

OVER THE TOP! Wanda Owens points to the last bit of red Tuesday as it is learned Wayne has exceeded its quota in the Community Chest drive again. Roger Nelson of Wayne National Guard stands ready to fire six shots to mark the

Wayne's Community Chest Quota Exceeded This Week

Wayne, you did it again! For the 14th consecutive year the quota for the Community Chest drive has been exceeded.

A report to the board Tuesday noon showed $9,022.32 collected. This exceeds the goal of $9,000 set for the two-week campaign.

Last year at the same time the fund stood at $8,933. That drive wound up with a total of $9,287.30 being raised.

Don Reed, chairman for the business district campaign, reports there are still some envelopes to come in so it is possible this year's total will exceed that of last year's. Reed said: "The successful completion of this drive was achieved only through the help of those who worked, those who gave and those who both worked and gave." He credited a responsive and generous public with helping Wayne establish its enviable record.

The plan to fire a mortar did not get carried out as it was feared the blast might break some windows in the downtown area. However, Roger Nelson of the Wayne National Guard did see CHEST pg. 6.

A HERALD WANT AD PAYS

Winside Serves Early Breakfast for Hunters

A hunters' breakfast will be served in Winside Saturday, Oct. 22, starting at 5:30. Federated Woman's Club of Winside is sponsoring the event. Mrs. Kenneth Brockmoller and Mrs. Paul Zoffka are in charge of the feed at the Winside Legion Hall. All area and visiting hunters are welcome to come in for a variety of food. Proceeds will be used for one of Winside's Community Betterment projects. It follows a successful breakfast served for hunters last year.

Twirls Fire Batons

Jeanne Karel furnished halftime entertainment at the Wayne-Bloomfield football game Monday night. She twirled a fire baton with the lights off and then twirled two fire batons. It was one of the better baton performances seen this year.

Area Shippers

Area shippers to Sioux City last week included Wilbur Anderson, Hoskins, two loads choice 1,154 lb. fat steers at $25.25 per cwt.; Stanley Walde, Winside, load of 207 lb. butcher hogs at $21.75.

Area Utilities Bouncing Back From Storm's Fury

Area telephone and electric power companies were putting in extra hours, working extra men and calling in available help from other areas Saturday following the wind, snow and rain that fell the past week.

In Wayne, the wire damage from broken limbs and falling trees was the worst. North Brugger, superintendent of the power plant could remember. He said power was restored to the few places where outages occurred shortly after power went off.

Freezing ice and snow on the wires did not help. For instance, power lines running east to the airport were four inches in diameter for a distance of 150 feet.

This heavy load pulled the wires down in the strong wind. Poles were pulled over and pins were pulled out holding insulators on See UTILITIES pg. 6

Square Dance Class Scheduled to Start

Square dancing is fun and because the more there are taking part the more fun it is, square dancing classes are to be offered by the Carroll-Winside Square Dance Club.

First class will be held Sunday, Oct. 23, at 7 p.m. in the Winside Auditorium. The class will precede the regular Sunday night square dance at 8.

Those who want to take part need not be from Winside or Carroll in order to take the classes. The club is anxious to have dancers in all the towns and if new clubs result, they will be even happier.

Jerry Junck, Carroll, will have charge of the dances and will have his new equipment on hand for both the class and the regular square dance to follow. Spectators will be welcome.

Unseasonal Near-Blizzard Hurts Harvest in This Area

THIS TREE was one of many that yielded before strong winds and heavy snow Friday. Standing in the Stan Hartman home on Sherman Street, it gave way under the weight. Branches, limbs and trees broken all over town greeted the arrival of dawn Saturday.

NFO Meeting Offers Discussion of Issues

Wayne County chapter of the National Farmers' Organization will hold a meeting Thursday, Oct. 27, at 8 p.m. in the A.C. of See NFO MEETINGS pg. 6.

Pilger Woman's Number Called

A Pilger woman's number was called for $150 Silver Dollar Night prize in Wayne Thursday. However, she was not here so she did not get the money but will receive $10 in consolation from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. Melinda M. Anderson would have been $150 richer had she been in Wayne at 8 p.m. It was at that hour each Thursday someone in Wayne is given a chance to claim the cash prize.

Names are not drawn. Instead, numbers are drawn. Everyone is listed in the registration book by a number and the one who is listed behind the number pulled from the drum of slips is the winner.

Any adult can register. A list of places where registrations are accepted and where names of those whose numbers are drawn will be announced appears in an ad in this week's Herald. The prize this week is $200.

Explorer Scouts to Hold Teenage Dance

Wayne Post 117 of Explorer Scouts is planning a teenage dance Saturday, Oct. 22, 8:30-12, at the Wayne City Auditorium. The trouble is, they are See DANCE pg. 6.

Business Notes

Dr. I. A. Jensen is president of Interstate Veterinary Medical Association which is meeting in Sioux City Oct. 19-21.

Some Licenses Expiring Soon

Some automobile driver's licenses will expire Oct. 31. County Treasurer Leona Bahde reports all probationary driver's licenses must be renewed before Nov. 1.

The probationary licenses are those for anyone in the 16 to 20 age group. They are renewed each year instead of every two years. Those who come within the affected age group are advised to renew licenses at once to avoid a last-minute rush and the possibility of not being a lawfully licensed driver.

Around 100 at Lions' Multi-Purpose Banquet

One of the largest crowds to attend a regular meeting of the Wayne Lions Club was present at the Wagon Wheel, Laurel, Tuesday night when a dinner was served to mark three special occasions.

First of all it was ladies' night so most members had wives present; Punt, Pass and Kick winners were guests and their parents were allowed to attend so they added extras; and it was the fifth anniversary of the club was reorganized under sponsorship of the Norfolk Lions Club.

The Wayne Lions announced five new members added in October's membership drive. They are Ralph Blomenkamp, Chris Tietgen, Leland Foote, Rev. John Hess of Carroll and John Mohr. Added guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rich Miller and Vern Sievers.

Wortman Auto Co. presented medallions to the PPAH winners with Ken Daugherty doing the honors. Certificates for a See LIONS pg. 6

Concord Station Will Seek Swine Research Installation

Plans were revealed at Northeast Station, Concord, Thursday night for a $76,000 swine research complex. A fund drive is scheduled in the 14-county area served by the station to raise $30,000 for the project.

The University of Nebraska has budgeted $30,000 for the project, $6,000 has been budgeted by the Experiment Farm Association and $10,000 is expected from industry outside the Northeast Nebraska area. This leaves $30,000 to be raised from farmers, businessmen, industries, individuals and agricultural interests.

The drive will be headed by Milo Birkley, Hubbard. Each county will also have a fund drive chairman and in the period from Nov. 5 to Nov. 12 it is hoped the entire amount needed can be raised.

Marvin Rasmussen, Plainview, who received a $2,000 grant from the Ford Foundation, has turned that money over to the experiment station so that amount will be available.

Birkley said at the Friday meeting that each county has one or two directors for the Northeast Station. They, in cooperation with See CONCORD pg. 6

Offer Custodian Course

A Unit 3A custodian meeting will be held Oct. 22 at 2 p.m. in the new Wakefield Elementary School, Harold Harshbarger, Lincoln, will have a class on boiler operation and care. Any custodians in the area, including custodians for buildings and institutions other than schools, are invited to attend.

Morrison, Callan on Tap for WSC Series

Frank Morrison and Clair Callan are scheduled to speak at Wayne State next week, continuing the college's Election Institute series.

Morrison, Democratic opponent of Senator Carl Curtis, will talk at 2 p.m. See WSC SERIES pg. 6

Wayne in Running for Honors for Betterment

Wayne is still in the running for state honors in the Centennial Community Betterment Contest. Judges were in Wayne Tuesday checking on the city's projects in the contest.

The entries sent in to Lincoln were judged in the capital city. Some were eliminated. The ones not eliminated will be visited by judges.

Without warning, judges came to Wayne Tuesday morning to look over the city. They recognized the fact that a storm had just hit here but wanted to give no advance notice so no special work would be done to prepare for their visit.

After meeting with R.G. Faelberth, chairman of the Wayne Community Betterment Committee, and with other committee members, the judges went on a tour of the city to see what had been done. They expressed pleasure in the work being done here.

Eugene Kingman, Omaha, and Bob Peterson, Lincoln, were the judges visiting Wayne. They report the final decision on what cities win the prizes of over $8,000 will not be learned until an awards banquet is held in Lincoln Nov. 11. Several from Wayne plan to attend.

A Wayne farmer has a registered female dog we'll call "Lassic." The other day at the dinner table he mentioned to his wife: "I think we ought to be getting Lassic bred so she can have some puppies." This apparently made an impression on the couple's 7-year-old son for a week or so later he asked his dad: "When are you going to get some of that new kind of bread for Lassic so she can have some puppies?"

One Wayne County teenage boy let the air out of his romance by dropping his steady girl friend. She retaliated by letting the air out of his tires.

An auto also gave a Wayne man trouble. His car had been driven with the trunk lid flopping open and the hinges sprung so the trunk would not stay closed. It was night so he took a nearby tractor tire and laid it on the trunk lid to hold it down overnight until he could get it fixed. The next day a fellow worker told him how much he liked the new "continental kit" on his car.

A near-blizzard, lacking only the cold temperatures required for a true blizzard classification, came roaring out of the west Friday. It left in its wake a lot of damage to Wayne County crops.

Details on utility damage are contained in a separate article this week. A check was made with farmers in the area to determine the losses from the storm. Snow several inches deep of the wet clinging variety broke milo stalks, crumpled soybeans and weighed heavily on the corn. Gale-force winds whipped the snow and the wind itself was damaging even if there had been no snow.

Milo was hit the hardest. Some farmers thought their losses might be as high as 90 per cent. Others estimated it was around 25 per cent.

The milo was down but from field to field varied. Mainly it depended on the direction in which the rows were planted, how hard the wind hit in gusts and the type of milo.

Some farmers thought with special heads on combines they might be able to get 90 per cent of the downed milo. Everyone said they had a definite loss on what was scheduled to be one of the best milo crops in years.

Soybeans were about harvested. The late varieties still in fields suffered from 10 to 15 per cent damage. The beans still in the fields will be harder to get than they were before the storm, but they are not entirely lost. Hume reels can pick up a lot of the beans.

As with milo, the loss varied from field to field. Some farmers were through harvesting beans while others were about one-half through and some were just starting.

Corn suffered the least damage and most of that came from the wind. Some stalks were broken and corn blown out of shocks but the damage was probably no heavier than it would. See HARVEST pg. 6

C. of C. New Directors to Take Office

Four new members have been elected for the board of directors of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. They will serve two-year terms.

Ballot counting was completed Tuesday. It showed Ted Armbruster, Wern Mordhorst, Kurt Otte and Bob Carhart the choices for new directors.

Holding over on the board are Charles McDermott, Fred Gildersleeve and Dale Gutshall. Terms ending are Willard Witte, Sam Morris, Dr. Robert Benhach and Troy Vaughn.

The present board will meet in November to elect a president, vice president and treasurer. The entire board will meet with new directors in December to review activities.

Dec. 31 the retiring members will leave the board. Jan. 1 the new directors will assume duties.

Father-Son Banquet Held at St. Paul's

A father-son banquet was held Oct. 12 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Robert Stanley was toastmaster. Larry Magnuson gave a toast to the fathers and Irvin Brandt presented a toast to sons. Gordon Nedergaard sang "Bless These Dads." Main feature of the program was "Europe From a Serviceman's Point of View," presented by Gene Lutt who showed slides of Europe taken while he was in the service there. LCW members served dinner with Mrs. Paul Baier and Mrs. Otto Baier, co-chairmen. Mrs. John Dall was chairman of the program committee and Mrs. Alvina Bush, dining room chairman. STEVE GUNTHER, a potent threat all season for Wayne State College, had the ball in the air on the way to Cliff Schilling when this picture was taken in the Peru-Wayne game Saturday. The pass play covered 74 yards. Gunther has a white helmet on and has just released the ball, which a Peru player is vainly trying to block, his arm being pointed the right direction but not being long enough.

Wayne State Blanks Peru; Layoff This Week May Hurt

A layoff with no game this week gives Wayne State's football team extra time both beneficial and annoying.

Beneficial because the Wildcats can mend some injuries and work longer on strategy for the final two games.

Annoying because they have to maintain longer the momentum that carried them to three straight conference victories, the latest a 13-0 triumph over Peru State in Saturday's homecoming clash.

And annoying because they are itchy to win Wayne's first unshared football championship since 1949.

The obstacle in their way is Chadron State, host to Wayne for a 7:30 p.m. game Oct. 29. Although the Eagles are winless in six outings, and certainly an underdog against Kearney State this week, Wayne coaches know too well that the Eagles can soar high from their own field, especially when their prey is not wary.

Against Peru, Wayne's margin of victory came on two superb pass plays. Quarterback Steve Gunther connected with end Cliff Schilling for a 74-yard expedition in the second quarter, and late in that period halfback Dennis Radtke scooped in another Gunther aerial for a 41-yard jaunt, followed by Don Grubaugh's conversion kick.

Otherwise, the game was pretty much a standoff—with defense dominating, as usually happens on a wet field. Strangely, Wayne never reached Peru territory in the first half except for the two scoring plays, and Peru likewise never found Wayne territory in the second half.

The invading Bobcats threatened deep in Wayneland three times in the first half, but fumbled each time. Interceptions by cornerback Jerry Luedtke and middle guard Chuck Lellos ended two of the attacks. Three more interceptions probably set a Wayne record of five in one game—a record for modern times at least and maybe for all time.

The Wildcats stormed 84 yards to the Peru six in the third period; tried a field goal and missed. They recovered a Peru fumble a minute later and advanced to the Bobcat 26 in the fourth quarter, and later they reached the 17 before Peru defenses held. Another field goal effort missed, with five minutes left.

Twice thereafter Wayne trapped the Bobcats with interceptions as defense had its day.

Wayne fullback Blake Oleson led rushing with 56 of the 76 net Wildcat yards. Coach John Jermeier noted that "Oleson's running continues to improve."

Defensive end Dave Bross, who was carried off the field on a stretcher after being knocked unconscious, snapped out quickly. Several other injuries are expected to heal before the Chadron trip.

A main concern of coaches before that trip will be to correct mistakes in play execution. Some mistakes had nothing to do with field or weather conditions, Jermeier said.

Plaque Honors Allen Boy Killed in Spring

A plaque has been presented to the Allen school in honor of Craig Kjer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kjer. Craig was killed in a tractor accident this spring two days after graduating from the eighth grade.

"The Craig Kjer Athletic Memorial Plaque" was presented by Craig's eighth grade sponsor, Marilyn Kimball, and by his father, Howard Kimball. It holds gold name plates which can be engraved each year. An eighth grade boy will be selected each year to win this honor through athletic and scholastic endeavor. Some boy in this year's eighth grade class will be the first to win the honor.

WHS Fresh Win Lopsided Game

Wayne High School freshmen scored a lopsided win over Stanton Tuesday evening on the Stanton field. After leading 30-0 at halftime, the locals saw second and third units go into action and coasted to a 36-6 decision.

Coach Ron Carnes' team has one more game left and the easy win at Stanton is not going to help. Monday at 4:15 the local team closes against a tough West Point Central Catholic team at West Point.

The fact that the first team did not play much helped hold Tuesday's score down. The locals made one first down and gained only 24 yards the second half. Stanton made five first downs in the same two quarters and rushed for 60 yards and passed for 29.

Wayne opened the game with a drive after receiving the kickoff. Randy Helgren went 5, Dan Sutherland 2 and 21, Les Echtenkamp 5, Sutherland 26 and 5 and then the final 10 to make it 6-0.

Jerry Titze kicked to the 20 with Stanton's Colts returning to the 28. Sutherland threw them back 3 and Ken Jorgensen and Vaughn Korth threw them back another 8. Wayne took over and in two plays Wayne had a 12-0 lead, Helgren passing to Sutherland for 18 yards and a TD.

Titze's kick went to the 28 with the Colts returning to the 36. SHS made one first down before the quarter ended. Wayne took over on downs and again scored. Mike Biltoft went 7, Helgren passed to Sutherland for 19, Echtenkamp added 1, Doug Maurer gained 3 and Helgren passed to Titze for a 24-yard touchdown play. It was 18-0.

The kickoff by Titze went to the 26, was fumbled and then returned to the 38. Stanton took to the air. Helgren intercepted on the Wayne 45 and returned to the SHS 16 but a clipping penalty erased that run-back. Wayne still had the ball and drove for another score.

Biltoft gained 28, Helgren 10, Maurer pulled in a pass from Helgren for 9 and another Helgren-Maurer aerial gained 29. Echtenkamp went the final 2 yards to make it a 24-0 game. Three plays later after Titze had kicked to the 18 WHS had another score. The Colts passed three times, two failing to connect. Helgren intercepted the third on the 19 and ran over the goal to make it 30-0.

Maurer kicked to the 20 with Stanton returning to the 37. Reserves went in and held. Ted Armbruster passed to Gary Heithold for 5 as the half ended.

Titze's second half kickoff was returned from the 24 to the 38 but Stanton fumbled and Sutherland recovered. Biltoft gained 4, Sutherland 21 and then Sutherland carried 11 yards for a TD to make it

GARY ERMELS (47) didn't get away this time. Scored five touchdowns for Bloomfield against Dave Tietgen (10) brought him down Ermels Wayne, however.

Bloomfield Routs Devils; WHS Plays Away Thursday, Home October 26

Bloomfield routed Wayne 41-12 on the WSC gridiron Monday night. The game had been moved back from Friday to Saturday because of the storm and then from Saturday to Monday because of the field condition.

A tough seven days lie ahead for the injury-riddled Blue Devils. They face West Point Thursday (tonight) and are to play Laurel here Wednesday night of next week. Pierce is the final foe Nov. 4.

The Bees could do little wrong and Wayne made too many costly mistakes Monday. Coach Allen Hansen's WHS squad is young and light in weight but gamely stayed in a battling mood throughout the contest.

Dave Tietgen kicked off for Wayne to open the game. BHS returning from the 17 to the 25. On the second play from scrimmage the visitors fumbled with Warren Korth recovering on the 23. Wayne failed to capitalize on the break. Lessmann gained 12 and Skokan 2 but the Bees held and took over.

A first down and 14 yards were all BHS could manage so they punted. Mark Johnson receiving on the 35, handing off to Skokan who returned to the 45. Johnson gained 6 and 4 and Lessmann 2 before a fumble was recovered by Bloomfield on the Wayne 48. It took six plays to score, Gary Ermels going the final 30 yards. Ermels was to be a thorn in Wayne's side the rest of the evening.

BHS kicked short and recovered the ball on the Wayne 15. This time it took six plays to score and Ermels went the final 12. Merle Murray made the extra point to establish a 14-0 lead for the visitors. Bloomfield kicked to the 14, the ball was fumbled and kicked around and Wayne ended up in possession on the 28.

Don Skokan gained 11, Lessmann 5, Johnson and Skokan 2 as the quarter ended. Bloomfield took 30-0. Second and third units played much of the remaining time.

Maurer kicked to the 18. The Colts returned to the 29. Stanton managed a short drive before Helgren intercepted a pass. Echtenkamp went 1, Sutherland 2 and Wayne had to kick. Biltoft kicking to the 28 where Titze jarred the ball-carrier with a vicious tackle to end the third stanza.

Stanton produced a drive of its own; being slowed three times as Korth tossed them back 2 on one play, Helgren back 3 on another and Dave Barker back 2 on another. The plucky Stanton team finally pushed one over with Randy Brooks covering the final yard.

It was the seventh touchdown of the game and not a single extra point was added, a factor which could decide closer games. After the SHS touchdown there was time for a kickoff with Sutherland returning from the 22 to the 42. Two plays later the game was over. Each team had 6 first downs and 5 pass completions. Wayne led in yards rushing 122-62, in yards passing 104-32, in total yardage 226-94, in interceptions 3-0, in fumbles 3-2 and in yards penalized 40-20. Stanton led in passes thrown 20-8 and in fumble recoveries 3-2.

over and came back with a touchdown run by you-know-who (Ermels), this time on a 72-yard scoring play. Bob Shires passed to Kelly Newton for the extra point to make it a 20-0 contest.

Harvey Hansen returned from the goal line to the 17 for Wayne on the kickoff. Doug Farrens made 3, Lessmann 5 and Farrens passed to Jorgensen for 10. Frustration again was known as a fumble was recovered by the visitors. This time Wayne held, Gene Hansen and Larry Magnuson setting the Bees back 9 and forcing a kick.

Wayne fashioned an 80-yard touchdown drive. Lessmann gained 7, Johnson 7, Farrens 1, Lessmann passed to G. Hansen for 7, Johnson made 5, Farrens 2, the locals lost 7 and Johnson went 55 yards to the 5. Skokan and Johnson moved the ball to the goal line and Lessmann went over on fourth down. It was 20-6 in favor of BHS. The visitors received the kickoff, were thrown back 5 by Jorgensen and the half was over before they could move.

Wayne came fighting back in the second half to score the first time they had the ball. Farrens returned the kickoff from the 26 to the 40. Skokan gained 3, Farrens 6, Johnson 16 and 2, Lessmann 4 and Lessmann passed to Jorgensen for 27. It was 20-12 in favor of the Bees.

The officials put the ball down on the 35. Wayne tried a short kick but BHS covered the ball. When the officials found out their mistake, they merely moved the ball back 5 yards. It didn't really matter for Ermels was still in the game. This time he took a pass from Shires and went 50 yards to pay dirt. Murray made the extra point to put the score at 27-12.

H. Hansen received on the 13 and returned to the 35. Johnson gained a yard and Bloomfield intercepted a pass on its own 40, returning the ball to the Wayne 37. Three plays later "Old Reliable" Ermels took the ball and carried 20 yards for a TD. Murray added the extra point to make it 34-12.

Johnson received the next kickoff on the 7, returning to the 32. Farrens gained 8, Johnson 2, Farrens 4 and Ermels proved he could be good on defense too, intercepting a pass on the Wayne 47 (which is significant, because "47" is Ermels' number).

Bloomfield managed a pair of first downs but Bernie Binger and Keith Warrelman gave Wayne possession by recovering a fumble as the quarter ended. Wayne could not move and Lessmann had to punt, booting the ball to the 40.

Again a fumble slowed Bloomfield, Lavern Brown recovering for the locals. Farrens gained 3 but a fumble cost yardage and WHS had to kick. Lessmann punting to the 48, Bloomfield appeared to be touchdown bound again with three first downs but Brown set them back 2 and Warrelman gave Wayne possession by recovering a fumble.

Lessmann passed to Jorgensen for 3, Bloomfield held and a kick was necessary. Bloomfield even converted that into a score, Rich Eisenhauer blocking the punt and James Hoppe grabbing off the ball and crossing the goal line standing up. Dave Fricke added the extra point to make it a 41-12 game.

Skokan returned the kickoff from the 22 to the 30. Lessmann passed to Jorgensen for 7, Johnson gained 15, Lessmann hit Jorgensen with a pass good for 9 and Wayne fumbled with Bloomfield recovering. Magnuson threw the visitors back 2 and the ball game was over.

Following are the team statistics:

WHS BHS
First downs	10 12
Yards rushing	162 305
Yards passing	43 79
Total yardage	205 384
Passes attempted	16 7
Passes completed	7 4

Wayne Junior High Posts Another Win

Posting its third win of the season against one loss, the Wayne Junior High team in the city recreation program romped by Wynot 32-18 Monday night in a game played on the baseball diamond's 80-yard field.

Coach Hank Overin's team has a chance to avenge its only loss Saturday at 3. Norfolk Catholic will be here for a tilt at West Elementary field. The following week the team plays the WHS frosh second team at 4:15 on the same field.

Wayne lost the services of its top ground-gainer in the Wynot game. Dwight Clatanoff was injured and was hospitalized yet Wednesday.

Monday Wayne and Wynot traded downs before Clatanoff passed to Don Mau to put the ball on the Wynot 6. Two plays later Mike Creighton went 5 yards to score. Lonnie Biltoft plunged for the extra point to make it 7-0.

In the second quarter, Clatanoff received a kick-at TD on an end-around play that made it 16-18 and Wayne came back with fourth down and 5 to go, sending Creighton back to pass. He tossed to Mau and the scoring was over.

Dwight Clatanoff in Hospital After Tilt

Dwight Clatanoff, leading scorer on the junior high football team in the Wayne recreation program, was hospitalized Monday night following an injury in the last two minutes of the game between Wayne and Wynot.

The game, played at the baseball diamond, was almost over with Wayne leading 32-18. Clatanoff suffered a head injury and was taken to the hospital.

It was learned that he had suffered a brain concussion. He remained in the hospital Wednesday but was expected to be able to go home Thursday.

Clatanoff is a transfer here from Wisner. He is the son of Mrs. Doris Clatanoff.

off and ran back 55 yards for a touchdown. The locals led 19-0.

Wynot came back with a TD of its own and just before the half ended added another. Neither extra point was made so the visitors trailed 13-12.

Following the second half kickoff, Wynot lost the ball on downs. Creighton pitched out to Biltoft who went 20 yards for a score. Biltoft went five yards for another touchdown and then added the extra point to make it 26-12 at the end of three quarters.

In the final period, both teams scored. Wynot made crossbars. Some crossbars were broken. East-west lines bore the brunt of the wind and snow-weight damage.

Some Wayne street lights were out and two transformers blew fuses. Each of these transformers affected about one-square block each. Isolated instances of lines going into homes being down were also reported.
City power plant crew men worked almost all night Friday and all day Saturday. They had to get lights off wires first and then go back and do work over where temporary repairs had been made.

Wayne County Public Power District had trouble over its entire system in Wayne and Pierce Counties. Heavy wet snow and ice clinging to lines and being whipped by high winds caused poles and conductors to break under the strain.
While it was snowing and blowing, an electrical storm was going on as thunder and lightning attacked. Lightning hit several WCPD poles, splitting them so they dropped wires which then burned in two.

The 60,000-volt transmission line serving the shales sub-station burned down because of ice on conductors. The Shales sub-station load had to be switched, part to the Winside sub-station and part to the Osmond sub-station.
Around 30 line poles were lost, some to lightning and some to the weight of ice and the wind.

Line crews worked from Friday evening until Sunday noon, taking time out for only a few hours sleep in the 41 hours it took to get service on to all consumers served by the district. Exceptions were isolated cases where outages were not reported to the office.

Crews are still busy going back to pick up line and pole troubles that were repaired temporarily in order to get service back to consumers as quickly as possible. Shales sub-station repairs were made Monday so that unit could be put back into service with new transmission lines where needed.

The WCPD transmission line to Emerson suffered a broken conductor to a substation serving the Northeast Nebraska Rural Public Power District at Emerson.
NRPDP reported every one of its 2,000 customers suffered outages. The area served covers most of Dixon and Dakota Counties and a portion of Thurston County.

According to the Emerson headquarters for the REA company, power went off Friday with lines and poles breaking and tree branches falling on wires and breaking them.

About one-half the customers had power by Monday afternoon. NRPDP crew members worked all night Friday and straight through until 1 a.m. Sunday. They then started on shifts that called for work from 6 a.m. until midnight daily until all customers were being served again.

Crews from David City, West Point and Tekamah helped with repair work. Around Wakefield, Concord, Dixon, Allen, Emerson, and other towns north and east of Wayne these crews were busy night and day.

Farroll was without electricity from 10:45 p.m. Friday evening until 10:15 Sunday morning. There was also some outages on telephone service.

Concord and Dixon long distance lines for telephones were out but batteries kept local service going. The rural areas around the two towns are served by NRPDP and had outages reported above. The towns are served by Consumers Public Power District and were without power for about 12 hours.

Hoskins seemed to suffer the least. Consumers PPD had no trouble in town and telephone service was available at all times. Hardest hit were the REA customers who had outages for around 24 hours.

Winside was without electrical power and telephone service from Friday at 10 p.m. until Saturday afternoon around 3. Rural areas suffered the outages reported above for WCPD customers.

At Wakefield a camper was pulled off a pickup when a low-hanging wire across the highway caught the camper as the driver drove along slowly. Wakefield rural area residents are served by NRPDP and were among those experiencing long outages.

Telephone woes were even worse. Dan Titze, district manager at Wayne, reported the local troubles will be taken care of starting Thursday or Friday of this week. Crews from other states have been called in to help Nebraska get service restored.

The storm hit all the way across the state's northern tier and isolated many communities. In this area alone these towns were completely isolated for phone service: Hartington, Coleridge, Belden, Laurel, Dixon, Concord, Randolph, McClan, Wausa, Bloomfield, Emerson, Ober, Wynot, Newcastle, Martinsburg, Ponca, Jackson, Allen and Waterbury. The last two towns still were isolated Wednesday.

First job of telephone crews was to restore service to these towns so emergency calls could be made. The "local" troubles are mostly on rural lines where poles and wires snapped.

Here are some examples of what the telephone companies faced. Near Laurel a 30-wire east-west line swung "in unison" in the wind while heavily loaded with ice. In three-fourths of a mile 24 poles were down on main feeder lines.

At Wakefield, 51 poles were down in a three-mile stretch. Hundreds of wires and poles went down with the wet snow and raging wind.

Winside rural customers are lucky. Their lines are buried and they have had service. Some Northwestern Bell rural lines and some farmer-owned lines will be put back into service as soon as crewmen can get to them. Emerson, Wakefield, Laurel and Wayne areas have considerable trouble yet in the country but in Wayne itself service is almost normal.

Nice weather made it seem as if telephone service should come right back. However, the restoration of long distance service has been a major one and it just takes time. Most people have been patient about it, understanding the situation, while others just fail to realize how massive the repair work is from one end of the state to the other.

HARVEST

have been in any "usual" windstorm this time of year and harvest will still be good.

Rural and town trees took a terrible beating. Instances were reported of trees being uprooted. Big limbs broke off and every town had a clean-up job where leaves, twigs and branches littered the streets. Farm roads offered the same situation.

Had the storm come two weeks later, it would have done the same amount of damage to the trees but far less damage to crops. It was one of the earliest storms of its type on record and came at a most inopportune time.

The strip through northeast Nebraska was hardest hit. A few miles south the damage was lighter as the moisture came in the form of rain instead of snow. North of here near the Missouri River the snowfall was lighter and again there was much more rain.

Almost every farmer who was asked about damage made mention of the fact that even though he had been hurt, he and other area farmers could be grateful it was not a tornado storm such as Belmond, Ia., experienced. That seems typical of farmers. They can always find bright side of any dark situation.

Away from the farm scene, there was a major effect on activities. Some people traveling stopped to wait out the storm. Some were stranded at farm homes. Football games were half-played or called off for a few days. College activities were curtailed. Cars were stranded along highways and on country roads.

The snow cover lasted until Monday afternoon in unsheltered spots. The areas near Wayne and Carroll and north past Dixon and Concord were the last to lose snow cover, indicating more snow fell there.

LIONS

assistance in the project went to the Wayne Lions Club, Wayne Herald and Coaches Harold Maciejewski of Wayne, William Schmitt of Winside and Don Nelson of Wakefield, the towns where the winners came from.

Medallions went to John Gallop, Doug Straight, Eddie Fletcher, Kirk Wacker, David Hix, Kevin Jech, Sam Utecht, Marty Hansen, Alan Jensen, Doug Sturm, Billy Brown, Larry Weible, Kevin Peters, David Kudrna, Kirk Gardiner, Larry Cleveland, Jerry Wacker and Dwight Clatanoff.

President Harold Maciejewski was master of ceremonies for the program and introduced guests. Coach John Jermier, WSC, was the principal speaker following the smorgasbord.

Coach Jermier pointed out to parents and boys that you do not become a football game 10 minutes before a pep talk. The talk might help but you have to be emotionally ready and eager to play the ball and defeat the foe.

He added that the spirit of competition is the American way of life and even in each of us can be but one person each can do something. Jermier cited Adolf Hitler as one man with firm belief in his way of thinking who eventually led the world into war and 50 million people to their graves.

One man's ideas can do good also, he said. He urged parents and kids to recognize this fact and determine that what they undertake they will give of their best so they can excel since someone has to excel and it is usually the person who is the most determined to do so, regardless of size or handicaps.

Head was business area chairman with Wanda Owens secretary. Board members are Howard W. president, Mrs. Alan Cramer, Mrs. Irvin Brandt, Mrs. Jordan Nedergaard, Charles McDermott, Mike Karel, Clarence Kuhn, Norris Weible and Loren Kamish.

Residential area team captains were Mrs. Dick Arret, Mrs. Don Sberbahn, Mrs. Jim March, Mrs. Miron Jennes, Mrs. Karl Otto, Mrs. Bob Carhart, Mrs. Carl Ellermeier, Mrs. John Rizer, Mrs. Bud Munson, Mrs. Cecil Wriedt, Mrs. Roy Sommerfeld, Mrs. Bob Lund, Mrs. Leon Lamp, Mrs. Arline Ulrich and Mrs. John Addison.

Block captains for the business area were Kent Hall, Steve Brasch, Pat Grosse, Arnold Marr, Tom Hughes, Don Echtenkamp, Bob Lund and Tony Olson. Space limitations prevent listing all others who helped to complete a successful fund drive.

CONCORD

local swine producers, county agents and others will organize fund drives in the individual counties.

Dan Lutz, assistant extension editor, college of agriculture, NU, was at Thursday's meeting. He said NU is 100 per cent behind the project and he will be here to assist with planning the drive and lending the university's support to the project.

Bob Fritschen, area swine specialist, explained the plan. Scheduled for construction are three open buildings and three open buildings with heat in the floor. A research schedule will be set up for comparing the open buildings with the closed buildings, completely confined buildings with open front buildings.

Pigs will be put on test at 40 pounds. They will be shifted at 100 pounds. Some will go from open building to closed building, others from closed building to open building, others in closed buildings at all times and still others to open building at all times.

Floors will be slotted to determine where hogs perform at optimum genetic ability. Slotting will be arranged for 30 per cent to 100 per cent slots in all six structures. In the open buildings tests will be made to see if hogs do better with heated floors.

Rate of gain in all cases, feed efficiency and carcass difference at packing plants will be checked. Pen size and shape can be changed to see if that affects animals. Nutrition, manure disposal processes and other research will be possible in the same buildings later.

The counties in the area are Knox, Pierce, Madison, Colfax, Dodge, Washington, Burt, Cedar, Dakota, Thurston, Dixon, Wayne and Stanton. In the state, Cuming is the lead hog county with Wayne second, Dixon third and Cedar fourth.

Nebraska has $160 million worth of market hogs (not including breeding stock) yearly. Hogs represent 22 per cent of the total cash receipts in Northeast Nebraska and 28 per cent of the total cash receipts from meat animals in the area.

There are over 4,130,000 market hogs in this part of the state. The 14-county area has almost one-half the hogs in the state.

It is hoped that a saving of 10 cents per 100 pounds of pork produced can be saved through research. This would represent $250,000 to $300,000 at the minimum in savings for the 14-county area. In a 10-year period at this minimum, it would amount to $2.5 to $3.0 million or more, to boost the economy.

NU has a swine research program but it covers Brood sow nutrition, energy requirements and overfeeding; growing, finishing and nutrition; breeding and the cause of watery soft-pink pork; and physiology, the time-limit feeding of hogs.

The Northeast Nebraska area has most to benefit from swine research but there is no research at present. With the confinement research, it is hoped to gain a fuller use of non-productive farm buildings, expand farm enterprise without increasing acreage, speed-up shift to more-desirable meat-type hogs and permit tighter schedules for multiple farrowing.

Another article on the proposal appears on page —section—of this week's Herald.

NFO MEETS

fice. Topics will be of interest to all farmers.
John Oster, national NFO director from South Dakota, will be the featured speaker. Roland Victor, president of the Wayne County unit, will be in charge.

Discussion topics will include a radio informational series for a 10-county area. Developments at the Glenwood, Ia., packing plant, which has just been reopened, will also be clarified.

The meeting is not limited to members. Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

WSC SERIES

Tuesday in Ramsey Theater; Callan, Democrat seeking reelection as first district congressman, will speak at 2 p.m. Wednesday, also in Ramsey. The public is invited to attend.

Four Republican candidates for major Nebraska offices explained their views last Thursday in another Election Institute program.

First District Congressional aspirant Robert Denney called for less federal spending on non-essentials of the Great Society, and gubernatorial candidate Norbert Tiemann proposed that Nebraska invest more in its own future—especially in education to train youth for jobs and thus make the state more desirable for new industry.

"One of the most insidious problems in Nebraska," Tiemann said, "is the lack of enough employment opportunities. Thus young people leave to find jobs elsewhere, and industry in turn says Nebraska lacks manpower."

Tiemann said that as governor he would like to develop a training program for "future public servants"—perhaps a summer institute for young people provided with cooperation of government agencies.

"Government is with us, at all levels," he said, "and we should prepare young people to serve in it."

Denney said he has found Nebraskans concerned deeply with four major issues: the Viet Nam war, the plight of agriculture, the high cost of living, and one-man rule in Washington.

He attacked what he called the growing trend for the executive branch to write the nation's laws. Freshmen congressmen, he said, are "being used" by the president, being told how to vote with threats of not getting some project which they support in their home districts.

Denney called himself a believer in federal-state partnership, "but I believe the federal government should aid and assist, not absorb and destroy."
He deplored what he called the federal administration's drive to favor the big metropolitan areas at expense of the rural.

On taxation Tiemann repeated his stand for a low-rate sales and income tax to achieve equality of taxes and relief of the real estate tax at the state level. He would allocate some of the proceeds to education at local levels.

Attorney General Clarence Meyer, candidate for re-election, explained the duties of his justice department, especially the problems of law enforcement resulting from Supreme Court decisions.

The growing disrespect for law is a huge problem, Meyer said.
"What we need more than a Great Society is confidence by the people that they can safely walk their streets," he said.

Secretary of State Frank Marsh, also a candidate for re-election, described the functions of his office and campaigned for several other Republican candidates who could not speak at the college's Election Institute.

Tiemann, too, put in a boost for the re-election of Senator Carl Curtis with this comment: "We must elect Senator Curtis or Nebraska will be represented in the Senate by a rubber stamp—and that's exactly what Frank Morrison would be."

- Fight the real causes of inflation
- Improve the economic position of every Nebraska worker, farmer, rancher, businessman and housewife
- Extended social security benefits to farmers, ranchers, teachers, self-employed workers, businessmen, and state, county and municipal employees

It is made up of boys from the Omaha-Ralston area and is one of the fastest-rising of the combos from that area.

No posters arrived for putting out in windows and sending to other towns. Telephone calls ended in frustration for the combo has come up so fast and been in demand so much it has not kept up with posters.

The Explorers hope to make some money for future activities. They will attend a NU basketball game as a group, go skiing near Yankton and participate in other activities this winter.

Fill in All That Zip Code Card!

Area residents should have post cards by now on which they can list addresses which they use often. The post offices will fill in the correct zipcodes and send them back to the patrons.

One thing that has been noticed in other areas is that people are failing to put their own names and addresses on the side opposite the list. Thus the post offices involved cannot return the lists because they do not know who they belong to.

Postmasters in Wayne, Winside, Carroll, Hoskins, Dixon, Concord and Wakefield ask that you fill in the one side with street address; city and state for each person or firm you write to regularly. The post offices will then fill in the zip codes. No postage is required either direction.

Your cards should be returned as soon as possible. The sooner they are in, the sooner you will get your zip coded addresses back.

Republican Caravan Makes Stop in City

The Republican Caravan was in Wayne Thursday. A breakfast with local workers and candidates and an appearance at Wayne State College were highlights.

Norbert Tiemann and Robert Denney were the main candidates present. Clarence Meyer, candidate for attorney general, and Frank Marsh, candidate for secretary of state, were in the group also. Charles Marr represented John Everroad in the group.

Following a breakfast at Jerry's Cafe with local Republicans, the group went to WSC. There all four candidates spoke and then took part in a question and answer period that was a part of the political institute series being conducted by Dr. Bill Boyd.

The Republican candidates also called on people in the downtown area as time would allow. Tiemann visited most of the offices at the courthouse while in town.

Coffee Will Honor Wife of Candidate

Mrs. Philip Sorensen, wife of the Democratic candidate for governor, will be guest of honor at a coffee Wednesday, Oct. 19, at 7:45 p.m. in the Birch Room at the WSC Student Center.

The Young Democrats are sponsoring the coffee. They point out that everyone from both parties or with no party affiliation will be welcome.

Mrs. Sorensen will give a short talk to highlight the period. A social hour will follow.

'Child Molester' Film Shown for Kiwanians

"The Child Molester," a film based on true facts, was shown at Wayne Kiwanis Club Monday noon. The film is being kept in the area and is available for showing to other adult groups.

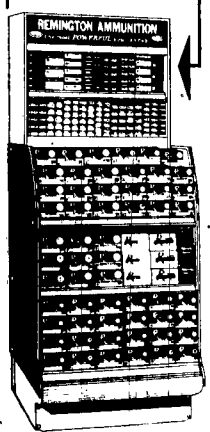

Getting across the message that parents should warn youngsters of dangers in talking to strangers as soon as possible; the film told about two girls who were lured into a car and were killed. Names were not used but the facts were true.

Wiltard Wiltse has the film for anyone who wants to show it to adults. It is considered too realistic for showing to children. It suggests that children should not talk to strangers, should not accept candy or gifts from them and should never accept rides from them.

Wayne Leffler, Omaha, division lieutenant-governor for one of the 14 divisions in the Nebraska-Iowa District, was a guest of the Kiwanians. Following the regular meeting and program, he met with the board of directors of the Wayne club.

In Nebraska, permission of the landowner or his agent is needed to hunt on private land.

Area Economy Could Get Boost from Concord Plan

The Northeast Nebraska area, with almost one-half the hogs in the state, could get a big boost from a swine research program on the effects of different types of confinement as outlined in an article on page one this week. The proposal covers a six-unit research layout costing $76,000 at Northeast Station, Concord.

Hugo Zimmerman, Wayne, acting superintendent at the station, pointed out that this area already produces 28 per cent of Nebraska's corn, 50 per cent of the oats, 48 per cent of the soybeans, 20 per cent of the alfalfa, 30 per cent of the milk, 35 per cent of the eggs, 32 per cent of cattle on grain feed, 49 per cent of the hogs produced in the state and 48 per cent of the value of hogs in Nebraska.

Swine production is a $6 billion business in the nation, according to Gordon Nuernberger, Wakefield, chairman of the Northeast Experiment Farm Association. It employs 600,000 full time and is the biggest market for 45 per cent of the corn and corn products raised. He also cited the area and state interest in the state. He said industry could build from the swine research findings just as poultry industry has grown from research in that field.

Bob Fritschen, Wayne, area swine specialist and in charge of research, outlined the program for the complex and the research to be done. His findings are mainly in the front page article.

Northeast Station came about because a few were interested in an experiment station in 1954. NU agreed to go along if funds could be raised for building land. This 14-county area raised $30,000, mostly in $25 memberships from over 1,400 families. C. D. Haskell gave one-half section if $25,000 would be set aside for a loan fund in honor of his wife, the loan fund to be used by engineering students.

The Haskell land was farmed, profit, cattle barns were added, cattle bought to feed and other progress made. A $150,000 building emerged from Haskell's offer to match a building fund drive. It yielded $9,000 and he gave $9,000. The station directors offered $4,000 if NU would put up silos. Now there is a complex of silos worth $20,000 at the farm.

Now it is felt swine research is needed in the biggest swine-producing area of the state. The directors of the farm kicked off the idea with a donation of $6,000 confinement, housing and management are to be the principal studies. A $30,000 fund represents an investment of less than two cents for each market hog in the 14-county area. Birkley points out. Banks, feed and supply firms in the area have already endorsed the idea. Outside industry and groups have also been asked to be kept informed of the research project. Interested persons wishing more information should contact Fritschen, Birkley, any county agent in the area served or any of the directors of the Experimental Farm Association. Further details will be given next week and in following weeks.

Winside, Carroll Services Planned

Six nights of special services are planned at the Carroll and Winside Methodist Churches on the theme, "The Faith of Christians." According to Pastor E. L. Kess, the public is invited to any or all services.

Rev. Richard Burgess, who serves Methodist Churches at Coleridge, Laurel and Belden, will speak six evenings. Services will be held at 8:00 each night Sunday, Oct. 23, through Friday, Oct. 28. The schedule looks like this: Oct. 23, Winside, "A People Called Christian," youth Sunday; Oct. 24, Carroll, "Face to Face with Christ," Sunday school night; Oct. 25, Winside, "Marks of the Holy Spirit," Sunday school night; Oct. 26, Carroll, "The Test of Life," adult night; Oct. 27, Winside, "Our Eternal Contemporary," adult night; and Oct. 28, Carroll, "The Revelation of God."

Pastor Burgess has served as a missionary in Cuba and as an evangelist in the Methodist Church. His charges have included churches in Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri and Nebraska.

The crossbow is prohibited on game birds and animals in Nebraska.

Winside Regent Exam Choices Announced

University of Nebraska tests for Regents Scholarships will be given all over the state Nov. 5. Eleven seniors at Winside High School have been named to represent the upper portion of the class scholastically.

Those in the select group are Gene Barg, Bob Dangberg, Linda Goehring, Connie Jones, Keith Krueger, Mary Jane Hansen, Don Longe, Keith McLary, Ruth Vahlkamp, Judy Walker and Reed Wacker.

Seniors in the upper one-third of the class take the exams. Top students in the statewide exams get Regents or Alternate Scholarships to the University of Nebraska.

THAT'S SNOW and the picture was taken Mum Day at Northeast Station, Concord. The house is the new three bedroom home of the farm manager, Vernon Fegley. It is a deceptive picture for there is much more room than appears and the garage carports are all to the rear.

Concord Station House Occupied

The new house built at the University of Nebraska Northeast Station, Concord, is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Fegley. They moved in about one month ago.

Deceptively roomy, the brick structure is located back of the Haskell Building and has three bedrooms. A carport on the rear of the house will accommodate several private and government vehicles.

Fegley is the farm manager. He and his wife lived at Wakefield before selling out their farm possessions. Since April he has been in charge of the farming at the station.

He has a big job. Actual land farmed comes to 480 acres. Of this, 320 acres are owned by the Northeast Experiment Station Association and the other 160 acres adjoining are leased.

We Don't Do As the Romans Used to Do

Romans sprinkled salt on their lettuce to make it tastier. Today people sprinkle all sorts of concoctions on salads to add to taste and variety.

For the reason above, "Salad Making" will be the study for home extension club members in November, according to Margaret Stahly, area extension agent. She points out that since the time Romans used salt on salad, appetite appeal, food value and low calorie content have made salads more enjoyable.

The program leaders will get first includes a discussion of the history and food value of salads. Principles of better salad making will be demonstrated and various types of salads and dressings will be exhibited.

Training for the salad making lesson will be as follows: Monday, Oct. 24, Northeast Station, Concord; Oct. 25, REA building, Emerson; Oct. 26, REA Building, Wayne; Oct. 27, 4-H Building, Walthill; and Oct. 28, auditorium, Hartington.

Ambitious Play for Juniors at Winside

An ambitious undertaking is being attempted by the Junior Class of Winside High School. The class play is a "heavy" that originally appeared on "Studio One, CBS-TV."

Taking more than average ability in direction, production, acting and staging will be the play, "Dino." Directing it will be Mrs. Shirley Trautwein, who has studied under Dr. Helen Russell, W.S.C. long noted for her stage productions.

There will be 18 speaking parts in "Dino" with Dennis Swanson having the title role. He plays the part of a young hood who "at the last possible moment before turning to crime and violence is given a chance for a happier life."

Also in the play are Kirk Troutman, Carol Bleich, Diane Wacker, Dianne Mann, Richard Duering, Leslie Zierke, Sandra Muehlmeier, Teresa Stenwall, Sharon Paulson, Barbara Jenkins, Mark Witt, Neil Brogren, Rita Quinn, Charles Prince, Peggy Hoemann, Donna Alleman and Joan Deck.

Rehearsals will get underway at once. The play will be presented Friday, Nov. 18, in the WJNS auditorium.

Pole for Dixon Fair

It isn't an earth-shaking addition, but the Dixon County Fairgrounds is to have a new flagpole. Woodman of the World Insurance Co., Omaha, has donated a pole to the fair board. It will be put up for use at the diamond and in front of the grandstand for use at flag-raising ceremonies. WOW has given such poles to other patriotic and service groups needing them.

Judging Underway in Betterment Contest

Judging started Monday, Oct. 17, in the Nebraska Centennial Community Betterment Contest, sponsored by Peoples Natural Gas Co., Wayne, Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co., Winside, other gas companies and the division of Nebraska resource.

Eleven judges will visit 36 counties and 158 communities. Winside, Wayne, Carroll and Wakefield are among the communities competing.

Final judging and awards will be based upon reports and person visits by judging teams. Actual results in betterment count 65 per cent with scope and degree of involvement by individuals or groups counting next most, 20 per cent.

Contest semi-finalists were to be notified this week of their choice. Visits will then be made by Thursday.

Winners will be revealed Nov. 11 at a banquet in Lincoln.

Drag Racing Protested

Residents of Oak Drive have complained of cars drag-racing on that city street in recent weeks. They have the licenses of some and descriptions of others in a half-dozen that are regular "patrons" of the "strip." Other police complaints the past week included a car blocking a crosswalk. It was towed away and untidy alley behind a business place—the owners cleaned up the mess. The police also found one business place door unlocked at night, investigated seven accidents, appeared in court in several hearings and conducted routine patrol and checking duties.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

They Too Once Lived

In last week's Herald, the names on some of the gravestones were included in an article describing the desolation and neglect to one of Wayne County's truly historic spots.

The children, of course, died too young because of the lack of medical knowledge. But the adults probably knew the joys of maturity just as we do.

They went to school, they waded barefoot in creeks, they sang in choirs, they fell in love, they bore children. In fact, they did most of the things that were done in those harsh days of the prairie just as we did the things that are popular today.

One difference stands out. They died. But death should not mean they should be forgotten. Placing a stone on a grave is not the ultimate in memorials. Maintaining a respectful and respectable final resting place should be expected.

Of course, we are a Christian people and we know that only the mortal remains are buried. The soul is gone from this earth. Still, even the mortal remains deserve a better fate than a weed-filled plot.

Would it be possible for some groups to clean-up and fix-up the LaPorte Cemetery this fall so it would be a fitting place of repose in the state's centennial year?

It's Up to You, Hunters

Phasant hunting season is upon us. Up will go hunting signs this year where there were none last year.

How would you hunters feel if you gave someone permission to go into your yard and they trampled your flowers, left the gate open so the kids and dog got out, left litter all over, broke down fences, fired guns near your house, scared your kids with shots close to the house and did other damage?

Wayne County farmers have been most generous in welcoming hunters. In turn, most hunters have been appreciative, have respected property and have plans to return to farms where they will be welcome.

But there are those few who apparently have mighty strange habits at home. Or, maybe they are the Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde type, becoming different people when they get guns in their hand.

Farmers' crops have been driven over and trampled, their gates have been left open so stock has gotten out, their farms have been littered with beer cans and cartons, their fences have been broken down, buildings in the farm-yard have been

Who Wants the Communists?

The Wayne Stater asked recently: "Would a communist speaker, for example, be permitted to voice his views to a class studying communism?"

That question was asked in an editorial intended to point out that WSC students should be allowed to hear thought-provoking speakers.

It is hoped the answer to the question in the first paragraph here would be a resounding: NO!

This may seem strange coming from a newspaper that has advocated bringing convicts from the Nebraska penal complex to talk to high school and college students. However, there is a lot of difference—a whole lot of difference—between a convict and a communist.

Now if the students wanted to bring an EX-communist to Wayne to talk to WSC students, it would be all right. In fact, an ex-communist should make a good speaker for high school pupils too.

But a communist who still believes as a communist is no more welcome as a speaker before students than would be a sexual maniac promoting his beliefs or a dope fiend promoting the use of heroin.

Convicts have made mistakes and they are paying the penalty. Most are willing to go out to schools and help young people realize where their mistakes were made so pupils will not make the same mistakes. In many cases, they even keep the potential drop-outs from becoming drop-outs. They are not out to convert kids to convicts but just the opposite.

A former alcoholic could tell of the horrors of such a life. This would not be a yawn-provoking type talk either.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

(We say "groups," because the job is too big for one group.)

Then, once the cemetery is fixed up, a list of organizations willing to help care for it could be made. LaPorte Community Club might agree to care for it one year, the VFW the next year, Legion the next, Lions the next and so on. Even women's organizations and children's organizations could help.

As the years go by, LaPorte Cemetery can continue to deteriorate or each year some new added beauty can be provided. Flowers can be planted, brush trimmed and fences straightened until it is merely a matter of mowing the grass, keeping weeds out and tending the flowers to make the cemetery a year-around memorial to the ones buried there and to the town of LaPorte, which also died.

Until something is done, do not drive two miles south from Seventh Street on Highway 15 and then go three miles east. Until something is done, you won't want to see what neglect has done to what was once planned as a peaceful cemetery with flowers, grass, trees and shrubs.

LaPorte cannot come back. LaPorte Cemetery can. We who remain on earth can go to the cemetery and take satisfaction in what is done if we do something now. We can smile with the knowledge that we have not forgotten after all. Perhaps others who also once lived, loved and cared will smile too wherever they are.—CEG.

shot at or near, stock has been killed or frightened by hunters shooting too close to the herds and other damage has been done.

Hunting season usually starts with a few places posted. Farmers welcome hunters, trying to show how friendly they are. Then a few hunters start abusing the privilege of entering private land and the farmers get aroused so up go the "No Hunting" signs on places that were originally to be open to hunters.

Well, it's up to you, fellows who hunt. If you see someone doing something you wouldn't want done on your own property, let him know then and there that he is hurting the reputation of all hunters.

Most of us have a lot of respect for these patient farmers who have put up with the nuisance of non-appreciative hunters. Most of us also respect the hunters who respect the property of others.

It's up to you hunters to keep the land open for your recreation. No one can blame farmers if they finally give up in despair and post their land.

Remember hunting on someone else's land is a privilege. Don't abuse it.—CEG.

Amendments: From Taxes To Buses on Nov. 8 Ballot

EDITOR'S NOTE: The 1965 State Legislature ordered 15 Constitutional Amendments on the Nov. 8 ballot, presenting voters with a hodge-podge of complicated issues. A legal definition of these proposals will appear in newspapers this week and the following 2 weeks. A more incisive explanation will be carried in a 2-part Capitol

News series. Last August, this column explained the income and property tax propositions that also will appear on the ballot.

LINCOLN—The Nebraska Constitution is fundamentally a document drawn in 1875 and amended by a Constitutional convention in 1920. However, it has been altered numerous times by the people through amendment.

This Nov. 8 voters will be asked to decide on 17 separate, but in some cases related, propositions—the largest number of amendments ever presented at one time.

To be sure, the issues involved are complex. They run the gamut: From taxes to buses to reapportionment to salaries to education to fund investment.

Forty amendments have been added to the Constitution since 1952. Only 11 have been rejected. Two years ago, six amendments were approved.

In Nebraska all Constitutional amendments must be approved by the electorate at the general election. A majority must favor the measure and the ballots must equal at least 35 percent of the total vote cast.

In an effort to help voters better understand November's varied issues, this column will give a layman's explanation of each. Following are the first eight. The other seven will appear next week.

Amendment No. 1—This would eliminate the prohibition against elected executive state officers such as attorney general or auditor from running for any other state office during his term. Two years ago, an amendment was approved permitting the lieutenant governor to become a candidate for governor during the period he was elected. This is an extension of that proposal. The amendment would still restrict the activities of appointed executive officers.

Amendment No. 2—This would increase travel expenses and per diem payments for members of the Legislature only when the unicameral is in session. The unicameral meets every odd-number year in Nebraska and the session usually lasts five to six months. Under the proposal, a senator would receive mileage expense to and from home once monthly. He would also receive a per diem allowance for each legislative day served but not to exceed 127 legislative days per session. The amount of the mileage expense and the per diem allowance would be determined by the lawmakers themselves. Presently, the senators receive payment for one trip to and from their home during the session. This amendment would make no change in the salary for each member, which is $200 per month. This proposal grew out of the argument that the present level compensation ($2,400 per year with no expense allowance) imposes a financial hardship on many members of the Legislature, and deters some citizens from filing for the office. The amendment was placed on the ballot by a 29-8 vote, with two senators not voting.

Amendment No. 3—This would permit the state or its political subdivisions to contract for services with private, commercial and vocational schools. The Constitution now restricts the appropriation of any public funds to aid any educational institution not exclusively owned and controlled by the state or a subdivision. Supporters of the bill say the amendment is purely permissive and that it would be up to the State Board of Education to determine whether grants or contracts were to be made with non-public institutions. They say there are many excellent private trade schools in Nebraska that the state should contract with to utilize their facilities. The proposal was supported by the Department of Education and the State Board of Education in the last session of the Legislature, which put it on the ballot by a 47-0 vote, with two senators not voting.

Amendment No. 4—This is a relatively simple amendment. It would increase membership on the State Board of Education from six to eight, and reduce the term of office from six to four years. There was no opposition to the proposal during the last legislative session. Supporters said the enlarged board would provide more diversified thinking and the reduced term would make the board more responsive to the public's wishes. The vote to put it on the ballot was 46-0, with three senators not voting.

Amendment No. 5—This would authorize the Legislature to fix a separate tax value on land actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural uses. Now, this land is assessed like all other real estate in Nebraska—at 35 percent of actual value. The basic problem stimulating the introduction of this proposal involves the taxation of farm land in the rural-urban fringe areas. As urban development expands out into areas that have hitherto been rural, the values of farm lands go up, resulting in higher taxes. However, farmers argue, the income from the land does not rise at the same time. Farmers involved feel their land should be taxed on the basis of its agricultural use, not on the basis of its value for other possible uses. The vote in the 1965 Legislature on this proposition was 41-4, and four not voting.

Amendment No. 6—This would extend free bus service to parochial and private grade and high school students. The amendment would require implementation by the Legislature before transportation is actually provided for these children. This is a very controversial amendment. Supporters say it does not violate the traditional separation of church and state doctrine but is only an effort to provide bus facilities for all children in the state. Opponents report that it would be an opening wedge to greater state aid to nonpublic schools. They say the next step would be a request for funds to buy books, and pay teachers salaries. A few states now permit parochial school students to be picked up and dropped off by public school buses. The vote to place this proposal on the ballot was 45-3, with one senator not voting.

Amendment No. 7—This would create an 11-member Commission on Judicial Qualifications to consider petitions to remove unfit or disabled judges. Presently, the only way to remove a judge is through impeachment—a procedure which judges and lawyers alike consider unworkable and one which has never been used in Nebraska. The commission would be comprised of seven judges, two lawyers and two laymen. It would receive complaints from any party and determine which, if any, were worthy of the investigation. Only state judges would be involved. The entire investigatory procedure would be confidential. If after a study the commission found a judge to be unfit, it could ask him to resign or retire. If he refused to accede to pressure, the commission could take its case to the State Supreme Court, which is the only body which could actually remove a judge. Backers of the plan believe usually a judge would realize his shortcomings and would want the embarrassment of pub-

Amendment No. 8—This would provide that when a state income tax becomes operational, the legislature could base collections and other procedures upon the laws of the United States. ## Carl Curtis CAPITOL COMMENTS

Invariably when the United States is at war, the problem of trading with the enemy or with other countries that trade with the enemy comes up.

Just prior to World War II there was the scrap-iron trade with Japan which helped build an arsenal for the Japanese to throw back at us during the war. During the Korean war and now during the Viet Nam war the problem became serious because many of our friends in other countries are something less than friends when they have products to sell in the world market place. It is not enough merely to keep track of the shipments to North Viet Nam from nations we regard as friendly to us.

The sale of goods, including food, to any Communist country is tantamount to selling the same products to North Viet Nam if the North Vietnamese need them to help the war effort.

It is difficult to trace some of the surreptitious Communist shipments, but the weapons and other materials our fighting men have captured in Viet Nam tell a convincing story. These include items from nearly every Communist country. Although the Communist

Winterize Fruit Crops
Fruit crops can be "winterized". Hardening fruit trees and mulching strawberry plants are steps fruit growers should take to protect plants from low temperatures.

Fruit trees that are hardened have stopped growing for the season. When growth stops, carbohydrates accumulate and trees become progressively less susceptible to low temperatures.

Fertilizer application and heavy pruning should be postponed until the trees are dormant.

Trees should be protected from mice and rabbits. Commercial repellents are available and may be sprayed or brushed on the tree trunks high enough to repel rabbits standing on their hind legs. Wire screens that are shaped cylindrical around the trees will help to eliminate rodent damage. Poisoned bait is necessary to control mice. Raking grass and debris away from tree trunks for a distance of two feet also helps.

A straw mulch protects strawberries from low temperatures. If bales of new straw are used, they should be broken open and spread out to promote germination of weed seeds. The strawberry plants should not be covered until plants are dormant. This occurs when night temperatures are near freezing and days are cloudy. The mulch over the plants should be about 2 inches thick after it settles.

Other advantages from the mulch are that it helps to conserve moisture and to keep the strawberry fruits clean as they are maturing. A final but important advantage is that spring growth of plants is delayed. This may be due to spring frosts. Ventilation System
With an upsurge in Nebraska swine industry many producers are turning to farrowing barns. Add a proper ventilation system. See COUNTY AGENT

E. A. Olson, NU Extension agricultural engineer, suggests that insulation is one of the prime factors assuring a good ventilation situation in a farrowing house.

He advises an insulating value of eight in the walls and 12 in the ceiling or roof. This means an equivalent of two inches of insulation in the walls of a frame or metal building.

Insulation helps keep animal heat or supplemental heat in the building, Olson noted. Insulation makes it possible to warm outside air as it is brought into the building.

Other components of the ventilation system are those which are used for bringing in fresh air. A slot inlet—an opening between the outside wall and the ceiling—is inexpensive and easy to install, and eliminates the problem of drafts, Olson said. With a baffle, it is easy to adjust and ensure that good air is circulated to all parts of the building.

Fans are an important part of the system. They need to be of high quality and be selected to give a range of air flows for all types of weather and also for changing conditions in the building, Olson concluded.

Control Pocket Gophers Now is a good time to control pocket gophers.

Since the gophers are usually quite active in the fall, poisoned baits are especially effective now.

Grain or vegetable baits can be used. If large fields are infested, it may be easier to use a poisoned grain bait of barley, wheat or milo.

Burrow building machines are very successful for baiting large fields if the soil moisture is such that the artificial burrow will remain open. Artificial burrows about every 25 feet across a field often will result in 90 per cent gopher control.

For small areas, or when grain baits are not available, a good bait can be prepared by cutting carrots or sweet potatoes into pieces 1/2 inches long and about 1/2 inch square. One-eighth ounce of powdered strychnine alkaloid is sprinkled over 2 quarts of bait, and stirred until distribution is uniform.

The main runway must be located by probing into the soil 10 to 12 inches or more back from the mound on the side where a little depression is usually present. When the probe drops into the runway, remove the probe and place 1 tablespoon of poisoned grain or 2 or 3 pieces of vegetable bait in the runway.

Close the opening with a plug of grass to keep dirt and light out of the burrow. Place 3 to 4 baits in each runway system.

Where in your home do you have foam rubber? It could be in sofa pillows, mattresses, rug backings, mattress pads or a number of other places. Keeping foam rubber items clean is no problem.

Latex foam rubber requires only "kneading" in soap or detergent suds. In fact, suds-and-water is the only safe cleaning agent. Manufacturers caution that foam rubber is damaged by cleaning fluid.

A rubber mat in front of the sink reduces fatigue and protects floors but this mat picks up soil which reduces the resilience of foam rubber by clogging the pores. To keep rubber mats in best condition launder them often either by machine or by squeezing in suds. Rinse and hang over parallel lines to dry.

Foam rubber mattress pads need the same type of laundering if they are to retain their "bounce" and shape. Laundering will also keep these mattress pads light, cool and allergy-free.

To wash foam rubber pillows, put each in an old pillowcase, then baste the open end with long stitches to allow free flow of water containing soil washed from the pillow. An automatic washer can be set for a 5 minute wash, plus the spin cycle. Let foam rubber pillows dry in the air, never in an automatic dryer.

If washed by hand, squish the pillow through warm suds and rinse in clear water. Use a couple of clean bath towels to press out as much moisture as possible. Then dry in a breezy spot away from heat and sun-ship.

Foam rubber mattresses are too large and bulky to launder. They can be spot-sponged with thick suds when necessary. Their removable tickings can and should be laundered occasionally.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor: First, I want to thank you for the editorial some three weeks or so back, about Look Magazine portraying such a poor image of our young people. You took the words right out of my mouth (only much better wording than I could have done).

Now, I'd like to remind people (lest election day sneak up on them and it's too late) to be concerned about the liquor-by-the-drink issues coming up in Lincoln and numerous other towns. The Lincoln Council of Churches Committee linked liquor-by-the-drink with moral decay and higher automobile accident rates and a report accompanying its resolution said the per person consumption of alcohol averages nearly a gallon more in cities with liquor-by-the-drink compared to so-called "dry" communities.

TODAY we multiply the number of liquor outlets if liquor-by-the-drink is established.

TOMORROW but children assume that liquor is an acceptable part of ordinary life as they see it sold by-the-drink in "nice" restaurants, hotels and recreation areas.

TODAY we multiply the number of liquor outlets if liquor-by-the-drink is legalized.

TOMORROW we find the convenient bar-around-the-corner leads to more family problems, therefore, more broken homes and more dependent children on our state welfare rolls.

TODAY we multiply the number of liquor outlets if liquor-by-the-drink is legalized.

TOMORROW the increased consumption of alcoholic drink will lead to increased crime and additional police and court expenses.

THEREFORE: LET US BE WISE TODAY...

Sincerely yours, Concerned Mother P.S. Write letters to the public pulse in Lincoln Star and also Omaha World Herald to let people know you are concerned that they vote.

Dear Editor,

Big deal, so they moved a large building from Sholes to Carroll taking every culvert marker, mailbox and what have you along with it. In one instance the mover sawed off a pole several feet above the ground rather than pull it. Even before leaving Sholes the movers tried to cut telephone lines, which they would have done if one of the customers wouldn't have been there.

Earlier this fall when the first bins were moved we were with you phone service for nearly a week because of lines that were torn down.

I don't know why people can't have more respect for other peoples property. All anyone thinks about is to get through no matter the cost.

You wouldn't have such a bad paper if you would print some local news from the surrounding towns.

Are you enjoying The Herald's new "game." It involves carryover articles from the front page to another page. We have goofed up several times lately with the articles not being continued on pages indicated. This will come to a screeching halt this week. We promise! Explaining just how such a mix-up could occur is too long a process so we'll just continue this to page 6 7/8 and if you don't know that joke come in sometime and we'll explain it to you.

We certainly want to thank our friends up Concord and Dixon way for their help last week. We had three telephone calls when two personal injury automobile accidents occurred Wednesday. Had the people up there not called, we would have had the story on the accidents a week late. As it was, we had the story even though it had to be carried inside because we already had the front page ready to go. We held space until the story could be written, set and put in the page. You Concord and Dixon people are real friends. We'll do something for you someday.

SASS On the other hand, no one told us about Wayne people being involved in a Sunday accident until we accidentally overheard a man ask about how someone was getting along in the hospital. Upon checking, we learned of the accident. It was Wednesday when we heard about it, but we managed to get that included in the story with the Dixon-Concord accidents. Would you help us, please? Don't assume we know your neighbor was in an accident or made news any other way—call and tell us. We'll really appreciate it and you'll have a newsier newspaper.

Speaking of carryovers on items, some people have said they prefer not to have items carried over from the front page to inside pages. Others have told us when they bring in or call in news: "Put this on page one." We know how to solve both problems; do as one newspaper did and number all pages "1." That way, everything is "on page one." As for carry-overs, we'll always have them. We could condense articles to make them fit but we'd rather write the stories and then make the front page as attractive as possible even if it means continuing some stories. We don't continue more than we have to, however.

Hats off to Wayne County Public Power District. It is a humane organization. A cat stranded in a tree two days was the concern of many, although the dihard cat-haters thought it should be shot down. WCPD sent workmen over and they got the cat down. We were happy to have the cat's cries ended and viewers applauded the act of kindness by the men.

She appeared to be a "rather fight than switch" commercial for a few days afterward and we can imagine the explanations she was called upon to give.

You are going to see "The Miracle Worker," later this month at WSC aren't you? The story of Anne Sullivan and how she brought the world to deaf-blind Helen Keller is a beautiful one and we have an idea the cast will give it the professional touch we have grown accustomed to at Ramsey Theatre. We saw the movie and we highly recommend this dramatic offering. Get away from the boob tube for an evening. Find out how entertaining real live professional-like performances can be. Call athletes are usually a pretty gentlemanly bunch and a credit to the school, the towns from which they come and their parents. We look forward to basketball and wrestling soon and other sports later on. We hope they gain inspiration in those sports from the feats of the gridiron stars.

SASS

Our bouquet of the week goes to the women who cook school lunches in Hoskins, Winside, Wayne, Carroll, Concord and Dixon. They have the impossible duty of trying to cook to please a heck of a lot of kids. Now any mother can tell you if she has to cook for more than one person she probably will have something each meal that someone does not like. But these lunch cooks have to cook well-balanced, nourishing meals and try to please hundred. We think their percentage of success is mighty high. They are capable of cooking a meal at night for a family and a meal at noon the next day for several hundred. Their work has made the school lunch program a real success and if there are a few pupils who complain, it's because if everything were perfect there would still be some who would not be satisfied. About 99 per cent of us are satisfied with the lunch program and you gals who prepare those meals deserve a bouquet. This is it!

SASS

In recent weeks we have mentioned the unusually fine kids we've known in such widespread places as Tulelake, Calif., Dodge Center, Minn., and Ovid, Colo. In each case, expressions of thanks have come from parents of those involved. They're happy to know their kids get on the right road have not gone unnoted, and they're glad to call attention of their youngsters to the fact that good manners are important.

ant. Their children are not just top-notch by accident. We were also asked to keep pressing for good sportsmanship. We'll do that too! In the meantime, do you parents do your part to see that when your family is shown a kindness or private or public honor, the one involved takes time to express appreciation in writing? Apparently not, for some business places that have given boosts to 4-H, scholarships, projects and other activities have never yet received notes of thanks. They are thus taken for granted. Who is to blame? You, your kids or both?

SASS

Wonder why there are no jokes in this week's column? Because we ran out. We're not satisfied to use just every joke that comes in and we shun the off-color type. Some turn in jokes, and we appreciate them, but we find many that are repeats of jokes we've used before, so old that everyone has heard them anyway or printed in some publication that uses them to fill space without regard to whether they are funny or not. We'll try to remain discriminating and be back with jokes next week.

Winside Club Plans Variety of Projects

Winside Community Club is planning. Several projects are coming up that will be prime topic material for the meeting Monday, Oct. 24, at 7 p.m. in the Methodist Church.

A change in plans for the pancake feed for the area has been considered. It was set for election day but a special committee meeting was called to decide whether to change the site and have it that day or change the day and keep the site.

Also coming up in November is the annual turkey drawing series. In December there will be a Christmas lighting program, a visit by Santa and other promotion events.

Following Snowfall
Mum Day at the North-east Station, Concord, had to be forgotten this year. A snowstorm that came way too early was the villain.

Snow was heavy, wet and accompanied by high winds. The result was the mum beds were too wet to be walked in even if the flowers had been pretty enough to see.

But, the flowers were not pretty enough to bother about even if the ground had not been muddy. Bent over with snow, drooping

LOOKING OVER Russian tourist literature in the home of Dr. Robert Johnson were three former residents of the USSR, Mrs. Johnson, left, her sisters, Mrs. Nathalie Wollard, and their mother, Mrs. Anastasia Youshkevitch. Dr. Johnson and son, Bobby, were also looking on. All can read and speak Russian.

New York Women See Russian Scenes In Wayne Recalling Their Lives in USSR

Two New York City women saw scenes of Russia in Wayne Sunday. The colored slides they viewed reminded them of life in the Soviet Union many decades ago.

Mrs. Anastasia Youshkevitch and her daughter, Mrs. Nathalie Wollard, are in Wayne from New York visiting Mrs. Youshkevitch's daughter, Mrs. Robert G. Johnson, 208 W. Third. The two visit here twice a year with the Johnson family.

Many years ago, Mrs. Youshkevitch lived in Russia. She traveled with her husband, who was a playwright, Odessa, Moscow, Petrograd and other cities were called home at various times.

Nathalie and Nina (Mrs. Johnson) were born in Russia. However, Nina was only a few months old when the family moved to Paris and she was brought up in that city.

The colored slides were some Dr. Robert Bentback had taken on his recent people-to-people trip with other Nebraska doctors. They brought back memories to the New Yorkers, although there are many new features of Moscow and Stalingrad mixed with the ancient buildings and monuments they remember from pre-war days.

They also enjoyed seeing tourist brochures prepared by Intourist. Much of the wording is in Russian and they can still read and speak the language.

The Youshkevitch family came to the United States during World War II, leaving Paris before the Germans arrived. By that time, the family had only three members, Mr. Youshkevitch having succumbed.

In New York, Nina Youshkevitch rose in ballerina ranks to become prima ballerina with the Metropolitan Opera. Here she also met an officer in the merchant marine, Robert Johnson, who became her husband.

Dr. Johnson went to college to get his doctorate in French and Russian. He is now head of the speech department at Wayne State College. The Johnson family has been in Wayne eight years.

They have a son, Bobby, 7, who enjoyed the scenes of Russia too. He is in the second grade at West Elementary School. Without a doubt he is the only second grade pupil in town who can speak Russian as well as English and he is not satisfied with just two languages but is learning French under tutoring from his mother.

The private showing of scenes in Poland and Russia afforded color views of scenes the Youshkevitch family remembers. With them for the showing were Dr. Johnson's parents, Mr.

and Mrs. Henry Johnson, Denver, and Dr. Eugene HSI, another WSC faculty member.

Speeding Drivers in Court Appearances

Seven of the eight court cases heard the past week by Judge David Hamer involved speeding drivers. The eighth involved parking violation.

Oct. 11 there were two cases involving speeding. Dan O'Neill, Norfolk, paid $10 fine and $5 costs. Officer E. L. Hailey filed the charges.

Dick Ditman, Winside, was charged with speeding. He paid $15 in fine and costs. Officer Alan Peck was complaining officer.

Three cases were heard Oct. 13. Two involved drivers going 83 at night. Both were charged by Trooper C. L. Howell, Nebraska Safety Patrol, and each paid $23 fine and $5 costs. Appearing were Gene Barg, Carroll, and Sam Jensen, Wayne.

The third case that day involved Mike McCormick, Wayne. He paid $10 fine and $5 costs on an illegal parking charge filed by Officer John Redel.

Date for the remaining three hearings was Oct. 14. Ralph Keeling, Omaha, paid $15 fine and costs with Officer Keith Reed filing the speeding complaint.

A total of $15 in fine and costs was also paid by William Peterson, St. Edward. Filing charges of speeding was Officer Peck.

Larry Donlin, Central City, was also charged with speeding. Officer E. L. Hailey signed the complaint. Fine was $10 and costs $5.

The first pheasants were shot in Nebraska sometime around 1902. They were from releases by private individuals in the southeastern corner of the state.

Amendments Will Be Explained in Series

Do you understand the amendments that will be on the ballots in November? There are 15 of them and they are in technical terms.

The Wayne Herald and most other Nebraska newspapers carry a column of capitol news each week. This week that column is devoted to explaining some of the amendments. Another article explaining them will be carried next week.

This feature is carried weekly on the editorial page. Melvin Paul of Nebraska Press Association clarifies the propositions involved.

Also in this issue and being carried for three more weeks are the 16 amendments themselves in a "public notice" form. These also should be read to get an idea of the official language of the propositions.

Our OHC 6 delivers 165 hp on regular gas. And 215 horses from the premium gas 4-barrel version. Most American sixes (and some underprivileged V-8s) don't even come close. Expensive European sports machines do, but they're overhead cams, too. In fact, they inspired us. Our OHC 6 is standard on all Tempests and LeMans. So are a host of new safety features like passenger-guard door locks. General Motors' new energy absorbing steering column and a four-way hazard warning flasher. We've said enough. # Phadet Loves First Snow of His Life; Meets Other AFS Students in Columbus

Phadet Gaweombat, exchange student staying at the Dr. J. M. Brown home, Wayne, experienced two new thrills the past week. He saw his first snow and he attended a meeting at which other area AFS exchange students were present.

The snow came Friday night. Saturday Phadet was up before sunrise to get out in it. As dismal as the snow was to some, he found it a delightful new sensation, although he could hardly be kept still long enough for photographs.

Dr. Brown did take some pictures of the Thailand youth reacting to the first sight, touch and taste of snow. If they come out good, one will be printed in The Herald.

Saturday Phadet was disappointed. As he traveled south toward Columbus with Mrs. Brown and with Mr. and Mrs. Ken Deissler he found less and less snow until they finally ran out of it.

In Columbus he met exchange students from Costa Rica (Columbus), Norway (Freemont), South America (Madison and Norfolk), New Zealand (Schuyler) and Italy (South Sioux City). The one from Italy is staying at Mrs. Deissler's cousin's home.

Two young women, Andrea Rogers, director of placement and counseling for the AFS students in Nebraska, and Pat Olmsted, area supervisor from New York, met with exchange students, school counselors, families and students from schools where there are exchange students.

They told the purpose of the exchange program, what communities, families and schools should be doing and other facets of the AFS program. Later they met privately with the students and their families.

There are nine exchange students in the area but only seven were present at the meeting. The people from Wayne who attended came back enlightened. They found that schools and communities where exchange students have been entertained before are offering more chances for public appearances and more activities than some of the other towns but they also found that some of the "first time towns" were also offering experiences that the towns that had exchange students before had not offered.

Police Judge in Winside is Active

For the first time in over a quarter of a century, Winside has a police judge. Fred Walde accepted the post the last of the week and had his first hearing Monday.

Most people questioned could not remember when Winside last had a police magistrate or judge. Court-house records in Wayne indicate hearings have been held in county court for Winside for over 25 years.

Lyle Vanosdall had the dubious honor of being the first one to appear before the new police magistrate. The marshal and magistrate could hardly have asked for a nicer "customer" for Vanosdall was not provoked at the charges and did not resent the fine.

He appeared on a charge of careless driving Monday after backing into the car of Julius Eckert on Main Street. His fine was $10 and court costs $4. Eckert's car sustained around $50 damage.

J. L. Shaw is the new marshal. Magistrate Walde holds hearings in the "police station" at the Winside power plant.

Carroll Man Rates High

Ronald Wacker, Carroll, finished tenth out of 90 men from the automotive mechanics school graduating class Oct. 10. He was promoted to private first class following his achievement. Pfc. Wacker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Wacker, is in the marines based at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

No Pictures!

Pictures were taken at the smorgasbord at St. Mary's Catholic School Sunday. However, none came out. Negatives indicate the strobe cord (or a photographer's finger) got in the way.

One picture was taken showing how the fathers have to take care of the families. It showed Joe Lowe and two sons and Jerry Pospshil and one son eating at one table. It did not come out in reproducible form.

Other pictures were taken of the double serving line. They too were not good.

The smorgasbord itself was its usual success with many arriving ahead of the noon opening hour and continuous lines of people moving through until closing time.

A bazaar was held in conjunction with the smorgasbord and it too attracted generous patronage.

Final Rites for Adolf Brinkman Held Here Sunday

Funeral services for Adolf H. Brinkman, 90, were held Oct. 16 at Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wayne. Mr. Brinkman died Oct. 13 at Wayne Hospital.

Rev. S. K. de Freese officiated at the rites. Ted Bahe, Dr. Lyle Seymour and Dr. Walter Peterson sang "O Take My Hand Dear Father" and "How Great Thou Art." Mrs. William Kugler was organist. Pallbearers were Larry and Henry Thomsen, Marvin Dranselka, Richard Heggemeyer, Ronald Brinkman, Joe Jones, Eldon Heinemann and Rodney Larson. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, Wayne.

WINSIDE-RANDOLPH action shots included this one, the best of the bunch. Some of the big blotches are made by snow on the camera lens. The others are just big snowflakes. This shot was made as Winside made its deepest penetration, a first-down meaning a chance for a score. A penalty nullified the first down and WHS never made it down that far again.

Winside High Loses to Weatherman In Scoreless Battle With Randolph

Winside gridders ran into gale-like winds and a blinding blizzard Friday night at Randolph to end their win streak for the year, settling for a scoreless tie.

The game was called at the halfway mark to prevent any possible injury due to bad field conditions. The weather was on the verge of either clearing or worsening as game time approached. Taking the latter course, a raging wet snow was falling soon after the game started.

Winside elected to kick off and take advantage of the wind the first quarter, which almost paid off. Randolph was forced to kick on their fourth play from scrimmage, the punt going high against wind netted a plus two yards, with the Wildcats taking over on the Randolph 17.

After a first down and exchange of possession by each team, Winside saw the quarter end with possession on the Randolph 13, and having to face the wind. The field was so wet it was nearly impossible for backs to get footing for any momentum, with defenses realizing all they had to do was stand up and bump a blocker or ball carrier to knock him off his pins.

Winside came within two yards of scoring midway in the second quarter, with a fourth down quarterback sneak falling short. Randolph took over the ball and the wind and snow took over the game.

Winside showed finesse enough to score handily, but the one dry spot under the cleat at the right time was just not there. The game goes into the books as a scoreless tie being called at the half by mutual agreement with the coaches and school officials.

The tie matches Norfolk Catholic's tie with Hartington Cedar Catholic of Thursday night and puts

Winside High W Club Sponsors Project Aimed at Getting Football Scoreboard

Taking on a project that will cost $1,600 does not scare the W Club at Winside High School. First fund-raising event is a slave auction Saturday, Oct. 22, at 8:30 p.m.

The members of the W Club will be auctioned for work Saturday. They will do the work Thursday, Oct. 27, which is one of the days school will be dismissed for teachers' convention.

What could they want that would cost $1,600? A scoreboard. The football field does not have an electric clock or scoreboard and the W Club thinks it should have one.

They want nothing but the best. The one they have in mind would show the scores of the teams, the time left in the period, the quarter being played, the yards left to go and whether it is first, second, third or fourth down.

Heading the group of boys backing the project is Randy Brudigan. Sponsor of the W Club is Coach Pete Kropp. Joining in are those boys who are not W Club members but may be soon.

W Club is limited to boys who have lettered in football, basketball or track. Several members of the team this year will be eligible to belong when this grid season is over.

The project may take several years. The sooner it gets started the sooner it is successful. W Club

West Point Gets First Frosh Loss

West Point and Wayne freshmen football teams tangled at Wayne Thursday afternoon. Both were undefeated and they put up a tremendous battle before the visitors went home with a 13-6 defeat.

The visitors started off strong but lacked the ability to figure out the Wayne offense the second half. They had finished the first half in a 6-6 tie.

Mike Biltoff returned the opening kickoff to the 30 from the 25 for Wayne. The team fumbled, lost a yard and Biltoff gained 10. Two penalties hurt the local team although Dan Sutherland and Randy Helgren each picked up 2 yards before Sutherland booted to the 49.

West Point gained 24 but Biltoff tossed them back 5 and Wayne held. Biltoff gained 4, the locals lost 2 and Helgren picked up 7 before Sutherland kicked to the West Point 40. The visitors managed just 3 yards and punted. Sutherland handing off to Helgren on the 30. He returned to the 46 as the quarter ended.

Biltoff gained 4, Sutherland 2, Helgren passed to Les Echtenkamp for 18 and a drive came to an end as West Point intercepted, ran for a touchdown and had it nullified by a clipping penalty. The inspired Pointers drove to the 8 but Helgren threw them back 2 and Ted Armbruster tossed in a 6-yard loss. Wayne took over. Sutherland gained 3, 35 and 3 before Wayne had to kick again, Sutherland booting to the 25.

West Point fumbled on 7 with Biltoff recovering. Sutherland gained 3, Helgren passed to Sutherland for 30 and Sutherland needed three carries to get it over for the TD. The pass for extra point was intercepted, Jerry Titze kicked to the 21. West Point managed 13 yards before the half ended.

Titze opened the second half with a kick to the 21, returned to the 33. On the first play from scrimmage, West Point's right half went 55 yards to tie the count. The try for extra point was fumbled and it was 6-6. Biltoff received the kickoff on the 25 and returned to the 44. A 15-yard penalty boosted Wayne on a drive as Sutherland went 18, Biltoff 8, 3 and 2, Sutherland 6, Helgren passed to Titze for 11 and Wayne lost possession on a fumble. West Point gained 15 as the third period ended.

Doug Maurer and Sutherland set the visitors back 9 and Sutherland blocked a punt with Maurer recovering for Wayne. The ball was on the West Point 19. Biltoff gained 1, Echtenkamp 7, Biltoff 2 and Echtenkamp went 9 yards to score. Helgren passed to Titze for the extra point to make it 13-6.

Titze kicked to the 27 with West Point coming back to the 49. Wayne was not to be denied, took over after yielding 6 yards and started another drive. Echtenkamp gained 3, Maurer 4, Echtenkamp 8, Sutherland 15, Biltoff 1, Helgren 7, Sutherland 3, Echtenkamp 2 and Helgren 3. Wayne was inside the West Point 15 but the game was over.

Wayne led in first downs 12-5; rushing 155-148; in yards passing 59-0; in total yardage 214-148; in passes 11-1; in completions 4-0; in fumbles 4-3; and in fumble recoveries 4-3. West Point let in pass interceptions 1-0 and in yards penalized 35-30.

Pilger played at Rosalie Friday night in spite of the storm. The PHS team eked out a 13-12 decision on a snow-swept field. Pilger scored first to go ahead 6-0. Rosalie tied it up before halftime 6-6. Pilger came back to make it 13-6 and in the final stanza the host team made it 13-12. Humphrey St. Francis plays at Pilger this Friday night.

Pheasant Season to Open; Many Hunters Are Coming

Pheasant season opens Saturday for a 93-day run. Wayne County is one of the top choices of hunters as hundreds are expected here for the opening.

South Dakota, choosing to build up its bird population for the future, has cut down on its season. Nebraska game officials believe the bird population will not be hurt by generous limits and a long season so again are offering the longest season in the nation.

Texas will fly from Dallas to Wayne this weekend and the following weekend. Cars will come in from much of the midwest and hunters will also come from both coasts.

This being the opening weekend will make it an attractive one and all hunters want to be in one the shoot before birds become craftier and harder to find. The hotel and motel plus many town and farm homes are accommodating several hundred hunters by taking room reservations.

Daily bag limit is four (cock pheasants only) and 16 is the possession limit. Game conservation officers will be out checking and as usual will find many hunters who did not know the bag or possession limit and will pay dearly to find out.

Farmers are usually divided into two groups about now. Some will not allow hunters of any type from any place. Others will grant permission if asked. In some instances, hunters have asked to hunt and farmers will respect those who ask in advance by refusing permission to other hunters.

Many area residents will act as guides for the hunters. There will also be many who will offer bird-cleaning service and locker service for the out-of-state visitors.

The hunting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. Hunters would be wise to get a pamphlet showing sunrise and sunset times to make sure they do not shoot at birds too early in the morning or too late at night.

Saturday's sunrise here will be around 6:50. Sunset will be at about 5:35. The days grow shorter after that with sunrise a minute or two later each day than it was the previous day and sunset a minute or two earlier.

Hunting licenses are necessary, permission must be obtained before going onto private property, no hen pheasants may be shot and rules of commonsense in handling guns should be observed.

ing excellent recovery from open heart surgery performed in Rochester, Minn., Sept. 2.

If Heidi and Julie Munson, daughters of the Con Munsons, could not recognize their uncle, it was not their fault. He had lost 46 pounds, he could not speak in a normal voice, he was "skin and bones," his face drawn and his eyes sunken and dark.

His ordeal started last July. He had gone to Mayo Clinic where he learned he had heart trouble that was a direct development of rheumatic fever he had in high school.

His aortic valve was a "ring of calcium" and specialists at Mayo's decided if he was to live this valve had to be replaced. He was scheduled for an Aug. 11 operation but developed infection and remained in the hospital until he was ready for surgery Sept. 2.

All evening long before the operation he was being prepared for surgery. The operation started Friday morning and lasted 4 1/2 hours with five doctors on a "heart surgery team" being assisted by an anesthesiologist and three technicians.

Following this operation he was placed in the intensive care ward where relatives were told he was in critical condition. However, they were also told that "critical" is a term used until 18 hours after such an operation is over when it can be determined state. "I can't talk."

His father, Art Munson, had been with him in Rochester since July 14. He and Con were the only ones permitted to visit Carroll at first but later Mrs. Con Munson and others visited him, including his pastor, Rev. V. D. Johnson of Wakefield Salem Lutheran Church.

After such an ordeal, it would be expected that Munson would get plenty of rest in bed. However, that week the doctors told him to get up and walk and to take a shower. When he sought help, he was told to help himself. "If you fall, we'll hear you."

Each day he was encouraged to become more active. They would not let him sleep except at night. Tired and alone one day, he thought he would take a short catnap. It was not to be. A doctor came by, spied him and said: "What are you doing? Sleeping? You sleep at night." Carroll spent the rest of the day awake but really slept that night.

Sept. 18 he was released but that did not mean coming home. He spent another two days going through Mayo Clinic again. Specialists checked him thoroughly to make sure he was all right. Finally, Sept. 21, he arrived back at the farm, 2 1/2 miles west of Wakefield and 7 1/2 miles east of Wayne just inside the Wayne County line.

Then the recuperation started on a home basis. For three weeks he had to be careful to eat no salt and no food with salt in it. Now that he is through with that requirement, he is on a limited salt basis—he can eat foods that have salt in them already (such as butter) but he cannot add salt. He also has to stay away from foods with baking powder or soda in them.

He and his father live on the Art Munson farm. With two menus, one for him, another for his father, it is not convenient to cook so they eat at the Con Munson farm nearby.

Carroll is under orders to keep active, walk a lot, drive but not to work. Soon he will be able to live a normal life.

He weighed 142 before he underwent surgery. He weighed 96 when he got out. Sunday his weight was back up to 120. His voice is normal and he looks more like he used to although he needs to put on more weight.

His life was extended through the help of many specialists and other complete strangers. The aortic valve that was placed in his body came from the body of someone who was killed in a traffic accident who still had a good heart. Munson will never know who this was.

At one time he required 15 pints of blood. Workmen building an addition on the three-block-long St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, heard of his need and it showed up to help give the blood he needed. His faith and the faith of those who stood by him at home and in Rochester also helped.

To Carroll Munson, Wakefield farmer, being alive today is almost a miracle. It is a miracle because such open heart surgery is possible but it is also a miracle because even the specialists who perform 22 such operations a week were not so sure he would make it after initial surgery was over and he still required more surgery.

Life is a miracle anyway, but if it means something extra special to one Wayne County farmer, no one will have trouble understanding why.

The contest, sponsored by the Nebraska Council of Teachers of English, is open to juniors in Nebraska public, private and parochial schools. In the smallest schools, sophomores may participate if the principal wishes to let them enter essays.

Each school will conduct a contest from which a winning entry will be chosen. These will be sent to the state office with letters of recommendation from English teachers.

Essays are to be on "Opportunities for Youth in Nebraska" and are to be 500 to 750 words in length. Youth day will be held Nov. 10, 1967, for all school winners. The American Legion will assist in making arrangements.

Centennial Contest

Winside and Wayne High School pupils will be given a chance to take part in an essay contest for Nebraska's Centennial. Top prizes being $500, $300 and $150 scholarships to any college or university in the state with local winners also being guests at a youth day program in Lincoln.

Plan Feed Wednesday

The seniors of Winside High School are sponsoring the traditional chili feed Wednesday, Oct. 26, following the Winside-Dodge football game. The feed will be held in the cafeteria building north of the elementary school. Funds raised will be used to finance sneak day and other senior activities.

Maybe Your Neighbor Wants to Take Trip
Have you been thinking how nice it would be to travel in the warm summer of South America for 25 days while it is coldest in Northeast Nebraska?

The tours sponsored by Farm and Home Magazine and this year by The Herald have proved unusually popular in the past for groups. Several people get together, decide to take the trip as a group and come back singing the praises of the planning that goes into the trips.

Information on the tour may be secured by writing: Farm and Home Tour, 20 N. Carroll St., Madison, Wis. 53703.

Winside Joins Loop Promoting Volleyball
Winside is joining nine other schools in forming a volleyball loop for girls. It will be known as the Big Ten Girls' Volleyball Conference.

Other teams in the southern division with Winside are Coleridge, Laurel, Randolph and Osmond. The northern division is made up of Ponca, Newcastle, Kelbert (Maskell-Obert), Wynot and Hartington.

No schedule has been lined up yet, according to Supt. James Christensen, Winside. However, games will not be played for a while and Winside is not even sure who will coach the sport yet.

In some cases the girls could play their games before the basketball games. In other cases the volleyball games will be separate features. A tournament for conference teams will be held in March.

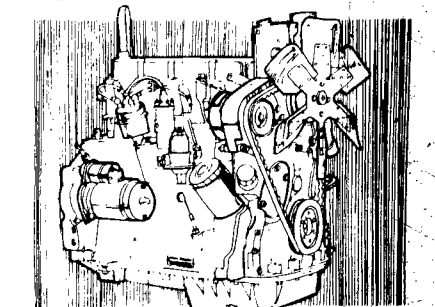

Respectfully submitted FRANK MARSH Secretary of State

Meter power to match your work loads, light as well as heavy...

from this efficient variable-speed engine in a

John Deere 53 h.p. 2510

With a "2510" you'll not be shy of horsepower for 3- or 4-bottom plowing. Nor will you waste power cultivating. The "2510's" variable-speed engine works just as smoothly throttled down for light work as it does "flat out" for the heavy work.

Traffic Mishaps Rise Due to Snow
Traffic accidents in Wayne rose the past week, mainly due to the snow and cold weather. Four accidents were reported the day of the storm and two the following two days.

First accident of the period was Oct. 13 in Arnie's and Sav-Mor parking lot. David Hubbard, Wayne, was waiting to enter Main Street. Fred Rickers, Wayne, backed up, failing to see the Hubbard car, and hitting it in the side, doing $55 damage to the Hubbard vehicle. Deputy Sheriff S. C. Thompson investigated.

The following day was the worst in months. Main Street near its intersection with Tenth, James Gale, Wayne, was northbound and Rex Lage, Wayne, pulled out of a drive-in parking lot, skidded on the snow-covered street and went into the northbound lane, colliding with the Gale vehicle. Officer Keith Reed, who investigated, reported $96.85 damage to the Lage car.

At Fifth and Main the same day, Terry Magdanz, Wayne, pulled onto Main. Pamela Sue Holm, driving the Gene Dunklau car, was northbound and the two collided on the slick street. Officer Reed investigated.

Later on East Third in the 100 block, Officer Reed investigated another mishap. Leonard Wischoff, Wakefield, was backing out of a diagonal parking stall, fogged windows in the back and on the sides impairing visibility. His car struck the left rear side of the parked car of Lyla Newton, Bloomfield.

The fourth accident investigated by Officer Reed that day was on Sav-Mor and Arnie's parking lot. Merilee Dalton, Wayne, was waiting to enter Main Street. Mrs. Marvin Dunklau, Wayne, was backing up. Fogged rear window made visibility poor and her car hit the left side of the Dalton vehicle.

Oct. 15 on Main in the 300 block, Lynn Isom, Carroll, was pulling out of a parallel parking stall. Esther Test, Wayne, was southbound and did not see the Isom car pulling out in time to stop. Officer E. L. Hailey investigated. The first fatality on Wayne streets in many months occurred Oct. 16 when a dog ran into a car. Loren Hood, Wayne, was driving in the 100 block on West Seventh. He slowed down for traffic ahead when a black Labrador owned by Ed Sherry ran across the street, struck the left rear fender and bent back the rear bumper on the Hood car. The dog continued for about one-fourth block and then died of a cut jugular vein. Officer Keith Reed reported fender and bumper damage to the Hood vehicle.
