normal as possible.

Oliver Proett, Steve Johnson, Mrs. Proett, Dan Proett (age 12), Mrs. Warren Dill and Mrs. J. E. Kay have all helped out in various ways since the mishap and during the absence of the head man.

Dixon Town Board in Meeting With Firemen

Dixon's Town Board met Monday of last week in a monthly session that was routine except for the visitors present. Members of the rural fire district had been invited to meet with the board.

Discussed was a proposal to put a concrete floor in the fire hall. At present the hall has a dirt floor and during the winter months the tank truck has to be left empty due to the danger of freezing. A floor would help solve this and other problems.

The Dixon fire department has received a search and a better truck is being sought. Details on that activity are contained in a separate article.

In addition to the firemen's section of the meeting, the board handled regular business. Bills were paid and other matters came up but no action was taken.

Trucks Overturn in Two County Mishaps

Two trucks overturned in separate accidents in Wayne County Friday. Soft shoulders were blamed for both.

Warren Gallop, Winside, was driver of a Winside Dehy Co. truck that overturned one mile east and two miles south of Winside. The accident was termed unavoidable.

Gallop met a car on a narrow strip of road that had just been built up. He pulled over as far as he could and the truck tipped over into the ditch, breaking off the windshield and doing minor damage. Gallop was unhurt.

Twelve miles south and six miles east of Wayne, Ron Brown was driving a gasoline tank truck for Gene Fletcher. He too found soft shoulder pulling him to the right.

The tanker kept going to the ditch and finally tipped over into the ditch on its side. The right and Friedolina Hohnke were burned side and top were damaged but driver was unhurt. Deputy Sheriff Scott Thompson investigated. He was married May 10, 1925 to Kathryn Amend at the same church. The couple lived on a farm near Hoskins until retiring 15 years ago when they moved into Hoskins.

Final Rites For Henry E. Hohnke Held At Hoskins

Hoskins — Funeral services for Henry E. Hohnke, 68, were held Tuesday afternoon at Trinity Lutheran Church, Hoskins. Mr. Hohnke died June 9 at his home in Hoskins.

Rev. J. Edward Lindquist officiated at the rites. Music was furnished by students of Trinity Parsonial School, accompanied by Roland Menk and Mrs. Oscar Zanders. Pallbearers were Leland Carson, Robert Kennedy and Henry Deck, Norfolk. Adolph Bruggerman, John Krause and Carl Hinzman, Burial was in Hillcrest Memorial Cemetery, Norfolk.

Henry E. Hohnke, son of August and Friedolina Hohnke, was born April 29, 1897 at Hoskins. He was baptized and confirmed at Trinity Lutheran. He was married May 10,

Dixon Gets Siren; Truck Considered

Dixon, without a fire siren except on the fire truck, will soon have a town siren and maybe a newer truck. A siren has been acquired from Lake Manawa, Ia., a town just outside of Council Bluffs. Fire Chief John Young is expected to get the siren, adding that to a number of other duties he just does because they have to be done. As soon as the siren arrives, the town's tornado and fire signals will be published. As for the truck, the state fire marshal's office says: "It's a good old truck all right, but it should be replaced." Dixon residents point out that the fire truck may be old but it usually is one of the first on the scene at fires. However, time brings changes and Dixon has located a newer truck which may be purchased to replace the 1936 model still in use. If negotiations can be completed "Old 26" may be replaced.

Winside Hayride Has More Modern Feature

A modern touch was added to a hayride at Winside Thursday night. The hay racks were on the order of the oldtimers but pulling them were three tractors instead of six horses.
St. Paul's Lutheran Walthier League, Winside, sponsored the hayride with members of Walthier League at St. Paul's, Carroll, as guests. Around 150 youngsters attended with Rev. H. M. Hilpert in charge.
Werner Mann, Herb Jaeger and Merlyn Jenkins furnished the tractors for the ride through the countryside. Lunch and vespers on the church grounds followed the ride.

Winside Board Has Lagoon on Agenda

Bids on the new sewer lagoon and appointment of a new utilities superintendent are matters confronting the Winside Town Board. Both will be taken care of before another week has passed.
Kenneth Gramberg is the new superintendent of utilities. He takes the place of Dean Wolfgram, who resigned to take a post with Winside Dohy. Gramberg started work June 1.
Monday, June 13, the Winside board was to open bids on a sewage lagoon. Several firms had indicated an interest in getting the contract to build the lagoon which will end the town's dumping of sewage into Logan Creek.
Backlund & Associates are handling the bid formalities for the town, according to Mayor N. L. Dittman. He and other board members have spent considerable time preparing for the bid-letting.

Ak-Sar-Ben Grant Given County Fair

Once again the Wayne County Fair (along with all other county fairs in the state) has received a $500 gift from the Omaha civic organization, Ak-Sar-Ben. The money will be used on a new grandstand.
Al Bahr, secretary of the local fair, reports the gifts from Ak-Sar-Ben over a four-year period starting with this year are to be set-marked for grandstand use. The county will match Ak-Sar-Ben funds.

Ak-Sar-Ben is giving the money to fairs for the 15th straight year. Without that organization's help many of the fairs would have folded long before this.
In most cases, counties have more than matched Ak in funds. It is expected that this will be necessary for Wayne County since a grandstand will cost more than $4,000, the amount four years of Ak and matching funds would provide.

In addition to the outdoor exhibits, Ak-Sar-Ben provides $40,000 for 4-H and 4-FFA premiums. An other $80,000 from state admission taxes at Ak-Sar-Ben fairs goes to county fairs.

Weed Control Problem Discussed at Concord

Control of weeds, especially musk thistle, came before the Concord Town Board at a meeting Tuesday. With farmers concentrating on getting rid of thistle, town residents may be asked to do their part to rid their farm lands.
Concord has quite a stand of musk thistle. Farmers living nearby would benefit along with town residents if a concentrated drive to get rid of it is made, board members feel.
The Concord board is still awaiting word from the township board and the county commissioners on what action is planned toward getting a dump east of town and changing the route of a county road to provide for the dump.
Routine business matters were also discussed at the meeting. Last week bids were approved and town finances were discussed.

Concord Has Marshal During Night Hours

Jerry Alvin is the night marshal in Concord. He was assigned duties at the last meeting of the town council.
