Hamer is shown administering the oath in the county courtroom.

New WHS Position Filled

One of the nine positions open on the Wayne High School staff has been filled. Supt. Francis Haun reports that Francis Haun reports a teacher in Fort Collins, Colo., has been signed to teach the new vocational business courses to be offered here.

Jean Dalton will be the new staff member. She will teach office practice for a full year and the new Short-hand III and Shorthand IV courses to be offered for the first time. Miss Dalton is a native of Bloomfield, graduating a teacher in Fort Collins, Colo., in 1960. She graduated from Wayne State College in 1963 and from Colorado State College, Greeley, in 1966. Teaching experience includes Omaha North and Columbus High. She has been teaching business education in Fort Collins. Eight posts remain open on the staff, three of them new. The new positions are senior high librarian, K-1 elementary principal and industrial arts.

Other posts open are two in English, two in science and two in German. A basketball coach will be signed who can teach one or more of these classes. Science openings came about because seventh and eighth grade homemaking is now offered a full year and seventh and eighth grade science is offered a full year. The need for another English teacher came when Mrs. Marie Mohr was shifted to homemaking to take Mrs. Kay Chambers' place.

District Value $470 Million

The Northeast Nebraska area vocational technical school district as now proposed includes 15 counties with an assessed valuation of over $470 million. This does not include Colfax County, which had not decided which way to go.

A meeting of the steering committee was scheduled for Monday at Norfolk at which time a governing board was to be selected. Petitions are to be taken to Lincoln Mar. 23, a public meeting will be held in April and the election will be held in May. All the state requires for formation of a district is a valuation of $150 million. Thus the proposed district would have a valuation more than three times the value required.

Boyd, Holt, Wheeler, Knox, Antelope, Cedar, Pierce, Madison, Dixon, Wayne, Stanton, Dakota, Thurston and Burt Counties have agreed to vote on the proposed district. This takes in all except two of the counties originally considered.

It is expected that an enrollment of 800 could be secured for a vo-tech school in this area. A one mill levy (or less) would be required to finance it.

Inspection of technical schools in other states has shown that the schools help lure industry. Where trained workers are available, industry is attracted, one of the best examples being North Carolina where 13 such schools are maintained and 364 new industries moved in during

The Spook Speaks

Shed a tear for the Wayne merchant who ordered 500 "decal-type" Nebraska centennial imprints to be "steamed" on sweat shirts. They were ordered with "Nebraska Centennial, 100 Years" as wording over an outline map of Nebraska. They came through beautifully, "Nebraska Centennial, 100 years" as wording—over an outline map of Oklahoma!

A Wayne State college student assisted in printing church bulletins. He was tired as he proofread his work, okayed them as they were and they came out with this gem beside an asterisk at the bottom of the page: "Late worshippers will be swated at this time." The "w" and the "e" are so close on a typewriter!

The foreign exchange student in a county bordering on Wayne County came down the stairs all smiles one morning recently. His host mother asked why he was smiling. He replied something like this: "I finally started dreaming in English. Until last night I have been dreaming in Spanish!"

Winside Woman Misses Out on Prize

Mrs. Etta Jackson, Winside, had a chance to pick up $400 extra Thursday night. She missed that chance, not being in Wayne when the Silver Dollar Night drawing was announced.

The Chamber of Commerce will console her with a check for $10. This is for registering in the Silver Dollar Night promotion. Because there was no winner, the prize remains at $400 this coming Thursday at 8. Anyone registered since the promotion was started has a chance at winning as long as they are present.

A reserve fund is building up as the weeks go by and no winners claim the prize. The reserve fund now stands at $250 which will be the amount of the prize Apr. 6 in case there is a winner Mar. 30.

Appraiser Site Different

The appraisers from the Clemenshaw Co. who will meet with Wayne County real estate owners starting Monday, Mar. 20, will not be in the county assessor's office. They will be in the building where the sheriff's office and residence used to be, Assessor Henry Arp points out.

The hours for representatives of the appraising firm to work are from 9 to 12 and from 1 to 4 Monday through Friday of this week and Monday and Tuesday of next week. Property owners are to come on the days specified for their areas.

Monday's hearings are for Carroll and Sholes plus Sherman, Deer Creek and Wilbur Precincts; Tuesdays, Hoskins and Garfield, Chapin and Hoskins Precincts;

Wednesday, Winside and Hancock and Brenna Precincts; Thursday, Wayne; Friday, Strahan and Hunter Precincts; next Monday, Altona and Wakefield plus Logan, Leslie and Plum Creek Precincts; and next Tuesday, wind-up for county.

Bring your land description with you for faster service whether you reside in town or in the country. Feel free to compare your land appraisal with that of neighbors and others. Assessor Arp suggests.

one year, about six times as many as moved into Nebraska.

Those working for establishment of the school point out that Nebraska is spending 40 times more for academic education than it is for vocational education. They feel this penalizes the more than 50 per cent of the pupils who cannot go on to regular colleges.

The largest increases in occupational groups the next ten years are expected to be in professional and technical, clerical and sales, skilled craftsmen and semi-skilled operatives. Vo-tech schools can provide training for or contribute to the skills of 75 per cent of the total labor force in this area.

More and more information will be supplied on the proposal as weeks go by. No location has been chosen and none will be chosen until the people have voted on establishment of the school. The need is evident wherever the school is put so the vote is for or against solving the need without regard to eventual location.

File Suit for Building Permit

Simpson's, Inc., a Nebraska corporation, has filed a suit in district court seeking issuance of a building permit for an eight-unit apartment house in Wayne. The council, mayor and clerk of Wayne are defendants for the city.

The suit alleges that Simpson's filed for a permit for an apartment or multiple-unit family-type dwelling Feb. 22 and that the City Planning Commission voted to recommend against issuance of the permit, sending a recommendation to that effect to the city council.

It is further alleged that the council refused to issue a permit. The council turned down the application because the design

"did not comply with the proposed zoning ordinance."

Simpson, Inc., alleges "that the defendants, mayor and city council of the City of Wayne acted arbitrarily in refusing said application; that said defendants abused their discretion in refusing said application."

The firm alleges "That Simpson, Inc., is without a plain and adequate remedy in the ordinary course of the law" and that "wherefore the plaintiff prays that the defendants and each of them perform the acts necessary to the end that said permit be issued."

A writ of mandamus is sought. In the absence of any other legal remedy, the corporation is seeking to force the council to act to issue a construction permit or show cause why it has not done so.

Mayor W. A. Koeber, Councilmen Wilmer Marra, Robert McLean, Jack Kingston, Allan Wittig and Lyle Seymour and Clerk Dan Sherry are named defendants.

The council meeting Tuesday was served notice of the suit. In the regular meeting the council authorized City Attorney John Addison to prepare a defense for the city officials in the action.

This is where the matter now stands. A hearing will probably be scheduled soon in district court.

Cable TV in Wayne Soon

Cable Television is coming to Wayne, not in years, not in months, not even in weeks, but in days!

Wayne Cablevision, Inc., has announced that it will start making connections before the end of the month. Representatives will be calling on homes soon to sign up for service.

Ray Bendig, who comes from Indiana by way of Columbus where he was in the cable television business, will be manager here. He has offices in the Professional Building.

A 300-foot tower has been erected 2½ miles southwest of Wayne on the Elhardt Pospishil farm. Lines have been run from the tower to town, cables have been strung in Wayne and testing has been carried out the past week.

Those signing up will be able to get eight channels at once with no antennas, no rotors and not even rabbit ears. Each picture will be near-perfect and there will be no "fringe" distortions.

All three Omaha television stations, the station at Albion, Stouxs Falls and two Sioux City stations will be brought in at first. One of the eight channel FM/music will be provided. Later the firm plans to add an educational channel and possibly the Lincoln station and one other, giving 11 channels in all.

Why is there a need for all stations? Because of the syndicated and filmed shows. Because the two Sioux City stations divide up programs from three networks, thus eliminating some of the best programs in order to put on some of the worst.

The Smothers Brothers, one of the new hits, will be available. Channel 6 and 7 have bought some of the best movies ever offered and every night these are put on.

If cable television had been offered earlier, the state basketball tournament in Omaha and Lincoln could have been received in color. Nebraska news will be available from Nebraska stations.

The Omaha stations are also offering programs from two other sources—a sports network and the new Obermyer network. Both will offer programs not offered heretofore. Further details on the sign-up plan will be given in Thursday's paper.

Two County Youths Selected to Go to Boys State

David Brown, Wayne Boys State delegate

If there is an all-round boy in Wayne High School, it would be David Brown. Son of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Brown, he has been named Wayne's representative at Boys State, this summer with Robert Penn as alternate.

Dave has lettered two years in basketball, two in football and two in track with his third track letter expected this spring. In the summer baseball program he has played Midget and Junior baseball. In track he tied the school record in the low hurdles in qualifying for state last year.

Musically, he is in the mixed chorus, the WHS band and the boys' vocal quartet. He also sings in the Methodist Church chancel choir.

He has been a member of the WHS student council three years. This year and last he has been American Field Service student representative, this being the organization to bring exchange students here.

He is an honor roll student. In Scouting he has been a Scout and an Explorer and has received the God and Country award. In the Methodist Church he has been in MYP and is sub-district president. As a sophomore he was president of his class.

Winside's delegate to Boys State is Kirk Troutman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Troutman. His alternate is Neil Brogren.

Kirk is one of the top students in Winside scholastically. He is regularly on the honor roll in addition to being active in many fields.

A member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, he is president of the Walther League of that church. He is also active in other community and church work.

In school, he has gone out for sports. He is on the basketball and track team and competed in wrestling.

He plays the clarinet although WHS has no band. He was in the junior class play this year.

In addition to his office in Walther League, he has held and does hold other offices. He is reporter for his class, president of the Spanish Club and parliamentarian of the Student Council.

Troutman was vice president of the sophomore class, is a member of the student council for his class now, is a member of Science and Math Club and is one of the leaders planning the junior-senior prom and banquet.

Wind Fans Fires on Winside Farms

Wind, gusting up to 40 miles an hour or more, fanned two fires near Winside Thursday. Both of the fires were burning at the same time.

The firemen were called first to the Marvin Fuoss farm one mile east and 1½ miles north of Winside. There the fire burned for a mile south, stopping at a road and not jumping onto the Ed Heithold property.

Fire Chief George Voss said two trucks went to that blaze. One of them was diverted to the other fire when the Fuoss fire was thought to be under control.

Fuoss had been burning cobs Wednesday and the fire was out. However, the wind Thursday fanned the smoldering remains and

Expand Beard Growing Idea

Those beard-growing Wayne Jaycees are apt to show up anywhere in Wayne County. They want the entire county to take part in one big beard contest during Nebraska's centennial.

Fresh from a kangaroo court Thursday of last week, the Jaycees met Wednesday night to plot further action. They expect to strike when they're not expected and they expect to visit every county town a number of times.

They also have other events coming up. April will be a big month with several projects already scheduled.

Apr. 7 they will send representatives to Butte to help a new chapter get started on charter night; Apr. 1 they will attend an area meeting in Oakland; Apr. 8-9 they will paint numbers on curbs again;

Apr. 23 they plan the Teen-Age Road-e-o for young people 16-21 in any of the area towns—further details to be given later; and in April they will start having their general membership meetings the third Tuesday of the month instead of the third Wednesday of the month (all meetings above Fire Hall).

In preparation for their centennial activities and other projects, the Jaycees have purchased a new public address system. They will use it on the "paddy wagon" during many of their beard-growing escapades.

Ken Kasselder became a new member at Wednesday's meeting; Don Johnson, reserve basketball coach, was a guest at the session.

Sparkplug awards are scheduled for awarding to Ken Dahl, Marvin Young and Dick Hammer. Minimum Tillage Day concession stand plans are being made jointly with the Mrs. Jaycees.

BILLIONING CLOUDS of smoke poured from one of the two fires near Winside Thursday. Brisk winds fanned the flames. Each fire burned a strip almost a mile long and the two fires were in progress at the same time. Roads, railroad and Logan Creek were credited with helping to stop the fires.

County Government Day Another Success for Legion

The annual boys and girls County Government Day was held in Wayne Thursday. The Wayne County American Legion and Auxiliary chalked up another successful event. Registration was carried out in the main floor hall before the day's events got underway. Each pupil from Winside and Wayne was given a "Welcome to Wayne" name tag to wear. Pupils were shown around the office, and then a general assembly was held. A mock trial was a spontaneous activity that had the kids chuckling and the elders wondering about their knowledge of court—apparently gained from television. Rafael Sosa gave an inspiring talk. A refugee from Cuba, he gave the young people firsthand knowledge of what life can be like under communism and how much the form of government we have in this country should be appreciated. A question and answer period followed. Trooper James O'Dell spoke and showed two films. The first, at the courthouse, was a film showing a staged accident at full speed and then the same accident filmed from inside and outside the car in slow motion, showing dummy bodies flung about, dashed against objects and in general thrashed about in bone-crushing fashion. But the real chiller was a film made by the Ne-

Gusty Winds Remind Area March Around

Strong winds buffeted the Wayne area Thursday. It was a reminder that April's showers may be around the corner but March's winds are still in prospect for a few more days. When the wind came up, the temperature went down. Forecasters were calling for snow in Northern Nebraska but the snow never reached this far east. The forecast for the future indicates the area can expect anything. Coastal storms moving across the mountains could gain strength or lose force. If they gain strength, it could mean another March storm approaching blizzard proportions before spring takes over. Moisture is the need. There is some disagreement as to whether it would do much good before a thaw takes place. However, there is no disagreement on the eventual need before spring work gets underway.

Bob Kruse Draft Choice for Pros

Bob Kruse, Wayne State's All-America guard, was drafted this week by the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League. The 245-pound husky, twice named to the NAIA All-America second team, had been the object of interest by a dozen or so pro teams during his Wayne career. Oakland named him on the twelfth round of the combined NFL-AFL draft. Kruse was busy with another sport late last week—competing in the national NAIA wrestling tournament at Lock Haven, Pa. Three other Nebraska college gridders also were drafted—Ken Carmann and Randy Rasmussen of Kearney State and Bruce Green of Midland. Several University of Nebraska players were among early-round draft choices.

First Electric Light Still Burns in Wayne

The first electric street light in Wayne was erected at the corner of Third and Main by Fred L. Blair, "Wayne's Leading Clothier." Mr. Blair had campaigned for street lights for some time but the other businessmen did not approve of the idea. However, when they saw how Mr. Blair had brightened up his corner, they soon changed their minds and the city installed lights all along Main Street. When this was done, Mr. Blair's light was no longer necessary, so he gave it to the Presbyterian Church and it still lights up the corner in front of the church. (The foregoing was submitted by the Wayne County Historical Society. Other anecdotes about bygone years and pioneer people of the county will be submitted from time to time. These, along with the old-time pictures being printed, should be preserved in scrapbook form.)

Charles Prince Winside Contest Winner

Charles "Chuck" Prince, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Prince, Winside, has been named winner of the essay contest sponsored by Winside High School in the "Opportunities for Youth in Nebraska" promotion. As the local winner, Prince will be honored by the youth committee of the Nebraska Centennial Commission. State prizes will be awarded in Lincoln at a special program in November.

The contest was under the direction of the Nebraska Council of Teachers of English. Three tuition scholarships to any college or university in the state will be awarded to the top entries. Several Winside entries were received. That submitted by Prince was judged best by a team of judges not involved in the contest itself.

Afternoon Session of Workshop Open to All

The afternoon session of the alcohol workshop in Wayne at the city auditorium Tuesday, Mar. 21, is open to all. Anna Marie Kreifels of Northeast Station reports. The morning session is open to a special group sent invitations. Community leaders from five counties have been invited to the morning meeting. Parents, youth workers and everyone else interested may attend in the afternoon. Topics are: Alcoholism, the Family Disease, and Teenage Use of Alcohol—Effects on the Family. Question and answer periods will be held. Anyone wishing further information on the workshop may contact their local county extension agent.

District to Join Schools at Randolph

District 54, Wayne County, has submitted petitions to County Supt. Gladys Porter that would allow it to dissolve and become a portion of District 45 in Cedar, Dixon and Wayne Counties, the Randolph Public School District. According to Supt. Porter, most of the landowners (over 60 per cent required) have signed the petitions. The matter has been submitted to her office to be presented to the state reorganization board. The district covers four sections of Wayne County land in the northwest part of the county. There are at present nine pupils attending the rural school in the district. Approval of the state reorganization board is not required for the annexation as the decision is made on a local level anyway. However, approval is usually sought and then the district can take the action it sees fit. Notice of the petitioner's request was submitted to Mrs. Porter with signatures of all board members affixed.

Chamber Group Opposing Single Bill, Favoring Pair Offered in Unicameral

Three legislative bills were discussed in the legislative committee of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday, with the committee voting approval on two bills and expressing opposition to the other.

One of the bills, however, was supported in concept only, with opposition to the bill as it was written. This was LB 661, a bill that would set up a master plan and an advisory board for higher education in Nebraska. While the committee felt the idea was good, concern was expressed because higher education was not defined, no provision was made to pay committee members and other important details of operation were not outlined.

LB 843, a bill which would allow an independent school district to operate as a separate entity within the corporate limits of a city, was opposed on the grounds that such action would be detrimental to efficient school administration within the city.

LB 789, a bill which would bring more securities under control of the banking department, was approved because it would provide proper control of investments offered to the public.

The committee meets during the time the unicameral is in session to watch bills and express opposition or approval to those which would affect Northeast Nebraska and Wayne.

GUESS WHAT: Would you believe baseball working out in Rice gymnasium until weather practice? That's right—the Wayne State squad smiles on the outdoor diamond.

Symonds Breaks Leg; Weather Cold; First Game Two Weeks Away for WSC

As if weather was not handicap enough for spring sports practice, Wayne State Baseball Coach John Jermier has further reason for gloom.

Centerfielder Bob Symonds is lost for the season with a broken leg. The measure of this loss is explained by some statistics from the 1966 season: Symonds batted .354, second only to Tom Fulcher, and was the team leader in runs batted in, with 28, and in doubles, with five.

Brother Rich Symonds, returning at second base, can sympathize. He also broke a leg in the summer of 1965, but recovered to play baseball last year, ranking fourth in batting.

With the opening game less than two weeks away—April 1 at home against Yankton, Coach Jermier is gradually trimming his squad to playing size from the original 70 candidates.

Among returning veterans is All-American Bob Gaeta, who ranked third in batting last year at .347 and was the top home run artist with seven.

Also back for duty are pitchers Jim Rasicot, who won six games and lost three, and Jim Mau of Wayne, 2-1.

Loss of four-year ace hurler Dean de Buhn and catcher Tom Fulcher—the nation's leading NABA batter last year and a first-team

All-American—will be major problems for Jermier.

African Church Leader to Appear Here

Dr. Colin Morris, political-religious leader from Zambia, Africa, will speak in Wayne at the Methodist Church Friday, Mar. 24, 5-9 p.m. He is president of the United Church of Zambia and is the only Caucasian in a position of major leadership in a relatively new church.

He went to Northern Rhodesia as a British Methodist missionary in 1951. In 1960 he resigned to become vice-president of a political party in that country.

His decision to fight politically as well as from the pulpit and by personal example brought numerous clashes with public opinion. One paper called him "the best-hated man in the Federation."

As Northern Rhodesia became Zambia, Dr. Morris became a close friend of the man who was to become president, Kenneth Kaunda. Dr. Kaunda recently praised him as one who had courage and had suffered much in a struggle for human rights.

Dr. Alva Clark, Omaha, chairman of a Nebraska board, and John Frey, Lincoln, Methodist business manager, will be in Wayne with Dr. Morris. Ten appearances are scheduled in the state.

The evening program begins at 5 with "Christian Hope in Africa," Dr. Morris. At 6, supper will be held.

At 6:45 Dr. Clark will tell of "Advance Special Targets for Nebraska"; at 7:15, "Planning That Gets Results," Mr. Frey; at 7:45, "The Church in Africa," Dr. Morris; at 8:30, questions to Dr. Morris.

Woman's Club Helping

The Wayne Woman's Club should have been given credit for sponsoring a Girls State delegate from Wayne this year. In fact, the Woman's Club has been helping on sponsorship with the local delegates for several years. One-third of the costs are paid by that club with the Legion and Legion Auxiliary covering the rest. Debi Armbruster is this year's representative under the tri-unit sponsorship.

A MOVIE SET? Nope, Wayne, Nebr., in the fall of 1887. This is one of the pictures saved from years ago at Lyman Studio. It is thought the view is looking south on Main from Third Street. The town appeared to be little more than a group of business places with people living on the second floors. The water tower was the supply center for water. On the glossy print it appears there are about 50 people standing around and two buggies at the board walks.

Winside Legion Marks Birthday

Winside American Legion, Roy Reed Post 252, is 48 years old. The occasion was marked Thursday night in the Legion Hall, the Winside Legion Auxiliary preparing and serving a potluck supper.

It was a great evening all the way. The new enlarged, remodeled and modernized kitchen was used for the first time. Women had the use of new cupboards, new counters, new sinks and other new features in addition to plenty of room.

There were 70 present. Included were Legionnaires and their wives, Auxiliary members and their husbands and friends.

A three-tier birthday cake was the highlight of table decorations. It was baked by Mrs. Evelyn Schermeier and Mrs. Thorvald Jacobsen and decorated by Shirley Wagner, a big "48" topping it off.

Those present also had a kitchen shower. Items to be used in the kitchen were brought in as donations to make the hall more pleasant and usable.

Cards were played for entertainment. Highs went to Mrs. Charles Farran and Russell Baird and lows to Mrs. Don Quinn and Frank Weible. Marvin Kramer is commander of the Legion and Mrs. Jacobsen president of the Auxiliary.

lected the past year in the district to help pay for the truck. This levy is being continued for the present.

The district covers much of the area around the city of Wayne and extends into Dixon County.

Cub Scouts Will Hold Pack Meetings Tues.

Wayne's two Cub Scout packs will hold pack meetings Tuesday, Mar. 28. Pack 174 will meet at Northeast Elementary; Pack 175 at West Elementary.

Cubmaster Alvin Ehlers of Pack 174 will have awards and promotions as will Cubmaster Bud Froehlich of Pack 175. Both are working on special plans for the program.

Theme for March is "Handyman." Cubs are learning about the use of tools and how to make useful items out of most any objects.

Seniors at Allen Working on Play

A senior class play is being rehearsed by Allen High seniors for presentation Friday and Saturday, Mar. 31 and Apr. 1. It is "An Oldtime Meller-drama," with a hero to cheer and a villain to hiss. There will be those little "asides" to the audience to keep them informed as to what is going on. There will be a honky-tonk piano to lend atmosphere to the goings-on.

Wes Wingett is directing "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" (or "Tempted, Tried and True"). Debbi Carr is student assistant and Jean Durant will play the ragtime piano.

Cast members are Dale Jackson, Paulette Thomas, Diann Ellis, Carol Lippold, Delores Nobbe, Dennis Schlines, Richard Barelman, Barbara Mead, Caryl Jeffrey and Denise Linafelter. Denise is a fifth grader; the rest are seniors.

Family living class (Home Ec. 2) is antiquing the piano for the rinky-tink tunes to be played. Other preparations are being made for a presentation to take the audience back many years in this centennial year of Nebraska.

Dixon Community Meet Held Tonight

All residents of the Dixon area are invited to a community meeting Monday evening (tonight) at the Dixon Cafe. Several matters of business will be brought up.

Harold George will show pictures of the 1966 celebration Aug. 15. Ideas will be discussed for making the celebration bigger this centennial year.

Two events were successes this week, the benefit basketball games attracted an overflow crowd Thursday and the St. Patrick's Dance drawing a good crowd Friday.

WHS Pupils Produce $300 for Student

Those Wayne High boys really hate the idea of being slaves to the girls' even for a day. Aware that once they get married they will slave for the weaker sex every day, they turned in around $60 in the final minute Friday to outdo the girls in contributions and win the right to be masters again.

It was the same story as last year. The boys won then too. This year the two sexes turned in $299.05 (about $100 less than last year) but $106.93 of this was donated in the final two minutes of the campaign Friday.

Total take for all the projects the students have held to pay for bringing another foreign exchange student here is over $818. This is well above the $750 needed but the kids love it, a project of their own to help themselves, to learn about other parts of the world and to get to know a teenager from half way around the world.

Would they accept more donations? You bet they would. In fact, they would get a good start on another fund for a third exchange student. They might decide to send a Wayne student to a foreign land for a year should any local student decide he wants to take part in the reverse program, "Americans Aboard."

Mark Johnson, student council president, said the girls will carry books, shine shoes, clean out lockers and perform other menial tasks befitting slaves Monday. The boys will have all weekend to think up necessary jobs that they just haven't been able to get done before but which can wait no longer. How big was the margin? The boys raised $159.19; the girls $139.86. Without that last-minute spurt the boys might have lost as the girls were an inspired bunch this year, even coming up with an "organizational donation" that had to be turned down at emergency meeting of the student council in order to preserve the spirit of the drive as an individual activity.

Phadet Gawsombat, exchange student from Thailand, took it all with a big grin, realizing that a year ago the pupils went through the same thing in order to be sure he could come here—although at that time no one here knew him. He'll get an even bigger chuckle Monday when he gets to have a slave—something they do not allow in Thailand.

Set Labor Interviews

A representative of the division of employment of the Nebraska Department of Labor will be in Wayne Wednesday, Mar. 22, at 9:30 a.m. He will meet with anyone interested in obtaining work or interested in obtaining workers. He will come from the Norfolk office of the state agency.

Hoskins Firemen Get Early Morning Call

The Hoskins Fire Department was called out at 6 a.m. Tuesday. A hay stack was afire at the Ed Winters farm 2 1/2 miles west of Hoskins.

It is thought the fire was started by an electric fence. A stack and a half of hay burned but Hoskins firefighters were able to save seven or eight stacks.

A loader was used to help fight the flames. Portions of the burning stacks were lifted off and scattered out over a plowed field where they were allowed to smolder out or fire was extinguished.

Rural District Will Buy Truck

Wayne Rural Fire District No. 2 will meet Wednesday, Mar. 22, at 7 p.m. in the Wayne Fire Hall to consider bids for a new truck chassis. All residents of the district may attend.

Proposed is a four-wheel truck chassis to take the place of the present rural fire department truck. The rural truck now being used was purchased in 1951.

Ralph Beckenhauer, president of the rural district, said the chassis would be purchased and then equipment bought for it. The new truck is expected to be the latest available.

A one-mill levy was col-

Resuscitation Center Is Auxiliary Project

Wayne Hospital Auxiliary meeting was held Friday. Mrs. Mattie McNutt gave the thought for the day and Mrs. Norbert Brugger read an Easter poem.

Dr. Robert Benthack spoke on hospital needs. According to Dr. Benthack, one of the more pressing needs is a resuscitation center, which includes scapette, defibrillator and pulmotor. The Auxiliary decided to make the center their project for the year. One of the first money-raising events will be a card party Apr. 14. Discussion was held on the style show and bazaar both slated for the fall.

A reminder was given that dues are now payable and can be given to Mrs. Edna Casper or Mrs. Art Brune. Next meeting is Apr. 21.

Social Security Man Visits Wayne Tuesday

No appointment is necessary in order to confer with him. Those wishing appointments this trip or at any future time should write the Norfolk office at Box 884 in advance.

Swan points out that changes made in the social security law in 1965 permit payment of monthly disability benefits where the disabling condition is expected to keep a person from working for a year. Questions regarding this and other provisions of the program can be answered here or at the Norfolk office.

Winside Has Medical Self-Help Course

A medical self-help course started in Winside Tuesday, Mar. 14. Around 25 are taking it, a half dozen men and the rest women.

Designed as a phase of the civil defense program, the course is offered so the average citizen will have some knowledge of what to do when there are no doctors around and emergencies arise. This could include bombing raids, natural disasters or other calamities when communications could be cut off and medical aid might be delayed in responding.

Mrs. Hartner had charge of the course Mar. 14. Mrs. Marvin Wittler will have charge of the sessions at the high school Mar. 21 and 30 and Apr. 4, 11 and 27.

For those completing the course, certificates will be given. The certificates do not go out to those who attend regularly but to those who are able to pass a test at the end of the course.

Winside PFA is sponsor of the medical self-help training course. Mrs. Paul Dangberg is president.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

What Was Nebraska Like?

No one knows who they are. No one knows what they are eating. No one knows the exact date. All that is known is that this is the way girls dressed in those bygone days when special events came up.

A sweet, demure pair they are. Innocent, fresh, charming. The picture tells many things.

What a contrast this is to the view too many get of the olden days via the movie and television screens. Most young girls depicting women of long ago are pretty badly, wear low cut dresses that barely hold them in, are heavily painted.

Perhaps this was the type of girl that frequented places where the action was. Maybe the others were considered too colorless so few try to portray them. Nevertheless, it is important to know that the girls shown in this picture were far more typical than those portrayed on the screen.

All of which brings up the fact that recorded history is seldom accurately portrayed in the entertainment mediums. Facts are handled loosely and distortions are made in order to sensationalize events and give someone's conception of how they should have happened instead of how they actually happened.

Nebraska had its saloon gals. It had shoot 'em up escapades, stagecoach robberies, cattle thieves, hangings, boistering rail crews, gunfights and other spectacular events. These have been chronicled in many ways.

But Nebraska also had the pioneers who settled a treeless land, withstood drought and flood, blizzard and heat, rain and dust. It had hard workers who broke the sod, built up the land and triumphed over adversities.

Much more typical than the violence of the era was the routine. The square dances, the trips to town, the church socials, the family births, deaths, weddings and sickness, the celebrations and other such happenings were far more common than were the events that attract the interest of the story writers for films.

These two girls typify that solid era. They are reminders of a bygone day. They are a memory of a Nebraska that is to be no more. But they lived. They loved. They enjoyed life. Little did they know as they nibbled on that holiday treat many decades ago that someday thousands would see their picture, would wonder about them and would take pleasure in seeing such wholesome freshness preserved for us in a more bountiful day but a more crass, commercial period.

They were Nebraskans years ago. Their picture tells us a lot about what Nebraska was like "in the good old days."—CEG.

No Bother at All

Are you reluctant to go in to find out what appraisal value has been set on your property? Do you hesitate to ask personnel at the assessor's office to let you compare your appraisal with those of your neighbors?

Think nothing of it, but do it. County Assessor Henry Arp has indicated these two services are offered to the people and it is up to the people to take advantage of them. He would much rather be swamped with people coming in than to have personnel sitting around doing nothing because no one comes in to check.

Assessor Arp's office has always been most accommodating in every way. He has set aside special space for people coming just to check appraisals so they will not interfere with regular functions of his office.

For those going to the assessor's office on routine business the next few days, the place to go is the basement of the courthouse. For those going to get information on the appraising that has just been completed, the place to go is the residence that formerly was occupied by the sheriff northeast of the courthouse.

You will not be a nuisance. Checking for you will be no bother. In fact, the men from the firm that did the appraising will be there for just one purpose—to let people know the figures they have come up with on Wayne County real estate.

You, property owners, in town and in the country, owe it to yourselves to find out the information offered. It is to your advantage to learn what valuations have been set on your property and on property similar to yours.

The workers who did the appraising are professionals. Their aim was to get market value set on all real estate. This type of thing is done because there have been abuses and some discrepancies of considerable size in the past.

Be sure you go to the office the day your precinct or town is scheduled for review. To make sure you go at the right time, check the news article on the front page of this issue of The Herald, printed for the third time to make sure everyone knows office hours and days.

Go prepared. Bring a legal description of your property. For rural residents, this would be section, township and range. For town properties it would be addition, block and lot. Save yourself and the office crew trouble by having this information ready when they are ready for you.

You could wait, of course, until the men from the appraising firm are gone. Then it will be more difficult to serve you and no one will be to blame except you. The assessor's office is publicizing this service and expects you to do the rest.

The appraisers came to your place to do their work. Now it's up to you to come to the office where they will be working and do your job.—CEG.

Little Towns Show the Way

A tip of Wayne's collective hat to Allen, Carroll, Concord, Dixon, Hoskins, Wakefield and Winside. They are showing "big brother Wayne" the centennial spirit.

Each of these towns has one or more special celebration events scheduled this centennial year. Some are taking regular events and making centennial days out of them. Others are keeping their regular celebrations and adding new ones to boot.

Only Wayne in the group is without plans for a celebration of some type or another. The city has a county fair set for fall but this is a county effort and it could just as well be in Sholes or Altona or any other town. It just happens to be in Wayne.

The centennial year is almost one-fourth gone. As far as is known, Wayne has no plans to celebrate it.

Jaycees have come up with the only Wayne effort marking the occasion, beard-growing. That's a hair-raising story to be discussed in a forthcoming editorial. In the meantime, let's celebrate Nebraska's 100th birthday by going to Winside, Wakefield, Hoskins, Dixon, Concord, Carroll and Allen celebrations.—CEG.

ticularly the young ladies—may be pleased (?) to learn that although we are in the army we have met with young ladies who favorably compare with the "girls we left behind" in Nebraska... The young ladies here are "for Union to a man." Quite a number of parties have been given by citizens of Sedalia and Georgetown, and well attended by the sex of which we speak.

The history of the regiment appeared under the title "Movements of the First Nebraska Regiment." It told of the regiment's organization in Omaha where many men enlisted under the impression that they would not leave the territory. Within a few weeks, however, the First Nebraska was ordered to move south into Missouri. Among the exploits of the soldiers was the rescue from the rebels of three Union sympathizers shortly before they were to be hanged. Only one installment of the history appeared in the issue. The future was to bring the First Nebraska to the bloody battle of Shiloh.

Much of the paper is written in a light vein. However, it carried a column of the names of the Regiment's dead. Thirty-five names appeared in the list.

The Chaplain was Thomas W. Tipton, who later was to represent Nebraska in the U.S. Senate. He wrote a poem for the paper entitled "Song of the Goddess of Nebraska." The poem pledged of Nebraska: "No foot of slave shall press its Soil—No human chattels o'er it toil."

Former Resident Starts New Era

Mrs. Jill Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hendrickson, Wayne, was the subject of a feature story in the Feb. 17 issue of the Louisville Courier-Journal for her work in starting a new era of competitive sport for girls in Kentucky.

According to the article, Mrs. Perry is coach of the Iroquois (Ky.) High School girls' gymnastic team. IHS competed in a girls' gym meet with Pleasure Ridge Park under official sanction of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association, the first time such a thing had occurred in that state.

"It's a great sport and we think it's here to stay," Mrs. Perry is quoted as saying. She was described as "a small bundle of energy." She was given a great deal of credit for getting the sport off the ground.

Mrs. Perry, whose husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Perry, Wayne, organized a girls' team at Iroquois. The boys promptly—and naturally—got interested. So an IHS boys' team was organized with Mrs. Perry assisting the man coaching the boys. The girls lagged behind the boys in getting a dual meet scheduled.

Mrs. Perry became interested in gymnastics in South Dakota University. She was a member of the trampoline team and took part in acrobatics and dancing. Most performances were for school assemblies.

She feels fortunate in being a teacher at Iroquois, where they have adequate equipment for gymnastics. In fact, she said IHS was probably the only school in the state having the equipment necessary to carry on an active program in the sport.

She predicts other schools will install equipment and the sport will spread rapidly. Mrs. Perry credited college and elementary teachers who were interested in the sport with getting approval of the KHSAA.

Court Hearings Twice Each Day

Court hearings in Wayne County are averaging two a day. Judge Dave Ilamer heard six in the first three days of last week.

There were four Mar. 13. First involved Russell Ropte, Allen. He paid $10 fine and $5 court costs on a charge of illegal parking. Officer John Redel filed the complaint.

Dave Stokes, Sioux City, appeared on a charge of failing to display a driver's license. He was fined $15 which includes costs. Trooper B. L. Cooper signed the complaint.

Larry Schrage, Clearwater, was charged with speeding, Officer Alan Peck bringing charges. Fine was $10, court costs $5.

Dan Heffernon, Martinsburg, paid $100 fine and $27.50 court costs. In addition, his operator's license was revoked for six months. The charge, driving while under the influence of alcoholic liquor, was filed by Trooper Cooper.

First case Mar. 14 involved Edward Lesemann, Wisner. He paid $100 fine and $5 court costs on charges filed by Chief of Police Vern Fairchild. The

The first open air band concert of the season will be held tonight on Main Street. The old building on the corner opposite and east of the 1st National Bank, has been torn down and carted away and the excavation for a modern two story brick is now well under way.

On Saturday afternoon, as pre-arranged, C. W. Anderson carried out a fine display of his recent sales of manure spreaders. They were all hitched onto by the purchasers and hauled out into the street in front of his implement shop and Magnus Eckman took a photograph of this display. Mr. Anderson then read a list of the names of farmers he had sold spreaders to since last September, 19 in all. It had been arranged to have the band furnish some music, but owing to some of the players being unable to get in, it had to be dispensed with. (From Hoskins Headlight).

The dance given by the Woodman Drill Team Friday evening was a failure. (Winside News).

Carroll parties have concluded negotiations with the Clark Automatic Telephone Co., and will soon take over the control and ownership of the local telephone exchange. (Carroll News).

Mayor Piepenstock informs us that morning service for the electric lights will cease with this week. Saturday morning will be the last morning we will have electricity until next fall.

Manager Gossard of the Farmers Cream Station informs us that he has about completed arrangements and will soon be able to supply the local demand for butter. The churns and other machinery together with a gas engine have been put Charles Lund, Wayne, appeared the same day. He paid $15 fine and costs of $5 on an overtime parking charge filed by Chief Fairchild.

Allen's Carrier Drives Safely

Allen's rural mail carrier, A. M. "Slim" Lanser, is a careful driver. Who says so? The post office department and the National Safety Council.

Lanser has been awarded a certificate from the two departments in honor of driving 30 years on his mail route without having a single traffic accident. This covers a major portion of the years he has been carrying mail out of Allen.

He figures he has driven over 805,000 miles since 1928 when he started carrying mail in a Model A Ford. His route was 31 miles when he started but it was consolidated with another route and then more miles were added so it jumped to 75 miles and then to the present 94 miles.

The award has not been given all those years, the first recognition coming around 1936. So, he has the maximum record any carrier can have. Prior to the awards he had one small scrape at the "Y" west of Allen. Since the yards began—nothing.

in, with this object in view. He promises a choice article and hopes to furnish it at about 20 cents a pound throughout the year, barring perhaps the winter months.

Last week through the action of the Anti-Saloon League a series of Temperance meetings were held, closing with mass meetings at the opera house Sunday morning and evening. These meetings have disclosed a strong and aggressive temperance sentiment in Wayne. On Sunday the audience contributed over $200 toward loosening the grip of the Brewery Trust on Wayne. In the evening the young men of the college by a rising vote showed their estimation of the saloon and did credit to their institution. For the past 17 years the saloon has been in the saddle in Wayne and of course has been a "blooming success!" The Anti-Saloon League proposes to put the saloon out of Wayne and thereafter to prevent the illegal sale of liquor. (From letter to editor by chairman of press committee, Anti-Saloon League).

The manager of the Eureka Comedy Co., who "hiked" to Norfolk Monday stole a $35 overcoat from one of the members of the Goddard Stock Co. playing in that city, even after the boys of that company had staked him. He was caught at Tilden and the coat recovered, but they took pity on the miserable cur and let him go. (From Hoskins Headlight).

Wayne Flour was advertised, Superlative $1.25, Snow Flake $1.10.

One of our young men in the neighborhood was seen purchasing a new buggy last Saturday, owing to the cause of an accident that happened to his old one a few Sundays ago. Never mind George, accidents are sure to happen. (Pleasant Valley News).

The Shakespeareans met with Miss Nettie Craven, Tuesday evening, with one member missing. They are reviewing the "Twelfth Night" by impersonating the characters.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Sonderstrup, Omaha, spent Tuesday to Thursday in the Anton Pedersen home.

Among the many rare items in the library of the Nebraska State Historical Society is a single issue of a newspaper entitled The First Nebraska Volunteer. It was published at Georgetown, Pettis County, Missouri on Friday, January 14, 1862. The editor was a soldier of the First Nebraska Volunteer Regiment which had occupied the town during the Civil War.

The editor indicated that he was using the printing office and equipment that had been deserted by the former owner who had volunteered as a private in the army at $13.00 a month. The army salary of $13.00 was more "money than could be made... by editing a paper in Georgetown, Missouri." Among the reasons listed for starting the paper was "to show the enemy, that are to be met at almost every corner of the road that the hiring hoards of the North" have with them all the elements of civilization and the material to unchain the mighty engines of the mind and spread profusely, light of refinement upon the darkness of barbarism, revolution and terrorism.

The editor printed a bit of information seemingly designed to destroy any complacency the girls back in Nebraska might have developed. He wrote "Our friends in Nebraska—par-

Following the games, lunch was served. Proceeds from that successful event also went into the "kitty" to help provide uniforms.

Music Boosters Will Pick Carroll Officers

Carroll Music Boosters will elect officers at their Apr. 10 meeting. They will also present a highlight of any year, the program by the junior high band under the direction of Don Schumacher.

At the meeting Monday evening, Dr. Robert Benchack told of his trip to Russia and showed slides. Refreshments were served by the members.

Business concerned ideas on what to do with the money the organization has on hand. Three suggestions came up: Buy a controlled reading machine; send youngsters to the WSC summer camp; or buy playground equipment. Mrs. Don Harmeier and Mrs. John Bergquist will act as a committee to study the three ideas. A report will be given at the April meeting and a decision made then.

Wayne Site of State 'Circuit Rider' Meet

Wayne is one of seven cities in Nebraska chosen as site for a modern-day "circuit rider" program sponsored by schools and colleges committee of the Nebraska Centennial Health Fair to emphasize the career-counseling aspect of the event Apr. 29-May 5. High school guidance teachers and student counselors are scheduled to attend the meeting here Apr. 1. Bob Lund of Sav-Mor Drug is in charge of local arrangements.

"Circuit rider" was chosen as a term describing the all-out effort to "tell the news" about career trends and opportunities in the health fields. Each conference will involve local representatives of health organizations as well as paramedical and auxiliary personnel. Guidance counselors will get information on para-medical occupations open to students in the lower half of classes. Too often these opportunities are overlooked when counseling pupils of low-academic rank, it is felt. The state centennial health fair is set for Lincoln and will be free of charge. Dental, medical, pharmaceutical, nursing, veterinary and hospital units are co-sponsoring the series and the fair.

First of Governing Board Members Selected Monday

Three districts of the area to be served by a vocational-technical school in this area have governing board representatives. They were named at a steering committee meeting in Norfolk Monday night.

Two other districts were unable to name governing board members because some counties were not represented. Notice of the meeting had been sent to all communities and counties but some failed to send delegates.

District 1, Boyd, Holt, Wheeler and Antelope Counties, named Johnson Watson, O'Neill banker, and Steve Finn, Ncligh attorney, as board members; District 4, Burt, Thurston and Cuming Counties, named H. C. Larson, Decatur retired banker, and Gerhardt Albert, Beemer lumberman; and District 5, Madison and Stanton Counties, named H. D. MacLay, Norfolk superintendent of schools, and Dennis Poeschl, Stanton realtor.

Wayne is in District 2 with Knox and Pierce Counties. District 3 is made up of Cedar, Dixon and Dakota Counties. Neither district could elect because at least one county was not represented in each group.

The board that will govern the district if the people approve of establishment of a school will be the board that will select the location of the school, hire the superintendent, approve contracts, set budget and determine curriculum.

Petitions will be sent in to the state board of education. Accompanying them will be the names of those selected for the governing board. It is expected the matter will come before the state board April 14.

Further action cannot be taken until Districts 2 and 3 name governing board members. They are expected to do so this week.

Last Story Hour Set at Library

The last story hour of the Wayne Public Library will be held Saturday, March 25, at 2:30. Mrs. Rodella Wacker, librarian, reports the series this winter has been most successful.

Between 30 and 35 young people have been attending the story periods in the children's department of the library. All staff members have taken part in entertaining the youngsters with stories from books.

Biggest crowd of the year was 46 one Saturday afternoon.

Take That Ad Out

"Cancel my ad." That was what Dr. L. A. Jensen said after he had put in a want ad for three times and it did the job its first appearance.

Dr. Jensen advertised a roto tiller, rabbit hutches and a playhouse. The Herald came out Thursday and the items were gone by Friday morning.

According to Dr. Jensen, he could have sold several more of each for calls kept coming in long after everything had been sold. That's a common experience with users of the classified ads in The Herald.

Fred G. Dale, 71 Dies Here Tuesday

Fred G. Dale, 71, died about 11 p.m. Tuesday at his home in Wayne. Mr. Dale came to Wayne in 1921 to serve as a coach at Wayne State College. He also taught many years in the social science division. He retired in 1961.

AFS Unit Meets to Discuss Membership

The American Field Service chapter held a meeting Friday evening. Chief matter for discussion was the membership, plus positions on the board.

AFS needs adult members. The high school pupils had carried the program with enthusiasm for two years and indicate they could go on. However, AFS feels more solidarity is gained by having adults in See AFS UNITS — page 8

PROUDLY WEARING a centennial tie, Gust Carlsson, 100, Concord, was photographed as his pastor, Rev. John Erlandson, Concordia Lutheran Church, read some of his favorite Psalms in Swedish.

Concord Man Celebrates Birthday No. 100 Friday

Mar. 24, 1867, Gust Carlsson was born in Morstaba, Parish of Vardinge, State of Sodermanland, Sweden. Just 100 years later he will mark the occasion in Concord, County of Dixon, State of Nebraska, USA.

The same age as Nebraska itself, Carlsson is in pretty good shape for his years. Although he spends much of the time in bed, he gets up three times a day for meals, dressing for the meal, sitting up for about an hour and then retiring again. He spends a lot of time sleeping and has maintained this routine since last July.

Although he does not hear too well, he does enjoy visits, especially with someone who can talk to him in his native tongue. He has a Swedish Bible which Rev. John Erlandson reads to him. When Carlsson hears a hymn or Psalm started he often finishes it, remembering all the words. His mind is keen though his hearing is about gone and his eyes have failed him quite a bit in the past year.

His daughter, Helen Carlsson, keeps house for him as she has done for the last 35 years. Friends stop by and his daughter helps keep up the conversation by repeating what is said in his ear.

The Lutheran Church Women of Concordia Lutheran Church had flowers at the altar Sunday in his honor. Concord Community Club also paid special tribute to him.

Appraisers Pleased at Wayne County Response

Appraisers with the Clemminshaw Co. are reported to be well-pleased with the response of Wayne County property owners so far. The first few days there have been many coming in to check appraisals.

Assessor Henry Arp reports the encouraging feature is the ones coming in have been from the precincts the greatest distance away from Wayne. He expects even better response the rest of the days appraisers are here.

The farmers are bringing in property description by sections and the town residents are bringing in property description by blocks. This has helped speed up the work of the

Sorry About That Slip-Up, Randolph

Probably not many people knew the difference but that picture of a town on Page 3, Section 1, of the Mar. 20 Herald was not Wayne in 1887. It was Randolph.

Keith Boughn called long distance Monday to explain that years ago he had taken that picture to Cobb Olson to have prints made. Then he forgot where he took it and has not known until Monday's paper came out.

To prove his point, he came to Wayne. With him he brought a 75th anniversary plate with the same picture on it in gold. It was a souvenir from Randolph in 1961.

The two story in the picture was the old Boughn Hotel, which belonged to his great-grandfather, Zachariah Boughn. That hotel was one of the reasons more prints were wanted. That seems to solve that. Unless, of course, someone can come forward with See SORRY RANDOLPH — pg 8

City Starts Spraying

Spraying of Wayne for dutch elm disease got underway Tuesday. It was expected that with a calm day Wednesday the spraying could be completed. A helicopter from David City was being used for the project. Advance notice was given through a public address system mounted on a car which traveled up and down streets. The city had to schedule the spraying before trees started budding and on a calm day. Notice was to have been given in this week's paper of the plans but the weather was too good to miss so the spraying went ahead.

CCC Announces Crop Reseal Continuation
