

NU Band Gives Concert Here Monday

Two Wayne High School graduates are members of the University of Nebraska Symphonic Band which will give a free public concert Monday, Mar. 6, at 8 p.m. in the Wayne City Auditorium under sponsorship of Wayne High Music Boosters.

Nancy de Freese Cox is a member of the band playing the flute. She is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. K. de Freese, Wayne. Her husband, Alan Cox, plays trumpet in the band.

Sandra Olds is a band member playing the French horn. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Olds, Wayne. Don Lentz, band director, was Mr. Olds' band director at Vermillion High School years ago.

Band members will stay overnight in Wayne homes. They will have dinner at the school, play for the concert and then go to homes in Wayne as guests of the local residents.

Other band concerts are planned in South Sioux City Monday and Norfolk and Columbus Tuesday. The band will also play in other parts of the state while on the tour schedule this year.

The 82-member band is "THE" band of the school. There are 240 band members and the 82 selected for the symphonic band are considered tops.

Numbers will include the finale of Dvorak's "New World Symphony." This was played Sunday of last week by the WHS band in concert and will be a contest number of the local band in district competition.

Winside Pupils Compete

Mrs. Shirley Trautwein, Winside drama coach, is preparing her pupils for three events. Competition for individuals and plays is being offered.

First competition will be Monday, Mar. 6, in the Lewis and Clark Conference meet at Hartington Cedar Catholic. WHS pupils will compete in nine divisions.

Denise Hansen will compete in oral interpretation of prose literature and Don Longe, Tom Witt, Connie Jones and Dorinda Trautwein in oral interpretation of drama.

Wilma Ritze will compete in interpretative public address; Vicky Wade in original public address; Kirk Troutman in extemporaneous speaking; Ruth Vahlkamp in poetry reading; Keith Krueger in television news commentary; Don Longe and Margaret Nettleton in discussion; and Bob Dangberg in informative public speaking.

Wednesday, Mar. 8, the one-act play, "The Storm," will be presented at the one-act play contest for L&C Conference at Norfolk Catholic. Cast members are Tom Witt, Connie Jones, Don Longe, Kathy Pfeiffer and Lee Trautwein.

The district drama festival will be held in Wayne Monday, Mar. 18. Winside will enter all the individual and one-act play numbers listed above.

Breaks Hip in Fall

Mrs. Maude Joseph Smith, Hopkinton, Ia., a WSC faculty member from 1923 to 1953, fell and broke her hip Feb. 23 while visiting relatives at Orlando, Fla. She is hospitalized in Room 3125, Florida Sanitarium and Hospital, 601 S. Rollins Ave., Orlando, Fla. 32803.

Mrs. Smith taught English and dramatics and was dean of women for a time at Wayne State. She had gone to Florida in late January.

Teaching at Winside

Three Wayne State College students are doing practice teaching in Winside. They are Margaret Shoemaker, Elgin, who teaches American history in high school and eighth grade social studies and government; Darrell Connick, Elgin, teaching physical education and literature; and Joyce Mitchell, Wayne, teaching English and seventh grade social studies.

No Winner Past Week in Drawing

A Wayne woman could have won $400 Thursday. She was not in a store participating in the Silver Dollar Night Drawing so she gets $10 consolation instead.

Mrs. Richard Mencl would have been that much richer if she had been in the stores at 8. Her number was drawn and her name announced at that time.

This week's drawing will be $400 again. However, $50 will be put in a reserve fund to start another Silver Dollar Night account.

Centennial Plans Made

Wayne County will have a number of events which will be dedicated to the Nebraska centennial as regular events each year and several others that will be special events for the centennial year only. It was revealed at a centennial meeting in Hoskins Tuesday evening.

Free barbecues, saddle club play days, festivals, teas, parades, rodeos and other events are already planned. Other events probably will be scheduled during the next nine months.

Harold Loberg, Carroll, is chairman for the Wayne County Centennial Committee. Mrs. John Berquist, Carroll, is secretary.

Next meeting of the group is set for Friday, Mar. 17, at 8 p.m. in the Legion Hall, Winside. All residents of the county are welcome to attend to help plan 100th birthday events for the county.

As far as plans go now, the first special centennial event will be Saturday, Apr. 29, at the Carroll Auditorium. An official centennial "night owl" square dance will be held from 9 p.m. until 5 a.m. Jerry Junck, Carroll, will be master of ceremonies, there will be guest callers, food will be served and the ones who thought they could have danced all night before will be given a chance to do just that. Mr. and Mrs. Julius Eckert, Winside, and Mr. and Mrs. Clair Swanson, Carroll, are in charge.

In May the Wayne County Extension Clubs will have their annual tea, the centennial year event being scheduled for Winside. Carroll will have its spring festival Tuesday and Wednesday, May 30-31.

June events include a Carroll Saddle Club play day on the 11th, June 24-25 the Winside Saddle Club will have a special centennial rodeo.

Hoskins will start off July with a centennial celebration the first day of the month, a parade, free barbecue, carnival and other events being planned. Wayne Saddle Club will have a play day Tuesday, July 4.

Winside's Old Settlers Day celebration will be a centennial observance with barbecue, parade, carnival, baseball and other events. Aug. 13 the Winside Saddle Club will have a play day.

The Nebraska centennial celebration opened Mar. 1 and will last nine months. Hundreds of events are being planned throughout the state, many just for the centennial year and others being traditional events dedicated this year to marking the state's birthday.

Six Persons Unhurt When Cars in Collision

Two cars collided in a county road intersection northwest of Wayne Thursday morning. The driver in one car and the driver and four passengers in the other car escaped injury.

Magnus Peterson, Pilger, was southbound in one car. He was alone. In a westbound car were August Thum, driver, and four passengers.

The vehicles collided in the intersection with moderate damage resulting to both. The right front of the Peterson car was damaged and the right front fender and the right front door of the Thum car were damaged.

Deputy Sheriff S. C. Thompson investigated the mishap.

Give WHS Plays Tuesday

Three vastly different plays will be presented by the drama department of Wayne High School Tuesday, Mar. 7, at 8 p.m. in the Wayne City Auditorium. Chet Christensen is director with Belinda Bebee student assistant.

"Twelve Pound Look" is a comedy set in England. It tells about an Englishman about to be knighted when his first wife shows up, informs him she has not run away and left him after all and complicates the whole situation.

There are no reserved seats so those coming earliest will get the choice of seats. Curtain goes up promptly at 8.

Offstage workers include the following: Lights, Sarah Ahlmann and Mary Stevenson; costumes, Susan Shirck, Linda Doring, and Cindy Harter; tickets, La-Mae Gettman, Deanna Jorgensen, Sally Haase and Carol Mason.

Posters, Jan Zach and Gloria Pollard; sound and props, Cindy Swinney, Ann Baier, and Lynn Preston; makeup, Sue Ehlers, Beth McLean, Gloria Magnuson, Linda Schneider, Karen Dall and Mary Sherry; and stage crew, Dave Jensen and Rodney Reeg.

Coach Harold Maciejewski Resigns

Harold "Mac" Maciejewski, 14 years basketball coach at Wayne High School, has asked to be relieved of his duties as coach but will remain in the local school system.

Several factors entered into the decision, which was made early in February but not announced until this week. Foremost of the reasons is family responsibilities, his wife having succumbed a little over a year ago.

The changing situation at the high school with new openings is another factor. He has a chance to be absorbed into the system in the position of athletic director, a post that might not be open should he choose to resign in later years.

Finally, he has been handling some of the athletic director duties as well as physical education. These have demanded a lot of time and he feels that he can best serve by devoting full time to that work.

His new post as athletic director and chairman of the physical education department will be supplemented with coaching duties for the golf and cross country teams. He will continue in the system in which he has taught and coached for 14 years.

Supt. Francis Haun expressed the feelings of the school board in pointing out that the resignation would be accepted regretfully. He cited the tremendous success Maciejewski teams have had, the contribution Mac has made to the high school athletics and the respect he commands among fellow teachers and coaches. Haun said he was grateful to have Maciejewski choose to remain in the system.

Maciejewski's teams at Loup City and Wayne have compiled a record of 246 wins and 81 losses. He also coached football at both schools, winning 76, losing 44 and tying 7. His track team won the Husker Conference in 1956 and the Stanton Invitational in 1954.

In football, he had two losing seasons in six years at Loup City and one losing season in nine years at Wayne. He had a Three Loups co-champion team at Loup City in 1948 and won or tied for Husker west division titles in 1953, 1954, 1958 and 1959 at Wayne.

His basketball record is even more impressive. In 20 years he has had only one losing season, that in 1960-61. His team won 7 and lost 8 that year, 5 of the losses coming in games that went overtime or were lost by one point.

Following his stint at Loup City from 1947 to 1950, he did not coach basketball there. His Loup City teams in three years won 39 and lost 15. They were runnersup in the Class B district one year, won two conference and the district title the next year.

His record at Wayne (wins, losses and titles) looks like this: 1953-54, 14-6, co-champions Husker Conference west division, Class B district champions, lost first round at state; 1954-55, 18-5, Husker champs, Class B district champs, lost in regional playoff; 1955-56, 20-1, Husker Conference champs, Class B district champs, state Class B champs, rated first in the state in Class B; 1956-57, 17-2, Husker Conference champs, Class B district champs, lost in regional playoff; 1957-58, 18-3, Husker Conference champs, Class B district champs, regional playoff winners, lost in state meet semifinals; 1958-59, 16-6, Class B district champs, won regional playoff, lost first round in state meet, won Laurel Invitational; 1959-60, 11-7, Class B district champs seventh year in a row, lost in first round state meet; 1960-61, 7-8; 1961-62, 16-1, Husker Conference champs, lost in second round district; 1962-63, 16-5, runner-up in district Class B; 1963-64, 15-6, Class B district champs, lost in state semi-finals to Omaha Holy Name; 1964-65, 15-4; 1965-66, 15-4, Husker Conference champs, lost in second round of district tournament; 1966-67, 9-8.

Taffy Burns Not Healing Very Fast

The taffy burns received by Danny Johnson Feb. 5 have not healed as fast as had been hoped. The seven-year-old was still a patient in the Wayne Hospital the latter part of the past week.

Danny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnson, who operate the services at the Wayne Municipal Airport, is a most patient patient. Only once has he asked if he couldn't go home.

He is so patient about remaining in bed just another day, he has won the hearts of the hospital staff. Classmates at school have sent gifts since they cannot visit him and he has books, toys and television to pass the time.

Mrs. Johnson said friends have also been good to her. She was with her son at the hospital one day, came home to the multitude of jobs that faces every housewife and found a friend had gone right into the Johnson home and was doing the work.

Others have also been good. Mrs. Johnson spends a good share of every day with her son and both she and her husband try to visit the lad in the evenings. This takes them away from their own work but they feel that Danny's needs come first.

St. Bernard Lost?

How could a St. Bernard get lost? One did last week in Wayne. At least that is shown on the police blotter. How could anyone steal four cases of beer out of a truck in broad daylight? It happened in Wayne last week. Police also reported investigating the case of a missing bike—found two hours after reported lost, a lantern-type light taken from a home and an air cleaner taken from a parked car.

Needs Allen School

Ed Hechens, Cook, will be in Allen Saturday. He is to be the superintendent of schools when the 1967-68 term opens. He will meet with Supt. K.R. Mitchell and get oriented in the school.

Winnebago Road Requirements Set

The prospects for a direct county road from Wayne to Winnebago apparently depend on a bridge and acquiring the right of way for changing the route in two counties.

Commissioners from Wayne County went to Pender Tuesday. They met with five of the seven-man board of supervisors of Thurston County to discuss the road idea.

The state has used bridges which can be purchased, dismantled, reassembled and erected. None is available that would serve the purpose, the two counties might go ahead with the road work.

Don't Miss This!

A new feature starts in this issue of The Herald. It can be found on the editorial page and you are urged not to miss it.

"Sixty Years Ago This Week" is the name of the feature to be carried in Monday editions from now on. The feature contains items the way they were written in the paper 60 years ago the week carried.

When first written, they were thought to be just another feature. However, Herald employees have all read the items, enjoyed them tremendously and urged extra emphasis on them as a feature everyone should like. Your comments will be appreciated.

Truck Backs Up, Hits Side of Passing Car

A truck being backed from a parking lot was backed into a passing car Tuesday. The mishap occurred on East Fairgrounds Ave.

Edwin Milligan, Carroll, was backing the truck from the Wayne Motor Express parking lot, John Gettman, Wayne, was eastbound on Fairgrounds Ave.

Milligan failed to see the Gettman vehicle and his truck hit the right side of the car. Chief of Police Vern Fairchild investigated.

County 4-H Council Meets Thursday

The first meeting of 1967 for the Wayne County 4-H Council will be held Thursday, Mar. 9, at 8 p.m. in the court room of the courthouse, according to County Agent Harold Ingalls.

Leaders are expected to be present along with representatives of all of the 4-H clubs in the county. Plans for the year ahead are to be made.

An election will be held

Defensive Driving Course Ended Here

The Wayne defensive driving course held its final class Thursday night. Out of the 29 originally enrolled, 26 finished the course and the other three have indicated they will finish it by attending at other sites.

Trooper James O'Dell was in charge. He also had the course at Concord, has a course planned at Emerson soon and is holding courses at Columbus, Verdigré and other points.

Cards indicating completion of the course were handed out by Margaret Stahly Thursday night. Trooper O'Dell congratulated each one and urged them to remember the art of defensive driving to avoid being among those involved in traffic mishaps in the years ahead.

THE CENTURION was portrayed in the living Biblical character series for Lent at Redeemer Lutheran Church by Dr. Lyle Skov. Dick Carman made the costume out of "scraps, and that didn't cost a cent." The spear, for example, usually holds the church flag.

The Spook Speaks

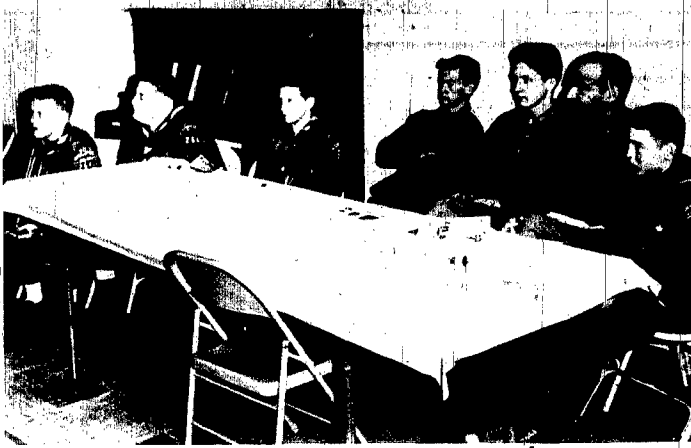

The Concord woman thought she picked up her eyebrow pencil the other day to "do" her eyebrows. She accidentally picked up the wrong item. She does not recommend others making that mistake—what she had picked up was a laundry marker (and the ink from that may last longer than the eyebrows).

In Wayne, a woman was cleaning the fish bowl. She had put the fish in a wash-bowl with water. Her little daughter pulled the stopper, and water and fish went down the drain. The little girl's tears were so hard to stop, her father was called. He came home, did some plumbing and found the fish, swimming around in the drain trap.

The Nebraska Department of Roads has issued its 1965-55 biennial report. One map contains a couple of goofs in this area alone. O'Neill is spelled O'Neil. Worse yet, Wakefield has been transferred from the Wayne County line in Dixon County into Cedar County.

A QUARTET of off-campus students is the brain champion of Wayne State College, determined in the annual Quiz Bowl, a local version of the television College Bowl. Members of the team are (front) Ronald Whitt of Cedar Rapids, and Patricia Kim of Hartington; (back) Dan Griepentrog of Madison and Bob Bonge of Plainview. In the final round they defeated, 240-135, a Pile Hall team of Vicki Ankerstor, Norfolk; Lois Shuffeldt, DeWitt; Carole Thomas, Laurel, and Sharen Brundeen, Akron, Ia. Members of the faculty submitted questions for the contest.

North Platte Pastor Speaking at Church

Rev. William Simmer, pastor of First Methodist Church, North Platte, and a former pastor here from 1957 to 1964, will speak at the Lenten Chapel Hour in the Methodist Church in Wayne, Wednesday, Mar. 15.

He is a native of Ottumwa, Ia., and graduated from OHS in 1939. He attended Cornell College in Iowa, where he received an AB degree. He also attended Boston U. in 1950.

Since then he has served churches in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Iowa and Nebraska. He has been camp counselor for the College Regional Conference for five years and was chairman of the Conference Commission on College and University Religious Life. At present he is a member of the board of pensions of the Nebraska Conference and was a trustee of Wesleyan 1957-1963.

A fellowship coffee hour will follow the service with Ruth Circle serving. Everyone is welcome to the service and coffee hour, according to Rev. Cecil Bliss, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Winside Talks Given

A representative of the state department of health, Mrs. Day, scheduled talks in Winside Grade School this week. Topics chosen were "Bicycle Safety" and "Dental Hygiene," Supt. James Christensen reports.

Madison Earns State Tourney Trip Friday

Madison High School defeated Bloomfield at Rice Auditorium Friday night to earn the right to represent Northeast Nebraska Class B basketball powers at the Nebraska State Tourney in Lincoln.

Leading practically all the way, Madison pulled away in the final 44 seconds after being tied at 54-44. A left-handed driving hook shot by Rory Test proved to be the margin needed for a trip to Lincoln for Fred Letheby's Dragons.

Bloomfield fought from a nine-point deficit to tie the score with 1:04 left in the game only to see the win slip away. Madison had previously ousted Wayne and Laurel, while Bloomfield took out Hartington Cedar Catholic and Pierce enroute to the finals.

Topping scorers for the night was classy Clayton Morlock for Madison with 20 points, while teammates Mike Renner and Rory Test came through with 16 and 13 counters respectively. For Bloomfield Randy Lemke hit for 17 with James Hoppe adding 13 and Kelly Newton 10.

Scoring by quarters: Bloomfield—6 19 15 14—54 Madison—14 15 19 12—60 Bloomfield had won over Pierce in the semi-finals 56-49. Madison made its way to the championship round by defeating Laurel 48-40.

Few Area Teams Earn State Tourney Berths

Northeast Nebraska will not be well-represented as far as numbers go in the state basketball tournament next week. Wisner, Clearwater and Madison are the three true "Northeastern" teams going.

In Class A, Norfolk lost to Fremont and South Sioux City lost to Columbus in district play. In Class B, Madison defeated Bloomfield in the finals 60-54 to earn a trip to Lincoln. Class C saw Wisner beat Walthill to gain a tournament spot. Norfolk Catholic was ousted in regional play-offs by Osceola and Wausa went down before a powerful Bassett team in the play-offs. Clearwater won the trip by defeating Hartington in Class D.

Seek Dixon Members

A membership drive is being conducted in Dixon as well as other area towns for "sustaining members" in the Boy Scout program. A dollar a month is sought to help maintain the Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer Scout programs. Lowell Saunders is chairman for the Dixon community. The drive is made on the theory that the boys eligible for Scouting "only come onr way once as boys" and they have to be helped now if they are to get help at all.

HOW WILL YOU HANDLE ALL OF THOSE STALKS?

BRADY 4-ROW CHOPPER

The best way to handle the tangled mass of tough, heavy hybrid stalks is a Brady Hail shredder. It shreds your stalks, makes plowing easier, faster, better... knocks out most of your corn borers, too. You can even pull a tandem disc behind a Brady and be ready for minimum tillage. It's a great labor-saver... and excellent for clipping pastures and idle acres.

THE WAYNE HERALD

Carole Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Miller, South Sioux City, and Hal F. Sandahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sandahl, Wayne, were married in 3 p.m. rites Feb. 12 at Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wayne.

Rev. S. K. de Fresse officiated at the doubling ceremony. Michele Grant sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Bill Kugler was organist. The altar was flanked with candelabra and baskets of pink and white chrysanthemums. The pews were marked with candles and white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of satin peau de soie styled with a scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and a natural waistline. The bodice and the skirt panels were accented with Venetian lace and tiny seed pearls. The inverted pleats gave the skirt fullness and extended into a chapel train. Her floor length veil was held by a cluster of daisies. She carried a bouquet of orchid calla lilies.

Connie Baiier, South Sioux City, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of pale pink velveteen. Bridesmaids were Connie Thompson, South Sioux City and Gerri Gilbert, Wayne. They wore floor length gowns of grape colored velveteen. Each wore a matching fingertip veil and each carried a colonial bouquet of mums.

Shana Heller and Bonita Burnham were flower girls. Greg Korth was ring-bearer. Kim Kline and Greg Swinney lighted the candles.

Stacy Swinney, Wayne, was best man. Larry Fuoss and Bill Blecke, Wayne, were groomsmen. Ushers were Paul Eaton and Paul Gustafson, Wakefield, Al-Jen Cook, Carroll, and Jim Sommerfeldt, Wayne. The bridegroom and his attendants wore black tuxedos.

The bride's mother wore a three-piece aqua suit with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a pale blue lace dress with matching accessories. Each wore a cymbidium orchid corsage. The bridegroom's grandmother chose an ice blue two-piece

Mr. and Mrs. Free Lubberstedt, Wayne, and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Mattes, Allen, were guests Sunday evening in the Larry Lubberstedt home to help the hosts observe their wedding anniversary.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of satin peau de soie styled with a scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and a natural waistline. The bodice and the skirt panels were accented with Venetian lace and tiny seed pearls. The inverted pleats gave the skirt fullness and extended into a chapel train. Her floor length veil was held by a cluster of daisies. She carried a bouquet of orchid calla lilies.

Connie Baier, South Sioux City, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of pale pink velveteen. Bridesmaids were Connie Thompson, South Sioux City and Gerri Gilbert, Wayne. They wore floor length gowns of grape colored velveteen. Each wore a matching fingertip veil and each carried a colonial bouquet of mums.

Shana Heller and Bonita Burnham were flower girls. Greg Korth was ring-bearer. Kim Kline and Greg Swinney lighted the candles.

Stacy Swinney, Wayne, was best man. Larry Fuoss and Bill Bleckie, Wayne, were groomsmen. Ushers were Paul Eaton and Paul Gustafson, Wakefield, Allen Cook, Carroll, and Jim Sommerfeldt, Wayne. The bridegroom and his attendants wore black tuxedos. The bride's mother wore a three-piece aqua suit with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a pale blue lace dress with matching accessories. Each wore a cymbidium orchid corsage. The bridegroom's grand mother chose an ice blue two-piece ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. A reception for 225 guests was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hugelman, Wakefield, were hosts. Mrs. Jim Suber and Kathy Eaton arranged the gifts. Nell Burnham, the bridegroom's aunt, was in charge of the guest book. Gayle Victor and Sharon Cleveland, Wayne, served punch. Marion Burnham, Denver, and Mrs. Merwyn Kline, Wakefield, cut the cake. Marilyn Test, Wayne, and Mrs. Hubert Eaton, Wakefield; poured. Waitresses were Lila Kingston, Sandy Peters and Jackie Stutz, South Sioux City.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado the couple are residing at 3019 Dakota Ave., South Sioux City, where the bridegroom is employed at Iowa Beef. The bride is employed at Youngberg's Photo Studio, Sioux City.

Mrs. Paul E. Martinsen, Everly, Ia., served as matron of honor. She wore a gown of azure blue velvet with matching headpiece and she carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Dykman, Muskegon, and Mrs. C. Dale Mallekoote.

Paul E. Martinsen, Everly, served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were C. Dale Mallekoote and James Mallekoote. The attendants wore tuxedos. The bridegroom wore the full dress uniform of ensign in the U.S. Navy. A reception was held in Calvin Seminary Coffee Shop immediately following the wedding. A reception was held for relatives and friends Feb. 21 in St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Sioux City. Attending the Sioux City reception were Mr. and Mrs. Amos Echtenkamp and Virginia, Mrs. Irene Gwose, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Meyer and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Kay, Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heinemann, Winside, and other friends and relatives from Norfolk, Newcastle, and Orange City, Everly and Salix, Ia.

The bridegroom was graduated from Norfolk Junior College in 1964 and attended college at Ames, Ia. He enlisted in the Navy in 1965. The couple will live at Whidbey Island, Wash., where Ensign Martinsen is stationed.

Pierce Pickle Meeting Scheduled for Tuesday

Wayne County farmers interested in growing cucumbers for a Minnesota pickle packer are invited to a meeting in the Pierce High School lunch room Tuesday, Mar. 7, at 1:30 p.m.

A representative will be on hand to explain the set-up under which his company, one of the largest pickle packers in the nation, will contract to buy the entire production of cucumbers.

It is hoped 75 acres can be contracted so a collection center can be set up in Pierce with automatic grading and weighing. Farmers interested in planting 1/2 to 1 1/2 acres are needed.

Payment will be made for cucumbers as they are brought in. They should realize as little as $400 per acre for poor crop cucumbers and up to $1,000 an acre for crops grown in ideal weather.

Information on requirements, the amount of work involved and other phases of cucumber production will be offered at the Tuesday meeting.

Small Donation Helps

A $15 donation came to the American Field Service at Wayne High School the past week. Counselor Ken Deissler reports the smaller donations are welcomed and are needed along with the large donations which have been publicized the past two weeks. The Rain or snow showers have been predicted at times for the area. The rain has been barely enough to dirty the cars and the snow has blown into sheltered areas and ditches. It has been a dry winter and a little moisture will be appreciated in most parts of this area.

student council is planning slave day Mar. 17, an April Fool's Day dance with girls inviting the boys and a talent show. Donations large and small may be sent to the AFS Chapter at the high school.

Bonus Weather Keeps Region Warm but Dry

Northeast Nebraska basked under warm sunshine much of the latter part of the week. The warmth was appreciated but the dry conditions are not favorable.

The area has not had a good wet snow for weeks and the moisture record for the year is below average. Some sub-surface moisture is needed before the farmers get into the fields this coming spring.

March is one of those months when anything can happen. Some of the worst blizzards, some of the wettest snowstorms and some of the strongest winds have come in March in past years.

Rain or snow showers have been predicted at times for the area. The rain has been barely enough to dirty the cars and the snow has blown into sheltered areas and ditches. It has been a dry winter and a little moisture will be appreciated in most parts of this area.

Large Crowd Attends

Allen Church Dinner

Around 165 attended the 29th annual "Five Dollar Dinner" of the Allen Methodist Church Thursday night in the church basement. Dr. Vance Rogers, president of Nebraska Wesleyan University, was guest speaker, speaking on "The Church in a Period of Transition."

Special recognition is given at the yearly banquet for service to the church. This year Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Mitchell were presented the award by Jim Warner, lay leader.

Debbi Carr, Diann Ellis, Ron Braemer and Bruce Linafelter, members of the AHS quartet, sang several numbers, accompanied by Jeanne Durant, Rev. Herbert Jackman, district superintendent, gave the invocation and Rev. Alfred Winkler, pastor, gave the benediction.

Jim Warner led in group singing with Mrs. Josie Hill playing accompaniment. A centennial theme was used in table decorations and in the dresses of the waitresses.

Mrs. Ralph Baker, Golden, Col., spent last Wednesday to Sunday with her father, August Kruse, Mr. Kruse, 77, is recuperating from a broken wrist. He fell on the sidewalk near the City Hall last week. He resides with his sister, Mrs. Mina Danklau.

Scout Troops Getting Outdoors More Often

Wayne Boy Scouts are getting out more and enjoying it more these nice days. Two troops have had overnight camps and the other has had a hike.

Troop 221, Jewell Schock

Scoutmaster, hiked Saturday and the Scouts have indicated they want more hikes. Several are ready to pass to Tenderfoot rank so a board of review is in the offing.

Scoutmaster Bill Richardson and Scouts of Troop 175 camped out two weeks ago. Friday night Scoutmaster Dick Manley and five Scouts of Troop 174 camped overnight in the new Boy Scout camp at the southeast edge of town.

All three troops will take part in the good turn for Goodwill operation. They will pick up filled sacks Mar. 11.

Allen Scouts Attend

Wausa Fete Saturday

Members of the Allen Girl Scouts and Brownie troops attended International Friendship Day activities in Wausa Saturday. Ponca, Crofton, Coleridge, Hartington, Allen and Wausa were represented.

Allen's Girl Scouts presented a skit on "World Friendship" with the girls dressed to represent different countries. Allen Brownies sang a "smile song" and each had a doll dressed in a Brownie uniform from a foreign country, describing the dresses in a skit.

Girl Scouts attending were Cadettes Denise Linafelter, Lisa Carpenter, Jeanette Burgess, Julie Tighe, Lisa Ellis, Debbie Ellis, Debbi Kluever, Kim Jackson and LeAnn Von Minden accompanied by the troop leader, Mrs. Merle Von Minden.

Brownies attending were Joy Kjer, Diane Carr, Kathy Smith, Brenda Wennekamp, Jean Kellog, Lori Von Minden, Juli Keil, Belinda Kluever and Mary Weber. They were accompanied by Mrs. Forrest Smith and Mrs. Fred Kellogg.

Memorial Rites Held

For J. G. Rockwell

Private memorial services were held Feb. 24 at Wiltse Chapel for John G. Rockwell, 74, who died Feb. 5 following a heart attack at Veteran's Hospital, New York City. Rev. Robert Shirck officiated.

Mr. Rockwell was born July 26, 1892 at Homer, the son of Louis and Julia Johnson Rockwell. He was graduated from WSTC in 1921 to Eugenia Madsen of Wayne. Mrs. Rockwell died in 1955.

Mr. Rockwell received his B.A. degree from Stanford University, Calif. in 1918 and his Ph.D. degree in psychology from the University of Chicago in 1931. He served on the faculty of the University of Minnesota from 1923 until 1934 when he was appointed Commissioner of Education for the state of Minnesota. He held that post until 1941 when he joined the U.S. Indian Service. In 1947 he was appointed professor of psychology at New York University where he remained until his retirement in 1956. From 1956 to 1958 he taught in Istanbul, Turkey under the Fulbright scholarship program. Since 1965 he had resided in Hastings-on-Hudson, N.Y.

Survivors include two daughters, Helen of Jefferson, Wis., and Jane of Hastings-on-Hudson; a sister, Mrs. Helen Wadsworth, Douglas, Wyo.; two brothers, Douglas, Forrester Rockwell, Bronson, Ia., and George Rockwell, Homer.

Three from Wakefield

Chosen for Caravan

Three young people of Wakefield Evangelical Covenant Church have been chosen to serve on Covenant Youth Caravan teams for 1967-68. This is only the second time three members from one church have been chosen for the work.

Gwen Olson, Candace Jensen and Ronald Larson have been accepted on the teams. All are WSC students.

In September they will take two weeks of training for work starting in October and continuing until June. Two teams of six members each will minister in Covenant Churches.

Beef Cattlemen Get

Advice Feeders Day

Feed problems can lead to brain damage in feedlot cattle, feeders were told at a cattlemen's Feeder Day program in Wisner last week. More problems and plenty of advice were offered.

Dr. C. A. Mebus, NU veterinarian, told the beef cattle men that acute indigestion, Infectious Meningo-encephalitis, Polioencephalomalacia, Circling disease and Meningitis are the principal brain diseases found in feedlot cattle. (He added that they are not as bad as they sound.)

In order, the last four mean: Inflammation of the brain coverings and brain; softening of the gray part of the brain; bacterial disease; and inflammation of the covering of the brain.

Bringing cows on grain too quickly causes acute indigestion, he said. This causes acid build-up in the rumen, decreased volume of blood and decreased urine production showing up with increased pulse, increased breathing, temperature of 102 to 104, stiffness, nasal discharge, grinding of the teeth, staggering gait, convulsions and other symptoms.

IM was first recognized here in 1962. Animals are stiff, reluctant to move, drag the toes of one foot and have a temperature of 107. Only a few animals die as cows build antibodies to the bacteria.

Transferring animals from overgrazed pasture to good pasture may cause PE, although cases have been found in winter feedlots. Twitching of the face, ears and eyelids, stagger-

Card, Note Shower

Scheduled for Man

Claire Walter, former Wakefield resident, will celebrate his birthday Thursday, Mar. 9. Friends in the area are planning to send cards and notes to him to mark the occasion.

Walter has been in a rehabilitation center in Des Moines since May 2, 1966. He was injured in a gasoline transport accident.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walter, Wakefield, and mail can be sent to him at this address: Claire Walter, Younger Rehabilitation Center, 12th Pleasant, Des Moines, Ia. 50308.

WSC Forensic Team

Fourth in Big Meet

Wayne State College's forensic team won fourth place among about 30 colleges entered in the University of Nebraska Forensic Tournament Thursday through Saturday.

The Wayne speakers combined 14 1/2 points in the sweepstakes competition while winner South Dakota University totaled 156. Wichita University and Kansas University finished second and third.

Norman Strizek, Lincoln, won a superior rating in oratory for Wayne. Jean Eynon of Wayne gained a superior with her oral interpretation of a short story written for the contest by Debate Coach Brice Wilkinson. He signed the pen name; B.J.W. EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

New Laws Require More New Laws

The vicious circle of governmental intervention was never more evident than in the present crisis existing in Wayne, Laurel, Pierce, Stanton and other towns. One law has brought on a situation that requires new laws—new laws that would not be necessary if the first law had not been passed.

Two Wayne firms, Wiltse and Hiscox, are giving up their ambulance service in May. They cannot see their way clear to stay in the business under the federal rules set down for such service.

In the first place, neither Wayne firm has been operating ambulance service at a profit. Some people might think the rates are high, but all they have to do is check with costs in almost any other community and they will find out that the service is operated for accommodation and not for profit. They will also find out when the service is no longer offered how economical it has been.

When a private business is forced to quit an essential service, where do the people look for a replacement? To some federal unit, local, county, state or national. What does this mean? Use of tax money.

Because Hiscox and Wiltse did not charge as much as the traffic would bear, area residents may soon feel a pinch two ways. They probably will pay more for ambulance service and they probably will support the cost of providing such service through the payment of taxes.

Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, who spoke at the recent Chamber of Commerce banquet, told the Wayne audience that people seem more and more content to let government move in, take over more facets of living and influence our lives more and more. It did not take long for another example of this creeping socialism to become obvious in Wayne and other towns.

Some are not concerned with what has happened. They are unwilling to offer views, they will not take time to write to their senators or congressman and they just accept it as "one of those things," just as Dr. Nyaradi points out they have done in the past as "dishonest socialism" takes over.

The point is, what is happening now to private business in the form of ambulance service can happen tomorrow to some other form of private enterprise. Who is to know whether the news papers, the hardware stores, the auto dealers, the department stores, the grocery stores or some other retailers will be the object of some law so oppressive it will be all but impossible to stay in business?

The law made in Washington has brought about the demise of the ambulance service as we know it. Now the legislators in Lincoln have worked out a law that will enable counties, cities and other governmental or service units to work together to provide money for setting up ambulance services to replace that which the other law eliminated.

It is a vicious circle. What are you going to do about it? Nothing? That's what we were afraid of.—CEG.

The Art of Procrastination

Are you a procrastinator? Most area people seem to be. No matter where one goes, from Hoskins to Allen, Dixon to Pilger, there seems to be a lot of procrastinating going on.

Webster defines "procrastinate" as: "to delay action through laziness, indifference or indecision." Around this area the "or" might be changed to "and."

Father John Rizzo, pastor of St. Anne's Catholic Church, Dixon, says in some Latin American countries where he has been, being late is so accepted, one plans on meeting an appointment two hours from the time given. For instance, if a dinner is set for 6, it will start at 8.

According to the Dixon pastor, the American embassies have tried to start events on time, much to the Latin Americans' frustration. So now they specify which time is being indicated, their time or American time. If their time, come two hours late; if American time, don't be late.

No particular community in this area is exempt from the bad habit of starting banquets, dinners and meetings late. Most of us have been to some of the functions where the actual starting time was from 15 to 30 minutes later than the indicated starting time.

Sympathy had to go out to a Concord woman recently. She worked hard to get a dinner scheduled, arranged for it to start at 6:30 but put the starting time on invitations at 6 so everyone would be there at 6:30. Those coming knew she really meant 6:30 so they showed up just before 7. There she was, caught with those who had come at 6 thinking the invitation meant 6, those who came at 6:30 who thought 6 meant 6:30 and those who came closer to 7 who thought 6 was indicated, 6:30 was meant but 7 was intended. It's enough to make a woman give up further work of this type.

But why is it necessary? Why can't events be scheduled at a certain time and start at that time? Why not start on the dot even if the guest of honor is late? (If he's late, maybe he isn't so deserv-ing of the honor, just for being so inconsiderate).

Go to stage plays. They start on time. Go to athletic events. They start when scheduled. Go to concerts. If you're late, you miss out on the first part. Why should it be otherwise for meetings or banquets?

Let's be honest about this thing. If we're going to start at 6:30, let's say so and not hedge around by scheduling it at 6 so everyone will be there by 6:30. It is rude, crude and uncouth to be late in the first place; it's discouraging for those who plan and those who come on time in the second place; and it's something that has gone too far in the third place.—CEG.

not available and affidavits from the attending doctor, or other family records such as the Bible or baptismal record cannot be located, the Census records may be the only recourse for locating vital information.

Persons who desire information from the 1900 or later Census may write to the Personal Census Service Branch, Bureau of Census, Pittsburgh, Kansas, 66762 and ask for an Age Search Application Form. The search for legal proof of age, citizenship or kinship is then conducted from the information provided by the patron for a fee of $4 for regular service and $5 for expedited work.

The Service Branch has no appropriated funds and hence must charge a fee for its research activities. The Census Bureau cannot undertake to locate missing persons, including relatives because the 1900 and later Census are confidential and information relating to a living person will be submitted only to that person or to his authorized representative. The Historical Society will undertake research in the Nebraska Census records if patrons provide the name of the person and when and where he lived in Nebraska.

Nebraska WWII Heroes

served the nation during the conflict.

One was Ensign John J. Parle of Omaha who posthumously was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. His deed of extreme heroism came in the invasion of Sicily. A fire started in a small, un-manned boat loaded with explosives. If the boat had exploded, it would not only have meant the loss of a nearby L.S.T. loaded with troops but also the premature disclosure of the landing. Ensign Parle jumped into the boat and extinguished the fire but in doing so suffered fatal injuries. Later the Navy named a Destroyer-Escort craft the USS Parle.

Another Nebraska soldier was Major Mark T. Martin, jr. of near Elkhorn. He received a British Military Cross for gallantry in action in a Com-mando raid at Bizerte. He had organized a rear-guard unit which beat off heavy German counter-attacks, allowing the main body of the Commandos to escape. He was the last man to leave the danger zone. King George VI of England decorated Major Martin.

Pvt. Martin F. Sanford of Hastings won a Silver Star with heroism which cost him his life. He died in North Africa protecting the withdrawal of his comrades. His hometown newspaper the Hastings Tribune commented "Greater love hath no man than this."

Still another Hastings hero was Lt. Harry M. Tully of the Marine Corps who gave his life in the invasion of the Solomon Islands. He was awarded a Silver Star for his action against the Japanese there.

Sergeant Ben Kuroki of Hershey was a tail gunner on a Liberator bomber. He won the Distinguished Flying Cross in the famous low-level raid on the Rumanian oil refinery at Ploesti. Of Japanese descent he had encountered suspicion and hostility in his first months in the service. His brave conduct and that of his fellow Japanese-Americans disproved allegations that they were not reliable. His book, Boy from Nebraska, was widely read after the war.

Lt. Ralph Eggle of Palsade lost his life in the same Ploesti raid and was posthumously awarded a Distinguished Flying Cross. Also in the raid and recipient of the same award was Sergeant Harry Krause of Scottsbluff.

The list of Nebraska heroes living and dead could be expanded many-fold. The state's young men had responded to their country's call in a manner for which Nebraskans forever can be proud.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor: I have been wondering why you and other local editors continue to belittle the Postal department; especially the Sectional Center concept and its gallant efforts to deliver mail faster and cheaper. Is it because you have been required to expend a little more effort in Zip Coding and sorting your papers, or is it that you are just against change? You cite examples of delayed mail and irregular patterns of arrival, but if you would stop long enough to think about it, it is probably a human error (and not always a Postal employee's) that has caused the delay, not the system. Some weeks ago you excused your mistakes by explaining with numbers running into millions, the chances of error in newspaper copy. In 1966 the

A citizen of Hoskins, who has been one of our readers, has discovered that he didn't want The Headlight any longer. That is alright. He lives right in town within two blocks of this office and instead of calling and paying what he owes, like a sneaking coward goes to the post office and refused the paper. Now you fellow,

I am sure this would impress you immensely to see the mountain of mail handled in just our small sectional center, and perhaps you would realize that the system is not entirely wrong. Perhaps you might even have some suggestions for improvement. These are always welcomed by the department. The thing we dislike is criticism without suggested solutions.

Mail service may not be the optimum, but at least give us credit for trying. Each year the piece-handled per employee is going up. Up, so no wonder more mistakes are made. Pfc. Gene Langenberg returned to the hospital at Ft. Campbell, Ky., Friday after spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Langenberg, Hoskins. He has a walking cast on and is able to get along with crutches. He was injured in a parachute jump while in paratrooper training and he will not have to jump again.

His address is: S/Sgt. Ronald E. Carlson, AF 17694068, Box 514, 6937th Communications Group (Command), APO New York, N.Y. 09665.

This department will appear in the Monday editions of The Herald from now on. Pictures and information about men and women in the service should be sent to The Herald. Names of the one to whom pictures are to be returned should be printed on the backs. This department is open to all Wayne County and the surrounding counties.

SP-5 Brice Lindsay, his wife and their two children have spent 30 days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lindsay, Wayne. They left this last week, he for Vietnam and Mrs. Mary Friend, Hoskins, left the past week for Lackland AFB, Tex. He has enlisted in the air force. Further word will come after he completes basic training.

Seaman Recruit Dennis Mitchell, son of Mrs. Marguerite Lange, Belden, has been graduated from a nine-week basic training course at Great Lakes Naval Training Center. He studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those on board ship or at a naval shore station. He studied seamanship, survival techniques and military drill. He is to be based at Adak, Alaska, and reports there Mar. 3.

Pvt. Ronald Temme, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Temme, Wayne, has completed basic training at Ft. Bliss, Tex., and was transferred Feb. 25 to Arizona. He will take training in automotive maintenance. While at Ft. Bliss he received a medal for marksmanship. His new address is: Pvt. Ronald A. Temme, RA 16979916 Co. B, 3rd Bn., 1st Bde, CST, Cr. 22-67, Ft. Huachuca, Ariz. 85613.

Calvin Kruger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kruger, Belden, is stationed in Vietnam, headquarters company. He has been overseas several months and is expected home in May. Prior to going to headquarters company in Saigon he was in a motor pool.

Seabee training is lined up for Charles Arduser, son of the Bernard Ardusers, Belden. He will take a month of carpentry training and then will go overseas. He entered the service last September. His address is: C/Charles B. Arduser, 7796581, MC B 74, CD, FPO New York, N.Y., 09501.

Pvt. Bob McLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McLean, Wayne, left Wednesday by plane for Vietnam. He had been here two weeks visiting his parents, coming here from Ft. Sill, Okla., where he had been in training.

Capt. George Schweers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Schweers, Wisner, received special recognition at Honolulu for his work in saving a man's life on the island of Mejit, Marshall Islands, Jan. 13 he was flying his C-124 Globemaster 8,000 feet over the Pacific when mirror flashes were sighted on Mejit. The following day he flew back at low altitude and saw 50 people waving from the atoll's beach. They radioed Wake Island, a ship was sent from Guam and the people were found to need medical help. The health aide was sick. He was evacuated to another island and supplies were sent to Mejit. Capt. Schweers is a Wisner High graduate, received a BS degree in 1958 at NU and was commissioned through AFROTC. His wife, Marianne, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schultz, Wisner.

Another captain, Darwin Puls, Hoskins, is in Vietnam as an F-100 Super Sabre pilot. Capt. Puls graduated from Norfolk High School, received a BGE degree at Omaha University in 1963 and was commissioned through the aviation cadet program. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Puls.

Gary Friend, son of Mrs. Mary Friend, Hoskins, left the past week for Lackland AFB, Tex. He has enlisted in the air force. Further word will come after he completes basic training.

Dean Mann, Winside, has been promoted to SP-4. He is in Germany with an artillery group serving as a surveyor.

Winside Twirlers in Demand at Gatherings

"The Starlettes," Phyllis Miller, Debbie Jaeger and Carla Miller, Winside, are in demand for gatherings and other occasions. They have just completed another season in which they performed at home games of Winside High.

Their instructor is Mrs. Eileen Damme, Winside, who is the only National Baton Twirlers Association certified teacher in Northeast Nebraska. They have been on various programs, performed recently for patients at Norfolk State Hospital and put on half-time shows at games.

They perform with one baton, two batons, hoop batons and in other ways. They strut and do novelty dance routines as soloists or as duets or trio.

More Vehicles Here?

Are there 200 more vehicles in Wayne County this year than there were a year ago? County Treasurer Leona Böhde reported Tuesday afternoon 3,300 vehicles had been licensed in the county. The same date a year ago there were 5,100 licensed vehicles in the county. Some are always later, licensing vehicles in March, but it does not seem likely that 200 more beat the deadline this year than last year since not that many were even late last year.

Business Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fischer, Wakefield, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Froehlich, Wayne, were in Lincoln Friday and Saturday for the annual Farm Bureau Insurance Co. convention. At the Friday banquet, Fischer, agency manager for Dixon, Cedar and Wayne Counties, and Froehlich, special agent, received awards for top production. Fischer was honored for over 10 years service as agent. County presidents guests at the banquet included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beermann, Dakota County, and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Borg, Dixon County.

Telephone Company's Improvements Given

Dan Titze, Wayne area manager for Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., reports many improvements the past year. More improvements are planned in this region during 1967.

In five states, improvements cost a record $148 million to bring the five-year total to $650 million. In the last 12 months Northwestern Bell added 144,660 telephones to bring the total to over 3.20 million.

Area calling has been established in about two-thirds of the towns and cities served (not in the immediate area, however). This has cut down on the cost of telephones in addition to savings given through lower long distance rates.

Pranksters in Belden gave a section of that town a coating of slick ice Friday night. They turned on several fire hydrants, letting water flow down the street to form pools where it formed thick, slick ice. Water Commissioner Harold Hiebig had to be called to turn off hydrants. Luck was with residents as no fire occurred during the period when pressure was low. It was also considered fortunate that ice did not form in the hydrant spouts to make them unusable. The culprits are unknown.

Office Offers Help Making Out Claims

Wayne County residents who will send in Medicare claims for repayment of doctor bills may need help. It can be obtained from Social Security Administration representatives when they visit Wayne or at the Norfolk office.

R. L. Pelkey, Norfolk SSA manager, said Medicare payments have been delayed because some simple but important piece of information was not furnished. If the first time a claim is filed the forms are brought to the Norfolk office, beneficiaries can avoid the delays, he said.

The first claim is the one where most people need help. There are two different methods for payment and those making the claims should be aware of how each is handled.

Older people who cannot get to the Norfolk office may send claims to the office and the SSA will call him. Telephone numbers should be supplied to make contacting these people easier.

THIS GROUP of boys made up the Boys Club eighth grade team this year, called by Coach Hank Overin "the team that improved the most in one season in many years." Kneeling (left to right) are Dick Tietgen, Craig Johnson,

Eighth Grade Team's Record Impressive

The eighth grade team from Wayne Boys Club sports an impressive 13-6 record for the season. The fact that they lost four of the first five games gives reason for believing the team improved.

Coach Hank Overin said it was the most improvement any team has made from the start of the season to the finish in recent years. The fact that the team won 12 of its last 14 games attests to this.

Even more impressive is the even balance of the first seven men. In scoring they averaged from 4.7 to 6.3 points per game. What this has meant is that no man was indispensable and if anyone fouled out another player with equal scoring potential could go in.

Don Mau had the highest average 6.3; Dick Tietgen averaged 6.1, Breck Giese 6.0, Dwight Clatanoff, 5.3, Steve Kamish and Mike Creighton 5.0 and Lonnie Biltfoft 4.7. Giese scored 96 points, Mau 94, Tietgen, 85, Clatanoff 80, Creighton 74, Biltfoft 71 and Kamish 60.

Boys Club Quintet Defeats Hartington

Wayne Boys Club scored a 39-22 win over Hartington Cedar Catholic last week at Hartington. The locals led all the way and were never in danger.

Dick Tietgen and Mike Creighton were leading scorers, making 12 and 11 points for Hank Overin's team. Don Mau hit for 7, Dwight Clatanoff 4, Steve Peterson and Don Hansen 2 and Todd Bornhoft 1.

For the host team, Dwyer was scoring leader with 7, Kramer made 6, Spinner and Dreisden 4 and Eickhoff 1.

Wayne Champion Team in Tourney

The Wayne junior high team won the tournament in Wayne the past week. Norfolk Catholic went down to defeat 38-26. In consolation play Laurel defeated Pierce St. Joseph's 46-30.

Dick Tietgen led the locals to the championship with 15 points. Don Mau, Breck Giese and Mike Creighton each hit 5, Dwight Clatanoff 3, Lonnie Biltfoft and Craig Johnson 2 and Ken Peterson 1.

For the second place team, Pollack had 7, Cooney 6, Luebe 5, Schutte 4 and Otto and Dodson 2. Pollack had scored 30 against Laurel.

Laurel was led by McCoy with 15. Sahra had 10, Schroeder 8, Carlson 6, Hansen 4 and Smith 2. Steve Erwin was easily the outstanding player for any team in the tournament.

For St. Joseph's, Tim Schleppebach had 15, Dave Korth 8, Gerry Hoffman 4, Dab Drahota 2 and Tom Schleppebach 1.

Wayne Defeats Two Wakefield Quintets

Wayne Boys Club teams won a pair of games from Wakefield Saturday afternoon on the local court. The local seventh grade won 50-29 and the eighth grade won 49-20.

In the seventh grade game, Kelly Dill led scoring with 11 points. Breck Giese had 9, Dwight Clatanoff 8, Don Hansen 6, Craig Johnson 4, Dave Kudrna 3, Rick Elofson, J. Meyer, Jack Suhr and Steve Peterson 2 and Todd Bornhoft 1.

For Wakefield, Minra had 8, Manis 6, Benson 5, Grosse 4 and Huckle, Paul and Ruth 2.

Wayne eighth grade was led by Don Mau with 12 and Lonnie Biltfoft with 10. Steve Kamish had 8, Dwight Clatanoff 6, Dick Tietgen 5, Breck Giese 4 and Craig

Barclay said as a matter of fact, not excuse.

In addition, Wyoming's squad includes several Norwegians—potential Olympic swimmers for Norway in 1968 who are attending the Laramie university with purpose—to get acclimated to that altitude, the same as Mexico City where the Olympics will be staged.

Barclay discovered his own proof of the fact that swimmers and track men who perform regularly at high altitudes do better than usual at lower-level meets. Back in Wayne after the western jaunt, nearly all his swimmers clocked times exceeding their previous bests. This surprised Barclay, considering the short stay at higher altitude.

Wayne has won both previous meets of the NCC and the NAIA, and Barclay is cautiously optimistic for a third title in each. Scoring will be done separately for each organization.

Strathman, Hope Gain Cage Honors

Bob Strathman and Bob Hope garnered post-season basketball honors at Wayne State College.

Strathman, a 6-2 junior guard from St. Louis, Mo.,

Bob Strathman

won the title of most valuable player. Coach Al Svenningson said he was the unanimous choice of teammates, who did not even need to vote.

The agile backcourt star led Wayne scoring with 440 points, a 19.1 average. In addition, he proved to be what Svenningson called the best play maker and strategist he has coached in years.

Hope, a 6-4 center from Mount Prospect, Ill., and the team's only senior, was his mates' choice as honorary season captain and Svenningson's choice as the most improved player.

Hope's scoring, rebounding, and playing skill improved steadily through the

Local Swimmers in Olympic Meet Here

Nine young swimmers from Wayne participated in the Midwest AAU Final Junior Olympic swim meet here Saturday. Only one received a medal, but the local swimmers had not been practicing, whereas competitors from other towns have been getting ready for months.

medal in the intermediate 50-yard free style. Terry Meyer missed out on a medal by one-tenth of a second.

Others competing were Steve Meyer, Kevin Jech, David Scheel, Doug Maurer, Kerry Jech, Bill Lambert and Greg Noyes. Sam Noyes was in charge of the swimmers and was possibly the real "loser," paying the entry fee for all swimmers in order to get them registered and then having some back out (none of those named above) and failing to reimburse him for the fee he had paid.

The AAU had over 500 swimmers here but had poor communications with the press. The swimmers were not allowed to leave the pool area all day and most of the parents and friends who accompanied them stayed right at the WSC pool all day so the crowd was in town but was limited to a bare ripple of attention outside the college area.

season. After starting with a two or three-point average, he finished with a 12.3 pace and, in the last game, vaulted into second spot in total scoring with 284. He led the team all the way on rebounds, finished with an 8.3 average. His field-goal percentage of .517 topped all the regulars. Joel Parks, sophomore forward from Pawnee City, ranked third in scoring with 282 points, averaging 12.2, and third in rebounding at 5.6. He shot .500 from the field.

Ron Hintz, Rudyard, Mich., junior who teamed with Strathman at guard—they were the only two who started every game—was fourth in scoring with 278, a 12.1 clip, fourth in rebounding at 5.3.

Dean Elofson, forward from Wayne, became one of the few freshmen to earn a regular starting job during Svenningson's eight seasons at Wayne. Starting from practically nowhere in statistics, he ended in fifth place scoring with 179 points, a 7.8 average, and second in rebounding at 5.9.

Dave Johnston, sophomore forward from Bennett, Ia., wound up with 154 points and a 6.7 average. An occasional starter, he was a frequent first substitute.

Dave Schneider, a 6-9 center from Blair, showed future potential in late games, and his 14-point burst in the season finale against Peru State might have been the winning difference as Wayne prevailed, 89-84. Schneider totaled 38 for the year.

It was dependable Strathman who came through with the clutch points to go ahead of Peru with 28 seconds left. His long jumper gave Wayne a one-point lead, then a pair of free throws at 12 seconds were the insurance. Even then, Hope was not satisfied—he stuffed a final shot down the nets as the buzzer sounded.

That win over Peru gave Wayne a 4-4 conference record, tied for second with Hastings, and a 12-11 season.

Wacker, Jacobsen Top Scorers for Winside

Reed Wacker and Randy Jacobsen led Winside in scoring the past basketball season, according to Coach Dan Cahill's chart. Wacker hit 276 points to average 16.2 points a game while Jacobsen hit 239 for a 14-per-game clip.

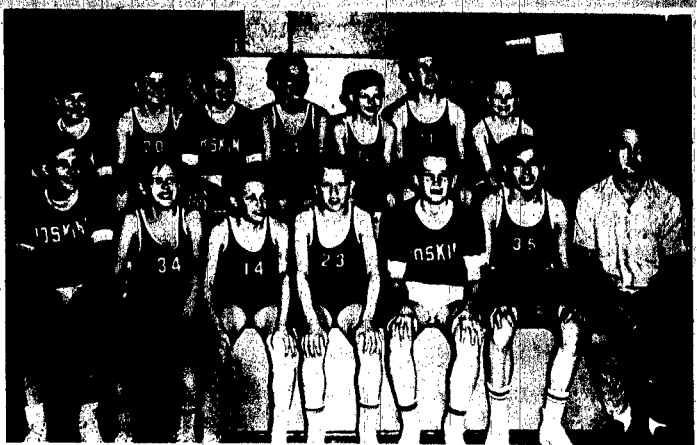

Leading rebounder was Keith Krueger with 151. R. Wacker was second with 137 and Jacobsen was third with 67. No one else had as high as 35.

R. Wacker led in field goal percentage, making 118 of 288 for 40.9 per cent; Jacobsen hit 104 of 266 for 39 per cent; Bob Dangberg 51 of 173 for 29.4 per cent and Keith Krueger 46 of 156 for 29 per cent.

The team hit 62.2 per cent of its free throws which breaks the school record of 56.9 per cent set in 1964-65. Dangberg hit 40 of 55 for 72.72 per cent; Krueger, 64 of 91 for 70.32 per cent; Jacobsen 31 of 50 for 62 per cent; Dave Witt 12 of 20 for 60 per cent; R. Wacker 40 of 70 for 57.14 per cent; and B. Wacker 18 of 35 for 51.4 per cent. Dangberg and Krueger broke the free throw record for the school, 67.2 per cent set by Bob Koll in 1952-53.

In scoring, here are the totals and game averages: R. Wacker, 276, 16.2; Jacobsen, 239, 14; Krueger, 156, 9; Dangberg, 142, 8.3; Witt, 72, 4.2; B. Wacker, 44, 2.5; Don Longe, 29, 1.7; Keith Wacker, 9, .5; Kirk Troutman, 13, .7.

There are four lettermen who will be back next year. Jacobsen is a junior, K. Wacker and B. Wacker sophomores and Witt a freshman. R. Wacker, Krueger, Dangberg and

WSC Gridiron Squad Gains Another Win

Wayne State "won" a football game the last week of February.

About a month ago, Wayne State "lost" a football game.

Why all this action months after the football warriors hung up their armor?

Well, the Wayne victory this week was the result of a forfeit by Midland College. The loss last month was Wayne's forfeiture of its victory over Southern State.

Hence, the Wayne record returns to 6-2 for the 1966 season. Midland now is 2-6. Midland announced that it was forfeiting its 17-9 win over Wayne in the second game of the season because the Midland squad—it was discovered later—used a player ineligible because of insufficient hours passed.

He also played in Midland's first game, but since Midland lost that one, to Nebraska Wesleyan, no forfeit was necessary.

Late in January Wayne announced its forfeiture to Southern because two players who had used up their

A second loss eliminated the Wayne State women's basketball team from the Midwest AAU tournament Tuesday night at Omaha. The Wayne Kittens lost to Omaha Commercial Extension, 72-56.

A previous loss to Midwestern College had put Wayne in the loser's bracket of the double elimination meet.

Janet Dehn led Wayne scoring with 13 against Commercial Extension. She also was high with 13 in the Kittens' win Sunday night over the Lincoln Gerys, 65-54.

Loss of Wayne's ace, Cheri Mankenberg, by fouls early in the second quarter contributed to the Tuesday defeat, Coach Peggy Plath thought.

WSC Swimmers in Season's Finale

Wayne State merman lost two meets on a western road trip prior to the NCC and NAIA meets. Wyoming and Colorado State College both downed the Wildcats handily.

Wyoming all but drowned Wayne, 83-21, in the process of winning every event. Colorado State College added to the humbling the next day at Greeley with a 61-42 win over Wayne. Wildcat tankmen won four events in that meet.

The altitude hampered Wayne efforts, especially at Laramie, about 7,000 feet, and to lesser degree at Greeley, about 5,000,

BOB MORRIS went up for a shot against Madison as an unidentified MHS player tries to prevent the shot. No. 44 for Wayne is Gordon Jorgensen, No. 54 Herb Swan, No. 35 for Madison is Clayton Morlock, No. 43 Merlin Renney.

WINS FRESHMAN AWARD: Dean Elofson of Wayne receives the honor of Outstanding Freshman Athlete at Wayne State from Basketball Coach Al Svenningson.

Award Banquet Honors to Few

New honors were revealed, old honors repeated Monday of last week at the Wayne State W Club's annual banquet, an event named this year in honor of Carl Ellermeier, track coach and professor who died in January.

Among their new honors was that of "outstanding freshman athlete" to Wayne's Dean Elofson, who accomplished the unusual feat of becoming a regular starter, in 14 games. Cage Coach Al Svenningson announced this award.

Svenningson also delivered a tribute to Ellermeier, who assisted as basketball coach for several seasons after Svenningson joined the staff in 1959.

Most valuable player and honorary captain awards were announced for the first time in two sports. Wrestling Coach Bill McNiell revealed the MVP as Rich Gray, senior 145-pounder who has a college record of 51 wins, 7 losses and 3 draws, plus four conference championships. The wrestling captain is 130-pounder Jeff Meineke, a junior. Both are from Charles City, Ia.

Coach Ralph Barclay revealed the most valuable swimmer as Russ Nyberg, sophomore from Chicago who has won 38 races in two seasons and posted a flock of records in several events. The swimming captain is Jim Brown, a junior from Omaha.

Athletic Director Dale Pennbaker recognized A. D. Benson, Sidney, Ia., junior, as being the most valuable cross country runner of last fall

St. Mary's Girls Win
St. Mary's girls won in basketball over St. Mary's boys 8-2 in a game the past week. Of course, the boys had to wear boxing gloves! The win was for the sixth grade girls. The fifth grade boys beat the girls 8-0 in another game and the seventh and eighth grade boys won 18-6 in a third tilt. Hank Overin has charge of all teams in the St. Mary's gym periods. Games are played at the National Guard Armory.

Assistant Fire Chief

Douses Concord Blaze

Bob Sherry, Concord, is assistant fire chief. Monday of last week he put out a fire without calling the fire department—the fire was at his own home. Sherry was at Concord Produce, which he owns, across the street from his house. His wife came over to see him for a moment and in that interval a fire broke out.

The Wayne Herald Want Ads

Sherry believes in having fire extinguishers handy and he used one to put out the flames which were pretty high by the time he reached the porch. The house was not damaged but some clothing did burn. This was small loss, however, to what it might have been if Jackie had not come out and seen what happened at the exact time she did.

The pair saw their 5-

WHS Music Group Presents Another 'Proud-You-Live-in-Wayne' Concert

The Wayne High School band presented a concert Sunday afternoon. It was another one of those concerts that make people proud they live in Wayne area so their youngsters can get the benefits of the music program (and other advantages) of attending WHS.

Wayne has not had "a losing season" in music for years. Every year the vocal and instrumental music departments come up with winners under the leadership of Clayton Southwick and Don Schumacher.

Sunday's program was directed by Schumacher. Southwick added to the program by announcing the program, giving a brief background for the numbers and pointing out features that should be listened for.

The 105-piece concert band played well in a variety of numbers. It gave the young people a chance to show off talent that comes from work in school plus hours of practice individually. Just as athletes have to work extra time to stay in practice, keep grades up and earn a place on the team, so musicians have to do extra work to keep grades up and stay in their units.

"Fingale from The New World Symphony" is a number the band will play at the music contest. It is a challenge to young musicians and meeting the challenge is making it a good contest number.

end with appreciation, hoping for an encore but the band director took another bow and the show was over too soon.

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH FOODS

by Betty Stern, Farm & Home Food Consultant

Rural Gravure

On a recent visit to Berks County, Pennsylvania I found that the ancestry of the Pennsylvania Dutch people can be traced to the Rhineland of south Germany from which they fled persecution in 1683. They sailed to William Penn's Philadelphia and from there they spread fanwise through the rolling foothills and fertile valleys of Pennsylvania.

Religion is still a guiding force in this part of the country, noticeable not so much in the Gay Dutch, who look and behave much like everyone else, but in the Plain People—the Mennonites, Amish, Dunkers and River Brethren—who cling to their austere customs, sober dress and simple farm life.

Their farmers markets are something! In this age of modern packaging and transportation you would be entranced by the stalls of vegetables, herbs, flower bouquets, homemade preserves and pickles, homemade bread and smoked meats—all exuding with the flavor and freshness of just being picked or prepared within days.

Here are a few of their fine old recipes which will show you why their regional cookery is second to none.

SHOO-FLY PIE

(molasses crumb cake baked in a pie shell)

- 1 egg
- ¼ cup hot water
- ¼ teaspoon baking soda
- 1 9 inch pastry-lined pie pan
- ¼ cup margarine
- 1½ cup flour
- 1 cup brown sugar, packed
- 1 cup dark corn syrup

Cut margarine, flour and brown sugar together to make crumbs. Set aside. Beat egg in bowl, and syrup, hot water and baking soda. Pour this liquid into pie shell, put crumbs on top. (will float) Bake 15 minutes at 400°; reduce heat to 350° and bake 40 more minutes.

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH SALAD DRESSING

- 5 pieces bacon
- 1 egg
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 4 dashes black pepper
- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ cup cider vinegar
- ½ cup water

Cut bacon in small pieces and fry. Leave bacon drippings in pan. Put remaining ingredients in a bowl and beat with a hand beater, add to bacon in pan and let simmer from 5 to 10 minutes to the thickness you desire. Serves 6 people.

NOTE: In Spring, Pennsylvania Dutch serve this over dandelion green. It also can be served on lettuce, fresh spinach, and endive.

WALNUT STICKY BUNS

(yeast-raised rolls baked in mixture of brown sugar, margarine, and syrup)

- 1 cup lukewarm milk
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cakes compressed yeast
- 2 eggs
- ½ cup shortening
- 4½ to 5 cups sifted flour
- 2 tablespoons softened margarine
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- ½ pound margarine (1 cup)
- 2 cups brown sugar (packed)
- 1 cup California walnut halves
- 3 tablespoons dark corn syrup

Mix together milk, sugar and salt. Crumble yeast into mixture. Stir until dissolved. Stir in eggs and shortening. Mix in flour first with spoon, then with hand. Add flour in two additions, using the amount necessary to make it easy to handle. Knead dough till smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl, turning once to bring greased side up. Cover with damp cloth and let rise in warm, draft-free spot until double. (1½ to 2 hours) Punch down and turn completely over in bowl. Let rise again until almost double in bulk (30 to 45 minutes). After second rising, roll dough into oblong 9 x 18 inches. Spread with 2 tablespoons softened margarine and sprinkle with ½ cup sugar and 2 teaspoons cinnamon. Roll up tightly, beginning at wide side. Seal well by pinching edges of roll together. Cut roll into 1 inch slices. Place cut cinnamon rolls a little apart in one 13" x 9" pan and one 9" x 9" pan wax paper lined and coated with mixture of ½ pound margarine, 2 cups brown sugar, 1 cup walnut halves, and 3 tablespoons dark corn syrup which has been cooked together in saucepan just to mix. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Bake at 375° for 25-30 minutes. Immediately turn pans upside down on a large tray or cookie sheet. Let pans stay over rolls a minute so topping runs down over them. If some left next day, delicious if slightly warmed in oven.

POTATO FILLING

- 5 pieces bread, cut in cubes
- 3 medium sized potatoes
- 1 egg
- 1 tablespoon parsley flakes or fresh chopped parsley
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup milk
- 3 stalks celery, chopped
- 1 large onion, chopped

Cut bread in cubes and moisten with ½ cup milk. Set aside. Cook potatoes and prepare as mashed potatoes. Cut celery and onion and saute in margarine. Add all ingredients to bread cubes and mix well by hand. Add parsley. Bake in 1 quart casserole at 375° for about 20 minutes. Serves 6-8.

SCHNITZ UN KNEPP

(combination of dried sweet apple and dumplings cooked with ham)

- 2 cups dried sweet apples
- 2 pounds smoked ham
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 2 cups sifted flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 egg, beaten
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- ½ cup milk

Soak apples in water overnight. Next day cover ham with water and let boil for 2 hours. Add apples and sugar and simmer for another hour. Add dumplings and steam for 20 minutes. To make dumplings (knepp) sift together the flour, salt and baking powder. Stir in beaten egg, melted margarine and milk. Stir until blended, then drop from spoon onto boiling ham and apples.

FASTNACHTS

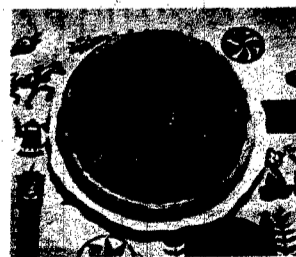

(raised doughnuts)

- 1 package active dry yeast
- ¼ cup warm water
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 3 cups flour
- 2 cups milk, scalded and cooled to lukewarm
- 3 eggs, well beaten
- ¼ cup melted margarine
- 1 cup sugar
- 1½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 3½ to 4 cups sifted flour

Soften yeast in warm water. Let stand 5 to 10 minutes. Add 1 teaspoon sugar and 3 cups sifted flour to the milk, stirring until smooth. Stir in the yeast. Cover; let rise in warm place until doubled. Stir in eggs, margarine, the remaining sugar, salt, nutmeg, and enough flour so that mixture can no longer be stirred with a spoon (a soft dough). Cover; let rise until doubled. Punch down dough and divide into two portions. On a floured surface, roll out each portion about ½ inch thick. Cut dough with a doughnut cutter. Cover dough and let rise in a warm place until doubled. Fry in deep fat heated to 370°F. Fry 3 to 4 minutes or until lightly browned; turn doughnuts to brown evenly. Remove from fat; drain. Yield: 4 dozen doughnuts.

RAISIN PIE

(served so often at funerals, also called Funeral Pie)

- 1 cup raisins
- 1½ cups sugar
- ¼ cup flour
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups water
- 1 egg, beaten
- 2 tablespoons grated lemon peel
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 pastry-lined pie pan (9 inch)

Rinse raisins; set aside to drain. Mix together in the top of a double boiler the sugar, flour, and salt. Add the water gradually, stirring constantly. Stir in the raisins. Bring to boiling over direct heat, stirring constantly, and cook about 1 minute longer. Remove from heat. Vigorously stir a small amount of hot mixture into the egg. Immediately stir into mixture in double boiler. Set over simmering water and cook about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from water and stir in the lemon peel and lemon juice. Cool. Pour mixture into a pastry-lined 9 inch pie pan. Cover with narrow pastry strips. Bake at 450° for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350°; bake about 20 minutes longer.

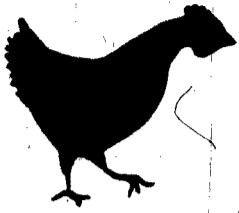

Recipe: Prepare 1 pkg. vanilla pie filling as directed on package, using $1\frac{3}{4}$ c. milk. Cover with waxed paper; chill. Fold in $1\frac{1}{2}$ c. Kraft Miniature Marshmallows and $\frac{1}{2}$ c. heavy cream, whipped. Slice 2 bananas into 9-inch pastry shell. Pour filling over bananas. Chill several hours. Garnish with banana slices and miniature marshmallows. So creamy-smooth, so delicious!

versatility of

THE EGG

by Pam Howard

No other article of food offers more for the inventive genius of a creative cook (that's you) than the egg. In addition to its contribution to flavor and color, the egg when used in combination with other ingredients, clarifies soups and coffee; leavens cakes, omelets, meringues, and frostings; emulsifies sauces, ice creams, and mayonnaise; thickens soups, fillings, and custards; binds meat loaves, croquettes, and cookies; and is responsible for crisp brown crusts on fried foods.

BAKED EGGS

3 tablespoons margarine
3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon prepared mustard
1½ cups milk
1½ cups grated American cheese
¼ teaspoon tabasco
6 or 12 eggs

Melt margarine; blend in flour, salt and prepared mustard. Add milk and cook stirring constantly until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Remove from heat; add grated cheese, stirring occasionally until cheese is melted. Stir in tabasco. Divide sauce into 6 individual baking dishes. Break 1 or 2 eggs into each dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) until eggs are set, about 12 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

MEAT CROQUETTES

1 cup thick white sauce
3 cups ground cooked meat (beef, veal, lamb, pork, or ham)
3 tablespoons minced parsley
1 tablespoon grated onion
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons water
¼ cup cracker crumbs
fat for frying

Add meat, parsley, onion, mustard and salt to white sauce. Chill several hours or overnight. Shape mixture into 12 croquettes. Chill 30 minutes. Combine eggs and water. Dip croquettes into eggs and then roll in crumbs. Fry in hot deep fat at 365° for 2-3 minutes until golden brown.

Thick White Sauce:

¼ cup plus 2 tablespoons margarine
¼ cup plus 2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk

In saucepan over low heat, melt margarine; add flour, salt; stir until blended, smooth. Slowly add milk, stirring constantly to avoid lumps. Cook, stirring, until smooth and thickened. Makes 1 cup.

BAKED ALASKA NEOPOLITAN

6 egg whites
½ cup sugar
3 cups miniature marshmallows
1 quart Neapolitan ice cream
1 layer of sponge or angel food cake

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add sugar gradually, continuing to beat until very stiff. Fold in the miniature marshmallows. Place a quart of Neapolitan ice cream on a layer of sponge or angel food cake. Completely cover the ice cream and sides of cake with marshmallow meringue. Bake in a hot oven (450°) for a few minutes until lightly browned. Serve immediately.

WALNUT CRUNCH PIE

3 egg whites
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 cup sugar
11 honey graham crackers, crushed
1 cup California walnuts, chopped
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg whites with baking powder till almost stiff. Slowly add sugar. Beat till very stiff. Add vanilla. Fold crushed graham crackers and nuts into egg white mixture. Spread into two 8" by 8" pans or two 8" pie pans heavily greased with margarine. Bake at 350° for 30 minutes or less. If glass pie pans are used, bake at 325° for 25 minutes. Cool well. Spread ½ pint of whipped cream on pies. Chill in refrigerator about 4½ hours. Serves 12.

BAKED CUSTARD

Topping:
3 tablespoons margarine, softened
½ cup apricot preserves
Mix together and coat inside of mold.

Custard:
5 eggs
7 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
3½ cups milk, scalded
1½ teaspoons vanilla

In a large bowl beat eggs. Blend in sugar and salt. Stir in scalded milk gradually. Add vanilla. Pour into prepared 1½ quart salad mold. Place mold in a pan of hot water. Bake in preheated 325° oven for 50-70 minutes. Baking time will depend in part upon the shape of the mold. A silver knife inserted in the custard off center will come out clean when it is done. Cool completely, about 2-3 hours) at room temperature. Custard may be placed in the refrigerator for a short time to speed up cooling process. When cool, loosen with knife around sides and invert on a serving plate.

Topping Variation: Strawberry or raspberry preserves brightened up with a little red food coloring may be substituted for apricot preserves.

SHRIMP DEVILED EGG ASPIC

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
2 cups tomato juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar
Dash of garlic salt
1 tablespoon dried onion soup
1 small can washed small shrimp
10 deviled egg halves

Dissolve gelatin in cold water. Simmer together for 15 minutes the tomato juice, salt, sugar, garlic salt, dried onion soup. Cool. Stir gelatin into combined mixture. Add 1 small can washed small shrimp. Press 10 deviled egg halves into bottom of ring mold, yolk side down. Pour chilled tomato-shrimp aspic over eggs. Allow to set. Unmold on lettuce leaf.

BATTER-WAY HERB 'N' SPICE ROLLS

½ cups sifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon powdered or crumbled leaf sage
½ teaspoon caraway seeds
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¾ cup scalded milk or warm water
2 tablespoons soft shortening
1 egg, room temperature
1 package active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water

Measure first 6 ingredients together. Blend. Scald milk. Pour into a bowl with shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in the egg. Pour yeast on warm water. Let stand a few minutes. Stir and add to milk-mixture with half the dry ingredients. Beat until smooth—about 50 strokes. Add the rest of the ingredients and beat again—50 more strokes.

Scrape down batter from sides of bowl. Cover. Let rise in warm place about 30 minutes, or until doubled. Meanwhile grease 12 large or 18 medium-sized muffin cups. Stir down batter. Spoon into muffin cups, filling ½ full. Let rise again until batter reaches tops of cups—20 to 30 minutes.

Bake rolls 15 to 20 minutes at 400°. Cool slightly on rack before serving.

Here are some egg facts to aid you in attaining excellent results with recipes on this page and with future endeavors.

1. For best buy select eggs according to use and comparative price. Grade A is best for table use, grades B and C are just as good as grade A for cooking.

2. Whites won't beat to full volume if a speck of yolk gets in. If this happens, use shell to remove all traces of yolk.

3. Egg whites beat up better if eggs are somewhat warm. Take eggs out of refrigerator several hours before using them. Or if you forget, soak them in warm water before using them.

4. When combining egg with "hot mixture," stir hot mixture off the stove very slowly into eggs before adding them to the rest of the hot mixture. Otherwise, flecks of egg may appear in mixture.

5. Refrigerate leftover yolks with water in a covered container. They may be held 2 to 3 days. Store leftover whites in a tightly covered jar in refrigerator. They may be held a week to 10 days.

TOLL HOUSE® KOOKIE BRITTLE

A delicious new variation on America's favorite cookie treat

1 cup margarine	1 teaspoon salt	2 cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons vanilla	1 cup sugar	½ cup finely-chopped nuts
1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) Nestlé's® Semi-Sweet Chocolate Morsels

Preheat oven to 375° F. Combine margarine, vanilla and salt in bowl, and blend well. Gradually beat in sugar. Add flour and Nestlé's Semi-Sweet Chocolate Morsels; mix well. Press evenly into ungreased 15" x 10" x 1" pan. Sprinkle nuts over top. BAKE AT: 375° F. TIME: 25 mins. Cool, then break in irregular pieces and drain on absorbent paper. Makes about 1¾ pounds.

GARDEN VEGETABLES AND RICE SALAD

- 1 1/2 cups (5-ounce package) packaged pre-cooked rice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups boiling water
- 3/4 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 2 teaspoons grated onion
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 3/4 cup diced celery
- 1 1/2 cups cooked vegetables*
- 1 cup sliced or diced ham or Luncheon meat (optional)

Add rice and 1/2 teaspoon salt to boiling water in saucepan. Mix just to moisten all rice. Cover, remove from heat, and let stand 13 minutes. Then uncover and let cool to room temperature.

About 1 hour before serving, combine mayonnaise, salad oil, vinegar, grated onion, mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and the pepper. Combine celery, vegetables, and meat in a bowl. Stir in the mayonnaise mixture. Then add the rice and mix lightly with a fork. Chill. Serve on crisp lettuce. Makes about 5 1/2 cups (with meat), or 4 or 5 servings.

* Use 1 box (10 ounces) quick-frozen mixed garden vegetables, or peas and carrots; cook as directed on package, drain, and cool. Or use any desired combination of canned or leftover vegetables.

ASPARAGUS HAM BAKE

- 1/2 cup packaged corn-bread stuffing or packaged herb-seasoned stuffing
- 2 cups fresh or frozen cut asparagus spears, cooked and drained or one 1-pound can cut asparagus, drained
- 2 cups diced cooked ham
- 1 recipe Cheese Sauce

Place a third of the dry stuffing over bottom of 1 1/2 quart casserole; top with half the ham, half the asparagus, and half the Cheese Sauce. Repeat layers. Mix remaining stuffing with 1 tablespoon margarine; sprinkle over. Bake in 350° oven for 30 to 35 minutes or till hot. Top with hot asparagus spears, if desired. Makes 4-6 servings.

let's have fresh pork

by Betty Curren

The development of leaner pork from meat-type hogs, through breeding and feeding by producer and closer trimming of fat by meat packers and retailers, means more edible pork per pound to the homemaker today.

A serving of cooked pork supplies not only a generous amount of high quality protein needed for growth, maintenance and repair of body tissues; but substantial levels of all the B vitamins.

Fresh pork includes loin, picnic shoulders, boston butt, leg, steaks, chops, and sausage.

Recent research on rib and loin pork roasts has shown that roasting fresh pork to an internal temperature of only 170°F. (shown on meat thermometer) makes it juicier and lessens cooking time and shrinkage. The new internal temperature, while 15 degrees lower than previously recommended, is still at least 30°F. above the temperature required to render rib or loin pork roast safe for eating. However, these findings are not directly applicable to other cuts of pork.

Whether you choose to roast, braise, boil, or broil fresh pork in the following recipes, you'll have delicious results.

PORK CHOP 'N APPLE CASSEROLE

- 4 lean loin pork chops (trim partially if fat is excessive)
- salt
- 1 tablespoon shortening
- 4 cups sliced tart cooking apples
- ¼ cup raisins
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- ¼ cup dark molasses
- ¼ cup water

Preheat oven to 350°. Sprinkle pork chops with salt; saute in shortening until brown. Mix together apples, raisins and lemon rind and place in 2 quart greased baking dish. Combine molasses and water; pour over apple mixture. Top with browned pork chops. Cover and bake 1 hour. Remove cover and bake ½ hour more. Yield: 4 servings.

THREE WAY PORK SHOULDER ROAST

Be economy minded. Select a large pork shoulder roast (about 6 pounds). Ask the butcher to cut off four pork steaks. Have a good-sized chunk cut off the other end—about 1½ pounds to cube for chop suey. Have the meat man weigh the remaining roast so you can accurately figure cooking time.

Pork Shoulder Steaks

To braise, brown the steaks in a little hot fat, then add a little liquid and cover. Cook over low heat 45 minutes or until steaks are tender. Suitable braising liquids are water, bouillon, or fruit juice. If the liquid cooks away add more, a small amount at a time.

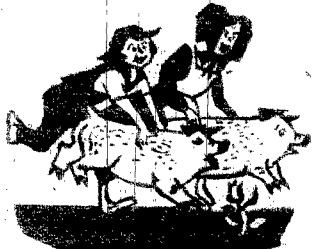

Chop Suey

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 1½ pounds diced pork | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 cup sliced mushrooms (optional) | 1½ cups bouillon or water |
| 3 tablespoons shortening | 4 tablespoons cornstarch |
| 1 cup sliced onions | 3 tablespoons soy sauce |
| 1½ cups sliced celery | 1 can bean sprouts, drained |
| 1 teaspoon ginger | |

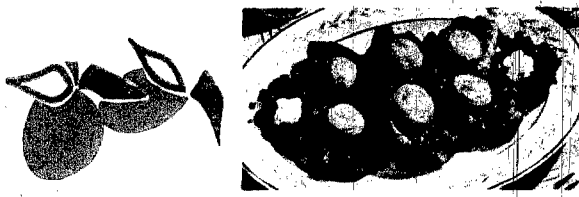

Cook pork and mushrooms in hot shortening until lightly browned. Add onions, celery, seasonings and bouillon; cover and cook until tender, about 30 minutes. Thicken with cornstarch mixed to a paste with a little water. Add soy sauce and bean sprouts and cook slowly for 15 minutes. Season to taste and serve on hot rice or fried noodles. 6 servings.

Pork Shoulder Roast

Season with salt and pepper and roast uncovered in a 350°F. oven 50 minutes per pound.

APRICOT PORK STEAKS

- | | |
|-------------------------|--------------------------|
| 3 pork steaks | Flour |
| 1 tablespoon shortening | Salt |
| Apricot Sauce | |
| 2 cups dried apricots | 2 teaspoons lemon juice |
| salt, few grains | ¼ teaspoon ground cloves |
| ¼ cup sugar | |

Wash dried apricots, cover with boiling water and let soak for 1 hour. Add a few grains of salt and simmer until tender. Add sugar, lemon juice, and cloves, and cook 10 minutes longer. Flour 3 pork steaks and brown in a little hot fat. Sprinkle with salt. Pour apricot sauce over steaks, cover pan, and simmer 35 minutes, or until tender. (Or bake at 350°F.) Add a little more water during cooking. Serve with apricot sauce (as is, or pressed through a sieve to make a smooth sauce.)

PORK BALLS WITH FRUITED NOODLES

- | | |
|-------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1 pound ground pork | 2 tablespoons melted fat |
| ½ cup soft bread crumbs | 4 tablespoons flour |
| ¼ cup minced onions | 3 cups bouillon or water |
| 1 egg | 1 teaspoon onion salt |
| ½ teaspoon nutmeg | 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce |
| 1 teaspoon salt | ¼ cup raisins, rinsed |
| ¼ teaspoon pepper | 4 ounces noodles, cooked |
| Flour | |

Combine pork, crumbs, onions, slightly beaten egg, nutmeg, salt and pepper. Shape into 16 balls; roll in flour and brown in fat. Remove balls from skillet, add 4 tablespoons flour and blend well. Stir in bouillon, onion salt, Worcestershire sauce and a dash of pepper. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add balls, cover, and simmer 30 minutes. Mix raisins with noodles and serve topped with pork balls and gravy. Four servings.

PORK TENDERLOIN STACKS

- 4 pork tenderloins, frenched
- salt
- 2 large baking potatoes
- small onion, sliced

Peel 2 large baking potatoes and cut in half the long flat way. Simmer until almost tender. Arrange potato halves, cut side up, in a greased baking pan. Salt potatoes, top each with a frenched pork tenderloin and add salt and pepper. Top with one large or several small onion slices. Bake in a 350°F. oven for 1 hour and 15 minutes, or until pork is thoroughly cooked. Baste occasionally. Serves 4.

SPARERIBS — CHERRY RICE STUFFING

- | | |
|--|---------------------------|
| 4 pounds spareribs | ½ teaspoon salt |
| 1 teaspoon salt | ¼ cup brown sugar, packed |
| ½ teaspoon pepper | 1 egg, beaten |
| 1 can (16 ounces) red, tart pitted cherries, drained | ½ cup sugar |
| 2 cups cooked rice | 1 tablespoon cornstarch |
| ½ cup finely chopped celery | ¾ cup cherry juice |

Cut spareribs into pieces of approximately 2 ribs each. Season with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Mix together cherries, rice, celery, ½ teaspoon salt, sugar and egg. Spread one half of the sparerib pieces with stuffing, using about ½ cup for each. Cover with the remaining sparerib pieces, turning rib ends down. Place spareribs on a rack in an open roasting pan and roast in a moderate oven (350°F.) 1½ hours.

Mix together sugar and cornstarch. Add cherry juice and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Spoon half the cherry glaze over the spareribs and continue cooking 15 minutes. Add the remaining glaze and cook for another 15 minutes or until meat is done and glaze is set. 6-8 servings.

PORK LOIN ROAST

- | | |
|---------------------------|--------------|
| 4-6 pound pork loin roast | Pepper |
| Salt | Orange Sauce |

Have the backbone removed from the roast. Season. Place fat side up on rack in an open roasting pan. Insert the roast meat thermometer so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part. Be careful that the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a moderate oven (350°F.) 2¾ to 3½ hours or until the roast meat thermometer registers 170°F. Serve with Orange Sauce.

Orange Sauce

- | | |
|--|------------------------------------|
| 1 tablespoon sugar | 1 tablespoon lemon juice |
| 2 tablespoons cornstarch | 1 orange, cut in sections |
| 2 cups orange juice | 2 tablespoons drippings from roast |
| 1 tablespoon thinly sliced orange rind | |

Mix sugar, cornstarch and orange juice. Add orange rind and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add lemon juice, orange sections and drippings. Cook until heated through.

CROWN ROAST OF PORK WITH STUFFING

Have butcher prepare a crown roast of pork from rib ends of pork loin allowing 2 ribs per serving. Be sure backbone is cut off for easy carving. Cover tops of exposed bones with aluminum foil to prevent charring during roasting. Place crown, rib bones up, on rack in roasting pan. Pack stuffing lightly into center of roast. Cover stuffing with sheet of aluminum foil. Wrap strips of bacon or foil around lower part of roast to keep it moist. Roast in a slow oven (325°F.) allowing about 40 minutes per pound, or until meat thermometer inserted into center of meaty part of one chop registers 170° F. Place roast on heated platter, remove bone coverings. Decorate with chop frills or pineapple chunks. Slice by running knife next to bone of each rib and remove chops one at a time.

Pineapple Stuffing

- ¼ cup chopped onion
- ¼ cup margarine
- ½ cup chopped celery
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- ¼ teaspoon cloves
- 1 pound, 4 ounce can crushed pineapple
- ½ cup raisins
- 1 stack pack premium saltine crackers (about 40 single saltines, crushed)

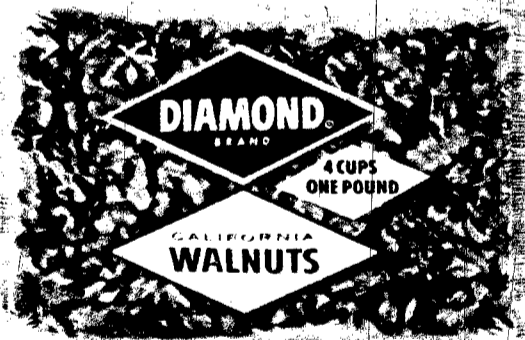

Saute chopped onion in margarine. Add chopped celery, salt, pepper, paprika and cloves. Drain crushed pineapple except 2 tablespoons syrup. Add to onion mixture, along with raisins and premium saltine crackers, crushed. Blend well, pack lightly into center of roast. Makes about 3½ cups or enough stuffing for a 4 to 5 pound roast.

SCOURS ARE COMMON, COSTLY AND CONFUSING.

PERHAPS NO OTHER LIVESTOCK MALADY GIVES US AS MANY PERENNIAL HEADACHES.

In swine herds alone, scours shaves gains off close to three out of every four animals. And even though bacteria and viruses are the pathological cause of these costly outbreaks, the real culprit is often the "cloud of confusion" surrounding the scours complex, say animal health experts.

"Many producers believe scours is a single disease for which there should be an effective means of control. This is far from true. Different forms of diarrhea or scours may look alike, but there are many causes, both known and unknown. And the often over-looked fact is that treatment must vary with the disease." That's how a Nebraska veterinary scientist sums up the scours picture.

Over the years, many labels and symptoms have been tagged onto bacterially caused scours. The following names are the ones most often referred to by researchers.

Swine Scours, or Dysentery. A highly fatal inflammation of the large intestine. Bloody diarrhea is the leading symptom.

Infection can spread from one animal and throughout the herd within a week.

Diarrhea shows up about the sixth day and blood a day or two later. Some pigs die suddenly, while others linger two weeks or more. Those that recover are usually unthrifty.

Calf Scours. Once the bacteria get into a barn, calf scours will attack nearly all new-born calves.

Animals become dull and weak, have sunken eyes, breathe fast, and have low temperatures. In chronic cases, calves lose weight, become pot-bellied and die within a few weeks.

Infection usually occurs from nursing an infected udder or sucking contaminated objects in the barn or yard.

Winter Dysentery. This disease usually occurs among stabled cattle between December and March. The disease is usually mild and rarely causes death. Yet, milk production slips drastically in some cases, and cows go out of condition. A few herds in a neighborhood are usually hit first. Then winter dysentery spreads quickly throughout the area.

Microbes often hitchhike a ride on shoes and clothing from one farm to another.

Primary symptom is a watery diarrhea, usually brown or black. In severe cases, the diarrhea may be tinged with blood.

Temperatures may go as high as 103 degrees Fahrenheit. Scouring often stops by the end of the third day and the disease usually clears up in three days to a week.

Coccidiosis. One-celled coccidia organism attacks are widespread among farm animals; only horses are immune. As a rule, coccidia are specific — those attacking cattle won't strike pigs, and vice versa.

Outbreaks frequently hit harder where livestock are crowded together.

Overcrowding cuts down animals' resistance and makes them susceptible to the coccidia.

Bloody diarrhea, anemia, loss of weight and general weakness are most common symptoms. Animals appear constipated and feces are stringy and covered with mucous. A non-fatal form of coccidiosis, sometimes mistaken for calf scours, often hits during the second month of life.

Transmissible Gastro-Enteritis is a severe, watery diarrhea.

TGE has knocked out 300 to 400 pigs on a single farm. Wisconsin scientists say farmers can expect severe losses in pigs born less than a week before an outbreak and less than a week after TGE hits.

Infectious Virus Diarrhea: Similar to TGE, this virus was first discovered in southeast Iowa several years ago, and has now been found in most midwest states. Although somewhat less deadly, the disease closely resembles TGE.

Generally, symptoms of TGE and infectious virus diarrhea are these: Watery diarrhea, vomiting and dehydration, with greatest death loss in baby pigs. Control methods are also the same:

Proper disposal of dead pigs, isolation of infected animals, good sanitation and controlled traffic on the farm and in hog lots, say Purdue University researchers, the first to recognize TGE.

Major difference seen so far between the two look-alike diseases is that little immunity is produced in swine after recovering from infectious virus diarrhea. TGE infected hogs are usually immune to any future outbreak. Also, older hogs appear to be more severely affected by the new virus.

Preventing Scours in the Swine Herd

1. Introduce only known healthy animals to the herd. Healthy-appearing pigs carrying harmful disease germs can introduce disaster into a healthy herd.

2. Separate pigs by age. Young pigs can become fatally sick from bacteria and viruses not affecting older pigs. House feeder pigs away from the farrowing house.

3. Rest farrowing houses at least a week between farrowings. Viruses live in a dormant state outside the animal's body. One infected pig in the barn serves as a burning ember to ignite a new fire.

4. Attempt to group farrowings in one barn within a few days. This avoids a germ buildup. Since infections are progressive, starting with one pig or a few pigs, bacteria and viruses multiply to infect other pigs. Newborn pigs farrowed later into a barn full of sick pigs may be overwhelmed by the large number of germs present.

5. Be sure all newborn pigs get immunity-producing first milk (colostrum). In large litters, smaller pigs may be continually bullied aside. Help these pigs get at least one good nursing of first milk. The pig getting no milk may be the one starting the chain reaction of diarrhea.

Prevention in the Dairy Barn

1. Dry off newborn calves, then paint navels with tincture of iodine.

Wash the cow's udder with a milk chlorine solution to kill bacteria. Be sure calves nurse within an hour. Calves usually won't be strong enough to overeat for 12 hours.

2. Make certain calves get colostrum for one to three days. Teach them to drink from a bucket during the first day.

3. Carefully regulate feeding after the first 12 hours. Overeating causes indigestion, which in turn lowers resistance and leads to scours.

4. Feed normal-sized calves twice a day, but small or weak calves three times a day for the first week. Keep utensils clean. Dirty equipment is one of the leading causes of scouring and calf losses.

5. Keep only one calf in a pen until at least a week after weaning. Allow a minimum of 24 square feet of space. If calves are raised together in one pen, they should be within two months of the same age. Each calf should have at least 30 square feet of space.

6. Use solid partitions between individual calf pens to reduce drafts.

7. Keep temperature as uniform as possible and keep pens and bedding dry.

8. Provide proper ventilation. Calves can stand cold, fresh air better than the warm, stale, humid conditions existing in tightly shut-up barns.

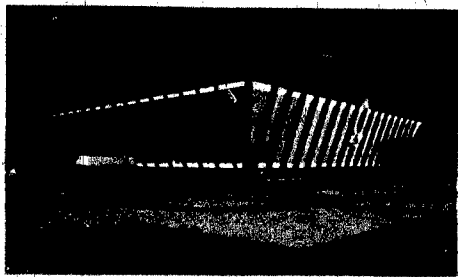

9. Clean pens with soap and water and thoroughly disinfect them to prevent spreading any infection to new calves put in the pens.

how AMIBEN can help you avoid a shattering experience:

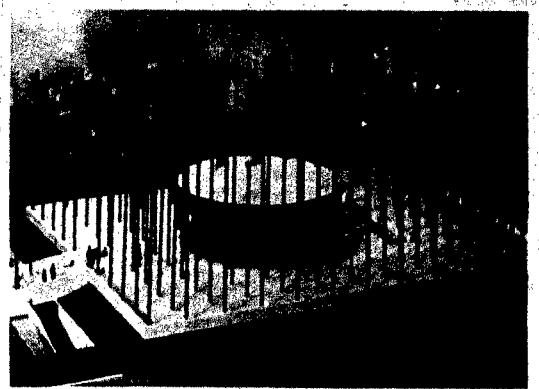

(And other harvesting losses.) A weedy field of ripe beans means trouble. You lose when you have to hit the bean stalks too hard with the combine reel because of big weeds or grass. You lose if you wait for the weeds to brown and the moisture level of the beans drops. (4 to 5 bushels per acre can end up on the ground.) You lose when your combine harvests so many tough weeds, that beans ride over the screen with the trash and back on the field. Enough about what you can lose. With Amiben weed and grass control you WIN. More beans produced — more beans harvested. Enough more to pay for Amiben many times over. Better beans — more beans in the hopper instead of on the ground, and you get more for them. That's the Amiben story. You get control of more weeds and grasses than with any other soybean herbicide. Dependable, full season control. You'll never know how high your soybean yields can go until you use Amiben.

Gigantic Birthday Party Opens Next Month

North America's biggest and fanciest birthday party is taking shape in Montreal, Canada just 40 miles north of the United States border and it is taking shape on two islands and a peninsula in the St. Lawrence River.

They call it Expo 67 and it is nothing but one of the grandest frostings and one of the biggest cakes and it is celebrating Canada's 100th anniversary as a Confederation. Expo 67 Centennial Exposition will last for six months—beginning April 28, 1967 and ending October 27, 1967. It will stack up as the greatest short term tourist migration ever recorded.

Like most other world expositions, Expo 67 will carry a theme which will test the ingenuity and stimulate the intelligence of the participants. The pavilions and special events of Expo 67 will portray "Man and His World." The theme will be expressed through five major subthemes depicting man as explorer, creator, provider, producer and a member of the community. Reaffirming its long standing friendship with Canada, the United States is building one of the largest and most eye catching pavilions as a result of a $9,300,000 appropriation by Congress. The communist world will be represented by the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Cuba.

American visitors are sure to be impressed by the United States Government's bid to steal the Expo 67 show. The United States pavilion will be the tallest on the grounds—a 20-story aluminum framed plastic bubble. The exhibit will portray "Creative America."

The Soviet Union is mounting a formidable challenge to the United States pavilion. Moscow has disclosed plans to erect a pavilion topped by a cantilevered roof. It will cost some $15 million.

Britain, France, Italy, Australia, West Germany, Japan, Israel, Brazil, India, Mexico all are preparing elaborate pavilions. At Africa Place, 22 nations of that continent will demonstrate how they are striving and striding into the modern era.

The five Scandinavian countries are joining hands in the pavilion which will show the finest in design and culture. The nations of the Arab League are sponsoring a cooperative pavilion and the Latin American nations will jointly host the exciting Plaza de las Americas.

Even the site of Expo 67 is exciting — concentrated on two largely man made islands in the St. Lawrence river, it is a scant few minutes from downtown Montreal (Canada's liveliest city and the second largest french speaking city in the world).

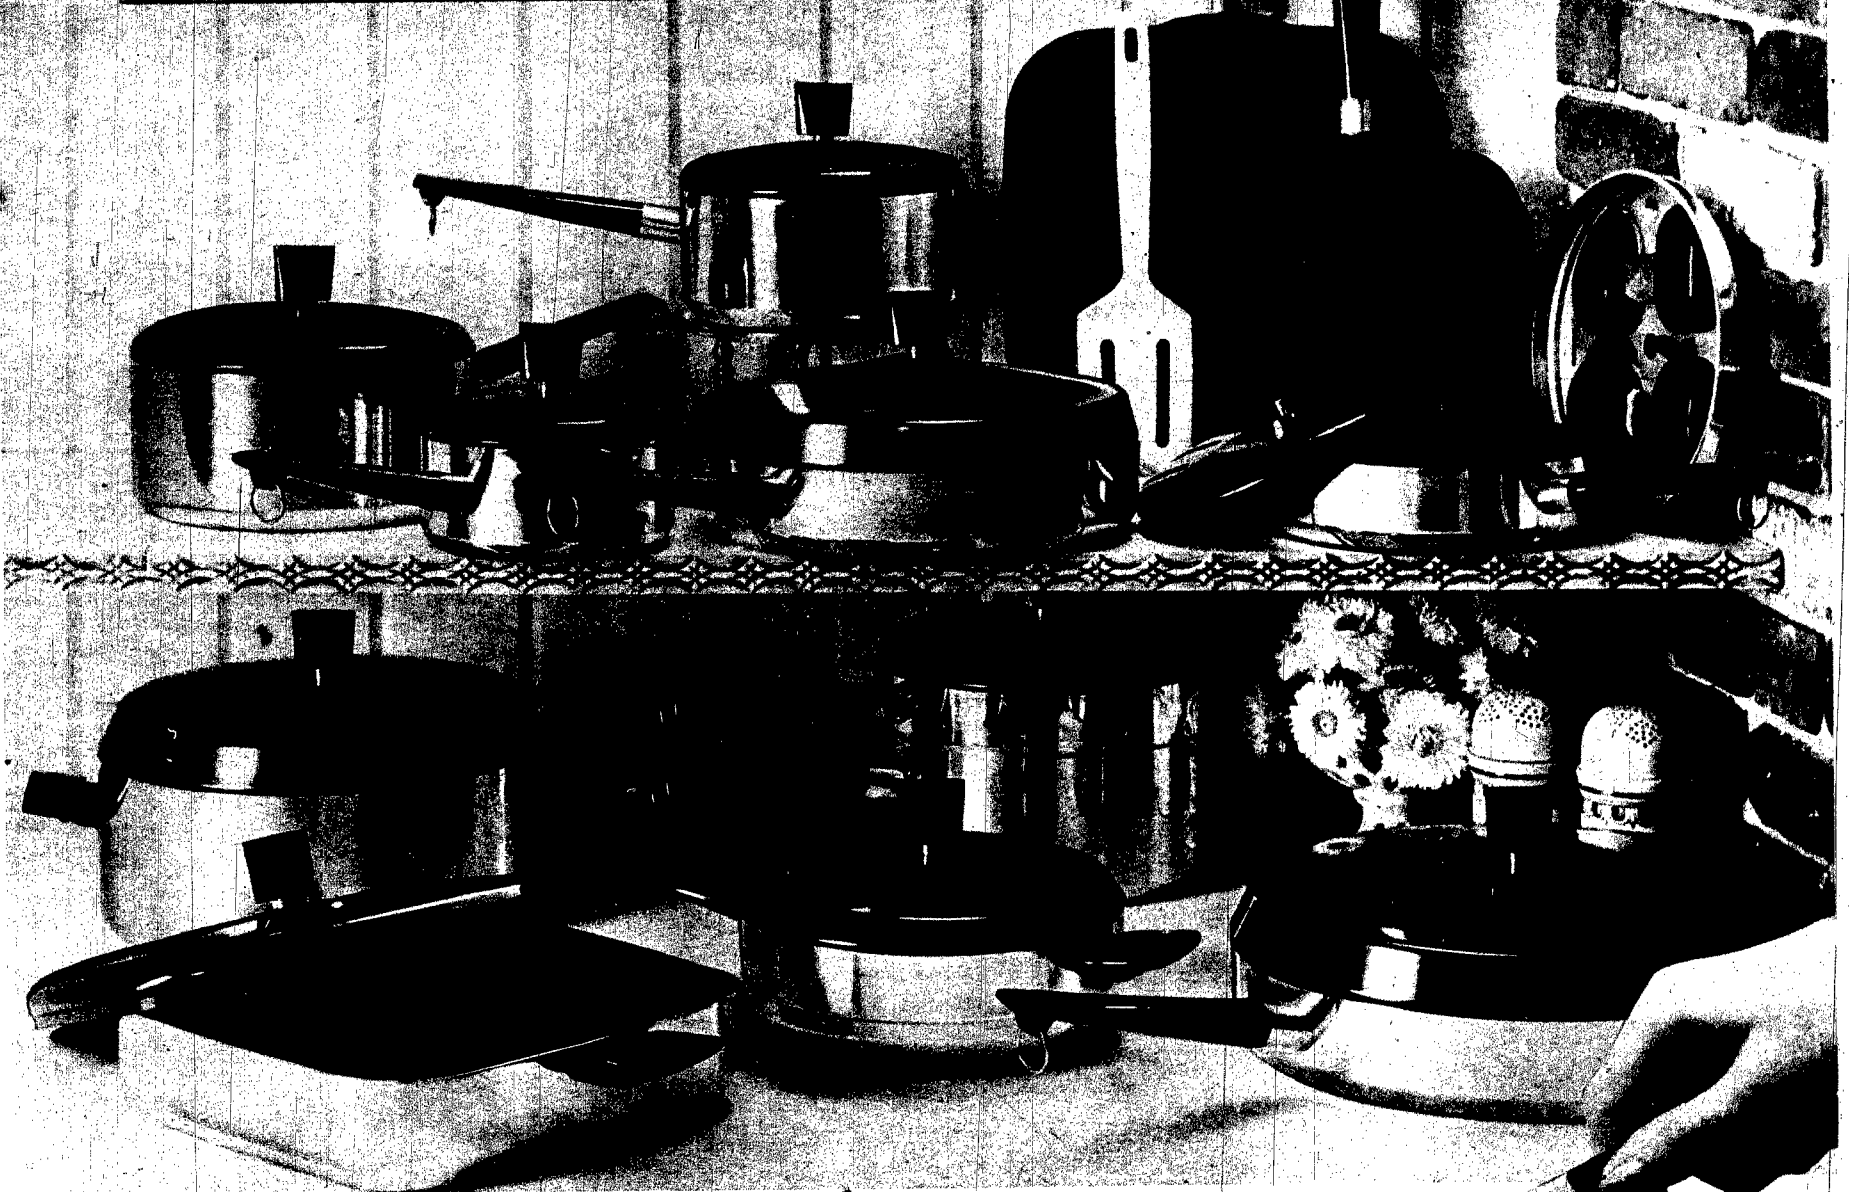

Those who attended the New York World's Fair will remember the long lines in front of the pavilions. Well, officials at Expo 67 are determined to make standing in line an entertaining experience. Visitors waiting in line at pavilions will be entertained by troubador units; singers, dancers, skaters, clowns and magicians. Four such troops will tour the grounds constantly as will a marching band.

To stress the international flavor of Expo 67, visitors will be issued tickets in the form of "passports" that closely resemble the genuine article. The purchase of a "passport" will entitle the visitor to the Expo 67 grounds with free admission into the national and theme pavilions and unlimited rides on the air conditioned Expo Express circulating throughout the site. Gate admission prices are $2.50 for one day passport; ½ price for children aged 2 to 12; $12.00 for a 7-day passport; $35.00 for a season passport. These passports are already on sale at numerous banks, department stores, etc. in the United States.

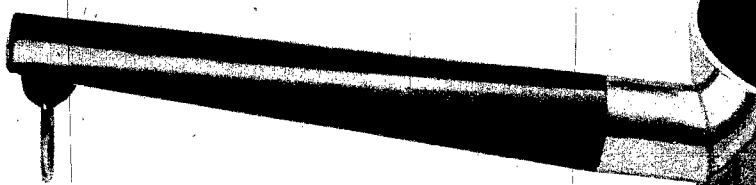

Americans are sure to draw comparisons between the Montreal Expo 67 and the recent New York World's Fair. Actually the two have little in common. New York's Fair had no official sanction by the Bureau of International Expositions so only 24 foreign countries took part. Expo 67 will have three times as many participants from abroad. Expo 67's 1,000 acre site is more than 50% larger than the New York Fair site in Flushing Meadow, yet easily traveled by Expo Express, which will be free to all visitors. Expo 67 will shut down permanently after six months while New York's event spanned into two seasons. Sponsorship makes another major difference in the two. The New York event was a private undertaking while Expo 67 is sponsored by the governments of Quebec and the city of Montreal. It is not planned as a profit making enterprise. Expo 67 won't make a nickel. In fact, it will probably close its books with a deficit of $80 million or more.

See you in Canada at Expo 67!!

CORN-SOYBEAN CLINICS ATTRACT THOUSANDS

Farmers Hear Practical Applications of Look-Ahead Techniques in Today's Agriculture

Thousands of midwestern farmers have just finished attending Farm Shows, Inc.'s annual tour of Corn-Soybean Clinics. They heard some startling news on corn and soybean production.

And, they got a look ahead peek at what to expect in the future with these two crops: Planting techniques; new field equipment on the market, and just how important a factor the weather is if the farmer utilizes proper fertilization, insect control, and weed control.

Layton Burns and Clarence Freese of Gilman, Iowa, had an exciting and interesting experience with 20-inch row corn last season. In spite of adverse weather they were able to top their best previous average by more than 20 bushels per acre, because of the better soil moisture conserving ability of narrow rows.

A Visit with J. W. Ralph Bishop, Tipton, Indiana

"You can't put a $5,000 boar in a dirty pen and expect to reap the harvest."

"Sanitation, feeding, breeding, management—they all work hand-in-hand."

"TNT gives us the added benefits from the feed we need to avoid problems."

"We run a tight operation
...but we'd have problems without TNT."

Ralph Bishop has been raising championship Hampshire breeding stock since 1930. Here's why he uses TNT . . . even though he doesn't have major health problems:

"We're always going to have certain bugs around. They can affect growth. And if pigs weigh 15 pounds when they should be weighing 30, they'll never make it up. They're money losers.

"We're strict on sanitation. But if we're going to get the terrific kind of growth we expect today, we've got to have added benefits from the feed.

"TNT in the feed gives us those benefits.

I'm highly pleased with the results. I don't think I could afford to go without it.

"Sure, I'd recommend TNT. Truth of the matter, I already have . . . to a party who was having problems. I highly recommended TNT to him."

TNT. It works for Ralph Bishop. It'll work for you.

"I'm growing strong"

National Soybean Yield champ, John Reiser, says there's no hocus-pocus to producing 82-bushel bean yields. "Just be on time with the right combination of ingredients," he says.

C. W. "Skip" Hammond, Nebraska City, Nebraska, switched to narrow row corn last year and netted an extra $40 profit per acre. Narrow rows and other revolutionary crop management practices were covered by experts at the Corn-Soybean Clinics.

Narrow row corn produced a 25 bushel advantage for Dave Brewer and Warren Davidson, of Crawfordsville, Indiana last year.

For those farmers not living in an area close to one of the Corn-Soybean Clinic locations, Farm and Home Section will attempt to give a capsule report, realizing (of course) that nothing—especially not a magazine article—could ever replace the knowledge transmitted by the agricultural experts who appeared at the day long clinic sessions. Here, then, are some excerpts of what was said at the Clinics and a few case histories of farmers who had attended Farm Shows Clinics in other years and then tried to put to use the practices which were suggested.

Narrow Corn Row Survives Weather Test in Iowa

The weather around Central Iowa wasn't the best for corn this year. But even with a severe weather hardship, Layton Burns and his son-in-law Clarence Freese of Gilman, Iowa, managed to harvest 130 bushels per acre from 325 acres of corn.

"We didn't get the yield we had figured on because of weather and wind but we're real happy," says Burns. Then he continued, "Too, the ear size was smaller than it should have been because we had a higher population than we had planned on. However, the 20-inch row corn has a decisive advantage because it conserves the moisture quite a bit better. We also used chemicals to control weeds and didn't cultivate at all . . . which also helps to conserve our soil moisture." Burns and Freese feel that 20-inch row corn is the coming thing, and it isn't far off."

National Soybean Champion Appeared at 25 Clinics

John Reiser, Cass county, Illinois, who set a national soybean production record of 82.7 bushels per acre in 1965 appeared at 25 of the Corn-Soybean Clinics this winter.

He told how he produced soybean yields more than double the national average. Reiser is the first to admit that there is no hocus-pocus to growing 80-bushel soybeans. "It takes good land, plenty of fertilizer, weed control, early planting, a high-yielding variety and a good shake from the weatherman," he says. "I found that soybeans don't suffer a bit under a continuous cropping program, but you have to build up the ground to keep yields up."

Nebraskan Makes $40 More Per Acre

"I think we'll eventually have broadcast corn, and harvest it with a regular reel-type combine head," says C. W. "Skip" Hammond, Nebraska City, Nebraska. Hammond is one of several hundred farmers who switched to 20-inch corn rows in 1966, and whose experiences formed the basis of a comprehensive narrow row report at the 1967 Corn-Soybean Clinics.

For a year that was far from ideal weather-wise, Hammond's 20-inch corn came through in great shape. "We had folks come out and look at our crop late in the season, see those smaller than average ears and tell us the crop was a bust. Well sir," said Hammond, "what they were looking at turned out to be a yielder of 177 bushels of 16% moisture corn."

Hammond's '66 crop grossed about $193 per acre figuring $1.25 corn. His expenses were $97 per acre, leaving the operation with a net profit of about $96 per acre. Says Hammond, "I would imagine we increased our income $35-40 per acre by planting our corn in 20-inch rows."

Clyde Hight, Corn Yield Holder Was Clinic Crowd Pleaser

Clyde Hight, Moweaqua, Illinois, corn-growing sensation, spoke at a number of the 1967 Corn-Soybean Clinics. Hight is the farmer who shattered all previous corn yield records in 1965 and even did well under extremely unfavorable conditions in 1966.

Farmers Winning The Bug Battle

Each year insects cost corn and soybean producers hundreds of thousands of dollars in lost profits. The American Indians had a saying when they grew corn: "One for the bug, one for the crow, one to rot and one to grow." Many farmers still sit back and accept this insect loss to their crops.

Today's top profit farmers apply a soil insect "insurance plan." The cost? Less than $3 per acre. The return? An average of an extra 10 bushels per acre. And, when soil insect damage is severe, it can mean a difference of 30 to 40 bushels per acre, or saving an entire crop which would otherwise be lost.

Narrow Row Corn Gives 25% Increase In Drought Area

Drought was precisely the story on David Brewer's Indiana farm last season. A total of only two inches of rain fell from the time the corn was planted until it was harvested.

Yet, his 20-inch corn rows came through with 100 bushel yields, 25 bushels more than most of the 40-inch corn in his area. His story is but one of several testimonials to modern farming methods that were documented this past season and were presented as part of the Corn-Soybean Clinics.

The preceding year was an ideal year for corn. Brewer had one of the best crops ever. He harvested 140 bushels per acre in 38-inch rows, and was waiting for the opportunity to increase yields by going to narrow rows. Last spring he made the big move and bought a new 20-inch 12-row planter. Brewer's brother-in-law,

Warren Davidson, farms adjoining acreage and made the switch to narrow rows at the same time—sharing use of the new equipment.

"We found a lot of things we like about narrow rows," the pair says. "One is the way the 8-row corn head picks up downed corn. It was really amazing how much more corn we saved," they continued.

Brewer and Davidson make no apologies for this year's "less than expected crop." They figure 20-inch rows still gave them a 25% increase in yield over 40-inch rows, even in a near-drought year. They figure also to be able to utilize nutrients applied that weren't used last year.

There's no doubt about DEKALB XL varieties

Higher yields, bigger profits, proved year after year by farmers all across the country

The remarkable yield power of DeKalb XL Corn Varieties is shown again in 1966 reports from farmers entered in the DeKalb 200-Bushel Club program. The authenticated yields below were mechanically harvested, without gleaning, from carefully measured acreages. All checks were verified by responsible witnesses, and yields* were figured in bushels of No. 2 corn per acre.

Plant your next corn crop to DeKalb XL Single-Cross and 3-Way Hybrids. Some numbers may be sold out in certain areas, so see your DeKalb dealer today.
