

Music Boosters Start Choir Robe Fund

Wayne Music Boosters have started a fund drive to raise enough money to buy new robes for the 90-voice WHS choir. With school funds tied up for equipping the new school, the group decided something should be done now. Using all the robes available, the choir has through robes. However, some have broken zippers and are now "slip-overs," some have faded so they are not the right color and there are two different shades of blue.

The fund received a kick-off when a box at the NU band concert drew $19 Sunday. This is almost enough to buy one robe, according to the director, Clayton Southwick.

Samples of robes have been received from several different companies. However, no purchases are planned until it is sure enough can be raised for the full complement of robes.

No one seems to know exactly how old the present robes are. Some feel that the oldest and most faded have been in use for 20 to 25 years.

New robes planned would be complete. By "complete," the Music Boosters mean they will have productive cases to insure keeping them for many more years.

Mrs. Fred Gildersleeve is president of the organization. Mrs. Everett Rees is chairman of the robe committee with Mrs. John Dall and Mrs. Dick Kern members. Mrs. Merlin Preston is present projects committee chairman. Other members of that committee are Mrs. Dave Ewing, Mrs. Clyde Baker and Mrs. Herb Nieman. Mrs. Ed Wolske will be chairman of the new robe committee. Mrs. Alvin Ehlers and Mrs. Bob Meyer are assisting.

No Winner Last Week in Drawing

There was no winner in the Silver Dollar Night drawing Thursday in Wayne. A Carroll resident had a chance to claim $400 but will get $10 consolation instead.

Edward George Fork, was announced as the winner. He was not present in any of the participating business places, however, so the reserve fund gets another boost.

Added to the reserve fund was $50. This puts the total at $100 so when there is a winner the following week there will be another good-sized prize at stake.

Appraisal Hearings Set

Representatives of Clemishaw will be in the courthouse to review appraisal with interested property owners Mar. 20-24 inclusive and Mar. 27-28. They will be on duty each day 9-12 and 1-4.

County Assessor Henry Arp has announced a series of hearings for county residents to learn the results of the reappraisal of real estate in Wayne County as completed by the J. M. Clemishaw Co.

Separate hearing dates

have been set for the various precincts. They are scheduled as follows: Mar. 20, Sherman, Deer Creek and Wilbur Precincts plus Carroll and Sholes; Mar. 21, Garfield, Chapin and Hoskins Precincts plus Hoskins;

Mar. 22, Hancock and Brenna Precincts plus Winside; Mar. 23, Wayne; Mar. 24, Strahan and Hunter Precincts; Mar. 27, Logan, Leslie and Plum Creek Precincts plus Altona and Heikes' Addition of Wakefield.

The appraisal firm has determined an "actual value" for each parcel of real estate. According to the state supreme court, "actual" means the reasonable market value.

An aim of the appraisal is equalizing valuations between properties. Residents of the county are urged to compare their valuations with those of neighboring property and to find out how the valuation was determined.

Those coming in to talk to the appraisers were asked to bring a description of the property by section, precinct and range for rural property and by addition, block and lot for town property. You should know which precinct your land is in.

Assessor Arp points out that this is not necessarily the final valuation. County and state officials must accept the appraisal before it becomes final.

Formal notification of the new valuations will be sent out by Arp's office some time after Jan. 1, 1968.

Tech School Gains Fifteenth County

The Northeast Nebraska vocational-technical school plan received a boost the past week when Dakota County commissioners voted to allow residents of that county to vote on establishment of an area trade school.

This makes 15 counties that are in the district. Valuation is way over double the amount required by the state in order to form a school district.

Wheeler and Boyd County had joined since the last action. Colfax County is "on the fence" with the Millford school being fairly close. A decision in that county is expected next week.

Speakers' bureau training meetings have been set for three cities. All communities in the district will be asked to send representatives so each can return to his community with a solid presentation on what is at stake in the project.

Thieves Raid County Farms

Several farms in Wayne County have been missing poultry or livestock over the last few months. Rumors have gone around that more have been hit than can be confirmed.

When the Alvin Longes, Winside, reported a big loss the past week, some of the other reported losses were checked. Two turned out to be false or to have happened a year or more ago while four others were confirmed.

Still others are thought to have lost stock but there was no time to check on all of them Thursday. Some of those who did report losses revealed that they had not noticed the losses until they started checking after hearing of others losing stock.

The Longes have lost 50 head of pigs. Five of these were in the 60-pound category and the rest were smaller. They noted the pigs missing during checks over the last few weeks and figure the pigs were taken on several different occasions.

Frozen ground with no snow made clues difficult. Longes said the conditions made it possible for someone to come in and leave no tracks. They have no idea when or how the pigs were taken.

Duane Thompson, Winside, lost ten feeder pigs weighing around 40 pounds each the last of December. Like the Longes, they had no telling clues as to vehicles or methods used.

The Howard Wackers, Wayne, heard about others missing stock so checked on their own. They discovered four large hogs missing, but were not sure whether the hogs were taken just before the check was made or several weeks earlier when the animals were much smaller.

Jim Troutman, Winside, lost a heifer late last summer. He thought at first it could have strayed but there were no signs of any stock getting out, none was reported out and the animal just disappeared.

Biggest loss numerically was on the Frank Brudigan farm near Winside. They lost 150 hens. This took a lot of layers and left them with just 50 hens of their own. Just as the others admitted, they do not know how the theft was made.

Others may find on checking that they are missing stock or poultry. Most farmers have records of what they should have on hand and it is possible there is more of this going on than realized when the first few were checked.

Hoskins Making Plans for Celebration

A centennial committee has been set up at Hoskins to make plans for a celebration. Eight or more people have been named on each of the eleven committees now active.

Ed Kollath, banker, mayor and village board member, was named president of the committee. Mrs. James Falk was elected secretary-treasurer.

For the July 1 celebration the Hoskins area residents have decided to have a parade, contests for young and old, a whistler club, water fights and some type of evening entertainment. A carnival and other entertainment are under consideration.

Chairmen for the various committees are: Parade, Mrs. Gerald Bruggerman; contests, Mrs. George Langenberg, sr.; whistler club, Harold Brudigan; water fights, Herman Opfer; barbecue, John Krause;

Entertainment, Ed Kollath; traffic, Lloyd Ave; tickets, Russ Rathman; finance, Adolph Bruggerman; antiques, H. C. Falk; and advertising, Clarence Schroeder.

The Hoskins celebration is one of a series being planned throughout the year in Wayne County and area towns. Information on them will be published as received.

Jaycees Boosting Centennial

BUD FROEHLICH, first of the good sports to get hit in the face with a pie at the Jaycees kangaroo court, had some of the cream removed when this picture was taken. Eager Jaycees have plenty of paper towels to help get the rest.

Wayne Jaycees gave a big boost to Wayne (city) centennial activities Thursday night when they held a surprise kangaroo court at Second and Main, fined a few, slapped a few pies in faces and operated a paddy wagon to pick up non-shavers.

"Brothers of the Brush" is an organization of beard growers boosting the state's centennial. Jaycees who do not grow beards pay $10 fines while others who have clean-shaven faces are fined only $3.

Purpose is to "engender some spirit and at the same time have some light-hearted fun." The Jaycees couraged to enter into the spirit of Nebraska's centennial. A trophy will be awarded each week for a prize beard, the one this week for "the most lovable beard" going to Gordon Nelson.

Mayor William Koeber appeared at the kickoff observance and praised the Jaycees for getting something started in Wayne. He noted that the city has been lagging behind many of the smaller towns of the area in making centennial plans.

Girls present Thursday asked what they could do to help mark the centennial. There could be some old-fashioned dresses to be worn, but nothing has been done along this line yet. Some group may take action along this line yet now that the Jaycees have broken the ice.

Those picked up Thursday entered into the spirit of the thing by being good sports. This is not always fun when you're wiping that white meringue-like foam out of your eyes, nose and mouth.

Bud Froehlich put the project off to a good start by being a good sport with the first pie in the face. Roy Christensen got by easy, having to do a teenage dance. Willis Meyer, Wayne, and Ted Hoeman, Winside, each got pie in the face and helped matters a lot by jokingly laughing off the dilemma.

It is hoped by the Jaycees that all town and rural residents will enter the spirit of the anniversary celebration the same way. They plan other punishments to fit the crime in the future, including races to see who can dress in women's clothes fastest, a dunking tank, pie-throwing contests, singing, dancing and other events. College students need no permits but they are en-

Election, Special Film PTA Features

Election of officers and a film on the relationship between parents and their teenagers will be features of the PTA meeting at West Elementary School Tuesday, Mar. 14, at 8 p.m.

The film should be of interest to young and old alike. It is entitled "The Tuned-Out Generation" and deals with the problem of parents and students being unable to communicate.

For example, it has some interviews in a "man on the street" style where adults are asked why they have a hard time talking to their youngsters. Then the young people are asked to respond on the same subject.

The real issues that kids are concerned with today are covered in the interviews. Real people with real problems are in the film so it should be typical of many parent-youth relationships today.

Don Merriman, dean of men at Wayne State College, will present the film. Afterward he will lead a discussion on the same subject.

All residents of the area are invited. You do not need to be a member of the PTA or even eligible for it in order to attend.

Seven Resigning at Winside

Six teachers, including the basketball coach, have resigned from the Winside schools and three others have not returned signed contracts yet, Supt. James Christensen reported Thursday. He also reported a big jump in the salary schedule base.

According to Supt. Christensen, base pay for teachers will start at $5,200 in the 1967-68 term. This is an increase of $400 over the base of $4,800 which the school has been using.

Dan Cahill, who has been basketball coach and commercial teacher and Gary Klindt, phys-ed, wrestling coach, girls track and volleyball coach and industrial arts, have resigned from the high school staff. Four other teachers have resigned from the elementary school staff.

Indicating they will not return to teach in grade school are: Mrs. Fannie Bennett, kindergarten and library; Mrs. Mary Ann Langemeier, first grade; Mrs. Judy Braithwaite, first and third; and Mrs. Irene Kant, fifth.

Three high school teachers have not returned contracts and may not choose to come back. They are: Bill Schmitt, physical education and industrial arts; Mrs. Bill Schmitt, Spanish; and Mrs. Rebecca Wilson, science.

Teachers in the high school signing contracts to return are: Supt. Christensen; Mrs. Lois Picard, English and journalism; Pete Kropp, football and track coach and history; Mrs. Jim Troutman, mathematics; Darrell Feulberth, science and mathematics; Judene Zechin, homemaking; Mrs. Pete Kropp, music; and Mrs. Marion Iverson, junior high.

Elementary school teachers who will return are: Mrs. Ruth Puls, third grade; Mrs. Lena Miller, sixth grade and coordinator; Gladys Reichert, fourth; Mrs. Shirley Trautwein, second grade and high school dramatics; and John Picard, remedial reading and other courses, both schools.

Rural Department Takes Bids on Truck

The Wayne Rural Fire District held its annual meeting Thursday, Mar. 9. Election of officers and receiving of bids on new equipment were the two main business matters.

No bids were let on the fire equipment. However, the district has set a special meeting Wednesday, Mar. 22, at which time bids will be let on the new truck chassis.

Ralph Beckenhauer, Strahan Precinct, was elected president. Other officers are John Mohr, Hunter Precinct, vice president, and Joe Beckenhauer, Dixon County, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the board of directors are: Gilbert

Krallman, Wilbur Precinct; Harold Fleer, Plum Creek Precinct; and Melvin Wert, Brenna Precinct.

Fire Chief Ivan Beeks and Assistant Chief Kenneth Sitzman of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department attended the meeting as representatives of the men who map the rural truck.

Fire Hall Election Set in City

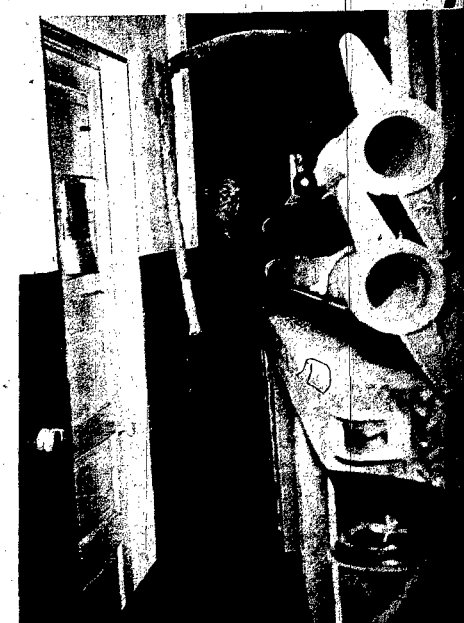

The city council has set Tuesday, Apr. 4, as the date for a special election in Wayne to decide whether or not bonds shall be issued for construction of a $75,000 fire hall. This is the same day as the regular election.

Petitions in sufficient number with enough signatures have been submitted to the council asking for the vote. The council felt that with an election in April anyway it might be wise to schedule the special vote at the same time.

The proposal calls for issuing negotiable bonds for $75,000 to construct, maintain, manage and operate the station. Bonds would mature regularly over a period of 20 years from the date but all could be redeemed five years from date of issuance.

Also called for is a tax levy sufficient to pay for the interest and principal of said bonds. This is not a set amount but firemen have reported it would be around two mills.

Voters will decide on the issue by casting ballots at the city hall for Ward 1, the library for Ward 2 and the courthouse for Ward 3. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., City Clerk Dan Sherry reports.

FIRE CHIEF Ivan Beeks is a big man. Even a small man can't get between the wall and one fire truck in the present fire station. The truck could have been moved farther to the right — and then the picture could have been taken on the other side.

The Spook Speaks

Concord Cub Scouts have learned to put their neck scarves on properly. They were told that if they put them on right, "BSA" shows on the back, "Boy Scouts of America." If they put them on wrong, it comes out "ASB," which they are reminded might stand for "A Stupid Boy."

The wife of a Carroll businessman telephoned to ask her husband to come help start the car. He got in his pickup and started home. In the meantime, she had gotten her car started. He was enroute downtown; they met between the two places—in an intersection collision.

A theatre advertisement noted locally had "Adult Entertainment" over the name of the coming movie. Below the movie was this note: "Special Kids' Matinees Saturday and Sunday."

'MOST LOVABLE' that was the designation given Gordon Nelson's beard Thursday night by Wayne Jaycees who were all over the business district searching out a non-member beard that was lovable. Nelson holds the trophy awarded by President Ken Dahl, left, and Doug Lyman. Clint Nelson is pretty proud of his dad's beard too.

WINSIDE MEN were involved in this episode in downtown Wayne Thursday night. Harlin Brugger volunteered to "give" Ted Hoeman his pig in the face and then faked it once. The photographer was among those fooled, snapping this and then missing the real thing a moment later.

County Government Day Here Thursday

County Government Day will be held in Wayne at the courthouse Thursday, Mar. 16. Juniors from Winside and Wayne high schools will be present for a full day of activities.

Winside has not elected yet but will do so Wednesday. Pete Kropp and Margaret Shoemaker are in charge. They report the groups were divided into parties, campaign speeches will be given at a convocation and then the balloting will take place.

Wayne elected the past week. Political parties were formed by having morning classes on one slate and afternoon classes on the other.

Program plans call for registration from 9:30 to 10 after which pupils will report to their respective offices to get acquainted with the officials with whom they will work.

At 10:30 a general assembly will be held in the district court room with introductions, briefings and other pertinent information given. A report on government, laws and officials will be followed by a film, announcements, the oath of office and lunch.

All sponsored by the American Legion, the day will have its food highlight with a meal served by the Legion Auxiliary. Speech of the day will be by Trooper James O'Dell, the Nebraska State Patrol trooper who conducts the defensive driving courses in the area.

From 1:30 to 4 the pupils will be in their respective offices. At 4 they will meet again in the courtroom for adjournment. Chris Bargholz is in charge and all Legion and Auxiliary posts in the county are assisting.

Wayne High elected the following: Carol Mason, John Matson and Mike Olson commissioners over Robert Barr, Ann Preston and Myron Gust; Marcia Ehlers clerk over Marion Gewee; Eric Nedergaard recorder over Dan Rees; Joyce Grone assessor over Cyndee Kerstine;

Larry Magnuson district court clerk over Doug Farnes; Debi Armbruster treasurer over Karen Dall; Dave Brown judge over

Graham Butler; Mary Jo Cook superintendent over Sally Haase; Linda Schneider surveyor over Keith Warrelmann; Gordon Jorgensen coroner over Jo Merriman; Phadet Gawsombat sheriff over George Eynon; and Bob Penn attorney over Tom Havener.

Winning appointive offices were: Graham Butler, highway commissioner, Bill Richardson, veterans service officer; Cyndee Kerstine, assistance director; Dan Rees, county physician; Marion Gewee and Myron Gust, extension agents; George Eynon, deputy sheriff; and Jeanne Whorlow, alternate commissioner.

Winside Play, Dangberg Rate Highest

Winside's one-act play and the acting ability of Bob Dangberg brought the highest honors to WHS in declamatory and one-act play contests for Lewis & Clark Conference schools the past week.

The play, "The Storm," rated superior Wednesday night at Norfolk and Dangberg was named "superior actor." Carol Bleich, Dennis Swanson, Ruth Vahlkamp and Denise Hansenalso starred in the play that was judged second best of all given in the contest.

At Hartington Cedar Catholic Monday night of last week, Dangberg received the only superior rating for pupils of Mrs. Shirley Trautwein and Mrs. Lois Picard. He gave informative public address. Excellent ratings went to Ruth Vahlkamp, Keith Krueger and Denise Hansen. Miss Vahlkamp was entered in the poetry division and Miss Hansen in the prose division. Krueger entered radio-television news commentary.

Attend Big Meeting

Roy Christensen and Rowan Witke from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce legislative committee attended the trends and issues meeting in Grand Island Monday of last week. The meeting was one of a series sponsored by the United States Chamber of Commerce to inform businessmen of the way business and political trends are going and the issues facing private individuals and communities.

Dogs in Dixon Draw Wrath of Town Board

Dixon's dogs that are running loose have drawn wrath of some residents and the town board. From now on they must be kept at home or they will be caught and disposed of.

The town board is publishing a notice that all dogs not kept at home or on a leash can be picked up from now on. Those picked up must be claimed at once and kept under control or they will be disposed of.

Dixon does not license dogs and there is no vaccination law. Consequently there are a lot of dogs and when they run loose singly or in packs they are a menace, according to the board, so the action calling for control had to be taken.

Offer Free Tickets

Wayne County implement dealers and other equipment dealers in the area are offering free tickets for the farm and machinery show Tuesday and Wednesday, Mar. 21-22 in Omaha. It is the biggest show of its type ever held in the Midwest and will be put on by all the major machinery manufacturers. No efforts will be made to sell at the show, merely demonstrate the newest in equipment and supplies. Doors are open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Information can be secured from any implement dealer.

Firemen at Belden Make Two Fire Calls

Belden Volunteer Fire Department was called out twice the past week. Light damage was reported at both blazes.

Wednesday a tractor ignited at the Gaylord Pflanz home. The fire was put out before firemen could help but other machinery and equipment in sheds was endangered so firemen were called.

Thursday afternoon the firemen were called to the Louis Meyer home. Corn shucks being burned were scattered by a sudden strong wind, setting fire to pasture and right-of-way along Highway 20.

DIANE YOUNGMAYER daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Youngmeyer, Wayne, was one of 27 students taking part in capping ceremonies Sunday, Feb. 19, at First Methodist Church, Sioux City. She is a Wayne High graduate, attended Midland College, Fremont, and entered nurses training last September.

MAIN STREET IN WAYNE just after the turn of the century looked like this. The little wooden building on the right is the location of Lyman's Studio and Dale's Jewelry now. Gambles is in the two-story building plus another building that was erected later. The women were dressed up because it was a celebration of some type. The streets were still dirt. This is one of a series The Herald will run on area scenes as furnished by Lyman Studio. They are from the files of photographers from decades ago. Anyone else having pictures they will trust us with for a few days may bring them in. If brought in Tuesday morning, they may be picked up that evening. All pictures will not be produced this big—this one just happened to be needed as an eye-catcher.

'Sleeping Beauty' to Be Final Stage Production for Talented WSC Actors

A talented group of actors (and actresses) in the Wayne State College drama department will present the final stage effort of the 1966-67 season at three matinees and one night performance Apr. 6-7-8. "Sleeping Beauty" is the choice.

Wayne's own Linda Garvin will play the role of Rosamund, the sleeping beauty. Ed Fox won the role as the handsome prince who rescues her. Both were selected after competitive tryouts.

Greeneback and Bergh's "Sleeping Beauty" (or "Sing Ho for a Prince") tells how Treacle, played by Susan Cook, succeeds in becoming a full-moon fairy through many good deeds, how Rosamund falls asleep and how Prince Valor kisses her to awaken her and the briar is removed from around the castle.

Other lead roles are: Hoyal, who puts the curse on Rosamund, Eileen Blitcke; Fee, Cindy Fisher; Pie, Mary Mahlberg; Foe, Irene Kulszewski; Fum, Vicki Anerstar; Thrustle-bump, Ellen Dickey;

King, Arne Nelson; queen, Debbie McClure; nurse, Mary Lou Fowler; cook, Bob Hall; Fizz, Fred Whittington; courtier, Steve Milnitz; Prince Hammer, Larry Larson; Prince Feeble, Brad Hall; Prince Plump, Ron Wachholtz; and ladies of the court, Diane Zabel, Myr Jane Robertson and Candy Peterson.

The last play of the season is always one to delight the young—along with many who are not so young. This year's production will have a familiar story, colorful costumes and settings, music and excitement and thrills for all.

WSC Professor Gets State Board Hearing

Norman Hoegberg, Wayne State College professor who submitted a resignation in writing, held a sit-out and has been the center of controversy since, was involved in a state normal board hearing Thursday. The hearing was requested by President William Brandenburg of WSC.

According to state papers, Hoegberg said he wrote the letter to test freedom at WSC more than to resign. He told the board some parents objected to his use of four letter words in his teaching. Brice Wilkinson also appeared to voice complaints on academic freedom at the school. He had a list of 19 grievances and told the board the school had a heavy faculty turnover due to "atmosphere." He also said he shaved his own beard off so as not to be referred to as a bearded Wayne State College speech teacher.

The board took no immediate action on the dismissal of Hoegberg or on the complaints of Wilkinson. Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Willers, Wayne, will spend Mar. 12-19 on a tour to Washington, D.C., sponsored by the Nebraska Farm Bureau. They won the award for Wayne County reaching its membership quota. Willers is membership chairman. Three buses will take Nebraskans to Washington to visit Farm Bureau headquarters en route as well as sightseeing. The Wayne County chapter will hold a banquet in April when all new members will be guests.

New Street Sweeper Goes Into Use Here

Wayne's new street sweeper went into fulltime use the past week. Previously it has been out on test runs for short periods but it is now in use on a regular basis. Thursday and Friday were good days to start out. The temperature was in the 50's and 60's much of the time and the winter-frozen dirt was loose. Dick Danielson will operate the sweeper which will be used weekly whenever weather permits. He reports the gravel that is taken up will be hauled to piles for use in alleys later on.

The capacity of the sweeper is 3/4 yards, almost double that of the old sweeper. It covers a 10-foot swath, does a better job of sweeping than the old one and has a cab (which the old one did not have).

Danielson is a comparative newcomer with the street department, starting work nine months ago. He will be in charge of the street sweeper operation. Vern Schulz is street department superintendent.

Here is what he wrote: "More than 200 miles quite away from Wayne. Phadet went to Watertown to visit his friend and show how Thai sport was, its name is Thai style boxing. Showing between the last home game for Watertown basketball played with Yankton. It make the people pleasure, surprise and excited when one of them get blood in the face. School Term, Vacations Set for 1967-68

The school board of District 17 set the length of the school year for 1967-68 term last week. A report was made on funds in various accounts and another custodial worker was hired.

The fall workshop for teachers will be Aug. 31, Sept. 1-2. School will start

Tuesday, Sept. 5, the day after Labor Day. This was done to give construction workers all the time possible to get interior work done on the new high school. There will be eight days of vacation. There will be one day for Labor Day, Sept. 4; two days for teachers' convention, Oct. 26-27; two days for Thanksgiving, Nov. 23-24; two days for Easter, Apr. 12 and 15; and one day for Memorial Day, May 30. Christmas vacation will be Friday, Dec. 22, through Monday, Jan. 1.

There will be four quarters, the first Sept. 5 to Nov. 10 with 17 days of school; the second, Nov. 13 to Jan. 26, 47 days; third, Jan. 29 to Mar. 29, 45 days; and fourth, Apr. 1 to May 31, 42 days. This gives a total of 181 days taught in a 36-week period.

A report by the board's treasurer showed $136,590 in various accounts. These include: General fund, $30,000; county treasurer, $16,590; and United States treasury bills, $90,000.

Mrs. Frank Lindsay was hired to help with custodial work. She takes the place of Mrs. Bill Vahlkamp, who resigned last November.

Returns Key — At Last

Bob McLean returned the key to the Albany Hotel in Denver this weekend. It was accidentally carried away 25 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. McLean had been in Denver on their honeymoon the latter part of December in 1942. When they left the Albany Hotel, he forgot to turn in the key. Their children sent them tickets for a jet plane trip from Omaha to Denver plus reservations at the Albany Hotel so the McLeans decided to go back and return the key. There were no charges for keeping the key in storage by McLeans or for removing the key from circulation by the hotel.

Wayne Team Gets Second in Meet

Dave Kudrna led scoring for the locals with 7 points. Don Hansen had 6, Kelly Dill 4, Chris Luaders and Bob Nelson 2 and Todd Bornhoft and John Meyer 1. The Creighton team was led by J. Bruss with 15 and B. Hartz with 7.

Firemen Answer Two Fire Calls Thursday

Wayne firemen were called out twice Thursday. A springlike day was a good day to go to fires, neither of which was too big.

The first alarm came at 11:45. The fire trucks were taken to the Gus Stuthman farm eight miles south and one-half mile east of Wayne.

Stuthman had been shelling corn and it is thought a spark from the tractor set corn shocks afire. Firemen used about 50 gallons of water to put out the blaze.

At 1:30 p.m. firemen were called again, this time to the Frank Gilbert home on the west edge of Wayne. Gilbert had been burning litter he had raked up, the fire was out when he went inside and then a wind came up, fanned the flames alive again.

The fire burned across the lawn before noticed. Hedges were also burned along with shrubs but the house was never in danger.

and firemen had the fire out a short time after arriving.

Pleasant Weather Has Farmers Ready to Go

The Wayne area has been enjoying several more days of pleasant weather. It has been tempting for farmers who are anxious to get into the fields—in fact, some were seen working in fields Thursday.

Temperatures have been in the 50's and as high as the low 80's. Trees start small buds swelling but no is fooled even by this sign of spring.

Moisture is needed and showers have been predicted. However, they could go the same way the big storm of a week ago went, off the charts and off the forecasts. There is a lot of March left and that could mean a lot of winter, but everyone is ready for spring.

Attend Omaha Meet

Twenty area farmers were guests of State National Bank and First National Bank on a trip to Omaha Thursday to attend the 19th annual livestock conference. Attendance this year was held down somewhat by another tour scheduled the same day. County Agent Harold Ingalls accompanied the group.

Wayne Explorers Go Skiing Several Days

Fifteen Wayne Explorer Scouts left Thursday morning for Lead, S.D., where they went skiing. They took a bus from Norfolk at 11:45 and were to arrive in Lead at 8:45 mst.

At Terry Hill they were to use chair lifts and other accommodations for skiing Friday and Saturday. They planned to rent needed equipment as not many have ski outfits.

Ron Brown and Dean Weible went along as chaperons. Weible is an experienced skier and Brown has a lot of ability along all athletic lines.

The crew was to leave Lead Saturday night at 1 a.m. They were to arrive in Norfolk Sunday at 11 a.m. where anxious parents were expected to scan the group, hoping not to see any signs of broken limbs.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Carroll's Mail Route

The rural mail route out of Carroll may not be the longest this summer but it should be the most interesting. If farmers go along with the Carroll Community Club, the mail carrier will have more reason than ever to like his patrons.

jump in that they already have unusual mail boxes but for every box that is extra nice there is another that needs repair or paint.

Northeast Nebraska Highways

Northeast Nebraska cannot gain much satisfaction out of the knowledge that other parts of the state share the distress the people here do over the inadequate highway department the state of Nebraska puts up with.

Then there are the highway signs themselves. Many towns do not have distance signs, Wakefield, Beemer, Concord and other towns have never had signs giving highway distances or have lost signs that have not been replaced.

'Sixty Years Ago This Week'

On another part of this page appears a feature covering items in The Wayne Herald of 60 years ago. The items are carried with almost the exact wording they had in 1907.

lot of people. They are being brought back as nearly as possible the way they were chronicled then. The people had a lot of fun, they had sorrow and the problems of that age have been displaced by a different type of problem.

Sometimes the wording is a bit personal, but that's the way things were in those days in Wayne County. It was an era of "personal journalism" when an editor would say someone was a "yellow-bellied skunk" if the editor happened to think someone was a yellow-bellied skunk.

No radio, no television, no movies, no electricity on farms, electricity part time in town, no natural gas, no LP gas, few telephones, no cars to speak of, dirt roads, foreign languages spoken in some churches and schools, no miracle drugs, no convenience foods, no refrigerators or freezers, no air conditioning, the list goes on and on.

Out of Old

Nebraska

The Populists and the Newberry Bill. The Populist Party, born of agrarian unrest during the turbulent political era of the 1890's, significantly altered the legislative history of Nebraska. In 1891, the elected representatives of this contending third party descended upon the Nebraska legislature, bent on righting the injustices done to their agrarian constituents.

most of the goods shipped on Nebraska railroads to correspond with rates generally enforced in Iowa. The debate that followed this bill left little doubt that the disciples of Populism were intent upon extracting full measure for their reform programs.

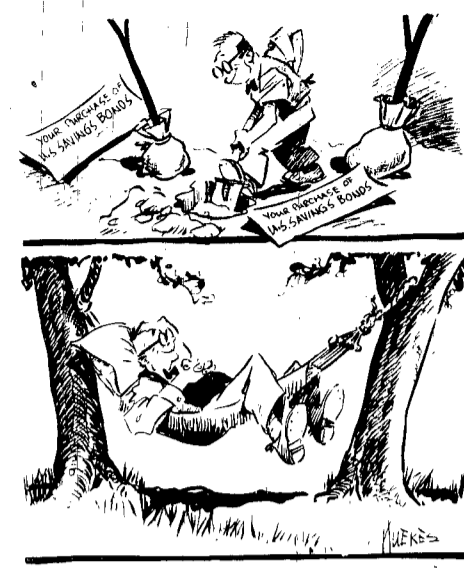

in an effort to swing more support behind the opposition.

After the passage by the Senate of the Newberry Bill the railroads waged an all out campaign to sway Governor Boyd to veto it. Boyd, being strongly anti-Populist and radically against the bill, promptly vetoed it on the grounds that to reduce rates in Nebraska to the Iowa level where the tonnage was more than four times as great would bankrupt every railroad in the state.

the governor's veto, but they were defeated in the Senate by a narrow margin. The veto by Boyd served to further unite the Populist forces and intensify their belief that the Populist Party was the sole combatant in the war against monopoly.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor: Your March 6 editorial "New Laws Require More New Laws" was a large dose of shortsightedness, provincialism, and naivete than I could swallow. In it you wail loudly because the Federal Government has at last stepped in to remedy a widespread and long-standing abuse by providing respectable standards for ambulance service.

Plant 'em now for tomorrow's enjoyment has consisted of a high-school kid driving a slightly modified station wagon. And there is no way of knowing how many accident victims have died because they were improperly moved, or because the ambulance lacked a basic piece of safety equipment, or because the driver did not know some basic principle of first aid that would have saved them.

hatched in Washington to overthrow small business and free enterprise. It is, of course, a fact that the Federal Government has necessarily been expanding continuously since its creation as the country grew more populous and the needs of the people more varied and complex.

But you say that the new ambulance service will be more expensive. In fact, it will probably be cheaper, as is usually the case when a governmental agency with its potentially greater efficiency takes over a function and spreads the cost uniformly.

Yes, they have been advancing for a long time, those trends which you call "creeping socialism." But I wonder if you or your readers would like to go back to the time before those "socialistic" and equalizing income taxes, when John D. Rockefeller was making 20 million dollars a year with no taxes and the average workman existing on $450 a year (all of which he got to keep, of course.)

60 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

There will be another of those "hugging-bees" in Hoskins Saturday, Mar. 23. The committee have secured Collins Bros. Orchestra for the occasion. Supper will be served at Hotel Hoskins. (From the Hoskins Headlight).

A comical little incident occurred Sunday, although it was not so comical to the principals. One of the schoolmarm from north of town arrived on the Sunday evening train and got a team and driver to take her to her boarding place. A man who has been farming west of town unceremoniously departed from the community sometime about the first of the week, since when several creditors to the halcyon days of the kerosene lamp. Doyou perhaps look yearningly at the era of quack doctors and cure-all medicines of unknown contents before the government moved in "to influence our lives more and more" (your phrase) with the Pure Food and Drug Act? Ah yes, when will this creeping socialism end? Never, I hope!

TAL AGENCY WITH ITS POTENTIALLY GREATER EFFICIENCY TAKES OVER A FUNCTION AND SPREADS THE COST UNIFORMLY." HELICOPTER PILOT, Major Charles Kay, is shown with the "chopper" he flew in Vietnam.

Wayne Helicopter Pilot Returns from Vietnam After Year Tour of Combat

Major Charles Kay is back in Wayne. He has completed a year's tour of duty in Vietnam and is going to Texas to instruct helicopter pilots.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Kay, Wayne. He leaves Mar. 16 for Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls, Tex. His wife and children, who have been in Wayne while he was in Vietnam, will go there with him.

Major Kay spent six months in the Mekong Delta area of Vietnam and the next six months just outside Saigon at Tan Son Nhut Air Base. He flew a small helicopter to rescue air crews that had baled out.

Saigon is in South Vietnam but that does not mean it is friendly country. In fact, Major Kay said planes can be shot anywhere at any time. He cited instances in which planes were fired upon as they landed at or took off from the base where he was, enemy personnel stationing themselves just off the base.

He reported that no matter where you fly, you are over "unfriendly territory" and can expect the unexpected. He had no close calls of his own (that he knows of) but he did fly around 60 missions, carrying out as many as three at a time.

His crew consisted of himself as pilot, a co-pilot and two paramedics. The latter were often needed when the air crew personnel had been injured after baling out.

For his work as a pilot he received five citations. The distinguished flying cross was awarded for rescue missions and he gained the air medal four times, which really amounts, to one medal with three clusters, all for recovery of downed air crew members from hostile territory.

What is Vietnam like? It has two seasons—dry and wet (monsoon). The temperature seems to vary little whether it's wet or dry. The temperature gets into the mid-90's most days and the mid-70's most nights. Air conditioning is the answer. The hottest day on record was recorded recently at 100 degrees. The people of Vietnam have known war for 20 years and it seems a way of life to them. They are tired of it but live with it.

Major Kay found quite a different situation in nearby Thailand, which he described as a beautiful place to visit. People are happy and friendly and seem to welcome Americans. In fact, people make a sincere effort to learn English in Thailand while in Vietnam, where French influences are being erased, there is not so much effort to learn English.

But the big difference between the two countries is the feeling that you are safe walking down the street. In Vietnam, one has to expect some "incident" at any time so even walking down the street with innocent-appearing people all around could be dangerous at the wrong time. In Thailand you walk down a street with no worries about grenades or snipers.

Major Kay went into the air force 15 years ago. He graduated from Wayne High School in 1948 and received a bachelor's degree from Wayne State in 1952. He entered the aviation cadet program immediately and took navigator training at Ellington AFB, Houston, graduating as a second lieutenant in June of 1953. He served in France for three years as a navigator before returning to take pilot training. At San Angelo, Tex., where he learned to pilot planes, he met his wife-to-be. In June, 1957, he graduated with pilot wings. By that time he was also a first lieutenant.

Back to France he went, this time as rescue detachment commander of helicopters. When he returned, he spent 1 1/2 years at Luke AFB, Ariz., in the same type of work, then went to Hamilton AFB, San Francisco, for a year as helicopter standardization officer and in February, 1966, went to Vietnam.

After 15 years in the service, Major Kay is planning retirement in another five years. He has a world of experiences behind him and will still be a young man when he gets out. He wants to settle down somewhere for the sake of the children so they can complete their education under the same conditions he enjoyed as a young man growing up in Wayne.

Makes Predictions of Cattle Feeding Future

Dr. Dean Hodge of Ralston-Purina made nine predictions concerning the future of cattle feeding at the recent University of Nebraska feedings day held at Wisner. He said they would come about in efforts to produce a quality product from "conception to consumption."

His predictions included: A need by 1975 for 25 to 35 per cent more beef than we produce now; big expansion of cow-calf operations in this area during the next ten years; confinement of brood cows and life-cycle production will be common;

Cattle feeders will require feeder-calf producers to performance-test; synchronization of the heat period and greater use of artificial insemination will combine to bring increased average daily gain, improved feed efficiency and superior carcass quality;

The steer of tomorrow may be the bull of today—multi-colored from production-tested ancestry, fed by rations prescribed by a consultant and formulated by a computer with the bull or steer merchandised according to specifications; feed will be bought on a quality (rather than quantity) basis;

Hay will be cubed instead of baled; and more attention will be focused on basic nutrition and less on feed-additive research.

Dr. Hodge cited a California study where bull and steer calves were slaughtered, carcass data com-

Conclusions reached were: Bull calves return $5.59 more per head than steer calves at weaning time due to bulls' heavier weight; bulls' greater efficiency in the feedlot gave $5.26 greater return per head; the bull carcass had greater cutability and yielded $26.44 more in retail value; considering weaning, feeding and retail cut-out, bulls returned $35.29 more profit per head than steers bred, fed and marketed in the same way and at the same price per pound.

"When will our merchandising practices and acceptability by the producer, packer, retailer and consumer allow us to take advantage of this great potential?" Dr. Hodge asked, answering the question: "Perhaps when the demand for beef exceeds the production."

Residents of this area interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world may take the Peace Corps placement test Saturday, Mar. 18, at 1:30 p.m. in the Norfolk post office. No one "passes" or "fails" the test. It is merely given to determine where each person's talents can best be used, aptitude at learning a foreign language and other abilities. Anyone interested in applying for a position as a volunteer in the Peace Corps may get application blanks at that time. The test takes about 1 1/2 hours.

Two trustee posts are for two-year terms. The third is for one year to fill out the unexpired term of Don Knoell, who has moved.

F. C. Tomason, mayor, is one of the town board members whose term is expiring. J. C. McCaw is finishing out a regular term and Knoell's vacancy has not been filled due to the approaching election in April.

Lowell Saunders is treasurer of the board. He and John Young are holding over as members.

Dixon Will Name Three Candidates

Dixon will hold its caucus Monday, Mar. 13, at 8 p.m. in the Dixon Auditorium. Three town board trustee positions will open this year.

Presbyterian Church Offers Special Play

"Christ in the Concrete City" will be presented Thursday, Mar. 23, at the Presbyterian Church, Wayne. It is a religious drama offered by the Kennedy Players from John F. Kennedy College, Wahoo.

The play attempts to portray the passion of Jesus Christ. There are six performers and they try to dramatize events in terms of history and in terms of "the greatest murder of all" which is "done now, by ourselves and all people."

In doing this, they play both the historical characters in the Bible story and characters from modern life. They pass freely in and out of both one and the other.

A particularly appropriate presentation for Lent, it is open to the public. An invitation to all is extended by Pastor John Voth. Further details will be given in Thursday's paper.

KNIGHTS and BLUE DEVILS, STATE CHAMPS

As State tournament basketball fever simmers down let's recall Wayne High's greatest moments in state action, Saturday, Mar. 14, 1942, marked Wayne's greatest win as they defeated Sidney for the state championship in Class B, the first in history. Coach Axel Bundgaard's Knights (as they were known in those days) finished the season with seven straight wins after losing to West Point, one of the teams they were to meet at Lincoln. Reason for the West Point loss was the fact none of the first team were permitted to make the trip to West Point. In district tournament play at Norfolk the Wayne Knights swept past Wisner, Albion and Bloomfield and at Lincoln downed West Point, Auburn and Sidney for the crown. Members of the team were Joe Kessler, Dick Gifford, Duke Derry, Bob Stull, Ray Murray, Don Harvey, Rod Love, Bob Meyer, Jim Strahan and Willis Lessmann. Derry, Stull, Gifford and Kessler were named to various journey honors. In 1956 the Wayne High Blue Devils under the tutelage of Harold Maciejewski brought Wayne a second state title. Squad members were David Ratzlaff, Jerry Hendrickson, Don Wightman, Bob Schwartzbach, Chuck Mellor, Larry Hofeldt, Kenny Dahl, Norm Pospishil, Larry Tietgen, Glenn Houdersheldt, Larry Test and Dennis Manske. District play showed wins over Stanton, Pender and Wisner, with a playoff win over Howells and triumphs over Loup City and Hebron in the big show. Assistant coach for Wayne was Rod Love, member of Wayne's only other state cage champs. Dahl and Hofeldt were unanimous choices for the Class B all-tourney team.

HOW'S YOUR BOWLING?

Wayne's most active participant sport very well is bowling as a quick check of individual records shows 815 averages posted. Broken down it lists 522 men's and 293 women's averages. Now through some mathematical wizardry we have come up with the average average for you kieglers. Ready? Each time a man steps to the line he is on his way to a 155 game. For the ladies, the total pintail should be 131. Leagues vary with the Business men's league the top with 168 for 63 averages. City league shows 167 average with 73 bowlers. Others are Church, 70 bowlers posting a composite average of 154; Community, 27 men, posting 153 scores; Wednesday Men's, 24 kieglers rolling 150; and 67 Pioneers bowling 147. Men in couples league action find Friday night producing 159 averages while Saturday night 155 pins fall each game. For the ladies, Friday night games topple 134 pins as Saturday only 133 fall. Composite figures show Friday night the best, 146 to 144 for Saturday. Last summer's couples league produced averages of 149 for the men and 132 for the ladies for a composite of 140. Monday Ladies with 83 averages show a 137 average while Wednesday ladies, also 83, are a pin behind at 137. Friday night ladies show a 116 average for 35 bowlers. Wayne averages are about three pins above the national averages.

K NINE KAPERS CALLED FOR

Mutt Mayhem! Let's get with it and show the world how Wayne stacks up in the dog department. We think Wayne has some of the best dogs in the world and aware of the fact they will never get to the Westminster show we think it would be most entertaining to have a dog show in our town. It could be serious, with bluebloods in one department and mutts only (shown by children) in another, etc. Some food for thought and if any spark of interest is generated it could be pushed. Cats? Yes, we have thought of them too, but please, not at the same time.

Underclassmen Lead in Seven Out of Nine Departments for Cage Season

Underclassmen led in seven of the nine major categories for the basketball season just completed, Coach Harold Maciejewski reports. Only in offensive rebounds and total rebounds does a senior lead.

In total points scored, Gordon Jorgensen led the way with 326, an average of 20.3 per game played. Averages were figured for the games played by each individual rather than for the total games played by the team.

Jorgensen also led in free throw percentage for those with 49 or more shots, hitting 50 of 58 for 84 per cent. Lynn Lessmann played the most quarters, 66; Dave Brown had the most defensive rebounds, 75, and a tie for the best field goal percentage with 56 of 114 for 49 per cent—George Eynon hit 38 of 77 for 49 per cent also. Eynon led in free throw per cent for the entire squad with 72 per cent on a record of hitting 13 of 18.

Dixon Mothers in Cage Spectacular

Mothers of the boys playing basketball for Dixon Grade School will appear on the basketball court as players Thursday, Mar. 16, at 7:30 in the Dixon Auditorium. They will be boosting for new uniforms for the Dixon team.

Bill Garvin, coach of the DGS team, reports there will be two games featuring all the boys on the Fighting Irish teams. This will be followed by a game played by the boys' mothers.

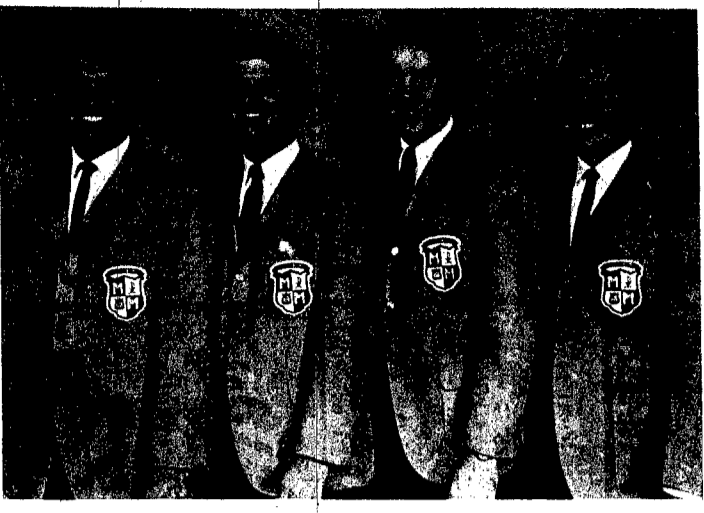

Mrs. Beverly Bloom will be captain of one team and Mrs. Sally Lubberstedt captain of the others. Their squads prepared for the tilt by practicing at the auditorium Thursday evening.

There will be no admission charge but a collection will be taken up. It is hoped enough will be raised so next year the Irish will all be properly suited rather than some having to play in makeshift uniforms.

The mothers will give the uniform fund another boost by operating a concession stand also.

Dixon Dance Desired

Two different people asked people of Dixon to put on a St. Patrick's day dance so the community is putting one on Friday, Mar. 17, at the Dixon Auditorium. Home of the Fighting Irish, Dixon has some dance fans who backed up their request with cash donations to pay for the orchestra, Lonnie Schieffer and his band will play.

Winside Firemen Get Call to Farm House

Winside firemen were called out Monday of last week to a fire in a farm house. They were too late getting there, however, the fire being put out before they arrived.

Scene of the fire was the Marvin Anderson home 1 1/2 miles east and 1 mile south of Winside. The blaze started in the basement, apparently due to some chimney trouble.

Members of the family had the fire out but firemen still helped check to see that there was no chance for the fire to flare up again. Smoke damage occurred in the basement and on other floors of the house.
