

Industry Interested Here; Conducting Labor Survey

Consultants for a large non-defense industry are considering the Wayne area as the site for the location of a new manufacturing plant. Several towns in Iowa and Nebraska are being considered the firm's consultant said.

One of the major factors in choosing the location for the plant will be the availability of an ample labor supply. Both men and women will be employed. Although he was not allowed to name the company, the consultant said it is a well-known firm and offers top wages as well as attractive fringe benefits and excellent working conditions.

Persons interested in employment in a company of this type are urged to complete the form on page six, section two of today's Herald and mail it in immediately.

Wayne Chamber of Commerce office also has copies of the form and interested parties may register there. The Chamber address is 108 W. Third, Wayne.

Working on Airplanes

Fred Peters, son of Mrs. Gordon Helgren, Carroll, is doing body work in airplanes at Charleston AFB, S.C. He also may get to take training in mechanical work at the same base. Fred is receiving The Herald as a gift from a friend and reports getting the paper each week a few days after the people in this area get their copies.

Christmas Events Will Be Numerous

Numerous events are being planned for the Christmas season in Wayne. Movies, special store hours, bonus Silver Dollar prizes, Santa's playhouse, and other features are scheduled.

First of the free movies is Saturday, Dec. 3, at 1:30 p.m. in the Gay Theatre. Other free movies are set for Dec. 10 and Dec. 17.

The Silver Dollar fund has been hosted by 3100. See CHRISTMAS - pg 8

Five Leave for Service; Christmas 'Gift' for Four

Five young men left Wayne early Tuesday morning for induction into the armed forces, three volunteering and two being called. Mary Graef, clerk of the selective service board, reports that four will be called in December but they will get a "gift" also.

The five leaving Tuesday were: Dale Jaeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gohlfrit Jaeger, Winside; Dennis Bethune, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bethune, Laurel; Cliff Alderson, son of Mrs. John Engle, Lincoln; Dave Longe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Longe, Wayne; and Mike Lage, son of Mr. Maurice Lage, Wayne.

Bethune and Lage were called for induction and the other three were volunteers for induction. They were accompanied by 13 Wayne County young men who were to take physicals in Omaha and by 6 young men who transferred in from other boards for physicals.

The December call indicates four for induction. See FIVE LEAVE - pg 8

Folk Ballet at WSC Next Week

Something new on the theatrical dance and music scene comes to Wayne State Thursday, Dec. 8.

It is the American Folk Ballet with its original work, "Winter at Deep Creek," now on its first transcontinental tour after successful performances on the West Coast.

The single appearance in Wayne will be at 8 p.m. in Rice Auditorium, sponsored by Wayne State's Special Program series. It is open to the public—tickets at $2 available at the door.

The American Folk Ballet represents a new concept in American dance. Its founder, Burch Mann, believes her company of 15 dancers and musicians is the first that is truly American in spirit, American in style—because its foundations are in the pioneer spirit that prevailed when early Americans moved

Six Girls Win County's 4-H Achievement Honor

Will Send 53 to Loop Band Clinic

Wayne High School will send 53 pupils to the 17th annual Husker Conference band clinic in Lyons Wednesday, Dec. 7. Around 120 are expected from Bloomfield, Lyons, Neligh, Laurel, Oakland, Pender, Pierce, Plainview, Scribner, Stanton, Tekamah, See BAND CLINIC - pg 8

Six girls were recognized Friday night for their achievements in 4-H work the past year. Trophies were given three and bracelets given three at the 4-H achievement program in the Wayne City Auditorium.

Ann Barelman, Sandra Dunklau and Lynette Olson won trophies in the senior group and Trixie Jones, Ruth Gustafson and Judy Herrmann won bracelets in the junior division. In each case the divisions were for clothing, foods and home living respectively.

Rev. John Saxton, pastor of two Hoskins churches, was guest speaker. He told about youth in general and 4-H in particular, using recordings to emphasize points in his message.

Maurice Boeckenhauer, president of the 4-H council, was master of ceremonies with County Agent Harold Ingalls in charge. The Wayne High School See SIX GIRLS - pg 1, sec 2

Brought about due to a million-dollar expansion of the Wayne municipal power plant, an ordinance had been approved by the Wayne City Council for the issuance of $500,000 in revenue bonds.

An ordinance notice appears in this week's Herald. It stipulates that the bonds are revenue type and not payable from tax collections. This means they will be paid off from revenue of the electric power distribution system.

The bonds start maturing Dec. 15, 1967 with 500 bonds for $1,000 each. They can be allowed to run as long as Dec. 15, 1978, but the city reserves the right to pay them off after Dec. 15, 1971. Interest rates vary as stipulated in the ordinance.

Bonds will provide financing for the new building, the new substation, new generating equipment, wiring, cooling radiator, piping and other improvements. Work on most of the improvements is well underway.

The city engineer reported that the new power plant engine will be tested at the factory in December and he will be present for a maximum load test and a briefing on operation. The engine will be shipped to Wayne in January.

Final phase of construction of the new power plant with the engineer's estimate was approved Tuesday. Notice to contractor appears in The Herald. See REVENUE BONDS - pg 2

Students Direct Trio of Plays at Wayne State

Three student directors at Wayne State College under the supervision of Dr. Helen Russell will present "Tonight at Eight with Eugene O'Neill," three one-act plays of the sea, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday (Dec. 4-5-6) at 8 p.m. in the Ramsey Theatre on the WSC campus.

"Where the Cross Is Made," is directed by Patricia Kim. It features Norman Strizek in the role of a sea captain driven insane by lust for treasure. He draws his son, played by Daniel Griepentrog, toward insanity with him.

Candy Fisher portrays the daughter caught between caring for her father and trying to pull her brother back to reality. Other cast members are Roger Hobbs, Robert Wegner, Edward Miller and Ronald Whitt.

Mark Monson is director of "In the Zone," which is set on board a ship loaded

Kansas Man Helps Wayne Plan New Middle School

Groups Join to Make Christmas Plan Candy for Children Set in Winside

Jaycees and Mrs. Jaycees met Wednesday night at the Dahl Retirement Center to make cards. They also made cookies. All will be sent or taken to the Beatrice State Home.

Beatrice Jaycees and Mrs. Jaycees put on a party each year for children at the home for the retarded. Nebraska chapters help out by sending money or candy and cookies.

Some of the local members may go to the party Dec. 1. If they do, they will take the candy and cookies from Wayne.

Dr. Ralph Chalender, Milburn Junior High School, Shawnee Mission, Kan., was in Wayne Wednesday to confer with the administrator, teachers, board members and some school district patrons on the District 17 plan for a "middle school" plan starting next fall.

Brought here through funds provided by Mid-continent Regional Educational Laboratories which is to be located in Wayne, Dr. Chalender has agreed to be here next week to help out on the initial steps in setting up the middle school here.

He will tell of the success in setting up the middle school idea elsewhere, the pitfalls and what to expect here. He is also working at Shawnee Mission on guidelines for Wayne to follow as it moves step by step toward the new school set-up.

Thankful for Blessings, Concord Lady Gets More

Friday evening as Mrs. Ernest Bates, Concord, reflected on the Thanksgiving day just past and watched the sun go down in one of Nebraska's copyrighted displays, she remarked to her husband about how the family really did have much to be thankful for. Later in the day there was one more blessing to appreciate.

Mrs. Bates' name was called at the Silver Dollar Night drawing in Wayne at 8. She was in the Ben Franklin Store at the time so collected $250 from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

Unusual Play for WHS Will Be Given Saturday

Members of the audience attending the school play, "Our Town," Saturday night at 8:15 in the Wayne City Auditorium are due for some surprises. Thornton Wilder's play is being presented exactly as he wanted it done, which is highly unorthodox.

There are no reserved seats but tickets are being offered in advance through some pupils. Tickets may also be purchased at the door the night of the play.

C. M. Christensen is directing the play with Pearl Hansen as student director. Cast members are Joan Sahs, Tom Havener, Jo Merriman, Steve Kraemar, Jane Williams, Louise Kamish, Bill Hansen, Belinda Bebee, Doug Stanley, Larry Magnuson, Loren Hansen, Lavert Brown, Doug Danielson, Bob Penn, Sheryl Kemp, Dennis El-

The Spook Speaks

One law enforcement man in this area was embarrassed recently. He chased a speeder but the engine suddenly died. It coughed, sputtered and would not go. He called a mechanic. The mechanic found the trouble—the car was out of gas.

A Wayne man bought a new over-and-under shotgun. It's the type that has no barrel selector, the bottom barrel firing the first time, you pull the trigger and the top barrel the second time. Last week he was going hunting, saw a pheasant, pulled the top shell out, pulled the trigger to advance to fire the bottom and it fired the top barrel, blowing off the starter on his car.

One Wayne firm apparently had no employees around the day after Thanksgiving. A local resident wonders who answered when he telephoned. A man at the place answered, was asked a question and replied: "I don't know anything about it. There isn't anyone here today." And he hung up!

CHRISTMAS LIGHTING was turned on in downtown Wayne Thursday. This is a shot taken from between First and Second Streets on Main. The lights of cars make the streaks of light in the street in this time exposure.

Carolyn Stevens Weds Neil Oxley

Carolyn Ann Stevens, Omaha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stevens, Eagleville, Mo., and Neil Ray Oxley, Omaha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Oxley, Laurel, were married in double ring rites Nov. 5 at Church of Christ, Omaha.

The bride wore a floor length, sheath style gown accented with lace and ghinestones. A chapel train was held by a bow at the waistline. Her attendants were Virginia Cordle, Kansas City, Mo., and Betty and Linda Stevens. Attending the bridegroom were Gary Oxley, Creighton, Jim Lund, Laurel, and Irv Haisch, Concord.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Gary Oxley, registering guests; Darlene Oxley, arranging gifts; Mrs. Everett Allen and Mrs. Lloyd York, cutting and serving cake; Mrs. Wayne Lund, pouring, and Mrs. Carl Stevens, serving punch.

The couple will reside in Omaha.

Marietta Wittler Weds Leo Schmit In Norfolk Rites

Marietta Wittler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wittler, Hoskins, and Leo J. Schmit, Osmond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schmit, McLean, were married Nov. 26 at St. Mary's Church, Norfolk.

Father Novotny officiated at the double ring rites. Music was furnished by Mrs. Leslie Ronk, soloist, and Mike Thorp, organist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and ribbed peau fashioned with a colonial skirt and an aisle wide chapel train. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was held by a forward petal arrangement accented with crystals. She carried a cascade arrangement of white butterfly roses featuring a removable white cattleya orchid corsage.

Joyce Wittler, Hoskins, served her sister as maid of honor. Eugene Hamling, Humphrey, was bridesmaid. They wore identically styled gowns of sapphire blue ribbed peau fashioned with scoop necklines, elbow length sleeves and high rise waistlines. Each carried a bouquet of princess mums.

David Beckman, Elgin, was ringbearer. Karen Wittler, Hoskins, was flower girl.

Eugene Schmit, McLean, served his brother as best man. Clarence Kramer, Norfolk, was groomsmen. Ushers were Neal and Larry Wittler, Hoskins, and Robert and Henry Schmit, Osmond. The men wore dark trousers with white dinner jackets.

The bride's mother chose a dress of moss green with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a green ensemble with white accessories. Each had a cattleya orchid corsage.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the National Guard Armory, Norfolk. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ulrich, Sioux City, were hosts. Mary Ulrich, Omaha, registered the guests. Gifts were arranged by Lila Fletcher, Norfolk, Mrs. George Hudec, Walthill, Mrs. Marvin Brockenough, Columbus, and Mrs. Harvey Reeg, Wayne.

Some of the costumes are being made especially for this presentation. Others are part of the collection of Mrs. Dave Theophilus. All are reasonably authentic.

Committee members planning the event are Mrs. Edna Casper, Mrs. L. D. From, Mrs. Theophilus, Mrs. Armand Hixcox, Mrs. Matilda Harms, Mrs. R. E. Gormley and Mrs. Vernon Predoehl.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Leslie Ronk, soloist, and Mike Thorp, organist.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Gary Oxley, registering guests; Darlene Oxley, arranging gifts; Mrs. Everett Allen and Mrs. Lloyd York, cutting and serving cake; Mrs. Wayne Lund, pouring, and Mrs. Carl Stevens, serving punch.

The couple will reside in Omaha.

Ten Lettermen Spark NCC and NAAI Championship Swimming Team at WS

Coach Ralph Barclay is optimistic about the Wayne State College swimming team. He admits a coach should not be too optimistic, but with ten lettermen back from the team that won the NCC and the NAAI district championships and with an outstanding group of newcomers, he could hardly be anything but optimistic.

"We have such a good bunch of boys back and such a good bunch of new swimmers, we will probably take both NCC and NAAI again," Coach Barclay said. Two boys who placed in the NAAI national meet are expected to lead the Wildcat merman this season.

An attractive schedule has been lined up. Starting with a Dec. 15 meet at Concordia, the Cats go on to meet St. Cloud State here Jan. 6. Other home meets are with Northwest Missouri, State College of Iowa and Mankato.

The Gold and Black are not confining themselves to taking on schools the same size as WSU. They are in a quadrangular meet with Grinnell, State College of Iowa and Luther at Grinnell, meet Wyoming University at Laramie and tangle with Colorado State in the latter's pool. Other away meets include Kearney and Chadron.

The NCC and NAAI meets will be held at Kearney. Then comes the big one, the national NAAI meet at Buffalo, N.Y. Several hope land plan to make that meet.

Lettermen back are Russ Nyberg, Chicago, and Jim Brown, Omaha, both of whom placed in the national meet, Marty Sears, Lyons; Dwight Keith, Fremont; Keith Rittscher, Sloan, Ia.; Galen Johnson, Oakland, Wendell McConaha, Tekamah; Mark Williams, Omaha; Barry Johnson, Oakland; and Erick Robinson, Wayne.

Two Wayne boys are pressing for varsity berths. They are Dave Noves and Richard Brown. Both are freshmen. Harlan Groll, Adel, Ia., is a transfer from Ellsworth, Ia., Junior College.

Other members of the squad, all freshmen, are: Phil Amis, Omaha; Ron Fazio, Chicago; Mike Maulick, Omaha; Bob Meredith, Chicago; Barry Phelps, Haldon; Jim Rosenbaum, Omaha; Rick Traywick, Omaha; and Roger Jorgensen, Sioux City.

Pilger Players Lose Long Hair for Cause

"Apparently the 20 boys out have more pride in Pilger High School and basketball than they do in their hair." Those are the words of Wallace Ford, PHS basketball coach, concerning the boys' cut for the Cardinal team.

The boys were willing to cut their long hair in order to stay out of the sport, Ford said this was an indication of a true man because some of the boys have prized their long hair.

Hair is not the big problem at Pilger. The gym is, Cardinal players practice in a 60-foot gym and play most of their games in 90-foot gyms.

Attitude-wise, the team is the best Ford has had at Pilger. His lettermen include Gary Andersen, Kipp Kruse, Larry Hipp, Dave Goeller and Gary Carson.

WSC Wrestlers Start Off Big

Nothing like starting out big! That's what Wayne State wrestlers will do for their season debut Saturday in the AAU Invitational Meet at State College of Iowa.

Among the entries are some of the leading mat powers of the nation, including several major universities.

Last year Wayne wrestlers compiled a respectable record in this meet. Heavyweight Bob Kruse and 130-pounder Jeff Meineke both finished with third places and are going back this year. Bill Schwarz, 123-pounder, fourth in 1965, also is on the roster for this trip.

Coach Bill McNeil lists these other Wildcats going to SCE: Gary Fenrick, a freshman, 115 pound; Ron Tope and Rich Gray, 137 pound; Charles Peters and Steve Hanson, 152; Mike Colovos, Harvey Matthias and Dave Matthias, 167 pound.

In this meet several Wayne wrestlers will enter some weight classes which they will not compete in during future meets.

Pilger Grid Leaders Revealed in Report

A compilation of statistics on the 1966 football season at Pilger High School shows the leaders in various categories. Kipp Kruse with all-state and all-conference recognition paces the Cardinals.

Dave Goeller carried 134 times for 636 yards and a 4.7 average; Gary Andersen, 90 carries, 291 yards, 3.2 average; Kipp Kruse, 22 carries, 11 yards, 5 yards; Tom Meyer, 27 carries, 79 yards, 2.9 average. In passing, Goeller made 71 yards, Larry Hipp 113 yards.

Goeller made 18 points on three touchdowns, Andersen made an extra point, Kruse made a touchdown and Meyer made a touchdown. Kruse ordinarily plays tackle, the position for which he won all-state honors, but took over in one game at fullback when Andersen was injured.

Cards of Thanks

WE WISH TO THANK everyone for cards, visits and gifts received at the hospital and since our return home. Earl Davis, d1

WE WISH TO EXPRESS our sincere thanks to neighbors, friends and relatives who helped pick our corn. Thanks also to the ladies who brought in food, Herb and Leon Hansen. d1

THANK YOU SINCERELY for the congratulatory cards, gifts and flowers sent us at the hospital and since our return home. Your visits and calls were genuinely appreciated. Special thanks to Dr. Roy Matson; Mrs. Ivan Creighton; the hospital nurses and staff; Rev. S. K. de Freese and the members of Wayne Woman's Club for all their acts at this memorable time. Mrs. Vernon L. Predehl and James Vernon Hansen. d1

MAY I TAKE this means of expressing my sincere thanks for all the flowers, gifts, cards, visits and prayers during my stay in the hospital and since my return home. Everything was so deeply appreciated. Mrs. Violet Swanson d1

WE WISH TO THANK everyone for cards, visits, and gifts received at the hospital and since our return home. Jean Wacker d1

WE WISH TO EXPRESS our sincere thanks for the flowers, cards, memorials; for food brought to the home and for the many kind expressions of sympathy following the death of our mother, Mrs. Barbara Lerner, Mrs. Elsie Heine, William Lerner, Walter Lerner d1

WE, THE FAMILY OF BOBBY KENNY would like to extend a warm "Thank You" to all our good friends, neighbors and relatives who helped with our corn picking and helped with the meal. We are also grateful for all the cards, gifts and money sent to Bob while in the hospital and for all who "baby sat" and sent in food for us so we could spend more time in Omaha. We certainly appreciate your many kindnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Kenny and family. d1

Before giving that report, it is pointed out that the middle school idea is flexible. For that reason, the middle school in Amory, Miss., is not much like the middle schools in Barrington, Ill., Mt. Kisco, N.Y., or Los Altos, Calif. In fact, flexibility is one of the advantages since curriculum can be set up according to needs.

In spite of differences, the middle schools have much in common. They have a "fluid" operation that matches institutions to the needs and potential of the children in the age group.

Some do not have grades as we know them. Some use team-teaching. All use the concept that in this age group children need to advance according to their potential, gain all the knowledge they can and prepare themselves as best they can for high school. For those needing more help, it is available. For those grasping knowledge quickly, there is not the frustration of being held back as they move on into new fields and new ideas.

Middle schools try to take better account than the conventional junior high of the needs and abilities of between-age youngsters and to use—or at least anticipate—a variety of instructional innovations and groupings. It can serve as an expansion link in the school system, adding or subtracting grades to meet changing enrollment pressures.

Following is a report on the middle school for Wayne as prepared by Supt. Haun:

"The first thought of a middle school for Wayne occurred as the community searched for answers to a space problem. As investigations of building needs terminated, and thoughts of committees jelled, it became apparent that most people believed that Wayne should make efforts to construct a new high school. This would mean using the present Junior-Senior High School as a so-called middle school.

This plan was followed. The bond issue was successful.

"The old Junior-Senior High School structure has 21 teaching stations and includes special facilities in shop, homemaking, physical education, science and commercial subjects. The building is sound, provides for some flexibility and has a good location in the community. Classrooms have modern lighting and furniture. Many have darkening shades for use of audio-visual media. There is space for a learning center. An adequate library facility is feasible.

"Curriculum for a middle school can be broad in subject offerings. Modular scheduling would permit enrichment courses for the brighter child. Remedial instruction could be available for the slower student. It is evident in looking at representative schools now in operation that diversity of curriculum offerings, of building facilities and of grade organization is the keynote.

"It would be unrealistic to suppose that the middle school concept will replace the traditional junior high school for most communities. There are too many factors in any one community that determine school organization. Logistics, for example, plays a big role in most building projects just as it did in Wayne.

"In any event, when circumstances do permit a fresh look at what we are presently doing in education, every opportunity should be taken to make improvements in past practices and to accept the challenge of being creative as new procedures are planned."

Winside Plans —

Making Christmas plans is a committee headed by Dr. N. L. Ditman. They plan for music Dec. 3, 10 and 17, a free movie at the Winside Auditorium Dec. 17. Santa to visit following the movie and free treats for the youngsters at that time. Earl Duering heads the committee that will handle sacking of treats.

Dr. Donald Vrbka heads the Christmas lighting committee. The Community Club and the Old Settlers are splitting costs for some new strands of lights which will be beddiffer-ent from any Winside has had before. Efforts to secure financial aid from two other sources were fruitless.

Community calendars showing the dates for meetings and other activities in the Winside area for the coming year are again being sponsored by the club. These have proved useful many times in the past in avoiding conflicts in various activities.

The pancake feed, twice postponed, has been rescheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 14. Walt Bleich is chairman of the committee making plans.

A round of applause was given Winside business places where improvements through remodeling or additions have been made in recent months. Included were N & M Oil Co., Stenwall Service, Hill's Lockers, Winside Motors, Cliff's Tavern, Co-op Fertilizer, Dehy Fertilizer and Mari-in's Beauty Shop.

Also coming in for a round of applause was Jack Sweigard. He had rebuilt the public notice sign, repainted it and put it back in the main intersection of the business district for use in publicizing community events.

The club had 35 in attendance, which is exactly the number of place settings the women of St. Paul's had prepared. Members voted to skip the December meeting due to the many events scheduled this month. Next meeting will be Jan. 23 at Trinity Lutheran Church.

Christmas —

(Continued from Page 1) so the prize Thursday will be $200. Maximum for any week is still $400, however, with a reserve fund building up in case there is no winner after the fund reaches that total.

Stores will be open until 9 p.m. all Thursdays in December. They will also be open until 9 three Fridays, Dec. 9, 16 and 23, two Wednesdays, Dec. 14 and 21 and one Tuesday, Dec. 20. Business places close at 5:30 Dec. 24.

Santa will be in his playhouse between Second and Third on the east side of Main with treats for the kiddies from 7 to 8 p.m. Dec. 8 and 9, Dec. 14, 15 and 16 and Dec. 20, 21, 22 and 23. He will also be in his playhouse from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Dec. 10, 17, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24.

New decorations have been put up throughout the business district and on 15 blocks of Main from the north edge of town to the south limits. Four "Season's Greetings" displays have been put up on the four highway entrances to the city.

Silver Dollar —

Mr. and Mrs. Bates have five children of their own, one at home. They also have eight grandchildren so there will be Christmas to buy. The $250 will not cover everything but it will sure help take up a lot of slack on holiday plans.

This week some lucky person can do almost as well. With the $100 Christmas bonus added, the Silver Dollar Night prize this Thursday will be $200.

The right person in the right store at the right time can take home a check for this amount.

Richard Petersen plays the role of a crew member suspected of being a spy. Ron Wachholtz, Robert Hall and Brad Ford are leaders of the group suspecting him. Fred Wigginton, Dennis Quigley, Ed Fox, Jim Vinski and Eddie Miller also have parts.

Concluding play will be "The Rope," directed by Dwight Gourley. Action is staged on the Atlantic seacoast.

Gerry Melis plays a man assumed dead who returns to steal his father's treasure. Julie Kortman plays his sister, Arne Nelson his brother-in-law and George Tubbs his father. Susan Cook is also in the play which centers about the intensive efforts of the man who will do anything to get his father's gold.

All seats all nights will be reserved. Reservations may be made in person in the fine arts building or by telephoning 375-9985.

Five Leave —

(Continued from Page 1) and eight for physicals Dec. 15. However, selective service rules state that anyone inducted between Dec. 5-16 will be allowed to return home for Christmas—that being the "gift" the December inductees will get.

Buses continue to be a problem locally. A month ago the bus was an hour late and the boys had to wait. Tuesday the bus was in Wayne a half hour early and the driver had to wait. There seems to be no middle ground, perhaps giving the inductees an indication of the uncertainty they face in life in the service.

Folk Ballet —

Nebraskans will know what this show means, descended as they are from those pioneers who settled this very area.

Unlike other ballet companies in America, with their European influence, Miss Mann's ballet concern the West, that part of American life influenced by Europe and the South, which gave birth to American jazz.

Reviews in newspapers where the ballet has performed have written such comments as "sheer fun for all," "a free-wheeling jamboree with everyone gliding, bounding and whooping like a bunch of pioneers on a spree," "refreshing, youthful, cultural."

V-T School —

(Continued from Page 1) new chairman. The Norfolk man will take the place of Bob Carhart, Wayne, who has served since the committee was formed. Wanda Owens, Wayne, will remain secretary.

Madison, Pierce, Thurston and Wayne Counties were represented at the session. Ray Watson, manager of the North Platte Chamber of Commerce, was principal speaker, telling how a V-T school was given approval in a ten-county area last month.

The work toward establishment of such a school in this area will be concentrated in the individual counties from now on with no area-wide meetings. Each county is expected to get an active group to work with commissioners in hopes of getting the issue on the ballot.

Representing Wayne County at the meeting were Carhart, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Henry Ley and Supt. Francis Haun. They are acting as the nucleus for the Wayne County group supporting the proposal.

Postmasters —

Postmasters at Wayne, Winside, Carroll, Hoskins, Concord, Dixon and Wakefield can supply labels for "local" and out-of-town bundles of cards. They are free and they help a lot when several cards will go to the same town.

Mailing to a serviceman overseas? To get there by Christmas a package will have to go by air and the deadline for that is Dec. 10. Anything mailed after that day may or may not reach the person intended for by Christmas.

Strong boxes, sturdy wrapping, strong cord and clear lettering on both addresses will help get the mail through. In case the wrapper is lost, it will help if the addresses are also included on a card inside the packages. Do not use stickers to put addresses on as they get lost. Write with liquid pencil; write clearly; use zip codes.

The senior band in the day-long clinic will be made up of pupils from grades 10 through 12 and will be directed by Weston Noble, director of band and chorus at Luther College, Decorah, Ia.

Ben Haigh, former Pierce band director and now at Estherville, Ia, Community Schools, will direct the junior band made up of pupils from grades 7 through 12.

The Wayne State College Band directed by Dr. Raymond Kelton will perform for the pupils at 1 p.m. The morning and the rest of the afternoon will be spent rehearsing music for a concert at Lyons High at 7:30 p.m. This concert will be open to the public.

Representing WHS will be Pam Seymour, Mary Zimmerman, Debbie Wright, Sue Ehlers, Claudia Niemann, Joyce Kern, Lorraine Summers, Tom Havener, Pat Ewing, Lynn Preston, Duane Shell, Steve Carman, Paulette Merchant, Jeanne Karel, Mary Jo Cook, Sallie Bergt, Karen Willis, Mark Johnson, Bob Morris, Mike Olson, Ken Jones, Don Skokan, Mary Willis, Dan Rees, David Rees, John Brandstetter, David Brown and Carl Matson in senior band.

Going from Wayne for junior band will be Mary de Freese, Jane Preddehl, Laurie Wolters, Diane Olds, Leah Havener, Mary Ellen Morris, David Ellis, Beth Bergt, Tom Karel, Terry Ellis, Bruce Ring, Tracy Preston, Bruce Mordhorst, Terry Hurlbert, Joan Merchant, Marsha Johnson, Karen Shirck, Debbie Kerl, Mary Swanson, Doug Maurer, John Sandahl, Pat Chambers, Leslie Echtenkamp, Glenn Teeter and Steve Hall.

Tree Lighting —

will appear to meet all the youngsters.

The public, faculty members, students and others are invited. With the prettiest tree in town last year, it should be interesting for all to see what could have been done to improve the scene this year.

Mrs. Loren Kamish and Mrs. Lyle Seymour are co-chairmen for the project. Other wives of faculty members have contributed enthusiasm and labor to make the display a success. All hope for a big turnout for the "premiere" Monday.

Home Lighting —

It will not be necessary to "enter" the contest in any manner other than to decorate. Judges will take in all parts of town on the nights they judge and any home decorated will be considered.

Just because they are not eligible for prizes is no reason for churches and business places to decorate. The more lighting there is, the more beautiful the city will be and the more effective the program will be.

Seven honorable mention prizes have been added to the recognition in the contest. Judges will come from neighboring towns and the Kiwanis Club hopes to give them a long list of homes to judge and some impressive displays to ponder over.

Hoskins Miss —

Mrs. Marvin Young of the sponsoring Mrs. Jaycees will be chaperone for Miss Falk in Lincoln during the pageant period. She reports Miss Falk will compete against 70 other county queens.

For her talent effort Friday, Miss Falk will sing "Blowin' in the Wind." Charm schools, rehearsals, television appearances, dinners and other events are planned for the contestants.

"Miss Nebraska Centennial" will receive a new Oldsmobile, a $1,000 scholarship to a Nebraska college or university and many other prizes. Her first public appearance will be in the Tournament of Roses in Pasadena.

Second prize winner will get a $500 a scholarship, third a $300 scholarship and fifth a $200 scholarship. A $250 scholarship will also be given to the top talent winner.

Natural beauty, poise, personality and an ability to meet the public will be the prime consideration of judges in a pageant which is different from any other ever held in the Midwest. Big production numbers will differ from the usual beauty pageant concept, according to Don Shriver, centennial commission director.

Finals in the contest will be Tuesday, Dec. 6, at 8 p.m. in Lincoln's Pershing Auditorium. The queen will be crowned with a special crown with a state capital basic design created especially for the centennial pageant.

S/Sgt. Orlin G. Williams, formerly of Carroll

Former Carroll Man Helps Air Unit Win

S/Sgt. Orlin G. Williams, a former Carroll resident, is a member of the air defense command's 30th air division which has been named the best air defense ground unit in their force. A radar operator at Sioux City Air Base, headquarters of the division, Sgt. Williams helps maintain air surveillance over the central plains with the semi-automatic environment radar system.

He grew up in the Carroll area and is a graduate of Carroll High School. He is a grandson of Mrs. Mary Williams, Wayne, and his wife is the former Erma Burchfield, Sherman, Tex. The 30th air division is composed of 23 widely-scattered units and won the trophy for the best defensive combat capability during the year, scoring 6,930 of a possible 7,000 points. Competition included a computer-simulated enemy air attack to test the division's operational readiness to detect, identify and intercept and destroy approaching aircraft.

The rotating trophy was first sponsored in 1963 by the Night Fighter Association to promote competition in efficiency by isolated air defense ground units. The division at Sioux City won it that first year also.

Almost $350 in Fines and Costs

Judge David Hamer had a busy 4 1/2 days in court the past week. In that period, 14 cases were heard and $279 in fines paid with an additional $70 in court costs being assessed.

Trooper C. L. Howell of the Nebraska Safety Patrol had a busy week too. He was complaining officer in one-half the hearings, mainly due to the use of radar between Wayne and Wakefield.

Four cases were heard the afternoon of Nov. 21. The first involved Jim Martindale, Concord, who paid $10 fine and $5 costs on an illegal parking charge brought by Officer John Redel.

John Marquiss, Omaha, paid $10 fine and $5 costs the same day on a complaint by Keith Reed. The Omaha youth was charged with making an illegal u-turn.

Dennis Saum and Lyle Saum, Salina Kan., each appeared on two charges, trespassing and shooting firearms in the city. They paid $10 each on each of the charges for a total of $20 apiece and each paid court costs of $5. Officer Redel signed the complaint.

Two cases were heard Nov. 22. Tracy Muller, Laurel, Ia., paid $25 fine for speeding. He also paid $5 court costs. Trooper Howell filed charges.

Trooper Howell was also complaining officer against Alan Hammer, Wakefield. Hammer paid $15 in fine and costs on a speeding charge.

Six cases were heard Nov. 23. Robert McConnell, Wayne, appeared first, charged by Trooper Howell on a speeding count. Fine and costs came to $15.

Larry Neitzke, Stanton, was also booked by Trooper Howell, but on a charge on illegal use of a school permit. The youth paid $10 fine and $5 costs.

Speeding was the charge against Lonnie Nixon,

Wakefield. Trooper Howell was the officer involved. Fine and costs were $14 and $5.

Rodney Reeg, Wayne, and Dean Jensen, Wayne, were each charged with drag racing. Each paid $25 fine and $5 court costs and each had his driver's license suspended for 60 days. Trooper Howell was complaining officer.

Final hearing of the day involved Roger Redmond, Schleswig, Ia. He was charged with passing on a hill. Fine and costs came to $15. Lt. C. E. Whitney, NSP, signed the complaint.

Nov. 25, William Lubberstedt, Wayne, appeared on a charge of hit and run in a property accident case and another charge of reckless driving. He paid $25 each on two counts and court costs of $5 for a total of $55. Officer Redel brought charges.

Michael Lage, Wayne, appeared Nov. 28, on an overtime parking charge brought by Chief of Police Vern Fairchild. Lage paid $15 fine and costs.

Funeral Services Held Friday for Douglas Beckner

Funeral services for Douglas W. Beckner, 24, Winside, were held Nov. 25. Mr. Beckner was killed in a two-car collision near Wayne Nov. 21.

Services were held at 9:30 a.m. at Wiltse Chapel, Wayne, with Rev. Avery Weage officiating. W. C. Swanson, accompanied by Mrs. Jayne Brugger, sang "How Great Thou Art" and "Beyond The Sunset." Services were held at 2 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran Church, Bristow, with Rev. Howard Youngblom officiating. Music was furnished by Mrs. Con Thorell and Ivan Hight, vocalists, and Mrs. Eddie Danielson, organist. Pallbearers were Dallas Beckner, Thomas Leonard, Gerald Gebner, Robert Vogel, Dick Danielson and Lyle Schuetz. Burial was in the Lutheran Cemetery at Bristow.

Douglas Wilfred Beckner, son of Clarence and Joyce Beckner, was born Mar. 25, 1942 at Lynch. He came to Winside with the family in 1942 where he spent his lifetime. He made his home with his grandmother, Mrs. Lon Beckner. He was employed for a time by his uncle, Otto Koch, Winside, and at the time of his death he was employed by Milton G. Waldbaum Co., Wakefield.

Survivors include his father, Clarence Beckner, Norfolk; his mother, Mrs. Joyce Todd, White Rock, N. M.; a brother, Loren Beckner, Winside; two half sisters, Barbara and Sheri Beckner, Norfolk; his grandmothers, Mrs. Lon Beckner, Winside, and Mrs. Don Baer, White Rock, N.M.

Hoskins, Concord and Dixon Rates Go Down

Hoskins, Concord and Dixon residents will have lower electric power bills after Apr. 1. Consumers Public Power District, which serves the towns, will lower rates that date. Allen is also among the towns affected.

Commercial, business, residential and total-electric homes will all benefit from the lower rates. In the western and eastern systems, around $3 million a year will be saved customers.

Rates for residential customers using over 600 KWH per month in Hoskins, Concord and Dixon will go down from 2 cents to 1 1/2 cents per KWH after the first 600 KWH. Commercial business customers will receive a one-half cent per KWH after the first 500 KWH up to 3,000 KWH.

The three towns can look forward to further reductions in the future. When the realignment of Platte, Loup and Platte Power Districts is completed because duplication of transmission facilities will be reduced.

BEEF CATTLE on the Ray Agler farm northwest of Wayne are now using this underpass culvert to cross from one field to the other. Agler is shown just outside the culvert, the first of its type installed under a Wayne County road.

Farmer Has New Cattle Underpass

A convenient culvert for cattle has been installed under a county road northwest of Wayne. It is the first one in Commissioner District No. 1.

Ray Agler paid for the culvert to put under a county road two miles west and one mile north from Wayne. He farms land on both sides of the road, 80 acres being on one side and a quarter of a section on the other.

Agler wanted his cattle to be able to get into the cornfield to eat corn and stalks at will. The culvert will give him an underpass between the corn and the pasture.

The special culverts are "flattened" so they are higher than they are wide. Agler said he would take a horse through one—but not while he was in the saddle.

He now has a safe passageway for his stock. Next year he can shut it off when the new corn is planted and then when corn is picked he can open a gate and let the cattle go back and forth at will.

In the Emil Lund home for dinner and to spend the day were: Mr. and Mrs. Art Longe, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Utecht, Mark and Sammy, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lund and Ward Barrett. There were no loose dogs, no lost dogs, no found dogs, no larcenies, no noisy neighbors, no vandals, no break-ins, no trash burning outside hours, no drag racing complaints, no messengers to deliver, no funerals to provide traffic control and not much of anything else.

Except for two accidents, both on the same block of Main, there were no entries in the record book. Of course, the police were still busy with traffic checks, parking marking, court cases for various violations and routine store door checking but it was the quietest week the city has had in many months.

Police Department's Week a Bit Unusual

No news is news when it comes to the police department in Wayne. Last week was the strangest week in almost two years—

AUCTIONEERS Ivan Nixon and Orville Lage had a large crowd to hear their chants last week at the August Thun sale northwest of Wayne. Here the crowd is gathered about a memento of bygone days — a threshing machine. While the machine did not bring many dollars it held lots of interest for spectators. Nearly 200 cars and trucks were counted at the sale throughout the afternoon. This sale was a one-stop weather insured sale handled through The Wayne Herald's Farm Sale Service.

Business Notes

The annual stockholders meeting of Farmers Co-op of Wayne has been set for Wednesday, Dec. 7, 8 p.m., in the Woman's Club Rooms, Wayne City Auditorium. Manager Don Brockman has announced,

Carroll People Hear of Trusts

It was ladies' night Monday of last week when Carroll Community Club met at the Carroll Auditorium. There were 67 men and women present to hear about trusts, wills and estates.

Robert Johnson, Jr., First National Bank of Omaha trust department, talked on the topic. Don Ostrand of the same bank accompanied him to Carroll. They conducted a lively question and answer period following Johnson's talk.

Dr. L. A. Jensen, representing Lewis & Clark District of Boy Scouts, was also a guest. The Wayne veterinarian expressed thanks to the club for sponsoring Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts in Carroll and outlined the work being done.

Election of officers had been scheduled. It was postponed until the December meeting of the club.

Phil Olson was in charge of the business meeting for President Leonard Hallean, Marlene's Cafe catered the meal, serving turkey and all the trimmings.

One Block Ruins City Record for Past Week

Had it not been for the black on Main Street between Tenth and Eleventh, Wayne would have had a near-perfect record on the police files last week. Both accidents recorded in that stretch and made up the only entries in the police department's book of activities for that week.

Nov. 22, in the 1000 block on Main, Terry Kardell, Wayne, stopped for traffic ahead of him which was waiting for a car to make a left turn. Mrs. Mark Monson failed to see his car was stopped and could not quite get her vehicle stopped in time to avoid hitting his car.

Officer Keith Reed investigated. He reported $66 damage to the Kardell car and minor damage to the Monson vehicle.

The following day in the same block, Officer Reed investigated another mishap. Robert Woehler, Wayne, was southbound on Main. Ann Zimmerman was pulling out of a parking lot.

Miss Zimmerman's car collided with the Woehler vehicle, inflicting about $31.00 damage to the latter. As in the other accident the previous day, no one was injured.

Wayne Native Flies Beech 'Granddaddy'

An article in a recent issue of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, Lubbock, Texas, told of the fourth Beech Bonanza with a v-type tail being flown again. It is the oldest plane of its type in existence and was flown by a Wayne native after being overhauled.

Burrell Hughes, boss superintendent of Lubbock Beechcraft, a licensed FAA inspector and a pilot for 23 years, put the plane through its proving maneuvers. He is the son of Mrs. Gail Wilson, Wayne, and the late George Hughes. He graduated from WHS in 1943.

made before this one was but all three were destroyed. This one bears serial number D-4 and is owned by a Lubbock industrialist who bought it years ago and has had it restored from wingtip to wingtip and from propeller to tail.

Built in January of 1946, the plane has been flown only 4,000 hours. It cost $8,945 new but with all the work on restoring it the plane is worth more than that.

gor interior to take the place of the four-place arrangement. Extra window panels, new paint, new communication-navigation systems and a direction finder have been installed. It took over a year to get the plane ready for flying before Hughes was allowed to take it up.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

Just a note to point out an error in your editorial on "The Nebraska Centennial Community Betterment Program". I do not know what you consider the Wayne area but there were indeed more towns in this area entered other than Wayne and Wakefield. I am enclosing a list of the towns for your information. In this list you will note that Allen, Laurel, Coleridge were entered from the immediate area, if you were to check further you would note the communities of Newcastle, Winnebago and Wallhill. Wakefield is not listed in the participating communities on the enclosed brochure.

Allen submitted 28 projects to the committee in the form of a scrap-book and received a certificate from the State Community Betterment Committee, certifying we had completed all of the proposed projects. We did not finish in the top six towns in our category, however I feel our community benefited far more from the results of the projects we submitted than any prize we could have won.

With this letter I pre-

MARK MONSON, Wayne, will direct his first play Dec. 4-6 in the Zone. He is his play in a three-play series "Tonight at Eight with Eugene O'Neill." The play takes place in the bunk castle among the sailors' bunks and concerns suspicions that one sailor is a spy. Only after the sailor is overpowered, fished out of his bunk and his trunk open is the truth known.

same you will stand corrected.

Sincerely,

Ken Linafelter, Chm.

Allen Community

Betterment Committee

(We consider Allen on the fringe of the area we cover. Sometimes we carry stories from there and we do have an Allen correspondent. However, Wakefield, Dixon, Concord, Carroll, Winslow, Hoskins, Sholes and Wayne are the towns we consider "home" territory. We are well aware of Allen's new paved main street, new fire station, new school facilities and other projects. Believe us, no one stands up for the small towns more than we do. Just ask in the towns mentioned above if you don't believe it. -Editor.)

Service Column Starts in Week

Next week The Herald will start handling news of men and women in the armed forces in a different manner. Instead of being scattered around, they will be combined into one column.

There are some who send in news of servicemen, some servicemen who are seen in person and information is secured about them and some information on servicemen comes directly from central news offices. The feature will be handled so it will not be possible to distinguish which source supplied the information.

The reason for this is servicemen are reluctant to turn in news and some parents believe if they turn in news of their son their friends will think they are seeking publicity. The way news will be handled, even your best friends won't know the source of the news.

Pictures, new addresses, promotions, transfers, change in duty assignment, friends meeting at distant points and other happenings are wanted. Anything of general interest about men and women in any branch of the service will be welcomed.

The above applies to former residents of this area as well as to present residents. It applies in all Wayne County and in the areas bordering this county. Your help is wanted.

WHAT?

a money

shortage?

Such a condition slows expansion, such as construction of homes, all kinds of building and much manufacturing. This slows the boom. Question-Will this filter on down to jobs, the public, etc? A word of caution might be in order. Time and conditions change fast. What is more embarrassing than to discover an empty pocket when you need something badly? A good way to avoid this money shortage is to sign up now with Wayne Federal. Save where it is guaranteed but available when you need it. If left on deposit you will be paid a high rate of interest. Jaycees Discuss LaPorte Cemetery; Add Members; Sell New Year's Tickets

Wayne Jaycees met last week. They discussed the possibility of working on the LaPorte Cemetery which is in need of care and repair.

The club members indicated an interest in saving the deteriorated plot. However, they agreed that actual work would probably have to wait until spring.

In other action, the Jaycees made plans for the New Year's Eve dance at the armory with the Swing Kings playing. Tickets are now on sale. They also discussed a successful honey Sunday project and the recent membership contest which saw nine members added to the rolls.

Honey Sunday was a success with the help of Explorer Scouts and the reception of the people, who seemed to want to help in some way on the program for retarded, Don Stadus, Boyd Hedrick, Jerry Rose, Doug Lyman, Bill Denkiner, Marvin Young, Ted Bahe, Larry Topp and Dick Hammer were Jaycees working on the project.

Marvin Young signed six of the nine new members gained in the membership drive. He, Larry Stevenson, Dave Dolph and Dick Dolph were on the winning team. Losers were Ken Dahl, Dick Sorenson, Bill Denkiner and Larry Topp.

New members of the club are Brice Wilkinson, Ivan Bennett, Boyd Hedrick, Ed Coffman, Keith Berg, Stan Baier, Keith Ellis, Leroy Ruppert and Bob Fleming.

Allenite Sent to Iran

Capt. Robert Hutchings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rubel Hutchings, Allen, has arrived for duty in Teheran, Iran. He is a doctor in his internship and will serve with an air force military assistance advisory group. A graduate of Allen High School, Dr. Hutchings received his BS degree from Nebraska Wesleyan University and his MS and MD degrees from the University of Nebraska. He is a member of Theta Chi and Phi Chi.

Beef, Kearney Stew Features at Kiwanis

An old-fashioned bowl of beef stew with a big square of cornbread featured the meal and Kearney State College in a stew while losing to Wayne State College in football featured the program as Wayne Kiwanis Club met Monday noon.

Bill's Cafe catered the meal. In addition to a "different" main course, salad, dessert and drinks were included.

Coach John Jermier provided an interesting film of the WSC-KSC football game. His narration of the action and identification of the players helped make it an entertaining program.

B. W. Stafford was inducted as a new member. Dr. George John for the education committee presented him with his pin and kit.

Advance Wisner Man

Pvt. Richard Rabe, 19, Wisner, has completed eight weeks of advanced infantry training at Ft. Ord, Calif. He now is being advanced into further army training. He received specialized instruction in small unit tactics and in firing the M-14 rifle, M-60 machine gun and 3.5-inch rocket launcher. Pvt. Rabe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rabe.

Harlan Longe to Enter New Field

Harlan Longe, Wayne, has decided not to be a barber. Instead, he will go to an airline training school in Kansas City in January, take a 16-week course to prepare him for work in airline offices and will make further plans when he finishes that course.

Why so much emphasis on his plans? Harlan, son of the Melvin Longes, is the young man who was injured in a combine accident at Mound City, S.D., Aug. 5. He has undergone surgery three times, lost all the toes off one foot and part of his heel and is just now getting around with the use of crutches.

He has been fitted with special shoe and a brace for his foot. Doctors tell him he will be able to discard the crutches before long and later will get rid of the brace.

His desire to overcome the injury has helped a lot. He has guts and he wants to go on to school, giving up the idea of barbering due to the injury.

His leg still looks "like a road map," and his heel is in bad shape. Skin was pulled from the underside of his foot to help the foot heal. Skin was grafted from the thigh to his calf and the back of his leg and healing has been coming along fine.

Harlan is determined and wants to get rid of crutches and brace as soon as possible. With his attitude, it may not be long.

WSC Debaters Take Part in Major Meet

Wayne State debaters competed in the big time last weekend. They entered the Wichita Shocker Tournament at Wichita, Kan., one of the nation's top forensic events. Among the contestants were teams from some of the great universities.

The Wayne team of Dave Jorgensen and Dennis Lohse won two debate rounds over Kansas University and Western State College of Colorado, and they lost four.

The other Wayne Class A entry, Bob Sosalla-Ed Kelly, lost six rounds. Among their opponents: Texas Christian, Southern Methodist, Colorado and Denver Universities.

The freshman team of Dave Phipps and Tom Graves won one of six in novice competition. Brice Wilkinson coaches both varsity and freshmen debaters.

WSC will be host Dec. 2 and 3 to its annual invitational forensic tournament.

College Students in Accident Near Here

A University of Nebraska student and a Wayne State College student were involved in a two-car accident east of Wayne Wednesday last week. Neither of the young men was injured.

James Pearse, NU student from Washta, Ia., was eastbound on Highway 35 1/2 miles east of Wayne. He and other cars were behind a tractor and hay-moving outfit going slower than usual as the tractor operator prepared to turn into a farm drive.

Going the same direction was Robert Larson, WSC student from Gowrie, Ia. He came over a hill and upon the slow-moving traffic. He was unable to avoid the Pearse car.

Deputy Sheriff Scott Thompson investigated. He reported $215 damage to the left front of the Larson vehicle and $100 damage to the right rear of the Pearse car.

Wayne County in Bond Sales Lead

Wayne County now leads Region 4 in savings bond sales for 1966, according to Lawrence Rossiter, Hartington. This county has hit 107.1 per cent of its goal for the year.

Henry Ley, savings bond chairman for the county, reports sales of bonds in October totaling $47,073. This brought the county's purchases for the year to $395,277, he noted.

In this region, Dakota

County is second with 102.2 per cent followed by Cedar with 98.2 per cent, Dixon with 92.4 per cent and Thurston with 65.3 per cent.

Other area counties in different regions include: Pierce, 103.2 per cent; Stanton, 133.3 per cent;

Madison, 85.0 per cent; and Cuming, 67.3 per cent.

Leading county in the state on a percentage basis is Thomas with 171.1 per cent of its goal. Blaine County, in the same region with Thomas, has the lowest percentage, 33.4.

What'd you expect us to put our Overhead Cam Six in?

An ordinary car?

Our revolutionary 165-hp OHC 6 is so revolutionary we had to do something special with it. So we made it standard in all Tempests and LeMans.

You see, it was inspired by those famous overhead cam engines in expensive European sports cars. With a few Pontiac refinements, of course. And with a power reserve for expressway passing you'd normally expect from a V-8.

We even offer a 215-hp version that makes a lot of big V-8s seem awfully extravagant. Which is why we say, with a six like this who needs an eight?

Incidentally, a four-way hazard warning flasher, backup lights, and GM's energy absorbing steering column are some of the safety features also standard in Tempests and LeMans. How can you resist seeing your Pontiac dealer today?

Saddle Club Officers

Hold Over for Term

Meeting Monday night of last week, Wayne Saddle Club voted to hold over all officers for another term. There were 20 present at the last meeting to be held in the REA Building.

Alvin Anderson holds over as president of the club. Other officers holding over are Fritz Kramer as vice president and Gerry Gilbert as secretary-treasurer.

Two new board members were named, Stacy Swinney and Bob Dempster. They take the place of Don Beckenhauer and Jack Beeson.

Future meeting site of the club is in doubt since the REA facilities will no longer be available. A Christmas party and the horse show in July are among the projects being planned now.

Three Propel Rocket Models to Victories

Three Cub Scouts of Pack 175 propelled their rockets to victories in the rocket derby Tuesday night of last week at West Elementary School. The three were winners in heats and then were amongst finalists.

Brad Hedrick won first place, Jack Froehlich second and Kenny Daniels third. Each received a trophy for the honor.

The rockets were driven by tightly wound rubber bands along thin wires. Some figured the tighter the rubber bands were wound the faster the rockets would go but this backfired as rubber bands broke. Some rockets started fast and finished slow while others seemed to spurt about the halfway mark.

ROCKET DERBY winners in Cub Scout Pack 175 the past week were (left to right) Brad Hedrick first, Jack Froehlich second and Kenny Daniels third.

Beef Seminars Set Next Week

Beemer will be the site of one of two beef cattle seminars in the state this coming week. American Cyanamid, NU, Nebraska Stock Growers, Nebraska Livestock Feeders and Sandhills Cattleman Association are co-sponsors.

The Beemer seminar will be held Friday, Dec. 9 in the high school auditorium starting at 9:35 a.m. Several hundred feeders from this prime beef cattle feeding area are expected. Dr. T. A. Willroth, West

In the awards part of the program, the following were given: Kelly Stammer, recruit patch; Damon Rockwell, dinner bar; Larry Creighton, assistant dinner bar; Jeff Lamp, two-year pin; David Hix, bobcat badge and assistant dinner bar; Doug Straight, dinner bar;

Jack Froehlich, one-year perfect attendance; Ken Daniels, wolf badge and assistant dinner bar; Brian Hedrick, wolf badge and dinner bar; Kevin Jech, bear badge and gold arrow; Gene Carey, gold and silver arrow; Ralph Arett, assistant dinner bar; and Phil Koerber, one-year pin.

Moving from Webelos to Scouts were Jim Brasch, Kelly Jech, Arlin Carey and Randy Goshorn. Advancing to Webelos were Steve Niles, John Suber, Gregg Swinney and Terry Hasebroock.

Topics include: Starter Program for Feedlot Cattle; Internal and External Parasites of Feedlot Cattle; Liver Abscesses in Feedlot Cattle; Search for a New Product; Feeders and Professors—King-makers for Each Other; Antibiotics for the Ruminant; and a concluding panel discussion with questions from the audience. Refreshments will be served. All cattle feeders, stockmen and others interested are invited.

Dixon County Fair Directors Named

All of the officers of the Dixon County Fair Board except one are holdovers. They were elected at a board meeting Monday of last week at the North-East Station, Concord.

Dick Hanson holds over as president of the organization. Only new officer is Paul Fischer, Wakefield, who is vice president.

Other officers are: Elroy Hank, Wakefield, treasurer; and Paul Hanson, Concord, Robert Blatchford, Wakefield, and Elmer Peterson, Ponca, directors.

No secretary is listed. That is because no one could be found to take the position which Norman Anderson has been handling. Directors will name a secretary as soon as possible; however.

Another meeting will be held within the next few weeks. Directors have not decided when this will be.

ONE YOUTH is from Denmark, the other from the United States. Which is which? Gene Quist, left, is from Dixon. Axel Boldsen is from Denmark. They are cousins.

Danish Visitor Stays at Dixon

A young visitor from Denmark is planning to stay through the Christmas holidays in the Dixon area. He is the son of a former area resident who married in Denmark.

Axel Boldsen, Holstebro, Jutland, Denmark, is visiting his mother's sisters and brothers, Marion Quist, Dixon, Mrs. Morton Friedrichsen, Mrs. Louis Bruggeman and Ray Clark, Laurel, Dale Clark, Sioux City, and Mrs. Raymond Larson, Oakland.

His mother is the former Sadie Quist. She went to Denmark to visit years ago, met Paul Boldsen and they were married May 4, 1935. She has lived in that country since.

Two members of the Boldsen family, Peter and Kirstin, have been here to visit the Quists and other relatives in the past. The Quists went to Denmark to visit two years ago, and Virginia Quist visited the Boldsens last year.

For a young man, Axel Boldsen has done a lot of traveling. After finishing the Danish equivalent to high school, he went to business school a year and then served 16 months in the king's guards. When he finished his stint in the service, he decided to see the world before settling down.

Signing up for a job on a Danish freighter, he traveled to Italy, Canada, United States, (both coasts), Panama Canal Zone, Vietnam, Thailand, Sumatra, Malaya, Java, Ceylon, India, Egypt and other points.

Two years were spent in business in Denmark and another year in business in Germany in the iron and steel field. (His father is in the wholesale iron, steel and plumbing business). Then Axel determined to visit his relatives in America before entering business in Denmark.

Last week he came to the Quist farm. But before he arrived at Dixon, he had been around the U.S. a little. He has traveled to Washington, Philadelphia, Miami, New Orleans, Dallas, San Antonio, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Salt Lake City and other points, seeing more places than most area residents have.

Axel finds Europeans and Americans quite different. He said the Americans seem happier in their work in a statement which prompted the Quists to remark that while in Denmark they had thought the Danes seemed happier at their work.

Bigness describes America, according to Boldsen. He had been warned to expect everything to be bigger here and he finds it so. He has heard of the bigger storms, but has to experience a blizzard to believe that. The cities, buildings, farms and distances are all huge by comparison with the tiny, beautiful and tidy country from which he comes.

The young people are more free, he noted. They move about among adults more relaxed and accepted. He pointed out that when adults and young people are together in Denmark, the young are usually expected to remain in the background and do not always participate as freely as they do here.

He likes Dixon, he likes farm work and he likes America. Still, he's 24 years old so he has decided to go back to Denmark and settle down now after seeing much of this country and the world.

'Ten Boys Even' as Wayne Prepares for Blair Tilt

"Ten boys are about even at present," Coach Harold Maciejewski of Wayne High School said when asked about the starting lineup for the WHS basketball game against Blair at Blair. He declined to name a starting five or even the top six.

There are six lettermen who stand a good chance in the top ten. Four other players are bidding for equal recognition.

Lettermen in the running are Lynn Lessman, David Brown, Gordon Jorgensen, Gordon Shupe, Bob Morris and Mark Johnson. Five other top players are Herb Tietgen, Steve Kerl, Herb Swan, George Eynon and Charles Fisher. Others bidding for varsity suits are Steve Johnson and Larry Hix.

Coach Maciejewski said action so far has shown only minor differences among the top ten. He expects the pressure of competition Friday to tell a lot about who will be counted on under fire.

Wayne has no tall boys. Herb Swan is tallest but lacks high school experience. Steve Kerl was one of the top scorers on the B Squad last year and has moved up. Fisher shows potential as a sophomore. Eynon looks consistent for the Blue Devils.

Blair is an unknown quantity. The two boys who scored most for BHS last year in a 66-58 loss to Wayne are gone. Dave Schneider, 6'9", is now a Wayne State College freshman. Clements made 20 and Schneider 19 against WHS.

The Blue and White will have to depend on speed and good outside shooting all season long. Almost every team on the WHS schedule has at least one skyscraper player, something the Devils lack and there is nothing they can do about it.

ANOTHER TROPHY is added at Wayne Boys Club by Hank Overin. The one he is holding is for the Northeast Nebraska playoff championship in town team ball. Most trophies are for boys' teams. Another display case similar to the one shown is being added to hold the trophies.

Many Trophies Garnered in Sports; Each One Has Meaning All Its Own

To some people, the display of trophies at the Wayne Youth Center represents a lot of trophies and that's all. To Hank Overin, whose teams have won most of the trophies, each one has a meaning all its own.

As he added another trophy last week, Overin noted that he could pick up a trophy for a certain event in a certain year and name the boys who played on the team, some of the circumstances of the championship year and events that occurred along the way to the championship.

The late Ralph Bishop and Hank Overin worked together, Bishop with Juniors, Overin with Midgets.

Officiating Clinic Will be in Norfolk

Norfolk is the site of one of the area basketball officiating clinics sponsored by the Nebraska School Activities Association. O'Neill is the next closest site of a clinic.

The Norfolk clinic will be held Dec 5, Jan. 16 and Feb. 13 in the Norfolk Junior College gym at 7:30 p.m. Jerry Neely will conduct the clinics, which are offered without charge.

Basketball officials and persons interested in learning the techniques of basketball officiating will be welcome. Experienced as well as inexperienced officials can gain from the sessions, according to Fred Egley, board of control member, NSAA.

Bishop was honored for his longtime interest in sports when the Midget and Junior baseball leagues in the area were named after him.

Overin can sure remember this year's Midget team. It won the state championship. However, he can also remember the boys who played on the district championship teams eight years ago.

A lot of boys have seen action and a lot of games have been played since Overin came here nine years ago. The first year his teams lost but for the last eight years Wayne has won either the Midget title in the district, the Junior title in the district or both. In 1963 Bishop-Overin teams won both the Junior and Midget state championships.

But baseball is not the only sport represented in the 32 trophies on display at the Youth Center. Pony leagues, football and some town team trophies are also there. Some other town team trophies are scattered about in different locations.

This year Wayne has won nine trophies. The latest is the 1966 Northeast Nebraska League playoff championship trophy. It was given by Lefty Olson, Wakefield, treasurer of the loop.

There are pictures of some of the teams, some of the outstanding players and of faithful Ralph Bishop. Scrapbooks have been kept and many of the news stories and pictures that appeared in newspapers have been faithfully pasted away for the record.

But the most important ingredient of the Wayne Recreation program does not show up in the trophy case. It shows up in the boys. Hank Overin teaches the boys to be gentlemen, to be good sports, to train and to gain in character.

A boy may be just a boy to some, but each is different and each has a story to tell, as far as Overin is concerned. Whether they first entered the program nine years ago or last week, each is an individual, worth working with and worth working for. Like trophies, they have much more to tell than is discernible just looking at them.

SPORTS NEWS

THE FISH weigh more than the girls. Dea Dea (left) and Dawn Smith, Hoskins, did not want to stand too close to their uncle. Dennis Bobek as long as he had his two big fish. Dea Dea weighs 38 pounds, 14 less than the bigger of the two spoonbills.

Hoskins Youth Gets Big Birthday 'Gift'

Saturday, Dennis Bobek Hoskins, was 17 years old. He received a couple of big "gifts" early, catching two big spoonbills at Gavins Point the night before.

He brought in one fish that weighed 25 pounds. Later he brought in another weighing 32 pounds and decided he would call off fishing for the rest of the night. His battle with the big spoonbill took 15 minutes and about wore him out.

The snagging outfit he used was given to him by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bobek, last Christmas. Last week was the first chance he had to use the outfit.

His mother said Dennis would also get the pleasure of cleaning and butchering the big fish. Sliced, the big one will make some dish-filling cuts for the Bobek dinner table.

Recreation Schedule for Girls and Boys Will Start This Coming Monday

A recreation schedule covering most age groups of boys and girls will start Monday, Dec. 5. Hank Overin will be in charge for events taking place in four Wayne locations.

The WHS gym, the Northeast Elementary gym, the City Auditorium gym and the Youth Center will be the scene of activities. In addition, games will be played at home and away by most of the teams.

Here is how a week's schedule looks: Monday, 4-6 p.m., seventh and eighth grade boys, WHS gym; 7-10 p.m., high school intramural games; Tuesday, 4-5 p.m., fourth and fifth grade boys, Northeast; 5-6 p.m., sixth grade boys, Northeast, 7-10, Boys Club open; Friday, 4-6 p.m., seventh and eighth grade boys, WHS; 7-10:30, Boys Club open; Saturday, 11 a.m.-12 noon, fourth and fifth grade boys, City Auditorium, 12-1 p.m., sixth grade boys, Auditorium; 1-2 p.m., junior high girls, Auditorium; 2-3 p.m., senior high girls, Auditorium; 3-4 p.m., seventh and eighth grade boys, Auditorium; 4-5 p.m., high school boys, Auditorium; 4-5 p.m., high school boys, Auditorium; 7-10:30, Boys Club open.

This adds up to 40 hours a week. It does not include many things such as time spent on trips, cleaning, waiting for boys to get out of showers before leaving, filling pop machine, replenishing candy supply and doing other work that everyone expects of Hank Overin.

Senior high boys are scheduled to play 12 games with teams from other towns, junior high boys 12 games and elementary boys six games. Girls will play games when they can be scheduled, Norfolk, Columbus and Fremont offering the best opportunities for scheduling girls' basketball tilts.

Winside Opens Friday at Home Against Wakefield

Wakefield's Trojans will be in Winside Friday night to open the basketball season for both teams. Reserve squads play at 6:30 with the varsity game following at about 8. Saturday WHS plays at Ponca, Osmond.

Coach Dan Cahill has picked six players who will form the nucleus for the Winside varsity. He declined to name which five would be the starters.

WHS schedule looks like this: Dec. 3, at Ponca; Dec. 7, at Tilden; Dec. 13, Coleridge; Dec. 16, at Norfolk Catholic; Jan. 24, Lewis & Clark Conference tournament; Jan. 13, at Osmond; Jan. 17, at Wausa; Jan. 20, Randolph; Jan. 27, Allen; Feb. 7, at Hartington Cedar Catholic; Feb.

The six top men at present are: Keith Wacker, 5'10", guard or forward; Bob Dangberg, 5'9", guard; Reed Wacker, 6'1", center or forward; Randy Jacobsen, 6'0", guard or forward; Keith Krueger, 6'2", guard or forward; and Bob Wacker, 6'0", center or forward.

Six other men will suit up for the varsity tilt. They are Don Longe, Kirk Troutman, Scott Duering, Mark Witt, Dave Witt and Bob Jackson.

NEW BUTLER Panlframe UTILITY SHELTER

IT'S HALF-COMPLETED BEFORE YOU BUILD

Need a place for tools, supplies, the pick-up truck? Most farmers do. And now, with only a minimum of panels... and a few base and eave angles... you can put up a functional, 20' x 30' utility building—in just a day or so. No bulky frames. No trusses. The panel is the building. Sized, cut and punched for fast, easy assembly. Even door and window openings are factory-located for precise fit. It's a complete building package... at a surprisingly low cost. Come in today for free Panl-Frame Building plans. You can build a Panl-Frame—we can do it—or we can do it together. Low-cost Butler financing available.

All the doors can lock by themselves on our new '67 Ford. And if one door's not closed tight, a little light tells my father. Another light reminds him to fasten my seat belt. Daddy says he got the safest, strongest Ford ever built to hold me.

(He says always keep your valuables in a strongbox.)

The strong, substantial LTD by Ford gives you all this at no extra cost: Select-Shift Cruise-O-Matic transmission — lets you shift automatically or manually to fit each road situation • Comfort-Stream Ventilation — circulates fresh air, exhausts stale air with windows closed • 289-cu. in. V-8 • Test-drive the Ford LTD — one of the world's most luxurious automobiles, and one of the quietest. It's quieter because it's stronger, stronger because it's better built.

Ford puts people ahead... and people are putting Ford ahead! Sales figures show it: Ford is first in city after city all across America. In Los Angeles and Atlanta! In Detroit and Denver! In San Antonio and San Francisco! Come take a test drive and see why—You're Ahead in a Ford!

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers. It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

Someone Cares

Recent developments in the cause for saving LaPorte Cemetery have not been earth-shaking but they have been encouraging. There is an indication that someone cares.

Last week two letters showed how much people care. One writer offered money to help save the cemetery; the other tried to convey the idea that those who are buried there deserve more consideration in the future than given in the past.

Wayne Jaycees have shown an interest in getting out to the cemetery in the spring and doing something about fixing it up. St. Mary's Catholic School pupils in a civics club liked the idea of working on the plots and went out to work one day.

These are small steps, but they are steps in the right direction. Some day someone is going to make the move that will result in formulating a definite program. Then the future of LaPorte Cemetery will be assured. Then editorial attention can be given to other matters.—CEG.

What's The Difference?

The United States post office has taken a step in the right direction in allowing newspapers such as this one to go by air from the coast to servicemen in Vietnam on a space available basis. However, the move does not go far enough. Boys are serving other places overseas who need that hometown morale booster, the weekly newspaper, just as boys in Vietnam do.

How about the boy from Carroll in the Alaskan winter? He needs a morale booster too.

There is the kid from Concord who is on a South Sea island. It's not a bad spot, but just looking at ocean and palm trees can get old.

Consideration should be given the boy from Wayne in Germany. He sees the faces of new friends but he wants to read the names and see pictures of old friends too.

The Hoskins boy in Africa, the Dixon man in the Australian area, the Winside youth in England, the Wakefield boy in the Mediterranean and even the Sholes private in Spain need that touch from home, the weekly paper, on a regular basis.

How can they get it? You could help by writing to your congressman (it's Robert Denney now) or your senators (Carl Curtis or Roman Hruska). Everyone in Jail

With the time drawing near when Sheriff Don Weible will be completely moved to the new Wayne County jail and sheriff's house, this might be a good time to get the matter settled once and for all about what is to be done with the old jail and sheriff's residence.

Surely it is not a beautiful building. However, it is typical of buildings of the period in which it was built. It holds a lot of precious memories—if not for the people who were prisoners there, at least to those who know it for what it is.

Some day in a year we know nothing about today, Wayne County will have a new courthouse. Then the magnificent and colorful old building we know today will probably come down.

But right now the jail is the building that seems doomed. Is it worth saving? It would cost a lot to renovate it, but perhaps if a use could be found for it, say maybe for a county museum, it would be worth the time, trouble and money.

The building is standing today. It will probably be there tomorrow. Beyond that, no definite statement can be made. If you have an idea, express it.—CEG.

Sholes, The Fifth City

The Herald lost a subscriber in Sholes last week. Indignantly, a resident of that town reminded the staff that Sholes may be small but it is proud.

Cause of the failure to renew was the overlooking of Sholes news and the fact that the towns of Wayne County were listed in an item—with Sholes omitted.

Good for this woman. The Herald hates to lose a subscriber but it sure admires spirit. This quality is especially admirable in the smaller towns.

Sholes is small, the fifth biggest city in the county. However, it must be big in a lot of ways. When this paper has honored Sholes with a feature story, the comments have poured in; when Sholes has been overlooked, someone was sure to mention the fact.

The Fifth City needs a correspondent. Sholes news is wanted. The Herald stories there to be covered with news and pictures. Anyone knowing of a prospect (individual or club), let us know. We would particularly like someone with spirit—maybe the woman who cancelled her subscription. She would be able to get us news, get her name back on the subscription list and see that Sholes is neglected no longer.—CEG.

Capitol News

Preparation Begins for Governor's Inauguration

LINCOLN—The excitement and bustle attendant to a change from one state administration to another has increased at the Nebraska Capitol as the state prepares to inaugurate a new governor for the first time in six years.

Norbert T. Tiemann, who becomes the Nebraska chief executive on Jan. 3, has served notice that he intends to conduct a vigorous term in office.

His administration is already beginning to take shape. Appointed the Republican governor-elect's top aide recently was Clayton Yeutter, 35, a lawyer and University of Nebraska agricultural economist.

The father of four children, Yeutter is best known as the author of the ill-fated 1965 Income Tax Act, which the people of Nebraska rejected by an overwhelming plurality in the recent election.

Tiemann said Yeutter will handle legislative liaison and coordinate the executive agencies for the new governor.

Several other key appointments, including a new agriculture director, will be made later. Tiemann has indicated he will lean toward naming young administrators.

Meanwhile, the administration and staff of Gov. Frank B. Morrison continued to pack their bags and move out of the governor's suite in the statehouse.

Morrison, defeated in his bid to unseat Sen. Carl T. Curtis, said he and his wife plan to reside in a downtown Lincoln apartment for the time being. It has been speculated that Morrison, thrice elected governor of the state, will receive a Federal appointment. He has said he is not seeking one but would consider any that might be offered.

Morrison was urged to run against Curtis by President Johnson.

Nebraskaland Site Selected
North Platte, where William F. (Buffalo Bill) Cody started his barnstorming Wild West show, has been selected as the permanent home of "Nebraskaland Days" beginning in 1968.

It was picked from more than 20 applications by a 4-3 vote of the State Game Commission, which annually sponsors the event.

Lincoln, which held the celebration during its first two years, will again host the tourism promotion activities in 1967.

North Platte, chosen earlier as the Centennial City in the State Community Betterment Contest, will construct a $600,000 Nebraskaland Days complex near Buffalo Bill's Scouts Rest Ranch, located on the northwest edge of the city.

The city will finance $171,900 of the cost. The state will pay $298,100. All properties will be deeded to the state.

Facilities will include a 5,000-seat rodeo arena, holding pens and stables for livestock, public campground, 2,000-car parking lot, carnival grounds, restrooms, pistol and rifle ranges, dance pavilion and exhibition halls.

North Platte now stages a Buffalo Bill Rodeo each summer. The town itself has been transformed into a mecca for Buffalo Bill's history buffs.

Expanded Financing Urged
The chairman of the State Power Review Board has recommended the next Legislature expand the financing possibilities available to Nebraska electric agencies.

William Norton of Osceola proposed the state establish a bank for surplus utility revenues through which money would be loaned to interested agencies. "This way," he added, "money would be available to all the power districts for construction purposes."

Norton made the recommendation to the Legislative Council Power Study Committee. There was no immediate reaction from the senators.

Under present arrangements, Nebraska agencies finance the bulk of their construction through revenue bonds.

Norton said the bank plan could eventually reduce consumer electricity rates by pouring surplus money into facility improvements.

No. 1 Objective
The Nebraska State School Boards Association has listed state financial aid to public schools as its no. 1 objective next year.

Nebraska voters recently rejected a proposed Constitutional Amendment to guarantee that at least 20 percent of the revenue from a sales or income tax be returned to the schools.

The association plans to introduce legislation in 1967 for another state aid plan.

Delayed Until Next Year
State Surveyor Willis Brown reports it will be early next year before the trial begins on the Nebraska-Missouri River border lands dispute.

The trial was expected to get under way in Omaha and Des Moines later this month.

Brown said Iowa and Nebraska officials are still taking depositions in the dispute, which has been brewing for four years.

Involved is more than 15,000 acres of land valued at several million dollars. The squabble stems from past meanderings of the river which caused some Nebraska land to end up on the Iowa side of the channel, and vice versa.

Brown said recent studies show the river has "changed like a snake since the 1860's when the last government survey was made."

Progress Reported
The State Roads Department reports the last two stretches of incomplete Interstate Highway between eastern and southwestern Nebraska will be opened to traffic early in December.

There are 18 miles between Henderson and Giltner and 26 miles between Maxwell and Hershey.

Their completion will permit motorists to travel from downtown Omaha to near North Platte—and back again—without stopping for a traffic signal. This is a distance of 260 miles.

Nebraska is scheduled to complete the Interstate Highway across the state by 1971.

Fiberglass Facts:

1. Something new has been added to fiberglass draperies to reduce their abrasiveness and to give them a softer feel. This ingredient is Teflon which coats the glass fibers without affecting their wrinkle-free, iron-free, easy-to-suds qualities. Read the labels for this information.

2. Fiberglass cannot be dyed, as the color must be fused in the manufacturing process. A temporary color change is possible as the fiberglass can be tinted a light color. However, the tint will wash out with the first laundering.

3. To mend fiberglass fabrics, you may use either a sewing machine or a hand stitch—mercerized thread is recommended for both. If you are using a machine, set it for eight stitches per inch and a loose tension. Guide the fabric rather than pulling it through the machine. A darning attachment or removal of the presser foot may make the job easier.

Room Arrangement:

Along with "The Season To Be Jolly" and holiday guests often come thoughts of rearranging the furniture.

A new arrangement seems to give new life to the whole room, but before you lug that furniture around, take a cue from the interior decorators. Try to make a focal point in every room. Your eyes travel to this place as soon as you enter the room. It should be the striking highlight of your decorating.

In your living room this focal point might be a picture window, a fireplace, an interesting grouping of furniture, or something as simple as a bookcase of brightly colored books.

Whatever the focal point of a room, it's your business to point it up so that it is even more attractive.

County Agent's Column

Are You Ready?

This was a pertinent question to ask oneself before trying to start an old Model "T" on a cold winter morning.

The "grey-beards" will recall jacking up one rear wheel, pushing the brake lever forward, engaging high gear, pouring hot water on the intake manifold, and choking the carburetor with one hand while turning the starting crank with the other as fast as arm and back muscles would permit.

Sometimes it started, but, on other occasions, you repeated the ritual.

Out of these early strenuous efforts there came broken wrists, strained backs, and an occasional fatality when a car bounced off the jack and pinned its would-be starter to a wall.

As the harvesting of Nebraska's largest crops of grain in history comes to a close, it seems proper to reflect on this huge harvest, what it means to the people of Nebraska and how it came about.

Truly, 1966 has been a year when Nebraska was blessed with almost perfect crop growing conditions. Accumulation of larger-than-usual supplies of sub-soil moisture in the fall of 1965 first set the stage for the banner 1966 year. Then rainfall throughout the growing season in adequate amounts, except for a few isolated areas, plus use by farmers of ever improving irrigation systems, made the moisture supply ideal for most crops. Nebraska's progressive farmers made the most of this situation. They adjusted seeding and fertilizer application rates in accordance with moisture supplies and they used larger than usual amounts of insecticides and fungicides to protect their 1966 crops. At harvest and storage time they used the most modern machines and methods ever to ensure that the quality of the crops would be kept at the highest possible level.

The value of the 1966 crops cannot be calculated as just the cash value of the crops as they came to the field since much of the corn and grain sorghum will be converted into livestock before it reaches the ultimate market. When all this is added up it seems quite likely that Nebraska will move into fifth place nationally in the value of farm products produced, up from our traditional sixth place in the standings.

What were your machinery costs per crop acre this year? You can calculate them with a little pencil work and some figures from your farm records.

Add the costs of farm fuel and oil, a share of the auto expense, repairs on machinery and equipment, taxes and insurance on machinery and equipment, trucking and machine hire on crops, depreciation on machinery, and seven per cent interest on book value of machinery.

Now, subtract any machinery income received, such as gas tax refunds or credits and income from custom work. This yields the net machinery and power cost for your farm.

Divide by the number of crop acres. The result is the machinery cost per crop acre.

How do you compare to other farmers? The range of machinery and power costs per crop acre for farms in 1965 in the Nebraska Electronic Farm Record Project was from $15 to $30.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

Saw by the paper this last week you wanted addresses of service boys. Our boy is in Vietnam. He arrived there Sept. 16. He sure looks forward to letters. They afford all the pastime they have. Surely we people here in the USA can write to our boys over there where it's so bad. I would like to have his address in the papers so folks can write to him.

Concord Reader
(Our list of addresses appears in alphabetical order this week so friends can write to the boys. We also hope some servicemen will see addresses that indicate they have acquaintances stationed nearby. Any addresses coming in for next week will also be printed in alphabetical order. Clipping these lists is advised. Address changes will be printed later as received.—Editor.)

Dear Editor:

As the time is rapidly approaching the Christmas season, we know of many families this year than the year before who will be celebrating the blessed season of Christmas without their loved ones who are serving their country in the armed forces.

There are graduates from this year's classes who are or soon to be in foreign lands by Christmas season and every day more families are saddened by the news to report to duty.

It is surprising though how many people do not even think of these servicemen. I think we the people of the land of the free should be proud of our men who carry out their duties, and should help by giving our support, our prayers and most of all our cards and letters.

This is most of all they care for to help moral, letters. This is what I would like

We appreciate getting the farm sale business, but we want to advise you that your name can be more than four letters and we'll still take your business. So far this season, The Herald has printed four sale bills for the farm sales at the Thun, Ring, Korn and Bull farms. Do we hear five? Who'll give us a five? Holding on four. Who'll say five?

The boy had pestered his father all day for an advance on his allowance so he could go to the movies with some other youngsters. "No," the father finally stated, flatly. "Go into the living room and see what you can get on the TV set."

It was late evening when the father next saw the boy, and the lad was smiling happily. "Gee, thanks, dad," he said. "I did as you said and I got enough on the TV set to treat everyone to the movies and still have money left over."

A low sweeping bow, a tip of the hat and a journalistic bouquet this week to the members of the Hospital Auxiliary. Boy, are they workers! In one day they raised $1,500 for hospital improvements. Now that we've said that, we assume we'll hear an outcry: "One day! It takes all year to plan that bazaar!"

And, of course, anyone who says that is right. We know of one group that is starting soon on aprons to be sold a year from now. They have even promised to make us a bachelor's apron in the form of the old-fashioned lace-trimmed bloomers (we couldn't bring ourselves to buy the apron that style they had at the bazaar, even though we did hold it up to our waist to try it for size). Anyway, every person who had anything to do with that bazaar deserves a bouquet, but by the time a bouquet is distributed to all who had part, each person may get no more than a petal. Sorry we can't get as big a bouquet as you gals deserve (they don't make bouquets the size of Memorial Stadium in Lincoln).

Two spinsters on a cruise approached a deckhand. Asked one: "Where can we find the ship's captain?" Replied the sailor: "The captain's forward, ma'am." "That's quite all right," said the woman. "This is a pleasure cruise."

Mrs. Edna Barelman and Cora Haglund head this committee...William I. Owens, county supervisor of the Farmers Home administration in Wayne, announced the appointment of Shirley J. We understand one more Jaycee officer has a "pie in the face" coming. It is our desire to be on hand when this takes place to get pictures of the pie and the recipient before and after. At the same time we can probably get facts straight on the number one member-signer-upper, Marvin Young, who signed up seven of the nine new members recently brought into the club. Don't ask us how a fact such as that could be overlooked by an editor. But, believe us, an editor can do it if anyone can!

A few weeks ago a farmer called us with an idea for a story. We used it. Similar instances are recorded weekly, where someone calls in with a story idea. Sometimes the stories are insignificant but of interest. Often there is a human interest angle. Occasionally, there is a big story. The point is: We appreciate having you remember us for news of any kind. It's one of our big commodities and you can help us have more. However, we can't do a story on a newsy happening one week and the next week do a similar story on a similar happening. Exceptions are broken bones, accidents, farmers helping each other and such events. Also, we can't get enough youth activity items. We know this area has a preponderance of good kids and we want to cover their actions, not just the actions of those who get into trouble. So, thanks for the help and keep it coming.

In case you are interested, a letter did go to The Nebraska Smoke-Eater concerning the actions of firemen at the state convention. It was printed and carried out the idea the young people themselves had gained from being insulted and embarrassed by the actions of a few. The national honorary fraternity in physical science, Lambda Delta Lambda, has initiated ten new members at Wayne State, Cheryl Behmer, Carol Blecke, Del Connealy, Larry Glaze, Darrel Handke, Robert McCormick, Michael Napier, Robert Oberg, Eric Robinson and Carole Thomas. Membership requires honor grades in either chemistry or physics courses.

LOWELL BLECKE is here visiting his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Blecke leave this week for Wilmington, Ohio, where he will be based. He came here on 14-day furlough from Ft. Bliss, Tex., where he took basic training. He will work in supply at a small base near Wilmington.

Wayne Youth Center Has Active Directors
Hank Overin, who is in charge of the Wayne recreation program, has named a board to help set policy and plan activities for the Wayne Youth Center. He has found an active and enthusiastic group of boys.
Next year the members will vote on their board. Until now, however, there was no formal organization to select board members.
Five were selected from senior high and three from junior high. Older boys on the board are Dave Tietgen, Tom Denesia, Vaughn Korth, Steve Hix and Henry Jorgensen. Younger boys are Kelly Dill, Mike Creighton and Todd Bornhoff.
In a business-like way, they had a treasurer's report at the initial meeting in October. They discussed raising money and indicated a pool table was the piece of equipment they thought the center needed most.

A turkey-selling project was outlined and held to raise money, realizing $65 profit. Vaughn Korth sold 57 tickets out of the 150 sold. Russ Tiedtke and R.B. Bressler were winners of the turkeys.
During the November meeting, directors decided to check on getting pinball, bowling and gun machines in the center. A mass meeting will be held Dec. 8 to decide whether or not to have a roller skating party during Christmas vacation. A pancake feed, a rummage sale and a carnival were also considered as money-raising projects.

There are 45 full members at present with 50 possibles (15 of the latter having paid half their dues). It is thought the membership total could go above the 100 mark this winter.

Raymond Schreiner, chairman of the Wayne State applied arts division, is the new president of the Nebraska Industrial Arts Education Association. Winside Firemen Got Cheated Out of Job

Winside firemen got practice going to a fire last week but they got cheated out of fire fighting. The fire was put out before they arrived.

Norman Carr noticed smoke in his corn crib 3 miles west and 1 3/4 miles north of Winside. He called the Winside Rural Fire Department. While waiting for help, he went to work to control the blaze which was not too big yet.

He was successful in his efforts and by the time the firemen arrived the fire was out. Firemen were glad to forego the practice but appreciate being called early. They would rather make a run and not be needed than to have someone wait until a fire is well out of control before calling them.

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS

"Women who insist on wearing the pants in the family should expect cuffs on the bottom," says the Bird Island (Minn.) Union.

A picnic is defined by The Angola (Ind.) Herald as "A popular outdoor event where everybody takes olives and potato chips and wonders why there isn't enough fried chicken to go around."

The Burlington (Wis.) Standard-Press warns that you should not get a swelled head if you are referred to as a VIP, since it can also mean "Very Immense Posterior."

A left-over summer story comes from The Review of Plymouth, Wis.

One blistering hot day when they had guests for dinner, a mother asked her five-year-old to say the blessing.

"But, Mother, I don't know what to say," he protested.

"Just say what you've heard me say, dear," she advised.

Obediently, the young man bowed his head and said, "Oh, Lord, why did I invite these people on a hot day like this?"

The only people you should try to get even with are those who have helped you, advises the Arenac County Independent of Standish, Mich.

"Politics is the most promising of all careers," says The Post-Telegraph of Princeton, Mo.

The answer to that puzzle of why we seem to be in the dark more than the teenagers was provided by the Chronicle-Herald of Macon, Mo., when it reported, "A 55-year-old man requires twice as much light to see objects at night as he needed when he was a teenager."

This one comes from the Northwestern Illinois Farmer of Lena, Ill.:

"It says here," one old maid said, "a woman just lost her second husband and had him cremated."

"That's life for you," the second old maid exclaimed. "Some of us can't even get one — and others have husbands to burn."

Opportunity fools many people when it comes disguised as work, remarks the Belvidere (Ill.) Daily Republican.

"Just why is it you convince a man but persuade a woman?" asks the Steuben Republican of Angola, Ind.

Most married men run their homes as if they were the captain of the ship, comments the Tazewell County News of Morton, Ill. Unfortunately, many of them married admirals.

The Lima (Ohio) News tells about the lady in curlers, makeup and faded robe who rushed out and hailed the garbage truck.

Lady—Yoo hoo! Am I too late for the garbage?

Garbage Man—No, ma'am, jump right in.

There are 151 hidden taxes on a loaf of bread, reports The Stoughton (Wis.) Courier. This seems like a lot of crust to us.

The O'Brien County Bell of Primghar, Iowa, says, "Today's mighty oak is just a little nut that held its ground."

Then there is The Mascoutah, (Ill.) Herald that tells about the wife who said to her husband, "We've been arguing for an hour and a half and you haven't opened your mouth in all that time."

Santa is ALMOST a Sesquicentennial

By James Aldredge

No wonder Santa Claus' whiskers are snow-white! He's almost a sesquicentennial—which is a short, though strange way of saying he'll soon be 150 years old.

The Santa we know so well was really born on Christmas Eve of the year 1822. That was when the learned Dr. Clement Clarke Moore sat down in the study of his fine, old New York City home and wrote those rollicking lines, A Visit from St. Nicholas.

Then and there the good saint received his duly accredited initiation into the fraternity of the world's greatest benefactors and became the jolly, roly-poly gentleman that all children and grown-ups adore.

Before that, during his European wanderings across the bleak winter landscape, St. Nicholas seems to have been a rather dour old bishop riding around on a white horse. To be sure, he did carry a basket of toys for the good children, but he also had under another arm a fistful of birch rods with which to punish all misbehaving youngsters.

Dr. Moore was a very renowned scholar, a doctor of divinity and a professor of Oriental languages at New York's General Theological Seminary. People have often wondered how such a serious, dignified chap could ever have been inspired to dash off those merry verses for his children.

But dash them off he did, never thinking they would ever be published. As luck would have it—for the benefit of later generations—a young lady guest, Miss Harriet Butler, was present when the author read his Christmas poem aloud at the breakfast table. She liked it so much that she got Dr. Moore's consent to copy it into her scrapbook.

When another Yuletide rolled around, Miss Butler turned to those verses again and she found them so enchanting that she could not resist sending them to the editor of her home-town paper, the Troy (New York) Sentinel. There they duly appeared in print on December 22, 1823—minus Dr. Moore's name.

Once the poem was in cold type, it took little folks and big folks by storm. It scampered into every home and heart with as nimble a grace as the "jolly old elf" displayed in climbing up and down so many chimneys.

Certainly, there was nothing stern and unfeeling about the old saint described in Dr. Moore's "Night before Christmas." Just listen:

"He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook when he laughed, like a bowlful of jelly.
He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself."

That fitted the modern scene and delighted youngsters much more than any gaunt and bearded old saint wearing black robes and carrying a handful of birch switches.

His old white horse was gone, too—probably traded off—and in its place were "eight tiny reindeer". The author had even provided them with names! How they captured the reader's fancy as Santa's command to them rang out:

"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer, now Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid! on Donder and Blitzen!"

Oddly enough, though, when the poem was published, one party was quite unhappy about it. That was Dr. Moore. For years, he refused to acknowledge their authorship.

But he need not have blushed, nor felt any mortification. Dr. Moore lived to the advanced age of eighty-one. When he finally died at his home at Newport, Rhode Island, on July 10, 1863, he had become one of those poets whose claim to remembrance rests entirely upon one poem. Out of all he wrote, nothing is remembered but those genial lines which he dashed off for his children's entertainment on Christmas Eve one hundred and forty-four years ago.

His gay couplets,

" 'Twas the night before Christmas when all through the house,

Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse—" have now become an inseparable part of our most treasured literature of Yule!

Bring back the old-fashioned magic of holiday baking with Brer Rabbit Molasses.

Molasses Cut-Out Cookies

- 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 tsp. baking soda
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. each ginger and cinnamon
- 1 cup Brer Rabbit Molasses
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 2 tsp. grated lemon or orange rind.

Sift dry ingredients. Combine molasses and shortening in saucepan. Bring to boil. Cool. Mix in dry ingredients and rind. Chill 2 hours. On a floured board roll dough 1/8" thick. Cut out stars, Santa, angels, Christmas trees, etc. Place 1/2" apart on greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) 8-10 minutes. Makes 4 dozen cookies.

Frosting

- 2 egg whites
 - 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- Blend egg whites with sugar until frosting is proper consistency to go through decorating tube and hold shape. Decorate as desired. Makes about 2 cups frosting.

Yuletide Breads

By Betty Stern Farm & Home Food Consultant

Holidays are filled with traditions. And where do traditions come from — our ancestors. Many of our wonderful Christmas Breads have been baked every Christmas dating way back. Maybe you have a favorite Christmas Bread or maybe you'd like to try a new one or new variation of your own and establish your own tradition. We offer you German, Italian, Belgian, Polish, Norwegian, and some truly American Breads.

BELGIAN CARMIQUE

- 1 package yeast, compressed or dry
- 1 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
- 1 cup milk
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground cardamom (if desired)
- ½ cup margarine
- 7 cups flour (about)
- 1 cup seedless raisins
- 2 eggs
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 tablespoon water
- Confectioners' sugar icing, if desired

Soften yeast in water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt, cardamom and margarine. Cool to lukewarm. Add 2 cups flour and beat well. Add softened yeasts, raisins and 2 eggs. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise in warm place until doubled (about 1½ hours). When light, punch down. Divide dough into 2 equal portions. Let rest 10 minutes. Shape each portion into round loaf. Place in greased 9-inch pans. Let rise until doubled (about 1 hour). Mix egg and water. Brush lightly over tops of loaves. Bake at 375° F. for 40 to 45 minutes. Cool. Frost with confectioners' sugar icing if desired. Makes 2 round loaves.

CHRISTMAS BRAIDED BREAD

- 2 cups milk
- ½ cup margarine
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
- ¼ cup warm water
- 9 cups flour (about)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup chopped raisins
- ½ cup chopped California walnuts
- ½ cup grated citron (if desired)
- 4 tablespoons margarine
- 1 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1 tablespoon warm water
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla
- Chopped California walnuts; or slivered angelica or citron, or red-tinted sugar

Scald milk; cool to lukewarm. In large bowl, cream margarine with sugar until fluffy. Add egg; beat until well blended. Add cooled milk. Sprinkle or crumble yeast into warm water; stir until dissolved; add to mixture. Stir in 3 cups of the flour; beat until smooth. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk and bubbly, about 1 hour. Stir in salt, raisins, walnuts, citron and about 5½ cups of the flour to make soft dough. (Use remaining flour for kneading.) Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours. Punch down and turn out onto floured board; divide into 3 parts.

Cut each part into 3 equal pieces. Roll each piece under palms of hands to make rope about 10 inches long. Braid 3 ropes together for 1 loaf. Repeat with remaining dough. Place loaves on greased large baking sheets. Cover and let rise ½ hour. Bake in 350° oven about 25 minutes; remove from oven and brush top and sides with melted margarine. Return to oven and bake about 20 minutes longer or until done. Remove from oven and brush again with melted margarine. Cool on wire racks. Frost when cold with confectioners sugar combined with water and vanilla. Decorate as desired. Makes 3 braids. Eat one and freeze others.

STOLLEN-GERMAN

- 1 packet active dry yeast or 1 cake compressed yeast
- ¼ cup warm water
- ½ cup margarine
- 1 cup hot scalded milk
- 1 unbeat egg
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon ground cardamom (if desired)
- 1 cup raisins
- ½ cup currants
- ¼ cup California walnuts, chopped
- 2 tablespoons grated orange rind
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
- 4½ to 5 cups flour powdered sugar

Soften yeast in water. Melt margarine in milk. Add egg, sugar, salt and cardamom; cool to lukewarm. Stir in raisins, currants, candied fruit, walnuts, orange rind, lemon rind, and the softened yeast. Gradually add flour to form a stiff dough. Knead on well-floured surface until smooth and satiny, about 5 minutes. Place in greased bowl and cover. Let rise in warm place (85° to 90° F.) until light and doubled in size, about 1½ hours. Divide into three parts; roll each to a 12x7-inch rectangle. Lift 12-inch side and fold over to within 1 inch of opposite side for typical Stollen shape. Cover. Let rise in warm place until light and doubled in size, about 1 hour. Bake at 350° for 20 to 25 minutes until deep golden brown. While warm, brush with margarine and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

YULEKAKA-NORWEGIAN

- 1 packet active dry yeast or 1 cake compressed yeast
- ¼ cup warm water
- ¼ cup margarine
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 cup hot scalded milk
- ½ cup cold water
- 1 unbeat egg
- ½ teaspoon ground cardamom (if desired)
- 1 cup cut candied cherries
- 1 cup raisins
- 5 to 5½ cups flour

Soften yeast in water. Combine margarine, sugar, salt, and milk in large bowl. Add water; cool to lukewarm. Stir in egg, cardamom, cherries, raisins and yeast. Gradually add sifted flour to make a stiff dough. Knead on floured surface until smooth and satiny, 5 to 7 minutes. Place in greased bowl; cover. Let rise in warm place (85° to 90° F) until light and doubled in size, 1½ to 2 hours. Punch down; cover. Divide dough in half. Shape into round loaves and place on greased cookie sheets. Let rise in warm place until light, 1 to 1½ hours. Bake at 350° for 25 to 30 minutes until golden brown. Frost while warm with Vanilla Glaze: Combine ¼ cup sifted powdered sugar, 1 tablespoon margarine, and 3 to 4 teaspoons milk until the consistency of a glaze. Decorate with candied cherries and nuts.

POLISH BABKA

- 2 packets active dry yeast or 2 cakes compressed yeast
- ½ cup warm water
- ½ cup margarine
- ½ cup sugar
- 4 unbeat egg yolks
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon, if desired
- ¾ cup scalded milk, cooled to lukewarm
- 1 cup golden raisins
- 4½ to 5 cups flour
- beaten egg white, chopped
- California walnuts, cinnamon

Soften yeast in water. Cream margarine. Gradually add sugar, creaming well. Blend in egg yolks, lemon rind, salt, cinnamon, milk, raisins, and the softened yeast. Mix well. Gradually add flour to form a stiff dough, blending well after each addition. Knead on floured surface until smooth and satiny, 5 to 8 minutes. Place in greased bowl and cover. Let rise in warm place (85° to 90°) until light and doubled in size, 2 to 2½ hours. Punch down dough. Let rise until doubled in size, 1 to 1½ hours. Divide into two parts. Shape into loaves and place in two well-greased 8-inch ring molds, tube pans or 9x5x3-inch pans. Cover. Let rise in warm place until light and doubled in size, 45 to 60 minutes. Brush tops of loaves with slightly beaten egg white or cream. Sprinkle with cinnamon and chopped walnuts. Makes 2 loaves. Bake at 350° for 30 to 35 minutes.

"I couldn't farm half as well if I didn't have a few acres set aside to tinker with," says Darrell Paulsen, Scotch Grove, Iowa.

"Every new practice that sounds promising has to show its stuff on my test acres before making the big time," Paulsen explains. "If the results are good, I try it on more acres. If it's a flop, I haven't lost much."

Paulsen's try-a-little, learn-a-lot tactics are typical of many top farmers across the country.

Most of them, like Paulsen, can point to bin-busting yields to show the value of their experimenting.

Bigger yields and bigger profits—they make test plots more than worthwhile. But that's not the only reason for small-time testing, these farmers will tell you. "Trying something new every year just adds a little more fun to farming," explains Everett Brunscheen, Wyoming, Iowa. "It's sort of an adventure . . . I learn something every time I check my test plot."

Neighbors have been glancing across the fence at Brunscheen's operation for years. "He's always trying something different," one says. "And darned if most of his ideas don't prove to be good ones."

Applying the insight obtained through his test plots, Brunscheen averaged 122 bushels on 180 acres of corn last year, with a high yield of 136.2 on part of it.

"I had a real problem with rootworms last year, and I think they might have cut my yields up to 30 bushels per acre," Brunscheen points out. To guard against this kind of damage, he used a strong insecticide this year and had no root damage whatsoever near harvest, and the stalks were still standing strong.

It was a fairly wet season in Brunscheen's area, and he admits that worms weren't generally as big a problem as they are during dry years. "But that's just the point of using a good insecticide—it gives you good insurance against damage in any kind of year," he says. "I figure an insecticide can save up to 33 bushels per acre, and that will more than pay the price of any kind of insurance."

Brunscheen aimed for 175 bushels per acre this year, planting mostly DeKalb XL-45 at a population of 24,000 plants. Due to the cold wet spring, however, he got a final stand of only 19,200 plants. "I got off to an early start, planting May 4th through May 6th, but then the wet weather moved in and the seed just laid there and didn't germinate," Brunscheen explains. "It finally came up about May 15th or 16th, and some of the plants just didn't come up at all."

A methodical corn grower, Brunscheen saves the tag from every bag of seed corn he plants. "That way I can check the germination later, and if a bag of seed should ever fail, I have the tag to prove to the salesman that I used his seed and can request free replant seed," he explains. "I've been highly satisfied with the XL-45 . . . it germinates well and stands up well in heavy populations."

Paulsen, like Brunscheen, is a cautious corn grower. He never leaps into anything—he tries it on a small scale first, and if it proves itself, he uses it on the bulk of his acres.

"You can't afford to do it any other way," he explains. "Soil differs from one farm to another, and what's good on a neighbor's place might not be good on your own. So I make things prove themselves first, and if they pan out all right, I use them in a big way."

Last year, Paulsen tried a little DeKalb XL-45. He planted only two bushels of it. When he saw the results, he used it across the board—on 295 of his 300 acres in corn. The other five acres? He's trying five other hybrids on those this year.

Paulsen averaged 125 bushels on 280 acres in 1965, then moved toward 30-inch rows this year. He put down a population of 24,000 plants, and got a final stand of just over 21,000.

He plowed down 90 lbs. of actual nitrogen along with 300 lbs. of 0-0-60 before planting, then added 150 lbs. of 8-32-16 with the planter.

Paulsen applied Atrazine to curb weeds, broadcasting it over the narrow rows, and applied insecticide to keep rootworms under control. He feels insect damage cut his 1965 yields by 15 bushels per acre.

"I broadcasted the Atrazine rather than band it over the rows, because I felt that I needed all the moisture I could get," he explains. "With the rows closer together, I didn't want any weeds robbing moisture from the corn plants."

Paulsen aimed for 150 bushels when he planted this year's crop. "If the weather holds just a few more weeks, I should hit my goal and perhaps even top it," said Paulsen just prior to harvest. "So far, this is the best crop of corn I've ever raised."

What's Paulsen planning to try next year? "I'm going to try a few things I heard at last year's Corn-Soybean Clinic in Monticello, I think. But first I'm going back to the Clinic again this year to see how some of those new ideas worked out for other farmers."

Corn-Soybean Clinics will be held throughout the Cornbelt again this winter during January and February.

Darrell Paulsen grows corn and tries new practices each year.

Everett Brunscheen feels it's an adventure to experiment with new practices each year in his Wyoming, Iowa corn field. "I learn something every time I check my test plot."

BIG NAME for BIG YIELDS

The modern, short, tough corn that takes heavy fertilization

Sensational DeKalb XL Corn Varieties are made-to-order for the quest toward higher corn yields. In fact, it's such short, tough, responsive hybrids that make intensive cultural practices a practical—and profitable—reality. Concentrated breeding gives DeKalb XL's the ability to thrive in narrow rows at high populations; the ability to respond in extra bushels to higher levels of fertility, and the ability to stand and retain ears well for a clean, fast harvest.

Want proof? Look to the records of farmers in the DeKalb 200-Bushel Club . . . yields mechanically harvested from measured acreages, elevator-weighed and tested, figured as No. 2 Corn: In 1965, 96 of the top 100 yields were made with XL Varieties. Average of these top yields was 177.5 bushels. Go with XL—BIG name for BIG yields.
