

Wayne Native Killed in Action in Vietnam War

Stanley Miller, 20, a native of Wayne, died in Vietnam when struck by grenade fragments Feb. 27. He was one of the first from this area to die in Vietnam fighting.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, Commerce City, Colo., he was killed in the Black Virgin Mountains. The day the Millers received the letter that he was killed was the day a son, his first child, was born.

Miller had previously won a bronze star when a helicopter in which he was flying crashed, killing two others. He had been in action for several months.

No details of his life are known other than that he was born in Wayne Sept. 15, 1946. A twin brother died at birth. The family lived in Wayne at the time, moved to a farm northwest of Wayne later and left this area around 1955.

Survivors include his parents; his wife; one son; four brothers, Gary, Duane, Kevin and Kerry; three sisters, Vicky, Peggy and Penny; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Asmus, Hoskins. His parents live at 6830 Box Court, Commerce City.

Other relatives in this area include his father's brothers and sisters: Mrs. Carl Hinzman, Mrs. Ed Meierhenry and Mrs. Reuben Puls, Hoskins; Jake Miller and Mrs. Melvin Nydal, Winside; and Dave Miller, Mrs. Harold Ahlman, Mrs. Alfred Carstens and Mrs. Laura Carstens, Norfolk.

His mother's sisters and brothers are: Mrs. Leslie Alleman, Winside; Mrs. Lyle Thies, Marvin Asmus and Kenneth Asmus, Norfolk; Mrs. Don Trymessa, Omaha; Leo Asmus, Minden, Ia.; and Mrs. Harold Capps, Chicago.

Funeral arrangements called for services Saturday in Colorado.

Boy Scouts Picking Up Donor Bags

Boy Scouts in Wayne and other towns in the area where troops are taking part in the annual good turn for Goodwill Industries will pick up the bags of clothing Saturday, Mar. 11.

Richard Manley, Bill Richardson and Jewell Schock are Scoutmasters of the three Wayne troops. They ask that contributors leave the bags on their front steps by 9:30 a.m. to avoid making the Scouts ring doorbells.

If your home was missed by Cub Scouts the previous Saturday, call your Scoutmaster or put the items on your steps in boxes or sacks. No magazines or newspapers are wanted.

What will be needed are discarded clothes for men, women and children, shoes (pairs tied together), curtains, drapes, linens, bedding and other items that can be repaired. Small household utensils and electrical appliances are also needed.

The items will be used to help 140 handicapped men and women earn their own living. When repaired, the items will be sold at low prices to people who cannot afford to pay the price for new clothing.

AFS Chapter Will Hold Open Meeting March 17

A meeting open to everyone will be held Friday, Mar. 17, at 8 p.m. at Wayne High School by the Wayne American Field Service chapter, the unit which sponsors attendance of foreign students in the local school.

Ken Deissler, school counselor and one of the AFS leaders, points out that everyone will be welcome. You need not be an AFS member to attend but should be interested in continuation of the program.

A financial statement will be presented at the meeting.

Winside Celebrates

Winside Grade School celebrated Centennial Day, Wednesday, Mar. 1, with a special program. Mrs. Lena Miller had charge. Pupils gathered in the hallway, gave the Pledge of Allegiance and sang "Star Spangled Banner," "America the Beautiful," "Beautiful Nebraska" and "Happy Birthday" in honor of the state's 100th birthday. Most of the youngsters had centennial costumes in styles of years gone by.

Plans for New Fire Station in Wayne Revealed by Firemen

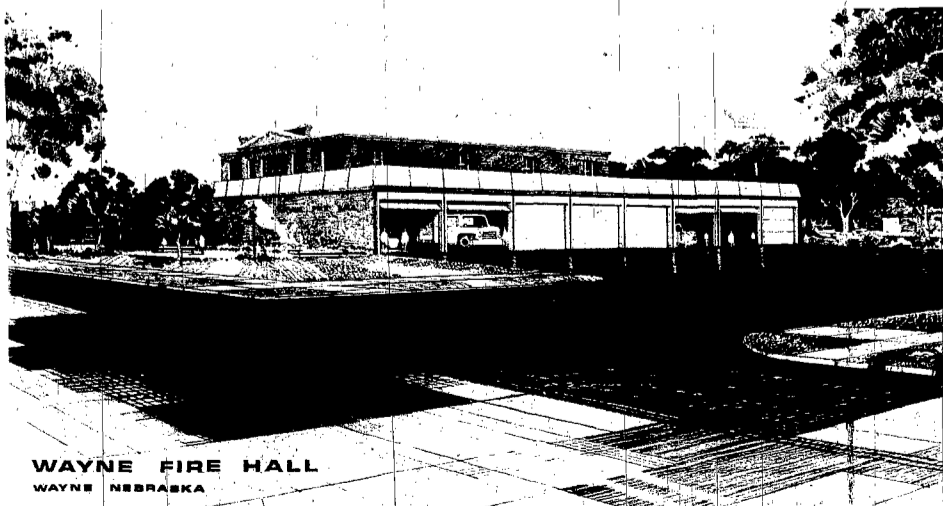

Wayne firemen have revealed plans for the new fire station proposed for Wayne. A $75,000 bond issue will be presented on the ballot in April for approval of the voters.

The eight-bay building would be constructed west of the present fire hall. Trucks would exit onto Pearl Street in place of Second Street under the new arrangement.

While eight bays might appear to be too many now, Fire Chief Ivan Beeks said it was necessary to look ahead to future needs so another addition is not needed at once. He pointed out that extra bays will be needed soon.

At present the Wayne VFD has four trucks in the fire station, jammed in so that the back trucks cannot be taken out unless the bigger trucks are moved first.

Beeks praised the firemen who had the present hall built 55 years ago. He pointed out that it was built in 1912 with the future needs in mind so that it

WSC Faculty Plans Fun Show Sunday

A show strictly of fun where even the dramatic portions have humorous overtones, will be presented Sunday, Mar. 12, at 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre by faculty members and wives. The public is invited.

Proceeds will be used to finance publication of "The Judas Goat," WSC students' literary magazine. The publication will contain poetry, essays, satire and other writing efforts of local students.

Numbers are still being lined up so there are bound to be some surprises. Listed as a highlight will be the dramatic (?) reading by Gilbert Vaughn.

Other numbers include: brass and percussion band featuring Arthur Schulze, Van Tyson, Richard Hersey and Robert Zahniser; foreign songs by Dr. Aaron Butler; vocal and instrument numbers with a guitar by Dr. Robert Johnson.

Draw for $400

The Silver Dollar Night drawing Thursday, Mar. 9, will be for $400. Some area resident could take home a check for that amount by being in one of the participating business places at 8 p.m. when the name of the one drawn is announced. Registration may be made at any of these business places by those 18 or over.

Pupils Learn More About Dental Care

Pupils in Winside, Carroll and Wayne elementary schools learned about dental health from a former Winside teacher Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. Myrtle Day, who taught in Winside High School in 1948-49, conducted the programs.

Mrs. Day is associate director of health education in the state department of health. She spoke on dental health at most sessions and also gave instruction on safe bicycle riding at some sessions.

She was in Winside for two sessions Monday afternoon, Tuesday mornings she was at Carroll Elementary and Wayne's Northeast Elementary and Tuesday afternoon at Wayne's West Elementary.

Challenging the children to take care of their teeth if they want good oral health, Mrs. Day pointed out that most decay is unnecessary and it is only because of ignorance or neglect that suffering with teeth occurs in later years.

While she recommended brushing properly, she pointed out that the swish-and-swallow technique (with water) was often effective in rinsing particles of food away and diluting the acid which forms in the mouth because of bacterial action. The change takes place in less than a minute.

Set County Fair Premium Listings

The Home Extension Council's Wayne County Fair committee met Monday to set up the 1967 premium lists for the domestic products and arts division of the fair.

Members of the home extension clubs have provided voluntary leadership in this area of the fair for several years. Purpose is to provide open class divisions for people interested in exhibiting items suited to their particular tastes.

Exhibitors are asked to consult the 1967 county fair premium book for rules on entries and are reminded that entries are limited to those listed. If prospective exhibitors desire to exhibit a particular item that was not listed in 1966, they should notify Mrs. Elmer Echtenkamp, Wayne, Mrs. James Robinson, Hodgeville, or Mrs. James Robinson, Hodgeville.

Serviceman Tells of War Zone Experience

Major Charles Kay, who is home from Vietnam and Thailand, told of his war experiences and life in general in those Far East countries at the Monday noon meeting of the Wayne Kiwanis Club.

He illustrated his talk with slide pictures he had taken. Home for a month, he had all sorts of interesting pictures and experiences for the Kiwanians.

Claude Harder reported on the Kiwanis honors banquet set for Friday, May 5, at WSC. Dr. James Maly, who landed a plane in South American jungle country and was lost for a long period, will be here from Fullerton to speak at the session.

Ken Deissler, WHS counselor, reported on the annual career day in Wayne. It is scheduled Friday, Mar. 31.

Bus Trip to Omaha on Schedule of Two Banks

State National Bank and First National Bank, Wayne, are again sponsoring a bus trip to Omaha for area cattle feeders Thursday, Mar. 9. The group will attend the 19th annual National Livestock Conference.

County Agent Harold Ingalls, who is in charge, reports the group will leave at 6:30 a.m. All expenses for the day will be paid by the two banks for the feeders they have invited. Theme of the conference is "Our Centennial Heritage...The Golden Years Ahead." Iowa, Nebraska and national livestock leaders will have roles in the program.

Getting underway at 9:30 in the Livestock Exchange Building, the conference will include talks on: Impact of World Food Needs; Livestock Futures Market; Computerized Farming; Economic Outlook for the Livestock Producer; How I Use Computers; Cattle Feeding Practices and Trends in Central Nebraska; a question and answer session; and a program wrap-up before the 3:15 adjournment. A noon lunch will feature Fred Gilmore, president of Union Stockyards, Omaha, and Dr. Kenneth McFarland, General Motors.

No Truck Involved

In a report on an accident last week it was stated that Edwin Milligan, Carroll, was backing a truck from the Wayne Motor Express parking lot when involved in a collision. Milligan is a truck driver but he was not in a truck at the time. He was driving an automobile.

Plan Allen Supper

Members of the A Club of Allen High School are selling tickets for a soup supper to be held Friday, Mar. 17. A carnival will be held in conjunction with the feed. Coach LeRoy Wilch is sponsor of the group.

Wayne Boy Chosen for World Scout Jamboree

David Jensen, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Jensen, Wayne, is one of 20 Boy Scouts and Explorers in the Mid-America Council who have been named to attend the Twelfth World Jamboree as council representatives.

This will be the first time the United States has ever hosted the world jamboree. It will be held Aug. 1-9 at Farragut State Park, Idaho.

Scouts were interviewed locally and their applications were reviewed by a special committee before being approved. There were many more applications than there were openings.

Three other Scouts from Northeast Nebraska were selected. They are Jeffrey Knerl and Bill Bossman of Ponca and Jim Surber of Norfolk.

While the Scouts are at the jamboree, the Mid-Continent Council's 1,000 Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer posts in Iowa and Nebraska will hold friendship campfires as a part of the worldwide observance of the founding of Scouting.

World Jamboree Scouts have to be proficient in campcraft, have a general knowledge of world conditions and the history of the United States and be able to state clearly the fundamental principles on which the US was founded.

The new Wayne High School building is almost 70 per cent complete, the school board learned at its Monday night meeting. Just in case, however, school will start a little late this fall.

Supt. Francis Haun reports the terrazzo work is finished except for the steps. Painting is going on inside, interior wall work is progressing rapidly, lots of activity is carried out in the classroom area, gym walls need to be finished and critical material for wiring, heating and plumbing awaits warmer weather.

The board instructed Supt. Haun to contact firms regarding landscaping of the campus of the school. Several Wayne business places will be asked to submit proposals. Landscaping was not included in the general contract, although grading was.

As for starting late next fall, the board approved starting classes after Labor Day. This will give the contractors and staff just that much more time to get all schools for the new high school, middle school, grade school concept.

Bids have been accepted for some of the state equipment. Metropolitan State Equipment, Omaha, was awarded contracts for stage curtains, picture screens and other items.

NU Band Thrills Big Crowd Here

The 82-piece University of Nebraska concert band drew a big crowd to Wayne City Auditorium Monday night. The appreciative audience gave generous applause for all numbers.

Don Lentz, director of bands for NU, directed the band in the program. Exceptions were one number directed by Nancy de Freese Cox, Wayne, and another directed by Wayne High School's band director, Don Schumacher.

There are three local residents in the band. Mrs. Cox plays flute in the band and flute ensemble; Sandra Olds, Wayne, plays French horn; and Jeff Klintberg, Laurel, plays the clarinet in the band and clarinet choir.

The superb musicianship of the band came through. See NU BAND - Pg. 5

Government Day Plans Underway

County Government Day will be held at the courthouse in Wayne Thursday, Mar. 16. Winside and Wayne juniors will take part in the annual Legion sponsored event.

While the entire program has not been arranged, some features have been set. Trooper J. E. O'Dell will be in charge of the event.

Wayne High Drama Department Gives Trio of One-Act Plays Tuesday Night

Three one-act plays, each one different in many ways, were presented Tuesday night before a fair-sized crowd at the Wayne City Auditorium. All were well-received.

Most popular of the three was "Sorry, Wrong Number." It had suspense, a definite plot and was characterized by strong roles that were well-handled. The tale of an invalid who accidentally overhears a plot to kill a woman and finds out too late she is the woman to be killed.

Debi Armbruster carried the play with a demanding role. She was properly frightened, nervous, irritable, puzzled, frantic, distraught and overbearing at times in phone conversations with others who were spotlighted as needed. Lighting and an extraordinarily good bit of stage setting help put over this one.

Lesser roles were handled by Marcia Ehlers and Jeanne Whorlow who were telephone operators, Debbie Wright a nurse, Jo Merriman a policeman, Jon Merriman a waiter, Dennis Ellermeier a telegraph boy and Doug Danielson and Eric Nedergaard criminals. All were well-portrayed.

"The Happy Journey" was a strange play that portrayed a trip in a car by a mother, father, son and daughter. Larry Magnuson stole the show as a father in the early days of the auto. With chairs for a car and no other props, he had to "keep his foot on the gas" and steer while looking properly detached as the conversation of his wife and children swirled about him.

Dominant character was the mother, well-played by Louise Kamish, Doug Stanley and Marilyn Stoakes as the little kids were amusing rôles that contributed to the setting and Linda Lesh had a smaller role as the daughter they were going to visit.

"The Twelve Pound Look" was a play with a switch. An ex-wife is employed by accident to type for her soon-to-be-a-knight ex-husband. She exudes contentment in contrast to the new wife of the man who is unhappy. The first wife has saved money to buy a typewriter, leave the man and make her own way in life. As the play closes, the second wife inquires of her husband how much he thinks a typewriter would cost.

Tom Havener as the husband was one of the easiest-to-hear and easiest-to-understand actors in any of the plays. Jane Williams handled the role of secretary in splendid style and Pat Jorgensen was just right as the demure wife bowing to her husband's every whim. Doug Danielson had a walk-on role as butler.

The acoustics of the auditorium are not easy to overcome but an effort was made. However, there are still some who speak too fast to be understood all of the time. Credit Chet Christensen and the pupils for making a great effort to do their best under adverse circumstances.

Concord Children in Salute to Nebraska

Children in the Concord Elementary School dressed in costumes reminiscent of those worn in 1867 Wednesday, Mar. 1. The occasion was the 100th anniversary of Nebraska's statehood.

Sunbonnets and bow ties were two pieces of attire that were common. These had been made by the teachers. Pupils attended a program in Laurel to mark the anniversary. Concord children took items of interest from the past to display, including coffee grinders, lanterns, pictures, clothes, spinning wheel, scrub board, Jew's harp, flatirons and other items.

Lions Club Works on Talent Show Contest

Meeting Tuesday night at St. Mary's Catholic School, the Wayne Lions Club gave consideration to the talent show coming up. There seems to be a lot of interest in the project.

There was some discussion of the practice of dumping snow on the baseball diamond. The fact that objects in the snow also get on the diamond has been tossed about as reason enough for asking the city council to make other plans.

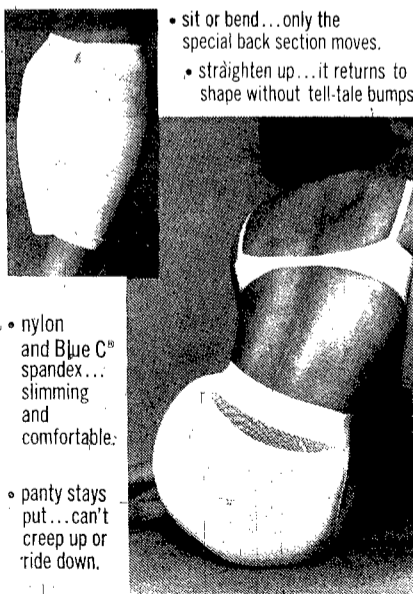

Phadet Gawsombat, exchange student from Thailand, was a guest of the club. He showed slides of his native land and told about life there and in this country.

Change Post Office Recruitment Policy

Postmasters in this area have been informed that a new recruitment program policy has been set up. Changing times have brought about a need for a new set-up.

In the past, applications for clerk and city carrier have been limited to local areas for the most part. Nowadays people are ready to move in order to secure employment so residence requirements will either be eliminated or broadened to cover a wider area.

What this means is that residents of this area will take tests for sectional center areas. If a position is open in Norfolk, a resident of Carroll or any other town in the 687 sectional center would be eligible. Applicants for post office positions will therefore achieve eligibility on examinations for employment in any post office in the zone, including the one serving the community in which he resides. Those who wish to restrict availability to certain post offices must specify those offices.

For those who would be interested in post offices outside the zone, they must move at their own expense if the opening is not within commuting distance. Further information can be obtained from the Allen, Dixon, Concord, Wakesfield, Wayne, Carroll, Winfeld or Hoskins post offices.

hoff; second row, Kyle Wills, Chris Lueders, Rick Elofson, Dave Kudrna and Coach Hank Overin. Absent were Don Hansen, Kirt Lesh, Mark Wiltse and Mark Lambert.

Wayne Team in Tourney Finals

Wayne seventh grade, playing in the Hartington Cedar Catholic seventh and eighth grade tournament, advanced to the finals by winning games Monday and Tuesday. They were scheduled to play Creighton St. Ludger's for the championship Wednesday night.

Hank Overin's team beat Crofton 22-8 in the first round. Leading 10-6 after one round, the locals went into a semi-stall against the big Crofton team, shooting only when they had a "can't-miss" shot.

As a result, Wayne led 14-6 after one quarter and 19-6 at the end of three. Chris Lueders led scoring with 10, Don Hansen had 5, Kelly Dill 4, Kyle Wills 2 and Dave Kudrna 1.

Tuesday night Wayne faced Randolph St. Frances, a team that upset favored Hartington Holy Trinity. Wayne won 29-27 and used the semi-stall part of the time, although this tactic backfired at times and they had to revert to pushing for scores.

It was 5-5 after one period and 15-15 at half-time. Wayne led 21-18 after three stanzas, played control ball late in the game to take a 29-25 lead and then with seconds to go let St. Frances make a score, stayed away from the ball and time ran out.

Bornhoff and Dill led scoring with 10 points apiece. Hansen was right behind with 8 and Lueders had 1.

Nebraskans Leading Scorers in Colorado

Dennis Colson, Elsie, took over the scoring leadership from Don Meyer, Wayne, in the last two games of the basketball season at Colorado State College, Greeley. Colson finished with a 15.9 average for the season and Meyer a 15.5 average. Far behind them were the others, the next highest man having a 9.8 average. Meyer had the best free throw percentage, 78.4. Colson had the best field goal percentage, 50.5.

CSC ended the year with its third consecutive Rocky Mountain Conference title. The school had an 8-4 league record and a 19-7 season record.

Wayne State Women's Team in Exhibition

The Wayne State Women's basketball team has a spotlight engagement this weekend, performing as special attraction at the Iowa High School girls cage tournament at Des Moines. The Wayne Kittens are matched with the Look magazine team of Des Moines at 2:30 p.m. Friday, following a Midwestern-Kennedy College game, Saturday afternoon losers play at 1 and winners at 2:30.

Coach Peggy Plath said the games will show the difference between high school and college rules for co-ed basketball. For many of the players on all four teams, the tournament will be a sort of homecoming because most of them are Iowans who played high school basketball, and some are state tournament veterans.

One of Wayne's players, Cheri Mankenberg, received an honor last week, being named among 10 on the all-star team of the Midwest AAU Women's Basketball Tournament in Omaha.

WSC Track Team Finishes Third

Wayne State's track team finished third among nine in the Kearney State Invitational College Track and Field Meet March 4.

The host Kearney squad rolled up 111 points to 24 by second-place Peru State and 19 by Wayne. Yankton scored 17, Doha 10, Concordia 7, Midland 4, Tarkio 2, Hastings 1.

Best individual performance for Wayne was Stan Thorpe's second in the 75-yard high hurdles, with a 9.9 time. Spott Nelson earned a third with a 13-foot pole vault. A.D. Benson was sixth in the two-mile at 10:10.8.

The Wayne two-mile relay team of Paul Donaldson, Lynn Schreurs, Rod Shropshire and Jim Betts finished second at 8:32.3; the one-mile relay of Dan Castor, Jerry Schluster, Bob Cordes and Larry Arends second at 3:36.3; and the 800 relay team of Todd Speece, Tom Svoboda, Stan Packer and Stan Thorpe third at 1:39.2.

Intramural Tournaments

Underway for Teams

Two intramural tournaments are in progress for boys' teams under the direction of Hank Overin. One is the junior high tournament and the other is the Boys Club meet.

Friday afternoon in junior high play, Mau plays Kamish and Tietgen plays Biltoft, games at 4:15 and 5. Monday Boys Club B plays Boys Club A sophomores-juniors at 6, sophomores versus freshman B at 7 and Boys Club seniors against freshman A at 8.

The freshman A squad is made up of high school "varsity" freshmen. The freshmen B team is high school reserves. Boys Club B is made up of sophomores and all other teams are made up of Boys Club players.

Saturday's schedule has third grade practice at 10, fourth and fifth at 11 and sixth at 12. Games include St. Mary's sixth-seventh versus Public seventh at 1, St. Mary's eighth versus Public eighth at 2, Biltoft versus St. Mary's at 3 and Kamish versus Tietgen at 4.

Wayne Explorers to Ski in Black Hills

Wayne Explorer Scouts will go skiing in the Black Hills of South Dakota this weekend. They have been saving money for the trip for several weeks.

Plans call for 18 Explorers to leave by commercial bus for Rapid City from Norfolk Thursday morning. Ron Brown and Dean Weible will sponsor the group.

In the Terry Peak area of the Black Hills they will spend two days skiing. They will return to Norfolk sometime Sunday on the bus.

Saturday night the Explorers had another successful teenage dance at the City Auditorium. They sponsored "The Blue Things" and drew 540 paid admissions for one of their most successful money-making projects in many months.

Two Musicians Giving Concert

Two music majors at Wayne State College, Gordon Buchholz of Osmond and Fred Sokol of Beemer, will present their senior recital Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Ramsey Theater of the Fine Arts Center.

The pair have similar careers in Wayne State music. Both have played in band and orchestra—Buchholz the euphonium, Sokol the trombone—sung in the college choir, played and sung in various small ensembles. Both are members of Music Educators National Conference and of the chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary bandsman fraternity being organized at WSC. Sokol is president of this honorary.

Buchholz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Buchholz, directed the Grace Lutheran Church choir in Wayne for a term and is a member of Gamma Delta, the Missouri Synod club for collegians.

Sokol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sokol, doubled as student and teacher last fall. While enrolled for a full load of studies in college, plus serving as drum major of the band, he directed the Laurel High band and choir.

The college woodwind quintet and brass choir will share the senior recital program. Members of these ensembles: Ron Dalton, Wausa; Gwen Marolf, Ralston; Terry Kardell, Wayne; Joe Przak, Howells; Morris Iverson, Mondamin, Ia.; Mary Wetrosky, Lawton, Ia.; Cheryl Haase, Denison, Ia.; Jack Schrieber, Coleridge; Dennis Downs, Omaha; Wayne Woodland, Omaha; Buchholz and Sokol.

Laurel Hosts Meeting

Mid-continent Regional Educational Laboratories will have a meeting in Laurel, Thursday, Mar. 9. Films from the University of Nebraska will be shown at two different sessions. English staff members from the Wayne schools will attend the McREL meeting.

Wayne State Swimmers Win NCC and NAIA Titles

Wayne State remains the champion of Nebraska college swimming following the combined meet of the Nebraska College Conference and NAIA Nebraska District 11 at Kearney March 3-5.

Wayne swimmers won 12 of 17 events with conference record performances in 11 and NAIA records in all 12.

Results in all events were scored separately for NCC and NAIA. In the past, each organization has run a meet—Wayne winning both in the two previous meets.

By NCC scoring, Wayne tallied 181 points, Kearney State 153, Chadron State 58. By NAIA scoring: Wayne 166, Kearney 135.5, Concordia 57.5, Chadron 46.

Top winners were Wayne's two aces, junior Jim Brown of Omaha and sophomore Russ Nyberg of Chicago. Brown won the 200 individual medley in 2:15.5, the 400 individual medley in 5:07.2, and the 200 breaststroke in 2:29.6, besides joining the first-place 400 medley and 400 freestyle relay teams.

Nyberg won the 200 freestyle in 1:56.9, the 500 free in 5:29.3, and the 1,650 free in 19:51.5, and swam on the 400 free relay team that won.

A double winner for Wayne was Barry Phelps of Ralston; the 100 backstroke in 1:03.2 and the 200 backstroke in 2:21.3. He also was second in the 200 individual medley, and swam on the 400 medley relay.

The other Wayne firsts: Dave Noyes of Wayne in the 100 butterfly, 58.6, and Keith Rittscher, Sloan, Ia., 100 breaststroke in NAIA record time of 1:11.2, half a second off his own NCC mark last year.

Concordia's Dennis Uecker won the 50 and 100 freestyle races in :23.1 and :53.3, both records. Chadron's Ken Estes won the 200 butterfly in 2:41.7, but fell short of the NCC record by Jim Brown, 2:26.6, and the NAIA mark of 2:40.6 by Mark Williams, also of Wayne.

Kearney divers won both events, Rod Adams the one-meter, Rick Ricker the three-meter.

Preferred habitat of Nebraska sharp-tailed grouse is open grasslands.

Wheat Stabilization Signup Status Given

John Mohr, chairman of the Wayne County ASCS, has revealed the status of 1967 wheat stabilization signup for the county. Deadline for signing is Mar. 17.

Only those wheat growers who have signed up to participate in the 1967 wheat program will be eligible for price support loans and marketing certificates on their 1967 wheat crop, he reveals.

Signups so far indicate that some farmers who said they would participate have not signed up yet. Since the ASCS county office cannot issue certificates under the program for "accidental compliance," farmers must declare their intentions in advance by signing up prior to the Mar. 17 deadline.

after sweet food has been put into the mouth.

Mrs. Day pointed out that starch changes to sugar within two minutes through action of saliva, making immediate brushing important. If one waits even 15 minutes the damage has already been done.

Finally, she said detergent foods such as carrots, apples or celery may be chewed after a meal to rid the teeth of food which might cling tightly. And, she concluded, regular dental appointments are necessary because cavities can appear within six months after a thorough dental examination.

Her information on bicycle safety concerned rules to follow in riding bikes in traffic and out. Films of both dental hygiene and bicycle safety were shown.

Ann Hasebroock, Wayne school nurse, accompanied Mrs. Day on her rounds here. Prin. Loren Park said it was the first such program held here.

He is shown slurping through a chocolate pie without benefit of hands or hardware—in a time you wouldn't believe. At left is another contestant, Randy Cordes, cousin of Roger Cordes for whom the carnival is named. Proceeds from the event provide scholarships in memory of the athlete, a cancer victim three years ago. The two contestants are shown below as they looked following their pie-eating stint.

No dimmer control bid was accepted. The board will negotiate with Risor & Barney, Wisner, for purchase of dimmers. The Wisner firm has the electric contract on the new high school building.

Mrs. Mildred Witte, fifth grade teacher who is of retirement age, asked to appear before the board. She had no complaints, merely wanting to express her personal appreciation for six wonderful years in the Wayne school system. The board members were visibly moved by her appreciative expression, no such action having ever taken place before by a teacher leaving the system.

Willard Wiltse asked for permission to use the school bus for a Scout trip to Colorado next summer. This brought up the matter of policy regarding use of school transportation equipment and the board decided to compose a policy which will be presented for adoption at the next meeting.

Carroll residents requested a late bus from Wayne to Carroll so pupils might stay later and work with teachers. The board asked Supt. Haun to conduct a survey to determine how many pupils would be interested in this service if it were to be offered.

The board reviewed the policy regarding teachers reaching the age of 65 prior to opening of a fall school term being allowed to retire ahead of that term. Members recalled that this has come up in the past and will come up again in the future and they reaffirmed the policy as one to be retained.

Supt. Haun reported on the staff needs, revealing that no more teachers have resigned since the recent report of five leaving plus Coach Maciejewski moving up to the athletic director post.

He also reported on his trip to the national school administrators' convention in Atlantic City. Some of the equipment he saw, some of the ideas discussed and other facets of the meeting were described.

in every number. These included an overture by Giovanni, Liebestod from "Tristan and Isolde," Hungarian Melodies featuring a cornet solo by Allan Cox (husband of Nancy de Freese Cox), Mars from "The Planets," the flute ensemble in "Trio Scherzando," "Playground" and extra numbers including "There Is No Place Like Nebraska."

Most unusual number was "Meditation," a contemporary number by Gunther Schuller. Hardly a number anyone hums afterward, it was distinctive in its unusual use of the twelve tones of the octave in a recurring theme. While it took considerable artistic effort to perform and that artistry was recognized by the audience, it does not seem to be the type of music people would want to hear very often and one shudders to think what it would sound like if any less-skilled musical aggregation tried to play it.

Wayne residents furnished meals for the NU students in the evening and the following morning. The band members were guests overnight in various homes throughout the city and surrounding rural area.

American Legion posts of the county will sponsor the day in which students from the high schools are elected to hold county offices for a day. Chris Bargholz, Wayne, is in charge for the Legion.

Under the usual arrangements, the two schools hold elections to select officers to represent the schools. Those elected will be at the courthouse all day to observe the various functions.

was adequate for several decades.

He said the firemen of today want to be just as conscious of future needs in 1967 as the firemen were in 1912. Some examples of the future needs were listed.

With four bays needed already, a fifth bay will be used when the firemen get their new equipment truck which is on order. The rural fire district which Wayne firemen serve is considering a new truck. That takes care of six bays. If the hospital takes over ambulance operation, it is possible the fire station would have to house that vehicle. Thus seven bays would be needed at once.

A tax levy to pay for the fire station would call for two mills. However, Beaks pointed out that it appears that the hospital levy will be reduced four mills so the total levy could go down instead of up, and the new facilities could still be provided.

Paul Rogge is president of the fire department with Beaks chief. They have promised further information on the needs of the VFD during the weeks before the election.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:
My frustrations and embarrassment force me to make a comment or two.
My family and I went to the U. of Nebr. band concert last night. We had looked forward to a pleasant evening. Unfortunately, we had to sit in the top half of the seating area. The noise was so terrific that we couldn't decide whether we were at a basketball game or a concert. There were times when the band was barely audible. A brave woman finally went down and consulted with Mr. Schumacher, who finished the evening serving as a babysitter.

Moms and Dads, you have by now decided that I can't be talking about your junior and senior high schoolers. You had better check. I saw sophomore girls flailing their arms as though directing, talking and laughing as they did it. I have seen cute little 2-year-olds doing this, but didn't expect our high school students to behave in this manner. I just might be referring to your Mary or Jim or Mike. I suggest that the next time they go off to a concert you either accompany them or make sure that they are dependable enough to not ruin a pleasant evening for everyone else. I will keep my children from annoying you, so please be as considerate of me.

Sincerely,
Music Lover
(This is the second comment we have heard on this situation. The first was made orally. The one who told about it first knows the names of those who had to have adult supervision before they quieted down. This is a pretty sad commentary on some youngsters' need for disciplining. Each of you should ask your own children if they could have been in the group. We hope they were not.—Editor.)

Area Dairymen Get Production Awards

Several area dairymen have been honored for maintaining consistently high butterfat production for five years or more. Recognition came through Nebraska State Dairymen's Association Tuesday.
Herbert Wantoch, Stanton, received the highest area recognition, a silver plaque for a herd of ten or more cows with production averaging 425 pounds of butterfat for five consecutive years never dropping below 375 pounds for any of the five years.
Silver certificate awards went to those whose herds of 8 to 19 cows produced 425 to 474 pounds of butterfat or to owners of herds of 20 or more cows producing 400-499 pounds of butterfat. N. Dickes and V. Wickett, Laurel, Wayne Gilliland, Wayne, and Marotz Highland Farm, Hoskins, received these awards.
Gerald Stevens, Randolph, received a gold certificate award and Wayne Lund, Laurel, a bronze certificate award. Gold certificates go to owners of 8-19 cows producing 475 pounds of butterfat or owners of 20 or more producing 450 pounds. Bronze certificates go to owners of 8-19 producing 375-424 or owners of 20 or more producing 350-399.

Sunday afternoon, the Orville Larsonns were in the Rodney Larson home to observe the birthdays of Barbara and Lu Ann Larson.

Concord's Scouts Collecting Bags

Saturday, Mar. 11, Scoutmaster Delmar Hildorf and the Boy Scouts of Concord will perform the last part of the annual "Good Turn Day Clothing Drive" for the Handicapped at Goodwill Industries.

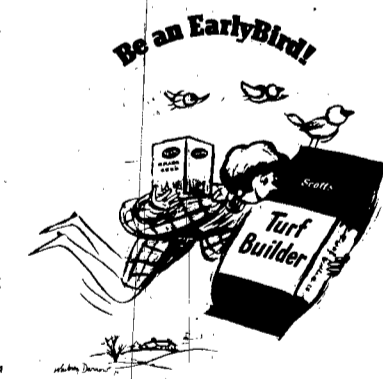

Filled bags and boxes from Concord homes will be collected and taken to a central collection station where Goodwill Industries trucks will pick them up the following week.

Contributors are asked to have filled bags set out on their front steps by 9:30 a.m. as the boys will not be ringing doorbells. Any homes where collection bags were not left may leave contributions in boxes or sacks on the steps.

4-H Club News

Happy Homemakers club will meet Apr. 5 with Mary Pophlman. Plans will be made for a mother's tea. Chris Nedergaard and Valerie Schumacher demonstrated making cinnamon toast and cocoa at the last meeting. Kay Pierson, reporter.

Winside to Have Wrestling Meet

A Winside wrestling championship meet will be held in conjunction with a special volleyball game Saturday, Mar. 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Winside High School gym under sponsorship of the W Club.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets and the concessions will go to the fund to provide an electric scoreboard for the WHS football field. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

The volleyball game should be worth the price of admission. The girls on the Winside team will be opposed by their neighbors.

Gary Klindt is coach for both volleyball and wrestling. He has scheduled five wrestling bouts by seventh and eighth grade boys and eight bouts by high school boys.

Area Clubs to Face Tough Tourney Foes

Northeast Nebraska has few teams in the four classes of the Nebraska State Basketball tournament and the area could have fewer still after the first round. Two of the three teams have drawn top-seeded teams.

Wishner in Class C drew Bassett, a team with a record of 23 wins and no losses. The Bulldogs are 19 and 3. Clearwater drew Naponee in Class D. The CHS team has a 16-5 record against the 19-0 record of Naponee, seeded No. 1 in the class.

There is no Northeast Nebraska team in Class A. In Class B, Madison, the team that won the tourney in Wayne, has a 19-1 record and faces Papillion with a 15-6 record. The MHS Dragons are seeded second in their class.

Injured Finger Fixed

Dean Eloffson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Eloffson, Wayne, had to have surgery on the little finger of his right hand last week. He had collided with another player in the Peru-Wayne game but even though his finger hurt he continued in the game and played two more games before seeing a doctor. It was found he had severed a tendon in the finger and had to have it pinned back with wire. He will have to have the digit in extensive bandages for several weeks. Eloffson was revealed as WSC "freshman athlete of the year" last week.

Leslie

by Mrs. George Buskirk
Phone 287-2523

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Greve, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greve, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Greve, Mr. and Mrs. John Greve and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bartels visited Saturday evening in the Dennis Ronspies home, Pierce.

Mrs. Emil Tarnow, Mrs. Ed Krusemark and Mrs. Dorothy Meyer and children spent Sunday evening at the Clifford Baker home while their husbands were with the Men's Club of St. Paul's Lutheran Church at a dart ball game in South Sioux City.

Brenda Krusemark was a guest Friday at the slumber party given by Patty Krusemark for her birthday and Saturday night at the slumber party given by Jeannette Meyer for her birthday.

Wisner FFA banquet was Mar. 7. Collins Albers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlino Albers, Leslie, is president.

Gloria Ann Robins, Dallas, Tex., and Terry J. Hill, New Orleans, were united in marriage Feb. 24 at the Baptist church in Dallas. Mr. Hill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hill, Omaha. His mother is the former Esther Clausen of Leslie. They were recent visitors of Pender relatives and with Olga and Alyce Clausen, Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. William Suhr, Oakland, were visitors Tuesday of Mrs. Mable Clinkenbeard.
Mr. and Mrs. Ray McMillan, Mrs. Ervin McMillan and son, all of Winside and Mrs. W. C. Ring were visitors Tuesday of Mrs. Geo. Buskirk. The McMillan ladies are sisters and were former pupils of both Mrs. Ring and Mrs. Buskirk.

Mrs. C. W. McGuire returned Friday from a two-month vacation at Fort Worth, Tex., with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Herron and other relatives.

Dinner guests Sunday at the Ed Krusemark home were Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Nelson of Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sunderman and Brenda of Pender, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Krusemark and Shelley, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brudigan and the Wm. Hansen family, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Brudigan and Mrs. Mable Clinkenbeard joined them for supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hammer attended funeral services Monday at Cole-ridge for an uncle, Otto Krie.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wilson and family were at the Gilbert Baier home near Wayne Sunday for a birthday observance.

Mrs. John Bressler attended Pleasant Valley Ladies Aid Meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Winnie McQuistan. April meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Cora Kai. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dobbs and family, Mr. and Mrs.

Dick Iverson and Penny, Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Bressler and family were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Myrtle Bressler for her birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ottosen, Wausa came in the afternoon.

Friday Ruth Bressler entertained six girls at a slumber party for her birthday.

Mrs. Milt Gustafson and Mrs. Myrtle Bressler were guests Tuesday at the Harry Gustafson home for a birthday observance.

Magpies nest in large colonies. Their homes usually consist of a huge mass of sticks with a hole in one side and lined with grass.

Wayne Receives More Money from Northern

The city of Wayne has received a check for $1,914.72 from Peoples Natural Gas Co., a subsidiary of Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha. This represents a voluntary payment by the utility based on gross revenue for the last six months of 1966.

Wallace Peterson, district manager for Peoples, reports Wayne has received a total of $6,744.84 from the company for the past year. Total paid to Nebraska communities by the gas company was $89,400 for the period. Annual voluntary payments by Peoples are made to help solve economic problems in the communities served. Peoples serves 194 communities in four states.

Chukar Partridge, newly transplanted in Nebraska, prefer rough, hilly terrain covered with grass and dry-land shrubs.

Merriam's turkeys normally range above 6,000 feet elevation. However, the species has readily adapted to Nebraska's lower altitude, which does not exceed 5,300 feet.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to spare all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

March Has No Holidays

Poor neglected March. It has no holiday. This is to propose one, but only if the card manufacturers, novelty makers and sick-minded will let it remain what it is proposed for without distorting it into something bitter and sarcastic.

For lack of a better name, let's call it Barfday. Now BARF does not mean anything to most of us, but for brevity's sake those letters could stand for Be A-Real Friend.

Don't we all have friends we wouldn't offend for the world? Don't we sometimes wish we could give them a little personal advice without hurting their feelings, having them accept the advice without alienating themselves as friends?

Here's the chance. Barfday would be that day when we would all be truthful. We would tell those friends the things they need to know that they might not be aware of otherwise.

Maybe there's a fellow who is fun to be around—but not too close. Maybe on Be A Real Friend Day you could tell him that those commercials for mouthwash to avoid bad breath are not all poppycock. He should try something.

Perhaps there's a girl who is pure delight but she just doesn't brush her teeth often enough. The stains and food particles are there but she seems unaware of them. A word to the wise AS A FRIEND, might help her a lot.

The same goes for those who need to shower or bathe more often. A word on Barfday might make them more fun to be around every day.

Maybe an elderly fellow in your block cuts across a neighbor's lawn several times a week. You might take advantage of Barfday to let him know that he's creating a bad situation by not being more thoughtful. A few more steps might be a way to bypass neighborhood dissension.

Perhaps there is a woman who is cruel in her gossip. Maybe the little tidbits she passes along are juicy but they can also harm—and to others she could be talking about you or your friends. On Barfday you could take her aside and let her know that friends shy away because they don't really appreciate her cutting remarks, even though they may not tell her so.

There's always a know-it-all. He's never agreed with anything you have said. If you tell a story, he has a different version. If you make a statement, he corrects you on it. Barfday might be a good day to let him know that even if he is absolutely positive that the other fellow is wrong sometimes it would be kinder of him just to overlook it rather than to assert that the other fellow has his information wrong.

There are the people in the next apartment. Maybe they don't realize they are not completely "alone" at any time because of the thin walls. Maybe they should be informed that the neighbors are "in" on their conversations. Do it Barfday.

Is there a waiter who has dirty fingernails all the time, a waitress whose hair looks as if it might get in the food, a cafe manager who does not have good coffee, a hot-rodder who is on the brink of being in court for bad driving habits, a farmer friend who uses coarse language whether women are present or not, a woman friend who wears anklets with heels unaware of how terrible they look, a minister who has forgotten his main concern is to preach from the Bible and not handle everything from politics to sex as an authority, a drinking buddy who does not know how obnoxious he can be after a few snorts, a business friend who is losing customers because he is brusque and unfriendly to all but the very best customers. They all need a Barfday.

As pointed out, Barfday would be a day to be a real friend. Casual acquaintances or those you do not see often would be excluded. This would be a day to be a friend to someone who is a real friend. The suggestions would have to be given in hopes of helping and they would have to be accepted as coming from someone who is trying to help you and not hurt you or your feelings.

Right now you could think of some friends you who could profit from knowing something everyone else but them seems to know. Do you have to wait for Barfday? Until one is set aside as a March holiday, there is no such day. So, maybe today would be a good substitute—just among friends.—CEG

These Things Happen Here Too

You can read about car accidents every day. No daily newspaper goes by many issues without some major tragedy on the highway being reported. The fact that there are not more in Wayne County and the surrounding area seems somewhat of a miracle.

Here are a couple of examples of how tragedies almost happened here but for some reason they were not major incidents. Had they been, they would have commanded big black headlines.

One Wayne mother was seen entering the post office. She left her car running with two or three little folks inside the car. One of the kids was pretending to be driving, "shifting" the automatic transmission about and "steering" with the steering wheel.

The fact that the child never quite got the car into full gear was pure coincidence. Had she moved that on-so-easy-to-shift automatic shift enough, the car would have moved and where it would have stopped is anyone's guess.

A Wayne County farm woman had a closer call. Her daughter was in the car when she moved it out of gear and the vehicle started rolling. Before it went too far, the car hit a tree.

Tossed about, the girl was shaken up and bruised but escaped serious injury. The car was extensively damaged.

What kept the car from gaining speed and really smashing into something? Is it possible it could have overturned? Couldn't someone have been hit or run over by such an uncontrolled vehicle?

The point is, these accidents or near-accidents happen. They make people think, but they will not always be that simple. Sometimes the carelessness that brings on such situations will wind up in tragedy.

A defensive driving course can help people avoid these situations. This course brings out such common habits that are so innocent until the one element enters that brings on an accident, and then the one involved wonders why he didn't stop to think.

You just don't leave children in a car with the engine running. You don't leave cars around without the brakes being securely in place when there is any danger of it rolling one way or another. You just don't do those things that 99 times out of 100 won't mean a thing but that 1 time out of 100 can spell tragedy.

This area is not exempt from major accidents. We have been lucky that there have only been near misses or minor accidents most of the time. The line between "What a close call!" and "How many were injured?" can be so thin.

It is suggested that more defensive driving courses be offered. They should be scheduled as soon as possible and they should be attended by those in their teens and those who have been driving for decades. Some who took the course before may even want to take it again, so beneficial are the results.

How much would you give for the chance to never be in a serious accident? A lot? Would you give two hours a week for four weeks?

No one promises that those who take the course will not be in accidents. What can be promised, however, is that anyone who takes the course will benefit, even if he just attends. But, more gratifying is the knowledge that anyone who takes the course, learns what causes accidents and then drives with the new knowledge of how to stay out of situations that cause accidents stands a pretty good chance of not being in one.

The Wayne County mothers who got by lucky in their incidents with children would probably never have done what they did if they had taken the defensive driving course. You will not get yourself into such situations and others like them if you take the course. Think it over, then decide to take the course and be a safe—and living—driver.—CEG.

mann, a Republican, has introduced the major tax base broadening measure before the senators. It is expected to come up for floor consideration later this month.

As Governor, Burbach said, Tiemann should be commended for submitting a tax program. But he asserted the Legislature also has a responsibility in tax matters beyond that of the Governor—and its members accept that responsibility to the hilt.

He added: "We must never forget that our government is based in three separate branches—the executive, the legislative and the judicial. We must, and we will, cooperate with one another for the best interests of every Nebraska citizen—but the interests of every citizen and the strength of good government are best served when each branch accepts its individual responsibilities."

Burbach said every senator is aware of the critical financial problems which confront the state because voters banished the state property tax last fall.

He said the lawmakers have indicated they will devise a tax system that will provide tax equity for all Nebraskans.

"It is not my intent, and also I feel certain it will not be the intent of the Legislature, to be a part of unnecessary spending of public funds," Burbach continued.

"I hope the people of Nebraska will remember that its senators are taxpayers, too. Keep in mind that each of us has no more desire than any other taxpayer in Nebraska to carry an undue tax burden."

Struggle Begins

The biennial struggle over state financial aid to junior colleges has opened in the Legislature. It promises to go on for some time.

Nebraska presently has public junior colleges in Scottsbluff, McCook, Fairbury, Norfolk and North Platte. Plans call for another at Grand Island.

These institutions are now supported solely by local tax funds and student fees. They have been repeatedly rejected in the past to get state tax dollars.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth is the chief sponsor of the aid bill this time. It includes the freshmen and sophomore classes at Omaha University.

The proposal would provide $10 per student per credit hour. This would amount to $300 a year for the average student. Ruhnke estimates total cost at $1.7 million the first year of operation.

Key provisions of the legislation are designed to discourage the widespread establishment of new junior colleges. They include requirements that colleges could only be formed in school districts containing 1,000 students and having an assessed valuation of at least $50 million for tax purposes. Additionally, the junior colleges would be required to levy a local tax of one mill for matching funds.

Some senators fear these safeguards are not strong enough. Amendments have been offered to boost the assessed valuation limit to $75 million and the mill levy support to three mills.

Supporters of state aid argue ever-growing enrollments and spiraling costs have made it impossible for local taxpayers to support Nebraska's junior colleges.

"Junior colleges have proven their worth. They are definitely a part of our overall educational system—and should be supported," said Ruhnke.

Senatorial Pay Bill Okayed

The Nebraska Legislature has passed a proposed constitutional amendment that would permit the lawmaking body to set the salaries of its members.

The vote on final reading was 41-5. Dissenting were Sens. S. H. Brauer, sr., of Norfolk, Herb Nore of Genoa, Jerome Warner of Waverly, and Omahans Henry Pedersen, jr., and Florence Reynolds.

The proposition will now appear on the November, 1968, general election ballot.

The Constitution now limits senators to $200 per month ($2,400 a year), plus one free trip home during a legislative session. Forces supporting the change say this is outdated.

Last November, Nebraskans spurned a proposed amendment which would have permitted legislators to get expenses during their sessions.

The Legislature last changed senatorial pay in 1961. Prior to that the lawmakers received $872 per year under a constitutional limitation.

The chief sponsor of the new amendment, Sen. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland, said the proposal would not open the door to excessive salaries. He said legislators could not be paid any more than the law allowed.

"This would simply remove the constitutional restriction and leave the matter up to the Legislature to set by law. This is reasonable," he said. According to Holmquist, only 17 states currently limit legislator salaries in their constitutions.

The amendment bill was co-sponsored by Sens. Jules W. Burbach of Crofton and William H. Hasebrook of West Point. It was recommended for passage by the Government Committee.

In other recent noteworthy action, the lawmakers refused to give final approval to a controversial bill aimed at halting the use of so-called "loss leader" items by stores.

The vote was 23-24. Twenty-five affirmative ballots were needed.

Specifically, LB 41 would have banned wholesalers and retailers from selling any item below its invoice cost. But it also sought to strike from the state unfair sales act certain markup provisions.

Northeast Extension Notes

Margaret Ann Stahly

Pennywise Pork

A pig composed of all chops, ham, bacon and spare ribs might be the dream of both consumers and producers. Unfortunately these represent less than half the edible portion of a pig. Pennywise shoppers, however, know there is another half to a hog—more fine eating pork which, because it is less in demand, is likely to be more attractively priced.

One of the thriftiest is the Boston butt. This tender piece of pork is practically all lean. A pound will provide 2 to 3 servings. This square or triangular-shaped cut contains only a small, flat blade bone, which can be removed easily for a boneless roast. If boneless, it will make another serving per pound.

A whole butt will provide pork steaks as well as a tasty roast. The steaks are cut from the bone end, leaving a good sized boneless roast.

by Harold Ingalls

Conserve Soil Moisture

Because of low subsoil moisture levels in most areas of Nebraska, it is even more important now to burn crop residues to hasten field tillage operations.

This advice to Nebraska farmers comes from Harold Gilman, University of Nebraska Extension soil conservationist.

"A good cover of corn stalks, milo stubble or oat stubble will conserve surface moisture," he explains. "Many farmers in past years have been over-enthusiastic to get into the fields with farm machinery. In too many cases, their first thought is: burn the residue."

Prospects are not bright for a good crop year in the dryland areas of the state at present because of the close relationship between subsoil moisture at planting time and final crop yields, Gilman points out. For this reason, it is important for farmers to take every possible step to conserve available and existing moisture.

Vegetative cover shields the soil surface from sun rays and prevents evaporation. The seriousness of moisture evaporation to Nebraska agriculture was pointed up by Gilman in figures breaking down the loss or consumption of moisture gained through average rainfall: Evaporation losses—60 per cent; Runoff losses—10 per cent; Weed losses—three per cent; Crop use—27 per cent.

Less than 1/3 of the annual rainfall is used by crops, he emphasized.

Evaporation can be reduced in several ways, Gilman said. They include: 1. Through a reduction in plowing and adoption of stubble mulching. This system keeps crop residues near the surface.

2. Through use of the Nebraska till-plant system for corn and sorghum production. This system also reduces soil compaction, stimulates higher water intake rates, combats water or wind erosion and assures better soil structural condition.

3. Planting corn and sorghum in narrow row spacing. Narrower rows promote better weed control due to early shading of row areas, and reduce erosion losses by breaking force of raindrop fall.

4. Do not overgraze pasture or rangeland. Leave a good cover of grass to inhibit evaporation and increase water infiltration.

The 10 per cent loss of water by runoff can be reduced somewhat by soil management practices, Gilman added. This means terracing, especially in Nebraska where level or flat channel terraces are used. In areas of high rainfall, runoff can be reduced by increasing rates. This may be accomplished by using grasses and legumes in the cropping system, applying manure, and utilizing corn cob and crop residues.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

First of all let me commend you on last week's excellent editorial, a true masterpiece of prose, on the question of lowering the voting age. I wholeheartedly agree with you that the minimum age requirement should not be lowered and if anything should be raised.

I believe the important factor in this crucial and critical matter of voting is not necessarily education, maturity, responsibility, competence or knowledge of the issues that one has, but only his age. Everyone knows that the older an individual becomes, the more qualified he is to vote. I also believe the privilege to vote should be based on experience, and only age breeds this. When these youngsters gain the practical experience they need, then and only then should they be allowed to vote. An electorate based on experience would obviously be much more competent. To achieve this competence, I propose the voting age be raised to 3%.

These youngsters want all the privileges of adults at the age of 18 just because they can be forced to defend "Old Glory". As you, Mr. Editor, very logically point out, by denying them the right to vote, we can keep them from drinking alcoholic beverages.

Sincerely,
Jerry M. Keefe

(Along with other reasons for not granting the vote to the teenage group you forgot to list the petty little immature and snide remarks which the young can make when anybody dares have the effrontery to disagree with them, another indication of not being ready to cope with an adult world where you learn that things do not always have to go the way you want them to go in order to be right. Nothing has been added to the issue lately.—Editor).

Excuse our Monday paper! We had every intention of getting everything in the Thursday issue a week ago with no hold-overs of news or pictures. But, as luck would have it, the first week we had to put out a Monday edition was also the week our No. 1 camera man, Jack Manske, became ill. Others had added duties in addition to regular jobs in the first week of getting two issues ready. We had less time to do things, more ads than expected and there was just no way to get everything done that needed to be done. Consequently, Monday's edition contained some of the news originally intended for last Thursday. It enabled us to catch up on everything, however, and starting this week we aim to keep both papers timely with few hold-overs. Only under unusual circumstances will we have to hold news. Holding news over will not be a habit.

Our bouquet of the week goes to Coach LeRoy Wilch, Allen. At the end of a season in which his Allen Eagles won a couple of games, he said: "I wish the season were just starting. These boys are such a great bunch of players to work with."

Here's a coach who had no excuses to offer. He just likes kids, especially kids who are willing to try, willing to learn and willing to train. His boys at Allen are that kind. We're sure he would want the Eagles to share the bouquet, but we are more sure that the Allen basketball players would want him to have it alone. A coach doesn't get many bouquets when his teams win, often gets bricks when they lose but here's a coach who deserves and is getting a bouquet, even when his team has lost! Orchids to Coach Wilch at AH!

Legislature to Be Prudent In Fashioning Tax System

LINCOLN—Chairman Jules W. Burbach of the Revenue Committee has expressed confidence the Legislature will be prudent in fashioning a new tax system and spending tax dollars.

The Crofton lawmaker reports he is working closely with Budget Committee Chairman Richard D. Marvel of Hastings to assure this.

"The Legislature certainly is not going to throw caution to the winds on the vital issues of taxation and appropriations," Burbach said. "Nebraska legislators never have been known as spendthrifts—and I can assure the people of Nebraska that their lawmakers are not going to abandon their responsibilities now at this crucial time."

Burbach gave no timetable on when the Legislature will likely enact a sales-income tax bill but he said it should come to grips with the issue as soon as possible.

Gov. Norbert T. Tie-

mann, a Republican, has introduced the major tax base broadening measure before the senators. It is expected to come up for floor consideration later this month.

As Governor, Burbach said, Tiemann should be commended for submitting a tax program. But he asserted the Legislature also has a responsibility in tax matters beyond that of the Governor—and its members accept that responsibility to the hilt.

He added: "We must never forget that our government is based in three separate branches—the executive, the legislative and the judicial. We must, and we will, cooperate with one another for the best interests of every Nebraska citizen—but the interests of every citizen and the

How much does a newspaper mean to people? It means a great deal—just ask anyone living in a town where they have lost one. Allen people are most appreciative of being covered by a newspaper again. They like news and pictures just as those in Wayne do. We have found the same situation in Venango, Lodgepole and other towns where we have been. In fact, Lodgepole, a town of 500, supported a newspaper we had there with a far greater percentage of businesses advertising than we have ever had in any other town. Some businesses had no specials to offer but they "kept their names before the public" with an ad every week. They supported that paper with a fervency that should have meant it would last for many years. Unfortunately, a shortage of help and other drawbacks forced cancelling that publication. If we ever had a chance to go back to Lodgepole we would give it serious thought. They loved having a newspaper and we loved putting it out, even though it meant long drives from Oshkosh to Lodgepole while putting out two papers a week. We hope you appreciate newspapers, maybe not as much as Lodgepole did, but at least with a fraction of the feeling people there had.

Advice on Two Points Given Area Veterans

Chris Bargholz, Wayne County veterans service officer, has some words of advice for veterans. They concern veterans' benefits and insurance.
According to Bargholz, the benefits are not taxable and need not be reported on income tax returns. However, interest earned on GI life insurance dividends left on deposit with the VA must be reported. Proceeds of GI policies and the dividends are not taxable.
Other VA benefits not taxable include education and training allowances, subsistence allowances for disabled veterans in vocational rehabilitation training, compensation and pension payments, grants for wheel-chair homes, automobiles and home benefits to families of deceased veterans.

Bargholz called attention to the premium for World War II insurance. It is now $9.90 a month. In 20 years it will cost almost $40 a month. For that reason it should be converted to term insurance now before it becomes prohibitive in the retirement years.
The local service officer will be glad to help any veterans having questions on these or other VA matters. He is in his office weekdays.

Winside School Presents Trio of Excellent One-Act Plays Last Week

Three one-act plays, each a real challenge in its own way, were presented Friday night by the pupils of Winside High School's drama department under the direction of Mrs. Shirley Trautwein and Mrs. Lois Picard.

The plays were given "in the round" with audience on three sides. Each play required a different set of props which were moved on and off with lights out. "The Darkest Hour" was a dramatic presentation depicting the plight of a mother visiting her son in prison before he is to be executed. He is saved at the last minute by the warden who brings word of another man being found guilty of the crime the prisoner had denied committing all along.

Connie Jones was tops in acting as the prisoner's mother. Lee Trautwein was suitably businesslike as the warden and Don Longe as the guard, Tom Witt as the prisoner and Kathy Pfeiffer as his girl friend were all good in their roles.

In "The Flattering Word," the story concerned an actor who came to a home where stage productions were frowned upon. Through out-and-out flattery he convinced the "anti-acting minister," a nosy neighbor's silly daughter they all had acting ability.

The clever and funny play was characterized with good acting. Bob Farran was splendid as a blase actor; Betty Anderson was a giggly and frustrating little girl with no talent at all; Teresa Stenwall was the gushing mother with even less talent and played the role to perfection; Keith Krueger and Diane Wacker were good as the minister and wife.

"The Storm" took place in a mountain cabin during a blizzard when a bearded stranger came in, ready to kill the man who had run into his car and killed part of his family (the cabin occupant). Two women come in, talk him out of killing and the three leave together—but they leave only one set of prints as they walk away in the snow.

Bob Dangberg had an excellent make-up job and did a superior job of acting as the stranger coming in out of the blizzard. Dennis Swanson put a lot of feeling into the role of the distressed occupant of the cabin. Carol Bleich as his wife, Ruth Vahlkamp as the stranger's wife and Denise Hansen as the stranger's daughter all did well.

Judy Picard and Shirley Trautwein directed with Vicky Wade and Dorinda Trautwein student directors. Margaret Nettleton, Wilma Ritze, Ruth Vahlkamp, Vicky Wade, Don Longe, Bob Dangberg and Dorinda Trautwein were on the stage crew.

Cars Hit Head-On at Main Street Corner

A driver swerved to avoid hitting the rear of one car and collided head-on with another at the Seventh and Main intersection Friday. No one was hurt but both cars involved were heavily damaged.

Officer Keith Reed, who investigated, reported James Lutt, Wayne, was driving south on Main. He came over the hill, applied his brakes when he saw two cars stopped ahead to make left turns, found his brakes would not hold and swerved to the left.

His car collided with one driven by James Taylor, Ft. Dodge, Ia. Damage to the Taylor car came to $247.19.

When the two cars collided, the Lutt car, a small foreign make, was thrown completely around so it was headed in the direction from which it had just come. The two cars stopped for traffic so left turns could be made were not involved.

Wiltse Heads Scout Membership Project

Willard Wiltse, Wayne, is the Lewis & Clark District enrollment chairman in the 1967 sustaining membership enrollment of the Mid-America Council, the area enrollment chairman, E. A. Jaksha, Fremont, has announced.

Theme is "A Good Sign for Youth," and the goal is $210,000 in the Mid-America Council. Funds will be used to expand Scouting's character-building program for more boys wanting to be Cubs, Scouts or Explorers.

Studies show 60 per cent of the boys of Scouting age would join if they had the chance. Mid-America serves over 30,100 boys, about one-third of those available in 37 Nebraska and Iowa counties and because the number of boys served is in direct ratio to funds available, friends of Scouting are investing in sustaining memberships.

Plans Being Made for Festival in Carroll
Carroll has started plans for a spring festival Tuesday and Wednesday, May 30 and 31. Memorial Day rites will be included in the two-day centennial year event. A special meeting of the Carroll Community Club was held Wednesday of last week at the Farmers State Bank to lay groundwork for the festival. Plans will be announced from time to time between now and festival days. The Carroll American Legion will be in charge

Has Art in Showing
Richard Lesh, Wayne State College teacher, is among 52 artists with work included in the "Nebraska Art Today: Centennial Invitational Exhibition" that opened Sunday at Joslyn Art Museum, Omaha. The exhibition has been assembled by Joslyn and Sheldon Art Gallery, Lincoln, and is sponsored by the Nebraska Centennial Commission in cooperation with the Nebraska Arts Council and the National Foundation for the Arts. The display will be continued through Apr. 9. It will then be divided into two sections for Apr. 12-June 1 showing at Wayne, Kearney, Peru and Chadron State Colleges. Starting June 18 it will be in Sheldon Gallery, Lincoln, for the rest of the summer.
