Congress Candidate Seeks Law Guidelines

Rising crime in the nation requires that Congress set up guidelines for law enforcement. Robert Denney, Republican candidate for first district congressman in Nebraska, told a Wayne State College audience Friday.

In the wake of supreme court decisions limiting what law men can do with suspects, Denney said, "I am concerned that minorities are seeking the constitutional right to violate the Constitution. I believe Congress should enact guidelines telling law officers what they can and cannot do."

A recent supreme court decision declared that police must not question a suspect unless he has an attorney with him or waives the right to have counsel.

"As an attorney," Denney said, "I know that if a suspect has an attorney with him, he will never talk to law officers."

His experience as a country attorney proved, he said, that prosecution of crime will be more difficult and costly if law authorities cannot question suspects alone.

Turning to agriculture, Denney said he does not favor elimination of government controls. "This would be silly. In my home area (Fairbury) it would mean bankruptcy for many farmers."

He said farmers should be guaranteed up to 100 per cent parity in income. But after that, the government should devote its farm program to subsidize foreign distribution of farm products.

4 The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Thursday, August 4, 1966

He called for stricter supervision of U. S. foreign aid. When the government provides money for a domestic project, it controls the spending of every dime, he said. Why not do the same in nations where the United States spends its foreign aid?

On government efforts to combat poverty and illiteracy, Denney said some of the projects by the Office of Economic Opportunity are good, some bad. "Too much of the money goes to political hacks," he said.

Instead of the Job Corps, private business could handle the training of young people — with cooperation from federal, state, and local governments. Denney said he favors the idea of giving "investment credit" to businesses for their expense in such training. That is, the costs would be tax deductible.

Of the war in Viet Nam, Denney said, "We are there, by order of President Johnson, on the strength of a congressional resolution, and we have to stay there. I am only sorry the president did not follow sooner the Republican proposals of 1965 to carry the war into North Viet Nam."

Denney appeared alone after his opponent, Cong. Clair Callan, had to cancel his appearance for a debate. Callan wired earlier that a House committee hearing would keep him in Washington.

Local Man's Auto in Three-Vehicle Mishap

Louis Meyer, Wayne, was one of three drivers of vehicles involved in a collision 4 1/2 miles southeast of Hubbard Wednesday afternoon of last week. Paul Brown, Norfolk, was driving a car and Lyle Barton, Norfolk, was driving a truck when the mishap occurred.

Deputy Sheriff John Sanford of Dakota County investigated. He reported $850 damage to the Meyer car, $400 damage to the Brown truck and $100 damage to the Barton truck.

Brown was headed southwest behind the truck. Meyer was headed northeast toward the two Norfolk vehicles.

Sanford's report showed Brown pulling out to pass the truck. Meyer swerved to miss the Brown car and almost went over an embankment, the force of the vehicles colliding pulling him back.

The Brown car scraped along the left side of the Meyer station wagon and then collided with the truck. None of the drivers were injured.

Wayne Midgets, Juniors in District Championship Wins

Wayne captured both championships in the district American Legion Midget and Junior baseball tournaments here last week. The local clubs treated their neighbors harshly, winning the Midget title over Laurel (6-1) and the Junior title from Winside (6-0).

The local Midgets won the right to play in the title game by defeating Randolph 12-0 last Wednesday on a no-hit, no-run pitching performance by George Eynon. Wayne blasted 10 hits in taking a 12-run lead in the first two frames.

Eynon struck out six while Dan Schmeider and Bob Rohlf fanned three. For Laurel Wayne hits included two singles each by Steve Schram, Larry Hix and Dave Tietjen and a single apiece by Merle Rasmussen, Mike Biltoff, Steve Johnson and Randy Helgren.

Winside Juniors defeated Wakefield 9-6 after taking a 9-1 lead. Wakefield coming back strong in the sixth frame. Larry Redel went the route for Winside, fanning six and allowing seven hits. Dick Hingst hurled for Wakefield, striking out seven and yielding five hits.

The Winside hits, all singles, included two by Roger Hill and one each by Dick Ditman, Randy Jacobsen and Jim Behmer. Wakefield's hits included three singles by Hingst, a double and a single by Vaughn Benson and a single each by Dick Brownell and Paul Eaton.

In the Midget finals Thursday, Delmar Wacker hurled one-hit ball on the 16-1 route of Laurel Mike McCoy. Jim Schmeider, Jerry Schmeider and Doug Feber pitched for the losers, striking out a total of four. Wacker fanned seven. Steve Kerl had a triple and a single to lead Wayne batters. Randy Helgren had two singles, Steve Schram a double and Dave Tietjen, Gordie Jorgensen and George Eynon a single each. Jerry Schmeider's single was Laurel's only hit.

The Legion championship was equally one-sided with Randy Olson yielding just one hit and striking out 15. Bob Dangberg hurled until the fifth before taking over. Dangberg fanned six and yielded one.

Randy Jacobsen hit a single for Winside's only hit. Mark Johnson had a pair of doubles, Bob Morris a triple and Terry Lutt, Olson, Phil Kelton, Dean Elofson, Dave Brown, Herb Swan and Duane Shell each hit a single as every player for Wayne got one or more hits.

Wayne Midgets Gain State Tourney; Juniors Bow Out

Coming from behind twice against a Scribner team that had gone undefeated in 15 games, the Wayne Midgets won the area Legion Midget title at Aurora Tuesday night to advance to the state championship tourney at Aurora starting this weekend. The Juniors from Wayne bowed out by losing to Ralston and Hooper.

Manager Hank Overin does not have the full schedule for play at Aurora for the Midgets. However, they are to start their first action Tuesday evening with finals Wednesday in a single-elimination tournament. Juniors playing at Aurora will play a double-elimination plan.

Scribner took a 2-0 lead in the first frame Tuesday with Wayne coming back for one run in the second and three in the fourth to go ahead 4-2. Scribner made it 4-3 in the fifth and went in front 5-1 in the sixth. Wayne came back with three runs in the sixth to win 7-5 and preserve a 22-0 record.

George Eynon pitched until the final out in the fifth frame, striking out eight and giving up four hits. Delmar Wacker took over from there, fanning two and allowing no hits. Jack Rohlf, Glenn Poppe and Moody whirled for Scribner, allowing seven hits while striking out a total of five.

Gordie Jorgensen accounted for a double play by catching a bunted foul ball and throwing to Tom Lessman at first to get two and put down a Scribner threat. He also pegged to Larry Hix at third for the final out of the game. Hix tagging the man attempting to steal.

In the championship game, Steve Schram had two singles and Jorgensen, Hix, Randy Helgren, Eynon and Lessman each had one for Wayne. Rick Muller had two singles and Poppe and Dave Meyer one each for Scribner.

Wayne Legion beat Pender 2-1 Saturday night to advance a round. Dean Elofson struck out 12 and yielded four hits for Wayne. Dan Simonson, Mike Hing and Perry Wagner hurled for Pender, fanning nine and yielding 11 hits.

Terry Lutt's home run with one on base was the best hit for Wayne. Lutt also had two singles. Elofson had a double and a single. Dave Brown and Randy Olson a pair of singles and Mark Johnson, Phil Kelton, Bob Morris, Lowell Lutt and Duane Shell each hit one. Ray Novak had two singles and

Home Communication Modernizing Pays Off

Does needless shouting disturb the quiet of your home? Do wasted steps try the patience of your family?

Probably one of the most neglected elements in the home today is improvement of home communications—a relatively easy way to make your life simpler, safer and more convenient.

Developments in the communications field have been so rapid in recent years that many families are unaware of the new conveniences that can be added to the home. Now, you can plan your home communications to meet your individual needs, just as you decorate to reflect your own special tastes.

Communications Needs

The size of a house, its layout and number of people in the family affect the communications needs of a home. For people with large homes or growing families, for example, an internal communications system can save steps, end the need for shouting and bring new dimensions of safety to the whole family.

Today, a wide variety of these internal intercom systems are available. Basically they build down to three categories:

(1) The short-range communications system which is often considered when it is necessary to tie in a detached garage, workshop or other separate building with the internal system.

(2) The built-in sound system intercom which can incorporate an AM radio so that music and news can be piped through the house.

(3) The internal intercom system offered by your local Bell System Phone Company that is fully integrated with regular telephone service.

Merely by reaching for the nearest phone, any member of the family can talk with any or all other individuals throughout the house. And best of all, hands-free answering enables the other party to converse freely without interruption.

As an added convenience, you can talk with a caller at the front door from the kitchen, bedroom or wherever there is a phone. This is especially valuable at night when the door can be answered and, if necessary, help summoned by a phone call without getting out of bed.

Emergency Broadcast

In case of accident or fire, this home interphone system can be used to notify the rest of the family simply by broadcasting the alarm internally by phone. Through two-way communication replies from the rest of the family assure that the message has been heard.

The same system also lets you listen in on the nursery or check on children's activities and whereabouts.

All this is possible through small speakers in matching colors which accompany each phone. Your message is "broadcast" through these speakers into every room in which there is a phone. A flick of a switch on the phone lets you converse with callers or children at the front door. Highly sensitive microphones in the base of each telephone pick up replies from the rest of the family, enabling a clearly audible two-way conversation.

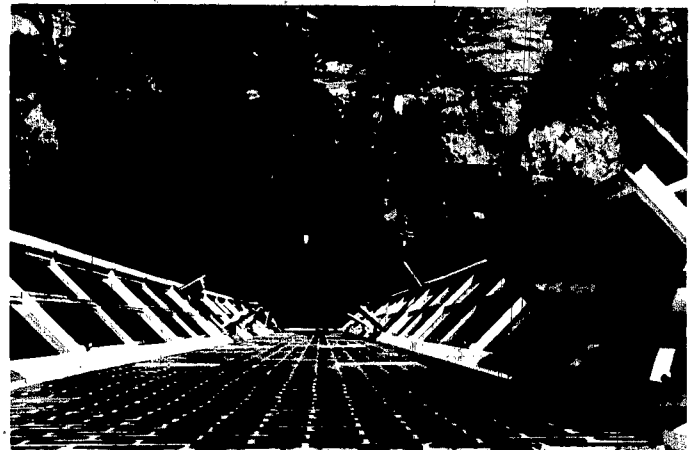

So, as your thoughts turn to home improvements, give pause to consider if your family could benefit by better home communications. With today's new aids, you need not walk to talk.

SPACE SCIENCE A show by the NASA Spacemobile fascinated a Wayne State audience Friday with models of many American space vehicles and with demonstrations on the physics and chemistry of space travel. For one exhibit, lecturer Bruce Reski summoned Linda Seymour from the audience to dip a piece of soft rubber tubing into a beaker of liquid oxygen (temperature minus 270 degrees). When she withdrew it, the tube shattered into bits, having turned brittle in a matter of seconds. Reski explained the U. S. Space efforts have value not only in military and scientific potential, but in some by-products which are useful in every day life on earth.

Cattle Feeders to Sponsor Field Day

Walt Tolman, beef nutritionist at the Northeast Station, Concord, reports a cattle feeders field day will be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 18, to give cattlemen a chance to see the test cattle before any go to market.

Some heifers, winners of alfalfa haylage and finished on corn and alfalfa hay with no other protein supplement are "market fat," Tolman said. During the winter, corn was added to haylage in varying amounts and during full feed, minerals and vitamins were fed to see if they would improve alfalfa as a supplement to corn.

"Alfalfa is a fine feed and we want to see how to get the most from it," Tolman stated. He added, evidence on gains up over three pounds daily during the hot July check period appear to be due to feeding and implanting steers with stilbestrol.

Co-sponsors of the field day are the University of Nebraska, Northeast Nebraska Experimental Farm Association and Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association. The latter group will furnish doughnuts and drinks.

Son of Ex-Drinker Brings Family Here

Rev. Floyd Dalzell, son of an evangelist who was converted from a life of dissipation to a life of ministry, will bring his wife and four children here Sunday for two services at the First Baptist Church.

According to Rev. Frank Pedersen, church pastor, the two sessions are at regular church times and the public is invited. Rev. and Mrs. Dalzell, Timothy, Joyce, Esther and Pamela, will appear at the 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. services.

The life of evangelism for Rev. Dalzell began when he was a little boy. He traveled with his father who had given up drinking and was spreading the gospel. Floyd provided the musical ministry for the services.

Since then he has spent many years in evangelistic and pastoral ministry. Because of the transformation in his own home and the experience of the years, he has grown up close to the problems of men and women of this confused age.

His messages here will be directed at helping people "find faith." He also specializes in heart-inspiring songs with electric guitar accompaniment. He and his family offer variety in word and music through special appearances such as the ones here.

Six Swim Teams to Be in Wayne Meet

A six-way swimming meet for swimmers of all ages will be held Tuesday, Aug. 9, starting at 5 p.m. at the Wayne Municipal Swimming Pool, Norfolk, West Point, Harrington, Wausa and Pierce are expected to join Wayne in the meet.

Ken Oids, who is in charge of the swim meet, reports three members from each town will be allowed to compete in each event. This will necessitate swimming against time for comparison to determine winners. There will be five age groups so the swimmers from peanut-size to adults will be able to compete. Smallest division is for those 8 and under. There will also be 9-10, 11-12, 13-14 and 15-up age groups. The meet is open to the public and there will be no admission charge. Because of the competition, the pool will not be open for regular swimming that evening.

Fresh Football Physicals Set

Impossible as it seems, football season is close enough for an announcement of physical examinations for the freshmen at Wayne High. Coach Ron Carnes reveals physicals will start Monday, Aug. 8 and last through Friday. Coach Carnes, who will be assisted by Don Johnson in the freshman sport, has sent letters to the boys who have been in the Wayne-Carroll public school system. He hopes to get in contact with rural boys and those from St. Mary's school also.

He has around 35 signed up already without any from rural or parochial schools having indicated an interest yet. This is far ahead of the usual interest so the squad is bound to be a big one this year. Physicals for boys whose last names begin with letters A to H will meet at Dr. Matson's office at 9 a.m. Monday. Those in the K-J group will take physicals at 9 Tuesday and the P-Z group will have physicals at 9 Wednesday.

Any boys unable to be present for the proper group, should come in Friday, Aug. 12 at 9 or should make appointments of their own. Physical examinations are required by the state before boys participate.

Football equipment will be checked out Aug. 25 at 3 p.m. Mouth pieces will be fitted at the same time and information on insurance given.

In letters to the candidates, Coach Carnes pointed out that they should get in shape now by limited swimming, doing exercises, running, jogging and performing other activities to get them into shape before pre-season practice starts.

Silver Dollar Night Drawing $350 in Wayne Thursday, 8 p.m.

NOBODY, BUT NOBODY, rode the merry-go-round at Winside's Old Settlers celebration as much as Toby, Steelman Bros. Carnival dog. Toby slept as the carousel went around, jumped off as he pleased, jumped back when it was moving and enjoyed just sitting and watching the crowd or other riders. He never paid once. The other riders are unidentified.

County Racers 'Enjoy' Variety of Troubles

Wayne County racing car drivers experienced a variety of troubles the past week. Car trouble plagued five different drivers at three different tracks last week.

At South Sioux City Sunday, Gene Behmer, Wayne, ran second behind Bill Kirk in the third heat in spite of engine trouble. However, he had to withdraw his car from further racing.

Gary Nelson, driving Louis Meyers' car from Wayne, developed fuel trouble in his car in the third heat. He came back to win second in the C Feature.

At Norfolk Sunday, Gene Brudigan, Hoskins, was leading the third heat with three laps to go when the rear end went out on his car. Gerald Bruggeman, Hoskins, lost a wheel from his car at the start of the A Feature.

Saturday at Alta, Ia., Behmer had trouble. He won the first heat, developed engine trouble and was forced to drop out of the trophy dash. In happier situations, there were some winners. Larry Brudigan, Hoskins, was second in the first heat at Norfolk. Gary Kant, Hoskins, fourth in the first heat; Willie Mahler, Hoskins, second in the second heat; Gerald Bruggeman, Hoskins, second, Harold Brudigan, Hoskins, third and Jim Falk, Hoskins, fourth, all in the third heat; L. Brudigan, fifth, Mahler

4-H Members Put Knowledge to Use

Members of the Electro-circuiters 4-H Club made good use of the knowledge they have gained the past two years Saturday and Sunday when they did some re-wiring work at the 4-H building at the Wayne County Fairgrounds. Stan Hartman of Wayne County Public Power District is the leader for the club. The boys meet once a month in the REA building to learn and do. Electricity is their common interest. At the fairgrounds, they added outlets, put in new service units, revamped the wiring and did other work. It was all brought about because of the blowing of fuses and other electrical trouble last year due to overloads.

In addition to their work in the building, the boys are preparing projects for display at the fair. They will not have electric motors as they had last year but they will have wiring boards, lamps and other electrical devices they made themselves.

Hartman reported the boys asked for a "real" wiring job and the fair work resulted. His members are Dennis Ekberg, Allen, Larry and Timothy Meyer, Bryant Reinhardt, David Stuthman, Paul Youngmeyer and John Watson, all rural boys of the county.

Wayne County Family's Summer Work Unusual

A family from the southeast part of Wayne County is spending the summer in unusual work. They are in British Columbia, ranging right up to the Alaska border.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weseman, Marion and Edward of the Leslie community are visiting Weseman's brother who is a prospector. Mrs. Weseman and Marion work with strawberry pickers of all nationalities and the men are prospecting and surveying.

The men flew from Vancouver to Prince Rupert to Stewart. On an island in the Iskut River they are mapping and surveying while testing soil for silver, gold, lead, zinc and copper.

Getting around is not easy as there are no roads. The trails they cut lead right up to the ice fields. Towns? It was June 1 the men in the far north work last saw a village.

Game is prolific. One prospector shot a grizzly and cub. Moose are close by all of the time and wild geese fly during the 11 p.m. to 3 a.m. "night" of the far north summer. Spruce trees are four-foot thick and 200-foot high.

The men live in tents with wood floors, planks having been flown in. Radio communication is virtually all due to atmospheric conditions and necessities of what is happening in the "outside world" are few and far between.

Wesemans are well-known in the southeast part of the county, being active in the Leslie Farmer's Union and other work. They will have many interesting tales to tell once they get back from the big timber country.

Carroll Youth on Leave

A 2c Dennis L. Stoltenberg, who is spending a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Stoltenberg, Carroll, was graduated from Technical school, Lowry AFB, Colo., as a weapons control systems technician on the Air Force Phantom jet F4C. Stoltenberg has been assigned to Consolidated Maintenance Sq., Lowry AFB for OJT.

Mrs. Charles Helkes is visiting in Blair with the Lyle Steras and Kermit Andrews. All attended the Bartels reunion Sunday at Emerson Park.

Mr. and Mrs. John Owens, Bonnie and Judy, returned after spending a week in the Walter Ludwig home, Evansville, Ind. Mrs. Ludwig is a daughter of the Owens.

Dixon County SCS Has News for Area Farmers

Dixon County Soil Conservation District has news for residents of that county Leonard Converse, Donald Baade and C. W. Yost all have news on various projects in the county.
 Converse reports that farmstead windbreaks should be planted now. He adds that the areas to be planted should be plowed up and kept "black" for the rest of the summer to conserve moisture, kill weeds and puff the ground in condition.
 Baade reports that the Nebraska SCS commission recommended Lame Creek Watershed for priority for planning assistance so surveys can start at once for preliminary design and location of erosion and flood water control structures.
 Technical assistance can be received in the SCS office at Wakefield or the SCS office in Hartington. Cost-sharing information is available at ASCS offices in Ponca and Hartington.
 The increasing number of gullies led to the formation of a watershed district. A plan covers 230 gullies and 780 acres damaged by floodwater. Other Cedar and Dixon County problems in a 4,700-acre area cover road and bridge damage.

Why Should I Even Think of Retirement Now?

Three reasons: (1) money, (2) money, (3) money. That's a pretty important subject to all of us. Consider this. No matter how many retirement pension programs there are, or Social Security programs there are, you are the only person who can guarantee the kind of financial security you will want in retirement. Life insurance is one of the best ways to guarantee that you have sufficient retirement income. Because it is a solid investment with excellent return. But, the longer you wait before establishing your retirement income schedule, the more you must put aside. Isn't now a good time to begin your retirement income program?

Hoskins, Winside Have Emergency CB Operator

Hoskins, Winside, Pierce, Stanton, Columbus and Norfolk radio operators belong to the Emergency Citizen Band Radio Club, Norfolk. Their work was stressed during the Norfolk centennial celebration.

They were asked for help in traffic control. Each took a position at assigned intersections to hold back through traffic during parades and to divert traffic from the congested areas.

About 112,000 people were present for the three parades so the police could not handle the crowd
without the aid of the CB Radio Club members. Civil Defense officials and police joined in praising the radio operators for the work they did.

Vie Bernstrauch, Norfolk, is secretary of the club. According to the secretary, next meeting in the regular series will be Aug. 8 at 8 p.m. in the fire station basement,
Norfolk.

SHRINE CIRCUS at Norfolk Aug. 4-5 will include these trained elephants (and the girl!) Tickets may be obtained by youngsters from many business places in Wayne County free of charge for the matinees.

Damages came to $149.65 to the Norfolk vehicle and $84.15 to the Doring car. Officer Dick Hanson investigated.

In the 300 block on Main the same day, Officer Alan Peck investigated a mishap. It was the first accident in the business district since the city put in parallel parking. Roscoe Porterfield was parking his car, striking the rear fender of the parked car of Raymond Vriska.

Linda Seymour President
Linda Seymour, Wayne, will serve as president of Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman woman's scholastic honorary at the University of South Dakota, during the 1966-67 year. Miss Seymour, daugh-

'Cool' Pictures Shown Kiwanis Club Members

Two "cool" films were shown at the Monday noon meeting of the Wayne Kiwanis Club at the Woman's Club Rooms. Bill's Cafe catered the meal.

One film was in the form of a newsreel. It showed life in Canada including a feature section about the glaciers, uranium mining in the "outpost" areas and other facets of life in the neighbor to the north.

The other film was even cooler.
Made around 1935, it covered the trek of Admiral Richard Byrd to the South Pole. Although old and poor quality, the film proved highly entertaining.

Keith Bambrick, Omaha, was a guest at the meeting. He is an IBM representative and accompanied Supt. Francis Haun to the dinner-session.

Dixon County Dam High

A 50-foot-high dam, the highest structure ever built in Dixon County, has been completed for the Donald Dohma farm near Martinsburg to stop loss of productive land in a big gully. The dam itself is on the neighboring O'Meara Brothers land under the joint agreement. The dam contains 21,158 cubic yards of earth fill, 14 feet of 54-inch riser and 174 feet of 42-inch diameter barrel, according to C. W. Yost of Dixon County.

Stories of Most Lost Articles End Happily

Most of the items Wayne police are called upon to find are found.
However, in one case the missing
item has been found but the owner cannot be located.

Chief of Police Vern Fairchild reports a girl's bicycle was found three weeks ago. It is green and tan and in good shape but so far no one has reported to claim it.

Items and people lost the past week are a different story. One lost bike was found in Bressler Park, another lost bike was found on West Fourth, a lost truck was found in Sioux City and an elderly woman reported lost was found a few blocks from home.

Other police activities included investigating three accidents; investigating a noisy motorbike;
checking on a door to a professional office left unlocked at night and investigating two flat tires on the rear of a car of a Carroll man the car being left parked in an alley.

west of South Sioux City and will include registration, business meeting, demonstrations, banquet, social hour and entertainment. Registration will be from 10 to 1

Car Demolished on North City Limits

A Wakefield man wrecked his car on the north edge of Wayne Sunday. His car went out of control and overturned in the ditch on the Wayne State College campus.

Charles Lund told Officer
John Redel he was southbound when he lost control. The car veered to the east and off the road before overturning and coming to a stop top side down.
Lund was uninjured.

The mishap was one of three in the city the last week of July.
The other two occurred Friday.

Anton Konopasek, Norfolk, stopped for a pedestrian at Tenth and Main. Linda Doring, Wayne, driving behind him was unable to stop in time and her car struck the rear of the Konopasek car

FARM AND HOME SECTION ANNOUNCES

Copacabana Beach in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Our tour hotel the modern Leme Palace is located on this beach.

SOUTH AMERICAN HOLIDAY

BY JERRY C. CURREN

As if the magic names of Rio, Buenos Aires and Lima were not enough to excite the traveler, the South American nations continue adding new incentives to bring Mr. and Mrs. Midwest to their countries. These new attractions, such as luxury hotels and fine restaurants, coupled with the advent of the Jet Age, have prompted Farm and Home Section to have as its next international Jet Holiday tour the SOUTH AMERICAN HOLIDAY!

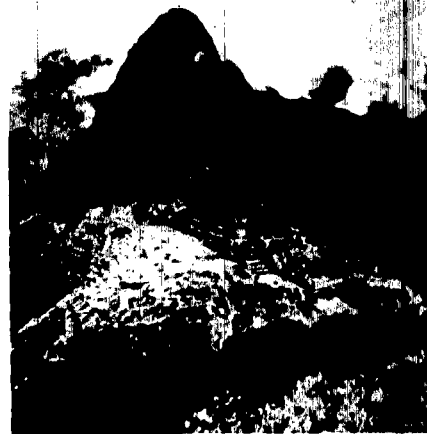

We have chosen as our official jet carrier for this newest of Farm and Home tours the airline which we consider the leader for South America — Braniff International. And we have hand-picked a 25-day itinerary in South America which we thought would be of greatest interest to our midwestern readers. And, once again Farm and Home, for this South American Holiday, has come up with a tour price which we feel is the best offered to South America yet!

As for departure dates . . . you have your choice of many:
December 11 March 5
January 15 April 9
February 5
(This tour will be in Rio de Janeiro at Carnival time . . . $45.00 must be added to basic tour price.)

Now, just look at where you'll go and what you'll see . . .
4 glorious days in Lima, Peru . . .
2 days at Cuzco across the Andes visiting Inca ruins . . .
3 days at Santiago, Chile . . .
and then on to Buenos Aires for a few days . . .
from Buenos Aires, those who want can take an optional side trip to the Lake District of Argentina . . . and on to Sao Paulo, Brazil — the most dynamic city in South America . . .
while in Sao Paulo, those who want can take another optional side trip to the world famous Iguassu Falls . . .
and finally on to Rio de Janeiro for 4 wonderful days.
You can pick several points of departure or gateways from the United States for this trip — Dallas, Chicago, New York, Miami, Denver. Your Braniff International Jet will then take you to the first stop on our South American Holiday . . . Lima, Peru . . . where you'll join the rest of the tour group.
And, coming back, your Braniff International Jet will fly you to Miami for connecting flights to your home town.

Braniff International — our official tour airline — shows the variety of the wardrobe worn by their hostesses on a single flight.

High amid the South American Andes — where you'll visit — lie these ancient ruins conveying an aura of splendor and mystery.

Of course, what Farm and Home Section is most pleased about is the cost. Basic tour price (per person in twin bedded room) is $550.00 plus the air fare. And the per person air fare, depending on where you leave from is like this: Chicago—$637.40; Dallas—$550.00; Denver—$641.10; etc.

So, for one person from Chicago and back to Chicago, the total cost will be $1,187.00. And that includes the basic tour price for accommodations, etc. plus all of your air fares to and from South America plus your air fares while you travel from country to country in South America! How's that for a low price for a first class tour!

If you would like to hear more, simply fill out and mail the coupon appearing on this page to: Farm and Home Tours, 20 North Carroll Street, Madison, Wisconsin 53703. A colorful, explanatory South American Holiday tour folder will be sent to you. This folder will list the daily itinerary, exact costs and answer many of your other questions.

Let's go to South America . . . TOGETHER!

"Pinar Azul" on the outskirts of Buenos Aires, Argentina. Typical folklore music and dancing will be witnessed by those accompanying the South American Holiday tour.

What to leave out of your trip to South America.

Braniff International's 29 day tour of South America is well worth the time.

Unfortunately, not everyone has the time.

So we called in our tour director to see if he could do a little trimming.

"Perhaps we could leave out the Gold Museum and the Salt Cathedral in Bogotá," we asked cautiously.

"Could you face your passengers after having done a thing like that?" he said coldly.

"Well, then, how about saving time on the Amazon? After all, Americans are used to seeing Indians."

"Naked Indians?" He shot us a knowing glance. "Now, you could bypass the Inca ruins in Peru."

"We could?" we asked hopefully.

"Yes. But you would have to be monsters to do it. Ignoring all that culture and history.

Shame on you."

"But—" we stammered.

"Now I would strike Argentina.

But then I've been through Argentina 86 times. Your passengers would have a perfect right to strike you."

At this point our patience was growing thin. "Surely, there must be something you could eliminate," we cried.

"Try me."

"Montevideo?" we pleaded.

"I wouldn't hear of it. Such a charming seaport."

"São Paulo?" we begged.

"The fastest growing metropolis in the world? Out of the question."

"Santos?" we implored.

"And miss the sight of those glorious orchids?

You have no soul."

"But don't you have any recommendations at all," we asked breathlessly as he rose to leave.

"Yes," he said. "By all means, add two days in Rio."

Note: Ever since our tour director became our former tour director, we have been working on a 17 day tour of South America. It's almost as good as our 29 day tour, only 12 days shorter.

EVERYBODY LOVES A BARBECUE

by Betty Stern

The taste for barbecuing is inherited. It is the second oldest form of cookery (simple broiling was first). Our colonial ancestors turned barbecues into day-long shindigs with political overtones. Today, we have our famous Texas barbecues. For summer entertaining that takes you out of the kitchen try the Chicken that will not be dry, or Barbecue Spareribs.

Meat is the center of attraction so make the rest of the meal simple. Spiced Iced Tea gives you a cool refresher.

A Savory Sauce is the heart of a good barbecue. It clings to and penetrates the meat to give it a crisp golden brown appearance. Leftover sauce keeps well in the refrigerator.

SPICED ICED TEA

- | | |
|---------------------------|---------------------------|
| 1 cup sugar | 6 tablespoons instant tea |
| 1 cup water | 1 quart boiling water |
| 10 sticks cinnamon | 2 quarts cold water |
| 1 tablespoon whole cloves | 2 lemons, sliced |

In a saucepan mix sugar and the 1 cup water; add cinnamon and cloves. Simmer over low heat for 10 minutes to make syrup. Strain to remove cinnamon and cloves. Pour boiling water over instant tea. Stir to dissolve; add cold water. Stir in syrup. Add ice. Float lemon slices on top. Serve ice cold. Makes approximately 14 tall glasses.

BROILED CHICKEN WITH LEMON BARBECUE SAUCE

- | | |
|--|-------------------|
| 2 broiler-fryer chickens halved, quartered, or cut in serving pieces | salt margarine |
|--|-------------------|

Wash, dry, and sprinkle chickens with salt and brush with melted margarine. Place chicken on the grill, skin side down and broil about 5 minutes on a side, or until nicely browned. While chicken is browning, form a pan from heavy duty aluminum foil. Turn edges of foil up about 1 inch all around and miter corners. Have this pan ready at one side of the grill. As chicken browns, transfer to the pan with tongs. When all the chicken is brown, slide the pan into position over the fire. Cook the chicken about 45 minutes longer, basting with the Lemon Barbecue Sauce or leave plain.

NOTE: If chicken is larger than usual or not as tender as desired, a piece of foil may be placed over the top of the pan to hold in some of the steam while chicken is cooking.

LEMON BARBECUE SAUCE

- | | |
|-------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1/2 cup corn oil | 1/4 teaspoon pepper |
| 1/2 cup lemon juice | 1/2 teaspoon paprika |
| 1/4 cup dark corn syrup | 1 tablespoon chopped onion |
| 1 teaspoon salt | |

Combine all ingredients in a heavy saucepan. Heat to boiling, then simmer for about 1/2 hour to blend flavors. Keep hot for basting. Mix thoroughly before each basting. Extra sauce may be served as a sauce or for dunking chips or pieces of raw celery.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS

- | | |
|--------------------|--------------|
| 4 pounds spareribs | Salt, pepper |
|--------------------|--------------|

Sprinkle spareribs with salt, pepper. Brown quickly over coals. Place each serving on a double-thick square of aluminum foil. Pour 2 tablespoons Barbecue Sauce over top of ribs; make double fold at each end. Place packages on grill over medium coals; grill 45-50 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

BARBECUE SAUCE

- | | |
|---------------------------|--|
| 1 large onion, sliced | 3 dashes Tabasco sauce |
| 2 tablespoons margarine | 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard |
| 1 cup canned tomatoes | 1 cup beef stock or 1 bouillon cube dissolved in 1 cup boiling water |
| 1 cup diced celery | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 cup ketchup | |
| 1 cup diced green pepper | |
| 2 tablespoons brown sugar | 1/2 teaspoon pepper |

Brown onion in margarine in heavy saucepan. Add remaining ingredients; cover; bring to boil. Simmer over low heat about 2 1/2 hours or until sauce is thick. Yield: Approximately 2 cups sauce.

MISSOURI LADIES GAB FREELY

by Shirley Christian

When three-year-old Kenneth Wayne Acker goes to the farm to visit his grandmother, one of the first things he does is to climb up on a stool and begin ringing her antique wall telephone.

There's no danger of his calling a stranger as only two close friends share the one-mile private telephone system in Central Missouri with Mrs. Fern Acker. Over its wire each day flies talk of canning, gardening, children and grandchildren, housekeeping, farm club, church, and anything else that enters the minds of the three women. It makes no difference that they have to shout to be heard on it.

A short and a long ring on the old box phones means one of the others is calling Mrs. Acker. Three shorts mean a call for Mrs. Lena Null, and Mrs. Ilah Marshall answers to a long and two shorts.

Once, the task of ringing up the shorts and longs belonged to "Central," but the friendly Windsor, Mo., operator who could locate anyone in the community is gone now, and the women themselves ring each other.

Owning what could be the smallest telephone company in the world doesn't mean the three women are opposed to progress. A modern dial phone provided by United Telephone Co. sits a few steps from each of the old wall boxes. Dial phones have some value — such as calling someone not on the private system. It is convenient to have the two phones close together as one often rings when the other is in use, and the women find themselves talking on both at the same time.

The three-customer company is what remains of the farmer-owned system that once served many families near Windsor. When dial phones were introduced a few years ago, the three families received permission from United to continue to maintain their own private system as well as to use the new phones. Each of the wall phones is about 50 years old.

The line connecting the three farms runs down the opposite side of the road from the line serving United's dial phones. The small system's line, held up by slender tree trunks, is easily distinguished from United's lines strung between tall, massive poles.

Sometimes, the women find their system more dependable than the new one.

"Ilah and Lena are on different dial lines than I am, so if there is trouble on our dial phone I call them on the wall phone. They report it to Sedalia (site of a United office) on one of their dial phones," said Mrs. Acker.

"We could be completely shut off without our old phones," Mrs. Null said.

But when there's trouble on the women's own line, they can't call Sedalia to get it fixed. Instead, they announce it to their husbands that night at supper, and the men repair the broken wire or put up the blown down pole.

The only other expense is buying batteries for the wall boxes every few years.

Although all three ladies often talk at once on their own system, it is still the most "private" line they have. Each woman's dial phone is part of a nine-party line.

"Why, when you finish talking on that dial phone," said Mrs. Acker, "you can hear five or six others putting the receiver back, all up and down the line."

Mrs. Lena Null talks to a friend on the 3-party telephone system shared by three Missouri farm women.

TEACH YOUR DOG A THING OR TWO

by J. C. Stokesbury

There is a doggone rumor floating around these days that the dogs of the country are going to revolt against being man's best friend.

As one dog put it, "We're getting fed up with the abuse and neglect that we get from man. We have decided that instead of wagging our tails and overlooking it, we should set up some kind of a howl."

With this threat in mind, man had better look at the situation himself before it goes completely to the dogs.

To start off with, let's agree that a mongrel — a dog of mixed breeding — deserves the same attention and care as one of the 155 different kinds of purebreds. Mongrels do, after all, comprise the greatest segment of dogdom, and most of them make excellent companions and helpers.

A dog that will heel, sit, stay, lie down, and come on command will be a much better friend and a much more useful one than a dog that only knows how to chew bones. And the dog will appreciate your teaching because it will give him a chance to please you which is his greatest pleasure in life.

In teaching your dog, remember at all times that he learns by repetition, and he will learn if you make your commands clear and give them in a manner that the dog can understand. Remember also that the dog's learning thrives on praise from you.

The lesson plan, then, should include twice daily sessions of ten or fifteen minutes during which you teach your dog to:

Heel — Using a short leash, keep the dog at your left side as you walk about, repeating, "Shep, heel."

Sit — Give command, pull up on leash and push dog's hind-quarters down. Make him sit whenever you stop.

Stay — With dog sitting, give command and move your left hand back and forth in front of his face, repeating the command if he moves.

Lie Down — Kneel in front of dog and pull down on his leash as you give the command.

Come — Most dogs learn this on their own, but it can be taught by telling the dog to "stay," then moving away from him and calling him while tugging on his leash.

In all of this training work, your dog should wear a slip chain for a collar that will tighten around his neck when you pull on the leash.

Like their masters, dogs sometimes pick up some bad habits. These habits can be broken. The dog's, that is.

Jumping up on people — Bring knee up against the dog's chest or step on his hind paws, saying "NO" sharply.

Chasing cars — Ride in a car that he chases and squirt him with soapy water or a diluted ammonia solution. Another method is to jerk the dog off his feet with a light rope when he takes after a car.

Excessive barking — Slap the dog sharply across the muzzle, or tie a piece of cloth over his muzzle temporarily with the ends tied behind his ears.

Chewing — Usually a puppy trait that is outgrown, this is best countered by tying the dog away from the chewed object.

Digging — A mouse trap or two buried lightly in the flower bed will discourage fido from digging up the petunias.

A farm dog's major function is herding, cattle, pigs, sheep or even poultry. A thorough knowledge of the five basic obedience commands is invaluable in starting the dog's herding lessons. Introduce him to his charges when he is six to eight months old, and be patient and firm in showing him what is expected of him. Your method of teaching will be reflected in the dog's herding behavior, and he will be as patient and firm with the cows or sheep as you teach him to be.

A dog that will obey hand signals — moving out or left or right as you motion him — will be a greater help in herding. You can teach him this by using a long rope run through a ring anchored in the ground, and applying the same methods used in obedience training.

In exchange for your dog's undying loyalty and his great ambition to work to your satisfaction, you owe him a couple of items.

You owe him, first, a balanced diet that will allow him to stay hale and healthy. Table scraps, of course, are fine for a dog, but they should be supplemented with a commercial dog food that provides adequate nutrition.

Secondly, you owe your dog good health. You owe him enough attention to realize when he is sick and to see that he is properly treated. Don't delay taking him to a veterinarian.

Dogs suffer from many external and internal parasites, most of which can be effectively treated with control programs that have been developed by drug companies.

In treating for fleas, lice or ticks, remember to apply control chemicals to the dog's living quarters. If you don't, the pests will climb back into the dog's fur almost immediately after you have treated him.

Internal parasites — Five different kinds of worms, some of which are fatal to the dog if not controlled — are countered with specific worm medicines that your pet products supplier or veterinarian can advise you on. They can also prescribe treatment for such things as mange and ear mites, conditions that demand prompt attention.

If we are to keep the dog as our best friend, we had better do what we can to let them know we appreciate their friendship.

Have your dog bite out this coupon.
