

Set Friday Deadline for C of C Dinner Ticket Sales

Friday night is the deadline for getting tickets to the Chamber of Commerce annual dinner. A report has to be given to the catering service Saturday so plans for serving can be made.

Considerable interest is being shown in the Feb. 5 dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the WSC Student Center at which Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, former official in the national government of Hungary, will speak.

The Wayne Chamber of Commerce was so anxious to get Dr. Nyaradi as a speaker, all precedence was disregarded and the dinner was set for a Sunday night. This was the only time the director of the school of international studies at Bradley University could be here.

Dr. Nyaradi's topic will be "Free Enterprise or Disaster." He knows his subject well for he has been a resident of a country that has lost its free enterprise and he is now a citizen of this country where free enterprise is not fully appreciated but is still available.

He served in the underground against the Nazis and fled from communist oppression. Since coming to this country he has written books, given talks, published articles on subversion and contributed in every way possible to the well-being of his adopted country, city and university.

Others on the program include Alan Cramer as master of ceremonies, Rev. Cecil Bliss, Willard Wiltsie, Charles McDermott and Mayor William Koehler. All will have brief remarks to make, the evening being devoted for the most part to Dr. Nyaradi's talk.

Dan Titze at the telephone office is in charge of ticket sales and those not contacted may call him. No tickets will be sold after Friday due to the large number expected and the fact the catering service has to make definite plans Saturday for the Sunday evening meal.

The Spook Speaks

A Wayne five-year-old evidently has not missed much on television. The other day after getting a spanking she said to her mother: "You know, I think I'm allergic to spankings."

Winside's school colors are red and white and a WHS girl turned both recently. Randolph was playing at Winside but she understood the RHS team had not arrived yet. She found out she was wrong when she burst into the girls' dressing room (used by visiting teams nights of games) and found the Cardinals in various stages of dress and undress.

The man from Omaha had seen telephones at those walk-up facilities attached to poles before. He could be forgiven then for his frustration last week near a local lounge from which he had just emerged. Wayne friends had to explain why he couldn't find the telephone—the facility attached to the pole and in which he was trying to find a phone is a litter can.

Dixon People Worry

A Texas paper carried the following anecdote concerning Mr. and Mrs. Dick Chambers, Dixon: "Just ahead of the cold front which swept the country last week came the family of Dick Chambers, returning for another winter's visit at Lake Tawakoni from their farm home in Nebraska. They brought some frozen meats packed in thermal snowsuits. The suits were so literally stuffed with the meat that Mrs. Chambers worried throughout the trip that they might have a wreck and someone would mistake the bags of meat for victims." The Chambers have spent the last two winters at Quinlan, Tex.

Trip Home to Fire, Girls Agony for Laurel Pair

Allen Gets Citation

The Allen Community Betterment Committee has been informed that the community has earned a certificate of honorable mention in the national "Cleanest Town Achievement Contest." The scrapbook which had been prepared for the Nebraska Community Betterment Program was entered in the national contest by the state committee. A framed certificate will be presented to Allen representatives at the Cleanest Town Conference in Washington Feb. 20-21.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Smith, jr., Wayne County farmers living south of Laurel, experienced the agony and torment of being away from home when they learned there was a fire at their place, being unable to contact three young daughters at the farm and being slowed in their drive through fog to the scene Sunday night.

The Smiths had gone to Laurel to attend a church mission festival, leaving three daughters, Marcia, 14, Marlyce, 13, and Marta, 6, at home. After church service, they stopped at the home of friends for coffee.

While there, the fire alarm sounded in Laurel. They decided to call the farm to make sure the girls were all right. They were unable to get an answer so called the fire department and learned that their worst fears were realized—the fire was at their farm.

Dense fog blanketed the area and they were unable to drive as fast as they would like the more than seven miles home. Their hopes soared when they could see no glow of flames as they drew near.

Suddenly they saw a bright orange glow when they were within one-fourth mile of home and they knew it was a big fire. Their hearts sank, and the last See LAUREL FIRE — pg. 8

Parachute Jump Hurts Hoskinsite

A Hoskins paratrooper was injured Jan. 19 in a parachute jump at Ft. Campbell, Ky. He is Gene Langenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Langenberg, jr.

The jump was the last one scheduled for Langenberg before leaving for Texas to begin medical training. He had orders received that week to leave Jan. 20 for his new assignment.

Airborne policy calls for making jumps periodically in order to qualify for the extra pay and the classification as a paratrooper. Langenberg scheduled a jump the day before he was to leave in order to meet requirements.

According to his parents, his leg caught in the chute after he left the plane. He was falling head first. Fellow servicemen in his unit watched helplessly as he fell.

Langenberg managed to keep from landing head first but could not land in the prescribed manner, coming down on his seat instead of his feet. The landing itself did not injure him but the jerk he received as his leg caught injured his knee.

Tuesday of last week he underwent surgery at the army hospital where surgeons scraped and repaired, sewed back ligaments pulled loose and did other work. His leg was put in a temporary cast See PARACHUTE — pg. 8

Wayne County Courthouse will be closed for two holidays in February. It will not be open Monday, Feb. 13, due to Lincoln's birthday on Sunday and it will not be open Wednesday, Feb. 22, for Washington's birthday. County Treasurer Leona Bahde reports this takes off two more days in which to buy license tags in a short month anyway. Sales by Tuesday were 850 behind sales a year ago.

Will Circulate Petitions to Create Humbug Watershed

The Humbug steering committee plans to proceed with the formation of a watershed conservancy district. Two more informational meetings will be held in Stanton County. One will be held at the Beggs country school Feb. 6., and another at District 23 Feb. 7. Both meetings will be at 7:30.

The steering committee plans to start circulating petitions on Feb. 14. In order to form a conservancy district, 60% of the residents in the district must sign the petition.

There has not been any opposition expressed at the meetings held the past week. It was generally agreed that a locally controlled watershed program is the most acceptable type of conservation set-up.

College Student Not Cash Winner

A Wayne State College student, Mary Marguerite Bartling, missed out on the Silver Dollar Night drawing Thursday and thus lost $140. She received $10 consolation prize instead of the $150 major prize.

The WSC student is from Craig. She could have claimed the larger amount had she been in the right place at the time her name was announced—namely one of the business places in and out of Wayne sponsoring the promotion.

Because she was not in one of the participating firms, the prize this week goes up to $200. Someone can claim that amount by being in Wayne at 8, being in the right business place and by reporting to the store manager at once.

Petitions may be circulating in Wayne soon calling for a vote on providing $75,000 for a new fire station in Wayne. That sum is three-fourths the amount originally called for at a city council meeting.

In a long, drawn-out meeting Tuesday night (adjourning around midnight) the council considered the fire station plan and many other matters. Members voted to cut some of the features of a proposed fire station in order to bring costs down.

An engineer's estimate on the cost of a fire house was placed at $100,000. Councilmen decided this was too much and thought deleting of some features would cut costs.

Petitions will circulate calling for a vote. If 10 per cent of the voters at the last election sign, the vote will be held.

The Episcopal Church, currently meeting at Wilkes Mortuary, asked the council to rezone a plot north of Sam's Driveway on Main. Plans call for building a new church there.

The council set a special meeting for Tuesday, Feb. 7, to consider recommendations of the zoning engineers and the attorneys. The Episcopal plan will be among those considered at this time.

Senior Girl Named WH Snow Queen

Cathy Bottolfson, daughter of Mrs. Helen Bottolfson, was revealed as snow queen at the Future Homemakers of America winter ball Saturday night at the Wayne City Auditorium. She is a senior at WHS.

Miss Bottolfson was elected by popular vote of the student body from eight candidates (four from each grade) previously selected by FHA members. All other girls were attendants to the queen.

Cyndee Kerstine, last year's queen, crowned the new royalty and presented a rhinestone crown, a bouquet of roses and a "Snow Queen" banner. Carla Beck introduced the candidates prior to the crowning.

The new queen is a top student in the homemaking department on the basis of scholarship. She is a member of the Pep Club, sings in the choir and has been in other activities. This is her second year of homemaking.

The ball raised around $100 to be turned over to the fund to bring a foreign exchange student to Wayne High next term. This is more than double the amount earned last year when bad weather plagued the winter ball.

Decorations in the north part of the auditorium represented a park with city park benches set among evergreens (discarded Christmas trees). The south part had a band shell where the crowning took place.

"Knights of Blue," high school combo from Plainview, played for the dance. Adviser Kay Chambers reported an orderly crowd of young people enjoying themselves immensely.

Will Attend Meetings

Supt. Francis Haun of Wayne High School will attend two meetings during the next two weeks. He will attend a North Central Association meeting in Lincoln Friday night and Saturday, being a member of the state advisory board which meets once a year. Feb. 11-16 he will attend a meeting of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City.

GORDON JORGENSEN didn't make a first down, nor did he get a free throw in fact all he received was three stitches above his eye in the Pierce Wayne game Friday night. Jorgensen was starting up court offensively when Doug Shelton, Pierce, "tied him up" for a jump ball. Other Wayne players in dark jerseys, at the left, Mark Johnson, Lynn Lessmann (23) and George Eynon at right. Dave Tietgen is barely visible over the shoulder of Pierce's Dave Brodhagen (No. 42 white). The other Pierce player in front of Eynon is Glen Herbigheimer.

Pierce Bluejays Adjust Defense to Nip Wayne Blue Devils Friday 64 to 55

Wayne High eaglers fell to Pierce Friday night 64 to 55 in a West Husker battle at Pierce. The defeat literally snuffed any hope Wayne may hold for conference laurels.

First quarter play found Harold Maciejewski's Blue Devils in complete control while racking up 20 points and holding Pierce to 8. Gordon Jorgensen and Dave Brown each hit two field goals and two free throws, Bob Morris hit for two, Lynn Lessmann for 3 points and Herb Swan cashed in on 3 free throws to account for first period scoring. Pierce's 6'5" Don Eldhardt was held scoreless in the period.

The Bluejays methodically changed their defense, halting the Devil's scoring rampage. Morris added three field goals and a pair of free throws and Jorgensen aided with two fielders for the 12 points Wayne netted in the second quarter. Meanwhile Pierce, having found a defense to their liking went to work on their offense outscoring the Blue Devils by five points and cutting Wayne's lead to 32-25 by halftime.

Big Don Eldhardt came out in Pierce's third quarter playing the role of spoiler and cashed in on 7 quick points. As Wayne attempted to stop him Larry Toelle and Greg Luebe took up the slack. With 1:06 left in the third quarter Pierce wrestled the lead at 43-41 to end the quarter. Swan, Brown, Jorgensen and Morris each hit on single fielders in the quarter to make Wayne's nine points with Morris adding the free throw.

Pierce maintained its momentum through the final period to win going away 64 to 55. Lessmann's three fielders and free throw and Jorgensen's field goal and five free throws was the only offense Wayne could muster in the period. The Bluejays meanwhile dumped in four field goals and hit on 13 of 18 free throws in the period for 21 points.

Game scoring honors went to Jorgensen with 19 points, followed by Morris with 13 and Lessmann with 10. Brown 8 and Swan 5. For Pierce it was Luebe with 16, Shelton 15, Eldhardt 13, Toelle 12 and Brodhagen 8.

In reserve action Wayne's fast break tore Pierce apart to the tune of 59 to 43. Wayne balanced out their scoring by quarters by racking up 14, 14, 17 and 14 while Pierce had first and fourth cold quarters of 9 and 4 points while scoring 16 and 14 in the second and third.

Leading the scoring parade for Wayne was Dave Tietgen with 16 followed by Chuck Fisher with 12 and Steve Kerl and Larry Hix with 10 each. Steve Johnson added 4, Joedy Hoogner 3, Tom Denesia 2 and Bernie Binger and Steve Hix 1 each.

Friday night Wayne travels to South Sioux City and on Saturday night Wayne and Columbus Scotus play the preliminary to the Wayne State Wesleyan clash. South Sioux has had their ups and downs the past few years and as Ray Casey rounds them into shape for this year they come into the Wayne game fresh from a win over Blair.

Leigh Surprises Winside in Meet

Tournament victories do not always go to the teams that are favored, making tournaments the thrillers they are. Leigh was supposed to lose to Winside in the Stanton Invitational Tuesday but LHS won the game 59-55.

Winside has three games left. The Wildcats play at Hartington Cedar Catholic Feb. 7 and at Hartington High Feb. 10. Final game is at home Feb. 17 against Emerson Hubbard.

In other first round results at Stanton, the host team beat Howells by 7 points. Battle Creek was edged by Clarkson 55-54 and Tilden got by Wakefield 49-48. Winside plays Battle Creek at 7 Thursday and Wakefield plays Howells at 7 Friday. Finals are Saturday.

Winside started strong against Leigh, leading 19-16 after one period. By halftime the Red and White led 33-26 and after three quarters the winners had gone ahead 46-42. Each team made 13 points the final period.

Randy Jacobsen was the game's leading scorer, hitting 24 for WHS. Head Wacker hit 14. For Leigh, four players were in double figures, Darwin Franzen with 17, Kenlon Kohnes 14, Doug Morfeld 13 and Steve Brown 10.

Reed Wacker led Winside in rebounds with 12. Keith Krueger had 7, Jacobson 4, Bob Wacker 2 and Dave Witt 1.

Wayne State Wildcats Defeat Peru; Next Three Games Scheduled at Home

Wayne basketball fans have not had many chances to see the Wayne State team in recent weeks, but three home games in a row will display an upcoming squad.

Sophomore forward Dave Johnston got all his 12 points after replacing Joel Parks, who departed on fouls in mid-second half. Hope also was a foul victim, with 8 1/2 minutes left, and Ron Hintz left, with 4:30 remaining. Svenningson's nerves stretched a bit tauter with three starters out as his reserve strength has not always been stout. This time it came through.

Peru also lost three players by fouls, but all within the last three minutes.

The victory revived Wayne's conference hopes for at least a high finish. Now 2-3, the Cats have three NCC games left, two at home against Peru and Kearney.

Chadron leads at 3-0, Peru is 2-1, Kearney 1-2, Hastings 0-2. Hastings entertains Chadron in a pair this weekend.

Unlike the last Wayne victory at Peru, a 58-56 squeak, this one was decisive after the first eight minutes. Five Wildcats scored well over their averages, led by Bob Strathman's 25. Fourteen of those points, in less than seven minutes, rocketed Wayne to a 17-point lead late in the first half.

It was a pity Wayne folks did not see hometown Dean Eloffson turn in the finest game of his freshman season. A regular starter now, he contributed 13 points to the first-half assault and added seven more by the finale. His moves were crisp and aggressive, including several shots that battled through rugged defense.

As the Wildcats charged out of the half-dressed room conference, someone bellowed, "Let's win this one for Hope. It's his last trip down here." And senior center Bob Hope responded with 12 of his 20 points, a key factor in protecting the 47-36 half lead.

As veteran Wayne-Peru observers expected, Peru did not play dead in the second half. The hosts

Wayne Teams in Three Wins Against Hoskins

Wayne Boys Club teams defeated Hoskins in three games Tuesday night at Hoskins. The Wayne fourth-fifth won 26-13, the sixth 64-12 and the seventh 26-17.

Richard Crouse had 7 to lead Hoskins sixth grade, Bobby Hoppman and Billy Langenberg adding 2 and Larry Anderson 1. For Wayne, Marty Hansen had 9, Pete Peterson, Mark Johnson and Charles Roll and 8, Doug Sturm 6, Shane Giese 5, Billy Brown, Roger Saul, Bruce Zimmerman and Glen Biltoff 4 and Dave Scheel and Earl Overin 2.

In the oldest age group, John Behner had 6, Kevin Johnson 4, Darwin Smith and Larry Bruggeman 3 and

Firemen Show Rural Pupils Resuscitation Gary Klindt New Winside Teacher

Two members of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department, Harvey Brasch and Bill Kugler, used the lifelike dummy, "Resusc-Annie," to demonstrate resuscitation Monday morning at District 51 school west of Wayne.

The men showed how the dummy works, used plastic disposable paper to let each pupil try resuscitation on the dummy, used a mock-up to show how air is forced down the throat and gave other information on life-saving methods and when they should be used.

Youngsters from all classes in the two-teacher school were rapt students for the talk. Mrs. Judy Peters and Mrs. Nancy Powers arranged the demonstration.

Wayne firemen will take the dummy to any area school, to meetings and to special sessions to demonstrate. They have found there is no better way to prove the value of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation than with the Norwegian "girl" who takes in air when resuscitation is given properly and who shows no reaction when it is not given properly.

Klindt is a native of Harlan, Ia., and was graduated from Harlan High School in 1962. He attended Northwest Missouri State one semester and then transferred to Wayne State College, graduating Dec. 20, 1966, with a bachelor of arts degree with a double major, physical education and industrial arts. He lettered two years in wrestling.

He is married to the former Judy Pedersen of Harlan. They have one child, a daughter, two years old. Mrs. Klindt teaches in Laurel and the family lives in Wayne.

Klindt teaches a girls' physical education for three classes covering first through tenth grades at Winside. He is head coach in girls' volleyball, girls' track and boys' wrestling. He has two classes in industrial arts.

Arnold Maurer, Wayne, district representative for Aid Association for Lutherans, placed over a million dollars of life insurance during 1966. AAL is a fraternal life insurance society based in Appleton, Wis., serving Lutherans in Canada and the US.

YOUNGEST PERSON present for the Dixon soup supper sponsored by St. Anne's Catholic Church Sunday was Toni Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stanley. Toni was too tired to stay awake for soup.

Young, Old Attend Dixon Soup Supper

Young and old were present Sunday evening for the soup supper served by St. Anne's Catholic Church, Dixon, in the Dixon Auditorium. The church sponsored the event on a trial basis this year and may make it an annual affair.

Toni Stanley, 4 months, daughter of the Dale Stanleys, was probably the youngest one present. Among the older folks present were Mr. and Mrs. J.C. McCaw, both over 75, M.P. Kavanaugh, almost 80, and his wife, in her 70's.

Men, women and children helped prepare, serve, and clean up. Oyster stew, chili and vegetable soup were the main courses with pie, coffee, milk, crackers, carrots and celery the extras.

Assessing Work Will Continue Saturdays

County Assessor Henry Arp reports a big turnout for assessing work Saturday in contrast to previous weekends when about a half dozen showed up. Because of increased work for assessing personnel, the assessment work will continue at the sheriff's former residence.

People have been coming in all days in a pretty steady stream. There has been some waiting but in general the operation has moved smoothly with assessing going on continuously during office hours.

The sale of license tabs for plates continues slow in the office of County Treasurer Leona Bahde. With another month in which to get tabs, there appears to be no rush to pay for taxes and tabs.

Going to New Guinea

Rev. and Mrs. Bennett Kulp and five children are to begin missionary service in New Guinea soon after two years of training. They will serve among native tribes in the central highlands. Mrs. Kulp is the daughter of the Lenus Andersons, Sioux City, but grew up at Laurel, graduated from LHS and attended Grace Bible Institute, Omaha. Her husband is a native of Pennsylvania. The Kulp family left Feb. 10, arrive in Australia Mar. 6 and fly 2,500 miles to Goroka, New Guinea from there. Alvin Anderson, Dixon, is an uncle of Mrs. Kulp.

ST. ANNE'S CHURCH, Dixon, served a soup supper Sunday. Among those at one table (seated, from left) were M. P. Kavanaugh, Lily Mills, A. E. Mills, Mrs. J. C. McCaw, Mr. McCaw, Dale Stanley, Father John Rizzo and Mrs. Kavanaugh. Two waitresses are Barbara Creamer (left) and Lorraine Stanley (between her father and Pastor Rizzo).

Where Do Most Mishaps Occur?

Where do most accidents occur? Class members studying the procedure for defensive driving learned Tuesday night at Concord that 40 per cent of all accidents occur at intersections.

Trooper J. L. O'Dell of the Nebraska Safety Patrol continues to pour out a wealth of information on how to be a safer driver and not get into situations that lead to accidents. His course at Concord is in its second week and the course in Wayne got underway Tuesday night.

Here are some of the bits of information class members learned at Concord Monday: A road with spotted patches of ice is far more dangerous than one that is 100 per cent snow-packed; park lights are not legally used in place of headlights on a moving vehicle;

If you stop to make a left turn, keep your wheels pointed straight ahead so if a car hits you from behind you will merely go forward instead of to the left and into the lane of an oncoming car with a resulting head-on crash; very poor drivers slide to screeching halts at stop signs or stop lights;

Passing anyone giving a right turn signal is dangerous—even the best driver may absent-mindedly give a right turn signal when he intends to turn left so passing could mean an accident; head rests are recommended to prevent whiplash in case you are struck from behind by another vehicle.

A moving film, "Saturday Place," made in Nebraska, was shown. It is so good it has been purchased for showing in 22 other states. It depicts teenagers with liquor having a great time. After the wreck, one is dead, one a cripple for life and the other mentally scarred by what he caused. He can only dream of the good times that might have been, never to be again because of what he had done.

There are three Wayne County Public Power District employees taking the course with fees paid by the district. There were 22 present Monday, which is more than attended the first meeting.

This week, the way to avoid accidents with vehicles coming up behind and those coming head-on were covered. Next week intersection accidents and accidents while passing or being passed will be covered.

Far more information is given than can be covered in a mere news article. More classes will be offered to give more residents a chance to help themselves to a bigger slice of life.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Beat 'em 'All 4-H club met Jan. 26 at District 88. Officers chosen were John Claus, president; Duane Backstrom, vice president; Jean Meyer, secretary-treasurer, and Nancy Meyer, reporter. Felix Dorcey is leader with Lawrence Backstrom as assistant.

Phadet Gawsombat, foreign exchange student, showed pictures of his native land, Thailand. Next meeting is Mar. 2. Nancy Meyer, reporter.

Projects to be mentioned include the new high school, Scout recreation area, municipal building improvements and other projects aimed at making Wayne a better city.

Many Nebraska and Iowa communities are to be saluted in the series, one each day. Chamber Manager Wanda Owens was contacted by WOW to supply information for Friday's salutes to Wayne.

For example, in farming: Minter poses the question, where should a farmer apply a certain fertilizer—close to a corn stalk, for instance, or some distance away?

The answer is found when scientists treat a fertilizer with radioisotopes, then check the corn at intervals with a radiation detector to learn how soon the fertilizer reaches the plant, and how much.

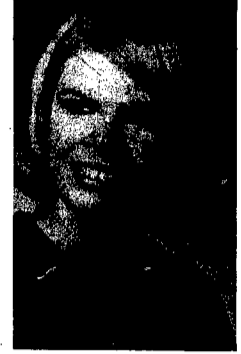

Automotive engineers can determine the rate of engine wear by treating oil with radioisotopes, then checking the progress of radiation at key points. This process takes minutes whereas the method of running an engine for a long period and tearing it apart for measurements takes weeks.

These are but two applications of radioisotopes.

Concord Girl Wins Honor in Homemaking

Nancy Rastede, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rastede, Concord, has been named winner of the Betty Crocker "Homemaker of America" award at Allen High School.

She finished first among homemaking students at Allen in a test given senior girls Dec. 6. She is now eligible for state and national scholarship awards.

Most schools of the state will have representatives in the contest competing for a scholarship, an encyclopedia set for the school and other honors. The state winner will get a trip to Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D.C., next spring to compete for $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships.

 taught for one year in Dixon sixth grade. He also managed the Dixon baseball team one year.
 He attended Wayne State Teachers College, Seattle Pacific College and Omaha University. He is working on his master's degree at Nebraska University and will attend school there this summer.
 After teaching at Dixon one year he taught fifth grade at Fremont two years, coming here in 1963 as principal and half-time teacher at West Elementary. He has been fulltime principal since 1964.
 His wife is also a teacher, instructing in a rural school this year. The Parks have three children.

Supt. Francis Haun said the school board is now seeking an elementary principal for the K-4 grade school. A man who will be able to work with the federal programs as coordinator or in the role of instructor.
 Teachers' contracts are to be prepared in mid-February. They are to be returned signed or unsigned by the first of March, Supt. Haun said.

Winside Feed -

 cake feed being the main topic of business. There were 23 present for an exceptional meal served by ladies of the church.
 Plans for the pancake feed call for serving from 4 to 8 p.m. No other events are scheduled that evening so unless there is a bad break in the weather, the feed will be held.
 A new secretary has been appointed, Rosemary Mintz. She takes the place of Marilyn Monk, who is now living in Norfolk and is Mrs. Wagner. She had been secretary for several years.
 Cliff Burris, president of WCC, reports Mrs. Paul Zofka and her committees went way out in preparing the meal and decorations. Tables were decorated with flags, each one bearing a slogan pertaining to a betterment project. Centennial cakes were also on the tables.
 In the only other business of the evening, club members voted to ask the town board to set aside a block for sledding. One of the hilly streets in Winside would be shut off to motor vehicles whenever there is ample snow for sledding. Final decision on the matter is up to the village board.

Business Notes

Jerry Bose, Wayne, is one of 37 of the most successful newer agents of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. from 23 states in Milwaukee Jan. 23-Feb. 3 for a two-week career school at the firm's home office. The agents are studying advanced areas of life insurance underwriting.

Seat Belt -

 went off the right side of the road, swerved back across both lanes of traffic to the left side of the road and rolled over two or three times before coming to a stop upside down in a 35-foot ravine.
 The car out of control broke off a guard rail post on the right side, clipped off another on the left side, hits guard rail and then went over the embankment. Drugs, money and other items were thrown from the station wagon as it tumbled.
 Trooper J. L. O'Dell, who investigated, said the late model station wagon was completely demolished. He added he was unable to find "a straight piece of metal" on the vehicle.

Hatch, who said he wears his seat belt at all times while driving, suffered a bruised head, bruised left leg and arm laceration. He was hospitalized overnight in Lutheran Hospital, Norfolk, for observation and was then released.

Educator Talks -

 the first district in the state to adopt this concept. Kindergarten through fourth grade will be the grade school at the present West Elementary, fifth through eighth grade will be middle school at the present high school and ninth through twelfth will be high school at the new structure on West Seventh.
 Dr. Halander will spend Thursday with the administration, representatives of the state department of education, faculty members, school board members, social studies teachers, science committee and a curriculum group. He is brought here through efforts of Mid-Continent Regional Educational Laboratories.
 The Kansas educator is an authority on the middle school concept and is helping plan the set-up here. He will spend two days here this week and then will be here off and on at various times until the plan becomes operational.

Laurel Fire -

 quarter of a mile was the longest.
 When they finally reached home they found the girls were safe. The girls had found the barn fire at about 10:30, called neighbors, Frank and Henry Noelle, who summoned the Carroll and Laurel fire departments. Marcia had gone to the barn to allow stock to get out if possible but did no more than open the barn door to let cows out, wisely deciding to stay away from the overheated structure.
 Carroll and Laurel firemen were joined by the Belden fire department to fight the flames. The three departments managed to put out a fire on the roof of a hog house full of sows and baby pigs, thus saving a lot of animals. They also saved a stack of hay next to a corn crib.
 Lost to the flames was the big barn with all contents, five sows, 80 little pigs and four haystacks. Almost everything was covered by insurance. The Smith garage was blistered by the heat but was undamaged otherwise. Cause of the fire was undetermined.
 Firemen stayed at the scene until around 3 a.m. The fire continued to smolder through Monday but the barn was gone and there was little left to damage. Hay was moved and neighbors showed up to do what they could to help the Smiths get back to normal farming.
 The Smiths live 7 miles north and almost 6 miles west from Wayne or 4 miles north and a little over 3 miles east of Carroll. They are in the Laurel area and on the Laurel telephone line and mail route.

Swine Day -

 average yard yield per slaughtered hog from 33.8 pounds in 1959 to about 27 pounds in 1966, Dr. Baker reported. Assuming that lean cuts of pork replacing the lard are valued at approximately 30 cents per pound, the value per pig raised today is increased about two dollars, a total of $9 million for the state on the 4.5 million pigs slaughtered in 1965.
 The people-to-people campaign with pork involving the establishment of the "Husker Chop" as a prestige cut credits the industry with "one of the most outstanding pork merchandising and marketing programs in the nation," Dr. Baker said. He warned, however, that Nebraska is below national average in commitment per unit of gross income from agricultural commodities to research.

Dr. Leo Lucas spoke on use of ultrasonics in swine improvement; Mr. M. J. Twiehaus spoke on ulcers in swine; Dr. E. R. Peo spoke on grinding and processing swine rations; Frank Hussey told of his management and building program; films were shown; displays were set up; a panel discussion was held; and other features were offered.
 The Wayne Chamber of Commerce joined in sponsoring the program. Lunch was served at noon.

March of Dimes Starts This Week

The Wayne County March of Dimes started this week. Mrs. Perry Johnson, Carroll is county chairman and Pat Gross treasurer. Mrs. Basil Osburn is Wayne city chairman.
 Envelopes and letters complete with return addresses have been sent to merchants. Farmers have been sent pamphlets and "key men" will call on the ones on their lists.
 Special donations can be taken to the State National Bank, in care of Pat Gross, or can be mailed in. Information on checks, donations and memorials can be secured from him.
 The March of Dimes seeks to conquer birth defects just as it has conquered polio. Some of the money given will be kept locally and some will go into research projects to see what can be done to eliminate the tragedy of birth defects.

Parachute -
 and he faces a long recuperation period. He had been flown to the hospital by helicopter following the mishap.
 The address for the Winside High School graduate while in the hospital will be: Pfc. Gene Langenberg, US Army Hospital, Ward 16-AB, Ft. Campbell, Ky. 42223. He will appreciate hearing from friends and acquaintances while recuperating.

Fire House -

 in Wried's Second Addition east of Dearborn and between Seventh and Fifth. John Surber received a remodeling permit for 415 West Sixth and Agricola Chemical Plant relocation to land east of Wayne County Grain (Whitney's) was approved.
 Two sanitary sewer districts came up for consideration. Assessments were revised on District No. 29 following the hearings. A resolution of necessity was passed calling for creation of District 30 which would serve the Wried Additions.
 An "aerial lift" is sought for the power and light department. It would be used in several ways on line and other distribution work. The city engineer will prepare an estimate of cost to present to the council.
 A Layne-Western representative was present to offer a plan for lowering water well No. 3 ten feet and for installing a new bowl assembly. The plan was approved.

 Wayne Ministerial Association asked the council to limit Sunday dancing at the City Auditorium. The council decided this was a matter for individual families and their churches to decide upon.
 The council is to pay the Chamber of Commerce $150 a month instead of $100 a month from now on. All of the extra money is to be earmarked to be used solely for industrial development.
 Finally, the engineer presented a report on proposed power rate changes. The city power committee will give the plan further study and report back to the full council.

Thai Youth Speaker Monday to Kiwanians

Phadet Gawsombat, AFS exchange student from Thailand spoke at Wayne Kiwanis Club Monday noon. He has speaking engagements at several other meetings the next few weeks.
 The Kiwanians were told about life in Thailand and were shown slides of that country. After five months in this country, Phadet speaks much improved English and has a pleasing delivery.
 Dr. J. M. Brown, host father for Phadet, was a guest along with Dr. Sidney Hillier, new chiropractor here, former member of Kiwanis International in Montana, and Steve Holt, new Standard Oil Co. bulk oil distributor in Wayne.

Two projects coming up are the Nebraska-Iowa district mid-winter conference in Omaha Saturday which several will attend and the pancake feed Tuesday, details of which are in another story.

The names of Bernice Moody and Patricia Carnes were omitted from the Wayne State Dean's Honor Roll published in last week's Wayne Herald.

Travels to Canada

Edward Weseman of the Leslie community of Wayne County is awaiting a call to the service. While waiting, he decided to fly to Vancouver, B.C., and take a camper to the Northwest Territories where he and friends will use geiger counters looking for mineral deposits. Frozen and muskeg land with many lakes abounding in trout make up the region around the McKenzie River where they are camping. Many acres of land owned by an uncle in that region are still unexplored.

Plan Dental Workshop

A day-long dental workshop is planned in Lincoln Friday, Feb. 24. Since it is open to lay people, several Wayne residents plan to attend to learn more about fluoridation of water. Sponsored by the Nebraska Dental Association, the session will include a program in the morning, panel discussion in the afternoon and dividing up into groups on the basis of sizes of cities for further discussions of mutual problems.

Art Work Showing at College This Week

An exhibition of art works ranging from 15th century woodcuts to contemporary prints will visit the Wayne State campus Thursday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Center.
 And the works are for sale, according to Richard Lesh of the WSC art faculty. Among them are original lithographs, etchings, woodcuts, linocuts and silk screens, all of interest to art connoisseurs. Prices, by the way, range from $8 to $3,000, says the publicity from London Grafica Arts, Detroit, manager of the exhibition.

Quarter Million Poisons Offered

How many products for home use are potentially harmful in one way or another? Ten? Fifteen? One Hundred? One Thousand?
 You're getting closer! The American Medical Association estimates there are a quarter of a million products for home use that are potentially harmful.
 Margaret Ann Stahly, area extension agent at Concord's Northeast Station, is setting a series of meetings to review the farm and home products that are dangerous. All residents of the area are invited to attend one of the sessions.

Meetings are scheduled Feb. 7 at 1:30 in the KC Hall, Hartington, and 7:30 in the courthouse, Wayne; Feb. 8 at Northeast Station, Concord, 1:30; and Feb. 9 at Fire Hall, Pender, 1:30, and Legion Hall, Jackson, 7:30.
 Agents such as agricultural chemicals increase the number of products that are dangerous to man and animal, Miss Stahly points out. The problem of accidental poisoning faces both rural and urban people. Although exact figures are not available, it is estimated 1,300 people die each year from accidental poisoning. One million are involved in poisoning each year and 200,000 suffer disabling injury. Most of the victims are 14 or under and children in the "under 5" age group lead the list.

 University of Nebraska, Northeast Station, is sponsoring the meetings to discuss safe use and storage of poisonous products commonly found around the home and farm.

Four 'Clerks' Serve

Dixon's Town Council

Don Knoell resigned as town clerk at Dixon the past week. The town is to be served until April by the four town board members who will handle the clerk's duties.

Knoell and his family have moved to Kansas. They left their home recently in a fire and decided to move to the place where he is working.

Lowell Saunders, Frank Tomason, J. C. McCaw and John Young are town board members. Rather than name a replacement to serve until the municipal election in April, they decided to operate without a clerk.

Knoell has also been a town board member. Traditionally the Dixon clerk is named from the council membership so one of the board members after the April election will be chosen clerk.

Trio of Accidents Reported in Wayne

Three accidents were investigated by Wayne police the past week. One involves a hit-run case and the other two were attributed to ice. Two occurred Jan. 24. The first was at Third and Douglas. Mrs. Marion Titze, Wayne, stopped at a stop sign. Lyle Grone, Wayne, had chains on his car but still could not stop on the ice and his car struck the stopped Titze vehicle. Damage came to almost $31 to the Grone car, according to Chief of Police, Vern Fairchild, investigating officer.

In the 900 block on Walnut the same day, Stanley

Thorpe, Grand Island, was driving a car owned by Earl Utesch, LeMars, Ia. Thorpe's car slid on the ice, striking the parked car of Richard Braunger, Wayne. Chief Fairchild investigated.

Jan. 28 in the 200 block on West Third a hit-run case was reported. A white car was seen leaving the scene after going left of center while westbound and striking the parked car of Keith Stingley, Plainview. Report on the accident was made by Officer Keith Reed.

Carroll Firemen Get Call to Stack Fire

Carroll Rural Fire Department was summoned to the Merton Jones farm one mile south and four miles west of Carroll Friday afternoon. A hay stack was on fire.

The firemen were unable to get the blaze out but stood by for a long period to douse the hay. There was smoldering fire and some smoke for a long time after the fire but periodic checks were made to see that the fire did not start up again.

John Williams discovered the fire as he was driving by. It was thought the flames had been burning for some time prior to that as wood on the fence was burned up. An electric fence next to the stack was blamed for the fire.

Carroll Businessman

Overturns at Hoskins
A Carroll businessman, Sam Zimmerman, operator of grocery stores in Carroll and Dixon, overturned in his truck north of Hoskins on the former route of Highway 35, now a county road, Tuesday of last week.

Zimmerman, accompanied by Bob Chapman, Carroll, was northbound when he came over the crest of a hill and met a southbound truck. He swerved, skidded on ice and went off the road on the east side. The truck came to a stop atop a fence and on its left side. Neither the driver nor the passenger was injured. The driver of the other truck stopped, gave the two a lift to Carroll and went on his way.

Zimmerman's truck was lightly damaged. One door was bent up somewhat and the "head liner" on the empty truck box was damaged. A Nebraska Safety Patrolman investigated.

Winside Woman Falls, Suffers Broken Wrist

Mrs. Richard Jugel, Winside, suffered a broken wrist Tuesday of last week when she fell on ice. She is now wearing a cast and will have to wear it for five or six weeks. She was enroute to town when she slipped on the glaze-like ice on the sidewalk between her place and the Herb Peters house. She was able to get up and get to the Peters home and they summoned a doctor.

After x-rays were taken, it was found her right wrist was broken. The cast was put on her hand extending from fingertips to the elbow. Mrs. Elsie Nelson stays with Mrs. Jugel so she is not alone. Her son, Alfred Jugel, Laurel, came Saturday to be with his mother over the weekend.

Windbreak Plans for Farms to Be Offered

Windbreak planning for farms in area counties can be worked out at Soil Conservation Service offices, according to C. W. Yost, work unit conservationist. Farmers should contact the offices in Wayne, Cedar, Dixon, Thurston or any other county in which they reside.

Application blanks for trees can be secured at offices of county agents or ASCS. Cost-sharing plans are available.

Yost points out that a recent study showed a farm home protected by a windbreak on the north could be heated for 22.9 per cent less than one exposed to wind. A home protected on three sides may gain savings as high as 30 per cent.

Dairymen, stock feeders and breeders find reduced feed bills result from windbreaks. A group of 86 livestock feeders came up with an annual savings of more than $800. 62 livestock breeders saved $500 a year and 53 dairymen saved over $600 a year.

If you are interested, contact the ASCS, the SCS or the county agent in your county.

Group Seeks to Pay for Art Work

Sigma Tau Delta, WAC honorary, is sponsoring a two-night showing of "Flight of the Phoenix" Feb. 14 and 15 at the Gay Theatre in an effort to earn the remaining money needed to pay for a new bust of John Nehardt.

Members will sell tickets in advance two Saturdays, Feb. 4 and Feb. 11, at the Wayne Book Store. They will earn money only on ticket sales made in advance.

The bust was made by William Cordner, now at Colorado State College, Greeley. It is to be put on display at Joslyn Art Museum, Omaha, this spring and then will be brought to the WSC campus for permanent display.

Cast in bronze, it will be one entry in the centennial art contest and show at Joslyn. It is completed but additional funds are needed to pay for the work.

One Cast Comes Off;

Another Cast Put On

One member of the Myron Deck family, Hoskins, lost a cast recently. Another member of the family had a cast put on last week. Hugh "Skip" Deck broke a leg playing football last summer and had to wear a cast from his chest to his ankle until a few weeks ago. Last week his brother, Doug, acquired a need for a cast.

Doug, freshman at Winside High School and one of the leading scorers on the reserve basketball team, suffered a broken hand Monday of last week. He went in for a layup, hit the mat on the wall and broke his left hand in two places.

His hand was put in a cast from palm to elbow. In addition, the cast extends in an arc to encase the middle finger. He will have to wear the cast for several weeks and will be unable to play basketball the rest of this season.

Wayne Man Will Help

Develop Girls' Camp

Richard Lesh, Wayne State College staff member, is a member of the committee planning development of Camp Crossed Arrows along the Elkhorn River near Nickerson. Robert Peters, Oakland, is chairman of the seven-man committee.

The development of the 130-acre tract is projected over a period of five years. Tents and platforms for 128 Girl Scouts, dining hall, all-weather troop house and camp office and a swimming pool are in the plans.

This summer the camp will get ten 12 by 14 tents and platforms, a new unit wash shelter and temporary showers. A primitive established camp will be held June 18-30 for 64 girls and a troop encampment July 16-20 is planned for girls in the 19 counties served.

First Fire Call of Year to Student Car

Wayne Volunteer Fire Department answered its first fire call of the year Wednesday evening of last week. A car owned by a Wayne State College student was afire.

The car was parked near Melodee Lanes when smoke was noticed. The alarm was sounded but by the time the fire trucks could get there the owner and firemen living in the area had the fire out.

David Steinauer, Waterloo, is owner of the vehicle. The fire, of undetermined origin, burned the front seat of the car.

Dental Health Week

Being Marked Locally

Children's Dental Health Week is being observed nationally and locally Feb. 5-11. Trying to do their utmost to save teeth while the saving is easy are the dentists of Wayne.

Importance of daily dental care is the feature. More than 80,000 dentists of the American Dental Association will take part.

Wayne dentists are urging these points of care: Brush teeth right after eating—seven snacks; cut down on sweets—decay causers; have regular dental care; and drink fluoridated water—since Wayne water is not fluoridated, dentists can recommend fluoride treatments and dentifrices containing fluoride.

Parents who have their children observe these rules may find they can benefit from better care too. It's a week dentists feel should be observed 52 times a year rather than just once.

Newspaper of 60 Years Ago Reveals What Life in Carroll Area Was Like

A copy of The Carroll Index, the 33rd issue of its seventh year, was brought in the past week by Tom Roberts of the Wayne County ASCS office. The paper gives an insight into what life in Carroll was like 60 years ago.

Dated No. 1, 1907, the paper was an eight page publication, four pages completely "boiler plate," two pages mostly "patent" and the remaining two pages strictly local.

Carroll markets included these prices: Oats 40¢; barley 60¢; eggs 14¢; hens $9; corn 47¢; butter 19¢; hogs $5; wheat 90¢; and flax $1.02.

Local advertisers included: Williams & Son, painters and paperhangers; John Shannon, cattle buyer; First National Bank of Carroll, E. R. Gurney president; Carroll Stock (sale) Pavilion; Wm. B. Hornby & Co., furs and supplies; Saunders-Estrand Elevator Co., hogs, coal and grain; Fred Koester, optician at the drug store;

Bredemeyer & Tracht—The German Store, clothing; J. J. Melick & Son, lumber; Ora Stephens, livery and feed barn; Koester Drug Co. (Dausche Apotheke); Beebe & Johnson, clothing and produce; Drs. Texley & Lovic, over First National Bank, residence phone 1, office phone 11 Richard Closson (editor), attorney at law; Carroll Dray Line (Fred Robinson); W. H. Belford Barber Shop; Trautwein Bros., City Meat Market (fresh salt and cured meats); and Merchants State Bank, Winside.

Advertisements on the inside pages were "plate" and included Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; Fletcher's Castoria; St. Jacobs Oil (for pain); W. L. Douglas Shoes ($3 and $3.50—the best in the world); Carter's Little Liver Pills; Mica Axle Grease; Dodd's Kidney Pills; Dr. T. Felix Gouraud's Oriental Cream or Magical Beautifier (removes tan, pimples, freckles, moth patches, rash, skin diseases and every blemish on beauty); and Putnam Fadeless Dyes. Jokes inside included these two: "Mary couldn't take that outing trip without her husband." "Why not?" "All her waists button down the back."

Mr. Subbubs—So you got rid of the girl at last. Mrs. Subbubs—Yes; she left a few minutes ago. Mr. Subbubs—Huh! She certainly took her own time. Mrs. Subbubs—Yes, and our time, too. The parlor clock is gone.

National news included these items: A bill to increase the pensions of all widows of civil war veterans now drawing $8 per month or less to $12 per month will be introduced in the senate by Sen. McCumber of North Dakota.

Oklahoma will be admitted to the United States Nov. 16; Sioux City market prices were beeves $5-6 and top hogs $5.50; the crew of a ship that set sail from Philadelphia for the Philippines around South America is thought to have been eaten by cannibals near Terra del Fuego where the vessel grounded; about 1,500 people in Kartagh, Russia, were buried beneath a mountain that shook loose during an earthquake.

Nebraska news included: Corn has yielded as high as 50 bushels per acre with the average 40; wheat has yielded as high as 53 bushels on dry land and 76 bushels on irrigated land; a Springfield farm home worth $2,000 burned and a Sarpy County barn full of 50 tons of hay and all implements burned with loss estimated at $5,000.

Following are some Carroll items as written: Mrs. George Yaryan accompanied by a number of little folks of the Busy Bee Society explored the capital of the county last Saturday; Misses Celia and Ella Buck are enjoying a vacation. Their schools were dismissed last Friday for a month during corn picking;

William J. Bryan speaks at the opera house at Wayne tonight. The gentleman from Platte country still has a longing desire to become a president of this fair land;

The waffle supper given Monday night at the AOUW Hall by the boys of the Methodist Sunday School was a grand success in every way. The receipts of the evening were $26. The boys had some money in the treasury and with the proceeds of the supper will probably have more than half of the money needed to build their class room at the church;

A sheet and pillow case party was given last evening at the Chas. Beebe home by a number of young ladies;

Tuesday morning at his home in the settlement, five miles west and two south, William Hamer met with a serious accident. While he was hitching his team, one of the animals kicked him terrifically in the ribs. The result was two fractured ribs and internal injuries;

Reader ad: Just received a carload of slack coal. You had better get a load now while we have it, for the hogs. Carroll Lumber & Grain Co.

Along with this paper, Roberts brought in a copy of an article telling of the observance of the 50th anniversary observation at See NEWSPAPER — pg. 5

Youth Groups' Funds Aid Needy of World

John Tollakson, adult sponsor for the senior high church youth groups of Wayne that raised money for CARE at Thanksgiving time, has received word from CARE officials indicating the money went to many countries to aid needy.

The officials put $114 into food crusade packages to fight chronic hunger; placed $100 in school supplies to further education in developing countries; added $50 for emergency distribution to refugees in South Vietnam (where over 700,000 have been left homeless); and provided $50 for medical aid to needy through MEDICO.

Costa Rica received money for a village library package through CARE and a physical education kit; Sierra Leone, India, Korea and Ecuador received food crusade packages; and Afghanistan received a class kit and class equipment.

In all, the young people from several of the Wayne churches voluntarily raised $314 for CARE. They had some choice in how and where their donated money would be used and CARE reported back to give them an idea of how far their money would go and how many countries would benefit.

Winside Has One of Better Nights While Romping to Defeat of Allen

Winside's Wildcats had one of their better nights Friday in overcoming an out-manned but never-say-die Allen Eagle quintet 79-55 on the WHS court. Allen gained some satisfaction in a victory in the reserve game.

Coach Dan Cahill's charges have only three games and two or three tournaments to go. They play in the Stanton Invitational this week, go to Hartington Cedar Catholic Feb. 7, to Hartington High Feb. 10 and close at home against Emerson-Hubbard Feb. 17. The district and state tournaments follow.

Friday night against Allen, Winside never trailed. It was 26-10 after one quarter 19-24 at the half and 69-48 going into the final stanza. Both coaches substituted freely the final period.

At one point in the second quarter Winside led 34-20 and then outscored the visitors 15-4 to move to a 49-24 lead. Allen came back with a surge of its own in the third quarter. Trailing 67-33, the Blue and Gold rallied to out-score Winside 15-2 and pulled up to a 69-48 deficit.

Leading rebounder of the evening was Allen's Mike Roeber who pulled the ball down 20 times. Dennis Schlines had 8, Dale Jackson 7, Jim Ellis and Bob Anderson 3, John Abts and Charles Geiger 2 and David Abts and Kevin Hill 1.

For Winside, Keith Krueger had 15 rebounds, Randy Jacobsen had 10, Reed Wacker 7, Don Longe and Bob Wacker 5, Dave Witt 4, Kirk Troutman 3, Mark Witt and Bob Dangberg 2 and Scott Duering 1.

Allen stole the ball four times, Jackson getting 2 and Roeber and Anderson 1 each. Schlines had 2 assists and Roeber, Jackson, D. Abts and Anderson 1 apiece.

For Winside there were 13 steals, Dangberg having 3, Jacobsen, D. Witt and R. Wacker 2 and Krueger, B. Wacker, Troutman and Bob Jackson 1. Krueger had 6 assists, D. Witt 5, Dangberg 3, B. Wacker and Longe 2 and R. Wacker and Troutman 1.

Leading scorer in the game was R. Wacker with 26 points for Winside. Jim Ellis was tops for Allen with 21. Jacobsen had 15, Krueger 12 and D. Witt 11 for the Wildcats. Roebber poured through 15 for the Eagles. Jim Ellis hit 9 of 9 final shots and Mike Roebber hit 7 of 8 to help the AHS cause.

Winside Tourney Pairings Given

The annual Winside Invitational freshman-sophomore basketball tournament is to be held Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 13, 15 and 16. Pairings were announced this week.

An eighth team could not be lined up so Winside was given a first-round bye. In games Monday, Wakefield meets Norfolk Catholic at 6, Ponca plays Hartington Cedar Catholic at 7:30 and Hartington meets, Cole-ridge at 9.

Semi-final games are at 7 and 8:30 Wednesday. Finals will be played Thursday with the Wednesday night losers playing for consolation at 7 and the championship (at 8:30). Winside High School's W Club is sponsoring the tournament to raise funds for a new electric scoreboard for the football field. Details on the tournament will be given in next week's paper.

Winside Wrestlers Lose to Wakefield

Wayne Boys Club Has Own Betterment Plan

Meeting Tuesday night of last week, members of Wayne Boys Club outlined some ambitious plans for making the youth center a better place. With 65 full members, the club aims to drop some whose dues are not paid by Feb. 2.

A pool table will be added to the center facilities if the boys have their way. They plan to hold a teenage dance to raise funds needed to purchase the table. They also want to pay for having the "gun machine" fixed.

Three campouts for three age groups are planned. One will be for those in sixth grade and under, another for seventh and eighth grades and the third for ninth grade and up. They will be held in March, April and May.

Intramural league basketball is scheduled following the end of school cage seasons. A new plan for making games more even would cut the margin of lead in half after two quarters in each game—for instance, a team leading by 10 points would have its lead cut to 5 points at halftimes. Winners of the league will play all-stars from the other teams at the end of the season, according to Director Hank Overlin.

SPORTS

WSC Forfeits Last Fall's Win Over SSC

Wayne State College announced Friday that it has forfeited its first football game of the 1966 season to Southern State College of South Dakota.

In a letter to Southern officials, Wayne's director of athletics, Dr. Dale Pennybaker, said the college faculty athletic committee voted unanimously Wednesday to forfeit the game because the Wayne team used two ineligible players.

Dr. Pennybaker said Wayne athletics officials had been informed that both players had another year of eligibility. However, this information was found incorrect, and neither player participated in any games after the first.

Wayne defeated Southern State, 26-13, and won five of its seven other games, including all four in the Nebraska College Conference. With the forfeit, Wayne's record now is revised to five wins, three losses.

The record books will now show it as a loss, but to the players and coaches it will always be considered a win.

MRS. JAYCEES served chili Thursday night. Among the families were the Jim Keatings and the Bob Johnsons. Mr. and Mrs. Keating and Mr. Johnson and Craig.

Mrs. Jaycees Serve Dinner to Hundreds

Several hundred people turned out for the chili supper served Thursday by the Wayne Mrs. Jaycees at the Woman's Club Rooms. Cooks and servers were kept busy from 5 p.m. until 9.

The line started forming early and did not give out completely until well after 8. Many came in after that hour.

Mrs. Keith Ellis was chairman for the project. Most of the members of the organization helped prepare, serve, clear or wash. The money they earned will be used on various chapter projects.

Eight Nursing Homes Caring for Veterans

Eight nursing homes in Northeast Nebraska are approved for care of veterans formerly housed in the VA Hospitals, according to Chris Bargholz, Wayne County veterans service officer.

The eight are at West Point, Tekamah, Wausa, Hartington, South Sioux City, Pierce, Schuyler and Columbus. Others a little more distant from here are also approved.

Under a new VA policy, veterans chronically ill can be transferred from the VA hospitals to nursing homes. The plan is expected to make available VA facilities for an additional 1.37 million bed days.

VA hospitals, once used as homes for the chronically ill, are now used as treatment centers for acute phases of illness. Long-term supportive treatment and rehabilitation are increasingly carried on through an out-patient basis while patients resume their normal pattern of community living to the extent disabilities will permit.

Congress has authorized 4,000 nursing home care beds within the 165 VA hospitals, authorized VA to place veterans in private nursing homes and authorized a grant-in-aid program to help states build and operate nursing home care facilities for veterans.

Under the plan, vets are placed in nursing homes for six months. Staff members check regularly to see what type of care is given. Better care with more interest given the aging veterans will result.

Nebraska is one of five states where approval has been given for construction of state nursing home facilities. Just where this facility will be has not been learned.

near Wisner and then moved eight miles west of Wayne where they lived until 1946 when they moved into Wayne.

She was preceded in death by her parents and two brothers, Gustav and Erich Albers. Survivors include her husband; three daughters, Mrs. Marvin (Esther) Dunklau and Mrs. Werner (Norma) Janke, Wayne, and Mrs. Richard (Deilla) Wade, Lincoln; two sons, Harold of Lyons and Ivan of Wayne; two brothers, Otto and Herbert Albers and a sister, Mrs. Otto Schlake, Wisner; 11 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

New System Used in Filing Court Charge

There were few court cases heard by Judge David Hamer the past week. One was heard on a complaint filed by County Attorney Don Reed in a procedure authorized previously but seldom used.

When a patrolman files a charge and the defendant is to appear later, it will no longer be necessary for the trooper to come back just for the hearing. The county attorney can sign the complaint and then he appears for the case.

Orrin Lutt, Wayne, paid $10 fine and $5 costs Jan. 25. He appeared on a charge of making an improper turn, Officer Alan Peck making the complaint.

Attorney Read filed the complaint Jan. 26 for Harley Daum, Norfolk. Daum paid $25 fine and $5 costs on a speeding charge. Larry Johnson, Emerson, appeared Jan. 20. He was charged with speeding and paid $15 fine and costs. Trooper D. Matejka, Nebraska Safety Patrol, filed charges.

Final Rites for Mrs. Herman Frese Held Here Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Herman Frese, 75, were held Jan. 28 at Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wayne. Mrs. Frese died Jan. 25 at her home in Wayne.

Rev. S. K. de Freese officiated at the rites. Mrs. Fritz Ellis and Mrs. Ed Bahe sang "Asleep in Jesus" and "How Great Thou Art." Mrs. William Kugler was accompanist. Pallbearers were Terry and Byron Janke, Harlan Frese, Jerry Houpt, Darrel Rahn and Larry Smith. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery.

Anna M. Albers, daughter of G. Henry and Meta Albers, was born Jan. 19, 1892 at Wisner. She was married Oct. 9, 1912 to Herman Frese at Wisner. The couple lived two years

Area Boy Scout Week Plans Being Readied

Wayne's three Boy Scout troops are preparing for the observance of Boy Scout Week Feb. 7-13. Scoutmasters Jewell Schock, Dick Manley and Bill Richardson report varying degrees of plans for the period.

In addition, Troop 221 led by Schock has been working on bird feeders made of plastic gallon jugs. They will take these with them when they go on a hike and nature study trip and will hang them along the way, coming back after a snow to see what birds and animals the feed and seed attract.

The hike is an indefinite thing. Two other times the troop planned to hike and each time a winter storm forced postponement.

Scouts in the troop, newest in Wayne, are also making tie clasps. These will be a little unusual, made out of bones one Scout brought to a meeting.

Manley's Troop 174 is planning a potluck supper for families Monday, Feb. 13, at 6:30 p.m. in the Methodist Church. A court of honor, discussion of summer camp plans and demonstrations of Scouting skills are on the program.

Thursday, Feb. 9, will be "good turn night," Scouts planning to spend the evening in the business district in uniform. They will open doors to business places for customers as a reminder of the week being observed.

Rev. Herbert Jackman

District Leader Will Speak to Methodists

Rev. Herbert Jackman, district superintendent of the Northeast District Methodist Church, will be the first of the speakers for the Lenten chapel hour series at First Methodist Church, Wayne, Feb. 8, at 8 p.m.

He is a native Nebraskan, spending the first 12 years of life on a Cass County farm. He has served several state churches, was appointed district superintendent in 1963, graduated from Nebraska Wesleyan in 1937 and from Iliff School of Theology in 1940.

The chancel choir directed by Clayton Southwick will furnish special music for the service. A coffee hour following worship will be served by Martha Circle.

Rev. Cecil Bliss, pastor of the church, extends an invitation to the public to attend this service and all other Lenten services.

Girl Scouts Planning

Wayne-Belden Girl Scouts are working on plans for the observance of Girl Scout week in February. They are also planning for the taking of orders for Girl Scout cookies in the annual drive. Many of the functions planned the past few weeks have been delayed because of weather conditions but workers and Scouts are hoping for more activities during the coming weeks to make up for this.

Only One Fire-Free Month Past Year; Country Fires Cause Greatest Loss

April was the only month of 1966 in which Wayne had no fire calls, records of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department reveal. Two rural fires did the most damage in the area. There were 13 rural fire calls and 12 in town during the year. Of the rural fires, one was at the city dump so cannot be classified as a farm fire, giving the city a 13-12 edge.

The two biggest fires were on farms. Harvey Beck lost a barn and hog shed and Alfred Baier lost a complete barn with contents.

There were four fires each in February and June. August had 3, March, May, July, October, November and December 2 each and January and September 1 each.

It was not the worst year the area has ever had nor was it the best. The fact that the city had no major fires helped the record considerably.

Sherry Elected Concord Leader

Bob Sherry, Concord produce station operator, is the new president of the Concord Community Club. He was elected at a meeting of the organization Thursday night at the Bread Basket Cafe.

The other officers were re-elected. Dick Hanson is again vice president and Earl Hughes is secretary-treasurer.

Sherry is also mayor of Concord and is assistant fire chief. He is active in several other church, community and school fields. Club members discussed vacant property containing an open cistern near where a new home is being constructed. The vacant property has been turned over to the county for taxes and has been allowed to deteriorate. It is the hope of the CCC that county commissioners will grant permission to clear the property, burn the deserted buildings and improve the area. Concord firemen have volunteered to help if permission is granted.

The Commercial Club will ask the Concord town board to send a letter to county commissioners of Dixon County seeking permission to do something. The proposed improvements would be undertaken at no cost to the county.

Wayne High Woodworking Pupils Get Experience in Many Lines of Work

Wayne High School has around 180 boys in shop classes taught by Mike Mallette and Allen Hansen. Last semester there were around 200 in the courses. Attention was called the past week to the work of two boys in beginning woodwork. Their projects the first semester are a little better than average but are typical of the work all boys do in the course.

David Sievers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sievers, Wayne, is a freshman. He took some woodworking in the seventh and eighth grades at Wayne High and made plaques, broom holders, night stands and other objects.

This year he tackled a bigger job. Following blueprints, he built a walnut desk for his room at home. He will probably enter the beautiful dark desk in the fair this fall.

Bernie Binger is a sophomore. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Binger, Wakefield, and is taking woodworking for the first time.

He drew his own plans for an early colonial table of red willow for the Binger living room. He had never used a wood-turning lathe before but he "turned" all the legs himself the past semester during shop classes and will probably enter the table in the county fair.

Mallette has four shop classes this semester in comparison to five the first semester. He had 120 boys and now has 100. The first semester he taught two sections of shop for seventh grade, one each for eighth and ninth grade (beginning shop) and a class in advanced shop—machine woodworking. This semester he has only one section for seventh grade but other classes are the same. He also has driver's education for 24 pupils one period each day.

Hansen is the football coach and assistant track coach. He also teaches two classes in general shop (grades 10 to 12) and two drawing classes, one for ninth grade the first semester and for eighth grade the second semester, and the other for a full year.

Those in beginning shop now, took drawing the first semester. Those in drawing now, took beginning beginning woodwork the first semester.

Those in the most advanced shop class, machine woodworking, have been making even bigger items, beds, cedar chests, night stands and other items. Most of the boys in these courses have not finished their projects at this time. Both teachers are looking forward to moving into the new high school building. Facilities will be more extensive and will offer more opportunities for teaching more skills in more fields.

Hansen came here the past year from Wakefield. Mallette taught at West Point 8 years and has been at Wayne 11 years.

Conference in Omaha

The annual mid-winter conference of Nebraska-Iowa District of Kiwanis will be held at the Fontenelle Hotel, Omaha, Saturday, Feb. 4. Club officers and club committees of the 146 clubs in the district will be represented along with 14 lieutenant governors and the chairman of the district committee, Gov. Russell Pearson, Omaha, Ia., will preside at the meeting expected to draw 400. Three concurrent panels will deal with citizenship, youth service and administration. Wes Bartlett, Algona, Ia., an international trustee, will address the group at a noon luncheon.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

Let 'em Walk Somewhere Else

The position some Wayne residents have taken regarding sidewalks is a little hard to fathom. Some apparently have taken the attitude that pedestrians can change their routes to walk elsewhere and thus sidewalks would not be needed in front of their homes.

Try explaining this to a youngster in a hurry to get to the swimming pool. Impress this on the mind of a first grade pupil in a hurry to get home and show his work to his mother. Draw this out to a girl with a doll enroute to a friend's home to play "house."

Sure, some places have gotten along without sidewalks in the past. On that basis, some residents are saying they see no need for them now. They also got along without indoor plumbing, electric lights, refrigerators, cars, television and air conditioning in the past. Who is to suggest they are not needed now?

One crippled child, one fatality, one major tragedy, that's all it will take to bring out the "Oh, my God, my God, why didn't I put in sidewalks!" response. It will be too late then. No one will throw it in the property owner's face that "We tried to tell you." There will be a feeling of compassion and sympathy for the one who did not put in sidewalks and who forced the kids to walk in the streets, but even that is not going to heal the scars left on the property owner's conscience for the rest of his days.

This is a pretty vivid picture. Maybe it is stretching the point a little, but not too far. After all, similar situations have arisen in other localities, including Sioux City not so long ago.

Sidewalks are not an absolute necessity but they can be pretty costly in peace of mind when they are not provided. You use your own judgment about whether or not you want sidewalks next spring. Put yourself in the picture of a bereaved resident who has seen a neighborhood kid struck in the street in front of his place. Better yet, put yourself in the picture by putting in sidewalks. They may never give you much pleasure but they should keep you from suffering some sorrow.—CEG.

About Defensive Driving

There are a lot of good drivers living in this area. A profound statement. There are a lot of people dead and crippled who were once good drivers. How does that grab you?

A defensive driving course being offered in Concord and Wayne right now has already brought out the fact that good drivers are often involved in accidents. It has also accentuated the fact that many of the accidents need not have happened if either or both drivers had adjusted to the circumstances by use of common sense.

Trooper J. L. O'Dell has pointed out that light, weather, road, traffic, vehicle and driver conditions make a difference in driving. If any one of these conditions is not right, an adjustment should be made.

The course he offers suggests that accidents can be prevented by recognizing the hazard, understanding the defense and acting in time. Even a "pre-trip inventory" can help. Just sitting behind the wheel a moment before driving away, thinking about the conditions of the car, road and driver, considering unusual situations, considering how you feel and thinking over conditions that may be encountered can make the adjustments that may mean the difference between arriving safely or being in an accident.

Stop and think. If you know it has rained, you should think as you sit behind the steering wheel in the pre-trip inventory: "I could hit slick spots on asphalt." If it has been frosty during the night, you could remember as you sit there: "I may find ice on bridges and in sheltered spots." As you review the route you take, you may remember: "There are curbs to remember so I must not let them throw me and there is construction near Beemer so I have to watch for work trucks." Sure, you can't plan everything ahead, but you can plan something and every little bit helps. Even considering the narrow roads, the blind crossings you will encounter and the soft shoulders you remember on the routes you travel regularly can help you stay accident-free.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

This course is going to offer a lot more help. Does it sound like a bore? It isn't. Last week at Concord the class ran a half hour overtime but no one rushed to get away. In fact, everyone remained to talk, genuinely interested in learning more about how they can prevent accidents by being prepared at all times to avoid them.

There are many dead who could be alive if they had been able to take such a course. There are some alive today who will not take the course and who may have need for the knowledge offered later.

No one can force you to take such a course, but perhaps it should become mandatory for anyone committing a major driving offense. Such a "sentence" would really be a favor although the one sentenced might not think so at the time.

This defensive driving course is purely voluntary. It should be taken by more residents. Every man with a son who drives, every woman who takes the kids to town, every farmer who gets out on a county road—well, everyone who drives to be specific—should take this course. We'll offer what we can in the paper but there is no substitute for being in the classes yourself.

It's better to be in the defensive driving class than to be in the injured driver category. Ask anyone who has been in that classification. Ask any officer who has investigated a personal injury mishap. Ask the man who has had one.—CEG.

Nebraska IS an Agricultural State

Some of Nebraska's legislators have forgotten Nebraska is still basically an agricultural and small-town state. They seem determined to serve a privileged few rather than the masses. As a result, they may get reminded of their disregard of the wants and desires of their electors the next time an election rolls around.

Specifically, the subject of the moment is daylight saving time (sometimes incorrectly called daylight "savings" time). At a time when Iowans are petitioning their state legislators to get rid of DST, Nebraska has unicameral members attempting to ramrod through a bill bringing DST to Nebraska regardless of how the people feel.

They claim roads will be safer with DST but Iowa and Colorado had daylight saving time last year and chalked up worse-than-usual traffic accident records; they say TV shows will be an hour early but we had them an hour early last year and found most Nebraskans were delighted to have the shows earlier;

They have endorsements from civic groups (like the Scottsbluff Chamber of Commerce) but these civic groups don't represent the farmers, the farm suppliers or the farm service firms and they forget that the people who support the towns are from the country; they ignore the fact that the number who will benefit from daylight saving time is smaller than the number that will be adversely affected;

They don't stop to count the number of towns that will lose drive-in theatres; they forget that daylight saving time would last six months, meaning going to school in the dark some mornings and putting children to bed while it's still light many nights.

Nebraska legislators had better stop and think who elected them. The big city representatives should not be allowed to sway feeling away from the overwhelming number of small-town and farm residents they serve. They had better think before they vote or they may have more time to think following next election.—CEG.

School Organization to Be Studied in Nebraska

LINCOLN — A state senator has recommended a study of school organization to "set a standard of excellence in Nebraska education" available to "all who are willing and able to pursue it."

The objective, Sen. Calista Cooper Hughes said, would be to improve the quality in all levels and types of schooling and help break "crucial bottlenecks" in the capacity of the state's educational system.

The Humboldt lawmaker estimated the survey would cost about $75,000.

Recommendations would be made to the 1969 legislature. Major emphasis would be placed on school district structure and curriculum.

Dr. Ralph Purdy, chairman of the Miami (Ohio) University Educational Administration Department, direct the study, which would establish long-range principles from kindergarten through grade schools.

She said he is currently conducting a school district organization survey in Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Missouri under a cooperative federal-state program.

Mrs. Hughes said she has discussed her idea with State Education Department officials and reported they are behind it.

"An independent study of this nature is badly needed. We are lagging many states in the area of education and we can no longer afford to do this or refuse to recognize our responsibility," the senator added.

"Our present school district structure is outmoded. It is based on the pot belly, one-room school house concept and must be changed without delay. The students want and need it. That I know."

Mrs. Hughes noted that Nebraska has more school districts (2,300) than any other state. She said this is a roadblock to state progress.

"We need to provide greater opportunities for our youngsters to obtain quality education by broadening and facilitating access to excellent grade and high schools, trade schools, colleges and universities," she continued.

"A program of this type would be carefully designed to provide a major impetus to the solution of a selected number of critical educational problems. It would establish a new standard of excellence in education for all who are willing and able to pursue it."

Sen. Hughes admitted the plan will face a stiff test in and out of the Legislature. But said, "often the best solution is not the most popular one. I am willing to stake my political future on this plan. We need dramatic changes—and we need them now."

Introduction Pace Brisk

The Legislature has maintained a brisk bill introduction pace, with more than 700 measures pouring forth before the cutoff date for individual senators to submit their proposals.

The legislation ranged from amending a 1919 horse hitching statute, to liberalizing pool room standards, to making the mourning dove a game bird, to revamping the State Board of Pardons and Paroles, to expanding the University of Nebraska Board of Regents.

Henceforth, though, only standing committees or the governor can introduce bills in the current session. This will cut down the number of measures considerably. But many observers are still predicting senators will hit the 1,000 mark before the end comes.

Chairman Richard D. Marvel of the Budget Committee has recommended Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann be given additional time to submit his budget to the Legislature.

He said the mid-February deadline contained in the State Constitution is unrealistic.

"This is tough on him. He needs more time to research the agency requests so his executive budget will be more meaningful," Marvel said.

Traditionally, he added, the governor's budget message has received little consideration because it was put together without adequate background.

Pledges No-Fat Budget Governor Tiemann says he will not press for maximum rates outlined in his income tax bill and promises a "rock bottom" budget.

"We will not open the floodgates to wild spending," the Republican chief executive said.

Tiemann's tax bill sets out maximum income tax rates ranging from two to six per cent. However, it leaves the actual setting of the rates to the lawmakers.

The Governor said he will release his appropriations package soon. He said it will be lower than what state agencies are seeking.

"I'm mindful agencies have in most cases a catch-up budget in mind. Nebraska is not able to afford a catch-up budget in one biennium," Tiemann said. "It's not reasonable. It's not good business to ask the people of Nebraska to underwrite mistakes that were made over several bienniums in one biennium's budget."

Outlines Spending Plan

The University of Nebraska has announced a $95.4 million, six-year building program for campuses in Lincoln and Omaha.

Included in the massive blueprint is $32.6 million for the 1967-69 biennium, $32.5 million for 1969-71 and $30.1 million for 1971-73.

The program includes $73.9 million in state tax dollars and $13 million in federal and other funds.

It provides for capital improvements of $59.7 million on the downtown campus, $17.1 million on the agricultural college campus, and $18.6 million on the medical college campus.

year construction program unveiled by the school since 1965. The bulk of the projects were announced previously.

Becomes New Treasurer Republican Wayne R. Swanson is officially Nebraska's new treasurer.

The keys to the office were turned over to him reluctantly by Democrat Fred Sorensen after the state Supreme Court said Sorensen must vacate the post.

Swanson had asked the tribunal to oust Sorensen, who unsuccessfully challenged the Republican's right to run last November.

"It feels great—just great," remarked Swanson after taking over. He immediately ordered funds withdrawn from non-interest bearing banks and invested in government securities. This was a sore point with Sorensen.

Heat and Ventilation

Provision for sanitation, disease control, heating and ventilation must be made if unnecessary loss of baby pigs is to be avoided in winter farrowing.

University of Nebraska animal health specialist said this week.

Dr. Crosby Howe said farrowing houses should be prepared by thorough cleaning and disinfection or fumigation at least two weeks—and preferably four weeks, before the first sows are scheduled to be placed in the house.

During cold weather, heat will be necessary, he added. Heaters other than electric must be vented to prevent burn-out of oxygen and an accumulation of carbon dioxide, and possibly carbon monoxide. Incomplete combustion also may produce other toxic gases.

The next consideration is ventilation. If problems have been experienced with moisture collecting on ceiling, walls and floor, ventilation is faulty, Dr. Howe said. He suggests that concerned swine producers contact Extension agents, and if necessary, further contact can be made with University Extension agricultural engineers to work out heating-ventilation problems. Heating and ventilation are all-important, he emphasized, and cannot be separated in dealing with swine housing because of the delicate balance between the two necessary to the success of a farrowing operation.

Engineers also can assist in counseling swine producers on the possible use of floor heating or heat lamps, installation, and operation for maximum efficiency at lowest cost.

The Potential

Agriculture is Nebraska's largest industry. Cash income from Nebraska's farms and ranches was 1,355 billion dollars in 1965. Transporting, marketing, processing, merchandising, and credit associated with farm production creates another 1 1/2 to 2 billion dollars of business before reaching the consumer. Increasing agricultural production brings cash benefits to all Nebraska citizens.

Livestock is Nebraska's leading agricultural commodity. Livestock sales

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

The first group of American volunteers have arrived safely and have begun to do those things which we must do to get started. The first five days were spent in Asuncion and while there we met the United States ambassador, William Snow, and some of his embassy staff. We had meetings and conferences also with the Paraguayan minister of foreign affairs, extension heads, including American advisors under the AID (Agency for International Development) program, and the faculty at the agricultural school.

Since January 11 the men at Caacupe and the women at San Lorenzo have been receiving further training in Spanish, Guarani, and technical information from the experimenter farm of college of agriculture in which United States money under the Alliance for Progress has helped establish STICA which is doing research in the agricultural school with help from American advisors and has developed an experimenter farm for improving all agricultural practices.

Just as I stepped off the plane the humidity and hot weather greeted me along with all the other officials. The temperature tends to be very humid and increasingly so until it rains, then is very cool and comfortable until the process begins again. The country is very green with several types of trees, in fact one can see many palm trees out in all the corn fields as an example of the density of trees. Grass like our lawns is everywhere, much of it in the towns is very short and soddy. Brome and sudan grass are easily grown but swamp grasses are the most prevalent. Several varieties of trees are everywhere and the country appears somewhat as a paradise. The soil is reddish and almost anything will grow because of the rain, humidity and sun to which plants are exposed.

The culture is Latin and one has the feeling he is in Europe on a French or Austrian countryside, not South America as I have traditionally thought of it, in terms of movie scenes, or the Mexican culture I encountered while there. Bread and meat are cooked by European standards and grapes are eaten as though one were in Italy. Tiled roofs, houses all of red brick, cobblestone streets, German Volkswagens, Roman arches, and narrow streets suggest that Paraguay has much more European influence and that Americans have had little contact with these people—which is true. On the streets they ask if you are German or French before American and they don't have any pre-conceived idea of what America is, as compared to the Mexicans, who regard America as rich and know you are American readily.

Looking around one observed things that are Paraguayan and only Paraguayan. Paraguay has a history and culture all her own, including no stoplights or signs in the streets of Asuncion, peasant women smoking black cigars while carrying bottles of water on their heads, and as a reflection of the Triple Alliance War of 1864-1870 when a great percentage of the men died fighting for their country, while I was attending mass the women took up the collection instead of the men. And of course the language, Guarani, is peculiarly all their own, which I am trying to learn via my poor Spanish. The people are very proud and friendly and it is going to be an interesting country to work in, although I have had diarrhea and haven't been able to eat for the last three days—it's called "adjustment and culture shock." There is a great deal to learn here and much work to be done because its resources in agriculture are underdeveloped. Workdays begin at 4:30.

His folks, the Felix Dorseys, report he has lots of time on his hands although he works from 4:30 until around noon and goes to classes in the evenings. His address is: Tom Dorsey, Peace Corps, U.S. Embassy, Asuncion, Paraguay.—Editor.)

One area farmer has reason to be extra glad he chose to advertise his farm sale in The Wayne Herald. The icy conditions forced postponement of his sale. Did he have to pay for new ads and bills? Nope. He gets them free because that's part of The Herald sale bill policy. Our ad service is much like insurance—it's mighty handy to have, especially when you really need it as this farmer did!

The young lady had driven through mud, snow, ice and sleet. She happily walked into the store which was her destination. "I'd like to buy some chains for my car," she said to a clerk.

"I'm sorry, ma'am," replied the clerk, "but we don't have chains, just groceries."

"How annoying!" the young lady responded. "Someone told me this was a chain store!"

Sigma Delta Tau at Wayne State is arranging a showing of "Flight of the Phoenix" to help pay for a new bust of John G. Neihard which the honorary hopes to display at Joslyn Art Museum, Omaha, soon. Tickets must be purchased from members. We can recommend the show as being interesting, unusual and fit for all ages (and that's something in this age). Besides, we would like to see the bust completely paid for before it goes on display. We'll try to find out where you can make contact with someone selling tickets. We hope they sell so many they have to show the film twice.

Which area state is scheduled for the largest population growth from 1960 to 1970? Did you say Nebraska? You're right! This state leads Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Iowa and Arkansas in that order in projected growth. Who says so? Midwest Research Institute, Kansas City. And to think we're doing this without sales tax, income tax or daylight saving time! Who'd have thought it!

A Los Angeles reader sent this one. Our forefathers did without sugar until the 13th century, without coal fires until the 14th century, without buttered bread until the 15th century, without potatoes until the 16th century, without coffee, tea and soap until the 17th century, without pudding until the 18th century, without gas, matches and electricity until the 19th century, without canned goods until the 20th century and we have had automobiles for only a few years. Now, what was it you were going to complain about?

Our bouquet of the week goes to the church youth groups of Wayne. Word has just come back revealing where the money they raised for CARE has been spent. As can be seen in the article, help has gone in many ways to many countries. What a worthwhile endeavor, and what a fine group of young people we have here to devote their own time to doing unto others what they are fortunate enough not to need done for themselves. John Tollakson and the kids deserve more than a bouquet but we're out of thousand dollar bills at this moment. Read the article and see if you don't agree that they deserve accolades.

We'd be more appreciative of the salute if WOW would play better music that day in honor of Wayne, a better town. But, you'll get your fill of the songs they play because the same ones will be played that day that are played the other six days of the week. They play them so often you can't help but tire of them. If they ever change music policy, we might set aside a day to salute WOW and CBS.

Two directors were re-elected to the board of the Concord Rural Fire Protection District Thursday night. The meeting attracted a small turnout—only the directors themselves showing up for the meeting in the Concord Fire Hall.

A one-half mill levy was adopted for the coming year. This is an increase since the district operated the past year without a levy of any type.

Violate Federal Law

Someone is guilty of vandalism that borders on being more trouble than they anticipated if caught. They twisted a mailbox off a post in Wayne last week, a federal offense. Postal authorities have been notified. In other fields, the police front was comparatively quiet. Three accidents were investigated, a message from Louisiana was delivered to a local resident who could not be located by other means, traffic was checked, stores were checked and parking was checked.

If they're too good to serve their country and if they use every means to get out of serving, let them stay in Canada—preferably in the northernmost part of the Northwest Territories. As for Canada, if she's so anxious to have our draft dodgers, why not take criminals, alcoholics and other no-goodniks. We'll gladly trade them for some of the fine Canadians we know who resent this situation as much as we

Most of us don't know much about the Division of Nebraska Resources so we don't take a stand on separating it from other divisions. However, when we see that Colorado spends $888,917 to lure industry and promote jobs compared to $165,633 in Nebraska, we know something is wrong. Even South Dakota spends $182,838 and Wyoming spends $339,087. Iowa spends $934,636. If we're going to be the fastest-growing state in the area, we'll need something big to keep us in competition with neighboring states. We're in favor of a strong department of economic development. Are you?

A corporal had been overseas two years when he received word from his wife that they had a new son in addition to their two-year-old boy.

Cigars were in order so the soldier purchased some and began handing them out, telling of the blessed event.

After hearing the corporal's story, one officer said: "Shmoee, doesn't it seem strange to you that you have been overseas two years and your wife just now had a second baby?"

"Oh, no, sir," beamed Shmoee. "There were three years between my brother and me."

Are you taking land out of the soil bank?

Weeds are a particular problem when land is taken out of the soil bank and put into corn. But you can solve this problem with one spray of Atrazine 80W herbicide. Rainfall moves the Atrazine down into the weed root zone and you get season-long control of most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses. See us now for Atrazine 80W herbicide.

New Farm Equipment Warranty

How to protect your new engines in the Warranty Program

- Contact your local Standard Oil Agent as soon as you purchase your new tractor, self-propelled machine, stationary engine or machine with auxiliary engine. Do it before you replace the manufacturer's factory fill motor oil and not more than 90 days after purchase of the new engine from an authorized dealer.
- Your Standard Oil Agent will arrange all necessary details to have your Warranty properly filled out and recorded.
- In accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations, replace the factory fill motor oil with the recommended brand and grade of A.S.O.C. Motor Oil.
- During the warranty period, continue to use the recommended A.S.O.C. Motor Oil—complying with the manufacturer's recommendations for drain intervals and servicing of oil, fuel and air filters.

How to extend your warranty to 48 months or 4,000 hours

You can extend your new engine warranty up to a total of 48 months or 4,000 hours, simply by using our fuels and protecting your fuel supply with the A.S.O.C. Farm Fuels FINAL FILTER. Here's why we can offer this additional guarantee:

- AMERICAN Regular Gasoline burns clean, to minimize carbon deposits in your engines. Its volatility is matched to your weather, for quick starts, fast warm-ups and less oil dilution. It also contains our exclusive anti-corrosion additive, to reduce starting wear on cylinder walls and pistons.
- AMERICAN Premier Diesel Fuel is made especially for modern diesel engines—it's not a rebranded furnace oil. It's low in sulfur to reduce deposits—high in cetane for easy starting and smooth power. It also contains D.O.C., our multigrade additive, to protect injector parts against sticking and rusting. It's red, so you can even see the difference.
- The original AMERICAN Farm Fuels FINAL FILTER protects your engines against dirt, scale and water which often collect in farm storage tanks and cause trouble in engines.

Give all of your engines—new and old—the extra protection that these fuels and this filter offer. Just call your Standard Oil Farm Man. You'll be extra glad you did.
