Light Interest in Area's Caucuses Tuesday Night

There was light interest in the area caucuses Tuesday night. Wayne had pretty fair attendance but it was a "bing-bing-bing" situation as candidates were nominated, nominations closed and the meeting was over.

Following are the results of the various caucuses in towns in this region where caucuses were held. Only Dixon had none.

Few Races in Wayne

Wayne will have only two races in the April election. This comes about because the two parties named the same candidates for three of the offices.

There is no school board race unless it would be through write-in balloting. Dean Scirgen and Maurice Sandahl were named by both Citizens and Popular Parties as candidates. They are incumbents.

Ed Smith was chosen first ward candidate for the city council by both parties. Citizens Party will run Mike Lynn against incumbent Jack Kingston of the Popular Party in the second ward and Dick Banister will be the Popular Party candidate against Citizens candidate incumbent Dr. Lyle Seymour, third ward.

Carroll Selects Six

Carroll's caucus named six candidates for town board Tuesday night. Three are to be chosen for terms and among the six are three incumbents.

Jack Kavanagh, Larry Dahlkoetter and Clarence Morris are the incumbents named as candidates in the April election. Lyle Cunningham, John Bergquist and Leonard Halgren will be the other candidates.

Allen Chooses Men

Allen named men as candidates for all positions. See AREA CAUCUSES - pg 3

Services Set Friday For Mrs. Otto Lutt

Funeral services for Mrs. Otto Lutt, 77, will be held Friday, Mar. 3, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wayne. Mrs. Lutt died Feb. 28 at Wayne Hospital following a lengthy illness. Rev. R. E. Shircliff will officiate at the rites.

Carroll Will Have Pretty Rural Route

Carroll Community Club aims to have a better looking rural mail route this centennial year. Prizes are being offered in a mailbox contest for all patrons of the Carroll route.

Meeting Tuesday night at Marlene's Cafe, the 17 members present voted to give three prizes for the most original mailbox and support. Entries will be judged on originality, imagination and neatness.

All rural residents served out of Carroll can enter the contest by registering with the secretary, John Bergquist, at Farmers State Bank. Additional information on the contest can be secured there.

The March meeting of the Carroll CC will accent community betterment. Cleaning, removing and renovating will be boosted in efforts to make Carroll a nicer community.

Winside High Presents Trio of One-Act Plays

Three one-act plays offering a real variety of topics will be presented Friday, Mar. 3, at 8 p.m. at Winside High School by the drama department under the direction of Shirley Trautwein.

First play is "The Darkest Hour," the story of a man who is to be electrocuted, having been convicted of murder on the basis of circumstantial evidence. He is innocent. His mother comes to visit him before he goes to the chair. A heartbreaking scene develops.

Second is a comedy, "The Flattering Word." It tells of a minister, prejudiced. See WINSIDE PLAYS - pg 2

Explorers Set Dance

Wayne Post of Explorer Scouts is sponsoring a dance Saturday night at the Wayne City Auditorium. The Blue Things, one of the most popular combos playing this part of the country, will furnish the music. A hockey game in Omaha is one of the events coming up for which plans are being made. Mark Ellis and David Ellis are newest members of the post.

Mark Ellis Receives Top Honor for Scout Sunday

The Pro Deo Et Patria Award of the Lutheran Church, highest honor for a Scout of that faith to receive, was awarded Sunday to Mark Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Ellis, Wayne, at the Redeemer Lutheran Church.

Identical to the God and Country Award for other Protestant churches, the honor has been won at Redeemer by eight Scouts in recent years. Included are Bill Kugler, Ted Bahe, Robert Wriedt, Ron Wriedt, Dave Jensen, Steve Carman and Ellis, all of Wayne, and Thomas Bahe, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Mark is a star Scout in Troop 175, Bill Richardson Scoutmaster. He is junior assistant Scoutmaster for the troop.

To receive the Pro Deo Et Patria, a Scout must be a Lutheran, give at least 150 hours of service to his church in at least three different areas and have a knowledge of the cardinal doctrines of the church.

He must have knowledge of the church year, liturgy, sacraments, the altar and its appointments. He must show evidence of daily Bible reading and regular church attendance.

In addition to this, the Scout must have a special project which may be a paper on the Reformation, Martin Luther or some related subject or may be a project to build something useful to the church. Mark's project was a combination blackboard-bulletin board for a Sunday School room.

Kent Hall, who has helped Mark in much of his Scouting work, substituted for Scoutmaster Richardson Sunday. Rev. S. K. de Freese conducted the church rite for the award at Redeemer Lutheran Church at the 9 a.m. service.

Cubs Will Start Annual Drive in Area Saturday

Wayne Cub Scouts start the annual "Good Turn Day Clothing Drive" for the handicapped people employed at Goodwill Industries Saturday, Mar. 4. Boy Scouts will collect the filled bags one week later.

Cubmasters Alvin Ehlers and Melvin Froehlich of Packs 174 and 175 will have their own Cub Scouts distributing Goodwill bags to homes throughout town Saturday. Den mothers will assist in taking the Cub Scouts around. Both packs meet at 1 p.m. at Froehlich's, 905 Lincoln.

Goodwill Industries asks that newspapers and magazines not be included in the bags. They cannot be collected by the Scouts and they cannot be used by the. See ANNUAL DRIVE - pg 2

Group Will Attend Grand Island Meet

Members of the legislative committee of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce are planning to attend an "action assembly on trends and issues" meeting in Grand Island Monday, Mar. 6. Any others who wish to attend will be welcome.

The session costs $10, which includes a meal. Cal Comstock, manager of Wayne County Public Power District, is chairman and can be contacted. Wand Owens, Chamber. See MEETING - pg 2

Four Teachers Resigning; Seven Vacancies in Wayne

One Car Accident on Road North of Wayne

Wayne County's second rural area traffic accident of the year occurred Friday, Feb. 24, two miles north and one-fourth mile west of Wayne. No one was injured but a vehicle was heavily damaged.

Records at the county sheriff's office show the vehicle was brought into town by a wrecker and a report was made at the police station. The windshield and left side of the car were damaged and two fenders were torn up.

Jack Robert Vosika, Moorland, Ia., was driving the car and was accompanied by two passengers. The eastbound Vosika car went off the south side of the road and through two fences following a blowout on the right front tire near a bridge.

Prize Hits $400 Again This Week

The maximum prize possible in the Wayne Chamber of Commerce Silver Dollar Night promotion has been hit again. There was no winner last week so the prize this week is $400.

Henry Harmeier, Carroll, would have won $350 had he been in the right store Thursday night. For consolation, he will get a check for $10 from the sponsoring Wayne C. of C.

Anyone 18 or over is eligible to register at participating stores. At 8 p.m. each Thursday a name is announced and if that person is in one of the stores taking part the cash prize is his.

Fluorides, Ambulance, Fire Hall, Housing Council Topics

Last Day Crush Faces Officers

County Treasurer Leona Bahde and County Assessor Henry Arp were "victims" of the annual last-day crush for licenses and assessing this week. Both offices had lines of people waiting.

At the treasurer's office, where license plate tabs were being sold, the lines formed early Monday and Tuesday and there were waiting lines all day. The treasurer and her assistants were at the office until 11:30 Monday catching up.

Assessor Henry Arp's workers were just as busy. In spite of the urging to get in early, many waited until the last week but seemed to expect a wait as one of the penalties for delaying an action they knew was inevitable.

Hoskins Rural Fire District Re-Elects

Hoskins Rural Fire District held its annual meeting Wednesday afternoon of last week at the Hoskins Fire Hall. All officers were re-elected for the coming year.

Art Behmer was re-elected to represent Hancock Precinct, W. C. Behmer was re-elected from Hoskins Precinct and Ezra Jochens was re-elected to represent Springback Precinct, Stanton County.

Re-elected president was Art Behmer, George Lanenberg was re-elected vice president and Jochens was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The one-mile levy which has been in effect will be continued.

Ambulance Service Topic at Winside

Ambulance service is a pretty general topic now. It was a major topic at the Monday night meeting of the Winside Community Club in the Methodist Church basement.

George Voss, fire chief of the Winside department, reported that he would attend a firemen's mutual aid meeting Mar. 28. The other departments will tell of plans in their communities and will give an idea of what course of action Winside should take.

President Cliff Burris appointed a centennial committee, made up of those who will help on the Old Settlers Picnic. James Troutman is president with Gus Hank, Vern Jensen, Julius Eckert, Jean Boyd and Mrs. Rosemary Mintz other members.

Dave Waremund is program chairman for 1967. Other committee members are Carl Troutman and Pete Kropp.

Cedar County in Vo-Tech District

Cedar County commissioners voted Tuesday to include that county in the district which will consider establishment of a vocational-technical school. Addition of the county brings the valuation over $339 million.

Bob Carhart and Supt. Francis Haun went to Hartington to meet with the commissioners Tuesday morning. They presented the case for the school, described the district as set up now and then returned. Commissioners called later in the day to inform them the county will be included.

Leo Ringer is to go to Holt County on behalf of the area school district Wednesday and to Wheeler County Friday. Dakota County is the only county not yet visited and a visit there may be scheduled later.

The steering committee for the school is scheduled to meet Friday in Norfolk. Plans will be made for the petitions to be sent to the state department of education and for holding the election on the proposed school in all of the counties where commissioners have approved a vote.

Cedar County is the 11th county in the area to enter the district. Original goal was a valuation of $150 million but this has been more than doubled already.

Lions Seeking Variety in Coming Talent Contest

Gets Divorce Here

Betty Nelson was granted a divorce from Floyd Nelson Thursday. District Judge Dittrock was in Wayne for a review of the cases coming up in the spring term of course.

Concord Church Has Special Rite Friday

Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Williams and their family will be featured in a special program Friday, Mar. 3, at 8 p.m. in the Evangelical Free Church, Concord, according to the pastor, Rev. Marvin Litorja. The public is invited.

The program will feature message and music. The Williams family will come to Concord from their home in Lincoln for the service.

Fluoridation of water, ambulance service, a new fire hall and low-cost housing were among the topics discussed in a meeting of the Wayne City Council that lasted almost to midnight Tuesday night. Several other important matters were brought up.

Mayor William Koehler reported on a meeting in Lincoln sponsored by the Nebraska Dental Association which several attended. He indicated every one at the meeting was in favor of fluoridation 100 per cent.

The federal government is backing fluoridation of water and the food and drug administration has pointed out that it will not allow anything poisonous to be used in such treatment so there is no worry on that line. Books reviewed show that fluoridation is beneficial to old and young alike. The mayor merely reviewed the meeting facts and did not ask for action.

Under present laws the city cannot operate an ambulance service. However, under a new law cities and counties would be able to help out. Attorneys will be asked to check on how much help Wayne city and county can give.

Wayne Hospital is willing to operate ambulance service under certain conditions. It was pointed out City Clerk Dan Sherry was asked to contact the county Red Cross chapter to see if it would offer a first aid instruction course here to help prepare more people for service with an ambulance or without.

Petitions have been submitted in more than sufficient numbers to meet requirements calling for an election on construction of a new fire hall. The city adopted a resolution calling. See CITY COUNCIL - pg 2

Concord Cubs Giving Workers Helping Hand

Concord Cub Scouts in Pack 266 will distribute sacks for clothing Saturday, Mar. 4. They want items to be given for workers at Goodwill Industries, who make their living repairing garments.

Jerry Allvin is Cubmaster and will be in charge. Mrs. Allvin is den mother and will assist.

Anyone missed in Concord can have items picked up by contacting the Allvins. Collection is planned the following week, Mar. 11.

No newspapers or magazines are wanted. Scouts cannot carry them and the Goodwill workers cannot use them.

Wayne Chosen Site of Farm Event 5,000 Might Attend

BAND DIRECTOR Don Schumacher turns to acknowledge enthusiastic applause following a number at the concert Sunday. Terry Kardell is taping the concert just below stage.

Two Wayne farms have been chosen for the Quad-State Minimum Tillage Day Tuesday, May 2. The event, in its fourth year, has drawn from 4,000 to 5,000 farmers in the past.

Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota farms have hosted the event in the past. It has various sponsors, the ones in this area being WNA, Yankton, Northeast Station and Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

Creighton Knau, WNA, met with County Agent Harold Ingalls, members of the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Northeast Station representatives, cooperating farmers and local representatives of cooperating machinery manufacturers Tuesday.

Plans were worked out at that time for the use of the Ivan Freese and Robert Shulheiss farms three miles west of Wayne for the May 2 event. May 5 and May 9 are the alternate dates in case of rain.

Manufacturers will demonstrate corn planting equipment with other-than-conventional machines in May. This fall another big day will be held at which harvesting equipment will be demonstrated by the same manufacturers.

Three-acre plots will be marked off so bypassers. See TILLAGE DAY - pg 2

City Council

(Continued from pg. 1) for a vote on the issue. A $75,000 structure would be built if the people approve.

Councilman Jack Kingston reported 32 people in Wayne, mostly in the 80's but between 60 and the lower 80's, are eligible for low-cost housing. Others would also be eligible. The council took no action but will give further consideration to the needs.

Bids were opened on Sanitary Sewer District No. 3. There were six bids, ranging from $21,511 to $30,525. The engineer's estimate had been $31,900.

The council did not accept any bids but will turn them over to the engineer to see if they all comply with requirements. Recommendations will then be made to the council.

Only one bid was received on a new police car and it was not opened. The council decided it should get more bids to give proper comparison before buying a new patrol car.

The city engineer has completed an electric rate survey for Wayne. It calls for a lesser rate for the college and big users, a moderate rate decrease for residential use and a more substantial rate cut for those who use electricity for heating and have all-electric homes.

Also reported on by the city engineer is the testing of pavement which may not be acceptable. More tests will be made to determine quality and then the council will meet with the construction firm to determine action.

Councilman Robert McLean reported on the airport project. He said if the runway was not accepted as proposed, relocation would be too expensive and the city would stand to lose the federal grant.

Sidewalk construction ordinances will be enforced. "Areas" will be set up and people in those areas will be notified that they must build sidewalks to conform to city ordinances.

A different system of spraying elms is under consideration. Mid-America Helicopters, Inc., offered a proposal for "hovering" over trees for spraying. It could cost less than ground-level spraying so the council will investigate the firm's offer.

Cecil Wriedt met with the council to seek information on pavement and water service in his new subdivision on the east edge of town. The matter of water service was referred to the sewer and water committee to determine costs and the allocation of costs between the city and the subdividers. For pavement, 60 per cent of the property owners would have to request the work.

The zoning ordinance was discussed at length with no additional action. Council members decided to meet again with the planning commission to discuss various aspects of the law.

Wayne has a new park area. The city has purchased the property south of Roosevelt Park between the drainage ditch and Logan Creek. It will be developed for multiple uses.

The city attorney reported all city papers on projects handled by B. H. Backlund Associates will be returned. They have been kept on file in Omaha. Pete Haberer and Bernard Cook registered a complaint concerning paper blowing from the landfill onto their property. The city will have the paper cleaned up and try to keep it from happening again.

One building application was denied. Simpson, Inc., had asked for a permit for a masonry and frame apartment building on Lot 12, Block 6, College Hill Addition.

Building permits granted were: Ed Dunklau, roof on workshop, 216 S. Nebraska; Mrs. L. Sandahl and Hazel Mau, remodeling beauty shop, 321 Main; Cecil Wriedt, 32x96 frame apartment building, Lots 3 and 4, Block 3, Wriedt's Second Subdivision; and Lee Swinney, 30x40 frame resi-can see the crops planted in various width rows throughout the growing season. Weedicides, herbicides and other chemicals will be shown and a comparison will be offered among 20-, 30- and 40-inch row widths.

Most of the major equipment manufacturers have already expressed an interest in the day due to its success in the past. Wayne representatives expressed an interest in hosting the day so when the farms were looked over, it was agreed that this was the best place for it.

Wayne Jaycees and Mrs. Jaycees have agreed to give an assist by operating concession stands on the farms for the big day. Many others are expected to join in to make the event the biggest single farm project ever held in this area.

Last is "The Storm" a man comes to a blizzard-swept home in the middle of the night. He visits the man and wife who live there and they suddenly realize they are talking to a crazed man who is out to kill the one's responsible for the death of his wife and daughter in an accident—the two who he is talking to.

Cast members of "Hour" are Tom Witt, Connie Jones, Don Longe, Kathy Pfeiffer and Lee Trautwein; "Word," Keith Krueger, Diane Wacker, Robert Farran, Teresa Stenwall and Betty Anderson; and "Storm," Dennis Swanson, Carol Bleich, Bob Dangberg, Ruth Vahlkamp and Denise Hansen.

All three plays will be given "in the round," which means the audience will be on three sides. A matinee will be given for the grade school Thursday afternoon. Funds will go to help pay costs for the dramatics contests coming up.

Grand Island is one of 34 cities in the nation sponsoring the assemblies through the USCC. Purpose is a discussion of the expanding role of the government in shaping business growth, community development and the life of the individual.

Part of the session will be devoted to proposals before the 90th congress and specifically what businessmen can do to solve today's economic and social problems.

Farm Machinery for Future Meet Topic

"Farm Machinery of the Future" was the topic for the speech by Jack Niles at Kiwanis Club Monday noon. Niles is manager of International Harvester Store here.

He told about the work on new types of engines for tractors. Present tractors are thought to be inefficient in utilizing full power so experiments are being made to reduce weight, deliver more horsepower and give a better ratio of power for unit of fuel used.

Niles also told about the combines of the future and other machinery innovations farmers can expect. He concluded with some ideas being tried out using plastics of all types in farm machinery.

Boyd Hedrick, salesman in Wayne for IHC, and Don Knabel, Norfolk, were guests of the club.

Winside Ambulance Plan to Be Delayed

Winside Rural Fire District held its annual meeting Saturday in the Winside Fire Hall to elect directors. While at it, those present also discussed the ambulance situation and decided to delay action for a month.

The Firemen's Mutual Aid group which includes most fire departments in the area will have a meeting in Winside Mar. 28. It was decided to wait until that group convenes and information is gained on what other departments are doing before taking action in Winside.

Stan Soden and Gurney Hansen were the two directors of the district whose terms were expiring. They were also the two who were elected to serve again for another two years.

Holding over as officers are Cliff Burris as president and Werner Mann as secretary-treasurer. The one-half mill levy in the district also holds over.

Gas Company Expert Cooking at Winside

A home economist from the Kansas-Nebraska National Gas Co., Hastings, will be in Winside Thursday morning of this week to cook with gas. She will demonstrate a number of cooking ideas for home economics pupils.

Judene Zechin, home-making instructor at WHS, reports two sessions could be held. One would be for senior high pupils and the other for eighth grade girls.

The Hastings woman will cook a meal using "convenience foods" and will perform such jobs as "baking" a cake in an electric fry pan. Other foods will be shown and the class members and faculty members will get to share the choice dishes after the demonstration.

Business Notes

Claude Harder, operator of Claude's Standard Station, Wayne, has been invited to serve on the 1967 Dealer Advisory Council for the Omaha District by Standard Oil Co. As a delegate, he will represent fellow dealers throughout the district. The council will meet Mar. 8 in Omaha.

Saturday's practice schedule for Boys Club teams has been rescheduled for the Hahn School gym. A change was necessary because of other activities at the City Auditorium.

Cordes Carnival Will Be Saturday

Wayne State's Cordes Carnival is back again, and that means a tank of fun.

The third annual carnival, a memorial to the prominent athlete Roger Cordes who died of cancer, is set for 6:30 to 9 p.m. Saturday in Rice gym. Everybody is welcome to attend—and spend money which, as before, will provide three scholarships to deserving students.

The sponsoring W Club and Women's Recreation Association are planning the same kind of games and entertainment and prizes that kept swarms of folks happy in past carnivals—bingo, darts, fortune telling, marriage booth, basketball throw, fishpond, boxing, wrestling (TV type), skewalk, pie eating contest, the inevitable jail, and probably the most popular of all, the baseball throw to dunk some pretty co-eds and a few professors into a tank.

In addition, there'll be a dance from 9 to 12 in the Student Center to swell the Cordes fund.

The muskrat often builds bank burrows with underwater entrances. The home burrow may be complicated, with various passages and a nest chamber.

The IRA has one active council in Nebraska, functioning in the metropolitan Omaha area. The organization has members in several Northeast Nebraska towns, including Emerson, Howells, Norfolk, Plainview, Randolph, Wausa and Wayne.

Dixon Farmer's Life Just a Bit Dry Now

Darrell Erwin, Dixon, is leading a rather dry existence now. He will continue to do so until warmer weather prevails.

The electricity went off at his farm Wednesday of last week, remained off for five minutes and then came on again. However, in that interval something settled in the pipe of his water pump and the pump would not operate.

Experts were called in and found that it would be necessary to pull the well. This is something that cannot be done until warm weather takes over for a few days.

This means he has no water. The bachelor farmer has 30 head of milk cows and 20 sows with pigs plus some horses and dogs. All need water. In addition, he needs water in the house.

He has to have water so Concord Fire Department is hauling out water twice a day. Erwin has cut down on water use as much as possible (doing dishes once a day instead of three times, for one thing).

It is inconvenient, but better than being unable to get water at all. He prays for warm weather, not just because he's ready for spring, but because that well has to be pulled before life will be normal on his farm southwest of Dixon.

Semi Weekly Newspaper Service Starting Monday

This is the last week The Wayne Herald will be a weekly newspaper. Starting next week it will become a semi-weekly.

First edition of the newspaper under the new set-up will be printed Saturday and will be delivered Monday. Those getting their paper on the "call list" may pick them up until 5 p.m. Saturday at the office.

Copies will be placed in the usual business places that handle them in Wayne, Winslow, Carroll and Allen. These may be picked up at 10 cents a copy.

The subscription special for the twice-a-week paper is still in effect. This gives a saving over the rate to be charged later. Renewals may be made to advance subscriptions a year from the present expiration date, regardless of when it is.

Plans call for the Monday edition to be somewhat different in appearance. It will contain some of the features that are now being carried in the Thursday paper.

Service Station, Spook Speaks and a new feature, "60 Years Ago This Week" will be in the Monday paper. Sassy by Chas. Way Back When and the extension agent columns will be in the Thursday paper.

Editorials, It's Your Move, Courthouse Round-up, correspondents' items, social items, sports news, general news, police reports, court news, hospital news, fire reports and other news will appear in both editions.

News for the Monday edition should be in the Herald office by Thursday night if possible and not later than Friday noon. Items for the Thursday paper should be in the office by Monday evening and no later than Tuesday noon.

Comments on the new service will be appreciated. Businessmen are invited to make inquiries about the advantages of the Monday edition for "full week sales" and other promotions as well as the special rates offered on consecutive-issue repeat advertising.

As a bi-weekly, The Herald will be unique in the area. There are only six other such publications in the state, Broken Bow, Chadron, Ogallala, Plattsmouth, Cozad and Mindego.

Faculty Recommends Teacher's Dismissal

By 10 to 2 a group of Wayne State College professors voted Friday in favor of dismissal of Norman Hoegberg as a teacher at WSC. Prof. Hoegberg was the center of a recent "sit-out" following his written resignation at the end of the term.

Attorneys for Hoegberg and Dr. William Brandenburg, college president, appeared with the two at the hearing. In all, the professors convened for around four hours.

Another hearing in the case is scheduled Mar. 9. The state normal board is to meet to hear charges filed by Dr. Brandenburg, who seeks immediate dismissal of the professor.

Pallbearers were Ernest Gieger, Oscar Koester, K. R. Mitchell, Robert Smith, Ed Hurd and Wyman Nemecek. Burial was in Eastview Cemetery, Allen. Allen Masonic Lodge conducted graveside rites.

Arthur Fegley, son of James and Arrabelle Fegley, was born Dec. 17, 1889, on a farm between Allen and Waterbury. He was married Mar. 25, 1920 to Mary Mofey of Dunbar. The couple farmed near Allen until 1945 when they REPRESENTING 566 years of living are these six women at Dahl Retirement Center. They were together when St. Paul's Lutheran Church gave a party last week. Women and their ages are: Front row (left to right), Mrs. J. W. Jones, 92; Mrs. Anna Bright, 99; Mrs. H. H. Hahn, 96; Mrs. Katie Wade, 88; Mrs. Anna Moller, 96; and Mrs. Mary Monk, 95.

Mrs. Anna Bright Notes 99th Year

One year younger than the state of Nebraska, Mrs. Anna Bright, Wayne, observed her 99th birthday Thursday, Feb. 23, at the Dahl Retirement Center, where she has made her home for several years.

Still alert, she keeps up with the daily happenings by reading two newspapers every day. She also reads The Herald and a few other publications but admits that failing eyesight has caused her to cut back on her reading.

Mrs. Bright was born Feb. 23, 1868, in New York State. She has been a long-time resident of Nebraska and Wayne County but could not give the exact dates.

She asked that no big "splurge" be made concerning her birthday but said she had clippings and other information that would be available next year when she is 100.

Her only nearby relative is a niece at Schuyler. However, she has many friends both in the retirement center and in this area.

She gets around with the use of a walking apparatus, moved into Allen where Mr. Fegley operated Hutchings' Locker. In 1950 he purchased the locker plant at Dixon which he operated until 1953. For a time the couple served as custodians of Benson Presbyterian Church, Omaha. They retired and moved into Lyons in July, 1966.

Mr. Fegley served on school boards at Oakdale and Dixon and was active in the Farmers Union, town board and fire department. He was past master of Golden Rule Lodge No. 236 and was past patron of Opal Chapter OES at Allen.

Survivors include his widow; two sons, James, South Sioux City, and Keith, Sioux City; four daughters, Mrs. Frank (Joyce) Boeshart, South Sioux City, Mrs. James (Janel) Kirchner, Concord, Mrs. Clyde (Betty) Albers and Mrs. Lloyd (Ruth) Sellin, Bellevue; four sisters, Mrs. Clyde Goodell and Mrs. Earl Emry, Allen, Mrs. Merle White, Laurel, and Mrs. Ruth Springer, Grants Pass, Ore.; a brother, Irvin, Sioux City, and 22 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

English Teachers in Conference in Wayne

Around 150 teachers attended the regional conference of English teachers in Wayne Thursday. Local pupils were used for demonstration purposes in teaching poetry at four different levels.

Dr. Bernice Slato, professor of English at the University of Nebraska, author, editor of "The Prairie Schooner" and leader in other fields, spoke at the noon luncheon. Her topic was "Willis Cather."

Those conducting the demonstrations were Mrs. Eleanor Fuhrman, principal of Washington School, Norfolk; Mrs. Louise Smith, Lincoln Public Schools; Mrs. Mildred Jones, WSC; Mrs. Ruth Anderson, Columbus Public Schools; Mrs. Virginia Faulkner, editor of the NU Press, was also present.

Pupils taking part were: Seventh-eighth grades, Debbie Kerl, Connie Ritze, Connie Jones, Sue Brown, Mary Swanson, Karen Jensen, George John, Jim Stevenson, Mick Owen, Mike Maurer and Rudy Lopez; third grade, Sue Owens, Mary Proett, Debra Ditman, Pat Barclay, Kenneth Daniels, Brian Hedrick, Paul Mallette, James Baier and Randy Park; Ninth-grade, Dennis Ellermeier, Dan Sutherland, Paul Thun, Ron Seymour, Jon Merriman, Pam Renner, Seth Swanson, Sally Zapp, Donna Agler and Gail Middleton; fifth grade, Marjorie Lundstrom, Ann Owens, Jean Proett, Scott Hall, Debra Schwanke, Susan Daniels, but she did not need that until a fall resulted in broken bones a few years back. She wears a hearing aid and thick glasses. She enjoys company and is quite active in the retirement center.

Attends NCA Meeting
Supt. Francis Haun will go to Lincoln the last of the week to attend a meeting of the North Central Association of Secondary Schools, highest accrediting group in the Midwest. He is on the state advisory committee for NCA.

Cindy Carlson, Terry Hassbrook, Cathy Barclay, Lynn Kamish and Dan Marr.

Area Bond Sales Get Good Start

All counties in this area are off to a good start on US Savings Bonds quota the first month of the year.

Henry Ley of State National Bank, who is again serving as bond sales chairman, reports sale of $54,848 in Wayne County in January. This represents 13.4 per cent of the county quota for the year. Dixon County is tops in adjoining counties with 14.0 per cent of quota on the basis of sales of $68,612 in bonds last month. Low county is Pierce with 9.1 per cent of its quota.

Other counties adjoining Wayne County show these records: Madison, 13.6 per cent; Stanton, 12.6; Cedar, 11.8; Thurston, 11.7; and Cuming, 11.3. Highest in the state is McPherson with 59.5 per cent.

New Freedom Shares are being offered to Nebraskans purchasing Series E Savings bonds on the payroll savings plan and the bond-a-month plan. These are expected to boost bond sales throughout the year.

One spray weeds and feeds your corn.

You can apply Atrazine 80W herbicide in combination with nitrogen solution. One trip over the field does two jobs... weeds and feeds your corn. Moisture moves Atrazine down into the weed root zone where it will control most annual broad-leaf weeds and grasses for the entire season. Nitrogen solution gives corn the nutrient it needs most. See us today for full details on weed and feed.

HOW WILL YOU HANDLE ALL OF THOSE STALKS?

BRADY 4-ROW CHOPPER

The best way to handle the tangled mass of tough, heavy hybrid stalks is a Brady flail shredder. It shreds your stalks, makes plowing easier, faster, better...knocks out most of your corn borers, too. You can even pull a tandem disc behind a Brady and be ready for minimum tillage! It's a great labor-saver...and excellent for clipping pastures and idle acres.

Two, three, and four-row available. See them today at

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

The Mayor Has A Point

Mayor William Koerber has called on Wayne businessmen for a facelifting program starting this year. He has a point. When you have visitors from other towns and states, what do you do to pass time? You probably show them around Wayne.

This would mean taking them through the beautiful college campus, showing them the new high school and grade school, commending the hospital, bursting with pride at the many parks the city has, praising the swimming pool, driving by the country club, showing off the fine churches, driving through the housing additions and maybe even getting out to the sewage lagoon.

But, do you take them downtown to show off Wayne's business district? You don't? How come?

Admittedly, Wayne's business district is not the most beautiful in the world. Still, the stores are neat, the interiors are modern and the stocks are complete.

Wayne business places do a good job of competing, among themselves and with business places in bigger and smaller towns within driving distance.

Some have even kept up by providing new fronts. However, the district is not something one "shows off" to visitors.

This by itself is not a dismaying fact. We can live with it. The big trouble is, when someone comes to this town to consider locating here professionally, opening a business or starting an industrial establishment they DO look at the business district. Whether they are impressed or taken aback is something they would have to report on.

Put yourself in the place of a stranger. Drive into Wayne from any direction. Look around town and give the business district a critical appraisal. Be truthful with yourself: Are you pleased with what you can see just driving around?

The situation is no discredit to Wayne. The city is old and change has been slow in coming. Along with other things, the cost of progressing has skyrocketed.

This might be the time to consider doing something. The matter cannot be ignored forever. Whether one looks at it from the tax deduction angle or from the aspect that it's just good business, facelifting should be given attention.

Finally, there is the matter of progress being contagious. One business moving ahead can be the incentive for causing another to decide to make the contemplated changes. Several changes can be the factor that causes a non-resident to decide to come here. It's a chain reaction.

Mayor Koerber's speech in which he called for a modernization and beautification of downtown Wayne came at an inopportune moment, overshadowed by a speech on general conditions in this country becoming more and more a matter for government control. The mayor's speech was important nevertheless, and the idea should not be forgotten.

Norfolk is planning ahead. Sioux City has a master plan. Omaha is working on a giant downtown project. David City has led the way among smaller towns willing to do something rather than people waiting for retirement so the matter will be someone else's worry.

How about it? Doesn't all downtown Wayne need to get busy? Doesn't that include you, you and us? Let it be a matter of concern for the entire community. Talk it over privately, at meetings or among associates. Don't let the idea die. Wayne could do some dying of its own unless we do something.—CEG.

Lower Voting Age

There has been a most illogical approach to the idea of granting the vote to "youngsters" in several states. Nebraska is one of them.

One motto has been: "If we're old enough to stop a bullet, we're old enough to cast a ballot."

Others have pointed out that the young pay taxes and if they cannot vote it is an example of taxation without representation.

There are more equally unsubstantiated claims for giving the vote to those 18 or 19 years old.

In the first place, the "bullet-vote" idea makes sense for the ones who go to Vietnam. However, boys mature fast in combat so perhaps they are ready. But they make up only a fraction of their age group and there is no reason to grant votes to those who stay behind (some protesting Vietnam on the basis of misinformation) because a few are in combat.

Taxation without representation? How about the kid who buys a two-bit milk shake and pays a penny sales tax? Does he get a vote too?

Some at the age of 18 are responsible enough to vote. Others are at 19. Some at 20. More at 21. Admittedly, some are no more prepared at 41 than they were at 15.

However, the line has to be drawn somewhere. We have gotten along pretty well without a lower voting age so far and no one has come up with a good argument yet for a lower age limit.

We can see the door opening to more possibilities if Nebraska does allow the younger people to vote. They will want to get drinks on the premise that they're old enough to handle a ballot, why not a bottle? The young in the 18-20 age group will form a strong pressure group. They might even be aggressive enough to get out and vote in strong enough numbers once they get that right, so they could swing a lot of elections. In that way they would show that we older people are neglecting a privilege we've had for years. Still, we don't think we want them taking over control right now.—CEG.

are to apply for admission.

"I feel the state has a responsibility that should not be shifted to the students," Sen. Orme argues. "We cannot deny some a chance to go to the university simply because they do not have the financial means necessary to enroll."

University Chancellor Clifford Hardin said he is "hopeful" the Legislature will adjust Tiemann's recommendation, or expand the scholarship programs at the school.

The university has asked the lawmakers for $91.6 million in state tax funds for the two-year fiscal period beginning July 1. Tiemann proposes the allocation be $71.9 million. Both are record-shattering figures.

Crisis Or Not?

Is the state of Nebraska currently in the throes of a financial crisis?

Republican Gov. Norbert Tiemann believes so; former Democratic Gov. Frank B. Morrison doesn't. The two have continued their battle of words over the question with no sign of abatement in sight.

Tiemann and Morrison have been at odds over the issue ever since voters abolished the state property tax and routed the 1965 Income Tax Act last November.

Morrison contends this put the state's back to the fiscal wall—but did not plunge it instantly into a crisis.

Tiemann, on the other hand, claims the crisis was created immediately—and the only solution is swift legislative approval of his combination sales-income tax bill.

Furthermore, Tiemann says Morrison has helped create widespread misunderstanding about the state's fiscal picture by stating he left office with $50 million in the state treasury.

"These funds are not available to meet the expenditures of the next biennium—they are obligated funds," Tiemann told Morrison.

"We do have a fiscal crisis and one which must be faced immediately,"

Morrison replied that while it is true the bulk of the $50 million is committed, no fund shortage should occur during the fiscal biennium which ends June 30. Thus, he reasons, there is no immediate crisis.

Assuming that your administration conforms to the current budget of the state of Nebraska, the $50 million bank balance added to the property taxes levied in 1966 which become due in 1967 should be abundantly ample to meet the current budget," Morrison told Tiemann. "I do not know how anyone can construe this situation as a current financial crisis."

Levy Bill Approved

A bill making clear that specified annual levies of cities and villages are maximum and not mandatory levies has been given final legislative approval. The roll call vote was 42-0 on LB 98, sponsored by Sens. Eric Rasmussen of Fairmont, Ross H. Rasmussen of Hooper, and Richard F. Prout and Edward R. Danner of Omaha. The objective, they said, is to remove city councils and village boards that there is no state law which requires a maximum mill levy be imposed on local property owners.

State law presently permits first class cities (5,000 to 100,000 population) to levy an annual property tax of 25 mills on every $1,000 assessed valuation. The ceiling on second class cities (under 5,000 population) and villages is 30 mills.

Bill Sent To Floor

The Legislature's Government Committee has given unanimous approval to a bill requiring statewide voter registration. It will come up for floor debate soon.

Under present law, registration is required in counties with more than 20,000 residents and in cities over 7,000 population. This covers about half the state's eligible voters.

"Food Wraps"

Three types of food wraps are used in today's kitchens—aluminum foil, waxed paper and plastic film.

Foil is available in three weights or gauges—regular, heavy weight and extra heavy weight. Price of foil is determined by gauge, brand, width and length of foil in the package. If the gauge is not specifically stated on the package, the homemaker should assume it to be regular weight.

All weights of foil are more expensive than waxed paper or plastic film.

Waxed paper is a satisfactory wrap for foods which require short term loose wrappings like fresh meats and baked goods. Plastic films cling to food and prevent passing of air and moisture. These wraps are good for covering bowls and for wrapping odd shaped items. Neither the light plastic nor waxed paper is recommended as sufficient wrap for foods to be frozen. Heavy-weight foil is superior to regular weight when used as a freezer wrap. Extra heavy foil is seldom needed for food wrap purposes. Pennies can be saved by using the least expensive wrap which will be adequate for the job.

Fertility And Water Needs

It is generally stated that as much fertility as they remove from the soil. Fertilizer has given more profit when applied to other crops in the rotation, but soybeans do benefit from fertilizer carryover. However, if soil tests show that the soil is very low in nitrogen or phosphorus, moderate applications of these nutrients to soybeans should be profitable.

In a series of trials over three years it was found that soybeans used 23 to 25 inches of water annually to produce 35 to 40 bushels per acre yields. This included rainfall and irrigation during the growing season and subsoil moisture in the soil at planting time. The highest water use efficiency was 1.6 bushels per acre-inch of water used. By comparison corn and grain sorghum produce five bushels per acre-inch.

Tractor Testing Results

A new summary sheet including the results of the 1966 University of Nebraska tractor testing program is now available. The summary includes resumes of 176 tests conducted by the tractor testing laboratory. Copies of the summary are available at County Extension offices, the NU Department of Information, the Department of Agricultural Engineering, and the Tractor Testing Laboratory.

Single copies of complete individual reports on each tractor tested may be obtained by writing to the Agricultural Experiment Station, Department of Agricultural Engineering, College of Agriculture and Home Economics, Lincoln, Nebraska, 68503. When requesting an individual report, specify the name and model of the tractor as well as test number.

The 1967 testing season will begin April 1. According to L. E. Larsen, engineering-in-charge at the laboratory, present plans indicate that about 30 tractors will be tested. Twenty-six tractors were tested in 1966. Larsen anticipates that

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

Volunteers have just about completed in-country orientation, dealing with the agricultural crops and animals that extension people work with in trying to improve agricultural production and the life of the farmer.

The weather has been cool and comfortable all a quick rain shower about every four days.

Volunteers are trying to learn as much Guarani as possible before going to their extension sites. Guarani is the common language that all the people speak and understand. It is an old Indian dialect which is unwritten and has primarily nasal sounds complemented by extensive whistling noises that are used by the campesinos. It is difficult to learn since it lacks a pattern or system of grammar and is based on sounds. While the Guarani language is a provincial barrier to cultural participation in the world, the Spanish language and Latin cultural and geographical proximity to Europe and Africa are factors easily identified even in landlocked Paraguay, that allow for a great deal of world influences.

Many of the grasses are propagated vegetatively and have names such as Angola, Bermuda de la Corta, Pasto Colonial de Africa, Pasto Aleman (Germany), Sudan African, Tangania, Africa, Elephant, Buffalbe (USA), Latonia (Asia) and Santa Elesta Brazil, that indicate the influence that other countries have had on Paraguay in this one area alone. Most of the grasses are usually just grazed by cattle that are in appearance like Brahmas and Holstein steers; or put into henos (haylofts) after cutting grass with a large knife called a Machedi. All of the meat is grassed and has very little fat. Campesinos work primarily with oxen and horses, which is indicative of the time period to which they are attuned. The changes of the 20th century are coming fast though, as indicated by the industrial products that have come in the last 10 years.

Microbuses from Argentina and Germany, Willys Jeeps of Brazil or Jeeps from England, trucks from Germany and pickups from the United States running on recently-constructed blacktop roads are increasing mobility considerably. The primary form for peoples' transportation on these roads is a great number of cheaply-made Volvo microbuses imported from Argentina. One becomes increasingly aware of the import of world trade and resources even in small countries.

Besides agriculture, some volunteers will work with the forest areas since lumber is a second basic resource here, used for cooking, heating and export. Lumber trucks haul the big hardwood trees to Asuncion and then they are taken by ship to a mill in Argentina. One of the extension services is brush control and of course better methods of forestry. Most of the volunteers will know their towns in which the extension offices are located and the agents they will work with in a few days.

He had a jack of spades, and the five of hearts, diamonds and clubs. The five of spades turned up on the board. The thing to do on such an occasion is to tie the lucky deck with a ribbon and put it in the archives. This the men did.

Feb. 28, 1952: Richard Longe, Wayne 4-H club member, was named top judge at a judging program held in connection with the Nebraska Poland-China association show and sale in Norfolk Thursday. Neighbors were entertained in the Russell Baird home, Winside, Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jelinik who are moving to Phoenix, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. George Owens, Carroll, retired Saturday from a three-week trip to California. She stepped the speedometer up to 80 and when she looked back there was three. Suddenly she spied a gas station, pulled in, jumped out and dashed into the restroom. In spite of the preliminary announcements, we expect to catch some of you by surprise next Monday. There in your mail will be another Wayne Herald. From now on, you will get a copy the first of the week and another the last of the week. Some features carried previously in every issue will now be in one or the other. We'll divide them up so as to balance the papers out. The days of 36-pagers such as last week will probably be few and far between since advertisers will no doubt spread advertising out more. We hope you'll welcome the twice-a-week set-up. It will mean more work, but we happen to like our work so we'll double our pleasure.

We enjoyed the defensive driving course and we think we benefitted. Some have asked us if it is worth the time and effort. We would say "Yes, for about 99 per cent of all drivers." We can't see how anyone could go wrong taking it. We still make mistakes, but we realize they are mistakes and we try to remember not to make them again. We have habits that are not good, and we're trying to break the habits. When you remember that people are hurt or killed every day because they committed some little breach of good defensive driving training, you realize that those little bad habits are really big bad habits. We'd have you ask some of those who made the mistake of trying one of these "accident-producers" once too often, except too many of them are in no position to respond. We hope there will be more defensive driving courses. We hope you will be in one.

Once again we disagree with the editor of the Winner News-Chronicle. He says to go to Sioux City to take airlines because getting there is simpler. We think it is more sensible to go to Omaha. There are more flights and faster flights; if you take Frontier to Denver, you pay half fare at Omaha if you take standby (and usually you get on the first plane anyway with another flight a little later in case you don't); the saving on a half-fare round trip out of Omaha to Denver is considerable. We may not tell you where to go, but we can tell you how.

University of Nebraska Symphonic Band to Give Concert Here Monday

The University of Nebraska Symphonic Band will give a free public concert in Wayne Monday, Mar. 6, at 8 p.m. in the Wayne City Auditorium. Band members will be overnight guests in Wayne homes.

An 82-member band under the direction of Professor Don Lentz, the unit is to present four concerts in Northeast Nebraska. It will be in South Sioux City in the afternoon, Wayne in the evening and Norfolk and Columbus Tuesday.

Two Wayne High School graduates play with the symphonic band made up of top musicians selected from the 240 taking part in the band program at NU.

They are Sandra Olds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Olds, and Nancy de Fresse Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S.K. de Fresse.

Arrangements for the band's appearance in Wayne were made by Donald Schumacher, instrumental music director at Wayne High School. The WHS Music Boosters are sponsoring the concert.

Before the concert, NU band members will have dinner. Following the concert, they will be guests overnight in Wayne homes.

Further information will be given in Monday's newspaper.

Five of the seven days last week there were no accidents in Wayne streets or parking lots. The other two days there were four. Two occurred Feb. 23. The first was on West Third just off Main. Susan Pierce, Laneboro, Ia., turned west. Her car was struck in the side by a car driven by Larry Wilbeck, Wausau, who was backing out of a parking stall. Chief of Police Vern Fairchild, who investigated, reported $50.80 damage to the Pierce car.

Later in the Sav-Mor and Arnie's parking lot, Robert Foote, Allen, was backing out. His car struck the car of Esther Fuoss, Wayne, who was parked in the

Concord Cubs in Initial Banquet

The two-month-old Cub Scout unit at Concord had its initial Blue and Gold Banquet Thursday night in the basement of Concordia Lutheran Church. Mothers of the Cubs of Pack 266 prepared and served dinner and ate with the group.

Cubs, mothers and fathers of the Cubs, committee members Robert Sherry, Norman Anderson and Earl Hughes, Mrs. Anderson, Father John Rizzo, Cubmaster Jerry Allvin, Den Mother Mrs. Allvin and Chas Greenlee were present.

Father Rizzo, pastor of St. Anne's Catholic Church, Dixon, spoke to the group. He held the attention of the boys by telling of a hike up a mountain when he left the group, became lost, waited atop the mountain almost all night and finally returned to those who thought he might be dead. He also captivated the boys and guests with his account of a whaling expedition. The boys helped out with details of their own as he put questions to them from time to time to test their knowledge of whales and whaling.

Sherry had started the hike idea with an "after dinner hike" in which everyone remained seated but went through the motions of hiking. Cubmaster Allvin presented awards and the Cubs had work from den meetings on display and presented songs and a skit. Mrs. Allvin closed with a poem, "Myself," and Father Rizzo gave benediction.

Mrs. Allvin was present in a new den mother uniform. Mothers of the Cubs had presented it to her as a surprise gift the past week in appreciation of her work with the boys. She finds time for Cub work in addition to writing for the newspapers in Wayne and Laurel, tending the household duties and caring for seven children.

Mrs. Sherry and Mrs. Bob Holdorf had made a four-tier cake for the main table. It had flags and little Cubs made of blue pipe cleaners, each holding the name of a Concord Cub. Centerpiece on the other table was a near-life-size Cub complete with traditional Cub cap, all made by Mrs. Holdorf.

Steve Lambing, who had earned a Wolf badge, was absent due to chickenpox. Alan Nobbe is almost ready for his Lion badge and David Sherry earned the Bear badge. Jim Allvin, Mark Martindale and Charles Holdorf all earned Wolf badges.

Pack 266 is sponsored by Lutheran Church men of Concordia Lutheran Church.

Hoskins Firemen Get Free Truck

The Hoskins Rural Fire District is getting a truck chassis free of charge. While not new, it is barely used and has to be considered a bargain.

Clarke-McNary Program has offered equipment to departments that will protect shelterbelts and prairie land. Since the Hoskins department does this anyway, it was decided an application would be made.

Jim Falk and Gary Asmus went to Omaha last week. They brought back a 1959 government surplus truck chassis with no costs involved.

Chief Herman Offer of the Hoskins RFD says the unit will be used for a tank truck. A 1,000 gallon tank will be put on it and this will add to the fire protection offered in the Hoskins district.

WOODWIND CHOIR of Allen High School was K. R. Mitchell Friday night. The music director, Mary Jeanne Ducey, is on the left.

Allen Concert Skilled Effort

What surely must be one of the best music departments in a small school in this part of the state presented a concert at Allen High School Friday night with one of the biggest crowds in years on hand for a program dedicated to Supt. K. R. Mitchell, 32 years administrator.

Mary Jeanne Ducey directs the Allen music department. She presented Mitchell with a plaque in appreciation from the department. She in turn was presented with a cash gift to be used for records of her choice, given by Allen Band parents in appreciation for her work. Jeanne Burant was accompanist for several groups.

The 49-piece concert band proved easy to look at and listen to. They played several numbers, including "Fantasy for Band," a number most small schools would not even attempt, Henry Mancini's "Tango Americano" and a good march number.

Debbi Carr, Delores Nobbe, Lynne Fahrenholz and Jill Fahrenholz made up an excellent clarinet quartet; Jeanne Emry, Mike Ellis, Sharon Nobbe, Tom Maggart, Diann Ellis were in the brass sextet that played a "long hair" number which might not have pleased everyone but it definitely displayed the outstanding ability of the group.

A percussion ensemble, known as "a fun group" since many play who are not regularly in percussion, was popular. Their "Chinese Laundry Man" and flamenco-type song were both novelty numbers.

The woodwind choir made one wonder if any talent scouts were in the crowd looking for college prospects who would get scholarships much as athletes do in sports. The choir has some good prospects. The "Suite Baroque" was most difficult and most superbly done.

First of the vocal groups (all of which sang so distinctly one could actually understand the words—which is not always true of high school vocalists), was the girls' glee club. They sang four challenging songs. Had they been in a contest, it would have been difficult to judge them anything but "superior."

A triple trio made up of Debbi Carr, Debby Jones, Sharon Nobbe, Elaine Snyder, Paulette Thompson, Diann Ellis, Lynne Fahrenholz, Deb Monkins and Cindy Ellis sang beautifully in the difficult "Delightful, Pleasant Groves."

The select choir, made up of selected singers, was exceptionally good, as were the mixed quartet, made up of Diann Ellis, Debbi Carr, Ron Kraemer and Bruce Linafelter, and the trio made up of Debbi Carr, Cindy Ellis and Diann Ellis.

A 52-voice mixed choir sang a beautiful religious number, a spiritual and the ever-popular "Dry Bones." In fact, they were called back to sing the latter over again. Valerie Koester, Larry Carr, Debby Frye and Sandy Jeffrey provided the percussion sounds for the "bones" as described in the song. If the concert had any shortcomings, it would be in the numbers themselves, not in the ability. Almost two hours long (including intermission) it lacked any "relief" numbers such as familiar songs from "Sound of Music," "Mary Poppins" or other such shows. But for pure artistic ability, the proof was in the hearing and singing. Allen musicians are most capable.
